e To giue thākes for thy deliuerance

6 And I wil adde vnto thy dayes fiftene yeare, & wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the King of Aſſhúr, and wil defend this citie for mine owne ſake, and for Dauid my ſeruants ſake.

f He declareth ſ albeit God cā heale without other medecines, yet he ſheweth that he wil not haue theſe inferior meanes contemned

7 Then Iſaiáh ſaid, Take a f lompe of drye figs. And they toke it, and layed it on the boyle, and he recouered.

8 ¶For Hezekiáh had ſaid vnto Iſaiáh, What ſhalbe the ſigne that the Lord wil heale me, and that I ſhal go vp into the houſe of the Lord the third day?

9 And Iſaiáh anſwered, This ſigne ſhalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do that he hathe ſpoken, Wilt thou that the ſhadowe go forwarde ten degrees, or go backe ten degrees?

g I let the ſenne go ſo manie degrees backe that ſ houres may be ſo manie the fewer in the Kings dial

h Which dial was ſet in the top of the ſtayres that Aház had made. Iſa 38.8.

10 And Hezekiáh anſwered, It is a light thing for the ſhadowe to paſſe forwarde ten degrees: not ſo then, but let the ſhadowe g go backe ten degrees.

11 And Iſaiáh the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he broght againe the ſhadowe tē degrees backe by the degrees whereby it had gone downe in the h dial of Aház.

12 ¶*The ſame ſeaſon Berodách Baladán the ſonne of Baladán King of Babél, ſente letters and a i preſent to Hezekiáh: for he had heard how that Hezekiáh was ſicke

i Moued with the fauour ſ God ſhewed to Hezekiáh, & alſo becauſe he had declared him ſelfe enemie to Sancheríb his enemie which was now deſtroied

13 And Hezekiáh heard them, and ſhewed them all his treaſure houſe, to wit, the ſiluer, & the golde, & the ſpices, and the precious ointment, & all the houſe of his armour, and all that was founde in his treaſures: there was nothing in his houſe, and in all his k realme, that Hezekiáh ſhewed them not.

k Beīg moued with ambition and vaine glorie. & alſo becauſe he ſemed to reioyce in ſ friendſhip of him ſ was Gods enemie & an infidele

14 Then Iſaiáh the Prophet came vnto King Hezekiáh, and ſaid vnto him, What ſaid theſe men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiáh ſaid, They be come from a farre countrey, euen from Babél.

15 Then ſaid he, What haue they ſene in thine houſe? And Hezekiáh anſwered, All that is in mine houſe haue they ſene: there is nothing among my treaſures, that I haue not ſhewed them.

16 And Iſaiáh ſaid vnto Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Lord.

17 Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine houſe, and whatſoeuer thy fathers haue laied vp in ſtore vnto this day, * ſhal be caried into Babél: Nothing ſhalbe left, ſayth the Lord.

2 Kin 24.13. & 25.13. iere 27.19.

18 And of thy ſonnes, that ſhal procede out of thee, & which thou ſhalt beget, ſhal they take away, and they ſhalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babél.

l He acknowledgeth Iſaiáh to be the true Prophet of God, and therefore humbleth him ſelfe to his worde 19 Then Hezekiáh ſaid vnto Iſaiáh, The worde of the Lord which thou haſt l ſpoken, is good: for ſaid he, Shal it not be good, if m peace and trueth be in my dayes?

m Seīg ſ God hathe ſhewed me this fauour to grant me quietnes durīg my life: for he was afraied leſt ſ enemies ſhulde haue had occaſion to reioyce, if the Church had decaied in his time becauſe he had reſtored religion

20 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Hezekiáh, and all his valiant dedes, and how he made a poole & a cōdite, & broght water into the citie, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

21 And Hezekiáh ſlept with his fathers: & Manaſſéh his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

CHAP. XXI.

1 King Manaſſéh reſtoreth idolatrie, 16 And vſeth great cruelte 18 He dyeth, and Amón his ſonne ſucceedeth, 23 Whom killed of his owne ſeruants 26 After him reigneth Ioſiáh

*2.Chro.33.1.

1 MAnaſſéh *was twelue yere olde whē he began to reigne, and reigned fiftie and fiue yere in Ieruſalém: his mothers name alſo was Hephzi báh.

2 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord after the abominacion of the heathen, whome the *Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſraél.

Deu.18.9.

3 For he went backe and buylt the hie places, *which Hezekiáh his father had deſtroied: and he erected vp altars for Báal, and made a groue, as did Aháb King of

Chap.18.4.

Iſraél, and worſhiped all the hoſte of heauen and ſerued them.

Iere.32.34. 2.Sam.7.10.
4 Alſo he* buylt altars in the houſe of the Lord, of the which the Lord ſaid, *In Ieruſalém wil I put my Name.

5 And he buylt altars for all the hoſte of the heauen in the two courtes of the houſe of the Lord.

a Read Chap 16,3
6 And he cauſed his ſonnes [a] to paſſe through the fyre, and gaue him ſelfe to witchcraft and ſorcerie, and he vſed them that had familiar ſpirits and were ſothe-ſayers, and did muche euil in the ſight of the Lord to angre him.

1 King 8,29. & 9,3. 2 king.7,10.
7 And he ſet the image of the groue, that he had made, in the houſe, whereof ỹ Lord had ſaid to Dauid and to Salomón his ſonne, * In this houſe, and in Ieruſalém, which I haue choſen out of all the tribes of Iſraél, wil I put my Name for euer.

b Therefore ſeing they obeyed not the cõmãdemẽt of God, they were iuſtly caſt forthe of that lãd which they had but on cõdicion.
8 Nether wil I make ỹ feete of Iſraél moue anie more out of the land, which I gaue their fathers: ſo that they wil [b] obſerue and do all that I haue commanded them, & according to all the Lawe that my ſeruant Moſés commanded them.

9 Yet they obeyed not, but Manaſſéh led them out of the way, to do more wickedly then did the heathen people, whome the Lord deſtroyed before the children of Iſraél.

10 Therefore the Lord ſpake by his ſeruãts the Prophetes, ſaying,

Iere.15,4.
11 *Becauſe that Manaſſéh King of Iudáh hathe done ſuche abominacióṡ, and hathe wroght more wickedly then all that the Amorites (which were before him) did, & hathe made Iudáh ſinne alſo ẅ his idoles, 12 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, Beholde, I wil bring an euil vpon Ieruſalém and Iudáh, that whoſo heareth of it, bothe his eares ſhal [c] tingle.

c Meaning, ỹ whoſoeuer ſhal heare of this great plague, ſhalbe aſtoniſhed 13 And I wil ſtretch ouer Ieruſalém the line [d] of Samaria, and the plommet of the houſe of Aháb: and I wil wipe Ieruſalém, as a man wipeth a diſh, which he wipeth, and turneth it vpſide downe.

d As I haue deſtroyed Samaria and the houſe of Aháb, ſo wil I deſtroye Iudáh 14 And I wil forſake the [e] remnant of mine inheritance, and deliuer them into the hãd of their enemies, and they ſhalbe robbed & ſpoiled of all their aduerſaries, e Meaning Iudáh and Benjamin, which were onely left of the reſt of the tribes.

15 Becauſe they haue done euil in my ſight, and haue prouoked me to angre, ſince the time their fathers came out of Egypt vntil this day.

f The Ebrewes write that he ſlewe Iſaiáh ỹ Prophet, who was his father in Lawe.
16 Moreouer Manaſſéh ſhed [f] innocent blood exceding muche, til he repleniſhed Ieruſalém from corner to corner, beſide hisſinne wherewith he made Iudáh to ſinne, and to do euil in the ſight of the Lord.

17 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Manaſſéh, and all that he did, and his ſinne ỹ he ſinned, are they not writen in ỹ boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

18 And Manaſſéh ſlept with his fathers, and was buryed in ỹ gardẽ of his owne houſe, euen in the garden of Vzzá: and Amón his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

19 ¶ *Amón was two and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned two yere in Ieruſalém: his mothers name alſo was Meſhullémeth the daughter of Harúz of Iotbáh. 2 Chro 33,20.

20 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, as his father Manaſſéh did.

21 For he walked in all the waie, that his father walked in, and ſerued the idoles that his father ſerued, and worſhiped them.

22 And he forſoke the Lord God of his fathers, and walked not in the [g] way of the Lord.

g That is, according to his cõmandemẽts.
23 And the ſeruants of Amón conſpired againſt him, and ſlewe the King in his owne houſe.

24 And the people of the land ſlewe all them that had conſpired againſt King Amón, and the people made Ioſiah his ſonne King in his ſteade.

25 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Amón, which he did, are they not writen in the boke of ỹ Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

*Or, he buryed him in his ſepulchre 26 And *they buryed him in his ſepulchre in the garden of Vzzá: and Ioſiáh his ſonne reigned in his ſteade. Ioſiah his ſonne.

CHAP. XXII.

4 Ioſiáh repareth the Temple & Helkiáh findeth the boke of the Lawe, and cauſeth it to be preſented to Ioſiah. 12 He ſendeth to Huldáh the propheteſſe to inquire the Lords wil.

2 Chro 34,1.
1 IOſiáh was* eight yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned one and thirtie yere in Ieruſalém. His mothers name alſo was Iedidáh the daughter of Adaiáh of Bozcáth.

a His zeale was propheſied of, & his name mencioned by Iaddó the Prophet, more then thre hundreth yeres before, 1.King.13,2: and being but eight yere olde, he ſought ỹ God of his father Dauid,

2 And he did vprightly in the ſight of the Lord, & [a] walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed nether to the right hand, nor to the left.

2 Chro 34,3.
3 ¶ And in the eightenth yere of King Ioſiáh, the King ſent Shaphán the ſonne of Azaliáh the ſonne of Meſhullám the chãceller to the houſe of the Lord, ſaying,

*Or, ciuyt, as verſ 9
4 Go vp to Hilkiáh the hie Prieſt, that he may ſumme the ſiluer which is broght into the houſe of the Lord, which the kepers of the [b] dore haue gathered of the people.

*Or, preſſe.
b Certeine of the Prieſts were appointed to this office, as Chap 12,9 5 And let them [c] deliuer it into the hand of them that do the worke, and haue the ouerſight of the houſe of the Lord: let them giue it to them that worke in the houſe of the Lord, to repaire the decaied places of the houſe:

c From the time of Ioáſh for the ſpace of 224 yeres the Temple remained without reparatiõ through the negligence of ỹ Prieſts this declareth that they that haue a charge and execute it not, ought to haue it taken from them.
6 To wit, vnto the artificers and carpenters & maſons, and to bie tymber, and hewed ſtone ſtone to repaire the houſe.

7 Howbeit let no rekening be made with them of the money, that is deliuered into their hand: for they deale [d] faithfully.

d So God promoted him of faithful ſeruãts, ſeing he went about ſo zealouſly to ſet forthe the worke of God.

8 And Hilkiáh the hie Prieſt ſaid vnto Shaphán the chanceller, I haue founde the [e] boke of the Lawe in the houſe of the Lord: and Hilkiáh gaue the boke to Shaphán, and he red it.

e This was the copie that Moſes left them, as appeareth 2 Chro 34.14 which ether by the negligence of the Prieſts had bene loſt, or els by the wickednes of idolatrous Kings had bene abolished

9 So Shaphán the chanceller came to the King, and broght him worde againe, & ſaid, Thy ſeruãts haue "gathered the money, that was founde in the houſe, and haue deliuered it vnto the hands of them that do the worke, and haue the ouerſight of the houſe of the Lord.

"Or melted.

10 Alſo Shaphán the chanceller ſhewed the King, ſayīg, Hilkiáh the Prieſt hathe deliuered me a boke. And Shaphán red it before the King.

11 And when the King had heard the wordes of the boke of the Lawe, he rent his clothes.

12 Therefore the King commanded Hilkiáh the Prieſt, and Ahikám the ſonne of Shaphán, and Achbór the ſonne of Michaiáh, and Shaphán the chanceller, and Aſahiah the Kings ſeruant, ſaying, f Meaning to ſome Prophet whome God reueleth the knowledge of things vnto, as Ier 21,1 though at other times they inquired the Lord by Vrim & Thũmim.

13 Go ye and [f] inquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudáh, concerning the wordes of this boke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled againſt vs, becauſe our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this boke, to do according vnto all that which is writen therein for vs.

14 ¶ So Hilkiáh the Prieſt and Ahikám, and Achbór and Shaphán, and Aſahiáh went vnto Huldáh the Propheteſſe the wife of Shallúm, the ſonne of Tikuáh, the ſonne of Harhás keper of the wardrobe: (and ſhe dwelt in Ieruſalém in the [g] colledge) and they communed with her.

g Or, the houſe of doctrine ẅ was nere to the Temple, & where the learned aſſembled to intreat the Scriptures, & the doctrine of the Prophetes

15 And ſhe anſwered them, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſraél, Tel the man that ſent you to me,

16 Thus ſayth the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, euen all the wordes of ỹ boke which ỹ King of Iudáh hathe red,

17 Becauſe they haue forſaken me, and haue burnt incenſe vnto other gods, to anger me with all the [h] workes of their hands: my wrath alſo ſhalbe kindled againſt this place, and ſhal not be quenched.

h The workes of mans hand here ſignifie all that mã inuenteth beſide the worde of God ẅ are abominable in Gods ſeruice.

18 But to the King of Iudáh, who ſent you to inquire of the Lord, ſo ſhal ye ſay vnto him, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſraél, The wordes that thou haſt heard, ſhal come to paſſe.

i Meaning that he did repent as they, that do not repent, are ſaid to harden their heart, Pſal 95,8.

19 But becauſe thine heart did [i] melt, and thou haſt humbled thy ſelfe before the Lord, when thou heardeſt what I ſpake againſt this place, and againſt the inhabitãts of the ſame, to wit, that it ſhulde be deſtroyed and accurſed, and haſt rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue alſo heard it, ſayth the Lord.

20 Beholde therefore, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou ſhalt be put in thy graue in [k] peace, and thine eyes ſhal not ſe all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this place. Thus they broght the King worde againe.

k Whereupon we may gather that the augre of God is ready agaīſt the wicked, when God taketh his ſeruants out of this worlde.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Ioſiáh readeth the Lawe before the people 3 He maketh a couenant with the Lord 4 He putteth downe the idoles, after he had killed their prieſts 22 He kepeth Paſſouer. 24 He deſtroyeth the conuurers 29 He was killed in Megiddó, 30 And his ſonne Iehoahaz reigneth in his ſtede 33 After he was taken, his ſonne Iehoiakím was made King.

1 THen* the King [a] ſent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudáh and of Ieruſalém.

*2 Chro. 34, 36

a Becauſe he ſawe the great plagues of God that were threatned, he knewe no more ſpedie waye to auoide them, then to turne to God by repentance, ẅ can not come but of faith, and faith by hearig of ỹ worde of God

2 And the King went vp into the houſe of the Lord, with all the men of Iudáh and all the inhabitãts of Ieruſalém with him, and the Prieſts and Prophetes, and all the people bothe ſmall & great: and he red in their eares all the wordes of the boke of the couenant, which was found in the houſe of the Lord.

b Where the King had his place, Chap 11,14

3 And the King ſtode by [b] the piller, and made a [c] couenant before the Lord, that they ſhuldewalke after the Lord, and kepe his commandements, and his teſtimonies, and his ſtatutes with all their heart, & with all their ſoul, that they might accompliſh the wordes of this couenant writen in this boke. And all ỹ people ſtode to the couenant.

c As Ioſhúa did, Ioſ 24 22

d Meaning thẽ ẅ were next in dignitie to ỹ hie Prieſt

4 Then the King commanded Hilkiáh the hie Prieſt and the [d] Prieſts of the ſecond ordre, and the kepers of the dore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the veſſels that were made for Báal, and for the groue, and for all the hoſte of heauen, and he burnt them without Ieruſalém in the fields of Kedrón, and caryed [e] the powdre of them into Beth-él.

e In contempt of that altar, which Ieroboám had there buylt to ſacrifice to his calues.

f Meaning the prieſts of Báal, which were called Chemirims, ether becauſe thei ware blacke garments, or els were ſmoked with burning incenſe to idoles

5 And he put downe ỹ [f] Chemerím, whome the Kings of Iudáh had foũded to burne incẽſe in the hie places, & in the cities of Iudáh, and about Ieruſalém, & alſo them that burnt incenſe vnto Báal, to the ſunne and to the moone, and to the planets, & to all the hoſte of heauen.

g He remoued that groue ẅ idolaters for deuotion had planted nere vnto the Temple, contrarie to the commãdement of the Lord, Deu 16, 20 or as ſome read, the ſimilitude of a groue which was hanged in the Temple

6 And he broght out the [g] groue from the Tẽple of the Lord without Ieruſalém vnto the valley Kedrón, and burnt it in the valley Kedrón, and ſtampt it to powdre, and caſt the duſt thereof vpon the [h] graues of the children of the people.

h Bothe in cõtempt of the idoles, & reproche of them ẅ had worſhiped them in their liues.

7 And he brake downe ỹ houſes of ỹ ſodomites, that were in the houſe of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the groue.

8 Also he broght all the prieſtes out of the cities of Iudáh, and defiled the hie places where the prieſts had burnt incenſe, euen from Géba to Beer-ſhéba, and deſtroied the hie places of the gates, that were in ỹ entring in of the gate of Ioſhúa the gouernour of the citie which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

9 Neuertheles the prieſts of the hie places [i] came not vp to the altar of the Lord in Ieruſalém, ſaue onely thei did eat of the vnleauened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled alſo [k] Tópheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnóm, that no man ſhulde make his ſonne or his daughter paſſe through ỹ fyre to Mólech.

11 He put downe alſo the [l] horſes that the Kings of Iudáh had giuen to the ſunne at the entring in of the houſe of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-mélech the eunuche, which was ruler of the ſuburbes, and burnt the charets of the ſunne with fyre.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Aház, which the Kings of Iudáh had made, and the altars which Manaſſéh had made in the two courtes of the houſe of the Lord, did the Kíg breake downe, and haſted thence, and caſt the duſt of them in the [o] brooke Kedrón.

13 Moreouer the King defiled the hie places that were before Ieruſalém and on the right hand of the [m] mount of corruption (which *Salomón the King of Iſraél had buylt for Aſhtóreth the idole of the Zidonians, and for Chemóſh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchóm the abomination of the children of Ammón)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore [n] the altar that was at Beth-él, & the hie place made by Ieroboám the ſonne of Nebát, which made Iſraél to ſinne, bothe this altar and alſo the hie place brake he downe, & burnt the hie place, & ſtampt it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Ioſiáh turned him ſelfe, he ſpied the graues, that were in the mount, and ſent and toke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, and polluted it, according to the worde of the Lord that the [o] man of God proclaimed which cryed the ſame wordes.

17 Thē he ſaid, What title is that which I ſe? And the mē of the citie ſáid vnto him, It is the ſepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudáh, and tolde theſe things that thou haſt done to the altar of Beth-él.

18 Thē ſáid he, Let him alone: let none remoue his bones. So his bones were ſaued with the bones of the [p] Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Ioſiáh alſo toke away all the houſes of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Iſraél had made to angre the Lord, and did to them according to all the factes that he had done in Beth-él.

20 And he ſacrificed all the prieſts of the hie places, that were there vpō the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ieruſalém.

21 ¶ Then the King commanded all the people, ſaying, *Kepe the Paſſeouer vnto the Lord your God, *as it is writen in the boke of this couenant.

22 And there was no Paſſeouer holden [q] like that from the daies of the Iudges that iudged Iſraél, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Iſraél, and of the Kings of Iudáh.

23 And in the eighteenth yere of King Ioſiáh was this Paſſeouer celebrated to the Lord in Ieruſalém.

24 Ioſiáh alſo toke away them that had familiar ſpirits, & the ſothe ſayers, and the images, and the idoles, & all the abominacions that were eſpied in the land of Iudáh & in Ieruſalém, to performe the wordes of the *Lawe, which were writen in the boke that Hilkiáh the Prieſt founde in the houſe of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his ſoule, & with all his might according to all the Lawe of Moſés, nether after him aroſe there anie like him.

26 Not withſtanding the Lord turned not from the [r] fearcenes of his great wrath wherewith he was angrie againſt Iudáh, becauſe of all the prouocacions wherewith Manaſſéh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord ſaid, I wil put Iudáh alſo out of my ſight, as I haue put away Iſraél, and wil caſt of this citie Ieruſalém, which I haue choſen, and the houſe whereof I ſaid, *My Name ſhalbe there.

28 Concenring the reſt of the actes of Ioſiáh, and all that he did, are they not writen in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

29 ¶ *In his dayes Pharaóh Nechóh King of Egypt went vp againſt the King of Aſſhúr to the riuer Peráth. And Kīg Ioſiáh [s] went againſt him, whome when Pharaóh ſawe, he ſlewe him at Megiddó.

30 Then his ſeruants caried him dead from Megiddó, and broght him to Ieruſalém, & buryed him in his owne ſepulchre. And the people of the land toke Iehoaház the ſonne of Ioſiáh, and annointed him, and made

---

i Because that thoſe that had forſaken the Lord to ſerue idoles, were not mete to minister in the ſeruice of the Lord for the inſtruction of others

k Which was a valley nere to Ieruſalém, & ſignifieth a tabret, becauſe they ſmote on the tabret while their children were burning, that their crye ſhulde not be heard, where after Ioſiáh commanded carions to be caſt

l The idolatrous Kīgs had dedicate horſes & charets to the ſunne e-ther to carie ỹ image thereof about as the heathen did, orels to ſacrifice thē, as a ſacrifice moſte agreable

o Or, valley

m That was ỹ moūt of olyues, ſo called becauſe it was fur of idoles

2 King. 23. 7

n Which Ieroboám had buylt in Iſraél, 1. King 12. 28

o Accordīgto the prophecie of Iaddó, 3 King. 13. 2.

p Meaning ỹ Prophet ẅ came after him, and cauſed him to eat contrary to ỹ commandemet of the Lord, ẅ were bothe two buryed in one graue, 1 King 13. 31.

2 Chro 35. 1.
3 eſdr 1. 1.
Exod 12. 3.
deut 16. 2.

q For the multitude & zeale of the people with the great preparation

Leui 20. 27.
deut. 18. 11.

r Because of ỹ wicked hēart of the people, ẅ wolde not turne vnto him by repentance.

1 King 8. 29.
& 9. 3
2 king. 7. 10.

2 Chro. 35. 20.

s Because he paſſed through his countrey, he feared leſt he wolde haue done him harme, and therefore wolde haue ſtaied hī, yet he conſulted not with ỹ Lord, & therefore was ſlain.

made him King in his fathers ſteade.

2. Chro 36. 1. 31 *Iehoahaz was three and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, & reigned three monethes in Ieruſalém. His mothers name alſo was Hamutál the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnáh.

32 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, accordīg to all that his † fathers had done.

† Meaning, the wicked Kings before

33 And Pharaóh Nechóh put him in bonds u at Ribláh in the land of Hamáth, while he reigned in Ieruſalém, and put the land to a tribute of an hundreth talents of ſiluer, and a talent of golde.

u Which was Antiochia in Syria, called alſo Hamáth

34 ¶ And Pharaóh Nechóh made Eliakím the ſonne of Ioſiáh King in ſteade of Ioſiáh his father, and turned his name to Iehoiakim, and toke Iehoaház away, which when he came to Egypt, dyed there.

*Or, ſhe he made him reigne

35 And Iehoiakim gaue the ſiluer and the golde to Pharaóh, and taxed the land to giue the money, according to the cōmandement of Pharaóh: he leuyed of euerie man of the people of the land, according to his vallue, ſiluer and golde to giue vnto Pharaóh Nechóh.

36 Iehoiakim was fiue and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, & he reigned eleuen yeres in Ieruſalém. His mothers name alſo was Zbudáh the daughter of Pedaiáh of Rumáh.

37 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Iehoiakim made ſubiect to Nebuchad-nezzár rebelleth 3 The cauſe of his ruine and all Iudáh 6 Iehoiachín reigneth 15 He and his people are caryed vnto Babylon 17 Zedekiah is made King.

2 In the end of ỹ third yere of his reigne, and in the beginning of the fourte, Dan. 1. 2

IN his a dayes came Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél vp, and Iehoiakim became his ſeruant three yere: afterwarde he turned, and rebelled againſt him.

2 And the Lord ſent againſt him bandes of the Chaldees, & bandes of the Aramites, and bandes of the Moabites, and bandes of the Ammonites, & he ſent them againſt Iudáh, to deſtroye it, *according to the worde of the Lord, which he ſpake by his ſeruants the Prophetes.

Chap 20. 17. & 23. 27.

b Though God vſed these wicked tyrāts to execute his iuſte iudgemēts, yet they are not to be excuſed, becauſe their proceded of ambition & malice

3 Surely by the b cōmandement of ỹ Lord came this vpon Iudáh, that he might put them out of his ſight for the ſinnes of Manaſſéh, according to all that he did,

4 And for the innocent blood that he ſhed, (for he filled Ieruſalem w innocent blood) therefore the Lord wolde not pardone it.

5 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Iehoiakim, & all that he did, are they not writē in the boke of the Chronicles of ỹ Kings of Iudáh?

c Not that he was buryed w his fathers, but he dyed in the way, as they led him priſoner towarde Babylón: read Iere 22. 19.

6 So Iehoiakim c ſlept with his fathers, and Iehoiachín his ſōne reigned in his ſtead.

7 ¶ And the King of Egypt came no more out of his land: for the King of Babél had taken from the riuer of Egypt, vnto the riuer † Peráth, all that pertained to the King of Egypt.

† Euphrates.

8 ¶ Iehoiachin was eightene yere olde, whē he began to reigne, and reigned in Ieruſalém three monethes. His mothers name alſo was Nehuſhtá, the daughter of Elnathán of Ieruſalém.

9 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father had done.

10 *In that time came the ſeruants of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél vp againſt Ieruſalém: ſo the citie was beſieged.

Dan 1. 1

11 And Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél came againſt the citie, & his ſeruants did beſiege it.

12 Thē Iehoiachín the King of Iudáh d came out againſt the King of Babel, he, and his mother, and his ſeruants, and his princes, and his eunuches: and the King of Babél toke him in the eight yere e of his reigne.

d That is, yelded him ſelfe vnto him by ỹ counſel of Ieremie

e In the reigne of the King of Babylón

13 *And he caryed out thence all the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and the treaſures of the Kings houſe, and brake all the veſſels of golde, which Salomón King of Iſraél had made in the Tēple of the Lord, as the Lord had ſaid.

Chap 20. 17 Iſa 39. 6.

14 And he caryed away all Ieruſalém, and all the princes, and all the ſtrong men of warre, euen ten thouſand into captiuitie, & all the workemen, & conning mē: ſo none remained ſauing the poore people of the land.

15 *And he caryed away Iehoiachín into Babél, and the Kings mother, & the Kings wiues, and his eunuches, and the mightie of the land caryed he away into captiuitie from Ieruſalém to Babél,

2 Chro 36. 10 Eſther 2. 6.

16 And all the men of warre, euen ſeuen thouſand, and carpenters, & lockeſmithes a thouſand: all that were ſtrong and apt for warre, did the King of Babél bring to Babél captiues.

17 ¶ *And the King of Babél made Mattaniáh his vncle King in his ſteade, & changed his name to Zedekiáh.

Iere 37. 1. & 52. 1.

18 Zedekiáh was one & twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuē yeres in Ieruſalem. His mothers name alſo was Hamutál the daughter of Ieremiáh of Libnáh.

19 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

20 Therefore certeinly the wrath of the Lord was againſt Ieruſalém & Iudáh vntil he caſt them out of his † ſight. And Zedekiáh rebelled againſt the King of Babél.

† Out of Ieruſalém & Iudáh into Babylón.

CHAP. XXV.

Ieruſalém is beſieged of Nebuchad-nezzár, & ſo 7 The ſonnes of Zedekiáh are ſlayne before after are his owne eyes put out. 21 Iudáh is broght to Babylón. 25 Gedeliáh is ſlayne. 27 Iehoiachin is exalted.

1 AND *in the [a] ninthe yere of his reigne, the [b] tenth moneth & tenth day of the moneth Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél came, he, & all his hoſte againſt Ieruſalém, and pitched againſt it, and they buylt [*] fortes againſt it rounde about it.

2 So the citie was beſieged vnto the eleuéth yere of King Zedekiáh.

3 And the ninthe day of the moneth the famine was [c] ſore in the citie, ſo that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 Then the citie was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled by night, by the waye of the [d] gate, which is betwene two walles that was by the Kings garden: now the Caldees were by the citie rounde about: and the King went by the way of the wildernes.

5 But the armie of the Caldees purſued after the King, and toke him in the deſerts of Ieriché, and all his hoſte was ſcatred from him.

6 Then they toke the King, and caryed him vp to the King of Babél to Ribláh, where they [e] gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they ſlewe the ſonnes of Zedekiáh before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiáh, and bounde him in chaines, & caryed him to Babél.

8 ¶ And in the fift moneth, & [f] ſeuenth day of the moneth, which was the nintenth yere of King Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, came Nebuzar-adán [*] chief ſteward and ſeruant of the King of Babél, to Ieruſalém, 9 And burnt the houſe of the Lord, and the Kings houſe, and all the houſes of Ieruſalém, & all the great houſes, burnt he with fyre.

10 And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chief ſteward, brake downe the walles of Ieruſalém rounde about.

11 And the reſt of the people that were left in the citie, and thoſe that were fled and [g] fallen to the King of Babél, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar-adán chief ſteward carye away captiue.

12 But the chief ſteward left of the poore of the land to dreſſe the vines, and to til the land.

13 *Alſo the pillers of braſſe that were in the houſe of the Lord, and the baſes, and the braſen Sea that was in the houſe of the Lord, did the Caldees breake, and caryed the braſſe of them to Babél.

14 The pottes [h] alſo and the beſomes, and the inſtruments of muſike, and the incenſe aſſhes, & all the veſſels of braſſe that they miniſtred in, toke they away.

15 And the aſſhe pannes, and the baſens, and all that was of golde, & that was of ſiluer, toke the chief ſteward away,

16 With the two pillers, one Sea & the baſes, which Salomón had made for the houſe of the Lord: the braſſe of all theſe veſſels was without weight.

17 *The height of the one piller was eightene cubites, and the chapiter thereon was braſſe, and the height of the chapiter was with networke thre cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapiter rounde about, all of braſſe: and likewiſe was the ſeconde piller with the networke.

18 And the chief ſteward toke Seraiáh the chief Prieſt, and Zephaniáh the [i] ſeconde Prieſt, and the thre kepers of the dore.

19 And out of the citie he toke an eunuche that had the ouerſight of the mē of warre, and [k] fiue men of them that were in the Kings preſence, which were founde in the citie, and Sophér captaine of the hoſte, who muſtred the people of the land, and threſcore men of the people of the land, that were founde in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adán the chief ſteward toke them, and broght them to the King of Babél to Ribláh.

21 And the King of Babél ſmote them, and ſlewe them at Ribláh in the land of Hamáth. So Iudáh was caryed away captiue out of his owne land.

22 *Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iudáh, whome Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél left, & made Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám the ſonne of Shaphán ruler ouer them.

23 Thē when all the captaines of the hoſte & their men heard, that the King of Babél had made Gedaliáh gouernour, thei came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, to wit, Iſhmaél the ſonne of Nethaniáh, and Iohanán the ſonne of Káreah, and Seraiáh the ſonne of Tanhúmeth ỹ Netophathite, & Iaazaniáh ỹ ſonne of Maachathí, thei & their mē.

24 And Gedaliáh [l] ſware to thē, & to their men, and ſaid vnto them, Feare not to be the ſeruants of the Caldees: dwel in the land, and ſerue the King of Babél, and ye ſhal be wel.

25 *But in the ſeuenth moneth Iſhmaél the ſonne of Nethaniáh the ſonne of Eliſhamá of the Kings ſede, came, and ten men with him, & ſmote Gedaliáh, & he dyed, and ſo did he the Iewes, and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpáh.

26 Then all the people bothe ſmall & great and the captaines of the armie aroſe, and came to [m] Egypt: for they were afrayed of the Caldees.

27 Notwithſtanding in the ſeuen and thirtieth yere after, [n] Iehoiachín King of Iudáh was caryed away in the twelft moneth & the ſeuen and twentith day of the moneth, Euil-merodách King of Babél in the

yere

Iere. 39,1 & 52,4.

a That is, of Zedekiáh

b Which the Ebrewes call Tebét, and it cōteineth part of December & parte of Ianuarie

*Or, a mount

c In ſo muche ỹ the mothers did eat their children, Lament. 4,10.

d Which was a poſterne dore or ſome ſecret gate to iſſue out at.

e Or condēned hī for his periurie & treaſo, 2 Chro. 36,13.

f Ieremie writeth Chap. 52,12 the tenth day, becauſe ỹ fyre continued frō the ſeuenth day to ỹ tēth.

*Or, captaine of the garde.

g While the ſiege indured.

Chap 20,17 Iere 27,22.

h Of theſe read Exod. 27,3.

1 King 7,15. Iere 52,21 2 Chro. 3,15.

i That is, one appointed to ſucceede in the hie Prieſts rowme, if he were ſicke or els otherwiſe letted k Ieremie maketh mencion of ſeuen, but here he ſpeaketh of them that were the chiefeſt.

Iere. 40,5. & 9.

l That is, he did exhorte them in the Name of the Lord, according to Ieremies cōſel, to ſubmit themſelues to Nebuchad-nezzár, ſeing it was the reueled wil of the Lord.

Iere. 41,1.

m Contrary to Ieremies cōſel, Iere 40,41 & 42,43.

n Thus log was he, his wife, & his childrē in Babylón, whome Nebuchadnezzars ſonne, after his fathers death, preferred to honour: thus by Gods prouidence the ſede of Dauid was reſerued euen vnto Chriſt.

861/1224

yere that he began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Iehoiachín King of Iudáh out of the prison, 28 And spake kindely to him, & set his throne aboue the throne of the Kings that were with him in Babél, 29 And changed his prisongarments: and he did continually eat bread before him, all the dayes of his life.
30 And his o porció was a cótinual porcion giuen him by the King, euerie day a certein, all the dayes of his life.

o Meaning, ỹ he had an ordinarie in the court.

THE FIRST BOKE OF

the "Chronicles, or Paralipoménon.

"Ebr. Wordes of dayes.

THE ARGVMENT.

"Or, of things omitted, to wit, to the bokes of the Kings.

THe Iewes comprehend bothe theſe bokes in one, which the Grecians becauſe of the length deuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, becauſe they note briefly the hiſtories from Adám to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylón. But theſe are not thoſe bokes of Chronicles, which are ſo oft mencioned in the bokes of Kings of Iudáh and Iſraél, which did at large ſet forthe the ſtorie of bothe the kingdomes, and afterward periſhed in the captiuitie: but án abridgement of the ſame, and were gathered by Eſra, as the Iewes write, after their returne frō Babylón. This fyrſt boke conteineth a briefe rehearſal of the children of Adám vnto Abrahám, Iſhák, Iaakób, and the twelue Patriarches, cheefly of Iudáh and of the reigne of Dauid, becauſe Chriſt came of him according to the fleſh. And therefore it ſetteth forthe more amply his actes, bothe cōcerning ciuil gouernement, and alſo the adminiſtracion, and care of things concerning religion, for the good ſucceſſe whereof he reioyceth, and giueth thankes to the Lord.

CHAP. I.

1 The genealogie of Adam and Nóah vntil Abrahám. 27 And from Abrahám to Eſau 35 His children. 43 Kings and dukes came of him.

1 ADám, a Sheth, Enóſh,
2 Kenán, Mahalaléel, Iéred,
3 Henóch, Methuſhélah, Lámech, 4 Nóah, b Shem, Ham, & Iápheth.
5 ¶ The ſonnes of Iápheth were Gómer, and Magóg, and Madái, and Iauán, and Tubál, and Méſhech, and Tirás.
6 And the ſonnes of Gómer, Aſhchenáz, & Ipháth and Togarmáh.
7 Alſo the ſonnes of Iauán, Eliſháh and Tarſhiſháh, Kittím, and "Dodanim.
8 ¶ The ſonnes of Ham were Cuſh and Mizráim, Put and Canáan.
9 And the ſonnes of Cuſh, Sibá and Hauilah, and Sabtá, and Raamáh, and Sabtechá. Alſo the ſonnes of Raamáh were Sheba and Dedán.
10 And Cuſh begate c Nimród, who began to be mighty in the earth.
11 And Mizráim begate Ludím and Anamím, Lehabim and Naphtuhím:
12 Pathruſim alſo, & Caſſluhím, of whome came the Philiſtíms, and Caphtorim.
13 Alſo Canáan begate Zidon his firſt borne, and Heth, 14 And the Iebuſite, and the Amorite, and the Girgaſhite, 15 And the Hiuuite, and the Arkite and the Simite, 16 And the Aruadite, & the Zemarite, and the Hamathite.
17 ¶ The ſonnes of Shem were Elám and Aſſhúr, and Arpachſhád, and Lud, and d Arám, and Vz, and Hul and Géther, and Méſhech.
18 Alſo Arpachſhád begate Shélah, & Shélah begate e Eber.
19 Vnto Eber alſo were borne two ſonnes: the name of the one was Péleg: for in his dayes was the earth deuided: and his brothers name was Iokrán.
20 Then Ioktán begate Almodád and Shéleph, and Hazermáueth and Iérah, 21 And Hadorám and Vzál and Dikláh,
22 And Ebál, and Abimaél, and Shebá,
23 And Ophír, and Hauilah and Iobáb: all theſe were the ſonnes of Ioktan.
24 fShem, g Arpachſhád, Shélah, 25 Eber, Péleg, Rehú,
26 Serúg, Nahór, Teráh,
27 *Abrám, which is Abrahám
28 ¶ The ſonnes of Abraham were Izhák, and Iſhmaél.
29 Theſe are their generacións. *The eldeſt ſonne of Iſhmaél was Nebaióth, and Kedár, and Adbeél and Mibſám, 30 Miſhmá, and Dumáh, Maſſa, "Hadád, and Tema, 31 Ietúr, Naphíſh and Kédemah: theſe are the ſonnes of Iſhmaél.
32 ¶ And Keturáh Abrahams h cōcubine bare ſonnes, Zimran, and Iokſhan, & Medán, and Midian, and Iſhbák & Shuah: and the ſonnes of Iokſhán, Sheba, and Dedan.
33 And the ſonnes of Midian were Ephíh, & Ephár, & Henóch, & Abida, & Eldaáh: *all theſe are the ſonnes of Keturáh.
34 *And Abrahám begate Izhák: the ſonnes of Izhák, Eſau, and Iſraél.
35 ¶ The ſonnes of Eſáu were i * Eliphaz, Reuél, and Ieúſh, and Iaalám, and Kórah.

a Meaning that Sheth was Adams ſonne & Enoſh Sheths ſonne.

b It had bene ſufficient to haue named Shem, of whome came Abraham and Dauid, but becauſe the worlde was reſtored by theſe thre, mencion is alſo made of Ham and Iápheth

Gen. 10,32.

"Or, Riphátb.

"Or, Rodanim.

c Who firſt did lift vp him ſelfe aboue others, Geneſ 10,8.

Gen. 10,22. & 11,10.

d Of whome came the Syrians, and therefore they are called Aramites through out all ỹ Scripture.

e Of him came ỹ Ebrewes which were afterwarde called Iſraelites of Iſraél, which was Iaakob: and Iewes of Iudáh, becauſe of the excellēcie of that tribe.

f He repeateth Shem againe, becauſe he wolde come to the ſtocke of Abrahám.

g Who came of Shem and of him Shélah.

Gen 10,11. & 17,5. & 21,2.

Gen. 25,13.

"Or, Hadar.

h Read Gene. 25,2.

Gen. 25,4.

Gen. 21,2.

i Theſe were borne of three diuers mothers, read Gen 36,4.

Gen. 36,9.

36 The ſonnes of Elipház, Temán, and Omár, [f] Zephí, and Gatam, Kenáz, and [k] Timná, and Amalék.

37 The ſonnes of Reuél, Náhath, Zérah, Shammáh and Mizzáh.

38 And the ſonnes of [l] Seír, Lotán, and Shobál, and Zibeón, and Anáh, and Diſhón, and Ezér and Diſhán.

39 And the ſonnes of Lotán, Horí, and Homám, and Timna Lotans ſiſter.

40 The ſonnes of Shobál were Alián, and Manahath, and Ebál, Shephí, and Onám. And the ſonnes of Zibeón, Aiáh & Anáh.

41 The ſonne of Anáh was Diſhón. And the ſonnes of Diſhón, Amrán, & Eſhbán, and Ithrán, and Cherán.

42 The ſonnes of Ezér were Bilhán, and Zaauán, and Iaakán. The ſonnes of Diſhón were Vz, and Arán.

43 ¶ And theſe were the [m] Kings that reigned in the land of Edóm, before a King reigned ouer the children of Iſraél, to wit, Béla the ſonne of Beór, and the name of his citie was Dinhábah.

44 Thē Béla dyed, and Iobáb the ſonne of Zérah of [n] Bozráh reigned in his ſteade.

45 And whē Iobáb was dead, Huſſhám of [y] land of the Temanites reigned in his ſtead.

46 And when Huſſham was dead, Hadád the ſonne of Bedád which ſmote Midián in the field of Moáb, reigned in his ſtead, and the name of his citie was Auíth.

47 So Hadád dyed, and Samláh of Maſhrecáh reigned in his ſteade.

48 And Samláh dyed, and Shaúl of Rehobóth by the riuer reigned in his ſteade.

49 And when Shaúl was dead, Báal-hanán the ſonne of Achbó- reigned in his ſteade.

50 And Báal-hanan dyed, and Hadád reigned in his ſteade, & the name of his citie was [r] Paí, & his wiues name Mehetabél the daughter of Matréd the daughter of Mezahab.

51 Hadád dyed alſo, and there were dukes in Edóm, duke Timná, duke [s] Aliáh, duke Iethéth,

52 Duke Aholibamáh, duke Eláh, duke Pinón,

53 Duke Kenáz, duke Temán, duke Mibzár,

54 Duke Magdiél, duke Irám. theſe were the dukes of Edóm.

CHAP II.

2 The genealogie of Iudáh vnto Iſhái the father of Dauid.

1 THeſe are the ſónes of Iſraél, *Reubén, Simeón, Leuí and Iudáh, Iſſhachár, & Zebulún,

2 Dan, Ioſeph, and Beniamín, Naphtalí, Gad, and Aſhér.

3 *The ſonnes of [a] Iudáh, Er, and Onán, & Sheláh. Theſe three were borne to him of the daughter of Shúa [y] Cananite: but Er the eldeſt ſonne of Iudáh was euil in the ſight of the Lord, and he ſlewe him.

4 *And Thamár his daughter in lawe bare him Phárez, and Zérah: ſo all the ſonnes of Iudáh were fyue.

5 *The ſónes of Phárez, Hezrón & Hamúl.

6 The ſonnes alſo of Zeráh were [t] Zimri, and [b] Ethan, and Heman, and Calcól, and Dara, which were fiue in all.

7 And [y] ſonne of Carmi, [c]*Achár that troubled Iſraél, tranſgreſsing in the thing excommunicate.

8 The ſonne alſo of Ethán, Azariáh.

9 And the ſonnes of Hezrón that were borne vnto him, Ierahmeél, and [c] Ram and Chelubái.

10 And Ram begate Aminadáb, and Aminadáb begate Naſhón [d] prince of the children of Iudáh,

11 And Nahſhón begate Salmá, and Salmá begate Bóaz,

12 And Bóaz begate Obéd, and Obéd begate [e] Iſhái,

13 *And Iſhái begate his eldeſt ſonne Eliáb, and Abinadáb the ſeconde, and [f] Shimmá the third,

14 Nathaneél the fourt, Raddái the fift,

15 Ozém the ſixt, and Dauid the ſeuent.

16 Whoſe ſiſters were Zeruiáh & Abigáil. And the ſonnes of Zeruiah, Abiſhai, and Ioáb, and Aſahél.

17 And Abigáil bare Amaſá: and the father of Amaſá was Iether an Iſhmeelite.

18 ¶ And [e] Caléb the ſonne of Hezrón begate Ierióth of Azubáh his wife, and her ſonnes are theſe, Ieſher, and Shobáb, and Ardón.

19 And when Azubáh was dead, Caléb toke vnto him Ephrath, which bare him Hur.

20 *And Hur begate Urí, and Uri begate Bezaleél.

21 And afterwarde came Hezrón to the daughter of Machir the father of [g] Gilead, and tok her when he was threſcore yere olde, and ſhe bare him Segúb.

22 And Segúb begate Iair, which had thre and twentie cities in the land of Gilead.

23 And Geſhúr with Arám toke the townes of Iair [g] from them, and Kenáth and the townes thereof, euen threſcore cities. All theſe were the ſonnes of Machir, the father of Gileád.

24 And after that Hezrón was dead at [h] Caléb Ephrátah, then Abiáh Hezron wife bare him alſo Aſhúr the [i] father of Tekóa.

25 And the ſonnes of Ierameél the eldeſt ſonne of Hezrón were Ram the eldeſt, then Bunáh & Orén & Ozém and Ahiáh.

26 Alſo Ierahmeél had another wife named Atarán, which was the mother of Onám.

27 And the ſonnes of Ram the eldeſt ſonne of Ierahmeél were Máaz, and Iamin and

---

*Or, Zephó.

k Which was Elephaz concubine: read Gen. 36, 12.

l He is alſo called Seír the Horite, which inhabited mount Seír, Gen. 36, 20.

m He maketh mencio of the Kings that came of Eſáu, according to Gods promes made to Abraaím cõcerning him, that Kings ſhulde come of him. Theſe eight Kings reigned one after another in Idumea vnto the time of Dauid, who conquered their cõtrey n Which was the principal citie of the Edomites.

*Or, Pái.

*Or, Aliab.

Gen. 29, 32. & 30, 5. & 35, 18.

Gen. 38, 3. & 46, 12.

chap. 4, 1.

a Thogh Iudáh was not Iaakobs eldeſt ſonne, yet he firſt begin-neth at him, becauſe he wolde come to the genealogie of Dauid, of whome came Chriſt.

b Of theſe read 1 Kings 4, 31.

*Or, Achár. Ioſh. 7, 1.

c Whome S. Matth. calleth Aram, Mat. 1, 3.

d That is, chief of the familie.

*Or, Ieſſe.

1. Sam. 16, 9. & 17, 12.

*Or, Shamméa.

e Who was called the ſonne of Hezrón, verſ. 9.

Exod. 31, 2.

f Who was prince of mounte Gilead, read Nom. 32, 40.

g That is, the Geſhurites & Syrians toke the townes from Iairs children.

h Which was a towne named of the houſbãd and wife, called alſo Beth-lãhem Ephratah.

i Meaning the chief & prince.

and Ekar.

28 And the ſonnes of Onám were Shammái and Iadá. And the ſonnes of Shāmái, Nadáb and Abiſhúr.

29 And the name of the wife of Abiſhúr was called Abiáhil, and ſhe bare him Ahbán and Molíd.

30 The ſonnes alſo of Nadáb were Séled and Appáim: but Séled dyed without children.

31 And the ſonne of Appáim was Iſhí, and the ſonne of Iſhí, Sheſhán, and the ſonne of Sheſhan, [k] Ahlái, k Who dyed whiles his father was alyue and therefore it is ſaid, vers. 34 that Sheſhan had no ſonnes.

32 And the ſonnes of Iadá the brother of Shammái were Iéther and Ionathán: but Iéther dyed without children.

33 And the ſonnes of Ionathán were Péleth and Zazá. Theſe were the ſonnes of Ierahmeél.

34 And Sheſhán had no ſonnes, but daughters. And Sheſhán had a ſeruant that was an Egyptian named Iarha.

35 And Sheſhan gaue his daughter to Iarhá his ſeruant to wife, and ſhe bare him Attái.

36 And Attái begate Nathán, and Nathán begate Zabád, 37 And Zabád begate Ephlál, & Ephlál begate Obéd,

38 And Obéd begate Iehú, and Iehú begate Azariáh,

39 And Azariáh begate Hélez, and Hélez begate Eleaſáh, 40 And Eleaſáh begate Siſamái, & Siſamái begate Shallúm, 41 And Shallúm begate Iekamiáh, & Iekamiáh begate Eliſhamá.

42 Alſo the ſonnes of Caléb, the brother of Ierahmeél, were Meſhá his eldeſt ſonne, which was the [l] father of Ziph: & the ſonnes of Mareſháh the father of Hebrón.

l That is, the chief gouernor or prince of ſ Ziphims, becauſe the prince ought to haue a fatherlie care and affection toward his people.

43 And the ſonnes of Hebrón were Kórah and Tappúah, and Rékem and Shéma.

44 And Shéma begate Ráham the father of Iorkoám: and Rékem begate Shammái.

45 The ſonne alſo of Shammái was Maón: and Maón was the father of Beth-zúr.

46 And Epháh a [m] concubine of Caléb bare Harán and Mozá, and Gazéz: Harán alſo begate Gazéz.

m This difference was betweene the wife and the cõcubine, that the wife was take with certeine ſolemnities of mariage, and her children did inherit: the concubine had no ſolemnities in mariage, neither did her children inherit, but had a portion of goods or money giuen the Iuſh 15,17.

47 The ſonnes of Iahdái were Régem, and Iothám, and Geſhán, & Pélet, and Epháh, and Shaaph.

48 Caleb's concubine Maacháh bare Shéber and Tirhanáh.

49 She bare alſo Shaaph, the father of Madmannáh, and Sheuá the father of Machbenáh, and the father of Gibeá. *And Achſáh was Calebs daughter.

50 ¶ Theſe were the ſonnes of Caléb the ſonne of Hur ſ eldeſt ſonne of Ephráthah, Shobál the father of Kiriáth-iearím.

51 Salmá the father of Beth-léhem, and Haréph the father of Beth-gadér.

52 And Shobál the father of Kiriath-iearím had ſonnes, and he [n] was the ouerſeer of halfe Hammenóth.

n Or, he that ſawe the halfe, becauſe the prince ought to ouerſe his ſubiectes.

53 And the families of Kiriath-iearím were the Ithrites, and the Puthites, and the Shumathites, & the Miſhraites, of them came the Zarheathites, and the Eſhtaulites.

54 The ſonnes of Salmá of Beth-léhem, and the Nerophathite, the [o] crownes of the houſe of Ioáb, and [p] halfe the Manahthites and the Zorites.

o Meaning, the chief & principal p Or, the Zorites, the halfe of the Manahthites.

55 And the families of the [q] Scribes dwelling at Iabéz, the Tirathites, the Shimeathites, the Shuchathites, which are the [r] Kenites, that came of Hammáth the father of the houſe of Recháb.

q Which were men learned and expert in the Lawe r Read Nõh. 10,29, & mdg. 1,16.

CHAP. III.

1 The genealogie of Dauid and of his poſteritie vnto the ſonnes of Ioſiáh.

1 THeſe alſo were the ſonnes of [a] Dauid, which were borne vnto him in Hebrón: the eldeſt Amnón of Ahinóam, the Izraeliteſſe: the ſecond [b] Daniél of Abigáil the Carmeliteſſe.

a He returneth to the genealogie of Dauid, to ſhewe that Chriſt came of his ſtocke

b Which 2. Sam 3,3. is called Cheleáb, borne of her, that was Nabals wife the Carmelite.

2 The third Abſalóm the ſonne of Maacháh daughter of Talmái King of Geſhúr: the fourt Adoniiáh the ſonne of Haggíth:

3 The fift Shephatiáh of Abitál: the ſixt Ithreám by Egláh his wife.

4 Theſe ſix were borne vnto hí in Hebrón: and there he reigned ſeuen yere and ſix moneths: and in Ieruſalém he reigned thre and thirtie yere.

c Onely Salomón was Dauids natural ſonne, ſ other thre were Vrias, whome Dauid made his by adoption he that was begotten in adulterie & dyed ſ eight day, is not rekened among Dauids ſonnes

5 And theſe foure were borne vnto him in Ieruſalém, Shimeá, and Shobáb, and Nathán, and [c] Salomón of [d] Bathſhúa the daughter of Ammiél:

d Called alſo Bathſhéba the daughter of Eliám: ſo they gaue them diuerſe names.

6 Ibhár alſo, and [e] Eliſhamá, and Eliphálet,

e Eliſhamá, or Eliſhúa 2 Sam 5,15: & Eliphélet dyed, & Dauid named thoſe ſonnes, which were next borne, by the ſame names: in the boke of Kigs his children are mencioned which were aliue, and here bothe they ſ were aliue & dead

7 And Nógah, and Népheg, and Iaphía,

8 And Eliſhamá, and Eliadá, and Eliphélet, nine in nomber.

9 Theſe are all the ſonnes of Dauid, beſides the ſonnes of the concubines, & Thamár their ſiſter.

f So called becauſe he was preferred to ſ dignitie royal before his brother Iehoiakím, ſ was the elder.

10 ¶ And Salomons ſonne was Rehoboám, whoſe ſonne was Abiáh, and Aſá his ſonne, and Iehoſhaphát his ſonne, 11 And Ioram his ſonne, and Ahaziáh his ſonne, and Ioáſh his ſonne, 12 And Amaziáh his ſonne, & Azariáh his ſonne, & Iothám his ſonne, 13 And Ahaz his ſonne, & Hezekiáh his ſonne, & Manaſſéh his ſonne, 14 And Amón his ſonne, & Ioſiáh his ſonne.

15 ¶ And of the ſonnes of Ioſiáh, the [f] eldeſt was [g] Iohanán, the ſeconde Iehoiakim, the thirde Zedekiáh, and the fourt Shallúm.

g Or, Iehoahás, 2. King. 23,30.

16 And the ſonnes of Iehoiakím were Ieconiáh his ſonne, and Zedekiáh his ſonne.

17 And the ſonnes of Ieconiáh, Aſſir and Shealtiél his ſonne:
18 Malchirám alſo and Pedaiáh, & Shenazár, Iecamiáh, Hoſhamá, and Nedabiáh.
g S Mat ſaith that Zorobabél was ſonne of Zalathiél, meaning that he was his nenewe according to the Ebrewe ſpeache. for he was Pedaiahs ſonne.
19 And the ſonnes of Pedaiáh were g Zerubbabél, and Shimmeí: and the ſonnes of Zerubbabél were Meſhullám, and Hananiáh, and Shelomíth their ſiſter, 20 And Haſhubáh, & Ohél, and Berechiáh, & Hazadiáh, & Iuſhabhéſed, fiue in nõber.
21 And the ſonnes of Hananiáh were Pelatiáh, and Ieſaiáh: the ſonnes of Rephaiáh, the ſonnes of Arnán, the ſonnes of Obadiáh, the ſonnes of Shechaniáh.
22 And the ſonne of Shechaniáh was Shemaiáh: and the ſonnes of Shemaiáh were Hattúſh and Igeál, and Bariáh, and Neariáh and Shaphát, h ſix.
h So that Shemaiáh was Shechaniahs natural ſonne, & the other fiue his neuewes, & in all were ſix.
23 And the ſonnes of Neariáh were Elioenái, and Hezekiáh, and Azrikám, three.
24 And the ſonnes of Elioenái were Hodaiáh, and Eliaſhíb, and Pelaiáh, and Akkúb, and Iohanán, and Delaiáh and Anáni, ſeuen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The genealogie of the ſonnes of Iudáh. 5 Of Aſhúr. 9 Of Iabéz and his prayer. 11 Of Chelúb. 24 And Simeón: their habitacions. 38 And conqueſts.

a Meaning, they came of Iudáh, as neweues & kinſmen: for only Pháres was his natural ſonne Gen 38.29. & 46.12. chap.2.4.
1 THe a ſonnes of Iudán were * Phárez, Hezrón, and Carmí, and Hur, and Shobál.
2 And Reaiáh the ſonne of Shobál begate Iáhath, and Iáhath begate Ahumái, and Láhad: theſe are the families of the Zoreathites.
3 And theſe were of the father of Etám, Izreél, and Iſhmá and Idbáſh: and the name of their ſiſter was Hazlelepóni.
4 And Penuél was the father of Gedór, and Ezér the father of Huſháh: theſe are the ſonnes of Hur the b eldeſt ſonne of Ephrátah, the father of Beth-léhem.
b The firſt borne of his mother, & not the eldeſt ſonne of his father.
5 But Aſhúr the father of Tekóa had two wiues, Heleáh, and Naaráh.
6 And Naaráh bare him Ahuzám, & Hépher, and Temení and Haaſhtarí: theſe were the ſonnes of Naaráh.
7 And the ſonnes of Helcán were Zéreth, Iezóhar and Ethnán.
8 Alſo Coz begate Anúb, and Zobebáh, & the families of Aharhél ŷ ſõne of Harúm.
9 But Iabéz was more honorable then his brethren: and his mother called his name c Iabéz, ſaying, Becauſe I bare him in ſorowe.
c Otherwiſe called Othniél, Iudg 3.11.
10 And Iabéz called on the God of Iſraél, ſaying, If thou wilt bleſſe me in dede, and enlarge my coaſtes, and d if thine hand be with me, and thou wilt cauſe me to be deliuered from euil, that I be not hurt. And God granted the thing that he aſked.
d It is to be vnderſtãd, that when he wolde accõpliſh his vowe which he made.
11 ¶ And Chelúb the brother of Shuáh begate Mehír, ẅ was the father of Eſhtón.
12 And Eſhtón begate Beth raphá, & Paſeáh, & Tehinnáh the father of the citie of Naháſh: theſe are the men of Rechah.
13 ¶ And ŷ ſonnes of Kenáz were Othniél & Zeraiáh, & ŷ ſonne of Othniél, Hathath.
14 And Meonothái begate Ophráh. And Seraiáh begate Ioáb the e father of the valley of craftesmen: for they were craftesmen.
e The Lord of ŷ valley where the artificers did worke 15 ¶ And the ſonnes of Caléb the ſonne of f Iephunnéh were Irú, Eláh, and Náam. And the ſonne of Eláh was Kenáz.
f Called alſo Eſhon
16 And the ſonnes of Iehaleél were Ziph, and Zipháh, Tiriá, and Aſareél.
17 And the ſonnes of Eziáh were Iéther & Méred, and Ephér, and Ialón, and he begate Miriám, and Shammái, and Iſhbáh the father of Eſhtemóa.
18 Alſo his g wife Iehudiiáh bare Iéred the father of Gedór, and Héber the father of Sochó, and Iekuthiél the father of Zanóah: and theſe are the ſonnes of Bithiáh the daughter of Pharaóh ẅ which Méred toke.
g Or, ſhe bare, meaning the ſecond wife of Ezrah
ẅ Or, of whome he had diuorced
19 And the ſonnes of the wife of Hodiáh, the ſiſter of Nahám the father of Keiláh were the Garmites, & Eſhtemóa the Maachathite.
20 And the ſonnes of Shimón were Amnón and Rinnáh, Ben-hanám and Tilón And the ſonnes of Iſhi were Zoheth, and Benzoheth.
21 ¶ * The ſonnes of Sheláh, the ſonne of Iudáh were Er the father of Lecáh, & Laadáh the father of Mareſhàh, and the families of the houſholdes of thẽ that wroght fine linen in the houſe of Aſhbéa. Gen 38.5.
22 And Iokím and the men of Chozebá & Ioáſh, and Saráph, which had the dominiõ in Moáb, and h Iaſhúbi Léhem. Theſe alſo are ancient things.
h Or, of theſe inhabitants of Lehem 23 Theſe were potters, and dwelt among plants & hedges: i there they dwelt with the King for his worke.
i They were King Dauids gardiners and ſerued him in his workes.
24 * The ſonnes of Simeón were Nemuél, and Iamín, Iarib, Zérah, & k Shaúl. Gen 46.10. exod 6.15.
25 Whoſe ſonne was Shallúm, & his ſonne, Mibſám, & his ſonne Miſhmá.
k His ſonne Omitted.
26 And the ſonnes of Miſhmá, Hamuél was his ſonne, Zacchúr his ſonne, & Shimeí his ſonne.
27 And Shimeí had ſixtene ſonnes, and ſix daughters, but his brethren had not many children, neither was all their familie like to the children of Iudáh in multitude.
28 And they dwelt at l Beer-ſhéba, & at Moladáh, and at Hazár Shuál, l Theſe cities belonged to ŷ tribe of Iudáh Ioſh 19.1 and were giuen to the tribe of Simeón.
29 And at Bilháh, and at Ezém, and at Tólád,
30 And at Bethuél, and at Hormáh, and at Ziklág, 31 And at Beth-marcabóth, and at Hazár Suſim,

365/1224

Suſim, at Beth-bireí, & at Shaaráim. theſe were their cities vnto the reigne of [k] Dauid.

k Then Dauid reſtored them to the tribe of Iudáh

32 And their townes were Etám, and Aín, Rimmón, and Tóché, & Aſhán, fiue cities.
33 And all their townes that were round about theſe cities vnto Báal. Theſe are their habitations and the declaration of their genealogie, 34 And Meſhobáb and Iamléch, & Ioſháh the ſonne of Amaſhiáh, 35 And Ioél and Iehú the ſonne of Ioſhibiáh, ỹ ſonne of Seraiáh, ỹ ſonne of Aſiél, 36 And Elionái, and Iaakóbah, & Ieſhohaiáh, and Aſaiáh, and Adiél and Ieſimiél & Benaiáh, 37 And Zizá the ſonne of Shiphéi, the ſonne of Allón, the ſonne of Iedaiáh, the ſonne of Shimrí, the ſonne of Shemaiáh.
38 Theſe were famous princes in their families, and increaſed greatly their fathers houſes.

f For the tribe of Simeón was ſo great in nóber ỹ in the time of Ezekiáh thei ſoght newe dwellīgs vnto Gedór, which is in the tribe of Dán.

39 And they [l] went to the entring in of Gedór, euen vnto the Eaſt ſide of the valley, to ſeke paſture for their ſhepe.
40 And thei found fat paſture & good, & a wide land, bothe quiet and fruteful: for they of Ham had dwelt there before.
41 And theſe deſcribed by name, came in ỹ dayes of Hezekiáh Kīg of Iudáh, & ſmote their tents, and the inhabitants that were founde there, and deſtroyed them vtterly vnto this day, and dwelt in their rowme, becauſe there was paſture there for their ſhepe.
42 And beſides theſe, fiue hundreth men of the ſonnes of Simeón went to moũt Seír, and Pelatiáh, & Neariáh, and Rophaiáh, and Vzziél the ſonnes of Iſhí were their captaines, m And were not ſlaine by Saul & Dauid.

43 And the reſt of Amalék that had [m] eſcaped, and they dwelt there vnto this day.

CHAP. V.

1 The birthright taken from Reubén and giuen to the ſonnes of Ioſéph 3 The genealogie of Reubén, 11 And Gad, 23 And of the halfe tribe of Manaſſéh.

1 THe ſonnes alſo of Reubén the eldeſt ſonne of Iſraél (for he was the eldeſt, *but had defiled his fathers bed, therefore his birthright was giuen vnto the [a] ſonnes of Ioſéph the ſonne of Iſraél, ſo that the genealogie is not rekened after his birthright.

Gen 35.22. & 49.4.

a Becauſe thei were made two tribes, thei had a double portion

2 For Iudáh preuailed aboue his brethren, & of him came [b] the prince, but the birthright was Ioſephs.)

b That is, he was ỹ chiefeſt of all ỹ tribes according to Iaakobs prophecie, Gen 49.8, & becauſe Chriſt ſhulde come of him

3 *The ſonnes of Reubén the eldeſt ſonne of Iſraél were Hanóch & Pallú, Hezrón and Carmí.
4 The ſonnes of Ioél, Shemaiáh his ſonne, Gog his ſonne, and Shimeí his ſonne,
5 Michá his ſonne, Reaiáh his ſonne, and Báal his ſonne,

Gen 46.9. exod.6.14. numb.26.5.

6 Beeráh his ſonne: whome Tilgáth Pilneéſer King of Aſſhúr [c] caryed away: he was a prince of the Reubenites.

c To wit, in ỹ time of Vzziiáh King of Iſraél, 2 Kīgs. 15.29.

7 And when his brethren in their families rekened the genealogie of their generacions, Ieiél and Zechariáh were the chief,
8 And Béla the ſonne of Azáz, the ſonne of Shéma, the ſonne of Ioél, which dwelt in [d] Aroér, euẽ vnto Nebó & Báal-meõn.

d Theſe places were beyonde Iordén toward the Eaſt in the land gīuẽ to the Reubenites.

9 Alſo Eaſtwarde he inhabited vnto the entring in of the wildernes from the riuer [e] Peráth: for they had muche cattel in the land of Gileád.

e Or, Euphrates.

10 And in the dayes of Saúl they warred with the [e] Hagarims, which fell by their hands: and they dwelt in their tents in all the Eaſt partes of Gileád.

e The Iſhmaelites that came of Hagár Abrahams concubine.

11 ¶ And the children of Gad dwelt ouer againſt them in the land of Baſhán, vnto Salcháh.
12 Ioél was the chiefeſt, and Shaphám the ſeconde, but Iaanái & Shaphát were in Baaſhán.
13 And their brethrẽ of the houſe of their fathers were Michaél, & Meſhullám, & Shebá, & Sorái, and Iacán & Zíá, & Ebér, ſeuẽ.
14 Theſe are the children of Abihaíl, the ſonne of Hurí, the ſonne of Iaroáh, the ſonne of Gileád, the ſonne of Michaél, the ſonne of Ieſhiſhái, the ſonne of Iahdó, the ſonne of Buz.
15 Ahí the ſonne of Abdiél, the ſonne of Guní was chief of the houſholde of their fathers.
16 And they dwelt in Gileád in [f] Baſhán, & in the townes thereof, and in all the ſuburbes of Sharón, by their borders.

f Bothe the hole countrey & one peculiar citie were called by this name Baſhan.

17 All theſe were rekened by genealogies in the dayes of Iothám King of Iudah, & in the dayes of Ieroboám King of Iſraél.
18 ¶ The ſonnes of Reubén and of Gad, & of halfe the tribe of Manaſſéh of thoſe ỹ were valiant men, able to beare ſhield, & ſworde, and to drawe a bowe, exerciſed in warre, were foure & fourtie thouſand, ſeuen hundreth and threſcore, that went out to the warre.
19 And they made warre with ỹ Hagarims, with [g] Ietúr, & Naphíſh and Nodab.

g Theſe twaine were ỹ ſonnes of Iſhmaél, Gene 25.13

20 And they were [h] holpen againſt them, & the Hagarims were deliuered into their hand, and all that were with them: for thei cryed to God in the battel, and he heard them, becauſe they truſted in him.

h To wit, by the Lord, that gaue them the victorie.

21 And they led away their cattel, euẽ their camels fiftie thouſand, and two hundreth, & fiftie thouſand ſhepe, and two thouſand aſſes, and of "perſones an hundreth thouſand.

"Ebr ſoules of men

22 For many fel downe wounded, becauſe the warre was of God. And they dwelt in their ſteades vntil the [i] captiuitie.

i Meaning the captiuitie of ỹ tē tribes vnder Tilgath-Pilneeſer

23 And the children of the halfe tribe of Manaſſéh dwelt in the land, from Baſhán k Otherwiſe called, Báal-gad. vnto k Báal Hermón, and Senír, and vnto mount Hermón: for they increaſed.
24 And theſe were the heades of the houſholdes of their fathers, euen Epher and Iſhí, and Eliél and Azriél, and Ieremiáh, and Hodauiáh, and Iahdiél, ſtrong men, valiant & famous, heades of the houſholdes of their fathers.
25 But they tranſgreſſed againſt the God of their fathers, and went a whoring after the gods of the people of the land, whome God had deſtroied before them.
l Thus God ſtirred vp the wicked and vſed them, as inſtruments to execute his iuſte iudgemẽt againſt iuners, although they were led v̄ malice & ambitiõ. 2. King 18,11.
26 And God of Iſraél l ſtirred vp the ſpirit of Pul King of Aſſhúr, and the ſpirit of Tilgáth Pilneeſér King of Aſſhúr, and he caried them awaye: euen the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manaſſéh, and broght them vnto * Haláh and Habór, and Hará, and to the riuer Gozán, vnto this day.

CHAP. VI.

10 The genealogie of the ſonnes of Leuí. 31 Their ordre in the miniſterie of the Tabernacle. 49 Aarón & his ſonnes Prieſts 54,57 Their habitations.

1 THe ſonnes of Leuí were Gerſhón, Kohát, and Merarí.
Gen 46,11. exod 6,17. chap 23,6.
2 *And the ſonnes of Kohát, Amrám, Izhár, and Hebrón and Vzziél.
3 And the children of Amrám, Aarón, and Moſés and Miriám. And the ſonnes of Leuit 10,1. Nomb. 20,25. Aarón, *Nadáb, and Abihú, & *Eleazár, and Ithamár.
4 Eleazár begate Phinehás. Phinehás begate Abiſhúa,
5 And Abiſhúa begate Bukkí, & Bukkí begate Vzzí,
6 And Vzzí begate Zerahiáh, and Zarahiáh begate Meraióth.
7 Meraióth begate Amariáh, and Amariáh begate Ahitúb, a Which was hie Prieſt after that Abiathar was deposed, according to the prophecie of Eli the Prieſt, 1 Sam 2,35.
8 And Ahitúb begate a Zadók, and Zadók begate Ahimáaz, 9 And Ahimáaz begate Azariáh, and Azariáh begate Iohanán, b And did vſurpe it vnlawfully vnder King Vzziáh, who wolde haue vſurped the Prieſts office, 2 Chro. 26,17.
10 And Iohanán begate Azariáh (it was he that was b Prieſt in the houſe that Salomón buylt in Ieruſalém)
11 And Azariáh begate Amariáh, and Amariáh begate Ahitúb, 12 And Ahitúb begate Zadók, and Zadók begate Shallúm, 13 And Shallúm begate Hilkiáh, and Hilkiáh begate Azariáh, 14 And Azariáh begate Seraiáh, and Seraiáh begate Iehozadák, c That is, he was led into captiuitie with his father Seraiáh the hie Prieſt, 2 Kig. 25,18.
15 And c Iehozadák departed whē the Lord caried away into captiuitie Iudáh and Ieruſalém by the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár.
16 ¶ The ſonnes of Leuí were Gerſhóm, Kohát, and Merarí.
17 And theſe be the names of the ſonnes of Gerſhóm, Libní, and Shimeí.
18 And the ſonnes of Kohát were Amrám, and Izhár, and Hebrón and Vzziél.
19 The ſonnes of Merarí, Mahlí and Muſhí: and theſe are the families of Leuí cõcerning their fathers.
20 Of Gerſhóm, Libní his ſonne, Iaháth his ſonne, Zimmáh his ſonne, 21 Ioáh his ſonne, Iddó his ſonne, Zérah his ſonne, Ieaterái his ſonne.
d Who ſemeth to be called Izhár, Exod 6,21 Nomb 16,1.
22 The ſonnes of Kohath, d Aminadáb his ſonne, * Kórah his ſonne, Aſsír his ſonne, 23 Elkanáh his ſonne, and Ebiaſáph his ſonne, and Aſsír his ſonne, 24 Taháth his ſonne, Vriél his ſonne, Vzziáh his ſonne, and Shaúl his ſonne, 25 And the ſonnes of Elkanáh, Amaſái, and Ahimóth.
26 Elkanáh. the ſonnes of Elkanáh, Zophai his ſonne, and Náhath his ſonne, 27 Eliáb his ſonne, Ierohám his ſonne, Elkanáh his ſonne, e Who is alſo called Ioél, 1 Sam 8,2 & the 33 verſe of this chapter.
28 And the ſonnes of Samuél, ẏ eldeſt e Vaſhni, then Abiáh.
29 ¶ The ſonnes of Merarí were Mahlí, Libní his ſonne, Shimeí his ſonne, Vzzáh his ſonne, 30 Shimea his ſonne, Haggiáh his ſonne, Aſaiáh his ſonne.
f After it was broght to that place where ẏ Tẽple ſhulde be built & was nomore caryed to & fro. g Read Exod 27,21.
31 And theſe be they whome Dauid ſet for to ſing in the houſe of the Lord, after that the Arke had f reſt.
32 And thei miniſtred before the Tabernacle, euen the Tabernacle of the Congregation with g ſinging, vntil Salomón had buylt the houſe of the Lord in Ieruſalém: then they continued in their office, according to their cuſtome.
33 And theſe miniſtred with their children: of the ſonnes of Kohát, Hemán a ſinger, the ſonne of Ioél, the ſonne of Shemuél, 34 The ſonne of Elkanáh, the ſonne of Ierohám, the ſonne of Eliél, the ſonne of Tóah, 35 The ſonne of Zuph, the ſonne of Elkanáh, the ſonne of Máhath, the ſonne of Amaſái, 36 The ſonne of Elkanáh, the ſonne of Ioél, the ſonne of Azariáh, the ſonne of Zephaniáh, 37 The ſonne of Táhath, the ſonne of Aſſír, the ſonne of Ebiaſáph, the ſonne of Kórah,
*Or, nephewe.
38 The ſonne of Izhár, the ſonne of Kohát, the ſonne of Leuí, the ſonne of Iſraél.
39 And his h brother Aſáph ſtode on his right hand: euen Aſáph was the ſonne of Berechiáh, the ſonne of Shimea, h Meaning the coſin of Heman, vers 33.
*Or, coſin.

40 The

40 The ſonne of Michaél, the ſonne of Baſeiáh, the ſonne of Malchiáh, 41 The ſonne of Ethní, the ſonne of Zérah, the ſonne of Adaiáh, 42 The ſonne of Ethán, the ſonne of Zimmáh, the ſonne of Shimeí, 43 The ſonne of Iáhath, the ſonne of Gerſhóm, the ſonne of Leuí.
44 And their brethren the ſonnes of Merarí were on the left hand, euen Ethán the ſonne of Kíſhí, the ſonne of Abdí, the ſonne of Mallúch, 45 The ſonne of Haſhabiáh, the ſonne of Amaziáh, the ſonne of Hilkiáh, 46 The ſonne of Amzí, the ſonne of Baní, the ſonne of Shámer, 47 The ſonne of Mahlí, the ſonne of Muſhí, the ſonne of Merarí, ỹ ſonne of Leuí.
48 ¶And their [i] brethren the Leuites were [k] appointed vnto all the ſeruice of the Tabernacle of the houſe of God,
49 But Aarón and his ſonnes burnt incenſe vpon the altar of burnt offring, and on the altar of incenſe, for all that was to do in the moſte holy place, and to make an atonement for Iſraél, according to all that Moſés the ſeruant of God had commanded.
50 Theſe are alſo the ſonnes of Aarón, Eleazár his ſonne, Phinehás his ſonne, Abiſhúa his ſonne, 51 Bukki his ſonne, Vzzí his ſonne, Zerahiáh his ſonne, 52 Meraióth his ſonne, Amariáh his ſonne, Ahitúb his ſonne, 53 Zadók his ſonne, & Ahimáaz his ſonne.
54 ¶And theſe are the [l] dwelling places of them throughout their townes & coaſtes, euen of the ſonnes of Aarón for the familie of the Kohathites, for the [m] lot was theirs.
55 So they gaue them [n] Hebrón in the land of Iudáh and the ſuburbes thereof rounde about it.
56 But the field of the citie, and the villages thereof they gaue to Caléb the ſonne of Iephunnéh.
57 And to the ſonnes of Aarón they gaue the cities of Iudáh for [o] refuge, euen Hebrón and Libná with their ſuburbes, and Iattír, and Eſhtemóa with their ſuburbes, 58 And [p] Hilén with her ſuburbes, & Debir with her ſuburbes, 59 And Aſhán and her ſuburbes, and Bethſhémeſh and her ſuburbes:
60 ¶And of the tribe of Beniamín, Gebá and her ſuburbes, and [q] Alémeth with her ſuburbes, & Anathóth with her ſuburbes: all their cities were thirtene cities by their families.
61 And vnto the ſonnes of [r] Koháth the remnant of the familie of the tribe, euen of the halfe tribe of the halfe of Manaſſéh, by lot ten cities.
62 And to the ſonnes of Gerſhóm accordig to their families out of the tribe of Iſſachár, and out of the tribe of Aſhér, & out of the tribe of Naphtalí, and out of the tribe of Manaſſéh in Baſhán, thirtene cities.
63 Vnto the ſonnes of Merarí according to their families out of the tribe of Reubén, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulún, by lot twelue cities.
64 Thus the children of Iſraél gaue to the Leuites cities with their ſuburbes.
65 And they gaue by lot out of the tribe of ỹ children of Iudáh, & out of the tribe of the children of Simeón, & out of the tribe of the children of Beniamín, theſe cities, which they called by their names.
66 And they of the families of the ſonnes of Koháth, had cities and their coaſtes out of the tribe of Ephráim.
67 *And they gaue vnto them cities of refuge, Shechém in mount Ephráim, & her ſuburbes, and Gézer and her ſuburbes, Ioſh.21,21.
68 Iokmeám alſo and her ſuburbes, & Bethhorón with her ſuburbes, 69 And Aialón and her ſuburbes, and Gath Rimmón and her ſuburbes, 70 And out of the halfe tribe of Manaſſéh, [t] Aner and her ſuburbes, and [u] Bileám and her ſuburbes, for the families of the remnant of the ſonnes of Koháth.
71 Vnto the ſonnes of [f] Gerſhóm out of the familie of the halfe tribe of Manaſſéh, Golán in Baſhán, & her ſuburbes, & [x] Aſhtaróth with her ſuburbes, 72 And out of the tribe of Iſſachár, [y] Kédeſh and her ſuburbes, Daberáth and her ſuburbes, 73 [z] Ramóth alſo and her ſuburbes, and [a] Aném with her ſuburbes, 74 And out of the tribe of Aſhér, Maſhál and her ſuburbes, and Abdón and her ſuburbes, 75 And Hukók and her ſuburbes, and Rehób and her ſuburbes, 76 And out of the tribe of Naphtalí, Kédeſh in Galilea & her ſuburbes, & [b] Hammón and her ſuburbes, and [c] Kiriatháim and her ſuburbes.
77 Vnto the reſt of the children of Merarí were giuen out of the tribe of Zebulún, [d] Rimmón and her ſuburbes, [e] Tabór and her ſuburbes, 78 And on the other ſide Iordén by Ieríchó, euen on the Eaſtſide of Iordén, out of the tribe of Reubén, Bézer in the wildernes with her ſuburbes, and Iahzáh with her ſuburbes, 79 And Kedemóth with her ſuburbes, and Mepháath with her ſuburbes, i The Leuites are called the ſingers brethren, becauſe they came of ỹ ſame ſtocke k Read Nomb 4.4

l Or, cities ỹ were giuen to the Leuites m They were firſt appoited, and prepared for n Which was alſo called, Kiriath-arbá, Gen 23,2 Ioſh. 21,11.
o That he ỹ had killed a man might flee thereunto for ſuccour til his cauſe were tryed, Deu 19, 2 p Which Ioſhúa calleth Helón, Ioſh 21,15
q Or, Almón, Ioſh 21,18
r That is, they gaue a portion to ỹ Kohathites, ỹ were the remnaot of the tribe of Leuí, out of ỹ halfe tribe of Manaſſéh and out of Ephraim, verſ 66
s Who in the firſt verſe is called alſo Gerſhon.
t Or, Taanách, Ioſh 21,25 u Or, Gath rimmón x Or, Beeſhterá, Ioſh 21,27
y Or, Kiſhon, Ioſh 21,28.
z Or, Iarmúth, Ioſh 21,29
a Or, En gannim, Ioſh 21,29
b Or, Helkáth, Ioſh 21,31
c Or, Ammathdór, Ioſh 21,32.
d Or, Karthán, Ioſh 21,32
e Or, Iokneám. f Or, Kartáh, Ioſh 21,34.

80 And out of the tribe of Gad Raméth in Gileád with hei ſuburbes, and Mahanáim with hei ſuburbes, 81 And Heſhbón with hei ſuburbes, & Iaazéi with her ſuburbes.

CHAP. VII.

1 The genealogie of Iſſachár, Beniamín, 13 Naphtali, 14 Manaſſéh, 20 Ephráim, 30 And Aſhér.

1 AND the ſõnes of Iſſachái were Tola & [f]Puah, [a] Iaſhúb, & Shimrón, foure,
2 And the ſonnes of Tola, Vzzí, and Rephaiáh, and Ieriél, and Iahmái, & Ibſám, and Shemuél, heades in the houſholdes of thei fatheis. Of Tolá were valiant men of warre in their geneiacions, [b] whoſe nomber was in the daies of Dauid two & twentie thouſand, and ſix hundreth.
3 And the ſonne of Vzzí was Izi ahaiáh, & ỹ ſonnes of Izi ahaiáh, Michaél, & Obadiáh, and Ioél, & Iſſhiáh, [c] fiue men all princes.
4 And with them in their geneiacions after the houſholde of thei fatheis were bands of mẽ of warre for battel, ſix & thirtie thouſand: for thei had many wiues and childiien.
5 And their [f] brethren among all the families of Iſſachar were valiãt men of warre, rekened in all by their genealogies foure ſcore and ſeuen thouſand.
6 ¶ The ſonnes of Beniamín were Béla, & Bécher, and [d] Iediaél, [e] thre.
7 And the ſonnes of Béla, Ezbón, & Vzzí, and Vzziél, and Ieiimóth, & Iri, fiue heads of the houſholdes of their fatheis, valiant men of warre, and weie iekened by thei genealogies, two and twentie thouſand & thirtie and foure.
8 And the ſonnes of Bécher, Zemiiáh, and Ioáſh, and Eliézer, and Elioenái, & Omrí, & Ieiimóth, & Abiáh, & Anathóth, & Alámeth: all theſe weie the ſõnes of Bécher.
9 And thei weie nombred by their genealogies according to their geneiacions, and the chief of the houſes of thei fatheis, valiant men of waiie, twentie thouſand & two hundieth.
10 And the ſonne of Iediaél was Bilhán, and the ſonnes of Bilhán, Ieúſh, and Beniamín, and Ehúd, and Chenaanáh, and Zethán, and Tharſhiſh, and Ahiſháhar.
11 All theſe were ỹ ſonnes of Iediaél, chief of the fatheis, valiant men of waiie, ſeuẽtene thouſand & two hundreth, maiching in battel aray to the warre.
12 And Shuppím, & Huppím were the ſonnes of [f] Ii, but Huſhim was the ſonne [f] of [f] another.
13 ¶ The ſonnes of Naphtalí, Iahziél, and Guní, and Iézer, and [f] Shallúm [g] of the ſonnes of Bilháh.
14 The ſõne of Manaſſéh was Aſhriél whome ſhe bare vnto him, but his concubine of Aiám bare Machír the * father of Gileád.
15 And Machír toke to wife the ſiſter of Huppim & Shuppím, and the name of their ſiſter was Maacháh. And the name of the ſecõde ſonne was Zelophehad, and Zelophehád had daughteis.
16 And Maachah the wife of Machir bare a ſonne, and called his name [f] Péreſh, and the name of his biother was Shéreſh: and his ſonnes were Vlám and Rakém.
17 And ỹ ſonne of Vlám was Bedán. Theſe weie the ſonnes of Gileád the ſonne of Machír, the ſonne of Manaſſéh.
18 And [h] his ſiſter Molécheth bare Iſhód, & Abiézer, and Mahaláh.
19 And the ſonnes of Shemidá were Ahián, and Shéchem, and Likhí, and Aniám.
20 ¶ The ſonnes alſo of Ephráim were Shuthélah, & Béred his ſonne, & Táhath his ſonne, and his ſonne Eladáh, & Táhath his ſonne, 21 And Zabád his ſonne, and Shuthélah his ſonne, and Ezéi, and Eleád: and the men of [i] Gath that weie boine in the land, ſlewe them, becauſe thei came downe to take away thei cattel.
22 Therefore Ephráim their fatheі mourned many dayes, and his [f] brethren came to comforte him.
23 And when he went in to [f] his wife, ſhe conceiued, and bare him a ſonne, & he called his name Beriáh, becauſe afflictiõ was in his houſe.
24 And his [f] daughter was Sheráh, which buvlt Beth horón the nether, and the vppei, and Vzzén Sheeráh.
25 And Réphah was his [k] ſonne, & Reſheph, and Télah his ſonne, & Táhan his ſonne, 26 Laadán his ſonne, Ammihúd his ſonne, Eliſhamá his ſonne, 27 Non his ſonne, Iehoſhúa his ſonne.
28 And their poſſeſsiõs & thei habitacions were Beth-él, and the villages thereof, and Eaſtwarde Naarán, and Weſtwarde Gézer with the villages thereof, Shechém alſo and the villages thereof, vnto [f] Azzáh & the villages thereof, 29 And by the places of the children of Manaſſéh, Beth-ſhean & her villages, Taanách and her villages, Megiddó and her villages, Dor and hei villages. In thoſe dwelt the children of Ioſéph the ſonne of Iſraél.
30 ¶ * The ſonnes of Aſhér were Imnáh, & Iſuáh, and Iſhuai, & Beriáh, & Sérah their ſiſter.
31 And the ſonnes of Beriáh, Héber, and Malchiél, wh is the fatheі of Birzáuith 32 And Héber begate Iaphlet, and Shomér, and Hothám, and Shuah their ſiſter.
33 And the ſonnes of Iaphlét were Paſach, and [f] Bimhal, and Aſhuath: theſe were the children of Iaph'ét.
34 And the ſonnes of Shámer, Ahi, & Rohgáh,

[f] Or, Phuah
[a] Who alſo is called Iob, Gen. 46,13.
[b] That is, their nomber was founde th' great whẽ Dauid nõbred the people, 2 Sam 24,1
[c] Meaning, the foure ſonnes, & the father
[f] Or, kinſmen.
[d] Called alſo Aſhbél, Gen. 46,21 Nomb. 26,38
[e] Which were the cheifeſt elders there were ſeuen in all, as appeareth, Gen. 46,21.
[f] Or, Iri
[f] Meaning, ỹ he was not the ſonne of Beniamin, but of Dan, Gen 46,23
[f] Or, of Ahér
[f] Or, Shillém, Gen 46,24
[g] Theſe came of Dan and Naphtali, wh were the ſonnes of Bilháh, Gen 46,23 Nomb 26,31. Ioſh. 17,1.
[f] Or, Iex fr, Nomb. 26,30.
[h] Meaning, the ſiſter of Gilead
[i] Which was one of the fiue pricipal cities of the Philiſtims, ſlewe ỹ Ephraimites
[f] Or, kinſfolkes
[k] To wit, of Ephraim.
[f] Or, Adadah
[f] Or, Kimhi

369/1224

gáh, Iehubbáh, and Arám.
35 And ỹ ſonnes of his brother Hélem were Zopháh, and Iimná, and Shéleſh & Amál.
36 The ſonnes of Zopháh, Suáh, and Harnépher, and Shuál, and Berí, and Imráh, 37 Bézei and Hod, and Shammá, and Shilſháh, and Ithrán, and Beerá.
38 And the ſonnes of Iéther, Iephunnéh, & Piſpá and Ará.
39 And the ſonnes of Vllá, Haráh, and Haniél, and Riziá.
40 All theſe were the children of Aſhér, the heads of their fathers houſes, noble men, valiant mẽ of warre and chief princes, and their were rekened by their genealogies for warre and for battel to the nomber of ſix and twentie thouſand men.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The ſonnes of Beniamin, 33 and race of Saúl.

a He continueth in ỹ deſcription of ỹ tribe of Beniamin, becauſe his purpoſe is to ſet forthe ỹ genealogie of Saul

1 BEniamin alſo a begate Béla his eldeſt ſonne, Aſhbél the ſeconde, and Aharáh the thirde, 2 Noháh the fourte, and Raphá the fifte.
3 And the ſonnes of Béla were Addár, and Gerá, and Abihúd,
4 And Abiſhúa, and Naamán and Ahóah,
5 And Gerá, and Shephuphan, and Hurám.
6 ¶ And theſe are the ſonnes of Ehúd: theſe were the chief fathers of thoſe that inhabited Gébа: and b they were caryed away captiues to Monáhath,

b Meaning: the inhabitants of the citie Géba

c To wit, Ehúd.

7 And Naamán, and Ahiáh, and Gerá, he caryed them away captiues: and c he begate Vzzá and Ahihúd.

d After he had put away his two wiues.

8 And Shaharáim begate certeine in the countrey of Moáb, after he had ſent d away Huſhím and Baará his wiues.
9 He begate, I ſay, of Hodéſh his wife, Iobáb and Zibiá, and Meſhá, and Malchám, 10 And Ieúz & Shachiá and Mirmá: theſe were his ſonnes and chief fathers.
11 And of Huſhí he begate Ahitúb & Elpáal.
12 And the ſonnes of Elpáal were Eber, and Miſhám and Shámed (which buylt Onó, and Lod, and the villages thereof)
13 And Beriáh and Shéma (which were the chief fathers among the inhabitants of Aialón: they draue away the inhabitants of Gath)
14 And Ahió, Shaſák and Ierimóth, 15 And Sebadiáh, and Arád, and Ader,
16 And Michaél, & Iſpáh, & Iohá, the ſonnes of Beriáh, 17 And Zebadiáh, & Meſhullám, & Hizkí, and Héber, 18 And Iſhmerái and Izliáh, and Iobáb, the ſonnes of Elpaal, 19 Iakím alſo, and Zichrí, and Sabdí, 20 And Elienái, and Zillethái, and Eliél, 21 And e Adaiáh, and Beraiáh, and Shimráth the ſonnes of Shiméi, e Or, Abdiáh.

22 And Iſhpán, and Eber, and Eliél, 23 And Abdón, and Zichrí, and Hanán,
24 And Hananiáh, & Elám, & Antothiiáh, 25 Iphedeiáh & Penuél ỹ ſonnes of Shaſhák,
26 And Shâſherái, & Shehariáh & Athaliáh, 27 And Iaareſhiáh, and Eliáh, and Zichrí, the ſonnes of Ierohám.
28 Theſe were the chief e fathers according to their generacions, euen princes, which dwelt in Ieruſalém.

e The chief of the tribe of Beniamin that dwelt in Ieruſalém Chap 9,35.

29 And at* Gibeón dwelt the father of Gibeón, & ỹ name of his wife was Maachâh.
30 And his eldeſt ſonne was Abdón, then Zur, and Kiſh, and Báal, and Nadáb, 31 And Gidór, and Ahió, and Zácher.
32 And Miklóth begate Shimeáh: theſe alſo dwelt with their brethren in Ieruſalém, euen by them brethren.
33 And f Ner begate Kiſh, and Kiſh begate Saúl, and Saúl begate Ionathán, and Malchiſhúa, & Abinadáb, and g Eſhbáal.

f Who in the 1 Sam 9,1 is called ABiél.

g He is alſo named Ishbóſheth, 2 Samu. 2,9

34 And the ſonne of Ionathán was h Merib baal, and Merib-baal begate Micáh.
35 And the ſonnes of Micáh were Pithón, & Mélech, and Taréa and Aház.

h He is likewiſe called Mephibóſheth 2 Sam 9,6.

36 And Aház begate Iehoadáh, and Iehoadáh begate Alémeth, and Azmáueth, and Zimri, and Zimri begate Mozá, 37 And Mozá begate Binéáh, whoſe ſonne was Ráphah, and his ſonne Eleaſáh, and his ſonne Azél.
38 And Azél had ſix ſonnes, whoſe names are theſe, Azrikám, Bocherú and Iſhmaél, and Shearíah, and Obadiáh, and Hanán: all theſe were the ſonnes of Azél.
39 And the ſonnes of Eſhek his brother were Vlám his eldeſt ſonne, Iehúſh the ſecõde, and Eliphélet the third 40 And the ſonnes of Vlám were valiant men of warre which ſhot with the bowe, and had manie ſonnes and nephewes, an hundreth and fiftie: all theſe were of the ſonnes of Beniamin.

CHAP. IX.

1 All Iſraél and Iudáh nombred 10 Of the Prieſts, and Leuites, 11, 18 And of their offices

1 THus all Iſraél were nõbred by their genealogies: & beholde, they are writen in the boke of the Kings of Iſraél and of Iudáh, and they were a caryed away to Babél for their tranſgreſsion.

a Hitherto he hathe deſcribed their genealogies before they were into captiuitie, and now he deſcribeth their hiſtorie after their returne

2 ¶ And the chief inhabitants that dwelt in their owne poſſeſsions, and in their owne cities, euen Iſraél the Prieſts, the Leuites, and the b Nethinims.

b Meaning the Gabaonites, which ſerued in the Temple, read Ioſh 9,21.

3 And in Ieruſalém dwelt of the children of Iudáh, & of the children of Beniamín, & of the children of Ephráim, & Manaſſéh.
4 Vthái ỹ ſonne of Amihúd ỹ ſõne of Omrí, the ſonne of Imrí, the ſonne of Baní: of the childrẽ of Phárez, the ſonne of Iudáh.
5 And of Shiloní, Aſaráh the eldeſt, and his ſonnes.
6 And of the ſonnes of Zérah, Ieuél, and their brethren ſix hundreth and ninetie.

7 And of the ſonnes of Beniamín, Sallú, the ſonne of Meſhullám, the ſonne of Hodauiáh, the ſonne of Haſenuáh, 8 And Ibneiáh the ſonne of Ierohám, and Eláh the ſonne of Vzzí, the ſonne of Michrí, & Meſhullám the ſonne of Shephatiáh, the ſonne of Reuél, the ſonne of Ibniiáh.
9 And their brethren according to their generacions nine hundreth, fiftie and ſix: all theſe men were [a] chief fathers in the houſholdes of their fathers.

[a] Or, chief of the families.

10 ¶And of the Prieſts, Iedaiáh, and Iehoiaríb, and Iachín, 11 And Azariáh the ſonne of Hilkiáh, the ſonne of Meſhullám, the ſonne of Zadók, the ſonne of Meraióth, the ſonne of Ahitúb the [c] chief of the houſe of God,

[c] That is, he was the hie Prieſt.

12 And Adaiáh the ſonne of Ierohám, the ſõne of Paſhhúr, the ſonne of Malchiiáh, and Maaſái the ſonne of Adiél, ỹ ſonne of Iahzérah, the ſonne of Meſhullám, ỹ ſonne of Meſhillemíth, the ſonne of Immér.
13 And their brethrẽ the chief of the houſholdes of their fathers a thouſand, ſeuen hundreth and thre ſcore valiãt men, for ỹ [d] worke of the ſeruice of the houſe of God.

[d] To ſerue in the Temple, euerie one according to his office.

14 ¶And of the Leuites, Shemaiáh the ſonne of Haſſhúb, the ſonne of Azrikám, the ſõne of Haſhabiáh of the ſõnes of Merarí, 15 And Bakbakkár, Héreſh and Galál, and Mattaniah the ſonne of Michá, the ſonne of Zichrí, the ſonne of Aſáph, 16 And Obadiáh the ſonne of Shemaiáh, the ſonne of Galál, ỹ ſonne of Ieduthún, and Berechiáh, the ſonne of Aſá, the ſonne of Elkanáh, that dwelt in the villages of the Netophathites.
17 ¶And the porters were Shallúm, and Akkúb, and Talmón, and Ahimán, and their brethren: Shallúm was the chief.
18 For they were porters to this time by companies of the children of Leuí vnto the [e] Kings gate Eaſtwarde.

[e] So called becauſe the King came into the Tẽple thereby, & not the commoune people

19 And Shallúm the ſonne of Kóre the ſonne of Ebiaſáph the ſonne of Kórah, & his brethren the Korathites (of the houſe of their father) were ouer the worke, and office to kepe the gates of the [f] Tabernacle: ſo their families were ouer the hoſte of the Lord, keping the entrie.

[f] Their charge was, that none ſhulde entre into thoſe places, wher were onely appointed for ỹ Prieſts to miniſter in.

20 And Phinchás the ſonne of Eleazár was their guide, and the Lord was with him.
21 Zechariáh the ſonne of Meſhelemiáh was the porter of the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregacion.
22 All theſe were choſen for porters of the gates, two hundreth and twelue, which were nombred according to their genealogies by their townes. Dauid eſtabliſhed theſe and Samuél the Seer [g] in their perpetual office.

[g] Or, for their fidelitie.

23 So they and their children had the ouerſight of the gates of ỹ houſe of ỹ Lord, euẽ of the houſe of the Tabernacle by wardes.
24 The porters were in foure quarters Eaſtward, Weſtward, Northward and Southward.
25 And their brethren, which were in their townes, came at [g] ſeuen dayes from time to time with them.

[g] They ſerued wekely, as Ezek 4,10.

26 For theſe foure chief porters were in perpetual office, and were of the Leuites and had charge of the [h] chambers, & of the treaſures in the houſe of God.

[h] Or, opening of the doores.

27 And they laye round about the houſe of God, becauſe the charge was theirs, & they cauſed it to be opened euerie morning.
28 And certeine of them had the rule of the miniſtring veſſels: for they broght them in by tale, and broght them out by tale.
29 Some of them alſo were appointed ouer the inſtruments, and ouer all the veſſels of the Sanctuarie, and of the [h] floure, and the wine, and the oyle, and the incenſe, and the ſwete odours.

[h] Whereof ỹ meat offring was made, Leuit 2,1.

30 And certeine of the ſonnes of the Prieſts made ointments of ſwete odours.
31 And Mattithiáh one of the Leuites which was the eldeſt ſonne of Shallúm the Korhite, had the charge of the thĩgs that were made in the fryingpan.
32 And other of their brethren the ſonnes of Kohath had ỹ ouerſight of the* ſhewbread to prepare it euerie Sabbath.

* Exod.25,30.

33 And theſe are the ſingers, the chief fathers of the Leuites, which dwelt in the chãbers, [i] and had none other charge: for they had to do in that buſines day and night.

[i] But were cõtinually occupied in ſinging praiſes to God

34 Theſe were the chief fathers of the Leuites according to their generacions, and the principal which dwelt at Ieruſalém.
35 * And in Gibeón dwelt [a] the father of Gibeón, Ieiél, and the name of his wife was Maachá.

* Chap 9,39.
[a] Or, Abigibeon.

36 And his eldeſt ſonne was Abdón, then Zur, & Kiſh, & Báal, and Ner, & Nadáb, 37 And Gedór, and Ahió, and Zechariáh, and Miklóth.
38 And Miklóth begate Shimeám: they alſo dwelt with their brethren at Ieruſalém, euen by their brethren.
39 And * Ner begate Kiſh, & Kiſh begate Saúl, and Saúl begate Ionathán and Malchiſhúa, and Abinadáb and Eſhbáal.

* 1 Sam 14,51. chap 8,33.

40 And the ſonne of Ionathán was Meribbáal: and Merib-báal begate Micáh.
41 And the ſonnes of Micáh were Píthon, & Mélech and Tahréa.
42 And Aház begate [k] Iaráh, and Iaráh begate Alémeth, and Azmáueth & Zimrí, and Zimrí begate Mozá.

[k] Who was alſo called Iehoadáh chap. 8,36.

43 And Mozá begate Bineá, whoſe ſonne was Rephaiáh, and his ſonne was Elcaſáh, and his ſonne Azél.

44 And

44 And Azél had ſix ſonnes, whoſe names are theſe, Azrikám, Bocherú, & Iſmael, & Sheariáh, and Obadiáh, and Hanán: theſe are the ſonnes of Azél.

CHAP. X.

1 The battel of Saúl againſt the Philiſtims, 4 In which he dyeth, 5 And his ſonnes alſo. 13 The cauſe of Sauls death.

1.Sam.31.1. 1 THen * the Philiſtims foght againſt Iſraél: and the men of Iſraél fled before the Philiſtims, and fel downe ſlaine in mount Gilbóa.

2 And the Philiſtims purſued after Saúl & after his ſonnes, and the Philiſtims ſmote Ionathán, and Abinadáb, & Malchiſhúa the ſonnes of Saúl.

3 And the battel was ſore againſt Saúl, and the archers hit him, and he was "wounded of the archers.

"Her founde.

4 Then ſaid Saúl to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy ſworde, & thruſt me through therewith, leſt theſe vncircũciſed come & mocke at me: but his armour bearer wolde not, for he was ſore afraid: therefore Saúl toke the ſworde & fel vpõ it.

5 And when his armour bearer ſawe that Saúl was dead, he fel likewiſe vpon the ſworde, and dyed.

6 So Saúl dyed and his thre ſonnes, and all his houſe, they dyed together.

7 And when all the men of Iſraél that were in the valley, ſawe how they fled, and that Saúl and his ſonnes were dead, they forſoke their cities, & fled away, and the Philiſtims came, and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morowe when the Philiſtims came to ſpoile them that were ſlaine, they found Saúl & his ſonnes "lying in mount Gilbóa.

"Her fallen.

9 And when they had ſtript him, they toke his head and his armour, and ſent them into the land of the Philiſtims round about, to publiſh it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

10 And they laied vp his armour in ỹ houſe of their god, and ſet vp his head in the houſe of [a] Dagón.

[a] Which was the idole of ỹ Philiſtims, & from the belly downeward had the forme of a fiſh & vpwarde of a man.

11 ¶Whẽ all thei of Iabéſh Gileád heard all that the Philiſtims had done to Saúl, 12 Then they aroſe (all the valiant men) and toke the body of Saúl, and the bodies of his ſonnes, and broght them to Iabéſh, and buryed the bones of them vnder an oke in Iabéſh, and faſted ſeuen dayes.

13 So Saúl dyed for his tranſgreſſion, that he committed againſt the Lord, * euen againſt the worde of the Lord, which he kept not, and in that he ſoght and aſked counſel of a "* familiar ſpirit,

1.Sam.15.23.

"Or, witche and ſorcereſſe 1.Sam.28.8.

14 And aſked not of the Lord: therefore he ſlewe him, and turned the kingdome vnto Dauid the ſonne of Iſhái.

CHAP. XI.

2 After the death of Saul is Dauid anointed in Hebrón. 5 The Iebuſites rebell againſt Dauid, from whome he taketh the towre of Zión. 6 Ioáb is made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

1 THen * all Iſraél [a] gathered them ſelues to Dauid vnto Hebrón, ſaying, Beholde, we are thy bones and thy fleſh.

2.Sam.5.1.

[a] This was after the death of Iſhboſheth Sauls ſonne, whẽ Dauid had reigned ouer Iudáh ſeuen yeres and ſix moneths in Hebrón, 2. Sam. 5.5.

2 And in time paſt, euen when Saúl was King, thou leddeſt Iſraél out and in: and the Lord thy God ſaid vnto thee, Thou ſhalt fede my people Iſraél, and thou ſhalt be captaine ouer my people Iſraél.

3 So came all the Elders of Iſraél to ỹ King to Hebrón, & Dauid made a couenãt with thẽ in Hebrón before the Lord. And they anointed Dauid King ouer Iſraél, * according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Samuél.

1.Sam.16.13.

4 ¶And Dauid & all Iſraél went to Ieruſalém, which is Iebús, where were the Iebuſites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebús ſaid to Dauid, Thou ſhalt not come in hither. Neuer theles Dauid toke the towre of Zión, which is the citie of Dauid.

6 And Dauid ſaid, * Whoſoeuer ſmiteth ỹ Iebuſites firſt, ſhal be the chief & captaine. So Ioáb the ſonne of Zeruiáh wẽt firſt vp, and was captaine.

2.Sam.5.8.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the towre: therefore thei called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And he buylt the citie on euerie ſide, frõ Milló euen round about: & Ioáb repaired the reſt of the citie.

2.Sam.5.9.

9 And Dauid proſpered, & grewe: for the Lord of hoſtes was with him.

10 ¶ * Theſe alſo are the chief of the valiant men that were with Dauid & ioyned their force with him in his kingdome w̃ all Iſraél, to make him King ouer Iſraél, according to the worde of the Lord.

2.Sam.23.8.

11 And this is the nomber of the valiant mẽ whome Dauid had, Iaſhobeám the ſonne of Hachmoní, the [b] chief among thirty: he lift vp his ſpeare againſt thre hundreth, whome he ſlewe at one time.

[b] Meaning the moſte excellẽt & beſt eſteemed for his valiãtnes ſome read, the chief of the princes

"Or, his yacle.

12 And after him was Eleazár the ſonne of "Dódo the Ahohite, which was one of the thre valiant men.

13 He was with Dauid at Paſ-dammím, & there the Philiſtims were gathered together to battel: and there was a parcel of ground ful of barly, and the people fled before the Philiſtims.

14 And thei ſtode in ỹ middes of the field, [c] and ſaued it, and ſlewe the Philiſtims: ſo the Lord gaue a great victorie.

[c] This act is referred to Shãmáh, 2 Sam 23, 11. w̃ ſemeth was the chiefeſt of theſe d that is Eleazár & his two companions.

15 ¶And thre of the [d] thirtie captaines wẽt to a locke to Dauid, into the caue of Adullám. And the armie of the Philiſtims camped in the valley of Rephaím.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philiſtims gariſon was at Beth-léhem.

2.Sam 23,15. 17 And Dauid longed, and ſaid, * Oh, that one wolde giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-léhem that is at the gate.

18 Then theſe thre brake thorowe the hoſte of the Philiſtims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-léhem that was by the gate, and toke it and broght it to Dauid: but Dauid wolde not drinke of it, but powred it for an ollacion to the Lord,

19 And ſaid, Let not my God ſuffer me to do this: ſhulde I drinke the e blood of theſe mẽ liues: for they haue broght it with the ieopardye of their liues: therefore he wolde not drinke it: theſe things did theſe thre mightie men.

e That is, this water, for the which they vẽtured their blood.

20 ¶ And Abſhái the brother of Ioáb, he was chief of the thie, and he lift vp his ſpeare againſt thre hũdreth, and ſlewe thẽ, and had the name among the thre.

21 Among the thie he was more honorable then the two, & he was their captaine: * but he attained not vnto the firſt thre.

2.Sam 23,19.

22 Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá (the ſonne of a valiant man) which had done manie acts, and was of Kabzeél, he ſlewe two *ſtrong men of Moáb: he went downe alſo and ſlewe a lion in the middes of a pit in time of ſnow.

*Or, lions.

23 And he ſlewe an Egyptian, a mã of great ſtature, euen fiue cubites long, and in the Egyptiãs hand was a ſpeare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a ſtaffe, and plucked the ſpeare out of the Egyptians hand, and ſlewe him with his owne ſpeare.

24 Theſe things did Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá, & had the name among the thie worthies.

25 Beholde, he was honorable among thirtie, but he attained not vnto the f firſt thre. * And Dauid made him of his counſel.

f Meaning, thoſe thre which broght the water to Dauid 2 Sam. 23,23.

26 ¶ Theſe alſo were valiant men of warre, Aſahél the brother of Ioáb, Elhanan the ſonne of Dodó of Beth-léhem, g Called alſo Shemmóah, 2. Sam 23,25.

27 g Shammóth the Harodite, Hélez the Pelonite,

28 Irá the ſonne of Ikkéſh the Tekoite, Abiézer the Antothite, 29 h Sibbecái the Huſathite: Ilái the Ahohite, h He is alſo called Mebunnai 2 Sam 23, 27.

30 Maharái the Netophathite, Héled the ſonne of Baanáh the Netophathite,

31 Ithái the ſonne of Ribái of Gibeáh of the children of Beniamín, Benaiáh the Pirathonite, 32 Hurai of the riuers of Gáaſh, Abiél the Arbathite,

33 Azmáueth the Baharumite, Elihabá the Shaalbonite,

34 The ſonnes of Haſhém the Gizonite, Ionathán the ſonne of Shagéh the Harite, 35 Ahiám the ſonne of Sacár the Hararite, Eliphál the ſonne of Vr, 36 Hépher the Mecherathite, Ahiáh the Pelonite,

37 Hezró the Carmelite, Naaraí the ſonne of Ezbái,

38 Ioél the brother of Nathán, Mibhár the ſonne of Haggerí,

39 Zélek the Ammonite, Nahrái the Berothite, the armour bearer of Ioáb, the ſonne of Zeruiáh, 40 Ira the Ithrite, Garíb the Ithrite,

41 Vriáh the Hittite, Zabád the ſonne of Ahlái,

42 Adiná the ſonne of Shizá the Reubenite, a captaine of the Reubenites, and thirtie with him,

43 Hanán the ſonne of Maachâh, and Ioſhaphát the Mithnite,

44 Vzia the Aſhterathite, Shamá and Ieiél the ſonnes of Othám the Aroerite, 45 Iediaél the ſonne of Shimrí, and Iohá his brother the Tizite,

46 Eliél the Mahauite, and Ieribái and Ioſhauiáh the ſonnes of Elnáam, & Ithmah the Moabite, 47 Eliel and Obéd, and Iaaſiél the Meſobaite.

CHAP. XII.

1 Who they were that went with Dauid when he fled from Saúl 14 Their valiantnes 23 Thei that came vnto him vnto Hebrón out of euerie tribe to make him King

1 THeſe alſo are they that came to Dauid to a Ziklág, while he was yet kept cloſe, becauſe of Saúl the ſonne of Kish: and they were among the valiant and helpers of the battel.

a To take his parte against Saul, who perſecuted him.

2 Thei were weaponed with bowes, & colde vſe ẽ right and the left hãd with ſtones and with arrowes & with bowes, and were of Sauls b brethren, euen of Beniamin.

b That is, of the tribe of Beniamin, whereof Saul was, & wherein were excellẽt throwers & ſlings, Iudg 20,16.

3 The chief were Ahiézer, and Ioáſh the ſonnes of Shemaáh a Gibeathite, and Ieziél, and Pélet the ſonnes of Aſmáueth, Berachah and Iehú the Antothite,

4 And Iſhmaiáh the Gibeonite, a valiant man among thirtie, & aboue the thirtie, and Ieremiáh, and Iahaziél, and Iohanan, and Ioſhabád the Gederathite,

5 Eluzái, and Ierimóth, and Bealiáh, and Shemariáh, and Shephatiáh, the Haruphite,

6 Elkanáh, and Iſhiáh, and Azariél, and Ioézer, Iaſhobeám of Hakorehím, 7 And Ioeláh, and Zebadiáh, the ſonnes of Ierohám of c Gedór.

c Or, Gedúr.

8 And of the Gadites there ſeparated them ſelues ſome vnto Dauid into the holde of the wildernes, valiant men of warre, and mẽ of armes, & apt for battel, which colde handle d ſpeare and ſhield, and their faces were like the faces of e lyons, and were like the roes in the mountaines in ſwiftenes, d Or, buckler.

e Meaning fierce, & terrible.

9 Ezér the chief, Obadiáh the ſecõde, Eliáb

Eliáb the third,
10 [e]Mishmanáh the fourte, Ieremiáh the fifte,
11 Attái the sixt, Eliél the seuente,
12 Iohanán the eight, Elzabád the ninte,
13 Ieremiáh the tente, Macbannái the eleuente.
14 These were the sonnes of Gad, captaines of the hoste: one of the least colde resist an hundreth, and the greatest a thousand.
15 These are they that went ouer Iordén in the [d] first moneth whē he had filled ouer all his bankes, and put to flight all them of the valley, towarde the East and the West.
16 And there came of the children of Beniamín, and Iudah to the holde vnto Dauid, 17 And Dauid went out to mete them, and answered and said vnto them, If ye be come peaceably vnto me to helpe me, mine heart shalbe knit vnto you, but if you come to betray me to mine aduersaries, seing there is no wickednes in mine hādes, the God of our fathers beholde it, and rebuke it.
18 And the [e] spirit came vpon Amasái, which was the chief of thirtie, and he said, Thine are we, Dauid, & with thee, ô sonne of Ishái. Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace be vnto thine helpers: for thy God helpeth thee. Thē Dauid receiued them, & made them captaines of the garison.
19 ¶And of Manasséh some fel to Dauid, when he came with the Philistims against Saúl to battel, but they [f] helped them not: for the princes of the Philistims [*] by aduisement sent him away, saying, He wil fall to his master Saúl [g] for our heades.
20 As he went to Ziklág, there fel to him of Manasséh, Adnáh, and Iozabád, and Iediaél, and Michaél, and Iozabád, and Elihú, & Ziltái, heades of the thousands that were of Manasséh.
21 And thei helped Dauid against [g] that bāde. for thei were all valiant men and were captaines in the hoste.
22 For at that time day by day there came to Dauid to helpe him, vntil it was a great hoste, like the hoste of [h] God.
23 And these are the nombers of the captaines that were armed to battel, & came to Dauid to Hebron to turne the kingdome of Saúl to him, according to the worde of the Lord.
24 The children of Iudáh that bare shield & [i] speare, were six thousand & eight hundreth armed to the warre.
25 Of the children of Simeón valiant men of warre, seuen thousand and an hundreth.
26 Of the children of Leuí foure thousand and six hundreth.
27 And Iehoiadá was the chief of them of [i] Aarón: and with him thre thousand and seuen hundreth.
28 And Zadók a yong man very valiant, and of his fathers housholde came two and twentie captaines.
29 And of the children of Beniamín the brethrē of Saúl thre thousand: for a great parte of them vnto that time [k] kept the warde of the house of Saúl.
30 And of the children of Ephráim twētie thousand, & eight hundreth valiant men & famous men in the housholde of their fathers.
31 And of the halfe tribe of Manasséh eightene thousand, which were appointed by name to come and make Dauid King.
32 And of the children of Issachár which were men that had vnderstanding of the [l] times, to knowe what Israél oght to do: the heades of them were two hundreth, & all their brethren were at their commandement.
33 Of Zebulún that went out to battel, expert in warre, & in all instruments of warre, fiftie thousand [m] which colde set the battel in aray: they were not of [n] a double heart.
34 And of Naphtalí a thousand captaines, and with them with shield and speare seuē & thirtie thousand.
35 And of Dan expert in battel, eight and twentie thousand, and six hundreth.
36 And of Ashér that went out to the battel and were trained in the warres, fourtie thousand.
37 And of the otherside of Iordén of the Reubenites and of the Gaddites, and of the halfe tribe of Manasséh with all instruments of warre to fight with, an hundreth and twentie thousand.
38 [m] All these men of warre [n] that colde lead an armie, came with [o] vpright heart to Hebrón to make Dauid King ouer all Israél: & all the rest of Israél was of one accorde to make Dauid King:
39 And there they were with Dauid thre dayes, eating and drinking: for their [n] brethren had prepared for them.
40 Moreouer they that were nere them vntil Issachár, and Zebulún, and Naphtalí broght bread vpon asses, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, euen meat, floure, figges, & reisins, and wine & oyle, & beues and shepe abundantly: for there was ioye in Israél.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is broght againe from Kiriathiearim to Ierusalém. 9 Vzzá dyeth because he touched it.

[e] Or, Mishmanuah

[d] Which ye Ebrewes called Nisan or Abib, cōteining halfe Marche and halfe April, when Iorden was wōte to ouerflowe his bākes, read Iosh 3,15.

[e] The spirit of boldenes and courage moued him to speake thus.

[f] They came onely to helpe Dauid & not to succour the Philistims, wh were enemies to their countrey

[1] Sam 29, 4

[*] Or, on the ieopardie of our heades

[g] To wit, of ye Amalekites wh had burned ye citie Ziklag. 2 Sam. 30, 9

[h] Meaning, mightie of strong for the Ebrewes say a thing is of God, when it is excellent

[i] Or, buckler.

[i] Of the Leuites which came by descent of Aaron

[k] That is, the greatest nomber toke Sauls parte.

[l] Men of good experience, wh knewe at all times what was to be done.

[*] Or, set them seuen in array

[n] Ebr heart and heart.

[m] So that his whole hoste were thre hundreth twētie & two thousand, two hundreth twenty & two

[o] Or, fight in their aray

[o] Or, with a good courage.

[n] The rest of the Israelites.

1 AND Dauid counſeled with the captaines of thouſands & of hundreths, & with all the gouernours.
2 And Dauid ſaid to all the Cõgregacion of Iſraél, If it ſeme good to you, and that it procedeth of the Lord our God, we wil ſend to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Iſraél (for with them are the Priests and the Leuites in ỹ cities and their ſuburbes) that thei may aſſemble them ſelues vnto vs.
a His firſt care was to reſtore religiõ, which had in Sauls dayes bene corrupted & neglected. 3 And we wil bring againe the a Arke of our God to vs: for we ſoght not vnto it in the dayes of Saúl.
4 And all the Congregacion anſwered, Let vs do ſo: for the thing ſemed good in the eyes of all the people.
*2.Sam 6,2. *Or, Nsius 5 ¶ *So Dauid gathered all Iſraél together fro *Shihór in Egypt, euẽ vnto the entring of Hamáth, to bring the Arke of God from b That is, frõ Gibeá, where the inhabitats of Kiriath iearim had placed it in the houſe of Abinadáb, 2 Sam 6,3 b Kiriath-iearím,
*Or, Baale, read 2 Sam. 6,2 6 And Dauid went vp & all Iſraél to *Baaláth, in Kiriath-iearím, ỹ was in Iudáh, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.
7 And they caried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the houſe of Abinadáb: and Vzzá and Ahió c The ſonnes of Abinadáb c guided the cart.
8 And Dauid and all Iſraél plaied before
d That is, before the Arke where God ſhewed hi ſelfe ſo that the ſigne is taken for the thing ſignified, ẅ is cõmune to all ſacramẽts both in the olde & newe teſtament d God with all their might, bothe ẅ ſongs & with harpes, and with violes, and with timbrels and with cimbales and with trũpets.
9 ¶ And when they came vnto the threſſhing ſloore of e Called alſo Nachon, 2 Sa 6,6. e Chidón, Vzzá put forthe his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did ſhake it.
10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt Vzzá, and he ſmote him, becauſe he laied his hand vpon ỹ Arke: ſo he dyed there f Before ỹ Arke for vſurpig that ẅ did not apperteine to his vocation for this charge was giuẽ to the Priests, Nom 4,15. ſo ỹ here all good intentions are cõdemned, except thei be cõmanded by ẅ worde of God f before God.
11 And Dauid was angrie, becauſe the Lord had made a breache in Vzzá, and he called the name of that place Pérez-vzzá vnto this day.
12 And Dauid feared God that day, ſayig, How ſhal I bring in to me the Arke of God?
13 Therefore Dauid broght not the Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but cauſed it to turne into the houſe of g Who was a Leuite & called Gittite, becauſe he had dwelt at Gath. g Obéd Edóm the Gittite.
14 So the Arke of God remained in the houſe of Obéd Edóm, euen in his houſe thre moneths: and the Lord bleſſed the houſe of Obéd Edóm, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIIII.

Hirám ſendeth wood and workemen to Dauid. 4 The names of his children 8. 14. By the counſel of God he goeth againſt the Philiſtims & ouercommeth thẽ. 15 God fyghteth for him.

1 THen *ſent Hirám the King of "Tyrus meſſengers to Dauid, & cedre trees, with maſons & carpẽters to buylde him an houſe.
*2 Sam.5,11. "Ebr Tzr.
2 Therefore Dauid knewe that the Lord had confirmed him King ouer Iſraél, & that his kingdome was liſt vp on hie, becauſe of his a Because of Gods promes made to the people of Iſraél. a people Iſraél.
3 ¶ Alſo Dauid toke mo wiues at Ieruſalém, & Dauid begate mo ſonnes & daughters.
4 And theſe are the names of the children which he had at Ieruſalém, Shammúa, and Shobáb, Nathán, & Salomón, 5 And Ibhár, and Eliſhúa, and b Elpálet and Nógah are not mencioned, 2 Sam 5, 14 ſo there are but eleuen & here thirtene b Elpálet,
6 And Nógah, and Népheg and Iaphía,
7 And Eliſhamá, and
*Or, Eliadá. *Beeliadá, and Eliphálet.
8 But when the Philiſtims heard that Dauid was anointed King ouer Iſraél, all ỹ Philiſtims came vp to ſeke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he went out againſt them.
9 And the Philiſtims came, and ſpred them ſelues in the valley of Rephaím.
10 Then Dauid aſked counſel at God, ſaying, Shal I go vp againſt ỹ Philiſtims, & wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord ſaid vnto him, Go vp: for I wil deliuer them into thine hand.
11 So they came vp to Báal-perazím & Dauid ſmote them there: and Dauid ſaid, God hathe deuided mine enemies with mine hãd, as waters are deuided: therefore thei called the name of that place, c That is, the valley of diuiſions, becauſe the enemies were diſperſed there like waters. c Báal-perazím.
12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid ſaid, Let them euen be buint with fyre.
13 Againe the Philiſtims came and ſpred them ſelues in the valley.
14 And whẽ Dauid aſked againe coũſel at God, God ſaid to him, Thou ſhalt not go vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou maieſt come vpon them ouer againſt the mulbery trees.
15 And when thou heareſt the noiſe of one going in the toppes of the mulbery trees, then go out to battel: for God is gone forthe before thee, to ſmite the hoſte of the Philiſtims.
16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they ſmote the hoſte of the Philiſtims from Gibeón euen to Gézer.
17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands and the Lord broght the feare of him vpon all nacions.

CHAP. XV.

1 Dauid prepareth an hoſte for the Arke. 4 The number and ordre of the Leuites. 16 The ſingers are chaſen ſent out among them. 25 Thei bring againe the Arke with ioye 29 Dauid dancing before it, is deſpiſed of his wife Michál.

1 AND Dauid made him houſes in the [a] citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

a That was in the place of ſ citie called Zión, 2.Sam 5,8 2 Then Dauid ſaid, * None ought to cary the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hathe choſen them to beare the Arke of the Lord, and to miniſtre vnto him for euer.

Nomb.4,8 & 20.

3 ¶And Dauid gathered all Iſraél together to Ieruſalém to bring vp the [b] Arke of the Lord vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

b From ſ houſe of Obéd Edóm, 2 Sam. 6,10

4 And Dauid aſſembled the ſonnes of Aarón, and the Leuites.

5 Of the ſonnes of Kohath Vriél the chief, and his [c] brethren ſix ſcore.

c Or, kinſmen

6 Of the ſónes of Merarí, Aſaiáh the chief, and his brethren two hundreth & twentie.

7 Of the ſonnes of Gerſhóm, Ioél the chief, and his brethren an hundreth and thirtie.

8 Of the ſonnes of [e] Elizaphán, Shemaiáh the chief, and his brethren two hundreth.

e Who was ſ ſonne of Vzziél, ſ fourte ſonne of Kohath, Exod 6, 21 & Nomb 3,30 9 Of the ſonnes of [d] Hebrón, Eliél the chief, and his brethren foure ſcore.

d The third ſonne of Kohath, Exod. 6,19.

10 Of the ſonnes of Vzziél, Amminadáb the chief, and his brethren an hundreth & twelue.

11 ¶And Dauid called Zadók & Abiathár the Prieſts, and of the Leuites, Vriél, Aſaiáh and Ioél, Shemaiáh, and Eliél, and Amminadáb:

12 And he ſaid vnto thé, Ye are the chief fathers of the Leuites: ſanctifie your ſelues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Iſraél vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

e Prepare your ſelues, & be pure, abſtein from all things whereby ye might be polluted, & ſo not able to come to ſ Tabernacle Cha 13,10.

13 For * becauſe ye were not there at ſ firſt, the Lord our God made a breache among vs: for we ſought him not after due [f] order.

f According as he hathe appointed in the Lawe

14 So the Prieſts and the Leuites ſanctified them ſelues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Iſraél.

15 ¶And the ſonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their ſhulders with the barres, as Moſés had commanded, * according to the worde of the Lord.

Exod 25,13.

16 And Dauid ſpake to the chief of the Leuites, that they ſhulde appoint certaine of their brethren to ſing with [g] inſtruments of muſike, with violes and harpes, & cymbales, that thei might make a ſounde, and lift vp their voyce with ioye.

g Theſe inſtruments & other ceremonies, which thei obſerued, were inſtructions of their infácie, which cótinued to ſ comming of Chriſt.

17 So the Leuites appointed Hemán the ſonne of Ioél, and of his brethren Aſáph the ſonne of Berechiáh, and of the ſonnes of Merarí their brethren, Ethán the ſonne of Kuſhaiáh, 18 And with them their brethren in the [h] ſeconde degre, Zechariáh, Ben, and Iaaziel, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiél, and Vnní, Eliáb, and Benaiáh, and Maaſiáh, & Mattithiáh, and Elipheléh, and Mikneáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiél the porters.

h Which were inferior in dignitie

19 So Hemán, Aſáph & Ethán were ſingers to make a ſounde with cymbales of braſſe,

20 And Zechariáh, and Aziél, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiél, and Vnní, and Eliáb, and Maaſhiáh, and Benaiáh with violes on [i] Alamóth, i This was an inſtrument of muſike, or a certeine tune, whereúnto thei accuſtomed to ſing Pſalmes.

21 And Mattithiáh, & Eliphelého, and Mikneáh, and Obéd Edóm, and Ieiél, and Azaziáh, with harpes [k] vpon Sheminith lenazzéah.

k Which was ſ eight tune, ouer the which he ſ was moſt excellent had charge

22 But Chenaniáh the chief of the Leuites had [l] the charge, bearing the burden in the charge, for he was able to inſtruct.

l To wit, to appoint p ſalmes, & ſongs to thé that ſung

23 And Berechiáh & Elkanáh were porters for the Arke.

24 And Sceaniáh and Iehoſhaphát and Nethanéel and Amaſhái, and Zachariáh, and Benaiáh, and Eliézer the Prieſts did blowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obéd Edóm and Ieiáh were porters [m] for the Arke.

m With Berechiáh & Elkanah, verſ 23

25 * So Dauid and the Elders of Iſraél and the captaines of thouſands went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the houſe of Obéd Edóm with ioye.

2 Sam 6,12.

26 And becauſe that God [n] helped the Leuites that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, thei offred [o] ſeuen bullockes and ſeuen rams.

n That is, gaue them ſtrength to execute their office.

o Beſides the bullocke and the fat beaſt, which Dauid offred at euery ſixt paſe, 2. Sam 6,13

27 And Dauid had on him a linen gaimēt, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke, and the ſingers and Chenaniáh that had the chief charge of the ſingers: and vpon Dauid was a linen [p] Ephód.

p Read 2 Sam. 6,14

28 Thus all Iſraél brogh vp ſ Arke of the Lords couenant with ſhouting and ſoúde of trumpets & with cornet, & with cymbales, making a ſounde with violes & with harpes.

29 And when the Arke of the [q] couenant of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michál the daughter of Saúl loked out at a windowe, & ſawe King Dauid dancing and playing, and * ſhe deſpiſed him in her heart.

q It was ſo called becauſe it put the Iſraelites in remembrance of the Lord couenant made with them 2 Sam 6,16.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Arke being placed, thei offer ſacrifices. 4 Dauid ordeineth Aſáph and his brethren to miniſter before the Lord. 8 He appointeth a notable Pſalme to be ſung in praiſe of the Lord.

1 SO * thei brogh in the Arke of God, & ſet it in the middes of the Tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it, and thei offred burnt offrings and peace offrings before God.

2 Sam 6,17.

2 And when Dauid had made an end of offring ỹ burnt offring & the peace offrings, he [a] bleſſed the people in the Name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to euerie one of Iſraél bothe man and woman, to euerie one a cake of bread, and a piece of fleſh, and a bottel of wine.

4 And he appoínted certeine of the Leuites to miniſter before the Arke of the Lord, and to [b] rehearſe and to thanke and praiſe the Lord God of Iſraél,

5 Aſáph the chief, and next to him Zechariáh, Ieiél, and Shemiramóth, and Iehiél, and Mattithiáh, and Eliáb, and Benaiáh, & Obéd Edóm, euen Ieiél with inſtruments, violes and harpes, and Aſáph to make a ſounde with cymbales,

6 And Benaiáh and Iahaziél Prieſts, with trumpets continually before the Arke of the couenant of God.

7 Then at that time Dauid did [c] appoint at the beginning to giue thankes to the Lord by the hãd of Aſáph & his brethrẽ.

8 *Praiſe the Lord & call vpon his Name: declare his [d] workes among the people.

9 Sing vnto him, ſing praiſe vnto him, and talke of all his [e] wonderful workes.

10 Reioyce in his holy Name: let the hearts of them that ſeke the Lord reioyce.

11 Seke the Lord and his ſtrength: ſeke his face continually.

12 Remember his maruelous workes that he hathe done, his wonders, and the [f] iudgements of his mouth, 13 O ſede of Iſraél his ſeruant, ô the children of Iaakób his [g] choſen.

14 He is the Lord our God: his iudgemẽts are throughout all the earth.

15 Remember his couenant for euer, & the worde, which he commanded to a thouſand generacions:

16 *Which he made with Abrahám, and his othe to Izhák:

17 And hathe confirmed it to Iaakób for a Lawe, & to Iſraél for an euerlaſting couenant, 18 Saying, To thee wil I giue the land of Canáan, the [*] lot of your inheritance.

19 When ye were [h] fewe in nomber, yea, a very fewe, and ſtrangers therein,

20 And walked about from nacion to nacion, and from one kingdome to another people,

21 He ſuffred no mã to do them wrong, but rebuked [i] Kings for their ſakes, ſaying, 22 Touche not mine [k] anointed, and do my [l] Prophetes no harme.

23 *Sing vnto the Lord all the earth: declare his ſaluacion from day to day.

24 Declare his glorie among the nacions, and his wonderful workes among all people.

25 For the Lord is great and muche to be praiſed, and he is to be feared aboue all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are [m] idoles, but the Lord made the heauens.

27 Praiſe and glorie are before him: power and beautie are in his place.

28 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glorie and power.

29 Giue vnto the Lord the glorie of his Name, bring an offring and come before him, & worſhip the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

30 [n] Tremble ye before him, all the earth: ſurely the worlde ſhal be ſtable and not moue.

31 Let the [o] heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let them ſay among the nacions, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the ſea roare, and all that therein is: let the field be ioyful and all that is in it.

33 Let the trees of the wood thẽ reioycẽ at the preſence of the Lord: for he commeth to [p] iudge the earth.

34 Praiſe the Lord, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

35 And ſay ye, Saue vs, ô God, our ſaluacio, and gather vs, & deliuer vs from the heathé, that we may praiſe thine holy Name, and [q] glorie in thy praiſe.

36 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſraél for euer and euer: and let all people ſay, [r] So be it, and praiſe the Lord.

37 ¶ Then he left there before the Arke of the Lords couenant Aſáph and his brethren to miniſter continually before the Arke, that which was to be done euerie day:

38 And Obéd Edóm and his brethren, thre ſcore and eight: and Obéd Edóm the ſonne of Ieduthún, and Hoſáh were porters.

39 And Zadók the Prieſt and his brethren the Prieſts were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the hie place that was at Gibeón, 40 To offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord, vpon the burnt offring altar continually, in the morning and in the euening, euen according vnto all that is written in the Lawe of the Lord, which he commanded Iſraél.

41 And with them [f] were Heman, and Ieduthún, and the reſt that were choſen, (which were appointed by names) to praiſe the Lord, becauſe his mercie endureth for euer.

42 Euen with them were Heman and Ieduthún to make a ſounde with the cornets & with the cymbales, with excellent inſtruments of muſike: and the ſonnes of Ieduthún were at the gate.

43 And

a He called vpon the Name of God deſiring him to proſper ỹ people, and giue good ſucceſſe to their beginnings.

b To wit, Gods benefites towarde his people

c Dauid gaue thẽ this Pſalme to praiſe ỹ Lord, ſignifying that in all our ẽterpriſes the Name of God ought to be praiſed and called vpon. Pſal.105,1. Iſa.12,4.

d Whereof this is ỹ chiefeſt that he hathe choſen him ſelfe a Churchto call vpõ his Name e Who of his wonderful prouidence hathe choſen a fewe of the ſtocke of Abrahám to be his children

f In ouercoming Pharaóh, which iudgements were declared by Gods mouthe to Moſés

g Meaning hereby that the promes of adoption onely appertaineth to ỹ Church Gen 22,16. Luk.1,73 ebr. 6,17.

Ebr. coarde, whereby parcels of lands were meaſured

h Meaning, frõ the time that Abrahám entred, vnto the time, ỹ Iaakób went into Egypt for famine

i As Pharaóh & Abimelech.

k Mine elect people & them whome I haue ſanctified

l To whome God declared his worde, & they declared it to their poſteritie Pſal.91,1.

m His ſtrong faith appeareth herein ỹ thogh all the worlde wolde follow idoles, yet he wolde cleaue to the liuing God.

n Hible ỹ our ſeſues vnder ỹ mightie hãd of God

o He exhorteth the dumme creatures to reioyce in him in cõſidering ỹ greatnes of the grace of God

p To reſtore all things to their eſtate.

q He eſteemeth this to be the chiefeſt felicitie of man.

r He willeth all the people bothe in heart and mouthe to cõſent to theſe praises.

f With Zadók and the reſt of the Prieſts.

t Declaring ỹ after our duetie to God we are chiefly bounde to our owne houſe, for the which as for all other thīgs, we ogħt to pray vnto God, and inſtruct our families to praiſe his Name.

43 And all the people departed, euerie man to his houſe: & Dauid returned to t bleſſ his houſe.

CHAP. XVII.

Dauid is forbidden to buylde an houſe vnto the Lord. 12 Chriſt is promiſed vnder the figure of Salomón. 18 Dauid giueth thankes. 23 And prayeth vnto God.

1 NOw *afterwarde whē Dauid dwelt in his houſe, he ſaid to Nathán ỹ Prophet, Beholde, I dwel in an houſe of a cedre trees, but the Arke of the Lords couenant remaineth vnder b curtaines.

*2 Sam 7.2.

a Wel buylt & faire

b That is, in tents couered with skinnes

2 Then Nathan ſaid to Dauid, Do c all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

c As yet God had not reuealed to the Prophet what he purpoſed concerning Dauid therefore ſeig God fauored Dauid, he ſpake what he thoght

3 And the ſame d night euen the worde of God came to Nathán, ſaying, d After that Nathán had ſpoken to Dauid

4 Go, and tel Dauid my ſeruāt, Thus ſaith the Lord, Thou ſhalt not buylde me an houſe to dwel in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no houſe, ſince the day ỹ I broght out the children of Iſraél vnto this day, but I haue bene from e tent to tent, and from habitacion to habitacion.

e That is, in a tent which remoued to and fro

6 Wherſoeuer I haue f walked with all Iſraél, ſpake I one worde to anie of the iudges of Iſraél (whome I commanded to fede my people) ſaying, Why haue ye not buylt me an houſe of cedre trees?

f Meaning, whereſoeuer his Arke went, which was a ſigne of his preſence.

7 Now therefore thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto my ſeruant Dauid, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, I toke thee ſi ō the ſhepecoate g & from following the ſhepe, that thou ſhuldeſt be a prince ouer my people Iſrael.

g Of a ſhepherd of ſhepe I made thee a ſhepherd of mē, ſo ỹ thou cameſt not to this dignitie through thine owne merites, but by my pure grace

8 And I haue bene w thee whetherſoeuer thou haſt walked, and haue deſtroyed all thine enemies out of thy ſight, and haue *made thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

*Or, gotten thee fame.

9 (Alſo I wil appoint a place for my people Iſraél, & h wil plant it, that they may dwel in their place, and moue nomore: nether ſhal the " wicked people *vexe thē anie more, as at the beginning,

h Make them ſure that they ſhal not remoue

"Ebr ſonnes of iniquitie

*Or, conſume

10 And ſince the time that I commanded iudges ouer my people Iſraél) And I wil ſubdue all thine enemies: therefore I ſay vnto thee, that the Lord wil i buylde thee an houſe.

i Wil giue thee great poſteritie.

11 And when thy dayes ſhalbe fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then wil I raiſe vp thy ſede after thee, which ſhal be of thy ſonnes, and wil ſtabliſh his kingdome.

12 He ſhal buylde me an houſe, and I wil ſtabliſh his throne for k euer.

k That is, vnto the cōming of Christ for thē the ſe figures ſhulde ceaſe.

13 I wil be his father and he ſhalbe my ſonne, and I wil not take my mercie away frō him, as I toke it from him that was before l thee.

l Which was Saul.

14 But I wil eſtabliſh him in mine houſe, & in my kingdome for euer, and his throne ſhalbe ſtabliſhed for euer, 15 According to all theſe wordes, and according to all this viſion. So Nathán ſpake to King Dauid.

16 ¶ And Dauid the King m went in and *ſate before the Lord and ſaid, Who am I, ô Lord God, and what is mine houſe, that thou haſt broght me n hetherto.

m He wēt into ỹ tent where ỹ Arke was, ſhewing what we ogħt to do whē we receiue anie benefites of the Lord

*Or, remained

n Meaning, to this kinglie eſtate

17 Yet thou eſteming this a ſmale thing, ô God, haſt alſo ſpoken concerning the houſe of thy ſeruant for a great while, and haſt regarded me according to the eſtate of a man of o hye degre, ô Lord God.

o Thou haſt promiſed a kingdome that ſhal continue to me and my poſteritie, and that Chriſt ſhal procede of me

18 What can Dauid deſire more of thee for the honour of thy ſeruāt for thou knoweſt thy ſeruant.

19 O Lord, for thy ſeruants ſake, euen according to thine p heart haſt thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

p Frely, and according to the purpoſe of thy wil, without anie deteruing

20 Lord, there is none like thee, nether is there anie god beſides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreouer what one nacion in the earth is like thy people Iſraél, whoſe God went to redeme thē to be his people, & to make thy ſelfe a Name, and to do great and terrible things by caſting out naciōs from before thy people, whome thou haſt deliuered out of Egypt?

22 For thou haſt ordeined thy people Iſraél to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou haſt ſpoken concerning thy ſeruant & concerning his houſe, be cōfirmed for euer, and do as thou haſt ſaid, 24 And let thy Name be ſtable & magnified for euer, that it may be ſaid, The Lord of hoſtes, God of Iſraél, is the God of q Iſraél, & let the houſe of Dauid thy ſeruant be ſtabliſhed before thee.

q That is, ſhe weth him ſelfe in deede to be their God, by deliuering them from dangers, & preſeruing them

25 For thou, ô my God, haſt r reueled vnto the eare of thy ſeruant, that thou wilt buylde him an houſe: therefore thy ſeruant hathe " bene bolde to pray before thee.

r Thou haſt declared vnto me by Nathán the Prophet.

"Ebr hathe found

26 Therefore now Lord (for thou art f God, and haſt ſpoken this goodnes vnto thy ſeruant)

f And canſt not breake promes.

27 Now therefore, it hathe pleaſed thee to bleſſe the houſe of thy ſeruant, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, ô Lord, haſt bleſſed it, & it ſhalbe bleſſed for euer.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The battel of Dauid againſt the Philiſtims, 2 And againſt Moáb, 3 Zobáh, 5 Arám, 12 And Edóm:

1 AND after this Dauid ſmote the Philiſtims, and ſubdued them, and toke a Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philiſtims.

a Which 2. Sam 8.1 is called the bridle of bondage, becauſe it was a ſtrong towne, and kept the countrey round about in ſubiection

2 And he ſmote Moáb, and the Moabites became Dauids ſeruants, and " broght giftes.

"Or, payed tribute

3 ¶ And Dauid ſmote *Hadarézer King of

*Or, Hadadezer.

Zobáh vnto Hamáth, as he wēt to ſtablish his border by the riuer Peráth.

4 And Dauid toke from him a thouſand charets, and ſeuen thouſand horſmen, & twētie thouſand fotemen, and *deſtroyed all the charets, but he reſerued of them an hundreth charets.

5 ¶Then came the Aramites of Damaſcus to ſuccour Hadarézer King of Zobáh, but Dauid ſlewe of the Aramites two and twentie thouſand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Arám of Damaſcus, and the Aramites became Dauids ſeruants, and broght giftes: and the Lord preſerued Dauid whereſoeuer he went.

7 And Dauid toke the ſhields of golde that were of the ſeruants of Hadarézer, and broght them to Ieruſalém.

8 And from Tibháth, and from Chun (cities of Hadarézer) broght Dauid exceding muche braſſe, wherewith Salomón made the braſen Sea, and the pillers and the veſſels of braſſe.

9 ¶Thē Tóu King of Hamáth heard how Dauid had ſmiten all the hoſte of Hadarézer King of Zobáh:

10 Therefore he ſent Hadóram his ſonne to King Dauid, to ſalute him, and to reioyce with him, becauſe he had foght againſt Hadarézer, & beatē him (for Tóu had warre with Hadarézer) who broght all veſſels of golde, and ſiluer and braſſe.

11 And King Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lord, with the ſiluer and golde that he broght from all the nacions, from Edóm, and from Moáb, and from the children of Ammón, and from the Philiſtims, and from Amalék.

12 ¶And Abiſhái the ſonne of Zeruiáh ſmote of Edóm in the ſalte valley eightene thouſand, 13 And he put a gariſon in Edóm, and all the Edomites became Dauids ſeruants: & the Lord preſerued Dauid whereſoeuer he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Iſraél, and executed iudgemēt and iuſtice to all his people.

15 And Ioáb the ſonne of Zeruiáh was ouer the hoſte, and Iehoſhaphát the ſonne of Ahilúd recorder,

16 And Zadók the ſonne of Ahitúb, and Abimélech the ſonne of Abiathár were the Prieſts, and Shauſhá the ſcribe, 17 *And Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá was ouer the Cherethites and the Pelethites: and the ſonnes of Dauid were chief about the King.

CHAP. XIX.

4 Hanún King of the childrē of Ammón doeth great iniuries to the ſeruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an armie againſt Dauid. 15 And is ouercome.

AFter this alſo *Nahásh the King of the children of Ammón dyed, & his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

2 And Dauid ſaid, I wil ſhewe kindnes vnto Hanún the ſonne of Nahásh, becauſe his father ſhewed kindenes vnto me. And Dauid ſent meſſengers to comforte him for his father. So the ſeruants of Dauid came into the land of the childrē of Ammón to Hanún to comforte him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammón ſaid to Hanún, Thinkeſt thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that he hathe ſent comforters vnto thee? Are not his ſeruants come to thee to ſearche, to ſeke and to ſpie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanún toke Dauids ſeruāts, and ſhaued them, and cut of their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 And there went certeine and tolde Dauid concerning the men: and he ſent to mete them (for the men were exceedingly aſhamed) & the King ſaid, Tary at Ierichó, vntil your beardes be growen: thē returne.

6 ¶When the children of Ammón ſawe that they ſtanke in the ſight of Dauid, thē ſent Hanún and the children of Ammón a thouſand talents of ſiluer to hyre them charets & horſemen out of Arám Naharáim and out of Arám, Maachāh, and out of Zobáh.

7 And they hyred them two and thirtie thouſand charets, & the King of Maachāh and his people, which came and pitched before Medebá: and the children of Ammón gathered them ſelues together from their cities, and came to the battel.

8 ¶And when Dauid heard, he ſent Ioáb & all the hoſte of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammón came out, and ſet their battel in araye at the gate of the citie. And the Kings that were come, were by them ſelues in the field.

10 When Ioáb ſawe that the fronte of the battel was againſt him before & behinde, then he choſe out of all the choiſe of Iſraél, and ſet him ſelfe in araye to mete the Aramites.

11 And the reſt of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abiſhái his brother, and they put them ſelues in araye againſt the children of Ammón.

12 And he ſaid, If Aram be to ſtrōg for me, then thou ſhalt ſuccour me: & if the children of Ammón preuaile againſt thee, thē I wil ſuccour thee.

13 Be ſtrong, and let vs ſhewe our ſelues valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, & let the Lord do that which is good in his owne ſight.

14 So Ioab and the people that was with him, came nere before the Aramites vnto the

---

Or, Euphrates.

2 Sam. 8, 4.

a Because Nahásh receiued Dauid & his cōpanie, when Saul perſecuted him, he wolde now ſhewe pleaſure to his ſonne for the ſame

b Thus ſ malicious euer interpret the purpoſe of the godlie in the worſt ſenſe

c They ſhaued of the halfe of their beardes, 2. Samu 10, 4.

d To put thē to ſhame and vilanie, where as the ambaſſadours ought to haue bene honored and becauſe the Iewes vſed to weare ſide garments and beards, they thus diſfigured thē to make them odious to others

Or, had made them ſelues to be abhorred of Dauid.

2 Sam 10, 8.

e Which were fiue in all

f Which was a citie of the tribe of Reubén beyonde Iordéa.

g He declareth, that where the cauſe is euil, the courage can not be valiant, and that in good cauſes men ought to be courageous & commit the ſucceſſe to God a 1 King 7, 23. 2 Chro. 4, 2, 20.

b That is, in all things that he enterpriſed.

c Which 2 Samuél 8, 8 are called Betáh & Berothái

d Called alſo Iorám, 2 Sam 8, 10.

e Becauſe the Edomites and the Syrians ioyned their power together, it is ſaid 2 Sam. 8, 12, ỹ the Aramites were ſpoiled.

f Which is vnderſtād that Ioáb ſlewe twelue thouſand, as is in the title of the threſcore pſal. and Abiſái the reſt.

*Or, Seraiah.

*2 Sam 8, 17.

g Read 2. Sam 8, 18.

the battel, and they fled before him.
15 And when the children of Ammón ſawe that the Aramites fled, they fled alſo before Abiſhái his brother, and entred into the citie: ſo Ioáb came to Ieruſalém.
16 ¶ And when the Aramites ſawe that they were diſcomfited before Iſraél, they ſent meſſengers and cauſed the Aramites to come forthe that were beyonde the h riuer. & Shophách the captaine of the hoſte of Hadarézer went before them.
17 And when it was ſhewed Dauid, he gathered all Iſraél, and went ouer Iordén, & came vnto thē, and put him ſelfe in araye againſt them: and whē Dauid had put him ſelfe in battel araye to mete the Aramites, they foght with him.
18 But the Aramites fled before Iſraél, and Dauid deſtroyed of the Aramites i ſeuen thouſand charets, and fortie thouſand fotemen, and killed Shophách the captaine of the hoſte.
19 And when the ſeruāts of Hadarézer ſawe that they fel before Iſraél, they made peace with Dauid, and ſerued him. And the Aramites wolde nomore ſuccour the children of Ammón.

h That is, Euphrates.
i For this place read 2 Sam. 10,18.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbáh deſtroyed. 3 The Ammonites tormented. 4 The Philiſtims are thriſe ouercome with their gyants.

2.Sam 11,1. 1 AND *whē the yere was expired, in the time that Kings go out a warrefare, Ioab caried out the ſtrength of the armie, and deſtroyed the countrey of the children of Ammón, and came and beſieged a Rabbáh (but Dauid taryed at Ieruſalém) and Ioáb ſmote Rabbáh and deſtroyed it.

a Which was the chief citie of the Ammonites

2.Sam 12,29. 2 *Tnē Dauid toke ỹ crowne of their Kīg from of his head, and founde it the weight of a b talēt of golde, with precious ſtones in it: and it was ſet on Dauids head, and he brought away the ſpoile of the citie exceding muche.

b Which mounteth about the vallue of ſeuē thouſād & ſeuentie crownes, which is about threſcore pounde weight.

3 And he caryed away the people that were in it, and cut them with ſawes, and with harowes of yron, and with axes. euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammón. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ieruſalém.

2.Sam.21,18. 4 ¶ *And after this alſo there aroſe warre at "Gézer with the Philiſtims: then Sibbechái the Hushathite ſlewe "Sippái, of the children of Haraphah, and they were ſubdued.

c Read 2 Sam. 21,19.

5 And there was yet another battel with the Philiſtims: and Elhanán the ſonne of Iaír ſlewe c Lahmí, the brother of Goliáth ỹ Gittite, whoſe ſpeareſtaffe was like a weauers beame.

d Meaning, ỹ he had ſix a peece on hāds and feete.

6 And yet againe there was a battel at Gath, where was a man of a great ſtature, and his fingers were by d ſixes; euen foure and twenty, and was alſo the ſonne of Haraphah.
7 And when he reuiled Iſraél, Iehonathán the ſonne of Shimeá Dauids brother did ſlea him.
8 Theſe were borne vnto Haraphah at Gath, and fel by the hand of Dauid: and by the hands of his ſeruants.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Dauid cauſeth the people to be nombred. 14 And there dye ſeuentie thouſand men of the peſtilence.

1 AND a Satan ſtode vp againſt Iſraél, and prouoked Dauid to nomber Iſraél.
2 Therefore Dauid ſaid to Ioáb, and to the rulers of the people, Go & nomber Iſraél from b Beer-ſhéba euen to Dan, and bring it to me, that I may know the nombet of them.
3 And Ioáb anſwered, The Lord increaſe his people an hundreth times ſo many as they be, ô my lord the King: are they not all my lords ſeruants? wherefore doeth my lord require this thing? why ſhulde he be a cauſe of c treſpaſſe to Iſraél.
4 Neuertheles the Kings worde preuailed againſt Ioáb. And Ioáb departed and wēt through all Iſraél, and returned to Ieruſalém.
5 And Ioáb gaue the nomber & ſumme of the people vnto Dauid: & all Iſraél were d eleuen hundreth thouſand men ỹ drewe ſworde: and Iudáh was e foure hundreth and ſeuentie thouſand men that drewe ſworde.
6 But the Leuites and Beniamín counted he not among them: for the Kings worde was abominable to Ioáb.
7 ¶ And God was diſpleaſed with this thīg: therefore he ſmote Iſraél.
8 Then Dauid ſaid vnto God, I haue ſinned greatly, becauſe I haue done this thing: but nōw, I beſeche thee, remoue the iniquitie of thy ſeruant: for I haue done very fooliſhly.
9 And the Lord ſpake vnto Gad Dauids "Seer, ſaying, 10 Go and tel Dauid, ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lord, I offre thee thre things: choſe thee one of them, that I may do it vnto thee.
11 So Gad came to Dauid, and ſaid vnto him, Thus ſayth the Lord, Take to thee
12 Ether thre yeres famine, or thre moneths to be deſtroyed before thine aduerſaries, and the ſworde of thine enemies "to take thee, or els the ſworde of ỹ Lord and peſtilence in the land thre dayes, that ỹ Angel of the Lord may deſtroy throughout all the coaſtes of Iſraél: now therefore aduiſe thee, what worde I ſhal bring againe to him that ſent me.

a He tempted Dauid in ſetting before his eyes his excellencie & glorie, his power & victories, read 2 Sam 24,1 b That is, frō Southe to North.
c It was a thing indifferent & vſual to nomber the people, but becauſe he did it of an ambitious minde, as though his ſtrength ſtode in his people, God puniſhed him
d Ioáb partely for grief and partely through negligence gathered not the whole ſūme as it is here declared.
e In Samuél is mentiō of thirtie thouſand more: ỹ was ether by ioyning to them ſome of the Beniamites, ỹ were mixed ỹ Iudáh, or as ỹ Ebrewes write, here ỹ chief & princes are left out
"Or, Prophet
"Or, ſmite thee.

13 And Dauid ſaid vnto Gad, I am in a wōderful ſtrait. let me now fall into the hand of the Lord: for his mercies are exceding great, & let me not fall into ỹ hand of mā.
14 So the Lord ſent a peſtilence in Iſraél, and there fell of Iſraél ſeuentie thouſand men.
15 ¶ And God ſent the Angel into Ieruſalém to deſtroye it. And † as he was deſtroying, the Lord behelde, and ‖ repented of the euil and ſaid to the Angel that deſtroyed, It is now ynough, let thine hād ceaſe. Then the Angel of the Lord ſtode by the threſhing ſloore of *Or*nan the Iebuſite.
16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and ſawe the Angel of the Lord ſtād betwene the earth and the heauen with his ſworde drawn in his hand, and ſtretched out towarde Ieruſalém. Then Dauid and the Elders of Iſraél, which were clothed in ſacke, fell vpon their faces.
17 And Dauid ſaid vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to nomber the people? It is euen I that haue ſinned and haue committed euil, but theſe ſhepe what haue they done? ó Lord my God, I beſeche thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers houſe, and not on ‖ thy people for their deſtruction.
18 ¶ Thē the Angel of the Lord cōmanded Gad to ſay to Dauid, that Dauid ſhulde go vp, and ſet vp an altar vnto the Lord in the threſhing ſloore of Ornán the Iebuſite.
19 So Dauid went vp according to ỹ ſaying of Gad, which he had ſpokē in the Name of the Lord.
20 And Ornán turned about, and ſawe the Angel, and his foure ſonnes that were with him, ‖ hid them ſelues, and Ornán threſhed wheat.
21 And as Dauid came to Ornán, Ornán loked and ſawe Dauid and went out of the threſhing ſloore, and bowed him ſelfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.
22 And Dauid ſaid to Ornán, Giue me the place of thy threſhing ſloore, that I may buylde an ‖ altar therein vnto the Lord: giue it me for ſufficient money, that the plague may be ſtayed from the people.
23 Then Ornán ſaid vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King do that which ſeemeth him good. lo, I giue thee bullockes for burnt offrings, & threſhing inſtruments for wood, & wheat for meat offring. I giue it all.
24 And King Dauid ſaid to Ornán, Not ſo: but I wil bye it for ſufficient ‖ money. for I wil not take that which is thine for ỹ Lord, nor offer burnt offrings without coſt.
25 So Dauid gaue to Ornán for that place ‖ ſix hūdreth ſhekels of golde by weight.
26 And Dauid buylt there an altar vnto the Lord, and offred burnt offrings, and peace offrings, and called vpon the Lord, and he ‖ anſwered him by fyre from heauē vpon the altar of burnt offring.
27 And when the Lord had ſpoken to the Angel, he put vp his ſworde againe into his ſhethe.
28 At that time when Dauid ſawe that the Lord had heard him in the threſhīg ſloore of Ornán the Iebuſite, then he ſacrificed there.
29 (But the Tabernacle of the Lord which Moſes had made in the wildernes, and the altar of burnt offring were at that ſeaſon in the hie place at Gibeón.
30 And Dauid colde not go before it to aſke counſel at God: for he was afraied of the ſworde of the Angel of the Lord)

† Read 2 Sam 24.16
‖ When God draweth backe his plagues, he temperith to repent, read Gen 6,6.
Or, Araunah.
‖ God declared ỹ he herd his requeſt in that he ſent down fire frō heauen or els there might vſe no fire in ſacrifice, but of ỹ which was reſerued vpō ỹ altar, Leui. 6, 13 & came down from heauen, Leui 9,24 as appeared by the puniſhment of Nadab and Abihu, Leui 10.1
‖ Thus he bothe ſheweth a true repentāce and a fatherlie care toward his people, wherin he ſeeketh God to ſpare them and to puniſh him and his.
‖ If man hide him ſelfe at ỹ ſight of an Angel which is a creature, how muche leſſe is a ſinner able to appeare before the face of God?
‖ Thus he cal by the cōmādemēt of God, as verſ 18 for els it had bene abominable except he had ether Gods worde, or reuelation.
‖ That is, as muche as it is worthe for hauing ynough of his owne, & yet to haue ỹe of another mans goods to offer vnto the Lord, it had bene theft and not acceptable to God.
‖ Read 2. Sam. 24.24.

CHAP. XXII.

2 Dauid prepareth things neceſſarie for the buylding of the Tēple. 6 He cōmaneth his ſonne Salomon to buylde the Tēple of the Lord, whom thing he him ſelfe was forbidden to do. 9 Vnder the figure of Salomón Chriſt is promiſed.

1 AND Dauid ſaid, This is the ‖ houſe of the Lord God & this is the altar for the burnt offring of Iſraél.
2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the ‖ ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſraél, and he ſet maſons to hewe and poliſh ſtones to buylde the houſe of God.
3 Dauid alſo prepared ‖ muche yron for the nailes of the dores & of the gates, and for the ioynings, and abundance of braſſe paſsing weight,
4 And cedre trees without nomber: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus broght ‖ muche cedre wood to Dauid.
5 And Dauid ſaid, Salomón my ſonne is yong and tender, and we muſt buylde an houſe for the Lord, magnifical, excellent and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreis. I wil therefore now prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.
6 Then he called Salomón his ſonne, and charged him to buylde an houſe for the Lord God of Iſraél.
7 And Dauid ſaid to Salomón, *My ſonne, I purpoſed with my ſelfe to buyld an houſe to the Name of the Lord my God,
8 But the worde of the Lord came to me, ſaying, *‖ Thou haſt ſhed muche blood, & haſt made great battels: thou ſhalt not buylde an houſe vnto my Name: for thou haſt ſhed muche blood vpon the earth in my ſight.
9 Beholde, a ſonne is borne to thee, which ſhalbe a mā of reſt, for I wil giue him reſt from all his enemies round about: therefore his name is Salomón: and I wil ſend peace and quietnes vpon Iſraél in his dayes.
10 *He

‖ That is, the place wherein he will be worſhiped.
‖ Meaning cōming out of other nations & dwelt among the Iewes
‖ To wit, ỹ weighed fifte ſhekels of golde. 2 Chr 3,8.
*2. Sam. 7, 5.
*Chap 28,3.
‖ This declareth how greatly God deteſteth the ſheding of blood, ſeing Dauid for this cauſe is ſtaied to buylde the Temple of the Lord, albeit he enterpriſed no warre, but by Gods commādemēt & againſt his enemies.

2 Sam 7,13. king 5,5.

10 *He ſhal buylde an houſe for my Name, and he ſhal be my ſonne, and I wil be his father, and I wil eſtabliſh the throne of his kingdome vpon Iſraél for euer.

11 Now therefore my ſonne, the Lord ſhalbe with thee, and thou ſhalt [e] proſper, and thou ſhalt buylde an houſe to the Lord thy God, as he hathe ſpoken of thee.

e He ſheweth that there can be no proſperitie, but when the Lord is with vs

12 Onely the Lord giue thee [f] wiſdome & vnderſtanding, and giue thee charge ouer Iſraél, euen to kepe the Law of the Lord thy God.

f Theſe are onely the meanes whereby Kings gouerne their ſubiectes aright & whereby the realmes doproſper and florith.

13 Then thou ſhalt proſper, if thou take hede to obſerue the ſtatutes and the iudgements which the Lord commanded Moſes for Iſraél: bè ſtrong and of good courage: feare not, nether be afraied.

g For Dauid was poore in reſpect of Salomon.

14 For beholde, according to my [g] pouertie haue I prepared for the houſe of the Lord an hundreth thouſand talents of golde, and a thouſand thouſand talents of ſiluer, and of braſſe and of yron paſsing weight: for there was abundance: I haue alſo prepared timbre and ſtone, and thou maieſt prouide more thereto.

15 Moreouer thou haſt workmen with thee ynough, [h] hewers of ſtone, and workemen for timbre, and all men expert in euerie worke, h Or, maſons, & carpenters.

16 Of golde, of ſiluer, and of braſſe, and of yron there is no nomber. [i] Vp therefore, & be doing, & the Lord wil be with thee.

i That is, go about it quickely.

17 Dauid alſo commanded all the princes of Iſraél to helpe Salomón his ſonne, ſaying, 18 Is not the Lord your God with you, & hathe giuen you reſt on euerie ſide for he hathe giuen the [k] inhabitants of the land into mine hand, & the land is ſubdued before ỹ Lord & before his people.

The nations round about.

19 Now ſet [l] your hearts and your ſoules to ſeke the Lord your God, and ariſe, and buylde the Sanctuarie of the Lord God to bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and the holy veſſels of God into the houſe buylt for ỹ Name of the Lord.

l For els he knewe that God wolde plague them, & not p̃ſper their labours except they ſoght w̃ all their hearts to ſet forth his glorie

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Dauid being olde, ordeineth Salomón King. 3 He cauſeth the Leuites to be nombred, 4 And aſſigneth them to their offices. 13 Aaron and his ſonnes are for the hie Prieſt. 14 The ſonnes of Moſes.

1 Kings 1,30.

1 SO when Dauid was olde and ful of daies, * he made Salomón his ſonne King ouer Iſraél.

2 And he gathered togethe all the princes of Iſraél with the Prieſts and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were nombred from the age of thirtie yere and aboue, and their nomber according to their ſumme was eight and thirtie thouſand men.

4 Of theſe foure and twentie thouſand were ſet to [m] aduãce the worke of the houſe

(m) Or, to ſet forward the worke.

of the Lord, and ſix thouſand were ouerſeers and iudges.

5 And foure thouſand were porters, & foure thouſand praiſed ỹ Lord with inſtrumẽts which [n] he made to praiſe the Lord.

[n] Ebr. I made, meanig Dauid. Chap 6,1. Exod. 6,25.

6 *So Dauid deuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the ſonnes of Leuí, to * Gerſhón, Koháth, and Merarí.

7 Of the Gerſhonites were [o] Laadán and Shimeí.

[o] Or, Libni, Chap 6,17.

8 The ſonnes of Laadán, the chief was Iehiél, and Zethám and Ioél, thre.

9 The ſonnes of Shimeí, Shelomíth, and Haziél and Harám, thre: theſe were the chief fathers of Laadán.

10 Alſo the ſonnes of Shimeí were Iáhath, Zinà, Ieúſh, and Beriáh: theſe foure were the ſonnes of Shimeí.

11 And Iáhath was the chief, & [p] Zizáh the ſeconde, but Ieúſh & Beriáh had not many ſonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

[p] Or, Zizà.

12 ¶ The ſonnes of Koháth were Amrám, Izhár, Hebrón and Vzziél, foure.

13 *The ſonnes of Amrám, Aarón and Moſés: and Aarón was ſeparated to [a] ſanctifie the moſte holy place, he & his ſonnes for euer to burne incenſe before the Lord, to miniſter to him, and to bleſſe in his Name for euer.

Exod 2,2. & 6,20. ebr. 5,5. [a] That is, to ſerue in the moſte holy place & to cõſecrate ỹ holy things.

14 ¶ Moſés alſo the man of God, & his children were named with the [b] tribe of Leuí.

[b] Thei were but of the ordre of the Leuites & not of the Prieſts as Aarós ſonnes.

15 The ſonnes of Moſés were Gerſhóm, and Eliézer,

16 Of the ſõnes of * Gerſhóm was Shebuél the chief.

Exod. 2,22. & 18,3.

17 And the ſonne of Eliézer was Rehabiáh the [c] chief: for Eliézer had none other ſonnes: but the ſonnes of Rehabiáh were very many.

[c] The Scripture reſeth to call chief or ỹ firſt borne, although he be alone, & there be none borne after, Matt 1,25.

18 The ſonne of Izhár was Shelomíth the chief.

19 The ſonnes of Hebrón were Ieriáh the firſt, Amariáh the ſeconde, Iahaziél the third, and Iekamiám the fourt.

20 The ſonnes of Vzziél were Michàh the firſt, and Iſſhiáh the ſeconde.

21 ¶ The ſonnes of Merarí were Mahlí and Mushí. The ſonnes of Mahlí, Eleazár and Kiſh.

22 And Eleazár dyed, and had no ſonnes, but daughters, and their [d] brethren the ſonnes of Kiſh toke them.

23 The ſonnes of Mushí were Mahlí, and Edér, and Ierimóth, thre.

24 Theſe were the ſonnes of Leuí according to the houſe of their fathers, euen the chief fathers according to their offices, according to the nomber of names & their ſumme that did the worke for the ſeruice of the houſe of the Lord from the age of [e] twenty yeres and aboue.

d Meaning their couſins.

e Dauid did chooſe the Leuites twife, firſt at the age of thirtie, as ver. 3, & againe afterwarde at twentie, as the neceſsitie of ỹ office did require at ỹ beginning they had no charge in the Temple, before their were fiue and twentie yere olde, and had none after fifti. Nobe 4

25 For Dauid said, The Lord God of Israél hathe giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwel in Ierusalém for euer.
26 And also the Leuites shal nomore beare the Tabernacle and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.
27 Therefore according to the last wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were nõbred from twentie yere and aboue,
28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aarón, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courtes, and chambers, and in the [f] purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God,
29 Bothe for the shewebread, and for the fine floure, for the meat offring, and for the vnleauened cakes, and for the fryed things, and for that which was rosted, and for all measures and cise,
30 And for to stand euerie morning, to giue thankes and to praise the Lord, & likewise at euen,
31 And to offer all burnt offrings vnto the Lord, in the Sabbaths, in the moneths, and at the appointed times, according to the nomber & according to their custome continually before the Lord, 32 And that they shulde kepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregacion, and the charge of the holie place, and the charge of the sonnes of Aarón their brethren in the seruice of the house of the Lord.

f In wasshing and cleansing all the holy vessels

CHAP. XXIIII.

Dauid assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aarón.

Leui. 10,4. nom 3,4. & 26,6.

1 THese are also the *diuisions of the sonnes of Aarón, The sonnes of Aarón were Nadab, and Abihú, Eleazár, and Ithamár.
2 But Nadáb and Abihú dyed [a] before their father, and had no childrẽ. therefore Eleazár and Ithamár executed ẏ Priests office.
3 And Dauid distributed them, euen Zadók of the *sonnes of Eleazár, and Ahimélech of the sonnes of Ithamár according to their offices in their ministration.
4 And there were found mo of the sonnes of Eleazár by the nomber of men, then of the sonnes of Ithamár. and they deuided them, to wit, among the sonnes of Eleazár, sixten [a] heades, according to the housholde of their fathers, and among the sonnes of Ithamár, according to the housholde of their fathers, eight.
5 Thus they distributed them by lot the one from the other, and so the rulers of the Sanctuarie and the rulers of the house of God were of the sonnes of Eleazar and of the sonnes of Ithamár.
6 And Shemaiáh the sonne of Nethaneél the scribe of the Leuites, wrote them before the King and the princes, and Zadók the Priest, and Ahimélech the sonne of Abiathár, and before the chief fathers of the Priests and of the Leuites, one familie being reserued for Eleazár, & another reserued for Ithamár.
7 And the first [b] lot fel to Iehoiaríb, and the second to Iedaiáh,
8 The third to Harim, the fourt to Seorím,
9 The fift to Malchiiáh, the sixt to Miiamín,
10 The seuent to Hakkóz, the eight to A[c]biiáh,
11 The ninte to Ieshúa, the tent to Shecaniáh,
12 The eleuent to Eliashib, the twelft to Iakím, 13 The thirtente to Huppáh, the fourtente to Ieshebeáb, 14 The fiftente to Bilgáh, the sixtente to Immér,
15 The seuentente to Hezír, the eightente to Happizzér, 16 The ninetente to Pethahiáh, the twentieth to Iehezekél, 17 The one and twentie to Iachín, the two and twentie to Gamúl, 18 The thre and twẽtie to Deliáh, the foure and twentie to Maaziáh.
19 These were their ordres according to their offices, when they entred into the house of the Lord according to their custome vnder [d] the hand of Aarón their father, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded him.
20 ¶And of the sonnes of Leuí that remained of the sonnes of Amrám, was Shubaél, of the sonnes of Shubaél, Iedeiah, 21 Of Rehabiáh. euen of the sonnes of Rehabiáh, the first Isshiiáh, 22 Of Izharí, Shelomóth, of the sonnes of Shelomóth, Iahath, 23 And his sonnes Ieriáh the first, Amariáh the seconde, Iahaziél the thirde, and Iekameám the fourt, 24 The sonne of Vzziél was Micháh, the sonne of Micháh was Shamír, 25 The brother of Micháh was Isshiiáh, the sonne of Isshiiáh, Zechariáh, 26 The sonnes of Merarí were Mahlí and Mushí, the sonne of Iaaziiah was Benó, 27 The sonnes of Merarí of Iahaziáh were Benó, and Shóham, and Zaccúr and Ibrí.
28 Of Mahlí came Eleazár, which had no sonnes.
29 Of Kish. the sonne of Kish was Ierahmeél, 30 And the sonnes of [e] Mushí were Mahlí, and Edér, and Ierimóth: these were sonnes of the Leuites after the housholde of their fathers.
31 And

a Whiles their father yet liued.

*Or, ceasing.

Ebr heades.

b This lot was ordeined to take away all occasiõ of enuie or grudgig of one against another

c Zachariethe father of Iohn Baptist was of this course or lot of Abia, Luk 1,5 d By the dignitie that God gaue to Aarón

e Which was the seconde sonne of Merari

f That is, euerie one had ỹ dignitie ỹ fel vnto him by lot.

31 And theſe alſo caſt f lottes ẅ their brethren the ſonnes of Aarón b fore King Dauid, and Zadók and Ahimélech and the chief fathers of the Prieſts, and of the Le-uites, euen the chief of the families againſt their yonger brethren.

CHAP. XXV.

The ſingers are appointed, with their places & lottes.

a The ſingers were deuided into four and twentie courſes, both euery courſe or ourre contei.ed twelue, & in all there were 288, as verſ 7

1 SO Dauid & the captaines of ỹ armie ſeparated for the miniſterie the ſon-nes of Aſáph, and Hemán, and Ieduth ún, who ſhulde ſing prophecies with harpes, with violes, and with cymbales, and their nomber was euen of the men for the office of their miniſterie, to wit,

2 Of the ſonnes of Aſáph, Zaccúr, and Io-ſeph, & Nethaniah, & Aſharélah the ſon-nes of Aſáph were vnder the hand of A-ſáph, which ſang prophecies by the "commiſsion of the King.

"Ebr. ha dt.

3 Of Ieduthún, the ſonnes of Ieduthún, Gedaliáh, & Zeri, and Ieſhaiáh, Aſhabiáh and Mattithiah, b ſix, vnder the hands of their father: Ieduthún ſang c prophecies with an harpe, for to giue thankes and to praiſe the Lord.

b Whereof one is not here nor bred c Meaning, Pſalmes and ſcrip. to praiſe God.

4 Of Hemán, the ſonnes of Hemán, Buk-kiáh, Mattaniah, Vzziél, Shebuél, and Ierimóth, Hananiáh, Hanáni, Eliáthah, Giddálti, & Romámti-ézer, Ioſhbekáſhah, Mallóthi, Hothir & Mahazióth.

5 All theſe were the ſonnes of Hemán the Kings "Seer in the wordes of God to lift vp the "horne: and God gaue to Hemán fourtene ſonnes and thre daughters.

Or, Prophet.

Or, power or meaning of the King

6 All theſe were vnder the "hand of their father, ſinging in the houſe of ỹ Lord with cymbales, violes & harpes, for the ſeruice of the houſe of God, & Aſaph, and Ieduthún, and Hemán were at the Kings "cōmandement.

Or, concreamũ.

Ebr. hand.

7 So was their nomber with their brethren that were inſtruct in the ſongs of ỹ Lord, euen of all that were conning, two hun-dreth foure ſcore and eight.

d Who ſhulde be in euery compaſſe and courſe

8 And they caſt lottes, d charge againſt charge, aſwel e ſmall as great, the cunning man as the ſcholer.

e Without reſpect to age or cunning

9 And the firſt lot fell to f Ioſéph, which was of Aſáph, the ſeconde, to Gedaliáh, who with his brethren and his ſonnes were twelue.

f So that he ſerued in the firſt turne, and the reſt euery one as his turne followed, orderly 10 The third, to Zaccúr, he, his ſonnes and his brethren were twelue.

Or, the Zetites.

11 The fourte, to "Izri, he, his ſonnes & his brethren twelue.

12 The fift, to Nethaniáh, he, his ſonnes &
his brethren twelue.

13 The ſixt, to Bukkiáh, he, his ſonnes & his brethren twelue.

14 The ſeuent, to Ieſhaiélah, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

15 The eight, to Ieſhaiáh, he, his ſonnes and his brethren twelue.

16 The nint, to Mattaniáh, he, his ſonnes &
his brethren twelue.

17 The tent, to Shimeí, he, his ſonnes and his brethren twelue.

18 The elcuent, to Azaréel, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

19 The twelft, to Aſhabiáh, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

20 The thirtent, to Shubaél, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

21 The fourtent, to Mattithiáh, he, his ſon-nes and his brethren twelue.

22 The fiftent, to Ierimóth, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

23 The ſixtente, to Hananiáh, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

24 The ſeuentente, to Ioſhbekáſhah, he, his ſonnes and his brethren twelue.

25 The eightente, to Hananí, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

26 The ninetente, to Mallóthi, he, his ſon-nes and his brethren twelue.

27 The twētieth, to Eliáthah, he, his ſonnes
and his brethren twelue.

28 The one and twentieth, to Hothír, he,
his ſonnes and his brethren twelue.

29 The two and twentieth, to Giddálti, he,
his ſonnes and his brethren twelue.

30 The thre and twentieth, to Mahazióth, he, his ſonnes and his brethren twelue.

31 The foure and twentieth, to Romámti-ézer, he, his ſonnes & his brethren twelue.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The porters of the Temple are ordeined, euerie man to the gate, which he ſhulde kepe; 20 And ouer the treaſure

Or, ſeuerſes and turnes

1 COncerning the "diuiſions of the porters, of the Korhites, Meſhelemiáh the ſonne of Koré of the ſonnes of a Aſaph.

a This Aſaph was not the notable muſitian, but another of y name called alſo Ebiaſaph, chap 9.19 & 15.17 & alſo Aſaph.

2 And the ſonnes of Meſhelemiáh, Zechariáh the eldeſt, Iediaél the ſeconde, Zebadiáh the third, Iathniél the fourt,

3 Elám the fift, Iehohanán the ſixt, & Elichoenái the ſeuent.

4 And of the ſonnes of Obéd Edóm, She-maiáh the eldeſt, Iehozabád the ſeconde, Ioáh the third, and Sacár the fourt, and Nethaneél the fift,

5 Ammiél the ſixt, Iſſachár the ſeuent, Peulthái the eight: for God had b bleſſed
him.

b In giuing him many children

6 And to Shemaiáh his ſonne, were ſonnes borne, that c ruled in the houſe of their father, for they were men of might.

c Or like chief rulers houſe, meaning worthie men and valiant

7 The ſonnes of Shemaiáh were Othni, and Rephaél, and Obéd, Elzabád & his brethren ſtrong men. Elihú alſo, & Semachiáh.

8 All theſe were of the "ſonnes of Obéd E-dóm, they and their ſonnes and their brethren mightie and d ſtrong to ſeruice, euen

Or, appointed.

d And were to ſerue in the office of the porterſhip.

thre ſcore and two of Obéd Edóm.
9 And of Meſhelemiáh ſonnes and brethrē eightene mightie men
10 And of Hoſáh of the ſonnes of Merarí the ſonnes were Shúri the chief, & (thogh he was not the eldeſt, yet his father made him the chief) 11 Helkiáh the ſeconde, Tebáliah the third, & Zechariáh the fourth: all the ſonnes & the brethren of Hoſáh were thirtene.
12 Of theſe were the diuiſions of the porters of the chief men, hauing the charge againſt their brethrē, to ſerue in the houſe of the Lord.
13 And they caſt lottes bothe ſmale & great for the houſe of their fathers, for euerie gate.
14 And the lot on the Eaſtſide fel to Shelemiáh: thē they caſt lottes for Zechariáh his ſonne a wiſe counſeler, and his lot came out Northwarde:
15 To Obéd Edóm Southwarde, and to his ſonnes the houſe of Aſuppím:
16 To Shuppím and to Hoſáh Weſtwarde with the gate of Shallécheth by the paued ſtrete that goeth vpwarde, warde ouer againſt warde.
17 Eaſtwarde were ſix Leuites, & Northwarde foure a day, and Southwarde foure a daye, and towarde Aſuppím two & two.
18 In Parbár towarde the Weſt were foure by the paued ſtrete, and two in Parbár.
19 Theſe are the diuiſions of the porters of the ſonnes of Koré, and of the ſonnes of Merarí.
20 ¶ And of the Leuites, Ahiiáh was ouer the treaſures of the houſe of God, and ouer the treaſures of the dedicate things.
21 Of the ſonnes of Laadán the ſonnes of the Gerſhúnites deſcending of Laadán, the chief fathers of Laadán were Gerſhúnni & Iehielí.
22 The ſonnes of Iehielí were Zethán and Ioél his brother, appointed ouer the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord.
23 Of the Amramites, of the Izharites, of the Hebronites and of the Oziélites.
24 And Shebuél the ſonne of Gerſhóm, the ſonne of Moſés, a ruler ouer the treaſures.
25 And of his brethren, which came of Eliézer, was Rehabiáh his ſonne, and Ieſhaiáh his ſonne, and Iorám his ſonne, and Zichrí his ſonne, and Shelomíth his ſonne.
26 Which Shelomíth & his brethren were ouer all the treaſures of the dedicate things, which Dauid the King, and the chief fathers, the captaines ouer thouſands, and hundreths, and the captaines of the armie had dedicate.
27 (For of the battels and of the ſpoiles they did dedicate to mainteine the houſe of the Lord)
28 And all that Samuél the Seer had dedicate, and Saúl the ſonne of Kiſh, and Abnér the ſonne of Ner, and Ioáb the ſonne of Zeruiáh, and whoſoeuer had dedicate ame thing, it was vnder the hand of Shelomíth, and his brethren.
29 Of the Izharites was Chenaniáh & his ſonnes, for the buſines without ouer Iſraél, for officers and for iudges.
30 Of the Hebronites, Aſhabiáh and his brethren, men of actiuitie, a thouſand, and ſeuen hundreth were officers for Iſraél beyonde Iordén Weſtwarde, in all the buſines of the Lord, and for the ſeruice of the King.
31 Among the Hebronites was Ieriáh the chiefeſt, euen the Hebronites by his generacions according to the families. And in the fourtieth yere of the reigne of Dauid thei were ſoght for: and there were founde among them men of actiuitie at Iazér in Gilead.
32 And his brethren men of actiuitie, two thouſand & ſeuen hundreth chief fathers, whome King Dauid made rulers ouer the Reubenites, & the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manaſſéh, for euerie matter perteining to God, and for the Kings buſines.

CHAP. XXVII.

Of the princes and rulers that muſtred vnto the King.

1 THe childrē of Iſraél alſo after their nomber, euen the chief fathers and captaines of thouſands and of hundreths, and their officers that ſerued the King by diuers courſes, which came in & went out, moneth by moneth throughout all the moneths of the yere: in euerie courſe were foure and twentie thouſand.
2 Ouer the firſt courſe for the firſt moneth was Iaſhobeám the ſonne of Zabdiél: and in his courſe were foure and twentie thouſand.
3 Of the ſonnes of Pérez was the chief ouer all the princes of the armies for the firſt moneth.
4 And ouer the courſe of the ſeconde moneth was Dodái, an Ahohite, & this was his courſe, & Mikló th was a captaine, and in his courſe were foure & twētie thouſand.
5 The captaine of the third hoſte for the third moneth was Benaiáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá the chief Prieſt: & in his courſe were foure and twentie thouſand.
6 This Benaiáh was mightie amōg thirtie and aboue the thirtie, and in his courſe was Amizabád his ſonne.
7 The fourt for the fourt moneth was Aſahél the brother of Ioáb, and Zebadiah his ſonne after him: and in his courſe were foure and twentie thouſand.
8 The fift for the fift moneth was prince Shamhúth the Izrahite: and in his courſe foure and twentie thouſand.
9 The

e According to their turnes, aſwel the one as the other.
f One expert and mete to kepe ỹ gate
g This was an houſe, where they vſed to reſort to conſulte of things cōcerning the Temple, as a Connocacion houſe.
h Whereat they vſed to caſt out ỹ filth of the caſte, Ma.6,13
i Meanig, two one daye and two another k Which was an houſe wherein they kept the inſtrumēts of the Tēple.
l Theſe alſo had charge ouer the treaſures.
m According as the Lord commanded, Nomb.31,28.
n Meaning of things ỹ were out of ỹ cit.e.
o That is, for the Kings houſe p To wit, the cousins of Iehoiáh.
q Bothe in ſpirituāl and tēporal thīgs.
r Which executed their charge and office, which is ment by comming in and going out.
s That is, Dodais lieutenat.
t 2.Sam 23,28. & 23,31.

Or, ſeuerall.
Or, courſes.
Or Meſhelemiah
Or, coſins.

9 The ſixt for the ſixt moneth was Irá the ſonne of Ikkéſh the Tekoite: and in his courſe foure and twentie thouſand.
10 The ſeuent for the ſeuent moneth was Hélez the Pelonite, of the ſonnes of Ephráim. and in his courſe foure and twentie thouſand.
11 The eight for the eight moneth was Sibbecái the Huſhathite of the Zarhites: and in his courſe foure and twentie thouſand.
12 The nint for the nint moneth was Abiézer the Anethothite of the ſonnes of [a]Ieminí and in his courſe foure and twentie thouſand.
13 The tent for the tent moneth was Maharái, the Netophathite of the Zarhites: and in his courſe foure and twentie thouſand.
14 The eleuent for the eleuent moneth was Benaiáh the Pirathonite of the ſonnes of Ephráim: and in his courſe foure and twentie thouſand.
15 The twelft for the twelft moneth was Heldái the Netophathite, of Othniél: & in his courſe foure & twentie thouſand.
16 ¶Moreouer [c] the rulers ouer the tribes of Iſraél ouer, the Reubenites was ruler, Eliézer the ſonne of Zichri: ouer the Shimeonites, Shephatiáh the ſonne of Maachái:
17 Ouer ỹ Leuites, Haſhabiáh the ſonne of Remuél: ouer them of Aharón, & Zadók:
18 Ouer Iudáh, Elihú of the brethrẽ of Dauid ouer Iſſachár, Omri the ſonne of Michaél:
19 Ouer Zebulún, Iſhmaiáh the ſonne of Obadiáh: ouer Naphtali, Ierimóth the ſonne of Azriél:
20 Ouer the ſonnes of Ephráim, Hoſhéa the ſonne of Azazziáh: ouer the halfe tribe of Manaſſéh, Ioél ỹ ſonne of Pedaiáh:
21 Ouer the [d] other halfe of Manaſſéh in Gilcád, Iddó the ſõne of Zechariáh: ouer Beniamín, Iaaſiél the ſonne of Abnér:
22 Ouer Dan, Azariél ỹ ſonne of Ierohám. theſe ar the prices of the tribes of Iſraél.
23 ¶But Dauid toke not the nõber of them from twentie yere olde and vnder, becauſe the Lord had ſaid that he wolde increaſe Iſraél like vnto ỹ ſtarres of the heauẽs.
24 And [e] Ioáb the ſonne of Zeruiáh began to nomber: but he finiſhed it not, becauſe there came wrath for it againſt Iſraél, nether was the nomber put into the [f] Chronicles of King Dauid.
25 And ouer the Kings treaſuries was Azmauéth the ſonne of Adiél: and ouer the treaſures in the fields, in the cities and in the villages & in the towres was Iehonathán the ſonne of Vzziáh:
26 And ouer the workemen in the field that tilled the grounde, was Ezrí the ſonne of Chelúb:
27 And ouer them that dreſſed the vines, was Shimeí the Ramathite: and ouer that which apperteined to the vines, and ouer the ſtore of the wine was Sabdí the Shiphmite:
28 And ouer ỹ oliuetrees and mulberie trees that were in the valleies, was Báal Hanán the Gederite: & ouer the ſtore of the oyle was Ioáſh:
29 And ouer the oxen that fed in Sharón, was Shetrái the Sharonite: & ouer the oxẽ in ỹ valleies was Shaphat ỹ ſõne of Adlái:
30 And ouer the camels was Obíl the Iſhmaelite: and ouer the aſſes was Iehdeiah the Meronothite:
31 And ouer the ſhepe was Iazíz the Hagerite: all theſe were the rulers of the ſubſtãce that was King Dauids.
32 And Iehonathán Dauids vncle a man of counſel and of vnderſtanding (for he was a [g] ſcribe) & Iehiél the ſonne of Hachmoní [h] were with the Kings ſonnes.
33 And Ahitóphel was the Kings coũſeler, and Huſhái the Archite the Kings friend.
34 And [i] after Ahitóphel was Iehoiadá the ſonne of Benaiáh and Abiathár: and captaine of the Kings armie was Ioáb.

[a] Or, Berramia.
[c] Meaning, beſides theſe ewelue captaines.
[d] Which is beyonde Iordén in reſpect of Iudáh alſo one captaine was ouer the Reubenites & the Gadites
[e] And the cõmandement of the King was abominable to Ioáb, Chap 21,6 [f] The Ebrewes make bothe theſe bokes of Chronicles but one, & at this verſe make the middes of the boke, as touching the nõber of verſes.
[g] That is, a man learned in the worde of God.
[h] To be their ſcholemaſters and teachers.
[i] After that Ahitóphel had hãged him ſelfe, 2 Samu 17,23 Iehoiada was made counſeler.

CHAP. XXVIII.

3 Becauſe Dauid was forbidden to buylde the Tẽple, he willeth Salomón and the people to performe it, & Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

1 NOw Dauid aſſembled all the princes of Iſraél: the princes of the tribes, & the captaines of the bandes that ſerued the King, and the captaines of thouſands & the captaines of hundreths, and the rulers of all the ſubſtance, and poſſeſſion of the King, & of his ſonnes, with the [a] eunuches, and the mightie, and all the mẽ of power, vnto Ieruſalém.
2 And King Dauid ſtode vp vpon his fete, and ſaid, Heare ye me, my brethren & my people: I purpoſed to haue buylt an houſe of [a] reſt for the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, & for a * foote ſtole of our God, and haue made ready for the buylding,
3 But God ſaid vnto me, * Thou ſhalt not buylde an houſe for my Name, becauſe thou haſt bene a mã of warre, & haſt ſhed blood.
4 Yet as the Lord God of Iſraél choſe me before all the houſe of my father, to be King ouer Iſraél for euer (for in Iudáh wolde he chuſe a prince, & of the houſe of [b] Iudáh is the houſe of my father, & amõg the ſonnes of my father he delited in me to make me King ouer all Iſraél)
5 *So of all my ſonnes (for the Lord hathe giuen me manie ſonnes) he hathe eũe choſen Salomón my ſonne to ſit vpõ the throne of the kingdome of ỹ Lord ouer Iſraél.
6 And he ſaid vnto me, Salomón thy ſõne, he ſhal buylde mine houſe & my courtes:

[a] Or, chief ſeruants, Gen 37, 36.
[a] Where the Arke ſhulde remaine and remoue nomore to and fro
Pſal 99 5
2 Sam 7,13.
thap.22,8.
[b] According to the prophecie of Iakób, Gen 49,8.
Wiſd.9.7.

for I haue choſen him to be my ſonne, and I wil be his father.

7 I wil ſtabliſh therefore his kingdome for euer: if he indeuoure him ſelfe to do my commandements, and my iudgemẽts, as [c] this day.

c If he continue to kepe my Lawe and departe not therefrom, as he doeth hitherto.

8 Now therefore in the ſight of all Iſraél the Congregacion of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, kepe and ſeke for all the cõmandements of the Lord your God, that ye may poſſeſſe this [d] good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you [e] for euer.

d To wit, of Canáan.

e He declareth that nothing can ſeparat them frõ the commoditie of this lãd bothe for thẽ ſelues & their poſteritie, but their ſinnes & iniquitie 1.Sam.16,7. pſal.7,10. sere.11,20. & 17,10. & 20,12.

9 And thou, Salomón my ſõne, knowe thou the God of thy father, and ſerue him with a perfit hearte, and with a willing minde: * for the Lord ſearcheth all hearts, and vnderſtandeth all the imaginacions of thoghtes: if thou ſeke him, he wil be founde of thee, but if thou forſake him, he wil caſt thee of for euer.

10 Take hede now, for the Lord hathe choſen thee to buylde [f] the houſe of the Sanctuarie: be ſtrong therefore, and [g] do it.

f Meaning, for his Arke

g Put it in execucion.

11 ¶ Then Dauid gaue to Salomón his ſonne the paterne of the porche and of the houſes thereof, and of the cloſets thereof, and of the galeries thereof, and of the chambers thereof that are within, and of the houſe of the merciſeate,

12 And the paterne of all that "he had in his minde for the courtes of the houſe of the Lord, and for all the chambers rounde about, for the treaſures of the houſe of God, and for the treaſures of the dedicate things,

" The that were in her ſpirit with him.

13 And for the courſes of the Prieſts, and of the Leuites, and for all the worke for the ſeruice of the houſe of the Lord, and for all the veſſels of the miniſterie of the houſe of the Lord.

14 He gaue of golde by weight, for the veſſels of golde, for all the veſſels of all maner of ſeruice, and all the veſſels of ſiluer by weight, for all maner veſſels of all maner of ſeruice.

h That is, the .cc. cãdleſticks, 1 King 7,49.

15 The weight alſo of golde for the [h] candleſtickes, and golde for their lãpes, with the weight for euerie candleſticke, & for the lampes thereof, & for the cãdleſtickes of ſiluer by the weight of the candleſticke, and the lampes thereof, acco: ding to the vſe of euerie candleſticke,

16 And the weight of the golde for the tables of ſhewbread, for euerie table, & ſiluer for the tables of ſiluer,

17 And pure golde for the fleſhokes, & the bowles, and plates, & for baſens, golde in weight for euerie baſen, and for ſiluer baſens by weight for euerie baſen,

Or, couering

1 Meaning, of the merciſeat which couered the Arke, which was called the charet becauſe the Lord declared him ſelfe there

18 And for the altar of incenſe, pure golde by weight, and golde for the paterne of [1] the charet of the Cherubs that ſpred thẽ ſelues, and couered the Arke of the couenante of the Lord:

19 All, ſaid he, by writing ſent to me [k] by the hand of the Lord, which made me vnderſtand all the workemanſhip of the paterne.

k For all this was left in writing in the boke of ỹ Lawe. Exod 5,40 & boke the King wasbounde to put in execucion. Deut. 17,19.

20 And Dauid ſaid to Salomón his ſonne, Be ſtrong, and of a valiant courage and do it: feare not, nor be afraied: for the Lord God, euen my God is with thee: he wil not leaue thee nor forſake thee til thou haſt finiſhed all the woike for the ſeruice of the houſe of the Lord.

21 Beholde alſo, the cõpanies of the Prieſts and the Leuites for all the ſeruice of the houſe of God, euen they ſhalbe with thee for the whole worke, [l] with euerie fre heart that is ſkilful in anie maner of ſeruice. The princes alſo and all the people wil be "wholly at thy commandement.

l That is, euerie one wil be ready to helpe thee with thoſe gifts that God hathe giuen him

" Ebr as all thy worder.

CHAP. XXIX.

2 The offring of Dauid and of the princes for the buylding of the Temple. 10 Dauid giueth thankes to the Lord. 20 He exhorteth the people to do the ſame. 22 Salomón is created King. 28 Dauid dyeth, and Salomón his ſonne reigneth in his ſteade.

1 MOreouer Dauid the King ſaid vnto all the Cõgregació, God hathe choſen Salomón mine onelie ſonne yong and tendre, & the woike is great: for this houſe is not for man, but for the [a] Lord God.

a And therefore it ought to be excellent in all pointes,

2 Now I haue prepared with all my power for the houſe of my God, golde for veſſels of golde, and ſiluer for them of ſiluer, and braſſe for things of braſſe, yron for things of yron, and wood for things of wood & onix ſtones, and ſtones to be ſet, and carbuncle ſtones and of diuers colour, and all precious ſtones, & marble ſtones in abundãce.

3 Moreouer becauſe I haue [b] delite in the houſe of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and ſiluer, which I haue giuẽ to the houſe of my God, beſide all that I haue prepared for the houſe of the Sanctuarie, b His great zeale toward the furtherãce of the Tẽple made him to ſpare no expenſes, but to beſtowe his owne peculiar treaſure.

4 Euen [c] thre thouſand talents of golde of the golde of Ophir, and ſeuen thouſand talents of fined ſiluer to ouerlay the walles of the houſes.

c He sheweth what he had of his owne ſtore for ỹ Lords houſe.

5 The golde for the things of golde, and the ſiluer for things of ſiluer, and for all the worke by the hands of artificers: and who is [d] willing [*] to fil his hand to day vnto the Lord?

d He was nõt onely liberal him ſelfe, but prouoked others to ſet forthe ỹ worke of God

Or, is offre.

6 So the Princes of the families, and the prices of the tribes of Iſraél, & the captaines of thouſands & of hundreths, with the rulers of ỹ Kings worke, offred willingly,

7 And they gaue for the ſeruice of the houſe of God fiue thouſand talents of golde, and ten thouſand pieces, and ten thouſand talents of ſiluer, and eightene thouſand talents of braſſe, and one hundreth thouſand talents of yron.

8 And

8 And they with whome precious stones were e founde, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Iehiél the Gershunnite.
9 And the people reioyced when they of-fred willingly: for they offred willingly vnto the Lord, with a f perfite heart. And Dauid the King also reioyced with great ioye.
10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord before all the Congregacion, & Dauid said, Blessed be thou, ô Lord God, of g Israél our father, for euer and euer.
11 Thine, ô Lord, is greatnes and power, and glorie, and victorie and praise: for all that is in heauen & in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, ô Lord, and thou excel-lest as head ouer all.
12 Bothe riches and honour come of thee, & thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hād is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.
13 Now therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.
14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we shulde be able to offer willingly after this sorte? for all things h come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue gi-uen thee.
15 For we are i strangers before thee, and soiourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none " abiding.
16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we haue prepared to buylde thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand and all is thine.
17 I knowe also, my God, that thou * tryest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousnes: I haue offred willingly in ẏ vprightnes of mine heart all these things: now also haue I sene thy people which are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly with ioye.
18 O Lord God of Abrahám, Izhák and Israél our fathers, kepe this for euer in the k purpose, and the thoghts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.
19 And giue vnto Salomón my sonne a per-fit heart to kepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to buylde the house which I haue prepared.
20 ¶ And Dauid said to all the Congrega-ció, Now blesse the Lord your God. And all the Congregacion blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heades, & worshipped the Lord and the l King.
21 And they offred sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the morowe after that day, they offred burnt offrings vnto the Lord, euen a thousand yong bullockes, a thousand rammes, & a thousand sheepe, with their m drinke offrings, and sacrifices in abundāce for all Israél.
22 And they did eat and drinke before the Lord the same day with greate ioye, and they made Salomón the sonne of Dauid King the seconde time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadók for the hie Priest.
23 So Salomón sate on the n throne of the Lord, as King in steade of Dauid his father, and prospered: and all Israél obeyed him.
24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the sonnes of King Dauid " sub mitted them selues vnder King Salo-món.
25 And the Lord magnified Salomón in dignitie, in the sight of all Israél, and ga-ue him so glorious a kingdome, as no
King had before him in Israél.
26 ¶ * Thus Dauid the sonne of Ishái reigned ouer all Israél.
27 And the space that he reigned ouer Is-raél, was fourtie yere: seuen yere reigned he in Hebrón, and thre & thirtie yere reigned he in Ierusalém:
28 And he dyed in a good age, ful of dayes, riches and honour, and Salomón his sonne reigned in his steade.
29 Concerning the actes of Dauid the King first and last, beholde, they are wri-ten in the boke of Samuél the Seer, and in the boke of o Nathán the Prophete, and in the boke of Gad the Seer, 30 With all his reigne and his power, and p times that went ouer him, and ouer Israél and ouer all the kingdomes of the earth.

e Meaning, thē that had anie

f That is, with a good courage & without hypocrisie.

g Which did reuerle thy selfe to our father Iaakób.

h We gaue thee nothing of our owne, but that which we haue receiued of thee. for whether ẏ gifts be corporal or spiritual, we receiue them all of God, and therefore must giue him the glorie

i And therefore haue this land but lent to vs for a time

* Ebr watting for them to returne

1 Sam 16, 7. chap. 28, 9.

k Cōtinue thē in this good minde, that they may serue thee willingly.

l That is, did reuerence to the King.

m Meaning, all kīde of licour which they mingled, with their sacrifices, as wine, oyle, &c.

n This declareth that the Kings of Iudáh were figures of Christ, who was the true anointed, & to whome God gaue the chief gouernment of all things

" Ebr gaue the hand.

1. King 2, 11.

o The bokes of Nathán & Gad are thoght to haue bene lost in the captiuitie.

p Meaning, the troubles and griefs.

THE SECONDE BOKE
of the Chronicles.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis seconde boke conteineth briefely in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bokes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomón to the destruction of Ierusalém, and the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this ſtorie are certeine things declared and ſet forthe more copiouſly then in the bokes of the Kings, and therefore ſerue greatly to the vnderſtanding of the Prophetes. But thre things are here chefly to be conſidered. Firſt that the godlie Kings, when they ſawe the plagues of God prepared againſt their countrey for ſinne, had recourſe to the Lord, and by earneſt prayer were heard, and the plagues removed. The ſeconde how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that ſuche as feare him and profeſſe his religion, ſhulde ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdely how the good rulers euer loued the Prophetes of God, and were very zealous to ſet forthe his religion throughout all their dominions, and contrarie wiſe the wicked hated his miniſters, depoſed them, and for the true religion and worde of God, ſet vp idolatrie, and ſerued God according to the fantaſie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chef actes from the beginning of the worlde to the buylding againe of Ieruſalem, which was the two and thirtieth yere of Darius, and conteine in the whole, thre thouſand, ſoure hundreth foure ſcore and eight yeres, and ſix moneths.

CHAP. I.

1 The offring of Salomón at Gibeón. 8 He prayeth vnto God to giue him wiſdome. 11 Which he giueth him and more. 14 The nomber of his charets and horſes. 15 And of his riches.

1 Hē Salomón the ſōne of Dauid was [a] cōfirmed in his kingdome: & ỹ Lord his God was with him, & magnified him highlie.

2 And Salomón [a] ſpake vnto all Iſraél, to the captaines of thouſands, and of húdreths and to the iudges, and to all the gouernours in all Iſraél, euen the chief fathers.

3 So Salomón and all the Congregacion with him went to the hye place that was at [b] Gibeón: for there was the Tabernacle [c] of the Cōgregacion of God which Moſés the ſeruant of the Lord had made in the wildernes.

4 But the Arke of God had Dauid broght vp from Kiriath-iearím, when Dauid had made preparacion for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ieruſalém.

5 Moreouer the [d] braſen altar * that Bezaleél the ſonne of Vrí, the ſonne of Hur had made, did he ſet before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomón and the Cōgregacion ſoght it.

6 And Salomón offred there before ỹ Lord vpon the braſen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregacion: * euen a thouſand burnt offrings offred he vpon it.

7 ¶ The ſame night did God appeare vnto Salomón, and ſaid vnto him, Aſke what I ſhal giue thee.

8 And Salomón ſaid vnto God, Thou haſt ſhewed great mercie vnto Dauid my father and haſt made me to reigne in his ſteade.

9 Now therefore, ô Lord God, let thy promes vnto Dauid my father be [e] true: for thou haſt made me King ouer a great people, like to the duſt of the earth.

10 Giue me now wiſdome and knowledge, ỹ I may [f] go out & go in before this people: for who cā iudge this thy great people?

11 And God ſaid to Salomón, Becauſe this was in thine heart, & thou haſt not aſked riches, treaſures nor honour, nor the [g] liues of thine enemies, nether yet haſt aſked long life, but haſt aſked for thee wiſdome & knowledge that thou mighteſt iudge my people, ouer whome I haue made thee King,

12 Wiſdome & knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil giue thee riches and treaſures and honour, ſo that there hathe not bene the like amōg the Kings ẅ were before thee, nether after thee ſhal there be ỹ like.

13 Then Salomón came from the hie place, that was at Gibeón, to Ieruſalém from before the Tabernacle of the Congregacio, and reigned ouer Iſraél.

14 * And Salomón gathered the charets & horſmen: and he had a thouſand and foure húdreth charets, & twelue thouſand horſmen, whome he placed in the [h] charet cities, and with the King at Ieruſalém.

15 And the King gaue ſiluer and golde at Ieruſalém as [i] ſtones, & gaue cedre trees as the wilde fig trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Alſo Salomón had horſes broght out of Egypt and * fine linen: [k] the Kings marchāts receiued the fine linen for a price.

17 They came vp alſo and broght out of Egypt ſome charet, worthe ſix hundreth ſhekels of ſiluer, that is an horſe for an hundreth and fiftie: & thus they broght horſes to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Arám by their [m] meanes.

CHAP. II.

1 The nomber of Salomons workemen to buylde the Temple. 3 Salomón ſendeth to Hirám the King of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

1 THē Salamón determined to buyld an houſe for the Name of the Lord, & an [n] houſe for his kingdome.

2 And Salomón tolde out ſeuentie thouſand that bare burdens, and foure ſcore thouſand men to hewe ſtones in the mountaine, and thre thouſand and [a] ſix húdreth to ouerſee them.

3 And Salomón ſent to [o] Hurám the King of Tyrus, ſayīg, As thou haſt done to Dauid my father, & * dideſt ſend him cedre trees to buyld hī an houſe to dwel in, ſo do to me.

4 Beholde, I buyld an houſe vnto the Name of ỹ Lord my God, to ſanctifie [p] him,

---

[a] Or, eſtabliſhed, and ſtrong. 1. King 3.1.

[a] That is, he proclaimed a ſolemne ſacrifice, and commāded that all ſhulde be at the ſame.

[b] Read 1. King 3.4

[c] So called, becauſe that God thereby ſhewed certeine ſignes to the congregacion of his preſence.

[d] Which was for the burnt offrings, Exod. 27.1 Exod 38.1.

1. King 8.64.

[e] Performe thy promes made to my father concerning me.

[f] That I may gouerne this people, read 2. Chro 27.1.

[g] That is, to be reuēged on thine enemies.

[h] Which were cities appointed to kepe & mainteine the charets

[i] He cauſed ſo great plentie that it was no more eſtemed then ſtones Iſai. 19.9. Ezek. 27.7.

[k] Read 1. Kig. 10.28.

[m] Hebr hands.

[n] Or, palace.

[a] Which is to be vnderſtand of all ſorte of officers & ouerſeers for els the chief officers were but 3300, as 1 Kīg 5.16.

[o] Or, Hiram. 2. Sam. 5. 11.

[p] him,

him, & to burne ſwete incēſe before him, and for the continual ſhewbread, & for ỹ burnt offrings of the morning & euening, on the Sabbath daies, & in the newe moneths, and in the ſolemne feaſtes of the Lord our God: this is a perpetual thing for Iſraél.

5 And the houſe which I buyld, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is he thē that can be able to buyld him an houſe, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens can not conteine him? who am I then ỹ I ſhulde buyld hī an houſe, but I dost to burne [b] incenſe before him.

7 Send me now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, in ſiluer, and in braſſe, and in yron, and in purple, and [a] crimoſin and blewe ſilke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men ỹ are with me in Iudáh and in Ieruſalém, whome Dauid my father hathe prepared.

8 Send me alſo cedre trees, firre tr.. and [c] Algummím trees from Lebanón: for I knowe that thy ſeruants can ſkill to hewe timbre in Lebanón: and beholde, my ſeruants ſhalbe with thine,

9 That they may prepare me timbre in abundāce: for the houſe which I do buyld, is great and wonderful.

10 And beholde, I wil giue to thy ſeruants the cutters and the hewers of timbre twē tie thouſand [a] meaſures of beaten wheat, and twentie thouſand meaſures of barly, and twentie thouſand baths of wine, and twentie [d] thouſand baths of oyle.

11 Then Huram King of Tyrus anſwered in writing which he ſent to Salomón, Becauſe the Lord hathe loued his people, he hathe made thee King ouer them.

12 Hurám ſaid moreouer, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſraél which made the heauen and the earth, and that hathe giuen vn to Dauid the King a [e] wiſe ſonne, that hathe diſcretion, prudence and vnderſtanding to buylde an houſe for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue ſent a wiſe man, & of vnderſtāding of my father Hurams,

14 *The ſonne of a woman of the [f] daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, & he can ſkill to worke in golde, in ſiluer, in braſſe, in yron, in ſtone, and in timbre, in purple, in blewe ſilke, and in fine linen and in crimoſin, and can graue in all grauen works, and broder in all broydred worke that ſhalbe giuē him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat and the barly, the oyle & the wine, which my lord hathe ſpoken of, let him ſend vnto his ſeruants.

16 And we wil cut wood in Lebanón as muche as thou ſhalt nede, and wil bring it to thee in raftes by the ſea to [a] Iaphó, ſo thou maieſt cary them to Ieruſalém.

17 ¶ And Salomón nōbred all the ſtrangers that were in the land of Iſraél, after the nombring that his father Dauid had nombred them: and they were founde an hundreth and thre and fiftie thouſand, and ſix hundreth.

18 And he ſet ſeuentie thouſand of them to the burden, and foureſcore thouſand to hewe ſtones in the mountaine, & thre thouſand and ſix hundreth ouerſeers to cauſe the people to worke.

CHAP. III.

The Temple of the Lord, and the porche are buylded, with other things thereto belonging.

1 SO *Salomón began to buyld the houſe of the Lord in Ieruſalém, in mount [a] Moriáh which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threſſhing floore of *Ornán the Iebuſite. 1.King.7.1

2 And he began in the ſeconde moneth & the ſeconde day, in the fourt yere of his reigne. 2.Sam.24.16.

3 And theſe are the meaſures, whereon Salomón groūded to buyld the houſe of God: the length of cubites after the firſt [b] meaſure was threſcore cubites, & the breadth twenty cubites:

4 And the porche, ỹ was before the length in the fronte [c] of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an [d] hundreth and twētie, & he ouerlaied it within with pure golde.

5 And the greater houſe he ſyled with firre tree which he ouerlaied with good golde, & graued thereon palmetrees & chaines.

6 And he ouerlaied ỹ houſe with precious ſtone for beautie: and the golde was golde of [e] Paruáim.

7 The houſe, I ſay, the beames, poſtes, and walles thereof and the doores thereof ouerlaied he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made alſo ỹ houſe of the moſte holy place: the length thereof was in the fronte of the breadth of the houſe, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he ouerlaied it with the beſt golde, of ſix hundreth talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie ſhekels of golde, and he ouerlaied the chābers with golde.

10 ¶ And in the houſe of the moſte holy place he made two Cherubims wroght like children, and ouerlaied them with golde.

11 * And the wings of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the houſe, and the other wing fiue cubites, reaching to ỹ wing of the other Cherub. 1 King.6.19.

b That is, to do that ſeruice which he hathe commāded, ſignifying that none is able to honour & ſerue God in that perfectiō as his maieſtie deſerueth

*Or, ſcarlet.

a Some take it for braſil, or the wood called Ebenum, others for coral

*Or, Almuggim

*Ebr. corim.

d Of Bath read 1 King. 7.26 it is called alſo Ephá but Ephá is to meaſure drye things, as bath is a meaſure for liquors.

e The very heathen confeſſed that it was a ſingular gift of God, when he gaue to any nation a King that was wiſe & of vnderſtāding. albeit it appereth that this Hiram had ỹ true knowledge of God

f It is alſo written, that ſhe was of the tribe of Naphtali, 1 Kg. 7.14 which may be vnderſtand that by reaſon of the cōfuſion of tribes, wher they be gon to be, they maried in diuers tribes, ſo that by her father ſhe might be of Dan, and by her mother of Naphtali.

*Or ſhippes.

*Or, Ioppe.

a Which is ỹ mōūtaine where Abrahám thoght to haue ſacrificed his ſonne, Gen 22.2.

b According to the whole length of the Temple, comprehending ỹ moſt holy place wher the reſt.

c It contained as muche as did ỹ breadth of ỹ Temple, 1 King 6.3

d Frō the fundacion to the top for in the boke of Kings mencio is made, from the fundatiō to ỹ firſt ſtage.

e Some thinke it is ỹ place which is called Peru.

12 Likewiſe the wing of the other Cherúb was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the houſe, and the other wing fiue cubites ioyning to the wing of the other Cherúb.

13 The wings of theſe Cherubims were ſpred abroad twentie cubites: they ſtode on their fete and their faces were toward the houſe.

14 ¶He made alſo [f] the vaile of blewe ſilke and purple, and crimoſin, and fine linen, & wroght Cherubims thereon.

15 ¶And he made before the houſe two pillers [g] of fiue and thirtie cubites hie: and the chapiter that was vpon the top of eche of them, was fiue cubites.

16 He made alſo chaines ſo the oracle, and put them on the heades of the pillers, and made an [h] hundreth pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

17 And [i] he ſet vp the pillers before the Tẽple, one on the right hand & the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachín, and that on the left hand Bóaz.

f Which ſeparated the Temple from the moſte holy place.

g Euerie one was eighte cubites long but the halfe cubite colde not be ſene for it was hid in the roundenes of the chapiter & therefore he gineth to euerie one but 17. and an halfe.

h For euerie piller an hundreth, read. 1. King 7,20.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The altar of braſſe 2 The molten Sea 6 The caldrons. 7 The candleſtickes, &c.

1 AND [*] he made an altar of braſſe twẽtie cubites long, and twentie cubites broade, and ten cubites hie.

Exo. 6, 8.

2 And he made a molten [a] Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, rounde in cõpaſſe, and fiue cubites hie: and a line of thirtie cubites did compaſſe it about.

3 And vnder [b] it was the facion of oxen which did compaſſe it round about, [c] ten in a cubite compaſsing the Sea about. two rowes of oxen were caſt when it was molten.

4 It ſtode vpon twelue oxen: thre loked toward the North, and thre loked toward the Weſt, & thre lokd toward the South, and thre loked toward the Eaſt, and the Sea ſtode about vpon them, and all their hinder partes were inwarde.

5 And the thickenes thereof was an hand breadth, and the brimmer of was like the worke of the brim of a cup, with floures of [e] lilies: it conteined [d] thre thouſand baths.

6 ¶He made alſo ten caldrons, and put fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left, to waſh in them & to cleanſe in them that which apperteined to the burnt offrings: but the Sea was for the Prieſtes to waſh in.

7 ¶And he made ten candleſtickes of golde (according to [e] their forme) and put them in the Tẽple, fiue on the right hãd, and fiue on the left.

8 ¶And he made ten tables, & put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, & fiue on the left: and he made an hundreth baſens of golde.

a A great veſſel of braſſe, ſo called becauſe of the great quantitie of water, ẅ it conteined, 1 King 7,23

b Meaning, vnder the brim of the veſſel, as 1, Kĩg, 7, 24.

c In the length of euery cubite were tẽ heades or knoppes which in all are 300.

d Or ſtare delyuered In the firſt booke of Kings, chap 7, 26 mẽcion is onely made of two thouſand but the leſſe nõber was také there, & here according as the meaſures proued afterward as declared e Euen as they ſhulde be made.

9 And he made the court of the Prieſtes, & the great [f] court and dores for the court, and ouerlayed the dores thereof with braſſe.

f Called alſo the porche of Salomón Act 3,11 It is alſo taken for the Temple wh re Chriſt preached, Mat 21, 23

10 And he ſet ỹ Sea on the right ſide Eaſtward toward the South.

11 And Hurám made [g] pottes and beſomes and baſens, and Hurám finiſhed the worke that he ſhulde make for Kĩg Salomón for the houſe of God, g Or, caldrons.

12 To wit, two pillers, & the bowles & ỹ chapiters on the toppe of the two pillers, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapiters which were vpon the toppe of the pillers:

13 And foure hundreth pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euerie grate to couer the two bowles of the chapiters, that were vpon the pillers.

14 He made alſo baſes, and made caldrons vpon the baſes:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

16 Pottes alſo and beſomes, and fleſhokes, and all theſe veſſels made Hurám [g] his father, to King Salomón for the houſe of the Lord of ſhining braſſe.

g Whome Salomón reuereenced for ỹ gifts that God had gyuẽ hi, as a father he had ỹ ſame name alſo that Hurám the Kĩg of Tyrus had, his mother was a Iewiſh & his father a Syriã. Some read, for his father, the autor of this worke

17 In the plaine of Iordén did the King caſt them in claye betwene Succóth and Zeredáthah.

18 And Salomón made all theſe veſſels in great abundance: for the weight of braſſe colde not be tekened.

19 And Salomón made all the veſſels that were for the houſe of God: the golden altar alſo & the tables, whereon the [h] ſhewbread ſtode.

h In Ebrewe, the bread of ỹ faces, becauſe they were ſet before ỹ Arke, where ỹ Lord ſhewed his preſence.

20 Moreouer the candleſtickes, with their lampes to burne them after the maner before the oracle, of pure golde.

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the ſnoffers of golde, which was fine golde.

22 And the [*] hookes, and the baſens, and the ſpones, and the aſhpans of pure golde: the entrie alſo of ỹ houſe & dores thereof within, euen of the moſte holy place: and the dores of the houſe, to wit, of the Temple were of golde.

Or, inſtrumẽts of Muſike.

i That is, coue red ẅ plates of golde.

CHAP. V.

1 The things dedicated by Dauid, are put in the Temple. 2 The Arke is broght into the Temple. 10 What was within it. 12 They ſing praiſe to the Lord.

1 SO [*] was all the worke finiſhed that Salomón made for the houſe of ỹ Lord, and Salomón broght in the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the ſiluer and the golde, and all the veſſels, & put them among the treaſures of the houſe of God.

1. King. 7, 51. & 8, 1.

2 Then Salomón aſſembled the Elders of Iſraél, and all the heades of the tribes, the chief fathers of the children of Iſraél vnto Ieruſalém to bring vp the Arke of the couecouenant of the Lord from the [a] citie of Dauid, which is Zión.

[a] Read 2 Sam 6,12

3 And all the mē of Iſraél aſſembled vnto the King at the [b] feaſt: it was in the ſeuent [c] moneth.

[b] When the things were dedicate and broght into the Temple

[c] Called in Ebrew Ethanī, cōteining part of September and parte of October, 1 King 8,2. & moneth the Iewes called ỹ firſt moneth, becauſe, they ſay, that the worlde was created in ỹ moneth, & after they came frō Egypt thei began at Marche but becauſe this opinió is vncerteine, we make Marche euer the firſt, as beſt writers do

4 And all the Elders of Iſraél came, & the Leuites toke vp the Arke.

5 And thei caryed vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregacion, and all the holy veſſels that were in the Tabernacle, thoſe did the Prieſts & Leuites bring vp.

6 And King Salomón and all the Congregacion of Iſraél that were aſſembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offring ſhepe & bullockes, which colde not be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

7 So the Prieſts broght the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the houſe, into the moſte Holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims ſtretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

9 And they drewe out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be ſene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not ſene [e] without: and there they are vnto this day.

[e] Or, without the Oracle

10 Nothing was in the Arke, ſaue [d] the two Tables, which Moſés gaue at Horéb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Iſraél, when they came out of Egypt.

[d] For Aarons rod and Mána were taken thence before it was broght to this place.

11 And when the Prieſts were come out of the Sanctuarie (for all the Prieſts that were preſent, were [e] ſanctified and did not waite by courſe.

[e] Were prepared to ſerue the Lord.

12 And the Leuites the ſingers of all ſortes, as of Aſáph, of Heman, of Ieduthún & of their ſonnes and of their brethren, being cladde in fine linen, ſtode with cymbales, & with violes and harpes at the Eaſt end of the altar, and with them an hundreth & twentie Prieſts blowing with trumpets:

[f] They agreed all in one tune

13 And thei were [f] as one, blowing trumpets, and ſinging, and made one ſounde to be heard in praiſing and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets and with cymbales, and with inſtruments of muſike, and when they praiſed the Lord, ſinging, [g] For he is good, becauſe his mercie laſteth for euer) then the houſe, euen the houſe of the Lord was filled with a cloude,

[g] This was ỹ effect of their ſongs.

14 So that the Prieſts colde not ſtand to miniſtre, becauſe of the cloude: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the houſe of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomón bleſſeth the people 4 He praiſeth the Lord. 14 He praieth vnto God for thoſe that ſhal pray in the Temple.

1 THē Salomón [a] ſaid, The Lord hathe ſaid that he wolde dwel in the darke cloude:

1.King.8,12.

[a] After ỹ he had ſene the glorie of the Lord in the cloude.

2 And I haue buylt thee an houſe to dwel in, an habitacion for thee to dwel in for euer.

3 And the King turned his face, & bleſſed all the Congregacion of Iſraél (for all the Congregacion of Iſraél ſtode there)

4 And he ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſraél, who ſpake with his mouthe vnto Dauid my father, & hathe with his [a] hand fulfilled it, ſaying,

[a] Or, power.

5 Since the day that I broght my people out of the land of Egypt, I choſe no citie of all the tribes of Iſraél to buylde an [a] houſe, that my Name might be there, neither choſe I anie man to be a ruler ouer my people Iſraél:

[a] Or, Temple.

6 But I haue choſen Ieruſalém, that my Name might be there, and haue choſen Dauid to be ouer my people Iſraél.

7 * And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to buylde an houſe vnto the Name of the Lord God of Iſraél,

2.Sam 7,5.

8 But the Lord ſaid to Dauid my father, Where as it was in thine heart to buylde an houſe vnto my Name, thou dideſt wel, that [a] thou waſt ſo minded.

[a] Ebr. that it was to thine heart.

9 Notwithſtanding thou ſhalt not buylde the houſe, but thy ſonne which ſhal come out of thy loynes, he ſhal buylde an houſe vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hathe performed his worde that he ſpake: and I am riſen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am ſet on the throne of Iſraél as the Lord promiſed, and haue buylt an houſe to the Name of the Lord God of Iſraél.

11 And I haue ſet the Arke there, wherein is the [b] couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Iſraél.

[b] Meaning, ỹ two Tables, wherein is cōteined the effect of the couenant, that God made w our fathers

12 ¶ And ỹ King [c] ſtode before the altar of the Lord, in the preſence of all the Congregacion of Iſraél, and ſtretched out his hands,

[c] On a ſkaffolde that was made for that purpoſe, that he praying for the whole people might be heard of all.

13 (For Salomón had made a braſen ſkaffolde & ſet it in the middes of the courte of fiue cubites long, & fiue cubites broade, and thre cubites of heighe, and vpon it he ſtode, and kneled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregacion of Iſraél, & [d] ſtretched out his hands towarde heauen)

[d] Bothe to giue thākes for the great benefites of God b ſtowed vpō him, and alſo to pray for ỹ perſeuerance & proſperitie of his people.

14 And ſaid, O Lord God of Iſraél, * there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which kepeſt couenant, and mercie vnto thy ſeruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

5.Mac 2,8.

15 Thou that haſt kept with thy ſeruant Dauid my father, that thou haſt promiſed him: for thou ſpakeſt with thy mouthe, & haſt fulfilled it with thine [a] hād, as appeareth this day.

[a] Or, in effect, or by thy power.

16 Therefore now Lord God of Iſraél, kepe with thy ſeruant Dauid my father, that thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying, Thou "ſhalt not wãt a man in my ſight, that ſhal ſit vpon the throne of Iſraél: ſo that thy ſonnes take hede to their waies, to walke in my Lawe, as ỹ haſt walked before me.

"Ebr a man ſhal not be cut of.

17 And now, ô Lord God of Iſraél, let thy worde be verified, which thou ſpakeſt vnto thy ſeruant Dauid.

18 (Is it true in dede that God wil dwel with man on earth? beholde, the * heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to conteine thee: how muche more vnable is this houſe, which I haue buylt?)

1.King.8.27.

19 But haue thou reſpect to the prayer of thy ſeruant, & to his ſupplicacion, ô Lord my God, to heare the crye & prayer which thy ſeruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine e eyes may be open toward this houſe day and night, euen toward the place, whereof thou haſt ſaid, That thou woldeſt put thy Name there, that thou maieſt hearken vnto the prayer, which thy ſeruant prayeth in this place.

e That thou maieſt declare in effect, that thou haſt a continual care ouer this place.

21 Heare thou therefore the ſupplicacion of thy ſeruant, and of thy people Iſraél, which they praye in this place: and heare thou in the place of thine habitacion, euen in heauen, and when thou heareſt, be merciful.

1.King.8.31.

22 ¶ * When a man ſhal ſinne againſt his f neighbour, and he lay vpon him an othe to cauſe him to ſweare, and the "ſweater ſhal come before thine altar in this houſe, f By receiuing any thing frõ him, or els by deuyig that ỹ he hathe left him to kepe, or do him any wrong

"Ebr whe.

23 Then heare thou in heauen, and do, and iudge thy ſeruants, in recompenſing the wicked to bring his way g vpon his head, and in iuſtifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteouſnes.

g Meaning, to giue him that which he hath deſerued.

24 ¶ And when thy people Iſraél ſhalbe ouerthrowen before the enemie, becauſe they haue ſinned againſt thee, and turne againe, and "confeſſe thy Name, and pray, and make ſupplicacion before thee in this houſe,

"Or, praiſe.

25 Then heare thou in heauen, and be merciful vnto the ſinne of thy people Iſraél, and bring thẽ againe vnto the land which thou gaueſt to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen ſhalbe ſhut vp, and there ſhalbe no raine, becauſe they haue ſinned againſt thee, and ſhal pray in this place, & confeſſe thy Name, and "turne from their ſinne, when thou doeſt afflict them,

"Or, toward this place.

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and pardone the ſinne of thy ſeruants, and of thy people Iſraél (whẽ thou haſt taught them the good way wherein they may walke) & giue raine vpon thy land, which thou haſt giuẽ vnto thy people for an inheritance.

Chap.20.9.

28 ¶ * When there ſhalbe famine in the lãd, when there ſhalbe peſtilence, blaſting, or mildewe, when there ſhalbe greſhopper, or caterpiller, when their enemie ſhal beſiege them "in the cities of their land, or any plague or any ſickne,

"Ebr in the land of their gates.

29 Then what prayers and ſupplicacion ſoeuer ſhal be made of any man, or of all thy people Iſraél, when euerie one ſhal knowe his owne plague, and his owne diſeaſe, and ſhal ſtretche forthe his hands toward this houſe,

30 Heare thou then in heauen, thy dwelling place, and be merciful, and giue euerie mã according vnto all his wayes, as thou doeſt knowe his h heart (for ỹ onely knoweſt the hearts of the children of men)

h He declareth that the prayers of hypocrites can not be heard, nor of any but of thẽ, which pray vnto God with an vnfained faith and in true repentance.

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gaueſt vnto our fathers.

32 ¶ Moreouer as touching the ſtranger which is not of thy people Iſraél, who ſhal come out of a faire coũtrey for thy great Names ſake, & thy mightie hand, and thy ſtretched out arme: when they ſhal come and i pray in this houſe, i He ſheweth ỹ before God there is no acceptiõ of perſone, but all people ỹ feareth him and worketh righteouſnes is acceptedyAct. 10.35.

33 Heare thou in heauẽ thy dwelling place, and do according to all that the ſtranger calleth for vnto thee, that all the people of the earth may knowe thy Name, and feare thee like thy people Iſraél, and that they may knowe, that thy Name is called vpon in this houſe which I haue buylt.

34 ¶ When thy people ſhal go out to battel againſt their enemies, by the way that k thou ſhalt ſend them, and they praye to thee, "in the way toward this citie, which thou haſt choſen, euen toward the houſe which I haue buylt to thy Name, k Meaning that no ſe ought to enterpriſe any warre, but it ỹ Lords cõmandement, that is, ỹ is lawful by his worde

"Or, according to the maner of the citie.

35 Then heare thou in heauen their prayer and their ſupplicacion, and iudge their cauſe.

36 If they ſinne againſt thee (* for there is no man that ſinneth not) and thou be angrie with them and deliuer them vnto the enemies, and they take them & cary them away captiue vnto a land farre or nere,

1 King 8.46. eccleſ 7.21. 1.ohn. 1.8.

37 If they "turne againe to their heart in the land whether they be caryed in captiues, and turne & pray vnto thee in the lãd of their captiuitie, ſayīg, We haue ſinned, we haue tranſgreſſed and haue done wickedly, "Or, repent.

38 If they turne againe to thee with all their heart, and with all their ſoule in the land of their captiuitie, whether they haue caryed them captiues, & pray toward their lãd, which thou gaueſt vnto their fathers, and toward the citie which thou haſt choſen, and toward the houſe which I haue buylt for thy Name, 39 Then heare ỹ in heauen, in the place of thine habitacion their prayer & their ſupplicacion, & "iudge their cauſe, & be merciful vnto thy people, which haue ſinned againſt thee.

"Or, wil iuſtifie their cauſe.

40 Now

40 Now my God,I beſeche thee, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

Pſal.132.8. 41 *Now therefore ariſe,ô Lord God,to come into thy [l] reſt,thou, and the Arke of thy ſtrength: ô Lord God, let thy Prieſts be clothed with [m] ſaluacion, and let thy Sainctes reioyce in goodnes.

42 O Lord God,reiect not the face of [n] thine anoynted: remember the mercies promiſed to Dauid thy ſeruant.

[l] That is, into thy Temple

[m] Let them be preſerued by thy power and made vertuous and holy in Heare my prayer, which am thine anoynted King

CHAP. VII.

The fyre conſumeth the ſacrifice 2 The glorie of the Lord filleth the Temple 12 He heareth his prayer, 17 And promiſeth to exalt him and his throne.

2.Mac.2.10. 1 AND *when Salomón had made an end of praying, [a] fyre came downe from heauen,and conſumed the burnt offring & the ſacrifices. and the glorie of the Lord filled the houſe,

2 So that the Prieſts colde not enter into the houſe of the Lord,becauſe the glorie of the Lord had filled the Lords houſe.

3 And when all the children of Iſraél ſaw the fyre,and the glorie of the Lord come downe vpon the houſe, they bowed them ſelues with their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and worſhiped and praiſed the Lord, ſaying, For he is good, becauſe his mercie liſteth for euer.

1.King.8.65. 4 *Then the King and all the people offred ſacrifices before the Lord.

5 And King Salomón offred a ſacrifice of two and twentie thouſand bullockes, and an hundreth and twentie thouſand ſhepe. ſo the King and all the people dedicated the houſe of God.

6 And the Prieſts waited on their offices,& the Leuites with the inſtruments of muſike of the Lord, which King Dauid had made to praiſe ŷ Lord,Becauſe his mercy laſteth for euer: when Dauid praiſed God [n] *by them,the Prieſts alſo blewe trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Iſraél ſtode by.

7 Moreouer Salomón halowed the middle of the court that was before the houſe of the Lord:for there he had prepared burnt offrings, and the fat of the peace offrings, becauſe the braſen altar which Salomón had made, was not able to receiue ŷ burnt offring,and the meat offring,and the fat.

8 And Salomón made [b] a feaſt at that time of ſeuen dayes, & all Iſraél with him, a very great Congregacion, from the entring in of Hamáth, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they [c] made a ſolémne aſſemblie. for they had made the dedicacion of the altar ſeuen dayes, and the feaſt ſeuen dayes.

10 And the [d] thre and twentieth day of the ſeuent moneth, he ſent the people away into their tents, ioyous & with glad heart, becauſe of the goodnes that the Lord had done for Dauid and for Salomón,and for Iſraél his people.

11 *So Salomón finiſhed the houſe of the Lord,and the Kings houſe,and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the houſe of the Lord.and he proſpered in his houſe. 1.King.9.1.

12 ¶ And the Lord *appeared to Salomón by night and ſaid to him, I haue heard thy prayer,and haue choſen this place for my ſelfe to be an houſe of ſacrifice. Num.12.6.

13 If I ſhut the heauen that there be no raine,or if I commande the graſhopper to deuore the land, or if I ſend peſtilence among my people, 14 If my people, among whome my Name is called vpon,do humble them ſelues, & praye,and ſeke my preſence,and turne frō their wicked wayes, then wil I heare in heauen,and be merciful to their ſinne,and wil [e] heale their land.

15 Then mine eyes ſhalbe open and mine eares attent vnto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I haue now choſen and ſanctified this houſe, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart ſhalbe there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me,as Dauid thy father walked, to do according vnto all that I haue commanded thee,and ſhalt obſerue my ſtatuts & my iudgemēts, 18 Then wil I ſtabliſh the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenāt with Dauid thy father,ſaying,*Thou ſhalt not want a man to be ruler in Iſraél. Chap.6.16.

19 But if ye turne away, and forſake my ſtatutes and my commandemēts which I haue ſet before you, and ſhal go and ſerue other gods,and worſhip them,

20 Then wil I plucke them vp out of my land, which I haue giuen them, and this houſe which I haue [f] ſanctified for my Name,wil I caſt out of my ſight, and wil make it to be a prouerbe and a commune talke among all people.

21 And this houſe which is moſte hie,ſhalbe an aſtoniſhment to euerie one ŷ paſſeth by it,ſo that he ſhal ſay,Why hathe the Lord done thus to this land,and to this houſe?

22 And they ſhal anſwer, Becauſe they forſoke the Lord God of their fathers,which broght them out of the land of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worſhiped them, and ſerued them, therefore hathe he broght all this euil vpon them.

[a] Hereby God declared that he was pleſed with Salomons prayer.

[b] The feaſt of the Tabernacles which was kept in the ſeuent moneth

[c] They aſſembled to heare the worde of God after that they had remained ſeuen dayes in the booths or Tabernacles

[d] They had leaue to departe ŷ two & twētieth day, 2 King 8. 66, but they went not away til the next day.

[e] I wil cauſe ŷ peſtilence to ceaſe & deſtroy the beaſts that hurt the fruites of the earth, and ſend raine in due ſeaſon.

[f] Which thig declareth that God had more reſpect to their ſaluatiō, then to the aduancement of his owne glorie. & where as men abuſe thoſe things, which God rathe appointed to ſet forthe his prayſe, he doeth withdrawe his graces thence

CHAP. VIII.

2 The cities that Salomón buylt. 7 People that were made tributarie vnto him. 12 His ſacrifices 17 He ſendeth to Ophir.

AND* after a twentie yere when Salomón had buylt the houſe of the Lord, and his owne houſe,

2 Then Salomón buylt the cities that Hurám b gaue to Salomón, and cauſed the children of Iſraél to dwel there.

3 And Salomón went to Hamáth Zobáh, and ouercame it.

4 And he buylt Tadmór in the wildernes, & repaired all c the cities of ſtore which he buylt in Hamáth.

5 And he buylt d Beth-horón the vpper, & Beth-horón ỹ nether, cities defenſed with walles, gates and barres:

6 Alſo Baaláth, and all the cities of ſtore that Salomón had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horſemen, and euerie pleaſant place that Salomón had a minde to buylde in Ieruſalém, & in e Lebanón, and throughout all the land of his dominion,

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the Amorites, and Perizites, and the Hiuuites, and the Iebuſites, which were not of Iſraél,

8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whome the children of Iſraél had not conſumed, euen thē did Salomón make "tributaries vntil this day.

9 But of the childrē of Iſraél did Salomón make no ſeruants for his worke: for they were mē of warre, and his chief princes, & the captaines of his charets & of his horſemen.

10 So theſe were the chief of the officers which Salomón had, euen f two hundreth and fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

11 ¶Thē Salomón broght vp the daughter of Pharaóh out of the citie of Dauid, into the houſe that he had buylt for her: for he ſaid, My wife ſhal not dwel in the houſe of Dauid King of Iſraél: for it is holy, becauſe that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 ¶Then Salomón offred burnt offrings vnto the Lord, on the * altar of the Lord, which he had buylt before the porche, 13 To * offer according to the commandement of Moſés "euerie day, in the Sabbaths, and in the newe moones, and in the ſolemne feaſtes, g thre times in the yere, that is, in the feaſt of ỹ Vnleauened bread, and in the feaſt of the Wekes, and in the feaſt of the Tabernacles.

14 And he ſet the courſes of the Prieſts to their offices, according to ỹ ordre of Dauid his father, & the Leuites in their watches, for to praiſe and miniſter before the Prieſts euerie day, & the porters by * their courſes, at euerie gate: for ſo was the commandement of Dauid the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandement of the King, concerning the Prieſts & the Leuites, touching all things, and touching the treaſures.

16 ¶Now Salomón had made prouiſiō for all the h worke, from the day of the fundacion of the houſe of the Lord, vntil it was finiſhed: ſo the houſe of the Lord was perfite.

17 Then went Salomón to Ezion-géber, & to Elóth by ỹ i ſeaſide in ỹ land of Edóm.

18 And Hurám ſent him by the hands of his ſeruants, ſhippes, and ſeruants that had knowledge of the ſea: and they went with ỹ ſeruāts of Salomón to Ophír, & broght thence k four hundreth and fiftie talents of golde, and broght them to King Salomón.

CHAP. IX.

1.9 The Quene of Shebá cometh to ſe Salomón & bringeth giftes. 13 His yerely reuenues. 30 The time of his reigne. 31 His death.

AND* when the Quene of Shebá heard of the fame of Salomón, ſhe came to a proue Salomón with harde queſtions at Ieruſalém, with a verie great traine, and camels that bare ſwete odours and muche golde, and precious ſtones: and when ſhe came to Salomón, ſhe cōmuned with him of all that was in her heart.

2 And Salomón declared her all her queſtions, and there was b nothing hid from Salomón, which he declared not vnto her.

3 Then the Quene of Shebá ſawe the wiſdome of Salomón, and the houſe that he had buylt,

4 And the meat of his table, and the ſitting of his ſeruants, and the ordre of his wayters, and their apparel, and his butlers, and their apparel, and his "burnt offrings, which he offred in the houſe of the Lord, and ſhe was "greatly aſtonied.

5 And ſhe ſaid to the King, It was a true worde which I heard in mine owne land of thy "ſayings, and of thy wiſdome:

6 Howbeit I beleued not their reporte, vntil I came, and mine eyes had ſene it: and beholde, the one halfe of thy great wiſdome was not tolde me: for thou excedeſt the fame that I heard.

7 Happie are thy men, and happie are theſe thy ſeruants, which ſtande before thee all way, and heare thy wiſdome.

8 Bleſſed be ỹ Lord thy God, which loued thee, to ſet thee on his c throne as King, in the ſtead of the Lord thy God: becauſe thy God loueth Iſraél, to eſtabliſh it for euer, therefore hathe he made thee King ouer them, to execute iudgemēt & iuſtice.

9 Then ſhe gaue the King ſix ſcore talents of golde, and of ſwete odours exceding muche and precious ſtones: nether was there ſuche ſwete odours ſince, as the Quene of Shebá gaue vnto King Salomón.

10 And the ſeruants alſo of Hurám, and the ſeruants of Salomón which broght golde from

---

1 King 9,10. a Signifying ỹ he was twētie yere in buylding them.

b That is, ỹ Hirám gaue againe to Salomón becauſe they pleaſed him not: and therefore called them Cabūl, ỹ is, durt or filth, 1 King 9,13 c Meaning, of munitions and treaſures for the warre.

d That is, he repaired and fortified them: for they were buylt long before by Seerāh a noble woman of the tribe of Ephráim, 1. Chro 6,24.

e Read 1. King 7,2.

"Or, to come vp to tribute.

f For in all there were 3300, but here he meaneth of them that had the principal charge, read 1 King 9,23.

Chap.4,1.

Exod.29,39.

"Or, after the maner of euerie day.

g Read Leuit. 23.

1.Chro.24,1.

h Bothe for the matter & alſo ỹ workemanſhip.

i Meaning, the red Sea.

k Which ſumme is thoght to mount to thre millions & ſix hundreth thouſand crownes. For here is mencīō made of thirtie mo, then are ſpoken of 1. King 9,28.

1 King.10,1. mat.12,14. luk.11,31.

a To knowe whether his wiſdome were ſo great as the reporte was.

b There was no queſtion ſo hard that he did not ſolue.

"Or, galleries whereby he went vp

"Ebr there was an more ſpirit in her.

"Or, actes.

c Meaning, that the Iſraelites were Gods peculiar people, & that Kings are the lieutenants of God, which ought to grante vnto him the ſuperiorītie, and miniſter iuſtice to ỹ.

d Read Chap. 2,8

from Ophír, broght d Algumím wood & precious ſtones.

e Or, pillers. meaning, the garniſhing & trimming of ỹ ſtayres or pillers.

11 And the King made of the Algumím wood e ſtaires in the houſe of the Lord, & in the Kings houſe, and harpes and violes for ſingers: and there was no ſuche ſene before in the land of Iudáh.

f That is, ẅ the King gaue her for recompenſe of that treaſure which ſhe broght.

12 And King Salomón gaue to the Quene of Shebá euerie pleaſant thing that ſhe aſked, f beſides for that which ſhe had broght vnto the King: ſo ſhe returned and went to her owne countrey, bothe ſhe, and her ſeruants.

13 ¶ Alſo the weight of golde that came to Salomón in one yere, was ſix húdreth thre ſcore and ſix talents of golde, 14 Beſides that which chapmen and marchants broght: and all the Kings of Arabia, & the princes of the countrey broght golde and ſiluer to Salomón.

g Which ſumme mounteth to 2400 crownes of the ſunne, Budeus de aſſe

15 And King Salomón made two hundreth targats of beaten golde, & g ſix hundreth ſhekels of beaten golde went to one targat, h Or, pounde, called mine, whereof euerie one ſemed to make an hundreth ſhekels.

16 And thre hundreth ſhields of beaten golde: thre húdreth h ſhekels of golde went to one ſhield, and the King put them in the houſe of the wood of Lebanón.

17 And the King made a great throne of yuorie and ouerlaied it with pure golde.

i That is, the ſteppes & the foteſtole were faſtened to the throne.

18 And the throne had ſix ſteppes, with a foteſtole of golde i faſtened to the throne, and ſtayes on ether ſide on the place of the ſeate, and two lions ſtanding by the k Vpon the pommels or knoppes.

k ſtayes.

19 And twelue lions ſtode there on the ſix ſteppes on ether ſide: there was not the like made in anie kingdome.

20 And all King Salomós drinking veſſels were of golde, and all the veſſels of the houſe of the wood of Lebanón were of pure golde: for ſiluer was nothing eſtemed in the dayes of Salomón.

21 For the Kings ſhippes went to Tarſhíſh with the ſeruants of Hurám, euerie thre yerè once came the ſhippes of l Tarſhíſh, and broght golde, and ſiluer, yuorie, and apes, and pecockes.

l Which coũtrey of ỹ beſt writers is thoght to be Cilicia, read 1 King. 10, 22.

22 So King Salomón excelled all ỹ Kings of the earth in riches and wiſdome.

23 And all the Kings of the earth ſoght the preſence of Salomón, to heare his wiſdome that God had put in his heart.

24 And they broght euerie man his preſent, veſſels of ſiluer, and veſſels of golde, and raiment, armour, & ſwete odours, horſes, and mules, from yere to yere.

m That is, ten horſes in euerie ſtable, which in all mount to fourtie thouſand, as 1 King 4, 26

25 And Salomón had m foure thouſand ſtalles of horſes, and charets, and twelue thouſand horſemen, whóme he beſtowed in the charet cities, and with the King at Ieruſalém.

26 And he reigned ouer all the Kings from the n Riuer euen vnto the land of the Philiſtims, and to the border of Egypt.

n Or, Euphrates.

27 And the King gaue ſiluer in Ieruſalém, o as ſtones, & gaue cedre trees as the wilde fig trees, that are abundant in the plaine.

o The abũdãce of theſe tẽporal treaſures in Salomõs kingdome is a figure of the ſpiritual treaſures, which ỹ elect ſhal enioy in ỹ heauens vnder the true Salomón Chriſt

28 And they broght vnto Salomón horſes out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 Cõcerning the reſt of the actes of Salomón firſt & laſt, are they not writen in the boke of Nathán the Prophet, and in the prophecie of Ahiáh the Shilonite, and in the viſions of p Iedó the Seer q againſt Ieroboám the ſonne of Nebát?

p Or, Iddi
q That is, ẅ prophecied againſt him.

30 And Salomón reigned in Ieruſalém ouer all Iſraél fourty yeres.

31 And Salomón * ſlept with his fathers, & they buryed him in the citie of Dauid his father: and Rehoboám his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

* 1 King 11, 42

CHAP. X.

4. 14 The rigour of Rehoboám. 13 He followeth lewde counſel. 16 The people rebelle.

1 THen * Rehoboám r wẽt to Shechém: for to Shechém came all Iſraél to make him King.

* 1. King 12. 1.
r After the death of Salomón.

2 And when Ieroboám the ſonne of Nebát heard it, (which was in Egypt, whether he had fled frõ the preſence of Salomón the King) he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they ſent and called him: ſo came Ieroboám and all Iſraél, and cõmuned with Rehoboám, ſaying, s That is, hãdeled vs rudely. It ſemeth that God hardened their heartes, ſo that they thus murmured without cauſe: which declareth alſo the incõſtãcie of the people.

4 Thy father s made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make ỹ grieuous ſeruitude of thy father, and his ſore yoke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we wil ſerue thee.

5 And he ſaid to thẽ, Departe yet thre dayes, thẽ come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And King Rehoboám toke counſel with the olde men that had ſtand before Salomón his father, while he yet liued, ſaying, What counſel giue ye that I may anſwer this people?

7 And they ſpake vnto him, ſaying, If thou be kinde to this people, and pleaſe them, and ſpeake louing wordes to them, they wil be thy ſeruants for euer.

8 But he left the coũſel of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and toke counſel of the yong mẽ that were broght vp with him, and t waited on him.

t Or, that rode by him, that is, which were of his counſel and ſecretes.

9 And he ſaid vnto them, What counſel giue ye, that we may anſwer this people, ẅ haue ſpoken to me, ſaying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were broght vp with him, ſpake vnto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou anſwer the people that ſpake to thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heauy, but make thou it lighter for vs;

d Or, little finger: meaning ỹ he was of farre greater power the was his father.

thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto them, My d leaſt parte ſhal be bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Now where as my father did burdē you wt a grieuous yoke, I wil yet increaſe your yoke: my father hathe chaſtiſed you with roddes, but I wil correct you with e ſcourges.

e Or, ſcorpions

12 ¶ Then Ieroboám and all the people came to Rehoboám the third day, as the King had appointed, ſaying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the King anſwered them ſharpely: and King Rehoboám left the counſel of the ancient men,

14 And ſpake to them after the counſel of the yong men, ſaying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I wil increaſe it: my father chaſtiſed you with roddes, but I wil correct you with ſcourges.

15 So the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the f ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his ſaying, which he had ſpoken "by Ahiiáh the Shilonite to Ieroboám the ſonne of Nebát.

f Gods will impoſeth ſuche a neceſſitie to ỹ ſecond cauſes, that nothing cā be done but according to the ſame, and yet mans wil worketh as of it ſelfe, ſo that it can not be excuſed to doing euil, by alledging that it is Gods ordinance.

" Ebr. by the hād of.

16 So when all Iſraél ſawe that the King wolde not heare them, the people anſwered the King, ſaying, *What portion haue we in Dauid: for we haue none inheritance in the ſonne of Iſhái: O Iſraél, euerie man to your tents: now ſe to thine owne houſe, Dauid. So all Iſraél departed to their tents.

1.Kin.12, 16.

17 Howbeit Rehoboám reigned ouer the children of Iſraél, that dwelt in the cities of Iudáh.

18 Then King Rehoboám ſent Hadorám that was g ouer the tribute, & the children of Iſraél ſtoned him with ſtones, that he dyed: then King Rehoboám " made ſpede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Ieruſalém.

g Or, receyuer.

" Ebr. ſtrēgthened him ſelfe.

19 And Iſraél rebelled againſt the houſe of Dauid vnto this day.

CHAP. XI.

4 Rehoboám is forbidden to fight againſt Ieroboám. 5 Cities which he buylt. 21 He hath eightene wiues, & threſcore concubines, and by them eight and twentie ſonnes, and threſcore daughters

1.Kin.12, 20. 1 AND * when Rehoboám was come to Ieruſalém, he gathered of the houſe of Iudáh and a Beniamín nine ſcore thouſand choſen men of warre to fight againſt b Iſraél, & to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboám.

a That is, the halfe tribe of Beniamin, for the other halfe was gone after Ieroboam.

b Meaning the ten tribes ỹ rebelled.

2 But the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiáh the man of God, ſaying,

3 Speake vnto Rehoboám, the ſonne of Salomón King of Iudáh, and to all Iſraél that are in Iudáh, and Beniamín, ſaying,

4 Thus ſayth the Lord, Ye ſhal not go vp, nor fight againſt your brethren: returne euerie man to his houſe for this thing is done of me. They obeied therefore the worde of the Lord, and returned from going againſt Ieroboám.

5 And Rehoboám dwelt in Ieruſalém, and c buylt ſtrong cities in Iudáh.

c Or, repaired them & made them ſtrong, to be more able to reſiſt Ieroboám.

6 He buylt alſo Beth-léhem, and Etám, and Tekóa,

7 And Beth-zúr, and Shocó, & Adullám,

8 And Gath, and Mareſhá, and Ziph,

9 And Adoráim, and Lachiſh, and Azekáh,

10 And Zoráh, & Aialón & Hebrón, which were in Iudáh & Beniamín, ſtrōg cities.

11 And he d repaired the ſtrong holdes and put captaines in them, and ſtore of vitaile, and oyle and wine.

d Or, ſtrēgthened.

12 And in all cities he put ſhields & ſpeares, & made them exceding ſtrong: ſo Iudáh and Beniamín were his.

13 ¶ And the Prieſts and the Leuites that were in all Iſraél, "reſorted vnto him out of all their coaſtes.

" Ebr. ſtode.

14 For the Leuites left their ſuburbes and their poſſeſſion, and came to Iudáh and to Ieruſalém: * for Ieroboám and his ſonnes had caſt them out from miniſtring in the Prieſts office vnto the Lord.

Chap. 13, 9.

15 * And he ordeined him Prieſts for the hie places, and for the e deuils and for the calues which he had made.

1.Kin. 12, 31.

e Meaning, idoles, read Iſa. 34, 15

16 And after ỹ Leuites there came to Ieruſalém: of all ỹ tribes of Iſraél, ſuche as ſet their hearts to ſeke ỹ Lord God of Iſraél, to offer vnto ỹ Lord God of their fathers.

f Which were zealous of true religion, & feared God.

17 So they ſtrengthened the kingdome of Iudáh, and made Rehoboám the ſonne of Salomón mightie, three yere long: for three yere they f walked in the way of Dauid & Salomón.

f So long as they feared God, and ſet forth his worde, they proſpered.

18 ¶ And Rehoboám toke him Mahaláth the daughter of Ierimóth the ſonne of Dauid to wife, & Abiháil the daughter of Eliáb the ſonne of Iſhái, 19 Which bare him ſonnes Ieúſh, and Shemariáh, and Záham.

20 And after her he toke Maakáh ỹ daughter of Abſalóm which bare him Abiiáh, and Atthái, and Zizá, and Shelomith.

21 And Rehoboám loued Maakáh ỹ daughter of Abſalóm aboue all his wiues & his concubines: for he toke eightene wiues, & three ſcore concubines, and begate eight and twētie ſonnes, & threſcore daughters.

22 And Rehoboám made g Abiiáh the ſōne of Maakáh the chief ruler among his brethren: for he thoght to make him King.

g Called alſo Abiiam, who reigned three yere, 1 Ki 15, 2.

23 And he taught him: and diſperſed all his ſonnes throughout all the countreis of Iudáh and Beniamín vnto euerie ſtrong citie: and he gaue them abundance of vitaile, and h deſired many wiues.

h He gaue him ſelfe to haue many wiues.

CHAP. XII.

1 Rehoboám forſaketh the Lord and is puniſhed by Shiſhák. 5 Shemaiáh reproueth him. 6 He humbleth him ſelfe.

ſe 7 God ſendeth him ſuccour. 9 Shiſhák taketh his treaſures 13 His reigne and death. 16 Abiiah his ſonne ſucceedeth him.

*Or, when the Lord had eſtabliſhed Rehoboams kigdome

1 AND when *Rehoboám had eſtabliſhed the kingdome & made it ſtróg, he forſoke the Lawe of the Lord, and [a] all Iſráel with him.

a For ſuche is the inconſtancie of the people that for ỹ moſte part they follow the vices of their gouernours.

2 Therefore in the fift yere of King Rehoboám, Shiſhák the King of Egypt came vp againſt Ieruſalém (becauſe they had tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord)

3 With twelue hundreth chariets, and thre ſcore thouſand horſmẽ, & the people were without nomber, that came with him from Egypt, euen the Lubims, [b] Sukkiims, & the *Ethiopians.

b Which were a people of Africa called ỹ Troglodites, becauſe they dwelled in holes

*Or, blacke Moores.

4 And he toke the ſtróg cities which were of Iudáh, and came vnto Ieruſalém.

5 ¶ Then came Shemaiáh the Prophet to Rehoboám, and to the princes of Iudáh, that were gathered together in Ieruſalém, becauſe of Shiſhák, and ſaid vnto them, Thus ſayth the Lord, Ye haue forſaken me, [c] therefore haue I alſo left you in the hands of Shiſhák.

c Signifying ỹ no calamitie can come vnto vs except we forſake God, & ỹ he neuer leaueth vs til we haue caſt him of 6 Then the princes of Iſraél, and the King humbled them ſelues, and ſaid, The Lord [d] is iuſte.

d And therefore doeth iuſtely punish you for your ſinnes

7 And when the Lord ſawe that they humbled them ſelues, the worde of the Lord came to Shemaiáh, ſaying, They haue hũbled them ſelues, therefore I wil not deſtroye them, but I wil ſend them deliuerãce ſhortely, & my wrath ſhal not "be powred out vpon Ieruſalém by the hand of Shiſhák.

*Ebr drop downe.

8 Neuertheles they ſhalbe his ſeruants: ſo ſhal they know my [e] ſeruice, & the ſeruice of the kingdomes of the earth.

e He ſheweth that Gods puniſhments are not to deſtroy his vtterly, but to chaſtiſe thẽ, to bring them to ỹ knowledge of themſelues & to knowe how much better it is to ſerue God thẽ tyrants Chap 9.28.

9 ¶ Then Shiſhák King of Egypt came vp againſt Ieruſalém, and toke the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and the treaſures of the Kings houſe: he toke euen all, and he caryed away the ſhields of golde, *which Salomón had made.

10 In ſtead whereof King Rehoboám made ſhields of braſſe, and committed them to the hãds of the chief of the garde, that waited at the dore of the Kings houſe.

11 And when the King entred into the houſe of the Lord, the garde came and bare them and broght them againe vnto the garde chamber.

f Which declareth that God ſeketh not the death of a ſinner, but his cõuerſiõ. Ezek. 18,32 & 33,11 4 Kin 14,21

12 And becauſe he [f] humbled him ſelfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he wolde not deſtroye all together. And alſo in Iudáh the things proſpered.

g That is, twelue yeres after that he had be ne ouercome by Shiſhák, ver 2.

13 *So King Rehoboám was ſtrong in Ieruſalém and reigned: for Rehoboám was one & fourtie yere olde, whẽ he begã to reigne, & reigned [g] ſeuentene yeres in Ieruſalém, the citie which the Lord had choſen out of all the tribes of Iſraél to put his Name there. And his mothers name was Naamáh an Ammoniteſſe.

4 Kin 14,21

14 And he did euil: for he prepared not his heart to ſeke the Lord.

15 The actes alſo of Rehoboám, firſt and laſt, are they not written in the "boke of Shemaiáh the Prophet, and Iddó ỹ Seer, in rehearſing the genealogie? & there was warre alway betwene Rehoboám & Ieroboám.

"Ebr ſayings.

16 And Rehoboám ſlept with his fathers, and was buryed in the citie of Dauid, and Abiiáh his "ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

"Or, Abiam.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Abiiáh maketh warre againſt Ieroboám 4 He ſheweth the occaſion. 12 He truſteth in the Lord and ouercometh Ieroboám 21 Of his wiues and children.

1 IN the eighteenth yere of King Ieroboám began Abiiáh to reigne ouer [a] Iudáh.

a He meaneth Iudáh and Beniamin

2 He reigned thre yere in Ieruſalém: (his mothers name alſo was [b] Michaiáh the daughter of [c] Vriél of Gibea) and there was warre betwene Abiiáh and Ieroboám.

b Or, Maachá, 1 king 15,2 c Called alſo Abſhalon, for Abſhalóm was her grandefather 1 Kin 15,2.

d Which was one of the toppes of mount Ephraim

3 And Abiiáh ſet the battel in aray with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundreth thouſand choſen men. Ieroboám alſo ſet the battel in aray againſt him with eight hundreth thouſand choſen men which were ſtrong and valiant.

4 And Abiiáh ſtode vp vpon mount [d] Zemeraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and ſaid, O Ieroboám, & all Iſraél, heare you me, e And therefore how couetous are they nowe to take it frõ ỹ ſtocke, trãſgreſſers of the ordinance of ỹ Lord? thus lyeth an hypocrite he alledged ỹ worde of God for his aduantage

f That is, perpetual, becauſe that thing which is ſalted, is preſerued from corruptiõ: he meaneth alſo that it was made ſolemnely & cõfirmed by offring of ſacrifices, where as they vſed ſalt according as was ordeined, Nom 18,19 2. Kin 11, 26.

5 Ought you not to knowe that the Lord God of Iſraél hathe giuen the kingdome ouer Iſraél to [e] Dauid for euer, euen to him and to his ſonnes by a couenant [f] of ſalt?

6 And Ieroboám the ſonne of Nebát the ſeruant of Salomón the ſonne of Dauid is riſen vp, and hathe *rebelled againſt his lord.

2. Kin 11, 26.

7 And there are gathered to him [g] vaine men & "wicked, and made them ſelues ſtrong againſt Rehoboám the ſonne of Salomón: for Rehoboám was [h] but a childe and "*tender hearted, & colde not reſiſt them.

g This worde in ỹ Childe tongue is Racha, which our Sauiour vieth, Matt 5,22

"Ebr children of Belial

h Meaning, in heart and courage

"Or, faint harted

Leui 26,36.

8 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to reſiſt againſt the kingdome of the Lord, which is in the hands of the ſonnes of Dauid, and ye be a great multitude, & the golden calues are with you which Ieroboám made you for gods.

1 King 12,31. chap 11,14.

"Ebr put his hãd

i He ſheweth the nature of idolaters, who take no triall of the vocation, life & doctrine of their miniſters, but thinke the moſte vileſt & greateſt beaſtes ſufficient, to ſerue their turne.

9 *Haue ye not driuen away the Prieſts of the Lord the ſonnes of Aarón and the Leuites, and haue made you Prieſts like the people of other countreis? who ſoeuer commeth to "conſecrate with a [i] yong bullocke and ſeuen rams, the ſame may be a Prieſt of them that are no gods.

10 But we belong vnto the Lord our God, & haue not forſaken him, & the Prieſts the ſonnes of Aarón miniſter vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office.

11 And they burne vnto the Lord euerie [k] morning and euerie euening burnt offrings and ſwete incenſe, and the bread is ſet in order vpon the pure table, & the cãdleſticke of golde with the lãpes thereof, to burne euerie euening: for we kepe the watche of the Lord our God: but ye haue forſaken him,

12 And beholde, this God [l] is with vs, as a captaine, & his Prieſts with the ſounding trumpets, to crye an alarme againſt you. O ye children of Iſraél, fight not againſt the Lord God of your fathers: for ye ſhal not proſper.

13 ¶ But Ieroboam cauſed an ambuſhment [m] to compaſſe, & come behinde them, whẽ thei were before Iudáh, and the ambuſhment behinde them,

14 Then Iudáh loked, and beholde, the battel was before and behinde them, and they cryed vnto the Lord, and the Prieſts blewe with the trumpets,

15 And the men of Iudáh gaue a ſhoute: & euen as the men of Iudáh ſhouted, God [n] ſmote Ieroboám and alſo Iſraél before Abiiáh and Iudah.

16 And the children of Iſraél fled before Iudáh, and God deliuered them into their hand.

17 And Abiiáh and his people ſlewe a great ſlaughter of them, ſo that there fell downe wounded of Iſraél fiue hundreth thouſand choſen men.

18 So the children of Iſraél were broght vnder at that time: and the childrẽ of Iudáh preuailed, [o] becauſe they ſtaied vpon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abiiáh purſued after Ieroboám, & toke cities from him euen Bethél, and the [p] villages thereof, and Ieſhanáh with her villages, and Ephrón with her villages.

20 And Ieroboam recouered no ſtrength againe in the dayes of Abiiáh, but ỹ Lord plaged him, and he dyed.

21 So Abiiáh waxed mightie, and maried fourtene wiues, and begate two and twentie ſonnes, and ſixtene daughters.

22 The reſt of the actes of Abiiáh and his maners and his ſayings are writen in the ſtorie of the Prophet Iddó.

CHAP. XIIII.

3 Aſá deſtroieth idolatrie & commandeth his people to ſerue the true God 11 He praieth vnto God when he ſhulde go to fight 12 He obteineth the victorie.

1 SO [*] Abiiah ſlept with his fathers, & thei buryed him in the citie of Dauid, & Aſá his ſonne reigned in his ſteade: in whoſe dayes the land was quiet ten yere.

2 And Aſá did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he toke away the altars of the ſtrange gods & the hie places, & brake downe the images, and cut downe the [a] groues,

4 And cõmanded Iudáh to ſeke the Lord God of their fathers, & to do according to the Lawe and the commandement.

5 And he toke away out of all the cities of Iudáh the hie places, & the images: therefore the kingdome was [b] quiet before him.

6 He buylt alſo ſtrong cities in Iudáh, becauſe the land was in reſt, and he had no warre in thoſe yeres: for the Lord had giuen him reſt.

7 Therefore he ſaid to Iudáh, Let vs buyld theſe cities and make walles about, and towres, gates, and barres, whiles the lãd is [c] before vs: becauſe we haue ſoght ỹ Lord our God, we haue ſoght him, and he hathe giuen vs reſt on euerie ſide: ſo they buylt and proſpered.

8 And Aſá had an armie of Iudáh that bare ſhields and ſpeares, thre hundreth thouſand, and of Beniamín that bare ſhields & drewe bowes, two hundreth & foure ſcore thouſand: all theſe were valiant men.

9 ¶ And there came out againſt then Zérah [d] of Ethiopia with an hoſte of ten hũdreth thouſand, and thre hundreth charets, and came vnto [e] Mareſháh.

10 Then Aſá went out before him, and thei ſet the battel in aray in the valley of Zephathah beſide Mareſháh.

11 And Aſá [*] cryed vnto the Lord his God, & ſaid, Lord, it is nothíg with thee to helpe [f] with many, or with no power: helpe vs, ô Lord our God. for we reſt on thee, and in thy Name are we come againſt this multitude: ô Lord, thou art our God, [f] let not man preuaile againſt thee.

12 ¶ So ỹ Lord ſmote the Ethiopians before Aſá and before Iudáh, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſá and the people that was with him, purſued them vnto Gerár. And the Ethiopians hoſte was ouerthrowen, ſo that there was no life in them: for they were deſtroyed before the Lord and before his hoſte: & they caryed away a mighty great ſpoile.

14 And they ſmote all the cities round about Gerár: for the [g] feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they ſpoiled all the cities, for there was exceding muche ſpoile in them.

15 Yea, and they ſmote the tents of cattel, & caryed away plentie of ſhepe and camels, and returned to Ieruſalém.

CHAP. XV.

1 The exhortatiõ of Azariáh. 8 Aſá purgeth his countrey of idolatrie 11 He ſacrificeth with the people. 14 Their ſweare together to ſerue the Lord. 16. He depoſeth his mo-

k As it was appointed in the Lawe, Exod 29.39

l Becauſe their cauſe was good & approued by the Lord, thei dourſt not of the ſucceſſe and victorie.

m Contemnig ỹ good cõſeil ẅ came of the Spirit of God, he thoght to hau ouercome by deceite.

or, gaue him ouerthrowe.

n He ſheweth that the ſtay of all kingdomes & aſſurance of victories depende vpon our truſt & cõfidence in the Lord o Ebr daughters.

a Which were planted contrary to the Lawe, Deut. 16.20

b He ſheweth that the reſt & quietnes of kingdomes ſtãdeth in abolishig idolatrie, and aduancing true religion.

c Whiles we haue the full gouernement thereof.

d The King of Ethiopia or Egypt

e Which was a citie in Iudah, Iosh 15, 44 where Michaiáh ỹ Prophet was borne.

1. King 14.6.

f Or, agai. ſtrong, without power.

f Thus ỹ childrẽ of God neither truſt in their owne power or policie, neither feareth ſtrength & ſubtiltie of their enemies, but conſider ỹ cauſe and ſe whether their entrepriſes tẽd to Godsglorie, & therupõ aſſure thẽ ſelues of ỹ victorie by him, ẅ is onely almightie, & can turne all fleſh into duſt ẅ the breath of his mouthe

g The Lord had ſtrikẽ thẽ with feare.

mother for her idolatrie.

1 THen the Spirit of God came vpon [a] Azariah the ſonne of Odéd.
2 And he went out to mete Aſa, and ſaid vnto him, O Aſá, and all Iudáh, and Beniamín, heare ye me. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye ſeke him, he wil be founde of you, but if ye forſake him, he wil forſake you.
3 Now for a long ſeaſon Iſraél hathe bene without the [b] true God, & without Priſt to teache and without Lawe.
4 But whoſoeuer returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Iſraél, and ſoght him, he [c] was founde of them.
5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did go out and go in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.
6 For nacion was deſtroyed of nacion, and citie of citie: for God troubled them with all aduerſitie.
7 Be ye ſtrong therefore, and let not your hãds be weake: for your [d] worke ſhal haue a rewarde.
8 ¶ And when Aſá heard theſe wordes, and the prophecie of Odéd the Prophet, he was encouraged, and toke away the abominacions out of all the land of Iudáh, & Beniamín, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephráim, and he renued the altar of the Lord, that was before the porche of the Lord.
9 And he gathered all Iudáh & Beniamín, & the ſtrangers with thẽ out of Ephráim, and Manaſſeh & out of Simeón: for there fell many to him out of Iſraél, when they ſawe that the Lord his God was with him.
10 So they aſſembled to Ieruſalém in the [e] third moneth, in the fiftente yere of the reigne of Aſá.
11 And they offred vnto the Lord the ſame time of the [f] ſpoyle, which they had broght, euen ſeuen hundreth bullockes, and ſeuen thouſand ſhepe.
12 And they made a couenant to ſeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their ſoule.
13 And [g] whoſoeuer wil not ſeke the Lord God of Iſraél, ſhal be ſleane, whether he were ſmall or great, man or woman.
14 And they ſware vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, and with ſhouting and with trumpets, and with cornets.
15 And all Iudáh reioyced at the othe: for they had ſworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and ſoght him with a whole deſire, and he was [h] founde of them. And the Lord gaue them reſt rounde about.
16 ¶ And King Aſá depoſed Maachâh [i] mother from her regẽcie, becauſe ſhe had made an idole in a groue: and Aſá brake downe her idole, & ſtamped it, and burnt it at the broke Kidrón.
17 But the hie places were not [k] taken away out of [l] Iſraél: yet the heart of Aſá was [m] perfite all his daves.
18 Alſo he broght into the houſe of God the things that his father had dedicate, & that he had dedicate, ſiluer, and golde, & veſſels.
19 And there was no warre vnto the fiue & thirtieth yere of the reigne of Aſá.

a Who was called Oded, as his father was, verſ. 8.
b For the ſpace of twelue yeres vnder Reboboam, and thre yeres vnder Abiah, religiõ was neglected and idolatrie planted
c He ſheweth, that notwithſtanding the wickednes of tyrãts & their rage, yet God hath his, whome he heareth in their tribulacion, as he deliuered his from Zerah King of the Ethiopians, & out of all other dangers, when they called vpon the Lord d Your confidence & truſt in God ſhal not be fruſtrat
e Called Shiuan, conteinig parte of May and parte of Iune f Which they had taken of the Ethiopiãs.
g These were the wordes of their couenãt, which cõmanded all idolaters to be put to death accordíng to the Lawe of God, Deut 13
h So long as they ſerued hi aright, ſo long did he preſerue & proſper them i Or grãdmother & herein he ſhewed ỹ he lacked zeale for ſhe ought to haue dyed bothe by the couenant, and by the Lawe of God: but he gaue place to fooliſh pitie, & wolde alſo ſeme afrei a ſorte to ſatiſfie the Lawe k Which partely came through lacke of zeale in hi, partly through the negligence of his officers, & partely by the ſuperſtitiõ of the people, that all were not taken away.
l Becauſe that God was called the God of Iſrael by reaſon of his promes to Iaakób; therefore Iſraél is ſome time taken for Iudáh, becauſe Iudáh was his chief people m In reſpect of his predeceſſors.

CHAP. XVI.

2 Aſá for feare of Baaſhá King of Iſraél, maketh a couenant with Benhadád King of Arám. 7 He is reproued by the Prophet, 10 Whome he putteth in priſon. 12 He putteth his truſt in the Phiſitians 13 His death.

1 IN the ſix & thirtieth yere of the reigne of Aſá came [a] Baaſhá King of Iſraél vp againſt Iudáh, and buylt [b] Ramáh to let none paſſe out or go in to Aſá King of Iudáh.
2 Then Aſá broght out ſiluer and golde out of the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the Kings houſe, and ſent to Benhadád King of Arám that dwelt at [*] Damaſcus, ſaying,
3 There is a couenant betwene me & thee, and betwene my father and thy father: beholde, I haue ſent thee ſiluer and golde: come, [c] breake thy league with Baaſhá King of Iſraél that he may departe from me.
4 And Benhadád hearkened vnto King Aſa, and ſent the captaines of the armies which he had, againſt the cities of Iſraél. And they ſmote Iión, and Dan, and Abelmáim, and the ſtore cities of Naphtalí.
5 And when Baaſhá heard it, he left buylding of Ramáh, and let his worke ceaſe.
6 Then Aſá the King toke all Iudáh, and caryed away the ſtones of Ramáh and the tymbre thereof, wherewith Baaſhá did buyld, and he buylt therewith Géba and Mizpáh.
7 ¶ And at that ſame time Hanáni the [*] Seer came to Aſá King of Iudah, and ſaid vnto him, Becauſe thou haſt reſted vpon the King of Arám, and not reſted in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoſte of the King of Arám eſcaped out of thine hand.
8 * The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great hoſte with charets and horſemen, exceding many [d] yet becauſe thou dideſt reſt vpon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.
9 *For the eies of the Lord beholde all the earth to ſhewe him ſelfe ſtrong with them that are of perfite heart toward him. thou haſt thẽ done fooliſhly in this: therefore from henſforthe thou ſhalt haue warres.
10 Thẽ Aſa was wroth with the Seer, & put him into a [*] priſon: for he was [d] diſpleaſed with him, becauſe of this thing. And Aſá oppreſſed certeine of the people at the a Who reigned after Nadáb the ſonne of Ieroboam b He fortified it with walles and ditches: it was a citie in Beniamin nere to Gibeón.

*Or, Damiſek
c He thoght to repulſe his aduerſarie by an vnlawful meanes, ỹ is, by ſeking helpe of infideles, as they ỹ ſeke ỹ Turkes amitie, thinkig thereby to make thẽ ſelues more ſtrong.
*Or, Prophet
Chap 14, 9.
2 Mac. 9, 5. & 12, 22.
[*] Ecc. priſon
d Thus in ſtead of turning to God by repentance, he diſdained the admonicion of ỹ Prophet, and puniſhed him, as the wicked do when they be telde of their faults.

ſame time.

11 And beholde, the actes of Aſá firſt and laſt, lo, they are writen in the boke of the Kings of Iudáh and Iſraél.

12 ¶And Aſá in the nine and thirtieth yere of his reigne was [a] diſeaſed in his fete, and his diſeaſe was [b] extreme: yet he ſoght not the Lord in his diſeaſe, but to the [c] Phiſicians.

13 So Aſá ſlept with his fathers, and dyed in the one and fourtieth yere of his reigne.

14 And they buryed him in one of his ſepulchres, which he had made for him ſelfe in the citie of Dauid, & laied him in the bed, which they had filled with ſwete odours and diuerſe kindes of ſpices, made by the arte of the apoticarie: and they burnt him with an exceding great fyre.

[a] Or, gaule, or ſwolne.
[b] Or, to the top of his head.
[c] God plagued his rebellion, & hereby declareth that it is nothing to begine wel, except we ſo cõtinue to the ẽd, that is, zealous of Gods glorie, and put our whole truſt in him.
[f] He ſheweth that it is in vaine to ſeke to ỹ Phiſitiãs, except firſt we ſeke to God to purge our ſinnes, which are the chief cauſe of all our diſeaſes, & after vſe the helpe of ỹ phiſitiã, as a meane by whome God worketh

CHAP. XVII.

Iehoſhaphát truſting in the Lord, proſpereth in riches and honour. 6 He aboliſheth idolatrie. 7 And cauſeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiueth tribute of ſtrangers. 13 His munitions and men of warre.

1 ANd Iehoſhaphát his ſonne reigned in his ſtead, and preuailed againſt Iſraél.

2 And he put gariſons in all the ſtrong cities of Iudáh, and ſet bands in the land of Iudáh and in the cities of Ephráim, which Aſá his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoſhaphát, becauſe he walked in the [a] firſt wayes of his father Dauid, and ſoght not [b] Baalím, 4 But ſoght the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the "trade of Iſraél.

5 Therefore the Lord ſtabliſhed the kingdome in his hand, and all Iudáh broght preſents to Iehoſhaphát, ſo that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he [c] lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he take awaie moreouer the hie places & the groues out of Iudáh.

7 ¶And in the third yere of his reigne he ſent his princes, Ben-háil, and Obadiáh, & Zechariáh, and Nethaneél, and Michaiáh, that they ſhulde [d] teache in the cities of Iudáh,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiáh, and Nethaniáh, and Zebadiáh, and Aſahél, & Shemiramóth, and Iehonathán, and Adoniiáh, and Tobiiáh, and Tob adoniiáh, Leuites, and with them Eliſhamá and Iehorám Prieſts.

9 And they taught in Iudáh, and had the boke of the Lawe of the Lord with them, & went about throughout all the cities of Iudáh, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands ỹ were rounde about Iudáh, and they [e] foght not againſt Iehoſhaphát.

11 Alſo ſome of the Philiſtims broght Iehoſhaphát gifts and tribute ſiluer, and the Arabiãs broght him flockes, ſeuẽ thouſãd, and ſeuen hundreth rams, and ſeuen thouſand, and ſeuen hundreth he gotes.

12 So Iehoſhaphát proſpered and grewe vp on hie: and he buylt in Iudáh palaces and cities of ſtore.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudáh, and men of warre, & valiant men in Ieruſalém.

14 And theſe are the nombers of them after the houſe of their fathers, In Iudáh were captaines of thouſands, Adnáh the captaine, and "with him of valiant men thre hundreth thouſand.

15 And [f] at his hand Iehohanán a captaine, and with him two hundreth & foure ſcore thouſand.

16 And at his hand Amaſiáh the ſonne of Zichrí, which [f] willingly offred him ſelfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hũdreth thouſand valiant men.

17 And of Beniamín, Eliadá a valiant mã, and with him armed men with bowe and ſhield two hundreth thouſand.

18 And at his hand Iehozabád, & with him an hundreth and foure ſcore thouſand armed to the warre.

19 Theſe [g] waited on the King, beſides thoſe which the King put in the ſtrong cities throughout all Iudáh.

[a] That is, his vertues meaning, before he had cõmitted w Bath-ſhéba and againſt Vriáh
[b] Soght not helpe at ſtrãge gods
[c] Ebr. worke.
[d] He gaue him ſelfe wholy to ſerue ỹ Lord.
[e] He knewe it was in vaine to profeſſe religion, except ſuche were appointed which colde inſtruct the people in the ſame, and had autoritie to put away all idolatrie.
[e] Thus God proſpereth all ſuche that w a pure heart ſeke his glorie, and kepeth their enemies in feare ỹ thei cã not be able to execute their rage againſt them.
"Ebr. in the hãd
[f] Or, ministred to him.
[f] Meaning, w was a Nazarian.
[g] That is, thei were as his ordinarie garde.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Iehoſhaphát maketh affinitie with Aháb. 10 Foure hũdreth Prophetes coũſel Aháb to go to warre. 16 Michaiáh is againſt them. 23 Zidkiáh ſmiteth him. 25 The King putteth him in priſon. 29 The effect of his prophecie.

1 ANd* Iehoſhaphát had riches & honour in abundance, but he was ioyned in [a] affinitie with Aháb.

2 And after certeine [b] yeres he went downe to Aháb to Samaria: & Aháb ſlewe ſhepe and oxen for him in great nomber, & for the people that he had with him, and entiſed him to go vp vnto [c] Ramóth Gileád.

3 And Aháb King of Iſraél ſaid vnto Iehoſhaphát Kíg of Iudáh, Wilt thou go with me to Ramóth Gileád? And he anſwered him, I am as thou art, & my people as thy people, & we wil ioyne w thee in the warre.

4 And Iehoſhaphát ſaid vnto the King of Iſraél, Aſke counſel, I pray thee, at the [d] worde of the Lord this day.

5 Therefore the King of Iſraél gathered of [e] Prophetes foure hundreth men, and ſaid vnto them, Shal we go to Ramóth Gileád to battel, or ſhal I ceaſe? And they ſaid, Go vp: for God ſhal deliuer it into the Kings hand.

6 But Iehoſhaphát ſaid, Is there here neuer a Prophet more of the Lord ỹ we might inquire of him?

7 And ỹ King of Iſraél ſaid vnto Iehoſhaphát,

1 King 22.3.

[a] For Ioràm Iehoſhaphats ſonne maried Ahabs daughter
[b] That is, the third yere. 1 King 22.2
[c] To recouer it out of the hands of the Syrians.
[d] Heare the aduiſe of ſome Prophet, to knowe whether it be Gods wil
[e] Which were the Prophetes of Báal, ſignifying that the wicked eſteme not but flatterers and ſuche as vil bare with their inordinate affections.

401/1224

phát, There is yet one man, by whome we may aſke counſel of the Lord, but I [f] hate him: for he doeth not prophecie good vnto me, but allway euil: it is Michaiáh the ſonne of Imlá. Thē Iehoſhaphát ſaid, Let not the King ſay [g] ſo.
8 And the King of Iſraél called an eunuche, and ſaid, Call quickly Michaiáh the ſonne of Imlá.
9 ¶And the King of Iſraél, and Iehoſha-phát King of Iudáh ſate ether of them on his throne clothed in their [h] apparel: they ſate euen in the threſſhing floore at the en-tring in of the gate of Samaria: & all the Prophetes prophecied before them.
10 And Zidkiáh the ſonne of Chenaanáh made him [i] hornes of yron, & ſaid, Thus ſaith ỹ Lord, With theſe ſhalt thou puſh ỹ Aramites vntil thou haſt conſumed them.
11 And all the Prophetes prophecied ſo, ſaying, Go vp to Ramóth Gileád, & proſ-per: for the Lord ſhal deliuer it into the hand of the King.
12 ¶And the meſſinger that wēt to call Michaiah, ſpake to him, ſaying, Beholde, the wordes of the Prophetes declare good to ỹ King with one [k] accorde: let thy worde therfore, I pray thee, be lyke one of theirs, and ſpeake thou good.
13 And Michaiáh ſaid, As the Lord liueth, whatſoeuer my God ſaith, ỹ wil I ſpeake.
14 ¶So he came to the King, and the King ſaid vnto him, Michaiah, ſhal we go to Ramóth Gilcád to battel, or ſhal I leaue of?
And he ſaid, [l] Go ye vp, and proſper, and they ſhal be deliuered into your hand.
15 And the King ſaid to him, How oft ſhal I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but the trueth in the Name of the Lord?
16 Then he ſaid, I ſawe all Iſraél ſcatered in the mountaines, as ſhepe that haue no ſhepheard: and the Lord ſaid, [m] Theſe haue no maſter: let thē returne euerie man to his houſe in peace.
17 And the King of Iſraél ſaid to Iehoſha-phát, Did I not tel thee, that he wolde not prophecie good vnto me, but euil?
18 Againe he ſaid, Therefore heare ye the worde of the Lord: I ſawe the Lord ſit vpon his throne, and all the [n] hoſte of heauen ſtanding at his right hand, and at his left.
19 And the Lord ſaid, Who ſhal [o] perſuade Aháb King of Iſraél, that he may go vp and fall at Ramóth Gileád? And one ſpa-ke and ſaid thus, and another ſaid that.
20 Thē there came forthe a ſpirit and ſtode before the Lord, and ſaid, I wil perſuade him. And the Lord ſaid vnto him, Wherein?
21 And he ſaid, I wil go out, and be a falſe ſpirit in the mouthe of all his Prophetes.
And [p] he ſaid, Thou ſhalt perſuade, and ſhalt alſo preuaile: go forthe and do ſo.
22 Now therefore beholde, the Lord hathe put a [q] falſe ſpirit in the mouthe of theſe thy Prophetes, & the Lord hathe determined euil againſt thee.
23 Then Zidkiáh the ſonne of Chenaanáh came nere, and ſmote Michaiáh vpon the [r] cheke, and ſaid, By what way wēt the ſpirit of ỹ Lord frō me, to ſpeake with thee?
24 And Michaiáh ſaid, Beholde, thou ſhalt ſe that day whē thou ſhalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thee.
25 And the King of Iſraél ſaid, Take ye Michaiáh, and carie him to Amón the go-uernour of the citie, & to Ioáſh the Kings ſonne,
26 And ſay, Thus ſaith the King, Put this man in the priſon houſe, & fede him with bread of [s] affliction and with water of affliction vntil I returne in peace.
27 And Michaiáh ſaid, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hathe not ſpoken by me.
And [t] he ſaid, Heare, all ye people.
28 So the King of Iſraél and Iehoſhaphát the King of Iudáh wēt vp to Ramóth Gi-leád.
29 And the King of Iſraél ſaid vnto Ieho-ſhaphát, I wil [u] change my ſelfe, and entre into the battel: but put thou on thine apparel. So the King of Iſraél chāged him ſelfe, and they went into the battel.
30 And the King of Arám had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, ſaying, Fight you not with ſmall nor great, but againſt ỹ King of Iſraél onely.
31 And when the captaines of the charets ſawe Iehoſhaphát, they ſaid, It is the King of Iſraél: and they compaſſed about him to fight. But Iehoſhaphát [x] cryed, & ỹ Lord helped him & moued them to depārte from him.
32 For when the captaines of the charets ſawe that he was not the King of Iſraél, they turned backe from him.
33 Then a certeine man drewe a bowe [y] myghtely, & ſmote the King of Iſrael betwene the ioyntes [z] of his brigādine: therefore he ſaid to his charetman, Turne thine hand, and carie me out of the hoſte: for I am hurt.
34 And the battel increaſed that day: and the King of Iſraél [a] ſtode ſtil in his cha-ret againſt the Aramites vntil euen, and dyed at the time of ỹ ſunne going down.

f Yet the true miniſters of God ought not to ceaſe to do their duetie, thogh the wicked magiſtrates can not abide them to ſpeake the trueth
g Meaning, ỹ he ought not to refuſe to heare anie that was of God
h That is, in their maieſtie and royal apparel.
i Read 1 King. 22, 11.
k Thinking, ỹ whereas foure hundreth Prophetes had agreed in one thing, that he being but one man, and in leaſt eſtimatiō durſt not gaine ſay it.
l He ſpake this by derisiō of the falſe Prophetes, as the King wel perceiued.
m He propheciеth how the people ſhulde be diſperſed & Aháb ſleane.
n Meaning, his Angels
*Or, deceiue.
o That is, the Lord
p So they that wil not beleue ỹ trueth, God ſendeth ſtrong deluſion, that they ſhulde beleue lyes, 2. Theſſ. 2, 10
q By this crueltie his ambitiō and hypocriſie was diſcouered thō the hypocrites boaſt of ỹ Spirit which they haue not, and declare their malice againſt thē, in whome the true Spirit is.
r Kepe him ſtreictly in priſon and let him tele hunger and thirſt.
*Or, Michaiáh.
ſ Thus ỹ wicked thinke by their owne ſubtiltie to eſcape Gods iudgements, ẅ he threatened by his worde.
t He cryed to the Lord by acknowledging his faute in going with this wicked King to warre againſt the worde of the Lord by his Prophet, and alſo by d ſtirring mercie for the time.
*Ebr. as his ſoule places it, or, is ſtantly
*Or, betweene the habergit u He diſſembled his hurt, that his ſoldiers might fight more courigiouſly.

CHAP. XIX.

4 After Iehoſhaphát was rebuked by the Prophet, he called againe the people to thē honoring of the Lord. 5 He appointeth iudges and miniſters. 9 And exhorteth them to feare God.

1 AND Iehoſhaphát the King of Iudáh returned [a] ſafe to his houſe in Ieruſalém.
2 And Iehú ỹ ſonne of Hanáni the Seer wēt

*Ebr. in peace.

out to mete him, and ſaid to King Iehoſhaphát, a Wouldeſt thou helpe the wicked, and loue them that hate the Lord? therefore for this thing ſ wrath b of the Lord is vpon thee.

3 Neuertheles good things are founde in thee, becauſe thou haſt take away the groues out of the land, and haſt prepared thine heart to ſeke God.

4 ¶So Iehoſhaphat dwelt at Ieruſalém, & returned and went b through the people from Beer-ſhebá to mount Ephráim, and broght them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

5 And he ſet iudges in the land throughout all the ſtrong cities of Iudáh, citie by citie,

6 And ſaid to the iudges, Take hede what ye do: for ye execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lord, & he wilbe c with you in the cauſe and iudgement.

7 Wherefore now let the feare of ſ Lord be vpon you: take hede, & do it: for there is no d iniquitie with the Lord our God, nether * reſpect of perſones, nor receiuing of rewarde.

8 Moreouer in Ieruſalém did Iehoſhaphát ſet of the Leuites, and of the Prieſts and of the chief of the families of Iſraél, for the iudgement and cauſe of the Lord: and they e returned to Ieruſalém.

9 And he charged them, ſaying, Thus ſhal ye do in the feare of the Lord faithfully and with a perfite heart.

10 And in euerie cauſe that ſhal come to you of your brethren that dwel in their cities, betwene f blood and blood, betwene lawe and precept, ſtatutes and iudgemẽts, ye ſhal iudge them, and admoniſh them that they treſpaſſe not againſt the Lord, that g wrath come not vpon you and vpõ your brethrẽ. Thus ſhal ye do & treſpaſſe not.

11 And beholde, Amariáh the Prieſt ſhall e ſ chief ouer you in all matters of the Lord, & Zebadiáh the ſonne of Iſhmaél, a ruler of the houſe of Iudáh, ſhalbe for all the h Kings affaires, & the Leuites ſhalbe officers i before you. Be of courage, and do it, and the Lord ſhalbe with the k good.

CHAP. XX.

Iehoſhaphát and the people pray vnto the Lord. 22 The marueilous victorie that the Lord gaue him againſt his enemies. 30 His reigne and actes.

1 AFter this alſo came the children of Moáb and the children of Ammón, and with them of the a Ammonites againſt Iehoſhaphát to battel.

2 Thẽ there came that tolde Iehoſhaphát, ſaying, There cometh a great multitude againſt thee from beyonde the b Sea, out of Arám: and beholde, they be in Hazzón Tamár, which is En-gédi.

3 And Iehoſhaphát feared, and ſet him ſelfe to ſeke the Lord, and proclaimed a faſt throughout all Iudáh.

4 And Iudáh gathered them ſelues together to aſke counſil of the Lord: they came euẽ out of all the cities of Iudáh to inquire of the Lord.

5 And Iehoſhaphát ſtode in the Congregacion of Iudáh and Ieruſalém in the houſe of the Lord before the new court,

6 And ſaid, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reigneſt not thou on all the kingdomes of the heathẽ? and in thine hand is power and might, & none is able to withſtand thee.

7 Dideſt not thou our God caſt out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Iſraél, and d gaueſt it to the ſede of Abrahám thy friend for euer?

8 And they dwelt therein, and haue buylt thee a Sanctuarie therein for thy Name, ſaying,

9 If euil come vpon vs, as the e ſworde of iudgement, or peſtilence, or famine, we wil ſtand before this houſe and in thy preſence (for thy Name f is in this houſe) & wil crye vnto thee in our tribulacion, and thou wilt heare and helpe.

10 And now beholde, the children of * Ammón and Moáb, and moũt Seír, by whome thou woldeſt not let Iſraél go, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aſide from them, and deſtroyed them not:

11 Beholde, I ſay, thei rewarde vs, in cõming to caſt vs out of thine inheritance, which thou haſt cauſed vs to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no ſtrẽgth in vs to ſtand before this great multitude that cõmeth againſt vs, nether do we know what to do: but our eyes g are towarde thee.

13 And all Iudáh ſtode h before the Lord with their yong ones, their wiues, and their children.

14 And Iahaziél the ſonne of Zechariáh the ſonne of Benaiáh, the ſonne of Ieiél, the ſõne of Mattaniáh, a Leuite of the ſonnes of Aſáph was there, vpon whome came i the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregacion.

15 And he ſaid, Hearken ye, all Iudáh, & ye inhabitants of Ieruſalém, and thou, King Iehoſhaphát: thus ſaith the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, nether be afraied for this great multitude: for the k battel is not yours, but Gods.

16 Tomorowe go ye downe againſt them: beholde, they come vp by the cleft of Ziz, and ye ſhal finde them at the end of the broke before the wildernes of Ieruél.

17 Ye ſhal not nede to fight in this battel. * ſtond ſtil, moue not, and beholde the * ſaluacion of the Lord towarde you, ô Iudáh, and a He declareth that the wrath and iudgement of God is euer all ſuche, that ſupporte the wicked, and rather ſhewe not in dede ſ they are enemies to all ſuche as hate ſ Lord

* Ebr wrath frõ the Lord

b He viſited all his cõtrei and broght his people from idolatrie to ſ knowledge of the true God.

c Bothe to preſerue you, if you do iuſtely, or to puniſh you, if you do the contrarie

d He wil declare by the ſharpenes of ſ puniſhement, that he hateth all iniquitie. Deu.10.17. iob 34.19. act.10.34. rom 2.11. gal.2.6. ephe.6.9. 1.tim.5.21. 1.pet.1.17

e The Prieſts and Leuites ẅ ſhulde iudge matters according to the worde of the Lord

f That is, to tryе whither ſ murther was done at vnwares or els on ſet purpoſe, Nomb 35.11 deut 4.41.

g Meaning, ſ God wolde puniſh them moſte ſharpely, if thei wold not execute iuſtice vright h Shalbe ch ef ouerſeer of ſ publike affaires of the realme

i Thei ſhal haue the handeling of inferiour cauſes

k God wil aſſiſt them that do iuſtice a That is, ẅ cõterfaited ſ Ammonites in langage & apparel The Hebrews thinke that they were ſ Amalekites, but as may appeare by the 20 verſe, they were the Idumeans of moũt Seir

b Called the dead ſea where God deſtroyed the fiue cities for ſinne

c This declareth what the feare of the godlie is, ẅ is as a pricke to ſtirre them to prayer, and to depend on ſ Lord, where as it mouth the wicked ether to ſeke after worldly meanes & policies, or els to fall into deſpaire.

d He groũdeth his prayer vpõ Gods power, whereby he is able to helpe, and alſo on his mercie, which he wil cõmunetowarde his, for as much as he hathe once choſen them and begonne to ſhewe his graces towarde them

1.King.8.37. chap 6.28.

e Meaning, warre which commeth by Gods iuſte iudgements for our ſinnes

f That is, it is here called vpon, and thou declareſt thy preſence and fauour

Deu 2.9. nehem 13.3.

g We onely put our truſt in thee and waite for our deliuerance frõ heauen

h That is, before the Arke of ſ couenant.

i Which was moued by the Spirit of God to propheſie.

k They ſignifie that God is not with you the cauſe he wil fight for you and Ieruſalém, feare ye not, nether be afraied: tomorowe go out againſt them, and the Lord wilbe with you.

Exod 14.13.

18 ¶ Then Iehoſhaphát [l] bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah & the inhabitants of Ieruſalém fell downe before the Lord, worſhiping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Corhites ſtode vp to praiſe the Lord God of Iſraél with a loude voice on hie.

20 And when they aroſe early in the morning, they went forthe to the wildernes of Tekóa: & as they departed, Iehoſhaphát ſtode and ſaid, Heare ye me, ô Iudáh, and ye inhabitáts of Ieruſalém: put your truſt in the Lord your God, and ye ſhalbe aſſured: beleue his [m] Prophetes, and ye ſhal proſper.

21 And whē he had conſulted with the people, and appointed ſingers vnto the Lord, & them that ſhulde praiſe him that is in the beautiful Sanctuarie, in going forthe before the men of armes, & ſaying, [n] Praiſe ye the Lord, for his mercie laſteth for euer,

22 And when they began to ſhoute, and to praiſe, the Lord laied ambuſhmēts againſt the childrē of Ammón, Moáb, and [o] moút Seír, which were come againſt Iudáh, and they ſlewe one another.

23 For the children of Ammón and Moáb roſe againſt the inhabitáts of mount Seír, to ſlea & to deſtroye them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitáts of Seír, euerie one helped to [p] deſtroy another.

24 And when Iudáh came toward Mizpáh in the wildernes, they loked vnto the multitude: and beholde, the carkeiſes were fallen to the earth, and none eſcaped.

25 And when Iehoſhaphát and his people came to take away the ſpoyle of them, thei found amóg them in abundance bothe of ſubſtance & alſo of bodies ladē with precious iewels, which thei toke for thē ſelues, til they colde cary nomore: they were thre dayes in gathering of the ſpoile: for it was muche.

26 And in the fourte day thei [q] aſſembled them ſelues in the valley of Beracháh: for there thei bleſſed the Lord: therefore thei called the name of that place, The vallei of Beracháh vnto this day.

27 Thē euerie mon of Iudáh & Ieruſalém returned with Iehoſhaphát their head, to go againe to Ieruſalém with ioye: for the Lord had made thē to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ieruſalém with violes, and with harpes, and with trumpets, euen vnto the houſe of the Lord.

29 And the [r] feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had foght againſt the enemies of Iſraél.

30 So ỹ kingdome of Iehoſhaphát was quiet, & his God gaue him reſt on euery ſide.

31 ¶ And * Iehoſhaphát reigned ouer Iudáh, and was fiue & thirtie yere olde, whē he began to reigne: and reigned fiue and twētie yere in Ieruſalém, and his mothers name was Azubáh the daughter of Shilhí. *1.Kin.22.42

32 And he walked in the [s] waye of Aſá his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the ſight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the hie places were [t] not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning ỹ reſt of the actes of Iehoſhaphát firſt and laſt, beholde, thei are written in the boke of Iehú the ſonne of Hanáni, which * is mencioned in the boke of the Kings of Iſraél.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Iehoſhaphát King of Iudáh ioyne him ſelfe with Ahaziáh King of Iſraél, who was giuen to do euil.

36 And he ioyned with him, to * make ſhippes to go to Tarſhíſh: and thei made the ſhippes in Ezión Gabér.

37 Then Eliézer the ſonne of Dodauáh of Mareſháh prophecied againſt Iehoſhaphát, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſt [u] ioyned thy ſelf with Ahaziáh, the Lord hathe broken thy workes. and the ſhippes were broken, that thei were not able to go to Tarſhíſh.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Iehoſhaphát dyeth. 3 Iehorám ſucceedeth him. 4 Which killeth his brethrē. 6 He was broght to idolatrie. 11 And ſeduceth the people. 16 He is oppreſſed of the Philiſtims. 18 His miſerable end.

1 IEhoſhaphát thē ſlept with his fathers, and was buryed with his fathers in the citie of Dauid: and Iehorám his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

2 And he had brethren the ſonnes of Iehoſhaphát, Azariáh, and Iehiél, & Zechariáh, and Azariáh, and Michaél, & Shephatiáh. All theſe were the ſonnes of Iehoſhaphát King of [a] Iſraél.

3 And their father gaue them great giftes of ſiluer and of golde, and of precious things, with ſtrong cities in Iudáh, but the kingdome gaue he to Iehorám: for he was the eldeſt.

4 *And Iehorám roſe vp vpō the kīgdome of his father, and made him ſelfe ſtrōg, & [b] ſlewe all his brethren with the ſworde, and alſo of the princes of [c] Iſraél.

5 Iehorám was two and thirtie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yere in Ieruſalem.

6 And he walked in the waye of the Kings of Iſraél, as the houſe of Ahāb had done: for he had the daughter of Ahāb to [d] wife, and he wroght euil in the eies of ỹ Lord.

l Declaring his faith and obedience to the worde of the Lord, and giuing thankes for the deliuerance promiſed.

m Giue credit to their wordes and doctrine.

n This was a pſalme of thākes giuing, wher they vſed cōmunely to ſing whē they praiſed the Lord for his benefites, and was made by Dauid, Pſal.136.

o Meaning, the Idumeans, wher dweit in moūt Seír.

p Thus the Lord according to Iehoſhaphats prair declared his power when he delmered his by cauſing their enemies to kilone another

q To giue thākes to the Lord for the victorie and therefore the valley was called Berachāh, that is, Bleſſing or thākes giuing, which was alſo called the valley of Iehoſhaphát, Ioel.3.2 & 12, becauſe the Lord iudged ỹ enemies according to Iehoſhaphats praier.

r He declareth hereby, that ỹ workes of God bring ouer cō forte or deliuerance to his, & feare or deſtructiō to his enemies.

s Meaning, in his vertues & thoſe waies, wherein he followed God.

t If the great care and diligence of this good King was not able vtterly to aboliſh all ſuperſtition & idolatrie out of this people, but that they wolde ſtil retaine their filth and idolatrie, how muche leſſe are they able to reforme euil, whether haue litle zeale, or not ſuche as he had though herein he was not to be excuſed?

1.Kin.16.1
1.Kin.22.49.

u Thus God wolde not haue his to ioyne in ſocietie with idolaters & wicked mē.

a Read chap. 15.17 how by Iſraél is meant Iudáh

2 Kin.8.16.

b Becauſe the wicked liue euer in feare & alſo are ambitious, they become cruel, & ſpare not to murther them, whome by nature they ought moſte to cherith & defend

c Meaning, of Iudah & Beniamin

d So that we ſe how it cā not be ỹ we ſhulde ioyne with ỹ wicked & ſerue God.

7 Howbeit the Lord wolde not deſtroy the houſe of Dauid, becauſe of the * couenant that he had made with Dauid, and becauſe he had promiſed to giue a light to him, and to his ſonnes for euer.

2.Sam.7,12. 1.king 2,4. & 9,5. 2 king 8,19. chap 6,16.

8 ¶In his dayes Edóm rebelled frō vnder the hand of Iudáh, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehorám wēt forthe with his princes, and all his charets with him: & he roſe vp by night, and ſmote Edóm, which had cōpaſſed him in, and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edóm rebelled from vnder the hād of Iudáh vnto this day. thē did e Libnah rebell at the ſame time from vnder his hand, becauſe he had forſaken the Lord God of his fathers.

e Read 2 King. 8,22.

11 ¶Moreouer he made hie places in the mountaines of Iudáh, and cauſed the inhabitants of Ieruſalém to commit f fornicacion, and compelled Iudáh thereto.

f Meaning, idolatrie, becauſe that the idolater breaketh promes with God, as doeth the adultereſſe to her houſband

12 And there came a writing to him from g Eliáh the Prophet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the waies of Iehoſhaphát thy father, nor in the wayes of Aſā King of Iudáh, g Some thinke that this was Elisha, ſo called, becauſe he had the Spirit in abundance, as had Eliáh.

13 But haſt walked in the way of the Kings of Iſraél, and haſt made Iudáh and the inhabitants of Ieruſalém to go a whoring, as the houſe of Aháb went a whoring, and haſt alſo ſleane thy brethrē of thy fathers houſe, which were better then thou,

14 Beholde, with a great plague wil ỹ Lord ſmite thy people, and thy children, & thy wiues, and all thy ſubſtance,

15 And thou ſhalt be in great diſeaſes in the diſeaſe of thy bowels, vntil h thy bowels fall out for the diſeaſe, day by day.

h We ſe this example daily practiſed vpō them that fall away frō God, and become idolaters and murtherers of their brethrē.

16 ¶So the Lord ſtirred vp againſt Iehorám the ſpirit of the Philiſtims, and the Arabians that were beſide the i Ethiopiās.

i There were other Arabiās in Africa Southward. 2 toward Egypt.

17 And they came vp into Iudáh, and brake into it, and caried away all the ſubſtāce that was founde in the Kings houſe, & his ſonnes alſo, and his wiues, ſo that there was not a ſonne left him, ſaue k Iehoaház, the yongeſt of his ſonnes.

k Called alſo Ahaziáh, as Chap 22,1, or Azariáh, ver. 6

18 And after all this, the Lord ſmote him in his bowels with an incurable diſeaſe.

19 And in proceſſe of time, euen after the ēd of two yeres, his guttes fell out with his diſeaſe: ſo he dyed of ſore diſeaſes: & his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yere olde, and reigned in Ieruſalém eight yere, l and liued without being deſired: yet they buryed him in the citie of Dauid, but not among the ſepulchres of the Kings.

l That is, as ſome write, he was not regarded, but depoſed for his wickednes & idolatrie: ſo that his ſonne reigned 22 yeres, (his father yet lyuig) without honour & after his fathers death he was cōfirmed to reigne ſtil, as Chap 24,2.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziáh reigneth after Iehorám. 9 Iehú King of Iſrael killeth Ahaziáh 10 Athaliáh putteth to death all the Kings ſeede 11 Ioaſh eſcapeth.

1 AND * the inhabitants of Ieruſalém made Ahaziáh his yōgeſt ſonne King in his ſtead: for the armie ỹ came a with the Arabians to the campe, had ſleane all the eldeſt: therefore Ahaziáh the ſonne of Iehorám King of Iudáh reigned.

2.King.8,24.

a Meaning, the Philiſtims.

2 Two and b fourty yere olde was Ahaziáh whē he began to reigne, & he reigned c one yere in Ieruſalém. and his mothers name was Athaliáh the daughter d of Omrí.

b Read Chap. 21,20

c That is, after the death of his father.

d She was Ahabs daughter, who was the ſonne of Omri.

3 He walked alſo in the waies of the houſe of Aháb: for his mother counſeled him to do wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, like the houſe of Ahab: for they were his e counſelers after the death of his father, to his deſtruction.

e He ſheweth, that it muſt nedes followe that the rulers are ſuche as their counſelers be, & that there can not be a good King, that ſuffreth wicked counſelers.

5 And he walked after their counſel, and went with Iehorám the ſonne of Aháb King of Iſraél to fight againſt Hazaél King of Arám at Ramóth Gilcád: and the Aramites ſmote Ioram.

6 ¶And he returned to be healed in Izreél, becauſe of the woūdes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramáh, when he fought with Hazaél King of Arám. Now Azariáh the ſonne of Iehorám King of Iudáh went downe to ſe Iehorám the ſonne of Aháb at Izreél, becauſe he was diſeaſed.

7 And the deſtruction of Ahaziáh f came of God in that he wēt to Iorám: for when he was come, he went forthe with Iehorám againſt Iehú the ſonne of Nimſhí, * whome the Lord had anointed to deſtroye the houſe of Aháb.

f Hereby we ſe how nothīg can come to any, but by Gods prouidēce & as he hathe appointed, & therefore he cauſeth all meanes to ſerue to his wil.

8 Therefore when Iehú g executed iudgement vpon the houſe of Aháb, and foūde the princes of Iudáh and the ſonnes of the brethren of Ahaziáh that waited on Ahaziáh, he ſlewe them alſo.

2 King.9,7.

g Or, toke vengeance.

9 And he ſoght Ahaziáh, and they caught hī where he was hid in Samaria, & broght him to Iehú, and ſlewe him, and buryed him, becauſe, ſaid they, he is the ſonne of h Iehoſhaphát, which ſoght the Lord with all his heart. So the houſe of Ahaziáh was not able to reteine the kingdome.

h This was ỹ iuſte plague of God, becauſe he ioyned him ſelfe ẇ Gods enemies: yet God to declare the worthines of Iehoſhaphát his grandfather, moued them to giue him ỹ honour of buryal

2.King 22, 1.

10 ¶*Therefore when Athaliáh the mother of Ahaziáh ſawe that her ſonne was dead, ſhe aroſe and i deſtroyed all the Kings ſede of the houſe of Iudáh.

i ſo the intēt ỹ there ſhulde be none to make title to the crowne, & ſo ſhe might vſurpe the gouernement.

11 But Iehoſhabeáth the daughter of the King, toke Ioáſh the ſonne of Ahaziáh, and ſtale him from among the Kings ſonnes, that ſhulde be ſleane, and put him and his nurce in the bed chamber: ſo Iehoſhabeáth the daughter of Kīg Iehorám the wife of Iehoiadā the Prieſt (for ſhe was was the ſiſter of Ahaziáh) hid him from Athaliáh: ſo ſhe ſlewe him not.

12 And he was with them hid in the [i] houſe of God ſix yeres, whiles Athaliáh reigned ouer the [k] land.

i Meaning, in the chamber, where the Prieſts and Leuites ſlept, & kept their courſes weekly in ỹ Tẽple k To wit, of Iudáh

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Ioáſh the ſonne of Ahaziáh is made King. 3 Athaliah is put to death 17 The Temple of Báal is deſtroyed. 19 Iehoiadá appointeth miniſters in the Temple.

1 AND* [a] in the ſeuente yere Iehoiadá waxed bolde, and toke the captaines of hundreths, to wit, Azariáh the ſonne of Ierohám, and Iſhmaél the ſonne of Iehohanán, and Azariáh the ſonne of Obéd, and Maaſiáh the ſonne of Adaiáh, and Eliſhaphát the ſonne of Zichrí in couenant with him.

2 And they went about in Iudáh, & gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudáh, and the chief fathers [b] of Iſraél: and they came to Ieruſalém.

3 And all the Congregacion made a couenant with the King in the houſe of God: & he ſaid vnto them, Beholde, the Kings ſonne muſte reigne, *as ỹ Lord hathe ſaid of the ſonnes of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye ſhal do, The third parte of you that come on the Sabbath of the Prieſts, and the Leuites, ſhalbe porters of the dores.

5 And another third parte towarde the Kings houſe, and another third parte at the *gate of the [c] fundacion, and all the people ſhalbe in ỹ courtes of the houſe of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the houſe of the Lord, ſaue the Prieſts, and the Leuites that miniſter: they ſhal go in, for they are holy: but all the people ſhal kepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites ſhal compaſſe the Kĩg round about, and euerie mã with his weapon in his hand, and he that entreth [d] into the houſe, ſhalbe ſleane, and be you with the King, when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 ¶So the Leuites and all Iudáh did according to all things that Iehoiadá the Prieſt had commanded, and toke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that [e] went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiadá the Prieſt did not diſcharge the courſes.

9 And Iehoiadá the Prieſt deliuered to the captaines of hundreths ſpeares, and ſhields, and bucklers which had bene King Dauids, and were in the houſe of God.

10 And he cauſed all the people to ſtãd (euerie man with his weapon in his hand) from the right ſide of the houſe, to the left ſide of the houſe by the altar and by the [f] houſe rounde about the King.

11 Then they broght out the Kings ſonne, and put vpon him the crowne and gaue him the [g] teſtimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiadá and his ſonnes anointed him, and ſaid, God ſaue the King.

12 ¶But when Athaliáh heard the noiſe of the people running and praiſing the King, ſhe came to the people into the houſe of the Lord.

13 And whẽ [h] ſhe loked, beholde, the King ſtode by his piller at the entring in, & the princes & the trumpets by the King, & all the people of the land reioyced, and blewe the trumpets, and the ſingers were with inſtruments of muſike, and they that colde ſing praiſe: then Athaliáh rent her clothes, and ſaid, [k] Treaſon, treaſon.

14 Then Iehoiadá the Prieſt broght out the captaines of hundreths that were gouerners of the hoſte, and ſaid vnto them, Haue her forthe of the ranges, & he that [i] followeth her, let him dye by ỹ ſworde: for the Prieſt had ſaid, Slea her not in the houſe of the Lord.

15 So they layed hands on her: and when ſhe was come to the entring of the horſe-gate by the Kings houſe, thei ſlewe her there.

16 ¶And Iehoiadá made a [k] couenant betwene him, and all the people, and the King, that they wolde be the Lords people.

17 And all the people went to the houſe of Báal, and [l] deſtroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and ſlewe [m] Mattán the Prieſt of Báal before the altars.

18 And Iehoiadá appointed officers for the houſe of the Lord, vnder the [o] hands of the Prieſts and Leuites, whome Dauid had diſtributed for the houſe of the Lord, to offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord, *as it is written in the Lawe of Moſes, with reioycing and ſinging by the appointement of Dauid.

19 And he ſet porters by the gates of the houſe of the Lord, that none that was vncleane in any thing, ſhulde entre in.

20 And he toke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouerners of the people, and all the people of the land, and he cauſed the King to come downe out of the houſe of the Lord, and they went through [n] the hie gate of the Kings houſe, and ſet the King vpon the throne of the kingdome.

21 Then all the people of the land reioyced, & the citie was quiet, [o] after that thei had ſleane Athaliáh with the ſworde.

CHAP. XXIIII.

4 Ioáſh repayreth the houſe of the Lord 17 After the death of Iehoiada he falleth to idolatrie 21 He ſtoneth to death Zecharíah the Prophet 25 Ioáſh is killed g That is, the boke of the Law, or as ſome read, they put vpon him his royal apparel.

h Or, ſawe the King ſtanding.

k Declaring her vile ſpudẽcie, which hauing vniuſtly, & by murther vſurped the crowne, wolde ſtil haue defeated the true poſſeſſor, and therefore called treaſon obediẽce, treaſon.

i To ioyne ẅ her partie, & to maintein her authoritie.

k That they wolde onely ſerue him and renounce all idolatrie

l According to their couenant made to the Lord

m As the Lord commanded in his Lawe bothe for the perſone and alſo the citie, Deu. 13,9 & 15

o Or, charge.

*Numb.28,3.

n Which was the principal gate, that the King might be ſene of all the people.

o For where a tyrant & an idolater reigneth, there can be no quietnes for ỹ plagues of God are euer amõg ſuch people.

of his owne seruáts 27 After him reigneth Amaziáh.

2.King. 12.1. 1 IOásh* was seuen yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yere in Ierusalém: and his mothers name was Zibiáh of Beer-shéba.

2 And Ioásh did vpightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of [a] Iehoiadá the Prieſt.

a Who was a faithful counſeler, and gouerned him by the worde of God.

3 And Iehoiadá [o] toke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

o Or, gaue him two wiues.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Ioásh minde, to renue the house of the Lord.

5 And he assembled the Prieſtes and the Leuites, & said to them, Go out vnto the cities of Iudáh, and gather of all [b] Israél money to repaire the house of your God, from yere to yere, and haste the thing: but the Leuites hasted not.

b He meaneth not the ten tribes, but onely the two tribes of Iudáh and Beniamin.

6 Therefore the King called Iehoiadá, the [c] chief, and said vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudáh and Ierusalém * the taxe of Moſés the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregacion of Israél, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

c For he was the hie Prieſt.

Exod. 30.13.

d The Scripture doeth reme her thus, because she was a cruel murtherer, and a blaſphemous idolatreſſe

7 For [d] wicked Athaliáh, & her children brake vp the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did thei bestowe vpon Baalím.

2.King. 12.9. 8 Therefore the King commanded, * and they made a cheſt, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord.

9 And they made proclamacion through Iudáh and Ierusalém, to bring vnto the Lord * the taxe of Moſés the seruant of God, laied vpon Israél in the wildernes.

Exod. 30.13.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and broght in, and cast into the cheſt, vntil they had finiſhed.

11 And when it was time, [e] thei broght the cheſt vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they sawe that there was muche siluer, then ỹ Kings Scribe (& one appointed by ỹ hie Prieſt) came and emptied the cheſt, and toke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

e Such as were faithfúl mé, whome the King had appointed for that matter.

12 And the King and [f] Iehoiadá gaue it to ſuche as did the labour & worke in the house of the Lord, and hyred maſons and carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it alſo to workers of yron and braſſe, to repaire the house of the Lord.

f Signifying, ỹ this thing was done by aduiſe and counſel, and not by any one mãs affection.

13 So the workemen wroght, and the worke "amended through their hands: and they reſtored the house of God to his ſtate, & ſtrengthened it.

" Ebr. a medicine was vpon the worke, meaning, it was repaired.

14 And when they had finiſhed it, they broght the reſt of the siluer before the King and Iehoiadá, and he made thereof [g] veſſels for the house of the Lord, euen veſſels to miniſter, bothe morters & incenſe cuppes, and veſſels of golde, and of siluer: and they offred burntoffrings in the house of the Lord continually all the dayes of Iehoiadá.

g For the wicked Kings his predecessours and Athaliah had destroied the veſſels of the temple, or turned the to ỹ vſe of their idoles.

15 ¶ But Iehoiadá waxed olde, and was ful of daies and dyed. An hundreth and thirtie yere olde was he when he dyed.

16 And thei buryed him in the citie of Dauid with the [h] Kings, becauſe he had done good in Israél, and toward God and his house.

h Signifying, that thei coúde not houour hi to muche, who had ſo excellently ſerued in ỹ worke of ỹ Lord, and in the affaires of ỹ cõmune wealth

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiadá, came the [i] princes of Iudáh, and did reuerẽce to the King, & the King hearkened vnto them.

i Which were flatterers, and knewe now ỹ the King was deſtitute of hi who did watche ouer him as a father, & therefore 18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudáh and Ierusalém, becauſe of this their treſpas.

broght him to moſte vile idolatrie

19 And God ſent Prophetes among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and thei [k] made proteſtation among them, but they wolde not heare.

k They toke heauẽ & earth and all creatures to witnes, that except they returned to the Lord, he wolde moſte grieuously puniſh their infidelitie & rebellion.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Zechariáh the ſonne of Iehoiadá the Prieſt, which ſtode [l] aboue the people, and ſaid vnto them, Thus ſaith God, Why transgreſſe ye the commandements of ỹ Lord. ſurely it ſhal not proſper: becauſe ye haue forſaken the Lord, he alſo hathe forſaken you.

l In a place aboue the people to the intẽt ỹ he might be heard

21 Then they conſpired againſt him and ſtoned him with ſtones at the [m] commandement of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

m There is no rage ſo cruel & beaſtely as of them whoſe heartes God hathe hardened, and ẅ delite more in ſuperſtition & idolatrie, then in the true ſeruice of God & pure ſimplicitie of his worde n Reuenge my death & require my blood at your hands or he ſpeaketh this by propheeie, becauſe he knewe that God wolde do it This Zacharie is alſo called the ſonne of Barachie Mat 23. 35, becauſe his progenitours were Iddó. Barachiáh, Iehoiadá. &c.

22 Thus Ioásh the King remembred not ỹ kindenes which Iehoiadá his father had done to him, but ſlewe his ſonne. And whẽ he dyed, he ſaid, The Lord [n] loke vpõ it, & require it.

23 ¶ And when the yere was out, the hoſte of Arám came vp againſt him, and thei came againſt Iudah and Ierusalém, & deſtroyed all the princes of the people frõ among the people, and ſent all the ſpoile of them vnto the King of Damaſcus.

24 Thogh the armie of Arám came with a ſmall company of mẽ, yet the Lord deliuered a very great armie into their hand, becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they [o] gaue ſentence againſt Ioásh.

o That is, reproued & chekked him, and handeled him rigorouſly

25 And when thei were departed from him, (for thei left him in great diſeaſes) his owne ſeruants conſpired againſt him for the blood of the [p] children of Iehoiada the Prieſt, and ſlewe him on his bed, and he dyed, and they buryed him in the citie of Dauid: but they buryed him not in p Meanig Zacharie ẅ was one of Iehoiadas ſonnes & a Prophet of the Lord.

the

407/1224

the ſepulchres of the Kings.

26 And these are they that conſpired againſt him, Zabád the ſõne of Shimráth an Ammonitesſe, and Iehozabád the ſonne of Shimrith a Moabitesſe.

q That is, concerning his ſonnes, &c r That is, the reparacion.

27 But q his ſonnes, and the ſumme of the taxe gathered by him, and the r fundacion of the houſe of God, beholde, they are writen in the ſtorie of the boke of the Kings. And Amaziáh his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXV.

3 Amaziáh putteth them to death which ſlewe his father 10 He ſendeth backe them of Iſrael 11 He ouercõmeth the Edomites. 14 He falleth to idolatrie 17 And Ioásh King of Iſrael ouercommeth Amaziáh. 27 He is ſlayne by a conſpiracie.

1 AMaziah was fiue and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, & he reigned nine and twentie yere in * Ieruſalém: & his mothers name was Iehoaddán, of Ieruſalém.

2 King 14.2.

a Meaning, in reſpect of his predeceſſers, albeit he had his imperfections.

2 And he did a vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfite heart.

3 And when the kingdome was eſtabliſhed vnto him, he ſlewe his ſeruants, that had ſlayne the King his father.

4 But he ſlewe not their children, but did, as it is writen in the Law, and in the boke of Moſés, where the Lord commanded, ſaying, * The fathers ſhal not dye for the b children, neither ſhal the children dye for the fathers, but euerie man ſhal dye for his owne ſinne.

Deut 24.16. 2 king.14.6. iere.31.30. ezek 18.20.

b That is, for ỹ faute & therefore ỹ childe is punished, except he be culpable of the ſame

5 ¶ And Amaziáh aſſembled Iudáh, and made them captaines ouer thouſands, & captaines ouer hundreths according to the houſes of their fathers, throughout all Iudáh and Beniamín: & he nombred them from c twentie yere olde and aboue, and founde among them three hundreth thouſand choſen mẽ, to go forthe to the warre, and to handle ſpeare and ſhield.

c So many as were able men to beare weapons & go to the warre

6 He hyred alſo an hundreth thouſand valiant men d out of Iſraél for an hundreth talents of ſiluer.

d That is, out of the ten tribes, which had ſeparated them ſelues before, bothe from God and their true King

7 But a man of God came to him, ſaying, O King, let not the armie of Iſraél go with thee: for the Lord is not e with Iſraél, neither with all the houſe of Ephráim.

e And therefore to thinke to haue helpe of thẽ, whome the Lord fauoreth not, is to caſt of the helpe of the Lord

8 If f not, go thou on, do it, make thy ſelfe ſtrõg to the battel, but God ſhal make thee fall before ỹ enemie: for God hathe power to helpe, and to caſt downe.

f If thou wilt not giue credit to my wordes

9 And Amaziah ſaid to the man of God, What ſhal we do then for the hundreth talents, ẅ I haue giuen to the hoſte of Iſraél? Then ỹ man of God anſwered, The Lord is able to g giue thee more then this.

g He sheweth that if we depẽd onely vpõ God, we ſhal not nede to be troubled with theſe worldlie reſpects: for he wil giue at all times that ẅ ſhalbe neceſſarie, if we obey his worde

10 So Amaziáh ſeparated thẽ, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephráim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly againſt Iudáh, and they returned to their places with great angre.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forthe his people, & went to the ſalt valley, and ſmote of the children of h Seír, ten thouſand.

h For the Idumeans where Dauid had brought to ſubiection, rebelled vnder Iehorám Iehoſhaphats ſonne

12 And other ten thouſand did the children of Iudáh take aliue, and caryed them to the toppe of a i rocke, and caſt thẽ downe from the toppe of the rocke, and they all burſt to pieces.

i In the 2. King 14.7 this roeke is called ỹ citie Sela

13 But the men of the k armie, which Amaziáh ſent away, that they ſhulde not go with his people to battel, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Bethhorón, and ſmote thre thouſand of them, and toke muche ſpoyle.

k That is, the hũdreth thouſand of Iſrael.

14 Now after that Amaziáh was come frõ the ſlaughter of the Edomites, he broght the gods of the children of Seír, and ſet them vp to be his gods, and l worſhiped them, and burned incenſe vnto them.

l Thus where he ſhulde haue giuen the praiſe to God for his benefites and great victorie, he fel from God, and did moſt vilely diſhonour hi.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziáh, and ſent vnto him a Prophet, which ſaid vnto him, Why haſt ỹ ſoght the gods of the people, which were not able to m deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

m He proueth that whatſoeuer can not ſaue hi ſelfe, nor his worſhipers, is no God but an idole

16 And as he talked with him, n he ſaid vnto him, Haue thei made thee ỹ Kings counſeler? ceaſe thou: why ſhulde they ſmite thee? And the Prophet ceaſed, but ſaid, I knowe that God hathe determined to deſtroye thee, becauſe thou haſt done this, and haſt not obeyed my counſel.

n Meaning, the King

o So hard it is for the carnal man to be admonished 17 ¶ Then Amaziáh King of Iudáh toke counſel, and ſent to Ioásh the ſonne of Iehoahaz, the ſonne of Iehú King of Iſraél, ſaying, Come, p let vs ſe one another in the face.

for his ſaute, that he contẽneth, mocketh & threateneth him that warneth him vea, imprisoneth him & putteth him to death, 18 But Ioásh King of Iſraél ſent to Amaziáh King of Iudáh, ſaying, The thiſtle that is in Lebanón, ſent to the cedre that is in Lebanón, ſaying, * Giue thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: & the wilde beaſt that was in Lebanón went & trode downe the thiſtle.

2 Chro 16,10 & 18,26 & 24, 21

p That is, let vs trye ỹ matter hand to hand for he was offended, that the armie of the Iſraelites, whome he had in wages, & dimiſſed by the counſel of the Prophet, had deſtroyed certeine of the cities of Iudah

19 Thou thinkeſt: lo, thou haſt ſmiten Edóm, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why doeſt thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou ſhuldeſt fall, and Iudáh with thee?

20 But Amaziáh wolde not heare: for q it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, becauſe they had ſoght the gods of Edóm.

2 King 14.9.

q Thus God oft times plagueth by thoſe meanes, wherein mẽ moſte truſt, to teache them to haue their recourſe onely to him and to ſhewe his iudgemẽt, moueth their hertes to follow ỹ which ſhalbe their deſtruction.

21 So Ioásh the King of Iſraél went vp: & he, and Amaziáh King of Iudáh ſawe one another in the face at Bethſhémeſh, which is in Iudáh.

22 And Iudáh was put to the worſe before Iſraél, and they fled euerie man to his tents.

23 But Ioáſh the King of Iſraél toke Amaziáh King of Iudáh, the ſonne of Ioáſh, the ſonne of Iehoaház in Beth-ſhémésh, & broght him to Ieruſalém, & brake downe the wall of Ieruſalém, from the gate of Ephráim vnto the corner gate, foure hundreth cubites.

24 And he toke all the golde and the ſiluer, and all the veſſels that were founde in the houſe of God with [r] Obéd Edóm, and in the treaſures of the Kings houſe, and the children that were in hoſtage, & returned to Samaria.

[r] Meaning, the ſucceſſers of Obéd Edóm: for the houſe bare the name of the chief father.

25 ¶ And Amaziáh the ſonne of Ioáſh King of Iudáh liued after the death of Ioáſh ſonne of Iehoaház King of Iſraél, fiftene yere.

26 Cócerning the reſt of the actes of Amaziáh firſt & laſt, are they not writen in the boke of the Kings of Iudáh and Iſraél?

27 Now after the time that Amaziáh did turne away from the Lord, * they wroght treaſon againſt him in Ieruſalém: & when he was fled to Lachíſh, thei ſét to Lachíſh after him, and ſlewe him there.

* 2. King. 14. 19

28 And thei broght him vpon horſes, & buryed him with his fathers in the citie of Iudáh.

CHAP. XXVI.

Vzziáh obeying the Lord, proſpereth in his enterpriſes. 16 He waxeth proude & vſurpeth the Prieſts office. 19 The Lord plageth him. 20 The Prieſts driue him out of the Temple, & exclude him out of the Lords houſe. 23 His buryal, and his ſucceſſour.

THen * all ỹ people of Iudáh toke [a] Vzziáh, which was ſixtene yere olde, & made him King in the ſtead of his father Amaziáh.

* 2. King. 14. 21

[a] Called alſo Azariáh.

2 He buylt [b] Elóth, & reſtored it to Iudáh after that the King ſlept with his fathers.

[b] He fortified it and made it ſtrong: this citie was alſo called Eláth & Elanón, nere to ỹ red Sea

3 * Sixtene yere olde was Vzziáh, when he began to reigne, and he reigned two and fiftie yere in Ieruſalém, and his mothers name was Iecoliáh of Ieruſalém.

* 2. King. 15. 2.

4 And he did vprightly in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziáh did.

5 And he ſoght God in the dayes of [c] Zechariáh (which vnderſtode the viſions of God) and when as [d] he ſoght the Lord, God made him to proſper.

[c] This was not that Zechariáh that was the ſonne of Iehoiadá, but ſome other Prophet of that name.

[d] For God neuer forſaketh any ỹ ſeketh vnto him, and therefore man is the cauſe of his owne deſtruction.

6 For he went forthe and foght againſt the Philiſtims, and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Iabnéh, and the wall of Aſhdód, and buylt cities in Aſhdód, and among the Philiſtims.

7 And God helped him againſt the Philiſtims, and againſt the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-báal and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue [e] giftes to Vzziáh, and his name ſpred to the entring in of Egypt: for he did moſte valiantly.

[e] That is, thei payed tribute in ſigne of ſubiection.

9 Moreouer Vzziáh buylt towres in Ieruſalém at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, & at the * [f] turning, and made them ſtrong.

* Nehem. 3. 19. & 24

[f] Where as ỹ walle or towre turneth.

10 And he buylt towres in the wildernes, and digged many [g] ciſternes: for he had muche cattel bothe in the valleis and plaines, plowmen, and dreſſers of vines in the mountaines, and in [g] Carmél: for he loued houſbandrie.

[g] Or, pittes.

[g] That is, in mount Carmel, or, as the worde ſignifieth, in the fruteful field it is alſo taken for a grene eare of corne, when it is ful, as Leui. 2, 14.

11 Vzziáh had alſo an hoſte of fighting mé that wét out to warre by bádes, according to the counte of their nomber vnder the hand of Ieiél the ſcribe, and Maaſeiáh the ruler, & vnder the hand of Hananiáh, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole [h] nomber of the chief of the families of the valiát men were two thouſand and ſix hundreth.

[h] Of ỹ chief officers of the Kings houſe, or of the captaines and ſergeants for warre.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, thre hundreth and ſeuen thouſand, and fiue hundreth that foght valiantly to helpe the King againſt the enemie.

14 And Vzziáh prepared them throughout all the hoſte, ſhields, and ſpeares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and ſtones to ſling.

15 He made alſo verie "artificial engins in Ieruſalém, to be vpon the towres and vpõ the corners, to ſhote arowes and great ſtones: and his name ſpred farre abroade, becauſe God did helpe him meruelouſly, til he was mightie.

"Ebr. engins by the inuention of an inuentour man.

16 ¶ But when he was ſtrong, his heart [i] was lift vp to his deſtruction: for he tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord his God, & went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incenſe vpon the altar of incenſe.

[i] Thus proſperite cauſeth men to truſt in them ſelues, & by forgetting him, which is the autor therof, procure their owne perdition.

17 And Azariáh ỹ Prieſt went in after him, and with him foure ſcore Prieſts of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withſtode Vzziáh the King, & ſaid vnto him, * It perteineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incenſe vnto the Lord, but to ỹ Prieſts the ſonnes of Aarón, that are conſecrated for to offer incenſe: [k] go for the of the Sanctuarie: for thou haſt trãſgreſſed, and thou ſhalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

* Numb. 18. 7.

[k] Thogh his zeale ſemed to be good & alſo his intencíõ, yet becauſe they were not gouerned by the worde of God, he did wickedly, and was therefore bothe iuſtely reſiſted & alſo punished.

19 Then Vzziáh was wroth, and had incenſe in his hand to burne it: & while he was wroth with the Prieſts, the leproſie roſe vp in his forehead before the Prieſts in the houſe of the Lord beſide the incéſe altar.

20 And whẽ Azariáh the chief Prieſt with all the Prieſts loked vpon him, beholde, he was leprous in his forehead, and they cauſed him haſtely to departe thence: and he was euen compelled to go out, becauſe the Lord had ſmiten him.

21 * And Vzziáh the King was a lepre vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a lepre in an [l] houſe aparte, becauſe he was cut of frõ the houſe of the Lord: & Iothám his ſonne

* 2. King. 15. 5.

[l] According to the cõmaundement of the Lord. Leui. 13. 46.

409/1224

ſonne ruled ouer the Kings houſe, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Vzziáh, firſt and laſt, did Iſaiáh the Prophet the ſonne of Amóz write.

23 So Vzziáh ſlept with his fathers, and they buryed him with his fathers in the field of the buryal, which perteined to the Kings: for they ſaid, He [m] is a lepre. And Iothám his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

[m] And therefore was buryed aparte in the ſame field, but not in the ſame ſepulchres with his predeceſſers

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Iothám reigneth, and ouercõmeth the Ammonites. 3 His reigne & death. 9 Aházhu ſonne reigneth in his ſtead.

1 IOtham *was fyue & twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned ſixtene yere in Ieruſalém, and his mothers name was Ieruſháh the daughter of Zadók.

*2.King.15.33

2 And he did vprightly in the ſight of the Lord according to all that his father Vzziáh did, ſaue that he entred not into the [a] Temple of the Lord, and the people did yet [b] corrupt their wayes.

3 He buylt the hye [c] gate of the houſe of the Lord, and he buylt very muche on the wall of the caſtel.

4 Moreouer he buylt cities in the mountaines of Iudáh, and in the foreſts he buylt palaces and towres.

5 And he foght with the King of the children of Ammón, and preuailed againſt them. And the children of Ammón gaue him the ſame yere an hundreth talents of ſiluer, and ten thouſand "measures of wheat, and ten thouſand of barly: this did the children of Ammón giue him "bothe in the ſecond yere and the third.

6 So Iothám became mightie [d] becauſe he directed his way before the Lord his God.

7 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Iothám, and all his warres and his wayes, lo, they are writen in the boke of the Kings of Iſraél, and Iudáh.

8 He was fyue and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned ſixtene yere in Ieruſalém.

9 And Iothám ſlept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the citie of Dauid: & Aház his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

[a] To writ, to offer incenſe againſt ỹ worde of God, which thing is ſpoke in the cõmendacion of Iothám

[b] They were not cleane purged from idolatrie

[c] Which was ſix ſcore cubites hie, & was for the height called Ophel: it was at ỹ Eaſt gate, and mention is made of it, chap 33.4

"Ebr. Corum.

"Or, yerely

[d] He ſheweth that all proſperitie cometh of God, who neuer faileth, when we put our truſt in him.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 Aház an idolater is giuen into the hands of the Syriãs, and the King of Iſrael. 9 The Prophet reproueth the Iſraelites crueltie. 18 Iudah is moleſted with enemies. 23. Aházmereaſeth his idolatrie. 26 His death and ſucceſſour.

2.King.16.2. *Or, predeceſſour

[a] He was an idolatre, like them.

[b] As the idolaters haue certeine chief idoles, who are as patrons: (as were theſe Baalim) ſo haue they others which are inferior & do repreſent ỹ great idols

1 AHáz *was twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and reigned ſixtene yere in Ieruſalém, and did not vprightly in the ſight of the Lord, like Dauid his "father.

2 But [a] he walked in the wayes of ỹ Kings of Iſraél and made euen molten images for [b] Baalím.

3 Moreouer he burnt incenſe in the valley of Ben-hinnóm, & 'burnt his ſonnes with fyre, after the abominacions of the heathẽ whome the Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſraél.

'Or, made them paſſe through the fyre as Chap. 33.6 Leu. 18.21.

4 He ſacrificed alſo and burnt incenſe in the hie places, and on hilles, and vnder euerie grene tree.

5 Wherefore the Lord his God deliuered him into the hand of the King of the Aramites, and they ſmote him, and toke of his, "manie priſoners, and broght them to Damaſcus: and he was alſo deliuered into the hand of the King of Iſraél, which ſmote him with a great ſlaughter.

"Ebr. a great captiuitie.

6 For [c] Pekah the ſonne of Remaliáh, ſlewe in Iudáh ſix ſcore thouſand in one day, all "valiant men, becauſe they had forſaken the Lord God of their fathers.

[c] Who was King of Iſraél

"Ebr. ſonnes of ſtrength

7 And Zichrí a "mightie man of Ephráim ſlewe Maaſeiáh the Kings ſonne, and Azrikam the gouernour of the houſe, and Elkanáh the ſeconde after the King.

"Or, tyrant.

8 And the children of Iſraél toke priſoners of their brethren, [d] two hundreth thouſand of women, ſonnes and daughters, and caryed away muche ſpoile of them, and broght the ſpoile to Samaria.

[d] Thus by the iuſte iudgemẽt of God Iſraél deſtroyed Iudáh.

9 ¶ But there was a Prophet of the Lords, (whoſe name was Odéd) and he went out before the hoſte that came to Samaria, & ſaid vnto them, Beholde, [e] becauſe the Lord God of your fathers is wroth with Iudáh, he hathe deliuered them into your hand, and ye haue ſlaine them in a rage, that reacheth vp to heauen.

[e] For they thoght they had ouercome them by their owne valiantnes, & did not conſider that God had deliuered them into their hãds, becauſe Iudáh had offended him

10 And now ye purpoſe to kepe vnder the children of Iudáh and Ieruſalém, as ſeruants and handmaides vnto you: but are not you ſuche, that [f] ſinnes are with you before the Lord your God?

[f] May not God alwel puniſh you for your ſinnes, as he hathe done theſe men for theirs, ſeing yours are greater?

11 Now therefore heare me, and deliuer the captaines againe, which ye haue takẽ priſoners of your brethren: for ỹ fearce wrath of the Lord is toward you.

12 Wherefore certeine of the chief of the children of [g] Ephráim, Azariáh the ſonne of Iehohanán, Berechiáh the ſonne of Meſhillemóth, and Iehizkiáh the ſonne of Shallúm, and Amaſá the ſonne of Hadlái, ſtode vp againſt them that came from the warre, [g] Which tribe was now greateſt, and had moſte auctoritie.

13 And ſaid vnto thẽ, Bring not in the captiues hether: for this ſhalbe [h] a ſinne vpon vs againſt the Lord: ye entẽd to adde more to our ſinnes and to our treſpaſſe, though our treſpaſſe be great, & the fearce wrath of God is againſt Iſraél.

[h] God will not ſuffre this ſinne, which we cõmit againſt him, to be vnpunished.

14 So the armie left the captiues and the ſpoile before the princes and all the Congregacion.

15 And the mẽ that were [i] named by name, roſe vp and toke the priſoners, and with the ſpoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and ſhod them, and gaue them meat and gaue them drinke, and [k] anoynted them, and caryed all that were feble of them vpon aſſes, & broght them to Ierichó the citie of Palmetrees to their [l] brethren: ſo they returned to Samaria.

[i] Whoſe names were rehearſed before, verſ. 12.

k Ether for their woundes or wearines.

l To them of the tribe of Iudáh.

16 ¶ At that time did King Aház ſend vnto the [m] Kings of Aſſhúr, to helpe him.

m To Tilgath Pilneéſer, and thoſe Kings ỹ were vnder his dominion, 2 King.16,7.

17 (For the Edomites came moreouer, and ſlewe of Iudáh, & caryed away captiues.

18 The Philiſtims alſo inuaded the cities in the lowe countrey, and towarde the South of Iudáh, and toke Bethſhémeſh and Aiálón, and Gederóth and Shochó, with the villages thereof, & Timnáh, with her villages, and Gimzo, with her villages, and they dwelt there.

19 For the Lord had humbled Iudáh, becauſe of Aház King of [n] Iſraél: for he had broght vengeance vpon Iudáh and had grieuouſly tranſgreſſed againſt the Lord) n He meaneth Iudáh, becauſe Ahaz forſoke the Lord and ſoght helpe of the infideles. read of Iſraél taken for Iudáh chap.15, 17.

20 And Tigláth Pilneéſer King of Aſſhúr came vnto him who troubled him and did not ſtrengthen him.

21 For Aház "toke a porcion * out of the houſe of the Lord and out of the Kings houſe and of the princes, and gaue vnto ỹ King of Aſſhúr: yet it helped him not.

"Ebr diuided. 2.King.16,8.

22 And in the time of his tribulacion did he yet treſpaſſe more againſt the Lord, (this is King Aház)

23 For he ſacrificed vnto the gods of Damaſcus, which [o] plagued him, & he ſaid, Becauſe the gods of the Kings of Arám helped them, I wil ſacrifice vnto them, & they wil [p] helpe me: yet they were his ruine, and of all [q] Iſraél.

o As he falſely ſuppoſed.

p Thus the wicked meaſure Gods fauour by proſperitie & aduerſitie: for if idolaters proſper, they make their idoles gods, not conſidering ỹ God puniſheth them oft times whome he loueth, & giueth his enemies good ſucceſſe for a time, whome afterwarde he wil deſtroye

q Or, Iudáh and Beniamin

24 And Aház gathered the veſſels of the houſe of God, and brake the veſſels of the houſe of God, and ſhut vp the dores of the houſe of the Lord, and made him altars in euerie corner of Ieruſalém.

25 And in euerie citie of Iudáh he made hie places, to burne incenſe vnto other gods, and prouoked to angre the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the reſt of his actes, and all his wayes firſt and laſt, beholde, they are writen in the boke of the Kings of Iudáh, and Iſraél.

27 And Aház ſlept with his fathers, & they buryed him in the citie [r] of Ieruſalém, but broght him not vnto the [s] ſepulchres of the Kings of Iſraél: and Hezekiáh his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

r Or, In Ieruſalem.

s They buryed him not in the citie of Dauid where were ỹ ſepulchres of the Kings.

CHAP. XXIX.

1. 3 Hezekiáh repareth the Temple and aduertiſeth the Leuites of the corruption of religion. 12 The Leuites prepare the Temple. 20 The King and his princes ſacrifice in the Temple. 25 The Leuites ſing praiſes. 31 The oblacion of the people.

1 HEzekiáh * began to reigne, when he was fyue and twentie yere olde, and reigned nine and twentie yere in Ieruſalém: and his mothers name was [t] Abiáh the daughter of Zechariáh.

*2.King 18,1.

t Or, Abi.

2 And he did vprightly in the ſight of the Lord, according to all that Dauid his father had done.

3 He opened the [a] dores of the houſe of the Lord in the firſt yere and in the [b] firſt moneth of his reigne, and repared them.

a Which Aház had ſhut vp, Chap 28, 24

4 And he broght in the Prieſts and the Leuites, and gathered them into the Eaſt ſtrete, b This is a notable example for all princes, firſt to eſtabliſh the pure religion of God, and to procure that ỹ Lord may be honored and ſerued aright.

5 And ſaid vnto them, Heare me, ye Leuites: ſanctifie now your ſelues, and ſanctifie the houſe of ỹ Lord God of your fathers, and carye forthe [c] the filthines out of the Sanctuarie.

c Meaning all the idoles, altars, groues & whatſoeuer was occupied in their ſeruice, and wherewith the Témple was polluted.

6 For our fathers haue treſpaſſed, and done euil in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forſaken him, and turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, & turned their backes.

7 They haue alſo ſhut the dores of the porche, and quenched the lampes, and haue nether burnt incenſe, nor offred burnt offrings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Iſraél,

8 [d] Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hathe bene on Iudáh and Ieruſalém: & he hathe made them a [e] ſcatering, a deſolacion, and an hiſsing, as ye ſe with your eyes.

d He ſheweth that the contempt of religion is the cauſe of all Gods plagues.

e Or, a nodding of the head and mockerie.

9 For lo, our fathers are failé by ỹ ſworde, and our ſonnes, & our daughters, and our wiues are in captiuitie for the ſame cauſe.

10 Now "I purpoſe to make a couenant with the Lord God of Iſraél, that he may [e] turne away his fearce wrath from vs.

"Ebr it is in mine heart

e He proueth by the iudgements of God vpon thoſe ỹ haue contemned his worde, that there is no way to auoyde his plagues, but by cõforming the ſelues to his wil.

11 Now my ſonnes, be not deceiued: for the Lord hathe * choſen you to ſtand before him, to ſerue him, and to be his miniſters, and to burne incenſe.

Nom.18,6.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites aroſe, Maháth the ſonne of Amaſhái, and Ioél the ſonne of Azariáh of the ſonnes of the Kohathites and of the ſonnes of Merari, Kiſh the ſonne of Abdí, and Azariáh the ſonne of Iehalelél: and of the Gerſhonites, Ioáh the ſonne of Zimmáh, and Edén the ſonne of Ioáh:

13 And of the ſonnes of Elizaphán, Shimrí, and Iehiél: & of the ſonnes of Aſáph, Zechariáh, and Mattaniáh:

14 And of the ſonnes of Hemán, Iehiél, and Shimeí: and of the ſonnes of Ieduthún, Shemaiáh and Vzziél.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and ſanctified them ſelues & came according to the commandement of the King, and [f] by the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanſe the houſe of the Lord.

f Or, concerning the thinges of the Lord.

16 And

16 And the Prieſts went into the inner partes of the houſe of the Lord, to [f] clenſe it, & broght out all the vnclennes that they founde in the Temple of the Lord, into the courte of the houſe of the Lord: and the Leuites toke it, to carie it out vnto the broke Kidrón.

17 They began the firſt day of the [g] firſt moneth to ſanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porche of ỹ Lord: ſo they ſanctified the houſe of the Lord in eight dayes, and in the ſixtēte day of the firſt moneth they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiáh the King, and ſaid, We haue clenſed all the houſe of the Lord and the altar of burnt offring, with all the veſſels thereof, & the [*] ſhewbread table, with all the veſſels thereof:

19 And all the veſſels which King Aház had caſt aſide when he reigned, and tranſgreſſed, haue we prepared and ſanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiáh the King [h] roſe early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the houſe of the Lord.

21 And they broght ſeuen bullockes, and ſeuen rams, and ſeuen lambes, and ſeuen hegoates, for a * ſin offring for the kingdome, and for the ſanctuarie, and for Iudáh. And he commanded the Prieſts the ſonnes of Aarón, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they ſlewe the bullockes, and ỹ Prieſts receiued the blood, & [i] ſprinkled it vpon the altar: they ſlewe alſo the rams & ſprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they ſlewe the lambes, and they ſprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they broght the hegoates for the ſinne offring before the King & the Cōgregacion, [k] and they laied their hands vpon them.

24 And the Prieſts ſlewe them, & with the blood of them they clēſed the altar to reconcile all Iſraél: for the King had commanded for all Iſraél the burnt offring & the ſinne offring.

25 He appointed alſo the Leuites in the houſe of the Lord with cymbales, with violes, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, and Nathán the Prophet: for the [l] commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hād of his Propheţes.

26 And the Leuites ſtode with the inſtruments of Dauid, and the Prieſts with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiáh commanded to offer the burnt offring vpon the altar: & when the burnt offring begā, the ſong of the [m] Lord began with the trumpets, and the inſtruments [n] of Dauid King of Iſraél.

28 And all the Congregacion worſhiped, ſinging a ſong, and the blewe the trumpets: all this continued vntil the burnt offring was finiſhed.

29 And when they had made an end of offring, the King and all that were preſent with him, bowed themſelues, and worſhiped.

30 ¶ Thē Hezekiáh the King & the princes commanded the Leuites to praiſe the Lord with the [o] wordes of Dauid, and of Aſáph the Seer. ſo they praiſed with ioye, and they bowed themſelues, and worſhiped.

31 And Hezekiáh ſpake, and ſaid, Now ye haue [p] conſecrate your ſelues to the Lord: come nere and bring the ſacrifices and offrings of praiſe into the houſe of the Lord. And the Congregacion broght ſacrifices, and offrings of praiſes, and euerie man that was willing in heart, offred burnt offrings.

32 And the nombet of the burnt offrings, which the Congregacion broght, was ſeuētie bullockes, an hundreth rammes, and two hundreth lambes: all theſe were for a burnt offring to the Lord:

33 And for [q] ſanctification ſix hundreth bullockes, and thre thouſand ſhepe.

34 But the Prieſts were to fewe, & were not able to flay all the burnt offrings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, til they had ended the worke, & vntil other Prieſts were ſanctified: for the Leuites were [r] more vpright in heart to ſanctifie them ſelues, then the Prieſts.

35 And alſo the burnt offrings were many with the * fat of the peace offrings and the drinke offrings for the burnt offring. ſo the ſeruice of the houſe of the Lord was ſet in order.

36 Then Hezekiáh reioyced & all the people, that God had made the people ſo [s] ready: for the thing was done ſodenly.

CHAP. XXX.

1. 13 The keping of the Paſſeouer by the Kings commādement. 6 He exhorteth Iſrael to turne to the Lord. 18 He praieth for the people 24 His oblation and the princes. 27 The Leuites bleſſe the people

1 AND Hezekiah ſent to all Iſraél, and Iudáh, and alſo wrote letters to [a] Ephráim and Manaſſéh, that thei ſhulde come to the houſe of the Lord at Ieruſalém, to kepe the Paſſeouer vnto the Lord God of Iſraél.

2 And the King and his princes and all the Congregacion had taken counſel in Ieruſalém to kepe the Paſſeouer in the [b] ſecōde moneth.

3 For thei colde not kepe it at this time, becauſe there were not Prieſts ynow ſanctified, nether was the people gathered to Ieruſalém.

f Frō the pollutions and filth that Aház had broght in g Which conteined parte of Marche and parte of April.

*Or, table where the bread was ſet in ordre

h By this maner of ſpeache the Ebrewes meane a certeine diligēce & ſpede to do a thing, & whē there is no delay Leui. 4, 14.

i For without ſprinkling of blood nothing colde be ſanctified, Ebr 9, 21 exod 24, 8

k That is, the King and the Elders, as Leu 4, 15 for they that offred a ſinne offring, muſt lay their hands vpon it, to ſignifie that they had deſerued that death, and alſo that they did conſecrat it to God to be thereby ſanctified, Exod 29, 10 2. Chro 16, 4.

l This thing was not appointed of mā, but it was the commandemēt of God

m The Pſalme which Dauid had appointed to be ſung for thākes giuing, n Which Dauid had appointed to praiſe ỹ Lord with o With that pſalme whereof mencion is made 1 Chro 16, 8 p Ebr filled your hande

q That is, for the holy offrings.

r Meanig, were more zealous to ſet forward the religion. Leu. 3, 3.

s He ſheweth that religion can not procede, except God touche the heart of the people.

a Meaning all Iſrael whome Tilgáth Pilneſar had not taken away into the captiuitie, 2 King 15, 29.

b Though thei ought to haue done it in the firſt moneth, as Exod 12, 18 nom 9, 3, yet if any were not cleane, or els had along iorney, thei might differ it vnto the ſecōde moneth, as Nom. 9, 10.

4 And the thing pleaſed the King, and all the Congregacion.

5 And they decreed to make proclamacion throughout all Iſraél from [c] Beerſhéba euen to Dan, that they ſhulde come to kepe the Paſſeouer vnto the Lord God of Iſaél at Ieruſalém: for they had not done it of a great time, [d] as it was written.

6 ¶So the poſtes went with letters by the commiſsion of the King, and his princes, throughout all Iſraél and Iudáh, and with the commandement of the King, ſaying, Ye childrē of Iſraél, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abrahám, Iznák, and Iſaél, and [e] he wil returne to the remnant that are eſcaped of you, out of the hands of the Kings of Aſſhúr.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which treſpaſſed againſt the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them deſolate, as ye ſe.

8 Be not ye now ſtifnecked like your fathers, but [f] giue the hād to the Lord & come into his Sāctuarie, which he hathe ſanctified for euer, and ſerue the Lord your God, and the fearcenes of his wrath ſhal turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto ỹ Lord, your brethren and your children ſhal finde mercie before them that led them captiues, and they ſhal [g] returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and wil not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶So the poſtes went from citie to citie through the land of Ephráim and Manaſſéh, euen vnto Zebulún: but they [h] laughed them to ſcorne, and mocked them.

11 Ne ertheles diuers of Aſhér, and Manaſſéh, and of Zebulún ſubmitted them ſelues and came to Ieruſalém.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudáh, ſo that he gaue them one [i] heart to do the cōmandemēt of the King, and of the rulers, according to the worde of the Lord.

13 And there aſſembled to Ieruſalém muche people, to kepe the feaſt of ỹ vnleauened bread in the ſeconde moneth, a very great aſſemblie.

14 ¶And they aroſe, & toke away the [k] altars that were in Ieruſalém: and all thoſe for incenſe toke they away, and caſt them into the broke Kidrón.

15 Afterward they ſlewe the Paſſeouer the fourtenth day of the ſeconde moneth: and the Prieſts and Leuites were [l] aſhamed, and ſanctified them ſelues, and broght the burnt offrings into the houſe of the Lord.

16 And they ſtode in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moſés the man of God: and the Prieſts ſprinkled the [m] blood, receiued of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Becauſe there were manie in the Cōgregacion that were not ſanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of ỹ Paſſeouer for all that were not cleane, to ſanctifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephráim, & Manaſſéh, Iſſachár & Zebulún had not clenſed them ſelues, yet did eat the Paſſeouer, but not as it was written: wherefore Hezekiáh prayed for them, ſaying, The [n] good Lord be merciful toward him, 19 That prepareth his whole heart to ſeke ỹ Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not clenſed, according to the purificacion of the Sanctuarie.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiáh, & [o] healed the people.

21 And the children of Iſraél that were preſent at Ieruſalém, kept the feaſt of the vnleauened bread ſeuen dayes w̄ great ioye, and the Leuites, and the Prieſts praiſed the Lord, day by day, ſinging with lowde inſtruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiáh [p]ſpake comfortably vnto all ỹ Leuites that had good knowledge to ſing vnto the Lord: & they did eat in that feaſt ſeuen dayes, & offred peace offrings, & praiſed the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole aſſemblie toke counſel to kepe it other ſeuen dayes. So they kept it ſeuen dayes with ioye.

24 For Hezekiáh King of Iudáh had giuen to the Congregacion a [p] thouſand bullockes, and ſeuen thouſand ſhepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregacion a thouſand bullockes, and ten thouſand ſhepe: and many Prieſts were ſanctified.

25 And all the Congregacio of Iudáh reioyced with the Prieſts and the Leuites, & all the Congregacion that came out of Iſraél, and the ſtrangers that came out of the land of Iſraél, & that dwelt in Iudáh.

26 So there was great ioye in Ieruſalém: for ſince the time of Salomón the ſonne of Dauid King of Iſraél there was not the like thing in Ieruſalém.

27 Then the Prieſts and the Leuites aroſe, and [q] bleſſed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vn to heauen, to his holy habitacion.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 The people deſtroye idolatrie. 2 Hezekiáh appointeth Prieſts & Leuites. 4 And prouideth for their liuing. 13 He ordeneth ouerſeers to diſtribute to euerie one his portion.

1 AND whē all theſe thīgs were finiſhed, all Iſraél that were founde in ỹ cities of Iudáh, went out & [a] brake the images, & cut downe the groues, & brake downe the hie places, and the altars through out all Iudáh & Beniamín, in Ephráim alſo and Manaſſéh,

---

c Frō one end of the land to ỹ other, North and South

d In ſuche ſort and perfectiō, as God had appointed.

e He wil haue compaſſion on them, and preſerue them.

f Submit your ſelues to the Lord, and rebelle no more.

g God wil not onely preſerue you, but through your repentance reſtore your brethren, which for their ſinnes he gaue into the handes of the enemies.

h Though the wicked mocke at the ſeruāts of God, by whome he calleth thē to repētāce, 2 Chron 29,14, yet the worde ceaſeth not to fructifie in the harts of Gods children.

i He ſheweth the cauſe why ſome obey & ſome mock at Gods calling, euen becauſe his Spirit is with the one ſort & not with their heart, & the other are left to themſelues.

k Which declareth that we muſt put away thoſe thīngs wherewith God is offended, before we can ſerue him aright.

l Seing their owne negligēce (who ſhulde haue bene moſte prompt) & the readines of the people, Chap 29,36

m To wit, of the lambe of the Paſſeouer.

n He knewe, ỹ faith and ſincerite of heart was more agreable to God, then the obſeruatiō of theſe ceremonies, & therefore he praied vnto God to pardon this faute vnto the people, which did not offend of malice but of ignorance o That is, did accept thē as purified.

p Ebr ſpake to the heart.

p This great liberalitie declareth how Kings, princes & all thy, to whome God hathe giuen wherewith, ought to be moſte ready to beſtowe it in ſetting forthe of Gods glorie.

q According to that which is written Nō. 6,23, whē they ſhulde diſmiſſe the people.

a According to the cōmandemēt of the Lord. Deut 7. 25 10ſh 7,1. 2.mac 12,40.

Manaſſéh, vntil they had made an end: afterward all the [b] childrē of Iſraél returned euerie mā to his poſſeſsion, into their owne cities.

[b] That is, all they which came to the Paſſouer.

2 And Hezekiáh appointed the courſes of the Prieſts and Leuites by their turnes, euerie man according to his office, both the Prieſts & Leuites, for the burnt offring & peace offrings, to miniſter & to giue thankes, and to praiſe in the gates of the [c] tents of the Lord.

[c] That is, in ſ̄ Temple where they aſſembled as in a tent

3 (And the Kings porcion was of his owne ſubſtance for the burnt offrings, euen for the burnt offrigs of the morning & of the euening, and the burnt offrings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moones, & for the ſolemne feaſtes, * as it is writen in the Law of the Lord)

Num. 28. 3. & 9.

4 He commāded alſo the people that dwelt in Ieruſalém, to giue a [d] parte to the Prieſts, and Leuites, that they might be [e] encouraged in the Law of the Lord.

[d] The tithes & firſt frutes for the maintenāce of ſ̄ Prieſts and Leuites

[e] That their mindes might not be intangled with prouiſion of wordely thigs but ſ̄ they might wholy & chearefully ſerue the Lord

5 ¶ And whē the commāndem nt was ſpred, the children of Iſraél brought abundance of firſt frutes, of corne, wine, & oyle, & honie, & of all the increaſe of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

Vnpublished

6 And the children of Iſraél & Iudáh that dwelt in ſ̄ cities of Iudah, they alſo brought the tithes of bullockes and ſhepe, and the holy tithes [f] w̄ were cōſecrate vnto ſ̄ Lord their God, & laid them on s many heapes.

[f] Which they had dedicate to the Lord by a vow

7 In the third moneth they began to laye the fundacion of the heapes, and finiſhed them in the ſeuent moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiáh & the princes came, and ſawe the heapes, they [h] bleſſed the Lord and his people Iſraél.

[g] For the relief of the Prieſts, Leuites, widowes, pupill s, fatherleſſe, ſtrangers & ſuche as were in neceſsitie

[h] They praiſed the Lord, and prayed for all proſperitie to his people

9 And Hezekiáh queſtioned w̄ the Prieſts and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariáh ſ̄ chief Prieſt of the houſe of Zadók anſwered him, & ſaid, Since the people begā to bring the offrings into the houſe of the Lord, we haue eaten & haue bene ſatiſficed, & there is left in abū dāce: for the Lord hathe bleſſed his people, and this abundance that is left.

[i] He ſheweth that this plēteous liberalitie is expedient for ſ̄ maintenance of the miniſters, and that God therefore proſpereth his people, & increaſeth by his bleſsing that which is giuē.

11 ¶ And Hezekiáh cōmanded to prepare chambers in the houſe of the Lord: and they prepared them,

12 And caryed in the firſt frutes, and the tithes, & the dedicate things faithfully: & ouer thē was Conaniáh the Leuite, ſ̄ chief, and Shimeí his brother the ſeconde.

13 And Iehiél, and Azaziáh, & Náhath, & Aſahél, & Ierimóth, and Iozabád, and Eliél, and Iſmachiáh, and Máhath, and Benaiáh were ouerſeers "by the appointement of Conaniáh, and Shimeí his brother, & by the cōmandement of Hezekiáh the King, and of Azariáh the chief of the houſe of God.

"Ebr. by the hand.

14 And Koré the ſōne of Imnáh the Leuite porter toward the Eaſt, was ouer the things ſ̄ were willingly offred vnto God, to diſtribute the oblations of the Lord, & the holy things that were conſecrate.

15 And at his hand were Edén, & Miniamín, & Ieſhúa, & Shemaiah, Amariáh, and Shechaniáh, in the cities of the Prieſts, to diſtribute with fidelitie to their brethrē by courſes, bothe to the great and ſmall,

16 Their daily porcion: beſide their generacion being males [k] from thre yer olde and aboue, euen to all that entred into the houſe of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courſes:

[k] Who had alſo a portion & alowance in this diſtribution.

17 Bothe to the generacio of the Prieſts after the houſe of their fathers, & to the Leuites from twentie yere old & aboue, according to their charge in their courſes:

18 And to the generacion of all their children, their wiues, & their ſonnes and their daughters throughout all the Congregacion: for by their [l] fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

[l] Meanīg, that ether by the faithful diſtributions of the officers, vnto whō one had their parte in the thigs that were offred, or els that their wiues & chilrē were relieued, becauſe the Leuites were faithful in their office, and ſo depended on them.

19 Alſo to the ſonnes of Aarón, the Prieſts, which were in ſ̄ fields & ſuburbes of their cities, in euerie citie the men that were appointed by names, ſhulde giue porcions to all the males of the Prieſts, and to all the generacion of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiáh throughout all Iudáh, and did wel, and vprightly, & truely before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he began for the ſeruice of the houſe of God, bothe in the Law and in the commandements, to ſéke his God, he did it with all his heart, & proſpered.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Sanneherib inuadeth Iudáh. 3 Hezekiáh prepareth for the warre 7 He exhorteth the people to put their truſt in the Lord 9 Sanneherib blaſphemeth God. 20 Hezekiah prayeth 21 The Angel deſtroyeth the Aſſyrians, and the King is ſlaine 25 Hezekiah is not thankful toward the Lord. 33 His death.

1 AFter theſe things faithfully deſcribed, *Sanneherib King of Aſſhúr came and entred into Iudáh, and beſieged the ſtrōg cities, & thoght to "winne them for him ſelfe.

2 Kin 18. 13. Iſai 36. 1. Eccleſ. 48. 20. "Ebr. breake them vp.

2 When Hezekiáh ſawe that Sannherib was come, & that his "purpoſe was to fight againſt Ieruſalém, "Ebr. face.

3 Then he tok counſel with his princes and his nobles, to ſtoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

4 So many of the people aſſembled them ſelues, and ſtopt all the fountaines, and the riuer that ran through the middes of the countrey, ſaying, Why ſhulde the Kings of Aſſhúr come, and finde muche water?

5 "And he toke courage, and buylt all the broken wall, and made vp the towres, & another wall without, & repared [a] Millo in the [b] citie of Dauid, and made many [c] dartes and shields.

6 And he set captaines of warre ouer the people and assembled them to him in the broad place of the gate of the citie, and "spake comfortably vnto them, saying,

7 Be strong and courageous: feare not, neither be afraied for the King of Asshúr, neither for all the multitude that is with him: for there be mo with vs, then is with him.

8 With him is an [d] arme of flesh, but with vs is the [e] Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiáh King of Iudáh.

9 [f]After this, did Sanneherib King of Asshúr send his seruants to Ierusalém (while he was [g]against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiáh King of Iudáh and vnto all Iudáh that were at Ierusalém, saying,

10 Thus saith Sanneherib the King of Asshúr, Wherein do ye trust, that ye wil remaine in Ierusalém, during the siege?

11 Doeth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine & by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shal deliuer vs out of the hand of the King of Asshúr?

12 Hathe not ỹ same Hezekiáh take awaie his hie places and his altars and commãded Iudáh and Ierusalém, saying, Ye shal worship before one altar, and burne incẽse vpon it?

13 Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countreies? Were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the [h] gods of those nacions (that my fathers haue destroied) that colde deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God shulde be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

15 Now therefore let not Hezekiáh deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sorte, ne ther beléue ye him: for none of all ỹ gods of any nacion or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of [i] mine hand and out of ỹ hand of my fathers: how muche lesse shal your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, & against his [k] seruant Hezekiáh.

17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israél and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nacions of other countreis colde not deliuer their people out of mine hand, so shal not the God of Hezekiáh deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they [l] cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes speache vnto the people of Ierusalém that were on the wall, to feare thẽ and to astonish them, that they might take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalém, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the [m] workes of mans hands, 20 But Hezekiáh the King, and the Prophet Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz [n] praied against this and cryed to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroied all the valiant men, and the prices and [o] captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshúr: so he returned "with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came forthe of his owne bowels, slewe him there with the sworde.

22 So the Lord saued Hezekiáh and the inhabitants of Ierusalém from the hand of Sanneherib King of Asshúr, and from the hand of all other, and [p] maintened thẽ on euerie side.

23 And many broght offrings vnto ỹ Lord to Ierusalém, and presents to Hezekiáh King of Iudah, so that he was [q] magnified in the sight of all nacions from thence forthe.

24 [r]In those dayes Hezekiáh was sicke vnto the death, and praied vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him [s] a signe.

25 But Hezekiáh did not rendre accordíg to the rewarde bestowed vpon him: for his heart [t] was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, and vpon Iudáh and Ierusalém.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiáh humbled him selfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalém, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the daies of Hezekiáh.

27 Hezekiáh also had excedíg muche riches & honour, & he gate him treasures of siluer, & of golde, and of precious stones, & of swete odours, and of shields, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of store houses for the increase of wheat, and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beastes, and [u] rowes for the [x] stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of shepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceding muche.

30 This same Hezekiáh also stopped the vpper water springs of [t] Gihón, and led thẽ streight vnderneth toward ỹ citie of Dauid Westward. so Hezekiáh prospered in all his workes.

31 But

"Ebr. he was strengthened a He made a double wall

b Read 2 Sam 5.9
c Some read, swordes or daggers.

"Ebr. spake to their heart.

d That is, the power of man e This declareth that Ezekiáh did euer put his trust in God, and yet made him selfe strong and vsed lawful meanes, lest he shulde seme to tempt God.

f 2 Kin. 18, 17.
g While he be sieged Lachish.

h This ỹ wicked put no difference betwene true religion & false, God & idoles: for Hezekiáh onely destroied idolatrie & placed true religion thus ỹ Papists slander the seruãts of God for when they destroie idolatrie, they say that they abolish religion

i This is his blasphemie, ỹ he wil compare the liuig God to vile idoles

k When man hathe prosperitie, he swelleth in pride and thinketh him selfe able to resist and ouercome euẽ God him selfe. Herein wese that when ỹ wicked speake euil of the seruants of God, they care not to blaspheme God him self. for if they feared God, they wolde loue his seruants.

l Their wordes are writẽ 2 King 18, 3.

m Which were inuẽted, made and autorzed by man n This sheweth what is ỹ best refuge in all troubles & dangers.

o To the nomber of an hundreth fourescore and fiue thousand, as 2 King 19, 35.

"Ebr. with shame of face.

p Meanig, Adramélech, and Sharézer his sonnes.

*Or, governed.

q This after trouble, God sendeth cõfort to all them ỹ patiẽtly waite on him, and cõstantly put their trust in his mercies

r 2 King 20, 1. Isa. 38, 1 s To confirme his faith in Gods promes, who declared so him by his Prophet that his life shulde be prolonged fifteene yere

t He was lifted vp with ỹ pride of his victorie & treasures & shewed them for an ostentation to the ambassadours of Babylon.

*Or, garges, and partitions.

*Or, packes.

t Which also was called Siloe, whereof mencion is made Isa 8, 6. Ioh 9, 7.

415/1224

31 But becauſe of the ambaſſadours of the princes of Babél, which ſent vnto him to enquire of the wondre that was done in the land, God left him to [u] trye him, & to knowe all that was in his heart.

u Here we ſe the cauſe, why the faithful are tempted, wᵗ is to trye whether they haue faith or no, and that they may fele the preſence of God, who ſuffreth them not to be ouercome by tentacions, but in their weakenes miniſtreth ſtrength.

32 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Hezekiáh, and his goodnes, beholde, they are writen in the viſion of Iſhaiáh the Prophet, the ſonne of Amóz, in the boke of the Kings of Iudáh and Iſraél.

33 So Hezekiáh ſlept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the higheſt ſepulchre of the ſonnes of Dauid: and all Iudáh and the inhabitants of Ieruſalém did him honour at his death. and Manaſséh his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

3 Manaſséh an idolater 9 He cauſeth Iudáh to erre. 11 He is led away priſoner into Babylón. 12 He praieth to the Lord, and is deliuered. 14 He abolisheth idolatrie, 16 And ſetteth vp true religion 20 He dyeth and Amon his ſonne ſucceedeth, 24 Whome his owne ſeruants ſlay.

2.King.21.1. 1 MAnaſſéh was twelue yere olde, * whē he began to reigne, and he reigned fiue and fiftie yere in Ieruſalém:

2 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, like the abominacions of the heathen, Deut.18.9. * whome the Lord had caſt out before the children of Iſraél.

3 For he went backe and buylt the hie places, 2 King.18.4. Iere 32.34. * which Hezekiáh his father had broken downe: * and he ſet vp altars for Baalím, and made groues, and worſhiped all the hoſte of the heauen, and ſerued them.

4 Alſo he buylt altars in the houſe of the 2.King 21.5. Lord, whereof the Lord had ſaid, * In Ieruſalém ſhal my Name be for euer.

5 And he buylt altars for all the hoſte of the heauē in the two courtes of the houſe of the Lord.

a Read 2 King 16.3. 6 [a] And he cauſed his ſonnes to paſſe through ỹ fyre in the valley of Ben-hinnóm: he gaue him ſelfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to ſorcerie, and he vſed them that had familiar ſpirits, and ſothesayers: he did verie muche euil in ỹ ſight of the Lord to angre him.

7 He put alſo the karued image, which he had made, in the houſe of God: whereof God had ſaid to Dauid and to Salomón 2 King 8.29. & 9.3.2 king 7.10. & 21.7. his ſonne, * In this houſe & in Ieruſalém, which I haue choſen before all the tribes of Iſraél, wil I put my Name for euer,

2.Sam.7.10. 8 Nether wil * I make the foote of Iſraél to remoue any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, ſo that they take hede, & do all that I haue commanded them, according to the Law and b By the charge giuē to Moſes. ſtatutes and iudgements by the [b] hand of Moſés.

9 So Manaſséh made Iudáh and the inhabitáts of Ieruſalém to erre, & to do worſe then the heathen, whome the Lord had deſtroyed before the children of Iſraél.

10 ¶ And the Lord ſpake [c] to Manaſséh & to his people, but they wolde not regarde.

c Meaning, by his Prophetes, but their hearts were not touched to beleue & repent without the ẅ the preaching of the worde taketh no place.

11 Wherefore the Lord broght vpon them the captaines of the hoſte of the King of Aſſhúr, which toke Manaſséh & put him in fetters, and bounde him in chaines, and caryed him to Babél.

12 And when he was in tribulaciō, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled him ſelfe greatly before ỹ God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him. and God was [d] entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and broght him againe to Ieruſalém into his kingdome: thē Manaſséh knewe that the Lord was God.

d Thus affliciō gaueth vnderſtāding: for he that hated God in his proſperitie, now in his miſerie he ſeketh vnto him

14 Now after this he buylt a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the Weſtſide of [e] Gihón in the valley, euē at the entrie of the fiſh gate, & compaſſed about [f] Ophél, and raiſed it very hie, and put captaines of warre in all the ſtrong cities of Iudáh.

e Read Chap. 32.30.
f Read Chap. 27.3.

15 And he toke away the ſtrange gods and the image out of the houſe of the Lord, and all the altars that he had buylt in the mount of the houſe of the Lord, and in Ieruſalém, and caſt them out of the citie.

16 Alſo he prepared the [g] altar of ỹ Lord, and ſacrificed thereon peace offrings, and of thankes, and commanded Iudáh to ſerue the Lord God of Iſraél.

g Which Salomón had cauſed to be made.

17 Neuertheles the people did ſacrifice ſtil in the hie places, but vnto ỹ [h] Lord their God.

h Thus by ignorance they were deceiued thinking it nothing to kepe the altars, ſo that they worſhiped God: but it is idolatrie to worſhip God ante otherwiſe then he hathe appointed 18 ¶ Concerning the reſt of the actes of Manaſséh, and his [i] prayer vnto his God, and the wordes of the Seers, that ſpake to him in the Name of the Lord God of Iſraél, beholde, they are writen in the boke of the Kings of Iſraél.

i Which albeit that it is not contemned in the Ebrew, yet becauſe it is here mēcioned & is writē in the Greke, we haue placed it in ỹ end of this boke.

19 And his prayer and how God was intreated of him, and all his ſinne, and his treſpaſſe, and the places wherein he buylt hie places, and ſet groues and images (before he was humbled) beholde, they are writen in the boke of [*] the Seers.

*Or, Hozai.

20 So Manaſséh ſlept with his fathers, and they buryed him in his owne [k] houſe: and Amón his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

k Becauſe he had ſo horribly offended ageinſt ỹ Lord, they did not burye him in ỹ ſepulchres of the Kings, but in the garden of the Kings houſe.

21 ¶ Amón was two and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yere in Ieruſalém.

22 But he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, as did Manaſséh his father. for Amón ſacrificed to all the images, which Manaſséh his father had made, and ſerued them,

23 And he humbled not him ſelf before the Lord, as Manaſſeh his father had humbled him ſelfe: but this Amón treſpaſſed more and more.

24 And his ſeruants * conſpired againſt him, and ſlewe him in his owne houſe. 2.King.21.23

25 But the people of the land slewe all thē that had conspired against King Amón: and the people of the land made Iosiáh his sonne King in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Iosiáh destroyeth the idoles, 8 And restoreth the Temple. 14 The boke of the Lawe is founde. 21 He sendeth to Huldáh the prophetesse for counsel. 27 God heareth his prayer. 31 He maketh a couenant with God.

2.King.22.1. IOsiáh * was eight yere olde whē he began to reigne, and he reigned in Ierusalém one and thirtie yere.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of [a] Dauid his father, and bowed nether to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yere of his reigne (when he was yet a [b] childe) he began to seke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelft yere he began to purge Iudáh, and Ierusalém from the hie places, and the groues, and the kerued images, and molté images:

4 And they brake downe [c] in his sight the altars of Baalím, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie vpon them: he brake also the groues, & the kerued images, and the molten images, and stampt them to poudre, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the [d] bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudáh and Ierusalém.

6 And in ỹ cities of Manasséh, & Ephráim, and Simeón, euen vnto Naphtalí, with their maules they brake all rounde about.

7 And when he had [e] destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to poudre the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israél, he returned to Ierusalém.

8 ¶ * Then in the eightente yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphán the sonne of Azaliáh, and Maaseáh the gouernour of the citie, and Ioáh the sonne of Ioaház the recorder, to repare the house of the Lord his God.

2.King.22.3.

9 And when they came to Hilkiáh the hie Priest, they deliuered the money that was broght into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the dore, had gathered at the hand of Manasséh, and Ephráim, & of all the residue of Isaél, and of all Iudáh and Beniamín, and [f] of the inhabitāts of Ierusalém.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that shulde do the worke & had the ouersight in the house of the Lord: and they gaue it to the workemen that wroght in the house of the Lord, to repare & amende the house.

11 Euen to the workemen & to the buylders gaue they it, to bye hewed stone and timber for couples & for beames of the [g] houses, which the Kings of Iudáh had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke [h] faithfully, and the ouerseers of them were Iaháth and Obadiáh the Leuites, of the children of Merarí, and Zechariáh, and Meshullám, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forwarde: and of the Leuites all that colde skil of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdēs, and them that set forwarde all the workemen in euerie worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, & officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they broght out the money that was broght into the house of the Lord, Hilkiáh the Priest foūde the [i] boke of the Law of the Lord giuen by the hād of Mosés.

15 Therefore Hilkiáh answered and said to Shaphán the chanceler, I haue founde the boke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiáh gaue the boke to Shaphán.

16 And Shaphán caryed the boke to [k] the King, and broght the King worde againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that do they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was founde in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers, and to the hands of the workemen.

18 Also Shaphán the chanceler declared to the King, saying, Hilkiáh the Priest hathe giuen me a boke, & Shaphán red it before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the wordes of the Lawe, he [l] tare his clothes.

20 And the King commanded Hilkiáh, and Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán, & Abdón the sonne of Micáh, & Shaphán the chanceler, and Asaiáh the Kings seruant, saying,

21 Go and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israél and Iudáh, concerning the wordes of this boke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord ỹ is fallen vpon vs, because our [m] fathers haue not kept the worde of the Lord, to do after all that is writen in this boke.

22 Then Hilkiáh and they that the King had appointed, went to Huldáh the prophetesse the wife of Shallúm, the sonne of [n] Tokháth, the sonne of [n] Hasráh keper of the [o] wardrobe (and she dwelt in Ierusalém within the [p] colledge) and they communed hereof with her.

23 And she answered them, Thus saith the Lord God of Isaél, Tel ye [q] the man that sent you to me,

24 Thus

f For there were many portions and pieces annexed to the Temple

g Meaning, ỹ they were in suche credite for their fidelitie, that they made none accōptes of that which they receiued. 2.King. 22.9.

h He followed Dauid in all poinctes that he followed ỹ Lord.

i When he was but sixtene yere olde, he shewed him selfe zealous of Gods glorie, & at twētie yere olde he abolished idolatrie and restored ỹ true religion k Which sheweth that he wolde se the reformacion w his owne eies.

l Read 2.King. 22.8.

m For ỹ King was commanded to haue continually a copie of this boke, & to read therein day & night, Deut. 17.18.

n For sorow that ỹ worde of God had bene so long suppressed, and ỹ people kept in ignorance, cōsidering also the curses cōteined therein against ỹ trāsgressours.

o This great zeale of this godlie King ỹ holie Gost setteth forthe as an example & paterne to other Kings & rulers, to teache thē what God requireth of them.

p Thus ỹ godlie do not only lament their owne sinnes, but also that their fathers and predecessours haue offended God.

q Or, they returned to Ierusalem, meaning, Shaphan, &c.

r Or, Tikuáh

s Or, Harhas.

t Meaning, either of the Priests apparel, or of the Kings u Read hereof 2 King. 22. 15

x That is, to the King.

24 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil brīg euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabitants thereof, euen all the curses, that are writen in the boke which they haue red before the King of Iudáh:
25 Becausé they haue forsaké me, and burnt incēse vnto other gods, to angre me with all the workes of their p hands, therefore shal my wrath fall vpon this place, & shal not be quenched.
26 But to the King of Iudáh, who sent you to enquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord God of Israél, The wordes which thou hast heard, shal
come to passe.
27 But becausé thine heart did q melt, and thou dideſt humble thy self before God, whē thou heardeſt his wordes against this place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledſt thy seife before me and tarest thy clothes, and wepteſt before me,
I haue also heard it, saith the Lord.
28 Beholde, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shal not se all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this r place, and vpon the inhabitants of the same. Thus they brought the King worde againe.
29 ¶ Then the King sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudah and Ierusalém.
30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ierusalém, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people frō the greatest to the s smallest, and he red in their eares all the wordes of the boke of the couenant that was founde in the house of the Lord.
31 And the King stode by his piller, and made a couenant before the Lord, to wal-ke after the Lord, and to kepe his comma-dements, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, & ỹ he wolde accōplish the wordes of the couenant writen in the same bok.
32 And he caused all that were founde in Ierusalém, and Beniamín to stand to it: & the inhabitants of Ierusalém did according to the couenant of God, euen the God of their fathers.
33 So Iosiáh toke away all the abominacions out of all the countreis that pertened to the children of Israél, and compelled all t that were found in Israél, to serue the Lord their God. so all his daies they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

p This she speaketh in cō tempt of the idolaters, who contrarie to reason and nature make their a god, which they haue mide, and framed with their owne hands

q This declareth what is ỹ end of Gods threatnings, to call his to repentance, & to assure the unrepentant of their destruction.

r It may appeare that very fewe were touched with true repentance, seing that God sparéd thē for a time onely for the Kings sake.

s Forasmuch as neither yōg nor olde could be exēpted frō the curses cōteined therein, if they did transgresse, he knewe it appertained to all & was his duetie to set red to all sortes, that euerie one might learne to auoyde those punishements by serving God aright.

t Because he had charge ouer all & must answer for euerie one that perished, he thoght it his duetie to se ỹ all shulde make profession to receiue the worde of God

CHAP. XXXV.

Iosiáh kepeth the Passeouer. 2 He setteth for the Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the King of Egypt, & dyeth. 24 The people bewayle him.

2 King 23,21 MOreouer u Iosiáh kept a Passeouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalém, & they slewe the a Passeouer in the fourtenth day of the first moneth.
2 And he appointed the Priests to their charges, and incouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lord, 3 And he said vnto ỹ Leuites, that b taught all Israél and were sanctified vnto ỹ Lord, Put the holy Arke in the house which Sa-lomón the sonne of Dauid King of Is-raél did buyld: it shal be no more a c burden vpon your shulders: serue now the Lord your God and his people Israél, 4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as x Dauid the King of Israél hathe writen, & according to the writing of Salomón his sonne,
5 And stand in the Sanctuarie according to the diuisiō of the familes of your brethren y the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:
6 So kil the Passeouer, and sanctifie your selues, and d prepare your brethren that they may do according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Mosés.
7 Iosiah also gaue to the z people shepe, lā-bes and kiddes, all for the Passeouer, euen to all that were present, to the nomber of thirty thousand, & thre thousand bullock-es: these were of the Kings substance.
8 And his princes offred willingly vnto the people, to the Priests & to the Leuites: Hilkiáh, and Zechariáh, and Iehiél, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto ỹ Priests for the Passeouer, euen two thousand and six hundreth shepe, & thre hūdreth bullockes.
9 e Conaniáh also and Shemaiáh and Ne-thanél his brethren, and Hashabiáh and Ieiél, & Iozabád, chief of the Leuites ga-ue vnto the Leuites for the Passeouer, fyue thousand shepe, & fyue hūdreth bullockes.
10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priests stode in their places, also the Leuites in their ordres according to the Kings commandement:
11 And they slewe the Passeouer, & ỹ Priests f sprinkled the blood with their hands, & the Leuites slayed them.
12 And they toke away from the g burnt offring to giue it according to the diuisions of the familes of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is writen in the boke of Mosés, & so of ỹ bullockes.
13 And * they rosted the Passeouer with fy-re, according to the custome, but the san-ctified things they sod in pottes, pannes, and caulderns, & distributed them quickely to all the people.
14 Afterwarde also they prepared for thē selues & for the Priests: for the Priests the sonnes of Aarón were occupied in offring of burnt offrigs, & the fat vntil night therefore the Leuites prepared for thē selues, &

a The Scripture vseth in sundrie places to call the lambe the Passeouer, which was but the signe of ỹ Passeouer, because in all sacraments the signes haue the names or the things which are signified.

b So that the Leuites charge was not onely to minister in ỹ Tēple, but also to instruct the people in the worde of God.

c As it was before the Tēple was buylt: therefore your office onely is now to teche the people, & to praise God.

x 1 Chro 23,4. & 25,26.

y Or, the people.

d Exhorte euerie one to examine thē selues, that they be not vnmete to eat of the Passeouer z Ebr names of the people.

e So ỹ euerie one, and of all sortes gaue of that they had a liberal porciō to the seruice of God.

f Meaning of ỹ lābe, which was called the Passeouer for onely ỹ Priests might (prikle, and in necessitie the Leuites might kil the sacrifice

g They reserued for the people that ỹ was not expedient to be seared, that euerie man might offer peace offrings, and so haue his portion

Exod 12,8.

for the Priests the sonnes of Aarón.

15 And the singers the sonnes of Asáph
1.Chro.25.2. stode in their standing *according to the commandement of Dauid, and Asaph, and Heman, and Ieduthún the Kings h Seer:
h Meaning herby his Prophet, because he appointed the Psalmes & prophecies ẅ were to be sung and the porters at euerie gate, who might not departe from their seruice: therefore their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

16 So all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day, to kepe the Passeouer, and to offer burnt offrings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of King Iosiáh.

17 And the childrē of Israél that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer kept like that, in Israél, from the dayes of Samuél the Prophet: nether did all ỹ Kings of Is-raél kepe suche a Passeouer as Iosiáh kept, and the Priests and the Leuites, & all Iudáh, and Israél that were "present, and the inhabitants of Ierusalém.
"Ebr. founde.

19 This Passeouer was kept in i the eigh-i Which was an the six and twentieth yere of his age 2.King.23.23
tente yere of the reigne of Iosiáh.

20 ¶ *After all this, when Iosiáh had prepared the Tēple, Nechó King of Egypt came vp to fight against k Carchemish k Which was a citie of the Assyrians, and Iosiáh fearing left he passing through Iudáh, wolde haue taken his kingdome, made warre against him and consulted not the Lord by" Peráth, and Iosiáh went out against him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying,
What haue I to do with thee, thou King of Iudáh? I come not against thee this day, but against the house "of mine enemie, and God commanded me to make haste:
leaue of to come against God, which is with me, lest he destroye thee.
"Or, Euphrates. "Ebr of my battel.

22 But Iosiáh wolde not turne his face frō him, but l chāged his apparel to fight with l That is, armed him selfe, or disguised him selfe because he might not be knowē.
him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Nechó, which were of the mouth of God, but came to fight in the valley of Megiddó.

23 And the shoters shot at King Iosiáh: thē the King said to his seruants, Cary me away, for I am very sicke.

24 So his seruants toke him out of that cha-ret, & put him in the seconde charet which he had, and when they had broght him to Ierusalém, he dyed, and was buryed in the sepulchres of his fathers: and all Iudáh and Ierusalém m mourned for Iosiáh.
m The people so muche lamented ỹ losse of this good King, that after whē there was anje great lamentation, this was spokē of as a prouerbe, read Zach. 12,11

25 And Ieremiáh lamented Iosiáh, and all singing men and singing women mourned for Iosiáh in their lamētacions to this day, and made the same for an ordinance vnto Israél: and beholde, they be writen in the n lamentacions.
n Which some thinke Ieremie made, wherein he lamēteth the state of the Church after this kīgs death.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iosiáh and his goodnes, doing as it was writē in the Law of the Lord,

27 And his dedes, first and last, beholde, thei are writen in the boke of the Kings of Is-raél and Iudáh.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 After Iosiáh, reigneth Iehoahāz, 4 After Iehoahāz, Iehoiakim. 8 After him Iehoiachin. 11 After him, Zedekiáh. 14. 17 In whose time all the people were caryed away to Babél, for contemning the admonicions of the Prophetes. 22 And were restored againe the seuentieth yere after by King Cyrus

1 THen * the people of the land toke Ie-2 King.23.30 hoaház the sonne of Iosiah, and made him Kīg in his fathers stead in Ierusalém.

2 Iehoaház was thre and twentie yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned thre a moneths in Ierusalém.
a For thre moneths after ỹ death of Iosiáh came Necho to Ierusalem & so the plagues began, which Huldáh & the Prophets forewarned shulde come vpon Ierusalém

3 And the King of Egypt toke him away at Ierusalém, and condemned the land in an b hundreth talents of siluer, & a talent of golde.
b To pay this as a yerely tribute.

4 ¶ And the King of Egypt made Eliakím his brother King ouer Iudáh and Ieruśalém, and turned his name to Iehoiakím:
and Nechó toke Iehoaház his brother, and caryed him to Egypt.

5 Iehoiakím was fyue and twentie yere olde
when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yere in Ierusalém, and did c euil in the sight of the Lord his God.
c Because he, and the people turned not to God by his first plague, he broght a newe vpon him, and at length rooted them out.

6 Against him came vp Nebuchadnezzár King of Babél, & bounde him with chaines to carye him to Babél.

7 Nebuchadnezzár also * caryed of ỹ ves-2.King.24.13 sels of the house of the Lord to Babél, and put them in his Temple at Babél.

8 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoi-akím, and his abominacios which he did, & d that which was founde vpō him, be-holde, they are writen in the boke of the Kings of Israél and Iudáh, & Iehoiachín his sonne reigned in his steade.
d He meaneth superstitious markes which were founde vpon his bodie, when he was dead: ẅ thing declared how depely idolatrie was rooted in his heart, seing he bare the markes in his flesh.

9 ¶ Iehoiachín was e eight yere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned thre moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalém, and did euil in the sight of the Lord.
e That is, he begā his reigne at eight yere olde, and reigned ten yeres when his father was aliue, and after his fathers death, which was the eightente yere of his age, he reigned alone thre moneths and ten dayes
a) Or, vncle

10 And when the yere was out, King Ne-buchadnezzár sent and broght him to Babél with the precious vessels of the house of the Lord, and he made Zedekiáh his
a) brother King ouer Iudáh and Ierusalém.
2 King 24.17 iere.52.2.

11 Zedekiáh was one and twētie yere olde, whē he began to reigne, and reigned eleuē yere in Ierusalém.

12 * And he did euil in the sight of ỹ Lord his God, and humbled not him self before Ieremiáh the Prophet at the commandement of the Lord,

13 But he rebelled moreouer against Ne-buchadnezzár, which had cause him to sweare by God: and he hardened his necke & made his heart obstinate that he might not returne to the Lord God of Israél.

14 All the chief of the Priests also and of the people trespassed wonderfully, according

ding to all the abominacions of the heathen, and polluted the houſe of the Lord which he had ſanctified in Ieruſalém.

15 Therefore the Lord God of their fathers ſent to thē "by his meſſengers, f riſing early and ſending: for he had compaſſion on his people, and on his habitacion.

16 But they mocked the meſſengers of God and deſpiſed his wordes, and miſuſed his Prophetes, vntil the wrath of the Lord aroſe againſt his people, and til there was no g remedie.

17 For he broght vpon them the King of the Caldeans, who ſlewe their yong men with the ſworde h in the houſe of their Sāctuarie, and ſpared nether yong man, nor virgine, ancient, nor aged. God i gaue all into his hand,

18 And all ŷ veſſels of ŷ houſe of God great & ſmall, and the treaſures of the houſe of ŷ Lord, and the treaſures of the King, and of his princes: all theſe caryed he to Babél.

19 And they burnt the houſe of God, and brake downe the wall of Ieruſalém, and burnt all the palaces thereof with fyre, & all the precious veſſels thereof: to deſtroye all.

20 And thei that were left by the ſworde, caryed he away to Babél, and they were ſeruants to him and to his ſonnes, vntil the kingdome of the k Perſians had rule,

21 To fulfil the worde of the Lord by the l mouth of Ieremiáh, vntil the lād had her ſil of her Sabbaths: for all the dayes that ſhe lay deſolate, ſhe kept Sabbath, to fulfil ſeuentie yeres.

22 ¶*But in ŷ m firſt yere of Cyrus King of Perſiá (when the worde of the Lord, ſpoken by the mouth of Ieremiáh, was finiſhed) the Lord ſtirred vp the ſpirit of Cyrus King of Perſia, and he made a proclamacion through all his kingdome, and alſo by writing, ſaying, 23 Thus ſayth Cyrus King of Perſia, All ŷ kingdomes of the earth hathe the Lord God of heauen giuen me, and he hathe n commanded me to buyld him an houſe in Ieruſalém, that is in Iudáh. Who is among you of all his people, with whome the Lord his God ſ let him go vp.

a Ebr by the hād of his

f By this phraſe the ſcripture meaneth often times and diligently, as Iere 11,7 25,3, & 4.26,5, & 32, 33.

g Til God colde no longer ſuffer their ſinnes, but muſte nedes puniſh them

h Whether thei fled, thinking to haue bene ſaued for the holines thereof

i Which is not becauſe God approueth him which yet is the miniſter of his iuſtice, but becauſe God wolde by his iuſte iudgemēt puniſh this people: for this King was led with ambicion and vaine glorie, wherevnto were ioyned furie and crueltie therefore his worke was condēnable, notwithſtanding it was iuſte and holy on Gods parte, who vſed this wicked inſtrument to declare his iuſtice.

k Whē Cyrus King of Perſia, had made the Babylonians ſubiect l Who threatned the vengeāce of God, and 70 yeres captiuitie, whe calleth the Sabbaths or reſt of the lād. Iere 25,11 Iere.25,13. & 29,10.

3 eſdr.1,1.

m In the firſt yere that he reigned ouer the Caldeans.

n God had ſo propheccied aboue an hundreth yeres, before Cyrus was borne, Iſa. 44,28, that Ieruſalém & the Temple ſhulde be buylt againe by Cyrus his anointed. ſo called, becauſe God vſed his ſeruice for a time to deliuer his Church.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSÉH King of the Iewes.

The prayer is not in the Ebrewe, but tranſlated out of the Greke.

O Lord almightie, God of our fathers, Abram, Iſaac and Iacob, and of their righteous ſede, which haſt made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which haſt bound the ſea by the worde of thy commandement, which haſt ſhut vp the depe and ſealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all do feare & tremble before thy power: for the maieſtie of thy glorie can not be borne, & thine angrie threatning toward ſinners is importable, but thy merciful promes is vnmeaſurable & vnſearcheable. For thou art the moſte high Lord, of great compaſsió, long ſuffring & moſte merciful, & repēteſt for mās miſeries. Thou, ô Lord, accordīg to thy great goodnes haſt promiſed a repentance & forgiuenes to them that ſinne againſt thee, & for thine infinite mercies haſt appointed repentance vnto ſinners that thei may be ſaued. Thou therefore, ô Lord, that art the God of the iuſte, haſt not appointed repentance to the iuſte, as to Abram, and Iſaac and Iacob, which haue not b ſinned againſt thee, but thou haſt appointed repentance vnto me that am a ſinner: for I haue ſinned aboue the nōber of the ſand of the ſea. My tranſgreſsions, ô Lord, are multiplied: my tranſgreſsions are exceding many: and I am not worthy to beholde & ſe the height of the heauēs for the multitude of mine vnrighteouſnes. I am bowed downe with many yrō bādes, that I cā not lift vp mine head, nether haue any releaſe. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euil before thee. I did not thy wil, nether kept I thy commandements. I haue ſet vp abominations & haue multiplied offenſes. Now therefore I bowe the kne of mine heart, beſechīg thee of grace. I haue ſinned, ô Lord, I haue ſinned, & I acknowledge my trāſgreſsiōs: but I humbly beſeche thee, forgiue me: ô Lord, forgiue me, & deſtroye me not with my tranſgreſsions. Be not angry with me for euer by reſeruing euil for me, nether condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt ſhewe all thy goodnes: for thou wilt ſaue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercie: therefore I wil praiſe thee for euer all the dayes of my life. for all the power of the heauens praiſe thee, & thine is the glorie for euer & euer, Amen.

a Thou haſt promiſed that repētance ſhal be the way for thē to returne to thee

b He ſpeaketh this in cōpariſon of himſelfe & thoſe holy fathers which haue ſhut the commēdacion in the Scriptures, ſo that in reſpect of himſelf he calleth their ſinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteouſnes

EZRA

THE ARGVMENT.

AS the Lord is euer merciful vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they shulde se their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the worlde and aspire vnto the heauens. so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept thē now in bondage seuentie yeres in a strange countrey among infideles and idolaters, he remembred his tendre mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued lothe the heart of the chief ruler to pitie them, and also by him punished suche, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding lest they shulde growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he keepeth them stil in exercise, and raiseth domestical enemies, which endeuour as muche as they can to hindre their moste wortlie enterprises: yet by the exhortacion of the Prophetes they went forward by litle and litle til their worke was finished. The autor of this boke was Ezrá, who was Priest, and scribe of the Law, as chap. 7, 6. he returned to Ierusalém the sixt yere of Darius, who succeded Cyrus, that is, more then fourtie yeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabél, when the Temple was buylt He broght with him a great companie, and muche treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all suche things as shulde be necessarie for the Temple: and at his cōming he redressed that which was amisse, and set the things in good ordre.

CHAP. I.

1 Cyrus sendeth againe the people that was in captiuitie. 8 And restoreth them their holy vessels.

2 Chro. 36, 2. 3. ez. 2, 1. here. 23, 12 & 29, 10

1 NOw *in a ỹ first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (ỹ the worde of the Lord, spoken by the b mouth of Ieremiah, might be accōplished) the Lord stirred vp the c spirit of Cyrus King of Persia, and he made a proclamacion through all his kingdome, and also by writing, saying, a After that he and Darius had wonne Babylon

b Who promised thē deliuerance after that seuentie yeres were past, Ier. 25, 11. That is, moued him, and gaue him heart

2 Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hathe giuen me d all the kingdomes of the earth, and he hathe commanded me to buyld him an house in Ierusalém, which is in Iudáh.

d For he was chief Monarche, and had manie nacions vnder his dominion, which this heathen King cōfesseth to haue receiued of the liuing God.

3 Who is he among you of all his people with whome his God is? let him go vp to Ierusalém which is in Iudáh, and buyld the house of the Lord God of Israél: he is the God, which is in Ierusalém.

e If any through pouerie were not able to returne, the Kings cōmissiō was that he shulde be furnished w̄ necessaries

4 And euerie one that remaineth in anie place (where he sojourneth) e let the men of his place relieue him with siluer & with golde, and with substance, & with cattel, f and with a willing offring, for the house of God that is in Ierusalém.

f Which they ahem selues shulde send toward the reparation of ỹ Temple.

5 Then the chief fathers of Iudáh & Beniamín, & the Priests & Leuites rose vp, with all thē whose spirit God had raised to go vp, to buyld the house of the Lord which is in Ierusalém.

g The Babylonians & Chaldeans gaue them their presents thus rather then the children of God shulde want for their necessities, he wolde stirre vp the heart of the very infideles to helpe them

6 And all g they that were about thē, strēgthened their hands with vessels of siluer, with golde, with substance & with cattel, & with precious thīgs, besides all that was willingly offred.

2 Kin 25, 13. 7 2 chro 36, 7. ier 27, 19. dan 1, 2.

7 Also the King Cyrus broght forthe the vessels of the house of the Lord,* which Nebuchadnezzár had takē out of Ierusalém, & had put thē in ỹ house of his god.

8 Euen thē did Cyrus King of Persia brīg forthe by the hād of Mithredáth the treasurer, and counted thē vnto h Sheshbazzár the prince of Iudáh.

h So the Chaldeās called Zerubbabél, who was the chief gouernour, so that ỹ preeminence stil remained in the house of Dauid

9 And this is the nomber of them, thirtie basins of golde, a thousand basins of siluer, nine and twentie i kniues, i Which serued to kill the beastes that were offred in sacrifice

10 Thirtie bowles of golde, & of siluer bowles of the secōd sorte, foure hundreth and ten, & of other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of golde & siluer were fiue thousand & foure hūdreth. Sheshbazzár broght vp all k with thē of the captiuitie that came vp frō Babél to Ierusalém.

k With ỹ Iewes ỹ had bene kept captiues in Babylón.

CHAP. II.

The nomber of them that returned from the captiuitie.

Nehe. 7, 6. 3. esdr 5, 7.

1 THese* also are the sonnes a of the prouince, that went vp out of ỹ captiuitie (whome Nebuchadnezzár Kīg of Babél had caried away vnto Babél) & returned to Ierusalém, & to Iudáh, euerie one vnto his citie, a Meaning Iudea, ỹ was a prouince, ỹ is, a countrey which was in subiection.

2 Which came with b Zerubbabél, to wit, Ieshúa, Nehemiáh, Seraiáh, Reelaiáh, c Mordecái, Bilshán, Mispár, Biguái, Rehúm, Baanáh The nomber of the men d of the people of Israél was,

b Zerubbabél was chief captaine, Ieshúa the hie Priest, & Nehemiáh a man of great autoritie went not now but came after, 54 yeres.

c This was not that Mordecái ỹ was Esters kinsman

d Meaning of the commune people

3 The sonnes of Parósh, two thousand, an hundreth, seuentie and two:

4 The sonnes of Shephatiáh, thre hundreth seuentie and two:

5 The sonnes of Aráh, seuen hundreth, and seuentie and fiue:

6 The sonnes of e Pahráth Moáb, of the sonnes of Ieshúa & Ioáb, two thousand, eight hundreth and twelue:

e Or, of the duke of Moab.

7 The sonnes of Elám, a thousand, two hūdreth, and foure and fiftie:

8 The sonnes of Zattú, nine hundreth, and fiue and fourtie:

9 The sonnes of Zaccái, seuen hundreth, and threscore:

10 The sonnes of Baní, six hundreth, and two and fourtie:

11 The

21 The ſonnes of Bebái, ſix hundreth, and thre and twenty:
22 The ſonnes of Azgád a thouſand, two hũdreth, and two and twentie:
23 The ſonnes of Adonikám, ſix hundreth, thre ſcore and ſix:
24 The ſonnes of Biguái, two thouſand, & ſix and fiftie:
25 The ſonnes of Adín, foure hundreth & foure and fiftie:
e Which were of the poſterite of Hezekiah 26 The ſonnes of Atér of eHizkiáh, ninetie and eight:
27 The ſonnes of Bezái, thre hundreth, & thre and twentie:
28 The ſonnes of Ioráh, an hundreth, and twelue:
29 The ſonnes of Haſſhúm, two hundreth and thre and twentie:
20 The ſonnes of Gibbár, ninetie and fiue:
f That is, inhabitants for ſo this word (Sonae) ſignifieth, whẽ it is ioyned with the names of places 21 f The ſonnes of Beth-léhem, an hũdreth and thre and twenty:
22 The men of Netopháh, ſix & fiftie:
23 The men of Anothóth, an hundreth & eight & twentie:
24 The ſonnes of Azmáueth, two & fourtie:
25 The ſonnes of Kiriáth arím, of Chephiráh, & Beeróth, ſeuen hundreth & thre and fourtie:
26 The ſonnes of Haramáh and Gába, ſix hundreth, and one and twentie:
27 The men of Michmás, an hundreth, and two and twentie:
28 The ſonnes of Beth-él & Ai, two hundreth, and thre and twentie:
29 The ſonnes of Nebó, two and fiftie:
30 The ſonnes of Magbíſh, an hundreth and ſix and fiftie:
31 The ſonnes of the other Elám, a thouſand, and two hundreth, & foure & fiftie:
32 The ſonnes of Harím, thre hundreth & twentie:
33 The ſonnes of Lod-hadíd, & Onó, ſeuẽ hundreth, and fiue and twentie:
34 The ſonnes of Ierichó, thre hundreth and fiue and fourtie:
35 The ſonnes of Senáah, thre thouſand, ſix hundreth and thirtie.
g Before he hathe declared the two tribes of Iudáh and Beniamin, & now commeth to ỹ tribe of Leui & begineth at ỹ Prieſts, 36 ¶ The gPrieſts: of the ſonnes of Iedaiáh of the houſe of Ieſhúa, nine hundreth ſeuentie and thre:
37 The ſonnes of Immér, a thouſand and two and fiftie:
38 The ſonnes of Paſhúr, a thouſand, two hundreth and ſeuen and fourtie:
39 The ſonnes of Harím, a thouſand and ſeuentene.
The Leuites
40 ¶ The Leuites: the ſonnes of Ieſhúa, & Kadmiél of the ſonnes of Hodauiáh, ſeuentie and foure.
The Singers
41 ¶ The ſingers: the ſonnes of Aſaph, an hundreth and eight and twentie.
The Porters.
42 ¶ The ſonnes of the porters: the ſonnes of Shallúm, the ſonnes of Atér, the ſonnes of Talmón, the ſonnes of Akkúb, ỹ ſonnes of Hatitá, the ſonnes of Shobái: all were an hundreth and nine ad thirtie.
43 ¶ The hNethinims: the ſonnes of Zihá, ỹ ſonnes of Haſupháh, ỹ ſonnes of Tabbaóth, 44 The ſonnes of Kerós, ỹ ſonnes of Siahá, the ſonnes of Padón, 45 The ſonnes of Lebanáh, the ſonnes of Hagabáh, the ſonnes of Akkúb, 46 The ſonnes of Hagab, the ſonnes of Shalái, the ſonnes of Hanán, 47 The ſonnes of Giddél, the ſonnes of Gáhar, the ſonnes of Reaiáh, 48 The ſonnes of Rezín, the ſonnes of Nekodá, the ſonnes of Gazzám, 49 The ſonnes of Vzzá, the ſonnes of Paſeah, the ſonnes of Beſái,
50 The ſonnes of Aſnáh, the ſonnes of Meunim, the ſonnes of Nephuſim, 51 The ſonnes of Bakbúk, the ſonnes of Hakupá, the ſonnes of Harhúr, 52 The ſonnes of Bazlúth, the ſonnes of Mehidá, the ſonnes of Harſha, 53 The ſonnes of Barcós, the ſonnes of Siſará, the ſonnes of Thámah, 54 The ſonnes of Neziah, the ſonnes of Hatiphá, 55 The ſonnes of Salomons iſeruants: the ſonnes of Sotái, the ſonnes of Sophéreth, the ſonnes of Perudá, i Which came of them that Salomón had appointed for the worke of the Temple.
56 The ſonnes of Iaaláh, the ſonnes of Darkón, the ſonnes of Giddél, 57 The ſonnes of Shephatiáh, the ſonnes of Hattíl, the ſonnes of Pochéreth Hazzebaím, the ſonnes of Amí.
58 All the Nethinims, and the ſonnes of Salomons ſeruants were thre hundreth ninetie and two.
59 ¶ And these went vp from Telmeláh, & from Telharſhá, Cherúb, Addán, & Immér, but they colde not diſceme their fathers houſe and their ſede, whether they were of Iſraél.
60 The ſonnes of Delaiáh, the ſonnes of Tobiah, the ſonnes of Nekodá, ſix hundreth and two and fiftie.
61 And of the ſonnes of ỹ Prieſts, ỹ ſonnes of Habaiáh the ſonnes of Coz, the ſonnes of kBarzillái: which toke of ỹ daughters of Barzillái the Giliadite to wife, and was called after their name.
k Of him is made mencio 2 Sam 17,27 & 19,31 & becauſe ỹ Prieſts & he was had in contempt, theſe wolde haue changed their eſtate by their power, & ſo by Gods iudgemẽt loſt both the eſtimation of the worlde & the dignitie of their office 62 These ſoght their writing of the genealogies, but they were not found: therefore were they put from the Prieſthode.
63 And l Tirſhátha ſaid vnto them, that thei ſhulde not eat of the moſt holy thig, til there roſe vp a Prieſt with m Vrím & Thummim.
l This is a Chalde name & ſignifieth hi ỹ hathe autoritie ouer others 64 The whole Congregacion together was two and fourtie thouſand, thre hundreth and thre ſcore, m Read Exo. 28,30.
65 Beſide their ſeruants and their maides: of whome were ſeuen thouſand, thre hundreth and ſeuen and thirtie: and among them were two hundreth ſinging men and ſinging women.

66 Their horſes were ſeuen hundreth, & ſix and thirty. their mules, two hundreth and fiue and fourtie:

67 Their camels foure hũdreth and fiue & thirtie: their aſſes, ſix thouſand, ſeuen hũdreth and twentie.

68 And certeine of the chief fathers, when they came to the houſe of the Lord, which was in Ieruſalém, thei offred willingly for the houſe of God, to ſet it vp vpon his fundacion.

69 Thei gaue after their habilitie vnto ỹ treaſure of the worke, euen one and threſcore thouſand [a] drammes of golde, and fiue thouſand [o] pieces of ſiluer and an hundreth Prieſts gaiments.

70 So the Prieſts & the Leuites, and a certeine of the people, and the ſingers, & the porters, and the Nethiníms dwelt in their cities, and all Iſraél in their cities.

[a] Which moũt to of our money 24826. li. 13. ſhil 4 d eſteming the french crowne at 6 ſhil 4 d. for the dramme is ỹ eight part of an oũce, & the oũce the eight part of a marke

[o] Which are called mine, & conteine a piece two markes ſo 5000 mines make 550000. frankes, which moũt to of our many 69666. li. 13 ſhil 4 d. ſo that ỹ whole ſome was 94493 li. 26. ſhil. 8 d.

CHAP. III.

2 Thei buyld the altar of God 6 Thei offer to the Lord. 7 Thei prepare for the Tẽple, 11 And ſing vnto the Lord.

1 AND* when the [a] ſeuent moneth was come, and the children of Iſraél were in their cities, the people aſſembled them ſelues as one man vnto Ieruſalém.

2 Then ſtode vp Ieſhúa the ſonne of Lozadák, and his brethren the Prieſts, and Zerubbabél the [b] ſonne of Shealtiél, and his brethren, & buylded the altar of the God of Iſraél, to offer burnt offrings thereon, as it is writen in the Law of Moſés the man of God,

3 And they ſet the altar vpõ [c] his baſes (for feare was among them, becauſe of the people of thoſe countreies) therefore they offred burnt offrings thereõ vnto the Lord, euen burnt offrings in the morning and at euen.

4 They kept alſo the feaſt of the Tabernacles, as it is writen, and the burnt offring *daily, by nomber according to the cuſtome day by day,

5 And after ward [d] the continual burnt offring, bothe in the new moneths and in all the feaſt dayes that were conſecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offred vnto the Lord.

6 From the firſt day of the ſeuent moneth began they to offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord: but the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord was not laied.

7 They gaue money alſo vnto the maſons, and to the workemen, and meat and drinke, and oyle vnto them of Zidón and of Tyrus, to bring thẽ cedre wood from Lebanón to the ſea vnto 'Iaphó, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus King of Perſia.

8 ¶ And in the ſeconde yere of their comming vnto the houſe of God in Ieruſalém in the [e] ſecond moneth began Zerubbabél the ſonne of Shealtiél, and Ieſhúa the ſonne of Iozadák, and the remnant of their brethren the Prieſts and the Leuites, & all they that were come out of the captiuitie vnto Ieruſalém, and appointed the Leuites from twenty yere olde & aboue, to ſet forward the worke of the houſe of the Lord.

9 And Ieſhúa [f] ſtode with his ſonnes, and his brethren, & Kadmiél with his ſonnes, & the ſonnes of Iudáh together to ſet forward the workemen in the houſe of God, and the ſonnes of Henadád with their ſonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.

10 And when the buylders laied the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord, thei appointed the Prieſts in their apparel with trumpets, and the Leuites the ſonnes of Aſáph with cymbales, to praiſe the Lord, *after the ordinance of Dauid King of Iſraél. 2.Chro.16.8.

11 Thus they ſang when they gaue praiſe, and when they gaue thankes vnto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer toward Iſraél. And all ỹ people ſhouted with a great ſhoute, whẽ thei praiſed the Lord, becauſe the fundacion of the houſe of the Lord was layed.

12 Many alſo of the Prieſts and the Leuites and the chief of the fathers, ancient men, which had ſene the firſt houſe, (when the fundacion of this houſe was layed before their eies) [g] wept with a loude voyce: and many ſhouted a loude for ioye,

13 So that the people colde not diſcerne the ſounde of the ſhoute for ioye, from the noyce of the weping of the people: for the people ſhouted with a loude crye, and the noyce was heard farre of.

[e] Which moneth cõteined parte of April and parte of May. for in the meane ſeaſon they had prouided for thigs neceſſarie for the worke.

[f] They gaue them exhortacions & encouraged euerie man forward in the worke.

[g] Becauſe thei ſawe that it was nothig ſo glorious as that Temple, which Salomón had buylt, notwithſtanding Aggeus cõforteth them & propheciеth that it ſhalbe more beautiful thẽ the firſt: meaning the ſpirituall Temple, ẅ are the members of Chriſtes bodie.

CHAP. IIII.

2 The buylding of the Temple is hindred & how. 11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the anſwer.

1 BVT [a] the aduerſaries of Iudáh and Bẽiamín heard, that the children of the captiuitie buylded the Temple vnto the Lord God of Iſraél.

2 And thei came to Zerubbabél, & to ỹ chief fathers, and ſaid vnto them, We wil buylde with you: for we ſeke the Lord your God as ye do: & we haue ſacrificed vnto him ſince the time of Eſãr Haddón King of Aſſhúr which broght vs vp hither.

3 Then Zerubbabél, and Ieſhúa, and the reſt of the chief fathers of Iſraél, ſaid vnto them, It is not for you, but for vs to buyld the houſe vnto our God: [b] for we our ſelues together wil buyld it vnto the Lord God of Iſraél, as King Cyrus the King of Perſia hathe commanded vs.

[a] Meaning, the inhabitanes of Samaria, whome ỹ King of Aſſyria had placed in the ſteade of ỹ ten tribes 2 King. 17.24 & 19,37. Theſe profeſſed God, but worſhiped Idoles alſo, and therefore were the greateſt enemies to the true ſeruants of God

[b] For thei perceiued ẅat their pretence was, to wit, to erẽ idolatrie in ſteade of true religion.

4 Whe-

*1.Eſdr.9.47.

[a] Called Tiſhri, ẅ anſwereth to part of September & parte of October.

[b] Meanig, nephewe: for he was the ſonne of Pedaiáh read 1 Chro. 3.19.

[c] In the place where Salomón had plaſed it.

*Exod.23.16.

[d] That is, after the feaſt of Tabernacles.

*Or, layde.

"Ebr made their hands weake.

4 Wherefore the people of ỹ land" diſcouraged the people of Iudáh, and troubled them in buylding, c They bribed the gouerneis vnder the king, to hider their worke thus hey that halte, can not abide, ỹ God ſhulde be purely ſerued

5 And they c hyred counſelers againſt thē, to hinder their deuice, all the daies of Cyrus King of Perſia, euē vntil the reigne of Darius King of Perſia.

d He was alſo called Artaxerxes, which is a Perſian name ſome thinke it was Cambſes Cyrus ſonne, or Darius, as verſ 7 6 And in the reigne of d Ahaſhuerósh (in the beginning of his reigne) wrote they an accuſation againſt the inhabitants of Iudáh and Ieruſalém.

e Called Artaxerxes, ẁ ſignifieth in ỹ Perſiā tōgue, an excellent warriour

7 And in the dayes of e Artahſhaſhte, Mithredáth, Tabeél, & the reſt of their companiōs wrote when it was peace vnto Artahſhaſhte King of Perſia, & the writing of the letter was the Aramites writing, & the thing declared was in the language of the Aramites.

eOr, to ambaſſadour.

8 Rehúm the e chancelour, and Shimſhái the ſcribe wrote a lettre againſt Ieruſalém to Artahſhaſhte ỹ King, in this ſorte.

9 Then wrote Rehúm the chancelour, and Shimſhái the ſcribe, & their companions f Dinaié, and Aphárſathcaié, Tarpelaié, Aphárſaié, Archeuaié, Bablaié, Shuſhancha'é, Dehaué, Elmaié, f Theſe were certeine people, which the Aſſyrians placed in Samaria in ſtead of the ten tribes

10 And the reſt of the people whome the great & noble g Aſnappár broght ouer, & ſet in the cities of Samaria, and other that are beyonde the h Riuer and i Cheéneth.

g Some thinke it was Sanneherib, but rather Salmanaſár

11 ¶ This is the copie of the letter that they ſent vnto King Artahſhaſhte, THY SERVANTS the men beyonde the Riuer and Cheéneth, ſalute thee.

h To wit Euphrates, & he meaneth in reſpect of Babél ỹ they dwelt beyonde it.

12 Be it knowen vnto the King that the Iewes, which came vp from thee to vs, are come vnto Ieruſalém (a citie rebellious & wicked) & buylde, & laye the fundacions of the walles, and haue ioyned the fundacions.

i Which were a certeine people ỹ enuyed the Iewes.

13 Be it knowen now vnto the King, that if this citie be buylt, & the fundaciō of the walles layed, thei wil not giue tolle, tribute, nor k cuſtome: ſo ſhalt thou hinder the Kings tribute.

k Meanīng, the gifts that are wonte to be giuen to Kings whē they paſſe by any cōtrey

14 Now therefore becauſe" we haue bene broght vp in the Kings palace, it was not mete for vs to ſe the Kings diſhonour: for this cauſe haue we ſent and certified the King,

"Ebr In the Childe, we haue eaten the ſalt of the palace.

15 That one may ſearche in the boke of the Chronicles of thy fathers, and thou ſhalt finde in the boke of the Chronicles, and perceiue that this citie is rebellious and noyſome vnto Kings and prouinces, and that thei haue moued ſedicion of olde time, for the which cauſe this citie was deſtroyed.

16 We certifie the King therefore, that if this citie be buylded, and the fundacion of the walles layed, by this meanes the porcion beyonde the Riuer ſhal not be thine.

17 ¶ The King ſent an anſwer vnto Rehúm the chancelour, and Shimſhái the ſcribe, and to the reſt of their companions that dwelt in Samaria, and vnto the other beyonde the Riuer, l Shelám & m Cheéth.

l Some read for Shelám, ſalutacion or greting.

m Called alſo Cheeneth, as verſ 11.

18 ¶ The letter which ỹe ſent vnto vs, hathe bene openly red before me, 19 And I haue commanded and they haue ſearched, and founde, that this citie of olde time hathe made inſurrectiō againſt Kings, and hathe rebelled, and rebellion hathe bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie Kings alſo ouer Ieruſalém, which haue ruled ouer all beyonde the Riuer, and tolle, tribute, and cuſtome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that thoſe men may ceaſe, and that the citie be not buylt, til I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take hede now that ye faile not to do this: why ſhulde domage growe to hurt the King?

23 When the copie of King Artahſhāſhtes lettre was red before Rehúm & Shimſhái the ſcribe, & their companions, they went vp in all the haſte to Ieruſalém vnto the Iewes, and cauſed them to ceaſe by force and power.

n Not all together for the Prophetes exhorted thē to continue, but they vſed leſſe diligence becauſe of the troubles.

24 Then n ceaſed the woike of the houſe of God, which was in Ieruſalém, and did ſtay vnto the ſecōde yere of Darius King of Perſia.

CHAP. V.

1 Haggái & Zechariáh do prophecie. 3 The worke of the Temple goeth forwarde contrary to the minde of Tatnái. 6 His lettres to Darius.

1 THē" *Haggái a Prophet & Zechariáh the ſonne of Iddó a Prophet prophecied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudáh, & Ieruſalém, in the Name of the God of Iſraél, euen vnto them.

"Or, Haggeus Hag. 1, 1. 3. eſar 6, 6.

2 Then Zerubbabél the ſonne of Shealtiél, & Ieſhúa the ſonne of Iozadák aroſe, and began to buylde the houſe of God at Ieruſalém, and with them were the Prophetes of God, which a helped them.

a Which incouraged thē to go forward & accuſed thē that they were more careful to buylde their owne houſes, then zealous to buylde the tēple of God.

3 ¶ At the ſame time came to them Tatnái, which was captaine beyonde the Riuer, & Shether-boznái and their companions, & ſaid thus vnto them, Who hathe giuen you commandemēt to buylde this houſe, and to lay the fundacions of theſe walles?

4 b Then ſaid we vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that buylde this buylding?

b That is, the enemies aſked this, as ver. 10.

5 But the c eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they colde not cauſe them to ceaſe, til the matter came to Darius: and then they anſwered by letters thereunto.

c His fauour & the ſtirre of ſtrength

6 The copie of the lettre, that Tatnái captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shether boznai and his companions Aphárſechaié, (which wer beyonde the Riuer) ſent vnto King Darius.

7 They sent a lettre vnto him, wherein it was writen thus, VNTO DARIVS the King, all peace.

8 Be it knowen vnto the King, that we wēt into the prouince of Iudea, to the house of the great God, which is buylded with [a] great stones, and beames are layed in the walles, and this worke is wroght spedely, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we those Elders, and said vnto them thus, Who hathe giuen you commandement to buyld this house, and to laye the fundacion of these walles?

10 We asked their names also, ẏ we might certifie thee, & that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But thei answered vs thus, & said, We are the seruants of ẏ God of heauen & earth, & buyld the house that was buylt of olde & many yeres ago, which a [d] great King of Israél *buylded, & founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, * he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzár King of Babél the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and caryed the people away captiue vnto Babél.

13 But in the [e] first yere of Cyrus King of Babél, Kīg Cyrus made a decree to buyld this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde & siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzár toke out of the Tēple, that was in Ierusalém, and broght them into the Temple of Babél, those did Cyrus the King take out of the Tēple of Babél, & they gaue them vnto one [f] Sheshbazzár by his name, whome he had made captaine.

15 And he said vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, & put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalém, and let the house of God be buylt in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzár and layed the fundacion of the house of God, which is in Ierusalém, and since that time euen vntil now, hathe it bene in buylding, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be searche made in the house of the Kings [g] treasures, which is there in Babél, whether a decree hathe bene made by King Cyrus, to buylde this house of God in Ierusalém, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

[a] Or, marble.
[d] To wit, Salomon.
1. King. 6, 2. 2 chro. 3, 2. 2. King. 34, 2. & 25, 9.
[e] Read Chap. 1, 1.
[f] Read Chap. 1, 8.
[g] Meaning, in the Librarie, or places where laye the registers, or recordes of times.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was buylded and dedicate, the children of Israél kepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

1 THen * King Darius gaue commandement, and they made searche in the " librarie of the treasures, which were there layed vp in Babél.

2 And there was founde in a [a] coffre (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, & therein was it thus writē, as a memorial,

3 IN THE FIRST yere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalém, Let the house be buylt, euen the place where they offred sacrifices, & let the walles thereof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be thre score cubites, & the breadth thereof thre score cubites,

4 Thre [a] orders of [a] great stones, and one order of tymbre, and let the expences be giuen of the Kings house.

5 And also let them render ẏ vessels of the house of God (of golde & siluer, w̄ Nebuchadnezzár toke out of the Tēple, which was in Ierusalém, and broght vnto Babél) and let [b] him go vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalém to his place and put them in the house of God.

6 Therefore Tatnái captaine beyonde the Riuer, and Shethár Boznái, (& their companions Apharsecaié, which are beyonde the Riuer) he ye farre [c] from thence.

7 Suffre ye the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes & the Elders of the Iewes may buylde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shal do to the Elders of these Iewes for the buylding of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyonde the Riuer, there be incontinently expenses giuen vnto these mē that they [d] cease not.

9 And that which thei shal haue nede of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rams, or lambs for the burnt offrings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, & oyle, according to the appointemēt of the Priests that are in Ierusalém, that there be no faute,

10 That they may haue to offer swete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, ẏ whosoeuer shal alter this sentence, the wood shal be pulled downe from his house, and shalbe set vp, & he shal be hanged thereon, & his house shal be made a dung hil for this.

12 And the God that hathe caused his Name [e] to dwel there, destroye all Kings and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroye this house of God, which is in Ierusalém. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with spede.

13 ¶ * Then Tatnái the captaine beyonde the Riuer, & Shethár Boznái and their cōpanions, according to that which Darius had sent, so thei did spedely.

14 So the Elders of the Iewes buylded, and they prospered by the prophecying of [f] Haggái

[a] Or, rowes, or courses
[a] Or, marble.
[b] Meaning, Zerubbabel, to whome he gineth charge.
[c] Medle not with them, nether hinder them.
[d] For lacke of money.
[e] Who hathe appointed that place to haue his name called vpō there.
3 Esdr 7, 1.
3 Esdr 6, 21.
* Ebr. house of bokes.
[a] Wherein were the actes of the Kings of Medes and Persians.

425/1224

f Whome God ſtirred vp to aſſiſt them that he wolde giue their worke good ſucceſſe.

f Haggái the Prophet, and Zechariáh the ſonne of Iddó, and they buylded and finiſhed it, by the appointemẽt of the God of Iſraél, and by the commandment of Cyrus and Darius, & Artahſhášhte King of Perſia.

g This is the twelft monethe, and conteineth parte of Februarie and parte of Marche

15 And this houſe was finiſhed the third day of the moneth g Adar, which was h the ſixt yere of ỹ reigne of King Darius.

h And the two and fortieth after their firſt returne.

16 ¶ And the children of Iſraél, the Prieſts, & the Leuites, and the reſidue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedicacion of this houſe of God with ioye,

17 And offred at the dedicacíó of this houſe of God an hundreth bullockes, two hundreth rams, foure hundreth lambes & twelue goates, for the ſinne of all Iſraél, according to the nomber of the tribes of Iſraél.

18 And they ſet the Prieſts in their ordre, and the Leuites in their courſes ouer the ſeruice of God in Ieruſalém, as it is written in the * boke of Moſés.

Nomb. 3. 6. & 8. 9.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Paſſeouer on the fourtente day of the firſt moneth.

20 (For the Prieſts & the Leuites were purified all together) & they killed the Paſſeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, & for their brethren the Prieſts, & for them ſelues.

i Which were of the heathẽ and forſaked their idolatrie to worſhip the true God

21 So the children of Iſraél which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all ſuche as had i ſeparated them ſelues vnto them, from the filthines of the heathen of the lãd, to ſeke ỹ Lord God of Iſraél, did eat, k Meaning, Darius who was king of ỹ Medes, Perſians and aſſyrians 22 And they kept the feaſt of vnleauened bread ſeuen dayes with ioye: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the King of k Aſſhúr vnto them, to "incourage them in the worke of the houſe of God, euen the God of Iſraél.

"Ebr. to ſtrengthen their hands.

CHAP. VII.

7 By the commãdement of the King, Ezrá and his companiõs come to Ieruſalem 27 He giueth thãkes to God.

a The Ebrewes write, that diuers of the Kings of Perſia were called by this name as Pharaóh was a cõmune name to the Kigs of Egypt, and Cesar to ỹ Emperours Romain

NOw after theſe things, in the reigne of a Artahſhášhte King of Perſia, was Ezrá the ſonne of Seraiáh, the ſonne of Azariáh, the ſonne of Hilkiáh,

b Ezrá deduceth his kinred, til he cõmeth to Aarón, to proue that he came of him

2 The ſonne of Shallúm, the ſonne of Zadók, the ſonne of Ahitúb,

3 The ſonne of Amariáh, the ſonne of Azariáh, the ſonne of Meraióth,

4 The ſonne of Zeraiáh, the ſonne of Vzzí, the ſonne of Bukkí,

5 The ſonne of Abiſhúa, the ſonne of Phinehás, the ſonne of Eleazár, the ſonne of b Aarón, the chief Prieſt.

c He ſheweth here what a ſcribe is, who had charge to write the Law & to expoũde it, whom Marke calleth a ſcribe, Mar. 12, 28 Mat and Luke call him a lawier, or doctor of the Law, Mat 22, 35 Luk 10, 25

6 This Ezrá came vp from Babél, and was a c ſcribe prompt in the Law of Moſés, which the Lord God of Iſraél had giuen, and the King gaue him all his requeſt according to the hand of the Lord his God whiche was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certeine of the children of Iſraél, and of the Prieſts, and the Leuites, and the ſingers, and the porters, and the Nethinims vnto Ieruſalém, in the ſeuent yere of King Artahſhášhte.

d That conteineth parte of Iulie and parte of Auguſt

8 And he came to Ieruſalém in the d fift moneth, which was in the ſeuent yere e of the King.

e Of King Darius.

9 For vpon the firſt day of the firſt moneth began he to go vp from Babél, and on the firſt day of the fift moneth came he to Ieruſalém, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezrá had prepared his heart to ſeke the Law of the Lord, and to do it, & to teache the precepts & iudgements in Iſraél.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that King Artahſhášhte gaue vnto Ezrá the Prieſt & ſcribe, euẽ a writer of the wordes of the cõmandements of the Lord, and of his ſtatutes ouer Iſraél.

12 ARTAHSHASHTE King of Kings to Ezrá ỹ Prieſt & perfite ſcribe of the Law of the God of heauen, and to f Cheéneth.

f Some take this for the name of a people, ſome for time or conſtancie meaning ỹ the King wiſhed him long life

13 I haue giuen cõmandement, that euerie one, that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Iſraél, and of the Prieſts, and Leuites g to go to Ieruſalém with thee, ſhal go.

g Which remained as yet in Babylon, & had not returned with Zorubbabél.

14 Therefore art thou ſent of the King and his ſeuen counſelers, to h enquire in Iudáh and Ieruſalém, according to the Law of thy God, which is in i thine hand,

h To examine who lived according to the Law

15 And to carie the ſiluer and the golde, ẅ the King and his cõſeilers willingly offer vnto the God of Iſraél (whoſe habitacion is in Ieruſalem)

i Whereof thou art expert.

16 And all the ſiluer and golde that thou canſt finde in all the prouince of Babél, with the free offring of the people, and that which the Prieſts offre willingly to ỹ houſe of their God which is in Ieruſalém,

17 That thou maieſt bye ſpedely with this ſiluer, bullockes, rams, lambes, with their meat offrings and their drinke offrings: & thou ſhalt offer thẽ vpon the altar of the houſe of your God, which is in Ieruſalém.

18 And whatſoeuer it pleaſeth thee & thy brethrẽ to do with the reſt of the ſiluer, and golde, do ye it according to the wil of your k God.

k As we know beſt may ſerue to Gods glorie.

19 And the veſſels that are giuen thee for the ſeruice of the houſe of thy God, thoſe deliuer thou before God in Ieruſalém.

20 And the reſidue that ſhalbe nedeful for the houſe of thy God, which ſhalbe mete for thee to beſtowe, thou ſhalt beſtowe it out of the Kings treaſure houſe,

21 And I King Artahſhášhte haue giuen commandement to all the treaſurers which are beyonde l the Riuer, that whatſoeuer Ezrá the Prieſt and ſcribe l Which was the Riuer Euphrates, and they were beyond it in reſpect of Babylon.

of the Law of ỹ God of heauē ſhal require of you, that it be done incontinently, 22 Vnto an hundreth talents of ſiluer, vnto an hundreth [v] meaſures of wheat, and vnto an hundreth baths of wine, and vnto an hundreth [m] baths of oyle, and ſalt without writing.

23 Whatſoeuer is by the commandement of the God of heauen, let it be done ſpedely for the houſe of the God of heauen: for why ſhulde he be wrath [n] againſt the realme of the King, and his children?

24 And we certifie you, that vpon anie of ỹ Prieſts, Leuites, ſingers, porters, Nethinims, or miniſters in this houſe of God, there ſhal no gouernour lay vpon them tolle, tribute nor cuſtome.

25 And thou Ezrá (after the wiſdome of thy God, ỹ is in thine hand) [o] ſet iudges & arbiters, which may iudge all ỹ people that is beyond the Riuer, euen all that knowe the Law of thy God, & teache ye them that knowe it not.

26 And whoſoeuer wil not do the Law of thy God, and the Kings law, let him haue iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to baniſhment, or to confiſcation of goods, or to impriſonement.

27 [p] Bleſſed be the Lord God of our fathers, which ſo hathe put in the Kings heart, to beautifie the houſe of the Lord that is in Ieruſalém, 28 And hathe enclined mercie towarde me, before the King and his counſelers, and before all the Kings mightie princes: and I was comforted by the hand of the Lord my God which was vpon me, and I gathered the chief of Iſraél to go vp with me.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The nomber of them that returned to Ieruſalém with Ezrá. 21 He cauſeth thē to faſt. 24 He admoniſheth the Prieſts of their duetie. 31 What they did when they came to Ieruſalém.

1 THeſe [*] are now the chief fathers of thē, and the genealogie of them that came vp with me from Babél, in the reigne of King [a] Artahſhášhte.

2 Of the ſonnes of Phinehás, Gerſhóm: of the ſonnes of Ithamár, Daniél: of the ſonnes of Dauíd, Hattúſh:

3 Of the ſonnes of Shechaniáh, of the ſonnes of Pharóſh, Zechariáh, and with him the counte of the males, an hundreth and fiftie.

4 Of the ſonnes of [v] Pahath Moáb, Elihoenái, the ſonne of Zerahiáh, and with him two hundreth males.

5 Of the ſonnes of Shechaniáh, the ſonne of Iahaziél, and with him thre hundreth males.

6 And of the ſonnes of Adin, Ebed the ſonne of Ionathán, and with him fiftie males.

7 And of the ſonnes of Elám, Ieſhaiáh the ſonne of Athaliáh, and with him ſeuentie males.

8 And of the ſonnes of Shephatiáh, Zebadiáh the ſonne of Michaél, and with him foure ſcore males.

9 Of the ſonnes of Ioáb, Obadiáh the ſonne of Iehiél, and with him two hundreth and eightene males.

10 And of the ſonnes of Shelomíth the ſonne of Ioſiphiah, and with him an hũdreth and thirte ſcore males.

11 And of the ſonnes of Bebái, Zechariáh, the ſonne of Bebái, & with him eight and twentie males.

12 And of the ſonnes of Azgád, Iohanán the ſonne of Hakkatán, and with him an hundreth and ten males.

13 And of the ſonnes of Adonikám, that were the [b] laſt, whoſe names are theſe: Eliphélet, Iehiél and Shemaiáh, and with thē thre ſcore males.

14 And of the ſonnes of Biguái, Vthái, and Zabbúd, and with them ſeuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the [c] Riuer that goeth toward Ahauá, and there abode we thre dayes: then I vewed the people, and the Prieſts, and founde there none of the ſonnes of Leuí.

16 Therefore ſent I to Eliézer, to Ariél, to Shemeiáh, & to Elnathán, & to Iaríb, and to Elnathán, and to Nathán, and to Zechariáh, and to Meſhullám the chief, and to Ioiaríb and to Elnathán, men of vnderſtanding,

17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddó the [d] chiefeſt at the place of Caſephiá, and I [w] tolde them the wordes that they ſhulde ſpeake to Iddó, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Caſiphiá, that they ſhulde cauſe the miniſters of the houſe of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God which was vpon vs, they broght vs a man of vnderſtanding of the ſonnes of Mahalí the ſonne of Leuí, the ſonne of Iſraél, and Shebiáh with his ſonnes and his brethren, euen eightene.

19 Alſo Haſhabiáh, and with him Ieſhaiáh of the ſonnes of Merarí, with his brethren, and their ſonnes twentie.

20 And of the [e] Nethinims, whome Dauid had ſet, and the princes for the ſeruice of the Leuites, two hundreth and twētie of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the Riuer, by Ahauá, I proclaimed a faſt, that we might humble [f] our ſelues before our God, and ſeke of him a right waye for vs, and for our children, & for all our ſubſtance.

22 For I was [g] aſhamed to require of the King an armie and horſemen, to helpe vs againſt the enemie in the way, becauſe we had

---

v Ebr Corim.

m Read 1 King 7,26. and 2 Chro 2,10.

n This declareth that the feare of Gods iudgemēts caused him to vſe this liberalitie, and not the loue that he bare to Gods glorie or affection to his people

o He gaue Ezrá ful autoritie to reſtore all things according to the worde of God, and to puniſh thē that reſiſted and wolde not obeie.

p Thus Ezrá gaue God thākes for that he gaue him ſo good ſucceſſe in his affaires by reaſon of the King.

* 1. Eſdr. 8,31.

a Read Chap. 7,1.

v Or captaine of the Moáb.

b That came to go with Ezrá.

c To that place of Euphrates, where Ahaua the riuer entreth into it.

d He was the chiefeſt that taght there ỹ Law of God vnto the Leuites w Ebr put wordes in their mouth.

e Read Chap. 2,42

f He ſheweth that the end of faſting is to hũble the body to the ſpirit, which muſte procede of the heart lyuely touched, or els it is but hypocriſie

g He thoght it better to cōmit him ſelfe to the protection of God, then by ſeking theſe ordinarie meanes, to giue an occaſion to others to thinke that he did doute of Gods power.

had ſpoken to the King, ſaying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that ſeke him, in goodnes, But his power and his wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

23 So we faſted, and beſoght our God for this and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I ſeparated twelue of the chief of the Prieſts, Sherebiáh, and Haſhabiáh, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed thē the ſiluer & the golde, & the veſſels, euen the offring of the houſe of our God, which the King and his coūſelers, and his princes, and all Iſraél that were preſent had offred.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand ſix hundreth and fifty [h] talents of ſiluer, and in ſiluer veſſel, an hundreth talents, and in golde, an hundreth talents:

27 And twentie baſins of golde, of a thouſand [i] drammes, and two veſſels of ſhining braſſe very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶And I ſaid vnto thē, Ye are conſecrate vnto the Lord, and the veſſels are conſecrate, and the golde and the ſiluer are freely offred vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watche ye, & kepe them vntil ye weigh them before the chief Prieſts and the Leuites, and the chief fathers of Iſraél in Ieruſalém in the chambers of the houſe of the Lord.

30 So the Prieſts and the Leuites receiued the weight of the ſiluer and of the golde, and of the veſſels to bring them to Ieruſalém, vnto the houſe of our God.

31 ¶Then we departed from the Riuer of Ahauá on the twelft day of the firſt moneth, to go vnto Ieruſalém, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemie, and of ſuche as layed [k] waite by the way.

32 And we came to Ieruſalém, and abode there thre dayes.

33 And on the fourte day was the ſiluer weighed, and the golde and the veſſel in the houſe of our God by the hand of Meremóth the ſonne of Vriáh the Prieſt, and with him was Eleazár the ſonne of Phinehás, and with them was Iozabád the ſonne of Ieſhúa, and Noadiáh the ſonne of Binnúi the [l] Leuites, 34 By nomber and by weight of euerie one, and all the weight was writen at the ſame time.

35 Alſo the childrē of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offred burnt offrīgs vnto the God of Iſraél, twelue bullockes for all Iſraél, ninetie and ſix rams, ſeuentie and ſeuen lambes, and twelue he goates for ſinne: all was a burnt offring of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commiſſion vnto the Kīgs officers, & to the captaines beyonde the Riuer: and they promoted the people, and the houſe of God.

h Read 1 Kin 9.14.

i Read Chap. 8.69.

k This declared that their iourney was ful of danger, and yet God deliuered thē according to their prayer

l This was a tokē of a good conſcience & of his integritie, that he wolde haue witneſſes of his fidelitie.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezrá complaineth on the people that had turned themſelues from God, and maryed with the Gentiles. 5 He praieth vnt God.

1 WHen as theſe things were done, ỹ rulers came to me, ſaying, The people of Iſraél, and the Prieſts and the Leuites are not [a] ſeparated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominacions) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Iebuſites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to them ſelues, and to their ſonnes, and they haue mixed the holy ſede with the people of the lands, and the hād of the [b] princes & rulers hathe bene chief in this treſpaſſe.

3 But when I heard this ſaying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt of the heere of mine head, and of my beard, & ſate downe [c] aſtonied.

4 And there aſſembled vnto me all that feared the wordes of the God of Iſraél, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of them of the captiuitie. And I ſate downe aſtonied vntil the [e] euening ſacrifice.

5 And at the euenīg ſacrifice I aroſe vp frō mine heuines, & when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fel vpon my knees, and ſpred out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And ſaid, O my God, I am cōfounded & aſhamed, to lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our iniquities are increaſed ouer [d] our head, & our treſpaſſe is growen vp vnto [e] the heauen.

7 From thē dayes of our fathers haue we bene in a great treſpaſſe vnto this day, & for our iniquities haue we, our Kings, and our Prieſts bene deliuered into the hand of ỹ Kings of the lands, vnto the ſworde, into captiuitie, into a ſpoyle, and into cōfuſion of face, as appeareth this day.

8 And now for a litle ſpace grace hathe bene ſhewed from the Lord our God, in cauſing a remnant to eſcape, & in giuing vs a [f] nayle in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, & giue vs a litle reuiuing in our ſeruitude.

9 For thogh we were bōdemen, yet our God hathe not forſaken vs in our bondage, but hathe enclined mercie vnto vs in the ſight of the Kings of Perſia, to giue vs life, and to erect the houſe of our God, and to redreſſe the deſolate places thereof, and to giue vs a wall in Iudáh and in Ieruſalém.

10 And now, our God, what ſhal we ſay after this? for we haue forſaken thy commāde-a From the time they came home vnder Zerubabél vntil ỹ comīng of Ezrá, they had degenerate contrary to th. Lawe of God, and maried where it was not lawful, Deu 7.3

b That is, the gouerners are the chief begīners hereof

c As one doutīg whether God wolde cōtinue his benefites towardvs or els deſtroy this which he had begone

e Exod.29.39. nomb.28.3.

d That is, we are drouned in ſinne

e They ſo excede that they can not growe greater.

f In giuing vs a reſtīg place. It is a ſimilitude take of thē that remaine ſtil in a place, which ſmite nailes to hang things vpon. Iſa.22,23.

Exod 23,32. & 34,12,15. deu.7,3.

11 Which thou haſt commanded by thy ſeruants the Prophetes, ſaying, * The lād whereunto ye go to poſſeſſe it, is an vncleane land, becauſe of the filthines of the people of the lands, which by their abominaciōs, and by their vnclennes haue filled it from corner to corner.

12 Now therefore ſhal ye not giue your daughters vnto their ſonnes, nether ſhal ye take their daughters vnto your ſonnes, nor ſeke their * peace nor wealth for euer, that ye may be ſtrōg and eat the goodnes of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your ſonnes for euer.

Deut.23,6.

13 And after all that is come vpon vs for our euil dedes, and for our great treſpaſſes (ſeing that thou our God haſt ſtaied vs from being benethe g for our iniquities, & haſt giuen vs ſuche deliuerance)

g Haſt not vtterly caſt vs downe and deſtroied vs for our ſinnes, Deu.28,13 14 Shulde we returne to breake thy cōmandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of ſuche abominaciōs? woldeſt not thou be angrie toward vs til thou haddeſt cōſumed vs, ſo that there ſhulde be no remnant nor anie eſkaping?

h He ſheweth that God is iuſte in puniſhing his people, & yet merciful in reſeruing a reſiduc to whome he ſheweth fauour.

15 O Lord God of Iſraél, thou art iuſte, for we haue bene h reſerued to eſcape, as appeareth this day: beholde, we are before thee in our treſpaſſe: therefore we cannot ſtand before thee becauſe of it.

CHAP. X.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their ſtrange wiues.

1 Eſdr.8,92. a He confeſſed his ſinnes and the ſinnes of the people.

1 WHiles *Ezrá prayed thus, & a confeſſed him ſelfe weping, and falling downe before ỹ houſe of God, there aſſembled vnto him of Iſraél a very great Congregacion of men and women & children: for the people wept with a great lamentacion.

2 Then Shechaniáh the ſonne of Iehiél one of the ſonnes of Elám, anſwered, and ſaid to Ezrá, We haue treſpaſſed againſt our God, and haue taken ſtrange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is b hope in Iſraél concerning this.

b Meaning, that God wolde receiue thē to mercie

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant with our God, to put away c all the wiues (and ſuche as are borne of them) according to the counſel of the Lord, and of thoſe that feare the commandements of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

c Which are ſtrangers and maried contrarie to the Law of God

4 Ariſe: for the matter d belongeth vnto thee: we alſo wil be with thee: be of comforte and do it.

d Becauſe God hathe giuen thee auctoritie, & learning to perſuade ỹ people herein and to cōmande them.

5 ¶ Then aroſe Ezrá, and cauſed the chief Prieſts, the Leuites, & all Iſraél, to ſweare that they wolde do according to this worde. So they ſware.

3 Eſdr.9,3. 6 *And Ezrá roſe vp from before the houſe of God, and went into the chambre of Iohanán the ſonne of Eliaſhíb: he went euen thither, but he did eat nether bread, nor dronke water: for he mourned, becauſe of the trāſgreſsion of thē of the captiuitie.

7 And they cauſed a proclamacion to go throughout Iudáh and Ieruſalém, vnto "all them of the captiuitie, that they ſhulde aſſemble them ſelues vnto Ieruſalém.

"Ebr ſonnes of the captiuitie.

8 And whoſoeuer wolde not come within thre dayes according to the counſel of the princes and Elders, all his ſubſtance ſhulde be 'forfait, & he ſhulde be ſeparate from the Congregacion of them of the captiuitie.

'Or, cōdemned.

9 ¶ Then all the men of Iudáh & Beniamin aſſembled them ſelues vnto Ieruſalém within thre dayes, which was the twētieth day of the e mnte moneth, and all the people ſate in the ſtrete of the houſe of God, trembling for this matter, and for the f raine.

e Which contained part of Nouember & part of December

f For the ſeaſon was giuen to raine, & ſo ỹ wether was more ſharpe & colde, and alſo their conſcience touched them

10 And Ezrá the Prieſt ſtode vp, and ſaid vnto them, Ye haue tranſgreſſed, and haue taken ſtrange wiues, to g increaſe the treſpaſſe of Iſraél.

g Ye haue layed one ſinne vpon another

11 Now therefore h giue praiſe vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his wil and ſeparate your ſelues from the people of the land, & from the ſtrange wiues.

h Read Ioſh. 7,19.

12 And all the Congregacion anſwered, & ſaid with a loude voyce, So wil we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie wether, and we are not able to ſtand without, nether is it the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers ſtand therefore i before all the Congregacion, and let all them which haue taken ſtrange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euerie citie and the iudges thereof, til the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

i Let them be appointed to examine this matter.

15 Then were appointed Ionathán the ſonne of Aſah-él, and Iahaziáh the ſonne of Tikuah ouer this matter, and Meſhullám and Shabbethái the Leuites helped them.

16 And thei of the captiuitie did ſo and k departed, euen Ezrá the Prieſt, & the mē that were chief fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and ſate downe in the firſt daye of the tente moneth to examine the matter.

k Thei went to the chief cities to ſit on this matter ỹ was thre moneths in finiſhing.

17 And vntil the firſt day of ỹ firſt moneth they were finiſhing the buſines with all the men that had taken ſtrange wiues,

18 And of the ſonnes of the Prieſts there were men founde, that had taken ſtrange wiues, to wit, of the ſonnes of Ieſhúa, the ſonne of Iozadák, & of his brethren, Maaſeiáh, A Eliézer, and Iaríb and Gedaliáh.

19 And thei gaue l their hāds, that thei wolde l As a token that thei wolde kepe promes & do it.

de put away their wiues,and they that had treſpaſſed,gaue a rãme for their treſpaſſe.
20 And of the ſonnes of Immér, Honaní, and Zebadiáh.
21 And of the ſonnes of Harím, Maaſeiáh, and Eliáh, and Shemaiáh,and Iehiél,and Vzziáh.
22 And of the ſonnes of Paſhúr, Elioenái, Maaſeiáh, Iſhmaél, Nethaneél, Iozabád, and Elaſáh.
23 And of the Leuites,Iozabád and Shimeí & Kelaiáh,(which is Kelitáh) Pethahiáh, Iudáh and Eliézer.
24 And of the ſingers,Eliaſhíb. And of the porters,Shallúm,and Telém,and Vrí.
25 And of [m] Iſraél: of the ſonnes of Paróſh,Ramiáh,and Ieſiáh, and Malchiáh, and Miámin,and Eleazár,and Malchiáh, and Benaiáh.
26 And of the ſonnes of Elám, Mattaniáh, Zechariáh,and Iehiél,and Abdí,and Ieremóth,and Eliáh.
27 And of the ſonnes of Zattú, Elioenái, Eliaſhíb,Mattaniáh,and Ierimóth,& Zabád,and Azizá.
28 And of the ſonnes of Bebái,Iehohanán, Hananiah,Zabbái,Athlái.
29 And of the ſonnes of Baní,Meſhullám, Mallúch, and Adaiáh, Iaſhúb,and Sneál, Ieramóth.
30 And of the ſonnes of [o] Paháth Moáb, Adná, & Chelál, Benaiáh,Maaſeiah,Mattaniáh,Bezaleél,& Binnúi,and Manaſſéh.
31 And of the ſonnes of Harim, Eliézer, Iſhiiáh,Malchiáh,Shemaiáh, Shimeón, 32 Beniamín,Mallúch,Shamariah.
33 Of the ſonnes of Haſhúm, Mattenái, Mattattáh,Zabád,Eliphélet,Ieremái,Menaſſéh,Shimeí.
34 Of the ſonnes of Baní, Maadái, Amrám,and Vél, 35 Banaiáh,Bediáh,Chellúh,
36 Vaniáh, Meremóth,Eliaſhíb,
37 Mattaniáh, Mattenái,and Iaaſáu,
38 And Banní & Bennúi,Shimeí,
39 And Shelemiáh,& Nathan, & Adaiáh,
40 Machnadebái, Shaſhái,Sharái,
41 Azareél, and Shelemiáh, Shemariáh, 42 Shallúm,Amariáh,Ioſeph.
43 Of the ſonnes of Nebó, Ieiél, Mattithiáh, Zabád,Zebiná,Iadaú,& Ioél, Benaiáh.
44 All theſe had taken ſtrange wiues: and among thẽ were womẽ that had [n] childrẽ.

[m] Meaning, of ỹ cõmune people for before he ſpake of the Prieſts & Leuites.
[o] Or, the captaine of Moab
[n] Which alſo were made illegitimate becauſe the mariage was vnlawful.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times ſet vp worthy perſones for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compaſſe of ſeuentie yeres he raiſed vp diuers excellent men for the preſeruation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabél, Ezrá, and Nehemiáh. Whereof the firſt was their captaine, to bring them home, and prouided that the Temple was buylded: the ſeconde reformed their maners and planted religion: & the third buylded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppreſſion, and prouided that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godlie man and in great autoritie with the King, ſo that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him moſte ample letters for the accompliſhement of all things which he colde deſire. This boke is alſo called of the latins the ſeconde of Ezrá, becauſe he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiáh bewaileth the calamitie of Ieruſalém. 5 He confeſſeth the ſinnes of the people, & prayeth God for them

1 THe wordes of Nehemiáh the ſonne of Hachaliáh, in the moneth [a] Chiſléu, in the twentieth yere, as I was in the palace of Shuſhán,
2 Came Hanani,one of my [b] brethren,he & the men of Iudáh, and I aſked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the reſidue of ỹ captiuitie, and concerning Ieruſalém.
3 And they ſaid vnto me, The reſidue that are left of the captiuitie there in the [c] prouince,are in great affliction and in reproche,and the wall of Ieruſalém is broken downe,& the gates thereof are burnt with fyre.
4 And when I heard theſe wordes,I ſate downe and wept, and mourned certeine dayes,and I faſted and prayed before the God of heauen,
5 And ſaid, *O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that kepeth couenant and mercie for them that loue him, and obſerue his commandements, Dan.9.4.
6 I pray thee,let thine eares be attent,and thine eyes open, to heare the prayer of thy ſeruant,which I pray before thee dayly, day & night for the children of Iſraél thy ſeruants, & confeſſe the ſinnes of the children of Iſrael,which we haue ſinned

[a] Which conteineth part of November & part of Decẽber, and was their ninth moneth.
[b] A Iewe as I was.
[c] Meaning,in Iewry.

againſt thee, bothe I & my fathers houſe haue ſinned:

7 We haue "grieuouſly ſinned againſt thee, and haue not kept the commandements, nor the ſtatutes, nor the iudgements, which thou commandedſt thy ſeruant Moſés.

8 I beſeche thee, remember the worde that thou commandedſt thy ſeruant Moſés, ſaying, Ye wil tranſgreſſe, and I wil ſcatre you abroade among the people.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and kepe my cõmandements, and do them, thogh your ſcatering were to the vttermoſt parte of the heauẽ, yet wil I gather you from thẽce and wil bring you vnto the place that I haue choſen, to place my Name there.

10 Now theſe are thy ſeruants & thy people, whome thou haſt redemed by thy great power, and by thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beſeche thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy ſeruant, and to the prayer of thy ſeruãts, which deſire to [d] feare thy Name, and, I pray thee, cauſe thy ſeruant to proſper this day, and giue him fauour in the preſence of [e] this man: for I was the Kings butler.

" Ebr. corrupted

Deut 30.4

d That is, to worship thee.

e To wit, the King Artahſhaſhte.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiáh had obteined letters of Artaxerxes, 11 He came to Ieruſalem, 17 And buylded the walles.

1 NOw in the moneth [a] Niſan in the twẽtieth yere of King [b] Artahſhaſhte, the wine ſtode before him, and I toke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the King. now I was not before time ſad in his preſence.

2 And the King ſaid vnto me, Why is thy countenance ſad, ſeing thou are not ſicke? this is nothing, but ſorowe of heart. Then was I ſore afraied,

3 And I ſaid to the King, God ſaue the King for euer: why ſhulde not my countenance be ſad, when the citie & houſe of [f] ſepulchres of my fathers lieth waſte & the gates thereof are deuoured with fyre?

4 And the King ſaid vnto me, For what thing doeſt thou require? Then I praied [c] to the God of heauen,

5 And ſaid vnto the King, If it pleaſe the King, and if thy ſeruant haue founde fauour in thy ſight, I deſire that thou woldeſt ſend me to Iudáh vnto the citie of the ſepulchres of my fathers, that I may buylde it.

6 And the King ſaid vnto me, (the quene alſo ſitting by him) How long ſhal thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleaſed the King, and he ſent me, and I ſet him a time.

7 After I ſaid vnto the King, If it pleaſe [g] King, let them giue me letters to the captaines beyonde the [*] Riuer, that they may conuaye me ouer, til I come into Iudáh, a Which was [f] firſt moneth of the yere & cõteineth part of Marche & part of April

b Who is alſo called Darius read Ezr 7.1.

c I deſired God in mine hart to proſper me in my enterpriſe.

*Or, Euphrates.

8 And letters vnto Aſáph the keper of the Kings [*] parke, that he may giue me timber to buylde the gates of the palace (which appertained to the houſe) & for the walles of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhal entre into. And the King gaue me according to [d] the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 ¶ Then came I to the captaines beyond the Riuer, & gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had ſent captaines of the armie and horſmen with me.

10 But [e] Sanballát the Horonite, and Tobiáh a ſeruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieued thẽ ſore, that there was come a man which ſoght the wealth of the children of Iſraél.

11 So I came to Ieruſalém, and was there thre dayes.

12 And I roſe in the night, I, and a few mẽ with me: for I tolde no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Ieruſalém, and there was not a beaſt with me, ſaue the beaſt whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the draggon well, and to the dung porte, and vewed the walles of Ieruſalém, how they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fyre.

14 Then I went forthe vnto the gate of [f] [*] fountaine, and to the Kings fiſh poole, & there was no roume for the beaſt that was vnder me to paſſe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the broke, & vewed the wall, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knewe not whether I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Prieſts, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the reſt that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I ſaid vnto them, Ye ſe the miſerie that we are in, how Ieruſalém lieth waſte, and the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come and let vs buylde the wall of Ieruſalém, that we be no more [f] a reproche.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and alſo of the Kings wordes that he had ſpoken vnto me. And they ſaid, Let vs riſe, & buylde. So they [g] ſtrengthened their hand to good.

19 But whẽ Sanballát the Horonite, & Tobiáh the ſeruant an Ammonite, and [h] Geſhém the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and deſpiſed vs, and ſaid, What a thing is this that ye do? Wil ye [i] rebell againſt the King?

20 Then anſwered I them, and ſaid to thẽ, The God of heauen, he wil proſper vs, & we d As God moued me to aſke, & as he gaue me good ſucceſſe therein.

*Or, paradiſe.

e Theſe were great enemies to the Iewes & laboured alwayes bothe by force & ſubtiltie to ouercome them, & Tobiáh becauſe his wife was a Iewes, had aduertiſement euer of their affaires and ſo wroght them great trouble.

*Or, condite.

f That is, contemned of other nations, as though God had forſaken vs

g They were incouraged & gaue them ſelues to do wel, & to trauel in this worthy enterpriſe.

h Theſe were thre chief gouerners vnder ỹ King of Perſia beyõde Euphrates

i Thus ỹ wicked when thei wil burthen ỹ children of God, euer lay treaſon vnto their charge, bothe becauſe it mooueth thẽ moſte odious to the worlde, & alſo ſtirreth ỹ hatred of princes moſte againſt them.

we his ſeruants wil riſe vp and buylde: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor [k] memorial in Ieruſalém.

k Nether ye are of the nóber of the children of God (to whome he hathe appointed this citie onely) nether did ane of your predeceſſours euer feare God

CHAP. III.

The nomber of them that buylded the wallet.

1 THen aroſe Eliaſhíb the hie Prieſt with his brethren the Prieſts, & they buylt the ſhepegate: thei [a] repared it, & ſet vp the dores theroof: euen vnto the towre of Meáh repared they it, & vnto the towre of Hananeél.

a Io Ebrewe, thei ſanctified it, that is, they finiſhed it, and ſo dedicated it to the Lord by prayer, in deſiring him to maiſteine it

2 And next vnto him buylded the men of Ierichó, and beſide him Zaccúr the ſonne of Imrí.

3 But the fiſh porte did the ſonnes of Senaáh buylde, which alſo layed the beames thereof, and ſet on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

4 And next vnto thē fortified Merimóth, the ſonne of Vriiah, the ſonne of Hakkóz: and next vnto them fortified Meſhullam, the ſonne of Berechiáh, the ſonne of Meſhezabeél: and next vnto them fortified Zadók, the ſonne of Baaná:

5 And next vnto them fortified the Tekoites. but the great men of them [b] put not their neckes to the worke of their lords.

b The riche & mightie wolde not obey thē, which were appointed officers in this worke, nether wolde thei helpe thereūto Iſa 22,11.

6 And the gate of the * olde fiſhpoole fortified Iehoiadá the ſonne of Paſéah, & Meſhullám the ſōne of Beſodaiáh. thei layed the beames thereof, and ſet on the dores thereof, and the lockes thereof, and the barres thereof.

7 Next vnto them alſo fortified Melatiáh the Gibeonite, & Iadón ỹ Meronothite, men of Gibeón, and of Mizpáh, vnto the [c] throne of the Duke, which was beyonde the Riuer.

c Vnto ỹ place where the Duke was worte to ſit in iudgement, who gouerned the countrey in their abſence.

8 Next vnto him fortified Vzziél the ſonne of Harhohiáh [] of the golde ſmithes: next vntō him alſo fortified Hananiah, the ſonne [] of Harakkahím, and they repared Ieruſalém vnto the broad wall.

*Or, of Zorephim

9 Alſo next vnto them fortified Rephaiáh, the ſonne of Hur, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ieruſalém.

10 And next vnto him fortified Iedaiáh the ſonne of Harumáph, euen ouer againſt his houſe: and next vnto him fortified Hattúſh, the ſonne of Haſhabniáh.

11 Malchiiáh the ſonne of Harím, and Haſhúb the ſonne of Pahath Moáb fortified the ſeconde [*] portion, & the towre of the fornaces.

*Or, meaſure.

12 Next vnto him alſo fortified Shallúm, the ſonne of Halloéſh, the ruler of the halfe parte of Ieruſalém, he, & his daughters.

13 The valley gate fortified Hanúm, & the inhabitants of Zanuáh: thei buylt it, and ſet on the dores thereof, ỹ lockes thereof, & the barres thereof, euen a thouſand cubites on the wall vnto the dung porte.

14 But the dung porte fortified Malchiáh, the ſonne of Rechāb, the rulei of ỹ fourte parte of Beth haccárem: he buylt it, & ſet on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, & the barres thereof.

15 But the gate of the fountaine fortified Shallún, the ſonne of Col-hozéh, the ruler of ỹ fourte parte of Mizpáh: he buylded it, and coueied it, and ſet on the dores thereof, the lockes thereof, and the baires thereof, and the wall vnto the fiſhpoole of [*] Sheláh by the Kings garden, and vnto the ſteppes that go downe from the citie of Dauid.

*Or, Shilo.

16 After him fortified Nehemiáh the ſonne of Azbúk, the rulei of the halfe parte of Beth-zúr, vntil the otherſide ouer againſt the ſepulchres of Dauid, and to the fiſhpoole that was repared, and vnto the houſe of the mightie.

17 After him fortified the Leuites, Rehúm the ſonne of Baní, and next vnto him fortified Haſhabiah the ruler of the halfe parte of Keiláh in his quarter.

18 After him fortified their brethren: Bauái, the ſonne of Henadád the ruler of the halfe parte of Keiláh:

19 And next vnto him fortified Ezer, the ſonne of Ieſhúa the ruler of Mizpáh, the other portion ouer againſt the going vp to the [d] corner of the armoure.

d Where the weapons and armour of the citie laye

20 After him was earneſt Barúch the ſonne of Zacchái, & fortified another portion from the corner vnto the dore of the houſe of Eliaſhíb the hie Prieſt.

21 After him fortified Merimóth, the ſonne of Vriiáh, the ſonne of Hakkóz, another portion from the dore of the houſe of Eliaſhíb, euen as long as the houſe of Eliaſhíb extended.

22 After him alſo fortified the Prieſts, the men of [e] the plaine.

e Which dwelt in ỹ plaine countrey by Iordeu & Ieriché.

23 After them fortified Beniamín, & Haſhúb ouer againſt their houſe: after him fortified Azariáh, the ſonne of Maaſeiáh, the ſonne of Ananiáh, by his houſe.

24 After him fortified Binnúi, the ſonne of Henadád another portiō, from the houſe of Azariáh vnto the turning and vnto the corner.

25 Palál, the ſonne of Vzai, from ouer againſt the corner, and the high towre, that lyeth out from the Kings houſe, which is beſide the courte of the priſon. After him, Pedaiáh, the ſonne of Paróſh.

26 And the [f] Nethinims they dwelt in the fortereſſe vnto the place ouer againſt the water gate, Eaſtward, & to the towre that lyeth out.

f Read Ezra Chap 2,43

27 After him fortified ỹ Tekoites another portion ouer againſt the great towre, that lyeth out, euen vnto the wall of the forteresſe.

28 Frõ aboue the horſegate forthe fortified ỹ Prieſts, euerie one ouer againſt his houſe.
29 After them fortified Zadók the ſonne of Immér ouer againſt his houſe: and after him fortified Shemaiáh, the ſonne of Shechaniáh the keper of the Eaſtgate.
30 After him fortified Hananiáh, the ſonne of Shelemiáh, & Hanún, the ſonne of Zaláph, the g ſixt, another portion: after him fortified Meſhullám, the ſonne of Berechiáh, ouer againſt his chamber.
31 After him fortified Malchiáh the goldſmithes ſonne, vntil the houſe of the Nethinims, & of the marchants ouer againſt the gate h Miphkád, and to the chamber in the corner.
32 And betwene the chamber of the corner vnto the ſhepegate fortified the goldſmithes and the marchants.

g Meaning, the ſixt of his ſonnes.
h Which was the place of iudgement, or execution.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The buylding of Ieruſalém is hindred. 15 But God breaketh their enterpriſe. 17 The Iewes buylde with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

1 BVt when Sanballát heard that we buylded the wall, then was he wroth and ſore grieued, and mocked the Iewes,
2 And ſaid before his a brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he ſaid, What do theſe b weake Iewes? wil they fortifie thẽ ſelues? wil thei ſacrifice? wil thei finiſh it in a day? wil they make the ſtones whole againe out of ỹ heapes of duſt, ſeing they are burnt?
3 And Tobiáh the Ammonite was beſide him, and ſaid, Althogh they buylde, yet if a foxe go vp, he ſhal euen breake downe their ſtony wall.
4 c Heare, ô our God (for we are deſpiſed) and turne their ſhame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray d in the land of their captiuitie,
5 And couer not their e iniquitie, nether let their ſinne be put out in thy preſence: for thei haue prouoked vs before the buylders.
6 So we buylt the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the f halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.
7 ¶ But when Sanballát, and Tobiáh, & the Arabians, and the Ammonites, & the Aſhdodims heard that the walles of Ieruſalém were repared, (for the breaches begã to be ſtopped) then thei were verie wroth, 8 And conſpired altogether to come and to fight againſt Ieruſalém, & to " hinder thẽ.
9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and ſet watchemen by them, day & night, becauſe of them.
10 And Iudáh ſaid, The ſtrength of ỹ bearers is weakened, and there is muche earth, ſo that we are not able to buylde the wall.
11 Alſo our aduerſaries had ſaid, Thei ſhal not knowe, nether ſe, til we come into the middes of them and ſlaye them, and cauſe the worke to ceaſe.
12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beſide them) came, they tolde vs f ten times, g frõ all places whence ye ſhal returne, they wil be vpon vs.
13 Therefore ſet I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon ỹ toppes of the ſtones, & placed ỹ people by their families, with their ſwordes, their ſpeares & their bowes,
14 Then I beheld, and roſe vp, & ſaid vnto the princes, & to the rulers, & to the reſt of the people, Be not afraied of them: h remẽber the great Lord, & feareful, & fight for your brethren, your ſonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houſes.
15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowen vnto vs, then God brought their counſel to noght, & we turned all againe to the wall, euerie one vnto his worke.
16 And frõ that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the ſpeares, and ſhields, & bowes, and habergins: and the rulers ſtode i behinde all the houſe of Iudáh.
17 They that buylded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, & they that laded, did the worke with one hand, & with the other helde the ſworde.
18 For euerie one of the buylders had his ſworde girde on his loynes, & ſo buylded: & he that blewe the trũpet, was beſide me.
19 Then ſaid I vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are ſeparated vpon the wall, one farre from another.
20 In what place therefore ye heare the ſoũd of the trumpet, k reſorte ye thither vnto vs: our God ſhal fight for vs.
21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them helde the ſpeares, from the appearing of the morning, til the ſtarres came forthe.
22 And at the ſame time ſaid I vnto the people, Let euerie one with his ſeruant lodge within Ieruſalém, that they may be a watche for vs in the night, and labour in the day.
23 So nether I, nor my brethren, nor my ſeruants, nor the mẽ of the warde, (which followed me) none of vs did put of our clothes, ſaue euerie one put them of l for waſſhing.

a Of his companions that dwelt in Samaria
b Thus the wicked, that conſider not ỹ Gods power as euer in a readines for the defẽce of his, mocke thẽ as though thei were weake and feble
c This is the remedie that the childrẽ of God haue againſt the deriſiõ & threatnings of their enemies, to flee to God by prayer.
d Let them be ſpoiled & led away captiue.
e Let thy plagues declare to the worlde ỹ thei ſet them ſelues againſt thee, & againſt thy Church thus he prayeth, onely hauing reſpect to Gods glorie, & not for any priuate affectiõ, or grudge.
f Or, halfe heights
" Ebr make to ſtay, meaning that people.
f That is, often times
g Thei, which broght the tidings, ſaid thus, Whẽ you leaue your worke, & go either to eat, or to reſt, your enemies wil aſſaile you.
h Who is euer at hand to deliuer his out of danger, and therefore ſeig thei ſhulde fight for the maintenãce of Gods glorie & for the preſeruation of their owne liues & of theirs, he incourageth them to play the valiãt mẽ.
i To ouerſee them & to incourage them to their worke.
k Meaning, to reſiſt their enemies, if nede required.
l That is, whẽ they purified them ſelues, or els when they waſhed their clothes.

CHAP. V.

1 The people are oppreſſed and in neceſſitie 6 Nehemiáh remedieth it 14 He toke not the portion of others that had ruled before, leſt he ſhulde grieue the people.

1 NOw there was a great crye of the people, and of their wiues a againſt their brethren the Iewes.
2 For there were that ſaid, We, our ſõnes & our daughters are many, therefore we take vp b corne, that we may eat and liue.
3 And there were that ſaid, We muſt gage a Againſt the riche, which oppreſſed thẽ.

b This is the cõplaint of ỹ people, ſhewing to what extremitie thei were broght into our lands,& our vineyardes,& our houſes and take vp corne for the famine.

433/1224

4 There were alſo that ſaid, We haue borowed money for the Kings [c] tribute vpon our lands and our vineyardes.

5 And now our fleſh is as [d] the fleſh of our brethrē,& our ſonnes as their ſonnes: and lo,we bring into ſubiection our ſonnes,and our daughters,as ſeruāts,and there be of our daughters now in ſubiection, and there is no power [e] in our hands. for other mē haue our lāds & our vineyardes.

6 Then was I very angrie when I heard their crye and theſe wordes.

7 And I thoght in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and ſaid vnto them, You laie [f] burdens euerie one vpon his brethren:and I ſet a great [g] aſſemblie againſt them,

8 And I ſaid vnto them, We(according to our abilitie) haue redemed our brethren the Iewes,which were ſolde vnto the heathen:and wil you ſell your brethren againe,or ſhal they be [h] ſolde vnto vs? Then helde they their peace, and colde not anſwere.

9 [i] I ſaid alſo, That which ye do,is not good. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the [k] reproche of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my ſeruāts do lend them money & corne:I pray you, let vs leaue of this [*] burden.

11 Reſtore,I pray you, vnto them this day their lands,their vineyardes, their oliues, and their houſes, and remit the hundreth parte of the ſiluer and of the corne, of the wine,& of the oyle [l] that ye exact of thē.

12 Then ſaid they, We wil reſtore it, and wil not require it of them: we wil do as thou haſt ſaid. Then I called the Prieſts,& cauſed them to ſweare,that they ſhulde do according to this promes.

13 So I ſhooke my lappe,& ſaid.So let God ſhake out euerie man that wil not performe this promes from his houſe,and from his labour:euen thus let him be ſhakē out, and emptied. And all the Congregacion ſaid,Amen,and praiſed the Lord. and the people did according to this promes.

14 And frō the time that the King gaue me charge to be gouernour in the land of Iudáh from the twentieth yere,euē vnto the two and thirtieth yere of King Artahſhāſhte,that is, twelue yere,I, and my brethrē haue not eatē the [m] bread of ỹ gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beſides fourtie ſhekels of ſiluer:yea, and their ſeruantes bare rule ouer the people: but ſo did not I, becauſe of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a porcion in the worke of this wall, and we boght no land, and all my ſeruants came thether together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my table an hundreth and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared daiely an ox[n],& ſix choſen ſhepe, & birdes were prepared for me,and [o] with ten dayes wine for all [p] in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, ô my God,in goodnes, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

Nehemiáh anſwereth with great wiſdome,and zeale to his aduerſarie. 11 He is not diſcouraged by the falſe Prophetes.

1 AND when Sanballát,and Tobiáh,& Géſhem the Arabian, and the reſt of our enemies heard that I had buylt ỹ wall, & that there were no mo [a] breaches therein(thogh at that time I had not ſet vp the dores vpon the gates)

2 Thē ſent Sanballat and Géſhē vnto me, ſaying, Come thou that we may mete together in the villages in the plaine of Onó:and they thoght to do me euil.

3 Therefore I ſent meſſengers vnto them, ſaying, I haue a great worke to do,& I can not come downe: [b] why ſhulde the worke ceaſe,whiles I leaue it,and come downe to you?

4 Yet they ſent vnto me foure times after this ſorte And I anſwered them after the ſame maner.

5 Then ſent Sanballát his ſeruant after this ſorte vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was writtē, It is reported amōg the heathen,and [*] Gaſhmú hathe ſaid it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cauſe thou buyldeſt the wall and thou wilt be their King according to theſe [c] wordes.

7 Thou haſt alſo ordeined [d] the Prophetes to preache of thee at Ieruſalém,ſayīg, There is a King in Iudáh: and now according to theſe wordes it ſhal come to the Kings eares:come now therefore, and let vs take counſel together.

8 Thē I ſent vnto him,ſaying,It is not done according to theſe wordes ỹ thou ſayeſt. for thou faineſt them of thine owne heart.

9 For all ther afraied vs,ſaying, Their hāds ſhal be weakened frō ỹ worke,& it ſhal not be done now therefore [e] incourage ỹ me.

10 ¶ And I came to the houſe of Shemaiáh ỹ ſōne of Delaiáh the ſonne of Mehetabeél, & he was [f] ſhut vp,& he ſaid,Let vs come

---

c To pay our tribute to the King of the Perſiās,which was exacted yerely of vs

d By nature ỹ riche is no better thē the poore

e We are not able to redeme thē,but for power are cōſtrayned to hier thē to others.

f You preſſe thē with vſurie and ſeke how to bring all things into your hands.

g Bothe becauſe they ſhulde be moued with pitie, ſeing how many were by them oppreſt, and alſo heare the iudgement of others, ẏ ſhulde be as it were witneſſes of their dealing toward their brethrē

h Seing God hathe once deliuered thē frō the bōdage of the heathen, ſhal we make them our ſlaues?

i Meaning, Nehemiáh

k Who by this occaſion wil blaſpheme the Name of God ſeing that our actes are no better then theirs

*Or, ỹ ſurte

l Which ye take of them for the lone.

m I receiued not that porcion,and diet, which the gouernours, that were before me, exacted. wherein he declareth that he rather ſoght ỹ wealth of the people, then his owne commoditie.

a That is,that they were ioined together, as Chap 4.6.

b Meaning, ỹ if he ſhulde obey their requeſt the worke,which God had appointed, ſhulde ceaſe. ſhewing hereby that we ſhulde not cōmit our ſelues to the hāds of the wicked

*Or,Géſhem

c As the fame goeth

d Thou haſt bribed,and ſet vp falſe Prophetes,to make thy ſelfe K. and to defraude the King of Perſia of that ſubiection, which you ogh vnto him

e Or, ſtrengthen thou mine hād.

f As though he wolde be ſecret to the intent that he might pray vnto God with greater liberte, and receiue ſome reuelation,which in him was but hypocriſie.

*Or, once in ten dayes n Where as at other times they had by meaſure, at this time they had moſt liberally.

together into ỹ houſe of God in the middes of the Tẽple, and ſhut the dores of the Temple: for they wil come to ſlay thee: yea, in ỹ night wil they come to kil thee.

11 Then I ſaid, [f] Shulde ſuche a man as I, flee? Who is he, being as I am, that wolde go into the Temple to liue? I wil not go in.

12 And lo, I perceiued, that God had not ſent him, but that he pronoũced this prophecie againſt me: for Tobiáh and Sanballát had hyred him.

13 Therefore was he hyred, that I might be afrayed, and do thus, and ſinne, and that they might haue an euil reporte that they might reproche me.

14 My God, remember thou Tobiáh, and Sanballát according vnto theſe their workes, and Noadiáh the [g] Propheteſſe alſo, and the reſt of the Prophetes that wolde haue put me in feare.

15 ¶Notwithſtanding the wall was finiſhed on the fiue & twentieth day of [h] Elúl, in two and [i] fiftie dayes.

16 And whẽ all our enemies heard thereof, euen all the heathen ỹ were about vs, they were afrayed, & their courage failed thẽ: for they knewe, ỹ this worke was wroght by our God.

17 And in theſe dayes were there manie of the princes of Iudáh, whoſe [k] letters wẽt vnto Tobiáh, and thoſe of Tobiáh came vnto them.

18 For there were manie in Iudáh, that were ſworne vnto him, for he was the ſonne in law of Shechaniáh, the ſonne of Aráh: & his ſonne Iehonathán had the daughter of Meſhullám, the ſonne of Berechiáh.

19 Yea, they ſpake in his praiſe before me, & tolde him my wordes, & Tobiáh ſent letters to put me in feare.

CHAP. VII.

After the wall once buylded, & the watche appointed. 6 They that returned from the captiuitie are nõbred.

NOw when the wall was buylded, & I had ſet vp the dores, and the porters, and the ſingers and the Leuites were appointed,

2 Then I commanded my brother Hanáni and Hananiáh the prince of the palace in Ieruſalém (for he was doutles a faithful man, and feared God aboue manie)

3 And I ſaid vnto them, Let not the gates of Ieruſalém be opened, vntil the heat of the ſunne: and while [a] they ſtand by, let them ſhut the dores, and [*] make them faſt. and I appointed wardes of the inhabitans of Ieruſalém, euerie one in his warde, and euerie one ouer againſt his houſe.

4 Now the citie was large and great, but the people were fewe therein, and the houſes were not buylded.

5 And my God put into mine heart, and I gathered the princes, and the rulers, & the people, to counte their genealogies: and I founde a boke of the genealogie of them, *which came vp at the firſt, and founde writen therein, Ezr 2.2.

6 Theſe are the [b] ſonnes of ỹ prouince that came vp from the captiuitie that was caryed away (whome Nebuchadnezzár King of Babél had caried away) and they returned to Ieruſalém & to Iudáh, euerie one vnto his citie.

7 They which came with Zerubbabél, Ieſhúa, Nehemiáh, [c] Azariáh, Raamiáh, Nahamáni, Mordecái, Bilſhán, Miſpéreth, Biguái, Nehúm, Baanáh. This is the nõber of the men of the people of Iſraél.

8 The ſonnes of Paróſh, two thouſand an hundreth ſeuentie and two.

9 The ſonnes of Shephatiáh, thre hundreth ſeuentie and two.

10 The ſonnes of Aráh, ſix hundreth fiftie and two.

11 The ſonnes of [e] Paháth Moáb of the ſonnes of Ieſhúa, & Ioáb, two thouſand, eight hundreth and eightene.

12 The ſonnes of Elám, a thouſand, two hundreth fiftie and foure.

13 The ſonnes of Zattú, eight hundreth & fyue and fourtie.

14 The ſonnes of Zacchái, ſeuen hundreth and thre ſcore.

15 The ſonnes of Binnúi, ſix hundreth and eight and fourtie.

16 The ſonnes of Bebái, ſix hundreth and eight and twentie.

17 The ſonnes of Azgád, two thouſand, thre hundreth and two and twentie.

18 The ſonnes of Adonikám, ſix hundreth thre ſcore and ſeuen.

19 The ſonnes of Biguái, two thouſand thre ſcore and ſeuen.

20 The ſonnes of Adin, ſix hundreth, and fyue and fiftie.

21 The ſonnes of Atér of Hizkiáh, ninetie and eight.

22 The ſonnes of Haſhúm, thre hundreth and eight and twentie.

23 The ſonnes of Bezái, thre hundreth and foure and twentie.

24 The ſonnes of Hariph, an hundreth and twelue.

25 The [d] ſonnes of Gibeón, ninetie and fyue.

26 The men of Beth-léhem & Netophah, an hundreth foure ſcore and eight.

27 The men of Anathóth, an hundreth and eight and twentie.

28 The men of Beth-azmáueth, two and fourtie.

29 The men of Kiriath-ieárim, Chephiráh and Beeróth, ſeuen hundreth, and thre and fourtie.

30 The men of Ramáh and Gába, ſix hundreth

---

f He doubted not but God was able to preſerue him, & knewe that, if he had obeyed this counſel, he ſhuld haue diſcouraged all the people: thus God giueth power to his, to reſiſt falſe propheties though they ſeme to haue neuer ſo great probabilitie.

g Very grief cauſed him to pray againſt ſuche, which vnder the pretence of being the miniſters of God, were aduerſaries to his glorie, and went about to ouerthrow his Church, declaring alſo hereby that where there is one true miniſter of God, ỹ deuil hathe a great ſorte of hierlings

h Which was the ſixt moneth and conteined parte of Auguſt, and parte of Sept

i After that I had ſent Sanballát his anſwere.

k Thus the Church of God hathe euermore enemies within it ſelfe, which are more dangerous than the outwarde

s and profeſſed enemie Eccleſ. 49.15.

l

a To wit, thei that are mencioned, ver 2

Ebr holde thẽ, meaning til the ſarres were put in.*

b That is, the inhabitants of Iudáh.

c Azariáh in Ezrá is called Seraiáh, and Raamiáh, Reeliáh, chap 2.

e Orphe captaine of Moáb

d That is, the inhabitants of Gibeón.

dreth and one and twentie.
31 The men of Michmás, an hundreth and two an twentie.
32 The men of Beth-él and Ai, an hundreth and thre and twentie.
33 The men [e] of the other Nebó, two and fiftie.
34 The sonnes of the other Elám, a thousand, two hundreth and foure and fiftie.
35 The sonnes of Harím, thre hundreth & twentie.
36 The sonnes of Ierichó, thre hundreth and fyue and fourtie.
37 The sonnes of Lod-hadíd and Onó, seuen hundreth, and one and twentie.
38 The sonnes of Senaáh, thre thousand, nine hundreth and thirtie.
39 The Priests: the sonnes of Iedaiáh of the house of Ieshúa, nine hundreth seuentie & thre.
40 The sonnes of Immér, a thousand and two and fiftie.
41 The sonnes of Pashúr, a thousand, two hundreth and seuen and fourtie.
42 The sonnes of Harím, a thousand and seuentene.
43 ¶The Leuites: the sonnes of Ieshúa of Kadmiél, and of the sonnes of [a] Hodiuáh, seuentie and foure.
44 ¶The singers: the children of Asáph, an hundreth, and eight and fourtie.
45 The porters: the sonnes of Shallúm, the sonnes of Atér, the sonnes of Talmón, ẏ sonnes of Akkúb, the sonnes of Hatitá, the sonnes of Shobái, an hundreth and eight and thirtie.
46 ¶The [f] Nethinims: the sonnes of Zihá, the sonnes of Hashuphá, the sonnes of Tabaóth, 47 The sonnes of Kerós, the sonnes of Siá, the sonnes of Padón, 48 The sonnes of Lebaná, the sonnes of Hagabá, the sonnes of Shalmái, 49 The sonnes of Hanán, the sonnes of Giddél, the sonnes of Gahar, 50 The sonnes of Reaiáh, the sonnes of Rezín, the sonnes of Nekodá, 51 The sonnes of Gazzám, the sonnes of Vzzá, the sonnes of Paséah, 52 The sonnes of Besái, the sonnes of Meuním, the sonnes of Nephishesim, 53 The sonnes of Bakbúk, the sonnes of Hakuphá, the sonnes of Harhúr, 54 The sonnes of Bazlíth, the sonnes of Mehidá, the sonnes of Harshá, 55 The sonnes of Barkós, the sonnes of Sissera, the sonnes of Támah, 56 The sonnes of Nezíah, the sonnes of Hatiphá,
57 The sonnes of Salomons seruants, the sonnes of Sotai, the sonnes of Sophéreth, the sonnes of Peridá, 58 The sonnes of Iaalá, the sonnes of Darkón, the sonnes of Giddél, 59 The sonnes of Shephatiáh, the sonnes of Hattíl, the sonnes of Pochéreth of Zebaím, the sonnes of Amón.
60 All the Nethinims, and the sonnes of Salomons seruants were thre hũdreth, ninetie and two.
61 ¶And these came vp from Tel-meláh, Tel-hareshá, Cherúb, Addón, and Immér: but thei colde not shew their fathers house, nor their sede, or if they were of Israél.
62 The sonnes of Delaiáh: the sonnes of Tobiáh, the sonnes of Nekodá, six hundreth and two and fourtie.
63 And of the Priests: the sonnes of Habaiáh, the sonnes of Hakkóz, the sonnes of Barzillái, which toke one of the daughters of Barzillái the Giliadite to wife, & was named after their name.
64 These soght their writing of the genealogies, but it was not founde: therefore they were put from the Priesthode.
65 And [g] the Tirshátha said vnto thẽ, that they shulde not eat of the most holy, til there rose vp a Priest with * Vrím and Thummím.
66 All the Congregacion together was two and fourtie thousand, thre hundreth and threscore, 67 Besides their seruants and their maids, which were seuen thousand, thre hũdreth and seuen and thirtie: and they had two hundreth and fiue and fourtie singing men and singing women.
68 Their horses were seuen hundreth & six and thirtie, & their mules two hundreth and fiue and fourtie.
69 The camels foure hundreth and fiue & thirtie, & six thousand, seuen hundreth & twentie asses.
70 And certeine of the chief fathers gaue vnto the worke. The Tirshátha gaue to the treasure, a thousand [h] drammes of golde, fiftie basins, fiue hundreth and thirtie Priests garments.
71 [i] And some of the chief fathers gaue vnto the treasure of the worke, twentie thousand drammes of golde and two thousand and two hundreth [k] pieces of siluer.
72 And the rest of the people gaue twentie thousand drammes of golde, & two thousand pieces of siluer, & thre score and seuen Priests garments.
73 And the Priests and Leuites, & the porters and the singers and the rest of the people and the Nethinims, and all Israél dwelt in their cities: and when the [l] seuent moneth came, the children of Israél were in their cities.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Ezrá gathereth together the people, and readeth to thẽ

e For there were two cities of this name.

a Or, Hodaiáh.

f Read Ezrá 2,48.

g Meaning Nehemiáh for Tirshatha in ẏ Chalde tõgue signifieth a butler

Exod 28,30.

h Read Ezrá 2,69

i Or, mines.

l Which conteined parte of September & parte of October.

the Law. 12 They reioyce in Iſraél for the knowledge of the worde of God. 15 They kepe the feaſt of Tabernacles or boothes.

1 AND all the people aſſembled them ſelues "together, in ỹ ſtreat that was before the watergate, and they ſpake vnto Ezrá the [a] ſcribe, that he wolde bring the boke of the Law of Moſés, which the Lord had commanded to Iſraél.

"Ebr as one man.

a Read Ezrá 7.12.

2 And Ezrá the Prieſt broght the Law before the Congregacion bothe of men and women, and of all that [b] colde heare and vnderſtand it, in the firſt day of the ſeuent moneth, b Which had age and diſcretion to vnderſtand.

3 And he red therein in the ſtreat that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil [c] the midday) before men and women, and of them that vnderſtode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the boke of the Law.

c This declareth the great zeale, that the people had to heare ỹ worde of God.

4 And Ezrá the ſcribe ſtode vpon a pulpit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beſide him ſtode Mattithiáh, and Shéma, and Ananiáh, and Vriiáh, & Hilkiáh, and Maaſeiáh on his right hād, and on his left hand Pedaiáh, & Miſhaél, and Malchiáh, and Haſhúm, and Haſhbadána, Zechariáh, and Meſhullám.

5 And Ezrá opened the boke before all the people: for he was [d] aboue all the people: and when he opened it, all the people ſtode vp.

d To the intent that his voyce might be the better heard.

6 And Ezrá praiſed ỹ Lord the great God, and all the people anſwered, Amen, Amē, with lifting vp their hāds: & they bowed them ſelues, and worſhiped the Lord with their faces toward the grounde.

7 Alſo Ieſhúa, and Baní, and Sherebiáh, Iamín, Akkúb, Shabbethái, Hodiiáh, Maaſeiáh, Kelitá, Azariáh, Iozabád, Hanán, Pelaiáh, & the Leuites cauſed the people to vnderſtand the Law, and the people ſtode in their place.

8 And they red in the boke of the Law of God diſtinctly and gaue the ſenſe, & cauſed them to vnderſtand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiáh (which is Tirſhátha) and Ezrá the Prieſt & ſcribe, and the Leuites that inſtructed the people, ſaid vnto all the people, This daye is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, nether wepe: for all the people [e] wept, whē they heard the wordes of the Law.

e In conſidering their offenſes againſt the Law therefore the Leuites do not reproue them for mourning, but aſſure thē of Gods mercies for aſmuche as they are repentant.

10 He ſaid alſo vnto them, Go, and eat of the fat, & drinke the ſwete, and ſend parte vnto them, for whome none is [f] prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not ſory therefore: for the [g] ioye of the Lord is your ſtrength.

f That is, remember the poore

11 And the Leuites made ſilence throughout all the people, ſaying, Holde your peace: for ỹ day is holy, be not ſād therefore.

g Reioyce in the Lord, and he wil giue you ſtrength.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to ſend away parte, & to make great ioye, becauſe they had vnderſtand the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the ſecōde day the chief fathers of all the people, the Prieſts and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezrá the ſcribe, that he alſo might inſtruct them in the wordes of the Law.

14 And thei founde writē in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moſés) that the childrē of Iſraél ſhulde dwell in *boothes in the feaſt of the ſeuent moneth, *Leui.23.34.

15 And that thei ſhulde cauſe it to be declared and proclaimed in all theis cities, and in Ieruſalém, ſaying, Go forthe vnto the mount, and bring oliuebranches, and pinebranches, and branches of [f] myrtus, and palmebranches, and branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is writen.

f Or, goodly braunches, as Leu.23.40.

16 So the people went forthe and broght thē & made them boothes, euerie one vpon the [h] rofe of his houſe, and in their courts, and in the courts of the houſe of God, & in the ſtrete by the watergate, and in the ſtrete of the gate of Ephráim.

h For their houſes were made flat aboue, read Deu.22.8.

17 And all the Cōgregacion of them ỹ were come againe out of the captiuitie, māde boothes, & ſate vnder the boothes: for ſince the [i] time of Ieſhúa the ſonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Iſrael done ſo, & there was very great ioye.

i Which was almoſt a thouſand yeres.

18 And he red in the boke of the Law of God euerie day, from the firſt daye vnto the laſt daye. And thei kept the feaſt ſeuen dayes, & on the eight daye a ſolēne aſſemblie, according vnto the maner.

CHAP. IX.

1 The people repent, & forſake their ſtrange wiues. 5 The Leuites exhorte them to praiſe God. 6 Declaring his wonders. 26 And their ingratitude. 30 And Gods great mercies toward them.

1 IN the foure & twentieth day of this [a] moneth the children of Iſraél were aſſembled with * faſting, & with ſackecloth, and earth vpon them.

a Meaning, the ſeuent. 3. Eſdr. 9.40.

2 (And they that were of the ſede of Iſraél were ſeparated from all the "ſtrāgers) & thei ſtode and confeſſed their ſinnes and the iniquities of their fathers.

"Ebr. ſtraunge children.

3 And they ſtode vp in their place and red in the boke of the Law of the Lord their God foure times on the day, and thei [b] cōfeſſed and worſhiped ỹ Lord their God foure times.

b Thei made cōfeſsiō of their ſinnes & vſed praiers.

4 Then ſtode vp vpon the ſtaires of the Leuites Ieſhúa, and Baní, Kadmiél, Shebaniáh, Bunní, Sherebiáh, Baní & Chenáni, & cryed with a loude voice vnto the Lord their God.

5 And ỹ Leuites ſaid, euē Ieſhúa & Kadmiél, Baní, Haſhabniáh, Sherebiáh, Hodiiáh, Shebaniáh & Pethahiáh, Stād vp, & praiſe ỹ Lord your God for euer, & euer, & let them them praiſe thy glorious Name, ô God, ẅ excelleth aboue all thākſgiuing & praiſe.

6 Thou art Lord alone: thou haſt made hea uen, and the heauen of all heauens, with all their hoſte, the earth, and all thīgs that are therein, the ſeas, & all that are in thē, and thou preſerueſt them all, and the hoſte of the heauen worſhipeth thee.

7 Thou art, ô Lord, the God, that haſt choſen Abrám, & broghteſt him out of * Vr in Caldea * and madeſt his name Abrahám, Gene.11,31. Gen.17,5.

8 And foundeſt his heart faithful before thee, * and madeſt a couenant with him, to giue vnto his ſede the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, & Perizzites, & Iebuſites, and Girgaſhites, and haſt performed thy wordes, becauſe thou art iuſt.

Gen.15,18.

9 * Thou haſt alſo conſidered the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their crye by the red Sea,

Exod.3,7.

10 And ſhewed tokens and wonders vpon Pharaóh, and on all his ſeruants, & on all the people of his land: for thou kneweſt that thei dealt proudely agaīſt thē: therefore thou madeſt thee a Name, as appeareth this day.

11 * For thou dideſt breake vp the Sea before them, and they went through the middes of the Sea on drye lād: and thoſe that purſued them, haſt thou caſt into the bottoms as a ſtone, in the mightie waters:

Exod.14,22.

12 And * leddeſt thē in the daye with a piller of a cloude, & in the night with a piller of fyre to giue them light in the way that thei went.

Exod.13,21.

13 * Thou cameſt downe alſo vpon mount Sinái, and ſpakeſt vnto them from heauen, & gaueſt them right iudgements, & true lawes, ordināces & good commandemēts,

Exod.20,1.

14 And declaredſt vnto thē thine holy Sabbath, and commandedſt them precepts, & ordinances, and laws, by the hand of Moſés thy ſeruant:

15 * And gaueſt them bread from heauen for their hungre, * & broghteſt forthe water for them out of the rocke for their thirſt: & * promiſedſt them that thei ſhulde goin, & take poſſeſsion of the land: for the which thou haddeſt lift vp thine hand for to giue them.

Exod 16,15. Exod 17,6. Deu.1,8.

16 But thei and our fathers behaued them ſelues proudely and hardened their necke, ſo that they hearkened not vnto thy commandements,

17 But refuſed to obey, and wolde not remember thy maruelous workes that thou hadeſt done for them, but hardened their neckes and had in their heades to returne to thein bondage by their rebellion: but thou, ô God of mercies, gracious and ful of compaſsion, of long ſuffring and of great mercie, yet forſokeſt them not.

18 Moreouer when they made them a molte calfe (and ſaid, This is thy god ỹ broght thee vp out of the land of Egypt) & committed great blaſphemies, 19 Yet thou for thy great mercies forſokeſt them not in the wildernes: * the piller of the cloude departed not from them by day to lead them the way, nether the piller of fyre by night, to ſhewe them light, & the way whereby they ſhulde go.

Exod.13,22. nom 14,14. 1 cor.10,2.

20 Thou gaueſt alſo thy good Spirit to inſtruct them, & withheldeſt not thy MAN from their mouth, and gaueſt them water for their thirſt.

21 Thou dideſt alſo fede thē fourtie yeres in ỹ wildernes: thei lacked nothīg: * their clothes waxed not olde, and their fete c ſwelled not.

Deut 8,4.

c Thogh the way was tedious & long.

22 And thou gaueſt them kingdomes and people, and d ſcatteredſt them into corners: ſo they poſſeſſed * the land of Sihón and the land of the King of Heſhbón, & the land of Og King of Baſhán.

d Meaning the heathen whome he droue out

Nom.21,26.

23 And thou dideſt multiplie their childrē, like the ſtarres of the heauen, & broghteſt them into the lād, whereof thou hadeſt ſpoken vnto their fathers, that they ſhulde go, and poſſeſſe it.

24 So the children went in, and poſſeſſed the land, and thou ſubduedſt before them the inhabitants of the land, euen the Canaanites, and gaueſt them into their hāds, with their Kings and the people of the land, that they might do with them what they wolde.

25 And they toke their ſtrōg cities and the fat land, and poſſeſſed houſes, full of all goods, ciſternes digged out, vineyardes, & oliues, and trees for fode in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and became fat, & liued in pleaſure through thy great goodnes.

26 Yet they were diſobedient, and rebelled againſt thee, & caſt thy Law behinde their backes & ſlewe thy Prophetes (which e proteſted among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blaſphemies.

e Taking heauen and earth to witnes that God wolde deſtroye thē, except thei returned, as 2. Chro 24,19.

27 Therefore thou deliueredſt them into the hand of their enemies that vexed thē: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cryed vnto thee, thou heardeſt them from the heauen, and through thy great mercies thou gaueſt them ſauiours, who ſaued them out of the hand of their aduerſaries.

28 But when they had f reſt, they returned to do euil before thee: therefore lefteſt thou them in the hand of their enemies, ſo that thei had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted and cryed vnto thee, thou heardeſt them from heauen, and deliueredſt them according to thy great mercies many times, f He declareth how Godsmercies euer contended with the wickednes of the people, who euer in their proſperitie forgate God

29 And proteſtedſt among them that thou mightest bring thē againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued them ſelues proudely, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but ſinned againſt thy iudgements (*which a man ſhulde do and liue in them) and g pulled away the ſhuldre, and were ſtifnecked, and wolde not h heare.

Leui.18.5. ezek.20.11. roma 10.5. gal 3.12.

g Which is a ſimilitude taken of oxen, y ſhrinke vt the yoke or burdē, as Zach.7.11.

30 Yet thou" didest forbeare them many yeres, and proteſtedſt among them by thy Spirit, euen by the hand of thy Prophetes, but they wolde not heare: therefore gaueſt thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

h When thou didest admonith them by thy Prophets

31 Yet for thy great mercies, thou haſt not conſumed them, nether forſaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

'Ebr. thou didſt prolong vpon thē many yeres.

Exod.34.6.

32 Now therefore our God, *thou great God, mightie and terrible, that kepeſt couenant and *mercie, let not all the affliction that hathe come vnto vs, ſeme a litle before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our princes, & to our Prieſts, and to our Prophetes and to our fathers, & to all thy people ſince the time of the Kings of 'Aſſhúr vnto this day.

Pſal.143.2.

i By whome we were led away into captiuitie, & haue bene appoſited to be ſlaine, as Eſter 3.13

33 Surely thou art iuſt in all that is come vpon vs: for thou k haſt delt truely, but we haue done wickedly.

k He confeſſeth that all theſe things came to them iuſtely for their ſinnes, but he appealeth frō Gods iuſtice to his mercies

34 And our Kings and our princes, our Prieſts and our fathers haue not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandements nor thy proteſtatiōs, wherewith thou haſt l proteſted among them.

l That thou woldeſt deſtroy them, except thei wolde returne to thee.

35 And they haue not ſerued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnes that thou ſhewedſt vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou ſetteſt before them, and haue not conuerted from their euil workes.

36 Beholde, we are ſeruants this day, & the lād that thou gaueſt vnto our fathers, to eate the m frute thereof, and the goodnes thereof, beholde, we are ſeruants therein.

m That is, to be the lords thereof.

37 And it yeldeth muche frute vnto ỹ Kīgs whome thou haſt ſet ouer vs, becauſe of our ſinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleaſure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Now becauſe of all this we make n a ſure couenāt, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Prieſts ſeale vnto it.

n Thus by affliction they promes to kepe Gods commandements, whereunto they colde not be brogh by Gods great benefites.

CHAP. X.

The names of them that ſealed the couenant betwene God and the people.

1 NOw thei that ſealed were Nehemiáh the "Tirſhátha the ſonne of Hachaliáh, and Zidkiiáh,

"Or, ſaulter.

2 Seraiáh, Azariáh, Ieremiáh,
3 Paſhúr, Amariáh, Malchiáh,
4 Hattúſh, Shebaniáh, Mallúch,
5 Harím, Merimóth, Obadiáh,
6 Daniél, Ginnethón, Barúch,
7 Meſhullám, Abiiáh, Miamín,
8 Maaziáh, Bilgái, Shemaiáh: theſe are o the Prieſts.

a Which ſubſcribed to kepe ỹ promes.

9 ¶And the Leuites: Ieſhúa the ſonne of Azaniáh, Binnúi, of the ſonnes of Henadád Kadmiél.
10 And their brethrē, Shebaniáh, Hodiiáh, Kelitá, Pelaiáh, Hanán, 11 Michá, Rehób, Haſhabiáh, 12 Zaccúr, Sherebiáh, Shebaniáh,
13 Hodiáh, Baní, Beninu.
14 ¶The chief of the people were Paróſh, 'Pahāth Moáb, Elám, Zattú, Baní,

'Or, captaine of Moáb.

15 Bunní, Azgád, Bebái,
16 Adoniáh, Biguái, Adín,
17 Atér, Hizkiiáh, Azzúr,
18 Hodiáh, Haſhúm, Bezái,
19 Hariph, Anathóth, Nebái,
20 Magpiáſh, Meſhullám, Hezír,
21 Meſhezabeél, Zadók, Iaddúa,
22 Pelatiáh, Hanán, Anaiáh,
23 Hoſhéa, Hananiáh, Haſhúb,
24 Hallohéſh, Pilehá, Shobék, 25 Rehúm, Haſhabnáh, Maaſeiáh,
26 And Ahiiáh, Hanán, Anán,
27 Mallúch, Harím, Baanáh.
28 And the reſt of the people, the Prieſts, the Leuites, the porters, the ſingers, the b Nethinims, and all that were c ſeparated from the people of the lands vnto the Law of God, their wiues, their ſonnes, and their daughters, all that colde vnderſtand.

b Read Ezra 2.43
c Which belg idolaters forſoke their wickednes & gaue thē ſelues to ſerue God.

29 The chief of them d receiued it for their brethren, & they came to e the curſe and to the othe to walke in Gods Law, which was giuen by Moſés the ſeruant of God, to obſerue and do all the commādements of the Lord our God and his iudgements and his ſtatutes:

d They made the othe in ỹ name of the whole multitude.
e Whereunto they gaue thē ſelues, if thei brake ỹ Law, as Deut 28.15.

30 And that we wolde not giue our daughters to the people of the land, nether take their daughters for our ſonnes.

31 And if the people of the land broght ware on the Sabbath or anie vitailes to ſel, f that we wolde not take it of them on the Sabbath and on the holy dayes: * and that we wolde let the ſeuent yere be fre, and the debtes of euerie "perſone.

f Which notwithſtanding thei brake ſone after, as Nehem 13.23. Leu.25.4. deut 15.1.
"Ebr. hand.

32 And we made ſtatutes for our ſelues to giue by the yere the third parte of a ſhekel for the ſeruice of the houſe of our God,

33 For the g ſhewebread, and for the daiely offring, and for the daiely burnt offring, the Sabbaths, the newe moones, for the ſolemne feaſtes, and for the things that were ſanctified, and for the ſinne offrings to make an atonement for Iſraél, and for all the worke of the houſe of our God.

g This declareth wherefore thei gaue this third part of the ſhekel, which was beſides the halfe ſhekel, that thei were bounde to pay, Exod 30.13.

34 We caſt alſo lottes for the offrīg of the wood, wood, euen ỹ Prieſts, the Leuites & ỹ people to bring it into ỹ houſe of our God, by the houſe of our fathers, yerely at ỹ times appointed, to burne it vpō the altar of the Lord our God, as it is writen in the Law,

35 And to bring the firſt frutes of our land, and the firſt of all the frutes of all trees, yere by yere, into the houſe of the Lord,

36 And the firſtborne of our ſonnes, and of our cattel, as it is [h] writen in the Law, and the firſtborne of our bullockes and of our ſhepe, to bring it into the houſe of our God, vnto the Prieſts that miniſter in the houſe of our God,

37 And that we ſhulde bring the firſt frute of our dough, and our offrings, & the frute of euerie tre, of wine and of oyle, vnto the Prieſts, to the chābers of the houſe of our God. and the tithes of our land vnto the Leuites, that the Leuites might haue the tithes in all the cities of our [i] trauail.

38 And the Prieſt, the ſonne of Aarón ſhal be with the Leuites, when the Leuites take tithes, and the Leuites ſhal* bring vp the tenth parte of the tithes vnto the houſe of our God, vnto the chambers of the treaſure houſe.

39 For the children of Iſraél, and the children of Leuí ſhal bring vp the offrings of the corne, of the wine, & of the oyle, vnto the chambers: and there ſhalbe the veſſels of the Sanctuarie, and the Prieſts that miniſter, and the porters, and the ſingers, and [k] we wil not forſake the houſe of our God.

Nomb 18.26

CHAP. XI.

1 Who dwelled in Ieruſalém after it was buylded, 21 And who in the cities of Iudáh.

1 AND the rulers of the people dwelt in Ieruſalém. the other people alſo caſt lottes, [a] to bring one out of ten to dwel in Ieruſalém the holy citie, and nine partes to be in the cities.

2 And the people thanked all the men that were willing to dwel in Ieruſalém.

3 Theſe now are the chief of the prouince, that dwelt in Ieruſalém, but in ỹ cities of Iudah, euerie one dwelt in his owne poſſeſsion in their cities of Iſraél, the Prieſts and the Leuites, and the Nethinims, & the ſonnes of Salomons ſeruants.

4 And in Ieruſalém dwelt certeine of the childrē of Iudáh, & of the childrē of Beniamín. Of the ſonnes of Iudáh, Athaiáh, the ſonne of Vzziáh, the ſonne of Zechariáh, the ſonne of Amariáh, the ſonne of Shephatiáh, the ſonne of Mahaleél, of the ſonnes of [b] Pérez,

5 And Maaſeiáh the ſonne of Barúch, the ſonne of Col Hozéh, the ſōne of Hazaiáh, the ſonne of Adaiáh, the ſonne of Ioiarib, ỹ ſonne of Zechariáh, the ſōne of [*] Shiloní.

6 All the ſonnes of Pérez that dwelt at Ieruſalém, were foure hundreth, thre ſcore and eight valiant men.

7 Theſe alſo are the ſonnes of Beniamín, Sallú, the ſōne of Meſhullám, the ſonne of Ioéd, the ſonne of Pedaiáh, the ſonne of Kolaiáh, the ſonne of Maaſeiáh, the ſonne of Ithiél, the ſonne of Ieſhaiáh.

8 And after him Gabái, Sallái, nine hundreth and twentie and eight.

9 And Ioél the ſonne of Zichrí was gouernour ouer them: and Iudáh, the ſonne of Senuáh was the ſeconde ouer the citie:

10 Of the Prieſts, Iedaiáh, the ſonne of Ioiarib, Iachín.

11 Seraiáh, the ſonne of Hilkiáh, the ſonne of Meſhullám, the ſonne of Zadók, the ſonne of Meraióth, the ſonne of Ahitúb [c] was chief of the houſe of God.

12 And their brethren [d] that did the worke in the Temple, were eight hundreth, twentie and two: and Adaiáh, the ſonne of Ieroham, the ſonne of Pelaliah, the ſonne of Amzí, the ſonne of Zechariáh, the ſonne of Paſhúr, the ſonne of Malchiáh:

13 And his brethren, chief of the fathers, two hundreth and two and fourtie: and Amaſhſái the ſonne of Azareél, the ſonne of Ahazái, the ſonne of Meſhilemóth, the ſonne of Immér:

14 And their brethren valiant men, an hundreth & eight & twentie: and their ouerſeer was Zabdiél the ſōne [*] of Hagedolim.

15 And of the Leuites Shemaiáh, the ſonne of Haſhúb, the ſonne of Azrikám, the ſonne of Haſhabiáh, the ſonne of Bunni.

16 And Shabbethái, and Iozabád of the chief of the Leuites were ouer the workes of the houſe of God without.

17 And Mattaniáh, the ſonne of Michá, the ſonne of Zabdi, the ſonne of Aſáph was the chief to [e] begin the thankeſgiuing & prayer: and Bakbukiáh the ſeconde of his brethren, and Abdá, the ſonne of Shammúa, the ſonne of Galál, the ſonne of Ieduthún.

18 All the Leuites in the holy citie were two hundreth foure ſcore & foure.

19 And ỹ porters Akkúb, Talmón & their brethrē that kept the [f] gates were an hundreth twentie & two.

20 And the [g] reſidue of Iſraél, of ỹ Prieſts, & of the Leuites dwelt in all the cities of Iudáh, euerie one in his inheritance.

21 And the Nethinims dwelt in the [*] fortres, & Zihá, & Giſpá was ouer the Nethinims.

22 And the ouerſeer of the Leuites in Ieruſalém was Vzzí the ſonne of Baní, the ſonne of Aſhabiáh, the ſonne of Mattaniáh, the ſonne of Michá: of the ſonnes of Aſáph ſingers were ouer the worke of the houſe of God.

23 For it was the Kings commandement concerning thē, that faithful proviſion ſhulde be for the ſingers euerie day.

[*] Or, it is the houſe of.

h By this rehearſal is mēt that there was no parte nor ceremonie in the Law, whereūto they did not binde thē ſelues by couenant.

i Whereſoeuer ye labboured, or trauelled, there the tithes were due vnto the Lord both by the Law and according to ỹ othe & couenant that we made k We wil not leaue it deſtitute of that, ỹ ſhalbe neceſſarie for it.

a Becauſe their enemies dwelt rounde about them, they prouided that it might be replenished with men, and vſed this policie, becauſe there were fewe ỹ offred them ſelues willingly.

b Which came of Pérez the ſonne of Iudah.

[*] Or, of a Shilonite.

c That is, was the hie Prieſt.

d That ſerued and miniſtred in the Temple.

[*] Or, of one of. The great men.

e That is, he begā the pſalme, & was the chanter.

f Meaning, of the Temple.

g Of them, ẅ dwelt not in Ieruſalem.

[*] Or, Ophel.

24 And Pethahiáh ỹ ſonne of Meſhezabeél, of the ſonnes of Zérah, the ſonne of Iudáh [h] was at the Kings hand in all matters concerning the people.

h Was chief about the King for all his affaires

25 And in the villages in their lands, ſome of the children of Iudáh dwelt in Kiriáth-arbá, and in the villages thereof, and in Dibón, and in the villages thereof, and in Iekabzeél, and in the villages thereof,

26 And in Ieſhúa, and in Moladáh, and in Beth-pálet,

27 And in Hazér ſhuál, and in Beer-ſhéba, and in the villages thereof,

28 And in Ziklág, and in Mechonáh, and in the villages thereof,

29 And in En-rimmón, & in Zareáh, and in Iarmúth,

30 Zanóah, Adullám, and in their villages, in Lachíſh, and in the fields thereof, at Azekáh, & in the villages thereof: and they dwelt from Beer-ſhéba vnto the valley of Hinnóm.

31 And the ſonnes of Bẽiamín from Géba, in Michmáſh, & Aiiá, & Beth-él, & in the villages thereof,

32 Anathóth, Nob, Ananiáh,

33 Hazór, Ramáh, Gittáim,

34 Hadíd, Zeboím, Nebalát,

35 Lod & Onó, in the carpenters valley.

36 And of the Leuites were diuiſions in Iudáh and in Beniamín.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prieſts and Leuites, which came with Zerubbabél vnto Ieruſalém, are nõbred. 27 And the wall is dedicated.

1 THeſe alſo are the Prieſts & the Leuites that [a] went vp with Zerubbabél, the ſonne of Shealtiél, and Ieſhúa: to wit, Seraiáh, Ieremiáh, Ezrá, a From Babylon to Ieruſalem.

2 Amariáh, Mallúch, Hattúſh,

3 Shecaniáh, Rehúm, Merimóth,

4 Iddó, Ginnethó Abiiá,

5 Miamín, Maadiáh, Bilgáh,

6 Shemaiah, & Ioiarib, Iedaiáh,

7 Sallú, Amók, Hilkiáh, Iedaiáh: theſe were the [b] chief of the Prieſts, & of their brethren in the daies of Ieſhúa.

b Next in dignitie to ỹ hie Prieſts, and ỹ were of the ſtocke of Aarón

8 And the Leuites, Ieſhúa, Binnúi, Kadmiél, Sherebiáh, Iudáh, Mattaniáh [c] were ouer the thankeſgiuings, he, & his brethren.

c Had charge of them that ſang the Pſalmes

9 And Bakbukiáh and Vnní, & their brethren were about them in the [d] watches.

d They kept their wardes and watches according to their turnes, as 1 Chro 23,6 10 And Ieſhúa begate Ioiakim: Ioiakím alſo begate Eliaſhíb, & Eliaſhib begate Ioiadá.

11 And Ioiadá begate Ionathan, & Ionathán begate Iaddúa.

12 And in the daies of Ioiakím were theſe, the chief fathers of the Prieſts: vnder [e] Seraiáh was Meraiáh, vnder Ieremiáh, Hananiáh, e That is, next to Seraiáh, or rather of that order, which was called after the name of Seraiáh.

13 Vnder Ezrá, Meſhullám, vnder Amariáh, Iehohanán,

14 Vnder Melicú, Ionathán, vnder Shebaniáh, Ioſéph,

15 Vnder Harím, Adná, vnder Meraióth, Helkái,

16 Vnder Iddó, Zechariáh, vnder Ginnithón, Meſhullam, 17 Vnder [f] Abiiáh, Zichrí, vnder Miniamín, & vnder Moadiah, Piltái, f Whereof was Zacharie Iohn Baptiſts father.

18 Vnder Bilgáh, Shámúa, vnder Shemaiáh, Iehonathán, 19 Vnder Ioiarib, Mattenái, vnder Iedaiáh, Vzzí,

20 Vnder Sallái, Kallái, vnder Amók, Eber,

21 Vnder Hilkiáh, Haſhabiáh, vnder Iedaiáh, Nethaneél.

22 In ỹ daies of Eliaſhíb, Ioiadá, & Iohanán and Iaddúa were the chief fathers of the Leuites written, and the Prieſts in the reigne of Darius the Perſian.

23 The ſõnes of Leuí, the chief fathers were written in the boke of the Chronicle euen vnto the daies of Iohanan the ſonne of Eliaſhib.

24 And the chief of the Leuites were Haſhabiáh, Sherebiáh, and Ieſhúa the ſonne of Kadmiél, & their brethren about them to giue praiſe and thankes, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, warde ouer [g] against warde.

g That is, one after another, and euerie one in his course.

25 Mattaniáh and Bakbukiáh, Obadiáh, Meſhullám, Talmón and Akkúb were porters keping the warde at the threſholdes of the gates.

26 Theſe were in the daies of Ioiakím the ſonne of Ieſhúa, the ſonne of Iozadak, & in the daies of Nehemiáh the captaine, & of Ezrá the Prieſt and ſcribe.

27 And in the dedicacion of the wall at Ieruſalém they ſought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Ieruſalém to kepe the dedicacion and gladneſs, bothe with thankeſgiuings and with ſongs, cymbales, violes and with harpes.

28 Then the [h] ſingers gathered them ſelues together bothe from the plaine countrey about Ieruſalem, and from the villages of [h] Netophathí,

h The ſonnes of the ſingers

29 And from the houſe of Gilgál, and out of the countreis of Géba, and Azmáueth: for the ſingers had buylt thẽ villages rounde about Ieruſalém.

h Whiche were a certeine familie & had their poſſeſsions in ỹ fields, 1 Chro 2,54.

30 And the Prieſts & Leuites were purified, and clenſed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And [i] I broght vp the princes of Iudáh vpon the wall, & appointed two great cõpanies to giue thankes, and the one went on the right hand of the wall towarde the dung gate.

i Meaning, Nehemiáh

32 And after them went Hoſhaiáh, & halfe of the princes of Iudah,

33 And Azariáh, Ezrá and Meſhullám,

34 Iudáh, Beniamín, and Shemaiáh, and Ieremiáh,

35 And of the Prieſts ſonnes with trumpets,

Zechariah

Zechariáh the ſonne of Ionathán, the ſonne of Shemaiáh, the ſonne of Mattaniáh, the ſonne of Michaiáh, the ſonne of Zaccúr, the ſonne of Aſáph.

36 And [k] his brethren, Shemaiáh, and Azareél, Milalái, Gilalái, Maái, Nethaneél, & Iudáh, Hanáni, with ỹ muſical inſtruments of Dauid the man of God: and Ezrá the ſcribe went before them.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer againſt them went they vp by [l] the ſtaires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyonde the houſe of Dauid, euen vnto the water gate Eaſtwarue.

38 And the ſeconde companie of them that gaue thankes, went on the otherſide, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the towre of the furnaces euen vnto the broade wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpõ the olde gate, and vpon the fiſhgate, and the towre of Hananeél, and the towre of Meáh, euen vnto the ſhepegate: and they ſtode in the gate of the warde.

40 So ſtode the two companies (of them that gaue thankes) in the houſe of God, & I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Prieſts alſo, Eliakím, Maaſeiáh, Miniamin, Michaiáh, Elioenái, Zechariáh, Hananiáh, with trumpets, 42 And Maaſeiáh, and Shemaiáh, & Eleazár, and Vzzí, and Iehohanán, and Malchiáh, and Elám, & Ezer: and the ſingers [m] ſang loude, hauing Izrahiáh which was the ouerſeer.

43 And the ſame day they offred great ſacrifices and reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioye, ſo that bothe the women, and the children were ioyful: and the ioye of Ieruſalém was heard farre of.

44 Alſo at the ſame time were men appointed [m] ouer the chambers of the ſtore for the offrings (for the firſt frutes, and for the tithes) to gather in to thẽ out of the fields of the cities, the porcions of the Law for the Prieſts and the Leuites: for Iudáh reioyced for the Prieſts & for the Leuites, that ſerued.

45 And bothe the ſingers and the Leuites kept the warde of their God, & the warde of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomón his ſonne.

46 *For in the dayes of Dauid and Aſáph, of olde were chief ſingers, and ſongs of praiſe and thankeſgiuing vnto God.

47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabél, and in the dayes of Nehemiáh did all Iſraél giue porcions vnto the ſingers and porters, euerie day his porcion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites [n] gaue the holy things vnto the ſonnes of Aarón.

[k] That is, the brethren of Zaccár.

[l] Which was the going vp to the mount Zión, which is called the citie of Dauid

[m] Hebr. ſtanded to beare.

[m] Which were chambers appointed by Hezekiáh to put in the tithes, and ſuche things, 2 Chro 31,11, and now were repared againe for the ſame vſe.

*2.Chro.35,16.

[n] That is, the tenth parte of the tithes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The Law is red 3 They ſeparate from them all ſtrãgers 15 Nehemiáh reproueth them that breake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to ſerue God.

1 AND on that day did they read in the boke of Moſés, in the audiẽce of the people, & it was founde writẽ therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite *ſhulde Deu.23,3. not enter into the Congregacion of God,

2 Becauſe they met not the children of Iſraél ẅ bread & with water, *but hired Balaám againſt thẽ, that he ſhulde curſe thẽ. & our God turned the curſe into a bleſſing. Nomb.22,5.

3 Now when they had heard the Law, they ſeparated from Iſraél [a] all thoſe that were mixed.

4 ¶ And before [b] this had the Prieſt Eliaſhib the ouerſight of the chamber of the houſe of our God, being [c] kinſman to Tobiáh:

5 And he had made him a great chamber & there had they aforetime laid the offrings, the incenſe, and the veſſels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the ſingers, & the porters) and the offrings of the Prieſts.

6 But in all this time was not I in Ieruſalém: for in the two and thirtieth yere of [d] Artahſhaſhte King of Babél, came I vnto the King, and [e] after certeine dayes I obteined of the King.

7 And when I was come to Ieruſalém, I vnderſtode [e] ỹ euil that Eliaſhib had done for Tobiáh, in that he had made him a chãber in the court of the houſe of God,

8 And it grieued me ſore: therefore I caſt forth all ỹ veſſels of the houſe of Tobiáh out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to cleanſe the chambers: and thether broght I againe the veſſels of the houſe of God with the meat offring and the incenſe.

10 And I perceiued that the porcions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euerie one was fled to his lãd, euen the Leuites & ſingers that executed the worke.

11 Thẽ reproued I the rulers & ſaid, Why is the houſe of God forſakẽ? And I aſſembled them, and ſet them in their place.

12 Then broght all Iudáh the tithes of corne & of wine, & of oyle vnto ỹ treaſures.

13 And I made treaſurers ouer ỹ treaſures, Shelemiáh the Prieſt, & Zadók the ſcribe, & of the Leuites, Pedaiáh, & vnder their hand Hanán the ſonne of Zaccúr the ſonne of Mattaniáh: for they were counted faithful, and their office was to diſtribure vnto their brethren.

14 Remember me, ô my God, herein, and wipe not out my [f] kindenes that I haue ſhewed on the houſe of my God, and on the offices t. reof.

15 In thoſe daies ſaw I in Iudáh thẽ, ỹ trode

[a] That is, all ſuche, which had ioyned in vnlawful marriage, and alſo thoſe, with whome God had forbidde them to haue ſocietie

[b] That the ſeparation was made

[c] He was ioyned in affinitie with Iobiáh the Ammonite, and enemie of the Iewes.

[d] Called alſo Darius, Ezra 7,1

[e] Or, at the yeres end.

[e] Thus we ſe to what inconueniences the people fall into, when they are deſtitute of one that hathe the feare of God, ſeing that their chief gouernour was but awhile abſent, and yet they fel into ſuche great abſurdities as appeareth alſo, Lev. 32,1

[f] He proteſteth that he did his duetie with a good conſcience, yet he doth not iuſtifie himſelfe herein, but deſireth God to ſauour him, and to be merciful vnto him for his owne goodnes ſake, as verſe 22 wine preſſes on ỹ Sabbath, & that broght in ſheaues, and which laded aſſes alſo with wine, grapes, and figges and all burdens, and broght them into Ieruſalém vpon the Sabbath day: and g I proteſted to them in the day that they ſolde vitailes.

g I declared vnto thé, that God volde not ſuffer ſuche tranſgreſſours of his Law to be vnpuniſhed.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus alſo therein, which broght fiſh and all wares, and ſolde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudáh euen in Ieruſalém.

17 Then reproued I the rulers of Iudáh, & ſaid vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath daye?

h Was not this a great cauſe, why God plagued vs in times paſte meaning, that if they tráſgreſſed now in the ſame againe, their plague ſhulde be greater 18 Did not your fathers h thus, and our God broght all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? yet ye increaſe the wrath vpon Iſraél, in breaking the Sabbath?

i About the time that the ſunne went downe for the Sabbath lafted from the ſunne goingdowne of the one day to ỹ ſunne ſetting of the other.

19 And when the gates of Ieruſalém began to be i darke before the Sabbath, I commanded to ſhut the gates, and charged, that they ſhulde not be opened til after the Sabbath, and ſome of my ſeruants ſet I at the gates, that there ſhulde no burden be broght in on the Sabbath daye.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of all marchandiſe remained once or twiſe all night without Ieruſalém.

21 And I proteſted among them, and ſaid vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I wil lay hands vpon you. Frō that time came they nomore on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I ſaid vnto the Leuites that they ſhulde clenſe themſelues, and that they ſhulde come and k kepe the gates, to ſanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, ô my God, cōcerning this, and pardone me according to thy great mercie.

k Meaning, of the Tẽple that none, that was vncleane, ſhulde entre.

23 In thoſe dayes alſo I ſawe Iewes that married wiues of l Aſhdód, of Ammón, and of Moab.

l Which were a citie of the Philiſtims, & they had married wiues thereof, and ſo had corrupted their ſpeache, and religion.

24 And their children ſpake halfe in the ſpeache of Aſhdód, & colde not ſpeake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, & of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and m curſed them, and ſmote certeine of them, and pulled of their heere, & toke an othe of them by God, Ye ſhal not giue your daughters vnto their ſonnes, nether ſhal ye take of their daughters vnto your ſonnes, nor for your ſelues.

m That is, I did excommunicate them, & driue thé out of the Cōgregacion.

26 *Did not Salomón the King of Iſraél ſinne by theſe things? yet among manie nacions was there no King like him: for he was beloued of his God, and God had made him King ouer Iſraél: yet ſtrange women cauſed him to ſinne.

*1.King.3.7.

27 *Shal we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euil, and to tranſgreſſe againſt our God, euen to mary ſtrange wiues?

*1.King.11.1.

28 And one of the ſonnes of Ioiadá the ſonne of Eliaſhib the hye Prieſt was the ſonne in law of Sanballát the Horonite: but I chaſed him from me.

29 Remember them, ô my God, that n defile the Prieſthode, and the couenant of the Prieſthode, and of the Leuites.

n Puniſh thé accordīg to their faults, & euil example, which they haue giuen to the reſt of thy people, cōrarie to their vocation.

30 Then clenſed I them from all ſtrangers, and appointed the wardes of the Prieſts & of the Leuites, euerie one in his office, 31 And for the offring of the wood at times appointed, & for the firſt frutes. Remember me, ô my God, o in goodnes.

o That is, to ſhewe mercie vnto me.

ESTER.

THE ARGVMENT.

Becauſe of the diuerſitie of names, wherely they vſed to name their Kings, and the ſupputacion of yeres, wherein the Ebrewes, and the Grecians do varie, diuers autors write diuerſly as touching this Ahaſhuerōſh, but it ſemeth Daniél 6,1, and 9,1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and ſonne of Aſtyages, called alſo Ahaſhuerōſh, which was a name of honour, and ſignified great and chief, as the ſtorie declareth. Herein is declared the great mercies of God towardes his Church, who neuer faileth them in their greateſt dangers, but when all hope of worldely helpe faileth, he euer ſtirreth vp ſome, by whome he ſendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein alſo is deſcribed the ambicion, pride and cruelte of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their ſodeyn fall when they are at higheſt. and how God preſerueth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glorie, and haue a care and loue towarde their brethren.

CHAP.

CHAP. I.

8 King Ahaſhuerôſh maketh a royal feaſt, 10 Wherũto the Quene Vaſhti wil not come, 19 For which cauſe ſhe is diuorced. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man.

a Called alſo Darius, who was now the ſouereine Monarch, & had ỹ gouernemẽt of the Medes, Perſians and Chaldeans ſome thirtie he was Darius Hyſtaſpis ſonne, called alſo Artaxerxes

1 IN the dayes of [a] Ahaſhuerôſh (this is Ahaſhuerôſh that reigned, from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an [b] hũdreth, and ſeuen and twentie prouinces)

b Daniél chap 6, 1 maketh mẽcion but of ſix ſcore, leauing out the nomber that is vnperfit, as the Scripture in diuers places vſeth

2 In thoſe dayes when the King Ahaſhuerôſh [c] ſate on his throne, which was in the palace of* Shuſhán, c That is, had reſt, and quietnes

Nehem. 1, 1.

3 In the third yere of his reigne, he made a feaſt vnto all his princes and his ſeruãts, euen the power of Perſia and Media, and to the captaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might ſhewe the riches & glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maieſtie many dayes, euẽ an hũdreth and foure ſcore dayes.

5 And when theſe dayes were expired, the King made a feaſt to all the people that were found in the palace of Shuſhán, bothe vnto great and ſmall, ſeuen dayes, in the courte of the garden of the Kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, grene, and blewe clothes, faſtened with cordes of fine linen and purple, in ſiluer rings, and pillers of marble: the [d] beddes were of golde, and of ſiluer vpon a pauement of porphyrie, and marble and alabaſter, and blewe coulour.

d Which they vſed in thoſe countreis in ſtead of tables

7 And they gaue them drinke in veſſels of golde, and changed veſſel after veſſel, and royal wine in abundance according to the [e] power of the King.

e As was beſeming for ſo magnifical a King

8 And the drinking was by an ordre, none might [f] compel: for ſo the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his houſe, that they ſhulde do according to euerie mans pleaſure.

f None might be cõpelled to drinke more then it pleaſed him.

9 ¶ The Quene Vaſhtí made a feaſt alſo for the womẽ in the royal houſe of King Ahaſhuerôſh.

g Which was the laſt day of the feaſt that the King made for ỹ people, as verſe 5.

10 Vpon the [g] ſeuent day when the King was mery with wine, he commanded Mehumán, Bizthá, Haiboná, Bigthá, and Abagthá, Zethár, and Carcás, the ſeuen eunuches (that ſerued in the preſence of Kĩg Ahaſhuerôſh)

11 To bring Quene Vaſhtí before the King with ỹ crowne royal, that he might ſhewe the people and the princes her beautie: for ſhe was faire to loke vpon.

* Ebr. which was in the had of the eunuches.

12 But the Quene Vaſhtí refuſed to come at the Kings worde, which he had giuen in charge to the eunuches: therefore the King was very angrie, and his wrath kindled in him.

h That had experience of things, as thei had learned by diligent marking in cõtinuance of time 13 Then the King ſaid to the wiſe men, [h] that knewe the times (for ſo was the Kigs maner towardes all that knewe the lawe and the iudgement:

i Which were his chief counſelers, that might haue alwaies acceſſe to him.

14 And the next vnto him was Carſhená, Shethár, Admátha, Tarſhiſh, Méres, Marſená & Memucán the ſeuen princes of Perſia and Media, which ſawe the [i] Kings face, and ſate the firſt in the kingdome)

15 What ſhal we do vnto ỹ Quene Vaſhtí according to the lawe, becauſe ſhe did not according to the worde of the King Ahaſhuerôſh by the commiſsion of the eunuches?

16 Then Memucán anſwered before the King and the princes, The Quene Vaſhtí hathe not onely done [k] euil againſt the King, but againſt all the princes, & againſt all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahaſhuerôſh.

k By her diſobedience ſhe hathe giuen an example to all women to do the like to their houſbands

17 For the [l] acte of the Quene ſhal come abrode vnto all women, ſo that they ſhal deſpiſe their houſbãds in their owne eies, and ſhal ſay, The King Ahaſhuerôſh cõmanded Vaſhtí the Quene to be broght in before him, but ſhe came not.

l That is, her diſobedience.

m Meaning, ỹ thei wolde take firſt occaſiõ hereof to do ỹ like, & that ỹ reſt of womẽ wolde by continuance do ỹ ſame.

18 So ſhal the [m] princeſſes of Perſia & Media this day ſay vnto all the Kings Princes, whẽ thei heare of the acte of the Quene. thus ſhal there be muche deſpitefulnes and wrath.

19 If it pleaſe the King, let a royal decree procede from him, and let it be writen among the ſtatutes of Perſia, and Media (and let it not be tranſgreſſed) that Vaſhtí come [n] nomore before King Ahaſhuerôſh. and let the King giue her royal eſtate vnto her companion that is better then ſhe.

n Let her be diuorced & a nother made Quene.

20 And when the decree of the King which ſhalbe made, ſhalbe publiſhed throughout all his kingdome (thogh it be [o] great) all the women ſhal giue their houſbands honour, bothe great and ſmall.

o For he had vnder him an hundreth twẽtie and ſeuen countreis.

21 And this ſaying pleaſed the King & the princes, & the King did according to the worde of Memucán.

22 For he ſent letters into all the prouinces of the King, into euerie prouince accordĩg to the writĩg thereof, & to euerie people after their language, that euerie man ſhulde [p] beare rule in his owne houſe, and that he ſhulde publiſh it in the language of that ſame people.

p That is, that ỹ wife ſhulde be ſubiect to the houſhand and at his cõmandement.

CHAP. II.

2 After the Quene is put away, certeine yong maides are broght to the King. 14 Eſtér pleaſeth the King, & is made Quene. 22 Mordecái diſcloſeth vnto the King thoſe that wolde betray him.

1 AFter theſe things, when the wrath of King Ahaſhuerôſh was appeaſed, he [a] remembred Vaſhtí, & what ſhe had doa That is, he called ỹ matter againe into cõmunicatiõ.

ne, and what was decreed [b] againſt her.

[b] By the ſeuē wiſe men of his counſel.

2 And the Kings ſeruants that miniſtred vnto him, ſaid, Let them ſeke for the King beautiful yong virgins,

3 And let ỹ King appoint officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, and let thē gather all the beautiful yong virgins vnto the palace of Shuſhán, into the houſe of the women, vnder the hand of Hegé the Kings eunuche, [c] keper of the women, to giue them their things [d] for purification.

[c] The abuſe of theſe coūtress was ſo great, that they inuented manie meanes to ſerue the luſtes of princes, and therefore, as they ordeined wicked lawes that the King might haue whole daughters he wolde, ſo they had diuers houſes appointed, as one for them, whiles they were virgines, another whē they were concubines, & for the Queues another

[d] Read what this purification was, verſ 13

2. Kin. 24, 15.

4 And the maid that ſhal pleaſe the King, let her reigne in the ſtead of Vaſhti. And this pleaſed the King, and he did ſo.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shuſhán, there was a certeine Iewe, whoſe name was Mordecái the ſonne of Iaír, the ſonne of Shimeí, the ſonne of K ſh a man of Iemuní,

6 Which had bene caryed away from Ieruſalém *with the captiuitie that was caryed away with Iekoniáh King of Iudáh (whome Nebuchadnezzár King of Babél had caryed away)

7 And he nouriſhed Hadaſſáh, that is Eſtér, his vncles daughter: for ſhe had nether father nor mother, and the maid was faire, and beautiful to loke on: & after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecái toke her for his owne daughter.

8 And when the Kings commandement, & his decree was publiſhed, and manie maides were broght togeher to the palace of Shuſhán, vnder the hād of Hegé, Eſtér was broght alſo vnto the Kings houſe vnder ỹ hand of Hegé the keper of the women.

9 And the maid pleaſed him, and ſhe founde fauour in his ſight: therefore he cauſed her things for purificatiō to be giuen her ſpedely, and her [a] ſtate, and ſeuen comely maids to be giuen her out of the Kings houſe, and he gaue change to her and to her maides of the beſt in the houſe of the women.

[a] Hir portions.

10 But Eſtér ſhewed not her people and her kinred: for Mordecái had charged her, that ſhe ſhulde not tel it.

[e] For though ſhe was taken away by a cruel law, yet he ceaſed not to haue a fatherlie care ouer her, and therefore did reſort oft times to heare of her.

11 And Mordecái walked [e] euerie day before the courte of the womens houſe, to knowe if Eſtér did wel, and what ſhulde be done with her.

12 And when the courſe of euerie maid came, to go in to King Ahaſhueróſh, after that ſhe had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for ſo were the dayes of their purifications accompliſhed, ſix moneths with oyle of myrrhe, & ſix moneths with ſwete odours and in the purifying of the women:

[f] What apparel ſhe aſked of the eunuch, that was he bounde to giue her.

13 And thus went the maids vnto the King) whatſoeuer ſhe required, was [f] giuen her, to go with her out of the womens houſe vnto the Kings houſe.

14 In the euening ſhe went, and on the morow ſhe returned into the ſeconde houſe of the women vnder the hand of Shaaſhgáz the Kings eunuche, which kept the cōcubines: ſhe came into the King nomore, except ſhe pleaſed the King, & that ſhe were called by name.

15 Now when the courſe of Eſtér ỹ daughter of Abihaíl the vncle of Mordecái (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, ỹ ſhe ſhulde go in to the King, ſhe deſired nothing, but what [g] Hegé the Kings eunuche the keper of the women [h] ſaid: and Eſtér founde fauour in the ſight of all them that loked vpon her.

[g] Or, Hegái.

[g] Wherein her mode ſhe appeared becauſe ſhe ſought not apparel to cōmend her beautie, but ſtode to ỹ eunuches appointment.

[h] Which conteined part of December & part of Ianuarie.

16 ¶ So Eſtér was takē vnto King Ahaſhueróſh into his houſe royal in the tenth moneth, which is the [i] moneth Tebéth, in the ſeuent yere of his reigne.

17 And the King loued Eſtér aboue all the women, and ſhe founde grace and fauour in his ſight more then all the virgins: ſo that he ſet the crowne of the kingdome vpō hir head, & made her Quene in ſteade of Vaſhti.

18 Then the King made a great feaſt vnto all his princes and his ſeruants which was [k] the feaſt of Eſtér and gaue reſt [l] vnto the prouinces, and gaue giftes, according to [m] the power of a King.

[i] That is, made for her ſake

[k] He releaſed their tribute.

[l] That is, great & magnifical.

[m] That is, as the mariage of Eſter, which was ỹ ſeconde mariage of ỹ King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the ſeconde time, then Mordecái ſate in the Kings gate.

20 Eſtér had not yet ſhewed her kinred nor her people, as Mordecái had charged her: for Eſtér did after the worde of Mordecai, as when ſhe was nouriſhed with him.

21 ¶ In thoſe daies when Mordecái ſate in the Kings gate, two of the Kings eunuches, Bigtnán and Téreſh, which kept the dore, were wroth, & ſought to lay [n] hand on the King Ahaſhueróſh.

[n] Meaning, to kil him.

22 And the thing was knowē to Mordecái, and he tolde it vnto Quene Eſtér, and Eſtér certified the King thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquiſitiō was made, it was founde ſo: therefore thei were bothe hanged on a tre: and it was writen in the boke of the [o] Chronicles before the King.

[o] In the Chronicles of the Medes & Perſiās, as Chap. 10, 2.

CHAP. III.

1 Hamán, after he was exalted, obteined of the King, that all the Iewes ſhulde be put to death, becauſe Mordecás had not done him worſhip as other had.

1 AFter theſe things did King Ahaſhueróſh promote Hamán the ſonne of Hammedátha the Agagite, & exalted hī, and ſet his ſeat aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the Kings ſeruants that were at the Kings gate, bowed their knees, & reuerēced Hamán: for the Kīg had ſo cōmāded ded cõcerning him: but Mordecái [a]bowed not the knee, nether did reuerence.

3 Then the Kings ſeruants which were at the Kings gate ſaid vnto Mordecái, Why tranſgreſſeſt thou the Kings commandement?

4 And albeit they ſpake daiely vnto hĩ, yet he wolde not heare them: therefore they [b]tolde Hamán, that they might ſe how Mordecais matters wolde ſtãd: for he had tolde them, that he was a Iewe.

5 And when Haman ſawe that Mordecái bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was ful of wrath.

6 Now he "thoght it to litle to lay hands onely on Mordecái: & becauſe they had ſhewed him the people of Mordecái, Hamán ſoght to deſtroye all the Iewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahaſhuerósh, euen ỹ people of Mordecái.

7 In the firſt moneth (that is the moneth [c]Niſán) in the twelft yere of King Ahaſhuerósh, they caſt Pur (that is a lot) [d]before Hamán, from day to day, and frõ mon th to moneth, vnto the twelft mon th, that is the moneth [e]Adár.

8 Then Hamán ſaid vnto King Ahaſhuerósh, There is a people ſcatred, and diſperſed among the people in all the prouin ces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they do not obſerue the [f]Kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to ſuffre them.

9 If it pleaſe the King, let it be writen that they may be deſtroyed, & I wil "paye ten thouſand talents of ſiluer by the hãds of them that haue the charge of this buſines to bring it into the Kings treaſurie.

10 Then the King toke his ring from his hand and gaue it vnto Hamán the ſonne of Hammedátha the Agagite the Iewes aduerſarie.

11 And the King ſaid vnto Hamán, Let ỹ ſiluer be thine, and the people to do with them as it pleaſeth thee.

12 Then were the Kings [g]ſcribes called on the thirtent day of the firſt moneth, and there was writen (according to all that Hamán commanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euerie prouince, and to the rulers of euerie people & to euerie prouince, accordĩg to the writing thereof, & to euerie people according to their language: in the name of King Ahaſhuerósh was it writen, and ſealed with the Kings ring.

13 And the lettres were ſent "by poſtes into all the Kings prouinces, to rote out, to kill and to deſtroye all the Iewes, bothe yong and olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirtent day of the twelft moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to ſpoile them as a pray.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there ſhulde be giuen a cõmandemẽt in all prouinces, & publiſhed vnto all people, that they ſhulde be ready againſt the ſame day.

15 And the poſtes compelled by the Kings cõmandement went forthe, and the commandement was giuẽ in the palace at Shuſhan: and the King and Hamán ſate drinking, but the [g] citie of Shuſhán was in perplexitie.

[a] The Perſiãs maner was to knele downe and reuerence their Kings, & ſuche as he appoĩted in chief authoritie, wh Mord. cái wolde not do to this ambitious & proude mã

[b] Thus we ſe that there is none ſo wicked, but they haue their flatterers to accuſe the godlie.

"Ebr. deſpiſed in her eyes.

[c] Which anſwereth to parte of Marche and parte of April.

[d] To knowe what moneth and day ſhulde be good to enterp ſe this thing, that it might haue good ſucceſſe: but God diſappointed their lottes & expectation.

[e] Conteining parte of Februarie, & parte of Marche.

[f] Theſe be the two argumets which commonly ỹ worldlings & the wicked vſe toward ỹ ſeruãts of God, that is, contempt of their lawes, & diminiſhing of their profit without reſpect how God is either pleaſed or diſpleaſed

Ebr weigh out ſecret ſtore.

"Ebr the hande of poſtes.

[g] To wit, the Iewes, ỹ were in Shuſhan

CHAP. IIII.

Mordecáis giueth the Quene knowledge of the cruel decree of the King againſt the Iewes 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

1 NOw when Mordecái perceiued all that was done, Mordecái rent his clothes, and put on ſackecloth, & aſhes, and went out into the middes of the citie, & cryed with a great crye, and a bitter.

2 And he came euẽ before the Kings gate, but he might not entre within the Kings gate, being clothed with ſackecloth.

[a] Becauſe he wolde aduertiſe Eſter of this cruel proclamation.

3 And in euerie prouince, & place, whether the Kings charge and his commiſsion came, there was great ſorowe among the Iewes, and faſting, & weping and mourniñg, and "many laye in ſackecloth & in aſhes.

"Ebr ſackecloth & aſhes were ſpred for many.

4 ¶ Then Eſters maides and her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Quene was very heauy, and ſhe ſent raiment to clothe Mordecái, and to take away his ſackecloth frõ him, but he receiued it not.

5 Then called Eſtér Hatách one of ỹ Kigs eunuches, whome he "had appointed to ſerue her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecái, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

"Ebr. had cauſed to ſtand before her.

6 So Hatách wẽt forthe to Mordecái vnto the ſtreat of the citie, which was before the Kings gate.

7 And Mordecái tolde hĩ of all that which had come vnto him, and of the "ſumme of the ſiluer that Hamán had promiſed to paye vnto the Kings treaſuries, becauſe of the Iewes, for to deſtroye them.

"Ebr declaration.

8 Alſo he gaue him the [a]copie of the writing & commiſsion that was giuen at Shuſhán, to deſtroye thẽ that he might ſhewe it vnto Eſtér and declare it vnto her, and to charge her, that ſhe ſhulde go in to the King, & make petition and ſupplication before him for her people.

[a] Or, contents.

9 ¶ So when Hatách came, he tolde Eſtér the wordes of Mordecái.

10 Then Eſtér ſaid vnto Hatách, and commanded him, to ſay vnto Mordecái,

11 All the Kings ſeruants and the people of the Kings prouinces do knowe, that whoſoeuer, man or woman, that commeth to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a lawe of his,

that he ſhal dye, except him to whome the King holdeth out the golden rod, that he may liue. Now I haue not bene called to come vnto the King theſe thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecái of Eſters wordes.

13 And Mordecái ſaid, that thei ſhulde anſwer Eſtér thus, Thinke not with thy ſelf that thou ſhalt eſcape in the Kings houſe, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdeſt thy peace at this time, "comfort and deliuerãce [b] ſhal appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers houſe ſhal periſh: and who knoweth whether thou art come to ỹ kingdome for [c] ſuch a time?

15 Then Eſtér commãded to anſwer Mordecái,

16 Go, & aſſemble all the Iewes that are found in Shuſhán, & faſt ye for me, & eat not, nor drinke in thre dayes, day nor night. I alſo and my maides wil faſt likewiſe, and ſo wil I go in to the King, which is not according to the Law: and if I periſh, [d] I periſh.

17 So Mordecái went his way, and did according to all that Eſtér had commanded him.

" Ebr breathig

b Thus Mordecai ſpake in ỹ confidence of that truth, ẅ all Gods children ought to haue: which is that God wil deliuer them, though all worldely meanes faile

c For to deliuer Gods Church out of theſe preſent dãgers.

d I wil put my life in danger & referre the ſucceſſe to God, ſeing it is for his glorie & the deliuerance of his Church.

CHAP. V.

1 Eſtér entreth in to the King, and biddeth him and Hamán to a feaſt. 11 Hamán prepareth a galous for Mordecái.

1 AND on the third [a] day Eſtér put on her royal apparel, and ſtode in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer againſt the Kings houſe: and the King ſate vpon his royal throne in the Kings palace ouer againſt the gate of the houſe.

2 And when the King ſawe Eſtér the Quene ſtanding in the court, ſhe found fauour in his ſight: & the Kíg [b] held out the goldẽ ſceptre ỹ was in his hãd: ſo Eſtér drewe nere, and touched the toppe of the ſceptre.

3 Then ſaid the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Quene Eſtér? & what is thy requeſt? it ſhalbe euen giuen [c] thee to the halfe of the kingdome.

4 Then ſaid Eſtér, If it pleaſe the King, let the King and Hamán come this day vnto the bãket, ỹ I haue prepared for him.

5 And the Kíg ſaid, Cauſe Hamán to make haſt that he maie do as Eſtér hathe ſaid. So the King and Hamán came to the bãket that Eſtér had prepared.

6 And the King ſaid vnto Eſtér at the banket of [d] wine, What is thy peticion, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy requeſt? it ſhal euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then anſwered Eſtér, and ſaid, My peticion and my requeſt is,

8 If I haue founde fauour in the ſight of the King, and if it pleaſe the King to giue me my peticion, and to performe my requeſt, let the King and Hamán come to the banket that I ſhal prepare for them, & I wil do tomorowe according to the Kígs [e] ſaying.

9 ¶ Then went Hamán forthe the ſame day ioyful & with a glad heart. But when Hamán ſawe Mordecái in the Kígs gate, that he ſtode not vp, nor moued for him, then was Hamán ful of indignacion at Mordecái.

10 Neuertheles Hamán refrained him ſelf: and when he came home, he ſent, and called for his friends, and Zéreſh his wife.

11 And Hamán tolde them of the glorie of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had [f] promoted him, and how that he had ſet him aboue the princes and ſeruants of the King.

12 Hamán ſaid moreouer, Yea, Eſtér the Quene did let no man come in with the King to the banket that ſhe had prepared, ſaue me: and tomorowe am I bidden vnto her alſo with the King.

13 But all this doeth nothing auaile me, as long as I ſe Mordecái the Iewe ſitting at the Kings gate.

14 Then ſaid Zéreſh his wife and all his friends vnto him, Let them make a tre of fiftie cubites hie, and tomorowe ſpeake thou vnto the King, that Mordecái may be hanged thereon: thẽ ſhalt thou go ioyfully with the King vnto the banket. And the thing pleaſed Hamán, and he cauſed to make the tre.

a To wit, after that the Iewes had begoae to faſt.

b Which was a ſigne ỹ her comming was agreable vnto him, as Chap. 4,11

c Meaning hereby, ỹ what ſoeuer ſhe aſked, ſhuld be granted, as Mar 6,23.

d Becauſe thei vſed to drinke exceſsiuely in their bankets, they called the bãket by the name of that, which was moſte in vſe or eſtemed e I wil declare what thing I demande.

f Thus ỹ wicked when thei are promoted, in ſtead of acknowledging their charge & humbling theſelues, waxe ambitious diſdainful and cruel.

g Meaning, ỹ higheſt tree colde be founde.

CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth ouer the chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecái, 10 And commandeth Hamam, to cauſe Mordecás to be had in honour.

1 THE ſame night "the King ſlept not, & he commanded to bring the boke of the records & the chronicles: and thei were red before the King.

2 Then it was founde writen that Mordecái *had tolde of Bigtána, & Téreſh two of the Kings eunuches, kepers of the dore, who ſoght to lay hands on the King Ahaſhuerósh.

3 Thẽ the King ſaid, What honour & dignitie hathe bene giuen to Mordecái [a] for this? And the Kings ſeruants that miniſtred vnto him, ſaid, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King ſaid, Who is in the court? (Now Hamán was come into the inner court of the Kings houſe, that he might ſpeake vnto the King to [b] hang Mordecái on the tre that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings ſeruants ſaid vnto him, Beholde, Hamán ſtandeth in the court. And the King ſaid, Let him come in.

" Ebr the Kings ſlepe departed.

Chap. 2,22.

a For he thoght it vnworthie his eſtate to receiue a benefite, & not reward it.

b Thus while the wicked imagine the deſtruction of others, thei thẽ ſelues fall into the ſame pit.

6 And

6 And when Haman came in, the King ſaid vnto him, What ſhalbe done vnto the mā, whome the King wil honour? Thē Haman thoght in his heart, To whome wolde the King do honour more then to me?
7 And Hamán anſwered the King, The man whome the King wolde honour,
8 Let thē bring for him royal apparel, which the King vſeth to weare, and the [c] horſe that the King rydeth vpon, and that the crowne royal may be ſet vpon his head.
9 And let the rayment and the horſe be deliuered by the hand of one of the Kings moſte noble princes, and let them apparel the man (whome the King wil honour) & cauſe him to ride vpon the horſe through the ſtrete of the citie, & proclaime before him, Thus ſhal it be done vnto the man, whome the King wil honour.
10 Then the King ſaid to Hamán, Make haſte, take the raymēt & the horſe as thou haſt ſaid, & do ſo vnto Mordecai ỹ Iewe, that ſitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou haſt ſpoken.
11 So Hamán toke the raymēt & the horſe, and arayed Mordecai, and broght him on horſe backe through the ſtrete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus ſhal it be done to the man whome the King wil honour.
12 And Mordecái came againe to ỹ Kings gate, but Hamán haſted home mourning and his head couered.
13 And Hamán tolde Zéreſh his wife, & all his friends all that had befallen him. Thē ſaid his wiſe men, and Zéreſh his wife vnto him, If Mordecái be of the ſede of the Iewes, before whome thou haſt begōne to fall, thou ſhalt not preuaile againſt him, [d] but ſhalt ſurely fall before him.
14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches and haſted to bring Hamán vnto the bāket that Eſtér had prepared.

[c] Meanig hereby, that the king ſhulde make himſelf vnto him ſelf, as Ioſeph hereby was knowen to be next to Pharaoh, Gen 41, 42.

[d] Thus God ſometime putteth in the mouthe of the very wicked, to ſpeake that thig, which he hathe decreed ſhal come to paſſe.

CHAP. VII.

3 The quené biddeth the King & Hamán againe & praieth for her ſelfe and her people 6 She accuſeth Hamán and he is hanged on the gallous, which he had prepared for Mordecái.

1 SO the King and Hamán came to banket with the Quene Eſtér.
2 And the King ſaid againe vnto Eſtér on the ſeconde day at the banket of [a] wine, What is thy peticion, Quene Eſtér, that it may be giuē thee? and what is thy requeſt? It ſhalbe euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.
3 And Eſtér the Quene anſwered, and ſaid, If I haue founde fauour in thy ſight, ô King, and if it pleaſe the King, let my life be giuen me at my petición, & my people at my requeſt.
4 For we are ſolde, I, and my people, to be deſtroyed, to be ſlayne and to periſh: but if we were ſolde for ſeruants, & for handmaides, I wolde haue held my tongue: althogh the aduerſarie colde not [b] recōpenſe the Kings loſſe.
5 Thē King Ahaſhuerósh anſwered, & ſaid vnto ỹ Quene Eſtér, Who is he? & where is he that "preſumeth to do thus?
6 And Eſtér ſaid, The aduerſarie and enemie is this wicked Hamán. Then Hamán was afraied before the King & the Quene.
7 And the King aroſe from the banket of wine in his wrath, & went into the palace garden: but Haman ſtode vp, to make requeſt for his life to ỹ Quene Eſtér: for he ſawe that there was a [c] miſchief prepared for him of the King.
8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the houſe where they dranke wine, Hamán was [d] fallen vpon the bed whereon Eſtér ſate: therefore the King ſaid, Wil he force ỹ Quene alſo before me in the houſe? As the worde wēt out of the Kings mouthe, they [e] couered Hamans face.
9 And Harbonáh one of the eunuches, ſaid in the preſence of the King, Beholde, there ſtandeth yet the tree in Hamans houſe fiftie cubites hie, which Hamán had prepared for Mordecái, that ſpake [f] good for the King. Then the King ſaid, Hang him thereon.
10 So they hanged Hamán on the tre, that he had prepared for Mordecái: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

[a] Read Chap. 5, 6.

[b] Hamán cold not ſo muche profite ỹ King by this his malice, as he ſhulde hinder him by ỹ loſſe of the Iewes, & the tribute which he hath of them
"Ebr filleth his heart.

[c] His conſcience did accuſe him that as he had conſpired the death of innocents, ſo the vengeance of God might fall vpon him for the ſame

[d] He fel downe at the beddes fete or couche, whereupon ſhe ſate, and made requeſt for his life

[e] This was the maner of the Perſians, when one was out of the Kings fauour

[f] Which diſcouered the conſpiracie againſt ỹ King, Chap. 2, 2.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Hamán was Mordecái exalted, 14 Comfortable lettres are ſent vnto the Iewes.

1 THe ſame day did King Ahaſhuerósh giue the houſe of Haman the aduerſarie of the Iewes vnto the Quene Eſtér. And Mordecái [a] came before the King: for Eſtér tolde what he was [b] vnto her.
2 And the King toke of his ring, which he had taken from Hamán, and gaue it vnto Mordecái: and Eſtér ſet Mordecái ouer the houſe of Hamán.
3 And Eſtér ſpake yet more before ỹ King, and fell downe at his fete weping, and beſought him that he wolde put away the [c] wickednes of Hamán the Agagite, and his deuiſe that he had imagined againſt the Iewes.
4 And the King helde out the golde [d] ſceptre toward Eſtér. Then aroſe Eſtér, and ſtode before the King,
5 And ſaid, If it pleaſe the King, and if I haue founde fauour in his ſight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I pleaſe him, let it be writen, that the lettres of the deuiſe of Hamán the ſonne of Ammedátha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to deſtroye ỹ Iewes,

[a] That is, was receiued into the Kings fauour and preſence

[b] That he was her vncle and had broght her vp

[c] Meaning, ỹ he ſhulde abolish ỹ wicked decrees, which he had made for the deſtruction of the Iewes

[d] Read Chap. 5, 2.

that are in all the Kings prouinces.

For how can I ſuffer and ſe the euil, that ſhal come vnto my people? Or how can I ſuffer and ſe the deſtruction of my kinred?

7 And the King Ahaſhuerósh ſaid vnto ỹ Quene Eſtér, & to Mordecái the Iewe, Behólde, I haue giuen Eſtér the houſe of Hamán, whome they haue hanged vpon the tre, becauſe he layed hand vpon the Iewes.

Or, went about to ſlay the Iewes.

8 Write ye alſo for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and ſeale it with the Kings ring, (for the writings writen in the Kings name, and ſealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke) a This was ỹ lawe of the Medes & Perſians, as Dan 6,15 notwithſtanding the King reuoked the former decree grãted to Hamán, for Eſters ſake.

9 Thẽ were the Kings ſcribes called at the ſame time, euẽ in the third moneth, that is the moneth b Siuán, on the thre & twẽtieth day thereof: and it was writen, according to all as Mordecái commanded vnto the Iewes and to the prouinces, & captaines, and rulers of the princes, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundreth & ſeuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euerie prouince, according to the c writing thereof, and to euerie people after their ſpeache, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

b Which conteineth parte of May and parte of Iune.

c That is, in ſuche letters & lãguage, as was vſial in euerie prouince.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahaſhuerósh name, and ſealed it with the Kings ring: & he ſent lettres by poſtes on horſebacke & that rode on beaſtes of price, as dromedaries & d coltes of mares.

d Or, mules.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities ſoeuer they were) to gather them ſelues together, & to ſtand for e their life, & to roote out, to ſlay & to deſtroye all the power of the people & of the prouince that vexed them, both children and women, and to ſpoyle their goods:

e That is, to defend their ſelues againſt all that wolde aſſaile them.

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of King Ahaſhuerósh, euen in the thirtent day of the twelft moneth, which is the moneth f Adár.

f Which hath parte of Februarie & part of Marche.

13 The copie of the writing was, how there ſhulde be a commandement giuen in all and euerie prouince, publiſhed among all the people, and that the Iewes ſhulde be readie againſt that day to g auenge them ſelues on their enemies.

g The King gaue them libertie to kill all ỹ did oppreſſe them.

14 So the poſtes rode vpon beaſtes of price, & dromedaries, & wẽt forthe with ſpede, to execute the Kings commandement, & the decree was giuen at Shuſhán ỹ palace.

15 And Mordecái went out from the King in royal apparel of blewe, and white, and with a great crowne of golde, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the citie of Shuſhán reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and h ioye and gladnes, and honour.

h He ſheweth by theſe wordes that follow what this light was.

17 Alſo in all and euerie prouince, and in all and euerie citie and place, where the Kings commãdement & his decreé came, there was ioye and gladnes among the Iewes, a feaſt and good day, and many of the people of the land became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

i Conformed them ſelues to the Iewes religion.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the King the Iewes put their aduerſaries to death. 14 The ten ſonnes of Hamán are hanged. 17 The Iewes kepe a feaſt in remẽbrance of their deliuerance.

1 SO in the twelft moneth, which is the moneth Adái, vpon the thirtent day of the ſame, when the Kings commãdement and his decree drewe nere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it a turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them) a This was by Gods great prouidence, who turneth ỹ ioye of the wicked into ſorow, & the teares of the godlie into gladnes.

2 The Iewes gathered thẽ ſelues together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahaſhuerósh, to laye hand on ſuche as ſoght their hurt, and no man colde withſtande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, & the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King b exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecái fell vpon them.

b Did thẽ honour, & ſhewed thẽ friendſhip.

4 For Mordecái was great in the Kings houſe, and the reporte of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecái waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes ſmote all their c enemies with ſtrokes of the ſworde and ſlaughter, and deſtruction, and did what they wolde vnto thoſe that hated them.

c Which had cõſpired their death by the permiſsion of the wicked Hamán.

6 And at Shuſhán the palace ſlewe ỹ Iewes and deſtroyed d fiue hundreth men, d Beſides theſe thre hundreth, ỹ they ſlewe the ſeconde day, as verſ. 15.

7 And Parſhandátha, and Dalphón, and Aſpátha,

8 And Porátha, and Adaliá, and Aridátha,

9 And Parmáſhta, and Ariſái, and Aridái, and Vaiezátha,

10 The ten ſonnes of Hamán, the ſonne of Ammedátha, the aduerſarie of the Iewes ſlewe they: but they layed not their hãds e on the ſpoyle.

e Whereby they declared, that this was Gods iuſt iudgement vpon ỹ enemies of his Church, for aſtruche as they ſoght not their owne gaine, but to execute his vengeance.

11 On the ſame day came the nomber of thoſe that were ſlayne, vnto the palace of Shuſhán before the King.

12 And the King ſaid vnto the Quene Eſtér, The Iewes haue ſlayne in Shuſhán the palace and deſtroyed fiue hundreth men, and the ten ſonnes of Hamán: what haue they done in the reſt of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy requeſt moreouer, that it may be performed?

13 Then ſaid Eſtér, If it pleaſe the King, let it be granted alſo tomorowe to the Iewes that are in Shuſhán, to do according

f vnto

f vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang vpon the tre Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the King charged to do so, and the decree was giuen at Shushán, and they hãged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushán, assembled them selues vpon the fourtent day of the moneth Adár, and slewe thre hũdreth men in Shushan, but on the spoile they layed not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled thẽ selues, and stode for g their liues, and had rest from their enemies, & slewe of them that hated them, h seuentie and fyue thousand: but they layed not their hãd on the spoile.

17 This they did on the i thirtente day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourtẽte day thereof, and kept it a daye of feasting and ioye.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushán, assembled them selues on the thirtẽte day, & on the fourtente thereof, & thei rested on the fiftente of the same, & kept it a day of feasting and ioye.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, k kept the fourtente day of the moneth Adar with ioye and feasting, euen a ioyful day, and euerie one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecái wrote l these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerósh, bothe nere and farre, 21 Inioining them that they shulde kepe the fourtente day of the moneth Adár, and the fiftente day of the same, euerie yere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them frõ sorow to ioye, and from mourning into a ioyful day, to kepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioye, and m to send presents euerie man to his neighbour, and giftes to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to do as they had begonne, and as Mordecái had writen vnto them,

24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedátha the Agagite all the Iewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroye them, & had n cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroye them.

25 And whẽ o she came before the King, he cõmanded by letters, Let his wicked p deuise (which he imagined against ẏ Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tre.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purím, by the name of Pur, and because of all the wordes of this lettre, and of that which they had sene besides this, & of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them and for their sede, and for all that ioined vnto them, that they wolde not "faile to obserue those q two dayes euerie yere, according to their writing, and according to their season,

28 And that these dayes shulde be remembred, and kept throughout euerie generation and euerie familie, and euerie prouince, and euerie citie: euen these dayes of Purím shulde not faile among the Iewes, and the memorial of them shulde not perish from their sede.

29 And ẏ Quene Estér the daughter of Abihail & Mordecái the Iewe wrote with all autoritie (to cõfirme this letter of Purím the seconde time)

30 And he sent letters vnto all the Iewes to the hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahashuerósh, with r wordes of peace and trueth, 31 To confirme these dayes of Purím according to their seasons, as Mordecái the Iewe and Estér the Quene had appointed them, and as they had promised for them "selues and for their sede with s fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Estér confirmed these wordes of Purím, & was writen in the boke.

CHAP. X.

The estimation and autoritie of Mordecái.

1 AND the King Anashuerósh layed a tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the sea.

2 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, and the declaration of the dignitie of Mordecái, wherewith the King magnified him, are they not writen in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Media and Persia?

3 For Mordecái the Iewe was the seconde vnto King Ahashuerósh, and great amõg the Iewes, and a accepted amõg the multitude of his brethren, who procured the welth of his people, & spake peaceably to all his sede.

f This she requireth not for desire of vengeance, but ẏ zeale to se Gods iudgemẽts executed against his enemies.

g Read Chap. 8, 11.

h Meaning ẏ they laide hãdes on none, ẏ were not the enemies of God.

i Meaning, in all places sauing in Shushan.

k As ẏ Iewes do, euẽ to this day, calling it in the Persians language Purim, that is the day of lots.

l The Iewes gather hereof that Mordecái wrote this storie, but it semeth that he wrote but onely these letters, and decrees that followe.

m He setteth before our iets the vse of this feast, which was for the remembrance of Gods deliuerãce, the maintenance of mutual friẽdship, and relief of the poore.

n Read Chap 3, 7.

o That is, Mar.

p These are ẏ wordes of the Kings commademẽt to disanull Hamans wicked enterprise.

"Or, transgresse.

q Meaning the fourtente, and the fiftẽte day of the moneth Adár.

"Or strength, & efficacie.

r Which were letters declaring vnto thẽ quietnes, and assurance and putting them out of doute, and feare.

"Hor sales.

s That they wolde obserue this feast with fasting, & earnest prayer, which in Ebrewe is signified by this worde (their crye.)

a These thre pointes are here set forth as commendable, and necessarie for him, that is in autoritie to haue the fauour of the people: to procure their welth, & to be gentle, and loung toward them.

IOB.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this hiſtorie is ſet beſore our eyes the example of a ſingular pacience. For this holy man Iob was not onely extremely afflicted in outwarde things and in his body, but alſo in his minde, and conſcience by the ſharpe tentations of his wife, and chief friends: which by their vehement wordes, and ſubtil diſputations brogbt him almoſte to diſpaire. for they ſet forthe God as a ſeuere iudge, and mortal enemie vnto him, which had caſte him of, therefore in vaine he ſhulde ſeke vnto him for ſuccour. Theſe friends came vnto him vnder pretence of conſolation, and yet they tormented him more then did all his affliction. Notwithſtanding he did conſtantly reſiſt them, and at length had good ſucceſſe. In this ſtorie we haue to marke that Iob mainteineth a good cauſe, but handeleth it euil: againe his aduerſaries haue an euil matter, but they defend it craftely. For Iob helde that God did not alway puniſh men according to their ſinnes, but that he had ſecret iudgements, whereof man knewe not the cauſe, and therefore man colde not reaſon againſt God therein, but he ſhulde be conuicted. Moreouer he was aſſured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments, & affliction he braſteth forthe into manie inconueniencies bothe of wordes and ſentences, and ſheweth him ſelfe as a deſperate man in manie things, and as one that wolde reſiſt God: and thus is his good cauſe which he doeth not handel wel. Agayne the aduerſaries maintein with manie goodlie argumẽts, that God puniſheth continually according to the treſpas, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iuſtice, and mans ſinne, yet their intention is euil: for they labour to bring Iob into diſpaire, and ſo they mainteine an euil cauſe. Ezekiél commendeth Iob as a iuſte man, Ezek. 14, 14, and Iames ſetteth out his pacience for an example, Iam. 5, 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holines, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 20 Satán hathe permiſſion to tempt him. 13 He tẽpteth him by taking away his ſubſtance, and his children. 20 His faith and pacience.

1 THere was a mã in the lãd of [a] Vz called Iob, and this mã [b] was an vpright and iuſte man, [c] one that feared God, & eſchewed euil.

2 And he had ſeuẽ ſonnes, and thre daughters.

3 His [d] ſubſtance alſo was ſeuen thouſand ſhepe, and thre thouſand camels, and fyue hundreth yoke of oxen, and fyue hundreth ſhe aſſes, and his familie was verie great, ſo that this man was the greateſt of all the [e] men of the Eaſt.

4 And his ſonnes went and banketted in their houſes, euerie one his day, and ſent, & called their thre ſiſters to eat & to drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketting were gone about, Iob ſent, and [f] ſanctified thẽ, and roſe vp early in the morning, and [g] offred burnt offrings according to the nomber of thẽ all. For Iob thoght, It may be that my ſonnes haue ſinned, and [h] blaſphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob [i] euerie day.

6 ¶Now on a day when the [k] children of God came and ſtode [l] before the Lord, Satán [m] came alſo among them.

7 Then the Lord ſaid vnto Satan, Whẽce [n] commeſt thou? And Satán anſwered the Lord, ſaying, [o] From cõpaſsing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lord ſaid vnto Satán, Haſt thou not cõſidered my ſeruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? an vpright and iuſt man, one that feareth God, and eſchewẽth euil?

9 Thẽ Satán anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, Doeth Iob feare God for [p] noght?

10 Haſt thou not made [q] an hedge about him and about his houſe, and about all that he hathe on euerie ſide? thou haſt bleſſed the worke of his hands, and his ſubſtance is encreaſed in the land.

11 But ſtretche out now thine hand and [r] touche all that he hathe, to ſe if he wil not blaſpheme thee to [ſ] thy face.

12 Then the Lord ſaid vnto Satán, Lo, all that he hathe is in [t] thine hand. onely vpõ him ſelfe ſhalt thou not ſtretch out thine hãd. So Satán departed from the [u] preſence of the Lord.

13 ¶And on a day, when his ſonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe,

14 There came a meſſenger vnto Iob, and ſaid, The oxen were plowing, and the aſſes feding in their places,

15 And the [x] Shabeans came violently, & toke them: yea, they haue ſlaine the ſeruants with the edge of the ſworde: but I onely am eſcaped alone to tel thee.

16 And

a That is, of ỹ countrey of Idumea, as Lamen 4, 21, or bordering thereupon. for ỹ land was called by the name of Vz the ſonne of Dishan the ſoune of Seir, Geneſ. 36, 28

b Foraſmuche as he was a Gẽtile and not a Iewe, & yet is pronounced vpright, and without hypocriſie, it declareth that amõg the heathen God hath his.

c Hereby is declared, what is ment by an vpright, and iuſte man d His childrẽ and riches are declared, to commend his vertue in his proſperitie, & his pacience, & conſtãcie whẽ God had takẽ them frõ him.

e Meaning, the Arabiãs, Chaldeans, Idumeans, &c.

f That is, cõmãded them to bẽ ſanctified meaning, that they ſhulde conſider the fautes, that they had committed, & recõcile them ſelues for the ſame

g That is, he offred for euerie one of his children an offring of reconciliatiõ, which declared his religiõ toward God & the care that he had toward his children

h In Ebrewe it is and bleſſed God, which is ſome time taken for blaſpheming and curſing, as here, and 1 King 21, 10 and 13, &c

i While the feaſt laſted k Meaning, the Angels which are called the ſonnes of God, becauſe they are willing to execute his wil l Becauſe our infirmitie cã not comprehend God in his maieſtie, he is ſet forthe vnto vs as 1 King, that our capacitie may be able to vnderſtand that, wherof is ſpoke of him.

m This declareth that although Satán be aduerſarie to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and do him all homage, without whoſe permiſsion, & appointement he cã do nothing n This queſtiõ is aſked for our infirmitie: for God knewe whence he came o Herein is deſcribed the nature of Satán, which is euer ranging for his pray, 1. Pet. 5. 8 p He feareth thee not for thine owne ſake, but for the cõmoditie that he receiueth by thee

q Meaning, ỹ grace of God, which ſerued Iob as a rampare againſt all tentations.

r This ſignifieth that Satan is not able to touche vs, but it is God that muſt do it.

ſ Satán noteth the vice, wherevnto mẽ are cõmonly ſubiect. that is, to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in the time of proſperitie, which vice is diſcloſed in the time of their aduerſitie

t God giueth not Satán power ouer man to gratifie him, but to declare that he hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him

u That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to do for els he can neuer go out of Gods preſence.

x That is, the Arabians.

4511224

16 And whiles he was yet ſpeaking, another came, and ſaid, The [y] fyre of God is fallen from the heauen, and hathe burnt vp the ſhepe and the ſeruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am eſcaped alone, to tel thee.

17 And whiles he was yet ſpeaking, another came, and ſaid, The Caldeans ſet out thre bandes, and fel vpon the camels, and haue taken them, and haue ſlaine the ſeruants with the edge of the ſworde: but I onely am eſcaped alone to tel thee.

18 And whiles he was yet ſpeaking, came another, & ſaid, Thy [z] ſonnes, & thy daughters were eating, & drinking wine in their eldeſt brothers houſe, 19 And beholde, there came a great winde from beyond the wildernes, and ſmote the foure corners of the houſe, which fel vpon the childrē, and they are dead, and I onely am eſcaped alone to tel thee.

20 Then Iob aroſe, and [a] rent his garmēt, and ſhaued his head, and fel downe vpon the grounde, and worſhiped, 21 And ſaid, *Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, & naked ſhal I returne [b] thether: the Lord hathe giuen, and the Lord hathe taken it: [c] bleſſed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob ſinne, nor charge God [d] fooliſhly.

y Which thig was alſo done by ỹ craft of Satán to tempt Iob the more greuouſly, for aſmuche as he might ſe, that not ouely men were his enemies, but that God mide war reagainſt him

z This laſt plague declareth, that whē one plague is paſt which ſeemeth hard to be borne, God can ſend vs another farre more grieuous, to trye his, & teache them obedience a Which came not of impaciēcie, but declareth that the children of God are not inſenſible like blockes, but ỹ in their paciēce they fele affliction, and grief of minde yet they kepe a meane herein, and rebell not againſt God, as the wicked do.

Eccle. 5, 14.
1 tim 6, 7.

b That is, into the belly of ỹ earth, which is the mother of all

c Hereby he confeſſeth that God is iuſte, and good, all though his hād be fore vpon him

d But declared that God did althing according to iuſtice and equitie.

CHAP. II.

6 Satán hathe permiſſion to affli& Iob. 9 His wife tēpteth him to forſake God. 11 His thr: friends viſite him.

1 AND on a day the [a] children of God came and ſtode before the Lord, and [b] Satán came alſo among them, and ſtode before the Lord.

a That is, the Angels, as Chap 1,6

b Read Chap. 1,12.

2 Then the Lord ſaid vnto Satán, Whence commeſt thou? And Satán anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, From cōpaſſing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

Ezek. 14, 14.

c He proueth Iobs integritie by this, that he ceaſed not to feare God whē his plagues were grieuouſly vpon him

3 And the Lord ſaid vnto Satán, Haſt thou not conſidered my ſeruant Iob, how none is like him in the earth? * an vpright and iuſte man, one that feareth God, and eſchueth euil? for yet he continueth in his vprightnes, [c] although thou mouedſt me againſt him, to deſtroye [d] him without cauſe.

d That is, whē ỹ haſt noght againſt him, or whē thou waſt not able to bring thy purpoſe to paſſe

4 And Satán anſwered the Lord, and ſaid, [e] Skin for ſkin, & all that euer a mā hathe, wil he giue for his life.

e Hereby he méeth that a mās owne ſinne is dearer vnto him then another mans.

5 But ſtretche now out thine hand, and touche his [f] bones and his fleſh, to ſe if he wil not blaſpheme thee to thy face.

f Meaning his owne perſone

6 Then the Lord ſaid vnto Satan, Lo, he is in thine hand, but ſaue [g] his life.

g That is, Satán can go no further in puniſhing thē God hathe limited vnto him

7 ¶So Satán departed from the preſence of the Lord, and ſmote Iob with ſore [h] boyles, from the ſole of his fote vnto his crowne.

h This ſore was moſt vehemēt, wherewith alſo God plagued the Egyptians, Exo 9,9 and threatneth to puniſh the rebellious people, Deut 28,27 ſo that this tentation was moſte grieuous, for if Iob had meaſured Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his diſeaſe, he might haue thoght ỹ God had caſt him of.

8 And he toke a [i] potſharde to ſcrape him, and he ſate downe among the aſhes.

i As deſtitute of all other helpe and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the ſorowe of his diſeaſe.

9 Thē ſaid his [k] wife vnto him, Doeſt thou [l] continue yet in thine vprightnes? [m] Blaſpheme God, and dye.

k Satán vſeth the ſame inſtrumēt againſt Iob, as he did againſt Adám.

l Meaning, What gaineſt thou to ſerue God, ſeing he thus plagueth thee as though he were thine enemie?

10 But he ſaid vnto her, Thou ſpeakeſt like a fooliſh woman: what? ſhal we receiue good at the hand of God, and not [n] receiue euil? In all this did not Iob ſinne with his [o] lippes.

m This is ỹ moſte grieuous tentation of the faithful, when their faith is aſſailed, and when Satán goeth about to perſuade them, that thei truſt in God in vayne

n That is, to be pacient in aduerſitie, as we reioice, when he ſendeth proſperitie, & ſo to acknowledge him to be bothe merciful and iuſte

o He ſo brideled his affections, that his tōgue through impaciencie did not murmure againſt God

11 Now when Iobs thre [p] friends heard of all this euil that was come vpon him, thei came euerie one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphāz the Temanite, and Bildād the Shuhite, and Zophār the Naamathite. for thei were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

p Which were men of authoritie, wiſe and learned, and as the Septuagint write, Kings, and came to comfort him but when they ſaw how he was viſited, they conceiued an euil opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and ſo iuſtely plagued of God for his ſinnes 12 So whē they lift vp their eyes a farre of, they knewe him not. therefore thei lift vp their voyces and wept, and euerie one of them rent his garmēt, & ſprinkled [q] duſt vpon their heades toward the heauen.

q This was alſo a ceremonie, which they vſed in thoſe countreis, as the renting of their clothes in ſigne of ſorowe &c.

13 So thei ſate by him vpon the grounde ſeuen dayes, and ſeuen nights, & none ſpake a worde vnto him: for they ſawe, that the grief was very [r] great.

r And therefore thoght that he wolde not haue hearkened to their counſel.

CHAP. III.

1 Iob complaineth and curſeth the day of his birth. 11 He deſireth to dye, as though death were the end of all mās miſerie.

1 AFterward [a] Iob opened his mouthe, and [b] curſed his day.

a The ſeuen dayes ended, Chap. 2, 13

b Here Iob beginneth to fele his great imperfection in this battel betwene the Spirit and ỹ fleſh, Rom 7, 18, and after a maner yeldeth, yet in the end he getteth victorie, though he was in the meane time greatly wounded

2 And Iob cryed out, and ſaid,

3 Let the daye [c] periſh, wherein I was borne, and the night when it was ſaid, There is a manchilde conceiued.

c Mē ought not to be weary of their life, & curſe it, becauſe of the infirmities that it is ſubiect vnto, but becauſe they are giuē to ſinne and rebellion againſt God

4 Let ỹ day be darkenes, let not God [d] regarde it from aboue, nether let the light ſhine vpon it, d Let it be put out of the nōber of dayes,

5 But let darkenes, & the [e] ſhadowe of death ſtaine it: let the cloude remaine vpon it, & let them make it feareful as a bitter day.

6 Let darkenes poſſeſſe that night, let it not be ioined vnto the dayes of the yere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Yea, deſolate be that night, & let no ioye be in it.

8 Let them that curſe the day, (beīg [f] redy to renue thei mourning) curſe it.

and let it not haue the light of the ſunne to ſeparate it from the night.

e That is, moſte obſcure darknes, which maketh them afraied of death, that are in it

f Which curſe the day of their birth, let them ly that curſe vpon this night.

9 Let the ſtarres of that twilight be dimy through darkenes of it: let it loke for light, but haue none: nether let it ſe "the dawning of the daye,

10 Becauſe it ſhut not vp the dores of my mothers wombe: nor hid ſorowe from mine eyes.

11 [b] Why dyed I not in ỹ birth? or why dyed I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preuent me? and why did I ſucke the breaſtes?

13 For ſo ſhulde I now haue [i] lyen and bene quiet, I ſhulde haue ſlept then, and bene at reſt,

14 With the Kings and counſellers of the earth, which haue buylded them ſelues [k] deſolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had golde, & haue filled their houſes with ſiluer.

16 Or why was I not hid, as an vntimely birth, ether as infants, which haue not ſene the light?

17 The wicked [l] haue there ceaſed from their tyránie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at reſt.

18 The [m] priſoners reſt together, and heare not the voyce of the oppreſſour.

19 There are ſmall & great, and the ſeruãt is fre from his maſter.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miſerie? and [n] life vnto them that haue heauy hearts?

21 Which long for death, & if it come not, they wolde euen ſearch it more thẽ treaſures:

22 Which ioye for gladnes and reioyce, when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the mã whoſe way is [o] hid, & whome God hathe hedged in?

24 For my ſighing cometh before I eat, and my rorings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I [p] feared, is come vpon me, and the thing that I was afrayed of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, nether had I quietnes, nether had I reſt, [q] yet trouble is come.

But now it is come vpon thee, & thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, & thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy [c] feare, thy confidence, thy pacience, and the vprightnes of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer periſhed being an [d] innocẽt? or where were the vpright deſtroied?

8 As I haue ſene, they that [e] plowe iniquitie, and ſowe wickednes, reape the ſame.

9 With the [f] blaſt of God they periſh, and with the breath of his noſtrilles are they conſumed.

10 The roring of the [g] lion, and the voice of the lion iſſe, and the teeth of the lions whelpes are broken.

11 The lion periſheth for lacke of praye, and the lions whelpes are ſcatred abrode.

12 But a thing was broght to me [h] ſecretly, and mine eare hathe receiued a litle thereof.

13 In the thoghts of the viſions of the night, when ſlepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, and dread which made all my bones [i] to tremble.

15 And the winde paſſed before me, & made the heeres of my fleſh to ſtand vp.

16 Then ſtode one, and I knewe not his face: an image was before mine eyes, & in [k] ſilence heard I a voyce, ſaying, 17 Shal man be more [l] iuſt then God? or ſhal a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde no ſtedfaſtnes in his Seruants, & laied folie vpon his [m] Angels.

19 How muche more in them that dwel in houſes of [n] clay, whoſe fundacion is in the duſt, which ſhalbe deſtroyed before the moth?

20 They be deſtroyed from [o] the morning vnto the euening: they periſh for euer, [p] without regarde.

21 Doeth not their dignitie go away with them? do they not dye, and that without [q] wiſdome.

g Let it be alwaies night, and neuer ſe day "Lor the eye lidder of the morning.

h This & that which followeth declareth that when mã giueth place to his paſsiõs, he is not able to ſtay nor kepe meaſure, but rũneth headling into all euil, except God call him backe

i The vehemẽcie of his afflictions made him to vtter theſe wordes, as though death were the end of all miſeries and as if there were no life after this, ẽ he ſpeaketh not as though it were ſo, but ỹ infirmities of his fleſh cauſed him to braſt out into this error of the wicked

k He noteth the ambition of thẽ, which for their pleaſure, as it were, change the order of nature, and buylde in moſte bare places, becauſe they wolde hereby make their names immortal

l That is, by death ỹ crueltie of the tyrannes hathe ceaſed

m All they ỹ ſuſteine anie kinde of calamitie and miſerie in this worlde which he ſpeaketh after the iudgement of the fleſh

n He ſheweth that the benefites of God are not cõfortable, except the heart be ioiful, and the conſcience quieted

o That ſeeth not how to come out of his miſeries, becauſe he depẽdeth not on Gods prouidence p In my proſperitie I loked euer for a fall, as is come now to paſſe.

q The feare of troubles that ſhulde inſue, cauſed my proſperitie ſo ſeme to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

c This he concludeth that Iob was but an hypocrite & had no true feare nor truſt in God

d He cõcludeth that Iob was reproued, ſeing that God handeled him ſo extremely, which is the argument that the carnal men make againſt the children of God

e They that do euil, can not but receiue euil

f He ſheweth that God needeth no great preparation to deſtroy his enemies for he can do it with the blaſt of his mouthe.

g Thogh men according to their office do not puniſh tyrannie (whome for their crueltie he compareth to lions, and their children to their whelpes) yet God bothe is able, and his iuſtice wil puniſh them

h A thing that I knewe not before, was declared vnto me by viſion: that is, that whoſoeuer thinketh him ſelfe iuſte, ſhal be founde a ſinner, whẽ he commeth before God

i In theſe viſions which God ſheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certeine feare ioyned, that the authoritie thereof might be had in greater reuerence k When all things were quiet, or when the feare was ſomwhat aſwaged, as God appeared to Eliáh 1 King 19,12.

l He proueth that if God did puniſh the innocent, the creature ſhulde be more iuſte then the Creator, which were a blaſphemie

m If God finde imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintened by his power, how muche more ſhal he lay foly to mans charge, when he wolde iuſtifie him ſelfe againſt God?

n That is, in this mortal body, ſubiect to corruption, 2. Cor 5.1

o They ſe death continually before their eies, and daily approching toward them

p No man for all this doeth conſider it

q That is, before that any of them were ſo wiſe as to thinke on death.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iob is reprehended of impacience. 7 And vniuſtice. 17 And of the preſumption of his owne righteouſnes.

1 THẽ Elipház the Temanite anſwered, and ſaid,

2 If we aſſay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieued? but [a] who can withholde him ſelf from ſpeaking?

3 Beholde, thou haſt taught manie, & [b] haſt ſtrengthened the wearie hands.

4 Thy wordes haue confirmed him that was falling, & thou haſt ſtrengthened the weake knees.

a Seing this thine impacẽcie

b Thou haſte comforted others in their afflictions, and canſt not now comfort thy ſelfe.

CHAP. V.

1.2 Elipház ſheweth the difference betwene the children of God & the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked. 9 Gods power who deſtroyeth the wicked and deliuereth his.

1 CAll now, if anie will [a] anſwer thee, & to which of the Saintes wilt thou turne?

2 Douteles [b] angre killeth the fooliſh, and enuie ſlayeth the idiote.

a He willeth Iob to cõſider ỹ example of all thẽ that haue liued or do liue godly, whether any of thẽ be like vnto hi in raging againſt God as he doeth

b Murmuring againſt God in afflictions increaſeth the pene, and vttereth mans folie.

3 I haue ſene the [c] fooliſh wel rooted, & ſodenly I [d] curſed his habitacion, ſaying,
4 His [e] children ſhalbe farre from ſaluatiõ, and they ſhalbe deſtroied in the [f] gate, and none ſhal deliuer them.
5 The hungrie ſhal eat vp his harueſt: yea, the ſhal take it from among the [g] thornes, and the thirſtie ſhal drinke vp their ſubſtance.
6 For miſerie commeth not forthe of the duſt, [h] nether doeth affliction ſpring out of the earth.
7 But man is borne vnto [i] trauail, as the ſparkes flye vpward.
8 But I wolde inquire [k] at God, and turne my talke vnto God:
9 Which [l] doeth great things and vnſearcheable, and maruelous things without nomber.
10 He [m] giueth raine vpon the earth, and powreth water vpon the ſtretes, 11 And ſetteth vp on hie them that be lowe, that the ſorowful may be exalted to ſaluation.
12 He ſcatereth the deuiſes of the craftie: ſo that their hands can not accõpliſh that which they do enterpriſe.
13 [n] He taketh the wiſe in their craftines, & the counſel of the wicked is made fooliſh.
14 They mete with [o] darkenes in the day time, and [o] grope at noone day, as in the night.
15 But he ſaueth the [p] poore frõ the ſworde, from their [q] mouth, and from the hand of the violent man, 16 So that the poore hathe his hope, but iniquitie ſhal [r] ſtop her mouth.
17 Beholde, bleſſed is the man whome God correcteth: therefore refuſe not thou the chaſtiſing of the Almightie.
18 For he maketh the wounde, and bindeth it vp: he ſmiteth, and his hãds make whole.
19 He ſhal deliuer thee [s] in ſix troubles, and in the ſeuent the euil ſhal not touche thee.
20 In famine he ſhal deliuer thee frõ death: and in battel from the power of the ſworde.
21 Thou ſhalt be hid from the ſcourge of [y] tongue, and thou ſhalt not be affraied of deſtruction when it cometh.
22 But thou ſhalt [t] laugh at deſtruction and dearth, & ſhalt not be afrayd of the beaſt of the earth.
23 For the ſtones of the field [u] ſhalbe in league with thee, and the beaſtes of the field ſhal be at peace with thee.
24 And thou ſhalt knowe, that peace ſhalbe in thy tabernacle, & thou ſhalt viſite thine habitacion, and ſhalt not [x] ſinne.
25 Thou ſhalt perceiue alſo, that thy ſede ſhalbe great, & thy poſteritie as the graſſe of the earth.
26 Thou ſhalt go to thy graue in [y] a ful age, as a ricke of corne cometh in due ſeaſon into the barne.
27 Lo, [z] thus haue we inquired of it, and ſo it is: heare this and knowe it for thy ſelf.

c That is, the ſinner that hathe not the feare of God.
d I was not moued w̃ his ſperitie, but knewe that God had curſed him & his e Thogh God ſometime ſuffer the fathers to paſſe in this worlde, yet his iudgemẽt ſhalbe executed vpon their children
f By publicke iudgemẽt thei ſhalbe condẽned, and none ſhal pitie thẽ g Thogh there be but two or thre eares left in the hedges, yet theſe ſhalbe taken from him
h That is, the earth is not ỹ cauſe of barennes and mans miſerie, but his owne ſinne.
i Which declareth that ſinne is euer in our corrupt nature: for before ſinne it was not ſubiect to perſe & afflictiõ.
k If I ſuffred as thou doeſt, I wolde ſeke vnto God
l He counſeleth Iob to hũble him ſelfe vnto God, to whome all creatures are ſubiect, and whoſe workes declare that man is inexcuſable, except he glorifie God in all his workes m He ſheweth by particular exãples, what the workes of God are s Cor. 3. 19.
n In things plaine and euident thei ſhewe them ſelues fooles in ſtead of wiſe men o This declareth that God puniſheth the worldely wiſe, as he threatened, Deu 28, 29 p That is, he that humbleth him ſelfe before God
q He cõpareth the ſklãder of the wicked to ſharpe ſwordes
r If the wicked be compelled at Gods workes to ſtoppe their mouthes, muche more thei ỹ profeſſe God.
s He wil ſend trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one time, but continually truſt in him: but they ſhal haue a comforrable iſſue, euen in [illegible] laſt, which is [illegible] called the ſeuent
t Where [illegible] in their troubles, thou ſhalt haue occaſion to reioice u When we are in Gods fauour, all creatures ſhal ſerue vs x God ſhal ſo bleſſe thee that thou ſhalt haue occaſion to reioice in all things, and not to be offended y Though the children of God haue not alwaies this promes performed, yet God doeth recompence it other wiſe to their aduantage z We haue learned theſe pointes by experience, that God puniſheth not the innocent, that man can not [illegible] iuſtice [illegible] and that the affliction [illegible]

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob anſwereth, that his peine is more grieuous then his faute. 8 He wiſheth death. 14 He cõplaineth of his frẽds.

1 BVt Iob anſwered, and ſaid,
2 Oh that my grief were wel weighed, and my miſeries were laied together in the [a] balance.
3 For it wolde be now heauyer thẽ the ſand of ỹ ſea: therefore my wordes are [b] ſwallowed vp.
4 For the arowes of the Almightie are in me, ỹ venime whereof doeth drinke vp my ſpirit, & the terrours of God [c] fight againſt me.
5 Doeth the [d] wilde aſſe braye when he hathe graſſe? or loweth the oxe when he hathe foddre?
6 That which is [e] vnſauery, ſhal it be eaten without ſalt? or is there any taſte in the white of an egge?
7 Suche things as my ſoule refuſed to touche, as were ſorowes, are my meate.
8 Oh that I might haue my [f] deſire, & that God wolde graunt me the thing that I long for!
9 That is, that God wolde deſtroye me: that he wolde let his hãd go, & cut me of.
10 Then ſhulde I yet haue comfort, (thogh I burne with ſorowe, let him not ſpare) [g] becauſe I haue not denyed the wordes of the Holie one.
11 What power haue I that I ſhulde endure? or what is mine [h] end, if I ſhulde prolong my life?
12 Is my ſtrẽgth the ſtrength of ſtones? or is my fleſh of braſſe?
13 Is it not ſo, that there is in me no [i] helpe? and that [k] ſtrength is taken from me?
14 He that is in miſerie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but mẽ haue forſaken the feare of the Almightie.
15 My brethren haue deceiued me as a [k] brooke, & as the riſing of the riuers they paſſe away.
16 Which are blackiſh with yce, & wherein the ſnowe is hid.
17 But in time thei are dryed vp with heat & are conſumed: and when it is hote they faile out of their places, a To knowe whether I cõplaine without iuſt cauſe

b My grief is ſo great, that I lacke wordes to expreſſe it c Which declareth that he was not onely afflicted in body, but wounded in conſcience, which is ỹ greateſt battel that the faithful can haue.
d Thinke you that I crye without cauſe, ſeing ỹ brute beaſtes do not cõplaine when thei haue what thei wolde?
e Can a mans taſte delite in that ỹ hath no ſauour? meaning that none take pleaſure in affliction, ſeing thei can not away with thingsthat are vnſauery to ỹ mouth
f Herein he ſinneth double, bothe in wiſhing through impacencie to dye, and alſo in deſiring of God a thing which was not agreeable to his wil.
g That is, let me dye at once, before I come to diſtruſt in Gods promes through mine impacẽcie.
h He feareth leſt he ſhulde be broght to inconuenientecies, if his ſorowes ſhulde continue.
i Haue I not ſought to helpe my ſelfe as muche as was poſſible?
Or, wiſdome, or Law
k He compareth thoſe friends which comfort vs not in miſerie, [illegible] we nede waters, is dryen in winter is hard, [illegible] in ſommer, when we haue no nede, ourfloweth with water.

l Thei that paſſe thereby to go into ỹ hote countreies of Arabia, thinke to finde water there, to quēch their thirſt, but they are deceiued.

18 Or thei departe from their way & courſe, yea, they vaniſh and periſh.
19 Thei that go to Temá, l conſidered thē, & thei that go to Shebá, waited for them.
20 But they were confounded: when thei hoped, thei came thether and were aſhamed.

m That is, like to this broke, which deemeth them, that thinke to haue water there in their nede, as I loked for cōſolation at your hands

21 Surely now are ye like m vnto it: ye haue ſene my feareful plague, and are afrayed.
22 Was it becauſe I ſaid, Bring vnto me? or giue a rewarde to me of your n ſubſtance?
23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ranſom me out of the hand of tyrants?

n He toucheth ỹ worldelings, which for no neceſsitie wil giue parte of their goods, and muche more theſe men, which wolde not giue him comfortable wordes.

24 Teach me, & I wil o holde my tongue: & cauſe me to vnderſtand, wherein I haue erred.

o Shewe me wherein I haue erred, and I wil confeſſe my faute.

25 How p ſtedfaſt are the wordes of righteouſnes? and what can any of you iuſtely reproue?
26 Do ye imagine to reproue q wordes, that the talke of the afflicted ſhulde be as the winde?
27 Ye make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherles, and digge a pit for your friend.
28 Now therefore be content to r loke vpon me: for I wil not lye before your face.

p He ỹ hathe a good cōſcience, doeth not ſhrinke at the ſharpe wordes or reaſonings of others, except thei be able to perſuade him by reaſon.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none miquitie: returne, I ſay, & ye ſhal ſe yet my righteouſnes in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tēgue? doeth not my mouthe fele ſorowes?

q Do you cauill at my wordes, becauſe I ſhulde be ahoght to ſpeake foolihly, which am now in miſerie? r Conſider whether I ſpeake as one that is driuen to this impacuencie through very ſorowe, or as an hypocrite, as you condemne me.

CHAP. VII.

Iob ſheweth the ſhortenes and miſerie of mans life.

1 IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an a hyreling?

a Hathe not an hyred ſeruant ſome reſt and eaſe? then in this my continual torment I am worſe then an hyreling.

2 As a ſeruant longeth for the ſhadowe, & as an hyreling loketh for the end of his worke,
3 So haue I had as an inheritance the b moneths of vanitie, and peineful nights haue bene appointed vnto me.

b My ſorowe hathe continued from moneth to moneth, and I haue loked for hope in vaine.

4 If I laied me downe, I ſaid, When ſhal I ariſe? and meaſuring the euening I am euen ful with toſsing to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

c This ſignifieth that his diſeaſe was rare and moſte horrible

5 My fleſh is c clothed with wormes & filthines of the duſt: my ſkin is rent, & become horrible, d Thus he ſpeaketh in reſpect of the breuitie of mās life, which paſſeth without hope of returning: inconſideratio whereof he deſireth God to haue compaſsion on hī.

6 My dayes are ſwifter thē d a weauers ſhittle, and they are ſpent without hope.
7 Remember that my life is but a winde, & that mine eye ſhal not returne to ſe pleaſure.
8 The eye that hathe ſene me, ſhal ſe me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I ſhalbe no longer.

e If thou beholde me in thine angre, I ſhal not be able to ſtand in thy preſence.

9 e As the cloude vaniſheth & goeth away, ſo he that goeth downe to the graue, ſhal f come vp nomore.

f That is, ſhal nomore enioye this mortal life.

10 He ſhal returne nomore to his houſe, nether ſhal his place knowe him anymore.
11 Therefore I wil not g ſpare my mouthe, but wil ſpeake in the trouble of my ſpirit, & muſe in the bitternes of my minde.
12 Am I a ſea h or a whaleſiſh, that thou kepeſt me in warde?
13 When I ſay, My couche ſhal relieue me, & my bed ſhal bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then feareſt thou me i with dreames, and aſtoniſheſt me with viſions.
15 Therefore my ſoule k choſeth rather to be ſtrangled & to dye, then to be in my bones.
16 I abhorre it, I ſhal not liue alway: l ſpare me then, for my daies are but vanitie.
17 What is man, that thou m doeſt magnifie him, and that thou ſetteſt thine heart vpon him?
18 And doeſt viſit him euerie morning, and tryeſt him euerie moment?
19 How long wil it be yer thou departe frō me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may ſwallowe my ſpetle.
20 I haue n ſinned, what ſhal I do vnto thee? ô thou preſeruer of men, why haſt thou ſet me as a marke againſt thee, ſo that I am a burden vnto my ſelf?
21 And why doeſt thou not pardone my treſpas? and take away mine iniquitie? for now ſhal I ſlepe in the duſt, and if thou ſekeſt me in the morning, I ſhal o not be founde.

g Seing I can by nonother meanes cōfort my ſelfe, I wil declare my grief by wordes and thus he ſpeaketh as one ouercome with grief of minde

h Am not I a poore wretch? what nedeſt thou then to lay ſo muche peine on me?

i So that I cā haue no reſt, night nor day.

k He ſpeaketh as one ouercome w ſorowe, and not of iudgement, or of the examination of his faith.

l Seing my terme of life is ſo ſhorte, let me haue ſome reſt and eaſe.

m Seing that man of him ſelfe is ſo vile, why doeſt thou giue him that honour to contende againſt him?

Iob vſeth all kindes of perſuaſion with God, that he might ſtay his hand.

n After all tētations faith braſteth forthe & leadeth Iob to repentance: yet it was not in ſuche perfection, that he colde bridel him ſelfe frō ſeaſoning with ſome that he ſtil tryed his faith.

o That is, I ſhalbe dead.

CHAP. VIII.

Bildād ſheweth that Iob is a ſinner, becauſe God puniſheth the wicked, and preſerueth the good.

1 THen anſwered Bildād the Shuhite, and ſaid,
2 How long wilt thou talke of theſe thīgs? & howlōg ſhal the wordes of thy mouthe a be as a mightie winde?

a He declareth that their wordes which wolde diminiſh any thīg frō the iuſtice of God, is but as a puffe of winde that vaniſheth away.

3 Doeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth the almighty ſubuert iuſtice?
4 If thy ſonnes haue ſinned againſt him, & he hathe ſent them into the place of their b iniquitie, b That is, haothe rewarded thē according to their iniquitie: meaning, that Iob ought to be warned by the exāple of his children, that he offend not God.

5 Yet if thou c wilt early ſeke vnto God, & pray to the Almighty, 6 If thou be pure and vpright, then ſurely he wil awake vp vnto thee, & he wil make the habitation of thy righteouſnes proſperous.

c That is, if ỹ turne betime while God calleth thee to repentance.

7 And thogh thy beginning d be ſmale, yet thy later end ſhal greatly increaſe.
8 e Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy ſelfe to ſearche of their fathers.

d Thogh the beginnings be not ſo pleaſant, as thou woldeſt deſire, yet in the end thou ſhalt haue ſufficient occaſion to cōtent thy ſelf.

e He willeth Iob to examine all antiquitie, and he ſhal finde it true which he here ſaith.

9 (For we are but f of yeſterday, and are ignof Meaning, that it is not ynough to haue the experience of our ſelues, but to be conſidered the examples of them that went before vs.

ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a ſhadow)

10 Shal not thei teache thee & tel thee, and vtter the wordes of their heart?

g As a ruſh can not growe without moiſtnes, ſo can not the hypocrite, becauſe he hathe not faith, which is mollified with Gods Spirit.

11 Can a g ruſh growe without myre? or can the graſſe growe without water?

12 Thogh it were in grene & not cut downe, yet ſhal it wither before anie other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope ſhal periſh.

h Which is to day, and to morowe ſwept away

14 His confidence alſo ſhal be cut of, & his truſt ſhalbe as the houſe of a h ſpyder.

i He cõpareth the iuſte to a tre, which althogh it be remoued out of one place vnto another, yet floriſheth. ſo the affliction of the godlie turneth to their profite

15 He ſhal leane vpon his houſe, but it ſhal not ſtand: he ſhal holde him faſt by it, yet ſhal it not endure.

16 The i tre is grene before the ſunne, and the branches ſpread ouer the garden thereof.

k That is, ſo ỹ there remaine nothing there to proue whether ỹ tre had growen there, or no.

17 The rotes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, & are folden about the houſe of ſtones.

l To be planted in another place, where it may growe at pleaſure.

18 If anie plucke it from his place, and it k denie, ſaying, I haue not ſene thee, 19 Beholde, it wil reioyce l by this meanes, that it may growe in another molde.

20 Beholde, God wil not caſt away an vpright man, nether wil he take the wicked by the hand, m If thou be godlie, he wil giue thee occaſion to reioyce, & if not, thine affliõ ſhal increaſe.

21 Til he haue filled thy mouthe w̃ m laughter, and thy lippes with ioye.

22 They that hate thee, ſhalbe clothed with ſhame, & the dwelling of the wicked ſhal not remaine.

CHAP. IX.

Iob declareth the mightie power of God, and that mãs righteouſnes is nothing.

n Iob here anſwereth to ỹ point of Eliphaz and Bildads oracion, touching the iuſtice of God & his innocẽcie, confeſſing God to be iuſtit in iuſtice, and man to be nothing in reſpect.

1 THen Iob anſwered, and ſaid,

2 I knowe verely that it is ſo: for how ſhulde man compared vnto God, be n iuſtified?

o Of a thouſand things, w̃ God colde lay to his charge, mã can not anſwer him one.

3 If he wolde diſpute with him, he colde not anſwer him one thing of a o thouſand.

p He declareth what is the infirmitie of mã by ỹ mightie and incomprehẽſible power that is in God, ſhewing what he colde do, if he wolde ſet forthe his power.

4 He is wiſe in heart, & mightie in ſtrength: who hathe bene fearce agaĩſt him & hathe proſpered?

5 He remoueth the moũtaines & they fele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He p remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillers thereof do ſhake.

q These are ỹ names of certeine ſtarres, whereby he meaneth that all ſtarres bothe knowen & vnknowen are at his appointement.

7 He commandeth the ſunne, and it riſeth not: he cloſeth vp the ſtarres, as vnder a ſignet.

8 He him ſelf alone ſpreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the ſea.

9 He maketh the ſtarres q Arctũrus, Oriõn, and Pleiades, and the climats of ỹ South.

10 He doeth great things, and vnſearcheable: yea, meruelous things without nomber.

11 Lo, when he goeth r by me, I ſe him not: & when he paſſeth by, I perceiue him not.

e I am not able to cõprehend his workes, which are commune and daily before mine eyes, muche leſſe in thoſe things, which are hid and ſecret

12 Beholde, when he taketh a pray, s who can make him to reſtore it? who ſhal ſay vnto him, What doeſt thou?

f He ſheweth that whẽ God doeth execute his power, he doeth it iuſtely, for aſmuch as none can controle him.

13 God t wil not withdrawe his angre & the moſte mightie helpes u do ſtoupe vnder him.

g God wil not be appeaſed for ought that man can laie for him ſelf for his iuſtification

14 How muche leſſe ſhal I anſwer him x or how ſhulde I finde out y my wordes with him?

h That is, all ỹ reaſons that men can laie to approue their cauſe

15 For thogh I were iuſte, yet colde I z not anſwer, but I wolde make ſupplicacion to my Iudge.

i How ſhulde I be able to anſwer him by eloquence: whereby he noteth his friends, that albeit their were eloquent in talke, yet thei felt not in heart, that which thei ſpake

16 If I a crye, and he anſwer me, yet wolde I not beleue, that he heard my voyce.

17 For he deſtroyeth me with a tempeſt, & woundeth me b without cauſe.

k Meaning, in his owne opinion, ſignifying that man wil ſometime flatter him ſelf to be righteo⁹, which before God is abomination

18 He wil not ſuffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternes.

19 If we ſpeake of ſtrength, beholde, he is c ſtrong: if we ſpeake of iudgement, who ſhal bring me in to plaide?

l Whiles I am in my pangs, I can not but braſt forthe into many inconueniences, althogh I know ſtil that God is iuſt.

20 If I wolde iuſtifie my ſelf, mine owne mouth ſhal condemne me: d if I wolde be perfite, he ſhal iudge me wicked.

m I am not able to ſele my ſinnes ſo great, as I fele the weight of his plagues: & this he ſpeaketh to condemne his dulnes, and to iuſtifie God

21 Thogh I were perfite, yet I knowe not my ſoule: therefore abhorre I my lyfe.

22 This is one point: therefore I ſaid, He deſtroyeth the e perfite and the wicked.

n After he hathe accuſed his owne weakenes, he continueth to iuſtifie God and his power.

23 If the ſcourge ſhulde ſodenly f ſlaie, ſhulde God g laugh at the puniſhment of the innocent?

o If I wolde ſtande in mine owne defence, yet God hathe iuſte cauſe to condemne me, if he examine mine heart, & conſcience

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: he h couereth the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where i is he? or who is he?

25 My daies haue bene more ſwift then a poſte: they haue fled, & haue ſene no good thing.

26 They are paſſed as with the moſte ſwift ſhippes, and as the egle that flieth to the praye.

27 If k I ſay, I wil forget my complaint, I wil ceaſe from my wrath, & comfort me, 28 Then I am afrayed of all my ſorowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why l labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I m waſh my ſelf with ſnowe water, and purge mine hands moſte cleane, 31 Yet ſhalt thou plonge me in the pit, and mine owne n clothes ſhal make me filthy.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I ſhulde p If God puniſh according to his iuſtice, he wil deſtroye aſwel them that are counted perfite, as them that are wicked q To wit, the wicked r This is ſpoken according to our apprehenſion, as though he wolde ſay, If God deſtroye but the wicked, as chap 5.3. why ſhulde he ſuffer the innocẽts to be ſo long tormented by them? f That they can not ſe to do iuſtice t That can ſhewe the contrary? u I thinke not to fall into theſe affections, but my ſorowes bring me to theſe manifolde infirmities, & my conſcience condemneth me x Why doeth not God deſtroye me at once? thus he ſpeaketh according to the infirmitie of the fleſh y Thogh I ſeme neuer ſo pure in mine owne eyes, yet all is but corruption before God z Whatſoeuer I wolde vſe to couer my filthines with, ſhal diſcloſe me ſo muche more.

answer him, if we come together to iudgement.

a Which might make an accorde betwene God and me, ſpeaking of impacience, & yet confeſsing God to be iuſt in puniſhing him

33 Nether is there any vmpire [a] that might laie his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away frō me, & let not his feare aſtoniſh me:

35 Then wil I ſpeake, & feare him not: [b] but becauſe I am not ſo, I holde me ſtil.

b Signifying ỹ Gods iudgements kepe him in awe

CHAP. X.

1 Iob is weary of his life, and ſetteth out his fragilitie before God. 20 He deſireth him to ſtay his hand. 22 A deſcription of death.

a I am more like to a dead man then to one ỹ liueth

MY ſoule is cut of [a] though I liue: I wil leaue my [b] complaint vpon my ſelf, & wil ſpeake in the bitternes of my ſoule

b I wil make an ample declaratiō of my tormēts, accuſing my ſelf & not God

2 I wil ſay vnto God, [c] Condēne me not: ſhewe me, wherefore thou contendeſt with me.

c He wolde not that God ſhulde proceade againſt him by his ſecret iuſtice, but by the ordinarie meanes that he puniſheth others

3 Thinkeſt thou it [d] good to oppreſſe me, & to caſt of the [e] labour of thine hands, and to fauour the [f] counſel of the wicked?

d Is it agreable to thy iuſtice to do me wrong?

e Wilt thou be without compaſsione

f Wilt thou gratifie ỹ wicked & condēne me?

4 Haſt thou [g] carnal eyes? or doeſt thou ſe as man ſeeth?

g Doeſt thou this of ignorance?

5 Are thy dayes as mans [h] dayes? or thy yeres, as the time of man?

h Art thou inconſtant and changeable, as the times, to date a friend, to morowe an enemie?

6 That thou inquireſt of mine iniquitie, & ſearcheſt out my ſinne.

7 Thou knoweſt that I can not do [i] wickedly: for none can deliuer me out of thine hand.

i By affliction thou kepeſt me as in a priſon, & reſtrayneſt me from doing euil, neither can any ſet me at libertie

8 Thine [k] hands haue made me, and facioned me wholy rounde about, & wilt thou deſtroye me?

k In theſe eight verſes following he deſcribeth the mercie of God in the wōderful creation of 9 Remember, I pray thee, that thou haſt made me as [l] the clay, and wilt thou bring me into duſt againe?

10 Haſt thou not powred me out as mylke? and turned me to cruds like cheſe?

11 Thou haſt clothed me with ſkinne and fleſh, and ioyned me together with bones and ſinewes.

12 Thou haſt giuen me life, and [m] grace: & thy [n] viſitacion hathe preſerued my ſpirit.

13 Though thou haſt hid theſe things in thine heart, yet I knowe [o] ỹ it is ſo with thee.

not ſhew him ſelf rigorous againſt him.

l As brittel as a pot of clay

m That is, reaſon and vnderſtanding, and many other gifres whereby man excelleth all earthlie creatures

If I haue ſinned, then thou wilt ſtreightly loke vnto me, and wilt not holde me giltles of mine iniquitie.

15 If I haue done wickedly, wo vnto me: if I haue done righteouſly, I wil not [p] lift vp mine head, being ful of confuſion, becauſe I ſe mine affliction.

16 But let it increaſe: hunt thou me as a lyon: returne & ſhewe thy ſelf [q] maruelous vpon me.

17 Thou renueſt thy plagues againſt me, and thou increaſeſt thy wrath againſt me: [r] changes and armies of ſorowes are againſt me.

r That is, diuerſitie of diſeaſes and in great aboundāce, ſhewing that God hathe infinite meanes to puniſh mā

18 Wherefore thē haſt thou brought me out of the wombe? Oh that I had periſhed, and that none eye had ſene me!

19 And that I were as I had not bene, but brought from the wombe to the graue.

ſ He wiſheth ỹ God wolde leaue of his affliction, conſidering his great miſerie & the breuitie of his life

20 Are not my dayes fewe? let him [t] ceaſe, and leaue of frō me, that I may take a litle comfort, t He ſpeaketh thus in ỹ perſone of a ſinner, that is ouercome with paſsions & wāt the feling of Gods iudgements, & therefore can not apprehēd in ỹ ſtate the mercies of God & cōfort of the reſurrection

21 Before I go and ſhal not [u] returne, euen to the land of darkenes and ſhadowe of death:

u No diſtinctiō betwene light and darkenes, but where all is verie darkenes it ſelf

22 Into a lād, I ſay, darke as darkenes it ſelf, & into the ſhadow of death, where is none order, but the light is there as darkenes.

CHAP. XI.

1 Iob is vniuſtly reprehended of Zophár. 7 God is incōprehenſible. 14 He is merciful to the repentant. 18 Their aſſurance that liue godlie

1 THen anſwered Zophár the Naamathite, and ſaid,

2 Shulde not the multitude of wordes be anſwered? or ſhulde a great [a] talker be iuſtified?

a Shulde he perſuade by his great talke, that he is iuſte?

3 Shulde men holde their peace at thy lyes? and when thou mockeſt others, ſhal none make thee aſhamed?

b He chargeth Iob with this, that he ſhulde ſay, that the thing, which he ſpake, was true, and that he was without ſinne in ỹ ſight of God

4 For thou haſt ſaid, [b] My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh, that God wolde ſpeake and open his lippes againſt thee!

c Which is, not to ſtand in iuſtifying of thy ſelf: the ſignifieth that man will neuer be ouercome, whiles he reaſoneth with another, and therefore God

6 That he might ſhewe thee the [c] ſecrets of wiſdome, how ỹ haſt deſerued double, accordīg to right: knowe therefore that God hathe forgoten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canſt thou by ſearching finde out God? canſt thou finde out the Almightie to his perfection?

8 The heauens are hie, what canſt thou do? [d] it is deper then the hel, how canſt thou knowe it?

must breake of the controuerſie, and ſtop mans mouth

d That is, this perfection of God, & if man be not able to 9 The meaſure thereof is longer then the earth, and it is broder then the ſea.

comprehend

10 If he cut of and [e] ſhut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

the height of the heauē, the depth of hel, the leneth of the earth, the breadth of the ſea, which are but creatures: how can he 11 For he knoweth vaine men, and ſeeth iniquitie, & him that vnderſtandeth nothing.

12 Yet vaine man wolde be wiſe, though man newe borne is like a wilde aſſe [f] colte.

attaine to the perfection of the Creator?

e If God ſhulde turne the ſtate of thīgs, and eſtabliſh a newe ordre in nature, who colde cōtrole him?

13 If thou [g] prepare thine heart, & ſtretche out thine hands towarde him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine [h] hand, put it farre away, & let no wickednes dwel in thy tabernacle.

15 Then truely ſhalt thou lift vp thy [i] face without f That is, without vnderſtanding ſo that whatſoeuer gifts he hath afterwarde, come of God and not of nature

g If thou repent, pray vnto him

h Renounce thine old euil workes, and ſe that thy offendinge God, ouer whome thou haſt charge

i He declareth what qualities of conſcience and of life ſhulde in all things muche ſhal haue, which turne to God by true repentāce.

n That is, thy fatherlie care & prouidence, whereby thou preſerueſt me, and without the which I ſhulde periſh ſtreight way

o Though I be not fully able to comprehend theſe things, yet I muſt nedes confeſſe that it is ſo

p I wil alway walke in feare and humilitie, knowing that none is iuſte before thee

q Iob being ſore aſſalted in this battel betwene the fleſh and the Spirit, breaketh out into theſe affections, wiſhing rather ſhort dayes then long paine without ſpot, and ſhalt be ſtable, & ſhalt not feare.

437/1224

16 But thou ſhalt forget thy miſerie, and remember it as waters that are paſt.
17 Thine age alſo ſhal appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou ſhalt ſhine and be as the morning.
18 And thou ſhalt be bolde, becauſe there is hope: and thou ſhalt dig pittes, and ſhalt lye downe ſafely.
Leuit 26,5. 19 *For when thou takeſt thy reſt, none ſhal make thee afraied: yea, manie ſhal make ſute vnto thee.
k He ſheweth that contrarie things ſhal come vnto them that do not repent. 20 But the eyes [k] of the wicked ſhal faile, and their refuge ſhal periſh, and their hope ſhalbe ſorowe of mindе.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iob accuſeth his friends of ignorance 7 He declareth the might, and power of God, 17 And how he chaungeth the courſe of things.

a Becauſe you ſeie not that, ẅ you ſpeake, you thinke ẏ whole ſtãdeth in wordes, and ſo flatter your ſelues as thogh none knewe anie thing, or colde knowe but you Prou.14,8.
1 THen Iob anſwered, and ſaid,
2 In dede becauſe that ye are the people onely, [a] wiſdome muſt dye with you.
3 But I haue vnderſtanding aſwel as you, & am not inferior vnto you: yea, who knoweth not ſuche things?
b He repiqueth theſe his friends of two fautes: the one ẏ thei thoght theihad better knowlẽdge thẽ in dede they had, & ẏ other that in ſtead of true cõſolatiõ they did deride, and deſpiſe their friend in his aduerſitie 4 *I am [b] as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he [c] heareth him: the iuſte and the vpright is laughed to ſcorne.
c The which neighbour being a mocker, and a wicked man, thinketh that no man is in Gods fauour but he, becauſe he hathe all thigs that he deſireth 5 [d] He that is ready to fall, is as a lampe deſpiſed in the opinion of the riche.
d As the riche eſteme not a light, or torche that goeth out, ſo is he deſpiſed that falleth from proſperitie to aduerſitie 6 The tabernacles of robbers do proſper, and they are in ſauetie; that prouoke God, "whome God hathe enriched with his hand.
"Ebr to whome God hathe broght in with his hand.
7 Aſke now the beaſtes, [e] and they ſhal teache thee, and the foules of the heauen, and they ſhal tel thee:
e He declareth to them that did diſpute againſt him, that their wiſdome is cõmune to all, & ſuche as ẏ very brute beaſts do daily teache
8 Or ſpeake to the earth, and it ſhal ſhewe thee: or the fiſhes of the ſea, and they ſhal declare vnto thee.
9 Who is ignorant of all theſe, but that the hand of the Lord hathe made theſe?
10 In whoſe hand is the ſoule of euerie liuing thing, and the breath of all "mankinde.
"Or fleſh.
11 Doeth not the eares [f] diſcerne the wordes? and the mouth taſte meat for it ſelf?
12 Among the [g] ancient is wiſdome, and in the length of dayes is vnderſtanding.
13 With him is wiſdome and ſtrength: he hathe counſel and vnderſtanding.
14 Beholde, he wil breake downe, and it can not be buylt: he ſhutteth a man vp, and he can not be loſed.
15 Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and thei drye vp: but when he ſendeth thẽ out, they deſtroye the earth.
f He exhorteth them to be wiſe in iudgmg, and aſwel to know the right vſe why God hathe giuen them eares, as he hathe done a mouth
g Thogh men by age, and continuance of time atteine to wiſdome, yet it is not comparable to Gods wiſdome, nor able to comprehend his iudgements, wherein he anſwereth to that, which was alleaged, Chap 8,8.
16 With him is ſtrength and wiſdome: he that is deceiued, and that [h] deceiueth, are his.
17 He cauſeth the counſelers to go as ſpoiled, and maketh the iudges fooles.
18 [i] He loſeth [k] the colar of Kings, and girdeth their loines with a girdle.
19 He leadeth away the princes as a pray, & ouerthroweth the mightie.
20 He taketh away the ſpeache from the [l] faithful counſelers, & taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.
21 He powreth cõtempt vpon princes and maketh the ſtrẽgth of the mightie weake.
22 He diſcouereth the depe places from their darkenes, & bringeth forthe the ſhadowe of death to light.
23 He [m] increaſeth the people, and deſtroyeth them: he inlargeth the nacions, & bringeth them in againe.
24 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chief ouer the people of the earth, and maketh them to wãder in the wildernes out of the way.
25 They grope in the darke without light: & he maketh them to ſtagger like a dronken man.
h He ſheweth that there is nothing done in this worlde without Gods wil, and ordinance: for els he ſhulde not be almightie.
i He taketh wiſdome frõ them
k He abateth the honour of princes, and bringeth them into the ſubiectiõ of others.
l He cauſeth that their wordes haue no credit, which is when he wil puniſh ſinne
m In this diſcourſe of Gods wonderful workes Iob ſheweth that whatſoeuer is done in this worlde, bothe in ẏ ordre and chãge of thigs is by Gods wil and appointemeant: wherein he declareth that he thinketh wel of God, and is able to ſet forthe his power in wordes as they that reaſoned againſt, were

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experiẽce of his friends. 16 The penitent ſhalbe ſaued, and the hypocrite condemned 20 He prayeth vnto God that he wolde not handle him rigorouſly.

Chap. XIII
a For although he knewe that God had a iuſtice, ẅ was manifeſt in his ordinarie working, and another in his ſecret counſel, yet he wolde vtter his affection to God, becauſe he was not able to vnderſtand the cauſe why he did thus puniſh him
1 LO, mine eye hathe ſene all this: mine eare hathe heard, and vnderſtand it.
2 I knowe alſo aſmuche as you knowe: I am not inferior vnto you.
3 But I wil ſpeake to the Almightie, and I deſire [a] to diſpute with God.
b You do not wel applye your medicine to the diſeaſe.
4 For in dede ye forge lyes, and all you are [b] phiſicions of no value.
5 Oh, that you wolde holde your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wiſdome!
6 Now heare my diſputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lippes.
c He cõdẽneth their ſcale ẅ had not knowledge, neither regarded they to cõfort him, but alwaie grated on Gods iuſtice, as thogh it was not euidently ſene in Iob, except shey had vndertake the probation thereof
7 Wil ye ſpeake [c] wickedly for Gods defence, and taike deceitfully for his cáuſe?
8 Wil ye accept his perſõne? or wil ye contend for God?
d Your fame ſhal come to nothing
9 Is it wel ẏ he ſhulde ſeke of you? wil you make a lye for him, as one lyeth for a mã?
10 He wil ſurely repioue you, if ye do ſecretly accept anie perſone.
e Is not this a manifeſt ſigne of mine affliction, and that I do not complaine without cauſe, ſeing ẏ I am thus tormẽted as thogh I ſhulde teare mine owne fleſh, & put my life in dãg.
11 Shal not his excellẽcie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?
12 Your [d] memories may be cõpared vnto aſhes, and your bodies to bodies of claye.
13 Holde your tõgues in my preſence, that I may ſpeake, and let come vpon what wil.
14 Wherefore do I [e] take my fleſh in my tethe, and put my ſoule in mine hand?
15 Lo, thogh he ſlay me, yet wil I truſt in him, and I wil repioue my wayes in his ſight.

f Whereby he declareth that he is not an hypocrite as thei charged him
g Thas is, cleared, and not caſt of for my ſinnes, as you reaſon h To proue ſ God doeth thus puniſh me for my ſinnes i If I defend not my cauſe, euerie mā wil condemne me.
k He ſheweth what theſe two thigs are l His pāgs thus moue him to reaſon ỽ God, not denying but that he had ſinned: but he deſired to vnderſtand what were his great ſinnes ſ had deſerued ſuche rigour, wherein he ofended, that he wolde knowe a cauſe of God why he did puniſh him
m Thou puniſheſt me now for the fautes that I cōmitted in my youth.
n Thou makeſt me thy priſoner, and doeſt ſo preſſe me that I can not ſtirre hād nor fote
*Elr roter

16 He ſhal be my ſaluation alſo: for the f hypocrite ſhal not come before him.
17 Heare diligently my wordes, and marke my talke.
18 Beholde now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I knowe that I ſhal be g iuſtified.
19 Who is he, that wil pleade h with me? for if I now holde my tongue, I i dye.
20 But do not theſe two things vnto me: thē wil I not hide my ſelf from thee.
21 k Withdrawe thine hand from me, and let not thy feare make me afraied.
22 Then call thou, and I wil anſwer: or let me ſpeake, and anſwer thou me.
23 How manie are l mine iniquities and ſinnes? ſhewe me my rebellion, and my ſinne.
24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face, and takeſt me for thine enemie?
25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou purſue the drye ſtubble?
26 For thou writeſt bitter things againſt me, and makeſt me to poſſeſſe m the iniquities of my youth.
27 Thou putteſt my fete alſo in the n ſtockes, and lokeſt narowly vnto all my paths, and makeſt the printe thereof in the "heeles of my fete.
28 Suche one conſumeth like a roten thing, and as a garment that is motheaten.

CHAP. XIIII.

Iob deſcribeth the ſhortenes and miſerie of the life of man. 14 Hope ſuſteineth the godlie. 22 The condition of mans life.

1 MAn a ſ is borne of woman, is of ſhort continuance, and ful of trouble.
2 He ſhooteth forthe as a flowre, and is cut downe: he vaniſheth alſo as a ſhadow, & continueth not.
3 And yet thou openeſt thine eyes vpō ſuche b one, and cauſeſt me to entre into iudgement with thee.
4 *Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthines? there is not one.
5 Are not his dayes determined? the nōber of his moneths are with thee. thou haſt appointed his boundes, which he can not paſſe.
6 Turne from him that he may ceaſe vntil his deſired day, c as an hyreling.
7 For there is hope of a tre, if it be cut downe, that it wil yet ſproute, and the branches thereof wil not ceaſe.
8 Thogh ſ rote of it waxe olde in the earth & the ſtocke thereof be dead in ſ groūde, 9 Yet by the ſent of water it wil bud, and bring forthe bowes like a plant.
10 d But man is ſicke, and dyeth, & man periſheth, and where is he?
11 As the waters paſſe from the ſea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth vp,
12 So man ſlepeth and riſeth not: for he ſhal not wake againe, nor be raiſed from his ſlepe til the heauen be nomore.
13 Oh that thou woldeſt hide me in the graue, and kepe me ſecret, vntil thy e wrath were paſt, and woldeſt giue me terme, and f remember me.
14 If a man dye, ſhal he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time wil I waite, til g my changing ſhal come.
15 Thou ſhalt call me, and I ſhal h anſwer thee: thou loueſt the worke of thine owne hands.
16 But now thou *nombreſt my ſteps, and doeſt not delay my ſinnes.
17 Mine iniquitie is ſealed vp, as in a i bagge, and thou addeſt vnto my wickednes.
18 And ſurely as the moūtaine that falleth, cometh to nogh t, and the k rocke that is remoued from his place:
19 As the water breaketh the ſtones, when thou ouerfloweſt the things which growe in the duſt of the earth: ſo thou deſtroyeſt the hope of man.
20 Thou preuaileſt alway againſt him, ſo that he paſſeth away: he changeth his face when thou caſteſt him away.
21 And he knoweth not if his ſonnes ſhalbe honorable, nether ſhal he vnderſtand concerning thē, whether they ſhalbe of lowe degre, 22 But while his l fleſh is vpon him, he ſhalbe ſorowful, and while his ſoule is in him, it ſhal mourne.

a Taking occaſion of his aduerſaries wordes, he deſcribeth ſ ſtate of mās life from his birth to his death
Chap 8,9.
Pſal 144,4.
b His meaning is, that ſeing that man is ſo fraile a creature, God ſhulde not handle him ſo extremely: wherein Iob ſheweth ſ wickednes of the fleſh, whē it is not ſubiect to the Spirit
Pſal.51,7.
c Vntil ſ time that thou haſt appointed for him to dye, ỽ he deſireth, as the hyreling waiteth for ſ end of his labour to receyue his wages d He ſpeaketh not here as thogh he had not hope of ſ immortalitie, but as a mā in extreme peine, when reaſon is ouercom by affections & torments.
e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cauſe why he deſired to dye
f That is, releaſe my peines and take me to mercie
g Meaning, vnto the day of the reſurrectiō whē he ſhulde be changed, & renued.
h Thogh I be afflicted in this life yet in the reſurrection I ſhal fele thy mercies, and anſwer when thou calleſt me Prou 5,21.
i Thou layeſt thē all together & ſuffreſt none of my ſinnes vnpuniſhed k He murmureth through ſ impaciēcie of ſ fleſh againſt God, as thogh he vſed as great ſeuerite againſt him as againſt ſ hard rockes, or waters ſ ouerflowe ſo ſ that hereby all the occaſion of his hope is taken away l Yet whiles he liueth, he ſhalbe in peine & miſerie.

CHAP. XV.

Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, becauſe he aſcribeth wiſdome, and pureneſs to him ſelf. 16 He deſcribeth the curſe that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of the number.

1 THen anſwered Eliphaz the Temanite, and ſaid,
2 Shal a wiſe man ſpeake wordes of the a winde, and fil his belly b with the Eaſt winde?
3 Shal he diſpute with wordes not comely? or with talke that is not profitable?
4 Surely thou haſt caſt of c feare, and reſtraineſt prayer before God.
5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, ſeing thou haſt choſen d the tongue of the crafty.
6 Thine one mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lippes teſtifie againſt thee.
7 Art thou the e firſt man, that was borne? and waſt thou made before the hils?
8 Haſt thou heard the ſecret counſel of God, and doeſt thou reſtraine wiſdome f to thee?
9 What knoweſt thou that we knowe not? and vnderſtandeſt that is not in vs?
10 With vs are bothe ancient and very aged men, farre older then thy father.
11 Seme the conſolations of God g ſmale vnto thee? is this thing ſtrange vnto thee?
12 Why

a That is, vaine wordes, & without conſolation?
b Meaning, ỽ matters that are of none importāce which are forgotten aſſone as they are vttered, as the Eaſt winde drieth vp the moiſture aſſone as it falleth
c He chargeth Iob as thogh his talke cauſed mē to caſt of the feare of God & prayer.
d Thou ſpeakeſt as do the mockers, and contemners of God e That is, the moſte ancient, and ſo by reaſon the moſte wiſe?
f Art thou onely wiſe?
g He accuſeth Iobs pride, and ingratitude, ſ wil not be cōforted by God, nor by their counſel.

12 Why doeth thine heart [h] take thee away, and what do thine eyes meane, 13 That thou anſwereſt to God " at thy pleaſure, and bringeſt ſuche wordes out of thy mouth?
14 What is man, that he ſhulde be cleane? and he that is borne of woman, that he ſhulde [i] be iuſt?
15 Beholde, he founde no ſtedfaſtnes in his Saintes: yea, the heauens are not cleane in his ſight.
16 How muche more is man abominable, & filthie, which [k] drinketh iniquitie like water?
17 I wil tel thee: heare me, and I wil declare that which I haue ſene:
18 Which wiſe men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it ſecret:
19 To whome alone the land was [l] giuen & no ſtranger paſſed through them.
20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauelleth of childe, and the nomber [m] of yeres is hid from the tyrant.
21 A ſoũd of feare is in his eares, & in his proſperitie [ỹ] deſtroyer ſhal come vpon him.
22 He beleueth not to returne out of [n] darkenes: for he ſeeth the ſworde before him.
23 He wãdreth [o] to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkenes is prepared at hand.
24 Affliction and [p] anguiſh ſhal make him afraid: they ſhal preuaile againſt him as a King ready to the battel.
25 For he hathe ſtretched out his hãd agaĩſt God, and made him ſelf ſtrong againſt the Almightie.
26 Therefore God ſhal runne vpon him, euen vpõ his necke, & againſt the moſte thicke part of his ſhield.
27 Becauſe he hathe couered his face with [q] his fatnes, & hathe collopes in his flãcke.
28 Thogh he dwel [r] in deſolate cities, and in houſes which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 He ſhal not be riche, nether ſhal his ſubſtance continue, nether ſhal he prolong the [ſ] perfection thereof in the earth.
30 He ſhal neuer departe out of darkenes: [ỹ] flame ſhal dryue vp his branches, & he ſhal go away with the breath of his mouth.
31 He [t] beleueth not that he erreth in vanitie: therefore vanitie ſhalbe his change.
32 His branche ſhal not be grene, but ſhalbe cut of before his day.
33 God ſhal deſtroy him as the vine her ſower [u] grape, and ſhal caſt him of, as the oliue doeth her flowre.
34 For the congregacion of the hypocrite ſhalbe deſolate, & fyre ſhal deuoure the houſes of [x] bribes.
35 For thei [y] conceiue miſchief and bring forthe vanitie, & their bellie hathe prepared deceite.

h Why doeſt thou ſtand in thine owne conceite? "Ebr. in thy ſpirit.
i His purpoſe is to proue, [ỹ] Iob as an vniuſt man & an hypocrite is puniſhed for his ſinnes, like as he did before, Chap 4, 18 k Which hathe a deſire to ſinne as he [ỹ] is thirſtie to drinke.
l Who by their wiſdome ſo gouerned, [ỹ] no ſtranger inuaded them, & ſo the land ſeemed to be giuẽ to them alone.
m The cruel man is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conſcience n Out of that miſerie where into he once falleth.
o God doeth not onely impoueriſh the wicked oft times: but euen in their proſperitie he puniſheth thẽ with a gredines euer more to gather: which is as a beggerie
p He ſheweth what weapons God vſeth againſt [ỹ] wicked which lift vp thẽ ſelues againſt him, to wit, terror of conſcience, & outward afflictions
q That is, he was ſo puft vp with great proſperitie, & abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting, [ỹ] Iob in his felicitie had not the true feare of God
r Thogh he buylde, & repare ruinous places to get him fame, yet God ſhal bring all to naught, and turne his great proſperitie into extreme miſerie.
ſ Meaning, [ỹ] his ſumpteous buyldings ſhulde neuer come to perfection
t He ſtanderh ſo in his owne conceite, that he wil giue no place to good counſel, therefore his owne pride ſhal bring him to deſtruction u As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe.
x Which were buylt or maintened by powling, and briberie.
y And therefore all their vaine deuiſes ſhal turne to their owne deſtruction.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 Counteth in what extremitie he is, 19 And taketh God witnes of his innocencie.

1 BVt Iob anſwered, and ſaid,
2 I haue oft times heard ſuche things: miſerable comforters are ye all.
3 Shal there be none ẽd of wordes of [a] winde? or what maketh thee bolde ſo to [b] anſwer?
4 I colde alſo ſpeake as ye do: (but wolde God your [c] ſoule were in my ſoules ſtead) I colde kepe you companie in ſpeaking, and colde [d] ſhake mine head at you,
5 But I wolde ſtengthen you [e] with my mouth, and the comfort of my lips ſhulde aſwage your ſorowe.
6 Thogh I ſpeake, my ſorowe [f] can not be aſwaged: thogh I ceaſe, what releaſe haue I?
7 But now she maketh me weary: o God, thou haſt made all my [h] congregacion deſolate,
8 And haſt made me ful of [i] wrĩkles which is a witnes thereof, and my leannes riſeth vp in me, teſtifying the ſame in my face.
9 [k] His wrath hathe torne me, and he hateth me, & gnaſheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemie hathe ſharpened his eies againſt me.
10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon me, & ſmitten me on the [l] cheke in reproche: thei gather thẽ ſelues together agaĩſt me.
11 God hathe deliuered me to the vniuſt, and hathe made me to turne out of the way by the [m] hands of the wicked.
12 I was in welth, but he hathe broght me to noght: he hathe taken me by the necke, and beaten me, and ſet in me as a marke for him ſelf.
13 His [n] archers compaſſe me round about: he cutteth my reines, & doeth not ſpare, and powreth my gall [o] vpon the grounde.
14 He hathe broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a gyant.
15 I haue ſowed a ſackecloth vpõ my ſkin, and haue abaſed mine [p] horne vnto the duſt.
16 My face is withered with weping, & the ſhadow of death is vpon mine eies, 17 Thogh there be no wickednes in [q] mine hands, and my prayer [r] be pure.
18 O earth, couer not thou my [ſ] blood, and let my crying finde no place.
19 For lo, now my [t] witnes is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

a Which ſerue for vaine oſtentation and for no truccõfort
b For Eliphaz did replie againſt Iobs anſwer c I wolde you felt [ỹ] which I do d That is, mocke at your miſerie, as you do at mine
e If this were in my power, yet wolde I comfort you, and not do as ye do to me
f If thei wolde ſay, Why doeſt thou not then comfort thy ſelfe? he anſwereth, [ỹ] the iudgemẽts of God are more heauy, then he is able to aſwage ether by wordes or ſilence.
g Meaning, God
h That is, deſtroyed moſt of my familie.
i In token of ſorowe and grief
k That is, God by his wrath: and in this diuerſitie of wordes & hie ſtile he expreſſeth how grieuous [ỹ] hãd of God was vpon him.
l That is, hathe handeled me moſte contẽpteouſly: for ſo ſmiting on the cheke ſignified, 1 King. 22, 24 Mar 14, 65
m Thei haue led me whither thei wolde n His manifolde afflictions.
o I am wounded to [ỹ] heart
p Meaning, his glorie was broght lowe q Signifying, [ỹ] he is not able to cõprehend the cauſe of this his grieuous puniſhment
r That is, vnfained, and without hypocriſie ſ Let my ſinne be knowen, if I be ſuche a ſinner as miſt Thogh man con-

ne aduerſaries accuſe me, and let me finde no fauour demne me, yet God is witnes of my cauſe

20 My friends [u] ſpeake eloquently againſt me: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 Oh that a man might [x] pleade with God, as man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeres accounted come, and I ſhal go the way, whence I ſhal not returne.

u Vſe painted wordes in ſtead of true conſolatiõ.
x Thus by his great torments he is caryed away, and braſteth out into paſſions, and ſpeaketh vnaduiſedly, as thogh God ſhulde intreat man more gētly, ſeing he hathe but a ſhort time here to line

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob ſayth that he conſumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friends to repentance. 13 Shewing that he loketh but for death.

1 MY breath is corrupt: my daies are cut of, and the graue is ready for me.

2 There are none but [a] mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in [b] their bitternes.

3 [c] Laye downe now and put me in ſuretie for thee: who is he, that [d] wil touche mine hand?

4 For thou haſt hid their heart from [e] vnderſtanding: therefore ſhalt thou not ſet them vpon hie.

5 [f] For the eyes of his children ſhal faile, that ſpeaketh flaterie to his friends.

6 He hathe alſo made me a [g] byworde of the people, and I am as a tabret [h] before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dim for grief, and all my ſtrength is like a ſhadowe.

8 The righteous ſhal be aſtonied at [i] this, and the innocent ſhalbe moued againſt the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous wil holde his [k] waye, and he whoſe hands are pure, ſhal increaſe his ſtrength.

10 All [l] you therefore turne you, and come now, and I ſhal not finde one wiſe among you.

11 My dayes are paſt, mine enterpriſes are broken, and the thoghts of mine heart

12 Haue changed the [m] night for the day, and the light that approched, for darkenes.

13 Thogh I hope, [n] yet the graue ſhalbe mine houſe, and I ſhal make my bed in the darke.

14 I ſhal ſay to corruption, Thou art my [o] father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my ſiſter.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who ſhal conſider the thing, that I hoped for?

16 [p] They ſhal go downe into the bottome of the pit: ſurely it ſhal lye together in the duſt.

a Mockers of God.
b Their bitternes of ſinne.
c That is, like a mad man
d Shal God chãge the ordre of nature for thy ſake, by dealing w thee otherwiſe then he doeth with all men?
e When ỹ wicked is in his proſperitie, thẽ God changeth his ſtate: & this is his ordinarie worke for their ſinnes
f Meaning that the wicked are in continual danger.
g That which ſhulde nourith him, ſhalbe conſumed by famine
h That is, ſome ſtrong and violẽt death ſhal conſume his ſtrength: or as ỹ Ebrew worde ſignifieth, his membres or parts.
i That is, with moſt great feare.
k Meaning, not truely come by l Thogh all ỹ worlde wolde fauour hi, yet God wolde deſtroie him & his m He ſhal fall from proſperitie to aduerſitie.
n When thei ſhal ſe what came vnto hi.
o When counte your ſelues iuſte? as Chap 12,4.
b Whome you take to be but beaſtes, as Chap 12,7.

Chap. XVII
a In ſtead of cõforte, being now at deaths dore, he had but them, that mocked at hi, and diſcouraged him
b I ſe ſtil that they ſeke but to vexe me c He reaſoneth with God as a mã beſide him ſelfe to the intẽt ỹ his cauſe might be broght to light d And anſwer for thee?
e That theſe mine afflictiõs are thy iuſte iudgements, thogh man know not the cauſe
f He that flattereth a man, and onely iudgeth him happy in his proſperitie, ſhal not him ſelf onely, but in his poſteritie be puniſhed.
g God hathe made all the worlde to ſpeake of me, becauſe of mine afflictions.
h That is, as a continual ſounde in their eares
i To wit, whẽ they ſe ỹ godlie puniſhed: but in the end they ſhal come to vnderſtanding, and knowe what ſhal be the reward of the hypocrite k That is, wil not be diſcouraged, conſidering that the godlie are puniſhed aſwel as the wicked
l Iob ſpeaketh to thẽ three, ỹ came to cõfort him
m That is, haue broght me ſorow in ſtead of cõfort n Thogh I ſhulde hope to come from aduerſitie to proſperitie as your diſcours pretẽdeth
o I haue nomore hope in father, mother, ſiſter, or ante worldely thing: for the duſt and wormes ſhalbe to me in ſtead of them p All worldely hope, and proſperitie faile, which you ſay, are onely ſignes of Gods fauour: but ſeing that theſe things periſh, I ſet mine hope in God, and in the life euerlaſting.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad rehearſeth the peines of the vnfaithful and wicked.

1 THen anſwered Bildad the Shuhite, & ſaid,

2 When wil [a] ye make an end of your wordes? [b] cauſe vs to vnderſtand, & thẽ we wil ſpeake.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beaſtes, & are vile in your ſight?

4 Thou art [c] as one that teareth his ſoule in his anger. Shal the [d] earth be forſaken for thy ſake? or ỹ rocke remoued out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked ſhalbe [e] quẽched & ỹ ſparke of his fyre ſhal not ſhine.

6 The light ſhalbe darke in his dwelling, and his candel ſhalbe put out with him.

7 The ſteppes of his ſtrẽgth ſhalbe reſtrained, and his owne counſel ſhal caſt him downe.

8 For he is taken in the net by his fete, & he [f] walketh vpon the ſnares.

9 The grenne ſhal take him by the heele, & the theſe ſhal come vpon him.

10 A ſnare is laid for him in the grounde, & a trappe for him in the way.

11 Fearfulnes ſhal make him afraid on euery ſide, and ſhal driue him to his fete.

12 His ſtrength ſhalbe [g] famine: & deſtruction ſhalbe readie at his ſide.

13 It ſhal deuoure the partes of his ſkinne, & the [h] firſt borne of death ſhal deuoure his ſtrength.

14 His hope ſhalbe roted out of his dwelling, & ſhal cauſe him to go to the [i] King of feare.

15 Feare ſhal dwel in his houſe (becauſe it is not [k] his) [l] and brimſtone ſhalbe ſcatred vpon his habitacion.

16 His rotes ſhalbe dryed vp beneth, and aboue ſhal his branche be cut downe.

17 His remembrance ſhal periſh from the earth, and he ſhal haue no name in the ſtrete.

18 They ſhal driue him out of the [m] light vnto darkenes, and chaſe him out of the worlde.

19 He ſhal nether haue ſonne nor nephewe among his people, nor any poſteritie in his dwellings.

20 The poſteritie ſhalbe aſtonied at his [n] day, & feare ſhal come vpon the anciẽt.

21 Surely ſuche are the habitacions of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

a That is, many times, as Nehem 4,12.
b That is, I my ſelf ſhalbe puniſhed for it, or you haue not yet confuted it.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Iob reproueth his friends. 13 And recitath his miſeries & greeuous peines. 25 He aſſureth him ſelfe of the generall reſurrection.

1 BVt Iob anſwered, and ſaid,

2 How long wil ye vexe my ſoule, and torment me with wordes?

3 Ye haue now [a] ten times reproched me, & are not aſhamed: ye are impudẽt toward me.

4 And thogh I had in dede erred, mine errour [b] remaineth with me.

5 But in dede if ye wil aduãce your ſelues againſt

e He braſteth out againe into his paſsiõs and declareth ſtil that his afflictiõ cometh of God, though he be not able to fele ỹ cauſe in him ſelf.

against me, & rebuke me for my reproche,
6 Knowe now, ỹ God hathe c ouerthrowen me, & hathe compaſſed me with his net.
7 Beholde, I crye out of violẽce, but I haue none anſwer: I crye but there is no iudgement.
8 He hathe hedged vp my waye that I can not d paſſe, and he hathe ſet darkenes in my paths.
9 He hathe ſpoiled me of mine honour, & taken the e crowne away from mine head.
10 He hathe deſtroied me on euerie ſide & I am gone: & he hathe remoued mine hope like f a tre.
11 And he hathe kĩdled his wrath againſt me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.
12 His g armies came together, and made their way vpon me, & camped about my tabernacle.
13 He hathe remoued my brethren faire frõ me, and alſo mine acquaintance were ſtrãgers vnto me.
14 My neighbours haue forſaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.
15 h They that dwel in mine houſe, and my maides toke me for a ſtranger: for I was a ſtranger in their ſight.
16 I called my ſeruãt, but he wolde not anſwer, though I praied him with my mouth.
17 My breath was ſtrange vnto my wife, though I praied her for the childrens ſake of mine i owne body.
18 The wicked alſo deſpiſed me, & when I roſe, they ſpake againſt me.
19 All my ſecret frieds abhorred me, & thei whome I loued, are turned againſt me.
20 My bone k cleaueth to my ſkin & to my fleſh, and I haue eſcaped with the l ſkinne of my tethe.
21 Haue pitie vpon me: haue m pitie vpon me, (ô ye my friends) for the hãd of God hathe touched me.
22 Why do ye perſecute me, as n God? and are not ſatiſfied with my o fleſh?
23 Oh that my wordes were now writen! oh that thei were writen euen in a boke!
24 And grauen with p an yron pẽne in lead, or in ſtone for euer.
25 For I am ſure, that my q Redemer liueth, and he ſhal ſtand the laſt on the earth.
26 And thogh after my ſkin wormes deſtroy this bodie, yet ſhal I ſe God r in my fleſh.
27 Whome I my ſelf ſhal ſe, and mine eies ſhal beholde, and none other for me, thogh my reines are conſumed within me.
28 But ye ſaid, Why is he perſecuted? And there was ſ a depe matter in me.
29 Be ye afraid of the ſworde: for ỹ ſworde wil be t auenged of wickednes, that ye may know that there is a iudgement.

CHAP. XX.

haue a ſhorte end, 22 Thogh for a time they floriſh.

1 THẽ anſwered Zophár. the Naamathite and ſaid,
2 Douteles my thoghts cauſe me to anſwer, and therefore I make haſte.
3 I haue heard a the correction of my reproche: therefore ỹ ſpirit of mine vnderſtanding cauſeth me to anſwer.
4 Knoweſt thou not this of olde? & ſince God placed man vpon the earth?
5 That the reioycing of the wicked is ſhorte, & that the ioye of hypocrites is but a moment?
6 Thogh b his excellencie mounte vp to the heauen, and his head reache vnto the cloudes, 7 Yet ſhal he periſh for euer, like his dung, and they which haue ſene him, ſhal ſay, Where is he?
8 He ſhal flee away as a dreame, & thei ſhal not finde him, and ſhal paſſe away as a viſion of the night.
9 So that the eye which had ſene him, ſhal do ſo no more, and his place ſhal ſe him no more.
10 His children ſhal c flatter the poore, and his hands ſhal d reſtore his ſubſtance.
11 His bones are ful of the ſinne of his youth, & e it ſhal lye downe with him in the duſt.
12 Whẽ wickednes f was ſwete in his mouthe, & he hid it vndet his tongue, 13 And fauoured it, and wolde not forſake it, but kept it cloſe in his mouth, 14 Then his meat in his bowels was turned: the gall of aſpes was in the middes of hĩ.
15 He hathe deuoured ſubſtãce, and he ſhal vomit it: for God ſhal drawe it out of his belly.
16 He ſhal ſucke the g gall of aſpes, and the vipers tongue ſhal ſlaye him.
17 He ſhal not ſe the h riuers, nor the floods & ſtreames of hony and butter.
18 He ſhal reſtore ỹ labour, & ſhal deuoure nomore: euen according to the ſubſtance ſhalbe his exchange, i and he ſhal enioye it nomore.
19 For he hathe vndone manie: he hathe forſaken the poore, & hathe ſpoiled houſes which he buylded not.
20 Surely he ſhal fele no quietnes in his body, nether ſhal he reſerue of that which he deſired.
21 There ſhal none of his k meat be left: therefore none ſhal hope for his goods.
22 Whẽ he ſhalbe filled with his abundãce, he ſhalbe in peine, & the hand l of all the wicked ſhal aſſaile him.
23 He ſhalbe about to fil his belly, but God ſhal ſend vpõ hĩ his fearce wrath, m & ſhal cauſe to raine vpõ him, euen vpõ his meat
24 He ſhal flee from the yron weapons, and the bowe of ſtele ſhal ſtrike him through a He declared that two thigs moued him to ſpeake: to wit, becauſe Iob ſemed to touche him, & becauſe he thoght he had knowledge ſufficient to confute him

b His purpoſe is to proue Iob to be a wicked man, & an hypocrite, becauſe God puniſhed him, and changed his proſperitie into aduerſitie.
c Where as ỹ father through ambition & tyrannie oppreſſed the poore, th children through pouertie & miſerie ſhal ſeke fauour at ỹ poore.
d So that the thing, which he hathe taken away by violẽce, ſhalbe reſtored againe by force
e Meaning, that he ſhal cary nothing away with him, but his ſinne
f As poyſon ỹ is ſwete in the mouthe, bringeth deſtruction, when it cometh into ỹ body: ſo all vice at ỹ firſt is pleaſant, but afterward God turneth it to deſtruction
g He compareth euil gotten goods to ỹ venim of aſpes, which ſerpent is moſte dangerous: noting that Iobs great riches were not truely come by, & therefore God did plague hĩ iuſtely for the ſame
h Thogh God giue to all other abundance of his bleſſings, yet he ſhal haue no parte thereof
i That is, theſe rauiners & ſpoilers of ỹ poore ſhal enioye their theft but for a time: or after God wil take it from them and cauſe thẽ to make reſtitutiõ, ſo ỹ it is but an exclãge k He ſhal leaue nothing to his poſteritie.
l The wicked ſhal neuer be in reſt: for one wicked man ſhal ſeke to deſtroy another.

m Some read, vpon his fleſh, alluding to Iob, whoſe fleſh was ſmiten with a ſcabbe

e To ſe my body puniſhed, except ye trouble my minde?
p He proteſteth that notwithſtanding his ſore paſsions, his religion is perfite, & that he is not a blaſphemer, as thei iudged hĩ
q I do not ſo iuſtifie my ſelfe before the worlde, but I knowe that I ſhal come before the great iudge, who ſhalbe my deliuerer & Sauiour
r Herein Iob declareth plainely that he had a ful hope, that bothe the ſoule and body ſhulde enioye the preſence of God in the laſt reſurrection
f Though his friends thoght ỹ he was but perſecuted of God for his ſinnes, yet he declareth that there was a deper conſideration: to wit, the tryal of his faith & patience, and ſo to be an example for others t God wilbe reuenged of this haſtie iudgement, wherby you condemne me.

Zophár ſheweth, that the wicked and the couetous ſhal

m Some read, of ỹ quiuer
o All feare & ſorow ſhal light vpō him, when he thinketh to eſcape p That is, fyre frō heauen, or ỹ fyre of Gods wrath
q Meaning, ỹ children of ỹ wicked ſhal flowe away like riuers and be diſperſed in diuers places.
r Thus God wil plague the wicked
ſ Againſt God, thinking to excuſe him ſelfe and to eſcape Gods hand

25 The arowe is drawen out, and cometh forthe of the [n] body, and ſhineth of his gall, ſo feare cometh vpon him.
26 [o] All darkenes ſhalbe hid in his ſecret places: the fyre that is not [p] blowen, ſhal deuoure him, and that which remaineth in his tabernacle, ſhalbe deſtroied.
27 The heauen ſhal declare his wickednes, and the earth ſhal riſe vp againſt him.
28 The [q] increaſe of his houſe ſhal go away: it ſhal flowe away in the day of his wrath.
29 This is the porcion of the wicked man from [r] God, & the heritage that he ſhal haue of God for his [ſ] wordes.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the proſperitie of the wicked maketh them proude. 15 In ſo muche that they blaſpheme God. 16 Their deſtruction is at hand 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, nether good for proſperitie.

a Your diligēt marking of my wordes ſhalbe to me a great conſolation.
b As though he wolde ſay, I do not talke with man, but with God, who wil not anſwer me, & therefore my minde muſt nedes be troubled
c He chargeth them as though they were not able to cōprehēd this his feling of Gods iudgement, & exhorteth thē therefore to ſilence
d Iob proueth againſt his aduerſaries that God puniſheth not ſtraight waies the wicked, but oft times giueth thē long life, and proſperitie: ſo that we muſt not iudge God iuſte or vniuſt by the things that appeare to our eye
e They haue ſtore of children, luſtie & helthful, & in theſe pointes he anſwereth to that which Zophár alledged before f Not beig tormented with long ſickenes.
g They deſire nothing more thē to be exēpt from all ſubiection that they ſhulde beare to God: this Iob ſheweth his aduerſaries, ỹ if they reaſon onely by ỹ which is ſene by cōmune experience, ỹ wicked that hate God, are better deſt w all, then they that loue him. h It is not their owne, but God onely lendeth it vnto them, God kepe me from their proſperitie.

1 BVt Iob anſwered, and ſaid,
2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this [a] ſhalbe in ſtead of your conſolations.
3 Suffre me, that I may ſpeake, and when I haue ſpoken, mocke on.
4 Do I direct my talke to man? If it [b] were ſo, how ſhulde not my ſpirit be troubled?
5 Marke me, and be abaſhed, and lay your hand vpon your [c] mouth.
6 Euen when I remember, I am afraied, & feare taketh holde on my fleſh.
7 Wherefore do the wicked [d] liue, and waxe olde, and growe in welth?
8 Their ſede is eſtabliſhed in their ſight with them, and their generacion before their eies.
9 Their houſes are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
10 Their bullocke gendreth, & faileth not: their cowe calueth, and caſteth not her calfe.
11 They ſend forthe their children [e] like ſhepe, and their ſonnes dance.
12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the ſounde of the organs.
13 They ſpend their daies in welth, and ſodenly [f] they go downe to the graue.
14 Thei ſay alſo vnto God, Depart frō vs: for we deſire not the [g] knowledge of thy waies.
15 Who is the Almightie, that we ſhulde ſerue him? and what profite ſhulde we haue, if we ſhulde pray vnto him?
16 Lo, their welth is not in their hand: [h] therefore let the counſel of the wicked [i] be farre from me.
17 How oft ſhal the candel of the wicked be put out? and their deſtructiō come vpon them? he wil deuide their liues in his wrath.
18 They ſhal be as ſtubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the ſtorme caryeth away.
19 God wil lay vp the ſorow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, he ſhal knowe it.
20 [k] His eies ſhal ſe his deſtruction, and he ſhal drinke of the wrath of ỹ Almightie.
21 For what pleaſure hathe he in his houſe after him, when the nomber of his moneths is cut of?
22 Shal any teache [l] God knowledge, who iudgeth the hieſt things?
23 One [m] dyeth in his ful ſtrength, being in all eaſe and proſperitie.
24 His breaſts are full of milke, and his bones runne ful of marowe.
25 And another [n] dyeth in the bitternes of his ſoule, and neuer eateth with pleaſure.
26 They ſhal ſlepe bothe in [o] the duſt, and the wormes ſhal couer them.
27 Beholde, I know your thoghts, and the enterpriſes, wherewith ye do me wrong.
28 For ye ſay, Where is the princes [p] houſe? and where is the tabernacle of the wickeds dwelling?
29 May ye not [q] aſke thē that go by ỹ way? and ye can not denie their ſignes.
30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of [r] deſtructiō, & they ſhal be broght forthe to the day of wrath.
31 Who ſhal declare his waie [ſ] to his face? and who ſhal rewarde him for that he hathe done?
32 Yet ſhal he be broght to the graue, and remaine in the heape.
33 The [t] ſlimie valley ſhalbe ſwete vnto hī, and euerie man ſhal drawe after him, as before him there were innumerable.
34 How thē comfort [u] ye me in vaine, ſeīg in your anſwers there remaine but lyes?

k When God recompenſeth his wickednes he ſhal knowe ỹ his proſperitie was but vanitie
l Who ſendeth to the wicked proſperitie, & puniſheth the godlie m Meanīg, the wicked.
n To wit, the godlie
o As concerning their bodies: and this he ſpeaketh according to ỹ commune iudgement p Thus they cal led Iobs houſe in derision, concluding ỹ it was deſtroied becauſe he was wicked q Which through long trauailing haue experience & tokens here of, to wit, that the wicked do proſper & the godlie liue in affliction r Though the wicked floriſh here, yet God wil puniſh hī in the laſt day.
ſ Though men do flatter him, and none dare reproue him in this worlde, yet death is a token that God wil bring him to an account.
t He ſhal be glad to lie in a ſlimie pit, ỹ before colde not be content with a royal palace u Saying, that the iuſt in this worlde haue proſperitie & ỹ wicked aduerſitie.

CHAP. XXII.

2 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is puniſhed for his ſinnes. 6 He accuſeth him of vnmercifulnes. 13 And that he denied Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance

1 THen Eliphaz the Temanite anſwered, and ſaid,
2 May a man be [a] profitable vnto God, as he that is wiſe, may be profitable to him ſelf?
3 * Is it any thing vnto the Almightie, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable [*] to him, that thou makeſt thy wayes vpright?
4 Is it for feare [b] of thee that he wil accuſe thee? or go with thee in to iudgement?
5 Is not thy wickednes great, & thine iniquities innumerable?
6 For thou haſt taken the [c] pledge from thy brother for noght, and ſpoiled the clothes of the naked.
7 To ſuche as were weary, thou haſt not giuen water to drinke, and haſt withdrawen bread from the hungrie.

a Though a man were iuſte, yet God colde haue no profite of this his iuſtice: and therefore when he puniſheth him, he hathe no regard to his iuſtice, but to his ſinne. Chap. 35, 7.
b Leſt ỹ ſhuldeſt reproue or hurt him?
c Thou haſt bene cruel and without charitie, & woldeſt do nothing for the poore, but for thine owne aduantage.

8 But

8 But the mightie man [d] had the earth, and he that was in autoritie, dwelt in it.
9 Thou haſt caſt out widowes emptie, and the armes of [e] the fatherles were broken.
10 Therefore ſnares are rounde about thee, and feare ſhal ſodenly trouble thee:
11 Or darkenes that thou ſhuldeſt not ſe, and [f] abũdance of waters ſhal couer thee.
12 Is not God on [g] hie in the heauen? & beholde the height of the [h] ſtarres how hie they are.
13 But thou ſaieſt, How ſhulde God [i] know? can he iudge through the darke cloude?
14 The cloudes hide him that he can not ſe, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.
15 Haſt thou marked the way of ỹ worlde, [k] wherein wicked men haue walked?
16 Which were [l] cut downe before the time, whoſe fundacion was as a riuer that ouerflowed:
17 Which ſaid vnto God, Departe from vs, and aſked what the Almightie colde do for them.
18 Yet he [m] filled their houſes with good things: but let the counſel of the wicked be farre from me.
19 The righteous ſhal ſe them, and ſhal reioyce, [n] and the innocent ſhal laugh them to ſcorne.
20 Surely [o] our ſubſtance is hid: but the fyre hathe deuoured the remnant of [p] them.
21 Therefore acquaint thy ſelf, I pray thee, [q] with him, and make peace: thereby thou ſhalt haue proſperitie.
22 Receiue, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and laie vp his wordes in thine heart.
23 If thou returne to the Almightie, thou ſhalt [r] be buylt vp, & thou ſhalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.
24 Thou ſhalt lay vp golde for [ſ] duſt, and the golde of Ophir, as the ſtints of the riuers.
25 Yea, the Almightie ſhalbe thy defence, and thou ſhalt haue plentie of ſiluer.
26 And thou ſhalt thẽ delite in the Almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.
27 Thou ſhalt make thy prayer vnto him, and he ſhal heare thee, and thou ſhalt rendre thy vowes.
28 Thou ſhalt alſo decree a thing, & he ſhal eſtabliſh it vnto thee, and the [t] light ſhal ſhine vpon thy waies.
29 [u] When others are caſt downe, then ſhalt thou ſay, I am lifted vp: and God ſhal ſaue the humble perſone.
30 The innocent ſhal deliuer the [x] yland, and it ſhalbe preſerued by the purenes of thine hands.

d When thou waſt in power and autoritie, thou didſt not iuſtice, but wrong
e Thou haſt not onely not ſhewed pitie, but oppreſſed them
f That is, manifolde afflictions
g He accuſeth Iob of impietie & contẽpt of God, as though he wolde ſay, If thou paſſe not for men, yet conſider the height of Gods maieſtie
h That ſo muche the more by that excellent worke ỹ maieſt feare God and reuerence him i He reproueth Iob as though he denied Godsprouidẽce, and that he colde not ſe ỹ thĩgs that were done in this worlde k How God hath puniſhed them from the beginning?
l He proueth Gods prouidence by the puniſhement of the wicked, whome he taketh away before they can brig their wicked purpoſes to paſſe
m He anſwereth to that, which Iob had ſaid Chap 21, 7 that the wicked haue proſperitie in this worlde: deſiring that he might not be partaker of ỹ like n The iuſt reioyce at the deſtruction of the wicked for two cauſes: firſt, becauſe God ſheweth him ſelf iudge of the worlde, & by this meanes continueth his honour and glorie: ſecõdly, becauſe God ſheweth that he hathe care ouer his in that he puniſheth their enemies.
o That is, the ſtate and preſeruation of ỹ godlie is hid vnder Gods wings.
p Meaning, of the wicked
q He exhorteth Iob to repentance and to returne to God.
r God wil reſtore vnto thee all thy ſubſtance ſ Which ſhalbe in abundance like duſt t That is, the fauour of God.
u God wil deliuer his when the wicked are deſtroyed rounde about them, as in the flood and in Sodom x God wil deliuer a whole countrey from peril, euen for the iuſte mans ſake.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 Iob affirmeth that he bothe knoweth and feareth the power and ſentence of the Iudge. 10 And that he is not puniſhed onely for his ſinnes.

1 BVt Iob anſwered and ſaid,
2 Thogh my talke be this day in [a] bitternes, and my plague greater thẽ my groning,
3 Wolde God yet I knewe how to finde him, I wolde entre vnto his place.
4 I wolde pleade the cauſe before him, and fil my mouth with arguments.
5 I wolde knowe the wordes, that he wolde anſwer me, and wolde vnderſtand what he wolde ſay vnto me.
6 Wolde he [b] plead againſt me with his great power? No, but he wolde [c] put ſtrength in me.
7 [d] There the righteous might reaſon with him, ſo I ſhulde be deliuered for euer frõ my Iudge.
8 [e] Beholde, if I go to the Eaſt, he is not there: if to the Weſt, yet I can not perceiue him:
9 If to the North where he worketh, yet I can not ſe him: he wil hide him ſelf in the South, and I can not beholde him.
10 But he knoweth my [f] way, and tryeth me, and I ſhal come forthe like the golde.
11 My fote hathe followed his ſteppes: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.
12 Nether haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, & I haue [g] eſtemed the wordes of his mouth more then mine appointed fode.
13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can [h] turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde deſireth.
14 For he wil performe that, which is decreed of me, and [i] many ſuche things are with him.
15 Therefore I am troubled at his preſence, & in conſidering it, I am afrayed of him.
16 For God [k] hathe ſoftened mine heart, & the Almightie hathe troubled me.
17 For I am not cut of in [l] darkenes, but he hathe hid the darkenes from my face.

a He ſheweth the iuſte cauſe of his cõplayning, & as touching that Elphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, chap 22, 21, he declareth that he deſireth nothing more: but it ſemed that God wolde not be foũde of him
b Vſing his abſolute power & ſaying, Becauſe I am God, I may dõ what I wil
c Of his mercie he wolde giue me power to anſwer hi d When he of his mercie hathe giuen ſtrength to maiteine their cauſe
e Meaning, ỹ if he conſider Gods iuſtice, he is not able to cõprehende his iudgemẽts on what ſide or parte ſoeuer he turneth him ſelf
f God hathe this preeminẽce aboue me that he knoweth my waye: to wit, that I am innocent, and I am not able to iudge of his workes: he ſheweth alſo his confidẽce, that God doeth viſite him for his profite
g His worde is more precious vnto me, then the meat wherewith the bodie is ſuſteined

h Iob confeſſeth that at this preſent he fele not Gods fauour, and yet was aſſured, that he had appointed him to a good end i In many pointes man is not able to atteine to Gods iudgemẽts k That I ſhulde not be without feare
l He ſheweth the cauſe of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, ſeeth none end, nether yet knoweth the cauſe

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Iob deſcribeth the wickednes of men, and ſheweth what curſe belongeth to the wicked. 12 How all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence. 17 And the deſtruction of the wicked.

1 HOw ſhulde not the times [a] be hid frõ the Almightie, ſeing that they which knowe him, ſe not his [b] daies?
2 Some remoue the land markes, that robbe the flockes and fede thereof.
3 They lead away the aſſe of the fatherles: and take the widowes oxe to pledge.

a Thus Iob ſpeaketh in his paſſions and after the iudgement of the fleſh: that is, ỹ he ſeeth not the things that are done at times, nether ỹ he hathe a peculiar care ouer all, becauſe he puniſheth not the wicked, nor rewarde th the godlie.
b When he puniſheth the wicked and rewardeth the good

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, ſo that the poore of the earth hide them ſelues c together.

e And for crueltie & oppreſsion dare not ſhewe their faces

5 Beholde, others as wilde aſſes in the wildernes, go forthe to their buſines, and d riſe early for a pray: the wildernes e giueth him & his children fode.

d That is, ſpare no diligẽce.

e He and his, liue by robbing and murdering

6 They reape f his prouiſiõ in the field, but thei gather the late g vintage of the wicked.

f Meaning the poore mans.

7 Thei cauſe the naked to lodge without garmẽt, & without couering in the colde.

g Signifying, that one wicked man wil not ſpoile an other, but for neceſsitie.

8 They are wet with the ſhowres of the mountaines, h and thei imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.

h The poore are driuen by the wicked into rockes and holes, where thei cã not lie drye for the rayne.

9 They plucke the fatherles i frõ the breaſt, and take the pledge k of the poore.

i That is, they ſo powle and pille ỹ poore widowe, ỹ ſhe can not haue to ſuſteine her ſelf, that ſhe may be able to giue her childe ſucke.

10 They cauſe him to go naked without clothing, and take the gleining from the hungrie.

k That is, his garment, wherewith he ſhulde be couered or clad.

11 Thei ỹ make oyle l betwene their walles, and treade their winepreſſes, ſuffer thirſt.

l In ſuche places, ỹ are appointed for ỹ purpoſe: meaning, ỹ thoſe that labour for ỹ wicked, are pined for hungre.

12 Mẽ m crye out of the citie, & the ſoules of the ſlayne n crye out: yet God doeth o not charge them with follie.

m For ỹ great oppreſsion & extortion n Crye out & call for vengeance.

o God doeth not condemne ỹ wicked, but ſeemeth to paſſe ouer it by his lõg ſilẽce.

13 Theſe are thei, that abhorre the p light: thei knowe not the waies thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.

p That is, Gods worde, becauſe they are reproued thereby 14 The murtherer riſeth earely & killeth the poore and the nedie: and in the night he is as a theefe.

15 The eye alſo of the q adulterer waiteth for the twylight, and ſaith, None eye ſhal ſe me, and diſguiſeth his face.

q By theſe particular vices, & the like ẽ thereũto, he wolde proue ỹ God puniſheth not ỹ wicked & rewardeth the iuſte

16 Thei digge through houſes in the darke, which they marked for them ſelues in the day: they knowe not the light.

17 But the morning is quen to them as the ſhadow of death: if one knowe thẽ, they are in the terrours of the ſhadowe of death.

r He fleeth to the waters for his ſuccour

18 He is ſwift vpon the r waters: their ſ portion ſhalbe curſed in the earth: he wil not beholde the way of the vineyardes.

ſ They thinke that all the worlde is bent againſt them, & dare not go by the hie way.

19 As the drye grounde & heat cõſume the ſnowe waters, ſo ſhal the graue t the ſinners.

t As the drye grounde is neuer ful with waters, ſo wil thei neuer ceaſe ſinning, til thei come to the graue.

20 u The pitiful man ſhal forget him: the worme ſhal fede his ſweetenes: he ſhalbe no more remẽbred, & the wicked ſhalbe broken like a tree.

u Though God ſuffer the wicked for a time, yet their end ſhal be moſte vile deſtruction, & in this point Iob cometh to him ſelf and ſheweth his confidence 21 He x doeth euil intreat the baren, that doeth not beare, nether doeth he good to the widowe.

x He ſheweth why the wicked ſhal not be lamented, becauſe he did not pitie others

22 He draweth alſo ỹ y mightie by his powre, & whẽ he riſeth vp, none is ſure of life.

y He declareth that after that the wicked haue deſtroyed the weakeſt, ther wil do like to the ſtronger, and therefore are iuſtely preuented by Gods iudgements.

23 Thogh men giue him aſſurance to be in ſauetie, yet his eyes are vpon their wayes.

24 Thei are exalted for a litle, but thei are gone, and are brogh lowe as all others: thei are deſtroyed, and cut of as the top of an eare of corne.

25 But if it be not z ſo, where is he a or who wil proue me a lyer, & make my wordes of no value?

z That is, that contrary to your reaſoning no man can giue a perfite reaſon of Gods iudgements, let me be reproued.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildád proueth that no man is cleane nor without ſinne before God.

1 THen anſwered Bildád the Shuhite, & ſaid,

Chap. XXV.

2 a Power & feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.

a His purpoſe is to proue, ỹ albeit God trye and afflict the iuſte, yet ſone after he ſendeth proſperitie, & becauſe he did not ſo to Iob, he concludeth that he is wicked

3 Is there any nomber in his armies? & vpõ whome b ſhal not his light ariſe?

b Who cã hide him frõ his preſence?

4 And how may a man c be iuſtified with God? or how can he be cleane, that is borne of woman?

c That is, be iuſte in reſpect of God?

5 Beholde, he wil giue no light to the moone, d and the ſtarres are vncleane in his ſight.

d If God ſhew his power, the moone & ſtarres cã not haue that light, wis giuen thẽ, muche leſſe cã man haue any excellẽcie, but of God

6 How muche more man, a worme, euẽ the ſonne of man, which is but a worme?

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob ſheweth that man can not helpe God, & proueth it by his miracles.

Chap XXVI.

1 BVt Iob anſwered, and ſaid,

2 a Whome helpeſt thou? him that hathe no power? ſaueſt thou the arme that hathe no ſtrength?

a Thou cõcludeſt nothing: for nether ỹ helpeſt me, wam deſtitute of all helpe, nether yet ſpeakeſt ſufficiẽtly on Gods behalfe, who hathe no nede of thy defence

3 Whome counſeleſt thou? him that hathe no wiſdome? thou b ſhewеſt right wel as the thing is.

b But ỹ doeſt not applie it to ỹ purpoſe

4 To whome doeſt ỹ declare theſe wordes? or whoſe ſpirit c cometh out of thee?

c That is, moueth thee to ſpeake thus?

5 The d dead things are formed vnder the waters, and nere vnto them.

d Iob beginneth to declare the force of Gods power & prouidence in the mines and metals in the depe places of the earth

6 The graue is e naked before him, & there is no couering for f deſtruction.

e There is nothing hid in ỹ bottom of the earth, but he ſeeth it

f Meaning, the graue wherein thigs putrifie.

7 He ſtretcheth out the g North ouer the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

g He cauſeth ỹ whole heauen to turne about ỹ North pole.

8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.

9 He holdeth backe the face of his throne: h and ſpreadeth his cloude vpon it.

h That is, hideth ỹ heauens, which are called his throne

10 He hathe ſet bondes about the waters, vntil the i day and night come to an end.

i So lõg as this worlde endureth

11 The k pillers of heauen tremble and quake at his reproſe.

k Not that heauẽ hathe pillers to vpholde it, but he ſpeaketh by a ſimilitude, as though he wolde ſay, The heauen it ſelf is not able to abide his reproche

12 The ſea is calme by his power, & by his vnderſtanding he ſmiteth ỹ pride thereof.

l Which is a figure of ſtarres faſhioned like a ſerpent, becauſe of the crookednes

13 His Spirit hathe garniſhed the heaues, & his hand hathe formed ỹ crooked l ſerpẽt.

m If theſe fewe things, which we ſe daily with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, how muche more wolde they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

14 Lo, theſe are parte of his wayes: but m how litle a portion heare we of him? and who can vnderſtand his feareful power?

CHAP XXVII.

3 The conſtancie and perſitnes of Iob. 13 The rewarde of the wicked and of the tyrants.

1 MOreouer Iob proceded and continued his parable, ſaying,

2 The

2 The liuing God hathe taken away my a iudgement: for the Almightie hathe put my ſoule in bitternes.
3 Yet ſo lõg as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my noſtrels, 4 My lips ſurely ſhal ſpeake no wickednes,
b and my tongue ſhal vttei no deceit.
5 God forbid, that I ſhulde c iuſtifie you:
vntil I dye, I wil neuer take away mine
d innocencie from my ſelf.
6 I wil kepe my righteouſnes, and wil not forſake it: mine heart ſhal not reproue me of my e dayes.
7 Mine enemie ſhalbe as the wicked, & he that riſeth againſt me, as the vnrighteous.
8 For what f hope hathe the hypocrite whē he hathe heaped vp riches, if God take away his ſoule?
9 Wil God heare his crye, when trouble cometh vpon him?
10 Wil he ſet his delite on the Almightie?
wil he call vpon God at all times?
11 I wil teach you what is in ỹ hād of g God,
& I wil not conceil that which is with the Almightie.
12 Beholde, all ye your ſelues h haue ſene it:
why then do you thus vaniſh i in vanitie?
13 This is the k porcion of a wicked man with God, & the heritage of tyrāts, which they ſhal receiue of the Almightie.
14 If his children be in great nomber, the ſworde ſhal deſtroy them, and his poſteritie ſhal not be ſatiſfied with bread.
15 His remnant ſhal be buryed in death, & his widowes l ſhal not wepe.
16 Thogh he ſhulde heape vp ſiluer as the duſt, and prepare raiment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the iuſte ſhal put it on, and the innocēt ſhal deuide ỹ ſiluer.
18 He buyldeth his houſe as the m mothe, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.
19 When the riche man ſlepeth, n he ſhal not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.
20 Terrours ſhal take him as waters, and a tempeſt ſhal carie him away by night.
21 The Eaſt wind ſhal take him away, & he ſhal departe: and it ſhal hurlle him out of his place.
22 And God ſhal caſt vpon him & not ſpare, thogh he wolde faine flee out of his hand.
23 Euerie man ſhal clap their hands at him, and hiſſe at him out of their place.

a His purpoſe is to declare that man may attcine in this worlde to diuers ſecrets of nature, but mā is neuer able to comprehēd the wiſdome of God.
b There is nothing but it is cōpaſed within certeine limites, & hathe an end, but Gods wiſdom e Meanig him that dwelleth thereby.

a He hathe ſo ſore afflicted me, that mē cā not iudge of mine vprightnes: for thei iudge onely by outward ſignes
b Howſoeuer men iudge of me's, yet wil I not ſpeake cōtrarie to that, which I haue ſaid. and to do wickedly in betraying the trueth
c Which condemne me as a wicked mā, becauſe ỹ hād of God is vpō me d I wil not cōfeſſe that God doeth thus puniſh me for my ſinnes e Of my life paſt
f What aduātage hathe the diſſembler to gaine neuer ſo much, ſeing he ſhal loſe his owne ſoule?
g That is, what God reſerueth to himſelf, & whereof he giueth not the knowledge to all
h That is, theſe ſecret iudgements of God, and yet do not vnderſtand them i Why maintaine you thē this errour?
k Thus wil God ordre the wicked, & puniſh him euen vnto his poſteritie l None ſhal lament him
m Which bredeth in another mans poſſeſſion or garnēt. but is ſone ſhaken out.
n He meaneth that the wicked tyrants ſhal not haue a quiet death, nor be buried honorably.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob ſheweth that the wiſdome of God is vnſercheable.

1 THe ſiluer ſurely hathe his vaine, a & the golde his place, where thei take it.
2 Yron is taken out of the duſt, and braſſe is molten out of the ſtone.
3 God putteth an end to darknes, b & he tryeth the perfectiō of all things: he ſetteth a 4 bōde of darkenes, & of ỹ ſhadow of death. The flood breaketh out againſt the c inhabitant, and the waters d forgotten of the fote, being higher thē mā, are gone away.
5 Out of the ſame earth cometh e bread, & vnder it, as it were fyre is turned vp.
6 The ſtones thereof are a place f of ſaphirs, and the duſt of it is golde.
7 There is a path which no foule hathe knowen, nether hathe the kites eye ſene it.
8 The lions whelps haue not walked it, nor the lion paſſed thereby.
9 He putteth his hand vpon the g rockes, & ouerthroweth the mountaines by ỹ rootes.
10 He breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye ſeeth euerie precious thing.
11 He bindeth the floods, that they do not ouerflowe, & the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.
12 But where is wiſdome foūde h & where is the place of vnderſtanding?
13 Man knoweth not i the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.
14 The depth ſaith, It is not in me: the ſea alſo ſaith, It is not with me.
15 k Golde ſhal not be giuen for it, nether ſhal ſiluer be weighed for ỹ price thereof.
16 It ſhal not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious onix, nor the ſaphir.
17 The golde nor the chriſtal ſhal be equal vnto it, nor the exchange ſhalbe for plate of fine golde.
18 No mencion ſhalbe made of coral, nor of the l gabiſh: for wiſdome is more precious then perles.
19 The Topaz of Ethiopia ſhal not be equal vnto it, nether ſhal it be valued with the wedge of pure golde.
20 Whence thē cometh wiſdome? and where is the place of vnderſtanding, 21 Seing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, & is hid frō the m foules of ỹ heauē?
22 Deſtruction and death ſay, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.
23 But God vnderſtādeth the n way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.
24 For he beholdeth the ends of ỹ worlde, & ſeeth all that is vnder heauen, 25 To make the weight of the windes, & to weigh the waters by meaſure.
26 When he made a decree for the raine, & a way for the lightening of the thunders, 27 Then did he ſe it, and counted it: he prepared it and alſo conſidered it.
28 And vnto man he ſaid, Beholde, * the o feare of the Lord is wiſdome, and to departe from euil is vnderſtanding.

d Which a mā can not wade through e That is, cornes and vnder neth is brimſtone or cole, which eaſily conceiueth fyre.
f He alludeth to the mines and ſecrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, whereinto nether foules nor beaſtes cā entre.
g After that he hathe declared the wiſdome of God in the ſecretes of nature, he deſcribeth his power
h Thogh Gods power, & wiſdome may be vnderſtand in earthly thīgs, yet his heauēlie wiſdome can not be attemed vnto
i It is to hie a thing for man to attcine vnto in this worlde k It cā nether be boght for golde, nor precious ſtones, but is onely ỹ gift of God l Which is thoght to be a kinde of precious ſtone.
m Meaning, ỹ there is no natural meanes, whereby man might attcine to the heauenlie wiſdome: which he meaneth by the foules, that flie hie n He maketh God onely ỹ autor of this wiſdome, and the giuer thereof.
o He declareth that mā hathe ſo muche of this heauenlie wiſdome as he ſheweth by fearing God, and departing from euil

Prouerb. 1, 7

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Iob complaineth of the proſperitie of the time paſt. 7 21 His autoritie. 12 Iuſtice and equitie.

1 MOreouer Iob proceded and continued his parable, ſaying,
2 Oh that I were as p in times paſt, when God preſerued me!

p Ether moneths before.

a When I felt his fauour

b I was free from affliction.

c That is, seemed by euident tokens to be more present with me d By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperitie, that he was in, so that he had none occasion to be suche a sinner as they accused him.

e Being ashamed of their lightnes, and afraied of my grauitie.

f Acknowledging my wisdome

g All that heard me, praised me

h Testifying y I did good iustice

i Because his aduersaries did so much charge him with wickednes, he is cõpelled to rendre a coũte of his life

k That is, I did succour him y was in distresse, and so he had cause to praise me l I delited to do iustice as others did, to weare costely apparel.

m That is, at home in my bed without all trouble, and vnquietnes.

n My felicitie doeth increase

o That is, was pleasant vnto them

p As the drye grounde thirsteth for the raine.

q That is, thei thoght it not to be a ieft, or thei thoght not y I wold cõdescẽd vnto thẽ

r They were afraied to offend me, and cause me to be angrie

s I had them at commandement

t That is, mine estate is chãged, & where as before the ancient men were glad to do me reuerence, the yong men now contemne me.

3 When his a light shined vpõ mine head: & when by his light I walked through the b darkenes,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when c Gods prouidẽce was vpõ my tabernacle:

5 When the Almightie was yet with me, & my children rounde about me:

6 When I washed my paths d with butter, and when the rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, euen to the iudgemẽt seat, and when I caused them to prepare my seat in the strete.

8 The yong men sawe me, and e hid them selues, and the aged arose, and stode vp.

9 The princes stayed talke, and laied their hand on their f mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hid, and their tongue cleaued to y roofe of their mouth.

11 And when the g eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye sawe me, it gaue witnes to h me.

12 For I deliuered the i poore that cryed, and the fatherles, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 k The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put l on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the fete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knewe not the cause, I soght it out diligently.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the praye out of his tethe.

18 Then I said, I shal dye in my m nest, and I shal multiplie my dayes as the sande.

19 For my roote is n spred out by the water, and the dewe shal lye vpon my branche.

20 My glorie shal renue toward me, and my bowe shal be restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and helde their tongue at my counsel.

22 After my wordes thei replied not, & my talke o dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the raine, and they opened their mouth p as for the latter raine.

24 If I q laughed on them, they beleued it not: nether did they cause the light of my countenance r to fall.

25 I appointed out s their way, and did sit as chief, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth y mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Iob complaineth that he is contemned of the meste contemptible. 11. 21. Because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

1 BVt now they that are yonger then I, a mocke me: yea, thei whose fathers I haue refused to set with the b dogges of my flockes.

b Meaning, to be my shepherdes, or to kepe my dogges.

2 For where to shulde the strength of their hands haue serued me, seing age c perished in them?

c That is, their fathers dyed for famine before they came to age.

3 For pouertie and famine they were solitarie, fleing into the wildernes, which is darke, desolate and waste.

4 They cut vp 'nettels by the bushes, and the iuniper rootes was their meat.

'Or, malue.

5 Thei were d chased forthe from among men: they showted at them, as at a thefe.

d Iob sheweth that these that mocked him in his affliction, were like to their fathers, wicked, and lewde fellowes, suche as he here describeth.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roared among the bushes, and vnder the thistels they gathered them selues.

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And now am I their e song, & I am their talke.

e They make songs of me, & mocke at my miserie.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from me, and spare not to spit in my face.

11 Because that God hathe losed my f corde and humbled me, g they haue losed the bridel before me.

f God hathe take frõ me y force, credit & authoritie, wherewith I kept them in subiection.

g He said that the yong men whe they saw him, hid them selues, as chap. 29, 8. and now in his miserie they were impudent and licencious 12 The youth rise vp at my right hãd: they haue pusht my fete, and haue trode on me as on the h paths of their destruction.

h That is, thei soght by all meanes how thei might destroye me

13 They haue destroyed my paths: they toke pleasure at my calamitie, they had none i helpe.

i They nede none to helpe them.

14 They came as a great breache of waters, and k vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

k By my calamitie they toke an occasiõ against me

15 Feare is turned vpõ me: and thei pursue my soule as the winde, and mine health passeth away as a cloude.

l My life faileth me, and I am as halfe dead

16 Therefore my soule is now l powred out vpon me, and the dayes of affliction haue taken holde on me.

17 m It perceth my bones in the night, and my sinewes take no rest.

m Meaning, sorowe.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garmẽt chãged, which compasseth me about as the colar of my coate.

19 n He hathe cast me into the myre, and I am become like ashes and dust.

n That is, God hathe broght me into contempt.

20 When I crye vnto thee, y doest not heare me, nether regardest me, whẽ I stãd vp.

21 Thou turnest thy self o cruelly against me, and art enemie vnto me with the strength of thine hand.

o He speaketh not thus to accuse God, but to declare the vehemencie of his affliction, whereby he was caryed beside hi self.

22 Thou takest me vp and causest me to ride vpon the p winde, and makest my 'strength to faile.

p He compareth his afflictions to a tẽpest, or whirle winde

'Or, wisdome, or Law

23 Surely I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all the liuing.

24 Doutles none can stretche his hand q vnto the graue, thogh they crye in his destruction.

q None can deliuer me thence thogh they lament at my death.

25 Did not I wepe with him y was in trouble?

ble? was not my ſoule in heauines for the poore?

26 Yet when I loked for good, [r] euil came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkenes.

27 My bowels did boyle without reſt: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I wēt mourning [r] without ſunne: I ſtode vp in the congregacion [t] and cryed.

29 I am a brother to the [u] dragons, and a companion to the oſtriches.

30 My ſkinne is blacke vpō me, and my bones are burnt with [x] heat.

31 Therefore mine harp is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that wepe.

p In ſtead of cōforting they mocked at me.
q Not deliting in anie worldely thing, no not ſo muche, as in the vſe of the ſunne.
r Lamenting thē that were in affliction, & mouing others to pitie them.
u I am like ſ wilde beaſtes that deſire moſte ſolitarie places x With the heat of affliction.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Iob reciteth the innocencie of his liuing, and nomber of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the faithful.

I Made a couenant with mine [a] eyes: why thē ſhulde I thinke on [b] a maid?

2 For what porcion ſhulde I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the Almightie from on hie?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked & ſtrāge puniſhement to [c] the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not he beholde my wayes and tell all my ſteppes?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my fote hath made haſte to deceit,

6 Let God weigh me in the iuſte balance, and he ſhal knowe mine [d] vprightnes.

7 If my ſtep hathe turned out of the way, or mine heart hathe [e] walked after mine eye, or if anie blot hathe cleaued to mine hands,

8 Let me ſowe, & let another [f] eat: yea, let my plants be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hathe bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue land wayte at the dore of my neigboui,

10 Let my wife [g] grinde vnto another mā, and let other men bowe downe vpon her.

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned.

12 Yea, this is a fyre that ſhal deuoure [h] to deſtruction, and which ſhal roote out all mine increaſe, 13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my ſeruant, and of my maid, when they [i] did contend with me.

14 What then ſhal I do when [k] God ſtādeth vp? and when he ſhal viſite me, what ſhal I anſwer?

15 He that hathe made me in the wombe, hathe he not made [l] him? hathe not he alone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I reſtrained the poore of their deſire, or haue cauſed the eyes of the widowe [m] to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morſels alone, & the fatherles hathe not eaten thereof, a I kept mine eyes from all wanton lokes.

b Wolde not God then haue puniſhed me?
c Iob declareth that the feare of God was a bridel to ſtay him from all wickednes.
d He ſheweth wherein his vprightnes ſtādeth: that is, in as muche as he was blameles before men, & ſinned not againſt the ſecond table.
e That is, hathe accompliſhed the luſt of mine eye.
f According to the curſe of the Law, Deu. 28, 33
g Let her be made a ſlaue
h He ſheweth that albeit mā neglect the puniſhement of adulterie, yet the wrath of God wil neuer ceaſe til ſuche be deſtroyed
i When they thoght them ſelues euil intreated by me k If I had oppreſſed others, how ſhulde I haue eſcaped Gods iudgemēt?
l He was moued to ſhewe pitie vnto ſeruants, becauſe they were Gods creatures as he was.
m By long waiting for her requeſt

18 (For from my youth he hathe growē vp with me [n] as with a father, & from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her)

19 If I haue ſene anie periſh for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his loines haue not bleſſed me, becauſe he was warmed w̄ the fleece of my ſhepe,

21 If I haue lift [o] vp mine hand againſt the fatherles, when I ſawe that I might helpe him in the gate, 22 Let mine [p] arme fall frō my ſhulder, & mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods puniſhment was [q] fearful vnto me, and I colde not be deliuered from his highnes.

24 If I made golde mine hope, or haue ſaid to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced becauſe my ſubſtance was great, or becauſe mine hand had gotten muche,

26 If I did beholde the [r] ſunne, when it ſhined, or the moone, walking in her brightenes,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in ſecret, or if my mouth did kiſſe mine [ſ] hand,

28 (This alſo had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: [t] for I had denyed the God aboue)

29 If I reioyced at his deſtruction that hated me, or was moued to ioye when euil came vpon him, 30 Nether haue I ſuffred my mouth to ſinne, by wiſhing a curſſe vnto his ſoule.

31 Did not the men of my [u] tabernacle ſay, Who ſhal giue vs of his fleſh? we can not be ſatiſfied.

32 The ſtrāger did not lodge in the ſtrete, but I opened my dores vnto him, that wēt by the way.

33 If I haue hid [x] my ſinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my boſom, 34 Thogh I colde haue made afraied a great multitude, yet the moſt contemptible of the families did [y] feare me: ſo I kept [z] ſilence, and went not out of the dore.

35 Oh that I had ſome to heare me! beholde my [a] ſigne that the Almightie wil witnes for me: thogh mine aduerſarie ſhulde write a boke againſt me, 36 Wolde not I take it vpon my ſhulder, & binde it as [b] a crowne vnto me?

37 I wil tel him the nomber of my goings, and go vnto him as to a [c] prince.

38 If my land [d] crye againſt me, or the forowes thereof complaine together,

39 If I haue eaten the frutes thereof without ſiluer: or if I haue grieued [e] the ſoules of the maſters thereof, 40 Let thiſtles growe in ſtead of wheat, & cokle in the ſtead of barly.

THE [f] VVORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED

n He nouriſhed ſ fatherles & maintened the widowes cauſe.
o To oppreſſe him & do him iniurie.
p Let me rott in pieces
q I refrained not from ſinning for feare of men, but becauſe I feared God
r If I was proude of my worldelie proſperitie & felicitie, which is ment by the ſhining of the ſunne & brightenes of the moone ſ If mine owne doings delited me t By putting confidence in any thing, but in him alone
u My ſeruants moued me to be reuēged of mine enemie, yet did I neuer wiſh him hurt.
x And not confeſſed it frely: whereby it is euident that he iuſtified hi ſelfe before men and not before God
y That is, I reuerenced the moſte weake & contemned & was afraied to offend them z I ſuffred thē to ſpeake euil of me and wēt not out of my houſe to reuēge it.
a This is a ſufficient token of my righteouſnes, that God is my witnes and wil iuſtifie my cauſe
b Shulde not this boke of his accuſatiōs be a praiſe & condemnation to me?
c I wil make him a coūte of all my life, without feare.
d As thogh I had withholden therr wages that labored in it.
e Meanig, that he was no briber nor extorcioner
f That is, the talke which he had with his threfriēds.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihú reproueth them of folly. 8 Age maketh not a man wiſe, but the Spirit of God.

1 SO theſe thre men ceaſed to anſwer Iob, becauſe he [b] eſtemed him ſelfe iuſt.

2 Thē the wrath of Elihú the ſonne of Barachél the [a] Buzite, of ỹ familie of [b] Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I ſay, was kindled againſt Iob, becauſe he iuſtified him ſelf [c] more then God.

3 Alſo his anger was kindled againſt his thre friends, becauſe they colde not finde an anſwer, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihú had waited til Iob had ſpoken: for [d] they were more ancient in yeres then he)

5 So when Elihú ſawe, that there was none anſwer in the mouth of the thre men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihú the ſonne of Barachél, the Buzite anſwered, and ſaid, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I douted, and was afrayed to ſhewe you mine opinion.

7 For I ſaid, The dayes [e] ſhal ſpeake, and the multitude of yeres ſhal teache wiſdome.

8 Surely there is a ſpirit in man, [f] but the inſpiracion of the Almightie giueth vnderſtanding.

9 Great men are not alway wiſe, nether do the aged all way vnderſtand iudgement.

10 Therefore I ſay, Heare me, and I wil ſhewe alſo mine opinion.

11 Beholde, I did waite vpon your wordes & hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you ſoght out [g] reaſons.

12 Yea, when I had conſidered you, lo, there was none of you that reproued Iob, nor anſwered his wordes:

13 Leſt ye ſhulde ſay, We haue [h] founde wiſdome: for God hathe caſt him downe, & no man.

14 Yet hathe [i] he not directed his wordes to me, nether wil I anſwer [k] him by your wordes.

15 Then they fearing, anſwered nomore, but left of their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they ſpake not, but ſtode ſtil and anſwered nomore)

17 Then anſwered I in my turne, & I ſhewed mine opinion.

18 For I am [l] ful of matter, & the ſpirit within me compelleth me.

19 Beholde, my bellie is as the wine, which hathe no vent, & like the newe bottels that braſt.

20 Therefore wil I ſpeake, that I may take breath: I wil open my lippes, and wil anſwer.

21 I wil not now accept the perſone of mā, [m] nether wil I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue [n] titles, leſt my Maker ſhulde take me away ſodenly.

[b] Ebr. was iuſt in his owne eyes

[a] Which came of Buz ỹ ſonne of Nahor Abrahams brother

[b] Or, as the Chalde paraphraſt readeth, Abram

[c] By making him ſelf innocent, and by charging God of rigour

[d] That is, the thre mēcioned before.

[e] Meaning, the ancient, which haue experiēce

[f] It is a ſpecial gift of God that man hathe vnderſtanding, and cometh nether of nature nor by age:

[g] To proue ỹ Iobs affliction came for his ſinnes.

[h] And flatter your ſelues, as though you had ouercome him

[i] To wit, Iob

[k] He vſeth almoſt the like arguments, but without taūting, and reproches.

[l] I haue conceiued in my minde great ſtore of reaſons.

[m] I wil nether haue regarde to riches, credit nor autoritie, but wil ſpeake the verie trueth.

[n] The Ebrew worde ſignifieth to change the name, as to call a foole a wiſe man: meaning that he wolde not call the trueth to flatter men

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Elihú accuſeth Iob of ignorance. 14 He ſheweth that God hathe diuers meanes to inſtruct man and to drawe him from ſinne. 19 29 He afflicteth man and ſodenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered, giueth thankes to God.

1 WHerefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke and hearken vnto all my wordes.

2 Beholde now, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hathe ſpoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the vprightenes of mine heart, and my lippes ſhal ſpeake pure knowledge.

4 The [a] Spirit of God hathe made me, & the breath of the Almightie hathe giuen me life.

5 If thou canſt giue me anſwer, prepare thy ſelfe & ſtand before me.

6 Beholde, I am according to thy wiſh in [b] Gods ſtead: I am alſo formed of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terrour ſhal not feare thee, nether ſhal mine hād [c] be heauy vpō thee.

8 Douteles thou haſt ſpoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes.

9 I am [d] cleane, without ſinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Lo, he hathe founde occaſions againſt me, and counted me for his enemie.

11 He hathe put my fete in the ſtockes, and loketh narowly vnto all my paths.

12 Beholde, in this haſt thou not done right: I wil anſwer thee, ỹ God is greater thē mā

13 Why doeſt thou ſtriue againſt him? for he doeth not [e] giue account of all his matters.

14 For God ſpeaketh [f] once or twiſe, & one ſeeth it not.

15 In dreames & [g] viſions of the night, whē ſlepe falleth vpon men, and they ſlepe vpon their beddes,

16 Then he openeth the eares of mē, euen by their corrections, which he [h] had ſealed,

17 That he might cauſe man to turne away from his enterpriſe, and that he might hide the [i] pride of man,

18 And kepe backe his ſoule frō the pit, & ỹ his life ſhulde not paſſe by the ſworde.

19 He is alſo ſtriken with ſorow vpon his bed, and the grief of his bones is ſore, 20 So that his [k] life cauſeth him to abhorre bread, and his ſoule daintie meat.

21 His fleſh faileth that it can not be ſene, & his bones which were not ſene, clatter.

22 So his ſoule draweth to the graue, & his life [l] to the burrers.

23 If there be a [m] meſſenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thouſand [n] to declare vnto man his righteouſnes,

24 Then wil he haue [o] mercie vpon him,

[a] I confeſſe ỹ power of God, & am one of his therefore thou oghteſt to heare me

[b] Becauſe Iob had wiſhed to diſpute his cauſe with God, Chap 16,21, ſo that he might do it without feare, Elihú ſayth, he wil reaſon in Gods ſtead, whome he nedethnot to feare, becauſe he is a man made of the ſame matter that he is.

[c] I wil not handle thee ſo roughly as the ſe others haue done

[d] He repeateth Iobs wordes, whereby he preſſed his innocencie in diuers places, but ſpecially in the 13,16 & 36 Chap

[e] The cauſe of his iudgemēts is not alway declared to man

[f] Thogh God by ſondrie examples of his iudgtments ſpeake vnto man, yet the reaſon thereof is not knowen: yea & thogh God ſhulde ſpeake, yet he is not vnderſtand

[g] God, ſaith he, ſpeaketh cōmunely, either by viſions to teache vs the cauſe of his iudgements, or els by afflictiōs, or by his meſſenger

[h] That is, determined to ſend vpon thē.

[i] He ſheweth for what end God ſendeth afflictions: to beat downe mās pride, & to turne frō euil.

[k] That is, his painful & miſerable life.

[l] To them that ſhal burie him.

[m] A man ſent of God to declare his wil.

[n] A ſinguler man, & as one of God vnto ſinners: & wherein mans righteouſnes ſtandeth, which is through the iuſtice of Ieſus Chriſt & faith therein

[o] He ſheweth that it is a ſure token of Gods mercie towards ſinners, whē he cauſeth his worde to be preached vnto thē.

469/1224

and wil ſaie, p Deliuer him, that he go not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.

25 Thē ſhal his fleſh be q as freſh as a childs, & ſhal returne as in ỹ daies of his youth.

26 He ſhal pray vnto God, and he wil be fauourable vnto him, and he ſhal ſe his face with ioy: for he wil rendre vnto man his r righteouſnes.

27 He loketh vpon mē, and if one ſay, I haue ſinned, and ſ peruerted righteouſnes, and it did not profit t me, 28 u He wil deliuer his ſoule from going into the pit, and his life ſhal ſe the light.

29 Lo, all theſe thīgs wil God worke x twiſe or thriſe with a man,

30 That he may turne backe his ſoule frō the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke wel, ô Iob, & heare me: kepe ſilence, and I wil ſpeake.

32 If there be y matter, anſwer me, & ſpeake: for I deſire to z iuſtifie thee.

33 If thou haſt not, heare me: holde thy tongue, and I wil teache thee wiſdome.

p That is, the miniſter ſhal by the preaching of the worde pronounce vnto him ỹ forgiuenes of his ſinnes.
q He ſhal fele Gods fauour and reioyce: declarig hereby, wherein ſtandeth the true ioy of the faithful: and ỹ God wil reſtore hī to health of body, which is a token of his bleſsing
r God wil forgiue his ſinnes and accept hī as iuſte ſ That is, done wickedly
t But my ſinne hathe bene the cauſe of Gods wrath toward me.
u God wil forgiue the penitent ſinner x Meaning, ofte times, euen as oft as a ſinner doeth repent
y If thou doute of any thing, or ſe occaſion to ſpeake againſt it.
z That is, to ſhewe thee, wherein mans iuſtification conſiſteth.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

Elihú chargeth Iob, that he called him ſelfe righteous. 12 He ſheweth that God is iuſt in his iudgemēts. 24 God deſtroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite raigneth.

1 MOreouer Elihú anſwered, and ſaid,
2 Heare my wordes, ye a wiſe men, and hearkē vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.
3 For the eare tryeth the wordes, as ỹ mouth taſteth meat.
4 Let vs ſeke b iudgement among vs, & let vs knowe among our ſelues what is good.
5 For Iob hathe ſaid, I am righteous, and God hathe taken c away my iudgement.
6 Shulde I lye in my d right? my wounde of the arowe is e grieuous without my ſinne.
7 What mā is like Iob, that drinketh f ſcornefulnes like water?
8 Which goeth in the g companie of them that worke iniquitie, & walketh with wicked men?
9 For he hathe ſaid, h It profiteth a mā nothing that he ſhulde i walke with God.
10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wiſdome, God forbid ỹ wickednes ſhulde be in God, and iniquitie in the Almightie.
11 For he wil rendre vnto man according to his worke, & cauſe euerie one to finde according to his way.
12 And certeinly God wil not do wickedly, nether wil the Almightie peruert iudgement.
13 Whome* hathe he appointed ouer ỹ earth beſide him ſelf? or who hathe placed the whole worlde?
14 If k he ſet his heart vpon man, and gather vnto him ſelf his ſpirit l and his breath, 15 All fleſh ſhal periſh together, and man ſhal returne vnto duſt.
16 And if ỹ haſt vnderſtanding, heare this & hearken to the voyce of my wordes.
17 Shal he that hateth iudgement, m gouerne? & wilt thou iudge him wicked that is moſte iuſt?
18 Wilt thou ſay vnto a Kīg, Thou art n wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodlie?
19 How muche leſſe to him that accepteth not the perſones of princes, & regardeth not the riche, more then the poore? for thei be all the worke of his hands.
20 They ſhal dye ſodenly, o and the people ſhalbe troubled at midnight, p & they ſhal paſſe forthe and take away the mightie without hand.
21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he ſeeth all his goings.
22 There is no darkenes nor ſhadowe of death, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.
23 For he wil not lay on man ſo muche, that he ſhulde q entre into iudgemēt with God.
24 He ſhal breake the mightie without r ſeking, and ſhal ſet vp other in their ſteade.
25 Therefore ſhal he declare their ſ workes: he ſhal turne the t night, and they ſhalbe deſtroyed.
26 He ſtriketh them as wicked men in the places of the u ſeers, 27 Becauſe they haue turned backe from him, and wolde not conſider all his waies:
28 So that they haue cauſed the voyce of the poore to x come vnto him, and he hathe heard the crye of the afflicted.
29 And when he giueth quietnes, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can beholde him, whether it be vpon nacions, or vpon a man onely?
30 Becauſe the y hypocrite doeth reigne, & becauſe the people are ſnared.
31 Surely it apperteineth vnto God z to ſay, I haue pardoned, I wil not deſtroye.
32 a But if I ſe not, teache thou me: if I haue done wickedly, I wil do no more.
33 Wil he performe the thing through b thee? for thou haſte reproued c it, becauſe that thou haſt choſen, and not I. now ſpeake what thou knoweſt.
34 Let men of vnderſtanding tel me, and let a wiſe man hearken vnto me.
35 Iob hathe not ſpoken of knowledge, nether were his wordes according to wiſdome.
36 I deſire that Iob may be d tryed, vnto the end touching the anſwers for wicked men.
37 For he e addeth rebellion vnto his ſinne: he clappeth his hāds among vs, & multiplieth his wordes againſt God.

a Which are eſteemed wiſe of the worlde.
b Let vs examine the matter vprightly
c That is, hathe afflicted me without meaſure d Shulde I ſay, I am wicked, being an innocent?
e I am ſorer puniſhed, then my ſinne deſerueth
f Which is compelled to receiue the reproche & ſcornes of many for his fooliſh wordes.
g Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, becauſe he ſemed not to glorifie God, & ſubmit him ſelfe to his iudgements.
h He wraſteth Iobs wordes, who ſaid that Gods childrē are oft times puniſhed in this worlde, & the wicked go free i That is, liue godly, as Gen 5.22 Chap 36.23.
k To deſtroye him
l The breath of life, which he gaue man
m If God were not iuſt, how coſde he gouerne the worlde?
n If man of nature feare to ſpeake euil of ſuch as haue power, thē much the more ought thei to be afrayd to ſpeake euil of God
o When they loke not for it p The meſſengers or viſitation that God ſhal ſend
q God doeth not afflict man aboue meaſure, ſo that he ſhulde haue occaſion to cōtend with hī
r For all his creatures are at hand to ſerue him, ſo that he needeth not to ſeke for anie other armie ſ Make them manifeſt that they are wicked t Declare the thīgs that were hid u Meanīg, openly in the ſight of all men x By their crueltie & extortion
y Whenſoeuer rāes ſit in the throne of iuſtice vnder pretēce of executing iuſtice are but hypocrites & oppreſſe the people, it is a ſigne that God hathe drawen backe is cōtenance and fauour from that place z Onely it belōgeth to God to moderat his corrections, & nor vnto man.
a Thus Elihú ſpeaketh in ỹ perſone of God, as it were mockig Iob becauſe he wolde be wiſer then God
b Wil God vſe thy counſel in doing his workes?
c Thus he ſpeaketh in ỹ perſone of God, as though Iob ſhulde chuſe & refuſe afflictiō at his pleaſure
d That he may ſpeake as muche as he can, that we may anſwer him & all the wicked that ſhal vſe ſuche argumentes e He ſtandeth ſtubbernly in the maintenāce of his cauſe.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Nether doeth godlines profite, or vngodlines hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked crye vnto God and are not heard.

1 ELihú ſpake moreouer, and ſaid,
2 Thinkeſt thou this right, that thou haſt ſaid, I am [a] more righteous then God?
3 For thou haſt ſaid, What profiteth it thee and what auaileth it me, to purge me from my ſinne?
4 Therefore wil I anſwer thee, and thy [b] companions with thee.
5 Loke vnto the heauen, and ſe and behold the [c] cloudes which are hier then thou.
6 If thou ſinneſt, what doeſt thou [d] againſt him, yea, when thy ſinnes be many, what doeſt thou vnto him?
7 If thou be righteous, what giueſt thou vnto him? or what receiueth he at thine hand?
8 Thy wickednes may hurt a man as thou art: thy righteouſnes may profite the ſonne of man.
9 They cauſe many that are oppreſſed, [e] to crye, which crye out for the violence of the mightie.
10 But none ſaith, Where is God that made me, which giueth ſongs in the night?
11 Which teacheth vs more thē the beaſtes of the earth, and giueth vs more wiſdome then the foules of the heauen.
12 Then they crye becauſe of the violence of the wicked, but [f] he anſwereth not.
13 Surely God wil not heare vanitie, nether wil the Almightie regarde it.
14 Althogh thou ſayeſt to God, Thou wilt not regarde it, [g] yet iudgement is before him: truſt thou in him.
15 But now becauſe his angre hathe not viſited, nor called to coūt the euil with great extremitie, 16 Therefore Iob [h] openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

a Iob neuer ſpake theſe wordes: but becauſe he maintened his innocencie, it ſemed as though he wolde ſay, that God tormented him without iuſt cauſe.
b Suche as are in the like error
c If thou canſt not controle the cloudes, wilt thou preſume to inſtruct God?
d Nether doeth thy ſinne hurt God, nor thy iuſtice profite hī: for he wil be glorified without thee
e The wicked may hurt man and cauſe him to crie, who if he ſoght to God, which ſendeth comfort, ſhulde be deliuered
f Becauſe thei pray not in faith as feling Gods mercies g God is iuſt, howſoeuer y iudgeſt of hī.
h For if he did puniſh thee, as thou deſerueſt, thou ſhuldeſt not be able to open thy mouth

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihú ſheweth the power of God. 6 And his iuſtice. 9 And wherefore he puniſheth. 13 The properties of the wicked.

1 ELihú alſo proceded and ſaid,
2 Suffre me a litle, & I wil inſtruct thee: for I haue yet to ſpeake on Gods behalfe.
3 I wil fetche [a] my knowledge a farre of, & wil attribute righteouſnes vnto my Maker.
4 For truely my wordes ſhal not be falſe, & he that is [b] perfite in knowledge, ſpeaketh with thee.
5 Beholde, the mightie God caſteth away none that is [c] mightie & valiant of courage.
6 [d] He maintaineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.
7 He withdraweth not his eies from the righteous, but thei are with [e] Kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.
8 And if thei be bound in fetters & tyed with the cordes of affliction, 9 Then wil he ſhewe them their [f] worke and their ſinnes, becauſe they haue bene proude.
10 He openeth alſo their eare to diſcipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.
11 * If they obey and ſerue him, they ſhal end their dayes in proſperitie, & their yeres in pleaſures.
12 But if they wil not obey, they ſhal paſſe by the ſworde, & periſh [g] without knowledge.
13 But the hypocrites [h] of heart increaſe the wrath: for thei [i] call not when he bindeth them.
14 Their ſoule dyeth in [k] youth, & their life among the whoremongers.
15 He deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.
16 Euen ſo wolde he haue taken thee out of the ſtreight place into a broad place & not ſhut vp beneth: and [l] that which reſteth vpon thy table, had bene ful of fat.
17 But thou art ful of the [m] iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintein all things.
18 [n] For Gods wrath is, leſt he ſhulde take thee away in thine abundance: for no multitude of giftes can deliuer thee.
19 Wil he regarde thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in ſtrength.
20 [o] Be not careful in the night, how he deſtroieth the people out of their place.
21 Take thou hede: loke not to [p] iniquitie: for thou haſt choſen it rather then affliction.
22 Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?
23 Who hathe appointed to him his way? or who can ſay, Thou haſt done wickedly?
24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men beholde.
25 All men ſe it, and men beholde it [q] a farre of.
26 Beholde, God is excellent, [r] & we knowe him not, nether can the nomber of his yeres be ſearched out.
27 When he reſtraineth the droppes of water, the raine [s] powreth downe by the vapour thereof, 28 Which raine the cloudes do droppe & let fall abundantly vpon man.
29 Who cā knowe the diuiſiōs of the cloudes & the thunders of his [t] tabernacle?
30 Beholde he ſpreadeth his light vpon [u] it, and couereth the [x] bottome of the ſea.

a He ſheweth that when we ſpeake of God we muſt lift our ſpirits more hie, then our naturall ſence is able to reache
b Thou ſhalt perceiue that I am a faithful inſtructour, & that I ſpeake to thee in ỹ name of God
c Strong and conſtant, & of vnderſtāding: for theſe are ỹ gifts of God, & he loueth them in man: but for aſmuche as God puniſhed now Iob, it is a ſigne that theſe are not in hī.
d Therefore he wil not preſerue the wicked: but to the humble & afflicted heart he wil ſhewe grace e He preferreth the godlie to honour.
f He wil moue their heartes to ſe the their ſinnes ỹ thei may come to him by repentance as he did Manaſſēs Iſa 1.19.
g That is, in their ſollie or obſtination, & ſo ſhalbe cauſe of their owne deſtruction.
h Which are maliciouſly bēt againſt God and flatter thē ſelues in their vices i When they are in affliction they ſeke not to God for ſuccour, as Aſa. 2.Chro 16,12. reuel 16,11 k Thei dye of ſome vile death and that before they come to age
l If thou ſhadeſt bene obedient to God, he wolde haue broght thee to libertie & welth
m Thou art al togither after the maner of the wicked: for thou doeſt murmure againſt ỹ iuſtice of God.
n God doeth puniſh thee, leſt thou ſhuldeſt forget God in thy welth and ſo periſh o Be not thou curious in ſeking the cauſe of Gods iudgements, when he deſtroyeth any.
p And ſo murmur againſt God through impacience
q The workes of God are ſo manifeſt, that a man may ſe thē a farre of and knowe God by the ſame
r Our infirmitie hindereth vs ſo, that we can not attein to the perfite knowledge of God s That is, the raine cometh of thoſe dropes of water, which he keepeth in ỹ cloudes t Meaning, of the cloudes, & he calleth ỹ Tabernacle of God u Vpon the cloude.
x That men cā not come to ỹ knowledge of ỹ ſprings the reof.

31 For

31 For thereby he iudgeth y the people, and giueth meat abundantly.
32 He couereth the light with the cloudes, and commandeth them to go z againſt it.
33 a His companion ſheweth him thereof, and there is angre in riſing vp.

y He ſheweth that the raine hathe double vſe: the one ȳ it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth ouerflowe any places, & ȳ other that it maketh ȳ lād fruteful z That is, one cloude to daſh againſt another.
a The colde vapour ſheweth him: that is, the cloude of the hote exhalaciō, which being taken in ȳ colde cloude mouteth vp towarde the place where ȳ fyre is, and ſo angre is ingendred: ȳ is, noiſe and thunder claps

CHAP. XXXVII.

Elihú proueth that the vnſearcheable wiſdome of God is manifeſt by his workes, 4 As by the thunders, 6 The ſnowe, 9 The whirle winde, 11 And the rayne.

1 AT this alſo mine heart is a aſtonied, & is moued out of his place.
2 Heare the b ſounde of his voyce, and the noyſe that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the ends of the worlde.
4 After it a noyſe ſoundeth: he thundreth with the voyce of his maieſtie, and he wil not ſtay c them when his voyce is heard.
5 God thundreth marueloußly w his voyce: he worketh great things, which we knowe not.
6 For he ſaith to the ſnowe, Be thou vpon ȳ earth: d likewiſe to the ſmale raine and to the great raine of his power.
7 With the force thereof he e ſhutteth vp euerie man, that all men may knowe his worke.
8 Then the beaſts go into the denne, and remaine in their places.
9 The whirle wide cometh out of ȳ South, and the colde from the f North winde.
10 At the breath of God the froſt is giuen, & the breadth of the waters is made narrowe.
11 He maketh alſo the cloudes to h labour, to water the earth, & ſcatereth the cloude of i his light.
12 And it is turned about by his gouernemēt, that thei may do whatſoeuer he commandeth them vpon the whole worlde:
13 Whether it be for k puniſhmēt, or for his land, or of mercie, he cauſeth it to come.
14 Hearken vnto this, ô Iob: ſtand and conſider the wonderous workes of God.
15 Dideſt thou knowe when God diſpoſed them? and cauſed the l light of his cloude to ſhine?
16 Haſt thou knowen the m varietie of the cloude, & the wonderous workes of him, that is perfite in knowledge?
17 Or how thy clothes are n warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?
18 Haſt thou ſtretched out ȳ heauens, which are ſtrong, & as a molten o glaſſe?
19 Tel vs what we ſhal ſay vnto him: for we can not diſpoſe our matter becauſe of p darkenes.

a At the marueling of the thunder, and lightenings: whereby he declareth that the faithful are liuely touched with the maieſtie of God, whē they beholde his workes:
b That is, the thunder, whereby he ſpeaketh to men to waken their dulnes and to bring them to the conſideration of his workes
c Meaning, the raines and thunders d So ȳ nether ſmale raine nor great, ſnowe nor anie thing els cometh without Gods appointement
e By raines & thunders God cauſeth men to kepe them ſelues within their houſes f In Ebrewe it is called ȳ ſcatermg winde, becauſe it driueth away the cloudes & purgeth the ayre.
g That is, is froſen vp and dryed
h Gather the vapours, and moue to & fro to water the earth
i That is, the cloude ȳ hath lightenig in it.
k Raine, colde, heat, tempeſtes and ſuche like are ſent of God, ether to puniſh mē, or to profite ȳ earth, or to declare his fauour toward man, as Chap 36, 31.
l That is, the lightning to breake forth em the cloudes?
m Which is ſome time changed into raine, or ſnowe, or haile or ſuche like n Why thy clothes ſhulde kepe thee warme, when the South winde bloweth, rather then when anie other winde bloweth?
o For their clearenes
p That is, our ignorance: ſignifying that Iob was ſo preſumpteous that he wolde controle the workes of God.

20 Shal it be q tolde him when I ſpeake? or ſhal mā ſpeake when he ſhalbe r deſtroied?
21 And now men ſe not the light, ſ which ſhineth in the cloudes, but the winde paſſeth and clenſeth them.
22 The t brightnes cometh out of ȳ North: the praiſe thereof is to God, which is terrible.
23 It is the Almightie: we cā not finde him out: he is excellent in power & iudgement, & abundant in iuſtice: he u afflicteth not.
24 Let men therefore feare him: for he wil not regarde any that are wiſe in their owne conceit.

q Hathe God nede that anie ſhulde tel him when mā murmureth againſt him?
r If God wolde deſtroye a man, ſhulde he repine?
ſ The cloude ſtoppeth the ſhining of ȳ ſunne, that mā cā not ſe it til the winde haue chaſed away ȳ clouder and if man be not able to atteine to the knowledge of theſe things, how muche leſſe of Gods iudgements?
t In Ebrewe, golde: meanig faire wether and cleare as golde u Meaning, without cauſe.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God ſpeaketh to Iob, and declareth the weakenes of man in the conſideration of his creatures, by whoſe excellencie the power, iuſtice and prouidence of the Creator is knowen.

1 THen anſwered the Lord vnto Iob out of the a whirle winde, & ſaid, 2 Who is this that b darkeneth the counſel by wordes without knowledge?
3 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I c wil demande of thee and declare thou vnto me.
4 Where waſt thou when I layed the d fundacions of the earth? declare, if thou haſt vnderſtanding,
5 Who hathe layed the meaſures thereof, if thou knoweſt, or who hathe ſtretched the line ouer it:
6 Wherevpon are the fundacions thereof ſet: or who layed the corner ſtone thereof:
7 When the ſtarres of the morning e praiſed me together, and all the f children of God reioyced:
8 Or who hathe ſhut vp the ſea with dores, when it yſſued and caine forthe as out of the wombe:
9 When I made the cloudes as a couering thereof, and darknes as the g ſwadeling bandes thereof:
10 When I ſtabliſhed my commandement vpon it, and ſet barres and dores, 11 And ſaid, Hetherto ſhalt thou come, but no farther, and here h ſhal it ſtaye thy proude waues.
12 Haſt thou commanded the i morning ſince thy dayes? haſt thou cauſed the morning to knowe his place?
13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be k ſhaken out of it?
14 It is turned as clay to facion, l & all ſtand vp as a garment.
15 And from the wicked their light ſhalbe taken away, and the hie arme ſhalbe broken.

t In Ebrewe, golde: meanig faire wether and cleare as golde
u Meaning, without cauſe.

Chap. XXXVIII.

a That his wordes might haue greater maieſtie, and ȳ Iob might knowe with whome he had to do.
b Which by ſeking out the ſecret coūſel of God by mans reaſon, maketh it more obſcure & ſheweth his owne folie
c Becauſe he had wiſhed to diſpute with God, Chap. 13, 3, God reaſoneth with him to declare his raſhnes.
d Scig he colde not iudge of thoſe thigs, ẅ were done ſo long before he was borne, he was not able to cōprehend all Gods workes: muche leſſe the ſecret cauſes of his iudgements.
e The ſtarres and dumme creatures are ſaid to praiſe God, becauſe his power, wiſdome and goodnes is manifeſt & knowē therein.
f Meaning, the Angels.
g As though ȳ great ſea were but as a litle babe in the hands of God to turne to & fro h That is, Gods decree and commandement, as verſe 10.
i To wit, to riſe, ſince thou waſt borne?
k Who hauing in the night bene giuen to wickednes, can not abide the light but hide them ſelues
l The earth which ſemed in the night to haue no forme, by the riſing of the ſunne is as it were created a newe, and all thinges therein clad with newe beaute.

16 Haſt thou entred into the bottomes of the ſea? or haſt thou walked to ſeke out the [m] depth?

m If thou art not able to ſeke out ỹ depth of the ſea, how muche leſſe art thou able to cõprehend ỹ counſel of God?

17 Haue the gates of death bene opened vnto thee? or haſt thou ſene the gates of the ſhadow of death?

18 Haſt thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? tel if thou knoweſt all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkenes, n That ỹ mightieſt appoint it his way and limites.

20 That thou [n] ſhuldeſt receiue it in the boundes thereof, and that thou ſhuldeſt knowe the paths to the houſe thereof?

21 Knoweſt thou it, becauſe thou waſt then borne, & becauſe the nomber of thy daies is great?

22 Haſt thou entred into the treaſures of the ſnowe? or haſt thou ſene the treaſures of the hayle, o To puniſh mine enemies with them, as Exod. 9, 18 Ioſh. 10, 11.

23 Which I haue [o] hid againſt the time of trouble, againſt the day of warre & battel?

24 By what way is the light parted, which ſcatereth the Eaſt winde vpon the earth?

25 Who hathe deuided the ſpowtes for the raine? or the way for the lightening of the thunders, p The ycе couereth it, as though it were paued with ſtone:

26 To cauſe it to raine on the earth where no man is, & in the wildernes where there is no man?

q Which ſtarres ariſe when the ſunne is in Taurus, which is the ſpring time, & bring flowres

27 To fulfil the wilde & waſte place, & to cauſe the bud of the herbe to ſprig forthe?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hathe begotten the droppes of the dewe?

r Which ſtarre bringeth in winter.

29 Out of whoſe wombe came the yce? who hathe ingẽdred the froſt of ỹ heauen?

ſ Certeine ſtarres ſo called: ſome thinke they were the twelue ſignes.

30 The waters are hid [p] as with a ſtone: and the face of the depth is froſen.

t The North ſtarre w thoſe that are about him?

31 Cãſt thou reſtraine the ſwete influences of [q] ỹ Pleiades? or looſe the bãds of [r] Orion?

32 Canſt thou bring forthe [ſ] Mazzaróth in their time? canſt thou alſo guide [t] Arctúrus with his ſonnes?

u Canſt thou cauſe ỹ heauẽlie bodies to haue ante power ouer the earthlie bodies?

33 Knoweſt thou the courſe of heauen, or cãſt thou ſet [u] the rule thereof in ỹ earth?

x In the ſecret partes of mã

34 Canſt thou lift vp thy voyce to ỹ cloudes that the abundance of water may couer thee?

ỹ That is, the clouds, wherein the water is conteined as in bottels.

35 Cãſt ỹ ſende the lightenigs that thei may walke, & ſay vnto thee, Lo, here we are?

z For when God doeth not open theſe bottels, the earth cometh to this inconuenience.

36 Who hathe put wiſdome in the [x] reines? or who hathe giuen ỹ heart vnderſtanding?

37 Who can nomber cloudes by wiſdome? or who can cauſe to ceaſe the ỹ bottels of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardenes, [z] and the clottes are faſt together?

CHAP. XXXIX.

a After he had declared Gods workes in the heauens, he ſheweth his marueloꝰ prouidence in earth, eſpecially toward the brute beaſts.

The bountie and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the yong rauens, giueth manful occaſion to put his cõfidence in God. 37 Iob confeſſeth & humbleth himſelf.

WIlt [a] thou hunt the praye for the lyon? or fil the appetite of ỹ lyons whelpes,

2 When they couche in their places, & remaine in the couert to lye in wayte?

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meat, when his byrdes [b] crye vnto God, wandering for lacke of meat?

b Read Pſal. 147, 9.

4 Knoweſt thou the time when the wilde goates bring forthe yong? or doeſt thou marke when the [c] hindes do calue?

c He chiefly maketh mencion of wilde goates & hindes, becauſe they brig forthe their yong with moſte difficultie

5 Canſt thou nombet the moneths that they [d] fulfil? or knoweſt thou the time whẽ they bring forthe?

d That is, how lõg they go w yong?

6 They bowe them ſelues: they [e] bruiſe their yong and caſt out their ſorowes.

e Thei bring forthe with great difficultie.

7 Yet their yong waxe fat, & growe vp with corne: they go forthe and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hathe ſet the wilde aſſe at libertie? or who hathe looſed the bondes of the wilde aſſe?

9 It is I which haue made the wildernes his houſe, and the [f] ſalt places his dwellings.

f That is, the baren grounde where no good frutes growe.

10 He derideth the multitude of the citie: he heareth not the crye of the driuer.

11 He ſeketh out the mountaine for his paſture, & ſearcheth after euerie grene thig.

12 Wil the vnicorne [g] ſerue thee? or wil he tary by thy crybbe?

g Is it poſſible to make the vnicorne tame? ſignifiing that if man can not rule a creature, that it is muche more impoſſible ỹ he ſhulde appoint the wiſdome of God, whereby he gouerneth all the worlde.

13 Canſt thou binde the vnicorne with his band to labour in ỹ forrowe? or wil he plowe the valleis after thee?

14 Wilt ỹ truſt in him, becauſe his ſtrength is great, and caſt of thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleue him, that he wil bring home thy ſede, and gather it vnto thy barne?

16 Haſt thou giuen the pleaſant wings vnto the pecockes? or wings & fethers vnto the oſtriche?

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth & maketh [h] them hote in the duſt, h Thei write ỹ the oſtrich couereth her egges in ỹ ſand, and becauſe ỹ coũtrey is hote and the ſunne ſtil kepeth them warme, they are hatched

18 And forgetteth that the fote might ſcater them, or that the wilde beaſt might breake thẽ.

i If he ſhulde take care for them

19 He ſheweth him ſelf cruel vnto his yong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauailed in vaine.

k That is, to haue a care, & natural affect on toward his yong

20 For God hathe depriued him of [k] wiſdome, & hathe giuen him no parte of vnderſtanding.

l When the yong oſtrich is growen vp, he out runneth the horſe

21 When [l] time is, he mounteth on hye: he mocketh the horſe and his rider.

m That is, giue hi courage? which is ment by neying and ſhaking his mane, for w his breath couereth his necke.

22 Haſt thou giuen the horſe ſtrength? or couered his necke with [m] neying?

23 Haſt thou made him afraied as the graſhoper? his ſtrong neying is feareful.

n He beateth ỹ his hoofe.

24 He [n] diggeth in the valley, & reioyceth in his ſtrength: he goeth forthe to mete the harneſt man.

25 He mocketh at feare, & is not afraied, & turneth not backe from the ſworde,

26 Though the quiuer rattle againſt him, the glittering glittering ſpeare and the ſhield.

o He ſo rid-deth ỹ groũde that it ſemeth nothing vnder him

27 He o ſwalloweth the grounde for fearcenes and rage, and he beleueth not that it is the noyſe of the trumpet.

28 He ſaith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he ſmelleth the battel a farre of, and the noyſe of the captaines, and the ſhouting.

29 Shal the hauke flie by thy wiſdome, ſtretching out his wyngs toward the p South?

p That is, whẽ colde cometh, to flie into the warme countreis.

30 Doeth the egle mount vp at thy cõmandement, or make his neſt on hye?

31 She abideth and remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the tower.

32 From thence ſhe ſpieth for meat, and her eyes beholde a farre of.

33 His yong ones alſo ſucke vp blood: and where the ſlaine are, there is ſhe.

34 Moreouer the Lord ſpake vnto Iob, and ſaid, q Is this the way for a man that wil learne to ſtriue wt God? which thing he reproueth in Iob 35 Is this to q learne to ſtriue with the Almightie? he that reproueth God, let him anſwer to it.

r Whereby he ſheweth that he repented, & deſired pardon for his faultes.

36 ¶ Then Iob anſwered the Lord, ſaying,

37 Beholde, I am r vile: what ſhal I anſwer thee? I wil lay mine hand vpõ my mouth.

38 Once haue I ſpoken, but I wil anſwer no more, yea twiſe, but I wil procede no farther.

CHAP. XL.

2 How weake mans power is, being compared to the workes of God: 10 Whoſe power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beaſtes.

Chap. 38. 1 AGaine the Lord anſwered Iob out of * the whirlewinde, and ſaid,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I wil demãde of thee, & declare thou vnto me.

a Signifying that they that iuſtifie themſelues, condẽne God as iniuſt

3 Wilt thou diſanul a my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayeſt be iuſtified?

b Meaning, ỹ theſe were ꝓpre vnto God, and belonged to no man

4 Or haſt thou an arme like God? or doeſt thou thunder with a voyce like him?

c Cauſe them to dye if thou canſt

5 Decke thy ſelf now with b maieſtie and excellencie, & araye thy ſelf with beautie and glorie.

d Prouing hereby ỹ whoſoeuer attributeth to him ſelf power, & abilitie to ſaue him ſelf, maketh him ſelf God

6 Caſt abroad the indignacion of thy wrath, and beholde euery one that is proude, and abaſe him.

7 Loke on euerie one that is arrogant, and bring him low: and deſtroy the wicked in their place.

e This beaſt is thoght to be the eliphãt, or ſome other, wch is vnknowen

8 Hide them in the duſt together, & binde c their faces in a ſecret place.

f Whome I made aſwel as thee.

9 Then wil I confeſſe vnto thee alſo, that thy right hand can d ſaue thee.

g This cõmẽdeth the prouidẽce of God toward mã: for if he were giuen to deuoure as a liõ, nothing were able, to reſiſt him or contẽd him.

10 ¶ Beholde now e Behemóth, (whome I made f with thee) which eateth g graſſe as an oxe.

11 Beholde now, his ſtrength is in his loines, and his force is in the nauil of his belly.

12 When he taketh pleaſure, his taile is like a cedre: ỹ ſinewes of his ſtones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like ſtaues of braſſe, and his ſmall bones like ſtaues of yron.

h He is one of the chiefeſt workes of God amõg ỹ beaſts.

14 h He is the chief of the wayes of God: i he that made him, wil make his ſworde to approche vnto him.

i Thogh man dare not come nere him, yet God can kil him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him forthe graſſe, where all the beaſts of the field playe.

16 Lyeth he vnder the trees in the couert of the rede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their ſhadowe? or can the willowes of the riuer cõpaſſe him about?

k He drinketh at leaſure, and feareth no body

18 Beholde, he ſpoileth the riuer, k and haſteth not: he truſteth that he can drawe vp Iordén into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thruſteth his noſe through whatſoeuer meteth him.

l Meaning, the whale.

20 ¶ Canſt thou draw out l Liuiathán with an hooke, and with a line which thou ſhalt caſt downe vnto his tongue?

21 Canſt thou caſt an hooke into his noſe? canſt thou perce his iawes with an angle?

m Becauſe he feareth leſt thou ſhuldeſt take him

22 Wil he make manie m prayers vnto thee, or ſpeake thee faire?

n To do thy buſines, & be at thy cõmandement?

23 Wil he make a couenant with thee? and wilt thou take n him as ſeruant for euer?

24 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou binde him for thy maides?

25 Shal the companions banket with him? ſhal they deuide him among the marchants?

26 Canſt thou fill the baſket with his ſkinne? or the fiſhpanyer with his head?

o If thou once conſider the danger, thou wilt not medle with him.

27 Laye thine hand vpon him: remember o the battel, and do no more ſo.

p To wit, that truſteth to take him.

28 Beholde, p his hope is in vaine: for ſhal not one periſh euen at the ſight of him?

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnes of thu monſtre Leuiathán God ſheweth his greatnes, and his power, which nothing can reſiſt.

1 NOne is ſo fearce that dare ſtirre him vp. Who is he then that can ſtand a before me?

a If none dare ſtand againſt a whale, which is but a creature, who is able to cõpare with God the Creator?

2 Who hathe preuented me that I ſhulde b make an end? All vnder heauen is mine.

b Who hath he taught me to accompliſh my worke?

3 I wil not kepe ſilence concerning c his partes, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

c The partes, and members of the whale.

4 Who can diſcouer the face d of his garment? or who ſhal come to him with a double e bridel?

d That is, who dare put of his ſkinne?

e Who dare put a bridel in his mouth?

5 Who ſhal f open the dores of his face? his teeth are feareful round about.

f Who dare loke in his mouth?

6 The maieſtie of his ſcales is like ſtrong ſhields, and are ſure ſealed.

7 One is ſet to another, that no winde can come betwene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they ſticke together, that they can not be ſondred.

g That is, caſteth out flames of fyre.

9 His nieſings g make the light to ſhine, & his eyes are like ỹ eye lids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth go lampes, and ſparkes of fyre leape out.

21 Out of his noſtrelles cometh out ſmoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.
22 His breath maketh the coles burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.
h Nothing is peinful or hard vnto him
23 In his necke remaineth ſtrength, & h labour is reiected before his face.
24 The members of his bodie are ioyned: they are ſtrong in them ſelues, and can not be moued.
25 His heart is as ſtrong as a ſtone, and as hard as the nether milſtone.
26 The mightie are afraied of his maieſtie, and for feare they faint in them ſelues.
27 When the ſworde doeth touche him, he wil not riſe vp, nor for the ſpeare, dart nor habergeon.
i His ſkinne is ſo hard, that he lieth with as great eaſe on the ſtones as in the myre.
28 He eſteemeth yron as ſtrawe, and braſſe as rotten wood.
29 The archer can not make him flee: the ſtones of the ſling are turned into ſtubble vnto him.
k Eyther he maketh ſ ſea to ſeeme as it boiled by his wallowing, or els he ſpowteth water in ſuche abundance, as it wolde ſeeme that the ſea boyled.
30 The dartes are counted as ſtraw: and he laugheth at the ſhaking of the ſpeare.
l That is, a white froth, & ſhinig ſtreame before him.
31 Sharpe ſtones i are vnder him, and he ſpreadeth ſharpe things vpon the myre.
32 He maketh the depth to k boyle like a pot, and maketh the ſea like a pot of oyntment.
m He deſpiſeth all other beaſts, & monſters, & is the proudeſt of all others.
33 He maketh a path to l ſhine after him: one wolde thinke the depth as an hore head.
34 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.
35 He beholdeth m all hie things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are reſtored double vnto him. 13 His children, age and death.

Chap XLII.
a NO thoght ſo ſecret, but thou doeſt ſe it, nor anie thing that ſ thinkeſt, but thou canſt bring it to paſſe.
b Is there anie hyer? for this God laid to his charge, Chap. 38, 2.
c I confeſſe herein mine ignorance, and that I ſpake I wiſt not what.
d He ſheweth that he will be Gods ſcholer to learne of him.
e I knewe thee onely before by hearſay: but now thou haſt cauſed me to feele what ſ art to me, that I may reſigne my ſelf ouer vnto thee.

1 THen Iob anſwered the Lord, and ſaid,
2 I knowe that thou canſt do all things, and that there is no a thoght hid from thee.
3 Who is he that hideth counſel without b knowledge? therefore haue I ſpoke that I vnderſtode not, euen things to wonderful for me, c and which I knewe not.
4 Heare, I beſeche thee, and I wil ſpeake: I wil demande of thee, d and declare thou vnto me.
5 I haue e heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye ſeeth thee.
6 Therefore I abhorre my ſelf, and repent in duſt and aſhes.
7 ¶ Now after that the Lord had ſpoken theſe wordes vnto Iob, the Lord alſo ſaid vnto Elipház the Temanite, My wrath is kindled againſt thee, and againſt thy two frieds: for ye haue not ſpoke of me ſ thing that is f right, like my ſeruant g Iob.
f You take in hand an euil cauſe, in ſ you condēned him by his outward afflictiōs and not comforted him w my mercies.
g Who had a good cauſe, but handeled it euil.
8 Therefore take vnto you now ſeuen bullockes, and ſeuen rams, and go to my ſeruant Iob, & offer vp for your ſelues a burnt offring, and my ſeruant Iob ſhal h pray for you: for I wil accept him, leſt I ſhulde put you to ſhame, becauſe ye haue not ſpoke of me the thing, which is right, like my ſeruant Iob.
h When you haue reconciled your ſelues to him for the faures that you haue committed againſt him, he ſhal pray for you, & I wil heare him.
9 So Elipház the Temanite, and Bildád the Shuhite, and Zophár the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had ſaid vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.
i He deliuered him out of the affliction wherein he was.
10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the i captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his frieds: alſo the Lord gaue Iob twiſe ſo muche as he had before.
11 Then came vnto him all his k brethrē, and all his ſiſters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his houſe, and had compaſſion of him, and comforted him for all the euil, that the Lord had broght vpon him, and euerie man gaue him a l piece of money, & euerie one an earing of golde.
k That is, all his kinred, read Chap. 19, 13.
l Or, Lambe, or money ſo marked.
12 So the Lord bleſſed the laſt dayes of Iob more then the firſt: for he had m fourteene thouſand ſhepe, and ſix thouſand camels, and a thouſand yoke of oxen, and a thouſand ſhe aſſes.
m God made him twiſe ſo riche in cattel as he was afore, & gaue him as manie children, as he had taken from him.
13 He had alſo ſeuen ſonnes, and thre daughters.
14 And he called the name of one n Iemimáh, and the name of the ſecond o Keziáh, and the name of the thirde p Kerenhappúch.
n That is, of long life, or beautiful as ſ day.
15 In all the land were no women founde ſo faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brēthren.
o As pleaſant as caſſia, or ſweete ſpice.
p That is, the horne of beautie.
16 And after this lived Iob an hundreth and fourtie yeres, and ſawe his ſonnes, and his ſonnes ſonnes, euen foure generacions.
17 So Iob dyed, being olde, & ful of dayes.

THE

THE PSALMES of Dauid.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis boke of Pſalmes is ſet forthe vnto vs by the holie Goſt to be eſtemed as a moſte precious treaſure, wherein all things are conteined that apperteine to true felicitie: aſwel in this life preſent as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenlie wiſdome are here ſet open for vs, to take thereof moſte abundantly. If we wolde knowe the great, and hie maieſtie of God, here we may ſe the brightnes thereof ſhine moſte clearely. If we wolde ſeke his incomprehenſible wiſdome, here is the ſchole of the ſame profeſſion. If we wolde comprehend his ineſtimable boũtie, and approche nere thercunto, and fil your hands with that treaſure, here we may haue a moſte liuely, and comfortable taſte thereof. If we wolde knowe wherein ſtandeth our ſaluation, and how to atteine to life euerlaſting, here is Chriſt our onely redemer, and mediator moſte euidently deſcribed. The riche man may learne the true vſe of his riches. The poore man may fynde ful contentation. He that wil reioyce, ſhal knowe the true toe, and how to kepe meaſure therein. They that are afflicted and oppreſſed, ſhal ſe wherein ſtandeth their comforte, and how they ought to praiſe God when he ſendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the perſecuters of the children of God ſhal ſe how the hand of God is euer againſt them: and thogh he ſuffer them to proſper for a while, yet he brideleth them, in ſo muche as they can not touche an heere of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their deſtruction is moſte miſerable. Briefly, here we haue moſte preſent remedies againſt all tentations, and troubles of minde and conſcience, ſo that being wel practiſed herein, we may be aſſured againſt all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length atteine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laid vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

* Or, Praiſes, according to ỹ Ebrewes: and were chiefly inſtitute to praiſe, and giue thankes to God for his benefites. Thei are called the Pſalmes, or Sõgs of Dauid becauſe the moſte parte were made by him.

PSALME I.

Whether it was Eſdras, or ane other that gathered the Pſalmes into a boke, it ſemeth he did ſet this Pſalme firſt in maner of a preface, to exhorte all godlie men to ſtudie and meditate the heauenlie wiſdome. For the effect hereof is, 1 That they be bleſſed, which giue them ſelues wholy all their life to the holy Scriptures. 4 And that the wicked contemners of God, thogh they ſeme for a while happie, yet at length ſhal come to miſerable deſtruction.

1 BLeſſed is the man that doeth not walke in the [a] counſel of the wicked, nor ſtand in the way of ſinners, nor ſit in the ſeat of the ſcorneful:

2 But his delite is in the *Law of t Lord, & in his [b] Law doeth he meditate [c] y and night.

3 For he ſhal be like a* tre planted by the riuers of waters, that wil bring forthe her frute in due ſeaſon: whoſe leafe ſhal not fade: ſo whatſoeuer he ſhal do, ſhal proſper.

4 [d] The wicked are not ſo, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked ſhal not ſtand in the [e] Iudgement, nor ſinners in the aſſemblie of the righteous.

6 For the Lord [f] knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked ſhal periſh.

a When a man hathe giuẽ once place to euil counſel, or to his owne cõcupiſcence, he beginneth to forget him ſelf in his ſin, & ſo falleth in to contẽpt of God, which cõtempt is called the ſeat of the ſcorners. Deut.6,6. Ioſh.1,8. Pro.6,20.

b In the holie Scriptures. Iere.15,8.

c Gods children are ſo moyſtened euer with his grace, ỹ whatſoeuer cometh vnto them, tendeth to their ſaluation.

d Thogh the wicked ſeme to beare the ſwinge in this worlde, yet the Lord driueth them downe that thei ſhal not riſe nor ſtand in the companie of the righteous. e But trẽble, when they fele Gods wrath. f Doeth approue and proſper, like as not to knowe, is to reproue and reiect.

PSAL. II.

e The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithſtanding his enemies rage, yet God wil cõtinue his kingdome for euer & aduãce it euen to the end of the worlde. 10 And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they wolde humbly ſubmit them ſelues vnder Gods yoke, becauſe it is in vaine to reſiſte God. Herein is figured Chriſts kingdome.

1 WHy do the [a] heathen * rage, & the people murmur in vaine?

2 The Kings of the earth band them ſelues, and the princes are aſſembled together againſt the Lord, and againſt his [o] Chriſt.

3 [b] Let vs breake their bands, and caſt their cords from vs.

4 * But he that dwelleth in the heauen ſhal laugh: the Lord ſhal haue thẽ in deriſiõ.

5 [c] Then ſhal he ſpeake vnto them in his wrath, & vexe them in his ſore diſpleaſure, ſaying,

6 Euen I haue ſet my King vpon Zión mine holie mountaine.

7 I wil declare the [d] decree: that is, the Lord hathe ſaid vnto me, * Thou art my Sonne: this [e] day haue I begotten thee.

8 Aſke of me, & I ſhal giue thee the heathẽ for thine inheritance, and the [f] endes of the earth for thy poſſeſſion.

9 * Thou ſhalt kruſh them with a ſceptre of yron, & breake them in pieces like a potters veſſel.

10 [g] Be wiſe now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye Iudges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

12 [h] Kiſſe the Sonne, leſt he be angrie, and ye periſh in the waie, when his wrath ſhal a The conſpiracie of ỹ Gentiles, ỹ murmuring of the Iewes, & power of Kings can not preuaile againſt Chriſt. Act.4,25.

o Or, anointed.

b Thus the wicked ſay, ỹ they wil caſt of the yoke of God & of his Chriſt. Prou.1,26.

c Gods plagues wil declare that in reſiſting his Chriſt, they foght againſt him.

d To ſhewe that my vocation to the kingdome is of God. Act.13,33. ebr.1,5.

e That is to ſay, as touching mans knowledge, becauſe it was ỹ firſt time that Dauid appeared to be elected of God. So is it applied to Chriſt in his firſt comming & manifeſtatiõ to the worlde.

f Not onely ỹ Iewes but the Gentiles alſo. Reue.2,27.

g He exhorteth all rulers to repent in time. h In ſigne of hommage. i When the wicked ſhal ſay, Peace & reſte, ſeming yet to be but in the midway of their purpoſes, then ſhal deſtructiõ ſodenly come, 2. Theſſa.5,3.

ſuddenly burne. bleſſed are all that truſt in him.

PSAL. III.

1 Dauid driuē forthe of his kingdome, was greatly tormēted in minde for his ſinnes againſt God: 4 And therefore calleth vpon God, & waxeth bolde through his promeſes againſt the great railings and terrors of his enemies, yea, againſt death it ſelf, which he ſawe preſent before his eyes. 7 Finally he reioyceth for the good ſucceſſe, that God gaue him, and all the Church.

A Pſalme of Dauid, when he fled from his ſonne Abſalom.

1 LOrd, how are mine aduerſaries [a] increaſed? how manie riſe againſt me?
2 Manie ſaye to my ſoule, There is no helpe for him in God. [b] Sélah.
3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glorie, and the lifter vp of mine head.
4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holie mountaine. Sélah.
5 I laied me downe & ſlept, and roſe vp againe: for the Lord ſuſteined me.
6 I wil not be afrayed for [c] ten thouſand of the people, that ſhulde beſet me round about.
7 O Lord, ariſe: helpe me, my God: for thou haſt ſmitten all mine enemies vpon the cheke bone: thou haſt broken the teeth of the wicked.
8 [d] Saluacio belongeth vnto the Lord, & thy bleſsing is vpon thy people. Sélah.

[a] This was a token of his ſtable faith, that for all his troubles he had his recours to God.
[b] Sélah here ſignifieth a lifting vp of the voyce, to cauſe vs to conſider the ſentence, as a thing of great importance.
[c] When he cōſidered the trueth of Gods promes, and tried the ſame, his faith increaſed marueloully.
[d] Be the dangers neuer ſo great or manie, yet God hathe euer meanes to deliuer his.

PSAL. IIII.

1 When Saul perſecuted him, he called vpō God, truſting moſte aſſuredly in his promes, and therefore boldely reproueth his enemies, who wilfully reſiſted his dominion, 7 And finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldelie treaſures.

[a] To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 HEare me when I call, [b] ô God of my righteouſnes: thou haſt ſet me at libertie, when I was [c] in diſtres: haue mercie vpon me and hearken vnto my prayer.
2 O ye [d] ſonnes of men, how long will ye turne my glorie into ſhame, [e] louing vanitie and ſeking lyes? Sélah.
3 For be ye ſure that the Lord hathe choſen to him ſelf [f] a godlie man: the Lord wil heare when I cal vnto him.
4 [g] Tremble, and ſinne not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be [h] ſtil. Sélah.
5 [i] Offer the ſacrifices of righteouſnes, and truſt in the Lord.
6 Manie ſaye, Who wil ſhew vs anie [k] good? but Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenāce vpon vs.
7 Thou haſt giuen me more ioye of heart, then they haue had, when their wheat and their wine did abunde.
8 I wil laye me downe, & alſo ſlepe in peace: for thou, Lord, [l] onely makeſt me dwel in ſauetie.

[a] Among the that were appointed to ſing the Pſalmes, and to play on the inſtruments, one was appointed chief to ſet ỹ tune, & to begin: who had the charge, becauſe he was moſte excellent, and he begā this Pſal. on the inſtrument called Neginoth, or in a tune ſo called.
[b] Thou ỹ art ỹ defender of my iuſt cauſe.
[c] Both of mide and body.
[d] Ye that thinke your ſelues noble in this worlde.
[e] Though your enterpriſes pleaſe you neuer ſo muche, yet God wil bring them to nought.
[f] A King that walketh in his vocation.
[g] For feare of Gods Iudgemēt.
[h] Ceaſe your rage.
[i] Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies.
[k] The multitude ſeke worldlie welth, but Dauid ſetteth his felicitie in Gods fauour.
[l] This worde in Ebrew may be referred to God, as it is here tranſlated, or to Dauid, ſignifying that he ſhulde dwel as ioyfully alone, as if he had manie about him, becauſe the Lord is with him.

PSAL. V.

1 Dauid oppreſſed with the crueltie of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for ſuccour, ſhewing how requiſite it is that God ſhulde puniſh the malice of his aduerſaries. 7 After being aſſured of proſperous ſucces, he conceiueth comfort. 12 Concluding that when God ſhal deliuer him, others alſo ſhal be partakers of the ſame mercies.

To him that excelleth vpon [a] Nehilóth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 HEare my wordes, ô Lord: vnderſtand my [a] meditation.
2 Hearken vnto the voice of my crye, my King & my God: for vnto thee do I praie.
3 Heare my voice in the morning, ô Lord: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I wil [b] wait.
4 For thou art not a God that loueth [c] wickednes: nether ſhal euil dwel with thee.
5 [d] The fooliſh ſhal not ſtand in thy ſight: for thou hateſt all them that worke iniquitie.
6 Thou ſhalt deſtroy them that ſpeake lyes: the Lord wil abhorre the bloodie man and deceitful.
7 But I [e] wil come into thine houſe in the multitude of thy mercie: & in thy feare wil I worſhip towarde thine holie Téple.
8 Lead me, ô Lord, in thy righteouſnes, [f] becauſe of mine enemies: make thy waie plaine before my face.
9 For no cōſtancie is in their mouth: within, their are very corruptions: their * throte is an open ſepulchre, & they flatter with their tongue.
10 Deſtroye them, ô God: [g] let them fall from their counſels: caſt them out for the multitude of their iniquities, becauſe thei haue rebelled againſt thee.
11 And [h] let all them that truſt in thee, reioyce & triumphe for euer, [i] couer thou them: and let them, that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.
12 For thou Lord wilt bleſſe the righteous, & with fauour [k] wilt compas him, as with a ſhield.

[a] Or, a muſical inſtrument or tune.
[b] That is, my vehemēt prair and ſecret complaint & ſighings.
[b] With pacience & truſt til I be heard.
[c] Seing that God of nature hateth wickednes he muſt nedes puniſh the wicked & ſaueth godlie.
[d] Which rūne moſte ragigly after their carnal affections.
[e] I. deepeſt of his tentations he putteth his ful cōfidēce in God.
[f] Becauſe ỹ art iuſt, therefore lead me out of the dāgers of mine enemies.
Rom. 3. 13.
[g] Or, cauſe them to erre.
[h] Let their deuiſes come to nought.
[i] Thy fauour towarde me ſhal confirme the faith of all others.
[k] Or, giue good ſucceſſe.
[l] So that he ſhal be ſafe frō all dāgers.

PSAL. VI.

1 When Dauid by his ſinnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and now felt not onely his hand againſt him, but alſo conceiued the horrors of death euerlaſting, he deſireth forgiuenes, 6 Bewailing that if God take him awaie in his indignation, he ſhulde lacke occaſion to praiſe him as he was wont to do, whiles he was among men. 9 Then ſuddenly feling Gods mercie, he ſharpely rebuketh his enemies which reioyced in his affliction.

To him that excelleth on Neginóth vpon the eight tune, A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 OLord, * [a] rebuke me not in thine angre, nether chaſtiſe me in thy wrath.

Ier. 10, 24.
[a] Though I deſerue deſtruction, yet let thy mercie pitie my frailtie.

2 Haue

2 Haue mercie vpon me, ô Lord, for I b For my whole ſtrēgth is abated.
am weake: ô Lord heale me, for my b bones are vexed.
c His conſcience is alſo touched with the feare of Gods iudgement
3 c My ſoule is alſo ſore troubled: but Lord how long wilt thou delay?
4 Returne, ô Lord: deliuer my ſoule: ſaue me for thy mercies ſake.
d He lamenteth that occaſion ſhulde be taken frō him to praiſe God in the Congregation
5 For in d death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who ſhal praiſe thee?
6 I fainted in my mournīg: I cauſe my bed euery night to ſwimme, & watter my couche with my teares.
*Or, mine eye is eaten as it were with worms
7 *Mine eye is dimmed for deſpite, & ſunke in becauſe of all mine enemies.
e God ſendeth comfort and boldnes in affliction, that we may triumphe ouer our enemies.
8 e Awaie from me all ye workers of iniquitie: for the Lord hathe heard the voyce of my weping.
9 The Lord hathe heard my peticion. the Lord wil receiue my praier.
10 All mine enemies ſhal be confunded & ſore vexed: thei ſhal be turned backe, and put to ſhame f ſuddenly.
f When the wicked thinke that the godlie ſhal perish, God deliuereth them ſuddenly and deſtroyeth their enemies.

PSAL. VII.

1 Being falſely accuſed by Chuſh one of Sauls kinſemen, he calleth to God to be his defender. 2 To whome he commendeth his innocencie. 9 First ſhewing that his conſcience did not accuſe him of anie euil toward Saul. 10 Next that it touched Gods glorie to awarde ſentence againſt the wicked. 12 And ſo entring into the conſideration of Gods mercies and promes, he waxeth bolde and deſpiseth the vaine enterpriſes of his enemies. 16 Threatening that it ſhal fall on their owne necke that which they haue purpoſed for others.

*Or, kinde of ſong
*Or accuſation.
2 Sam. 16. 7.
a Shigaion of Dauid, which he ſang vnto the Lord, concerning the * wordes of * Chuſh the ſonne of Iemini.
1 O Lord my God, in thee I put me truſt: ſaue me from all that perſecute me, and deliuer me.
a He deſireth God to deliuer him frō the rage of cruel Saul 2 Leſt a he deuoure my ſoule like a lion, and teare it in pieces, while there is none to helpe.
b Wherewith Chuſh chargeth me
3 O Lord my God, if I haue done b this thing: if there be anie wickednes in mine hands, c If I reuerenced not Saul for affinities ſake & preſerued his life, 1 Sam 26, 8.
4 c If I haue rewarded euil vnto him that had peace with me, (yea I haue deliuered him that vexed me without cauſe)
5 Then let the enemie perſecute my ſoule & take it: yea, let him treade my life downe vpon the earth, and lay mine d honour in the duſt. Sélah.
d Let me not onely dye, but be diſhonored for euer.
6 Ariſe, ô Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy ſelfe againſt the rage of mine enemies, and awake for me according to the e iudgement that thou haſt appointed.
e In promiſing me ſ kigdome 7 So ſhal the Congregacion of the people compaſſe thee about: for their ſakes therefore f returne on hie.
f Not onely for mine, but for thy Churches ſake declare thy power 8 The Lord ſhal iudge the people: iudge thou me, ô Lord, according to my g righteouſnes, and according to mine innocencie, that is in me.
g As touching my behauiour towards Saul & mine enemies 9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an end: but guide thou the iuſt: for the righteous God tryeth the h hearts and reines.
h Though they pretend a iuſte cauſe againſt me, yet God ſhal iudge their hypocriſie 10 My defence is in God, who preſerueth the vpright in heart.
11 God iudgeth the righteous, & him that contemneth God, euerie day.
i He doeth cōtinually call ſ wicked to repentāce by ſome figres of his iudgementes 12 Except k he turne, he hathe whet his ſworde: he hathe bent his bowe and made it readie.
k Except Saul turne his minde, I dye for he hath bothe men and weapōs to deſtroy me, Thus conſiderīg his great danger, he magnifieth Gods grace Iſa. 59. 4. Iob. 15. 35.
13 He hathe alſo prepared him deadly weapons: he wil ordeine his arrowes for them that perſecute me.
14 *Behōlde, he ſhal trauail with wickednes: for he hathe conceiued miſchief, but he ſhal bring forthe a lye.
15 He hathe made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.
16 His miſchief ſhal returne vpon his owne head, and his crueltie ſhal fall vpon his owne pate.
l In keping faithfully his promes w me
17 I wil praiſe the Lord according to his l righteouſnes, and wil ſing praiſe to the Name of the Lord moſte high.

PSAL. VIII.

1 The Prophet conſidering the excellent liberalitie and fatherlie prouidence of God towards man, whome he made, as it were a god ouer all his workes, doeth not onely giue great thonkes, but is aſtoniſhed with the admiration of the ſame, as one nothing able to compaſſe ſuche great mercies.

*To him that excelleth on m Gittith. A Pſalme of Dauid.
*Or, kinde of inſtrumēt, or tune.
1 O Lord our Lord, how m excellent is thy Name in all the worlde! which haſt ſet thy glorie aboue the heauens.
*Or, noble or marueilous.
a Though the wicked wolde hide Gods praiſes, yet ſ very babes are ſufficiēt witneſſes of the ſame 2 Out of the a mouth of babes and ſucklings haſt thou ordeined ſtrength, becauſe of thine enemies, that thou mighteſt n ſtil the enemie and the auenger.
*Or, eſtabliſhed.
*Or, confunde.
3 When I beholde thine heauens, euen the woorkes of thy fingers, the moone and the ſtarres which thou haſt ordeined, b It had bene ſufficient for him to haue ſet forthe his glorie by the heauēs, though he had not come ſo low as to man, which is but duſt 4 What is b man, ſay I, that thou art mindful of him? and the ſonne of mā, that thou viſiteſt him?
c Touchīg his firſt creation.
5 For thou haſt made him a litle lower thē c God, and crowned him with glorie and worſhip.
6 Thou haſt made him to haue dominion in the workes of thine hands. thou haſt put all things vnder his fete.
d By the temporal gifts of mans creation he is led to cōſider the benefites which he hathe by his regeneration through Chriſt
7 All d ſhepe and oxen: yea, and the beaſtes of the field:
8 The foules of the aire, and the fiſh of the ſea, & that which paſſeth through the paths of the ſeas.
9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy Name in all the worlde!

PSAL. IX.

1 After he had giuen thankes to God for the ſundrie victories that he had ſent him againſt his enemies, and alſo proued by manifolde experience how readie God was at hãd in all his troubles. 14 He being now likewiſe in danger of newe enemies, deſireth God to helpe him according to his wonte, 17 And to deſtroy the malicious arrogancie of his aduerſaries.

To him that excelleth vpon [a] Muth Labbén. A Pſalme of Dauid.

[a] Or, kinde of inſtrument, or tune, or for the death of Labben or Goliath.

1 I Wil praiſe the Lord with my [a] whole heart: I wil ſpeake of all thy marueilous workes.

[a] God is not praiſed, except the whole glorie be giuen to him alone.

2 I wil be glad, and reioyce in thee: I wil ſing praiſe to thy Name, ô moſte high,

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe: they ſhal fall, and periſh at thy preſence.

[b] Howſoeuer ỹ enemie ſeme for a time to preuaile, yet God preſerueth the iuſt.

4 For [b] thou haſt maintened my right & my cauſe: thou art ſet in the throne, and iudgeſt right.

5 Thou haſt rebuked the heathen: thou haſt deſtroied the wicked: ỹ haſt put out their name for euer and euer.

[c] A deriſion of ỹ enemie, that ſaith nothing but deſtructiõ: but the Lord wil deliuer his, & bring him into iudgement.

6 [c] O enemie, deſtructions are come to a perpetual end, and thou haſt deſtroied the cities: their memorial is periſhed with them.

[d] Or, reigne as Iudge.

7 But the Lord [d] ſhal ſit for euer: he hathe prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For he ſhal iudge the worlde in righteouſnes, & ſhal iudge the people with equitie.

[d] Our miſeries are meanes to cauſe vs to feele Gods preſent care ouer vs.

9 The Lord alſo wil be a refuge for the [d] poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.

10 And thei that knowe thy Name, wil truſt in thee: for thou, Lord, haſt not failed thẽ that ſeke thee.

11 Sing praiſes to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zión: ſhewe the people his workes.

[a] Though God reuengeth not ſodenly the wrõg done to his, yet he ſuffreth not the wicked vnpuniſhed.

12 For [e] when he maketh inquiſition for blood, he remembreth it, & forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon me, ô Lord: conſider my trouble, which I ſuffre of them that hate me, thou that lifteſt me vp from the gates of death:

[f] In the open aſſemblie of the Church?

14 That I maie ſhewe all thy praiſes within the [f] gates of the daughter of Zión, & reioyce in thy ſaluacion.

[g] For God ouerthroweth the wicked in their entrepriſes.

15 The heathen are [g] ſunken downe in the pit, that thei made: in the net that they hid, is their fote taken.

[h] The mercie of God toward his Saints muſt be declared, & the fall of the wicked muſt alwaies be cõſidered.

16 [h] The Lord is knowẽ by executing iudgement: the wicked is ſnared in the worke of his owne hands. Higgaión. Sélah.

17 The wicked ſhal turne into hel, & all nations that forget God.

[i] Or, this is worthy to be noted: God promiſeth not to helpe vs before we haue felt the croſſe.

18 For the poore ſhal not be alwaie forgotten: the hope [i] of the afflicted ſhal not periſh for euer.

[k] Which thei can not learne without ỹ feare of thy Iudgement.

19 Vp Lord: let not man preuaile: let the heathen be iudged in thy ſight.

20 Put them in feare, ô Lord, that the heathen maie know that they are but [k] men. Sélah.

PSAL. X.

1 He complaineth of the fraude, rapine, tyrannie, and all kindes of wrong, which worldelie men vſe, aſſigning the cauſe thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldelie proſperitie, and therefore ſetting aparte all feare and reuerence towardes God, thinke they may do all things without controwling. 15 Therefore he calleth vpon God to ſend ſome remedie againſt theſe deſperat euils, 16 And at length comforteth him ſelfe with hope of deliuerance.

1 WHy ſtandeſt thou farre of, ô Lord, & hideſt thee in [a] due time, euẽ in affliction?

[a] So ſone as we enter into affliction, we thinke God ſhulde helpe vs, but that is not alwaies his due time.

2 The wicked with pride doeth perſecute the poore: let them be taken in the crafts that they haue imagined.

[b] The wicked reioyceth in his owne luſt, he boaſteth when he hathe that he wolde: he braggeth of his wit & welth, & bleſſeth himſelfe, and thus blaſphemeth the Lord.

3 For the wicked hathe [b] made boaſt of his owne hearts deſire, and the couetous bleſſeth him ſelfe: he contemneth the Lord.

4 The wicked is ſo proude that he ſeketh not for God: he thinketh alwaies, There is no God.

[c] Or, ſuffeth at. [d] Or, not be moued becauſe he was neuer in euil.

5 His waies alwaie proſper: thy Iudgemẽts are hie aboue his ſight: therefore [c] deſieth he all his enemies.

6 He ſaieth in his heart, I ſhal [d] neuer be moued, nor be in danger.

[c] The euil ſhal not touche me, Iſa. 28, 15. or els he ſpeaketh thus becauſe he neuer felt euil.

7 His mouth is ful of curſing and diſceite and fraude: vnder his tongue is miſchief & iniquitie.

[d] He ſheweth that ỹ wicked haue many meanes to hide their crueltie, and therefore oght more to be feared.

8 [d] He lieth in waite in the villages: in the ſecret places doeth he murther the innocent: his eies are bent againſt the poore.

9 He lieth in wait ſecretly, euen as a lyon in his denne: he lieth in waite to ſpoile the poore: he doeth ſpoile the poore, when he draweth him into his net.

[e] By the hypocriſie of thẽ that haue authoritie the poore are deuoured.

10 He crowcheth & boweth: therefore heapes of the [e] poore do fall by his might.

11 He hathe ſaid in his heart, God hathe forgotten, he hideth awaie his face, & wil neuer ſe.

[f] He calleth to God for helpe, becauſe wickednes is ſo farre ouergrowen ỹ God muſt now helpe or neuer.

12 [f] Ariſe, ô Lord God: lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

13 Wherefore doeth the wicked contemne God? he ſaieth in his heart, Thou wilt not [g] regarde.

[g] Therefore ỹ muſt needes puniſh this their blaſphemie.

14 Yet thou haſt ſene it: for thou beholdeſt miſchief and wrong, that thou maieſt [h] take it into thine hãds: the poore cõmitteth him ſelfe vnto thee: for thou art the helper of the fatherles.

[h] To iudge betwene the right and the wrong.

15 Breake thou the arme of the wicked and malicious: ſearche his wickednes, & thou ſhalt finde [i] none.

[i] For ỹ haſt vtterly deſtroied him.

16 The Lord is King for euer and euer: the [k] heathen are deſtroyed forthe of his land.

[k] The hypocrites, or ſuche as liue not after Gods law, ſhalbe deſtroyed.

17 Lord, thou haſt heard the deſire of the poore: thou prepareſt their heart: thou [l] cauſeſt thine eare to them, [l] God helpeth when mãs helpe ceaſeth.

18 [l] To iudge the fatherles and poore, that earthlie man [m] cauſe to feare no more.

[m] Or, deſtroy no more man vpon the earth.

PSAL.

PSAL. XI.

1 This pſalme conteyneth two partes. In the firſt Dauid ſheweth how harde aſſaltes of tentacions he ſuſteined, & in how great anguiſh of minde he was, when Saúl did perſecute him. 4 Then next he reioyceth that God ſet̄ him ſuccour in his neceſſitie, declaring his iuſtice aſwel in gouerning the good, and the wicked men, as the whole worlde.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſal. of Dauid.

1 IN the Lord put I my truſt: how ſay ye then to my ſoule, [a] Flee to your mountaine as a birde?

a This is the wicked counſel of his enemies to him & his cõpanions, to driue him from the hope of Gods p̃mes

2 For lo, the wicked bend their bowe, and make readie their arrowes vpõ the ſtring, that they may ſecretly ſhoote at thẽ, which are vpright in heart.

b All hope of ſuccour is taken awaie

3 For the [b] fundaciõs are caſt downe: what hathe the [c] righteous done?

c Yet am I innocent and my cauſe good.

4 The Lord is in his holie palace: ỹ Lords throne is in the heauen: his eyes [d] wil conſider: his eye lids wil trye the children of men.

d Though all things in earth be out of order, yet God wil execute iudgement from heauen

5 The Lord wil trye the righteous: but the wicked & him that loueth iniquitie, doeth his ſoule hate.

6 Vpon the wicked he ſhal raine ſnares, [e] fyer, and brimſtone, & ſtormie tempeſt: this is the [f] porcion of their cup.

e As in the deſtruction of Sodóm and Gomorrha

f Which they ſhal drinke euen to the dregs, Ezek 23,33.

7 For the righteous Lord loueth righteouſnes: his countenance doeth beholde ỹ iuſt.

PSAL. XII.

1 The Prophet lamenting the miſerable eſtate of the people, and the decay of all good order, deſireth God ſpedely to ſend ſuccour to his children 7 Thẽ comforting him ſelf and others with the aſſurance of Gods helpe, he cõmendeth the conſtant verite that God obſerueth in keping his promiſes.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon the eight tune. A Pſalme of Dauid.

a Which dare defende the trueth, & ſhew mercie to the oppreſſed

1 HElpe Lord, for there is not [a] a godlie man left: for the faithful are failed from among the children of men.

b He meaneth ỹ flatterers of the courte, ỹ hurt him more with their tongues then with their weapons

2 They ſpeake deceitfully euerie one with his neighbour, [b] flattering with their lippes, and ſpeake with a double heart.

c They thinke thẽ ſelues able to perſuade whatſoeuer they take in hand

3 The Lord cut of all flattering lippes, & the tongue that ſpeaketh proude things:

4 Which haue ſaid, [c] With our tongue wil we preuaile: our lippes are our owne: who is lord ouer vs?

d The Lord is moued with the complaints of his, & deliuereth in the end from all dangers.

5 [d] Now for the oppreſsion of the nedie, & for the ſighes of the poore, I wil vp ſaieth the Lord, and wil [e] ſet at libertie him, whome the wicked hathe ſnared.

e Because the Lordes worde and promes is true & vnchãgeable, he wil performe it & preſerue the poore from this wicked generation

6 The wordes of the Lord are pure wordes, as ỹ ſiluer tryed in a fornace of earth, fined ſeuen folde.

f That is, thine, though he were but one man

7 Thou wilt kepe [f] them, ô Lord: thou wilt preſerue him from this generaciõ for euer.

g For thei ſuppres ỹ godlie and maintene the wicked.

8 The wicked walke on euerie ſide: when they are exalted, [g] it is a ſhame for the ſonnes of men.

PSAL. XIII.

1 Dauid as it were ouercome with ſundrie and newe afflictions, fleeth to God as his onelie refuge 3 And ſo at the length being encouraged through Gods promiſes, he conceiueth moſte ſure confidence againſt the extreme horrors of death.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 HOw long wilt ỹ forget me, ô Lord, [a] for euer? how long wilt thou hyde thy face from me?

a He declareth ỹ his afflictiõs laſted a long time, & ỹ his faith fainted not

2 How long ſhal I take [b] coũſel within my ſelf, hauing wearines daiely in mine heart? how long ſhal mine enemie be exalted aboue me?

b Chãging my purpoſe as the ſickemã doeth his place.

3 Beholde, & heare me, ô Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I ſlepe not in death:

4 Leſt mine enemie ſaie, I haue [c] preuailed againſt him: & they that afflict me, reioyce when I ſlide.

c Which might turne to Gods diſhonour, if he did not defend his.

5 But I truſt in thy [d] mercie: mine heart ſhal reioyce in thy ſaluacion: I wil ſing to the Lord, becauſe he hathe [e] delt louingly with me.

d The mercie of God is the cauſe of our ſaluacion

e Bothe by the benefites paſt and by others to come.

PSAL. XIIII.

1 He deſcribeth the peruerſe nature of men, which were ſo growen to licẽciouſnes, that God was broght to vtter contempt 7 For the which thing althogh he was greatly grieued, yet being perſuaded that God wolde ſend ſome preſent remedie, he comforteth him ſelf & others.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

Pſal 53.

1 THe foole hathe ſaid in his heart, [a] There is no God: thei haue [b] corrupted, and done an abominable worke: there is none that doeth good.

a He ſheweth that the cauſe of all wickednes is to forget God

b There is nothing but diſorder & wickednes among them

2 The Lord loked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to ſe if there were anie that wolde vnderſtand, and ſeke God.

c Dauid here maketh compariſon betwene the faithful and the reprobate: but S Paul ſpeaketh the ſame of all men naturally, Rom 3,10 3 [c] All are gone out of the way: they are all corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

d Where they thinke them ſelues moſte ſure

4 Do not all ỹ workers of iniquitie knowe that they eat vp my people, as they eat bread? they call not vpon the Lord.

5 [d] There they ſhal be taken with feare, becauſe God is in the generacion of the iuſt.

e You mocke them that put their truſt in God

6 You haue made [e] a mocke at the counſel of the poore, becauſe the Lord is his truſt.

f He prayeth for the whole Church, whome he is aſſured God wil deliuer: for none but he onely can do it.

7 Oh giue ſaluacion vnto [f] Iſraél out of Zión: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iaakób ſhal reioyce, and Iſraél ſhal be glad.

PSAL. XV.

1 This Pſalme teacheth on what conditiõ God did chuſe the Iewes for his peculiar people, and wherefore he placed his Temple among them, which was to the intent that they by liuing vprightely and godly, might witnes that they were his ſpecial and holie people.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 LOrd, who ſhal dwel in thy Tabernacle? who ſhal reſt in thine holie Moũtayne?

c First God requireth vprightenes of life, next doīg wel to others, and thirdely trueth and ſimplicite in our wordes.

2 He that a walketh vprightly and worketh righteouſnes, and ſpeaketh the trueth in his heart.

3 He that ſclandreth not with his tongue, nor doeth euil to his neighbour, nor receiueth a falſe reporte againſt his neighbour.

b He that flattereth not the vngodlie in their wickednes.

4 b In whoſe eyes a vile perſone is cõtemned, but he honoreth them that feare the Lord: he that ſweareth to his owne hinderance and changeth not.

c To the hinderance of his neighbour.

5 He that c giueth not his money vnto vſurie, nor taketh rewarde againſt the innocent: he that doeth theſe things, d ſhal neuer be moued.

d That is, ſhal not be caſt forthe of the Church as hypocrites.

PSAL. XVI.

1 Dauid prayeth to God for ſuccour, not for his workes, but for his faiths ſake. 4 Proteſting that he hateth all idolatrie, taking God onelie for his comfort and felicitie. 8 Who ſuffreth his to lacke nothing.

¶ e Michtám of Dauid.

Or, a certeine cause.

1 PReſerue me, ô God: for in thee do I a truſt.

a He ſheweth that we can not call vpon God, except we truſt in hī

2 O my ſoule, thou haſt ſaid vnto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: my b weldoing extendeth not to thee, b Thogh we cā not enriche God, yet we muſt beſtowe Gods gifts to the vſe of his children

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delite is in them.

c As griefe of conſcience & miſerable deſtruction.

4 The c ſorowes of them, that offer to another god, ſhal be multiplied: d their offrings of blood wil I not offer, nether make mẽcion of their names with my lippes.

d He wolde nether by outwarde profeſſiõ nor in heart nor in mouth cõſent to their idolatries

5 The Lord is the porcion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou ſhalt maintein my lot.

e Wherewith my porcion is meaſured

6 The e lines are fallen vnto me in pleaſant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.

7 I wil praiſe the Lord, who hathe giuen me counſel: my f reines alſo teache me in the nights.

f God teacheth me continually by ſecret inſpiratiõ

8 I haue ſet the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I ſhal not ſlide.

g The faithful are ſure to perſeuere to the end

9 Wherefore h mine heart is glad and my tongue reioyceth: my fleſh alſo doeth reſt in hope.

h That is, I reioyce bothe in bodie & in ſoule

10 For thou i wilt not leaue my ſoule in the graue: nether wilt thou ſuffer thine holie one to ſe corruption.

i This is chiefly ment of Chriſt, by whoſe reſurrection all his mẽbers haue immortalitie 11 Thou wilt ſhewe me the path of life: in thy k preſence is the fulnes of ioye: and at thy right hãd there are pleaſures for euermore.

k Where God fauoreth, there is perfite felicitie.

PSAL. XVII.

1 Here he complaineth to God of the cruel pride and arrogancie of Saul, and the reſt of his enemies, who thus raged without any cauſe giuen on his parte. 6 Therefore he deſireth God to reuenge his innocencie, and deliuer him.

¶ The prayer of Dauid.

a My righteous cauſe.

1 HEare a the right, ô Lord, cõſider my crye: hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnfained.

b The vengeãce that ỹ ſhalt ſhewe againſt mine enemies.

2 Let my b ſentence come forthe from thy preſence, & let thine eyes behold equitie.

c When thy Spirit examined my conſcience

3 Thou haſt c proued & viſited mine heart in the night: thou haſt tryed me, & foundeſt nothing: for I was purpoſed that my d mouth ſhulde not offend.

d I was innocent towarde mine enemie bothe in dede and thoght.

4 Concerning the workes of men, by the e wordes of thy lippes I kept me from the paths of the cruel man.

e Thogh the wicked prouoked me to do euil for euil, yet thy worde kept me backe

5 Stay my ſteps in thy paths, that my fete do not ſlide.

f He was aſſured that God wolde not refuſe his requeſt

6 I haue called vpon thee: f ſurely thou wilt heare me, ô God: incline thine eare to me, & hearken vnto my wordes.

g For all rebell againſt thee, & trouble thy Churche.

7 Shewe thy maruelous mercies, thou that art the Sauiour of them that truſt in thee, from ſuche as g reſiſt thy right hand.

8 Kepe me as the apple of the eye: hide me vnder the ſhadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked that oppreſſe me, from mine enemies, which compaſſe me rounde about for h my ſoule.

h For their cruelnes can not be ſatiſfied but with my deaeth

10 They are incloſed in their owne i fatt, and they haue ſpoken proudly with their mouth.

i They are puffe vp with pride, as the ſtomake that is choked with fat

11 They haue compaſſed vs now in our ſteps: they haue ſet their eyes to bring downe to the grounde:

k Stop his rage

12 Like as a lyon that is gredie of praye, & as it were a lyons whelpe luiking in ſecret places.

Or, which is thy ſworde

13 Vp Lord, k diſapoint him: caſt him downe: deliuer my ſoule from the wicked l with thy ſworde, l By thine heauenlie power

14 From m men of the worlde, who haue their n porcion in this life, whoſe belies thou filleſt with thine hid treaſure: their childrē haue ynough, and leaue the reſt of their ſubſtãce for their children.

Or, whoſe tyrãnie hathe to long endured

m And ſele not the ſmart that Gods children oft times do n This is ỹ full felicitie, comforting againſt all aſſaltes, to haue the face of God & fauorable countenãce opened vnto vs

15 But I wil beholde o thy face in righteouſnes, & when I p awake, I ſhalbe ſatiſfied with thine image.

o And am deliuered out of my great troubles

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Pſalme is the firſt beginning of his gratulacion, and thankeſgiuing in the entring into his kingdome, wherein he extolleth & praiſeth moſte highly the marueilous mercies and grace of God, who hathe thus preſerued and defended him, 32 Alſo he ſetteth forthe the image of Chriſts kingdome, that the faithful may be aſſured that Chriſt ſhal alwayes conquer & ouercome by the vnſpeakeable power of his Father, though all the whole worlde ſhulde ſtriue thereagainſt.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid the ſeruant of the Lord, which ſpake vnto the Lord the wordes of this ſong (in the day that the Lord deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, & from the hand of Saul) and ſaid,

2. Sam. 22. 1.

a He vſeth this deuerſitie of names, to ſhewe ỹ as the wicked haue many meanes to hurt, ſo God hathe manie waies to helpe

1 I * Wil loue thee dearely, ô Lord my ſtrength.

2 a The Lord is my rocke, and my fortreſſe, and and he that deliuereth me, my God & my ſtrength: in him wil I truſt, my ſhield, the horne alſo of my ſaluacio, & my refuge.

3 I wil call vpon the Lord, which is worthie to be [b] praiſed: ſo ſhal I be ſafe from mine enemies.

4 The [c] ſorowes of death compaſſed me, and the floods of wickednes made me afraied.

5 The [e] ſorowes of the graue haue cõpaſſed me about: the ſnares of death ouertoke me.

6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my crye did come before him, euen into his eares.

7 [d] Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the fundacions alſo of the mõũtaines moued and ſhoke, becauſe he was angrie.

8 Smoke went out at his noſtrels, and a [e] cõſuming fyre out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

9 He bowed the heauens alſo and came downe, and [f] darkenes was vnder his fete.

10 And he rode vpon [g] Cherũb and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

11 He made darkenes his [h] ſecret place, & his pauilion rounde about him, euen darkenes of waters, and cloudes of the aire.

12 At the brightnes of his preſence his cloudes paſſed, haileſtones & coles of fyre.

13 The Lord alſo thundred in the heauen, and the Higheſt gaue [i] his voyce, haileſtones and coles of fyre.

14 Then he ſent out [k] his arrowes & ſcatered them, and he increaſed lightnings and deſtroyed them.

15 And the chanels of waters were ſene, and the [l] fundaciõs of the worlde were diſcouered at thy rebuking, ô Lord, at the blaſting of the breath of thy noſtrels.

16 He hathe ſent downe from aboue and taken me: he hathe drawen me out of [m] mame waters.

17 He hathe deliuered me from my [n] ſtrõg enemie, and from them which hate me: for they were [o] to ſtrong for me.

18 They preuented me in the daye of my calamitie: but the Lord was my ſtay.

19 He broght me forthe alſo into a large place: [p] he deliuered me becauſe he fauored me.

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my [q] righteouſnes: according to the purenes of mine hands he recompenſed me:

21 Becauſe I kept the wayes of the Lord, & did not wickedly againſt my God.

22 For all his Lawes were before me, and I did not caſt away his [r] commandements from me.

23 I was vpright alſo with him, & haue kept me from my [ſ] wickednes.

24 Therefore [ſ] Lord rewarded me according to my righteouſnes, & according to the purenes of mine hands in his ſight.

25 With the [t] godlie thou wilt ſhewe thy ſelf godlie: with the vpright mã thou wilt ſhewe thy ſelf vpright.

26 With the pure thou wilt ſhewe thy ſelf pure, & with the frowarde thou wilt ſhewe thy ſelf froward.

27 Thus thou wilt ſaue the poore people, & wilt [u] caſt downe the proude lokes.

28 Surely thou wilt light my candel: the Lord my God wil lighten my darkenes.

29 For by thee I haue [x] broken through an hoſte, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.

30 The waye of God is vncorrupt: the [y] worde of the Lord is tryed in the fyre: he is a ſhield to all that truſt in him.

31 For who is God beſides the Lord? and who is mightie ſaue our God?

32 God girdeth me with ſtrength, and maketh my [z] waye vpright.

33 He maketh my fete like hindes fete, and ſetteth me vpon mine [a] high places.

34 He teacheth mine hands to fight: ſo that a bowe of [ſ] braſſe is broken with mine armes.

35 Thou haſt alſo giuẽ me [ſ] [b] ſhield of thy ſaluacion, and thy right hand hathe ſtayed me, and thy [c] louing kindenes hathe cauſed me to increaſe.

36 Thou haſt enlarged my ſteppes vnder me, and mine heles haue not ſlid.

37 [d] I haue purſued mine enemies, and take them, and haue not turned againe til I had conſumed them.

38 I haue wounded thẽ, that they were not able to riſe: they are fallen vnder my fete.

39 For thou haſt girded me with ſtrength to battel: them, that roſe againſt me, thou haſt ſubdued vnder me.

40 And thou haſt [e] giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might deſtroye them that hate me.

41 They [f] cryed, but there was none to ſaue them, euen vnto the Lord, but he anſwered them not.

42 Then I did beate them ſmale as the duſt before the winde: I did tread them flat as the claye in the ſtretes.

43 Thou haſt deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou haſt made me the head of the [g] heathen: a people, whome I haue not [h] knowen, ſhal ſerue me.

44 As ſone as thei heare, thei ſhal obey me: the ſtrangers ſhal [i] be in ſubiection to me.

45 Strangers ſhal [k] ſhrinke away, & feare in their priuie chambers.

46 Let the Lord liue, and bleſſed be my ſtrngth, and the God of my ſaluacion be exalted.

---

b For none cã obteine their requeſts of God, ſ ioyne not his glorie with their petition

c He ſpeaketh of the dãgers and malice of his enemies, fro the which God had deliuered him

Or, cordes, or cables.

d A deſcriptiõ of the wrath of God againſt his enemies after he ha heard his prai ers

e He ſheweth how horrible Gods iudgements ſhalbe to the wicked

f Darkenes ſignifieth the wrath of God, as the cleare light ſignifieth Gods fauour

g This is deſcribed at large Pſal 104

h As a King angrie with ỹ people, wil not ſhew him ſelf vnto them

i Thundred, lightened, and hailed k His lightenings

l That is, the depe bottoms were ſene, whẽ the red Sea was deuided

m Out of ſundrie, and great dangers n Towit, Saul.

o Therefore God ſent me ſuccour

p The cauſe of Gods deliuerance is his onelie fauour & loue to vs

q Dauid was ſure of his righteous cauſe and good behauiour toward Saul & his enemies, & therefore was aſſured of Godsfauour & deliuerance.

r For all his dangers he exerciſed him ſelf in the Law of God

ſ Neither gaue place to their wicked motions, nor to mine owne affections.

t Here he ſpeaketh of God according to our capacitie, who ſheweth mercie to his & puniſheth the wicked, as is ſaid alſo, Leuit 26, 21.

u When their ſtõne is come to the ful meaſure x He attributeth it to God, that he bothe gate the victorie in ỹ field, & alſo deſtroyed the armes of his enemies.

y Be the dangers neuer ſo manie or great, yet Gods promes muſt take effect

z He graueth good ſucceſſe to all mine enterpriſes

a As towres and fortes, ẅ he toke out of the hands of Gods enemies:

Or, ſtele.

b To defend me frõ dãgers

c He attributeth the beginning, continuãce & increaſe in well doing onely to Gods fauour

d Dauid declareth that he did nothing beſides his vocation, but was ſtirred vp by Gods Spirit to execute his iudgemenes

e Thou haſt giuẽ thẽ into mine hands to be ſlaine

f Thei that reiect ỹ crye of the afflicted, God wil alſo reiect them, whẽ thei crye for helpe: for either peine or feare cauſe thoſe hypocrites to crye

g Which dwelled about me

h The kingdome of Chriſt is in Dauids kingdome prefigured: who by ỹ preaching of his worde bringeth all to his ſubiection.

i Or, lye: ſignifying a ſubiection conſtrained & not voluntarie k Feare ſhal cauſe them to be afraied & come forthe of their ſecret holes & holdes to aſke pardõ.

47 It is God that giueth me power to auēge me, and ſubdueth the people vnder me.
48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou haſt ſet me vp from them, that roſe againſt me: thou haſt deliuered me from the [l] cruel man.
49 Therefore [m] I wil praiſe thee, ô Lord, among the nations, and wil ſing vnto thy Name.
50 Great deliuerances giueth he vnto his King, & ſheweth mercie to his anoynted, euen to Dauid, and to his [n] ſede for euer.

[l] That is, Saul, who of malice perſecuted hī.
[m] This propheeie apperteineth to the kingdome of Chriſt, and vocation of the Gentiles, as Rom. 15, 9.
[n] This did not properly apperteine to Salomón, but to Iesus Chriſt.

PSAL. XIX.

1 To the intent he might moue the faithful to a deeper conſideration of Gods glorie, he ſetteth before their eyes the moſte exquiſite workemanſhip of the heauens with their proportion, and ornaments: 8 And afterward calleth thē to the Law, wherein God hathe reueiled him ſelf more familiarly to his choſen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Law he ſetteth forthe more at large.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 THe [a] heauens declare the glorie of God, and the firmament ſheweth the worke of his hands.
2 [b] Daie vnto daie vttereth the ſame, and night vnto night teacheth knowledge.
3 There is no ſpeache nor [c] language, where their voyce is not heard.
4 Their [d] line is gone forthe through all the earth, and their wordes into the ends of the worlde: in them hathe he ſet a tabernacle for the ſunne.
5 Which commeth forthe as a bridegrome out of his [e] chambre, and reioyceth like a mightie man tō runne his race.
6 His going out is from the end of the heauen, and his compas is vnto the ends of the ſame, & none is hid from the heate thereof.
7 The [f] Law of the Lord is perfite, conuerting the ſoule: the teſtimonie of the Lord is ſure, and giueth wiſdome vnto the ſimple.
8 The ſtatutes of the Lord are right and reioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.
9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and indureth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are [g] trueth: they are righteous [h] all together,
10 And more to be [i] deſired then golde, yea, then muche fine golde: ſweter alſo thē honie and the honie combe.
11 Moreouer by them is thy ſeruant made circumſpect, & in keping of them there is great [k] rewarde.
12 Who can vnderſtand his [l] faultes? clenſe me from ſecret faultes.
13 Kepe thy ſeruant alſo from [m] preſumptuous ſinnes: let them not reigne ouer me: [n] ſo ſhal I be vpright, and made cleane from muche wickednes.
14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the [o] meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy ſight, ô Lord, my ſtrength, and my remeder.

[a] He reprocheth vnto mā his ingratitude, ſeing ỹ heauens, which are dumme creatures, ſet forthe Gods glorie.
[b] The continual ſucceſſe of the daye & the night is ſufficiēt to declare Gods power and goodnes.
[c] The heauens are a ſcholemaſter to all natiōs, be they neuer ſo barbarous.
[d] The heauens are as a line of great capital letters to ſhewe vnto vs Gods glorie.
[e] Or, vaile. The maner was that the bride and bridegrome ſhuld ſtand vnder a vaile together, & after come forthe ẅ great ſolemnitie and reioycing of ỹ aſſemblie.
[f] Thogh the creatures can not ſerue, yet this ought to be ſufficient to lead vs vnto him.
[g] So that all mās inuentiōs and intentions are lies.
[h] Euerie one without exception.
[i] Except Gods worde be eſtemed aboue all worldelie things, it is contemned.
[k] For God accepteth our indeuour, thogh it be farre vnperfite. [l] Then there is no rewarde of duetie, but of Grace: for where ſinne is, there death is the rewarde.
[m] Which are done purpoſly and of malice.
[n] If thou ſuppreſſe my wicked affections by thine holie Spirit.
[o] That I may obey thee in thoght, worde and dede.

PSAL. XX.

1 A prayer of the people vnto God, that it wolde pleaſe him to heare their King & receiue his ſacrifice, which he offred before he went to battel againſt the Ammonites.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 THe [a] Lord heare thee in the daye of trouble: the [b] Name of the God of Iaakób defende thee:
2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuarie, and ſtrengthen thee out of Zión.
3 Let him remember all thine offrings, and [c] turne thy burnt offrings into aſhes. Sélah:
4 And grante thee according to thine heart, and fulfil all thy purpoſe:
5 That we may reioyce in thy [d] ſaluacion, and ſet vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord ſhal performe all thy petitions.
6 Now [e] know I that the Lord wil helpe his anoynted, and wil heare him from his [f] Sanctuarie, by the mightie helpe of his right hand.
7 Some truſt in chariots, and ſome in horſes: but we wil remember the Name of the Lord our God.
8 [g] They are broght downe and fallen, but we are riſen, and ſtande vpright.
9 Saue Lord: [h] let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

[a] Hereby Kings are alſo admoniſhed to call to God in their affaires.
[b] The vertue, power & grace of God.
[c] In token ỹ thei are accepted vnto him.
[d] Granted to the King, in whoſe wealth our felicitie ſtandeth.
[e] The Church feeleth that God hathe heard their petition
[f] as by the viſible Sāctuarie Gods familiaritie appeared toward his people, ſo by the heauenlie iſment his power & maieſtie.
[g] The worldelings that put not their onely truſt in God.
[h] Let the King be able to deliuer vs by thy ſtrength, when we ſeke vnto him for ſuccour.

PSAL. XXI.

1 Dauid in the perſone of the people praiſeth God for the victorie, attributing it to God, and not to the ſtrength of man. Wherein the holie Goſt directeth the faithful to Chriſt, who is the perfection of this kingdome.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 THe King ſhal [a] reioyce in thy ſtrēgth, ô Lord: yea, how greatly ſhal he reioyce in thy ſaluation!
2 Thou haſt giuen him his hearts deſire, & haſt not denied him the requeſt of his lippes. Sélah.
3 For thou [b] dideſt preuent him with liberal bleſsings, & dideſt ſet a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.
4 [c] He aſked life of thee, and thou gaueſt him a long life for euer and euer.
5 His glorie is great in thy ſaluacīō: dignitie and honour haſt thou layed vpon him.
6 For thou haſt ſet him as [d] bleſsings for euer: thou haſt made him glad with the ioye of thy countenance.
7 Becauſe the King truſteth in the Lord, and in the mercie of the moſt High, he ſhal not ſlide.
8 [e] Thine hand ſhal finde out all thine ene-

[a] Whē he ſhal ouercome his enemies and ſo be aſſured of his vocatiō.
[b] Thou declareddſt thy liberal tauour toward him before he prated.
[c] Dauid did not onely obteine life, but alſo aſſurance that his poſteritie ſhulde reigne for euer.
[d] Thou haſt made him thy bleſsings to others, & a perpetual exāple of thy fauour for euer.
[e] Here he deſcribeth the power of Chriſts kingdome againſt the enemies thereof.

mies, and thy right hand ſhal finde out thē that hate thee.

9 Thou ſhalt make them like a fyrie ouen in time of thine angre: the Lord ſhal deſtroy them in his f wrath, and the fyer ſhal deuoure them.

10 Their frute ſhalt thou deſtroy from the earth, and their ſede from the children of men.

11 For they g intended euil againſt thee, and imagined miſchief, but they ſhal not preuaile.

12 Therefore ſhalt thou put them h aparte, & the ſtrings of thy bowe ſhalt thou make ready againſt their faces.

13 i Be thou exalted, ô Lord, in thy ſtrēgth: ſo wil we ſing and praiſe thy power.

PSAL. XXII.

Dauid cōplained becauſe he was broght into ſuche extremities, that he was paſt all hope, but after he had rehearſed the ſorowes & griefs, wherewith he was vexed, 10 He recouereth him ſelf frō the bottomles pit of tentations and groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne perſone he ſetteth forthe the figure of Chriſt, whome he did foreſe by the Spirit of prophecie, that he ſhulde marueloufly, & ſtrangely be deiected, & abaſed, before his Father ſhulde raiſe & exalte him againe

¶ To him that excelleth vpon Aiéleth Haſſhá-har. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 MY a God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me, & art ſo farre from mine health, and from the wordes of my b roaring?

2 O my God, I crye by daie, but thou hearеſt not, & by night, but haue no audiēce.

3 But thou art holie, and doeſt inhabite the c praiſes of Iſraél.

4 Our fathers truſted in thee: they truſted, and thou dideſt deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they truſted in thee, and were not cōfuſided.

6 But I am a d worme, & not a man: a ſhame of men, and the contēpt of the people.

7 All they that ſe me, haue me in deriſion: they make a mowe & nod the head, ſaying,

8 "* He truſted in the Lord, let him deliuer him: let him ſaue him, ſeīg he loueth him.

9 But ỹ dideſt drawe me out of the e wombe: thou gaueſt me hope, euen at my mothers breaſts.

10 I was caſt vpon thee, euen from f the wombe: thou art my God from my mothers belly.

11 Be not farre from me, becauſe trouble is nere: for there is none to helpe me.

12 Manie yong bulles haue compaſſed me: mightie g bulles of Baſhán haue cloſed me about.

13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lion.

14 I am like h water powred out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.

15 My ſtrēgth is dryed vp like a potſheard, and my tongue cleueth to my iawes, and ỹ haſt broght me into the duſt of death.

16 For dogges haue compaſſed me, & the aſſemblie of the wicked haue incloſed me: they k perced mine hands and my fete.

17 I maie tel all my bones: yet thei beholde, and loke vpon me.

18 They paite my gaiments among them, and caſt lottes vpon my veſture.

19 But be not thou faire of, ô Lord, my ſtrength: haſten to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my ſoule from the ſworde: my l deſolate ſoule from the power of the dog.

21 m Saue me from the lions mouth, and anſwer me in ſauing me from the hornes of the vnicornes.

22 * I wil declare thy Name vnto my brethren: in the middes of the Congregaciō wil I praiſe thee, ſaying, 23 n Praiſe the Lord, ye that feare him: magnifie ye him, all the ſede of Iaakób, & feare ye him, all the ſede of Iſraél.

24 For he hathe not deſpiſed nor abhorred ỹ affliction of the o poore: nether hathe he hid his face from him, but when he called vnto him, he heard.

25 My praiſe ſhalbe of thee in the great Cōgregation: my p vowes wil I performe before them that feare him.

26 q The poore ſhal eat and be ſatiſfied: thei that ſeke after the Lord, ſhal praiſe him: your heart ſhal liue for euer.

27 All the ends of the worlde ſhal remembre them ſelues, and turne to the Lord: and all the kinreds of the nations ſhal worſhip before thee.

28 For the kingdome is the Lords, and he ruleth among the nations.

29 All thei that be fat r in the earth, ſhal eat and worſhip: all they that go downe into the duſt, ſhal bowe before him, ſ euen he that can not quicken his owne ſoule.

30 t Their ſede ſhal ſerue him: it ſhalbe coūted vnto the Lord for a generation.

31 Thei ſhal come, & ſhal declare his righteouſnes vnto a people that ſhal be borne, becauſe he hathe u done it.

PSAL. XXIII.

1 Becauſe the Prophet had proued the great mercies of God at diuerſe times, and in ſundrie maners, he gathereth a certeine aſſurance, fully perſuading him ſelf that God wil continue the verie ſame goodnes towards him for euer.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 THe Lord is my ſhepherd, a I ſhal not want.

2 He maketh me to reſt in grene paſture, & leadeth me by the ſtil waters.

3 He b reſtoreth my ſoule, & leadeth me in f This teacheth vs paciently to endure the croſſe til God deſtroye the aduerſarie

g Thei laied as it were their nets to make Gods power to giue place to their wicked enterpriſes

h As a marke to ſhote at i Maintein thy Church againſt thine aduerſaries, ỹ we may haue ample occaſiō to praiſe thy Name.

a Or, the hinde of the morning & ſhe was the name of ſome common ſong

a Here appeareth that horrible conflict, which he ſuſteined betwene faith & deſperation

b Being tormented with extreme anguiſh

c He meaneth the place of praiſing, euen the Tabernacle or els it is ſo called, becauſe he gaue ỹ people cōtinually occaſiō to praiſe him

d And ſeming moſte miſerable of all creatures, ẅ was mēt of Chriſt And herein appeareth the vnſpeakable loue of God toward man, that he wolde thus abaſe his Sonne for our ſakes

" Ebr ſoled vpō God

Matt 27,43.

e Euen frō my birth thou haſt giuen me occaſion to truſt in thee

f For except Gods prouidēce preſerue ỹ infants, they ſhulde periſh a thouſand times in the mothers wombe

g He meaneth, that his enemies were ſo fat, proude and cruel, that they were rather beaſtes then men

h Before, he ſpake of the cruelte of his enemies, and now he declareth the inwarde griefs of ỹ minde, ſo that Chriſt was tormented, bothe in ſoule and bodie.

i Thou haſt ſuffred me to be without all hope of life.

k Thus Dauid cōplaineth as though he were nailed by his enemies bothe hands & fete: but this was accompliſhed in Chriſt

l My life ỹ is ſolitarie, left alone & forſakē of all, Pſal. 35,17, & 25,16.

m Chriſt is deliuered ẅ a more mightie deliuerance by ouercomming death, then if he had not taſted death at all Ebr. 2,12.

n He promiſeth to exhort the Church ỹ thei by his example might praiſe ỹ Lord

o The poore afflicted are cōforted by this exāple of Dauid, or Chriſt.

p Which were ſacrifices of thankeſgiuig, which they offred by Gods commandemēt when thei were deliuered out of any great danger.

q He doeth allude ſtil to the ſacrifice

r Though ỹ poore be firſt named, as ver 26, yet ỹ welthie are not ſeparated frō the grace of Chriſts kingdome.

ſ In whome there is no hope that he ſhal recouer life: ſo nether poore nor riche, quicke nor dead ſhalbe reiected from his kingdome

t Meaning the poſteritie, ẅ the Lord keepeth as a ſede to the Church to continue his praiſe among men u That is, God hathe fulfilled his promes.

Iſa. 40,28. ier. 23,3. ezek. 34,23. ioh 10,11 1 pet 2,25.

a He hathe care ouer me & miniſtreth vnto me all thīgs

b He comforteth or refreſheth me.

e Plaine, or ſtreight wayes.
d Though he were in dager of death, as ỹ ſhepe that wãdreth in the darke valley without his ſhepherd.
e Albeit his enemies ſought to deſtroy him, yet God deliuereth him, & dealeth moſte liberally with him in deſpite of them
f As was the maner of great feaſtes.
g He ſetteth not his felicitie in the pleaſures of this worlde, but in ỹ feare & ſeruice of God.

the e paths of righteouſnes for his Names ſake.
4 Yea, thogh I ſhulde walke through the valley of the d ſhadow of death, I wil feare no euil: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy ſtaffe, they comfort me.
5 Thou doeſt prepare a e table before me in the ſight of mine aduerſaries: thou doeſt f anoint mine head with oyle, and my cup runneth ouer.
6 Douteles kindenes, & mercie ſhal follow me all the dayes of my life, and I ſhal remaine a long ſeaſon in the g houſe of the Lord.

PSAL. XXIIII.

Albeit the Lord God hathe made and gouerneth all the worlde, yet towards his choſen people his gracious goodnes doeth moſte abundantly appeare, in that among thẽ he wil haue his dwelling place. Which thogh it was appointed among the children of Abrahám, yet onely thei do entre aright into this Sanctuarie, which are the true worſhipers of God, purged from the ſinful filth of this worlde. 7 Finally he magnifieth Gods grace for the buylding of the Temple, to the end he might ſtirre vp all the faithful to the true ſeruice of God.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

Deu.10,14. 1 cor.10,26.
a He noteth two thigs: the one that the earth to mans iudgement ſemeth aboue the waters: & next, that God miraculouſly preſerueth the earth, that it is not drowned with the waters, which naturally are aboue it
b Thogh circũciſion ſeparate the carnal ſede of Iaakób from the Gẽtils, yet he ỹ ſeketh God, is ỹ true Iaakób & the verie Iſraelite
c Dauid deſireth the buylding vp of the Tẽple, wherein the glorie of God ſhulde appeare, and vnder the figure of this Tẽple he alſo prayeth for ỹ ſpiritual Tẽple, which is eternal, becauſe of the promes which was made to ỹ Tẽple: as is writẽ, Pſal 132,14.

THe earth * is the Lords, and all that therein is: the worlde and they that dwel therein:
2 For he hathe founded it vpon the a ſeas: and eſtabliſhed it vpon the floods.
3 Who ſhal aſcende into the mountaine of the Lord? and who ſhal ſtand in his holie place?
4 Euen he that hathe innocẽt hãds, & a pure heart: which hathe not lift vp his minde vnto vanitie, nor ſworne deceitfully.
5 He ſhal receiue a bleſsing frõ the Lord, & righteouſnes frõ the God of his ſaluacíõ.
6 This is the b generation of them that ſeke him, of them that ſeke thy face, this is Iaakób. Sélah.
7 c Lift vp your heades ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlaſting dores, and the King of glorie ſhal come in.
8 Who is this King of glorie? the Lord, ſtrong and mightie, euẽ the Lord mightie in battel.
9 Lift vp your heades, ye gates, and lift vp your ſelues, ye euerlaſting dores, & the King of glorie ſhal come in.
10 Who is this King of glorie? the Lord of hoſtes, he is the King of glorie. Sélah.

PSAL. XXV.

The Prophet touched with the conſideration of his ſinnes, and alſo grieued with the cruel malice of his enemies, 6 Prayeth to God moſte feruently to haue his ſinnes forgiuen. 7 Eſpecially ſuche as he had committed in his youth. He begynneth euerie verſe according to the Ebrewe letters two or thre except.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

a I put not my truſt in anie worldelie thing
b That thou wilt take awaie mine enemies, which are thy rods.

VNto thee, a ô Lord, lift I vp my ſoule.
2 My God, I b truſt in thee: let me not be confounded: let not mine enemies reioyce ouer me.
3 * So all that hope in thee, ſhal not be aſhamed: but let them be confounded, that trãſgreſſe without cauſe.
4 c Shew me thy waies, ô Lord, & teache me thy paths.
5 Lead me forthe in thy trueth, and teache me: for thou art the God of my ſaluacion: in thee do I truſt d all the daie.
6 Remember, ô Lord, thy tendre mercies, and thy louing kindenes: for thei haue bene for euer.
7 Remember not the e ſinnes of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindenes remember thou me, euen for thy goodnes ſake, ô Lord.
8 Gracious and righteous is the Lord: therefore wil he f teache ſinners in the waie.
9 Them that be meke, wil he g guide in iudgement, and teache the humble his waie.
10 All the paths of the Lord are mercie & trueth vnto ſuch as kepe his couenant and his teſtimonies.
11 For thy h Names ſake, ô Lord, be merciful vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.
12 What i man is he that feareth the Lord? him wil he teache the waie that he ſhal k chuſe.
13 His ſoule ſhal dwel at l eaſe, and his ſede ſhal inherite the land.
14 The m ſecret of the Lord is reueiled to them, that feare him: and his couenant to giue them vnderſtanding.
15 Mine eies are euer toward the Lord: for he wil bring my fete out of the net.
16 Turne thy face vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am deſolate and poore.
17 The ſorowes of mine heart n are enlarged: drawe me out of my troubles.
18 Loke vpon mine affliction & my trauel, and forgiue all my ſinnes.
19 Beholde mine o enemies, for thei are many, and they hate me with cruel hatred.
20 Kepe my ſoule, & deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I truſt in thee.
21 Let p mine vprightenes and equitie preſerue me: for mine hope is in thee.
22 Deliuer Iſraél, ô God, out of all his troubles.

Iſa 28,26. rom 10,11.
c Receiue me in ỹ faith of thy promes, that I ſwerue not on any ſide.
d Conſtantly, and againſt all tentations
e He confeſſeth ỹ his manifolde ſinnes were the cauſe that his enemies did thus perſecute hi, deſiring that the cauſe of the euil may be taken awaie, to the intent, that ỹ effect may ceaſe f That is, call them to repentanee:
g He wil gouerne & cõfort them that are truely hũbled for their ſinnes h And for none other reſpect.
i Meaning, the nomber is very ſmall k He wil direct ſuch w his Spirit to followe the right waie l He ſhal proſper both in ſpiritual and corporal thigs
m His counſel conteined in his worde, whereby he declareth that he is ỹ protector of the faithful n My grief is increaſed because of mine enemies cruel tie o The greater that his afflictions were, & the more that his enemies increaſed, the more nere felt he Gods helpe p For as muche as I haue behaued my ſelfe vprightly toward mine enemies, let them knowe that thou art the defender of my iuſte cauſe.

PSAL. XXVI.

Dauid oppreſſed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the worlde, calleth for aide from God: & aſſured of his integritie toward Saúl, deſireth God to be his iudge, & to defend his innocencie 6 Finally he maketh mencíõ of his ſacrifice, which he wil offre for his deliuerance, & deſireth to be in the cõpame of the faithful in the Cõgregacíõ of God, whẽce he was baniſhed by Saúl, promiſing integritie of life, & open praiſes & thãkeſgiuing.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

IVdge me, a ô Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocencie: my truſt hathe bene alſo in the Lord: therefore ſhal I not ſlide.
2 Proue me, ô Lord, and trye me: examine my a He ſeeth to God to be the Iudge of his iuſt cauſe, ſeing there is no equitie among men.

my [b] reines, and mine heart.

3 For thy [c] louing kindenes is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy trueth.

4 I haue not [d] hanted with vaine perſones, nether kept cõpanie with the diſſemblers.

5 I haue hated the aſſemblie of the euil, & haue not companied with the wicked.

6 I wil [e] waſh mine hands in innocencie, ô Lord, and compaſſe thine altar,

7 That I maie declare with the voice of thankeſgiuing, and ſet forthe all thy wonderous workes.

8 O Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thine houſe, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 [f] Gather not my ſoule with the ſinners, nor my life with the bloodie men:

10 In whoſe hands is [g] wickednes, and their right hand is ful of bribes.

11 But I wil walke in mine innocẽcie: redeme me therefore, and be merciful vnto me.

12 My fote ſtandeth in [h] vprightnes: I wil praiſe thee, ô Lord, in the Congregations.

PSAL. XXVII.

1 Dauid maketh thus pſalme being deliuered from great perils, as appeareth by the praiſes and thankeſgiuing annexed: 6 Wherein we may ſe the conſtant faith of Dauid againſt the aſſaltes of all his enemies, 7 And alſo the end wherefore he deſireth to liue and to be deliuered, onely to worſhip God in his Congregation.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 THe Lord is my [a] light and my ſaluation, whome ſhal I feare? the Lord is the ſtrength of my life, of whome ſhal I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon me to eat vp my fleſh they ſtumbled and fel.

3 Thogh an hoſte pitched againſt me, mine heart ſhulde not be afraid: thogh warre be raiſed againſt me, I wil truſt in [b] this.

4 [c] One thing haue I deſired of the Lord, that I wil require, euen that I may dwel in the houſe of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beautie of the Lord, & to viſite his Temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he ſhal hide me in his Tabernacle: in the ſecret place of his pauilion ſhal he hide me, & ſet me vp vpon a rocke.

6 [d] And now ſhal he lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies roũd about me: therfore wil I offer in his Tabernacle ſacrifices of ioye: I wil ſing and praiſe the Lord.

7 Hearken vnto my voice, ô Lord, when I crye: haue mercie alſo vpon me and heare me.

8 When thou ſaideſt, [e] Seke ye my face, mine heart anſwered vnto thee, O Lord, I wil ſeke thy face.

9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor caſt thy ſeruant awaie in diſpleaſure: thou haſt bene my ſuccour: leaue me not, nether forſake me, ô God of my ſaluation.

10 [f] Thogh my father and my mother ſhulde forſake me, yet the Lord wil gather me vp.

11 Teache me thy waie, ô Lord, and leade me in a right path, becauſe of mine enemies.

12 Giue me not vnto the [g] luſt of mine aduerſaries: for there are falſe witneſſes riſẽ vp againſt me, & ſuche as ſpeake cruelly.

13 I ſhulde haue fainted, except I had beleued to ſee the goodnes of the [h] Lord in the land of the liuing.

14 [i] Hope in the Lord: be ſtrong, & he ſhal comfort thine heart, & truſt in the Lord.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Being in great feare & heauines of heart to ſe God diſhonored by the wicked, he deſireth to be rid of them. 4 And cryeth for vengeance againſt them. & at length aſſureth him ſelfe, that God hathe heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whoſe tuition he commendeth all the faithful.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 VNto thee, ô Lord, do I crye: ô my ſtrength, be not deafe toward me, leſt, if thou anſwer me not, I be [a] like them that go downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voice of my petitions, when I crye vnto thee, when I holde vp mine hãds toward thine [b] holy Oracle.

3 [c] Drawe me not awaie with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which ſpeake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

4 [d] Reward them according to their dedes, and according to the wickednes of their inuentions: recompenſe them after the worke of their hands: rẽder them their reward.

5 For thei regard not the workes of ỹ Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore [e] breake them downe, & buylde thẽ not vp.

6 [f] Praiſed be the Lord, for he hathe heard the voice of my petitions.

7 The Lord is my ſtrength and my ſhield: mine heart truſted in him, and I was helped: therefore mine heart ſhal reioyce, & with my ſong wil I praiſe him.

8 The Lord is [g] their ſtrength, and he is the ſtrength of the deliuerances of his anoynted.

9 Saue thy people, and bleſſe thine inheritãce: fede them alſo, & exalt thẽ for euer.

PSAL. XXIX

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the worlde, (which for the moſte parte thinke there is no God) 3 At the leaſt to feare him for the thunders & tempeſtes, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And thogh thereby God threateneth ſinners yet is he alwaies merciful to him, & mouth thẽ thereby to praiſe his Name.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 GIue vnto the Lord, ye [a] ſonnes of the mighties: giue vnto the Lord glorie and ſtrength.

b My very affections & inward motions of the heart

c He ſheweth what ſtayed him, ỹ he did not recõpence euil for euil

d He declareth that thei can not walke in ſimplicitie before God, that delite in the companie of ỹ vngodlie

e I wil ſerue thee w a pure affection, and with the godlie that ſacrifice vnto thee.

f Deſtroye me not in ỹ ouerthrowe of the wicked.

g Whoſe cruel hands do execute the malicious deuiſes of their hearts

h I am preſerued from mine enemies by ỹ power of God, and therefore wil praiſe him openly.

a Becauſe he was aſſured of good ſucceſſe in all his dangers, and that his ſaluation was ſurely laid vp I God, he feared not the tyrãne of his enemies

b That God wil deliuer me, & giue my faith ỹ victorie

c The loſſe of countrie, wife & all worldely commodities greue me not in reſpect of this one thig, that I may not praiſe thy Name in the middes of the Cõgregacion

d Dauid aſſured him ſelfe by the Spirit of prophecie that he ſhulde ouercome his enemies and ſerue God in his Tabernacle.

e He groundeth vpõ Gods promes & ſheweth that he is moſt willing to obey his cõmandement.

f He magnifieth Gods loue towards his, which farre paſſeth the moſt tender loue of parẽts towards their children

g But ether pacifie their wrath, or bridel their rage.

h In this preſent life before I dye, as Iſa. 38, 11

i He exhorteth him ſelf to depẽde on ỹ Lord, ſeing he neuer failed in his promiſes.

a He counteth him ſelfe as a dead man, til God ſhew his fauour toward him, and grãte him his petition

b He vſed this outward meanes to helpe ỹ weaknes of his faith: for in ỹ place was the Arke, and there God promiſed to ſhewe the tokens of his fauour.

c Deſtroy not the good with the bad.

d He thus praieth in reſpect of Gods glorie, & not for his owne cauſe, being aſſured, that God wolde puniſh the perſecuters of his Church.

e Let them be vtterly deſtroyed, as Malach 1, 4

f Becauſe he felt the aſſurãce of Gods help in his heart, his mouthe was opened to ſing his praiſes

g Meaning, his ſoldiers, who were as meanes, by whome God declared his power.

a He exhorteth ỹ proude tyrants to hũble thẽ ſelues vnder Gods hand and not to be inferiour to brute beaſts & dũme creatures

2 Giue vnto the Lord glorie due vnto his Name: worſhip the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

3 The [b] voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glorie maketh it to thũder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mightie: the voice of the Lord is glorious.

5 The [c] voice of the Lord breaketh the cedres: yea, the Lord breaketh the cedres of Lebanón.

6 He maketh thẽ alſo to leape like a calfe: Lebanón alſo and [d] Shirión like a yong vnicorne.

7 The voice of the Lord deuideth the [e] flames of fyre.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the wildernes to tremble: the Lord maketh the wildernes of [f] Kadéſh to tremble.

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hindes to [g] calue, & [h] diſcouereth the foreſts: therefore in his [i] Temple doeth euerie man ſpeake of his glorie.

10 The Lord ſitteth vpon the [k] flood, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.

11 The Lord ſhal giue ſtrẽgth vnto his people: ỹ Lord ſhal bleſſe his people ẇ peace.

b The thunder clappes, that are heard out of ỹ cloudes, ought to make the wicked to tremble for fear of Gods angre

c That is, the thunderbolte breaketh the moſte ſtrong trees, and ſhal men thinke their power to be able to reſiſt God?

d Called alſo Hermón

e It cauſeth ỹ lightenings to ſhote & glyde

f In places moſt defolate, where as ſemeth there is no preſence of God.

g For feare maketh them to caſt their calues.

h Maketh the trees bare, or pereeth ỹ moſt ſecret places

i Thogh ỹ wicked are nothig moued, ẇ the ſcfights, yet ỹ faithfal praiſe God

k To moderat ỹ rage of the tempeſt & waters, that they deſtroy not alk

PSAL. XXX.

1 When Dauid was deliuered from great dãger, he rendred thankes to God, exhorting others to do the like. and to learne by his example, that God is rather merciful then ſeuere and rigorous towards his children. 8 And alſo that the fall from proſperitie to aduerſitie is ſudden. 9 Thus done, he returneth to prayer, promiſing to praiſe God for euer:

¶ * A Pſalme or ſong of the dedication of the [a] houſe of Dauid.

1 I Wil magnifie thee, ô Lord: [b] for thou haſt exalted me, and haſt not made my foes to reioyce ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cryed vnto thee, and thou haſt [c] reſtored me.

3 O Lord, thou haſt broght vp my [d] ſoule out of the graue: thou haſt reuiued me frõ them that go downe into the pit.

4 Sing praiſes vnto the Lord, ye [e] his Saints, and giue thankes [f] before the remembrãce of his Holines.

5 *For he endureth but a while in his angre: but in his fauour is life: weping maie abide at euening, but ioye cometh in the morning.

6 And in my [g] proſperitie I ſaid, I ſhal neuer be moued.

7 For thou Lord of thy goodnes hadeſt made my [h] mountaine to ſtand ſtrong: but ỹ dideſt hide thy face, and I [i] was troubled.

8 Then cryed I vnto thee, ô Lord, and prayed to my Lord.

9 What profit is there in my blood, whẽ I go downe to ỹ pit? ſhal the dũſt [k] giue thãkes vnto thee? or ſhal it declare thy trueth?

10 Heare, ô Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord, be thou mine helper.

11 Thou haſt turned my mourning into ioye: thou haſt looſed my ſacke & girded me with gladnes.

12 Therefore ſhal my [l] tongue praiſe thee and not ceaſe: ô Lord my God, I wil giue thankes vnto thee for euer.

a 2.Sam.7.2.

a After that Abſalõm had poiluted it ẇ moſte filthie fornication:

b He condemneth them of great ingratitude, which do not praiſe God for his benefites

c Reſtored frõ ỹ rebellion of Abſalõm

d Meaning ỹ he eſcaped death moſte narowly

e The worde ſignifieth thẽ, ỹ haue receiued mercie & ſhew mercie liberally vnto others

f Before his Tabernacle

Pſal. 145.8.
iſai.54.7.
2.cor.4.17.

g I put to muche confidẽce in my quiet ſtate, as Ier 31. 28.2 chr.32.24.

h I thoght ỹ hadeſt eſtabliſhed me in Sion moſte ſurely.

i After that ỹ hadeſt withdrawen thine helpe, I felt my miſerie

k Dauid meaneth that the dead are not profitable to the Congregacion of the Lord here in earth: therefore he wolde liue to praiſe his Name, which is the end of mans creation.

l Becauſe thou haſt preſerued me, ỹ my tongue ſhulde praiſe thee, I wil not be vnmindeful of my duetie.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 Dauid deliuered from ſome great dãger, firſt rehearſeth what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eies, his enemie being ready to take him. 15 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwaies readie to thoſe that feare him. 20 Finally he exhorteth all the faithful to truſt in God and to loue him, becauſe he preſerueth and ſtrẽgtheneth them, as they may ſe by his example.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 IN * thee, ô Lord, haue I put my truſt: let me neuer be confounded: deliuer me in thy [a] righteouſnes.

2 Bowe downe thine eare to me: make haſte to deliuer me: be vnto me a ſtrong rocke, & an houſe of defence to ſaue me.

3 For thou art my rocke and my fortres: therefore for thy Names ſake direct me & guide me.

4 Drawe me out of the [b] net, that they haue laied priuely for me: for thou art my ſtrength.

5 Into thine [c] hand I commende my ſpirit: for thou haſt redemed me, ô Lord God of trueth.

6 I haue hated them that giue them ſelues to deceitful vanities: for I [d] truſt in the Lord.

7 I wilbe glad and reioyce in thy mercie: for thou haſt ſene my trouble: thou haſt knowen my ſoule in aduerſities,

8 And thou haſt not ſhut me vp in the hãd of ỹ enemie, but haſt ſet my fete at [e] large.

9 Haue mercie vpon me, ô Lord: for I am in trouble: mine [f] eye, my ſoule & my belie are conſumed with grief.

10 For my life is waſted with heauines, and my yeres with mourning: my ſtrength faileth for my peine, & my bones are conſumed.

11 I was a [g] reproche among all mine enemies, but ſpecially among my neighbours: and a feare to mine acquaintance, [h] who ſeing me in the ſtrete, fled from me.

12 I am forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am like a broken veſſel.

13 For I haue heard the railing of [i] great men: feare was on euerie ſide, while they conſpired together againſt me, & conſulted to take my life.

14 But I truſted in thee, ô Lord: I ſaid, [k] Thou art my God.

15 My [l] times are in thine hand: deliuer me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that perſecute me.

2.Sam.23.24

a For thẽ God declareth him ſelf iuſte, whẽ he preſerueth his according as he hathe promiſed.

b Preſerue me from the craftie counſels & ſubtil practiſes of mine enemies

c He deſireth God not onely to take care for him in this life, but that his ſoule may be ſaued after this life

d This affectiõ ought to be in all Gods children, to haue whatſoeuer thing is not grounded vpõ a ſure truſt in God, as deceitful and vaine.

e Largenes ſignifieth cõfort, as ſtraitnes ſorow and peril.

f Meanig, that his ſorow and torment had continued a great while.

g Mine enemies had drawen all mẽ to their parte againſt me, euẽ my chief friends

h They were afraied to ſhew me ante token of frendſhip

i They ỹ were in autoritie, condemned me as a wicked doer.

k I had this teſtimonie of conſcience, ỹ thou wolde defend mine innocencie.

l Whatſoeuer changes come, thou gouerneſt them by thy prouidence.

16 Make

87/1224

16 Make thy face to ſhine vpon thy ſeruãt, & ſaue me through thy mercie.
17 Let me not be confounded, ô Lord: for I haue called vpon thee: let the wicked be put to confuſion, & [m] to ſilence in ỹ graue.
18 Let the lying lippes be made dumme, which cruelly, proudely & ſpitefully ſpea-ke againſt the righteous.
19 How great is thy goodnes, which thou [n] haſt laied vp for them, that feare thee! & done to them, that truſt in thee, euen before the ſonnes of men!
20 Thou doeſt hide them" [o] priuely in thy preſence from the pride of men: thou kepeſt them ſecretly in thy Tabernacle frõ
the ſtrife of tongues.
21 Bleſſed be the Lord: for he hathe ſhewed his [p] maruelous kindenes towarde me in a [p] ſtrong citie.
22 Thogh I ſaid in mine [q] haſte, I am caſt out of thy ſight, yet ỹ heardeſt the voyce of my prayer, when I cryed vnto thee.
23 Loue ye the Lord all his [r] Saints: for the Lord preſerueth the faithful, and reward-eth abundantly the proude doer.
24 All ye that truſt in the Lord, be [r] ſtrong, and he ſhal eſtabliſh your heart.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 Dauid puniſhed with grieuous ſickne for his ſinnes, counteth them bleſſed, to whome God doeth not impute their tranſgreſsions 5 And after that he had confeſſed his ſinnes and obteined pardon, 6 He exhorteth the wicked men to liue godly, 11 And the good to reioyce.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid to giue [a] inſtruction.

1 BLeſſed is he whoſe wickednes is [b] forgiuen, & whoſe ſinne is couered.
2 Bleſſed is the man, vnto whome the Lord imputeth not iniquitie, & in whoſe ſpirit there is no guile.
3 When I helde my [c] tongue, my bones
conſumed, or when I [d] roared all the day, 4 (For thine hãd is heauie vpon me, daie & night: & my moiſture is turned into the drought of ſummer. Sélah) 5 Thẽ I [e] acknowledged my ſinne vnto thee, nether hid I mine iniquitie: for I thoght, I wil confeſſe againſt my ſelf my wickednes vnto the Lord, and thou forgaueſt the puniſhment of my ſinne. Sélah.
6 Therefore ſhal euerie one, that is godlie, make his prayer vnto thee in a [f] time, when thou maieſt be founde: ſurely in the flood of great waters [g] they ſhal not come nere
him.
7 Thou art my ſecret place: thou preſerueſt me from trouble: thou compaſſeſt me about with ioyful deliuerance. Sélah.
8 I wil [h] inſtruct thee, & teache thee in the way, that thou ſhalt go, & I wil guide thee with mine eye.
9 Be ye not like an horſe, or like a mule, which vnderſtand not: whoſe [i] mouthes thou doeſt binde with bit and bridel, leſt they come nere thee.
10 Many ſorowes ſhal come to the wicked:
but he, that truſteth in the Lord, mercie
ſhal compaſſe him.
11 Be glad ye righteous, & [k] reioyce in the Lord, and be ioyful all ye, that are vpright in heart.

PSAL. XXXIII.

1 He exhorteth good men to praiſe God for that he hathe not onely created all things, and by his prouidence gouerneth the ſame, but alſo is faithful in his promiſes, 10 He vnderſtandeth mans heart, and ſtaggereth the counſel of the wicked. 16 So that no man can be preſerued by any creature or mans ſtrength but they, that put their confidence in his mercie, ſhalbe preſerued frõ all aduerſities.

1 REioyce in the Lord, ô ye righteous:
for it [a] becometh vpright men to be thankeful.
2 Praiſe ỹ Lord with harpe: ſing vnto him with viole & [b] inſtrument of ten ſtrings 3 Sing vnto him a new ſong: ſing cherefully with a loude voyce.
4 For the [c] worde of the Lord is righteous, and all his [d] workes are faithful.
5 He [e] loueth righteouſnes & iudgement:
the earth is ful of the goodnes of ỹ Lord.
6 By the worde of the Lord were the hea-uens made, and all the hoſte of them by the breath of his mouth.
7 He [f] gathereth the waters of the ſea together as vpon an heape, and laieth vp the depths in his treaſures.
8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: let all thẽ that dwel in the worlde, feare him.
9 For he ſpake, & it was done: he commanded, and it "ſtode.
10 The Lord breaketh the [g] counſel of the heathen, & bringeth to noght the deuiſes of the people.
11 The counſel of the Lord ſhal ſtand for euer, & the thoghts of his heart through out all ages.
12 Bleſſed is that nacion, whoſe [h] God is the Lord: euen the people, that he hathe choſen for his inheritance.
13 The Lord [i] loketh downe from heauen, & beholdeth all the children of men.
14 From the habitacion of his dwelling he beholdeth all then. that dwel in the earth.
15 He [k] facioneth their hearts euerie one,
& vnderſtandeth all their workes.
16 The [l] King is not ſaued by the multitude of an hoſte, nether is the mightie mã deliuered by great ſtrength.
17 A horſe is a vaine helpe, and ſhal not de-liuer anie by his great ſtrength.
18 Beholde, [m] the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him, & vpon them, that truſt in his mercie,

m Let death deſtroy them to the intent ỹ they may hurt no more n The treaſures of Gods mercie are alwaies laied vp in ſtore for his childrẽ, albeit at all times they do not enioye them
o Heb. in the ſecret of thy face
o That is, in a place where they ſhal haue thy cõfort, & be hid ſafely from the enemies pride p Meaning, there was no citie ſo ſtrong to preſerue him, as ỹ defence of Gods fauour.
q And ſo by my raſhnes & infidelitie deſerued to haue bene forſaken
"Or, ye that feele hauenesse
r Be conſtant in your vocation, and God wil confirme you with heauenlie ſtrẽgth Pſal XXXII
a Concerning the free remiſſion of ſinnes, which is the chiefeſt point of our faith
b To be iuſtified by faith, is to haue our ſinnes freely remitted, and to be reputed iuſt, Rom 4, 6
c Betweene hope and deſpaire d Nether by ſilence nor crying could I eaſe: ſignifying, that before the ſinner be reconciled to God, he feeleth a perpetual torment
e He ſheweth that as Gods mercie is the onelie cauſe of forgiuenes of ſinnes, ſo the meanes therof are repentance and confeſſion, which procede of faith
f When neceſſitie cauſeth him to ſeke to thee for helpe, Iſa 55, 6.
g To wit, the waters and great dangers h Dauid promiſeth to make the reſt of Gods childrẽ partakers of ỹ benifites, which he felt, & that he wil diligẽtly loke and take care to direct them in the waie of ſaluation.
i If men can rule brute beaſtes, thinke then, that God wil not bridle and tame their rage?

a It is the duetie of the godlie to ſet forthe ỹ prayſes of God for his mercie & power ſhewed towarde thẽ
b To ſing on inſtruments was a parte of the ceremonial ſeruice of the Tẽple, which doeth no more apperteine vnto vs, then the ſacrifices, cenſing, & lights.
c That is cõſel or cõmandement in gouerning the worlde
d That is, the effect & execution
e Howſoeuer ỹ worlde iudgeth of Gods workes, yet he doeth all things accordig to iuſtice & mercie.
f By the creation of ỹ heauens & beautiful ornamẽt, with the gathering alſo of the waters he ſeeketh forthe the power of God, that all creatures might feare him
*Or, are created g No counſel can preuail againſt God, but he defeateth it & it ſhal haue euil ſucces h He ſheweth that all our felicitie ſtãdeth in this, that ỹ Lorde is our God.
i He proueth that all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence & not by fortune k Therfore he knoweth their wicked enterprifes
l If Kings and the mightie of the worlde can not be ſaued by worldelie meanes, but onely by Gods prouidence, what haue others to truſt in, that haue not like meanes?
m God ſheweth that towarde his of his mercie, which man by no meanes is able to compaſſe.

k He ſheweth that peace & ioy of cõſcience in the holie Goſt is ỹ fruite of faith.

19 To deliuer their ſoules from death, and to preſerue them in famine.

n Thus he ſpeaketh in ỹ name of the whole Church, which only depend on Gods prouidence.

20 n Our ſoule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our ſhield.

21 Surely our heart ſhal reioyce in him, becauſe we truſted in his holie Name.

22 Let thy mercie, ô Lord, be vpon vs, as we truſt in thee.

PSAL. XXXIIII.

1 After Dauid had eſcaped Achiſh, according as it is written in the 1. Sam 21,11, whome in this title he calleth Abimélech (which was a general name to all the Kings of the Philiſtims) he praiſeth God for his deliuerance. 3 Prouoking all others by his example to truſt in God to feare & ſerue him: 14 Who defendeth the godlie with his Angels. 15 And vtterly deſtroyeth the wicked in their ſinnes.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid, when he changed his behauiour before Abimélech, who drone him awaie, & he departed.

a He promiſeth 1 I Wil a alwaie giue thankes vnto the Lord: his praiſe ſhalbe in my mouth continually.

neuer to become vnmindeful of Gods great benefite for his deliuerance

2 My ſoule ſhal glorie in the Lord: the b hũble ſhal heare it, and be glad.

b Thei ỹ are beaten downe with the experience of their owne euils

3 Praiſe ye the Lord with me, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I ſought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my c feare.

c Which I cõceiued for the dangers wherein I was.

5 They d ſhal loke vnto him, and runne to him: and their faces ſhal not be aſhamed, ſaying, d Thei ſhalbe bolde to flee to thee for ſuccour, whẽ thei ſhal ſe thy mercies towarde me

6 This poore man cryed, & the Lord heard him, and ſaued him out of all his troubles.

e Thogh Gods power be ſufficient to gouerne vs, yet for mans infirmitie he appointeth his Angels towatche ouer vs

7 The e Angel of the Lord pitcheth roũde about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

f The godlie by their patient obedience get more then thei, which rauine & ſpoile.

8 Taſte ye & ſe, how gracious the Lord is: bleſſed is the man that truſteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The f lyons do lacke and ſuffer hungre, but they, which ſeke the Lord, ſhal g want nothing that is good.

g If thei abide the laſt tryal.

11 Come children, hearken vnto me: I wil teache you the h feare of the Lord.

h That is, the true religiõ & worſhip of God

12 k What man is he, that deſireth life, and loueth long daies for to i ſe good?

1. Pet. 3, 10.

13 Kepe thy tongue from euil, and thy lippes, that they ſpeake no guile.

i Seing all mẽ naturally deſire felicitie, he wondereth why thei caſt them ſelues willingly into miſerie

14 Eſchew euil and do good: ſeke peace & followe after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, & his eares are open vnto their crye.

k The angre of God doeth not onely deſtroie the wicked, but alſo aboliſheth their name for euer 16 But the k face of the Lord is againſt them that do euil, to cut of their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous crye, and the Lord heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

l When thei ſeme to be ſwallowed vp w̃ afflictions, thẽ God is at hãd to deliuer them.

18 The Lord is nere vnto them that are of a l contrite heart, and wil ſaue ſuche as be afflicted in ſpirit.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but ỹ Lord deliuereth him out of thẽ all.

20 m He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

m And as Chriſt ſaith, all the hceres of his head

21 But malice ſhal ſlay the n wicked: & thei that hate the righteous, ſhal periſh.

n Their wicked entrepriſes ſhal turne to their owne deſtruction

22 The Lord • redemeth the ſoules of his ſeruants: & none, ỹ truſt in him, ſhal periſh.

o For when thei ſeme to be ouercome with great dãgers & death it ſelf, then God ſheweth him ſelf their redemer

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saúl was enemie to Dauid, all that had ane autoritie vnder him to flatter their King (as u the courſe of the worlde) did alſo moſte cruelly perſecute Dauid againſt whome he prayeth God to pleade & to auenge his cauſe. 8 That they may be taken in their nets & ſnares, which thei layed for him, that his innocẽcie may be declared. 27 And that the innocents, which taketh parte with him, maie reioyce & praiſe the Name of the Lord, that thus deliuereth his ſeruãt. 28 And ſo he promiſeth to ſpeake forthe the iuſtice of the Lord, & to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

A Pſalme of Dauid.

Pſal XXXV

a He deſireth God to vndertake his cauſe againſt them that did perſecute him and ſclander him

b Albeit God can with his breath deſtroy all his enemies, yet ỹ holie Goſt attributeth vnto him theſe outward weapons to aſſure vs of his preſent power

1 PLeade thou my a cauſe, ô Lord, with them that ſtriue with me: fight thou againſt them, that fight againſt me.

2 b Laie hand vpon the ſhield and buckler, and ſtand vp for mine helpe.

c Aſſure me againſt theſe tentatiõs, that thou art ỹ autor of my ſaluation

3 Bring out alſo the ſpeare and ſtoppe the waie againſt them, that perſecute me: ſaie vnto my c ſoule, I am thy ſaluacion.

d Smite them with the ſpirit of giddines that their entrepriſes may be fooliſh, & thei receiue iuſte rewarde.

4 Let thẽ be confounded & put to ſhame, that ſeke after my ſoule: let them be turned backe, and broght to confuſion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the winde, and let the Angel of the Lord d ſcater them.

e Shewing ỹ we may not call God to be a reuenger, but onely for his glorie, & whẽ our cauſe is iuſte

6 Let their waie be darke & ſlipperie: & let the Angel of the Lord perſecute them.

7 For e without cauſe thei haue hid the pit and their net for me: without cauſe haue they digged a pit for my ſoule.

f When he promiſeth to him ſelfe peace

8 Let deſtruction come vpon f him at vnwares, & let his net, that he hathe laied priuely, take him: let him fall into it ſelf the ſame deſtruction.

g Which he prepared againſt the children of God.

9 Thẽ my ſoule ſhalbe ioyful in the Lord: it ſhal reioyce in his ſaluacion.

h He attributeth his deliuerance onely to God, praiſing him therfore bothe in ſoule & body

10 All my h bones ſhal ſaie, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuereſt the poore from him, that is to ſtrong for him! yea, the poore and him that is in miſerie, from him that ſpoileth him!

i That wolde not ſuffre me to purge my ſelf

11 i Cruel witneſſes did riſe vp: thei aſked of me things that I knewe not.

k To haue taken from me all comfort & broght me in to diſpaire.

12 They rewarded me euil for good, to k haue ſpoiled my ſoule.

l I prayed for them with toward affectiõ, as I wolde haue done for my ſelfe. or I declared mine affection with bowing downe mine head 13 Yet I, when thei were ſicke, I was clothed with a ſacke: I humbled my ſoule with faſting: and l my praier was turned vpon my boſome.

m When thei ſaw me ready to ſlip and as one that halted for aduerſitie

14 I behaued my ſelfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my ſelfe, mourning as one that bewaileth his mother.

15 But in mine m aduerſitie thei reioyced, & gathered them ſelues together: the abiects ie&s aſſembled them ſelues againſt me, & I knewe not: they tare [n] me & ceaſed not, 16 With the falſe ſkoffers at [o] bankets, gnaſhing their teeth againſt me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou beholde this? deliuer my ſoule from their tumulte, euen my deſolate ſoule from the lions.
18 So wil I giue thee thankes in a great Cõgregacion: I wil praiſe thee among muche people.
19 Let not them that are mine enemies, vniuſtly reioyce ouer me, nether let them [p] winke with the eye, that hate me without a cauſe.
20 For they ſpeake not as friends: but they imagine deceitful wordes againſt the [q] quiet of the land.
21 And they gaped on me with their mouthes, ſaying, Aha, aha, [r] our eye hathe ſene.
22 Thou haſt ſene it, ô Lord: kepe not ſilẽce: be not farre from me, ô Lord.
23 Ariſe and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cauſe, my God, and my Lord.
24 Iudge me, ô Lord my God, according to thy [s] righteouſnes, and let them not reioyce ouer me.
25 Let them not ſaye in their hearts, [t] O our ſoule reioyce: nether let them ſaye, We haue deuoured him.
26 Let them be confounded, and put to ſhame [u] together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed [v] with cõfuſion and ſhame, that lift vp them ſelues againſt me.
27 But let thẽ be ioyful & glad, [x] that loue my righteouſnes: yea, let them ſaye alwaie, Let the Lord be magnified, which loueth the [y] proſperitie of his ſeruant.
28 And my tõgue ſhal vtter thy righteouſnes, & thy praiſe euerie day.

n With their railing wordes
o The worde ſignifieth cakes meaning that the proud courtears at their deinty feaſts ſkoff, raile, and conſpire his death p In token of contempt and mocking q Or, clefts of the earth: meaning him ſelf & others in their miſerie.
r Thei reioyced as though they had now ſene Dauid ouerthrowen.
s It is the iuſtice of God to giue to the oppreſſers affliciõ & tormẽt, & to ſ oupreſſed, aide and relief, 2. Theſ. 1, 6.
t Becauſe we haue that, w we ſoght for, ſeing he is deſtroyed.
u That is, at once, were thei neuer ſo manie or mightie.
v This praier ſhal alwaies be verified againſt them, ſ perſecute the faithful.
x That at leaſt fauour my right, though they be not able to helpe me.
y He exhorteth ſ Church to praiſe God for the deliuerance of his ſeruants, & for the deſtructiõ of his aduerſaries.

PSAL. XXXVI.

1 The Prophet grieuouſly Vexed by the wicked, doeth cõplaine of their malicious wickednes. 6 Then he turneth to cõſider the vnſpeakable goodnes of God towards all creatures. 9 But ſpecially towards his children, that by the faith thereof he may be comforted & aſſured of his deliuerance by the ordinarie courſe of Gods worke. 13 Who in the end deſtroyeth the wicked & ſaueth the iuſte.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſal. of Dauid, the ſeruant of the Lord.

1 WIckednes ſaieth to ſ wicked mã, [a] euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.
2 For he [b] flattereth him ſelf in his owne eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthie to be hated.
3 The wordes of his mouthe are iniquitie and [c] deceite: he hathe left of to vnderſtand & to do good.
4 He [d] imagineth miſchief vpon his bed: he ſetteth him ſelfe vpon a waie, that is not good & doeth not abhorre euil.
5 Thy [e] mercie, ô Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfulnes vnto the cloudes.
6 Thy righteouſnes is like the [f] mightie mountaines: thy iudgemẽts are like a great [f] deepe: thou, Lord, doeſt ſaue man and beaſt.
7 How excellent is thy mercie, ô God! therefore the children of men truſt vnder the ſhadowe of thy wings.
8 They ſhal be [g] ſatiſfied with the fatnes of thine houſe, & thou ſhalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleaſures.
9 For with thee is the well of life, & in thy light ſhal we ſe light.
10 Extend thy louing kindenes vnto them that [h] knowe thee, and thy righteouſnes vnto them that are vpright in heart.
11 Let not the [i] fote of pride come againſt me, and let not the hand of the wicked mẽ moue me.
12 [k] There they are fallen that worke iniquitie: they are caſt downe, and ſhal not be able to riſe.

a Tſe euidẽtly by his dedes, that ſinne puſheth forward ſ reprobat frõ wickednes to wickednes, albeit he go about to couer his impietie.
b Thogh all other deteſt his vile ſinne, yet he himſelf ſeeth it not.
c The reprobat mocke at holſome doctrine and put not difference betwene good and euil
d By deſcribing at large the nature of the reprobat, he admoniſheth the godlie to beware of theſe vices.
e Thogh wickednes ſemeth to ouerfloe all the worlde, yet by thine heauenlie prouidence thou gouerneſt heauen & earth.
f Hebr. the mõtains of God: for whatſoeuer is excellent, is thus called.
f The depth of thy prouidence gouerneth all things, and diſpoſeth thẽ, albeit the wicked ſeme to ouerwhelme the worlde.
g Onely Gods children haue ynough of all things both cõcerning this life & the life to come.
h He ſheweth who are Gods children, to wit. th.) know him, and leal their liues vprightly.
i Let not the proude aduãce him ſelf againſt me, nether ſ power of the wicked drive me away k That is, in their pride wherein they flatter them ſelues.

PSAL. XXXVII.

1 This Pſalme contemneth exhortation & conſolation for the weake, that are grieued at the proſperitie of the wicked, & the affliction of the godlie. 7 For how proſperouſly ſoeuer the wicked do liue for the time, he doeth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and tranſitorie, becauſe they are not in the fauour of God, but in the end they are deſtroyed as his enemies. 11 And how miſerably that the righteous ſemeth to liue in the worlde, yet his end is peace, & he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked & preſerued.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 FReate not [a] thy ſelf becauſe of the wicked men, nether be enuious for the euil doers.
2 For they ſhal ſoone be [b] cut downe like graſſe, and ſhal wither as the grene herbe.
3 [c] Truſt thou in the Lord & do good: dwel in the land, & thou ſhalt be fed aſſuredly.
4 And delite thy ſelf in the Lord, and he ſhal giue thee thine hearts deſire.
5 [d] Commit thy waye vnto the Lord, and truſt in him, and he ſhal bring it to paſſe.
6 And he ſhal bring forthe thy righteouſnes as the light, & thy [e] iudgement as the noone daye.
7 Waite pacrently vpon the Lord & hope in him: freat not thy ſelf for him [f] which proſpereth in his waye: nor for the mã that bringeth his entrepriſes to paſſe.
8 Ceaſe from angre, & leaue of wrath: freat not thy ſelfe [g] alſo to do euil.
9 For euil doers ſhalbe cut of, and they that waite vpon the Lord, they ſhal inherite the land.
10 [h] Therefore yet a litle while, and the a He admoniſheth vs nether to vexe our ſelues for the proſperous eſtate of ſ wicked, nether to deſire to be like thẽ to make our ſtate the better.

b For Gods iudgmẽt cutteth downe their ſtate in a moment.
c To truſt in God, and do according to his wil, are ſure toxens, that his prouidence wil neuer faile vs.
d Be not led by thine owne wiſdome, but obey God, and he wil finiſh his worke in thee.
e As the hope of ſ dailighs cauſeth vs not to be offended with the darkenes of the night: ſo ought we pacientlie to truſt that God wil cleare our cauſe and reſtore vs to our right.
f When God ſuffreth the wicked to proſper, it ſemeth to the fleſh that he fauoreth their doings.
g Meaning, except he moderate his affectiõs, he ſhalbe led to do as they do.
h He correcteth the impacience of our nature, which can not abide til the fulnes of Gods time be come.

wicked ſhal not appeare, and thou ſhalt loke after his place; and he ſhal not be founde.

11 But * meeke men ſhal poſſeſſe the earth, and ſhal haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

12 ⁱ The wicked practiſeth againſt the iuſt, and gnaſheth his teeth againſt him.

13 But the Lord ſhal laugh him to ſcorne: for he ſeeth, that his daye is coming.

14 The wicked haue drawne their ſworde, and haue bent their bowe, to caſt downe the poore and nedie, and to ſlay ſuche as be of vpright conuerſation.

15 But their ſworde ſhal entre into their owne heart, & their bowes ſhal be broken.

16 ᵏ A ſmall thing vnto the iuſt man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked ſhalbe broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the iuſt men.

18 The Lord ˡ knoweth ỹ dayes of vpright men, and their inheritance ſhalbe perpetual.

19 They ſhal not be cõfounded in the perilous time, and in the dayes of famine they ſhal haue ᵐ ynough.

20 But the wicked ſhal periſh, and the enemies of the Lord ſhalbe conſumed as the ⁿ fat of lambes: euen with the ſmoke ſhal they conſume awaye.

21 The wicked boroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is merciful, and ° giueth.

22 For ſuche as be bleſſed of God, ſhal inherit the land, & they that be curſed of him, ſhalbe cut of.

23 ᵖ The paths of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his waye.

24 Thogh he ᑫ fall, he ſhal not be caſt of: for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong and am olde: yet I ſaw neuer the righteous forſaken, nor his ʳ ſede begging bread.

26 But he is euer merciful and lendeth, and his ſede enioyeth the bleſsing.

27 Flee from euil and do good, and dwel for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, & forſaketh not his Saints: they ſhalbe preſerued for euermore: but the ſede of the wicked ſhalbe cut of.

29 The righteous mẽ ſhal inherit the land, and dwel therein ˢ for euer.

30 The ᵗ mouth of the righteous wil ſpeake of wiſdome, and his tongue wil talke of iudgement.

31 For the Law of his God is in his heart, & his ſteppes ſhal not ſlide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and ſeketh to ſlay him.

33 But ỹ Lord wil not leaue him in his hãd, nor condemne him, when he is ᵘ iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Lord, and kepe his waye, & he ſhal exalt thee, that thou ſhalt inherit the lãd: when the wicked men ſhal periſh, thou ſhalt ſe.

35 I haue ſene the wicked ſtrong, & ſpreading him ſelf like a grene baye tre.

36 Yet he ˣ paſſed away, and lo, he was gone, and I ſoght him, but he colde not be founde.

37 ʸ Marke the vpright man, and beholde the iuſt: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the tranſgreſſours ſhalbe deſtroyed together, and the end of the wicked ſhalbe cut of.

39 But the ᶻ ſaluation of the righteous mẽ ſhalbe of the Lord: he ſhalbe their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord ſhal helpe them, and deliuer them: he ſhal deliuer them from the wicked, and ſhal ſaue them, becauſe they truſt in him.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

ᵃ Dauid lying ſicke of ſome grieuous diſeaſe, acknowledgeth him ſelf to be chaſtiſed of the Lord for his ſinnes, & therefore praieth God to turne away his wrath. 5 He vttereth the greatnes of his grief by manie wordes & circumſtances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forſaken of his friends, euil intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the end with firme confidence he commendeth his cauſe to God, & hopeth for ſpedie helpe at his hand.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid for ᵃ remembrance.

O Lord, rebuke me not in thine ᵇ angre, nether chaſtiſe me in thy wrath.

2 For thine ᶜ arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lyeth vpon me.

3 There is nothing ſounde in my fleſh, becauſe of thine angre: nether is there reſt in my bones becauſe of my ᵈ ſinne.

4 For ᵉ mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, & as a weightie burden they are to heauie for me.

5 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt becauſe of ᶠ my fooliſhnes.

6 I am bowed, and croked very ſore: I go ᵍ mourning all the daye.

7 For my reines are ful of burning, & there is nothing ſounde in my fleſh.

8 I am weakened and ſore broken: I ʰ roare for the verie grief of mine heart.

9 Lord, I powre my whole deſire before thee, and my ſighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart "panteth: my ſtrength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen ⁱ thei are not mine owne.

11 My louers and my friends ſtand aſide from my plague, and my ᵏ kinſmen ſtand a farre of.

12 They alſo, that ſeke after my life, laye ſnares, and they that go about to do me euil, talke wicked things and imagine deceite continually.

Matth 5.5.

i The godlie are aſſured ỹ the power and craft of the wicked ſhal not preuail againſt them, but fall on their owne neckes, & therfore ought patiently to abide Gods time, & in the meane while bewaile their ſinnes, & offer vp their teares as a ſacrifice of their obedience.

k For thei are daily fed as ẅ Manna frõ heauen, & haue ſufficient, when ỹ wicked haue neuer ynough, but euer hũgre.

l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, & by what meanes to deliuer them.

m For God wil giue them cõtẽted mindes, & that ẅ ſhalbe neceſſarie.

n They ſhal vaniſh awaye ſuddenly: for they are fed for the date of ſlaughter.

° God ſo furniſheth him with his bleſſing, that he is able to helpe others.

p God proſpereth the faithful, becauſe they walke in his waies with an vpright cõſcience.

ᑫ When God doeth exerciſe his faith ẅ diuers tentations.

r Thogh the iuſt man dye, yet Gods bleſſings are extended to his poſteritie, and thogh God ſuffer ſome iuſte man to lacke temporal benefites, yet he recõpenſeth him with ſpiritual treaſures.

ſ They ſhal continually be preſerued vnder Gods wings, and haue at leaſt inwarde reſt.

t Theſe thre pointes are required of the faithful, that their talke be godlie, ỹ Goas Law be in their heart, & that their life be vpright.

u Though it be ſometime ſo expedient both for Gods glorie & our ſaluation that he wil approue their cauſe, & reuenge their wrong.

x So that the proſperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vaniſheth away in a moment.

y He exhorteth the faithful to marke diligently the exãples bothe of Gods mercies, & alſo of his iudgemẽts.

z He ſheweth that ỹ patient hope of the godlie is neuer in vaine, but in the end hathe good ſucces, though for a time God proue them by ſundrie tentations.

ᵃ To put him ſelf & others in minde of Gods chaſtiſement for ſinne.

b He deſireth not to be exẽpted frõ Gods rod, but that he wolde ſo moderate his hand, that he might be able to beare it.

c Thy ſickenes, wherewith thou haſt viſited me.

d Dauid acknowledgeth God to be iuſte in his puniſhments becauſe his ſins had deſerued muche more.

e He cõfeſſeth his ſins, Gods iuſtice, & maketh prayer his refuge.

f That rather gaue place to mine owne luſtes, then to the wil of God.

"Or, blacke, or ſuch that is diſfigured & conſumed with ſickenes.

g This exãple warneth vs neuer to deſpaire, be the torment neuer ſo great but alwaies to crye vnto God with ſure truſt for deliuerance.

"Ebr. Kumeth about, or, is toſſed to & fro, meaning that he was deſtitute of all helpe & counſel.

h My ſight faileth me for verie ſorowe.

i Partely for feare, and partely for pride they denied all dueties and friendſhip.

13 But I as [k] a deafe man heard not, and am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.
14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, & in whoſe mouth are no reproſes.
15 For on thee, ô Lord, do I waite: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.
16 For I ſaid, Heare me, leſt they reioyce ouer me: for [l] when my fote ſlippeth, they extoll them ſelues againſt me.
17 Surely I am ready to [m] halte, and my ſorow is euer before me.
18 When I declare my peine, & am ſorie for my ſinne,
19 Then mine [n] enemies are aliue & are mightie, and they that hate me wrongfully are manie.
20 They alſo, that rewarde euil for good, are mine aduerſaries, becauſe I followe [o] goodnes.
21 Forſake me not, ô Lord: be not thou farre from me, my God.
22 Haſte thee to helpe me, ô my Lord, my [p] ſaluation.

k For I can haue no audiẽce before mẽ, and therefore pacíently waite for the helpe of God.
l That is, if they ſe ỹ thou ſuccourme not in time, they wil mocke & triumph, as thogh thou hadeſt forſaken me m I am without hope to recouer my ſtrength n To my greateſt miſerie they moſt reioyce
o He had rather haue the hatred of all ỹ worlde, thẽ to faile in ante parte of his ductie to God ward p Which are the autor of my ſaluation: & this declareth that he prayed vpõ ſure hope of deliuerance.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 Dauid vttereth with what great grief & bitternes of minde he was driuen to theſe outrageous complaints of his infirmities 2 For he confeſſeth that when he had determined ſilence, that he braſt forthe yet into wordes that he wolde not, through the greatnes of his grief 4 Then he rehearſeth certeine requeſtes which taſte of the infirmitie of mã. 8 And maketh with thẽ manie prayers. but all do ſhewe a minde wonderfully troubled, that it maye plainely appeare how he did ſtriue mightely againſt death and diſperation.

¶ To the excellent muſician [a] Iedithũn. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 I Thoght, [b] I wil take hede to my waies, that I ſinne not with my tõgue: I wil kepe my mouth brideled, while the wicked is in my ſight.
2 I was dumme and ſpake nothing: I kept ſilence euen from good, [c] and my ſorow was more ſtirred.
3 Mine heart was hote within me, and while I was muſing, the fyre kindled, & [d] I ſpake with my tongue, ſaying,
4 Lord, let me know mine end, & the meaſure of my dayes, what it is: let me know how long I haue to liue.
5 Beholde, thou haſt made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in reſpect of thee: ſurely euerie man in his beſt ſtate is altogether [e] vanitie. Sélah.
6 Douteles man walketh in a ſhadowe, and diſquieteth him ſelf in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, & cã not tel who ſhal gather thẽ.
7 And now Lord, what waite I for? mine hope is euen in thee.
8 Deliuer me from all my tranſgreſsions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the [f] fooliſh.
9 I ſhulde haue bene dumme, and not haue opened my mouth, becauſe [g] thou dideſt it.
10 Take thy plague away from me: for I am conſumed by the ſtroke of thine hãd.
11 When thou with rebukes doeſt chaſtiſe man for iniquitie, thou as a moth [h] makeſt his [i] beautie to conſume: ſurely euerie mã is vanitie. Sélah.
12 Heare my praier, ô Lord, & hearken vnto my crye: kepe not ſilence at my teares, for I am a ſtranger with thee, & a ſoiourner as all my fathers.
13 Stay thine angre from me, that I maie recouer my ſtrength, [k] before I go hence & be not.

a This was one of ỹ chief ſingers, 1 Chr 16,41.
b Albeit he had appointed with him ſelf pacíently to haue taryed Gods leaſure, yet the vehemencie of his peine cauſed him to breake his purpoſe
c Thogh whẽ the wicked ruled, he thoght to haue kept ſilence, yet his zeale cauſed him to change his minde d He confeſſeth that he grudged againſt God, conſidering the greatnes of his ſorowes, & the ſhortnes of his life
e Yet Dauid offended in ỹ that he reaſoned vñ God, as thogh that he were to ſeuere towarde his weake creature.
f Make me not a mocking ſtocke to the wicked, or wrap me not vp w the wicked, when they are put to ſhame
g Seing my troubles came of thy prouidẽce, I ought to haue endured thẽ pacíently
h Thogh thine open plagues light not euermore vpõ them, yet thy ſecret curſſe cõtinually fretteth them i The worde ſignifieth all ỹ he deſireth, as health, force, ſtrength, beautie, and in whatſoeuer he hathe delite, ſo that the rod of God taketh away all that is deſired in this worlde k For his ſorow cauſed him to thinke that God wolde deſtroy him vtterly: whereby we ſe how hard it is for the verie Saintes to kepe a meaſure in their wordes, when death & deſpare aſſaile them.

PSAL. XL.

1 Dauid deliuered from great danger, doeth magnifie and praiſe the grace of God for his deliuerance, & cõmendeth his prouidence towards all mankinde. 5 Then doeth he promiſe to giue him ſelf wholly to Gods ſeruice, & ſo declareth how God is truely worſhiped. 14 Afterward he giueth thankes & praiſeth God, & hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for aide and ſuccour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 I Waited [a] pacíently for the Lord, & he inclined vnto me, and heard my crye.
2 He broght me alſo out of the [b] horrible pit, out of the myrie claie, and ſet my fete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.
3 And he hathe put in my mouth [c] a new ſong of praiſe vnto our God: manie ſhal ſe it and feare, and ſhal truſt in the Lord.
4 Bleſſed is the man, that maketh the Lord his truſt, and regardeth [d] not the proude, nor ſuche as turne aſide to lies.
5 [e] O Lord my God, thou haſt made thy wonderful woркes ſo manie, that none can counte in ordre to thee thy thoghts toward vs: I wolde declare, & ſpeake of them, but thei are mo then I am able to expreſſe.
6 Sacrifice and offring thou dideſt not deſire: (for [f] mine eares haſt thou prepared) burnt offring and ſin offring haſt thou not required.
7 [g] Then ſaid I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the boke it is writen of me,
8 I deſired to do thy good wil, ô my God: yea, thy Law is within mine heart.
9 I haue declared thy righteouſnes in the [h] great Congregation: lo, I wil not refreine my lippes: ô Lord, thou knoweſt.
10 I haue not hid thy righteouſnes within mine heart, but I haue declared thy [i] trueth and thy ſaluation: I haue not conceiled thy mercie and thy trueth from the great Congregation.

a Thogh God differred his helpe, yet he pacíently abode, til he was heard
b He hathe deliuered me frõ moſte great dãgers
c That is, a ſpeciall occaſiõ to praiſe him: for Gods benefites are ſo manie occaſiõs for vs to praiſe his Name d To follow their example, which he muſt nedes do, that truſteth not onely in the Lord
e Dauid goeth from one kide of Gods fauour to the contemplation of his prouidẽce ouer all, & confeſſeth that his counſels towards vs are farre aboue our capacities: we cã not ſo much as tel thẽm in ordre
f Thou haſt opened mine eares to vnderſtand the ſpirituall meaning of the ſacrifices and here Dauid eſteemeth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in reſpect of the ſpirituall ſeruice
g When thou hadeſt opened mine eares & heart, I was readie to obey thee, being aſſured that I was writen in the boke of thine elect for this end
h In the Church aſſembled in ỹ Sanctuarie
i Dauid here nõbreth 3 degrees of our ſaluatiõ: Gods mercie, whereby he pitieth vs: his righteouſnes, which ſignifieth his continual protectiõ, and his trueth, whereby appeareth his conſtant fauour, ſo that hereof procedeth our ſaluation.

11 Withdrawe not thou thy tendre mercie from me, ô Lord: let thy mercie and thy trueth alway preſerue me.

12 For innumerable troubles haue compaſſed me: my ſinnes haue taken ſuche holde vpon me, that I am not able to loke vp: yea, they are mo in nomber then the heeres of mine head: therefore mine heart hathe k failed me.

k As touching the iudgement of the fleſh, I was vtterly deſtitute of all counſel: yet faith inwardly moued mine heart to praye

13 Let it pleaſe thee, ô Lord, to deliuer me: make haſte, ô Lord, to helpe me.

14 Let them be [l] confounded & put to ſhame together, y ſeke my ſoule to deſtroye it: let them be driuē backeward and put to rebuke, that deſire mine hurt.

l He deſireth that Godsmercie maye contend for him againſt the rage of his enemies

15 Let them be [m] deſtroyed for a rewarde of their ſhame, w ſaye vnto me, Aha, aha.

m Let the ſame ſhame, and cōfuſion light vpon them, w they intended to haue brought vpon me.

16 Let all thē, that ſeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: & let thē, that loue thy ſaluation, ſaye alway, [n] The Lord be praiſed.

n As the faithful alwayes praiſe God for his benefites: ſo the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictiōs 17 Thogh I be poore and nedie, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art mine helper & my deliuerer: my God, make no taryīg.

PSAL. XLI.

1 Dauid being grieuouſly afflicted, bleſſeth them that pitie his caſe. 9 And complaineth of the treaſon of his owne friends & familiares, as came to paſſe in Iudas. Iohn 13,18 After he feling the great mercies of God gently chaſtiſing him, & not ſuffering his enemies to triumph againſt him, 13 Giueth moſte hearti thankes vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 BLeſſed is he that [a] iudgeth wiſely of the poore: the Lord ſhal deliuer him in the time of trouble.

a Not cōdemning him as accurſed, w̄ whome God doeth viſite, knowing that there are diuers cauſes, why God layeth his hād vpō vs: yea, & afterwarae he reſtoreth vs

2 The Lord wil kepe him, & preſerue him aliue: he ſhalbe bleſſed vpon the earth, & thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the wil of his enemies.

3 The Lord wil ſtrengthen him vpon the [b] bed of ſorowe: thou haſt turned all his [c] bed in his ſickenes.

b When for ſorow & grief of minde he caſteth him ſelf vpon his bed

c Thou haſt reſtored him in his ſicke bed & ſet him comfort

4 Therefore I ſaid, Lord haue mercie vpon me: heale my ſoule, for I haue ſinned againſt thee.

5 Mine enemies [d] ſpeake euil of me, ſaying, When ſhal he dye, and his name periſh?

d That is, curſe me, and can not haue their cruel hate quēched, but with my ſhameful death

6 And if he come to ſe me, he ſpeaketh [e] lies, but his heart heapeth iniquitie within hī, & whē he cometh forthe, he telleth it.

e For pretending to cōfort me, he conſpireth my death in his heart, & braggeth thereof

7 All they that hate me, whiſper together againſt me: euen againſt me do they imagine mine hurt.

8 [f] A miſchief is light vpon him, & he that lieth, ſhal no more riſe.

f The enemies thoght by his ſharpe puniſhments y God was become his mortal enemie

9 Yea, my [g] familiar friend, whome I truſted, which did eat of my bread, [h] hathe lifred vp the hele againſt me.

g Heb. The man of my peace

g As Dauid felt this falſhod, and as it was chiefly accompliſhed in Chriſt, Iohn 13, 18, ſo ſhal his mēbers cōtinually, proue the ſame. h Meaning, either in proſperitie of life, or in y true feare of God againſt all tentations

10 Therefore, ô Lord, haue mercie vpō me, & raiſe me vp: ſo I ſhal rewarde them.

11 By this I know that thou fauorēſt me, becauſe mine enemie doeth not triumph againſt me.

12 And as for me, thou vpholdeſt me [i] in mine integritie, and doeſt ſet me before thy [k] face for euer.

i Shewing me euident ſignes of thy Fatherlie prouidence.

k By this repetition he ſtirreth vp y faithful to praiſe God

13 Bleſſed be y Lord God of Iſraél worlde without end. [l] So be it, euen ſo be it.

l By this repetition he ſtirreth vp y faithful to praiſe God

PSAL. XLII.

1 The Prophet grieuouſly complaineth, that being letted by his perſecutors he colde not be preſent in the Cōgregaciō of Gods people, proteſting that although he was ſeparated in bodie frō them, yet his heart was thitherwarde affectioned. 7 And laſt of all he ſheweth, that he was not ſo ſarre ouercome with theſe ſorowes & thoghts, but that he continually put his confidence in the Lord

¶ To him that excelleth. A Plaime to giue inſtruction, [a] cōmitted to the ſonnes of Korah.

1 AS the hart braieth for the riuers of water, ſo [b] pāteth my ſoule after thee, ô God.

a Shewing me euident ſignes of thy Fatherlie prouidence.

b By theſe ſimilitudes of thirſt & pantīg he ſheweth his feruent deſire to ſerue God in his Tēple.

2 My ſoule thirſteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when ſhal I come and appeare before the preſence of God?

3 [c] My teares haue bene my meat daie and night, while they daiely ſay vnto me, Where is thy God?

c As others take pleaſure in eating & drinking, ſo he was altogether giuen to wepīng.

d That is, how I led y people to ſerue thee in thy Tabernacle, & now ſeing my contrarie eſtate, I dye for ſorow

4 When I remēbred [d] theſe things, I powred out my verie heart, becauſe I had gone with the multitude, & led them into the Houſe of God with the voice of ſinging, & praiſe, as a multitude y kepeth a feaſt.

e Though heſuſteined grieuous aſſaltes of the fleſh to caſt hī in to deſpaire, yet his faith grounded on Gods accuſtomed mercies, getteth the victorie

5 Why art thou caſt downe, my ſoule, and vnquiet within me? [e] waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thankes for the helpe of his preſence.

f That is, whē I remember thee in this lād of my bāniſhment among y mountaines

6 My God, my ſoule is caſt downe within me, [f] becauſe I remember thee, from the land of Iordén, and Hermonim, and from the mount Mizár.

g Affliction came ſo thicke vpon me, that I felt my ſelf as ouerwhelmed: whereby he ſheweth there is noend of our miſerie, til God be pacified, & ſend remedie

7 One [g] depe calleth another depe by y noiſe of thy water ſpoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

h He aſſureth him ſelfe of Gods helpe in time to come

8 The Lord [h] wil grante his louing kindenes in the daie, and in the night ſhal I ſing of hī, euē a praier vnto y God of my life.

i That is, I am moſte grieuouſly tormented

9 I wil ſaie vnto God, which is my rocke, Why haſt thou forgotten me? why go I mournīg, when the enemie oppreſſeth me?

k This repetition doeth declare y Dauid did not ouercome at once: to teache vs to be conſtant for aſmuche as God wil certeinly deliuer his 10 My [i] bones are cut a ſunder, while mine enemies reproche me, ſaying daiely vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 [k] Why art thou caſt downe, my ſoule? & why art thou diſquieted within me? waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thankes: he is my preſent helpe, and my God.

PSAL. XLIII.

1 He praieth to be deliuered from them which conſpire againſt him, that he might ioyfully praiſe God in his holie Congregacion

1 IVdge [a] me, ô God, & defend my cauſe againſt the vnmerciful [b] people: deliuer me from the deceitful and wicked man.

a He deſireth God rovnderake his cauſe againſt the enemies, but chiefly that he wolde reſtore him to the Tabernacle

2 For thou art the God of my ſtrēgth: why haſt thou put me awaie? why go I ſo mourning, when the enemie oppreſſeth me.

b That is, the cruel companie of mine enemies.

3 Send thy [c] light and thy trueth: let them lead me: let thē bring me vnto thine holy Mountaine and to thy Tabernacles.

c To wit, thy fauour, which appeareth by the performance of thy promiſes.

4 Then d wil I go vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy & gladnes:
and vpon the harpe wil I giue thankes vn to thee, ô God, my God.
5 Why art thou caſt downe, my ſoule? and why art thou diſquieted within me? e waite on God: for I wil yet giue him thankes, be is my preſent helpe, and my God.

d He ꝓmiſeth to offre a ſolēne ſacrifice of thanke-giuing in token of his great deliuerance

e Whereby he admoniſheth ☞ faithful not to relent, but conſtantly to waite on the Lord, thogh their troubles be log & great

PSAL. XLIIII.

1 The faithful remember the great mercie of God toward his people. 9 After, thei complaine, becauſe thei fele it no more. 17 Alſo thei alledge the couenant made with Abraham, for the keping whereof thei ſhewe what grie uous things thei ſuffred. 23 Finally they praie vnto God to contemne their affliction, ſeing the ſame redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme to giue inſtruction, committed to the ſonnes of Kórah.

a This pſalme ſemeth to haue bene made by ſome excellēt Prophet for ☞ vſe of the people, when the Church was in extreme miſerie, either at their returne fro̅ Babylon, or vnder Anti-ochus, or in ſuche like afflictiō

1 WE haue heard with our a eares, ô God: our fathers haue tolde vs the workes, that thou haſt done in their daies, in the olde time:
2 How thou haſt driuen out the b heathen with thine hand, and planted c them: how thou haſt deſtroyed the d people, and cau-ſed e them to grow.
3 For thei inherited not the land by their owne ſworde, nether did their owne arme ſaue them: but thy right hand, & thine arme and the light of thy countenance, becauſe thou dideſt f fauour them.
4 Thou art my King, ô God: ſend helpe vnto g Iaakób.
5 h Through thee haue we thruſt backe our aduerſaries: by thy Name haue we troadē downe them that roſe vp againſt vs.
6 For I do not truſt in my bowe, nether can my ſworde ſaue me.
7 But thou haſt ſaued vs from our aduerſa-ries, & haſt put thē to confuſion ☞ hate vs.
8 Therefore wil we praiſe God continually,
& wil confeſſe thy Name for euer. Séiah.
9 But now thou art farre of, and putteſt vs to i confuſion, & goeſt not forth with our armies.
10 Thou makeſt vs to turne backe from the aduerſarie, and thei, which hate vs, ſpoile k for them ſelues.
11 *Thou gineſt vs k as ſhepe to be eaten, & doeſt ſcater vs among the nations.
12 Thou ſelleſt thy people l without gaine, and doeſt not increaſe their price.
13 Thou makeſt vs a reproche to our neighbours, a ieſte and a laughing ſtocke to thē that are round about vs.
14 Thou mak-ſt vs a prouerbe among the nations, & a nodding of the head among the people.
15 My m confuſion is daiely before me, and the ſhame of my face hathe couered me, 16 For the voice of the ſclanderer and rebu
ker, for the enemie and n auenger.
17 All this is come vpon vs, yet do we not o forget thee, nether deale we falſely concerning thy couenant.
18 Our heart is not turned backe: nether
our ſteppes gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou haſt ſmiten vs downe into the place of p dragons, and couered vs with
the ſhadowe of death.
20 If we haue forgottē ☞ Name of our God,
& holden vp our hāds to a p ſtrange god,
21 Shal not God q ſearche this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.
22 Surely for thy ſake r are we ſlaine cōtinu-ally, & are coūted as ſhepe for ☞ ſlaughter.
23 Vp, why ſlepeſt thou, ô Lord? awake, be not farre of for euer.
24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face? & for-getteſt our miſerie and our affliction?
25 For our ſoule is ſ beaten downe vnto the
duſt: our belly cleueth vnto the grounde.
26 Riſe vp for our ſuccour, and redeme vs
for thy t mercies ſake.

b That is, the Canaanites
c To wit, our fathers
d Of Canaan
e That is, our fathers
f Gods fre mercie & loue is ☞ onelie ioū taine & beginning of the Church, Deue 4.37 g Becauſe ☞ art our King, therefore deli uer thy people from their miſerie
h Becauſe thei & their forefathers made bo the one Church thei applie ☞ to thē ſelues, which before thei did attribute to their fathers
i As thei confeſſed before, ☞ their ſtrength came of God, ſo now thei ac knowledge ☞ this affliction came by his iuſt iudgemēt
Or, at their pleaſure
Rom 8.36.
k Knowing God to be autor of this calamitie, they murmure not, but ſeke remedie at his hands, who wounded thē.
l As ſclaues ☞ are ſolde for a low price, nether loketh ☞ for him that offreth moſte, but taketh the firſt chapman for ſhame
m I dare not liſe vp mine head
n Meaning, the proude and cruel tyrant.
o Thei boaſte not of their vertues, but declare that thei reſt vpon God in the middes of their afflictions: who puniſhed not now their ſinnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the conſideration of the heauenlie ioyes
Or, whales meaning the bottomles ſeas of tentations here we ſe the power of faith, which can be ouercome by no perils
p Thei ſhewe that thei honored God aright becauſe thei truſted in him alone.
q Thei take God to witnes ☞ thei were vp right to him-ward
r The faithful make this their cōfort, that ☞ wicked puniſh them not for their ſinnes, but for Gods cauſe, Matt 5. 10 1 Pet 4.14.
ſ There is no hope of recouerie, except thou put to thine hande & raiſe vs vp.
t Which is ☞ onelie & ſufficient ranſome to deliuer bothe bodie and ſoule from all kide of ſclauerie & miſerie.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet do we not
o forget thee, nether deale we falſely concerning thy couenant.
18 Our heart is not turned backe: nether
our ſteppes gone out of thy paths,
19 Albeit thou haſt ſmiten vs downe into
the place of p dragons, and couered vs with
the ſhadowe of death.
20 If we haue forgottē ☞ Name of our God,
& holden vp our hāds to a p ſtrange god,
21 Shal not God q ſearche this out? for he knoweth the ſecrets of the heart.
22 Surely for thy ſake r are we ſlaine cōtinu-
ally, & are coūted as ſhepe for ☞ ſlaughter.
23 Vp, why ſlepeſt thou, ô Lord? awake, be
not farre of for euer.
24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face? & for-getteſt our miſerie and our affliction?
25 For our ſoule is ſ beaten downe vnto the
duſt: our belly cleueth vnto the grounde.
26 Riſe vp for our ſuccour, and redeme vs
for thy t mercies ſake.

o Thei boaſte not of their vertues, but declare that thei reſt vpon God in the middes of their afflictions: who puniſhed not now their ſinnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the conſideration of the heauenlie ioyes
Or, whales meaning the bottomles ſeas of tentations here we ſe the power of faith, which can be ouercome by no perils
p Thei ſhewe that thei honored God aright becauſe thei truſted in him alone.
q Thei take God to witnes ☞ thei were vp right to him-ward
r The faithful make this their cōfort, that ☞ wicked puniſh them not for their ſinnes, but for Gods cauſe, Matt 5. 10 1 Pet 4.14.
ſ There is no hope of recouerie, except thou put to thine hande & raiſe vs vp.
t Which is ☞ onelie & ſufficient ranſome to deliuer bothe bodie and ſoule from all kide of ſclauerie & miſerie.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maieſtie of Salomón, his honour, ſtrength, beautie, riches & power are praiſed, & alſo his mariage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman is bleſſed, ſo If that ſhe can renoūce her people & the loue of her countrey and giue her ſelfe wholly to her houſband. Vnder the which figure the wonderful maieſtie & increaſe of the kingdome of Chriſt and the Church his ſpouſe now taken of the Gentiles is deſcribed.

¶ To him that excelleth on a Shoſhannim a ſong of b loue to giue inſtruction, committed to the ſonnes of Kórah.

a This was a certeine tune or inſtrumēt
b Of that perfite loue that ought to be betwene ☞ houſband & the wife.

1 MIne heart wil vtter forthe a good matter: I wil intreat in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the penne of a ſwift writer.
2 Thou art c fairer thē the childrē of men:
grace is powred in thy lippes, becauſe God
hathe bleſſed thee for euer.
3 Girde thy ſworde vpon thy thigh, ô moſte mightie, to wit, thy worſhip & thy glorie, 4 And proſper with thy glorie: d ride vpon the worde of trueth and of mekenes & of righteouſnes: ſo thy right hand ſhal tea-che thee terrible things.
5 Thine arrowes are ſharpe to perce the heart of the Kings enemies: therefore the people ſhal fall vnder thee.
6 Thy e throne, ô God, is for euer and euer:
the ſceptre of thy kingdome is a ſcepter of righteouſnes.
7 Thou loueſt righteouſnes, and hateſt wic kednes, becauſe God, euen thy God hathe f anointed thee with the oile of gladnes aboue thy felowes.
8 All thy garments ſmell of myrrhe and aloes, and caſſia, when thou comeſt out of the vuorie palaces, g where thei haue made thee glad.
9 Kings daughters were amōg thine hono-

c Salomōs beautie and eloquence to warne ſauour with his people, and his power to ouercome his enemies, is here deſcribed d He alludeth to them ☞ ride in chariots in their triūphes, ſhewing ☞ the quiet ſtate of a kingdome ſtādeth i trueth, mekenes & iuſtice, not in worldlie pōpe and vanitie.
e Vnder this figure of this kingdome of iuſtice is ſet forthe ☞ euerlaſting kingdome of Chriſt

f Hathe eſtabliſhed thy kingdome as the figure of Chriſt, which is the peace & ioye of the Church
g In the which palace the people made thee ioyful to ſe them giue thankes & reioyce for thee.

rable wiues: vpon thy right hand did ſtand the h Quene in a veſture of golde of Ophír.

10 iHearken, ô daughter, and conſider, and incline thine eare: forget alſo thine owne people and thy fathers houſe.

11 So ſhal the Kíg haue pleaſure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.

12 And the k daughter of Tyrus with the riche of the people ſhal do homage before thy face with preſents.

13 The Kings daughter is all glorious l within: her clothing is of broydered golde.

14 She ſhal be broght vnto the King in raiment of nedle worke: the virgins that follow after her, & her companiõs ſhal be broght vnto thee.

15 With ioye and gladnes ſhal thei be broght, and ſhal enter into the Kings palace.

16 In ſteade of thy fathers ſhal thy m children be: ÿ ſhalt make thẽ princes nthrough all the earth.

17 I wil make thy oName to be remembred through all gene rations: therefore ſhal ŷ people giue thãkes vnto thee for euer and euer.

h Thogh he had many Kígs daughters among his wines, yet he loued Pharaohs daughter beſt

i Vnder the figure of Pharaohs daughter he ſheweth ŷ ŷ Church muſt caſt of all carnal affections to obey Chriſt onely.

k He ſignifieth that diuers of them, that be riche, ſhalbe benefactours to the Church, albeit thei giue not perfite obedience to ŷ Goſpel

l Or, Zer

m There is nothing fained, nor hypocritical, but ſhe is glorious bothe within & without: and howbeit ŷ Church hathnot at all times this outwarde glorie, the faute is to be imputed onely to their owne ingratitude

m Thei ſhalhaue greater graces then their fathers

n He ſignifieth the great cõpaſſe of Chriſts kingdome, ŵ ſhalbe ſufficiẽt to enriche all his membres o This muſt onely be referred to Chriſt and not to Salomõn.

PSAL. XLVI.

1 A ſong of triumph or thankeſgiuing for the deliuerãce of Ieruſalém, after Sennaherib with his armie was driuẽ awaie, or ſome other like ſudden and maruelous deliuerance by the mightie hãd of God. 8 Whereby the Prophet commending this great benefite, doeth exhorte the faithful to giue them ſelues wholly into the hand of God, douting nothing but that vnder his protection thei ſhal be ſafe againſt all the aſſautes of their enemies, becauſe this is his delite to aſſwage the rage of the wicked, when thei are moſte buſie againſt the iuſt.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Alamóth a ſong committed to the ſonnes of Kórah.

1 GOd is our bhope and ſtrength, & helpe in b troubles, readie to be founde.

2 Therefore wil not we c feare, thogh the earth be moued, and thogh the mountaines fall into the middes of the ſea.

3 Thogh the waters thereof drage & be troubled & the mountaines ſhake at the ſurges of the ſame. Sélah, 4 Yet there is a e Riuer, whoſe ſtreames ſhal make glad ŷ Citie of God: euen ŷ Sanctuarie of the Tabernacles of the moſte High.

5 God is in the middes of it: therefore ſhal it not be moued: God ſhal helpe it f verie early.

6 When the nations raged, & the kingdomes were moued, God "thundred, & the earth melted.

7 The Lord of hoſtes is g with vs: the God of Iaakób is our refuge. Sélah.

8 Come, & beholde the workes of ŷ Lord, h what deſolations he hathe made in the earth.

9 He maketh warres to ceaſe vnto the ends of the worlde: he breaketh the bowe and cutteth the ſpeare, & burneth the chariots with fyre.

10 Be i ſtil and knowe that I am God: I wil be exalted among the heathen, & I wil be exalted in the earth.

11 The Lord of hoſtes is with vs: the God of Iaakób is our refuge. Sélah.

a Which was ether a muſical inſtrument or a ſolemne tune, vnto the ŵ this pſalme was ſung.

b In all maner of troubles God ſheweth his ſpedie mercie and power in defending his

c That is, we wil not be ouercome with feare d Thogh the afflictions rage neuer ſo muche, yet the riuers of Gods mercies bring ſufficient comfort to his e The riuer of Shiloáh, ŵ paſſed through Ieruſalém: meaning thogh ŷ defence ſeme neuer ſo fmale, yet if God haue appoſted it, it is ſufficient.

f Alwaies when nede requireth

g Thei are aſſured that God can and wil defend his Church from all dangers and enemies.

h To wit, how oft he hathe deſtroied his enemies & deliuered his people.

i He warneth thẽ that perſecute ŷ Church to ceaſe their crueltie: for els thei ſhal fele that God is to ſtrong for them, againſt whome thei fight.

PSAL. XLVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all people to the worſhip of the true and euerliuing God, cõmending the mercie of God toward the poſteritie of Iaakób 9 And after prophecieth of the kingdome of Chriſt in this time of the Goſpel.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme committed to the ſonnes of Kórah.

1 ALl people a clap your hands: ſing loude vnto God with a ioyful voice.

2 For the Lord is high, & terrible: a great King ouer all the earth.

3 He hathe b ſubdued the people vnder vs, and the nations vnder our fete.

4 He hathe choſen c our inheritance for vs: euen the glorie of Iaakób whome he loued. Sélah.

5 God is gone vp with triumph, euen the Lord, with the d ſounde of the trumpet.

6 Sing praiſes to God, ſing praiſes: ſing praiſes vnto our King, ſing praiſes.

7 For God is the King of all the earth: ſing praiſes euerie one that hathe e vnderſtanding.

8 God reigneth ouer the heathen: God ſitteth vpon his holie throne.

9 The princes of the people are gathered vnto the people of the God of Abrahám: for the ſhields of the worlde belong to God: he fis greatly to be exalted.

a Here is figured Chriſt, vnto whome all his ſhulde giue willing obedience, & who wolde ſhew hi ſelf terrible to the wicked

b He hathe made ŷ Iewes, who were the kepers of the Law and Prophets, ſchoolemaſters to the Gentiles, that thei ſhulde with gladnes obey them

c God hathe choſen vs aboue all other nations to enioye a moſte glorious inheritance

d He doeth alſo lide vnto the trumpets, that were blowne at ſolemne feaſtes: but he doeth further ſignifie the triumph of Chriſt and his glorious aſcenſion into the heauens.

e He requireth that vnderſtanding be ioyned with ſinging, leſt the Name of God be profaned with vaine crying

f He praiſeth Gods highnes, for that he ioyneth the great princes of the worlde, whome he calleth ſhields to the feloſhip of his Church.

PSAL. XLVIII.

1 A notable deliuerance of Ieruſalém from the hand of manie Kings is mentioned, for the which thankes are giuen to God, and the ſtate of that citie is praiſed, that hathe God ſo preſently at all times readie to defend thẽ. The Pſalme ſemeth to be made in the time of Aház, Ioſhaphát, Aſá or Ezechiáh: for in their times chiefly was the citie by foren princes aſſalted.

¶ a A ſong or Pſalme commited to the ſonnes of Kórah.

1 GReat is the Lord, and greatly to be praiſed, in the b Citie of our God, euen vpon his holie Mountaine.

2 Mount Zión, lying Northward, is faire in ſituation: it is the c ioye of the whole earth, and the citie of the great King.

3 In the palaces thereof God is knowen for a d refuge.

a Some put this differẽce betwene a ſong and Pſalme, ſaying that it is called a ſong, whẽ there is no inſtrument, but the voice: and the pſalme, the cõtrary The ſong of the Pſalme is whẽ the inſtrumẽts beginne, & the voice followeth The Pſalme of the ſong; the contrary

b Albeit God ſhew his wonders through all the worlde, yet he wil be chiefly praiſed in his Church

c Becauſe the worde of ſaluation came thence to all them that ſhulde beleue.

d Except God were ỹ defence thereof, neither ſituacion nor municion colde preuaile
e Thei conſpired & went againſt Gods people f The enemies were afraid at the ſight of ỹ Citie
g That is, of Cilicia, or of ỹ ſea called Mediterraneum h To wit, of our fathers, ſo haue we proued, or, God hathe performed his promes i In all places where thy Name ſhalbe heard of, mē ſhal praiſe thee, whē thei heare of thy marueloꝰ workes k Let Ieruſalēm & ỹ cities of Iudea reioyce for thy iuſt iudgemēts againſt thine enemies l For in this outward defēce & ſtrength Gods bleſſigs did alſo appeare: but ỹ chief is to be referred to Gods fauour and ſecret defence, who neuer leaueth his.

a He wil intreat how God gouerneth the worlde by his prouidence, which cā not be perceiued by the iudgement of the fleſh
b Though wickednes reigne & enemies rage, ſeing God wil execute his iudgemēts againſt ỹ wicked in time cōuenient
c To truſt in riches is more madnes, ſeing they cā neither reſtore life nor prolong it d That is, ſo rare, or not to be founde, as prophecie was pretious in the daies of Eli, 1. Sam. 3, 1 e Meaning, it is impoſsible to liue for euer: alſo that life and death are onely in Gods hands
f In that that death maketh no difference betwene the perſones
g That is, not to their children, but to ſtrangers. Yet the wicked profit not by theſe examples, but ſtil dreame an immortalitie in earth.

a d refuge.
4 For lo, the Kings were e gathered, & wēt together.
5 When thei ſawe f it, thei marueiled: thei were aſtonied, & ſuddenly driuen backe.
6 Feare came there vpon them, & ſorowe, as vpon a woman in trauaile.
7 As with an Eaſt winde thou breakeſt the ſhippes g of Tarſhiſh, ſo were they deſtroyed.
8 As we haue h heard, ſo haue we ſene in the Citie of the Lord of hoſtes, in the Citie of our God: God wil ſtabliſh it for euer. Sélah.
9 We waite for thy louīg kindenes, ô God, in the middes of thy Temple.
10 O God, according vnto thy Name, ſo is thy praiſe vnto the i worldes end: thy right hand is ful of righteouſnes.
11 Let k mount Zión reioyce, & the daughters of Iudáh be glad, becauſe of thy iudgements.
12 l Compaſſe about Zión, and go rounde about it, & tel the towres thereof.
13 Marke wel the wall thereof: beholde her towres, that ye maie tel your poſteritie.
14 For this God is our God for euer & euer:
he ſhal be our guide vnto the death.

PSAL. XLIX.

1 The holie Goſt calleth all men to the conſideration of mans life, 7 ſhewing them not to be moſte bleſſed, that are moſte wealthie, & therefore not to be feared: but contrary wiſe he lifteth vp our mindes to conſider how all things are ruled by Gods prouidence: 14 Who as he iudgeth theſe worldeine miſers to euerlaſting torments, 15 So doeth he preſerue his & wil reward thē in the day of the reſurrection. 2 Theſſ 1, 6.

¶ To him that excelleth. A pſalme committed to the ſonnes of Kórah.

1 HEare a this, all ye people: giue eare, all ye that dwel in the worlde,
2 Aſwel lowe as hie, bothe riche & poore.
3 My mouth ſhal ſpeake of wiſdome, and the meditacion of mine heart is of knowledge.
4 I wil incline mine eare to a parable, and vtter my graue matter vpon the harpe.
5 Wherefore ſhulde I b feare in the euil daies, when iniquitie ſhal compaſſe me about, as at mine heles?
6 They truſt in their c goods, & boaſt them ſelues in the multitude of their riches.
7 Yet a man can by no meanes redeme his brother: he can not giue his ranſome to God, 8 (So d precious is the redemption of their ſoules, e and the continuance for euer) 9 That he may liue ſtil for euer, & not ſe the graue.
10 For he ſeeth that wiſemen f dye, & alſo that the ignorant and fooliſh periſh, and leaue their riches for g others.
11 Yet they thinke, their houſes, & their ha-bitacions ſhal continue for euer, euen from generacion to generacion, and h call their lands by their names.
12 But man ſhal not continue in honour: he is like the i beaſts that dye.
13 This their waie vttereth their fooliſhnes:
yet their poſteritie k delite in their talke. Sélah.
14 l Like ſhepe thei lie in graue: m death
deuoureth thē, & the righteous ſhal haue dominacion ouer them in the n morning: for their beautie ſhal conſume, when they ſhal go from their houſe to graue.
15 But God ſhal deliuer my ſoule from the power of the graue: o for he wil receiue me. Sélah.
16 Be not thou afraied when one is made riche, & when the glorie of his houſe is increaſed.
17 *For he ſhal take nothing awaie when he dyeth, nether ſhal his pompe deſcend after him.
18 For while he liued, p he reioyced him
ſelf: and q men wil praiſe thee, when thou makeſt muche of thy ſelf.
19 r s He ſhal enter into the generacion of his fathers, t & they ſhal not liue for euer.
20 Man is in honour, and u vnderſtandeth not: he is like to beaſts that periſh.

PSAL. L.

1 Becauſe the Church is alwaie ful of hypocrites, 8 Which do imagine that God wilbe worſhiped with outward ceremonies onely, without the heart: and eſpecially the Iewes were of this opinion, becauſe of their figures and ceremonies of the Law, thinking that their ſacrifices were ſufficient, 21 Therefore the Prophet doeth reproue this groſſe erreur, & pronounceth the Name of God to be blaſphemed, where holines is ſet in ceremonies. 23 For he declareth the worſhip of God to be ſpiritual, whereof are two principal partes, inuocation, & thankeſgiuing.

¶ A Pſalme of a Aſáph.

1 THe God of gods, euen ỹ Lord hathe ſpoken and called the b earth frō the riſing vp of ỹ ſunne vnto the going downe thereof.
2 Out of Zión, which is the c perfection of beautie, hathe God ſhined.
3 Our God ſhal come and ſhal not kepe ſi-lence: d a fyre ſhal deuoure before him, & a mightie tempeſt ſhal be moued rounde about him.
4 He ſhal call the heauen aboue, and e the earth to iudge his people.
5 Gather my f Saints togēther vnto me, thoſe that make a couenant with me with g ſacrifice.
6 And the heauens ſhal declare his righteouſnes: for God is Iudge himſelf. Sélah.
7 Heare, ô my people, & I wil ſpeake: heare, ô Iſraél, and I wil teſtifie vnto thee: for I am God, euen thy God.

h As touching ỹ death of the bodie
i They ſpeake & do the ſame thing ỹ their fathers did k As ſhepe are gathered into ỹ folde, ſo ſhal thei be brought to the graue
l Becauſe they haue no parte of life euerlaſting
m Chriſts cōming is as the morning, when the elect ſhal reigne with Chriſt their head ouer the wicked n Or, becauſe he hathe receiued me
Iob 27, 19.
1 tim. 6, 7.
o Ebr he bleſſed his ſoule.
m The flatterers praiſe thē ỹ liue in delites & pleaſures n Or, his ſoule
n And not paſſe the terme appointed for life
o Bothe thei & their fathers ſhal liue here but a while & at length dye for euer p He condemneth mans ingratitude, who hauig receiued excellēt gifies of God, abuſeth them like a beaſt to his owne condemnacion

PSAL L
a Who was either the autor, or a chief ſinger, to whome it was cōmitted
b To plead againſt his diſſembling people before heauen and earth.
c Becauſe God had choſen it to haue his Name there called vpon, and alſo his image ſhined there in ỹ doctrine of ỹ Law.
d As when God gaue his Law in mount Sinai, he appeared terrible with thunder and tempeſt, ſo wil he appeare terrible to take a count for the keping thereof
e As witneſſes aginſt the hypocrites.

f God in reſpect of his elect, calleth the whole bodie holie. Saints & his people. g Which ſhulde knowe that ſacrifices are ſeales of the couenant betwene God and his people, and not ſet religion therein

8 I wil not [h] reproue thee for thy ſacrifices, or thy burnt offrings, that haue not bene cõtinually before me.
9 I wil take no bullocke out of thine houſe, nor goates out of thy foldes.
10 [i] For all the beaſts of the foreſt are mine, and the beaſts on a thouſand mountaines.
11 I knowe all the foules on the mountaines:
& the wilde beaſts of the field are mine.
12 If I be hungrie, I wil not tel thee: for the worlde is mine, and all that therein is.
13 [k] Wil I eat the fleſh of bulles? or drinke
the blood of goates?
14 Offre vnto God praiſe, & [l] paie thy vo-wes vnto the moſte High, 15 And call vpon me in the daie of trouble:
ſo wil I deliuer thee, & thou ſhalt glorifie me.
16 But vnto the wicked ſaid God, [m] What haſt thou to do to declare mine ordinances, that thou ſhuldeſt take my couenant in thy mouth,
17 Seing thou hateſt [n] to be reformed, and haſt caſt my wordes behinde thee?
18 For whē thou ſeeſt a theſe, [o] thou runneſt with him, and thou art partaker with the adulterers.
19 Thou giueſt thy mouth to euil, & with thy tongue thou forgeſt deceite.
20 Thou [p] ſitteſt, and ſpeakeſt againſt thy brother, and ſclandereſt thy mothers ſon-ne.
21 Theſe things haſt thou done, & I held my tongue: therefore thou thoughteſt that I was like thee: but I wil reproue thee, and [q] ſet them in order before thee.
22 Oh conſider this, ye that forget God, leſt I teare you in pieces, & there be none that can deliuer you.
23 He that offreth [r] praiſe, ſhal glorifie me:
and to him, that [ſ] diſpoſeth his waie aright, wil I [t] ſhewe the ſaluacion of God.

h For I paſſe not for ſacrifices, except ỹ true vſe be there, which is to confirme your faith in my promiſes.
i Thogh he did delite in ſacrifice, yet had he no nede of mans helpe thereunto k Thogh mans life for the infirmitie thereof hathe nede of fode, yet God, whoſe life quickneth all the worlde, hathe no nede of ſuche meanes
l Shew thy ſelf mindeful of Gods benefites by thankeſgiuing
m Why doeſt thou fainetobe of my people and talkeſt of my couenant, ſeing thou art but an hypocrite?
n And to liue according to my worde
o He ſheweth what are the frutes of them that contemne Gods word p He noteth the crueltie of hypocrites, ẅ ſpare not in their talke or iudgemẽt their owne mothers ſonne q I wil write all thy wicked dedes in a role and make thee to read & acknoledge thē whether thou wilt or no r Vnder the ẅ is conteined faith and inuocation.
ſ As God hathe appointed.
t That is, declare my ſelf to be his Sauiour.

PSAL. LI.

1 When Dauid was rebuked by the Prophet Nathán, for his great offences, he did not onely acknowledge the ſame to God with proteſtation of his natural corruptiõ and enquitie, but alſo left a memorial thereof to his poſteritie. 7 Therefore firſt he deſireth God to forgiue his ſinnes. 10 And to renue in him his holie Spirit, 13 With promes that he wil not be vnmindeful of thoſe great graces. 18 Finally fearing leſt God wolde puniſh the whole Church for his faute, he requireth that he wolde rather increaſe his graces towards the ſame.

¶ To him that excelleth. A pſalme of Dauid, when the Prophet Nathán [a] came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bath-ſhéba.

1 HAue mercie vpon me, ô God, [b] according to thy louing kindenes: according to the multitude of thy compaſſions put awaie mine iniquities.
2 Waſh me [c] throughly from mine iniquitie, and clenſe me from my ſinne.
3 For I [d] knowe mine iniquities, & my ſin-ne is euer before me.
4 Againſt thee, againſt thee onely haue I ſinned, & done euil in thy ſight, that thou maieſt be iuſte when thou [e] ſpeakeſt, and pure when thou iudgeſt.
5 Beholde, I was borne in iniquitie, and in ſinne hathe my mother conceiued me.
6 Beholde, thou [f] loueſt trueth in ỹ inwarde affections: therefore haſt thou taught me wiſdome in the ſecret of mine heart.
7 Purge me with [*] hyſſope, and I ſhal be cleane: waſh me, & I ſhalbe whiter then ſnowe.
8 Make me to heare [g] ioye and gladnes, that the [h] bones, which thou haſt broken, maie reioyce.
9 Hide thy face from my ſinnes, and put awaie all mine iniquities.
10 [i] Create in me a cleane heart, ô God, &
renue a right ſpirit within me.
11 Caſt me not awaie from thy preſence, and take not thine holie Spirit from me.
12 Reſtore to me the ioye of thy ſaluacion, and ſtabliſh me with thy [k] free Spirit.
13 Then ſhal I teache thy [l] waies vnto the wicked, and ſinners ſhal be conuerted vnto thee.
14 Deliuer me from [m] blood, ô God, which art the God of my ſaluacion, and my tongue ſhal ſing ioyfully of thy righteouſnes.
15 [n] Open thou my lippes, ô Lord, and my mouth ſhal ſhewe forthe thy praiſe.
16 For thou deſireſt no ſacrifice, thogh I wolde giue it: thou deliteſt not in burnt offring.
17 The ſacrifices of God are a [o] contrite ſpirit: a contrite & a broken heart, ô God, thou wilt not deſpiſe.
18 Be fauourable vnto [p] Zión for thy good pleaſure: buylde the walles of Ieruſalém.
19 Then ſhalt thou accept the ſacrifices of [q] righteouſnes, euen the burnt offring and oblation: then ſhal they offer calues vpon thine altar.

d My conſcience accuſeth me, ſo that I can haue no reſt, til I be reconciled
e When thou giueſt ſentence againſt ſinners, thei muſt nedes confeſſe thee to be iuſt and them ſelues ſinners f He cõfeſſeth that God, who loueth purenes of heart, maie iuſtely deſtroy man, who of nature is a ſinner, much more him, whome he had inſtructed in his heauēlie wiſdome Leuit. 14, 6.
g He meaneth Gods comfortable mercies towards repentant ſinners
h By ỹ bones he vnderſtandeth all ſtrength of ſoule and bodie, which by cares and mourning are conſumed
i He cõfeſſeth ỹ when Gods Spirit is colde in vs, to haue it againe renued is as a new creation k Which maie aſſure me that I am drawen out of ỹ ſclauerie of ſinne.
l He promiſeth to endeuour that others by his example may turne to God
m From the murder of Vriáh, and the others that were ſlaine ẅ him, 2 Sam 11, 17 n By giuing me occaſion to praiſe thee, when thou ſhalt forgiue my ſinnes o Which is a wounding of ỹ heart, proceeding of faith, which ſeketh vnto God for mercie p He praieth for the whole Church, becauſe through his ſinne it was in danger of Gods iudgement
q That is, iuſt & lawful, applied to their right ends, ẅ is the exerciſe of faith & repentance

PSAL. LII.

1 Dauid deſcribeth the arrogant tyrannie of his aduerſarie Doeg, who by falſe ſurmiſes cauſed Ahimélech with the reſt of the Prieſts to be ſlayne. 5 Dauid prophecieth his deſtruction, 6 And incourageth the faithful to put their confidence in God, whoſe iudgements are moſte ſharpe againſt his aduerſaries. 9 And finally he rendreth thankes to God for his deliuerance. In this Pſalme is liuely ſet forthe the kingdome of Antichriſt.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid to giue inſtruction. When Doeg the Edomite came & ſhewed Saúl, & ſaid to him, Dauid is come to the houſe of Ahimélech.

1 WHy boaſteſt thou thy ſelf in thy wickednes, ô [a] man of power?
the louing kindnes of God endureth daily.
2 Thy

a To reproue him becauſe he had cõmitted ſo horrible ſinnes, and lien in the ſame without repentãce more thē a whole yere
b As his ſinnes were manifolde & great, ſo he requireth that God wolde giue him the feling of his excellent and abundant mercies
c My ſinnes ſticke ſo faſt in me, that I haue nede of ſome ſingular kinde of waſhing.
a O Doeg, ẅ haſt credit ẅ the tyrãt Saul, & haſt power to murther the Saints of God

b Thy malice moueth thee by craftie flateries & lies to accuſe and deſtroye the innocents
*Or, righteouſneſs.
c Thogh God forbeare for a time, yet at length he wil recompēſe thy falſehode.
d Albeit thou ſeme to be neuer ſo ſure ſetled.
e For the eies of ỹ reprobate are ſhut vp at Gods iudgements.
f With ioyful reuerēce, ſeīg ỹ he taketh their parte againſt the wicked.
*Or, in his ſubſtance.
g He reioyceth to haue a place among the ſeruants of God, ỹ he mite growe in the knowledge of godlines.
h Executed this vengēace.
*Or, waite vpon thy grace and promes.

Pſal. LIII.

a Which was an inſtrumēt or kinde of note
b Where as no regarde is had of honeſtie or diſhoneſtie, of vertue nor of vice, there the Prophet pronounceth that the people haue no God.
c Wherby he cōdemneth all knowledge & vnderſtāding, ỹ tendeth not to ſeke God. Rom. 3, 10.
d Dauid pronōuceth Gods vengeance againſt cruel gouerners, who hauing charge to defende and preſerue Gods people, do moſte cruelly deſtroure them.
e When they thoght there was none occaſiō to feare, the ſudden vēgeance of God lighted vpō thē
f Be the enemies power neuer ſo great, nor ỹ dāger ſo feareful, yet God deliureth his in due time.

Pſal. LIIII.

1. Sam. 23, 11.
a He declareth that when all meanes do faile, God wil deliuer, euen as it were by miracle thē that call vnto him with an vpright conſcience.

2 Thy tongue imagineth b miſchief, and is like a ſharpe raſor, ỹ cutteth deceitfully.
3 Thou doeſt loue euil more thē good, and lies, more thē to ſpeake ỹ "trueth. Sélah.
4 Thou loueſt all wordes that maye deſtroye, ô deceitful tongue!
5 So ſhal God c deſtroye thee for euer: he ſhal take thee and plucke thee out of thy tabernacle, & d rote thee out of the land of the liuing. Sélah.
6 The e righteous alſo ſhal ſe it, f and feare, and ſhal laugh at him, ſaying,
7 Beholde the man that toke not God for his ſtrength, but truſted vnto the multitude of his riches, & put his ſtrength "in his malice.
8 But I ſhalbe like a g grene oliue tre in the houſe of God: for I truſted in the mercie of God for euer and euer.
9 I wil alway praiſe thee, for that thou haſt done h this, & I wil "hope in thy Name, becauſe it is good before thy Saints.

PSAL. LIII.

1 He deſcribeth the crooked nature, 4 The cruelte, 5 And puniſhment of the wicked, when they loke not for it, 6 And deſireth the deliuerance of the godlie, that they maie reioyce together.

¶ To him that excelleth on a Mahaláth. A Pſalme of Dauid to giue inſtruction.

1 THe foole hathe ſaid in his heart, There is b no God. they haue corrupted and done abominable wickednes: there is none that doeth good.
2 God loked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to ſe if there were anie that wolde vnderſtand, and c ſeke God.
3 *Euerie one is gone backe: they are altogether corrupt: there is none that doeth good, no not one.
4 Do not the d workers of iniquitie knowe ỹ they eat vp my people as they eat bread? they call not vpon God.
5 There they were afraied for feare, where no e feare was: for God hathe ſcatered the f bones of him that beſieged thee: thou haſt put them to confuſion, becauſe God hathe caſt them of.
6 Oh giue ſaluacion vnto Iſraél out of Zión: when God turneth the captiuitie of his people, then Iaakób ſhal reioyce, & Iſraél ſhal be glad.

PSAL. LIIII.

1 Dauid broght into great danger by the reaſon of the Ziphims, 5 Calleth vpon the Name of God to deſtroye his enemies, 6 Promiſing ſacrifice and fre offrings for ſo great deliuerance.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Pſalme of Dauid, to giue inſtruction. When the Ziphims came & ſaid vnto Saúl, Is not Dauid hid among vs?

1 SAue me, ô God, a by thy Name, and by thy power iudge me.
2 O God, heare my prayer: hearken vnto the wordes of my mouth.
3 For b ſtrangers are riſen vp againſt me, & c tyrants ſeke my ſoule: they haue not ſet God before them. Sélah.
4 Beholde, God is mine helper: the Lord is with d them that vpholde my ſoule.
5 He ſhal reward euil vnto mine enemies: oh cut them of in thy e trueth!
6 Then I wil ſacrifice f frely vnto thee: I wil praiſe thy Name, ô Lord, becauſe it is good 7 For he hathe deliuered me out of all trouble, and mine eye hathe g ſene my deſire vpon mine enemies.

b To wit, the Ziphims.
c Saul and his armie, which were like cruel beaſtes & colde net be ſatiſfied but by his death.
d Be they neuer ſo fewe, as he was with Ionathán.
e According to thy faithful promes for my defence.
f For hypocrites ſerue God for feare, or vpon conditions.
g We may lawfully reioyce for Gods iudgemēts againſt the wicked, if our affections be pure.

PSAL. LV.

1 Dauid being in great heauines & diſtreſſe cōplaineth of the crueltie of Saul, 13 And of the falſehode of his familiar acquaintance, 17 Vttering moſte ardent affections to moue the Lord to pitie him. 22 After being aſſured of deliuerāce, he ſetteth forthe the grace of God as though he had already obteined his requeſt.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Pſalme of Dauid to giue inſtruction.

1 HEare a my prayer, ô God, & hide not thy ſelf from my ſupplication.
2 Hearkē vnto me, & anſwer me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noiſe,
3 For the b voyce of the enemie, & for the vexation of the wicked, becauſe c they haue broght iniquitie vpon me, & furiouſly hate me.
4 Mine heart trembleth within me, and the terrors of death are fallen vpon me.
5 Feare and trembling are come vpon me, & an horrible feare hathe d couered me.
6 And I ſaid, Oh that I had wings like a doue: then wold I e flie away and reſt.
7 Beholde, I wolde take my flight farre of, & lodge in the wildernes. Sélah.
8 He wolde make haſte for my deliuerance f from the ſtormie winde and tempeſt.
9 Deſtroye, ô Lord, and g deuide their tongues: for I haue ſene crueltie and ſtrife in the citie.
10 Daye and night they go about it vpon the walles thereof: bothe h iniquitie and miſchief are in the middes of it.
11 Wickednes is in ỹ middes thereof: deceit & guile departe not from her ſtretes.
12 Surely mine i enemie did not diffame me: for I colde haue borne it. nether did mine aduerſarie exalt him ſelf againſt me: for I wolde haue hid me from him.
13 But it was thou, ô man, euen my k companion, my guide and my familiar:
14 Which delited in conſulting together, and went into the Houſe of God as companions.
15 Let death ſeaſe vpon them: let them l go downe quicke into the graue: for wickednes is in their dwellings, euen in the middes of them.
16 But I wil call vnto God, & the Lord wil ſaue me.
17 Euening and morning, & at noone wil

a The earneſtnes of his prayer declareth the vehemēcie of his grief, in ſo muche as he is compelled to burſt out into eryes.
b For ỹ threatenings of Saúl & his adherēts.
c They haue diffamed me as a wicked perſone: or, they haue imagined my deſtructiō.
d There was no parte of hī that was not aſtonied with extreme feare.
e Feare had drīué hī to ſo great diſtres, that he wiſhed to be hid in ſome wildernes, & to be baniſhed from that kingdome, ẅ God had promiſed that he ſhulde enioye f From ỹ cruel rage & tyrānie of Saúl.
g As in the cōfuſiō of Babylon, when the wicked cōſpired againſt God.
h All laws & good ordres are broken, & onelie vice & diſſolutio reigneth vnder Saúl.
i If mine open enemie had fōght mine hurt, I colde ỹ better haue auoyded him.
k Which was not onely ioyned to me in frieēdſhip & cōſēſel in worldlie matters, but alſo in religion l As Kórah, Dathán & Abiram.

I praye, m & make anoiſe, & he wil heare my voyce.

18 He hathe deliuered my ſoule in peace frō the battel, that was againſt me: for n manie were with me.

19 God ſhal heare and afflict them, euen he that reigneth of olde, Sélah. becauſe they o haue no changes, therefore they feare not God.

20 He p layed his hand vpon ſuche, as be at peace with him, and he brake his couenant.

21 The wordes of his mouth were ſofter thē butter, yet warre was in his heart: his wordes were more gentle then oyle, yet they were ſwordes.

22 Caſt thy q burden vpon the Lord, and he ſhal nouriſh thee: he wil not ſuffer the righteous to fall for r euer.

23 And thou, ô God, ſhalt bring thē downe into the pit of corruptiō: the bloodie, & deceitful men ſhal not liue s halfe their dayes: but I wil truſt in thee.

m Which ſignifieth a feruent minde & ſure truſte to obtein his petitiō, which thing made him earneſt at all times in praier

n Euē the Angels of God foght on my ſide againſt mine enemies, 2 King. 6, 16

o But their proſperous eſtate ſtil cōtmueth

p I did not prouoke him, but was at peace with him, yet he made warre againſt me.

q Or, gift: to wit, which then wouldeſt that God ſhulde giue thee

q Thogh for their bettering & trial he ſuffer thē to ſlip for a time

r Thogh they ſometime liue lōger, yet their life is curſed of God, vnquiet & worſe then anie death

PSAL. LVI.

Dauid being broght to Achiſh the King of Gath, 1 Sam. 21, 12, complaineth of his enemies, demandeth ſuccour. 3 Putteth his truſt in God & in his promiſes. 12 And promiſeth to performe his vowes which he had takē vpō him, whereof this was the effect to praiſe God in his Church.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid on Michtám, concerning the a dumme doue in a farre countrey, when the Philiſtims toke him in Gath.

1 BE merciful vnto me, ô God, for b mā wolde ſwallow me vp: he fighteth cōtinually and vexeth me.

2 Mine enemies wolde daiely ſwallow me vp: for manie fight againſt me, ô thou moſte High.

3 When I was afraid, I truſted in thee.

4 I wil reioyce in God, becauſe of his c worde, I truſt in God, & wil not feare what fleſh can do vnto me.

5 Mine owne d wordes grieue me daily: all their thoghts are againſt me to do me hurt.

6 e They gather together, and kepe them ſelues cloſe: they marke my ſteppes, becauſe they waite for my ſoule.

7 f They thinke they ſhal eſcape by iniquitie: ô God, caſt theſe people downe in thine angre.

8 Thou haſt counted my wandrings: put my g teares into thy bottel: are they not in thy regiſtre?

9 When I crye, then mine enemies ſhal turne backe: this I know, for God is with me.

10 I wil reioyce in God becauſe of his worde: in the Lord wil I reioyce becauſe of his worde.

11 In God do I truſt: I wil not be afraid what man can do vnto me.

a Being chaſed by the furie of his enemies into a ſtrāge cōtrie, he was as a dūme doue, not ſeking reuengeance

b He ſheweth that it is ether now time, or neuer, yf God helpe him: for all yf worlde is againſt him & readie to deuoure him

c He ſtaieth his conſcience vpō Gods promes, thogh he ſe not preſent helpe d All my coūſels haue euil ſucceſſe & turne to mine owne ſorowe

e As all the worlde againſt one man, & can not be ſaciat, except they haue my life f They thinke not onely to eſcape puniſhmēt, but yf more wicked they are, the more impudent they waxe

g If God kepe the teares of his Saints in ſore, muche more wil he remēber their blood to auēge it: & thogh tyrants burne the bones, yet can they not blot the teares & blood out of Gods regiſter.

12 h Thy vowes are vpon me, ô God: I wil rendre praiſes vnto thee.

13 For thou haſt deliuered my ſoule from death, and alſo my fete from falling, that I i maye k walke before God in the l light of the liuing.

h Haue receiued yf which I required, I am boūde to paye my vowes of thākeſgiuing, as I promiſed

i As mindeful of his great mercies, & giuing him thākes for yf ſame k That is, in this life and l light of the ſunne.

PSAL. LVII.

Dauid being in the deſert of Ziph, where the inhabitāts did betraye him, & at length in the ſame caue with Saul, 2 Calleth moſte earneſtly vnto God with ful cōfidence, that he wil performe his promes & take his cauſe in hād: 5 Alſo that he wil ſhew his glorie in the heauens and the earth againſt his cruel enemies. 5 Therefore doeth he rendre laude & praiſe.

¶ To him that excelleth. a Deſtroye not. A Pſalme of Dauid on Michtám. * When he fled from Saúl in the caue.

1 HAue mercie vpon me, ô God, haue mercie vpō me: for my ſoule truſteth in thee, and in the ſhadow of thy wings wil I b truſt, til theſe c afflictions ouerpaſſe.

2 I wil call vnto the moſte high God, euen to the God, that d performeth his promes toward me.

3 He wil ſend from e heauen, and ſaue me from the reprofe of him that wolde ſwallow me. Sélah. God wil ſend his mercie, and his trueth.

4 My ſoule is among lions: I lie among the childrē of men, that are ſet on fyre: whoſe teeth are f ſpeares and arrowes, and their tongue a ſharpe ſworde.

5 g Exalte thy ſelf, ô God, aboue the heauē, & let thy glorie be vpon all the earth.

6 They haue layed a net for my ſteppes: h my ſoule is proſtrated downe: they haue digged a pit before me, & are fallen into the middes of it Sélah.

7 Mine heart is i prepared, ô God, mine heart is prepared: I wil ſing & giue praiſe.

8 Awake my k tongue, awake viole & harpe: I wil awake early.

9 I wil praiſe thee, ô Lord, among the people, and I wil ſing vnto thee among the nations.

10 For thy mercie is great vnto the heauēs, and thy trueth vnto the l cloudes.

11 Exalt thy ſelf, ô God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glorie be vpon all the earth.

a This was either the beginning of a certeine ſong, or the wordes, w Dauid vttered, whē he ſtayed his affection

1. Sam 24. 4.

Or, duel moſte faſtly

b He cōpareth the afflictions, w God layeth vpon his chitdren, to a ſtorme, that commeth & goeth.

c Who leaueth not his workes begō vnperfit

d He wolde rather deliuer me by a miracle, then that I ſhuld be ouercome

e He meaneth their calūnies & falſe reporters

f Suffer me not to be deſtroyed to the contempt of thy Name

g For verie feare, ſeing the great dangers on all ſides

h That is, wholly bēt to giue thee praiſe for my deliuerance

i He ſheweth yf bothe his heart ſhal praiſe God and his tōgue ſhal cōfeſſe him, and alſo yf he wil vſe other meanes to prouoke him ſelf forwarde to the ſame

k Thy mercies do not onely appertein to the Iewes, but alſo to the Gentiles

PSAL. LVIII.

Dauid deſcribeth the malice of his enemies, the flatterers of Saúl, who bothe ſecretly & openly fight his deſtruction, frō whome he appealeth to Gods iudgement, 10 Shewing that the iuſte ſhal reioyce when they ſe the puniſhment of the wicked to the glorie of God.

¶ To him that excelleth Deſtroye not. A Pſal. of Dauid on Michtám.

1 IS it trueth ô a Congregacion, ſpeake ye iuſtly? ô ſonnes of men, iudge ye vprightly?

2 Yea, rather ye imagine miſchief in your heart: b your hands execute cruelnes vpō the earth.

a Ye coūſelers of Saúl, who vnder pretēce of conſulting for yf commune weith conſpire my death

b ing an innocent

b Yeare not aſhamed to execute yf cruelte publikely; w ye haue imagined in your heartes

The

c That is, enemies to the people of God euen frō their birth

d They paſſe in malice, and ſubtiltie the craftie ſerpēt, ẏ colde preſer ue him ſelfe by ſtopping his eare from the inchanter

e Take away all occaſiōs & meanes, wherby they hurt

f Conſidering Gods diuine power he ſhew eth that God in a moment can deſtroye their force, whereof they bragge.

g As fleſh is take rawe out of ẏ pot before the water ſeeth: ſo he deſireth God to deſtroye their entrepriſes before thei bring them to paſſe

h With a pure affection

i Their puniſh ment & ſlaughter ſhalbe ſo great k Seing God gouerneth all by his prouidēce, he muſte nedes put difference betweene the godlie, and the wicked.

3 The wicked c are ſtrangers from the wōbe: euen from the belly haue they erred, & ſpeake lies.

4 Their poiſon is euen like the poiſon of a ſerpent: like the deafe d adder that ſtoppeth his eare.

5 Which heareth not the voyce of the inchanter, thogh he be moſte expert in charming.

6 Breake their e teeth, ô God, in their mouthes: breake the iawes of the yong lions, ô Lord.

7 Let them f melt like the waters, let thē paſſe away: when he ſhooteth his arrowes, let them be as broken.

8 Let him conſume like a ſnaile that melteth, & like ẏ vntimelie frute of a woman, that hathe not ſene the ſunne.

9 g As rawe fleſh before your pottes fele the fyre of thornes: ſo let him carie them away as with a whirle winde in his wrath.

10 The righteous ſhal h reioyce when he ſeeth the vengeance: he ſhal waſh his fete in the i blood of the wicked.

11 And men ſhal ſay, k Verely there is frute for the righteous: doutles there is a God that iudgeth in the earth.

PSAL. LIX.

1 Dauid being in great danger of Saúl, who ſent to ſlay him in his bed, prayeth vnto God: 3 Declareth his innocencie, & their furie. 5 Deſiring God to deſtroye all thoſe that ſinne of malicious wickednes 11 Whome thogh he kepe aliue for a time to exerciſe his people, yet in the end he wil cōſume thē in his wrath. 13 That he maye be knowen to be the God of Iaakób to the end of the worlde. 16 For this he ſingeth praiſes to God, aſſured of his mercies.

¶ To him that excelleth. Deſtroye not. A Pſalme of Dauid on a Michtam. * When Saúl ſent & they did watche the houſe to kil him.

1 OMy God, b deliuer me from mine enemies: defend me from them that riſe vp againſt me.

2 Deliuer me from the wicked doers, and ſaue me from the blooddie men.

3 For lo, they haue layed waite for my ſoule: the mightie men are gathered againſt me, not for mine c offenſe, nor for my ſinne, ô Lord.

4 They runne and prepare them ſelues without a faute on my parte: ariſe therefore to aſſiſt me, and beholde.

5 Euen thou, ô Lord God of hoſtes, ô God of Iſraél awake to viſite all the heathen, & be not d merciful vnto all that tranſgreſſe maliciouſly. Sélah.

6 They go to and fro in the euening: they barcke like e dogs, and go about the citie.

7 Beholde, they f brag in their talke, and ſwordes are in their lippes: for Who, ſay they, doeth heare?

8 But thou, ô Lord, ſhalt haue them in deriſion, and thou ſhalt laugh at all the heathen.

9 g He is ſtrong: but I wil waite vpon thee: for God is my defence.

10 My merciful God wil h preuent me: God wil let me ſe my deſire vpon mine enemies.

11 Slay thē i not, leſt my people forget it: but ſcater them abroad by thy power, & put them downe, ô Lord our ſhield, 12 For the ſinne of their mouth, & the wordes of their lippes: and let them be taken in their pride, euen for their periurie and lies, that thei ſpeake.

13 i Conſume them in thy wrath: conſume them that thei be no more: and let them know that God ruleth in Iaakób, euen vn to the ends of the worlde. Sélah.

14 And in the euening they m ſhal go to and fro, & barcke like dogs, & go about the citie.

15 Thei ſhal runne here and there for meat: & ſurely they ſhal not be ſatiſfied, thogh thei tarie all night.

16 But I wil ſing of thy n power, & wil praiſe thy mercie in the mornīg: for thou haſt bene my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Vnto thee, ô my o Strength, wil I ſing: for God is my defence, and my merciful God.

a Read pſal. 16

* Sam. 19, 11.

b Thogh his enemies were euen at hand to deſtroye hī, yet he aſſured him ſelf that God had wayes vnough in his hād to deliuer him

c For I am innocent to thē wardes, & haue not offonded them d Seing it apperteineth to Gods iudgements to puniſh ẏ wicked, he deſireth God to execute his vengeāce on ẏ reprobat, who maliciouſly perſecute his Church

e He cōpareth their crueltie to hūgrie dogs ſhewing that they are neuer wearie in doīg euil

f They boaſt openly of their wicked deuiſes, and euerie worde is as a ſworde for thei neither feare God, nor are aſhamed of men.

g Though Saúl haue neuer ſo great power, yet I knowe ẏ thou doeſt bridel him: therefore wil I patiently hope on thee

h He wil not faile to ſuecour me, when nede requireth.

i Altogether, but by litle & litle, that the people ſeing ofte times thy iudgmēts may be mindeful of thee.

k That in their miſerie & ſhame thei may be as glaſſes and examples of Gods vēgeāce.

l When thy time ſhal come, and when thei haue ſufficiētly ſerued for an example of thy vengeance vnto other

m He mocketh at their vaine entrepriſes, being aſſured ẏ thei ſhal not bring their purpoſe to paſſe.

n Which dideſt vſe the policie of a weake wo man to confounde the enemies ſtrength, as 1 Sam 19.12

o Confeſsing him ſelfe to be voide of all vertue and ſtrength, he attributeth the whole to God.

PSAL. LX.

1 Dauid being now King ouer Iudáh and hauing had manie victories, ſheweth by euident ſignes, that God elected him King, aſſuring the people that God wil proſper thē, if they approue the ſame 11 After he praieth vnto God to finiſh that that he hathe begonne a Theſe were certeine ſongs after the note whereof this pſalme was ſung.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Shúſhan Éduth, or Michtám. A Pſal. of Dauid to teache. * When he fought againſt Aram Naharaím, and againſt b Arám Zobáh, whē Ioab returned and ſlew twelue thouſand Édomites in the ſalt valley.

2 Sam 8, 1. & 10, 1.

1 O God, thou haſt caſt vs out, thou haſt c ſcatered vs, thou haſt bene angrie, turne againe vnto vs.

2 Thou haſt made the land to tremble, and haſt made it to d gape: heale the breaches thereof, for it is ſhaken.

3 Thou haſt e ſhewed thy people heauie things: thou haſt made vs to drinke the wine of giddines.

4 But now thou haſt giuen f a banner to thē that feare thee, that it maie be diſplaied becauſe of thy trueth. Sélah.

5 That thy beloued may be deliuered, help with thy right hand and heare me.

6 God hathe ſpoken in his g holines: therefore I wil reioyce: I ſhal deuide Shechém, & meaſure the valley of Succóth.

7 Gileád ſhalbe mine, and Manaſſéh ſhalbe mine: Ephráim alſo ſhalbe the h ſtrength

1 chro 18, 1.

b Or, Syria, called Meſopotamia

b Called alſo Sophene ẅ ſtādeth by Euphrates

c For when Saúl was not able to reſiſt ẏ enemie ẏ people fled hether & thether: for thei colde not be ſafe in their owne houſes

d As cleft ẅ an earth quake

e Thou haſt handled thy people ſharply in taking from them ſenſe and iudgement, in that thei aided Saúl the wicked King, and purſued him, to whome God had giuen the ruſt title of the realme.

f In making me King, thou haſt performed thy promes, which ſemed to haue loſt the force

g It is ſo certeine, as if it were ſpoken by an oracle, that I ſhal poſſeſſe theſe places, which Saúl haue left to his children

h For it was ſtrong and wel peopled.

of mine head: i Iudáh is my lawgiuer.
8 Moáb shalbe my k wash pot: ouer Edóm wil I cast out my shoe: l Palestina shew thy self ioyful for me.
9 Who wil lead me into the m strong citie? who wil bring me vnto Edóm?
10 Wilt not thou, ô God, which hadest cast vs of, & didest not go forthe, ô God, with our armies?
11 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.
12 Through God we shal do valiantly: for he shal treade downe our enemies.

i Dauid meaneth, that in this tribe his kigdome shalbe established, Gen 49.10 k In most vile subiection.
l For ỹ wilt dissemble, and faine as though ỹ were glad.
m He was assured that God wolde giue hī ỹ strong cities of his enemies wherein they thoght thē sel nes sure.

PSAL. LXI.

1 Whether that he were in danger of the Ammonites, or being pursued of Absalóm, here he cryeth to be heard & deliuered, 7 And confirmed in his kingdome. 8 He promiseth perpetual praises

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 HEare my crye, ô God: giue eare vnto my praier.
2 From a the ends of the earth wil I crye vnto thee: whē mine heart is oppressed, bring me vpō the rocke that is b higher then I.
3 For thou hast bene mine hope, & a strōg tower against the enemie.
4 I wil dwel in thy Tabernacle for euer, & my trust shal be vnder the couering of thy wings. Sélah.
5 For thou, ô God, c hast heard my desires: thou hast giuē an heritage vnto those that feare thy Name.
6 Thou shalt giue the King a d long life: his yeres shalbe as manie ages.
7 He shal dwell before God for euer: prepare e mercie & faithfulnes that they may preserue him.
8 So wil I alway sing praise vnto thy Name in performing daiely my vowes.

a From ỹ place, where I was banished, being driuen out of the Citie & Temple by my sonne Absalóm.
b Vnto the w without thy helpe I cā not atteine.
c There is nothing ỹ doeth more strēgthē our faith, then the remembrāce of Gods succour in times past
d This chiefly is referred to Christ, who liueth eternally not onely in him self, but also in his members e For the stablitie of my kingdome stādeth in thy mercie & truth.

PSAL. LXII.

This Psalme partely conteineth meditatiōs, whereby Dauid incourageth him self to trust in God against the assaults of temptations And because our mindes are easely drawē from God by the alluremēts of the worlde, he sharply reproueth this vanitie, to the intent he might cleaue fast to the Lord.

¶ To the excellent musician * Iedúthún. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 YEt a my soule kepeth silence vnto God: of him cometh my saluacion.
2 b Yet he is my strength and my saluatiō, & my defence: therefore I shal not muche be moued.
3 How lōg wil ye imagine mischief against a c man? ye shalbe all slaine: ye shalbe as a bowed wall, or as a d wall shaken.
4 Yet they consulte to cast him downe frō his dignitie: their delite is in lies, they blesse with their mouthes, but curse with their hearts. Sélah.
5 e Yet my soule kepe thou silēce vnto God: for mine hope is in him.
6 Yet is he my strength, & my saluacion, & my defence: therefore I shal not be moued.
7 In God is my saluacion and my f glorie, ỹ rocke of my strength: in God is my trust.
8 Trust in him alwaie, ye people: g powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope. Sélah.
9 Yet the children of men are vanitie, the chief mē are lies: to lay thē vpon a balance they are altogether lighter thē vanitie.
10 Trust not in oppression nor in roberie: h be not vaine: if riches increase, set not your heart thereon.
11 God spake i once or twise, I haue heard it, that power belongeth vnto God, 12 And to thee, ô Lord, mercie: for thou k rewardest euerie one accordīg to his worke.

2 Chro 16,42.
a Though Satā tempted him to murmure against God, yet he bridled his affections, & resting vpō Gods promes, beareth his crosse patiently
b It appeareth by the oft repetition of this worde, that ỹ Prophet abode manifolde tentations, but by resting on God & by patience he ouercame them all c He meaneth him self, being the mā whome God had appointed to ỹ kingdome d Though ye seme to be in honour, yet God wil suddēly destroye you.
e Dauid was greatly moued with these troubles: therefore he stirreth vp him self to trust in God.
f These vehement & often repetitiōs were necessarie to strengthen his faith against ỹ horrible assaltes of Satán
g He admoniseth vs of our wicked nature, which rather hide our sorow, & bite on the bridle, then vtter our grief to God to obteine remedie.
h Giue your selues wholy to God by putting awaie all things ỹ are cōtrarie to his Lawe i He hathe plainely borne witnes of his power, ỹ none nedeth to dout therof.
k So that the wicked shal fele thy power, and the godlie thy mercie.

PSAL. LXIII.

1 Dauid, after he had bene in great danger by Saúl in the desert of Ziph, made this psalme. 3 Wherein he giueth thankes to God for his wonderful deliuerance in whose mercies he trusted, euen in the middes of his miseries, 9 Prophecying the destruction of Gods enemies: 11 And contrariwise happines to all them that trust in the Lord.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid. When he was in the a wildernes of Iudáh.

1 O God, thou art my God, early wil I seke thee: my soule b thirsteth for thee: my flesh longeth greatly after thee in a baren and drye land without water.
2 Thus c I beholde thee as in the Sanctuarie, when I beholde thy power & thy glorie.
3 For thy louing kindenes is better then life: therefore my lippes shal praise thee.
4 Thus wil I magnifie thee all my life, and lift vp mine hands in thy Name.
5 My soule shal be satisfied, as with d marow and fatnes, and my mouth shal praise thee with ioyful lippes,
6 When I remember thee on my bed, & when I thinke vpon thee in the night watches.
7 Becaūse thou hast bene mine helper, therefore vnder the shadow of thy wings wil I reioyce.
8 My soule e cleaueth vnto thee: for thy right hand vpholdeth me.
9 Therefore they that seke my soule to destroy it, they shal go into the lowest partes of the earth.
10 f They shal cast him downe with the edge of the sworde, & thei shal be a portiō for foxes.
11 But the King shal reioyce in God, and all that g sweare by him shal reioyce in him: for the mouth of them that speake lies, shal be stopped.

a To wit, of Ziph, 1 Sam. 23,14.
b Though he was bothe hūgrie & in great distres, yet he made God his sufficiencie & aboue all meate & drinke.
c In this miserie I exercise my self in the contemplatiō of thy power & glorie, as if I were in thy Sanctuarie
d The remembrance of thy fauour is more swete vnto me then all the pleasures and deinties of the worlde

e He assureth him selfe by the Spirit of God to haue ỹ gift of constācie.
f He pheacieth of the destructiō of Saúl, & thē that take his parte, whose bodies shal not be buried, but be deuoured with wilde beastes, g All ỹ sweare by God aright, or profese him, shal reioyce in this worthie King.

PSAL. LXIIII.

1 Dauid praieth against the furie and false reportes of his enemies. 7 He declareth their punishement & destruction, 10 To the comfort of the iust and the glorie of God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 HEare my [a] voice, ô God, in my praier: preſerue my life from feare of the enemie.
2 Hide me from the [b] conſpiracie of the wicked, and from the [c] rage of the workers of iniquitie.
3 Which haue whet their tongue like a ſworde, and ſhot for their arrowes [d] bitter wordes:
4 To ſhote at the vpright in ſecret: thei ſhote at him ſuddenly, and [e] feare not.
5 Thei [f] encourage them ſelues in a wicked purpoſe: thei cõmune together to laie ſnares priuely, and ſaie, Who ſhal ſe them?
6 Thei haue ſoght out iniquities, and haue accompliſhed that which thei ſoght out, euen euerie one [g] his ſecret thoghts, and the depth of his heart.
7 But God wil ſhote an arrow at them ſuddenly: their ſtrokes ſhal be at once.
8 Thei ſhal cauſe their owne tongue to fall vpon them: and whoſoeuer ſhal ſe them, ſhal [h] flee awaie.
9 And all men ſhal ſe it, and declare the worke of God, and thei ſhal vnderſtand, what he hathe wroght.
10 But the righteous [i] ſhal be glad in the Lord, & truſt in him: and all that are vpright of heart, ſhal reioyce.

a In that he calleth to God w his voice, it is a ſigne that his praier was vehement, & ỹ his life was in danger
b That is, frõ their ſecret malice:
c To wit, their outeward violẽce.
d Falſe reporters & ſclãders
e To be without feare of God & reuerẽce of man, is a ſigne of reprobation f The more ỹ the wicked ſe Gods childrẽ in miſerie, the more bolde, & impudent are thei in oppreſſing them
g There is no waie ſo ſecret & ſubtil to do hurt, w ỹ thei inuented not for his deſtructiõ.
h To ſe Gods heauie iudgements againſt them, and how he hathe caught them in their owne ſnares.
i When thei ſhal conſider that he wilbe fauourable to thẽ, as he was to his ſeruant Dauid.

PSAL. LXV.

1 A praiſe and thankeſgiuing vnto God by the faithful. who are ſignified by Zion. 4 For the chuſing, preſeruation and gouernance of them. 9 And for the plentiful bleſſings powred forthe vpon all the earth, but ſpecially eeward his Church

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme or ſong of Dauid.

1 OGod, [a] praiſe waiteth for thee in Zión, & vnto thee ſhal the vowe be performed.
2 Becauſe thou heareſt the praier, vnto thee ſhal all [b] fleſh come.
3 Wicked dedes [c] haue preuailed againſt me: but thou wilt be merciful vnto our trãſgreſsions.
4 Bleſſed is he, whome thou chuſeſt and cauſeſt to come to thee: he ſhal dwell in thy courts, and we ſhal be ſatiſfied with the pleaſures of thine Houſe, euen of thine holie Temple.
5 O God of our ſaluacion, thou wilt [d] anſwer vs with feareful ſignes in thy righteouſnes, ô thou the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are farre of in the [e] ſea.
6 He ſtabliſheth ỹ moũtaines by his power: and is girded about with ſtrength.
7 He appeaſeth the [f] noiſe of the ſeas and the noiſe of the waues thereof, and the tumultes of the people.
8 Thei alſo, that dwell in the vttermoſt partes of the earth, ſhalbe afraid of thy ſignes: thou ſhalt make [*] the Eaſt and the Weſt to reioyce.
9 Thou [g] viſiteſt the earth, and watereſt it: thou makeſt it very riche: the [h] Riuer of God is ful of water: thou preparest them corne: for ſo thou appointeſt [i] it.
10 Thou [k] watereſt abũdantly the forrowes thereof. thou cauſeſt the raine to deſcend into ỹ valleis thereof: thou makeſt it ſoft with ſhowres, & bleſſeſt the bud thereof.
11 Thou crowneſt the yere with thy goodnes, and thy ſteps drop fatnes.
12 They drop vpon ỹ paſtures of the wildernes: & the hils ſhal be cõpaſſed w gladnes.
13 The paſtures are clad with ſhepe: ỹ valleis alſo ſhal be couered with corne: therefore they ſhowte for ioye, [l] and ſing.

a Thou giueſt daiely new occaſion to thy Church to praiſe thee
b Not onely the Iewes: but alſo the Gentiles in ỹ kigdome of Chriſte
c He imputeth it to his ſins & to the ſins of ỹ people, that God, w ho was accuſtomed to aſsiſte them, withdraweth his ſuccour from them d Thou wilt declare thy ſelfe to be ỹ preſeruer of thy Church in deſtroying thine enemies, as ỹ dideſt in ỹ red Sea e As of all barbarous nations and farre of f He ſheweth ỹ there is no parte nor creature in ỹ worlde, w is not gouerned by Gods power & prouidence
*) Ebr. The going forthe of the morning & of the euening g To wit, with raine.
h That is, Shiloah, or, ỹ raine
i Thou haſt appointed ỹ earth to brig forthe fode to mans vſe k By this deſcription he ſheweth that all the ordre of nature is a teſtimonie of Gods loue towarde vs, who cauſeth all creatures to ſerue our neceſsitie.
l That is, the dumme creatures ſhal not onely reioyce for a time for Gods benefites, but ſhal continually ſing.

PSAL. LXVI.

1 He prouoketh all men to praiſe the Lord and to conſider his works. 6 He ſetteth forthe the power of God to affray the rebels, 10 And ſheweth how God hathe deliuered Iſraël from great bondage and afflictions. 13 He promiſeth to giue ſacrifice. 16 And prouoketh all men to heare what God hathe done for him and to praiſe his Name.

¶ To him that excelleth. A ſong, or Pſalme.

1 REioyce in God, [a] all ye inhabitants of the earth.
2 Sing forthe the glorie of his Name: make his praiſe glorious.
3 Saie vnto God, How terrible art thou in thy workes! thorough the greatnes of thy power ſhal thine enemies be [b] in ſubiectiõ vnto thee.
4 All the worlde ſhal worſhip thee, & ſing vnto thee, euen ſing of thy Name. Sélah.
5 [c] Come and beholde the workes of God: he is terrible in his doing toward [d] the ſonnes of men.
6 He hathe turned the Sea into drye land: thei paſſe thorough the riuer on fote: there did we reioyce in him.
7 He ruleth the worlde with his power: his eies beholde the natiõs: the rebellious ſhal not [e] exalt them ſelues. Sélah.
8 Praiſe our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praiſe to be heard.
9 Which [f] holdeth our ſoules in life, and ſuffereth not our fete to ſlippe.
10 For thou, ô God, haſt proued vs, thou haſt tryed vs as ſiluer is tryed.
11 Thou haſt broght vs into the [g] ſnare, & laied a ſtrait chaine vpon our loins.
12 Thou haſt cauſed men to ride ouer our heades: we wẽt into fyre & into water, but ỹ broghteſt vs out into a wealthie place.
13 I wil go into thine [h] Houſe with burnt offrings, & wil paie thee my vowes, 14 Which my lippes haue promiſed, & my mouth hathe ſpoken in mine afflictiõ.
15 I wil offer vnto thee the burnt offrings of a He propheſieth ỹ all natiõs ſhal come to the knowledge of God, who then was onely knowen in Iudea b As ỹ faithful ſhal obey God willigly: ſo ỹ infideles for feare ſhal diſſemble thẽ ſelues to be ſubiect

c He toucheth ỹ ſlothful dulnes of mã, who is colde in the conſideratiõ of Gods workes.
d His prouidẽce is wonderful in maintening their eſtate
e He proueth that God wil extend his grace alſo to the Gẽtiles, becauſe he puniſheth among them ſuch as wil not obey his callig
f He ſignifieth ſome ſpecial benefite, ỹ God had ſhewed to his Church of ỹ Iewes in deliuering thẽ frõ ſome great dãger: whereof or of ỹ like he promiſeth that ỹ Gentiles ſhal be partakers.
g The condition of ỹ Church is here deſcribed, w is to be led by Gods prouiſion into troubles, to be ſubiect vnder tyrants, & to enter into manifolde dangers h The duetie of the faithful is here deſcribed, neuer vnmindeful to rendre God praiſe for his benefites.

fat lams with incēſe: I wil prepare bullockes and goates. Sélah.

16 i Come & heaᵗken, all ye that feare God, & I wil tel you what he hathe done to my ſoule.

17 I called vnto him with my mouth, and he was exalted with my tongue.

18 k If I regarde wickednes in mine heart, the Lord wil not heare me.

19 But God hathe heard me, & conſidered the voice of my praier.

20 Prāiſed be God, which hathe not put backe my praier, nor his mercie from me.

PSAL. LXVII.

1 A praier of the Church to obteine the fauour of God & to be lightened with his countenance, 2 To the end that his waie & iudgements maie be knowen throughout the earth 7 And finally is declared the kingdome of God, which ſhulde be vniuerſally erected at the coming of Chriſt.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Pſal. or ſong.

GOd be merciful vnto vs, and bleſſe vs, & a cauſe his face to ſhine among vs. Sélah.

2 That b they maie know thy waie vpon earth, & thy ſauing health among all nations.

3 Let the people praiſe thee, ô God: let all the people praiſe thee.

4 c Let the people be glad and reioyce: for thou ſhalt iudge ỹ people righteouſly, & gouerne the nations vpon the earth. Sélah.

5 Let the people praiſe thee, ô God: let all the people praiſe thee.

6 Thē ſhal d ỹ earth bring forthe her increaſe, & God, euen our God ſhal bleſſe vs.

7 God ſhal bleſſe vs, and all the ends of the earth e ſhal feare him.

PSAL. LXVIII.

1 In this pſalme Dauid ſetteth forthe as in a glaſſe the wonderful mercies of God towarde his people. 5 Who by all meanes & moſte ſtrange ſortes declared him ſelf to them. 15 And therefore Gods Church by reaſon of his promiſes, graces and victories doeth excel without compariſon all worldlie thinges. 34 He exhorteth therefore all men to praiſe God for euer.

¶ To him that excelleth. A pſalme or ſong of ỹ Dauid.

1 GOd a wil ariſe, & his enemies ſhalbe ſcattered: thei alſo that hate him, ſhal flee before him.

2 As the ſmoke vaniſheth, ſo ſhalt ỹ driue them awaie: & as waxe melteth before the fyre, ſo ſhal ỹ wicked periſh at the preſence of God.

3 b But the righteous ſhalbe glad, & reioyce before God: yea, thei ſhal leape for ioye.

4 Sing vnto God, & ſing praiſes vnto his Name: exalt him, that rideth vpon the heauens, in his Name c Iah, & reioyce before him.

5 He is a Father of the fatherles, and a Iudge of the widowes, euen God in his holie habitation.

6 God d maketh the ſolitarie to dwell in families, & deliuereth them that were priſoners in ſtockes: but the rebellious ſhal dwell in a e drye land.

7 f O God, when thow wenteſt forthe before thy people: when thou wēteſt through the wildernes, (Sélah)

8 The earth ſhoke, and the heauēs dropped at the preſence of this God: euen Sinái was moued at the preſence of God, euen the God of Iſraél.

9 Thou, ô God, ſendeſt a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance, & thou dideſt refreſh it when it was wearie.

10 Thy Congregation dwelled therein: for thou, ô God, haſt of thy g goodnes prepared it for the poore.

11 The Lord gaue matter to the h women to tel of the great armie.

12 Kings of the armies did flee: thei did flee & i ſhe that remained in the houſe, deuided the ſpoile.

13 Thogh ye haue lien among k pots, yet ſhal ye be as the wings of a dooue that is couered with ſiluer, and whoſe fethers are like yelowe golde.

14 When the Almightie ſcatered Kings l in it, it was white as the ſnow in Zalmón.

15 m The mountaine of God is like the mountaine of Baſhán: it is an high Mountaine, as mount Baſhán.

16 n Why leape ye, ye high mountaines? as for this Moūtaine, God deliteth to dwell in it: yea, the Lord wil dwell in it for euer.

17 The charets of God are twentie thouſand thouſand Angels, and the Lord is among thē, as in the Sanctuarie of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone vp on high: thou haſt o led captiuitie captiue, and receiued giftes for men: yea, euen the rebellious haſt thou led, that the Lord God might dwell there.

19 Praiſed be the Lord, euen the God of our ſaluacion, which ladeth vs daiely with benefites. Sélah.

20 This is our God, euen the God that ſaueth vs: and to the Lord God belong the p iſſues of death.

21 Surely God wil wound the head of his enemies, & the heerie pate of him that walketh in his ſinnes.

22 The Lord hathe ſaid, I wil bring my people againe from q Baſhán: I wil bring them againe from the depths of the Sea:

23 That thy foore maie be dipped in blood, & the tongue of thy dogges in the blood of the enemies, euen in r it.

24 Thei haue ſene, ô God, thy r goings, the goings of my God, & my King, which art

It is not ynough to haue receiued Gods benefites & to be mindeful there of, but alſo we are bounde to make others to profit thereby & praiſe God

k If I delite in wickednes, God wil not heare me: but if I confeſſe it, he wil receiue me a That is, moue our neartes w his holy Spirit, ỹ we maie ſele his fauour towards vs

b That bothe Iewes & Gētiles maie know Gods couenāt made w them.

c By theſe oft repetitions he ſheweth, ỹ the people can neuer reioyce ſufficiētly, & giue thākes for the great benefites that thei ſhal receiue vnder the kingdome of Chriſt.

d He ſheweth ỹ where God fauoreth, there ſhalbe abundāce of all other things e Whē thei ſele his great benefites bothe ſpiritual & corporal towards them.

g That bothe Iewes & Gētiles maie know Gods couenāt made w them.

h The Prophet ſheweth that albeit God ſuffreth ỹ wicked tyrāts to oppreſſe his Church for a time, yet at length he wil be reuenged of them.

i He ſheweth that whē God declareth his power againſt ỹ wicked, that ſeruis for the cōmoditie & ſaluation of his Church, w praiſe him therefore k Iah & Iehouáh are the names of God, w do ſignifie his eſſence & maieſtie incōprehēſible, forthat herby is declared, ỹ all idols are but vanitie, & that ỹ God of Iſraél, is ỹ onely true God.

d He giueth childre to thē, ỹ be childeles, and increaſeth their families.

e Which is baren of Gods bleſsīgs, w before thei had abuſed

f He teacheth ỹ Gods fauour peculiarly belongeth to his Church, as appeareth by their wonderful deliuerāce out of Egypt

g God bleſſed the land of Canaan becauſe he had choſen that place for his Church

h The faction then was that women ſang ſongs after the victorie, as Miriam, Déborāh Iudith and others

i The pray was ſo great ỹ not onely the ſoldiers, but womē alſo had parte thereof

k Thogh God ſuffer his Church for a time to lie in blacke darkenes, yet he wil reſtore it and make it moſte ſhining & whare.

l In ỹ land of Canáan, where his Church was m Zión the Church of God doeth excell all worldelie things, not in pōpe & outward ſhewe, but by the inwarde grace of God, w there remaineth because of his dwellig there.

n Why beaſt ye of your ſtrēgth & beare againſt this Mountaine of God?

o As God ouercam the enemies of his Church, toke thē priſoners, and made thē tributaries: ſo Chriſt, w is God manifeſted in flesh, ſubdued Satā & ſinne vnder vs, & gaue vnto his Church moſte liberal giftes of his Spirit, Eph. 4, 8 p In moſte extreme dangers God hathe infinite waies to deliuer his q As he deliuered his Church once frō Og of Baſhán, & other tyrāts, & frō the dāgers of ỹ red Sea ſo wil he ſtil do as oft as neceſsitie requireth.

r That is, in ỹ blood of that great ſlaughter, where dogges ſhal lap blood

ſ That is, how ỹ, which art chief King, goeſt out with thy people to warre, and giueſt them the victorie in the Sanctuarie.

t He deſcribeth the ordre of the people, whē thei went to the Temple to giue thākes for the victorie

25 The t ſingers went before, the plaiers of inſtruments after: in the middes were the maides playing with timbrels.

26 Praiſe ye God in the aſſemblies, & the Lord, ye that are of the foũtaine u of Iſraél.

u Which come of ỹ Patriarke Iaakób x Beniamin is called litle, becauſe he was ỹ yongeſt ſonne of Iaakób

y Who was ſome chief ruler of the tribe.

27 There was x litle Beniamín with their y ruler, & the princes of Iudáh with their aſſemblie, the princes of Zebulún, & the princes of Naphtalí.

z Declare out of thine holie palace thy power for the defence of thy Church Ieruſalém.

28 Thy God hathe appointed thy ſtrēgth: ſtabliſh, ô God, that, which ỹ haſt wrogh in vs, 29 z Out of thy Temple vpon Ieruſalém: & Kings ſhal bring preſents vnto thee.

a He deſireth that the pride of the mightie may be deſtroied, ẅ accuſtomed to gyriſh their ſhoes ẅ ſiluer: & therfore for their glitering pompe thoght thē ſelues aboue all men 30 Deſtroye the cõpanie of the ſpearemen, & multitude of the mightie bulles with the calues of the people, that a tread vnder fete pieces of ſiluer: ſcater the people that delite in warre.

b He ꝓphecieth ỹ the Gentiles ſhal come to ỹ true knowledge & worſhip of God

31 Then ſhal ỹ princes come out b of Egypt: Ethiopia ſhal haſte to ſtretch her hāds vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, ô ye kingdomes of the earth: ſing praiſe vnto the Lord, (Sélah)

c By his terrible thunders he wil make him ſelf to be knowen ỹ God of all ỹ worlde

33 To him that rideth vpon the moſte high heauens, which were from the beginning: beholde he wil ſend out by his c voyce a mightie ſounde.

34 Aſcribe the power to God: for his maieſtie is vpon Iſraél, & his ſtrength is in the cloudes.

d In ſhewing feareful iudgemēts againſt thine enemies for the ſaluatiō of thy people 35 O God, thou art d terrible out of thine holie e places: the God of Iſraél is he that giueth ſtrength and power vnto the people: praiſed be God.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 The cõplaints, prayers, feruent zeale & great anguiſh of Dauid is ſet forthe as a figure of Chriſt & all his mẽbers: 21 The malicious crueltie of the enemies, 22 And their puniſhment alſo. 26 Where Iudas & ſuche traitors are accurſed. 30 He gathereth courage in his affliction & offreth praiſes vnto God. 32 Which are more acceptable then all ſacrifices: wherof all the afflicted maie take cõfort. 35 Finally he doeth prouoke all creatures to praiſes, prophecying of the kingdome of Chriſt, & the preſeruacion of the Church, where all the faithfull, 37 And their ſede ſhal dwel for euer.

e He alludeth to ỹ Tabernacle ẅ was deuided into thre partes.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Shoſhannim. A Pſalme of Dauid.

a Of Shoſhannim read Pſal. 45

1 SAue me, ô God: for the b waters are entred euen to my ſoule.

b Dauid ſignifieth by the waters, in what great dangers he was, out of ỹ which God did deliuer hī

2 I ſticke faſt in the depe myre, where no c ſtaie is: I am come into depe waters, and the ſtreames runne ouer me.

c No firmitie or ſtablenes to ſettle my fete

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drye: mine d eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

d Thogh his ſenſes failed him, yet his faith was conſtant & incouraged him ſtil to praie

4 They that hate me without a cauſe, are mo then the heeres of mine head: thei that wolde deſtroye me, and are mine enemies e falſely, are mightie, ſo that I reſtored that which I f toke not.

e Comdemning me giltles.

f Thei iudged me pore innocent as a thief and gaue my goods to others as thogh I had ſtollen them.

5 O God, thou knoweſt my g fooliſhnes, & my fautes are not hid from thee.

g Thogh I be giltie to thee warde, yet am I innocēt towarde them

6 Let not them that truſt in thee, ô Lord God of hoſtes, be aſhamed for h me: let not thoſe that ſeke thee, be confounded through me, ô God of Iſraél.

h Let not mine euil intreatie of the enemies be an occaſiō, ỹ the faithful fall frō thee.

7 For thy ſake haue I ſuffied reprofe: ſhame hathe couered my face.

8 I am become a ſtranger vnto my brethrē, euen an aliant vnto my mothers ſonnes.

i When I ſawe thine enemies pretend thy Name onely in mouth, and in their life denie the ſame, thine holie Spirit thruſt me forwarde, to reproue thē & defend thy glorie.

9 i For the zeale of thine houſe hathe eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

k My zeale moued me to lamēt & prai for my ſaluacion

10 I k wept and my ſoule faſted, but that was to my reprofe.

l The more he ſoght to wine them to God, the more thei were againſt him both poore and riche

11 I put on a ſacke alſo: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that l ſate in the gate, ſpake of me, and the drunkards ſang of me.

m Knowing that albeit I ſuffer nowtrouble, yet ỹ haſt a time, wherein ỹ haſt appointed my deliuerance.

13 But Lord, I make my praier vnto thee in an m acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: ô God, heare me in the trueth of thy ſaluacion.

n He ſheweth a liuelie faith, in that ỹ he aſſureth hī ſelf, ỹ God is fauorable to hī, whē he ſemeth to be angrie: & at hand, when he ſemeth to be farre of 14 Deliuer me out of the myre, that I ſinke not: let me be deliuered from thē that hate me, and out of the n depe waters.

o Not that he feared ỹ God wold not heare him, but ỹ care made him to thinke that God differred long 15 Let not ỹ waterflood drowne me, nether let the depe ſwallowe me vp: and let not the pit ſhut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, ô Lord, for thy louing kindenes is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tendre mercies.

17 And o hide not thy face from thy ſeruāt, for I am in trouble: make haſt & heare me.

18 Drawe nere vnto my ſoule & redeme it: deliuer me becauſe of mine enemies.

p Thou ſeeſt ỹ I am beſet as a ſhepe among manie wolues.

19 Thou haſt knowen my reprofe and my ſhame, & my diſhonour: all mine p aduerſaries are before thee.

q He ſheweth ỹ it is in vaine to put ô truſt in men in our great neceſsities, but ỹ our comfort onely dependeth of God: for man rather increaſeth ô ſorowes, then dimiſheth them, Iohn 19,29

20 Rebuke hathe broken mine heart, and I am ful of heauines, and q I loked for ſome to haue pitie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I founde none.

r He deſireth God to execute his iudgements againſt the reprobare, ẅ can not by anie meanes be turned, Rom. 11,9 21 For thei gaue me gall in my meat, and in my thirſt thei gaue me vinegre to drinke.

22 Let their r table be a ſnare before them, and their proſperitie their ruine.

ſ Take bothe iudgement and power frō thē. Act. 1,20.

23 Let their eyes be blinded that thei ſe not: and make their ſ loynes alwaie to tremble.

24 Powre out thine angre vpon them, & let thy wrathful diſpleaſure take them.

t Puniſh not onely them, but their poſteritie, which ſhalbe like vnto them

25 *Let their t habitacion be voide, & let none dwell in their tentes.

u By their continuance and increaſing in their ſinnes let it be knowen that they be of the reprobate

26 For thei perſecute him, whome thou haſt ſmiten: and they adde vnto the ſorowe of them, whome thou haſt wounded.

x They which ſemed by their profeſsion to haue bene writen in thy boke, yet by their frutes proue the contrarie, let them be knowen as reprobate.

27 Lay u iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, & let them not come into thy righteouſnes.

28 Let them be put out of the x boke of life,

There is no ſacrifice, ſ God more eſteme th, then thankeſgiuing for his benefits.

a For as he deliuered his ſeruant Dauid, ſo wil he do all ỹ are in deſtres, and call vpon him.

a Vnder the temporal promes of the land of Canaã he cõprehẽdeth the promes of life euerlaſting to the faithful & their poſteritie nether let them be writen with the righteous.

29 When I am poore & in heauines, thine helpe, ô God, ſhal exalt me.

30 I wil praiſe the Name of God with a ſong, & magnifie him with thankeſgiuig.

31 This alſo ſhal pleaſe the Lord better thẽ a ỹ yong bullocke, that hathe hornes and hoofes.

32 The humble ſhal ſe this, & thei that ſeke God, ſhalbe glad, & your heart ſhal liue.

33 For the Lord heareth the poore, and deſpiſeth not his [z] priſoners.

34 Let heauen & earth praiſe him: the ſeas and all that moueth in them.

35 For God wil ſaue Zión, and buylde the cities of Iudáh, that men maie dwell there and haue it in poſſeſsion.

36 The [a] ſede alſo of his ſeruants ſhal inherit it: and thei that loue his Name, ſhal dwell therein.

Pſal. LXX. a Which might put him in remembrance of his deliuerãce. Pſal. 40, 14. b He teacheth vs to be earneſt in praier, though God ſeme to ſtay: for at his time he wil heare vs. c He was aſſured that the more thei raged, the nerer thei were to deſtruction & he the nererto his deliuerãce d Hereby we are taught not to mocke at others in their miſerie, leſt ỹ ſame fall on ỏ owne necks. e Becauſe he had felt Gods helpe before, he groundeth on experience and boldely ſeketh vnto him for ſuccour

PSAL. LXX.

1 He praieth to be right ſpedely deliuered. 2 He deſireth the ſhame of his enemies. 4 And the ioyful comfort of all thoſe that ſeke the Lord.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid to put in * remembrance.

1 O * God, [b] haſte thee to deliuer me: make haſte to helpe me, ô Lord.

2 Let them be [c] confounded & put to ſhame, that ſeke my ſoule: let them be turned backewarde and put to rebuke, that deſire mine hurt.

3 Let thẽ be turned backe for a rewarde of their [d] ſhame, which ſaid, Aha, aha.

4 But let all thoſe that ſeke thee, be ioyful & glad in thee, and let all that loue thy ſaluacion, ſaie alwaies, God be praiſed.

5 Now I am [e] poore and nedie: ô God, make haſte to me: thou art mine helper, and my deliuerer: ô Lord, make no taryng.

Pſal. LXXI. Pſal. 3. a He praieth to God w ful aſſurance of faith, ỹ he wil deliuer him from his aduerſaries b By declaring thy ſelf true of promes c Thou haſt infinite meanes, & all creatures are at thy commaũdemẽt: therefore ſhew ſome ſigne, whereby I ſhalbe deliuered. d That is, frõ Abſolom, Ahithophel & that conſpiracie. e He ſtrengtheneth his faith by the experiẽce of Gods benefites, who did not onely preſerue him in his mothers belly, but toke him thence, & euer ſince hathe preſerued him.

PSAL. LXXI.

1 He praieth in faith, eſtabliſhed by the worde of the promes. 5 And confirmed by the worke of God from his youth. 10 He complaineth of the crueltie of his enemies. 17 And deſireth God to continue his graces towarde him. 22 Promiſing to be mindeful and thankeful for the ſame.

1 IN [a] thee, ô Lord, I truſt: let me neuer be aſhamed.

2 Reſcue me and deliuer me in thy [b] righteouſnes: incline thine eare vnto me and ſaue me.

3 Be thou my ſtrong rocke, whereunto I maie alwaie reſorte: thou [c] haſt giuẽ commandemẽt to ſaue me: for thou art my rocke, and my fortreſſe.

4 Deliuer me, ô my God, out of the hand [d] of the wicked: out of the hand of the euil and cruel man.

5 For thou art mine hope, ô Lord God, euen my [e] truſt from my youth.

6 Vpon thee haue I bene ſtaied from the wombe: thou art he that toke me out of my mothers bowels: my praiſe ſhal be alwaies of thee.

7 I am become as it were a [f] monſtre vnto manie: but thou art my ſure truſt.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praiſe, & with thy glorie euerie daie.

9 Caſt me not of in the time of [g] age: forſake me not when my ſtrength faileth.

10 For mine enemies ſpeake of me, & they that laie waite for my ſoule, take their couſel together, 11 Saying, [h] God hathe forſaken him: purſue and take him, for their is none to deliuer him.

12 Go not farre frõ me, ô God: [i] my God, haſte thee to helpe me.

13 Let them be confounded and conſumed that are againſt my ſoule: let them be couered with reprofe & confuſion, that ſeke mine hurt.

14 But I wil waite continually, & wil praiſe thee more and more.

15 My mouth ſhal daily reheaꝛſe thy righteouſnes, and thy ſaluacion: [k] for I knowe not the nomber.

16 I wil [l] go forwarde in the ſtrength of the Lord God, and wil make mention of thy righteouſnes, euen of thine onely.

17 O God, thou haſt taught me from my youth euen vntil now: therefore wil I tel of thy wonderous workes, 18 [m] Yea, euen vnto mine olde age and graie head, ô God, forſake me not, vntil I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, & thy power to all them, that ſhal come.

19 And thy [n] righteouſnes, ô God, I wil exalt on high: for ỹ haſt done great things: ô God, who is like vnto thee!

20 Which haſt ſhewed me great troubles and [p] aduerſities, but thou wilt returne and reuiue me, and wilt come againe, and take me vp from the depth of the earth.

21 Thou wilt increaſe mine honour, & returne and comfort me.

22 Therfore wil I praiſe thee for thy [q] faithfulnes, ô God, vpon inſtrument and viole: vnto thee wil I ſing vpon the harpe, ô Holie one of Iſrael.

23 My lippes wil reioyce when I ſing vnto thee, and my [r] ſoule, which thou haſt deliuered.

24 My tongue alſo ſhal talke of thy righteouſnes daily: for they are confounded & broght vnto ſhame, that ſeke mine hurt.

PSAL. LXXII.

1 He praieth for the proſperous eſtate of the kingdome of Salomõ, who was the figure of Chriſt. 4 Vnder whome ſhal be righteouſnes peace and felicitie. 10 Vnto whome all Kings and all nations ſhal do homage. 17 Whoſe name and power ſhal indure for euer. & in whome all nations ſhalbe bleſſed.

f All ỹ worlde wondereth at me becauſe of my miſeries, aſwel thei in autoritie, as the cõmon people, yet being aſſured of thy fauour I remained ſtedfaſt.

g Thou that didſt helpe me in my youth, when I had more ſtrẽgth, helpe me now ſo muche the more in mine olde age & weakenes

h Thus the wicked bothe blaſpheme God & triũph againſt his Saints, as though he had forſakẽ them, if he ſuffer thẽ to fall into their hands

i In callig him his God, he putteth backe ỹ falſe reportes of the aduerſaries, that ſaid, God had forſaken him.

k Becauſe thy benefites toward me are innumerable, I can not but cõtinually meditate & rehearſe them

l I wil remaine ſtedfaſt, being vpholden with ỹ power of God.

m He deſireth ỹ as he hathe begonne, he wolde ſo continue his benefites, ỹ his liberalitie maie haue perfite praiſe

n Thy iuſt performãce of thy promes

o His faith breaketh through all tentacions, & by this exclamatiõ he praiſeth ỹ power of God

p As he confeſſeth that God is the onelie autor of his deliuerance: ſo he acknowledgeth that theſe euils were ſent vnto him by Gods prouidence

q He cõfeſſeth ỹ his long rariance was wel recompenſed, when God performed his promes

r For there is no true praiſing of God, except it come frõ the heart:

and therefore he promiſeth to delite in nothing, but whercin God maie be glorified.

A Pſalme

¶ A Psalme [a] of Salomón.

GIue thy [b] iudgements to the King, ô God, and thy righteousnes to the Kings [c] sonne.
2 Then shal he iudge thy people in righteousnes, and thy poore with equitie.
3 The [d] mountaines and the hils shal bring peace to the people by iustice.
4 He shal [e] iudge the poore of the people: he shal saue the children of the nedie, and shal subdue the oppressor.
5 They shal [f] feare thee as long as the sunne and moone endureth, from generation to generation.
6 He shal come [g] downe like the raine vpon the mowen grasse, & as the showres that water the earth.
7 In his daies shal the righteous florish, & abundance of peace shall be so long as the moone endureth.
8 His dominion shalbe also from [h] sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the ends of the land.
9 They that dwell in the wildernes, shal knele before him, and his enemies shal licke the dust.
10 The Kings of [i] Tarshish & of the yles shal bring presentes: the Kings [k] of Sheba and Seba shal bring giftes.
11 Yea, all Kings shal worship him: all nations shal serue him.
12 For he shal deliuer the poore when he cryeth: the nedie also, and him that hathe no helper.
13 He shalbe merciful to the poore and nedie, and shal preserue the soules of the poore.
14 He shal redeme their soules from deceit and violence, and [l] deare shal their blood be in his sight.
15 Yea, he shal liue, and vnto him shal they giue of the [m] golde of Sheba: they shal also praye for him continually, and daily blesse him.
16 An handful of corne shalbe sowen in the earth, euen in the top of the mountaines, and the [n] frute thereof shal shake like the trees of Lebanón: and the children shal florish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.
17 His name shalbe for euer: his name shal indure as long as the sunne: all natiõs shal blesse [o] him, and be blessed in him.
18 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israél, which onely doeth [p] wonderous things.
19 And blessed be his glorious Name for euer: and let all the earth be filled with his glorie. So be it, euen so be it.

HERE END THE [q] praiers of Dauid, the sonne of Ishái.

a Cõposed by Dauid as touching ỹ reigne of his sonne Salomon
b Endue the King with the Spirit of wisdome & iustice
c To wit, to his posteritie
d Whe iustice reigneth, euen ỹ places moste barren shal be enriched with thy blessings
e He sheweth wherefore the sworde is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent and suppresse the wicked
f The people shal imbrace thy true religion, whe thou giuest a King, that ruleth according to thy worde
g As this is true in all godlie Kings: so is it chiefly verified in Christ, who ỹ his heauenlie dewe maketh his Church euer to florish
h That is frõ the red Sea to the sea called Syriacum, and frõ Euphrates forwardeme aning, ỹ Christs kingdome shuld be large & vniuersal
i Of Cilicia & of all other countreis bevõd the sea, which he meaneth by the yles k That is, of Arabia ỹ riche countrei, wherof ỹ Shebá was a parte bordering vpon Ethiopia l Thogh tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godlie King shal preserue his subiects from all kinde of wrong
m God wil bo the prosper his life, & also make the people moste willing to obeie him n Vnder suche a King shalbe moste great plentie, bothe of frute & also of the increase of mankinde
o They shal praie to God for his continuãce, & know that God doeth prosper them for his sake p He confesseth that except God miraculously preserue his people, that neither the King nor the kingdome can continue.
q Concerning his sonne Salomón.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neither the worldelie prosperitie of the vngodlie. 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers prouidence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 For asmuche as the wicked vanish away. 24 And the godlie enter into life euerlasting. 28 In hope whereof he resigneth him self into Gods hands.

¶ A Psalme committed to Asáph.

1 YEt [a] God is good to Israél: euen, to the pure in heart.
2 As for me, my fete were almost gone: my steps had welneie slipt.
3 For I freated at the foolish, when I sawe the prosperitie of the wicked.
4 For there are [b] no bands in their death, but they are lustie & strong.
5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued with other men.
6 [c] Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto thẽ, & crueltie couereth them as a garment.
7 Their eyes stand out for fatnes: "they haue more then heart can wish.
8 They are licencious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: their talke presumpteously.
9 They [d] set their mouth against heauen, & their tongue walketh through the earth.
10 Therefore his [e] people turne hither: for waters of a ful cup are wrung out to them.
11 And they [f] say, How doeth God know it? or is there knowledge in ỹ moste High?
12 Lo, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, & increase in riches.
13 Certeinly I haue clensed mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.
14 For daily haue I bene punished, and chastened euerie morning.
15 If I say, [g] I wil iudge thus, beholde the generacio of thy children: I haue trespaced.
16 Thẽ thoght I to knowe this, but it was to peinful for me, 17 Vntil I went into the [h] Sanctuarie of God: then vnderstode I their end.
18 Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, and castest them downe into desolation.
19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished & [i] horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh! ô Lord, when [k] thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despised.
21 Certeinly mine heart was vexed, & I was pricked in my reines:
22 So foolish was I and ignorant: I was a [l] beast before thee.
23 Yet I was alway [m] with thee: thou hast a As it were betwene hope & despaire he brasteth forthe into this affectiõ, being assured ỹ God wolde cõtinue his fauour toward suche as were godlie in dede, and not hypocrites

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, & are not drawen to death like prisoners that is by sickenes, wis dethes messẽger.
c They glorie in their pride as some do in their shames: & in crueltie, as some do in apparel
" Ebr They passe the desires of the heart
d They blaspheme God & feare not his power, & raile vpon men, because they esteme thẽselues aboue all others
e Not onely ỹ reprobate, but also ỹ people of God often times fall backe, seing ỹ prosperous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhelmed with sorowes, thinking ỹ God cõsidereth not aright the state of the godlie.
f Thus ỹ flesh moueth euen ỹ godlie to dispute with God touchig their poore estate & the prosperitie of the wicked.
g If I giue place to this wicked thoght, I offẽd against thy prouidence, seing ỹ disposest all things moste wisely, and preseruest thy children in their greatest dangers h Vntil I entred into thy schole & learned by thy worde & holie Spirit, ỹ thou ordrest all things moste wisely & iustly.
i By thy feareful iudgement k When thou openest our eies to consider thy heauenlie felicitie, we contemne all their vaine pompe
l For the more that mã goeth about by his owne reason to seke out Gods iudgements, ỹ more doeth he declare him self a beast
m By faith I was assured that thy prouidence did watche alwayes ouer me to preserue me holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counſel, & afterwarde receiue me to glorie.
25 Whome haue I in [a] heauen but thee? and I haue deſired none in [y] earth with thee.
26 My fleſh faileth and mine heart alſo: but God is the ſtrēgth of mine heart, and my [o] porcion for euer.
27 For lo, they that withdrawe them ſelues from thee, ſhal periſh: thou deſtroyeſt all them that [p] go a whoring from thee.
28 As for me, it is good for me [q] to drawe nere to God: therefore I haue put my truſt in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

a He ſoght neither helpe nor cōfort of anie ſaue of God onely
o He teacheth vs to denie our ſelues, to haue God our whole ſufficiencie, & onely cōtentement p That is, forſake thee to ſeke others
q Thogh all [y] worlde ſhrinke from God, yet he promiſeth to truſt in him and to magnifie his workes.

PSAL. LXXIIII.

1 The faithful complaine of the deſtruction of the Church & true religion. 2 Under the name of Zion, and the Temple deſtroyed: 11 And truſting in the might & fre mercies of God, 20 By his couenant, 21 They requare helpe & ſuccour for the glorie of Gods holie Name, for the ſaluacion of his poore afflicted ſeruants, 23 And the confuſion of his proude enemies.

¶ A Pſalme to giue inſtruction, committed to Aſaph.

1 O God, [a] why haſt thou put vs away for euer? why is thy wrath kindled againſt the ſhepe of thy paſture?
2 Thinke vpon thy Congregacion, which thou haſt poſſeſſed of olde, & on the [b] rod of thine inheritance, which thou haſt redemed, & on this mount Zion, wherein thou haſt dwelt.
3 Lift vp thy [*] ſtrokes, that thou maieſt for euer deſtroye euerie enemie that doeth euil to the Sanctuarie.
4 Thine aduerſaries roare in the middes of thy Congregacion, & [c] ſet vp their banners for ſignes.
5 He that [d] lifted the axes vpon the thicke trees, was renoumed, as one, that brogh t a thing to perfection:
6 But now they breake downe the carued worke thereof with axes and hammers.
7 They haue caſt thy Sanctuarie into the fyre, & raſed it to the ground, and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name.
8 They ſaid in their [e] hearts, Let vs deſtroye them altogether: they haue burnt all the Synagogues of God in the land.
9 We ſe not our ſignes: there is not one Prophet more, nor anie with vs that knoweth [f] how long.
10 O God, how long ſhal the aduerſarie reproche thee? ſhal the enemie blaſpheme thy Name for euer?
11 Why withdraweſt thou thine hand, euen thy right hād? drawe it out of thy boſome, & [g] conſume them.
12 Euen God is my King of olde, working ſaluacion [h] in the middes of the earth.
13 Thou dideſt diuide [y] Sea by thy power: thou brakeſt the heades of the [i] dragons in the waters.
14 Thou brakeſt the head of [k] Liuiathán in pieces, and gaueſt him to be [l] meat for the people in wildernes.
15 Thou brakeſt vp the fountaine and riuer: thou dryedſt vp mightie riuers.
16 The [m] daye is thine, and the night is thine: thou haſt prepared the light and the ſunne.
17 Thou haſt ſet all the borders of [y] earth: thou haſt made ſomer and winter.
18 Remember this, that the enemie hathe reproched the Lord, and the fooliſh people hathe blaſphemed thy Name.
19 Giue not the ſoule of thy [n] turtle dooue vnto the beaſt, & forget not the Congregacion of thy poore for euer.
20 Conſider thy couenant: for [o] the darke places of the earth are ful of the habitacions of the cruel.
21 Oh let not the oppreſſed returne aſhamed, but let the poore & nedie praiſe thy Name.
22 Ariſe, ô God: mainteine thine [p] owne cauſe: remember thy dailie reproche by the fooliſh man.
23 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: for the tumulte of them, that riſe againſt thee, [*] aſcendeth continually.

a The Church of God being oppreſſed by the tyrannie either of [y] Babylonians, or of Antiochus, praieth to God by whoſe hād this yoke was laied vpon them for their ſinnes
b Which inheritance [y] haſt meaſured out for thy ſelf as with a line or rod
*Or, ſeate
c They haue deſtroyed thy true religion & ſpread their banners in ſigne of defiance.
d He cōmeth dethrike Temple for [y] coſtlie matter, the excellent workemanſhip & beautie therof [y] notwithſtāding the enemies did deſtroye.
e They incouraged one another to cruelti, [y] not onely Gods people might be deſtroyed, but alſo his religion vtterly in all places ſuppreſſed.
f They lamēt [y] they haue no Prophet amōg them to ſhewe them how lōg their miſeries ſhulde endure.
g They ioyne their deliuerāce with Gods glorie & power, knowing that the puniſhment of the enemie ſhulde be their deliuerance.
h Meaning, in the ſight of all the worlde.
i To wit, Pharaohs armie.
k Which was a great mōſtre of the ſea, or whale, meaning Pharaoh
l His deſtruction did reioyce thē as meat refreſheth the bodie
m Seing that God by his prouidence gouerneth & diſpoſeth all thigs, he gathereth [y] he wil take care chiefly for his children n He meaneth [y] Church of God, [y] is expoſed as a pray to the wicked.
o That is all places where thy worde ſhineth not, there reigneth tyrānie & ambitiō p He ſheweth that God can not ſuffer his Church to be oppreſſed, except he loſe his owne right
*Or, incre aſeth more and more.

PSAL. LXXV.

1 The faithful do praiſe the Name of the Lord, 2 Which ſhal come to iudge at the time appointed, 8 When the wicked ſhalbe put to confuſion, and dronke of the cup of his wrath. 10 Their pride ſhalbe abated, & the righteous ſhalbe exalted to honour.

¶ To him that excelleth. [a] Deſtroye not. A Pſalme or ſong committed to Aſaph.

1 WE wil praiſe thee, ô God, we wil praiſe thee, for thy Name is nere: therefore [b] they wil declare thy wonderous workes.
2 [c] When I ſhal take a conuenient time, I wil iudge righteouſly.
3 The earth and all the inhabitans thereof are diſſolued: but I wil eſtabliſh the pillers [d] of it. Sélah.
4 I ſaid vnto the fooliſh, Be not ſo fooliſh, and to the wicked, Lift not vp the horne.
5 Lift not vp your [e] horne on high, nether ſpeake with a ſtiffe necke.
6 For to come to preferment is nether from the Eaſt, nor from the Weſt, nor from the South,
7 But God is the iudge: he maketh low and he maketh hie.
8 For in the hand of the Lord is a [f] cup, and the wine is red: it is ful mixt, and he powreth out of the ſame: ſurely all the wicked of the earth ſhal wring out & drinke the dregs thereof.
9 But

a Read Pſal 57, 1
b He declareth how [y] faithful ſhal euer haue iuſt occaſio to praiſe God, for aſmuche as in their nede thei ſhal fele his power at hand to helpe them.
c When I ſe my time (ſaith God) to helpe your miſeries, I wil come & ſet all things in good ordre d Though all things be broght to ruine, yet I can reſtore & preſerue them.
e The Prophet warneth [y] wicked that they wolde not ſet them ſelues againſt Gods people, ſeing [y] God at his time deſtroyeth them that rule wickedly
f Gods wrath is compared to a cup of ſtrōg & delicate wine, wherewith the wicked are made ſo dronke, that by drinking til they come to the verie dregs, they are vtterly deſtroyed.

9 But I wil declare for euer, and ſing praiſes vnto the God of Iaakób.
10 All the hornes of the wicked alſo wil I breake: but the hornes of the g righteous ſhalbe exalted.

g The godlie ſhal better proſper by their innocent ſimplicitie, then the wicked ſhal by all their craft, & ſubtelties.

PSAL. LXXVI.

1 This Pſalme ſetteth forthe the power of God & care for the defence of his people in Ieruſalém, in the deſtruction of the armie of Sancherib: 11 And exhorteth the faithful to be thankeful for the ſame.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginóth. A Pſalme or ſong committed to Aſáph.

1 a He declareth ỹ Gods power is euidétly ſene in preſeruíg his people and deſtroying his enemies
b Which after ward was called Ieruſalém
c He cõpareth the kingdomes ful of extortiõ & rapine to ỹ mountaines ỹ are ful of rauening beaſts d God hathe takẽ their ſpirits & ſtrength from them, as thogh their hãds were cut of.
e God wt a looke is able to deſtroye all ỹ power & actiuitie of ỹ enemies, were they neuer ſo manie or mightie
f To reuenge ỹ wrõgs done to thy Church
g For the end ſhal ſhewe ỹ ỹ enemie was able to bring nothing to paſſe alſo ỹ ſhalt bridle their rage, ỹ they ſhal not compaſſe their purpoſe.
h To wit, the Leuites ỹ dwel about the Tabernacle, or ỹ people, among whome he doeth dwell
i The Ebrewe worde ſignifieth, to vintage, or gather grapes: meaning that he ſhal make the counſels and entreprifes of wicked tyrants fooliſh and vaine

a GOd is a knowen in Iudáh: his Name is great in Iſraél.
2 For in b Shalém is his Tabernacle, and his dwelling in Zión.
3 There brake he the arrowes of the bowe, the ſhield and the ſworde and the battel. Sélah.
4 Thou art more bright and puiſſant, then c the mountaines of pray.
5 The ſtoute harted are ſpoiled: they haue ſlept their ſlepe, & all the men of ſtrength haue not d founde their hands.
6 At thy rebuke, ô God of Iaakób, bothe the chariot and horſe are caſt a ſlepe.
7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who ſhal ſtand in thy e ſight, when thou art angrie!
8 Thou dideſt cauſe thy iudgement to be heard from heauen: therefore the earth feared and was ſtil, 9 When thou, ô God, aroſe to iudgement, to f helpe all the meke of the earth. Sélah.
10 Surely the g rage of man ſhal turne to thy praiſe: the remnant of the rage ſhalt thou reſtraine.
11 Vowe & performe vnto the Lord your God, all ye that be h rounde about him: let thẽ bring preſents vnto him that ought to be feared.
12 He ſhal i cut of the ſpirit of princes: he is terrible to the Kings of the earth.

PSAL. LXXVII.

1 The Prophet in the name of the Church rehearſeth the greatnes of his affliction, and his grieuous tentations, 6 Whereby he was driuen to this end to conſider his former converſation, 11 And the continual courſe of Gods workes in the preſeruation of his ſeruants, & ſo he confirmeth his faith againſt theſe tentations.

¶ For the excellent muſician * Iedithún. A Pſalme committed to Aſáph.

1 1 Chro 16,41. pſal.39,& 62
a The Prophet teacheth vs by his exãple to flee vnto God for helpe in our neceſsities
*Or, mine hand was ſtretched out
b He ſheweth ỹ we muſt patiently abide, although God deliuer vs not out of our troubles at ỹ firſt cry.

1 MY a voyce came to God, when I cryed: my voyce came to God, and he heard me.
2 In the day of my trouble I ſought ỹ Lord: *my ſore ranne & ceaſed not in the night: my ſoule refuſed comfort.
3 I did thinke vpon God, and was b troubled: I prayed, and my ſpirit was ful of anguiſh. Sélah.
4 Thou kepeſt mine eies c waking: I was aſtonied and colde not ſpeake.
5 Then I conſidered the daies of olde, and the yeres of ancient time.
6 I called to remembrance my d ſong in the night: I cõmuned with mine owne heart, and my ſpirit ſearched e diligently.
7 Wil the Lord abſent him ſelf for euer? & wil he ſhewe no more fauour?
8 Is his f mercie cleane gone for euer? doeth his promes faile for euer more?
9 Hathe God forgotten to be merciful? hathe he ſhut vp his tẽder mercies in diſpleaſure? Sélah.
10 And I ſaid, This is my g death: yet I remẽbred the yeres of the right hãd of the moſt High.
11 I remembred the workes of the Lord: certeinly I remembred thy wonders of olde.
12 I did alſo meditate all thy workes, & did deuiſe of thine Actes, ſaying, 13 Thy waie, ô God, is h in the Sanctuarie: who is ſo great a i God as our God!
14 Thou art the God that doeſt wonders: thou haſt declared thy power among the people.
15 Thou haſt redemed thy people *w*ith thine arme, euen the ſonnes of Iaakób and Ioſéph. Sélah.
16 The k waters ſawe thee, ô God: the waters ſawe thee, and were afraied: yea, the depths trembled.
17 The cloudes powred out water: the heauens gaue a l ſounde: yea, thine arrowes went abroad.
18 The voice of thy thundre was round about: the lightenigs lightened the worlde: the earth trembled and ſhoke.
19 Thy waie is in the Sea, and thy paths in the great waters, and thy foteſteps are not m knowen.
20 Thou dideſt leade thy people like ſhepe by the hand of Moſes and Aarón.

c Meanig that his ſorowes were as watchmen ỹ kept his eies frõ ſlepig.
d Of thankeſgiuíg, ỹ I was accuſtomed to ſing in my proſperitie
e Bothe ỹ cauſes why I was chaſtened, and when my ſorowes ſhulde haue an end f As if he ſhulde ſaie, It is impoſſible: wherby he exhorteth him ſelfe to pacience.
g Thogh I firſt douted of my life, yet conſidering that God had his yeres, ỹ is, chãge of times, & was accuſtomed alſo to lift vp them, whome he hathe beaten, I toke heart againe
h That is, in heauen, whervnto we muſt aſcẽd by faith, if we wil know ỹ waies of God
i He condemneth all ỹ worſhip anie thig ſaue ỹ onely true God, whoſe glorie appeareth through the worlde k He declareth, wherin ỹ power of God was declared, when he deliuered ỹ Iſraelites through the red Sea l That is, thũdered & lightened.
m For when ỹ hadeſt broght ouer thy people, the water returned to her courſe & ỹ enemies that thoght to haue followed thẽ, colde not paſſe through. Exod 14,19.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

1 He ſheweth how God of his mercie choſe his Church of the poſteritie of Abrahám, 8 Reprochíng the ſtubburne rebellion of their fathers, that the children might not onely vnderſtand, 11 That God of his frẽ mercie made his couenant with their ancetours, 17 But alſo ſeing them ſo malicious and peruerſe, might be aſhamed and ſo turne wholly to God. In this Pſalme the holie Goſt hathe comprehẽded as it were, the ſumme of all Gods benefites, to the intent the ignorant and groſſe people might ſe in fewe wordes the effect of the whole hiſtories of the Bible.

¶ A Pſalme to giue a inſtruction committed to Aſáph.

a Read pſalme 32
b The Prophet vnder the name of a teacher calleth ỹ people his, & the doctrine his, as Paul calleth ỹ Goſpel his, whereof he was but ỹ preacher as Rom 2,16 & 16,25.

1 HEare my b doctrine, ô my people: incline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.
2 I wil open my mouth in a parable: I wil declare high ſentences of olde.

3 Which we haue heard and knowen, and our [c] fathers haue tolde vs.

Which were the people of God.

4 We wil not hide them from their children, but to the generacion to come we wil ſhewe the praiſes of the Lord, his power alſo, and his wonderful workes that he hathe done:

By the teſtimonie & Law he meaneth ỹ Law writen, which they were commãded to teache their childrẽ, Deu 6,7.

5 How he eſtabliſhed a [d] teſtimonie in Iaakób, and ordeined a Law in Iſraél, which he commanded our fathers, that they ſhulde teache their children:

e He ſheweth wherin ỹ children ſhulde be like their fathers, that is, in maintening God's pure religion

6 That the [e] poſteritie might knowe it, and the children, which ſhulde be borne, ſhulde ſtand vp, & declare it to their children:

f He ſheweth wherein ỹ vſe of this doctrine ſtandeth in faith, in ỹ meditation of Godsbenefites & in obedience

7 That they might [f] ſet their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God but kepe his commandements:

g Though theſe fathers were the ſede of Abrahám & the choſen people, yet he ſheweth by their rebellion, prouocation, falſehode & hypocriſie, that the children ought not to followe their exãples.

8 And not to be as their [g] fathers, a diſobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that ſet not their heart aright, and whoſe ſpirit was not faithful vnto God.

h By Ephráim he meaneth alſo the reſt of the tribes, becauſe thei were moſte in nomber whoſe punishmẽt declareth that they were vnfaithful to God, and by their multitude and autoritie had corrupt all others 9 The children of [h] Ephráim being armed & ſhooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battel.

10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refuſed to walke in his Law, i He proueth that not onely the poſteritie, but alſo their forefathers were wicked and rebellious to God

11 And forgate his Actes, and his wonderful workes that he had ſhewed them.

12 He did maruelous things in the ſight of their [i] fathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zóan.

Exod.14,21.

13 *He deuided the Sea, and led them through: he made alſo the waters to ſtand as an heape.

Exod 14,24.

14 *In the daietime alſo he led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fyer.

Exod.17,6.

15 *He claue the rockes in the wildernes, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

num 20,11.

16 *He broght floods alſo out of the ſtonie rocke, ſo that he made the waters to deſcend like the riuers.

pſal.105,41.

17 Yet they [k] ſinned ſtil againſt him, and prouoked the Higheſt in the wildernes,

1 Cor.10,4.

18 And tempted God in their heartes in [l] requiring meat for their luſt.

Wiſd.11,4.

19 *They ſpake againſt God alſo, ſaying, Can God [m] prepare a table in the wildernes?

k Their wicked malice colde be ouercome by no benefites, which were great & manie 20 *Beholde, he ſmote the rocke, that the water guſhed out, and the ſtreames ouerflowed: can he giue bread alſo? or prepare fleſh for his people?

l Then to require more thẽ is neceſſarie, & to ſeparate

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angrie, and the *fyer was kindled in Iaakób, and alſo wrath came vpon Iſraél, 22 Becauſe they beleued not in God, and [n] truſted not in his helpe.

23 Yet he had commanded the [o] cloudes aboue, and had opened the dores of heauen, o So that thei hid ỹ, which was neceſſarie & ſufficient but their luſt made them to cõtemne that which thei knewe God had demãded them.

24 And had rained downe MAN vpon thẽ for to eat, and had giuen them of the wheat of heauen.

25 *Man did eat the bread of Angels: he ſent them meat ynough.

Iob.6,31.

1.cor 10,3.

26 He cauſed the [p] Eaſtwinde to paſſe in the heauen, and through his power he brought in the Southwinde.

p God vſed ỹ meanes of the winde to teach them, that all elementes were at his cõmandement, & that no diſtance of place coſtecter his working.

27 He rained fleſh alſo vpon them as duſt, and feathered foule as the ſand of the ſea.

28 And he made it fall in ỹ middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So thei did eat and were wel filled: for he gaue them their deſire.

30 They were not turned from their [q] luſt, but the meat was yet in their mouthes, q Suche is the nature of concupiſcence, ỹ the more it hath, ỹ more it luſteth

31 When the wrath of God came euen vpon them, and ſlew [r] the ſtrongeſt of them, and ſmote downe the choſen men in Iſraél.

r Though other were not ſpared, yet chiefly thei ſuffred, ỹ truſted to their ſtrength againſt God

32 For all this, thei [s] ſinned ſtil, and beleued not his wonderous workes.

s Thus ſinne by continuãce maketh men intenſible, ſo ỹ by no plagues thei can be amended 33 Therefore their daies did he cõſume in vanitie, and their yeres haſtely.

34 And when he [t] ſlewe them, thei ſoght him & they returned, & ſoght God early.

t Hade wil their hypocriſie, that thei ſoght vnto God for feare of punishmẽt, thogh in their heart thei loued him not 35 And thei remembred that God was their ſtrength, & the moſte high God their redemer.

u Whitherto commeth not from the pure fountaine of ỹ heart, is hypocriſie.

36 But thei flattered him with their mouth and diſſembled with him with their tongue.

37 For their [u] heart was not vpright with him: nether were they faithful in his couenant.

x Becauſe he wolde euer haue ſome remnant of a Church to praiſe his Name in earth, he ſuffred not their ſinnes to ouercome his mercie.

38 Yet he being merciful [x] forgaue their iniquitie, and deſtroied them not, but oft times called backe his angre, and did not ſtirre vp all his wrath.

39 For he remembred that thei were fleſh: yea, a winde that paſſeth and commeth not againe.

40 How oft did they prouoke him in the wildernes? & grieue him in the deſert?

y That is, thei tempted him oft times,

41 Yea, they [y] returned, and tempted God, and [z] limited the Holie one of Iſraél.

z As thei all do ỹ meaſure the power of God by their capacitie.

42 Thei [a] remembred not his hand, nor the daie when he deliuered them from the enemie, a The forgetfulnes of Gods benefits is the rote of rebellion & all vice 43 Nor him that ſet his ſignes in Egypt, & his wonders in the field of Zóan, 44 And turned their riuers into blood, and their floods, that thei colde not drinke.

b This worde ſignifieth a confuſed mixture of flies, and venemous

45 He ſent [b] a ſwarme of flies among them, which deuoured them, & frogs, which deſtroyed them.

wormes Some take it for all ſortes of ſerpents, ſome for all wilde beaſtes.

Gods power from his wil, is to tempt God *Nomb 11,1 m Thus when we giue place to ſinne, we are moued to doute of Gods power, except he wil alwayes be ready to ſerue our luſt. *Exod 17,6 nomb 20,11 pſal.105,41 1 cor 10, 4 *Nomb 11,1 n That is, in his Fatherlie prouidence, whereby he careth for his and prouideth ſufficiently.

50911324

c He repeteth not here all ſ miracles that God did in Egypt, but certeine ẅ might be ſufficient to convince the people of malice & ingratitude

d So called, either of the effect: that is, of punishing the wicked, or els becauſe thei were wicked ſpirits, whome God permitted to vexe men

e The firſtborne are ſo called, as Gen. 49.3

f That is, Egypt: for it was called Mizraim or Egypt of Mizráim, that was the ſonne of Ham

g That is, thei had none occaſion to feare, for aſmucheas God deſtroied their enemies and deliuered them ſafely

h Meanig Canáan, ẅ God had conſecrate to him ſelfe, & appointed to his people Ioſh. 11, 1. & 13, 7.

i Nothing more diſpleaſeth God in ỹ children, thē when thei cōmme in ỹ wickednes, which their fathers had begō me

k By ſeruing God otherwiſe then he had appoīted

l For their ingratitude he ſuffred ỹ Philiſtims to take the Arke, ẅ was the ſigne of his preſēce, frō amōg thē

m The Arke is called his power & beautie, becauſe therby he defēded his people, & beautifully appeared vnto them

n Thei were ſuddenly deſtroyed, 1 Sam 4, 10

o Thei had no mariage songs: ỹ is, thei were not maried

p Eyther thei were ſlaine before or taken priſoners of their enemies, & ſo were forbidden.

q Becauſe thei were drunken in their ſinnes, thei mig. 1 Gods pacience to be ſlo in bring ar. thogh he were drunken: there fore he anſwering their ar. ſ. he will awake and take ſudden vengeance

r Shewing that he ſpared not altogether the Iſraelites, though he puniſhed their enemies.

46 He c gaue alſo their frutes vnto the caterpiller, and their labour vnto the graſshopper.

47 He deſtroied their vines with haile, & their wilde figgetrees with the haile-ſtone.

48 He gaue their cattel alſo to the haile, and their flockes to the thunderboltes.

49 He caſt vpon them the fiercenes of his angre, indignation and wrath, and vexation by the ſending out of d euil Angels.

50 He made awaie to his angre: he ſpared not their ſoule from death, but gaue their life to the peſtilence, 51 And ſmote all the firſtborne in Egypt, euen the e beginning of their ſtrength in the tabernacles of f Ham.

52 But he made his people to go out like ſhepe, and led them in the wildernes like a flocke.

53 Yea, he caried them out ſafely, and they g feared not, and the Sea couered their enemies.

54 And he broght them vnto the borders of his h Sanctuarie: euen to this Mountaine, which his right hand purchaſed.

55 *He caſt out the heathen alſo before thē and cauſ d them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Iſrael to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the moſt high God, and kept not his teſtimonies, 57 But turned backe and delt i faſſely like their fathers: thei turned like a deceitful bowe.

58 And thei k prouoked him to angre with their high places, & moued him to wrath with their grauen images.

59 God heard this and was wroth, & greatly abhorred Iſrael,

60 So that he l forſoke the habitation of Shiló, euē the Tabernacle where he dwelt among men, 61 And deliuered his m power in to captiuitie, and his beautie into the enemies hand.

62 And he gaue vp his people to the ſworde, and was angrie with his inheritance.

63 The fyer n deuoured their choſen men, and their maides were not o praiſed.

64 Their Prieſts fell by the ſworde, & their p widowes lamented not.

65 But the Lord awaked as one out of ſlepe, and as a ſtrong man that after his q wine cryeth out, 66 And ſmote his enemies in the hinder parts, and put them to a perpetual ſhame.

67 Yet he refuſed the tabernacle of r Ioſeph, and choſe not the tribe of Ephráim:

68 But choſe the tribe of Iudáh, & mount Zión which he loued.

69 And he f buylt his Sanctuarie as an high palace, like the earth, which he ſtabliſhed for euer.

70 He choſe Dauid alſo his ſeruant, & toke him from the ſhepefoldes.

71 Euen from behinde the ewes withyong broght he him to fede his people in Iaakób, and his inheritance in Iſraél.

72 So he fed them according to the ſimplicitie of his heart, and guided them by the diſcretion of his hands.

f By buylding the Temple & eſtabliſhing ỹ kingdome, he declareth that the ſignes of his fauour were among thē.

t He ſheweth wherein a Kīg chargeſtādeth: to wit, to prouide faithfully for his people, to guide them by counſel, & defend them by power.

PSAL. LXXIX.

1 The Iſraelites complaine to God for the great calamitie and oppreſſion that thei ſuffred by Gods enemies. 8 And confeſſing their ſinnes, flee to Goās mercies with ful hope of deliuerance. 10 Becauſe their calamities were seyned with the contēpt of his Name. 13 For the which thei promes to be thankeful.

¶ A Pſalme committed to Aſeph.

1 O God, a the heathen are come into thine inheritance: thine holie Temple haue they defiled, & made Ieruſalém heapes of ſtones.

2 The b dead bodies of thy ſeruants haue thei giuen to be meat vnto foules of the heauen: and the fleſh of thy Sainctes vnto the beaſtes of the earth.

3 Their blood haue thei ſhed like waters round about Ieruſalém, and there was none to c burye them.

4 We are a reproche to our d neighbours, euen a ſcorne and deriſion vnto them that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angrie for euer? ſhal thy gelouſie e burne like fyer?

6 *Powre out thy wrath vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee, and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For thei haue deuoured Iaakób and made his dwelling place deſolate.

8 Remember not againſt vs the f former iniquities, but g make haſte & let thy tendre mercies preuent vs: for we are in great miſerie.

9 Helpe vs, ô God of our h ſaluacion, for the glorie of thy Name, and deliuer vs, and be merciful vnto our ſinnes for thy names ſake.

10 Wherefore ſhulde the heathen ſaie, Where is their God? let him be knowen among the heathen in our ſight by the vengeance of the blood of thy ſeruants that is ſhed.

11 Let the ſighig of the i priſoners come before thee: according to thy mightie arme preſerue k the children of death, 12 And render to our neighbours ſeuen folde into their boſome their reproche, wherewith they haue reprochet the, ô Lord.

13 So we thy people, and ſhepe of thy a The people crye vnto God againſt ỹ barbarous tyrāne of ỹ Babyloniās, who ſpoiled Gods inheritance, polluted his Tēple, deſtroied his religion & murthered his people.

b The Prophet ſheweth to what extremities God ſuffreth ſometime his Church to fall, to exerciſe their faith before he ſet to his hand to deliuer them.

c Their frends & kinſfolkes durſt not burie them for feare of ỹ enemies.

d Whereof ſome came of Abrahám, but were degenerate: & others were open enemies to thy religion, but thei bothe laughed at our miſeries

e Wilt ỹ vtterly conſume vs for our ſinnes, before ỹ take eſt vs to mercie? Iere 10, 25.

f Which we & our fathers haue committed.

g And ſtaie not til we haue recōpenced for our ſinnes.

h Seig we haue none other Sauiour neither can we helpe our ſelues, and alſo by our ſaluacion thy Name maibe praiſed, therefore, o Lord, helpe vs

i Who though in reſpect of God thei were iuſtly punished for their ſinnes, yet in cōſideration of their cauſe, were vniuſtly murthered k Which were captiues amōg their enemies, & colde loke for nothig but death.

paſture ſhal praiſe thee for euer: and from generation to generation [1] we wil ſet forthe thy praiſe.

1 We ought to deſire no benefite of God, but on this condition to praiſe his Name, Iſa. 43,21.

PSAL. LXXX.

1 A lamentable praier to God to helpe the miſeries of his Church. 8 Deſiring him to conſider their firſt eſtate, when his fauour ſtoned towards them, to the intent that he might finiſh that worke which he had begonne.

¶ To him that excelleth on Shoſhannim Eduth. A Pſalme committed to Aſaph.

HEare, [a] ô thou Shepherd of Iſraél, thou that leadeſt Ioſéph like ſhepe: ſhew thy brightnes, thou that ſitteſt betwene the [b] Cherubims.

2 Before Ephráim and Beniamín and Manaſſéh ſtirre vp thy ſtrength, and come to helpe vs.

3 [c] Turne vs againe, ô God, and cauſe thy face to ſhine that we maie be ſaued.

4 O Lord God of hoſtes, how long wilt thou be [d] angrie againſt the praier of thy people?

5 Thou haſt fed thẽ with the bread of teares, and giuen them teares to drinke with greate meaſure.

6 Thou haſt made vs a [e] ſtrife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among them ſelues.

7 [f] Turne vs againe, ô God of hoſtes: cauſe thy face to ſhine, and we ſhalbe ſaued.

8 Thou haſt broght a [g] vine out of Egypt: thou haſt caſt out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou madeſt roume for it, and dideſt cauſe it to take roote, and it filled the land.

10 The mountaines were couered with the ſhadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the "goodlie cedres.

11 She ſtretched out her branches vnto the Sea, and her boughes vnto the [h] Riuer.

12 Why haſt thou then broken downe her hedges, ſo that all thei, which paſſe by the waie, haue plucked her?

13 The wilde [i] bore out of the wood hathe deſtroied it, and the wilde beaſtes of the field haue eaten it vp.

14 Returne we beſeche thee, ô God of hoſtes: loke downe [k] from heauen and behold and viſit this vine,

15 And the vineyarde, that thy right hand hathe planted, and the yong vine, which thou madeſt [l] ſtrong for thy ſelf.

16 It is burnt with fyer and cut downe: and they periſh at the [m] rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hand be vpon ỹ [n] man of thy right hand, and vpon the ſonne of man, whome thou madeſt ſtrong for thine owne ſelf.

18 So wil not we go backe from thee: [o] reuiue thou vs, and we ſhal call vpon thy Name.

19 Turne vs againe, ô Lord God of hoſtes: cauſe thy face to ſhine and we ſhalbe ſaued.

a This pſalme was made as a praier for to deſire God to be merciful to the tentribes

b Moue their hearts ỹ thei may returne to worſhip God aright: ỹ is in ỹ place where thou haſt appointed c Ioyne thy whole people & all thy tribes together againe.

d The faithful feare Gods anger, when thei perceiue that their praiers are not forthwith heard

e Our neighbours haue cõtinual ſtrife & warre againſt vs

f Becauſe that repentãce onely commeth of God, thei moſte inſtamly & oft times call to God for it as a meane, whereby thei ſhalbe ſaued.

g Seing that of thy mercie thou haſt made vs a moſte deare poſſeſſiõ to thee, & we through our ſinnes are made open for wilde beaſtes to deuour vs, declare againe thy loue & finiſh ỹ worke that thou haſt begonne.

"Ebr. Cedres of God.

h To wit, Euphrates.

i That is, aſwel thei ỹ hate our religion as thei ỹ hate our perſones.

k Thei gaue not place to tentatiõ, knowing their albeit there were no helpe in earth, yet God was able to ſuccour them frõ heauen

l So ỹ no power can preuaile againſt it, & ẅ as a yong bud thou raiſeſt vp againe as out of the burnt aſhes.

m Onely when thou art angrie, and not with the ſworde of the enemie.

n That is, vpon this vine, or people, whome thou haſt planted with thy right hand, that thei ſhulde be as one man or eastbodie.

o For none can call vpõ God, but ſuche as are raiſed vp, as it were, from death to life & regenerate by ỹ holie Spirit.

PSAL. LXXXI.

1 An exhortatiõ to praiſe God bothe in heart & voice for his benefites. 8 And to worſhip him onely 11 God condẽneth their ingratitude. 12 And ſheweth what great benefites thei haue loſt through their owne malice.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon [a] Gittith. A pſalme committed to Aſaph.

SIng [b] ioyfully vnto God our ſtrength: ſing loude vnto the God of Iaakób.

2 Take the ſong and bring forthe the timbrel, the pleaſant harpe with the viole.

3 Blowe the trumpet in the [c] newmoone, euen in the time appointed, at our feaſt-daie.

4 For this is a ſtatute for Iſraél, & a Law of the God of Iaakób.

5 He ſet this in [d] Ioſéph for a teſtimonie, when he came out of the land of Egypt, where I heard a language, that [e] I vnderſtode not.

6 I haue withdrawen his ſhulder from the burden, & his hands haue left the [f] pottes.

7 Thou calledſt in affliction and I deliuered thee, and anſwered thee in the ſecret of the thunder: I proued thee at the waters of Meribáh. Sélah.

8 [h] Heare, ô my people, and I wil proteſt vnto thee: ô Iſraél, if thou wilt hearken vnto me,

9 Let there be no ſtrange god in thee, neither worſhip thou anie ſtrange god.

10 For I am the Lord thy God, ẅ broght thee out of the land of Egypt: [i] open thy mouth wide and I wil fil it.

11 But my people wolde not heare my voice, and Iſraél wolde none of me.

12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardenes of their heart, & thei haue walked in their owne counſels.

13 [k] Oh that my people had hearkened vnto me, & Iſraél had walked in my waies.

14 I wolde ſone haue humbled their enemies, and turned mine hand [l] againſt their aduerſaries.

15 The haters of the Lord ſhulde haue bene ſubiect vnto him, and their time [m] ſhulde haue endured for euer.

16 And God wolde haue fed them with the [n] fat of wheat, and with honie out of the [o] rocke wold I haue ſufficed thee.

a An inſtrument of muſicke brought from Gith

b It ſemeth ỹ this pſal was appointed for ſolẽne feaſtes & aſſemblies of the people, to whome for a time theſe ceremonies were ordeined, but now vnder the Goſpel are aboliſhed

c Vnder this feaſt he cõprehendeth all other ſolemne dates d That is, in Iſraél: for Ioſephs familie was counted the chief before that Iudáh was preferred.

e God ſpeaketh in ỹ perſone of the people, becauſe he was their leader.

f If thei were neuer able to giue ſufficient thãkes to God for this deliuerance frõ corporal bõdage, how muche more are we indetted to hẽ for our ſpirtual deliuerãce from the tyrannie of Satã & ſinne?

g By a ſtrange & wonderful faction.

"Or, conuerſion, Exod. 17,16.

h He condemneth all aſſemblies, where ỹ pẽople are not attentiue to heare Gods voice, & to giue obedience to the ſame

i God accuſeth their incredulitie, becauſe thei opened not their mouthes to receiue Gods benefites inſuche abundance as he powreth them out.

k God by his worde calleth all, but his ſecret election appointeth, who ſhal heare with frute

l If their ſinnes had not letted

m If the Iſraelites had not broken uenant with God, he wolde haue giuen them victorie againſt their enemies.

n That is, with moſte fine wheat and abundance of honie.

PSAL. LXXXII.

1 The Prophet declaring God to be preſent among the Iudges and Magiſtrates. 2 Reproueth their partialitie, litie. 3 And exhorteth them to do iuſtice 5 But ſeing none amendement, 8 He deſireth God to vndertake the matter & execute iuſtice him ſelf.

¶ A Pſalme committed to Aſáph.

GOd ſtandeth in the aſſemblie of [a] gods: he iudgeth among gods.
How long wil ye iudge vniuſtly, and accept the perſones of the [b] wicked? Sélah.
Do right to the poore and fatherles: do iuſtice to the poore and nedie.
Deliuer the poore and [c] nedie: ſaue them from the hand of the wicked.
They knowe not & vnderſtand nothing: they walke in darknes, albeit all the [d] fundacions of the earth be moued.
I haue ſaid, Ye are gods, and ye all are children of the moſt High.
[e] But ye ſhal dye as a man, & ye princes, ſhal fall like others.
O God, ariſe, therefore iudge thou the earth: for thou ſhalt inherite [f] all nations.

a The Prophet ſheweth that if princes and iudges do not their duetie, God, whoſe authoritie is aboue them, wil take vengeãce on them
b For theues and murderers finde fauour in iudgemẽt, whẽ the cauſe of ỹ godlie can not be heard c Not onely whẽ they crye for helpe, but whẽ their cauſe requireth aide & ſupport d That is, all things are out of ordre, ether by their tyrãnie or careles negligence e No title of honour ſhal excuſe you, but you ſhalbe ſubiect to Gods iudgement, and rẽder a compt as wel as other men
f Therefore no tyrant ſhal plucke thy right & autoritie frõ thee

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8

PSAL. LXXXIII.

1 The people of Iſraél praie vnto the Lord to deliuer thẽ from their enemies bothe at home and farre of, which imagined nothing but their deſtruction. 9 And thei deſire that all ſuche wicked people maie, according as God was accuſtomed, be ſtricken with the ſtormie tempeſt of Gods wrath, 18 That thei maie knowe that the Lord is moſte high vpon the earth.

¶ A ſong or Pſalme committed to Aſáph.

KEpe [a] not thou ſilence, ô God: be not ſtil and ceaſe not, ô God.
For lo, thine [b] enemies make a tumulte: & they ỹ hate thee, haue lifted vp the head.
Thei haue taken craftie counſel againſt thy people, and haue conſulted againſt thy [c] ſecret ones.
Thei haue ſaid, Come and let vs [d] cut them of from being a nation: and let the name of Iſrael be no more in remẽbrance.
For thei haue conſulted together [e] in heart, & haue made a league [f] againſt thee:
The tabernacles of Edóm, & the Iſhmaelites, Moáb and the Agarims:
Gebál and Ammón, and Amaléch, the Philiſtims with the inhabitants of [g] Tyrus:
Aſſhúr alſo is ioyned with thẽ: thei haue bene an arme to the children [g] of Lot. Sélah.
Do thou to them as vnto the [h] Midianites: as to Siſerá & as to Iabín at the riuer of Kiſhón.
Thei periſhed at En-dór, & were [i] dongue for the earth.
Make thẽ, euen their princes like * Oréb and like Zeéb: yea, all their princes like Zébah and like Zalmuná.
Which haue ſaid, Let vs take for our poſſeſſion the [k] habitacions of God.

a This Pſalme ſemeth to haue bene cõpoſed, as a forme of prayer againſt the dangers that the Church was in in the daies of Ioſhaphát.
b He calleth them Gods enemies, ỹ are enemies to his Church
c The elect of God are his ſecret ones: for he hideth thẽ in the ſecret of his tabernacle, & preſerueth them frõ all dangers d Thei were not content to take ỹ Church as priſoner, but ſoght vterly to deſtroy it.
e By all ſecret meanes.
f Thei thoght to haue ſubuerted thy coũſel, wherein ỹ perpetuitie of the Church was eſtabliſhed.
g The wickednes of the Ammonites & Moabites is deſcribed, in ỹ they prouoked theſe other natiõs to fight againſt the Iſraelites their brethren.
h By theſe examples, thei were cõfirmed that God wolde not ſuffer his people to be vtterly deſtroied, Iudg 7,21 and 4,15
i Troden vnder feete as myre *Iud 7,25 8,21.
k That is, Iudea: for where his Church is, there dwelleth he among them.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12

13 O my God, make thẽ like vnto a [l] whele, & as the ſtubble before the winde.
14 As the fyer burneth the foreſt, and as the flame ſetteth the mountaines on fyre:
15 So perſecute them with thy tempeſt, and make them aſtaied with thy ſtorme.
16 Fil their faces with ſhame, that thei maie [m] ſeke thy Name, ô Lord.
17 Let them be confounded and troubled for euer: yea, let them be put to ſhame and periſh, 18 That they maie [n] knowe that thou, which art called Iehouáh, art alone, euen the moſte High ouer all the earth.

l Becauſe the reprobate colde by no meanes be amẽded, he praieth ỹ thei maie vtterly be deſtroied, be vnſtable & led with all windes
m That is, be compelled by thy plagues to confeſſe thy power n Thogh they beleue not, yet thei maie proue by experiẽce, that it is in vaine to reſiſt againſt thy counſel in eſtabliſhing thy Church

PSAL. LXXXIIII.

1 Dauid driuen forthe of his countrey, 2 Deſireth moſte ardently to come againe to the Tabernacle of the Lord & the aſſemblie of the Saints to praiſe God. 4 Pronouncing them bleſſed that maie ſo do. 6 Then he praiſeth the courage of the people, that paſſe through the wildernes to aſſemble them ſelues in Zión 10 Finally with praiſe of thu matter & confidence of Gods goodnes he endeth the Pſalme.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon Gittith. A Pſalme committed to the ſonnes of Kórah.

O [a] Lord of hoſtes, how amiable are thy Tabernacles!
My ſoule longeth, yea, & fainteth for the [b] courtes of the Lord: for mine heart and my fleſh reioyce in the liuing God.
Yea, the ſparowe hathe foũde her an houſe, and the ſwallowe a neſt for her, where ſhe maie lay her yong: euen by thine [c] altars, ô Lord of hoſtes, my King and my God.
Bleſſed are thei that dwell in thine houſe: they wil euer praiſe thee. Sélah.
Bleſſed is the man, whoſe [d] ſtrength is in thee, & in whoſe heart are thy waies.
They going through the vale of [e] Bacá, make welles therein: the raine alſo couereth the pooles.
They go from [f] ſtrength to ſtrength, til euerie one appeare before God in Zión.
O Lord God of hoſtes, heare my praier: hearken, ô God of Iaakób. Sélah.
Beholde, ô God, our ſhield, & loke vpon the face of thine [g] Anoynted.
For [h] a daie in thy courtes is better thẽ a thouſand other where: I had rather be a dorekeper in the Houſe of my God, then to dwell in the tabernacles of wickednes.
For the Lord God is the ſunne & ſhield vnto vs: the Lord wil giue grace & glorie, & no [i] good thing wil he withholde from them that walke vprightly.
O Lord of hoſtes, bleſſed is the mã that truſteth in thee.

a Dauid complaineth ỹ he can not haue acceſſe to the Churchof God to make profeſſion of his faith & to profit in religion
b For none but the prieſts colde enter in to the Sãctuarie, & the reſt of the people into the courtes c So that the poore birdes haue more libertie then I d Who truſteth nothing in him ſelf, but in thee onely, & learneth of thee to rule his life.
e That is, of mulberietrees which was a baren place: ſo that they which paſſed through, muſt dig pits for water: ſignifying ỹ no lers can hinder thẽ that are fully bent to come to Chriſts Church, nether yet that God wil euer faile them
f Thei are neuer wearie, but increaſe in ſtrẽgth & courage til thei come to Gods Houſe g That is, for Chriſts ſake, whoſe figure I repreſent h He wolde wiſh to liue but one daie rather in Gods Church, then a thouſand among ỹ worldelings.
i But wil from time to time increaſe his bleſſings towards his more and more.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12

PSAL. LXXXV.

1 Becauſe God withdrewe not his rods from his Church after their returne from Babylon firſt they put him in minde of their deliuerance, to the intent that he ſhulde not leaue the worke of his grace vnperfite. 5 Next thei complaine of their long affliction: 5 and thirdly they reioyce in hope of felicitie promiſed. 9 For their deliuerãce was a figure of Chriſts kingdome, vnder the which ſhulde be perfite felicitie.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme cõmitted to the ſonnes of Kórah.

1 LOrd, thou haſt bene [a] fauourable vnto thy land: thou haſt broght againe the captiuitie of Iaakób.

2 Thou haſt forgiuen the iniquitie of thy people, and [b] couered all their ſinnes. Sélah.

3 Thou haſt withdrawen all thine angre, & haſt tuined backe from the [c] fiercenes of thy wrath.

4 Turne vs, ô God of our ſaluacion, & releaſe thine angre towards vs.

5 Wilt thou be angrie with vs [d] for euer? & wilt thou prolong thy wrath from one generacion to another?

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs, that thy people maie reioyce in thee?

7 Shewe vs thy mercie, ô Lord, and grante vs thy [e] ſaluacion.

8 I wil hearke what the Lord God wil ſaie: for he wil ſpeake [f] peace vnto his people, & to his Saints, that they turne not againe to folie.

9 Surely his ſaluacion is nere to them that feare him, that glorie maie dwell in our land.

10 Mercie and trueth ſhal mete: righteouſnes and peace ſhal kiſſe one another.

11 [g] Trueth ſhal bud out of the earth, and righteouſnes ſhal loke downe frõ heauen.

12 Yea, the Lord ſhal giue good things, and our land ſhal giue her increaſe.

13 [h] Righteouſnes ſhal go before him, and ſhal ſet her ſteps in the waie.

a Thei confeſſe that Gods fre mercie was the cauſe of their deliuerance, becauſe he loued the land, which he had choſen.
b Thou haſt buryed them, that thei ſhal not come into iudgement
c Not onely in withdrawing thy rod, but in forgiuig our ſinnes, & in touching ô hearts to confeſſe them.
d As in times paſt thei had felt Godsmercies: ſo now being oppreſſed by the lõg continuance of euils, thei pray vnto God, that according to his nature he wolde be merciful vnto thẽ.
e He confeſſeth that our ſaluation cõmeth onely of Gods mercie f He wil ſend all proſperitie to his Church, when he hathe ſufficiently corrected thẽ alſo by his puniſhments the faithful ſhal learne to beware that thei returne not to like offences.
g Thogh for a time God thus exerciſe them with his rods, yet vnder the kingdome of Chriſt thei ſhulde haue peace & ioye
h Iuſtice ſhal then floriſh & haue fre courſe & paſſage in euerie place.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

1 Dauid ſore afflicted & forſaken of all, prayeth feruently for deliuerance: ſometimes rehearſing his miſeries, 5 Sometimes the mercies receiued, 11 Deſiring alſo to be inſtructed of the Lord, that he maie feare him and glorifie his Name. 14 He complaineth alſo of his aduerſaries, & requireth to be deliuered from them.

¶ A prayer of Dauid.

1 INcline [a] thine eare, ô Lord, and heare me: for I am poore and nedie.

2 Preſerue thou my ſoule, for I am [b] merciful: my God, ſaue thou thy ſeruant, that truſteth in thee.

3 Be merciful vnto me, ô Lord: for I [c] crye vpon thee continually.

4 Reioyce the ſoule of thy ſeruant: for vnto thee, ô Lord, do I lift vp my ſoule.

5 For thou, Lord, art good and [d] merciful, & of great kindenes vnto all them, that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare, Lord, vnto my prayer, & [e] hearken to the voyce of my ſupplicacion.

7 In the daye of my trouble I wil call vpõ thee: for thou heareſt me.

8 Among the gods there is none like thee, ô Lord, and there [f] is none that can do like thy workes.

9 All nations, whome thou haſt made, ſhal come and [g] worſhip before thee, ô Lord, and ſhal glorifie thy Name.

10 For thou art great and doeſt wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 [h] Teache me thy waie, ô Lord, and I wil walke in thy trueth: knit mine heart vnto thee, that I maie feare thy Name.

12 I wil praiſe thee, ô Lord my God, with all mine heart: yea, I wil glorifie thy Name for euer.

13 For great is thy mercie towarde me, and thou haſt deliuered my ſoule from [i] the loweſt graue.

14 O God, the proude are riſen againſt me, and the aſſemblies of violent men haue [k] ſoght my ſoule, and haue not ſet thee before them.

15 But thou, ô Lord, art a pitiful God and merciful, ſlowe to angre and great in kindenes and trueth.

16 Turne vnto me, and haue mercie vpon me: giue thy ſtrength vnto thy ſeruant, & ſaue the [l] ſonne of thine handmaid.

17 Shewe a token of thy goodnes towarde me, that they which hate me, maie ſe it, & be aſhamed, becauſe thou, ô Lord, haſt holpen me and comforted me.

a Dauid perſecuted of Saũl, thus prayed, leauing the ſame to the Church as a monumẽt, how to ſeke redreſſe againſt their miſeries
b I am not enemie to thẽ, but pitie thẽ, thogh thei be cruel toward me.
c Which was a ſure token ỹ he beleued ỹ God wolde deliuer him
d He doeth confeſſe that God is good to all, but onely merciful to poore ſinners
e By crying and calling continually, he ſheweth how we maie not be wearie, thogh God grante not forthwith our requeſt, but that we muſt earneſtly, and often call vpon him.
f He cõdẽneth all idoles, for aſmuche as thei can do no workes to declare that thei are gods.
g This proueth ỹ Dauid prayed in the name of Chriſt ỹ Meſsias, of whoſe kingdome he doeth here ꝓphecie.
h He cõfeſſeth him ſelf ignorant til God hadde taught him, and his heart variable & ſeperat frõ God, til God ioyne it to hĩ & cõfirme it in his obediẽce
i That is, from moſte great danger of death: out of the which none, but onely the mightie hand of God, colde deliuer him
k He ſheweth that there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proude tyrants reigne & that the lacke of Gods feare is as a priuiledge to all vice and crueltie
l He boaſteth not of his owne vertues, but cõfeſſeth that God of his fre goodnes hathe euer bene merciful vnto him & giuen him power againſt his enemies, as to one of his owne houſholde:

PSAL. LXXXVII.

1 The holie Goſt promiſeth that the condition of the Church, which was in miſerie after the captiuitie of Babylon, ſhulde be reſtored to great excellencie. 4 So that there ſhulde be nothing more comfortable then to be nombred among the members thereof.

¶ A Pſalme or ſong committed to the ſonnes of Kórah.

1 GOd laied his [a] fundacions among the holie mountaines.

2 The Lord loueth ỹ gates of Zión aboue all the habitacions of Iaakób.

3 [b] Glorious things are ſpoken of thee, ô Citie of God. Sélah.

4 I wil make mention of [c] Rahâb and Babél among them that knowe me: beholde Paleſtina & Tyrus with Ethiopia, [d] There is he borne.

5 And of Zión it ſhalbe ſaid, [e] Manie are borne in her; and hẽ, euen the moſt High ſhal ſtabliſh her.

6 The Lord ſhal count, when he [f] writeth the people, He was borne there. Sélah.

7 Aſwel the ſingers as the players on inſtruments ſhal praiſe thee: all my [g] ſprings are in thee.

PSAL. LXXXVIII.

1 A grieuous complaint of the faithful, ſore afflicted by

Pſal LXXXVII
a God did chuſe that place among the hils to eſtabliſh Ieruſalém & his Temple
b Thogh thy glorious eſtate do not yet appeare, yet waite ỹ pacience & God wil ac compliſh his promes
c That is, Egypt & theſe other contreis ſhal cõme to ỹ knowledge of God.
d It ſhalbe ſaid of him, ỹ is regenerat & come to the Church, ỹ he is as one that was borne in the Church.
e Out of all quarters they ſhal come into the Church and be counted as citizens
f When he calleth by his worde them into the Church, whome he had elected and written in his boke
g The Prophet ſetteth his whole affections and comfort in the Church

by ſickines, perſecutions & aduerſitie: 7 Being as it were left of God without ante conſolation 13 Yet he calleth on God by faith & ſtriueth againſt deſperation. 18 Complaining him ſelf to be forſaken of all earthlie helpe.

¶ A ſong or Pſalme of * Heman the Ezrahite to giue inſtruction, committed to the ſonnes of Kórah for him that excelleth vpon Maláth a Leanneth.

1 O Lord God of my ſaluaciõ, I crye day and night b before thee.
2 Let my prayer enter into thy preſence: incline thine eare vnto my crye.
3 For my ſoule is filled with euils, and my life drawcth nere to the graue.
4 I am counted among them that go downe vnto the pit, and am as a man without ſtrength:
5 c Free amõg the dead, like the ſlaine lying in the graue, whome thou remembreſt no more, and they are cut of from thine d hand.
6 Thou haſt laied me in the loweſt pit, in darkenes, & in the depe.
7 Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou haſt vexed me with all thy e waues. Sélah.
8 Thou haſt put away mine f acquaintance farre frõ me, & made me to be abhorred of them: g I am ſhut vp, and can not get forthe.
9 h Mine eye is ſorowful through mine affliction: Lord, I call daiely vpon thee: I ſtretche out mine hands vnto thee.
10 Wilt thou ſhewe i a miracle to ỹ dead? or ſhal the dead riſe & praiſe thee? Sélah.
11 Shal thy louing kindenes be declared in the graue? or thy faithfulnes in deſtruction?
12 Shal thy wonderous workes be knowen in the darke? and thy righteouſnes in the land k of obliuion?
13 But vnto thee haue I cryed, ô Lord, and early ſhal my praier come before thee.
14 Lord, why doeſt thou reiect my ſoule, & hideſt thy face from me?
15 I am afflicted and at the point of death: l from my youth I ſuffer thy terrours, douting of my life.
16 Thine indignations go ouer me, & thy feare hathe cut me of.
17 They came round about me daiely like water, & compaſſed me together.
18 My louers and friends haſt thou put away from me, and mine acquaintance "hid them ſelues.

1 King 4.31. pſal.53
a That is, to humble. It was ỹ beginning of a ſong, by the tune whereof this Pſalme was ſung
b Though many crye in their ſorowes, yet they crye not earneſtly to God for remedie as he did: whome he cõfeſſed to be ỹ autor of his ſaluation.
c For he that is dead, is free from all cares & buſines of this life: & thus he ſaieth becauſe he was vnprofitable for all matters concerning mãs life, and as it were cut of ffõ this worlde
d That is, frõ thy prouidence & care, ỹ is iudgement accordig to ỹ iudgemẽt of the fleſh
e The ſtormes of thy wrath haue ouerwhelmed me
f He attributeth ỹ loſſe & diſpleaſure of his friends to Gods prouidẽce, whereby he partely puniſheth and partely trieth his.
g I ſe none end of my ſorowes
h Mine eies & face declare my ſorowes
i He ſheweth ỹ the time is more cõueniẽt for God to helpe, whẽ mẽ call vnto him in their dãgers thẽ to tary til thei be dead & then raiſe thẽ vp againe k That is, in ỹ graue, where onely the bodie lieth without all ſenſe and remembrance
l I am euer in great dangers & ſorowes, as though my life ſhulde vtterly be cut of euẽrie momẽt.
"Ebr. were in darknes.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

3 With manie wordes doeth the Prophet praiſe the goodnes of God, 23 For his teſtament & couenant, that he had made betwene him and his elect by Ieſus Chriſt the ſonne of Dauid: 38 Then doeth he complaine of the great ruine, and deſolation of the kingdome of Dauid, ſo that to the outwarde appearance the promes was broke 46 Finally he praieth to be deliuered frõ his afflictions, making mention of the ſhortnes of mans life, & confirming him ſelf by Gods promiſes.

¶ A Pſalme to giue inſtruction, of Ethán the " Ezrahite.

1 I Wil a ſing the mercies of the Lord for euer: with my mouth wil I declare thy trueth from generacion to generacion.
2 For I b ſaid, Mercie ſhalbe ſet vp for euer: thy trueth ſhalt thou c ſtabliſh in the verie heauens.
3 d I haue made a couenãt with my choſen: I haue ſworne to Dauid my ſeruant,
4 Thy ſede wil I ſtabliſh for euer, and ſet vp thy throne from generacion to generacion. Sélah.
5 O Lord, euen the e heauens ſhal praiſe thy wonderous worke: yea, thy trueth in the f Congregacion of the Saints.
6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen! & who is like the Lord among the g ſonnes of the gods!
7 God is verie terrible in the aſſemblie of the h Saints, and to be reuerenced aboue all, that are about him.
8 O Lord God of hoſtes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lord, and thy trueth is about thee!
9 i Thou ruleſt the raging of the ſea: when the waues thereof ariſe, thou ſtilleſt them.
10 Thou haſt beaten downe Rahab as a mã ſlaine: thou haſt ſcatered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.
11 The heauens are thine, the earth alſo is thine: thou haſt laied the fundacion of the worlde, and all that therein is.
12 Thou haſt created the North and the South: k Tabór and Hermón ſhal reioice in thy Name.
13 Thou haſt a mightie arme: ſtrong is thine hand, & high is thy right hand.
14 l Righteouſnes & equitie are the ſtabliſhment of thy throne: mercie ad trueth go before thy face.
15 Bleſſed is the people, that can m reioyce in thee: they ſhal walke in the light of thy n countenance, ô Lord.
16 They ſhal reioyce cõtinually in thy Name, and in thy righteouſnes ſhal they exalt them ſelues.
17 For thou art the o glorie of their ſtrẽgth, and by thy fauour our hornes ſhalbe exalted.
18 For our p ſhield apperteineth to the Lord, and our King to the Hòlie one of Iſraél.
19 Thou ſpakeſt thẽ in a viſion vnto q thine Holie one, and ſaideſt, I haue laied helpe vpon one that is r mightie: I haue exalted one choſen out of the people.

a Though ỹ horrible confuſiõ of thigs might cauſe them to deſpaire of Gods fauour: yet the manifolde exãples of his mercies cauſe them to truſt in God, though to mans iudgemẽt thei ſawe none occaſion
b As he that ſurely beleued in heart
c As thine inuiſible heauen is not ſubiect to ane alteracion & chãge: ſo ſhal ỹ trueth of thy promes be vnchãgeable d The Prophet ſheweth what was ỹ promes of God, wherõ he grounded his faith e The Angels ſhal praiſe thy power & faithfulnes in deliuering thy Church f That is, in ỹ heauens
g Meaning, ỹ Angels
h If the Angels trẽble before Gods maieſtie & infinite iuſtice, what earthlie creature by oppreſsing the Church, dare ſet him ſelfe againſt God?
i For as he deliuered the Church by ỹ red Sea, & by deſtroying Rahab, that is, ỹ Egyptians: ſo will he eſtſoone deliuer it, whẽ the dangers be great k Tabór is a mountaine Weſt warde frõ Ieruſalẽ, & Hermón Eaſtwarde: ſo the Prophet ſignifieth ỹ all parces & places of the worlde ſhal obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church l For hereby he iudgeth the world & ſheweth him ſelf a merciful Father & faithful protector vnto his m Feling in their conſcience that God is their Father n They ſhalbe preſerued by thy Fatherlie prouidence
o In that they are preſerued and continue they ought to giue the praiſe and glorie onely to thee p In that that our King hathe power to defend vs, it is the gift of God q To Samuél and to others, to aſſure that Dauid was thy choſen one r Whome I haue borne chooſen and giuen him ſtrength to execute his office, as verſ 21

20 I haue founde Dauid my ſeruant: with mine holie oyle haue I anointed him.
21 Therefore mine hand ſhalbe eſtabliſhed with him, and mine arme ſhal ſtrengthen him.
22 The enemie ſhal not oppreſſe him, nether ſhal the wicked hurt him.
23 But I wil [f] deſtroye his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.
24 My trueth alſo and my [t] mercie ſhalbe with him, and in my Name ſhal his [u] horne be exalted.
25 I wil ſet his hand alſo in the ſea, and his right hand in the [x] floods.
26 He ſhal crye vnto me, Thou art my [y] Father, my God and the rocke of my ſaluacion.
27 Alſo I wil make him my firſt borne, higher then the Kings of the earth.
28 My mercie wil I kepe for him for euermore, and my couenāt ſhal ſtand faſt with him.
29 His ſede alſo wil I make to endure [z] for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauē.
30 But if his children forſake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:
31 * If they breake my ſtatutes, and kepe not my commandements:
32 Then wil I viſit their tranſgreſsion with the rod, and their iniquitie with ſtrokes.
33 [a] Yet my louing kindenes wil I not take from him, nether wil I falſifie my trueth.
34 My couenant wil I not breake, nor [b] alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes.
35 I haue ſworne once by mine holines, "that I wil not faile Dauid, ſaying, 36 His ſede ſhal endure for euer, and his throne ſhalbe as the ſunne before me.
37 He ſhalbe eſtabliſhed for euermore as the moone, & as a faithful [c] witnes in the heauen. Sélah.
38 But thou haſt reiected and abhorred, thou haſt bene angrie with thine Anointed.
39 Thou haſt [d] broken the couenant of thy ſeruant, & profaned his [e] crowne, caſting it on the grounde.
40 Thou haſt broken downe all his walles: thou haſt layed his fortreſſes in ruine.
41 All that go by the way, ſpoile him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.
42 Thou haſt ſet vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduerſaries to reioyce.
43 Thou haſt alſo turned the edge of his ſworde, and haſt not made him to ſtand in the battel.
44 Thou haſt cauſed his dignitie to decay, and caſt his throne to the grounde.
45 The dayes of his [f] youth haſt thou ſhortened, and coucred him with ſhame. Sélah.
46 [g] Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy ſelf, for euer? ſhal thy wrath burne like fyre?
47 Remember [h] of what time I am: wherefore ſhuldeſt thou creat in vaine all the children of men?
48 What man liueth, & ſhal not ſe death? ſhal he deliuer his ſoule from the hand of the graue? Sélah.
49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou ſwareſt vnto Dauid in thy trueth?
50 Remember, ô Lord, the rebuke of thy ſeruants, which I beare in my [i] boſome of all the mightie people.
51 For [k] thine enemies haue reproched thee, ô Lord, becauſe they haue reproched the [l] foteſteppes of thine Anointed.
52 Praiſed be the Lord for euermore. So be it, euen ſo be it.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moſes in his prayer ſetteth before vs the eternal fauour of God toward hu. 3 Who are nether admoniſhed by the breuitie of their life. 7 Nor by his plagues to be thankeful. 12 Therefore Moſes praieth God to turne their hearts & continue his mercies toward them, & their poſteritie for euer.

¶ A prayer of Moſés, the [a] man of God.

1 LOrd, thou haſt bene our [b] habitacion from generacion to generacion.
2 Before the [c] mountaines were made, and before thou hadeſt formed the earth, & the worlde, euen from euerlaſting to euerlaſting thou art our God.
3 Thou [d] turneſt man to deſtruction: againe thou ſaieſt, Returne, ye ſonnes of Adám.
4 [e] For a thouſand yeres in thy ſight are as yeſterdaie when it is paſt, and as a watche in the night.
5 Thou haſt [f] ouerflowed them: they are as a ſlepe: in the morning he groweth like the graſſe:
6 In the morning it floriſheth and groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.
7 For we [g] are conſumed by thine angre, and by thy wrath are we troubled.
8 Thou haſt ſet our iniquities before thee, and our ſecret ſinnes in the light of thy countenance.
9 For all our dayes are paſt in thine angre: we haue [h] ſpent our yeres as a thoght.
10 The time of our life is threſcore yeres & ten, and if they be of ſtrength, [i] foure ſcore yeres: yet their ſtrength is but labour and ſorowe. for it is cut of quickely, and we flee away.
11 [k] Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare is thine angre.
12 Teache vs ſo to nomber our dayes, that we maie applie our hearts vnto [l] wiſdome.
13 Returne (ô Lord, [m] how long?) and be [n] pacified toward thy ſeruants.

ſ Though there ſhalbe euermore enemies againſt Gods kingdome, yet he promiſeth to ouercome them

t I wil mercifully performe my promiſes to hi, notwithſtanding his infirmities & offences

u His power, glorie & eſtate x He ſhal enioye the land round about

y His excellēt dignitie ſhal appeare herein that he ſhal be named the ſonne of God, & ſ firſt borne, wherein he is a figure of Chriſt

z Though for ſ ſinnes of the people ſ ſtate of this kigdome decayed: yet God reſerued ſtil a rote, til he had accōpliſhed this promes in Chriſt

a Sam.7.14.

a Thogh the faithful āſwer not in all poits to their profeſſion, yet God wil not breake his couenant with them

b For God in promiſing hathe reſpect to his mercie and not to mans power in performing

"Ebr if I lie vnto Dauid: which is a maner of ſpe

c As long as ſ ſunne & moone endure, they ſhalbe witneſſes to me of this promes

d Becauſe of ſ horrible cōfuſion of things, the Prophet cōplaineth to God as though he ſawe not ſ performance of his promes. And thus diſcharging his cares on God, he reſiſteth doute & impaciēcie

e By this he meaneth ſ horrible diſſipation and rooting of ſ kingdome, which was vnder Ieroboám: or els ries, ẅ came ſhewed that ſ by ſ Spirit of prophecie Ethán ſpeaketh of thoſe great miſerie afterwarde to paſſe at the captiuitie of Babylon. f He ſignifieth ſ kingdome fallen before it came to perfection or was ripe.

g The Prophet in ioynig prater ẅ his complaint, ſheweth ẏ his faith neuer failed

h Seing mans life is ſhort, & ẏ haſt created mā to beſtowe thy benefites vpon him, except thou haſte to helpe, death wil preuent thee

i He meaneth ẏ Gods enemies did not onely ſclander him behinde his backe: but alſo mocked him to his face, & as it were caſt their iniuries in his boſome k So he calleth thē that perſecute ẏ Church.

l They laugh at vs, ẅ paciētly waite for ẏ comming of thy Chriſt.

a Thus the Scripture vſeth to call the Prophetes.

b Thou haſt bene as an houſe and defence vnto vs in all our troubles & trauailes now this foure hūdreth yeres

c Thou haſt choſen vs to be thy people before ẏ fundacions of the worlde were laied.

d Moſes by lamenting the frailtie & ſhortnes of mās life moueth God to pitie

e Thogh man thinke his life long, ẅ is in dede moſte ſhort, yea, thogh it were a thouſand yeres: yet ī Gods ſight it is as nothing, and as the watche ẏ laſteth but thre houres.

f Thou takeſt thē away ſuddenly as with a flood

g Thou calleſt vs by thy rods to conſider the ſhortnes of our life, & for our ſinnes thou abbridgeſt our daies

h Our daies are not onely ſhort, but miſerable, foraſmuch as our ſinnes daily prouoke thy wrath

i Meaning, according to the commune ſtate of life

k If mans life for the breuitie be miſerable, much more if thy wrath lie vpon it, as they, which feare thee onely knowe.

l Which is by conſidering the ſhortnes of our life & by meditating the heauenlie ioyes

m Meaning, wilt ẏ be angrie? O, take comfort in thy ſeruants.

14 Fil vs with thy mercie in the morning: so shal we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

n Euen thy mercie, ẅ is thy chiefest worke

15 Comfort vs according to the dayes that thou hast afflicted vs, & according to the yeres that we haue sene euil.

o As Gods promises apperteined aswel to their posteritie, as to thē, so Moses praieth for the posteritie 16 n Let thy worke be sene toward thy seruants, & thy glorie vpon their o childrē.

p Meaning ỹ it was obscured, whē he ceased to do good to his Church

17 And let the p beautie of ỹ Lord our God be vpon vs, and q direct thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our hands.

q For except ỹ guide vs ẅ thine holie Spirit, our enterprises cā haue no good succes.

PSAL. XCI.

1 Here is described in what assurance he liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, & committeth him self wholly to his protection in all tentations. 14 A promes of God to those that loue him, know him and trust in him, to deliuer them, & giue them immortal glorie.

1 WHoso dwelleth in the a secret of the moste High, shal abide in the shadowe of the Almightie.

a He ỹ maketh God his defence & trust, shal perceiue his protection to be a moste sure safegarde

2 b I wil say vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortres: he is my God, in him wil I trust.

b Beig assured of this protection he praieth vnto the Lord.

3 Surely he wil deliuer thee frō the c snare of the hunter, and from the noisome pestilence.

c That is, Gods helpe is moste readie for vs, whether Satā assaile vs secretly, ẅ he calleth a snare: or openly, which is here ment by the pestilence

4 He wil couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers: his d trueth shalbe thy shield and buckler.

d That is, his faithful kepīg of promes to helpe thee in thy necessitie

5 e Thou shalt not be afraid of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flieth by daye:

e The care ỹ God hathe ouer his, is moste sufficiēt to defende them from all dangers

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darknes: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone daye.

7 A thousand shal fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shal not come nere thee.

f The godlie shal haue some experience of Gods iudgements against ỹ wicked euen in this life, but fully they shal se it at ỹ day, whē all things shalbe reuelled

8 Douteles with thine f eyes shalt thou beholde and se the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou hast said, The Lord is mine hope: thou hast set the moste high for thy refuge.

10 There shal none euil come vnto thee, nether shal anie plague come nere thy tabernacle.

g God hathe not appointed euerie mā one Angel, but manie to be ministers of his prouidēce to kepe his & defend them in their vocation, ẅ is the waye to walke with out tempting God.

11 g For he shal giue his Angels charge ouer thee to kepe thee in all thy waies.

12 They shal beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy fote against a stone.

h Thou shalt not onely be preserued frō all euil, but ouercome it whether it be secret or open 13 Thou shalt walke vpon the liō and aspe: the h yong lion and the dragon shalt thou tread vnder fete.

14 i Because he hathe loued me, therefore wil I deliuer him: I wil exalt him because he hathe knowen my Name.

15 He shal call vpō me, & I wil heare him: I wil be with him in trouble: I wil deliuer him, and glorifie him.

i To assure the faithful of Gods protection, he bringeth in God to confirme the same.

16 With k long life wil I satisfie him, and shewe him my saluacion.

k For he is contēted with that life, that God giueth: for by death ỹ shortnes of this life is recompensed ỹ immortalitie.

PSAL. XCII.

1 This psalme was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre vp the people to acknowledge God and to praise him in his workes: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodlie, whē he is moste florishing, shal moste spedely perish. 12 In the end is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalme or song for the a Sabbath daie.

Psal XCII.

a Which teacheth that the vse of ỹ Sabbath standeth i praising God, and not onely in ceasing frō worke

1 IT is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, ô moste High,

b For Gods mercie & fidelitie in his promises toward his, binde thē to praise him continually bothe daie & night

2 To declare thy louing kindenes in the b morning, and thy trueth in the night, c These instrumēts were then permitted, but at Christs comīg abolished

3 Vpon an c instrument of ten strings, and vpō the viole with the song vpon the harpe.

d He sheweth what is ỹ vse of the Sabbath daie: to wit, to meditate Gods workes.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy d workes, & I wil reioyce in the workes of thine hands.

e That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes, nor his iudgemēts against them, & therfore moste iustly perish

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! & thy thoghts are verie depe.

6 An e vnwise man knoweth it not, and a foole doeth not vnderstand this,

f Thy iudgements are moste constant against the wicked and passe our reache

7 (When the wicked growe as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednes do florish) that they shal be destroied for euer.

8 But thou, ô Lord, art f moste high for euermore.

g Thou wilt strengthen thē ẅ all power, & blesse them ẅ all felicitie.

9 For lo, thine enemies, ô Lord: for lo, thine enemies shal perish: all the workers of iniquitie shalbe destroied.

10 g But thou shalt exalt mine horne, like the vnicornes, & I shalbe anointed with fresh oile.

h Though the faithful seme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they shal growe againe and florish in the Church of God, as the cedres do in mount Lebanon.

11 Mine eie also shal se my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shal heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me.

12 The righteous shal h florish like a palme tre, & shal growe like a cedre in Lebanón.

i The childrē of God shalhaue a power aboue nature, & their age shal brīg forthe moste fresh frutes

13 Suche as be planted in the House of the Lord, shal florish in ỹ courts of our God.

14 They shal stil bring forthe frute in their i age: they shalbe fat and florishing, 15 To declare that the Lord my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

1 He praiseth the power of God in the creation of the worlde, & beateth downe all people which lift them vp against his maiestie. 5 And prouoketh to consider his promises.

Psal XCIII.

a As God by his power and wisdome hath made and gouerneth the worlde: so muste the same be our defence against all enemies & dāgers.

1 THe Lord a reigneth, & is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, & girded with power: the worlde also shalbe established, that it can not be moued.

b Whereof thou sittest & gouernest ỹ worlde

2 Thy b throne is established of olde: thou art from euerlasting.

c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

3 c The floods haue lifted vp, ô Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voice: the floods lift vp their waues.

4 The waues of the ſea are maruelous through the noiſe of manie waters, yet the Lord on high is more mightie.

Beſides Gods power & wiſdome in creating, and gouerning, his great mercie alſo appeareth in ỹ he hathe giuen his people his worde and couenants

5 Thy [d] teſtimonies are verie ſure: holines becommeth thine Houſe, ô Lord, for euer.

PSAL. XCIIII.

He praieth vnto God againſt the Violence and arrogancie of tyrants. 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements 22 Then doeth he comfort the afflicted by the good iſſue of their afflictions, as he felt in himſelf, & did ſe in others, & by the ruine of the wicked. 23 Whome the Lord wil deſtroye.

1 O Lord God [a] the aduenger, ô God the aduenger, ſhewe thy ſelf [b] clearely.

a Whoſe office it is to take vẽgeance on the wicked.

b Shewe by effect ỹ thou art Iudge of the worlde to puniſh ỹ wicked

2 Exalt thy ſelf, ô Iudge of the worlde, & render a reward to the proude.

3 Lord, how long ſhal the wicked, how lõg ſhal the wicked [c] triumph?

c That is, brag of their cruelte & oppreſſiõ: or, eheme them ſelues aboue all other

4 They prate & ſpeake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vante them ſelues.

5 They [d] ſmite downe thy people, ô Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

d Seing the Church was thẽ ſo ſore oppreſſed, it ought not to ſeme ſtrange to vs, if we to it ſo now, & therefore we muſte call to God to take our cauſe in hand.

6 They ſlaie the widow and the ſtranger, and murther the fatherles.

7 [e] Yet they ſaie, The Lord ſhal not ſe: nether wil the God of Iaakób regarde it.

e He ſheweth that they are deſperat in malice, foraſmuchas they feared not God, but gaue thẽ ſelues wholly to do wickedly

8 Vnderſtand ye vnwiſe amõg the people: and ye fooles, when wil ye be wiſe?

9 He that [f] planted the eare, ſhal he not heare? or he that formed the eye, ſhal he not ſe?

f He ſheweth that it is impoſſible, but God ſhulde heare, ſe & vnderſtand their wickednes.

10 Or he that chaſticeth the [g] nations, ſhal he not correct? he that teacheth mã knowledge, ſhal he not knowe?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoghts of man, that they are vanitie.

g If God puniſh whole nations for their ſins, it is mere folie for anie one man, or els afeare to think that God wil ſpare thẽ.

12 Bleſſed is the man, whome thou [h] chaſticeſt, ô Lord, and teacheſt him in thy Law, h God hathe care ouer his and chaſticeth them for their welth, ỹ they ſhulde not perith for euer with the wicked.

13 That thou maieſt giue him reſt from the dayes of euil, whiles the pit is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely ỹ Lord wil not faile his people, nether wil he forſake his inheritance.

i God wil reſtore the ſtate & gouernemẽt of things to their right vſe, & then the godlie ſhal follow him chearefully

15 For [i] iudgement ſhal returne to iuſtice, and all the vpright in heart ſhal follow after it.

16 Who wil riſe vp with me againſt the wicked? or who wil take my parte againſt the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not [k] holpen me, my ſoule had almoſte dwelt in ſilence.

k He complaineth of them, which wolde not helpe him to reſiſte the enemies: yet was aſſured that Gods helpe wolde not faile.

18 When I ſaid, [l] My fote ſlideth, thy mercie, ô Lord, ſtaied me.

l Whē I thoght there was no way but death

19 In the multitude of my [m] thoghts in mine heart, thy comfortes haue reioyced my ſoule.

m In my trouble & diſtreſſe I euer founde thy 20 Hathe the throne of iniquitie [n] felloſhip with thee, which forgeth wrong for a law?

n Though the wicked iudges pretend iuſtice in oppreſsing the Church, yet they haue not that auoritie of God.

21 They gather them together againſt the ſoule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

23 And he wil recompenſe thẽ their wickednes, and [o] deſtroie them in their owne malice: yea, ỹ Lord our God ſhal deſtroie thẽ.

o It is a great token of Gods iudgemẽt, whẽ the purpoſe of the wicked is broken, but muſte when they are deſtroied i their owne malice.

PSAL. XCV.

1 An earneſt exhortation to praiſe God 4 For the gouernement of the worlde, and the election of his Church. 8 An admonition not to followe the rebellion of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wildernes: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promes.

Pſal. XCV

a He ſheweth ỹ Godsſeruice ſtandeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefly in the ſacrifice of praiſe & thankeſgiuing.

1 COme, let vs reioice vnto the Lord: let vs ſing [a] aloude vnto the rocke of our ſaluacion.

2 Let vs come before his face with praiſe: let vs ſing loude vnto him with pſalmes.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King aboue all [b] gods.

b Euen ỹ Angels (who in reſpect of men are thoghte as gods) are nothing in his ſight: much leſſe the idols, which mans braine inuenteth

4 In whoſe hãd are ỹ depe places of ỹ earth, & the [c] heights of the mountaines are his:

c All things are gouerned by his prouidence.

5 To whome the ſea belongeth: for he made it, and his hands formed the drye land.

6 Come, let vs [d] worſhip and fall downe, & knele before the Lord our maker.

d By theſe three wordes he ſignifieth one thing: meaning ỹ thei muſte wholly giue them ſelues to ſerue God

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his paſture, & the ſhepe of his [e] hand: to daie, if ye wil heare his voice, e That is, the flocke whome he gouerneth with his owne hãd He ſheweth wherin thei are Gods flocke: that is, if thei heare his voice

8 [f] Harden not your heart, as [] in Meribáh, & as in the daie of [] Maſſáh in the wildernes.

f By the contẽning of Gods worde

*Or, in ſtrife. The reaſon why the place was ſo called Num 14, 22.

*Or, tentation, read Exod. 17, 7

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, thogh thei had ſene my worke.

10 Fortie yeres haue I contended with this generacion, & ſaid, Thei are a people that [g] erre in heart, for thei haue not knowen my waies.

g Thei were without iudgement & reaſon.

11 Wherefore I ſware in my wrath, ſaying, Surely they ſhal not enter into my [h] reſt.

h That is, into the land of Canaan, where he promiſed them reſt.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation bothe to the Iewes and Gentiles to praiſe God for his mercie. And this ſpecially ogbt to be referred to the kingdome of Chriſt.

Pſal XCVI.

a The Prophet ſheweth that the time ſhal come, that all natiõs ſhal haue occaſion to praiſe ỹ Lord for ỹ reueiling of his Goſpel.

1 SIng [a] vnto the Lord a newe ſong: ſing vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, & praiſe his Name: declare his ſaluacion from daie to daie.

3 Declare his glorie among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is [b] great and muche to be praiſed: he is to be feared aboue all gods.

b Seig he wil reueile hi ſelfe to all natiõs cõtrary to their owne expectation, they ogbt all to worſhip him contrary to their owne imaginatiõs, & onely as he hathe appointed.

5 For all the gods of the people are [*] idoles: but the Lord [c] made the heauens.

*Or, vanities

c Then the id God can not appeare in his 6 [d] Stregth & glorie are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuarie.

d God can not be knowen, but by his ſtrength and glorie: the figures whereof

7 Giue vnto ỹ Lord, ye families of ỹ people: giue vnto the Lord glorie & [e] power.

e As by experience ye ſe that it is onely due vnto him

8 Giue vnto the Lord the glorie of his Name: bring [f] an offring, and entre into f By offring vp your ſelues wholly vnto God, declare that you worſhip him onely.

doles, or whatſoeuer made not the heauens, are not God Sanctuarie his courtes.

9 Worſhip the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie: tremble before him all the earth.

g He propheſieth that the Gentils ſhalbe partakers ỹ the Iewes of Gods promes

10 Saie amõg the g nations, The Lord reigneth: ſurely the worlde ſhalbe ſtable, and not moue, & he ſhal iudge the people h in righteouſnes.

h He ſhal regenerate them anewe with his Spirit, and reſtore them to the image of God

11 Let the heauens reioyce, & let the earth be glad: let the ſea roare, and all that therein is.

i If the inſenſible creatures ſhal haue cauſe to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whome he hathe taken miſediction & ſinne.

12 Let the field be ioyful, and all that is in it: let all the i trees of the wood then reioyce

13 Before the Lord. for he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: he wil iudge the worlde with righteouſnes, & the people in his trueth.

PSAL. XCVII.

a The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdome of Chriſt, 7 Dreadful to the rebels & idolaters, 8 And ioyful to the iuſt, whome he exhorteth to innocencie, 12 To reioycing and thankeſgiuing.

g He ſheweth ỹ where God reigneth, there is all felicitie and ſpiritual ioye

1 THe a Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the b multitude of the yles be glad.

b For the Goſpel ſhal not be only preached in Iudea, but through all yles & cõtrees

2 c Cloudes and darkenes are round about him: righteouſnes and iudgement are the fundation of his throne.

c He is thus deſcribed to kepe his enemies in feare, which commõly contemne Gods power

3 There ſhal go a fyer before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

4 His lightnīgs gaue light vnto ỹ worlde: the earth ſawe it and was d afraid.

d This feare bringeth not the wicked to true obediẽce, but maketh them to runne awaie from God

5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the preſence of the Lord, at the preſence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens declare his righteouſnes, and all the people ſe his glorie.

e He ſignifieth ỹ Gods iudgemens are in a readines to deſtroy the idolaters.

7 e Confounded be all they that ſerue grauen images, & that glorie in idoles: worſhip him f all ye gods.

f Let all that which is eſteemed in ỹ worlde, fall downe before hī

8 Zión heard of it, and was glad: and the g daughters of Iudáh reioyced, becauſe of thy iudgements, ô Lord.

g The Iewes ſhal haue occaſiõ to reioyce ỹ the Gentiles are made partakers ẅ them of Gods fauour

9 For thou, Lord, art moſte high aboue all the earth: thou art muche exalted aboue all gods.

h He requireth two thigs of his childrẽ: the one ỹ thei deteſt vice, the other ỹ thei put their truſt in God for their deliuerance.

10 Ye that h loue the Lord, hate euil: he preſerueth the ſoules of his Saints: he wil deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not ſuddenly, yet it is ſowen and laied vp in ſtore for them

11 i Light is ſowen for the righteous, and ioye for the vpright in heart.

k Be mindeful of his beneſites and onely truſt in his defence.

12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lord, and giue thankes for his holie k remembrance.

PSAL. XCVIII.

a An earneſt exhortation to all creatures to prãiſe the Lord for his power, mercie and fidelitie in his promes by Chriſt, 10 By whome he hathe communicated his ſaluacion to all nations.

¶ A Pſalme.

a That is, ſome ſong newly made in token of their wonderful deliuerãce by Chriſt. Iſai 59,16.

1 SIng a vnto the Lord a new ſong: for he hathe done maruelous things: * his right hand, and his holie b arme haue gotten him the victorie.

b He pſerueth his Church miraculouſly.

2 The Lord declared his c ſaluation: his righteouſnes hathe he reueiled in ỹ ſight of the nations.

c For the deliuerance of his Church.

3 He hathe d remembred his mercie and his trueth toward the houſe of Iſraél: all the ends of the earth haue ſene the ſaluation of our God.

d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his Church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but becauſe he wolde performe his promes

4 All the earth, ſing ye loude vnto ỹ Lord: crye out and reioyce, and ſing praiſes.

5 Sing praiſe to the Lord vpon the harpe, euen vpon the harpe with a ſinging voice.

e By this repetition & earneſt exhortation to giue praiſes with inſtruments, & alſo of the dũme creatures, he ſignifieth ỹ the worldẽ is neuer able to praiſe God ſufficiently for their deliuerance.

6 With e ſhalmes and ſounde of trumpets ſing loude before the Lord the King.

7 Let the ſea roare, and all that therein is, the worlde, and thei that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, & let the mountaines reioyce together

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteouſnes ſhal he iudge the worlde, and the people with equitie.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equitie and excellencie of the kingdome of God by Chriſt ouer the Iewes and Gẽtiles, 5 And prouoketh them to magnifie the ſame & to ſerue the Lord, 6 Following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moſes, Aaron, Samuél, who calling vpon God, were heard in their praiers a When God deliuereth his Church, all ỹ enemies ſhal haue cauſe to tremble Exod 25,22.

1 THe Lord reigneth, let the a people trẽble: he ſitteth betweene ỹ * Cherubims, let the earth be moued.

b Though the wicked rage againſt God, yet the godlie ſhal praiſe his Name, & might power

2 The Lord is great in Zión, & he is high aboue all the people.

c That is, before his Temple or Arke, where he promiſed to heare, when they worſhipped him, as now he promiſeth his ſpiritual preſẽce, whereſouer his Church is aſſembled

3 Thei ſhal b praiſe thy great and feareful Name (for it is holie)

d Vnder theſe thre he comprehendeth ỹ whole people of Iſraél, with whome God made his promes

4 And the Kings power, that loueth iudgement: for thou haſt prepared equitie: thou haſt executed iudgement & iuſtice in Iaakób.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his c foteſtole: for he is holie.

e For the more liberally ỹ God dealeth with his people, the more doeth he puniſh them that abuſe his beneſites.

6 Moſẽs & Aarón were among his Prieſts, d and Samuél among ſuche as call vpon his Name: theſe called vpon the Lord, & he heard them.

7 He ſpake vnto thẽ in the cloudie piller: thei kept his teſtimonies, & the Lawe that he gaue them.

8 Thou heardeſt them, ô Lord our God: thou waſt a fauourable God vnto them, thogh ỹ dideſt take vengeance for e their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his holie Mountaine: for the Lord our God is holie.

PSAL. C.

1 He exhorteth all to ſerue the Lord, 3 Who hathe choſen vs & preſerued vs, 4 And to entre into his aſſemblies to praiſe his Name.

A pſalme of praiſe.

1 SIng a ye loude vnto the Lord, all the
2 earth.
Serue the Lord with gladnes: come before him with ioyfulnes.
3 Knowe ye that euen the Lord is God: he hathe b made vs, & not we our ſelues: we are his people, and the ſhepe of his paſture.
4 c Enter into his gates with praiſe, & into his courtes with reioycing: praiſe him and bleſſe his Name.
5 For the Lord is good: his mercie is d euerlaſting, and his trueth is from generacion to generacion.

a He propheciech ỹ Gods benefite in calling the Gentiles, ſhalbe ſo great that thei ſhal haue wonderful occaſiõ to praiſe his mercie & reioyce
b He chiefly meaneth, touching the ſpirituall regeneration, whereby we are his ſhepe and people c He ſheweth that God wil not be worſhiped, but by that meanes, which he hathe appointed.
d He declareth that we oght neuer to be weame in praiſing him, ſeing his mercies toward vs laſt for euer.

PSAL. CI.

1 Dauid deſcribeth what gouernement he wil obſerue in his houſe and kingdome 5 He wil puniſh and correct, by rooting forthe the wicked, 6 And cheriſhing the godlie perſones.

A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 I Wil a ſing mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, ô Lord, wil I ſing.
2 I wil do wiſely in the perfite waie b til ỹ comeſt to me: I wil walke in ỹ vprightnes of mine heart in the middes of mine houſe.
3 I wil ſet no wicked thing before mine eies: I hate c the worke of them that fall awaie: it ſhal not cleaue vnto me.
4 A froward heart ſhal depart from me: I wil knowe none euil.
5 Him, that priuely d ſclandereth his neighbour, wil I deſtroie: hĩ that hathe a proude loke and high heart, I can not ſuffer.
6 Mine eies ſhalbe vnto the e faithful of the land, that they maie dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfite waie, he ſhal ſerue me.
7 There ſhal no deceitful perſone dwell within mine houſe: he that telleth lies, ſhal not remaine in my ſight.
8 f Betimes wil I deſtroy all the wicked of the land, that I maie cut of all the workers of iniquitie from the Citie of the Lord.

a Dauid conſidereth what maner of King he wolde be, whẽ God ſhulde place him in the throne, promiſing openly, that he wolde be merciful and iuſt
b Thogh as yet ỹ differreſt to place me in the kiglie dignitie, yet wil I gme my ſelf to wiſdome & vprightneſs being a priuate man
c He ſhew th that magiſtrates do not their duelies, except thei be enemies to all vice d In promiſing to puniſh theſe vices, which are moſte pernicious in the that are about Kings, he declareth that he wil puniſh all e He ſheweth what is ỹ true vſe of the ſworde: to puniſh the wicked and to mainteine the good.
f Magiſtrates muſt immediatly puniſh vice, leſt it growe to farther inconuenience and if heathen Magiſtrates are bounde to do this, how muche more thei that haue the charge of the Church of God?

PSAL. CII.

1 It ſemeth that this praier was appointed to the faithful to praie in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A conſolation for the building of the Church: 18 Whereof followeth the praiſe of God to be publiſhed vnto all poſteritie. 22 The conuerſion of the Gentiles, 23 And the Habilitie of the Church.

a Whereby is ſignified, that albeit we be in neuer ſo great miſeries, yet there is euer place left for praier.

¶ A praier a of the afflicted, when he ſhalbe in diſtres, and powre forthe his meditation before the Lord.

1 O Lord, heare my praier, and let my b crye come vnto thee.
2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haſte to heare me.
3 For my daies are c conſumed like ſmoke, and my bones are burnt like an herth.
4 Mine heart is ſmitten and withereth like graſſe, becauſe I forgate d to eat my bread.
5 For the voice of my groning my bones do cleaue to my ſkin.
6 I am like a e pelicane of the wildernes: I am like an owle of the deſerts.
7 I watche and am as a ſparowe alone vpõ the houſe toppe.
8 Mine enemies reuile me daiely, & they ỹ rage agaĩſt me, haue f ſworne agaĩſt me.
9 Surely I haue g eaten aſhes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weping,
10 Becauſe of thine h indignation and thy wrath: for thou haſt heaued me vp, and caſt me downe.
11 My daies are like a ſhadowe that fadeth, and I am withered like graſſe.
12 But thou, ô Lord, doeſt i remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generacio to generacion.
13 Thou wilt ariſe & haue mercie vpon Zión: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the k appointed time is come.
14 For thy ſeruãts delite in the l ſtones thereof, and haue pitie on the duſt thereof.
15 Then the heathen ſhal feare the Name of the Lord, & all the Kings of the earth thy glorie, 16 Whẽ the Lord ſhal buylde vp Zión, & ſhal appeare m in his glorie, 17 And ſhal turne vnto the praier of the deſolate, and not deſpiſe their praier.
18 This ſhalbe writen for the generacion to come: & the people, which ſhalbe n created, ſhal praiſe the Lord.
19 For he hathe loked downe frõ the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord beholde the earth, 20 That he might heare the mourning of the priſoner, and deliuer the o children of death:
21 That thei maie declare the Name of the Lord in Zión, and his praiſe in Ieruſalém, 22 When the people ſhalbe gathered p together, and the kingdomes to ſerue the Lord.
23 He q abated my ſtrength in the waie, & ſhortened my daies.
24 And I ſaid, O my God, take me not away

b He declareth that in our praier we muſt liuely feele that, which we deſire and ſtedfaſtly beleue to obteine
c Theſe exceſſiue kindes of ſpeache ſhew how muche ỹ affliction of ỹ Church oght to wounde the heaires of the godlie.
d My ſorowes were ſo great, that I paſſed not for mine ordinarie fode
e Euer mourning, and ſolitarie, cauſing out fearefull cryes f Haue conſpired my death.
g I haue not riſen out of my mourning to take my refection.
h He ſheweth that the afflictions did not onely thus moue him, but chiefly the feling of Gods diſpleaſure
i How ſoeuer we be fraile: yet thy promes is ſure & the remembrãce thereof ſhal confirme vs for euer k That is, the ſeuẽtie yeres, which by the prophet Ieremie ỹ dideſt appoint, Ier. 29, 12
l The more ỹ the Church is in miſerie and deſolation, the more oght the faithful to loue and pitie it
m That is, when he ſhal haue drawen his Church out of the darkenes of death n The deliuerance of the Church is a moſte excellẽt benefite: & therefore he cõpareth it to a newe creation: for in their baniſhment the bodie of the Church ſemed to haue bene dead, which by deliuerance was as it were created anewe.
o Who now in their baniſhement colde loke for nothing but death.
p He ſheweth that Gods Name is neuer more praiſed, then when religion floriſheth, and the Church increaſeth: which thing is chiefly accompliſhed vnder the kingdome of Chriſt.
q The Church lamẽt that thei ſe not the time of Chriſt, which was promiſed, but haue but fewe yeres and ſhort daies.

away in the middes of my daies: thy yeres endure from generacion to generacion.

25 Thou haſt aforetime laied the fundation of the earth, and the heauens are ỹ worke of thine hands.

f If heauen & earth periſh, muche more man ſhal periſh but the Church by reaſon of Gods promes endureth for euer 26 f Thei ſhal periſh, but thou ſhalt endure: euen thei all ſhal waxe olde as doeth a garment: as a veſture ſhalt thou change them, and thei ſhalbe changed.

27 But thou art the ſame, and thy yeres ſhal not faile.

ſ Seing ỹ haſt choſen thy Church out of the worlde, & ioyned it to thee, it can not but continue for euer: for ỹ art euerlaſtig.

28 The children of thy ſeruants ſhal continue, and their ſede ſhal ſtand f faſt in thy ſight.

PSAL. CIII.

1 He prouoketh all to praiſe the Lord, which hathe pardoned is ſinnes, deliuered him from deſtruction, and giuen him ſufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercies of God, which he ſheweth like a moſte tender Father towards his childrē. 14 The frailtie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels to praiſe the Lord.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

a He wakeneth his dulnes to praiſe God, ſhewing ỹ both vnderſtanding & affectiōs, minde & heart are to litle to ſet forth his praiſe.

1 MY ſoule, a praiſe ỹ the Lord, & all that is within me, praiſe his holie Name.

b This is the beginning and chiefeſt of all benefites: remiſſion of ſinne

2 My ſoule, praiſe thou the Lord, and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which b forgiueth all thine iniquitie, & healeth all thine infirmities.

c For before ỹ we haue remiſſion of our ſinnes, we are as dead mē in the graue

4 Which redemeth thy life from ỹ c graue, and crowneth thee with mercie and compaſſions.

d As the egle, whether beake ouergrowth, ſucketh blood, and ſo is renued in ſtrength, euen ſo God miraculouſly giueth ſtrēgth to his Church aboue all mās expectation.

5 Which ſatiſfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy d youth is renued like the egles.

e As to his chief miniſter & next to his people.

6 The Lord executeth righteouſnes and iudgement to all that are oppreſſed.

f He ſheweth firſt his ſeuere iudgement, but ſo ſone as the ſinner is humbled, he receiueth him to mercie

7 He made his waies knowen vnto e Moſes, & his workes vnto the children of Iſraél.

g We haue proūé by cōtinual experience, ỹ his mercie hathe euer prenailed agāinſt our offences

8 The Lord is ful of compaſsion and mercie, ſlowe to angre and of great kindenes.

9 He wil not alwaie f chide, nether kepe his angre for euer.

h As great as the worlde is, ſo ful is it of ſignes of Gods mercies toward his faithful, when he hathe remoued their ſinnes

10 He hathe not g dealt with vs after our ſinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

i He declareth that mā hathe nothig in him ſelfe to moue God to mercie, but onely the confeſsion of his infirmities & miſerie.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue the earth, ſo great is his mercie toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as h the Eaſt is from the Weſt: ſo farre hathe he remoued our ſinnes from vs.

13 As a father hathe compaſſiō on his children, ſo hathe the Lord compaſsion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembreth that we are but duſt.

15 The daies of i mā are as graſſe: as a flower of the field, ſo floriſheth he.

16 For the winde goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof ſhal knowe it no more.

17 But the louing kindenes of the Lord endureth for euer & euer vpon them that feare him, and his k righteouſnes vpon childrens children, k His iuſte & faithful kepig of his promes.

18 Vnto them that kepe his l couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to do them.

l To whome he giueth grace to feare hi, & to obey his worde.

19 The Lord hathe prepared his throne in heauen, and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.

m In that that we, which naturally are ſlowe to praiſe God, exhort the Angels, ỹ willigly do it, we hirre vp our ſelues to conſider our duetie, & awake out of our ſluggiſhnes.

20 Praiſe the Lord, ye m his Angels, that excel in ſtrength, that do his commandement in obeying the voice of his worde.

21 Praiſe the Lord, all ye his hoſtes, ye his ſeruants that do his pleaſure.

22 Praiſe the Lord, all ye his workes, in all places of his dominion: my ſoule, praiſe thou the Lord.

PSAL. CIIII.

1 An excellent Pſalme to praiſe God for the creation of the worlde & the gouernance of the ſame by his marueilous prouidence. 35 Wherein the Prophet praieth againſt the wicked, who are occaſions that God diminiſhed his bleſsings a The Prophet ſheweth that we nede not to enter into the heauēs to ſeke God, for aſmuch as all the ordre of nature, with ỹ proprietie and placing of the elements, are moſte liuely mirrours to ſe his maieſtie in 1 MY ſoule, praiſe thou ỹ Lord: ô Lord my God, thou art exceding great, ỹ art a clothed with glorie & honour.

b As the Prophet here ſheweth ỹ all viſible powers are readie to ſerue God: ſo the Apoſtle to ỹ Ebr 1, 7 beholdeth in this glaſſe, how ỹ verie Angels alſo are obedient to his cōmandement

2 Which couereth him ſelf with light as with a garment, & ſpreadeth the heauens like a curtaine.

c Thou makeſt the ſea to be an ornament vnto ỹ earth.

3 Which laieth the beames of his chābers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

d If by thy power ỹ dideſt not bridle the rage of ỹ waters, it were not poſsible, but the whole worlde ſhulde be deſtroied.

4 Which b maketh the ſpirits his meſſengers, & a flaming fyre his miniſters.

5 He ſet the earth vpon her fundacions, ſo ỹ it ſhal neuer moue.

e If God prouide for ỹ verie beaſtes, much more wil he extend his prouident care to man.

6 Thou couereds t it with ỹ c deepe as with a garment: the d waters wolde ſtand aboue the mountaines.

f There is no part of the worlde ſo baren, where moſte euident ſignes of Gods bleſſings appeare not 7 But at thy rebuke thei flee: at the voice of thy thunder thei haſte awaie.

8 And the moūtaines aſcend, & the valleis deſcend to the place which thou haſt eſtabliſhed for them.

g From the cloudes.

9 But thou haſt ſet them a bonde, which thei ſhal not paſſe: thei ſhal not returne to couer the earth.

10 He ſendeth the ſprings into the valleis, which runne betwene the mountaines.

h He deſcribeth Gods prudent care ouer man, who doeth not only prouide neceſſarie thigs for him, as herbes & other meate but alſo thigs to reioyce and comforte him, as wine & oyle or ointmēte.

11 Thei ſhal giue drinke to all the e beaſtes of the field, and the wilde aſſes ſhal quenche their thirſt.

12 By theſe f ſprings ſhal the foules of the heauen dwell, and ſing among the brāches.

13 He watereth the mountaines from his g chambers, & the earth is filled with the frute of thy workes.

14 He cauſeth graſſe to growe for the cattel, and herbe for the vſe of h man, that he maie bring forthe bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, & oyle to make the face to ſhine, & bread that ſtrengtheneth mans heart.

16 The high trees are ſatiſſied, euen the cedries of Lebanón, which he hathe planted, 17 That the birdes maie make their neſtes there: the ſtorke dwelleth in the fire trees.
18 The high mountaines are for the goates: the rockes are a refuge for the conies.
19 He appointed the [l] moone for certeine ſeaſons: [k] the ſunne knoweth his going downe.
20 Thou makeſt darkenes, and it is night, wherein all the beaſtes of the foreſt crepe forthe.
21 The lions roare after their praie, and ſeke their meate [l] at God.
22 When the ſunne riſeth, they retire, and couche in their dennes.
23 [m] Then goeth man forthe to his worke, and to his labour vntil the euening.
24 O Lord, how [n] manifolde are thy workes! in wiſdome haſt thou made them all: the earth is ful of thy riches.
25 So is this ſea great & wide: for therein are things creping innumerable, bothe ſmale beaſtes and great.
26 There go ỹ ſhippes, yea, that [o] Liuiathán, whome thou haſt made to plaie therein.
27 [p] All theſe waite vpon thee, that thou maieſt giue them fode in due ſeaſon.
28 Thou giueſt it to them, & thei gather it: thou openeſt thine hand, & thei are filled with good things.
29 But if thou [p] hide thy face, thei are troubled: if thou take awaie their breath, they dye and returne to their duſt.
30 Againe if thou [q] ſend forthe thy ſpirit, thei are created, and thou renueſt the face of the earth.
31 Glorie be to the Lord for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.
32 He loketh on the earth and it trembleth: he toucheth ỹ mountaines, & thei [r] ſmoke.
33 I wil ſing vnto the Lord all my life: I wil praiſe my God, while I liue.
34 Let my wordes be acceptable vnto him: I wil reioyce in the Lord.
35 Let the ſinners be [s] conſumed out of the earth, & the wicked til there be no more: ô my ſoule, praiſe thou the Lord. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CV.

1 He praiſeth the ſingular grace of God, who hathe of all the people of the worlde choſen a peculiar people to himſelf, and hauing choſen them, neuer ceaſeth to do them good, euen for his promes ſake.

PRaiſe ỹ Lord, & call vpon his Name: [a] declare his workes amõg the people.
2 Sing vnto him, ſing praiſe vnto him, & talke of all his wonderous workes.
3 Reioyce in his holie Name: let the heart of them that ſeke the Lord, reioyce.
4 Seke the Lord & his [b] ſtrength: ſeke his face continually.
5 Remembre his [c] maruelous workes, that he hathe done, his wonders and the [d] iudgements of his mouth,
6 Ye ſede of Abrahám his ſeruant, ye children of Iaakób, which are his elect.
7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are through all the earth.
8 He hathe alwaie remembred his couenant & promes, that he made to a thouſand generacions, 9 Euen that which he [e] made with Abrahám and his othe vnto Izhák:
10 And ſince hathe confirmed it to Iaakób for a law, & to Iſraél for an euerlaſting couenant, 11 Saying, [f] Vnto thee wil I giue the land of Canáan, the lot of your inheritance.
12 Albeit thei were fewe in nomber, yea, verie fewe & ſtrangers in the land, 13 And walked about from nacion to nació, from one kingdome to another people, 14 Yet ſuffred he no man to do them wrong, but reproued [g] Kigs for their ſakes, ſaying, 15 Touche not mine [h] anointed, and do my [i] Prophetes no harme.
16 Moreouer he called a famine vpon the land, & vtterly brake the [k] ſtaf of bread.
17 But he ſent a man before them: Ioſeph was ſolde for a ſlaue.
18 Thei helde his fete in the ſtockes, & he was laied in yrons, 19 Vntil [l] his appointed time came, & the counſel of the Lord had tryed him.
20 The King ſent and loſed him: euen the Ruler of the people deliuered him.
21 He made him Lord of his houſe, and ruler of all his ſubſtance, 22 That he ſhulde binde his [m] princes vnto his wil, & teache his Ancients wiſdome.
23 Then Iſraél came to Egypt, and Iaakób was a ſtranger in the land of Ham.
24 And he increaſed his people excedingly, and made them ſtronger then their oppreſſers.
25 [n] He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftely with his ſeruãts.
26 Then ſent he Moſés his ſeruant, & Aarón whome he had choſen.
27 Thei ſhewed among them the meſſage of his ſignes, and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He ſent darkenes, and made it darke: and thei were not [o] diſobedient vnto his commiſſion.
29 * He turned their waters into blood, and ſlewe their fiſh.
30 * Their land broght forthe frogs, euen in their Kings chambers.
31 He [p] ſpake, & there came ſwarmes of flies & lice in all their quarters.
32 He gaue them [q] haile for raine, & flames of fyre in their land.
33 He ſmote their vines alſo and their fig-

---

[l] Or, ſtarres, rates, & ſuche like.
[k] As to ſeparat the night from the date, & to note daies, monethes & yeres
[k] That is, by his courſe, either farre or nere, it noteth ſommer, winter and other ſeaſons.
[l] That is, they onely finde meat accordig to Gods prouidence, who careth euẽ for the brute beaſtes.
[m] To wit, whẽ the daie ſpringeth. for the light is as it were a ſhield to defend man againſt the tyranie and fiercenes of beaſtes
[n] He confeſſeth that no tongue is able to expreſſe Gods workes, nor minde to comprehende them.
[o] Or, Whale
[o] God is a moſte nouriſhing Father, who prouideth for all creatures their daelie fode
[p] As by thy preſence all things haue life: ſo, if thou withdrawe thy bleſsings, thei ſtraight periſh
[q] As ỹ death of creatures ſheweth ỹ we are nothing of our ſelues: ſo their generacion declareth ỹ we receme all things of our Creator
[r] Gods merciful face giueth ſtrength to ỹ earth, but his ſeuere countenance burneth ỹ mountaines
[s] Who infect ỹ worlde, & ſo cauſe God ỹ he can not reioyce in his workes
Pſal CV
[a] For aſmuch as the Iſraelites were exẽpted frõ the cõmune condemnation of the worlde, and were elected to be Gods people, ỹ Prophet willeth them to ſhewe them ſelues mindeful by thãkeſgiuing.
[b] By ỹ ſtrẽgth & face, he meaneth ỹ Arke where God declared his power and his preſence.
[c] Which he hathe wroght in the deliuerance of his people
[d] Becauſe his power was therby as linely declared, as if he ſhulde haue declared it by mouth.
[e] The promes which God made to Abrahám to be his God, and the God of his ſede after him, he renued and repered it againe to his ſede after him
[f] He ſheweth ỹ thei ſhulde not enioye the lãd of Canáan by anie other meanes, but by reaſon of his couenãt made with their fathers
[g] That is, the King of Egypt and the King of Gerár, Gen. 12,17, & 20,3.
[h] Thoſe whome I haue ſanctified to be my people.
[i] Meaning the olde fathers, to whome God ſheweth him ſelf plainely, and who were ſetters forthe of his worde.
[k] Ether by ſending ſcarſetie, or by taking awaie ỹ ſtrẽgth & nouriſhment thereof
[l] So long he ſuffred aduerſitie, as God had appoſted, and til he had tryed ſufficiẽtly his paciẽce.
[m] That ỹ verie princes of the countrey ſhulde be at Ioſephs cõmandemẽt & learne wiſdome at him [n] So it is in God, ether to moue ỹ hearts of the wicked to loue or to hate Gods children.
[o] Meanig, Moſés and Aarón.
Exod 7,20.
Exod.8,6.
[p] So that this vermine came not by fortune, but as God had appoſted, & his Prophet Moſés ſpake [q] It was ſtrãge to ſe raine in Egypt, muche more it was feareful to ſe haile.

trees, and brake downe the trees in their coaſtes.

r He ſheweth ſ all creatures are armed againſt mã, whẽ God is his enemie: as at his cõmandement the graſhoppers deſtroyed the land.

34 r He ſpake, and the graſhoppers came, & caterpillers innumerable,

35 And did eat vp all the graſſe in their lãd, and deuoured the frute of their grounde.

Exod 12,29.

36 *He ſmote alſo all the firſt borne in their land, euen the beginning of all their ſtrength.

ſ When their enemies felt Gods plagues, his childrẽ by his prouidẽce were exẽpted

37 He broght them forthe alſo with ſiluer and golde, and there was ſ none feble among their tribes.

t For Gods plagues cauſed them rather to departe ẅ the Iſraelites then ẅ their liues.

38 Egypt was t glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

39 He ſpred a cloude to be a couering, and fyre to giue light in the nĩght.

u Not for neceſsitie, but for ſatiffying of their luſt

40 They u aſked, and he broght quailes, & he filled them with the bread of heauẽ.

41 He opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and ran in the drye places like a riuer.

x Which he confirmeth to the poſteritie, in whome after a ſorte the dead liue and enioye the promiſes

42 For he remembred his holie x promes to Abrahám his ſeruant, 43 And he broght forthe his people with y ioye, & his choſen with gladnes, y When the Egyptians lamẽted & were deſtroyed

44 And gaue them the lands of the heathẽ, and they toke the labours of the people in poſſeſsion, z This is the end, why God preſerueth his Church, becauſe they ſhulde worſhip, and call vp in him in this worlde.

45 That they might z kepe his ſtatutes, and obſerue his Lawes. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CVI.

1 The people diſperſed Vnder Antiochus do magnifie the goodnes of God among the iuſte and repentãt: 4 Deſiring to be broght againe into the land by Gods merciful viſitation 8 And after the manifolde maruels of God wroght in their deliuerance forthe of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rehearſed, 47 They do pray & deſire to be gathered from amõg the heathẽ to the intent thes may praiſe the Name of the God of Iſraël

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord.

a The Prophet exhorteth the people to praiſe God for his benefites paſt, ſ thereby their mindes maie be ſtregthened againſt all preſent troubles & deſpaire

1 PRaiſe a ye ſ Lord becauſe he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

b He ſheweth that it is not ynough to praiſe God with mouth, except ſ whole heart agre therunto, and all our life be thereunto framed.

2 Who can expreſſe the noble actes of the Lord, or ſhewe forthe all his praiſe?

3 Bleſſed are they that b kepe iudgement, and do righteouſnes at all times.

c Let ſ good wil that thou beareſt to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I maie be receiued in to the nomber of thine

4 Remember me, ô Lord, with the c fauour of thy people: viſit me with thy ſaluacion,

5 That I may ſe the felicitie of thy choſen, and reioyce in the ioye of thy people, and glorie with thine inheritance.

d By earneſt confeſsion aſwel of their owne, as of their fathers ſinnes, they ſhew that they had hope that God according to his promes wolde pitie them.

6 We haue d ſinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.

e The ineſtimable goodnes of God appeareth in this, that he wolde change the ordre of nature, rather then his people ſhulde not be deliuered, although they were wicked.

7 Our fathers vnderſtode not thy wõders in Egypt, nether remembred they ſ multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.

8 Neuertheles he e ſaued them for his Names ſake, that he might make his power to be knowen.

9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dryed vp, and he led them in the depe, as in the wildernes.

Exod.14,27.

f The wõderful workes of God cauſed thẽ to beleue for a time and to praiſe him.

10 And he ſaued them frõ the aduerſaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

g They wolde preuẽt his wiſdome and prouidence

11 *And the waters couered their oppreſſers: not one of them was left.

h The abũdance that God gaue thẽ, profited not, but made thẽ pine away, becauſe God curſed it.

12 Then f beleued they his wordes, & ſang praiſe vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his workes: they waited not for his g counſel, i By ſ greatnes of the puniſhment the hainous offence maie be cõſidered: for they that riſe againſt Gods miniſters, rebel againſt him.

14 But luſted with concupiſcẽce in the wildernes, & tempted God in the deſert.

15 Then he gaue them their deſire: but he ſent h leannes into their ſoule.

k He ſheweth ſ all idolaters renounce God to be their glorie, when in ſtead of him they worſhip ane creature, muche more wood, ſtõne, metal or cattes.

16 They enuied Moſés alſo in the tentes, & Aarón the holie one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened and i ſwalowed vp Dathán, and couered the companie of Abirám.

l If Móſés by his interceſsiõ had not obteined Gods fauour againſt their rebelliõ

18 And the fyre was kindled in their aſſemblie: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horéb, & worſhiped the molten image.

m Tharis, Canáan, ẅ was as it were an earneſt penie of ſ heauenlie inheritance

20 Thus they turned their k glorie into the ſimilitude of a bullocke, that eateth graſſe.

21 They forgate God their Sauiour, which had done great things in Egypt, n That is, he ſware. Sõtime alſo it meaneth to puniſh.

22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham, and fearful things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to deſtroye them, had l not Moſés his choſen ſtand in the breache before hĩ to turne away his wrath, leſt he ſhulde deſtroye them.

o Which was ſ idole of the Moabites

24 Alſo they contemned that m pleaſant land, & beleued not his worde, p Sacrifices offred to ſ dead idoles

25 But murmured in their tentes, & harkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

q Signifying, ſ whatſoeuer man inuenteth of him ſelf to ſerue God by, is deteſtable & prouoketh his angre

26 Therefore n he lifted vp his hãd againſt them, to deſtroye them in the wildernes, 27 And to deſtroye their ſede among the nacions, and to ſcater them throughout the countreis.

28 They ioyned them ſelues alſo vnto o Baal-peór, & did eat the offrings of the p dead.

29 Thus they q prouoked him vnto angre with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

r When all other neglected Gods glorie, he in his zeale killed ſ adulterers & preuented Gods wrath

Nom 25,12.

30 But r Phinehás ſtode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was ſtaied.

ſ This acte declared his liuelie faith, & for his faiths ſake was accepted

Nom.20,2.

31 *And it was ſ imputed vnto him for righteouſnes from generacion to generacio for euer.

pſal.95,8.

t If ſo notable a Prophet of God eſcape not puniſhmẽt thogh others prouoked him to ſinne, how mucne more ſhal they be ſubiect to Gods iudgement, which cauſe God to chaſtiſe his children to ſaue

32 They angred him alſo at the waters of *Meribáh, ſo that t Moſés was puniſhed for their ſakes, 33 Becauſe they vexed his ſpirit, ſo that he ſpake vnaduiſedly with his lippes.

34 Nether deſtroyed they the people, as ſ Lord had commanded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, & learned their workes, 36 And ſerued their idoles, which were their ruine.
37 Yea, they offred their [n] ſonnes, and their daughters vnto diuels, 38 And ſhed innocent blood, euen the blood of their ſonnes, and of their daughters, whome they offred vnto the idols of Canáan, and the land was defiled with blood.
39 Thus were they ſteined with their owne workes, and went [x] a whoring with their owne inuentions.
40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled againſt his people, & he abhorred his owne inheritance.
41 And he gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lords ouer them.
42 Their enemies alſo oppreſſed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.
43 Manie [y] a time did he deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counſels: therefore they were broght downe by their iniquitie.
44 Yet he ſawe when they were in affliction, and he heard their crye.
45 And he remembred his couenãt toward them, and [z] repẽted according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the ſight of all them, that led them captiues.
47 Saue vs, ô Lord our God, and [a] gather vs from among the heathen, that we maie praiſe thine holie Name, and glorie in thy praiſe.
48 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſraél for euer & euer, and let all the people ſay, So be it. Praiſe ye the Lord.

n He ſheweth how mõſtruo⁹ a thing idolatrie is, ẅ can winne vs to things abhorring to nature, where as Gods worde can not obteine moſte ſmale things.
x Then true chaſtitie is to cleaue wholly & onely vnto God.
y The Prophet ſheweth ẏ neither by menaces, nor promiſes we can come to God, except we be all together newly reformed, & ẏ his mercie ouercõuer and hide our malice.
z Not ẏ God is changeable in him ſelf, but that then he ſemeth tovs to repent, whẽ he altereth his puniſhment, & forgiueth vs a Gather thy Church, ẅ is diſperſed, and giue vs conſtãcie vnder the croſſe, that ẅ one cõſent we may all praiſe thee.

PSAL. CVII.

a The Prophet exhorteth all thoſe that are redemed by the Lord, & gathered vnto him to giue thankes. 9 For this merciful prouidence of God gouerning all things at his good pleaſure, 20 Sending good & euil, proſperitie and aduerſitie to bring men Vnto him 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, ſo ſhal the wicked haue their mouthes ſtopped.

1 PRaiſe [a] the Lord, becauſe he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.
2 Let them, [b] which haue bene redemed of the Lord, ſhewe how he hathe deliuered them from the hand of the oppreſſer,
3 And gathered them out of the lãds, from the Eaſt and from the Weſt, from the North and from the [c] South.
4 When they wandered in the deſert & wildernes out of the way, and founde no citie to dwell in,
5 [c] Bothe hungrie & thirſtie, their ſoule fainted in them.
6 Then they cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their diſtres,
7 And led thẽ forthe by the right way, that they might go to a citie of habitacion.
8 Let them therefore cõfeſſe before the Lord his louing kindenes, & his wonderful workes before the ſonnes of men.
9 For he ſatiſfied the thirſtie ſoule, and filled the hungrie ſoule with goodnes.
10 They, that dwell in darkenes and in the ſhadowe of death, being bounde in miſerie and yron, 11 Becauſe they [d] rebelled againſt the wordes of the Lord, and deſpiſed the counſel of the moſte High,
12 When he humbled their heart with heauines, then they fell downe and there was no helper.
13 Then they [e] cryed vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he deliuered them from their diſtres.
14 He broght them out of darkenes, and out of the ſhadowe of death, and brake their bands a ſunder.
15 Let them therefore confeſſe before the Lord his louing kindenes, & his wonderful workes before the ſonnes of men.
16 For he hathe broken ẏ [f] gates of braſſe, and braſt the barres of yron a ſundre.
17 [g] Fooles by reaſon of their tranſgreſsion & becauſe of their iniquities are afflicted.
18 Their ſoule abhorreth all meat, & they are broght to deaths dore.
19 Then they crye vnto the Lord in their trouble, & he deliuereth them from their diſtres.
20 [h] He ſendeth his worde and healeth them, and deliuereth them from their [i] graues.
21 Let them therefore confeſſe before the Lord his louing kindenes, & his wonderful workes before the ſonnes of men,
22 And let them offer ſacrifices of [k] praiſe, and declare his workes with reioycing.
23 They that go downe to the [l] ſea in ſhippes, & occupie by the great waters, 24 They ſe the workes of the Lord, & his wonders in the depe.
25 For he commandeth and raiſeth the ſtormie winde, and it lifteth vp the waues thereof.
26 They mounte vp to the heauẽ, & deſcẽd to the depe, ſo that their ſoule [m] melteth for trouble.
27 They are toſſed to and fro, and ſtagger like a drunken man, and all their [n] cunning is gone.
28 Then they crye vnto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their diſtres.
29 He turneth the ſtorme to calme, ſo that the waues thereof are ſtil.
30 When they are [o] quieted, they are glad, & he a This notable ſentence was in the beginning vſed, as the note or tenour of the ſong, ẅ was oftentimes repeted.

b As this was true in ẏ Iewes, ſo is there none of Gods elect, ẏ fele not his helpe in their neceſsitie
c Or, from the Sea: meaning the red Sea, which is on the South parte of the land
c He ſheweth that there is none affliction ſo grieuous, out of the which God wil not deliuer vs, and alſo exhorteth them, that are deliuered, to be mindeful of ſo great a benefite.
d Then ẏ true way to obeie God, is to followe his expreſſe cõmandement: alſo hereby all are exhorted to deſcẽde into thẽ ſelues, foraſmuch as none are puniſhed, but for their ſinnes
e He ſheweth that the cauſe why God doeth puniſh vs extremely, is becauſe we cã be broght vnto him by none other meanes.
f When there ſemeth to mãn iudgement no recouerie, but all things are broght to deſpaire, thẽ God chiefly ſheweth his mightie power
g Then ẏ haue no feare of God, by his ſharp rods are broght to call vpon him and ſo finde mercie h By healing thẽ he declareth his good wil toward them i Meanig, their diſeaſes, ẅ had almoſt broght thẽ to the graue & corruption k Praiſe and confeſsion of Gods benefits are the true ſacrifices of the godlie l He ſheweth by ẏ ſea what care God hathe ouer man, for in that ẏ he deliuereth thẽ from the great dangers of the ſea, he deliuereth them, as it were, from a thouſand deaths m Their feare & danger is ſo great n When their arre & meanes faile thẽ, they are compelled to cõfeſſe that onely Gods prouidẽce doeth preſerue them o Thogh before euerie drop ſemed to fight one againſt an other, yet at his cõmandement they are as ſtil, as thogh they were froſen.

he bringeth them vnto the hauen, where they wolde be.

31 Let thē therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindenes, and his wonderful workes before the sonnes of men.

32 And let them exalt him in the P Congregacion of the people, and praise him in the assemblie of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wildernes, and the springs of waters into drienes, 34 And a fruteful land into *barrennes for the wickednes of them that dwell therein.

35 Againe he q turneth the wildernes into pooles of water, & the drye land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungrie, and they buyld a citie to dwell in,

37 And sowe the fields, & plant vineyardes, which bring forthe fruteful r increase.

38 For he blesseth them, and they multiplie excedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattel.

39 sAgaine men are diminished, and broght lowe by oppression, euil and sorowe.

40 He powreth t contempt vpon princes, and causeth them to erre in desert places out of the way.

41 Yet he raiseth vp the poore out of miserie, and maketh him families like a flocke of shepe.

42 The u righteous shal se it, and reioyce, and all iniquitie shal stop her mouth.

43 Who is wise that he maie obserue these things? for they shal vnderstād the louing kindenes of the Lord.

P This great benefite ought not onely to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places & assemblies

*Or, saltenes.

q For the loue y he beareth to his Church he changeth § ordre of nature for their commoditie

r Cōtinual increase & yearlie.

s As God by his prouidēce doeth exalte men, so doeth he also humble them by afflictiōs to knowe them selues

t For their wickednes and tyrānie he causeth § people & subiects to contēne them.

u They, whose faith is lightened by Gods Spirit, shal reioyce to se Gods iudgements against the wicked & vngodlie.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalme is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seuen and fiftieth & the sixtieth. The matter here conteined is, 1 That Dauid giueth him self with heart and voyce to praise the Lord, 7 And assureth him self of the promes of God concerning his kingdome ouer Israél, and his power against other nacions: 11 Who though he seme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone wil in the end cast downe our enemies.

¶ A song or Psalme of Dauid.

1 O God, mine heart is a prepared, so is my tongue: I wil sing & giue praise.

2 Awake viole & harpe: I wil awake early.

3 I wil praise thee, ô Lord, amōg the b people, and I wil sing vnto thee among the nacions.

4 For thy mercie is great aboue the heauēs, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

5 c Exalt thy self, ô God, aboue the heauēs, and let thy glorie be vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued maie be deliuered: d helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hathe spoken in his e holines: therefore I wil reioyce, I shal diuide Shechém and measure the valley of Succóth.

8 Gileád shalbe mine, and Manasséh shalbe mine: Ephráim also shalbe the strength of mine head: Iuda is my Lawegiuer.

9 *Móab shalbe my washpot: ouer Edóm wil I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph. Psal 60, 8.

10 Who wil leade me into the strong citie? who wil bring me vnto Edóm?

11 f Wilt not thou, ô God, which haddest forsaken vs, & didest not go forthe, ô God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

13 Through God we shal do valiantly: for he shal tread downe our enemies.

a Whether it were Doeg or Saúl, or some familiar frīed § had betraied hī, he praieth not of priuate affection, but moued by Gods Spirit, § God wolde take vengeāce vpon him

b To declare § I had none other refuge, but thee, in whome my cō science was at rest

c Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let § aduersarie stand at his right hand.

d As to the elect all things turne to their profite: so to § reprobat euen those things, § are good, turne to their damnation

e This was chiefly accōplished in Iudas, Act 1 20.

f From § sixte verse of this psalme vnto § last read § exposition in the threscore psalme, and fifte verse.

e This earnest affection declareth that he is fre frō hypocrisie, and § suggestiones staieth hī not

*Or, my glorie, because it chiefly setteth forthe the glorie of God

b He propheciethe of § calling of § Gentiles: for except thei were called, they wolde not heare the goodnes of God

c Let all the worlde se thy iudgements, in that that thou art God ouer all, & so cōfesse that thou art glorious

d Whē God by his benefites maketh vs partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth vs to be earnest in praier to desire him to continue and finish his graces

e As he hathe spoken to Samuél concerning me, so wil he shewe him self constant, and holie in his promes, so that these nacions following shalbe subiect vnto me.

PSAL. CIX.

1 Dauid being falsely accused by flatterers vnto Saúl, praieth God to helpe him and to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder thē he speaketh of Iudas the traitor vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies mate knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doeth he promise to giue praises vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

1 HOlde not thy tongue, ô God of my a praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth ful of deceit are opened vpon me: thei haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 Thei compassed me about also with wordes of hatred, and foght against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship thei were mine aduersaries, b but I gaue my self to praier.

5 And they haue rewarded me euil for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 c Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let § aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shalbe iudged, let him be condemned, and let his d praier be turned into sinne.

8 Let his daies be fewe, and let another take his e charge.

9 Let his children be fatherles, & his wife a widowe.

10 Let his children be vagabunds & begge and seke bread, comming out of their places destroied.

11 Let f the extorcioner catche all § the hathe, and let the strangers spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: nether let there be anie to shewe mercie vpon his fatherles children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroied, & in the generacion following let their name be put out.

14 g Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done awaie.

a Thogh all § worlde condēne me, yet thou wilt approue mine innocencie, & that is a sufficiēt praise to me.

b To declare § I had none other refuge, but thee, in whome my cō science was at rest

c Whether it were Doeg or Saúl, or some familiar frīed § had betraied hī, he praieth not of priuate affection, but moued by Gods Spirit, § God wolde take vengeāce vpon him

d As to the elect all things turne to their profite: so to § reprobat euen those things, § are good, turne to their damnation

e This was chiefly accōplished in Iudas, Act 1 20.

f He declareth that § curse of God lieth vpō the extorcioners: who thinking to enriche their children by their vnlawful gotten goods, are by Gods iust iudgement deprined of all

g Thus punisheth the Lord to the third, and fourth generacion the wickednes of the parents in their wicked children

15 But let them alway be before the Lord, that he maie cut of their memorial from the earth.

h He ſheweth ỹ God accuſtometh to plague them after a ſtrange ſort, ỹ ſhewe themſelues cruel toward other.

16 Becauſe h he remembred not to ſhewe mercie, but perſecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the ſorowful hearted to ſlaye him.

i Thus gueth the Lord to euerie mā the thing, wherin he delieth, ỹ the reprobate can not accuſe God of wrōg, when thei are giuen vp to their luſts and reprobat mindes.

17 As he loued curſing, i ſo ſhal it come vnto him, & as he loued not bleſsing, ſo ſhal it be farre from him.

18 As he clothed him ſelf with curſing like a raiment, ſo ſhal it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garment to couer him, and for a girdle, wherewith he ſhalbe alwaie girded.

k For being deſtitute of mans helpe, he fully truſted in the Lord, that he wolde deliuer him.

20 Let this be the rewarde of mine aduerſarie k from the Lord, and of them, that ſpeake euil againſt my ſoule.

l As ỹ art nāmed merciful, gracious and long ſuffring, ſo ſhewe thy ſelf ineffect in Meaning, ỹ he hathe no ſtaie nor aſſurance in this worlde

21 But thou, ô Lord my God, deale with me according vnto thy l Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

m Poſ hungre, that came of ſorow, he was leane, and his natural moyſture failed hī.

22 Becauſe I am poore and nedie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I departe like ỹ ſhadowe that declineth, and am ſhaken of as the m graſshopper.

n The more grieuous ỹ ſyen aſſailed him, the more earneſt & inſtant was he in prayer.

24 My knees are weake through faſting, & my fleſh n hathe loſt all fatnes.

25 I became alſo a rebuke vnto them: they that loked vpon me, ſhaked their heads.

o The more grieuous ỹ ſyen aſſailed him, the more earneſt & inſtant was he in prayer.

26 Helpe me, ô Lord my God: o ſaue me according to thy mercie.

27 And they ſhal knowe, that this is thine hand, & that thou, Lord, haſt done it.

p They ſhal gaioe nothing by curſing me.

28 Thogh they p curſe, yet thou wilt bleſſe: they ſhal ariſe and be confounded, but thy ſeruant ſhal reioyce.

q Not onely in cōfeſsing it ſecretly in my ſelf, but alſo in declaring it before all the cōgregacion.

29 Let mine aduerſaries be clothed with ſhame, and let them couer thē ſelues with their confuſion, as with a cloke.

r Hereby he ſheweth ỹ he had not to do wt them, that were of litle power, but wt the iudges and princes of the worlde.

30 I wil giue thākes vnto the Lord greatly with my q mouthe, and praiſe him amōg the multitude.

31 For he wil ſtand at the right hand of the poore, to ſaue him from them that wolde r condemne his ſoule.

PSAL. CX.

Dauid prophecieth of the power and euerlaſting kingdome giuē to Chriſt. 4 And of his Prieſthode, which ſhulde put an end to the Prieſthode of Leui.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

a Chriſt in the two & twentie of Mare gueth this interpretacion hereof, & ſheweth ỹ this cā not properly be applied vnto Dauid, but to him ſelf

1 THe a Lord ſaid vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntil I make thine enemies thy foteſtole.

2 The Lord ſhal ſend the rod of thy power out of b Zion: be thou ruler in the middes of thine enemies.

3 Thy people ſhal come willingly at the time of aſſembling: c thine armie in holie beautie: the youth of thy wombe ſhalbe as the morning dewe.

b And: thence it ſhal ſtretch through all the worlde: & this power chiefly ſtandeth in the preaching of his worde. c By thy worde thy people ſhalbe aſſembled into thy Church, whoſe increaſe ſhalbe ſo abundant & wonderful, as the drops of the dewe.

4 The Lord ſware and wil not repent, Thou art a Prieſt for euer after the ordre of d Melchi-zédek.

d As Melchizédek ỹ figure of Chriſt was bothe King & Prieſt: ſo the office can not be accompliſhed in any King, ſaue onely in Chriſt. 2 Chro. 26. 21.

5 The Lord, that is at thy right hand, ſhal wounde Kings in the daie of his wrath.

e No power ſhalbe able to reſiſt him

6 He ſhalbe Iudge among the heathen: he ſhal fil all with dead bodies, and ſmite the e head ouer great countreis.

f Vnder this ſimilitude of a captaine, that as ſo gredie to deſtroie his enemies, that he wil not ſcarſe drinke by the waie, he ſheweth how God wil deſtroy his enemies.

7 He ſhal f drinke of the brooke in ỹ waie: therefore ſhal he lift vp his head.

PSAL. CXI.

1 He giueth thankes to the Lord for his merciful workes toward his Church. 10 And declareth wherein true wiſdome and right knowledge conſiſteth.

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord.

a The Prophet declareth that he wil praiſe God bothe priuately & openly, & that from ỹ heart, as he ỹ conſecrateth hī ſelfe wholly & onely vnto God

1 I Wil a praiſe the Lord with my whole heart in the aſſemblie and Congregacion of the iuſt.

b He ſheweth ỹ Gods workes are a ſufficient cauſe, wherefore we ſhilde praiſe him, but chiefly his benefites toward his Church.

2 The workes of the Lord are b great, and ought to be ſoght out of all them that loue them.

3 His worke is beautiful and glorious, and his righteouſnes endureth for euer.

4 He hathe made his wonderful workes to be had in remembrance: the Lord is merciful and ful of compaſsion.

c God hathe giuen to his people all that was neceſſarie for thē, & wil do ſtil euē for his couenants ſake. and in this ſenſe the Ebrewe worde is take, Prou. 30, 8 & 31. 15 Or, praie, & feede

5 He hathe giuen c a portion vnto thē that feare him: he wil euer be mindeful of his couenant.

6 He hathe ſhewed to his people the power of his workes in giuing vnto them the herita ge of the heathen.

7 The d workes of his hands are trueth and iudgement: all his ſtatutes are true.

8 They are ſtabliſhed for euer & euer, and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 He ſent redemption vnto his people: he hathe commanded his couenant for euer: holie and feareful is his Name.

d As God promiſed to take the care of his Church: ſo in effect doeth he declare himſelfe iuſt and true in ỹ gouernement of the ſame

10 e The beginning of wiſdome is the feare of the Lord: all they that obſerue f them, haue good vnderſtanding: his praiſe endureth for euer.

e Thei onely are wiſe, that feare God; and none haue vnderſtanding, but thei that obey his worde. f To wit, his commandements, as vers. 7.

PSAL. CXII.

1 He praiſeth the felicitie of thē that feare God, 10 And condemneth the curſed ſtate of the contemners of God.

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord.

a He meaneth that reuerent feare, which is in ỹ children of God, whereby cauſeth them to delite onely in ỹ worde of God

1 BLeſſed is the man, that a feareth the Lord, & deliteth greatly in his commandements.

b The godlie ſhal haue abōdance & contentement, becauſe their heart is ſtabliſhed in God

2 His ſede ſhalbe mightie vpon earth: the generacio of the righteous ſhalbe bleſſed.

3 b Riches and treaſures ſhalbe in his houſe, and his righteouſnes endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the c righteous ariſeth light in darkenes: he is merciful and ful of compaſsio and righteous.

c The faithful in all their aduerſities knowe that all ſhal go well with them: for God wilbe merciful and iuſte.

5 A good man is merciful and [d] lendeth, and wil meaſure his affaires by iudgement.
6 Surely he ſhal neuer be moued: but the righteous ſhalbe had in euerlaſting remembrance.
7 He wil not be afraid of euil tidings: for his heart is fixed, & beleueth in the Lord.
8 His heart is ſtabliſhed: therefore he wil not feare, vntil he ſe his deſire vpon his enemies.
9 He hathe [e] diſtributed and giuen to the poore: his righteouſnes remaineth for euer: his [f] horne ſhalbe exalted with glorie.
10 The wicked ſhal ſe it and be angrie: he ſhal gnaſh with his teeth, and [g] conſume awaie: the deſire of the wicked ſhal periſh.

[d] He ſheweth what is ỹ frute of mercie: to lend freely & not for gaine, & ſo to meaſure his doings, that he maie be able to helpe where nede requireth, and not to beſtowe all on hi ſelf
[e] The godlie pinche not nigardely, but diſtribute liberally, as the neceſsitie of ỹ poore requireth, & as his power is able [f] His power & proſperous eſtate
[g] The bleſsīgs of God vpon his children ſhal cauſe the wicked to dye for eaule

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortacion to praiſe the Lord for his prouidence. 7 In that that contrarie to the courſe of nature he worketh in his Church.

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord.

1 PRaiſe, ô ye ſeruãts of the Lord, [a] praiſe the Name of the Lord.
2 Bleſſed be the Name of the Lord from hence forthe and for euer.
3 The Lords Name is praiſed from the riſing of the ſunne vnto the going downe of the ſame.
4 The Lord is high aboue all [b] nacions, & his glorie aboue the heauens.
5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hathe his dwelling on high!
6 Who abaſeth him ſelf to beholde things in the heauen and in the earth.
7 He raiſeth the nedie out of the duſt, & liſteth vp the [c] poore out of the dung,
8 That he maie ſet him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.
9 He maketh the baren woman to dwell with a familie, & a ioyful mother of children. Praiſe ye the Lord.

[a] By this ofte repetition he ſtirreth vp our colde dulnes to praiſe God, ſeing his workes are ſo wõderful, & that we are created for the ſame cauſe
[b] If Gods glorie ſhine through all ỹ world, & therefore of all ought to be praiſed, what great condemnation were it to his people, among whome chiefly it ſhineth, if they ſhulde not earneſtly extoll his Name?
[c] By preferrig the poore to high honour, and guing the barre childre, he ſheweth ỹ God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinarie meanes, but alſo by miracles

PSAL. CXIIII.

1 How the Iſraelites were deliuered forthe of Egypt, & of the wonderful miracles, that God wroght at that time. 6 Which put vs in remembrance of Gods great mercie toward his Church, who, when the courſe of nature faileth, preſerueth his miraculouſly

1 WHen [a] Iſraél went out of Egypt, & the houſe of Iaakób from the [a] barbarous people,
2 Iudáh was [b] his ſanctificacion, & Iſraél his dominion.
3 The Sea ſawe it and fled: Iordén was turned backe.
4 The [c] moũtaines leaped like rams, & the hilles as lambs.
5 What ailed thee, ô Sea, that thou fleddeſt? ô Iordén, why waſt thou turned backe?
6 Ye mountaines, why leaped ye like rams, and ye hilles as lambs?
7 The [d] earth trembled at the preſence of the Lord, at the preſence of the God of Iaakób.
8 Which [e] turneth the rocke into waterpooles, & the flint into a fountaine of water.

[a] That is, frõ thẽ that were of a ſtrãge language
[b] The whole people were witneſſes of his holie maieſtie, in adopting them, and of his mightie power in deliuering them
[c] Seing that theſe deade creatures felt Gods power, & after a ſorte ſawe it, muche more his people ought to conſider it & glorifie him for the ſame thing but to ſhewe his fatherlie care toward men [d] Ought then his people to be inſenſible, when thei ſe his power & maieſtie?
[e] That is, cauſed miraculouſly water to come out of the rocke in moſte abũdance, Exod. 17, 6.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A praier of the faithful oppreſſed by idolatrous tyrãts againſt whome they deſire that God wolde ſuccour thẽ. 9 Truſting moſte conſtantly that God wil preſerue thẽ in thu their nede, ſeing that he hathe adopted and receiued them to his fauour. 18 Promiſing finally that thei wil not be vnmindeful of ſo great a benefite, if it wolde pleaſe God to heare their praier, & deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

1 NOt [a] vnto vs, ô Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie and for thy trueths ſake.
2 Wherefore ſhal the heathen ſaie, [b] Where is now their God?
3 But our God is in heauen: he doeth what ſoeuer he [c] wil.
4 Their idoles are [d] ſiluer and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.
5 Thei haue a mouth and ſpeake not: thei haue eyes and ſe not.
6 Thei haue eares and heare not: thei haue noſes and ſmell not.
7 Thei haue [e] hands and touche not: thei haue fete and walke not: nether make thei a ſounde with their throte.
8 Thei that make them are [f] like vnto thẽ: ſo are all that truſt in them.
9 O Iſraél, truſt thou in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their ſhield.
10 [g] O houſe of Aarón, truſt ye in ỹ Lord: for he is thei helpe and their ſhield.
11 Ye that feare the Lord, truſt in the Lord: for he is their helper and their ſhield.
12 The Lord hathe bene mindeful of vs: he wil bleſſe, he [h] wil bleſſe the houſe of Iſraél, he wil bleſſe the houſe of Aarón.
13 He wil bleſſe them that feare the Lord, bothe ſmal and great.
14 The Lord wil encreaſe his graces toward you, euẽ toward you and toward your children.
15 Ye are bleſſed of the Lord, which [i] made the heauen and the earth.
16 The ỹ heauens, euen the heauens are the Lords: but he hathe giuen the earth to the ſonnes of men.
17 The dead praiſe not the Lord, nether anie that [l] go downe into the place of ſilence.
18 But we wil praiſe the Lord from hence forthe and for euer. Praiſe ye the Lord.

[a] Becauſe God promiſed to deliuer them, not for their ſakes, but for his Name, Iſa 48, 11, therfore they grounde their praier vpon this promes
[b] Whẽ ỹ wicked ſe ỹ God accompliſheth not his pines, as thei imagine, thei thinke there is no God.
[c] No impediments can let his worke, but he vſeth euen ỹ impedimẽts to ſerue his wil
[d] Seing that nether ỹ matter, nor ỹ forme can commẽd ỹ idoles, it followeth ỹ there is nothig, why thei ſhulde be eſteemed
[e] He ſheweth what great vanitie it is to aſke helpe of thẽ, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke ſenſe and reaſon,
[f] As muche with our ſenſe, as blockes & ſtones
[g] For thei were appointed by God as inſtructers & teachers of faith and religion for others to followe
[h] That is, he wil continue his graces toward his people
[i] And therfore doeth ſtil gouerne & cõtinue all thigs therein
[k] And thei declare ynough his ſufficiẽcie, ſo ỹ thow orlde ſerueth hĩ not [l] Though the dead ſee not the Gods glorie, yet he meaneth here, that thei praiſe hi not in his Church and Congregacion.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 Dauid being in great danger of Saúl in the deſert of Maón, perceiuing the great and ineſtimable loue of God toward him, magnifieth ſuche great mercies. 13 And proteſteth that he wil be thákeful for the ſame.

1 I [a] Loue ỹ Lord, becauſe he hathe heard my voice and my praiers.
2 For he hathe inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him [b] in my daies.
3 When the ſnares of death compaſſed me, and the griefs of the graue caught me: whē I founde trouble and ſorowe,
4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, ſaying, I beſeche thee, ô Lord, deliuer my ſoule.
5 The Lord is [c] merciful & righteous, and our God is ful of compaſsion.
6 The Lord preſerueth the ſimple: I was in miſerie and he ſaued me.
7 Returne vnto thy reſt, ô [d] my ſoule: for ỹ Lord hathe bene beneficial vnto thee,
8 Becauſe thou haſt deliuered my ſoule from death, mine eies from teares, & my fete from falling.
9 I ſhal [e] walke before the Lord in the land of the liuing.
10 [f] I beleued, therefore did I ſpeake; for I was ſore troubled.
11 I ſaid in my [g] feare, All men are lyers.
12 What ſhal I rendre vnto the Lord for all his benefites toward me?
13 I wil [h] take the cup of ſaluacion, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.
14 I wil paie my vowes vnto ỹ Lord, euen now in the preſence of all his people.
15 Precious in the ſight of the Lord is the [i] death of his Saints.
16 Beholde, Lord: for I am thy ſeruant, I am thy ſeruant, & the ſonne of thine hand maied: thou haſt broken my bonds.
17 I wil offer to thee a ſacrifice of praiſe, & wil call vpon the Name of the Lord.
18 I wil paie my [k] vowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the preſence of all his people, 19 In the courtes of the Lords houſe, euen in the middes of thee, ô Ieruſalém. Praiſe ye the Lord.

a He graunteth ỹ no pleaſure is ſo great, as to fele Gods helpe in our neceſsitie, neither that anie thig more ſtirreth vp our loue toward him
b That is, in cōueniēt time to ſeke helpe, ẅ was whē he was in diſtres
c He ſheweth forthe ỹ fruite of his loue in calling vpon him, cōfeſsing him to be iuſt & merciful, & to helpe them ỹ are deſtitute of aide & coũſel
d Which was vnquieted before, now reſt vpō the Lord: for he hathe bene beneficial towards thee
e The Lord wil preſerue me, & ſaue my life f I felt all theſe things, and therefore was moued by faith to cōfeſſe thē, 2. Cor 4, 13
g In my great diſtreſſe I thoght God wolde not regarde man, ẅ is but lies and vanitie, yet I ouercame this tentacion, and felt ỹ cōtrarie
h In the Law thei vſed to make a bāket, whē thei gaue ſolēne thākes to God, and to take the cup & drinke in ſigne of thankeſgiuing
i I perceiue ỹ God hathe a care ouer his, ſo that he bothe diſpoſeth their death and reketh an account.
k I wil thanke him for his benefites: for that is a iuſte gagement, to confeſſe that we owe all to God.

PSAL. CXVII.

2. He exhorteth the Gentiles to praiſe God, becauſe he hathe accompliſhed vſel to them as to the Iewes, the promes of life euerlaſting by Ieſus Chriſt.

Rom. 15, 11. 1 All [*] nacions, praiſe ye the Lord: all ye people, praiſe him.
2 For his louing kindenes is great toward vs, and the [a] trueth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praiſe ye the Lord.

a That is, the moſte certeine & cōtinual teſtimonies of his Fatherlie grace.

PSAL. CXVIII.

3. Dauid reiected of Saúl and of the people, at the time appointed obteined the kingdome. 4 For the which he biddeth all them, that feare the Lord, to be thankeful. And vnder his perſone in all this was Chriſt liuely ſet forthe, who ſhulde be of his people reuiſed.

1 PRaiſe [a] ye ỹ Lord, becauſe he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.
2 Let Iſraél now ſaie, That his mercie endureth for euer
3 Let the houſe of Aarón now ſaie, That his mercie endureth for euer.
4 Let them, that feare the Lord, now ſaie, That his mercie endureth for euer.
5 I called vpon the Lord in [b] trouble, and the Lord heard me, and ſet me at large.
6 The Lord is with me: therefore I wil not feare what [c] man can do vnto me.
7 The Lord is with me among them that helpe me: therefore ſhal I ſe my deſire vpon mine enemies.
8 It is better to truſt in the Lord, then to haue confidence [d] in man.
9 It is better to truſt in the Lord, then to haue confidence in princes.
10 All nacions haue compaſſed me: but in the Name of the Lord I ſhal deſtroie them.
11 Thei haue compaſſed me, yea, they haue compaſſed me: but in the Name of the Lord I ſhal deſtroie them.
12 Thei came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fyre of thoirnes: for in the Name of the Lord I ſhal deſtroie them.
13 [e] Thou haſt thruſt ſore at me, that I might fall. but the Lord hathe holpen me.
14 The Lord is my ſtrength and [f] ſong: for he hathe bene my deliuerance.
15 The voice of ioye and deliuerance ſhalbe in the tabernacles of the righteous, ſaying, The right hand of the Lord hathe done valiantly.
16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: [h] the right hand of the Lord hathe done valiantly.
17 I ſhal not dye, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lord.
18 The Lord hathe chaſtened me ſore, but he hathe not deliuered me to death.
19 Open ye vnto me the [i] gates of righteouſnes, that I maie go in to thē, & praiſe the Lord.
20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous ſhal entre into it.
21 I wil praiſe thee: for thou haſt heard me, and haſt bene my deliuerance.
22 *The ſtone, which the buylders [k] refuſed, is the head of the corner.
23 This was the Lords doing, & it is maruelous in our eyes.
24 This is the [l] daie, which the Lord hathe made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.
25 [m] O Lord, I praie thee, ſaue now: ô Lord, I praie thee now giue proſperitie.

a Becauſe God by creating Dauid King, ſhewed his mercie toward his afflicted Church, ỹ Prophet doeth not onely hī ſelf thanke God, but exhorteth all ỹ people to do the ſame
b We are here taught, that ỹ more ỹ troubles oppreſſe vs, the more ogt we to be inſtāt I praier.
c Beīg exalted to this eſtate, he aſſured him ſelfe to haue mā euer to be his enemie. Yet he douted not, but God wolde maiſtene him becauſe he had placed him
d He ſheweth ỹ he had truſted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred to ỹ kigdome, & therefore he put his truſt in God & obteined.
e He noteth Saúl his chief enemie
f In ỹ he was deliuered, it came nor of him ſelfe, nor of ỹ power of man, but onely of Gods fauour: therefore he wil praiſe hī.
g He gmiſeth bothe to reare graces him ſelf, & to cauſe others to do ỹ ſame, becauſe ỹ in his perſone the Church was reſtored:
h So that all, ỹ are bothe farre & nere, maie ſe his mighte power
i He willeth the dores of ỹ Tabernacle to be opened, ỹ he maie declare his thankeful minde Iſa. 28, 16. mat. 21, 42. act 4, 11. rom. 9, 33. 1. pet. 2, 6.
k Thogh Saúl and the chief powers refuſed me to be King, yet God hathe preferred me aboue them all l Whereſi God hathe ſhewed chiefly his mercie by appointing me King, and deliuering his Church.
m The people praie for the proſperitie of Dauids kingdome, who was the figure of Chriſt.

527/1224

26 Bleſſed be he, that cometh in the Name of the Lord: [n] we haue bleſſed you out of the houſe of the Lord.

27 The Lord [u] is mightie, and hathe giuen vs [o] light: binde the ſacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I wil praiſe thee, euen my God: therefore I wil exalt thee.

29 Praiſe ye the Lord, becauſe he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

n Which are the prieſts and haue the charge thereof, as Nomb 6,23

o Becauſe he hathe reſtored vs from darkenes to light, we ſhal offer ſacrifices and prayſes vnto him

PSAL. CXIX.

The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to frame their liues according to his holie worde. 123 Alſo he ſheweth wherein the true ſeruice of God ſtandeth, that is, whē we ſerue him according to his worde, & not after our one fantaſies.

ALEPH.

1 BLeſſed are [a] thoſe that are vpright in their waie, & walke in the Lawe of ỹ Lord.

2 Bleſſed are thei that kepe his teſtimonies, & ſeke him with their whole heart.

3 Surely they worke [b] none iniquitie, that walke in his waies.

4 Thou haſt commanded tō kepe thy precepts diligently.

5 [c] Oh that my waies were directed to kepe thy ſtatutes.

6 Then ſhulde I not be confounded, when I haue reſpect vnto all thy commandements.

7 I wil praiſe thee with an vpright [d] heart, when I ſhal learne the [e] iudgements of thy righteouſnes.

8 I wil kepe thy ſtatutes: forſake me not [f] ouerlong.

Psal CXIX

a Here thei are not called bleſſed, which thinke themſelues wiſe in their owne iudgement, nor which imagine to themſelues a certeine holines, but thei whoſe cōuerſation is without hypocriſie

b For thei are ruled by Gods Spirit and imbrace no doctrine but his.

c Dauid acknowledgeth his imperfectiō, deſiring God to reforme it that his life maie be conformable to Gods worde d For true religion ſtādeth in ſeruing God without hypocriſie.

e That is, thy precepts, ỹ cōteine perfite righteouſnes.

f He refuſeth not to be tryed by tentatiōs, but he feareth to faint, if God ſuccor not his infirmitie in time.

BETH.

9 Wherewith ſhal a yong mā redreſſe his waie? in taking hede thereto according to thy worde.

10 With my whole heart haue I ſoght thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.

11 I haue [b] hid thy promes in mine heart, that I might not ſinne againſt thee.

12 Bleſſed art thou, ô Lord: teache me thy ſtatutes.

13 With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

14 I haue had as great [c] delite in the waie of thy teſtimonies, as in all riches.

15 I wil meditate in thy precepts, and conſider thy waies.

16 I wil delite in thy ſtatutes, & I wil not forget thy worde.

a Becauſe youth is moſt giuen to licencioufnes, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues betime to Gods worde

b If Gods worde be grauen in ỹ hearts, we ſhalbe more able to reſiſt the aſſaltes of Satan: and therefore the Prophet deſireth God to inſtruct him daiely more & more therein

c The Prophet doeth not boaſt of his vertues, but ſetteth forthe an exāple for others to followe Gods worde & leaue worldelie vanities

GIMEL.

17 Be beneficial vnto thy ſeruāt, that I maie [a] liue and kepe thy worde.

18 Open mine eies, that I maie ſe the wonders of thy Law.

19 I am a [b] ſtranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.

20 Mine heart breaketh for ỹ deſire to thy iudgements alwaie.

21 Thou [c] haſt deſtroied the proude: curſed are they that do erre from thy commandements.

22 Remoue from me ſhame and contempt: for I haue kept thy teſtimonies.

23 [d] Princes alſo did ſit, & ſpeake againſt me: but thy ſeruant did meditate in thy ſtatutes.

24 Alſo thy teſtimonies are my delite, & my counſelers.

e In all ages ỹ haſt plagued all ſuche, ỹ maliciouſly & contempteouſly depart from thy truth

d When the powers of the worlde gaue falſe ſentence againſt me, thy worde was a guide & counſeler to teache me what to do, & to comfort me.

a That is, it is almoſt broght to the graue, & without thy worde I can not liue

b I haue confeſſed mine offences, and now depend wholly on thee

c If God did not maintaine vs by his worde, ô life wolde drop awaie like water.

d Inſtruct me in thy worde, whereby my minde maie be purged frō vanitie & taught to obey thy wil

DALETH.

25 My ſoule cleaueth to the [a] duſt: quicken me according to thy worde.

26 I haue [b] declared my waies, and thou heardeſt me: teache me thy ſtatutes.

27 Make me to vnderſtand the waie of thy precepts, and I wil meditate in thy wōderous workes.

28 My ſoule melteth for heauines: raiſe me vp according vnto thy [c] worde.

29 Take from me the [d] waie of lying, and grant me graciouſly thy Law.

30 I haue choſen the waie of trueth, & thy iudgements haue I laied before me.

31 I haue cleaued to thy teſtimonies, ô Lord: confounde me not.

32 I wil runne the waie of thy commandements, when ỹ [e] ſhalt enlarge mine heart.

e By this he ſheweth ỹ we can neither chooſe good, cleaue to Gods word, nor runne forwarde in his waie, except he make ô hearts large to receiue his grace, & willig to obey.

HE.

33 Teache [a] me, ô Lord, the waie of thy ſtatutes, and I wil kepe it vnto the end.

34 Giue me vnderſtanding, and I wil kepe thy Law: yea, I wil kepe it with my whole [b] heart.

35 Direct me in the path of thy commādements: for therein is my delite.

36 Incline mine heart vnto thy teſtimonies, and not to [c] couetouſnes.

37 Turne awaie mine [d] eyes from regarding vanitie, & quicken me in thy waie.

38 Stabliſh thy promes to thy ſeruant, becauſe he feareth thee.

39 Take awaie [e] my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

40 Beholde, I deſire thy commandements: [f] quicken me in thy righteouſnes, a He ſheweth ỹ Gods mercie and loue is the firſt cauſe of our ſalvacion.

b By truſting in Gods worde he aſſureth hī

c Hereby meaning all other vices, becauſe ỹ couetouſnes is the rote of all euil

d Meaning, all his ſenſes

e Let me not fall to thy diſhonour, but let mine heart ſtil delite in thy gracious worde

f Giue me ſtrength to cōtinue in thy worde euen to the end

VAV.

41 And let thy [a] louing kindenes come vnto me, ô Lord, & thy ſaluacion according to thy promes.

42 So ſhal I [b] make anſwer vnto my blaſphemers: for I truſt in thy worde.

43 And take not the worde of trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for I wait for thy iudgements.

44 So ſhal I alwaie kepe thy Lawe for euer and euer.

45 And I wil [c] walke at libertie: for I ſeke

a Seing mans life in this worlde is but a paſſage, what ſhulde become of him, if thy worde were not his guide?

b Meaning, that ſin where as thei ſelf to be able to confute the ſclanders of his aduerſaries c ply walke after Gods worde, haue no lets to intangle them, that do contrary, are euer in nets and ſnares.

thy precepts.

46 I wil ſpeake alſo of thy teſtimonies before [d] Kings, and wil not be aſhamed.

47 And my delite ſhalbe in thy commandements, which I haue loued.

48 Mine hands alſo wil I lift vp vnto thy commandements, which I haue loued, and I wil meditate in thy ſtatutes.

ZAIN.

49 Remẽbre [a] the promes made to thy ſeruãt, wherein thou haſt cauſed me to truſt.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promes hathe quickened me.

51 The [b] proude haue had me excedingly in deriſion: yet haue I not declined from thy Law.

52 I remembred thy [c] iudgements of olde, ô Lord, and haue bene comforted.

53 [d] Feare is come vpon me for the wicked, that forſake thy Law.

54 Thy ſtatutes haue bene my ſongs in the houſe of my [e] pilgrimage.

55 I haue remembred thy Name, ô Lord, in the [f] night, and haue kept thy Law.

56 [g] This I had becauſe I kept thy precepts.

CHETH.

57 O Lord, that art my [a] porcion, I haue determined to kepe thy wordes.

58 I made my ſupplication in thy preſence with my whole heart: be merciful vnto me according to thy promes.

59 I haue conſidered my [b] waies, & turned my fete into thy teſtimonies.

60 I made haſte and delayed not to kepe thy commandements.

61 The bands of the wicked haue [c] robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Law.

62 At midnight wil I riſe to giue thankes vnto thee, becauſe of thy righteous iudgements.

63 I am [d] companion of all them that feare thee, and kepe thy precepts.

64 The earth, ô Lord, is ful of thy mercie: [e] teache me thy ſtatutes.

TETH.

65 O Lord, thou haſt delt [a] graciouſly with thy ſeruant according vnto thy worde.

66 Teache me good iudgement and knowledge: for I haue beleued thy commandements.

67 Before I was [b] afflicted, I went aſtraie: but now I kepe thy worde.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teache me thy ſtatutes.

69 The proude haue imagined a lie againſt me: but I wil kepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

70 [c] Their heart is fat as greaſe: but my delite is in thy Law.

71 It is [d] good for me that I haue bene afflicted, that I maie learne thy ſtatutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thouſands of golde and ſiluer.

IOD.

73 Thine hands haue [a] made me and facioned me: giue me vnderſtanding therefore, that I maie learne thy commandements.

74 So thei ỹ [b] feare thee, ſeing me ſhal reioyce, becauſe I haue truſted in thy worde.

75 I knowe, ô Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou haſt afflicted me "iuſtly.

76 I praie thee that thy mercie maie comfort me according to thy promes vnto thy ſeruant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I maie [c] liue: for thy Law is my delite.

78 Let the proude be aſhamed: for thei haue dealt wickedly and falſely with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.

79 Let ſuche as feare thee [d] turne vnto me, and thei that [e] knowe thy teſtimonies.

80 Let mine heart be vpright in thy ſtatutes, that I be not aſhamed.

CAPH.

81 My ſoule [a] fainteth for thy ſaluacion: yet I waite for thy worde.

82 Mine eyes faile for thy promes, ſaying, When wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am like a [b] bottel in the ſmoke: yet do I not forget thy ſtatutes.

84 How manie are the [c] daies of thy ſeruãt? when wilt thou execute iudgement on thẽ that perſecute me?

85 The proude haue [d] digged pittes for me, which is not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are true: they perſecute me falſely: [e] helpe me.

87 They had almoſt conſumed [f] me vpon the earth: but I forſoke not thy precepts.

88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindenes. ſo ſhal I kepe the teſtimonie of thy mouth.

LAMED.

89 O Lord, thy worde endureth for euer in [a] heauen.

90 Thy trueth is from generacion to generacion: thou haſt laied the fundacion of the earth, and it abideth.

91 Thei [b] continue euen to this daie by thine ordinances: for all are thy ſeruants.

92 Except thy Law had bene my delite, I ſhulde now haue periſhed in mine affliction.

93 I wil neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou haſt quickened me.

94 I am [c] thine, ſaue me: for I haue ſoght thy precepts.

95 The wicked haue waited for me to deſtroye me: but I wil conſider thy teſtimonies.

96 I [d] haue ſene an end of all perfection: but thy commandement is exceding large.

---

d He ſheweth ỹ the children of God oghe not to ſuffer their Fathers glorie to be obſcured by the vaine pompe of princes.

a Thogh he fele Gods hãd ſtil to lie vpon him, yet he reſteth on his promes & comforteth him ſelf therein.

b Meaning the wicked, ẅ cõtemne Gods worde, & tread his religiõ vnder fote.

c That is, the exãples, whereby thou declareſt thy ſelf to be iudge of the worlde.

d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glorie, & indignacion againſt ỹ wicked.

e In the courſe of this life and ſorowful exile

f Eue when other ſlepe.

g That is, all theſe benefits.

a I am perſuaded ỹ to kepe thy Law is an heritage and great gaine for me.

b He ſheweth ỹ none can imbrace ỹ worde of God, except he conſider his owne imperfections and waies.

c They haue gone about to drawe me into their cõpanie.

d Not onely in mutual cõſent, but alſo with aide & ſuccour.

e For ỹ knowledge of Gods worde is a ſingular tokẽ of his fauour.

a Haumg proued by experience that God was true in his promes, he deſireth that he wolde increaſe in hi knowledge and iudgement.

b So Ieremie ſaith, ỹ before the Lord touched him, he was like a calfe vntamed: ſo that the vſe of Gods rods is to call vs home to God.

c Their heart is indurate & hardened, puffed vp with proſperitie & vaine eſtimacion of them ſelues.

a Becauſe God leaueth not his worke, that he hathe begon, he deſireth a newe grace ỹ is, ỹ he wolde continue his mercies.

b When God ſheweth his grace towarde anie, he teſtifieth to others that he faileth not them that truſt in him.

"Ebr. in trueth.

c He declareth, ỹ when he felt not Gods mercies, he was as dead.

d That is, be comforted by mine exãple

e He ſheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his worde.

a Thogh my ſtrength faile me, yet my ſoule groneth and ſigheth, reſting ſtil in thy worde.

b Like a ſkynbottel or bladder that is parched in the ſmoke.

c How long wilt ỹ afflict thy ſeruant?

d They haue not onely oppreſſed me vniuſtly, but alſo craftely cõſpired againſt me.

e He aſſureth him ſelf, that God wil deliuer his & deſtroy ſuche as vniuſtly perſecute them.

f Finding no helpe in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

a Becauſe none ſhulde eſteme Gods worde according to the changes of thinges in this worlde, he ſheweth that it abideth in heauen & therefore is immutable.

b Seing the earth and all creatures remaine in that eſtate, wherin ỹ haſt created them, muche more thy trueth remaineth cõſtant & vnchangeable.

c He proueth by effect, ỹ he is Gods childe, becauſe he ſeketh to vnderſtand his worde.

d There is no thig ſo perfite in earth, but it hathe an end: only Gods worde laſteth for euer.

MEM.

97 Oh how loue I thy Law! [a] it is my meditacion continually.

98 By thy commandements thou haſt made me wiſer then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

99 I haue had more [b] vnderſtanding then all my teachers: for thy teſtimonies are my meditacion.

100 I vnderſtode more then the ancient, becauſe I kept thy precepts.

101 I haue refrained my fete from euerie euil way, that I might kepe thy worde.

102 I haue not declined frō thy iudgemēts: for [c] thou dideſt teache me.

103 How ſwete are thy promiſes vnto my mouth! yea, more then honie vnto my mouth.

104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderſtanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falſehode.

NVN.

105 Thy worde is a [a] lanterne vnto my fete, and a light vnto my path.

106 I haue [b] ſworne and wil performe it, ỹ I wil kepe thy righteous iudgements.

107 I am verie ſore afflicted: ô Lord, quicken me according to thy worde.

108 O Lord, I beſeche thee accept the [c] free offrings of my mouth, and teache me thy iudgements.

109 My [d] ſoule is continually in mine hād: yet do I not forget thy Law.

110 The wicked haue layed a ſnare for me: but I ſwarued not from thy precepts.

111 Thy teſtimonies haue I takē as an [e] heritage for euer. for they are the ioye of mine heart.

112 I haue applied mine heart to fulfil thy ſtatutes alwaie, euen vnto the end.

SAMECH.

113 I hate [a] vaine inuentions: but thy Law do I loue.

114 Thou art my refuge and ſhield, and I truſt in thy worde.

115 [b] Awaie from me, ye wicked: for I wil kepe the commandements of my God.

116 Stabliſh me according to thy promes, that I maye liue, and diſapoint me not of mine hope.

117 [c] Staie thou me, and I ſhalbe ſafe, and I wil delite continually in thy ſtatutes.

118 Thou haſt troden downe all them that depart from thy ſtatutes: for their [d] deceit is vaine.

119 Thou haſt taken away all the wicked of the earth like [e] droſſe: therefore I loue thy teſtimonies.

120 My fleſh [f] trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afraied of thy iudgements.

AIN.

121 I haue executed iudgement and iuſtice: leaue me not to mine oppreſſours.

122 [a] Anſwer for thy ſeruant in that, which is good, and let not the proude oppreſſe me.

123 Mine eyes haue failed in waiting for thy ſaluacion, and for thy iuſte promes.

124 Deale with thy [b] ſeruant according to thy mercie, & teache me thy ſtatutes.

125 I am thy ſeruant: grante me therefore vnderſtanding, that I maie knowe thy teſtimonies.

126 It is [c] time for the Lord to worke: for they haue deſtroyed thy Law.

127 Therefore loue I thy commandements aboue golde, yea, aboue moſte fine golde.

128 Therefore I eſteme all thy precepts moſte iuſte, and hate all falſe [d] waies.

PE.

129 Thy teſtimonies are [a] wonderful: therefore doeth my ſoule kepe them.

130 The entrance into thy [b] wordes ſheweth light, and giueth vnderſtanding to the ſimple.

131 I opened my mouth & [c] panted, becauſe I loued thy commandements.

132 Loke vpō me and be merciful vnto me, as thou vſeſt to do vnto thoſe that loue thy Name.

133 Direct my ſteppes in thy worde, and let none iniquitie haue dominion ouer me.

134 Deliuer me from the oppreſsion of mē, and I wil kepe thy precepts.

135 Shewe the light of thy countenance vpon thy ſeruant, and teache me thy ſtatutes.

136 Mine eyes guſh [d] out with riuers of water, becauſe they kepe not thy Law.

TSADDI.

137 Righteous art thou, ô Lord, and iuſte are thy iudgements.

138 Thou haſt commanded [a] iuſtice by thy teſtimonies and trueth eſpecially.

139 * My zeale hathe euen conſumed me, becauſe mine enemies haue forgoten thy wordes.

140 Thy worde is proued [b] moſte pure, and thy ſeruant loueth it.

141 I am [c] ſmale and deſpiſed, yet do I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteouſnes is an euerlaſting righteouſnes, and thy Law is trueth.

143 Trouble and anguiſhe are come vpon me: yet are thy commandements my delite.

144 The righteouſnes of thy teſtimonies is euerlaſting: grante me vnderſtanding, & I ſhal [d] liue.

KOPH.

145 I haue [a] cryed with my whole heart: heare me, ô Lord, & I wil kepe thy ſtatutes.

146 I called vpon thee: ſaue me, and I wil

---

a He ſheweth ỹ we can not loue Gods worde, except we exerciſe our ſelues therein and practiſe it

b Whoſoeuer doeth ſubmit him ſelf onely to Gods worde, ſhal not onely be ſafe againſt ỹ practiſes of his enemies, but alſo learne more wiſdome, thē they ỹ profeſſe it, & are mē of experience.

c So then of our ſelues we cā do nothing, but whē God doeth mwardely inſtruct vs vi his Spirit, we fele his graces ſweter then honie

a Of our ſelues we are but darkenes, and can not ſe, except we be lightened with Gods worde

b So all the faithful ought to binde them ſelues to God by a ſolemne othe and promes, to ſtir vp their zeale to imbrace Gods worde

c That is, my prayers & thākeſgiuing, vi ſacrifice Hoſea calleth ỹ calues of the lippes Chap 14 verſ 3 d That is, I am in continual danger of my life

e I eſteemed no wordlie thīgs, but made thy worde mine inheritance

a Whoſoeuer wil imbrace Gods worde aright, muſt abhorre all fātaſies & imaginacions bothe of him ſelf & of others

b And hinder me not to kepe the Law of ỹ Lord

c He deſireth Gods cōtinual aſsiſtance leſt he ſhulde faint in this race, vi he had begon

d The craftie practiſes of thē that contemne thy Law, ſhal be broght to nogut

e Which infected thy people, as droſſe doeth ỹ metal f Thy iudgements do not onely teache me obedience, but cauſe me to feare, cōſidering mine owne weakenes, which feare cauſeth repentance.

a Put thy ſelf betwene mine enemies & me, as if thou were my pledge.

b He boaſteth not that he is Gods ſeruant, but herby puteth God in minde, that as he made him his by his grace, ſo he wolde cōtinue his fauour toward him

c The Prophet ſheweth ỹ whē the wicked haue broght all things to confuſion, and Gods worde to vtter contempt, then is it Gods time to helpe & ſēd remedie d That is, whatſoeuer diſſenteth frō the puritie of thy worde

a Conteining high & ſecret myſteries, ſo ỹ I am moued vi admiracion & reuerence

b The ſimple idiotes, ỹ ſubmit thē ſelues to God, haue their eyes opened, and their mindes illuminated ſo ſone as they begin to read Gods worde.

c My zeale toward thy worde was ſo great

d He ſheweth what ought to be the zeale of Gods childrē, when they ſe his worde contemned a We can not confeſſe God to be righteous, except we liue vprightly and truely, as he hathe commāded Pſal 69,10. 2.pet 2,1.

b Golde hathe nede to be fined, but thy worde is perfection it ſelf.

c This is the true trial, to praiſe God in aduerſitie

d So that the life of man without the knowledge of God is death.

a Hē ſheweth that all his affectiōs & whole heart were bent to God ward for to haue helpe in his dangers.

kepe thy teſtimonies.
147 I preuẽted the morning light, & cryed: for I waited on thy worde.
148 Mine eyes [b] preuent the night watches to meditate in thy worde.
149 Heare my voice according to thy louing kindenes: ô Lord, quicken me according to thy [c] iudgement.
150 They drawe nere, that followe after [c] malice, and are farre from thy Law.
151 Thou art nere, ô Lord: for all thy commandements are true.
152 I haue knowen long ſince [d] by thy teſtimonies, that thou haſt eſtabliſhed them for euer.

RESH.

153 Beholde mine affliction, and deliuer me: for I haue not forgotten thy Law.
154 Pleade my cauſe, and deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy [a] worde.
155 Saluacion is farre from the wicked, becauſe they ſeke not thy ſtatutes.
156 Great are thy tender mercies, ô Lord: quicken me according to thy [b] iudgements.
157 My perſecutours and mine oppreſſours are manie: yet do I not ſwarue from thy teſtimonies.
158 I ſawe the tranſgreſſours & was [c] grieued, becauſe they kept not thy worde.
159 Conſider, ô Lord, how I [d] loue thy precepts: quicken me according to thy louing kindenes.
160 The [e] begining of thy worde is trueth, and all the iudgements of thy righteouſnes endure for euer.

SCHIN.

161 Princes haue [a] perſecuted me without cauſe, but mine heart ſtode in awe of thy wordes.
162 I reioyce at thy worde, as one that findeth a great ſpoile.
163 I hate falſehode and abhorre it, but thy Lawe do I loue.
164 [b] Seuen times a daie do I praiſe thee, becauſe of thy righteous iudgements.
165 They, [c] that loue thy Law, ſhal haue great proſperitie, and they ſhal haue none hurt.
166 Lord, I haue [d] truſted in thy ſaluacion, and haue done thy commandements.
167 My ſoule hathe kept thy teſtimonies: for I loue them excedingly.
168 I haue kept thy precepts and thy teſtimonies: [e] for all my waies are before thee.

TAV.

169 Let my complaint come before thee, ô Lord, and giue me vnderſtãding, [a] according vnto thy worde.
170 Let my ſupplicatiõ come before thee, and deliuer me according to thy promes.
171 My lippes ſhal [b] ſpeake praiſe, when thou haſt [c] taught me thy ſtatutes.
172 My tongue ſhal intreate of thy worde: for all thy commandements are righteous.
173 Let thine hãd helpe me: for I haue choſen thy precepts.
174 I haue longed for thy ſaluaciõ, ô Lord, and thy Law is my delite.
175 Let my ſoule liue, & it ſhal praiſe thee, and thy [d] iudgements ſhal helpe me.
176 I haue [e] gone aſtraye like a loſt ſhepe: ſeke thy ſeruant, for I do not forget thy commandements.

PSAL. CXX.

1 The prayer of Dauid being vexed by the falſe reportes of Sauls flatterers. 5 And therefore he lamenteth his long abode among thoſe infideles. 7 Who were giuen to all kinde of wickednes and contention.

¶ A ſong of [a] degrees.

1 I Called vnto the Lord in my [b] trouble, and he heard me.
2 Deliuer my ſoule, ô Lord, frõ lying lippes, and from a deceitful tongue.
3 What doeth thy [c] deceitful tongue bring vnto thee? or what doeth it auaile thee?
4 It is as the [d] ſharpe arrowes of a mightie man, and as the coles of iuniper.
5 Wo is to me that I remaine in [e] Méſhech, & dwell in the tentes of [f] Kedár.
6 My ſoule hathe to long dwelt with him that hateth peace.
7 I ſeke [g] peace, and when I ſpeake thereof, they are bent to warre.

PSAL. CXXI.

1 This Pſalme teacheth that the faithful ought onely to loke for helpe at God. 7 Who onely doeth mainteine, preſerue and proſper his Church

¶ A ſong of degrees.

1 I Will lift mine eyes [*] vnto the mountaines, from whence mine helpe ſhal come.
2 Mine helpe commeth from the Lord, which hathe made the [a] heauen and the earth.
3 He wil not ſuffer thy fote to ſlippe: for he that kepeth thee, wil not [b] ſlumber.
4 Beholde, he that kepeth Iſraél, wil nether ſlumber nor ſlepe.
5 The Lord is thy keper: the Lord is thy ſhadowe at thy right hand.
6 The ſunne ſhal not [c] ſmite thee by daie, nor the moone by night.
7 The Lord ſhal preſerue thee from all euil: he ſhal kepe thy ſoule.
8 The Lord ſhal preſerue thy [d] going out, and thy comming in from hence forthe and for euer.

PSAL. CXXII.

1 Dauid reioyceth in the name of the faithful, that God hathe

---

b He was more earneſt in ỹ ſtudie of Gods worde, then they, that kept the watche, were in their charge. Or, cuſtome

c He ſheweth the nature of the wicked to be to perſecute agaiſt their conſcience

d His faith is grounded vpõ Gods worde, that he wolde euer be at hãd when his children be oppreſſed.

a For without Gods promes there is no hope of deliuerance

b According to thy promes made in the Law, ẅ becauſe the wicked lacke, they cã haue no hope of ſaluacion

c My zeale cõſumed me, whẽ I ſawe their malice & contempt of thy glorie d It is a ſure ſigne of our adoption, whẽ we loue the Law of God.

e Since ỹ firſt promiſed, euen to the end all thy ſayings are true

a The threateninges & perſecutiõs of princes colde not cauſe me to ſhrinke to cõfeſſe thee, who me I more feare then men

b That is, oftẽ & ſondrie times

c For their cõſciẽce aſſureth them, that thei pleaſe thee, whereas they, that loue not thee, haue the contrarie d He ſheweth ỹ we muſt firſt haue faith, before we can worke & pleaſe God.

e I had no reſpect of mẽ, but ſet thee alwaies before mine eies, as ỹ iudge of my doings.

a As thou haſt promiſed to be the ſchole-maſter vnto all them, ỹ depẽd vpon thee.

b The worde ſignifieth to powre forthe continually.

c All his prayer & deſire is, to profit in ỹ worde of God.

d That is, thy prouident care ouer me, and wherewith ỹ wilt iudge mine enemies

e Beig chaſed to and fro by mine enemies, and hauing no place to reſt in.

a That is, of lifting vp the tune & riſing in ſinging

b Albeit the children of God ought to reioyce, when they ſuffer for righteouſnes ſake, yet it is a great grief to the fleſh to heare euil for wel doing

c He aſſured him ſelf that God wolde turne their craft to their owne deſtruction

d He ſheweth that there is nothing ſo ſharpe to perce, nor ſo hote to ſet on fyre as a ſclãderous tongue.

e Theſe were people of Arabia, which came of Iaphét, Gen 10, 2

f That is, of the Iſhmaelites

g He declareth what he meaneth by Méſhech, and Kedár: to wit, the Iſraelites which had degenerate from their godlie fathers and hated and contended againſt the faithful.

[*] Or, about the mõtaines: meaning, that there is nothig ſo high in this worlde, wherein he can truſt, but onely in God

a He accuſeth mans ingratitude, ẅ cã not depẽd on Gods power

b He ſheweth that Gods prouidence not onely watcheth ouer his Church in general, but alſo ouer euerie mẽber therof.

c Neither heate nor colde, nor anie incõmoditie ſhalbe able to deſtroie Gods Church: albeit for a time they maie moleſt it.

d Whatſoeuer thou doeſt enterpriſe, ſhal haue good ſucceſſe.

hathe accompliſhed his promes, and placed his Arke in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thankes. 8 And praieth for the proſperitie of the Church.

¶ A ſong of degrees, or Pſalme of Dauid.

a He reioyceth ſ ȳ God had appointed a place, where ȳ Arke ſhulde ſtil remaine

I [a] Reioyced, when they ſaid to me, We wil go into the houſe of the Lord.

2 Our [b] fete ſhal ſtand in thy gates, ô Ieruſalém.

b Which were wonte to wander to and fro, as the Arke remoued.

3 Ieruſalém is buylded as a citie, that is [c] compact together in it ſelf:

c By ȳ artificial ioyning & beautie of the houſes, he meaneth ȳ cõcord, & loue ȳ was betwene the citizens.

4 Whereunto [d] the tribes, euen the tribes of the Lord go vp according to the teſtimonie to Iſraél, to praiſe the Name of the Lord.

d All the tribes according to Gods couenant ſhal come and praye there

5 For there are thrones ſet for iudgement, euen the thrones of the houſe of [e] Dauid.

e In whoſe houſe God placed ȳ throne of iuſtice, and made it a figure of Chriſts kingdome

6 Praie for the peace of Ieruſalém: let thẽ proſper that loue thee.

f The fauour of God ꝓſper thee bothe within and without 7 Peace be within thy [f] walles, & proſperitie within thy palaces.

g Not onely for mine owne ſake, but for all ȳ faithful

8 For my [g] brethren and neighbours ſakes I wil wiſh thee now proſperitie.

9 Becauſe of the Houſe of the Lord our God, I wil procure thy welth.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 A praier of the faithful, which were afflicted ether in Babylon or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldelings and contemners of God.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

1 I Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwelleſt in the heauens.

a He compareth ȳ condition of ȳ godlie to ſeruants that are deſtitute of all helpe, aſſuring that whẽ all other helpes faile, God is euer at hand and like him ſelf

2 Beholde, as the eyes of [a] ſeruants loke vnto the hand of their maſters, and as the eyes of a maiden vnto the hãd of her maſtres: ſo our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God vntil he haue mercie vpon vs.

b He ſheweth that whẽ ȳ faithful are ſo ful, ȳ they can no more endure the oppreſsions, and ſcornings of ȳ wicked, there is alwaie helpe aboue, if ẅ hungrie deſires they call for it

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, ô Lord, haue mercie vpon vs: for we haue [b] ſuffred to muche contempt.

4 Our ſoule is filled to ful of the mocking of the welthie, & of the deſpitefulnes of the proude.

PSAL. CXXIIII.

1 The people of God, eſcaping a great peril, do acknowledge them ſelues to be deliuered, not by their owne force, but by the power of God 4 They declare the greatnes of the peril, 6 And praiſe the Name of God.

¶ A ſong of degrees or Pſalme of Dauid.

a He ſheweth that God was readie to helpe at nede, & that there was none other waie to be ſaued, but by his onelie meanes.

1 IF the Lord had not [a] bene on our ſide, (maie Iſraél now ſay)

2 If the Lord had not bene on our ſide, whẽ men roſe vp againſt vs,

b So vnable were we to reſiſt

3 They had then ſwallowed vs vp [b] quicke, whẽ their wrath was kindled againſt vs.

c He vſeth moſte propre ſimilitudes to expreſſe the great danger ȳ ȳ Church was in, & out of ȳ ẅ God miraculouſly deliuered them.

4 Then the [c] waters had drowned vs, and the ſtreame had gone ouer our ſoule:

5 Then had the ſwelling waters gone ouer our ſoule.

6 Praiſed be the Lord, which hathe not giuen vs as a praye vnto their teeth.

d For the wicked did not oney furiouſly rage againſt the faithful, but craftely imagined to deſtroye them.

7 Our ſoule is eſcaped, euen as a birde out of the [d] ſnare of the foulers: the ſnare is broken and we are deliuered.

8 Our helpe is in the Name of the Lord, which hathe made heauen and earth.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 He deſcribeth the aſſurance of the faithful in their afflictions, 4 And deſireth their welth, 5 And the deſtruction of the wicked.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

a Thogh the worlde be ſubiect to mutacions, yet the people of God ſhal ſtand ſure & be defended by Gods prouidence.

1 THei that truſt in the Lord, ſhalbe as mount Zión, which can not be [a] remoued, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountaines are about Ieruſalém: ſo is the Lord about his people from hence forthe and for euer.

b Thogh God ſuffer his to be vnder ȳ croſſe, leſt thei ſhulde imbrace wickednes, yet this croſſe ſhal not ſo reſt vpon thẽ, that it ſhulde driue thẽ frõ hope.

3 For the [b] rod of the wicked ſhal not reſt on the lot of the righteous, leſt the righteous put forthe their hand vnto wickednes.

4 Do wel, ô Lord, vnto thoſe that be good and true in their hearts.

c He deſireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites & ſuche as haue no zeale of the trueth.

5 [c] But theſe that turne aſide by their croked waies, them ſhal the Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace ſhalbe vpon Iſraél.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This pſalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and ſheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderful after the ſeuentie yeres of captiuitie foreſpoken by Ieremie chap 25,12. & 29,10.

¶ A ſong of degrees or Pſalme of Dauid.

a Their deliuerance was a ſtrange thing & incredible, and therefore toke awaie all excuſe of ingratitude

1 WHen the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zión, we were like them that [a] dreame.

b He ſheweth how ȳ godlie ought to reioyce, when God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it

2 Then was our mouth [b] filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioye: then ſaid thei among the [c] heathẽ, The Lord hathe done great things for them.

c If the infideles confeſſe Gods wonderful worke, the faithful cãnot but ſhewe thẽ ſelues ſufficiẽtly thinkeful

3 The Lord hathe done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

d It is no more impoſsible to God to deliuer his people, then to cauſe the riuers to runne in the wildernes and barren places.

4 O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as the [d] riuers in the South.

e That is, ſede which was ſcarſe & dere: meaning, that thei which truſted in Gods promes to returne, had their deſire

5 Thei that ſowe in teares, ſhal reape in ioye.

6 Thei went weping and caried [e] precious ſede: but thei ſhal returne with ioye and bring their ſheaues.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He ſheweth that the whole eſtate of the worlde, bothe domeſtical and political ſtandeth by Gods mere prouidence and bleſsing. 3 And that to haue children wel nurtred is an eſpecial grace and gift of God.

¶ A ſong of degrees or Pſalme of Salomón.

a That is, gouerne & diſpoſe all things pertaining to ȳ familie

b The publike eſtate of ȳ cõmune welth

c Which watche, & warde, & are alſo magiſtrates, & iuſtices of ȳ citie

1 EXcept the Lord [a] buylde the houſe, thei labour in vaine that buylde it: except the Lord kepe the [b] citie, the keper watcheth in vaine.

2 It is in vaine for [c] you to riſe early, & to lye downe late, & eat ȳ bread [d] of ſorow: but he wil ſurely giue [e] reſt to his beloued.

d Ether that, ẅ is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with grief of minde

3 Beholde, children are the inheritance of the Lord, and the frute of the wombe his

e Not excepting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a reſt.

rewarde.

4 As are the arrowes in the hand of the ſtrong man: ſo are the f children of youth.

5 Bleſſed is the man, that hathe his quiuer ful of them: for they g ſhal not be aſhamed, when they ſpeake with their enemies in the gate.

f That is, indued w̃ ſtrẽgth & vertues frõ God: for theſe are ſignes of Gods bleſsſgs, & not ỹ nõber.
g Suche children ſhalbe able to ſtop their aduerſaries mouthes, whẽ their godlie life is maliciouſly accuſed before iudges.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

1 He ſheweth that bleſſednes appertaineth not to all vniuerſally, but to them onely that feare the Lord, and walke in his wayes.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

1 BLeſſed is euerie one that feareth the Lord and walketh in his a wayes.

a God approueth not our life, except it be reformed, according to his worde.

2 When thou eateſt the labours of thine b hands, thou ſhalt be bleſſed, and it ſhalbe wel with thee.

b The worlde eſteemeth them happie, w̃ liue in welth, and ydelnes: but ỹ holie Goſt approueth them beſt, ỹ liue of the meane ꝓfit of their labours.

3 Thy wife ſhalbe as the fruteful vine on the ſides of thine houſe, and thy c children like the oliue plants round about thy table.

c Because Gods fauour appeareth in none outward thig more thẽ in increaſe of children, he promiſeth to enriche the faithful with this gift.

4 Lo, ſurely thus ſhal the man be bleſſed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zión ſhal d bleſſe thee and thou ſhalt ſe the welth of e Ieruſalém all the dayes of thy life.

d Because of the ſpirituall bleſsing, which God hathe made to his Church, theſe temporall things ſhalbe granted

e For except God bleſſed his Church publikely, this priuate bleſsing were nothing.

6 Yea, thou ſhalt ſe thy childrens children, and peace vpon Iſraél.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 He admoniſheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it ſhalbe deliuered, 6 And the enemies for all their glorious ſhewe, ſhal ſuddenly be deſtroyed.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

a The Church now afflicted ought to remẽber, how her conditiõ hathe euer bene ſuch from the begionig: to be moleſted moſt grieuouſly by ỹ wicked: yet in time it hath euer bene deliuered.

1 THey haue often times afflicted me frõ my youth (may a Iſraél now ſay)

2 They haue often times afflicted me from my youth: but they colde not preuaile againſt me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long forrowes.

b Because God is righteous, he can not but plague his aduerſaries, and deliuer his, as axen out of ỹ plowe.

4 But the b righteous Lord hathe cut the cordes of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zión, ſhalbe all aſhamed and turned backwarde.

c The enemies ỹ lift thẽ ſelues moſt high, and as it were, approche nere to ỹ ſunne, are cõſumed with the heate of Gods wrath.

6 c They ſhalbe as ỹ graſſe on the houſe toppes, w̃ withereth afore it cõmeth forthe.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, nether the glamer his lap:

8 d Nether they, which go by, ſay, The bleſſing of the Lord be vpon you, or, We bleſſe you in the Name of the Lord.

Because they are not grounded in godlie humilitie.

d That is, ỹ wicked ſhal periſh and none ſhal paſſe for thẽ.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomles miſeries do crye vnto God, and are heard. 3 They confeſſe their ſinnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

a Beſg in great diſtreſſe and ſorowe.

OVt of the a depe places haue I called vnto thee, ô Lord.

2 Lord, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voice of my praiers.

3 If thou, ô Lord, ſtraitly markeſt iniquities, ô Lord, b who ſhal ſtand?

b He declareth ỹ we can not be iuſt before God, but by forgiuenes of ſinnes.

4 But mercie is with thee, that thou c maieſt be feared.

c Because of nature ỹ art merciful: therfore the faithful reuerence thee.

5 I haue waited on the Lord: my ſoule hathe waited, and I haue truſted in his worde.

6 My ſoule waiteth on the Lord more then the mornig watche watcheth for the morning.

d He ſheweth to whome the mercie of God doeth appertaine: to Iſraél, that is to the Church, & not to the reprobate.

7 Let Iſraél waite on the Lord: for with the Lord is d mercie, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he ſhal redeme Iſraél from all his iniquities.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 Dauid charged with ambition and gredie deſire to reigne, proteſteth his humilitie & modeſtie before God, and teacheth all men, what they ſhulde do.

¶ A ſong of degrees or Pſalme of Dauid.

1 LOrd, a mine heart is not hawtie, nether are mine eies loftie, nether haue I walked in great b matters and hid from me.

a He ſetteth forthe his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouerners.

b Which paſſe the meaſure & limites of his vocation.

2 Surely I haue behaued my ſelf, like one waned frõ his mother, and kept ſilence: I am in my ſelf as one that is c waned.

c He was voide of ambitiõ & wicked deſires.

3 Let Iſraél waite on the Lord from hence forthe and for euer.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithful, groũding on Gods promes made vnto Dauid, deſire that he wolde eſtabliſh the ſame, bothe as touching his poſteritie and the buylding of the Temple, to praie there as was foreſpoken, Deut 12.5.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

a That is, with how great difficultie he came to the kigdome, & w̃ how great zeale & care he went about to build thy Temple.

1 LOrd, remẽber Dauid with all his a afflictiõ.

2 Who ſware vnto the Lord, & vowed vn to the mightie God of Iaakób, ſaying, b Because the chief charge of the King was to ſet forthe Godsglorie, he ſheweth, ỹ he colde take no reſt, nether wolde go about anie worldelie thing, were it neuer ſo neceſſarie, before he had executed his office.

3 I b wil not enter into the tabernacle of mine houſe, nor come vpon my palet or bed,

4 Nor ſuffer mine eyes to ſlepe, nor mine eye lids to ſlumber,

5 Vntil I finde out a place for the c Lord, an habitacion for the mightie God of Iaakób.

c That is, the Arke, w̃ was a ſigne of Gods preſence.

6 Lo, we heard of it in d Ephráthah, & foũde it in the fields of the foreſt.

d The cõmune brute was that ỹ Arke ſhulde remaine in Ephráthan: ỹ is, in Beth-lehem a plentiful place but after we perceiued ỹ wolde ſt place it in Ieruſalém, which was barren as a foreſt & cõpaſſed about onely with hilles.

7 We wil entre into his Tabernacles, and worſhip before his foteſtole.

8 Ariſe, ô Lord, to come into thy e reſt, thou, and the Arke of thy ſtrength.

e That is, Ieruſalém, becauſe that afterward his Arke ſhulde remoue to none other place.

9 Let thy Prieſts be clothed with f righteouſnes, and let thy Saintes reioyce.

f Let the effect of thy grace bothe appeare in the Prieſts & in the people.

10 For thy g ſeruant Dauids ſake refuſe not the face of thine Anointed.

g As thou firſt madeſt promes to Dauid, ſo continue it to his poſteritie, that whatſoeuer thei ſhal aſke for their people, it maie be granted.

11 The Lord hathe ſworne in trueth vnto Dauid, and he wil not ſhrinke from it, ſaiyng, Of the frute of thy bodie wil I ſet vpon thy throne.

12 If thy ſonnes kepe my couenant, and my teſtimonies, that I ſhal teache them, their ſonnes alſo ſhal ſit vpon thy throne for h euer.

h Because this can not be accõpliſhed but in Chriſt, it followeth that ỹ ꝓmes was ſpiritual

13 For the Lord hathe choſẽ Zión, & loued to dwell in it, ſaiyng,

1 Meaning, for his owne ſake, & not for the plentifulnes of the place: for he promiſeth to bleſſe it, declaring before, ỹ it was barrẽ

14 This is my reſt for euer: here wil I dwell, for I haue a i delite therein.

15 I wil ſurely bleſſe her vitailes, & wil ſatiſfie her poore with bread, k That is, with my protection, whereby thei ſhalbe ſafe.

16 And wil clothe her Prieſts with k ſaluacion, and her Saintes ſhal ſhowte for ioye.

i Though his force for a time ſeemed to be broken, yet he promiſeth to reſtore it.

17 There wil I make the l horne of Dauid to bud: for I haue ordeined a light for mine Anointed.

18 His enemies wil I clothe with ſhame, but on him his crowne ſhal floriſh.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This pſalme conteineth the commendacion of brotherlie amitie among the ſeruants of God

¶ A ſong of degrees or Pſalme of Dauid.

1 BEholde, how good and how comelie a thig it is, brethren to dwell euen a togeather.

a Because the greateſt parte were againſt Dauid, though ſome fauoured him, yet when he was eſtabliſhed King, at legth thei ioyned all togethee like brethren: & therfore he ſheweth by theſe ſimilitudes the commoditie of brotherlie loue

2 It is like to the precious b ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which wẽt downe on the border of his garments:

3 And as the dewe of c Hermón, which falleth vpon the moũtaines of Zión: for d there the Lord appointed the bleſsing & life for euer.

b The ointment was a figure of the graces, which come frõ Chriſt the head vnto his Church

c By Hermón & Zión he meaneth the plentifull countrei about Ieruſalém

d Where there is ſuche concorde

PSAL. CXXXIIII.

1 He exhorteth the Leuites, watching in the Temple, to praiſe the Lord.

¶ A ſong of degrees.

a Ye ỹ are Leuites & chiefly appointed to this office

1 BEholde, praiſe ye the Lord, all ye a ſeruants of the Lord, ye that by night ſtand in the Houſe of the Lord.

b For their charge was not onely to kepe ỹ Temple, but to praie there & to giue God thankes

2 Lift vp your b hands to the Sanctuarie, & praiſe the Lord.

3 The Lord, that hathe c made heauen and earth, bleſſe thee out of Zión.

c And therefore hathe all power, bleſſe thee with his Fatherlie loue declared in Zión Thus the Leuites vſed to praiſe the Lord, and bleſſe the people

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 He exhorteth all the faithful, of what eſtate ſo euer thei be, to praiſe God for his maruelous workes, 12 And ſpecially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hathe declared his maieſtie. 15 To the confuſion of all idolaters and their idoles.

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord.

a Ye Leuites ỹ are in his Sanctuarie

b Meaning the people: for the people and Leuites had their courtes, which were places of the Temple ſeparate.

1 PRaiſe the Name of the Lord: ye ſeruants of the Lord, praiſe him.

2 Ye ỹ ſtand in the a House of the Lord, & in the b courtes of the House of our God,

3 Praiſe ye ỹ Lord: for the Lord is good: ſing praiſes vnto his Name: for it is a comelie thing.

4 For the Lord hathe c choſen Iaakób to him ſelfe, and Iſraél for his chief treaſure.

c That is, hath frelylouꝛd the poſteritie of Abrahám.

5 For I knowe that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

6 Whatſoeuer pleaſed the Lord, that d did he in heauen and in earth, in the ſea, & in all the depths.

d He ioyneth Gods power w his wil, to the intent that we ſhulde not ſeparat them: & hereby he wil leth Godspeople to depend on his power, w he cõfirmeth by examples. Ier.10.12. exod 12,13.

7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the ends of the earth, and maketh the * lightnings with the raine: he draweth forthe the winde out of his treaſures.

8 *He ſmote the firſt borne of Egypt bothe of man and beaſt.

9 He hathe ſent tokens and wonders into the middes of thee, ô Egypt, vpon Pharaóh, and vpon all his ſeruants.

10 *He ſmote manie nacions, & ſlewe migh tie Kings:

Nom 21,1. & 24,33.

11 As Sihón King of the Amorites, and Og King of Baſhan, and all the kingdomes of Canáan:

e He ſheweth what frute the godlie cõceme of Gods power. wherby thei ſe how he deſtroyeth his enemies, & deliuereth his people.

12 And e gaue their land for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Iſraél his people.

13 Thy Name, ô Lord, endureth for euer: ô Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord wil f iudge his people, and be pacified towards his ſeruants.

f That is, gouerne & defende his people.

15 The g idoles of the heathen are ſiluer & golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

g By ſhewing what punithment God appointeth for ỹ heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware the like offence, ſeing ỹ idoles haue neither power nor life, & ỹ their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by ỹ mighty power of God read pſal 115 verſ. 4.

16 Thei haue a mouth, & ſpeake not: thei haue eyes and ſe not.

17 Thei haue eares and heare not, nether is there anie breath in their mouth.

18 Thei that make them, are like vnto them: ſo are all that truſt in them.

19 Praiſe the Lord, ye houſe of Iſraél: praiſe the Lord, ye houſe of Aarón.

20 Praiſe the Lord, ye houſe of Leuí: ye that feare the Lord, praiſe the Lord.

21 Praiſed be the Lord out of Zión, which dwelleth in Ieruſalém. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A moſte earneſt exhortation to giue thankes vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things: which ſtãdeth in confeſsing that he giueth vs all of his mere liberalitie.

a By this repetition he ſheweth that ỹ leaſt of Gods benefites bide vs to thankeſgiuig: but chiefly his mercie, w is principally declared towards his Church.

1 PRaiſe ye ỹ Lord, becauſe he is good: for his a mercie endureth for euer.

2 Praiſe ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer.

3 Praiſe ye the Lord of lords: for his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Which onelie doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer:

5 Which by his wiſdome made the heauẽs: for his mercie endureth for euer:

6 Which hathe ſtretched out the earth

vpon the waters: for his [b] mercie endureth for euer:

7 Which made great lights: for his mercie endureth for euer:

8 As the ſunne to rule the daie: for his mercie endureth for euer:

9 The moone and the ſtarres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer:

10 Which ſmote Egypt with their firſt borne (for his mercie endureth for euer)

11 And [c] broght out Iſraél from among them (for his mercie endureth for euer)

12 With a mightie hand and [d] ſtretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer:

13 Which diuided the red Sea in two partes: for his mercie endureth for euer:

14 And made Iſraél to paſſe through the middes of it: for his mercie endureth for euer:

15 And ouerthrewe Pharaóh and his hoſte in the red Sea: for his mercie endureth for euer:

16 Which led his people through the [e] wildernes: for his mercie endureth for euer:

17 Which ſmote great Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

18 And ſlewe [f] mightie Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

19 As Sihón King of the Amorites: for his mercie endureth for euer:

20 And Og the King of Baſhán: for his mercie endureth for euer:

21 And gaue their land for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer:

22 Euen an heritage vnto Iſraél his ſeruant: for his mercie endureth for euer:

23 Which remembred vs in our [g] baſe eſtate: for his mercie endureth for euer:

24 And hathe reſcued vs from our oppreſſours: for his mercie endureth for euer:

25 Which giueth foode to all [h] fleſh: for his mercie endureth for euer.

26 [i] Praiſe ye the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

b This was a cõmune kinde of thãkeſgiuíg, & the whole people vſed, when thei had receiued anie benefite of God, as 2 Chr 7,6 & 20,21: meaning ỹ God was not onely merciful to their fathers, but alſo continued ỹ ſame to their poſteritie

c Gods merciful prouidence toward mã appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he deliuered his Church from ỹ thraldome of their enemies

d In doíg ſuch a worke as was neuer done before, nor that anie other cold̃ do e Where for ỹ ſpace of fortie yeres he ſhewed infinite and moſte ſtrange wonders

f Declaring therby that no power nor auctoritie was ſo dere vnto him, as the loue of his Church.

g In our greateſt affliãtiõ & ſclauerie, whẽ we loked for nothing leſſe then to haue had anie ſuccour.

h Seing ỹ God prouideth, cũ for the beaſtes: muche more hathe he care ouer his.

i Seing that all ages haue had moſt plaine teſtimonies of Gods benefites.

PSAL. CXXXVII.

1 The people of God in their baniſhment ſeing Gods true religion decaie, liued in great anguiſh and ſorowe of heart: the which grief the Chaldeans did ſo litle pitie. 3 That thei rather increaſed the ſame daiely with taũtes, reproches and blaſphemies againſt God. 7 Wherefore the Iſraelites deſire God, firſt to puniſh the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians againſt them. 8 And moued by the Spirit of God, prophecie the deſtruction of Babylon, where thei were handled ſo tyrannouſly.

1 BY the riuers of Babél we [a] ſate, and theie we wept, when we remembred Zión.

2 We hanged our harpes vpõ the willowes in the middes [b] theieof.

3 Then thei that led vs captiues, [c] required of vs ſongs and mirth, when we had hanged vp our harpes, ſaying, Sing vs one of the ſongs of Zión.

4 How ſhal we ſing, ſaid we, a ſong of the Lord in a ſtrange land?

5 [d] If I forget thee, ô Ieruſalém, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I do not remembre thee, let my tongue cleaue to the rofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ieruſalém to my [e] chief ioye.

7 Remember the children of [f] Edôm, ô Lord, in the [g] daie of Ieruſalém, which ſaid, Raſe it, raſe it to the fundacion thereof.

8 O daughter of Babél, worthie to be deſtroied, bleſſed ſhal he be ỹ rewardeth thee, as thou haſt ſerued vs.

9 [h] Bleſſed ſhal he be that taketh & daſheth thy children againſt the ſtones.

a That is, we abode a long time: & albeit ỹ countrei was pleaſant, yet colde it not ſtaie our teares, nor turne vs frõ the true ſeruice of our God.

b To wit, of that countrey

c The Babylonians ſpake thus in mocking vs, as though by our ſilence we ſhulde ſignifie that we hoped no more in God.

d Albeit the faithful are touched with their particular griefs, yet the cõmune ſorowe of the Church is moſte grieuous vnto them, & are ſilẽt as thei can not but remember and lament e The decaie of Gods religion ỹ their countrei was ſo grieuous, that no ioye colde make them glad, except it were reſtored.

f According as Ezekiel 25,13. & Ieremie 49, 7 verſ prophecied: & Abdias verſ 10 ſheweth that the Edomites, ỹ came of Eſau, g Whẽ thou 13, & 16 verſ moued to fight cõſpired with ỹ Babyloniãs againſt their brethren & kinſfolke dideſt viſit Ieruſalém

h He alludeth to Iſaies prophecie chap promiſing good ſucces to Cyrus and Darius, whome ambition againſt Babylón: but God vſed them as his rods to puniſh his enemies.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 Dauid with great courage praiſeth the goodnes of God toward him, the which is ſo great. 4 That it is known to forren princes, who ſhal praiſe the Lord together with him. 6 And he is aſſured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hathe had heretofore.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 I Wil praiſe thee with my whole heart: euen before the [a] gods wil I praiſe thee.

2 I wil worſhip toward thine holie [b] Temple and praiſe thy Name, becauſe of thy louing kindenes and for thy trueth: for thou haſt magnified thy Name aboue all things by thy worde.

3 When I called, then thou heardeſt me, & haſt [c] increaſed ſtrength in my ſoule.

4 All the [d] Kings of the earth ſhal praiſe thee, ô Lord: for they haue heard the wordes of thy mouth.

5 And thei ſhal ſing of the waies of the Lord, becauſe the glorie of the Lord is great.

6 For the Lord is high: yet he beholdeth the lowely, but the proude he knoweth [e] a farre of.

7 Thogh I walke in the middes of trouble, yet wilt thou reuiue me: thou wilt ſtretch forth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand ſhal ſaue me.

8 The Lord wil [f] performe his worke toward me: ô Lord, thy mercie endureth for euer: forſake not the workes of thine hands.

a Euen in the preſence of Angels & of thẽ, ỹ haue autoritie among mẽ.

b Bothe ỹ Tẽple & ceremonial ſeruice at Chriſts cõming were aboliſhed: ſo that now God wil be worſhiped onely in ſpirit and trueth c Thou haſt ſtrengthened me againſt mine outward & inward enemies.

d All ỹ worlde ſhal confeſſe ỹ thou haſt wonderfully ỹ ſerued me, & performed thy promes

e Diſtance of place can not hinder God to ſhewe mercie to his, and to iudge the wicked, thogh thei thinke ỹ he is farre of f Thogh mine enemies rage neuer ſo much, yet the Lord, ỹ hathe begon his worke in me, wil cõtinue his grace to ỹ end.

PSAL. CXXXIX.

1 Dauid to cleanſe his heart from all hypocriſie ſheweth that there is nothing ſo hid, which God ſeeth not. 13 Which he confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he proteſteth to be enemie to all them that contemne God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 O Lord, thou haſt tryed me and knowē me.
2 Thou knoweſt my [a] ſitting & my riſing: thou vnderſtandeſt my thoght a farreof.
3 Thou [b] compaſſeſt my paths, and my lying downe, and art accuſtomed to all my waies.
4 For there is not a worde in my [c] tongue, but lo, thou knoweſt it wholly, ô Lord.
5 Thou holdeſt me ſtrait behinde and before, and laieſt thine [d] hand vpon me.
6 Thy knowledge is to wonderful for me: it is ſo high that I can not atteine vnto it.
7 Whether ſhal I go from thy [e] Spirit? or whether ſhal I flee from thy preſence?
8 If I aſcend into heauen, thou art there: if I lie downe in hel, thou art there.
9 Let me take the wings of the morning, & dwell in the vttermoſt partes of the ſea:
10 Yet thether ſhal thine [f] hand leau me, & thy right hand holde me.
11 If I ſaie, Yet the darkenes ſhal hide me, euen the night ſhalbe [g] light about me.
12 Yea, the darkenes hideth not from thee: but the night ſhineth as the daie: ỹ darknes and light are bothe alike.
13 For thou haſt [h] poſſeſſed my reines: ỹ haſt couered me in my mothers wombe.
14 I wil praiſe thee, for I am [i] fearfully & wonderouſly made: maruelous are thy workes, and my ſoule knoweth it wel.
15 My bones are not hid from thee, thogh I was made in a ſecret place, & facioned [k] beneth in the earth.
16 Thine eyes did ſe me, when I was without forme: [l] for in thy boke were all things writen, which in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them before.
17 How [m] dere therefore are thy thoghts vnto me, ô God! how great is ỹ ſumme of thē!
18 If I ſhulde counte them, thei are mo then the ſand: whē I wake, [n] I am ſtil with thee.
19 Oh that thou woldeſt ſlay, ô God, ỹ wicked and bloodie men, to whome I ſaie, Departe ye from me:
20 Which ſpeake wickedly of thee, & beīg thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.
21 Do not I [o] hate them, ô Lord, that hate thee? and do not I earneſtly contend with thoſe that riſe vp againſt thee?
22 I hate them with an vnfained hatred, as they were mine vtter enemies.
23 Trye me, ô God, and knowe mine heart: proue me and knowe my thoghts, 24 And conſider if there be anie [p] waie of wickednes in me, and lead me in the [q] waie for euer.

a He cōfeſſeth ỹ neither our actiōs, thoghts or anie parte of our life can be hid to God, thogh he ſeme to be farre of.
b So that thei are euidently knowē to thee
c Thou knoweſt my meanīg before I ſpeake d Thou ſo guideſt me with thine hand, ỹ I can turne no waie, but where thou appointeſt me e From thy power and knowledge?
f Thy power doeth ſo faſt holde me, that I can eſcape by no meanes from thee
g Thogh darkenes be an hinderance to mans ſight, yet it ſerueth thine eyes as wel as the light
h Thou haſt made me in all partes & therfore muſt nedes knowe me i Conſidering thy wonderful worke in forming me, I can not but praiſe thee & feare thy mighrie power k That is, in y mothers wōbe: ỹ he cōpareth to the inward partes of the earth
l Seing that ỹ didſt knowe me before I was compoſed of ether fleſh or bone, much more now muſt ỹ knowe me when ỹ haſt facioned me.
m How ought we to eſteme ỹ excellēt declaration of thy wiſdome in ỹ creaciō of mā n I cōtinually ſe newe occaſiōs to meditate in thy wiſdome and to praiſe thee o He teacheth vs boldely to contemne all the hatred of the wicked & friendſhip of ỹ worlde, whē thei wolde let vs to ſerue God ſyncerely p Or anie henous waie or rebellious: meaning, that thogh he were ſubiect to ſinne: yet was he not giuen to wickednes and to prouoke God by rebellion q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the end.

PSAL. CXL.

1 Dauid complaineth of the crueltie, falſehode & iniuries of his enemies. 8 Againſt the which he praieth vnto the Lord and aſſureth himſelf of his helpe and ſuccour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the iuſt to praiſe the Lord, & to aſſure themſelues of his tuition.

¶ To him that excelleth. A pſalme of Dauid.

1 Deliuer me, ô Lord, from the euil man: preſerue me from the [a] cruel man:
2 Which imagine euil things in their [b] hart, & make waire continually.
3 Thei haue ſharpened their tongues like a ſerpent: [c] adders poyſon is vnder their lippes. Sélah.
4 Kepe [d] me, ô Lord, from the hands of the wicked: preſerue me from the cruel man, which purpoſeth to cauſe my ſteppes to ſlide.
5 The proude haue laid a ſnare for me & ſpied a net with cordes in my pathwaie, & ſet giennes for me. Sélah.
6 Therefore I ſaid vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, ô Lord, the voice of my praiers.
7 O Lord God the ſtrength of my ſaluacion, thou [e] haſt couered mine head in the daie of battel.
8 Let not ỹ wicked haue his deſire, ô Lord: [f] performe not his wicked thoght, leſt thei be proude. Sélah.
9 As for [g] the chief of them, that compaſſe me about, let the miſchief of their owne lippes come vpon them.
10 Let coles fall vpon them: let [h] him caſt them into the fyre, & into the depe pittes, that thei riſe not.
11 For ỹ backebiters ſhal not be eſtabliſhed vpon the earth: euil ſhal [i] hunt the cruel man to deſtruction.
12 I knowe that the Lord wil auenge the afflicted, & iudge the poore.
13 Surely the righteous ſhal praiſe thy Name, & the iuſt ſhal [k] dwell in thy preſence.

a Which perſecuteth me of malice & without cauſe
b That is, by their falſe cauillacions and lies thei kīdle ỹ hatred of the wicked againſt me
c He ſheweth what weapons ỹ wicked vſe, when power & force faile thē.
d He declareth what is ỹ remedie of the godlie, when thei are oppreſſed by the worldelings
e He calleth to God with liuelie faith, beīg aſſured of his mercies, becauſe he had before time proued, that God helped him euer in his dangers
f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrowe ỹ counſels & enterpriſes of ỹ wicked
g It ſemeth ỹ he alludeth to Saūl.
h To wit, God: for Dauid ſaw ỹ thei were reprobat & that there was no hope of repentance in them
i Gods plagues ſhal light vpō him in ſuche ſort, ỹ he ſhal not eſcape
k That is, ſhalbe defended & preſerued by thy Fatherlie prouidence & care

PSAL. CXLI.

1 Dauid being grieuouſly perſecuted vnder Saūl, onely fleeth vnto God to haue ſuccour. 3 Deſiring him to bridle his affections, & that he maie patiently abide til God take vengeance of his enemies.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 O Lord, I [a] call vpō thee: haſte thee vnto me: heare my voyce, when I crye vnto thee.
2 Let my praier be directed in thy ſight as incenſe, & the [b] lifting vp of mine hands as an euening ſacrifice.
3 Set a watche, ô Lord, before my mouth, & kepe the [c] dore of my lippes.
4 Incline not mine heart to euil, that I ſhulde commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eat of their [d] delicates.
5 Let the righteous ſmite me: for that is a benefite: & let [e] him reproue me, & it ſhalbe a precious oyle, that ſhal not breake mine head: for within a while I ſhal euen [f] praie in their miſeries.
6 When their iudges ſhalbe caſt downe in ſtrong places, thei ſhal heare my wordes, for they are ſweete.
7 Our bones are ſcattered at the graue mouth, as when one breaketh & cleaueth wood vpon the earth.
8 But mine eyes are vnto thee, ô God the Lord: in thee is my truſt, leaue not my ſoule deſtitute.
9 Kepe me from the ſnare which they haue laid for me, & from the gins of the workers of iniquitie.
10 Let the wicked fall into their owne nets, whil I eſcape.

a Which perſecuteth me of malice & without cauſe
b That is, by their falſe cauillacions and lies thei kīdle ỹ hatred of the wicked againſt me
c He ſheweth what weapons ỹ wicked vſe, when power & force faile thē.
d He declareth what is ỹ remedie of the godlie, when thei are oppreſſed by the worldelings
e He calleth to God with liuelie faith, beīg aſſured of his mercies, becauſe he had before time proued, that God helped him euer in his dangers
f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrowe ỹ counſels & enterpriſes of ỹ wicked
g It ſemeth ỹ he alludeth to Saūl.
h To wit, God: for Dauid ſaw ỹ thei were reprobat & that there was no hope of repentance in them
i Gods plagues ſhal light vpō him in ſuche ſort, ỹ he ſhal not eſcape
k That is, ſhalbe defended & preſerued by thy Fatherlie prouidence & care

Pſal. CXLI.

a He ſheweth ỹ there is none other refuge in ô neceſsities, but onely to flee vnto God for comfort of ſoule
b He meaneth his earneſt zeale & reſture, wh he vſed in praier: alluding to the ſacrifices, which were by Gods commādement offred in ỹ olde Law c He deſireth God to kepe his thoghts & waies ether from thinking or executing vengeance d Let not their proſperitie allure me to be wicked as thei are e He colde abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart
f By pacience praie for them

ſtonie places, thei ſhal g heare my wordes, for thei are ſwete.
7 Our bones lie ſcattered at the h graues mouth, as he that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.
8 But mine eyes loke vnto thee, ô Lord God: in thee is my truſt: leaue not my ſoule deſtitute.
9 Kepe me from the ſnare, which thei haue laied for me, and from the grennes of the workers of iniquitie.
10 Let the wicked fall into i his nettes k together, whiles I eſcape.

g The people, which followed their wicked rulers in perſecuting ỹ Prophet, ſhal repent & turne to God, when they ſe their wicked rulers puniſhed
h Here appeareth ỹ Dauid was miraculouſly delinered out of manie deaths, as 2 Cor 1,9 i Into Gods nettes, wherby he catcheth ỹ wicked I their owne malice k So that none of thẽ eſcape.

PSAL. CXLII.

1 The Prophet nether aſtonied with feare, nor caried awaie with angre, nor forced by deſperation, wolde kil Saul, but with a quiet minde directed his earneſt praier to God, who did preſerue him.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid, to giue inſtruction, & a prayer, when he was in the caue.

1 I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I a praied vnto ỹ Lord.
2 I powred out my meditacion before him, & declared mine afflictiõ in his preſence.
3 Thogh my ſpirit "was in perplexitie in me, yet thou kneweſt my path: in ỹ waie, wherein I walked, haue thei priuely laied a ſnare for me.
4 I loked vpon my right hand, & behelde, but there was none that wolde knowe me: all refuge failed me, & none o cared for my ſoule.
5 Then cryed I vnto thee, ô Lord, & ſaid, Thou art mine b hope, & my porcion in ỹ land of the liuing.
6 Hearken vnto my crye, for I am broght verie lowe: deliuer me from my perſecuters, for thei are to ſtrong for me.
7 Bring my ſoule out of c priſõ, that I maie praiſe thy Name: then ſhal the righteous d come about me, when thou art beneficial vnto me.

a Dauids patience & inſtãt prayer to God cõdemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles ether deſpaire and murmur agaĩſt God, or els ſeke to others, thẽ to God, to haue redreſs in their miſeries
"Ebr Wa folde or wrapped in me: meaning, as a thing that wolde haue none yſſue.
o Or, ſoght for my ſoule.
b Thogh all meanes failed him, yet he knewe ỹ God wolde neuer forſake him
c For he was on all ſides beſet w̃ his enemies, as thogh he had bene in a moſt ſtrait priſon d Ether to reioyce at my wonderful deliuerance, or to ſet a crowne vpon mine head.

PSAL. CXLIII.

1 An earneſt praier for remiſſion of ſinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly perſecute him by Gods iuſt iudgement. 8 He deſireth to be reſtored to grace. 10 To be gouerned by his holie Spirit, that he maie ſpende the remnant of his life in the true feare & ſeruice of God.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 HEare my praier, ô Lord, & hearken vnto my ſupplicacion: anſwer me in thy a trueth & in thy b righteouſnes.
2 (And entre not into iudgement with thy ſeruant: for in thy c ſight ſhal none that liueth, be iuſtified)
3 For the enemie hathe perſecuted my ſoule: he hathe ſmiten my life downe to the earth: he hathe laied me in the darkenes, as thei that haue bene dead d long ago:
4 And my ſpirit was in perplexitie in me, & mine e heart within me was amaſed.
5 Yet do I remember the time f paſt: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I do meditate in the workes of thine hands.
6 I ſtretche for the mine hands vnto thee: my ſoule deſireth after thee, as the thirſtie land. Sélah.
7 Heare me ſpedely, ô Lord, for my ſpirit fealeth: hide not thy face from me, els I ſhalbe like vnto them that go downe into the pit.
8 Let me heare thy louing kindenes in the g morning, for in thee is my truſt: h ſhewe me the waie, that I ſhulde walke in, for I lift vp my ſoule vnto thee.
9 Deliuer me, ô Lord, from mine enemies: for i I hid me with thee.
10 Teache me to k do thy wil, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit lead me vnto the land of l righteouſnes.
11 Quicken me, ô Lord, for thy Names ſake, & for thy righteouſnes bring my ſoule out of trouble.
12 And for thy mercie m ſlay mine enemies, and deſtroie all them that oppreſſe my ſoule: for I am thy n ſeruant.

a Who is the true & ſure ground of our faith, but God?
b He is the ſame, & his worde is euer like him ſelfe.
c Which is not ſubiect to the corruptions of this life.
d Which ſeme long, becauſe we ſe not preſently the fruite of our praiers.
e Which is ouercome with ſorowe & feare.
f To wit, thy great benefites of olde, & the manifolde examples of thy fauour toward thine
g That is, ſpedely & in due ſeaſon h Let thine holie Spirit counſel me how to come forthe of theſe great cares & troubles
i I hid my ſelf vnder the ſhadow of thy wings, ỹ I might be defẽded by thy power k He cõfeſſeth that bothe the knowledge & obedience of Gods wil commeth by ỹ Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his worde, giueth vnderſtãding by his Spirit, & frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him.
l That is, iuſtly & aright for ſo ſone as we decline from Gods wil, we fall into errour
m Which ſhal be a ſigne of thy Fatherlie kindenes toward me n Reſigning my ſelfe wholly vnto thee, and truſting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLIIII.

1 He praiſeth the Lord with great affection and humilitie for his kingdome reſtored, and for his victories obteined. 5 Demanding helpe and the deſtruction of the wicked. 9 Promiſing to acknowledge the ſame with ſongs of praiſes. 15 And declareth wherein the felicitie of ane people conſiſteth

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

1 BLeſſed be the Lord my ſtrength, w̃ a teacheth mine hands to fight, & my fingers to battel.
2 He is my goodnes & my fortres, my tower & " my deliuerer, my ſhield, and in him I truſt, which ſubdueth my b people vnder me.
3 Lord, what is man that thou c regardeſt him! or the ſonne of man that thou thinkeſt vpon him!
4 Man is like to vanitie: his daies are like a ſhadowe, that vaniſheth.
5 d Bowe thine heauens, ô Lord, and come downe: touche the mountaines & thei ſhal ſmoke.
6 e Caſt forthe the lightening and ſcatter them: ſhote out thine arrowes, and conſume them.
7 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer mẽ, and take me out of the great f waters, and from the hand of ſtrangers,
8 Whoſe mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand g of falſehode.
9 I wil ſing a h newe ſong vnto thee, ô God, & ſing vnto thee vpon a viole, & an inſtrument of ten ſtrings.
10 It is he that giueth deliuerance vnto

a Dauid was a poore ſhepherd hathe made me a valiant warriour and mightie conquerour
"Ebr my deliuerer vnto me: for the Prophet can not ſatiſfie him ſelf with any wordes.
b He cõfeſſeth that nether by his owne autoritie, power nor policie his kingdome was quiet, but by the ſecret grace of God
c To giue vnto God iuſt praiſe is to confeſſe our ſelues to be vnworthie of ſo excellent benefites, & ỹ he beſtoweth them vpon vs of his free mercie.
d He deſireth God to continue his graces & to ſend helpe for the preſẽt neceſsitie.
e By theſe maner of ſpeaches he ſheweth that all the lettes in the worlde can not hinder Gods power, which he apprehended by faith
f That is, deliuer me from ỹ tumultes of them that ſhulde be my people, but are corrupt in their iudgemẽt & enterpriſes, as thogh thei were ſtrangers.
g For thogh thei ſhake hands, yet thei kepe not promes
h That is, a rare & excellent ſong, as thy great benefites deſerue.

g That is, as ỹ haſt promiſed to be faithful in thy promes to all that truſt in thee
b That is, according to thy free goodnes, whereby thou defẽdeſt thine.
c He knewe ỹ his afflictions were Gods meſſingers to call him to repentance for his ſinnes, thogh toward his enemies he was innocent, & ỹ in Gods ſight all men are ſinners
d He acknowledgeth that God is the onelie & true phiſicion to heale him: & that he is able to raiſe him to life, thogh he were dead long ago, & turned to aſſhes e So that onely by faith, & by the grace of Gods Spirit he was vpholden.

Kings,& 1 reſcueth Dauid his ſ ſeruãt frõ the hurtful ſworde.
11 Reſcue me,and deliuer me from the hãd of ſtrangers,whoſe mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falſehode:
12 That our k ſonnes maye be as the plantes growing vp in their youth,& our daughters as the corner ſtones,grauen after the ſimilitude of a palace:
13 That our l corners may be ful,and abunding with diuers ſortes,and that our ſhepe may bring forthe thouſands and tẽ thouſand in our ſtreetes:
14 That our m oxen may be ſtrong to labour:that their be none inuaſiõ,nor going out,nor no crying in our ſtreetes.
15 Bleſſed are the people, that be n ſo, yea, bleſſed are the people, whoſe God is the Lord.

1 Thogh wicked Kings be called Gods ſeruãts,as Cyrus, Iſa 45.1,foraſmuche as he vſeth thẽ to execute his iudgements yet Dauid becauſe of Gods gifts, and they, that rule godly,are properly ſo called, becauſe they ſerue not their owne affections, but ſet forthe Gods glorie.
k He deſireth God to continue his benefites toward his people, counting the procreaciõ of children and their good educatiõ among ỹ chiefeſt of Gods benefites
l That the verie corners of our houſes may be ful of ſtore for the great abundance of thy bleſsings
m He attributeth not onely the great commodities,but euen the leaſt alſo to Gods fauour n And if God giue not to all his children all theſe bleſsings, yet he recompenſeth them with better things

PSAL. CXLV.

This Pſalme was compoſed,when the kingdome of Dauid flouriſhed 1 Wherein he deſcribeth the wonderful prouidence of God, aſwel in gouerning man, as in preſeruing all the reſt of his creatures. 17 He praiſeth God for his iuſtice & mercie, 18 But ſpecially for his louing kindenes toward thoſe that call vpon him, that feare him,and liue him: 21 For the which he promiſeth to praiſe him for euer.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid of praiſe.

1 O My God and King, a I wil extoll thee,and wil bleſſe thy Name for euer and euer.
2 I wil bleſſe thee daily,and praiſe thy Name for euer and euer.
3 b Great is the Lord, & moſte worthie to be praiſed, and his greatnes is incomprehenſible.
4 Generacion ſhal praiſe thy workes vnto c generacion,and declare thy power.
5 I wil meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maieſtie,& thy wonderful workes,
6 And they ſhal ſpeake of the power of thy d feareful Actes, and I wil declare thy greatnes.
7 They ſhal breake out into the mencion of thy great goodnes, & ſhal ſing aloude of thy righteouſnes.
8 * The Lord is gracious and e merciful, ſlowe to angre,and of great mercie.
9 The Lord is good to all, & his mercies are ouer all his workes.
10 All thy workes praiſe thee, ô Lord, and thy Saints bleſſe thee.
11 f They ſhewe the glorie of thy kingdome and ſpeake of thy power, 12 To cauſe his g power to be knowen to the ſonnes of men, & the glorious renome of his kingdome.
13 Thy * kingdome is an euerlaſting kingdome, & thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.
14 The Lord vpholdeth all h that fall,and lifteth vp all that are readie to fall.
15 The eyes of i all waite vpon thee, and thou giueſt them their meat in due ſeaſon 16 Thou openeſt thine hand, and filleſt all things liuing of thy good pleaſure.
17 The Lord is k righteous in all his waies, and holie in all his workes.
18 The Lord is nere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in l trueth.
19 He wil fulfil the m deſire of them that feare him:he alſo wil heare their crye, & wil ſaue them.
20 The Lord preſerueth all them that loue him:but he wil deſtroye all the wicked.
21 My mouth ſhal ſpeake the praiſe of the Lord,and all n fleſh ſhal bleſſe his holie Name for euer and euer.

a He ſheweth what ſacrifices are pleaſant & acceptable vnto God: euen praiſe & thãkeſgiuing, and ſeing that God ſtil cõtinueth his benefites towards vs,we ought neuer to be wearie in praiſing him for the ſame
b Herby he declareth ỹ all power is ſubiect vnto God, & ỹ no worldlie promotion ought to obſcure Gods glorie.
c Foraſmuche as the end of mans creation, & of his preſeruatiõ i this life is to praiſe God,therefore he requireth,ỹ not onely we our ſelues do this, but cauſe all other to do the ſame d Of thy terrible iudgemẽts againſt the wicked Exod. 34.6.
e He deſcribeth after what ſorte God ſheweth him ſelf to all his creatures,thogh our ſinnes haue prouoked his vengeance againſt all:to wit, merciful not onely in pardoning the ſinnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, which cã not fele the ſwete comfort of the ſame
f The praiſe of thy glorious kingdome g Meaning all them,that are deſtitute of worldelie meanes and ſuccour.
h He ſheweth ỹ all thigs are out of ordre, but onely where God reigneth Luk.1.33. dan 7.14.
i Who being in miſerie and afflictiõ wolde fainte and fall away, if God did not vpholde them, and therefore they ought to reuerence him,that reigneth in heauen,and ſuffer them ſelues to be gouerned by him
l To wit,aſwel of man,as of beaſt k He praiſeth God not onely for that he is beneficial to all his creatures,but alſo in that that he iuſtly puniſheth ỹ wicked, & mercifully examineth his by the croſſe, giuing them ſtrength & deliuering them l Which onely apperteineth to the faithful: and this vertue is contrarie to infidelitie, douting, impacience and murmuring
m For they wil aſke or wiſh for nothing but according to his wil, 1 Ioh 5.
n That is,all men ſhalbe [illegible] to him

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 Dauid declareth his great zeale that he hathe to praiſe God, 3 And teacheth, not to truſt in man,but onely in God almightie, 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the ſtrangers,comforteth the fatherles,and the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord.

1 PRaiſe thou the Lord, ô my a ſoule.
2 I wil praiſe the Lord during my life:as long as I haue anie being, I wil ſing vnto my God.
3 Put not your truſt in b princes, nor in the ſonne of mã,for there is none helpe in hĩ.
4 His breath departeth,& he returneth to his earth:then his c thoghts periſh.
5 Bleſſed is he, that hathe the God of Iaakób for his helpe, whoſe hope is in ỹ Lord his God.
6 Which made d heauen & earth,the ſea, and all that therein is:which kepeth his fidelitie for euer:
7 Which executeth iuſtice e for the oppreſſed:which giueth bread to the hũgrie: the Lord looſeth the priſoners.
8 The Lord giueth ſight to the blinde: the Lord raiſeth vp the croked: the Lord f loueth the righteous.
9 The Lord kepeth the g ſtrangers: he relieueth the fatherles and widowe: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.

a He ſtirreth vp him ſelf, & all his affections to praiſe God.
b That God may haue the whole praiſe wherin he forbiddeth all vaine cõfidẽce, ſhewing ỹ of nature we are more enclined to put our truſt in creatures, then in God ỹ Creator
c As their vaine opinions, whereby they flattered them ſelues, and ſo imagined wicked entreprifes
d He encreaſeth our truſt to truſt onely in the Lord, bothe for that his power is able to deliuer them from all danger, & for his promes ſake his wil is moſte readie to do it
e Whoſe faith & pacience for a while he tryeth,but at length he puniſheth ỹ aduerſaries,that he may be knowen to be iudge of the worlde
f Thogh he viſit them by aduerſities, & ſuffer them to be oppreſſed, yet his Fatherlie loue and [illegible] are ſignes of his loue h He aſſureth the Church ỹ God reigneth for euer for ỹ preſeruatiõ of the ſame.

10 The Lord ſhal h reigne for euer: ô Zión, thy God endureth from generacion to generacion. Praiſe ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet praiſeth the bountie, wiſdome, power, iuſtice & prouidence of God vpõ all his creatures, 2 But ſpecially vpon his Church, which he gathereth together after their diſperſion, 19 Declaring his worde and iudgements ſo vnto them, as he hathe done to none other people.

1 PRaiſe ye the Lord, for it is good to ſing vnto our God: for it is a pleaſant thing, & praiſe is comelie.

a He ſheweth wherſ we ought to exercíſe our ſelues continually, & to take our paſtime: to wit, in praiſing God

2 The Lord doeth buyld vp b Ieruſalém, & gather together the diſperſed of Iſraél.

b Becauſe the Lord is ỹ foũder of ỹ Church, it can not be deſtroyed, thogh ỹ mẽbers thereof be diſperſed, and ſeme, as it were, for a time to be cut of.

3 He healeth thoſe that are c broken in heart, and bindeth vp their ſores.

4 He d counteth the nomber of the ſtarres, & calleth them all by their names.

c With affliction or ſorow for ſinne.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wiſdome is infinite.

d Thogh it ſeme to man incredible, that God ſhulde aſſemble his Church, being ſo diſperſed, yet nothing cã be to hard to him, that can nõber & name all the ſtarres.

6 The Lord releueth the meke, & abaſeth the wicked to the e grounde.

e For the more high that the wicked clime, the greater is their fall in the end.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praiſe: ſing vpõ the harpe vnto our God,

8 Which f couereth the heauẽ with cloudes and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the graſſe to growe vpon the mountaines:

f He ſheweth by the exãples of Gods mightie power, goodnes & wiſdome, that we cã neuer wãt matte iuſt occaſiõ to praiſe God.

9 Which giueth to beaſtes their fode, and to the yong rauens that g crye.

g For their crying is as it were a confeſſion of their nede, which cã not be relieued but by God onely: then if God ſhew him ſelf mindeful of ỹ moſte cõtemptible foules, can he ſuffer them to dye ỹ famine, whome he hathe aſſured of life euerlaſting?

10 He hathe not pleaſure in the h ſtrength of an horſe, nether deliteth he in the legges of man.

11 But the Lord deliteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

12 Praiſe the Lord, ô Ieruſalém: praiſe thy God, ô Zión.

13 For he hathe made the barres of thy gates i ſtrong, and hathe bleſſed thy childrẽ within thee.

14 He ſetteth peace in thy borders, & ſatiſfieth thee with the "floure of wheat.

15 He ſendeth forthe his k commandemẽt vpon earth, and his worde runneth verie l ſwiftly.

16 He giueth ſnow like wool, & ſcattereth the hoare froſt like aſſhes.

17 He caſteth forthe his yce like morſels: who can abide the colde thereof?

18 He ſendeth his worde and melteth thẽ: he cauſeth his winde to blowe, & the waters flowe.

19 He ſheweth his m worde vnto Iaakób, his ſtatutes and his iudgements vnto Iſraél.

20 He hathe not dealt ſo with euerie nacion, nether haue they n knowen his iudgemẽts. Praiſe ye the Lord.

h Though to vſe lawful meanes is bothe profitable & pleaſeth God, yet to put our truſt in them, is to defraude God of his honour

i He doeth not onely furniſh his Church ỹ all things neceſſarie, but preſerueth alſo the ſame, & maketh it ſtrong againſt all outward force

"Ebr fat

k His ſecret working in all creatures is as a cõmandemẽt to kepe thẽ in ordre, & to gine thẽ mouing & force

l For immediatly & without reſiſting all things obei him

m As before he called Gods ſecret working in all his creatures his word: ſo he meaneth here, by his worde, ỹ doctrine of life euerlaſting, ẅ he hathe left to his Church as a moſte precious treaſure n The cauſe of this difference is Gods free mercie, which hathe elected his in his Sonne Chriſt Ieſus to ſaluacion: & his iuſte iudgemẽt, whereby he hathe appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to praiſe the Lord in heauẽ and earth and all places, 14 Specially his Church for the power that he hathe giuen to the ſame after that he had choſen them and ioyned them vnto him.

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord.

1 PRaiſe ye the Lord from the heauen: praiſe ye him in the high places.

2 Praiſe ye him, all ye a his Angels: praiſe him, all his armie.

a Becauſe thei are mẽbers of ỹ ſame bodie, he ſetteth thẽ before our eyes, ẅ are moſte willig herunto, and by their prompt obedience tea che vs to do our duetie

3 Praiſe ye him, b ſunne and moone: praiſe ye him all bright ſtarres.

b In that Gods glorie ſhineth in theſe inſenſible creatures, this their beautie is as a cõtinual praiſing of God

4 Praiſe ye him, c heauens of heauens, & d waters, that be aboue the heauens.

c Not ỹ there are diuers heauens, but becauſe of the ſpheres and of the ſituacion of the fixed ſtarres & planets, he cõprehendeth by this worde ỹ whole heauẽ

5 Let them praiſe the Name of the Lord: for he commãded, and they were created.

6 And he hathe eſtabliſhed them for euer and euer: he hathe made an ordinance, which ſhal not paſſe.

d That is, the raine, which is in the midle region of the aire, which he here comprendeth vnder the name of the heauens

7 Praiſe ye the Lord frõ the earth, ye e dragons and all depths:

e Meaning, ỹ great and mõſtruous fiſhes, as whales and ſuche like.

8 f Fyre and haile, ſnowe and vapors, ſtormie winde, which execute his worde:

f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance

9 Mountaines and all hilles, fruteful trees and all cedres:

10 Beaſtes and all cattel, creaping things & feathered foules:

11 g Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the worlde:

g For the greater giftes that anie hathe receiued, and the more high that one his preferred, the more bound is he to praiſe God for the ſame, but nether high nor lowe condition or degre can be exempted from this duetie.

12 Yong men and maidens, alſo olde men and children:

13 Let them praiſe the Name of the Lord: for his Name onely is to be exalted, and his praiſe aboue the earth and the heauẽs.

14 For he hathe exalted the h horne of his people, which is a praiſe for all his Saincts, euen for the i children of Iſraél, a people that is nere vnto him. Praiſe ye the Lord.

h That is, the dignitie, power and glorie of his Church i By reaſon of his couenant made with Abrahám.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praiſe the Lord for his victorie and conqueſt that he giueth his Saints againſt all mans power.

Praiſe ye the Lord.

1 SIng ye vnto the Lord a new ſong: let his praiſe be heard in the Congregacion of Saints.

a For his rare and manifolde benefites beſtowed on his Church

2 Let Iſraél reioyce in him that b made him, and let the children of Zión reioyce in their c King.

b In that that they were preferred before all other nacions, it was as a newe creacio, & therefore Pſal 95, 6. thei were called the worke of Gods hãds.

3 Let them praiſe his Name with the flute: let them ſing praiſes vnto him with the timbrel and harpe.

c For God as he is the Creator of ỹ ſoule & bodie ſo wil he ỹ both twoo ſerue him, & ỹ his people be 4 For the Lord hathe pleaſure in his people: he wil make the meke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saints be ioyful with glorie: let them ſing loude vpon their d beddes.

d He alludeth continually ſubiect vnto him as to their moſte lawful King to that continual reſt, and quietnes, which they ſhulde haue, if they wolde ſuffre God to rule them

539/1224

6 Let the high Actes of God be in their mouth, and a two edged ſworde in their hands,
7 e To execute vengeance vpon the heathen, & corrections among the people:
8 To binde f their Kings in chaines, and their nobles with fetters of yron, 9 That they maye execute vpon them the iudgement that is g writen: this honour ſhalbe to all his Saints. Praiſe ye the Lord.

e This is chiefly accompliſhed in the kingdome of Chriſt, when Gods people for iuſte cauſes execute Gods iudgements againſt his enemies: & it giueth no liberti e to anie to reuenge their priuate iniuries
f Not onely the people but the Kings, that were their enemies, ſhulde be deſtroyed
g Hereby God bindeth the hands and mindes of all his to enterprſe no farther then he appointeth

PSAL CL.

1 An exhortacion to praiſe the Lord without ceaſe by all maner of wayes for all his mightie, and wonderful workes.

¶ Praiſe ye the Lord

1 PRaiſe ye God in his a Sanctuarie: praiſe ye him in the b firmament of his power.
2 Praiſe ye him in his mightie Actes: praiſe ye hī accordīg to his excellēt greatnes.
3 Praiſe ye him in the ſounde of the c trūpet: praiſe ye him vpon the viole and the harpe.
4 Praiſe ye him with timbrel & flute: praiſe ye him with viginales and organs.
5 Praiſe ye him with ſounding cymbals: praiſe ye him with high ſouning cymbals.
6 Let euerie thing that hathe d breath praiſe the Lord. Praiſe ye the Lord.

a That is, in heauen.
b For his wōderful power appeareth in ỹ firmament, wch in Ebr is called a ſtretchīg out or ſpreading abroad, wherein the mightie worke of God ſhineth
c Exhorting ỹ people onely to reioyce in praiſing God, he maketh mēcion of thoſe inſtruments, wch by Gods commādemēt were appointed in the olde Law, but vnder Chriſt the vſe thereof is aboliſhed in the Church
d He ſheweth that all the ordre of nature is bound to this duetie, and muche more Gods childrē, who ought neuer to ceaſe to praiſe him, til they be gathered into that kingdome, which he hathe prepared for his, where they ſhal ſīg euerlaſting praiſe.

THE *PROVERBES of Salomón.

*This worde Prouerbe, or Parable ſignifieth a graue & notable ſentēce, worthie to be kept in memorie: and is ſometime taken in the euil parte for a mocke, or ſcoffe.

THE ARGVMENT.

The wonderful loue of God toward his Church is declared in this boke: foraſmuche as the ſumme and effect of the whole Scriptures is here ſet forthe in theſe briefe ſentences, which partely conteine doctrine, and partely maners, and alſo exhortacions to bothe. Whereof the nine firſt chapters are as a preface ful of graue ſentences, and depe myſteries, to allure the haerts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a moſte precious iewel to the Churche, of thoſe thre thouſand parables mencioned 1. King. 4, 32, and were gathered and commit to writing by Salomons ſeruants and indited by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vſe of the worde of God 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde 10 We may not conſent to the entiſings of ſinners 20 Wiſdome complaineth that ſhe is contemned. 24 The puniſhment of them that contemne her.

1 THe Parables of Salomón the ſonne of Dauid King of Iſraél,
2 To knowe wiſdome, a & inſtruction, to vnderſtand the wordes of knowledge,
3 To receiue b inſtruction to do wiſely, by c iuſtice and iudgement and equitie,
4 To giue vnto the d ſimple ſharpenes of wit, & to the childe knowledge and diſcretion.
5 A wiſe man ſhal heare and increaſe in learning, and a man of e vnderſtanding, ſhal atteine vnto wiſe counſels,
6 To vnderſtand a parable, and the interpretation, the wordes of the wiſe, & their darke ſayings.
7 ¶ The feare of ỹ Lord is ỹ beginnīg of knowledge: but fooles deſpiſe wiſdome & inſtruction.
8 My ſonne, heare thy f fathers inſtruction, and forſake not thy g mothers teaching.
9 For they ſhalbe "a comelie ornament vnto thine head, and as chaines for thy necke.
10 ¶ My ſonne, h if ſinners do intiſe thee, conſent thou not.
11 If they ſay, Come with vs, we wil lay wait for i blood, & lie priuelie for the innocent without a cauſe:
12 We wil ſwallow thē vp aliue like a k graue euen whole, as thoſe that go downe into the pit:
13 We ſhal finde all precious riches, & fil our houſes with ſpoile:
14 Caſt in thy lot among vs: we wil all haue one l purſe:
15 My ſonne, walke not thou in the way with them: refraine thy fote from their m path.
16 For their fete runne to euil, & make haſt to ſhed blood.
17 Certeinly as without cauſe the net is ſpred before ỹ eyes of all that hathe wing:
18 So they laye wait for blood & lie priuelie for n their liues.

a That is, what we ought to knowe & followe, & what we ought to refuſe
b Meaning the worde of God wherein is the onelie true knowledge
c To learne to ſubmit our ſelues to the correction of thoſe that are wiſe d By liuing iuſtely and rendring to euery man that wch apperteineth vnto him e To muche as haue not diſcretion to rule them ſelues
f As he ſheweth ỹ theſe parables conteining the effect of religion as touching maners & doctrine do appertcine to the ſimple people: ſo doeth he declare that the ſame is alſo neceſſarie for them that are wiſe and learned Pſal. 111, 10. eccl 1, 16
g He ſpeaketh this in ỹ Name of God, wch is the vniuerſal Father of all creatures, or in the Name of the paſtor of ỹ Churche, who is as a father h That is, of ỹ Church, wherein the faithful are begotten by the incorruptible ſeede of Gods worde.
"Ebr. increaſe of grace
i To wit, the wicked, which haue not the feare of God.
k He ſpeaketh not onely of ỹ ſheding of blood with hand, but of all craftie practiſes which tēde to the detrīment of our neighbour.
l As the graue is neuer ſatiat ſo the auarice of the wicked and their cruelte hathe none end
m He ſheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, becauſe they haue euerie one parte of the ſpoile of the innocent n That is, haue nothing at all to do with them
o He ſheweth that there is no cauſe to moue theſe wicked to ſpoile the innocent, but their auarice and cruelte.

19 Suche are the wayes of euerie one that is gredie of gaine: he wolde take away the [p] life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ [q] Wiſdome crieth without: ſhe vttereth her voyce in the [r] ſtretes.

21 She calleth in the hye ſtrete among the preaſe in the entrings of the gates, & vttereth her wordes in the citie, ſaying, 22 O ye [ſ] fooliſh, how long wil ye loue fooliſhnes [t] & the ſkorneful take their pleaſure in ſkorning, & the fooles hate knowledge?

23 (Turne you at my correction: lo, I wil powre out my minde vnto you, & make you vnderſtand my wordes)

24 Becauſe I haue called, and ye refuſed: I haue ſtretched out mine hand, and none wolde regarde.

25 But ye haue deſpiſed all my counſel, & wolde none of my correction.

26 I wil alſo [x] laugh at your deſtruction, and mocke, when your feare cometh.

27 When [u] your feare cometh like ſudden deſolation, and your deſtruction ſhal come, like a whirle winde: when affliction & anguiſh ſhal come vpon you,

28 Then ſhal they call vpon me, but I wil not anſwer: they ſhal ſeke me early, but they ſhal not [x] finde me, 29 Becauſe they hated knowledge, and did not chuſe the feare of the Lord.

30 Thei wolde none of my coũſel, but [y] deſpiſed all my correction.

31 Therefore ſhal they eat of the [z] fruite of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuiſes.

32 For [a] eaſe ſlayeth the fooliſh, and the proſperitie of fooles deſtroyeth them.

33 But he that obeieth me, ſhal dwell ſafely, & be quiet from feare of euil.

p Whereby he concludeth ſ the couetous man is a murtherer

q This wiſdome is the eternal worde of God

r So that none can pretend ignorance.

ſ Wiſdome reproueth thre kindes of mẽ: the fooliſh or ſimple, which erre of ignorãce, and ſ mockers, that can not ſuffer to be taught, & ſ fooles which are drowned in worldelie luſtes, & hate the knowledge of godlines

t This is ſpoken according to our capacitie, ſignifying that the wicked, ẅ mocke & ieſt at Gods worde, ſhal haue the iuſte rewarde of their mocking.

u That is, your deſtruction, ẅ thing you feared x Becauſe thei ſought not with an affection to God, but for eaſe of their owne grief

y Shewing ſ without faith and obedience we cã not call vpon God aright.

z They ſhal feele what cõmoditie their wicked life ſhal giue thẽ.

a That is the proſperitie, & ſenſualitie, wherein they delite.

CHAP. II.

1 Wiſdome exhorteth to obey her. 5 She teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preſerueth from wickednes.

1 MY ſonne, if thou wilt receiue my wordes, and [a] hide my commandements within thee,

2 And cauſe thine eares to hearken vnto wiſdome, & encline [b] thine heart to vnderſtanding,

3 (For if thou calleſt after knowledge, [c] & crieſt for vnderſtanding:

4 If thou ſekeſt her as ſiluer, and ſearcheſt for her as for [d] treaſures,

5 Then ſhalt thou vnderſtand the feare of the Lord, and finde the [e] knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wiſdome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderſtanding.

7 He [f] preſerueth the ſtate of ſ righteous: he is a ſhield to them that walke vprightly,

8 That they may kepe the wayes of iudgement: and he preſerueth the way of his Saincts)

9 Then ſhalt thou vnderſtand righteouſnes, and iudgement, and equitie, & euerie good path.

10 ¶ Whẽ wiſdome entreth into thine heart, and knowledge deliteth thy ſoule,

11 Then ſhal [f] counſel preſerue thee, & vnderſtanding ſhal kepe thee,

12 And deliuer thee from the euil way, and from the man that ſpeaketh froward things,

13 And from them that leaue the [g] waies of righteouſnes to walke in the waies of darkenes:

14 Which reioyce in doing euil, & delite [h] in the frowardnes of the wicked, 15 Whoſe waies are croked and they are lewde in their paths.

16 And it ſhal deliuer thee from the ſtrange [i] woman, euen from the ſtranger, which flattereth with her wordes.

17 Which forſaketh the [k] guide of her youth, and forgetteth the [l] couenant of her God.

18 Surely her [m] houſe tendeth to death, & her paths vnto [n] the dead.

19 All thei that go vnto her, returne not againe, neither take they holde of the waies of life.

20 Therefore walke thou in the waie of good men, & kepe the waies of the righteous.

21 For the iuſt ſhal dwell in the [o] land, and the vpright men ſhal remaine in it.

22 But the wicked ſhalbe cut of from the earth and the tranſgreſſers ſhalbe rooted out of it.

a That is, kepe them in thine heart,

b If thou giue thy ſelf to the true knowledge of God without hypocriſie

c Meaning, ſ we muſt ſeke the knowledge of God with care and diligence.

d Shewing ſ no labour muſt be ſpared

e This ſtayeth vs in the true wiſdome to knowe, & feare God

f Or, keepeth the ſtabilitie.

f The worde of God ſhal teache thee & counſel thee how to gouerne thy ſelf

g That is, the worde of God, ẅ is the onelie light, to follow their owne fantaſies ẅ are darkenes

h Whẽ thei ſe ame giuen to euil as thei are i Meanig, that wiſdome, ẅ is the worde of God, ſhal preſerue vs from all vices: naming this vice of whoredome wherein mã is moſte prone k That is, her houſband, ẅ is her head & guide to gouerne her, frõ whome ſhe oght not to depart, but remaine in his ſubiection

l Which is, the promes made in mariage

m Her acquaintance ẅ her familiars & thẽ that hate her.

n To thẽ that are dead in bodie, and ſoule.

o They ſhal enioye the tẽporal & ſpiritual promiſes of God, as ſ wicked ſhalbe voyde of them.

CHAP. III.

1 The worde of God giueth life 5 Truſt in God 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffre his correction. 22 To them that followe the worde of God, all things ſhal ſucceede wel.

1 MY ſonne, forget not thou my Law, but let thine heart kepe my commãdements.

2 For thei ſhal increaſe the length of thy [a] daies and the yers of life, and thy proſperitie.

3 Let not [b] mercie and trueth forſake thee: binde them on thy [c] necke, & write them vpon the table of thine [d] heart.

4 So ſhalt thou finde fauour and good vnderſtanding in the ſight of God and man.

5 ¶ Truſt in the Lord with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wiſdome.

6 In all thy waies acknowledge him, and he ſhal direct thy waies.

7 ¶ Be not wiſe in thine owne eyes: but feare the Lord, and departe from euil.

8 So health ſhalbe vnto thy [e] nauel, and marow

Deut 8.1. & 30,16

a Lõg life is ſ bleſſig of God ẅ he giueth to his, ſo farre forthe as it is expedient for them.

b By mercie & trueth, he meaneth the commandements of the firſt & ſecõd table: or els the mercie & faithfulnes ſ we oght to vſe towarde our neighbours

c Kepe thẽ as a moſte precious iewel

d Haue them euer in remembrance

e By this parte he comprehẽdeth the whole bodie, as by health he meaneth all the benefites promiſed in the Law both corporal and ſpiritual.

marow vnto thy bones.

f As was commanded in the lawe, Exod 23, 19 deut.26,2 & by thus thei acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, and that thei were ready to beſtowe all at his cõmandement

9 f Honour the Lord with thy riches, and with the firſt fruites of all thine increaſe.

g For to the faithful diſtributer God giueth ꝛo greater abundance Ebr.12,5 reuel 3,17.

10 So ſhal thy barnes be filled with abundance, and thy preſſes ſhal g burſt with newe wine.

11 ¶ My ſonne, refuſe not the chaſtening of ỹ Lord, nether be grieued with his correction.

12 *For ỹ Lord correcteth him, whome he loueth, euẽ as the father doeth the childe in whome he deliteth.

13 Bleſſed is the man that findeth wiſdome, and the man that getteth vnderſtanding.

14 For the marchandiſe thereof is better then the marchandiſe of ſiluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde.

15 It is more precious then pearls: and all things that thou canſt deſire, are not to be compared vnto her.

h Meaning ỹ he that ſeketh wiſdome: that is, ſuffreth him ſelf to be gouerned by the worde of God, ſhal haue all ỹ heritage both corporal and ſpiritual.

16 Length of daies is in her right hand, h & in her left hand riches and glorie.

17 Her waies are waies of pleaſure, and all her paths proſperitie.

i Which bringeth forthe ſuche frute ỹ thei that eat thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tre of life in Paradiſe.

18 She is a tree i of life to them that laie holde on her, and bleſſed is he that reteineth her.

k Hereby he ſheweth ỹ this wiſdome, whereof he ſpeaketh, is euerlaſting, becauſe it was before all creatures, & ỹ all thigs, euen the whole worlde were made by it. Or, throte, read chap.1,9 19 The Lord by wiſdome hathe laied the k fundacion of the earth, and hathe eſtabliſhed the heauens through vnderſtanding.

20 By his knowledge the deapths are broken vp, and the cloudes droppe downe the dewe.

21 My ſonne, let not theſe things departe frõ thine eies, but obſerue wiſdome, and counſel.

22 So thei ſhalbe life to thy ſoule, and grace vnto thy l necke.

23 Thẽ ſhalt thou walke ſafely by thy waie: and thy fote ſhal not ſtumble.

24 If ỹ ſleapeſt, thou ſhalt not be afraied, and when thou ſlepeſt, thy ſlepe ſhalbe ſwete.

25 Thou ſhalt not feare for anie ſuddẽ feare, nether for the l deſtruction of the wicked, when it cometh.

l For whẽ God deſtroieth the wicked, he wil ſaue his, as he did Lot in Sodom 26 For the Lord ſhal be for thine aſſuiance, & ſhal preſerue thy fote from taking.

m Not onely from them to whome ỹ poſſeſſion belongeth, but alſo thou ſhalt not kepe it from them, ỹ haue nede of the vſe thereof

27 ¶ Withholde not the good from m the owners thereof, thogh there be power in thine hand to do it.

28 Saie not vnto thy neighbour, Go & come againe, and to morowe wil I giue thee, if thou now haue it.

n That is, putteth his truſt in thee.

29 ¶ Intẽde none hunt agaĩſt thy neighbour, ſeing he doeth dwell n without feare by thee.

30 ¶ Striue not with a man cauſeles, when he hathe done thee no harme.

o Deſire not to be like vnto him

31 ¶ Be not o enuious for the wicked man, nether chuſe anie of his waies.

32 For the froward is abominacion vnto the Lord: but his p ſecret is with the righteous.

p That is, his couenant & fatherlie affectiõ ỹ is hid & ſecret from the worlde

33 The curſe of the Lord is in the houſe of the wicked: but he bleſſeth the habitation of the righteous.

q He wil ſhewe by his plagues that their ſkornes ſhal turne to their owne deſtruction, as Chap 1,26.

34 With the ſkorneful q he ſkorneth, but he giueth grace vnto the humble.

35 The wiſe ſhal inherite glorie: but fooles diſhonour, thogh they be exalted.

CHAP. xiiii.

1 Wiſdome and her frutes ought to be ſearched 14 The way of the wicked muſt be refuſed 20 By the worde of God the heart, eyes and courſe of life muſt be guided

1 HEare, ô ye children, the inſtruction of a a father, and giue eare to learne vnderſtanding.

a He ſpeaketh this in the perſone of a prezcher & miniſter, which is as a father vnto ỹ people read Chap 1,8 2 For I do giue you a good doctrine: therefore forſake ye not my law.

b In Ebrewe it is Onely: for thogh ſhe had thre others by Vriah, yet Salomõ was onely her ſonne by David

3 For I was my fathers ſonne, tender and b dere in the ſight of my mother, c Meaning David his father.

4 When he c taught me, and ſaid vnto me, Let thine heart holde faſt my wordes: kepe my commandements, and thou ſhalt liue.

d He ſheweth that we muſt firſt begin at Gods worde, if ſo be we wil ỹ other things proſper with vs coẽrarie to the iudgement of the worlde, which make it their laſt ſtudy or els, care not for it at all.

5 Get wiſdome: get vnderſtanding: forget not, nether decline from the wordes of my mouth.

6 Forſake her not, and ſhe ſhal kepe thee: loue her and ſhe ſhal preſerue thee.

7 d Wiſdome is the beginning: get wiſdome therefore: and aboue all thy poſſeſſion get vnderſtanding.

8 Exalt her, and ſhe ſhal exalt thee: ſhe ſhal bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her

9 She ſhal giue a comelie ornament vnto thine head, yea, ſhe ſhal giue thee a crowne of glorie.

e Salomõ declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids proteſtation

10 ¶ Heare my ſonne, and receiue my wordes, and the yeres of thy life ſhalbe manie.

11 I haue e taught thee in the waie of wiſdome, and led thee in the paths of righteouſnes.

f Thou ſhalt walke at libertie without offence

12 When thou goeſt, thy gate ſhal not be f ſtrait, and when thou runneſt, thou ſhalt not fall.

g Meaning, that to do euil is more propre & natural to the wicked, then to ſlepe, eat or drinke

13 Take holde of inſtruction, & leaue not: kepe her, for ſhe is thy life.

14 ¶ Entre not into the way of the wicked, & walke not in the waie of euil men.

h Gotten by wicked meanes and cruel oppreſsion

15 Auoide it & go not by it: turne from it, & paſſe by.

16 For thei can not g ſlepe, except thei haue done euil, and their ſlepe departeth, except thei cauſe ſome to fall.

17 For they eat the bread of h wickednes, and drinke the wine of violence.

i Signifying ỹ the godlie increaſe dayly in knowledge & perfection, til thei come to ful perfection, ỹ is whẽ thei ſhalbe ioyned to their head in the heauens

18 But the way of ỹ righteous ſhineth as the light, that i ſhineth more and more vnto the perfite daie.

19 The waie of the wicked is as the darkenes: they knowe not wherein thei ſhal fall.

20 ¶ My ſonne, hearkē vnto my wordes, encline thine eare vnto my ſayings.

21 Let them not departe from thine eyes, but kepe them in the middes of thine heart.

22 For thei are life vnto thoſe that finde them, and helthe vnto all their [k] fleſh.

23 Kepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout cometh [l] life.

24 Put awaie from thee a frowarde mouth, and put wicked lippes farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eyeliddes direct thy way before thee.

26 [m] Pondre the path of thy fete, & let all thy waies be ordred aright.

27 Turne not to the right hand, nor to the left, but remoue thy fote from euil.

k That is, thoſe ſhal haue health of body. vnder the which all other bleſsings promiſed in ỹ lawe are conteined.

l For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, ſo is the whole courſe of mans life.

m Kepe a meaſure in all thy doings.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidde. 9 And prodigalitie. 15 He willeth a mā to liue on his labours & to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednes.

1 MY ſonne, hearken vnto my wiſdome, and encline thine eare vnto my [o] knowledge,

2 That thou maieſt regarde counſel, and thy lippes obſerue knowledge.

3 For the lippes [a] of a ſtrange woman drop as an honie combe, and her mouth is more ſoft then [b] oyle.

4 But the end of her is bitter as worme wood, & ſharpe as a two edged ſworde.

5 Her [c] fete go downe to death, and her ſteppes take holde on hel.

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her paths are [d] moueable: thou cāſt not knowe them.

7 Heare ye me now therefore, ô children, & departe not from the wordes of my mouthe.

8 Kepe thy waie farre from her, and come not nere the dore of her houſe,

9 Leſt thou giue thine [e] honour vnto others, and thy yeres to the cruel:

10 Leſt the ſtranger ſhulde be filled with thy ſtrength, and thy [f] labours be in the houſe of a ſtranger,

11 And thou mourne at thine end, & when thou haſt conſumed thy fleſh and thy bodie)

12 And ſaie, How haue I hated inſtruction, and mine heart deſpiſed correction!

13 And haue not obeied the voice of them that taught me, nor inclined mine eare to them that inſtructed me!

14 I was almoſt broght into all euil in the middes of the Congregacion & [g] aſſemblie.

o Or, vnderſtādig

a That is, an harlot which giueth her ſelf to another then to her houſband.

b By oyle and honie he meaneth flatterig and craftie intiſements.

c All her doīgs lead to deſtruction.

d She hathe euer newe meanes to allure to wickednes.

e That is, thy ſtrength and goods to her ỹ wil haue no pitie vpon these as is red of Samſon, & the prodigal ſonne

f The goods gotten by thy trauail.

g Although I was faithfully inſtructed in ỹ truth, yet had I almoſte falle to vtter ſhame and deſtructiō, notwithſtādig my good bringing vp in the aſſemblie of the godlie.

15 ¶ Drinke the water of [h] thy ciſterne, and of the riuers out of the middes of thine owne well.

16 Let thy fountaines flowe forthe, and the riuers of waters in the ſtretes.

17 But let them be thine, euen [i] thine onely, and not the ſtrangers with thee.

18 Let thy [k] fountaine be bleſſed, and reioyce with the wife of thy [l] youth.

19 Let her be as the louing hinde and pleaſant roe: let her breaſts ſatiſfie thee at all times, & delite in her loue continually.

20 For why ſhuldeſt thou [m] delite, my ſonne, in a ſtrange woman, or embrace the boſome of a ſtranger?

21 For the waies of mā are before the [n] eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his pathes.

22 His owne iniquities ſhal take the wicked himſelf, and he ſhalbe holden with the cordes of his owne ſinne.

23 He ſhal [o] dye for faute of inſtruction, & ſhal go aſtray through his great folie.

h He teacheth vs ſobrietie, exhorting vs to liue of our owne labours & to be beneficial toỹ godlie that want.

i Diſtribute them not to the wicked & infidelles, but reſerue them for thy ſelf, thy family & them that are of the houſhoſde of faith.

k Thy childrē ẅ ſhal come of thee in great abundāce, ſhewing ỹ God bleſſeth mariage and curſeth whoredome.

l Which thou dideſt marie in thy youth.

m Or, go aſtray with a ſtranger?

n He declareth that except man do ioyne to his wife bothe in heart and in outward converſation, that he ſhal not eſcape the iudgements of God.

o Becauſe he wil not giue eare to Gods worde and be admoniſhed.

CHAP. VI.

1 Inſtruction for ſuerties. 6 The ſlouthful and ſluggiſh is ſtirred to worke. 12 He deſcribeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obſerue the worde of God. 24 To flee adulterie.

1 MY ſonne, if thou be ſuertie for thy neighbour, & haſt ſtriken hāds with the ſtranger,

2 Thou art [a] ſnared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Do this now, my ſonne, and deliuer thy ſelf: ſeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, go, and humble thy ſelf, & ſolicit thy friends.

4 Giue no ſlepe to thine eyes, nor ſlumber to thine eyeliddes.

5 Deliuer thy ſelf as a doe from the hand of the hunter, and as a birde from the hand of the fouler.

6 ¶ Go to [b] the piſmire, ô ſluggard: behold her waies, and be wiſe.

7 For ſhe hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meat in the ſommer, & gathereth her fode in harueſt.

9 * How long wilt thou ſlepe, ô ſluggard? when wilt thou ariſe out of the ſlepe?

10 Yet a litle ſlepe, a litle ſlumber, [c] a litle folding of the hands to ſlepe.

11 Therefore thy pouertie cometh as one that [d] trauaileth by the waie, & thy neceſſitie like [e] an armed man.

12 The vnthriftie man [f] & the wicked man walketh with a frowarde mouth.

13 He maketh a ſigne with his eyes: he "ſigni fieth

a He forbiddeth vs not to become ſuretie one for another, accordig to the rule of charitie, but ỹ we cōſider for whome and after what ſort, ſo that the creditour may not be defrauded.

b If the word of God cā not inſtruct thee, yet learne at the littel piſmire to labour for thy ſelf and not to burden others. Chap. 24, 32.

c He expreſſeth liuely ỹ nature, of the ſlugga ds., ẅ thogh they ſlepe neuer ſo lōg yet haue neuer ynough, but euer ſeke occaſiōs thereunto.

d That is ſuddely, & when ỹ lokeſt not for it.

e It ſhal come in ſuch ſort as thou art not able to reſiſt it

f He ſheweth to what inconuenience the idle perſones & ſluggardes come, by calling them vnthriftie or the men of Belial & ſclāderous.

"Ebr. ſpraketh

g Thus all his geſture tēdeth to wickednes.

fieth with his fete: he ſ inſtructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewde things are in his heart: he imagineth euil at all times, and raiſeth vp contentions.

15 Therefore ſhal his deſtructiō come ſpedely: he ſhalbe deſtroyed ſuddenly without recouerie.

16 ¶ Theſe ſix things doeth the Lord hate: yea, his ſoule abhorreth ſeuen:

17 The hautie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that ſhede innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterpriſes, h fete that be ſwift in running to miſchief, h Meaning, the raging affections, which carie a man away in ſuche ſort that he cā not tel what he doeth

19 A falſe witnes that ſpeaketh lyes, & him that raiſeth vp cōtentions amōg brethrē.

*Or, neighbours

20 ¶ My ſonne, kepe thy fathers commandement, and forſake not thy mothers inſtruction.

i Read Chap 3.3

21 Binde them alway vpon thine i heart, and tye them about thy necke.

22 It ſhal leade thee, when thou walkeſt: it ſhal watch for thee, when thou ſlepeſt, and when thou wakeſt, it ſhal talke with thee.

k By the commandement I e meaneth the worde of God: & by the inſtruction, the preaching and declaration of the ſame, ẅ is cōmitted to ỹ Church

23 For the k commandement is a lanterne, and inſtruction a light: and l corrections for inſtruction are the waie of life, l And reprehēſions whē the worde is preached bring vs to life

24 To kepe thee from the wicked woman, & from the flatterie of the tongue of a ſtrange woman.

25 Deſire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her m eyeliddes.

m With her wanton lokes and geſture

26 For becauſe of the whooriſh womā a man is brought to a morſel of bread, & a woman wil hunte for the precious life of a man.

n Meaning, ỹ ſhe wil never ceaſe, til ſhe haue broght thee to beggerie, & thē ſeke thy deſtructiō

27 n Can a man take fyre in his boſome, & his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man go vpon coles, and his fete not be burnt?

o He approueth not theft, but ſheweth that it is not ſo abominable as whoredome, foraſmuche as theft might be redemed: but adulterie was a perpetual infamie, and death by the Law of God

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, ſhal not be innocent, whoſoeuer toucheth her.

p Meanīg, for very neceſſitie

30 Men do not o deſpiſe a thief, when he ſtealeth, to ſatiſfie his p ſoule, becauſe he is hungrie.

*Ebr. faileth in heart

31 But if he be founde, he ſhal reſtore ſeuen folde, or he ſhal giue all the ſubſtance of his houſe.

q That is, death appointed by ỹ Law

32 But he that committeth adulterie with a woman, he " is deſtitute of vnderſtanding: he ỹ doeth it, deſtroyeth his owne ſoule.

r He ſheweth that man by nature ſeketh his death, that hathe abuſed his wife, and ſo concludeth that neither Gods Law nor the law of nature admitteth any raunſome for the adulterie.

33 He ſhal finde q a wounde and diſhonour, & his reproche ſhal neuer be put away.

34 For ielouſie is ỹ rage of a man: therefore he wil not r ſpare in the day of vēgeance.

35 He can not beare the ſight of anie raunſome: nether wil he conſent, thogh thou augment the giftes.

Ebr. is the breath of a man

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortacion to wiſdome and to the worde of God, 5 Which wil preſerue vs from the harlot, 6 Whoſe maners are deſcribed.

1 MY ſonne, kepe my wordes, and hide my commandements with thee.

a By this diuerſitie of wordes he meaneth ỹ nothing ought to be ſo dere vnto vs, as the worde of God, nor ỹ we loke on any thing more, nor māde any thing ſo muche

2 Kepe my commandements, & thou ſhalt liue, and mine inſtruction as the a apple of thine eyes.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Saie vnto wiſdome, Thou art my ſiſter: and call vnderſtanding thy kinſwoman,

5 That they maie kepe thee from the ſtrange woman, euen from the ſtranger that is ſmothe in her wordes.

b Salomōn vſeth this parable to declare their folie, ỹ ſuffer thē ſelues to be abuſed by harlottes

6 ¶ b As I was in the windowe of mine houſe, I loked through my windowe, c He ſheweth that there was almoſt none ſo impudent, but they were afraid to be ſene, and alſo their owne cōſciences did accuſe them, which cauſed them to ſeke the night to couer their filthines

7 And I ſawe among the fooles, and conſidered among the children a yong man deſtitute of vnderſtanding,

8 Who paſſed through the ſtrete by her corner, and went toward her houſe,

9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be c blacke and darke.

*Or, garment.

10 And beholde, there met him a woman with an harlots * behauiour, and ' ſubtil in heart.

*Or, bird

d He deſcribeth certeine condicions, ẅ are peculiar to harlottes

11 (She d is babling and lowde: whoſe fete can not abide in her houſe.

12 Now ſhe is without, now in the ſtretes, & lieth in waite at euerie corner)

"Ebr. ſhe ſtrōgthened her face

13 So ſhe caught him & kiſſed him & " with an impudent face ſaid vnto him, e Becauſe that in peace offrings a portion returned to them, ỹ offred, ſhe ſheweth him that ſhe hath meat at home to make good chere with: or els ſhe wolde vſe ſome cloke of holines, til ſhe had goten him in her snares

14 I haue e peace offrings: this f day haue I paied my vowes.

f Which declareth that harlottes outwardly wil ſeme holie & religious: but be becauſe they may the better deceiue others, and alſo thinking by obſeruing of ceremonies & offrings to make ſatiſfactiō for their ſinnes

15 Therefore came I forthe to mete thee, ỹ I might ſeke thy face: & I haue foūde thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, ' carpets and laces of Egypt.

*Or, garued worke.

17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fil of loue vntil the mornīg: let vs take our pleaſure in daliāce.

"Ebr. in hu hād

19 For mine houſband is not at home: he is gone a iourney farre of.

g Which thinking he goeth to the paſture, goeth willigly to his owne deſtructiō 20 He hathe taken " with him a bagge of ſiluer, and wil come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft ſhe cauſed him to yelde, & with her flattering lippes ſhe entiſed him.

h Which goeth cheruſully, not knowing that he ſhalbe chaſtiſed

22 And he followed her ſtraightwaies, as an g oxe that goeth to the ſlaughter, & h as a foole to the ſtockes for correction,

"Eb. it is for his life.

23 Til a darte ſtrike through his liuer, as a birde haſteth to the ſnare, not knowing that " he is in danger.

24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, ô children, and hearken to the wordes of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her waies: wander thou not in her paths.

i Nether wil not ſtrength cā deliuer thē that fall into the hands of the harlot.

26 For ſhe hathe cauſed manie to fall downe wounded, and the i ſtrong men are all ſlayne by her.

27 Her houſe is the waie * vnto the graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

*Chap. 2. 18.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Wisdome declareth her excellẽcie. 11 Riches. 15 Power 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and followe her.

Chap. 1, 20.

1 DOeth not [a] wisdome crye? and vnderstanding vtter her voyce?
2 She standeth in the top of the high places by the way in the place of the paths.
3 She cryeth besides [b] the gates before the citie at the entrie of the dores,
4 O men, I call vnto you, and vtter my voice to the children of men.
5 O ye fooliſh men, vnderſtand wiſdome, and ye, ô fooles, be wiſe in heart.
6 Giue eare, for I wil ſpeake of excellent things, and the opening of my lippes ſhal teache things that be right.
7 For my mouth ſhal ſpeake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednes.
8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdenes, nor frowardenes in them.
9 Thei are all [c] plaine to him that wil vnderſtand, and ſtraight to them that wolde finde knowledge.
10 Receiue mine inſtruction, and not ſiluer, and knowledge rather then fine golde.
11 For wiſdome is better then precious ſtones: and all pleaſures are not to be compared vnto her.
12 I wiſdome dwell with [d] prudence, and I finde forthe knowledge and counſels.
13 The feare of the Lord is to hate [e] euil as pride, and arrogancie, and the euil waie: and a mouth that ſpeaketh lewde things, I do hate.
14 I haue counſel and wiſdome: I am vnderſtanding, & I haue ſtrength.
15 By me, Kings [f] reigne, and princes decree iuſtice.
16 By me princes rule and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.
17 I loue them that loue me: & thei that ſeke me [g] early, ſhal finde me.
18 Riches and honour are with me: [h] euen durable riches and righteouſnes.
19 My frute is better then golde, euen thẽ fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine ſiluer.
20 I cauſe to walke in the waie of righteouſnes, & in the middes of the paths of [i] iudgement, 21 That I maie cauſe them that loue me, to inherite ſubſtance, and I wil fil their treaſures.
22 The Lord hathe poſſeſſed me in the beginning of his waie: I was [k] before his workes of olde.
23 I was ſet vp from euerlaſting, from the beginning & before the earth.
24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abunding with water.
25 Before the mountaines were ſetled: & before the hilles, was I begotten.
26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the duſt in the worlde.
27 When he prepared the heauens, I was [l] there, when he ſet the compas vpon the depe.
28 When he eſtabliſhed the cloudes aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the depe, 29 When he gaue his decree to the ſea, that the waters ſhulde not paſſe his commandement: when he appointed the fundacions of the earth,
30 Then [m] was I with him as a nouriſher, and I was daily his delite reioycing alwaie before him, 31 And toke my [n] ſolace in the compaſſe of [o] his earth: & my delite is with the childrẽ of men.
32 Therefore now hearken, ô children, vnto me: for bleſſed are thei that kepe my waies.
33 Heare inſtruction, and be ye wiſe, & refuſe it not. bleſſed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, & giuing attendance at the poſtes of my dores.
34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and ſhal obteine fauour of the Lord.
35 But he that ſinneth againſt me, hurteth his owne ſoule: & all that hate me, loue death.

a Salomón declareth that man is cauſe of his owne perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorãce, for aſmuche as God calleth to all men by his worde, and by his workes to followe vertue and to flee frõ vice.
b Where the people did moſte reſort, and which was ỹ place of iuſtice.
c Meanig, that the worde of God is easie vnto all, that haue a deſire vnto it, & ẅ are not blinded by the prince of this worlde.
d That is, except a man haue wiſdome, ẅ is ỹ true knowledge of God, he can nether be prudent nor good counſeller
e So that he ỹ doeth not hate euil, feareth not God.
f Whereby he declareth that honors, dignitie or riches come not of mans wiſdome or induſtrie, but by the prouidẽce of God
g That is, ſtudie the worde of God diligently, and ẅ a deſire to profite.
h Signifying ỹ he chiefly meaneth the ſpiritual treaſures and heauenlie riches.
i For there can be no true iuſtice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wiſdome.
k He declareth hereby the diuinitie & eternitie of this wiſdome, ẅ he magnifieth and praiſeth through this booke: meaning thereby ỹ eternal Sonne of God Ieſus Chriſt our Sauiour, whome S. Iohn calleth the worde ỹ was in ỹ begining, Iohn. 1, 1.
l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is ment by this worde Wiſdome, who was before all time and euer preſent ẅ the Father.
m Some read a chief worker: ſignifying that this Wiſdome, euen Chriſt Ieſus, was equal ẅ God his Father, and created, preſerued and ſtil worketh ẅ him, as Ioh. 5, 17.
n Whereby is declared that the worke of ỹ creation was no peine, but a ſolace vnto the wiſdome of God.
o By earth, he meaneth man, which is the worke of God in whome wiſdome toke pleaſure: in ſomuche as for mans ſake ỹ Diuine Wiſdome toke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, & filled vs with vnſpeakeable treaſures: and this is that ſolace & paſſetime wherof is here ſpoken.

CHAP. IX.

2 Wiſdome calleth all to her feaſt. 7 The ſcorner wil not be corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The condicions of the harlot.

1 WIſdome hathe buylt her [a] houſe, & hewen out her [b] ſeuen pillers.
2 She hathe killed her vitailes, drawen her wine, and [c] prepared her table.
3 She hathe ſent forthe her [d] maidens and cryeth vpon the higheſt places of the citie, ſaying,
4 Whoſo is [e] ſimple, let him come hether, & to him ỹ is deſtitute of wiſdome, ſhe ſaith,
5 Come, & eat of my [f] meat, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawen.
6 Forſake your way, ye fooliſh, and ye ſhal liue: & walke in ỹ waie of vnderſtanding.
7 He that reproueth a ſcorner, purchaſſeth to him ſelf ſhame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth him ſelf [g] a blot.
8 Rebuke not a [h] ſcorner, leſt he hate thee: but rebuke a wiſe man, & he wil loue thee.
9 Giue admonicion to the wiſe, and he wil be the wiſer: teache a righteous man, & he wil increaſe in learning.
10 The beginning of wiſdome is ỹ feare of the Lord, & the knowledge of holy thigs, is vndera Chriſt hathe prepared him a Church.

b That is, many chief ſtaies and principal partes of his Church, as were the Patriarkes, Prophetes, Apoſtles, Paſtors & Doctors.
c He compareth wiſdome with great princes ỹ kepe opẽ houſe for all ỹ come.
d Meanig true preachers, ẅ are not infected with mãs wiſdome
e He that knoweth his owne ignorance and is voide of malice.
f By the meat and drinke, is ment the worde of God and the miniſtratiõ of the ſacramẽts, whereby God nourisheth his ſeruants in his houſe, ẅ-

15 ỹ Church. g For the wicked wil contemne him & labour to diffame him.
h Meaning, them that are incorrigible, which Chriſt calleth dogs & ſwine, or he ſpeaketh this in compariſon, not that ỹ wicked ſhuld not be rebuked, but he ſheweth their malice, and the ſmale hope of profite.

15 [1] vnderſtanding.
11 For thy dayes ſhalbe multiplied by me, and the yeres of thy life ſhalbe augmẽted.
12 If thou be wiſe, thou ſhalt be wiſe for [k] thy ſelf, and if thou be a ſcorner, thou alone ſhalt ſuffre.
13 ¶A [l] fooliſh woman is troubleſome: ſhe is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.
14 But ſhe ſitteth at the dore of her houſe on a ſeat in the hye places of the citie,
15 To call them that paſſe by the way, that go right on their way, ſaying,
16 Who ſo is ſimple, let him come hether, and to him that is deſtitute of wiſdome, ſhe ſaith alſo, 17 Stollen waters are ſwete, and hid bread is pleaſant.
18 But he knoweth not, that the dead are there, and that her gheſtes are in the depth of hel.

i He ſheweth what true vnderſtanding is, to know ỹ wil of God in his worde, ẃ is ment by holie things.
k Thou ſhalt haue the chief profite, and commoditie therof.
l By ỹ fooliſh woman, ſome vnderſtand, the wicked preachers, who cõterfait ỹ worde of God, as appeareth verſ. 16, ẃ were the wordes of the true pachers, as verſ. 4: but their doctrine is but as ſtollẽ waters: meaning that they are but mens tradi tions, which are more pleaſant to ỹ fleſh then ỹ worde of God and therefore they them ſelues boaſt thereof.

CHAP. X.

In this chapter and all that followe vnto the thirteth, the wiſe man exhorteth by diuers ſentences, which he calleth parables, to followe vertue, and flee vice and ſheweth alſo what profite cõmeth of wiſdome, & what hinderance proceadeth of fooliſhnes.

THE PARABLES OF SALOMON.

Chap 15,20. 1 A Wiſe [*] ſonne maketh a glad father: but a fooliſh ſonne is an heauines to his mother 2 The treaſures of wickednes [a] profite nothing: but righteouſnes deliuereth frõ death.
3 The Lord wil [b] not famiſh the ſoule of the righteous: but he caſteth away the ſubſtance of the wicked.
4 A [*]ſlouthful hand maketh poore: but the hand of the diligent maketh riche.
5 He that gathereth in ſommer, is the ſonne of wiſdome: but he that ſlepeth in harueſt, is the ſonne of confuſion.
6 Bleſsings are vpon the head of the righteous: but iniquitie ſhal couer the mouth of [c] the wicked.
7 The memorial of the iuſte ſhalbe bleſſed: but the name of the wicked ſhal [d] rotte.
8 The wiſe in heart wil receiue commãdemẽts: but the fooliſh in [*]talke ſhalbe beatẽ.
9 He that walketh vprightly, walketh [*]boldely: but he that peruerteth his waies, ſhal be knowen.
10 He that [e] winketh with the eye, worketh ſorowe, and he that is [f] fooliſh in talke, ſhalbe beaten.
11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well ſpring of life: but iniquitie couereth the mouth of the wicked.
12 Hatred ſtirreth vp contentions: [*]but loue couereth all treſpaſſes.
13 In the lippes of him that hathe vnderſtãding wiſdome is foũde, and [g] a rod ſhalbe for the backe of him that is deſtitute of wiſdome.
14 Wiſe men laye vp knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is a preſent deſtruction.
15 The riche mans goods are his [h] ſtrong citie: but the feare of the nedie is their pouertie.
16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: but the reuenues of the wicked to ſinne.
17 He that regardeth inſtruction, is in the way of life: but he that refuſeth correctiõ, goeth out of the way.
18 He that diſſembleth hatred with lying lippes, and he that inuenteth ſclandre, is a foole.
19 In manie wordes there can not wãt iniquitie: but he that refraineth his lippes, is wiſe.
20 The tongue of the iuſte man is as fined ſiluer: but the heart of the wicked is litle worthe.
21 The lippes of the righteous do [i] fede manie: but fooles ſhal dye for want of wiſdome.
22 The bleſsing of the Lord, it maketh riche, and he doeth adde [k] no ſorowes with it.
23 It is as a paſſe time to a foole to do wickedly: but wiſdome is vnderſtanding to a man.
24 That which the wicked feareth, ſhal come vpon him: but God wil grante the deſire of the righteous.
25 As the whirle winde paſſeth, ſo is the wicked no more: but the righteous is as an euerlaſting fundacion.
26 As vinegre is to ỹ teeth, and as ſmoke to the eyes, ſo is the ſlouthful to them that [l] ſend him.
27 The feare of the Lord increaſeth the dayes: but the yeres of the wicked [m] ſhalbe diminiſhed.
28 The pacient abiding of the righteous ſhalbe gladnes: but the hope of the wicked ſhal periſh.
29 The way of the Lord is ſtrength to the vpright mã: but feare ſhalbe for the workers of iniquitie.
30 The righteous ſhal [n] neuer be remoued: but the wicked ſhal not dwell in the land.
31 The mouth of the iuſte ſhalbe fruteful in wiſdome: but the tongue of the frowarde ſhal be cut out.
32 The lippes of the righteous knowe what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked ſpeaketh frowarde things.

a For they ſpeake truth and exerciſe manie by exhortations, admonition and counſel.
k Meaning, ỹ all worldelie things bring care, & ſorow, where as they that feele the bleſsings of God, haue none.
l He is but a trouble, and griefe to him ỹ ſetteth him about anie buſines.
m The time of their proſperitie ſhalbe ſhort, becauſe of their great fall, though thei ſeme to liue long.
n They enioye in this life by faith, and hope their euerlaſting life.
a Vnder this worde he condẽneth all falſe weights, meaſures and decett.
*Ebr. ſtone.
b When man forgetteth him ſelf, and thinketh to be exalted aboue his vocation, then God bringeth him to confuſiõ

CHAP. XI.

1 FAlſe [a] balances are an abominacion vnto the Lord: but a perfite "weight pleaſeth him.
2 When pride cometh, then cometh [b] ſhame: but with the lowlie is wiſdome.

3 The vprightenes of the iuſte ſhal guide them: but the frowardnes of the tranſgreſſers ſhal deſtroye them.

Ezek.7.19. ecclef 5,10. 4 *Riches auaile not in the day of wrath: but righteouſnes deliuereth from death.

5 The righteouſnes of the vpright ſhal direct his way: but the wicked ſhal fall in his owne wickednes.

6 The righteouſnes of the iuſte ſhal deliuer them: but the tranſgreſſers ſhalbe take in their owne wickednes.

Wiſd.5,15. 7 *When a wicked man dyeth, his hope periſheth, and the hope of the vniuſt ſhal periſh.

8 The righteous eſcapeth out of trouble, & the wicked ſhal come in his [c] ſtead.

c That is, ſhal enter into trouble.

9 An [d] hypocrite with his mouth hurteth his neighbour: but the righteous ſhalbe deliuered by knowledge.

d A diſſembler that pretedeth friendſhip, but is a priuie enemie.

10 In the proſperitie of the righteous the citie [e] reioyceth, and when the wicked periſh, there is ioye.

e The coũtrey is bleſſed, where there is godlie men, & they ought to reioyce, when the wicked are take away.

11 By the [f] bleſsing of ỹ righteous, the citie is exalted: but it is ſubuerted by the mouth of the wicked.

f Or, proſperitie.

12 He that deſpiſeth his neighbour, is deſtitute of wiſdome: but a man of vnderſtanding wil [f] kepe ſilence.

f Wil not make light report of others.

13 He that goeth about as a ſclãderer, diſcouereth a ſecret: but he that is of a faithful heart, conceileth a matter.

14 Where no counſel is, the people fall: but where manie [g] counſelers are, there is health.

g Where God giueth ſtore of men of wiſdome, and counſel

15 He ſhal be ſore vexed, that is ſuretie for a [h] ſtranger, and he [i] that hateth ſuretieſhip, is ſure.

h Whoſe conuerſation he knoweth not i He ỹ doeth not without iudgement, and conſideratiõ of the circumſtãces put him ſelf in danger, as Chap 6,1.

16 A [g] gracious woman atteineth honour, & the ſtrong men atteine riches.

g Or, made ſt

17 He that is merciful, [k] rewardeth his owne ſoule: but he that troubleth his owne [l] fleſh, is cruel.

k Is bothe good to him ſelf, and to o-

18 The wicked worketh a diſceitful wõrke: but he that ſoweth righteouſnes, ſhal receiue a ſure rewarde.

l Or, neighbour.

19 As righteouſnes leadeth to life: ſo he that followeth euil, ſeketh his owne death.

20 They that are of a froward heart, are abomination to the Lord: but they that are vpright in their way, are his delite.

I Thogh they make neuer ſo manie friends, nor thinke thẽ ſelues neuer ſo ſure, yet they ſhal not eſcape.

21 [l] Though hand ioyne in hãd, the wicked ſhal not be vnpuniſhed: but the ſede of the righteous ſhal eſcape.

m Or, in of vnſeemely behauiour

22 As a iewel of golde in a ſwines ſnoute: ſo is a faire woman, which [m] lacketh diſcretiõ.

m They cã loke for nothing but Gods vengeance

23 The deſire of the righteous is onely good: but the hope of the wicked [n] is indignacion.

n Meaning thẽ, that giue liberally, whome God bleſſeth.

24 There is that ſcatereth, [o] and is more increaſed: but he that ſpareth more [o] then is right, ſurely cometh to pouertie.

o That is, the niggard

25 The [p] liberal perſone ſhal haue plentie: and he that watereth, ſhal alſo haue raine.

p Ebr. the ſoule of bleſſing ſhalbe made fat.

26 He that withdraweth the corne, the people wil curſe him: but bleſsing ſhal be vpon the head of him that [q] ſelleth corne.

q That prouideth for ỹ vſe of them that are in neceſsitie.

27 He that ſeketh good things, getteth fauour: but he that ſeketh euil, it ſhal come to him.

28 He that truſteth in his riches, ſhal fall: but the righteous ſhal floriſh as a leafe.

29 He that troubleth his owne [r] houſe, ſhal inherite ỹ winde, and the foole ſhalbe [s] ſeruant to the wiſe in heart.

r The coueto men ỹ ſpare their riches to the hinderance of their families, ſhalbe depriued thereof miſerably.

s For thogh ỹ wicked be riche, yet are thei but ſclaues to ỹ godlie, vẽ are the true poſſeſſers of ỹ giftes of God.

30 The fiute of the righteous is as a tre of life, and he that [t] winneth ſoules, is wiſe.

t That is, bringeth them to the knowledge of God.

31 Beholde, the righteous ſhalbe [u] recompenſed in the earth: how muche more the wicked and the ſinner?

u Shal be puniſhed as he deſerueth, as 1 Pet 4,18.

CHAP. XII.

1 HE that loueth inſtructiõ, loueth knowledge: but he that hateth correction, is a foole.

2 A good man getteth fauoure of the Lord: but the man of wicked imaginacions wil he condemne.

3 A man can not be eſtabliſhed by wickednes: but the [a] roote of the righteous ſhal not be moued.

a They are ſo grounded in ỹ fauour or God, that their rote ſhal proſper continually

4 A [b] verteous woman is the crowne of her houſband: but ſhe that maketh him aſhamed, is as corruption in his bones.

b Ebr ſtrong or peruſal.

5 The thoghts of the iuſte are right: but the counſels of the wicked are diſceitful.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the righteous wil [c] deliuer them.

b As their conſcience is vpright, ſo ſhal they be able to ſpeake for them ſelues againſt their accuſers.

7 God ouerthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the houſe of ỹ righteous ſhal ſtand.

8 A man ſhalbe commended for his wiſdome: but the froward of heart ſhalbe deſpiſed.

9 He that is deſpiſed, [d] and is his owne ſeruant, is better thẽ he that boaſteth him ſelf and lacketh bread.

c The poore man that is cõtemned, & yet liueth of his owne trauail.

10 A righteous man [e] regardeth the life of his beaſt: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

d Is merciful, euen to the very beaſt that doeth him ſeruice.

11 *He that tilleth his land, ſhal be ſatiſfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is deſtitute of [f] vnderſtanding.

Chap 28,19. eccleſ 20,30.

f Or, defaute

12 The wicked deſireth the [g] net of euils: but the [h] roote of the righteous giueth frute.

e Continually imagineth meanes how to do harme to others.

f Meanig, their heart with in, which is vpright, and doeth good to all.

13 The euil man is ſnared by the wickednes of his lippes, but the iuſt ſhal come out of aduerſitie.

14 A man ſhal be ſatiate with good things by the frute of his mouth, and the recompenſe of a mans hands ſhal God giue vnto him.

15 The way of a foole is [i] right in his owne eyes: but he that heareth counſel, is wiſe.

g He ſtandeth in his owne cõceit, and condemneth all others in reſp & of him ſelf.

16 A foole in a day ſhal be knowen by his angre:

h Which ordeleth his affections.

angre: but he h that couereth ſhame, is wiſe.

17 He that ſpeaketh trueth, wil ſhewe righteouſnes: but a falſe witnes vſeth diſceit.

Chap 14.5. i Which ſeke nothing more then to prouoke others to angre

18 *There is that ſpeaketh wordes like the prickings of i a ſworde: but the tongue of wiſe men is health.

19 The lippe of trueth ſhalbe ſtable for euer: but a lying tongue vaneth incontinently.

20 Diſceit is in the heart of them that imagine euil: but to the counſeilers of peace ſhalbe ioye.

21 There ſhal none iniquitie come to the iuſte: but the wicked are ful of euil.

22 The lying lippes are an abomination to the Lord: but they that deale truely are his delite.

23 A wiſe man conceileth knowledge: but ỹ heart of the fooles publiſheth fooliſhnes.

Chap 10.4. 24 *The hand of the diligent ſhal beare rul: but the idle ſhalbe vnder tribute.

25 Heauines in the heart of mā doeth bring it downe: but a k good worde reioyceth it.

k That is, wordes of cõfort, or a cheretul minde, which as declared by his wordes, reioyceth a mā, as a couetous minde killeth him

26 The righteous l is more excellent then his neighbour: but the way of the wicked wil diſceiue them.

l That is, more liberal in giuing

27 The diſceitful man roſteth not, that he m toke in hunting: but the riches of the diligent man are precious.

m Although he get muche by vnlawful meanes, yet wil he not ſpend it vpon him ſelf

28 Life is in the way of righteouſnes, and in that pathway there is no death.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A Wiſe ſonne wil obey the inſtruction of his father: but a ſkorner wil heare no rebuke.

2 A man ſhal eat good things by the frute a of his mouth: but the ſoule of the treſpaſſers ſhal ſuffer violence.

a If he vſe his tõgue to Gods glorie, and the profite of his neighbour, God ſhal bleſſe him

3 He that kepeth his mouthe, keepeth his life: but he that openeth his lippes, deſtruction ſhalbe to him.

b He euer deſireth, but taketh no peines to get anie thing.

4 The ſluggarde b luſteth, but his ſoule hathe nought: but the ſoule of the diligent ſhal haue plentie.

5 A righteous man hateth lying wordes: but the wicked cauſeth ſclander and ſhame.

6 Righteouſnes preſerueth the vpright of "life: but wickednes ouerthroweth the ſinner.

"Or, way.

7 There is that maketh him ſelf riche, and hathe nothing, & that maketh him ſelf poore, hauing great riches.

c For his pouertie, he is not able to eſcape the threatings, which ſecret oppreſſers vſe a gainſt him.

8 A mā wil giue his riches for the raūſome of his life: but the poore c cā not heare the reproche.

9 The light of the righteous reioyceth: but the candle of the wicked ſhalbe put out.

d Whē euerie man cõtenteth to haue ỹ preeminēce, & wil not giue place to another 10 *Onely by pride d doeth man make contention: but with the wel aduiſed is wiſdome.

e That is, goods euil gotten f That is, with his owne labour

11 The e riches of vanitie ſhal diminiſh: but he that gathereth with f the hand, ſhal increaſe them.

12 The hope that is differred, is the fainting of the heart: but when the deſire cometh, it is as a tree of life.

g Meaning, wordes of God, whereby he is admoniſhed of his duetie.

13 He that diſpiſeth g the worde, he ſhalbe deſtroied: but he that feareth the commādement, he ſhal be rewarded.

14 The inſtruction of a wiſe man is as the well ſpring of life, to turne away from the ſnares of death.

15 Good vnderſtading maketh acceptable: but the way of the diſobedient is hated.

16 Euerie wiſe man wil worke by knowledge: but a foole wil ſpread abroad follie.

Chap 25.25. h Straūger's mā me incō uenīēces borne to him ſelfe and to others

17 *A wicked meſſenger falleth h into euil: but a faithful ambaſſadour is preſeruation.

18 Pouertie and ſhame is to him that refuſeth inſtructiō but he that regardeth correction, ſhal be honored.

19 A deſire accõpliſhed delighteth the ſoule: but it is an abominatiō to fooles to departe from euil.

20 He that walketh with the wiſe, ſhalbe wiſe: but a companion of fooles ſhalbe i afflicted.

i As he is partaker of their wickednes & ſtarueth with their vices, ſo ſhal he be puniſhed alike as they are 21 Afflictiō followeth ſinners: but vnto the righteous God wil recompenſe good.

k Read Iob. 27.16

22 The good mā ſhal giue inheritance vnto his childrens children: and the k riches of the ſinner is laied vp for the iuſte.

l God bleſſeth the labour of the poore & cōſumeth their goods, which are negligent, becauſe thei thinke thei haue vnough. Chap. 23.13. eccle 30.1.

23 Muche foode is in the field of the l poore: but the field is deſtroyed without diſcretiō.

24 *He ỹ ſpareth his rod, hateth his ſonne: but he that loueth him, chaſteneth him betime.

25 The righteous eateth to the contentatiō of his minde: but the bellie of the wicked ſhal want.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 A Wiſe woman a buyldeth her houſe: but the fooliſh deſtroieth it with her owne hands.

a That is, taketh peine to profite her familie and to do that which concerneth her duetie in her houſe

2 *He that walketh in his b righteouſnes, feareth the Lord: but he that is lewde in his waies, deſpiſeth him.

Ioh 12.4. b That is in vprightnes of heart and without hypocriſie

3 In the mouth of the fooliſh is the c rodde of pride: but the lippes of the wiſe preſerue them.

c His proude tongue ſhal cauſe him to be puniſhed

4 Where none d oxen are, there the crib is emptie: but muche increaſe cometh by the ſtrength of the oxe.

d By the oxe is ment labour, and by ỹ cribbe the barne meaning, without labour there is no profite

5 A faithful witnes wil not lye: but a falſe record wil ſpeake lyes.

6 A ſcorner e ſeketh wiſdome, and findeth it not: but knowledge is eaſie to him that wil vnderſtand.

e For ỹ maintenance of his owne ambitiō and not for Gods glorie, as Simon magus.

7 Departe from the fooliſh man, when thou perceiueſt not in him the lippes of knowledge.

8 The wiſdome of the prudent is to vnderſtand his way: but the fooliſhnes of the fooles is diſceit.

f Doeth not knowe ỹ grieuouſnes therof nor Gods iudgemẽts againſt the ſame.

9 The foole maketh a mocke f of ſinne: but among the righteous there is fauour.

g As a mans conſcience is witnes of his owne grief: ſo another cã not feele the ioye and comforte, which a man feeleth in him ſelf. Chap.16,25.

10 The heart knoweth the g bitternes of his ſoule, and the ſtranger ſhal not medle with his ioye.

11 The houſe of ỹ wicked ſhalbe deſtroyed: but the tabernacle of the righteous ſhal floriſh.

12 * There is a way which ſemeth right to a man: but the yſſues thereof are the wayes of death.

13 Euen in laughing the heart is ſorowful, h and the end of that mirth is heauines.

h He ſheweth that the allureмẽt vnto ſinne ſemeth ſweete, but the end thereof is deſtruction

14 The heart that declineth, i ſhalbe ſaciate with his owne wayes: but a good man ſhal departe from him.

i He that forſaketh God, ſhal be punniſhed, and made wearie of his ſinnes wherein he delited.

15 The fooliſh wil beleue euerie thing: but the prudent wil conſider his ſteppes.

16 A wiſe man feareth, and departeth from euil: but a foole rageth, and is careles.

17 He that is haſtie to angre, committeth folie, and a "buſie bodie is hated.

"Ebr. the mã of imaginations.

18 The fooliſh do inherite folie: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.

19 The euil ſhal bowe before the good, and the wicked k at the gates of the righteous.

k If this come not daiely to paſſe, we muſte cõſider that it is becauſe of our ſinnes, ỹ let Gods working.

20 The poore is hated euen of his owne neighbour: but the friends of the riche are manie.

21 The ſinner deſpiſeth his neighbour: but he that hathe mercie on the poore, is bleſſed.

22 Do not they erre that imagine euil? but to them that thinke on good things, ſhalbe mercie, and trueth.

23 In all labour there is abundance: but the talke of the lippes bringeth onely want.

24 The crowne of the wiſe is their riches, & the folie of fooles is fooliſhnes.

25 A faithful witnes deliuereth ſoules: but a diſceiuer ſpeaketh lies.

26 In ỹ feare of ỹ Lord is an aſſured ſtrẽgth, and his children ſhal haue hope.

27 The feare of the Lord is as a well ſpring of life, to auoide the ſnares of death.

l That is, the ſtrength of a king ſtandeth in manie people.

28 In the multitude of the l people is the honour of a King, and for the want of people cometh the deſtruction of the prince.

29 He that is ſlowe to wrath, is of great wiſdome: but he that is of an haſtie minde, exalteth folie.

"Or, bodie.

30 A ſound heart is the life of the "fleſh: but enuie is the rotting of the bones.

Chap.27,22.

31 *He that oppreſſeth the poore, reproueth him that made him: but he honoreth him that hathe mercie on the poore.

32 The wicked ſhalbe caſt away for his malice: but the righteous hathe hope k in his death.

m For ſo ſone as thei are convict thereby, and put to ſilence.

33 Wiſdome reſteth in the heart of him that hathe vnderſtanding, and is knowen m in the middes of fooles.

34 Iuſtice exalteth a nation, ' but ſinne is a ſhame to the people.

'Or, & the mercie of the people is a ſacrifice for ſinne.

35 The pleaſure of a King is in a wiſe ſeruãt: but his wrath ſhalbe toward him that is lewde.

CHAP. XV.

1 A * Soft anſwer putteth away wrath: but grieuous wordes ſtirre vp angre. Chap.25,15.

2 The tongue of the wiſe vſeth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fooles * baBleth out fooliſhnes. Verſ 28.

3 The eyes of the Lord in euerie place beholde the euil and the good.

4 A wholſome tongue is as a tre of life: but the frowardnes thereof is the breaking of the minde.

5 A foole deſpiſeth his fathers inſtructiõ: but he that regardeth correctiõ, is prudẽt.

6 The houſe of the righteous hathe muche treaſure: but in the reuenues of the wicked is a trouble.

a For though thei haue muche, yet it is ful of trouble & care.

7 The lippes of the wiſe do ſpread abroad knowledge: but the heart of the fooliſh doeth not ſo.

8 The b ſacrifice of the wicked is abomination to the Lord: but the praier of ỹ righteous is acceptable vnto him.

b That thing is abominable before God, ỹ the wicked thinke to be moſte excellẽt, and whereby thei thinke moſte to be accepted.

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination vnto the Lord: but he loueth him ỹ followeth righteouſnes.

10 Inſtructiõ is euil to him that c forſaketh the way, & he ỹ hateth correctiõ, ſhal dye.

c He that ſwarueth from the worde of God, can not abide to be admoniſhed.

11 dHel & deſtruction are before the Lord: how much more the hearts of the ſonnes of men?

d There is nothing ſo depe, or ſecret that can be hid frõ the eyes of God, much leſſe mẽs thoghts Chap. 17, 22.

12 A ſcorner loueth not him that rebuketh him, nether wil he go vnto the wiſe.

13 * A ioyful heart maketh a chereful countenance: but by the ſorow of the heart the minde is heauie.

14 The heart of him that hathe vnderſtanding, ſeketh knowledge: but the mouth of the foole is fed with fooliſhnes.

15 All ỹ daies of the afflicted are euil: but a good "conſcience is a continual feaſt.

"Ebr. heart.

16 *Better is a litle with ỹ feare of the Lord, thẽ great treaſure and trouble therewith. Pſal. 37,16.

17 Better is a dinner of grene herbes where loue is, then a ſtalled oxe and hatred therewith.

18 *An angrie man ſtirreth vp ſtrife: but he that is ſlowe to wrath, appeaſeth ſtrife. Chap. 29, 22.

19 The way of a ſlouthful man is as an hedge of e thornes: but the way of ỹ righteous is plaine.

e That is, he euer findeth ſome let or ſtay, and dare not go forward. Chap. 10, 1.

20 *A wiſe ſonne reioyceth the father: but a fooliſh man deſpiſeth his mother.

21 Fooliſhnes is ioye to him that is deſtitute of vnderſtanding: but a man of vnderſtanding walketh vprightly.

22 Without counſel thoghtes come to nought: but f in the multitude of counſellers there is ſtedfaſtnes.

f Read Chap. 11, 14.

23 A ioye cometh to a man by the answer of his mouth: and how good is a worde g in due season?

g If we wil ỹ our talke be cõfortable, we muste waite for time and season.

24 The waie of life is on high to the prudẽt, to auoide from hel beneth.

25 The Lord wil destroy the house of the proude men: but he wil stablish the borders of the widowe.

26 The thoghts of the wicked are abominatiõ to the Lord: but the pure haue h pleasant wordes.

h That is, holsome and profitable to the hearers.

27 He ỹ is gredie of gaine, troubleth his owne house: but he ỹ hateth giftes, shal liue.

i That suffreth him self to be admonished by Gods worde, ẅ bringeth life: and so amendeth

28 The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but ỹ wicked mans mouth bableth euil things.

k Meanig, that God exalteth none, but them that are truely humbled

29 The Lord is farre of from the wicked: but he heareth the praier of ỹ righteous.

30 The light of ỹ eies reioyceth the heart, & a good name maketh the bones fat.

Chap. XVI.

a He derideth ỹ presumptiõ of man, who dare attribute to him self a nie thing, as to prepare his heart or suche like, seing that he is not able to speake a worde, except God giue it hi.

31 The eare that hearkeneth to the l correction of life, shal lodge among the wise.

32 He that refuseth instruction, despiseth his owne soule: but he that obeieth correction, getteth vnderstanding.

33 The feare of the Lord is the instructiõ of wisdome: & before honour goeth k humilitie.

CHAP. XVI.

b He sheweth hereby, that man flattereth him self in his doings: callig that vertue ẅ God termeth vice.

1 THe a preparations of the heart are in man: but the answer of the tongue is of the Lord.

"Ebr. role.

2 All the waies of a mã are b cleane in his owne eies: but the Lord põdereth ỹ spirits.

c So that the iustice of God shal appeare to his glorie, euẽ in the destruction of the wicked.

3 "Cõmit thy workes vnto the Lord, & thy thoghts shal be directed.

Chap. 11, 21.

4 The Lord hathe made all things for his owne sake: yea, euẽ the wicked for the day of c euil.

d Their vpright and repenting life shal be a tokẽ that their sinnes are forgiuen.

5 All that are proude in heart, are an abomination to the Lord: thogh *hand ioyne in hand, he shal not be vnpunished.

Chap. 15, 16.

Psal. 37, 16.

6 By d mercie and trueth iniquitie shalbe forgiuẽ, and by the feare of the Lord they departe from euil.

e He sheweth the folie of mã ẅ thinketh ỹ his waies are in his owne hand: & yet is not able to remoue one fote except God giue force.

7 When the waies of a man please ỹ Lord, he wil make also his enemies at peace with him.

8 *Better is a litle with righteousnes, then great reuenues without equitie.

Chap. 15, 1.

9 The heart of mã e purposeth his way: but the Lord doeth direct his steppes.

f If they be true and iuste, then are Gods worke & he deliuereth therein, but otherwise if they be falſe, then are the worke of the deuil, and to their condẽnation that vse them.

10 A diuine sentence shalbe in the lippes of the King: his mouth shal not transgresse in iudgement.

11 *A true weight and balance are of the Lord: all the weights of the bagge are his f worke.

12 It is an abomination to Kings to commit wickednes: for the throne is stablished g by iustice.

g They are appointed by God to rule according to equitie and iustice.

13 Righteous lippes are the delite of Kigs, and the King loueth him that speaketh right things.

14 The wrath of a King is as h messengers of death: but a wise man wil pacifie it.

h That is, he findeth out mane meanes to execute his wrath.

15 In the light of the Kings countenance is life: and his fauour is i as a cloude of the latter raine.

i Which is more cõfortable to the dry ground, Deu. 11, 14.

16 *How muche better is it to get wisdome then golde? and to get vnderstanding, is more to be desired then siluer.

Chap. 8, 10.

17 The path of the righteous is to decline from euil, & he kepeth his soule, that kepeth his way.

18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an high minde before the fall.

19 Better it is to be of humble mind with the lowlie, then to deuide the spoiles with the proude.

20 He that is wise in his busines, shal finde good: and *he that trusteth in the Lord, he is blessed.

Psal. 125, 1.

21 The wise in heart shalbe called prudẽt: & k the swetenes of the lippes shal increase doctrine.

k The swete wordes, cõsolation, ẅ come forthe of a godlie heart, rather that ỹ the wicked teache others, or els it is folie to teache them that are malicious.

22 Vnderstanding is a well sprig of life vnto them that haue it: and the l instruction of fooles is folie.

23 The heart of the wise guideth his mouth wisely, and addeth doctrine to his lippes.

24 Faire wordes are as an honie combe, swetenes to the soule, & health to the bones.

25 *There is a way that semeth right vnto man: but the ysslue thereof are the waies of death.

Chap. 14, 12.

26 The persone that trauaileth, trauaileth for him self: for his mouth "craueth it of him.

"Ebr. bowrth vp on him.

27 A wicked man diggeth vp euil, and in his lippes is like m burning fyre.

m For he cõsumeth him self and others.

28 A froward persone soweth strife: and a tale teller maketh diuision among princes.

n With his whole indeuour he laboureth to bring his wickednes to passe.

29 A wicked man disceiueth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

o That is, whẽ it is ioyned ẅ vertue ore's thẽ elees that ỹ wicked are, the more thei are to be abhorred.

30 n He shutteth his eyes to deuise wickednes: he moueth his lippes, & bringeth euil to passe.

31 Age is a crowne of glorie, when it is founde in the way of o righteousnes.

p So that there is nothing ỹ oght to be attribute to fortune for all things are determined in ỹ counsel of God which shal come to passe.

32 He that is slowe vnto angre, is better thẽ the mightie man: and he that ruleth his owne minde, is better then he that winneth a citie.

Chap. XVII.

33 The lot is cast into the lappe: but the whole disposition thereof is p of the Lord.

CHAP. XVII.

1 BEtter is a drye morsel, if peace be with it, then an house ful of a sacrifices with strife.

a For ẅ here as were manie sacrifices, there were manie portions giuen to the people, wherewith thei feasted.

2 *A discrete seruant shal haue rule ouer a lewde sonne, and he shal deuide the b heritage among the brethren.

Eccle. 10, 30.

b That is, shal be made gouernour ouer the children.

3 As is ỹ fining pot for ſiluer, & the fornace for golde, ſo the Lord tryeth ỹ hearts.
4 The wicked giueth hede to falſe lippes, & a lyer hearkeneth to the naughtie tongue.
Chap.14.31. 5 *He that mocketh the poore, reprocheth him, that made him: and he that reioyceth at deſtruction, ſhal not be vnpuniſhed.
6 Childrens children are the crowne of ỹ elders: and the glorie of the children are their fathers.
Hebr. the lippe of excellencie. 7 *Hie talke becõmeth not a foole, muche leſſe a lying talke a prince.
8 A rewarde is as a ſtone pleaſant in the eyes of thẽ that haue it: it proſpereth, whether ſoeuer it c turneth.
c The reward hathe great force to gaine ỹ hearts of men.
9 He that couereth a tranſgreſsion, ſeketh loue: but he that repeateth a matter, ſeparateth the d prince.
d He that admoniſheth the prince of his faute, maketh him his enemie.
10 A reproſe entreth more into him that hathe vnderſtanding, then an hundreth ſtripes into a foole.
11 A ſedicious perſone ſeketh onely euil, & a cruel e meſſenger ſhal be ſent againſt him.
e By the meſſenger is mẽt ſuche meanes, as God vſeth to puniſh the rebelles.
12 It is better for a mã to mete a beare robbed of her whelpes, then f a foole in his folie.
ỹ Whereby he meaneth the wicked in his rage, who hathe no feare of God.
Rom.12,17. 1.theſſ.5,15. 1.pet.3,9. Iſa.5,23. Chap.24,24.
13 *He that rewardeth euil for good, euil ſhal not departe from his houſe.
14 The beginning of ſtrife is as one that openeth the waters: therefore or the contention be medled with, leaue of.
15 *He that iuſtifieth the wicked, and he ỹ condemneth the iuſt, euen thei bothe are abominacion to the Lord.
16 Wherefore is there a g price in the hand of the foole to get wiſdome, and he hathe none heart?
g What auaileth it the wicked to be riche, ſeing he ſetteth not his minde to wiſdome?
17 A friend loueth at all times: and h a brother is borne for aduerſitie.
h So that he is more then a friend, euen a brother ỹ helpeth in time of aduerſitie.
18 A man deſtitute of vnderſtanding i toucheth the hand, and becometh ſuretie for his neighbour.
i Read Chap. 6,1
19 He loueth trãſgreſsiõ, that loueth ſtrife: and he that exalteth his k gate, ſeketh deſtruction.
k Liſteth vp hĩſelf aboue his degre.
20 The frowarde heart findeth no good: and he that hathe a naughtie tongue, ſhal fall into euil.
21 He that begetteth a foole, getteth him ſelf ſorowe, and the father of a foole can haue no ioye.
Chap.15,13. 22 *A ioyful heart cauſeth good health: but a forowful minde dryeth the bones.
ỹ That is, ſecretly & out of the boſome of the riche.
23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the l boſome to wreſt the waies of iudgement.
Eccl.20,14. & 41.
24 * Wiſdome is in the face of him that hathe vnderſtanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the m corners of the worlde.
m That is, wander to & fro & ſeke not after wiſdome.
25 A fooliſh ſonne is a grief vnto his father, and a * heauines to her that bare him.
Chap.10,1.
26 Surely it is not good to condemne the iuſte, nor that the princes ſhulde ſmite ſuche n for equitie.
n For their wel doing.
27 He that hathe knowledge, ſpareth his wordes, and a man of vnderſtanding is of an excellent ſpirit.
28 Euen a foole (when he holdeth his peace) is counted wiſe, and he that ſtoppeth his lippes, prudent.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 FOr the deſire thereof he wil a ſeparate him ſelf to ſeke it, & occupie him ſelf in all wiſdome.
a He ỹ loueth wiſdome, wil ſeparate him ſelf from all impediments, and giue him ſelf wholly to ſeke it.
2 A foole hathe no delite in vnderſtanding: but that his heart may be b diſcouered.
b That is, that he may talke licencioſly of whatſoeuer cõmeth to minde.
3 When the wicked commeth, then commeth c contempt, and with the vile man reproche.
c Meaning, ſuche one as cõtemneth all others 4 The wordes of a mans mouth are like depe d waters, & the well ſpring of wiſdome is like a flowing riuer.
d Which can neuer be drawne ẽptie, but bring euer profite.
5 It is not good to e accept the perſone of the wicked, to cauſe the righteous to fall in iudgement.
e That is, to fauour him & ſupport him.
6 A fooles lippes come with ſtrife, and his mouth calleth for ſtripes.
f Their are ſone beleued & enter moſt depely.
7 A fooles mouth is his owne deſtruction, and his lippes are a ſnare for his ſoule.
8 The wordes of a tale bearer are as flatterings, and thei go downe into f the bowels of the bellie.
g He ſheweth what is the refuge of ỹ godlie againſt all troubles.
Chap.10,15. Chap.16,18. Eccle.11,3.
9 He alſo that is ſlouthful in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waſter.
h The minde can wel beare the infirmitie of the bodie, but when the ſpirit is wounded, it is a thig moſte hard to ſuſteine.
10 The Name of the Lord is a ſtrong towre: the righteous runneth g vnto it, and is exalted.
i Getteth him liberte to ſpeake, & fauour of them that are moſte in eſtimation.
11 *The riche mans riches are his ſtrong citie: and as an hie wall in his imagination.
12 * Before deſtruction the heart of a man is hautie, and before glorie goeth lowlines.
k He that ſpeaketh firſt, is beſt heard of ỹ wicked iudge, but when his aduerſarie inquireth out ỹ matter, it turneth to his ſhame.
13 *He that anſwereth a matter before he heare it, it is folie and ſhame vnto him.
14 The ſpirit of a man wil ſuſteine his infirmitie: but h a wounded ſpirit, who can beare it?
l If a controuerſie can not otherwiſe be decided, it is beſt to caſt lottes: to knowe whoſe ỹ thing ſhalbe.
15 A wiſe heart getteth knowledge, and the eare of the wiſe ſeketh learning.
16 A mans gift i enlargeth him, and leadeth him before great men.
m Appeaſeth their controuerſie, ẅ are ſo ſtoute that can not otherwiſe be pacified.
17 k He that is firſt in his owne cauſe, is iuſt: then cometh his neighbour, and maketh inquirie of him.
18 The lot l cauſeth contentions to ceaſe, & m maketh a particion among the mighty.
n Which for ỹ ſtrength thereof wil not bowe nor yelde.
19 A brother offended is harder to winne then a ſtrong citie, & their contentions are like the n barre of a palace.
20 With the fruite of a mans mouthe ſhal his

his belly be ſatiſfied & with the increaſe of his lippes ſhal he be filled.

o By the vſing of the tongue wel or euil, cometh the frute thereof either good or bad 21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that o loue it, ſhal eat the frute thereof.

p He that is ioyned with a vertuous woman in mariage, is bleſſed of ỹ Lord, as Chap 19,14

22 He that findeth a P wife, findeth a good thing, and receiueth fauour of the Lord.

23 The poore ſpeaketh with prayers: but the riche anſwereth roughly.

q That is, otte times ſuche are foũd ẏ are more readie to do pleaſure thẽ he ỹ is more bounde by due tie

24 A man that hathe friẽds, ought to ſhewe him ſelf friendly: for a friend is nerer q then a brother.

CHAP. XIX.

1 BEtter* is ỹ poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that abuſeth his lippes, and is a foole.

Chap.28,6.

2 For without knowledge the minde is not good, and he that haſteth with his fete, ſinneth.

3 The fooliſhnes of a man peruerteth his way, & his heart freateth againſt ỹ Lord.

4 Riches gather manie friends: but the poore is ſeparated from his neighbour.

Deu.19,19. dan.13,60.

5 *A falſe witnes ſhal not be vnpuniſhed: & he that ſpeaketh lies, ſhal not eſcape.

6 Manie reuerence the face of the prince, & euerie man is friend to him that giueth gifres.

7 All ỹ brethren of the poore do hate him: how muche more wil his friends departe farre from him? thogh he be inſtant r with wordes, yet they wil not.

r To haue cõfort of them

b He that is vpright in mẽgemẽt, findeth fauour of God

8 He ỹ poſſeſſeth vnderſtanding, b loueth his owne ſoule, & kepeth wiſdome to finde goodnes.

9 A falſe witnes ſhal not be vnpuniſhed: & he that ſpeaketh lyes, ſhal periſh.

e The fre vſe of things, are not to be permitted to him that can not vſe them aright

10 c Pleaſure is not comelie for a foole, muche leſſe for a ſeruãt to haue rule ouer princes.

d That is, to couer it by charitie and to do therin as maie moſte ſerue to Gods glorie.

Chap 20,2.

11 The diſcretion of a man differreth his angre: and his glorie is d to paſſe by an offence.

Chap 17,21.

Chap 21,9.

12 *The Kings wrath is like the roaring of a lyon: but his fauour is like the dewe vpon the graſſe.

13 * A fooliſh ſonne is the calamitie of his father, * and the contentions of a wife are like a continual e dropping.

e As rame ỹ droppeth and roteeth the houſe

Chap. 18,22.

14 Houſe and riches are the inheritance of the fathers: but * a prudent wife cometh of the Lord.

15 Slouthfulnes cauſeth to fall a ſlepe, and a diſceitful perſone ſhal be aſſamiſhed.

16 He that kepeth the commandement, kepeth his owne ſoule: but he that deſpiſeth his waies, ſhal dye.

17 He that hathe mercie vpon the poore, lendeth vnto the Lord: and the Lord wil recõpenſe him that which he hathe giuẽ.

18 Chaſten thy ſonne while there is hope, and let not thy ſoule ſpare for his murmuring.

19 A man of muche angre ſhal ſuffer puniſhment: & thogh thou f deliuer him, yet wil his angre come againe.

f Thogh for a time he giue place to counſel, yet ſone after wil he giue place to his raging affections

20 Heare counſel, and receiue inſtruction, that thou maieſt be wiſe in thy latter end.

21 Manie deuices are in a g mans heart: but the counſel of the Lord ſhal ſtand.

g Mans deuice ſhal not haue ſucces, except God gouerne it, whoſe purpoſe is vnchangeable 22 That that is to be deſired of a man, is his h goodnes, and a poore man is better then a lyer.

h That is, that he be honeſt: for the poore man that is honeſt, is to be eſtemed aboue ỹ riche which is not verteous

23 The feare of the Lord leadeth to life: and he that is filled therewith, ſhal continue, & ſhal not be viſited with euil.

Chap 26,15.

24 * The ſlouthful hideth his hand in his boſome, and wil not put it to his mouth againe.

Chap 21,11.

25 * Smite a ſcorner, and i the fooliſh wil beware: and reproue the prudent, and he wil vnderſtand knowledge.

i That is, the ſimple and ignorant men learne, when thei ſe the wicked punished.

26 He that deſtroyeth his father, or chaſeth away his mother, is a lewde and ſhameful childe.

27 My ſonne, heare no more the inſtructiõ, that cauſeth to erre from the wordes of knowledge.

28 A wicked witnes mocketh at iudgemẽt, and the mouth of the wicked k ſwalloeth vp iniquitie.

k Taketh a pleaſure and delite therein, as gluttons & drunkardes in delicate meats and drinkes.

29 But iudgemẽts are prepared for the ſcorners, & ſtripes for the backe of the fooles.

CHAP. XX.

1 WIne a is a mocker & ſtrong drinke is raging: & whoſoeuer is deceiued thereby, is not wiſe.

a By wine here is ment him that is giuen to wine, and ſo by ſtrõg drinke

Chap.23,18.

2 * The feare of the King is like the roaring of a lyon: he that prouoketh him vnto angre, b ſinneth againſt his owne ſoule.

b Putteth his life in danger.

3 It is a mans honour to ceaſe from ſtrife: but euerie foole wil be medling.

4 The ſlouthful wil not plowe, becauſe of winter: therefore ſhal he begge in ſommer, but haue nothing.

5 The counſel in the heart of c man is like depe waters: but a man that hathe vnderſtanding, wil drawe it out.

c It is hard to finde out: for it is as depe waters, whoſe bottome can not be found; yet the wiſe mã wil knowe a man ether by his wordes or maners.

6 Manie men wil boaſt, euerie one of his owne goodnes: but who can finde a faithful man?

7 He that walketh in his integritie, is iuſte: & bleſſed ſhal his children be after him.

8 A King that ſitteth in the throne of iudgement, d chaſeth away all euil w his eyes.

d Where righteous iudgement is executed, there ſinne ceaſeth and vice dare not appeare

1 King 8,46 2 chro 6,36. eccleſ.7,21. 1 iohn:1,8.

9 * Who can ſay, I haue made mine heart cleane, I am cleane from ſinne?

10 Diuers "weightes, and diuers meaſures, bothe e theſe are euen abominacion vnto the Lord.

" Ebr ſtone and ſtone, ephah & ephah

e Read Chap. 16,11.

11 A childe alſo is knowen by his doings, whether his worke be pure and right.

12 The Lord hathe made bothe theſe, euen the eare to heare, and the eye to ſe.

13 Loue not ſlepe, leſt thou come vnto pouertie: open thine eyes, and thou ſhalt be satisfied with bread.

14 It is naught, it is naught, saith the byer: but when he is gone a parte, he boasteth.

15 There is golde, and a multitude of precious stones: but the lippes of knowledge are a precious iewel.

16 * Take his f garment, that is suretie for a stranger, and a pledge of him for the stranger.

17 The bread of deceit is swete to a man: but afterwarde his mouth shalbe filled with grauel.

18 Establish the thoghts by counsel: and by counsel make warre.

19 He that goeth about as a slanderer, discouereth * secrets: therefore medle not w̄ him that flattereth with his lippes.

20 * He that curseth his father or his mother, his light shalbe put out in obscure darkenes.

21 An heritage is hastely gotten at the beginning, but the end thereof shal not be blessed.

22 Say not thou, * I wil recompense euil: but waite vpon the Lord, and he shal saue thee.

23 * Diuers weightes are an abominacion vnto the Lord, and disceitful balances are not good.

24 * The steppes of man are ruled by the Lord: how can a man then vnderstand his owne way?

25 It is a destruction for a man to g deuoure that which is sanctified, and after the vowes to inquire.

26 A wise King scattereth the wicked, and causeth the h whele to turne ouer them.

27 The i light of the Lord is the breth of man, and sercheth all the bowels of the bellie.

28 * Mercie and trueth preserue the King: for his throne shalbe established w̄ mercie.

29 The beautie of yong mē is their strēgth, and the glorie of the aged is the graye head.

30 k The blewenes of the wounde serueth to purge the euil, and the stripes within the bowels of the bellie.

CHAP. XXI.

1 THe a Kings heart is in the hand of the Lord, as the riuers of waters: he turneth it whether soeuer it pleaseth him.

2 Euerie * way of a man is right in his owne eyes: but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do iustice and iudgement is more acceptable to the Lord then sacrifice.

4 A hautie loke, and a proude heart, which is the * b light of the wicked, is sinne.

5 The thoghts of the diligent do surely bring abundance: but c whosoeuer is hastie, cometh surely to pouertie.

6 * The gathering of treasures by a disceitful tongue is vanitie tossed to and fro of them that seke death.

7 The d robberie of the wicked shal destroye them: for they haue refused to execute iudgement.

8 The way of some is peruerted and strange: but of the pure man, his worke is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of y̆ house toppe, then with a contentious woman in a wide house.

10 The soule of the wicked wisheth euil: and his neighbour hathe no fauour in his eyes.

11 e When the scorner is punished, the foolish is wise: and when one instructeth the wise, he wil receiue knowledge.

12 The righteous f teacheth the house of the wicked: but God ouerthroweth the wicked for their euil.

13 He that stoppeth his eare at the crying of the poore, he shal also crye and not be heard.

14 A g gift in secret pacifieth angre, and a gift in the bosome great wrath.

15 It is ioye to the iust to do iudgement: but destruction shalbe to the workers of iniquitie.

16 A man that wandereth out of the way of wisdome, shal remaine in the congregacio̅ of the dead.

17 He that loueth pastime, shalbe a poore man: & he that loueth wine & oyle, shal not be riche.

18 The h wicked shalbe a ransome for the iust, and the trāsgressour for the righteous.

19 * It is better to dwell in the wildernes, then with a contentious & angrie womā.

20 In y̆ house of the wise is a pleasant treasure and i oyle: but a foolish man deuoureth it.

21 He that followeth after righteousnes & mercie, shal finde life, righteousnes, and glorie.

22 A k wise man goeth vp into the citie of the mightie, and casteth downe y̆ strength of the confidence thereof.

23 He that kepeth his mouth and his tōgue, kepeth his soule from afflictions.

24 Proude, hautie & scorneful is his name that worketh in his arrogancie wrath.

25 The desire of the slouthful l slaieth him: for his hands refuse to worke.

26 He coueteth gredely, but the righteous giueth, and spareth not.

27 The * sacrifice of the wicked is an abominacio̅: how much more when he bringeth it with a wicked minde?

28 * A false witnes shal perish: but he that heareth, m speaketh continually.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but the iuste, he wil dire& his way.

30 There is no wisdome, nether vnderstanding, nor counsel against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the daie

Chap.27,13. f Teache him wit, that he cast not him self rashly into danger. Chap.11,15. Exod 22,26. leuit 20,9. mat 15,4. Deut.32, 35. chap 17,13. & 24,29. rom 12,17. 1 thess.5,15. 1 pet.3,9. Chap.11,1. & vers.10. Ierem.10, 23.

g That is, to applie it, or take it to his owne vse, which was appointed to Gods, and the inquire how they maie be exempted frō the faute

h Which was a kinde of punishment then vsed

i The worde of God giueth life vnto man, and causeth vs to se & trye the secrets of our darke hearts. Ebr 4,12.

Chap 29.14.

k Sharpe punishement, y̆ perceth euen the inward partes, is profitable for the wicked, to bring them to amendement

Chap XXI.

a Thogh Kings seme to haue all things at commandement, yet are they not able to bring their owne purposes to passe anie otherwise then God hathe appointed: much lesse are the inferiours able.

Chap 16,2. Mich 6,8.

a Or, plowing.

b That is, euerie thing whereby he is guided, or which he bringeth forthe as the frute of his worke

c He that goeth rashely about his busines and without counsel

Chap 13,11.

d He meaneth this chiefly of iudges and princes which leaue that vocation whereunto God hath called them, & powle their subiects to mainteine their lustes.

Chap 19,13. & 25,24.

e Or, in a great familie

e Read Chap. 19,25.

f Thogh the godlie admonish the bothe by wordes & example of life, yet the wicked wil not amend, til God destroie them.

g To do a pleasure to the angrie man pacifieth him.

h God shal cause that to fall on their owne heads, w̄ they intēded against the iust, by deliuering the iuste and putting the wicked in their places

Eccle 25,23.

i Meaning, abundance of all things.

k Wisdōme ouercometh strēgth & confidēce in worldelie things.

l He thinketh to liue by wishing and desiring all things, but wil take no peine to get ought Chap 15,8. isa .1,13. eccles 34,21. Chap.29,5.

m He maie boldely testifie the trueth that he hathe heard.

of battel. but ſaluacion is of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

Eccleſ 7,2. 1 A *good name is to be choſ-n aboue great riches, and a louing fauour is aboue ſiluer and aboue golde.

a Which cometh by wel doing

Chap 29,13 2 * The riche and poore b mete together: the Lord is the maker of them all.

b Liue together, and haue nede the one of the other

Chap 27,12. 3 *A prudent man ſeeth the c plague, and hideth him ſelf: but the fooliſh go on ſtil, and are puniſhed.

c That is, the puniſhment, which is prepared for the wicked & ſlecth to God for ſuccour

4 The rewarde of humilitie, & the feare of God is riches, and glorie, and life.

5 Thornes and ſnares are in the way of the frowarde. but he that regardeth his ſoule, wil departe farre from them.

d Bring him vp vertuouſly, and he ſhal not cease.

6 Teache a childe d in the trade of his way, and when he is olde, he ſhal not departe from it.

7 The riche ruleth ỹ poore, and ỹ borower is ſeruant to the man that lendeth.

8 He that ſoweth iniquitie, ſhal reape affliction, & the e rodde of his angre ſhal faile.

e His authoritie, wherby he had oppreſſe others, ſhal be taken from him

Eccleſ 31,28.

9 *He that hathe a good f eye, he ſhalbe bleſſed: for he giueth of his bread vnto ỹ pore.

f He that is mercifull, and liberal.

10 Caſt out the ſcorner, and ſtrife ſhal go out: ſo contention and reproche ſhal ceaſe.

11 He that loueth purenes of heart for the grace of his lips, the g King ſhalbe his frīed.

g He ſheweth that princes ſhuld vſe their ſam maners, whoſe conſciēce is good, and their talke wiſe and godlie.

12 The eyes of the Lord h preſerue knowledge: but he ouerthroweth the wordes of the tranſgreſſour.

h Fauour thē ỹ loue knowledge

13 The ſlouthful man ſaith, i A lyon is without, I ſhal be ſlaine in the ſtrete.

i He deſireth thē to inuēt vaine excuſes, becauſe they wolde not do their dueties

14 The mouth of ſtrange womē is as a depe pit. he with whome ỹ Lord is angrie, k ſhal fall therein.

k So God puniſheth one ſinne by another, when he ſuffreth the wicked to fall into the acquaintance of an harlot 15 Fooliſhnes is bounde l in the heart of a childe: but the rodde of correction ſhal driue it away from him.

l He is naturally giuen vnto it.

16 He that oppreſſeth the poore to increaſe him ſelf, & giueth vnto the riche, ſhal ſurely come to pouertie.

17 ¶ Incline thine eare, & heare ỹ wordes of the wiſe, and applie thine heart vnto my knowledge.

18 For it ſhalbe pleaſant, if thou kepe them in thy bellie, & if they be directed together in thy lippes.

m He ſheweth what the end of wiſdome is to wit, to direct vs to the Lord 19 That thy confidēce may be in m ỹ Lord, I haue ſhewed thee this day: thou therefore take hede.

n That is, ſundrie times.

20 Haue not I writē vnto thee n thre times in counſels and knowledge, 21 That I might ſhewe thee the aſſurāce of the wordes of trueth to anſwer the wordes of trueth to them that ſend to thee?

o Haue not to do with him ỹ is not able to rule his affections for he wolde hurt thee by his euil conuerſation

Ebr in the gate

Chap 23,11.

22 Robbe not ỹ poore, becauſe he is poore, nether oppreſſe ỹ afflicted o in iudgemēt.

23 For the Lord * wil defende their cauſe, & ſpoile the ſoule of thoſe that ſpoile them.

24 Make o no friēdſhip with an angrie mā, nether go with the furious man, 25 Leſt thou learne his wayes, and receiue deſtruction to thy ſoule.

26 Be not thou of them that p touche ỹ hād, nor among thē that are ſuretie for debts.

p Which ſeldom put thē ſelues in danger for others, as Chap 6,1 27 If thou haſt nothing to paye, why ceuſeſt thou ỹ he ſhuld take thy bed frōvnder thee?

28 Thou ſhalt not * remoue the anciēt boūdes which thy fathers haue made.

Deut 27,17. chap 23,10.

29 Thou ſeeſt that a diligent mā in his buſines ſtandeth before Kings, and ſtandeth not before the baſe ſorte.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 WHen thou ſitteſt to eat with a ruler, q conſider diligently what is before thee, q Eat with ſobrietie

2 r And put the knife to thy throte, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

r Bridel thine appetite, as it were by force and violence

3 Be not deſirous of his deintie meats: s for it is a diſceiuable meat.

s Foraſt times they be, whē the bid their inferiours to their tables. it is not for the loue they bare them, but for their owne ſecret purpoſes

4 Trauail not to muche to be riche: but ceaſe from thy t wiſdome.

t Beſtowe not the giftes that God hath giuen thee, to get worldelie riches

5 Wilt thou caſt thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing? for riches taketh hir to her winges, as an egle, and flieth into the heauen.

6 Eat ỹ not the bread of him that hathe an euil eye, nether deſire his deintie meats.

u That is, couetous, as contrarie a good eye, as take for liberal, as Chap 22,9 7 For as thogh he thoght it in his heart, ſo wil he ſay vnto thee, Eat and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou ſhalt vomit thy u morſels that thou haſt eaten, and thou ſhalt loſe thy ſwete wordes.

x He wil not ceaſe til he ha the done thee ſome hurme, & his flattering wordes ſhal come to no vſe

9 Speake not in the eares of a foole: for he wil deſpiſe the wiſdome of thy wordes.

10 * Remoue not the anciēt boundes, and entre not into the fields of the fatherles.

11 For he that redemeth thē, is mightie: he wil * defende their cauſe againſt thee.

Deut 27,17. chap 22,28 | Chap 22,23.

12 Applie thine heart to inſtruction, & thine eares to the wordes of knowledge.

13 * Withholde not correctiō frō the childe: if thou ſmite him with the rod, he ſhal not dye.

Chap 13,24. & 19,18. eccl 30,1.

14 Thou ſhalt ſmite him with the rodde, and ſhalt deliuer his ſoule from y hel.

y That is, from deſtruction

15 My ſonne, if thine heart be wiſe, mine heart ſhal reioyce and I alſo.

16 And my reines ſhal reioyce, when thy lippes ſpeake righteous things.

17 * Let not thine heart be enuious againſt ſinners. but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually.

Pſal 37,1. ch 24,1.

18 For ſurely there is an end, z and thy hope ſhal not be cut of.

z The proſperitie of ỹ wicked ſhal not continue

19 O thou my ſonne, heare, and be wiſe, & guide thine heart in the a way.

a In the obſeruation of Gods cōmandemēts

20 Kepe not companie with b dronkards, nor with b gluttons.

b Ebr wine bibbers

21 For ỹ drōkard & ỹ glutton ſhalbe poore, & the ſleper ſhalbe clothed with ragges.

b by diuerſers of fleſh.

22 Obey thy father that hathe begotē thee, & deſpiſe not thy mother whē ſhe is olde.

c Spare no coſt for truth

23 Bye c the trueth, but ſel it not. likewiſe wiſdome, and inſtruction, and vnderſtāding.

24 The father of the righteous ſhal greatly reioyce, & he that begetteth a wiſe childe, ſhal haue ioye of him.
25 Thy father and thy mother ſhalbe glad, and ſhe that bare thee, ſhal reioyce.
f Giue thy ſelf wholly to wiſdome
26 My ſonne, giue me f thine heart, and let thine eyes delite in my wayes.
Chap.22,14. 27 *For a whores is a deepe ditche, & a ſtrãge woman is a narrow pit.
Chap 7.1. 28 *Alſo ſhe lieth in waite as for a pray, m She ſeduceth manie, & cauſeth them to offend God
m and ſhe increaſeth the tranſgreſſers among men.
29 To whome is wo? to whome is ſorowe? to whome is ſtrife? to whome is murmuring? to whome are woundes without cauſe? & to whome is the rednes of the eyes?
30 Euen to them that tarie long at the wine, to them that go, n and ſeke mixt wine.
n Which by art make wine ſtronger, and more pleaſant.
31 Loke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, & when it ſheweth his colour in the cuppe, or goeth downe pleaſantly.
32 In the end thereof it wil bite like a ſerpent, and hurt like a cockatriſe.
o That is, drõkennes ſhal bring thee to whoredome 33 Thine o eyes ſhal loke vpõ ſtrãge womẽ, and thine heart ſhal ſpeake lewde things.
p In ſuche great danger ſhalt thou be 34 And thou ſhalt be as one that ſlepeth in the middes of the p ſea, and as he that ſlepeth in the top of the maſt.
q Thogh drõkennes make them more inſenſible then beaſts, yet cã they not refraine 35 They haue ſtriken me, ſhalt thou ſay, but I was not ſicke: they haue beaten me, but I knewe not, when I awoke: therefore wil I q ſeke it yet ſtil.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Pſal.37.1. chap.23,17. 1 BE *not thou enuious againſt euil men, nether deſire to be with them.
2 For their heart imagineth deſtructiõ, and their lippes ſpeake miſchief.
3 Through wiſdome is an houſe buylded, and with vnderſtanding it is eſtabliſhed.
4 And by knowledge ſhal the chambers be filled with all precious, & pleaſant riches.
5 A wiſe man is ſtrong: for a man of vnderſtanding encreaſeth his ſtrength.
Chap.20,18. 6 *For with counſel thou ſhalt enterpriſe thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counſel, is health.
7 Wiſdome is hie to a foole: therefore he cã not open his mouth in the a gate.
a In the place where wiſdome ſhulde be ſhewed.
8 He that imagineth to do euil, men ſhal call him an autor of wickednes.
9 The wicked thoght of a foole is ſinne, and the ſcorner is an abominacion vnto men.
b Man hathe no tryal of his ſtrength til he be in troubles.
10 If thou be b faint in the day of aduerſitie, thy ſtrength is ſmal.
c None can be excuſed, if he helpe not the innocent whẽ he is in dãger.
11 Deliuer them that are drawen c to death: and wilt thou not preſerue them that are led to be ſlaine?
12 If thou ſay, Beholde, we knewe not of it: he that põdereth the hearts, doth not he vnderſtand it? and he that keepeth thy ſoule, knoweth he it not? wil not he alſo recompenſe euerie man according to his workes?
13 My ſonne, eat d honie, for it is good, and the honie combe, for it is ſwete vnto thy mouth.
d As honie is ſwete & pleaſant to ỹ taſt, ſo wiſdome is to the ſoule.
14 So ſhal the knowledge of wiſdome be vnto thy ſoule, if thou finde it, and there ſhalbe an e end, and thine hope ſhal not be cut of.
e Or, rewarde.
15 Lay no waite, ô wicked man, againſt the houſe of the righteous, and ſpoyle not his reſting place.
16 For a iuſte man f falleth ſeuen times, & riſeth againe: but the wicked fall into miſchief.
f He is ſubiect to manie perils, but God deliuereth him 17 Be thou not glad when thine enemie falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when he ſtumbleth, 18 Leſt the Lord ſe it, and it diſpleaſe him, and he turne his wrath g from him.
g To be auenged on thee.
19 *Freat not thy ſelf becauſe of the malicious, nether be enuious at the wicked.
Pſal 37,1. chap 23,17.
20 For there ſhal be none end of plagues to the euil man: *the light of the wicked ſhal- be put out.
Chap 13,9.
21 My ſonne, feare the Lord, and the King, & meddle not with thẽ that are ſedicious.
22 For their deſtruction ſhal riſe ſuddenly, & who knoweth the ruine of thẽ h bothe?
h Meaning, either of ỹ wicked, and ſedicious, as verſ. 19, and 21, or of them that feare not God nor obey their King 23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTEINE TO THE WISE, It is not good "to haue reſpect of anie perſone in iudgement.
"Ebr. to knowe the face
Chap.17,15. iſa 5,23.
24 He that ſaith to the wicked, *Thou art righteous, him ſhal the people curſe, and the multitude ſhal abhorre him.
25 But to them that rebuke him, ſhalbe pleaſure, and vpon them ſhal come the bleſsing of goodnes.
26 They ſhal kiſſe the lippes of him that anſwereth vpright wordes.
27 Prepare thy worke without, and make ready thy things in the field, i and after, buylde thine houſe.
i Be ſure of ỹ meanes how to compaſſe it before ỹ take anie enterpriſe in hand.
28 Be not a witnes againſt thy neighbour without cauſe: for wilt thou deceiue with thy lippes?
29 *Say not, I wil do to him, as he hath done to me, I k wil recompenſe euerie man according to his worke.
Chap 20,22.
k He ſheweth what is the nature of ỹ wicked, to reuenge wrong for wrong.
30 I paſſed by the field of the ſlouthful, & by the vineyarde of the man deſtitute of vnderſtanding.
31 And lo, it was all growen ouer with thornes, & nettles had couered the face thereof, and the ſtone wall thereof was broken downe.
32 Then I behelde, and I conſidered it wel: I loked vpon it, and l receiued inſtructiõ.
l That I might learne by another mans faute 33 Yet a litle ſlepe, a litle ſlumber, a litle folding of the hands to ſlepe.
34 So thy pouertie cometh as one that trauaileth by the way, and thy neceſsitie like an armed man.
I Read Chap. 6,10.

CHAP.

555/1224

CHAP. XXV.

1 THESE ARE ALSO PARables of Salomón, which the [a] men of Hezekiáh King of Iudáh [b] copied out.

a Whome Hezekiáh appointed for this purpoſe
b That is gathered out of diuers bokes of Sálomón.

2 THe glorie of God is to [c] conceile a thing ſecret: but the [d] Kings honour is to ſearche out a thing.

c God doth not reueile ỹ cauſe or his iudgements to man
d Becauſe the King vſeth by the reueiled worde of God, ỹ cauſe of his doings muſt appeare, & therefore he muſt vſe diligence in trying out of cauſes

3 The heauens in height, and the earth in depenes, and the [e] Kings heart can no man ſearche out.

e He ſheweth ỹ it is to hard for mán to attaine to ỹ reaſon of all the ſecret doings of ỹ King euẽ when he is vpright, & doeth his dutie

4 Take the [f] droſſe from the ſiluer, and there ſhal procede a veſſel for the fineſt.

f When vice is remoued frõ a king, he is a meete veſſel for the Lords vſe

5 Take [g] away the wicked from the King, and his throne ſhalbe ſtabliſhed in righteouſnes.

g It is not ynough that he be pure him ſelf, but ỹ he put awy others that be corrupted. Luk.14.10.

6 Boaſt not thy ſelf before the King, and ſtand not in the place of great men.

7 *For it is better, that it be ſaid vnto thee, Come vp hither, thẽ thou to be put lower in the preſence of the prince whome thine eyes haue ſene.

h Left where as thou thinkeſt by this meanes to haue ben end of ỹ matter, it put thee to farther trouble

8 Go not forthe haſtely to ſtrife, leſt thou knowe not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hathe put thee to ſhame.

9 D bate thy matter with thy neighbour, & diſcouer not the ſecret to another,

10 Leſt he that heareth it, put thee to ſhame, and thine infamie do not [h] ceaſe.

i In the time of great heat when men deſire colde

11 A worde ſpokẽ in his place, is like appels of golde with pictures of ſiluer.

k Which haue an outward appearance, and are nothing within 12 He that reproueth the wiſe, & the obedient eare, is a golden earing and an ornament of fine golde

l By not miniſtring occaſion to prouoke him farther.

13 As the colde of the ſnow in the time of harueſt, ſo is a faithful meſſenger to them that ſend him: for he refreſheth the ſoule of his maſters.

m That is, the heart ỹ is but ſo angrie, as Chap 15.1

14 A man that boaſteth of falſe liberalitie, is like [k] cloudes and winde without raine.

n Vſe moderately the pleaſures of this worlde

15 A prince is pacified by ſtaying [l] of anger, and a ſofte tõgue breaketh ỹ [m] bones.

16 If thou haue founde honie, eat that is [n] ſufficient for thee, leſt thou be ouerfull, and vomit it.

17 Withdrawe thy fote from thy neighbours houſe, leſt he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

o Which melteth it, and cõſumeth it Or, ſlume

18 A man that beareth falſe witnes againſt his neighbour, is like an hammer & a ſworde, and a ſharpe arrowe.

19 Cõfidence in an vnfaithful man in time of trouble is like a brokẽ tothe and a ſliding fote.

Rom.12.19

p Thou ſhalt as it were by force ouercome him in ſo muche that his owne conſcience ſhal moue him to acknowledge thy benefites, and his heart ſhalbe inflamed.

20 He ỹ taketh away the garmẽt in ỹ colde ſeaſon, is like vineger powred vpõ nitre, or like him ỹ ſingeth ſongs to an heauie heart.

21 * If he that hateth thee be hungrie, giue him bread to eat, and if he be thirſtie, giue him water to drinke.

22 For thou ſhalt lay [p] coles vpon his head, and the Lord ſhal recompenſe thee.

23 As the Northwind driueth away the raine, ſo doeth an angrie coũtenance ỹ ſclandering tongue.

24 *It is better to dwell in a corner of the houſe toppe, then with a contentious woman in a wide houſe. Chap.21.9.

25 As are the colde waters to a wearie ſoule, ſo is good newes from a farre countrey.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt ſpring.

27 It is not good to eat muche honie. *ſo to ſearch their owne glorie is not glorie. Eccle.3.21.

28 A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a citie which is [q] broken downe, & without walles.

q And ſo is in extreme danger.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 AS the ſnow in the ſommer, and as the raine in the harueſt are not mete, ſo is honour vnſemely for a foole.

2 As the ſparow by fleing, and the ſwalowe by flying eſcape, ſo the curſe that is cauſeles, ſhal not come.

3 Vnto the horſe belongeth a whip, to the aſſe a bridle, and a rodde to the fooles backe.

4 Anſwer not a foole [a] according to his fooliſhnes, leſt thou alſo be like him.

a Conſent not vnto him in his doings

5 Anſwer a foole [b] according to his fooliſhnes, leſt he be wiſe in his owne [”] conceite.

b Reproue him as the matter requireth ”Or eyes.

6 He that ſendeth a meſſage by the hand of a foole, is as he that cutteth of [c] the fete, [d] and drinketh iniquitie.

c To wit, of the meſſenger, whome he ſendeth.
d That is, receiueth domage thereby.

7 As they that lift vp the legges of the lame, ſo is a parable in a fooles mouth.

8 As the cloſing vp of a precious ſtone in an heape of ſtones, ſo is he that giueth glorie to a foole.

e Whereby he bothe hurteth him ſelfe and others

9 As a thorne ſtanding [e] vp in the hand of a drunkard, ſo is a parable in the mouth of fooles.

f Meanig, God

10 [f] The excellent that formed all things, bothe rewardeth the foole and rewardeth th. tranſgreſſers.

2.Pet.2.22.

11 *As a dogge turneth againe to his owne vomite, ſo a foole turneth to his fooliſhnes.

12 Seeſt thou a man wiſe in his owne conceite? more hope is of a foole then of him.

g For ỹ foole wil rather be counſeled thẽ he alſo ỹ ſeeth ſome ſmeth of ignorance and the other of malice

13 The ſlouthful man ſaith, [h] A lyon is in the waye: a lyon is in the ſtretes.

h Read Chap. 22.13

14 As the dore turneth vpon his henges, ſo doth the ſlouthful man vpon his bed.

Chap.19.24.

15 * The ſlouthful hideth his hand in his boſome, and it grieueth him to put it againe to his mouth.

16 The ſlouthful is wiſer in his owne conceit, then ſeuen men that can rendre a reaſon.

17 He that paſſeth by and medleth with the ſtrife that belongeth not vnto him, is euen as he that taketh a dogge by the eares.

18 As he that faineth him ſelf mad, caſteth fyre brandes, arrowes and mortal things, 19 So dealeth the deceitful man [i] with his friend and ſaith, Am not I in ſporte?
20 Without wood the fyre is quenched, & without a tale bearer ſtriſe ceaſeth.
21 As the cole maketh burning coles, and wood a fyre, ſo the contentious man is apt to kindle ſtriſe.
22 *The wordes of a tale bearer are as flatterings, and they go downe into the bowels of the bellie.
23 As ſiluer droſſe ouerlayed vpon a potſhard, ſo are burning lippes, and [k] an euil heart.
24 He that hateth, wil counterfait with his lippes, but in his heart he layeth vp deceit.
25 Thogh he ſpeake fauorably, beleue him not: for there are [l] ſeuen abominacions in his heart.
26 Hatred may be couered by deceit: but the malice thereof ſhalbe diſcouered in the [m] Congregacion.
27 *He that diggeth a pit, ſhal fall therein, and he that rolleth a ſtone, it ſhal returne vnto him.
28 A falſe tongue hateth the afflicted, and a flattering mouth cauſeth ruine.

i Which diſſembleth him ſelf to be that he is not.
Eccl.38,12.
Chap.18,8.
k They wil ſone breake out and vtter thē ſelues.
l Meaning manie: he vſeth ỹ nōber certeine for the vncertein.
m In the aſſemblie of the godlie.
Eccleſ.10,8. Eccl.27,30.

CHAP. XXVII.

a Delaye not the time, but take occaſion when it is offred.
1 BOaſt not thy ſelf of to [a] morowe: for thou knoweſt not what a day may bring forthe.
2 Let another man praiſe thee, and not thine owne mouth: a ſtranger, and not thine owne lips.
Eccleſ.22,18.
3 *A ſtone is heauie, and the ſand weightie: but a fooles wrath is heauier then them bothe.
4 Angre is cruel, and wrath is raging: but who can ſtand before [b] enuie?
b For the enuious are obſtinate and cā not be reconciled.
5 Open rebuke is better then ſecret loue.
6 The woundes of a louer are faithful, and the kiſſes of an enemie are [c] pleaſant.
c They are flattering, and ſeme friendful.
Iob.6,6.
7 *The perſone that is ful, deſpiſeth an honie combe: but vnto the hungrie ſoule euerie bitter thing is ſwete.
8 As a birde that wandereth from her neſt, ſo is a man that wandereth from his owne place.
9 As ointement and perfume reioyce the heart, ſo doeth the ſwetenes of a mans frīēd by heartie counſeli.
10 Thine owne friend and thy fathers frīēd forſake thou not: neither entre into thy brothers [d] houſe in the day of thy calamitie: for better is a neighbour that is nere, then a brother farre of.
d Seke not ſo an ꝛ worldelie helpe in the day of thy trouble.
11 My ſonne, be wiſe, & reioyce mine heart, that I may anſwer him that reprocheth me.
12 [e] A prudent man ſeeth the plague, and hideth him ſelf: but the fooliſh go on ſtil, and are puniſhed.
e Read Chap. 22,3.
13 *Take his garment that is ſuretie for a ſtranger, & a pledge of him for the ſtrāger.
14 He that "praiſeth his friend with a lowde voyce, riſing [f] early in the morning, it ſhalbe counted to him as a curſe.
15 *A cōtinual dropping in the day of raine, and a contentious woman are a like.
16 He that hideth her, hideth the winde, & ſhe is as the oyle in his right hand, that vttereth it ſelf.
17 Yron ſharpeneth yron, ſo doeth [g] man ſharpen the face of his friend.
18 He that kepeth the figge tre, ſhal eat the frute thereof: ſo he that waiteth vpon his maſter, ſhal come to honour.
19 As in water face anſwereth to face, [h] ſo the heart of man to man.
20 The graue and deſtruction can neuer be ful, ſo *the eyes of man can neuer be ſatiſfied.
21 As is the fining pot for ſiluer & the fornace for golde, ſo is euerie man according to his [i] dignitie.
22 Thogh thou ſhuldeſt braye a foole in a morter among wheat brayed with a peſtel, yet wil not his fooliſhnes departe from him.
23 Be diligēt to knowe the ſtate of thy flocke, and take hede to the heards.
24 For riches remaine not alwaye, nor the crowne from generation to generation.
25 The heye diſcouereth it ſelf, and the graſſe appeareth, and the herbes of the mountaines are gathered.
26 The [k] lambes are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.
27 And let the milke of the goats be ſufficient for thy foode, for the foode of thy familie, and for the ſuſtinance of thy maides.

"Ebr. bleſſeth.
f Haſtely and without cauſe.
Chap.19,20. & 21,9.
g One haſtie manprouoketh another to angre.
h There is no difference betwene man & mā by nature, but onely the grace of God maketh the difference.
Eccl.34,9.
Chap.17,3.
i That is, he is ether knowen to be ābitious and glorious, or humble and modeſt.
k This declareth the great goodnes of God towardes man, & the diligence that he requireth of him for ỹ preſeruation of his giftes.

CHAP. XXVIII.

a Becauſe the is owne conſcience accuſeth them.
1 THe wicked [a] flee when none purſueth: but the righteous are bolde as a lyon.
b The ſtate of the commune weale is often times chāged.
2 For the tranſgreſsion of the land [b] there are manie princes thereof: but by a man of vnderſtanding and knowledge a realme likewiſe endureth long.
3 A poore man, if he oppreſſe the poore, is like a raging raine, that leaueth no foode.
4 They that forſake the Law, praiſe the wicked: but thei that kepe the Law, ſet thē ſelues againſt them.
5 Wicked men vnderſtand not iudgement: but they that ſeke the Lord, vnderſtand all things.
6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that peruerteth his waies, thogh he be riche.
Chap.19,1.

7 He

7 He that kepeth the law, is a childe of vnderſtanding. but he that fedeth the glutton, ſhameth his father.

8 He that increaſeth his riches by vſurie and intereſt, gathereth [c] them for him that wilbe merciful vnto the poore.

[c] For God wil take away the wicked vſurer, & giue his goods to him that ſhal beſtowe them wel

9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the Law, euen his praier ſhalbe [d] abominable.

[d] Becauſe it is not of faith, & is grounded of Gods word, or Law, & the wicked contemne.

10 He that cauſeth the righteous to go aſtray by an euil way, ſhal fall into his owne pit, and the vpright ſhal inherit good things.

11 The riche man is wiſe in his owne conceit: but the poore that hathe vnderſtanding, can trye [e] him.

[e] And iudge ẏ he is not wiſe. Chap 29,2.

12 *When righteous men reioyce, there is great glorie: but when the wicked come vp, the man [f] is tryed.

[f] He is knowē by his doings to be wicked.

13 He that hideth his ſinnes, ſhal not proſper: but he that confeſſeth, and forſaketh them, ſhal haue mercie.

[g] Which ſtandeth in awe of God and is afraid to offēd him

14 Bleſſed is the man that [g] feareth alwaye: but he that hardeneth his heart, ſhal fall into euil.

15 As a roaring lyon, and an hūgrie beare, ſo is [h] a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.

[h] For he can neuer be ſatisfied, but euer oppreſſeth and ſpoileth.

16 A prince deſtitute of vnderſtanding, is alſo a great oppreſſour: but he that hateth couetouſnes, ſhal prolong his daies.

17 A man that doeth violence againſt the blood of a perſone, ſhal flee vnto the graue, and thei ſhal not [i] ſtay him.

[i] None ſhalbe able to deliuer him

18 He that walketh vprightly, ſhalbe ſaued: but he that is froward in his waies, ſhal once fall.

19 *He that tilleth his land, ſhal be ſatiſfied with bread: but he ẏ followeth the ydle, ſhal be filled with pouertie.

Chap 12,11. eccl.20,30.

20 A faithful man ſhal abounde in bleſſings, & *he that maketh haſte to be riche, ſhal not be innocent.

Chap.13,11. & 20,21.

21 To haue reſpect of perſones is not good: for that man wil tranſgreſſe for a piece of [k] bread.

[k] He wil be abuſed for nothing

22 A man with a wicked [l] eye haſteth to riches, and knoweth not, that pouertie ſhal come vpon him.

[l] Meaning him that is couetous.

23 He that rebuketh a man, ſhal finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 He that robbeth his father and mother, & ſaith, it is no tranſgreſsion, is the companion of a man that deſtroieth.

25 He that is of a proude heart, ſtirreth vp ſtrife. but he that truſteth in the Lord, ſhal be [m] fat.

[m] Shal haue all things in abundance.

26 He that truſteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wiſdome, ſhalbe deliuered.

He that giueth vnto the poore, ſhal not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, ſhal haue many curſes.

28 *When the wicked riſe vp, men hide thē ſelues: but when thei periſh, the righteous increaſe. Chap 29,2.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A Man that hardeneth his necke, when he is rebuked, ſhal ſuddenly be deſtroied and can not be cured.

2 *When the righteous [n] are in autoritie, the people reioyce: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people ſigh. Chap 28,12. & 28

[n] Or, are increaſed.

3 A mā that loueth wiſdome, reioyceth his father: *but he that fedeth harlots, waſteth his ſubſtance. Luk 15,13.

4 A King by iudgement maintaineth the countrey: but a man receiuing giftes, deſtroieth it.

5 A man ẏ flattereth his neighbour, [a] ſpreadeth a net for his ſteppes.

[a] He ẏ giueth eare to ẏ flatterer, is in dāger as ẏ bird is before ẏ fouler.

6 In the tranſgreſsion of an euil man is his [b] ſnare: but the righteous doeth ſing and reioyce.

[b] He is euer ready to fall into ẏ ſnare ẏ he layeth for others.

7 The righteous knoweth the cauſe of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

8 Scornful men bring a citie into a ſnare: but wiſe men turne away wrath.

9 If a wiſe man contend with [c] a fooliſh man, whether he be angrie or laugh, there is no reſt.

[c] He can beare no admonitiō, in what ſorte ſoeuer it is ſpoken,

10 Bloodie men hate him that is vpright: but the iuſte haue care of his ſoule.

11 A foole powreth out all his mynde: but a wiſe man kepeth it in til afterwarde.

12 Of a prince that hearkeneth to lyes, all his ſeruants are wicked.

13 *The poore and the vſurer mete together, and the Lord lighteneth bothe their eyes. Chap.22,2.

14 *A King that iudgeth the poore in truth, his throne ſhalbe eſtabliſhed for euer. Chap.20, 28.

15 The rodde and correction giue wiſdome: but a childe ſet at libertie, maketh his mother aſhamed.

16 When the wicked are increaſed, tranſgreſsion increaſeth: but the righteous ſhal ſe their fall.

17 Correct thy ſonne and he wil giue thee reſt, and wil giue pleaſures to thy ſoule.

18 [d] Where there is no viſion, the people decay: but he that kepeth the Law, is bleſſed.

[d] Where there are not faithful miniſters of the worde of God

19 A [e] ſeruant wil not be chaſtiſed with wordes: thogh he vnderſtand, yet he wil not [f] anſwere.

[e] He ẏ is of a ſeruile & rebellious nature.

[f] Or, regarde.

20 Seeſt thou a man haſtie in his matters? there is more hope of a foole, then of him.

21 He that delicately bringeth vp his ſeruāt from youthe, at length he wil be euen as his sonne.

Chap 15,18. 22 * An angrie man stirreth vp strife, and a furious man abundeth in transgression.

Iob.22,29. 23 * The pride of a man shal bring him lowe: but the humble in spirit shal enioye glorie.

24 He that is partener with a thief, hateth his owne soule: he heareth cursing, and declareth it not.

f He seeketh the man more the God falleth into a snare & is destroyed g He nedeth not to flatter ỹ ruler for what God hathe appointed, that shal come to him.

25 The feare of man bringeth a f snare: but he that trusteth in ỹ Lord, shalbe exalted.

26 Manie do seke the face of the ruler: but euerie mās g iudgement commeth from the Lord.

27 A wicked man is abominacio to the iust, and he that is vpright in his way, is abominacion to the wicked.

CHAP. XXX.

2 To humble our selues in consideration of Gods workes. 5 The worde of God is perfite. 11 Of the wicked & hypocrites 15 Of things that are neuer satiate 18 Of others that are wonderful.

a Who was an excellent man in vertue and knowledge in the time of Salomon b Which were Agurs scholers, or frends. 4. Herein he declareth, his great humilitie who wolde not attribute anie wisdome to hi self, but all vnto God. d Meaning, to knowe the secretes of God, as thogh he wolde saye, None.

THE WORDES OF a AGVR THE SONNE OF IAKEH.

1 THe prophecie which the mā spake vnto b Ithiel, euen to b Ithiel, and Vcal!

2 Surely I am more c foolish then anie man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

3 For I haue not learned wisdome, nor atteined to the knowledge of holie things.

4 Who hathe ascended vp to d heauen, and descended? Who hathe gathered the winde in his fist? Who hathe bounde the waters in a garmēt? Who hathe establi shed all ỹ ends of the worlde? What is his name, & what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tel?

Psal.18,30. 5 * Euerie worde of God is pure: he is a shield to those, that trust in him.

Deut.4,2. & 12,32. 6 * Put nothing vnto his wordes, lest he reproue thee, and thou be founde a lyer.

e He maketh this sequest to God. 7 Two e things haue I required of thee: deny me them not before I dye.

8 Remoue farre fro me vanitie and lies: giue me not pouertie, nor riches: fede me with foode conuenient for me,

9 Lest I be ful, and denie thee, and say, f Who is the Lord? or lest I be poore and steale, and take the Name of my God in vaine.

f Meaning, ỹ they that put their trust in their riches, forget God, & that by to muche wealth me haue an occasion to ỹ same. g In accusing him without cause.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, & thou hast offended.

11 There is a generacion that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generacion that are pure in there owne conceit, and yet are not washed from their filthines.

13 There is a generacion, whose eyes are haurie, and their eye liddes are lifted vp.

14 There is a generacion, whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as knues to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

h The leach hathe two forkes in her tonge, which here he calleth her two daughters, whereby she sucketh ỹ blood and is neuer satiat: euen so are the couetous extorsioners insatiable

15 The horse leache hathe two h daughters which crie, Giue, giue. There be thre thīgs that wil not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is ynough.

16 The graue, & the baren wombe, the earth that can not be satisfied with water, and the fyre that saith not, It is ynough.

i Which hante in the valley for carions

17 The eye that mocketh his father and despiseth the instructiō of his mother, let the rauens i of the valley picke it out, and the yong egles eat it.

18 There be thre things hid from me: yea, foure that I knowe not.

19 The way of an egle in the aire, the waie of a serpent vpon a stone, the waie of a shippe in the middes of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

k She hath her desires, & after counterfaiteth as thogh she were an honest woman.

20 Suche is the way also of an aduouterous woman: she eateth & k wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For thre things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it can not susteine it self:

l These cōmunely abuse the state whereun to thei are called 22 For l a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meat, m Which is maried to her maister after the deth of her maistres

23 For the hateful woman, when she is maried, and for a handmaid that is m heire to her mastres.

n Thei contein ne great doctrine & wisdome

24 These be foure smal things in the earth, yet thei are n wise and ful of wisdome:

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in sommer:

26 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The gresshopper hathe no King, yet go thei forthe all by bandes:

o If man be not able to cō passe these cōmune thīgs by his wisdome, we can not attribute wisdome to man but folie.

28 The spider taketh holde o with her hāds, and is in Kings palaces.

29 There be thre things that order wel their going: yea, foure are comelie in going,

30 A lyon which is strong among beastes, and turneth not at the sight of anie:

31 A lustie grayhound, and a goat, and a King against whome there is no rising vp.

p Make a stay & cōtinue not in doing euil.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy self vp, and if thou hast thoght wickedly, lay thine hand p vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milke, he bringeth forthe butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forthe strife.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He exhorteth to chastitie and iustice, 10 And sheweth the condsions of a wise and worthy woman.

The

1 THE WORDES OF KING a Lemuel: The b prophecie which his mother taught him.

a That is, of Salomon, but he was called Lemuel that is, of God beloued, for God had ordained him to be king ouer Israel

b The destruction which his mother Bathsheba taught him

2 WHat my sonne! and what the sonne of c my wombe! and what, ô sonne of my desires!

c This often repetition of one thing doth declare her earnest affection

3 Giue not thy strength vnto wome, d nor thy waies, which is to destroy Kings.

d Meaning, y women are the destruction of Kings, if they haue them

4 It is not for Kings, ô Lemuél, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for princes e strong drinke, e That is, the king must not giue himselfe to wantonnes & neglect his office, which is to execute iudgement

5 Lest he drinke, and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

f For wine doeth comfort the heart, as Psal 104.15

6 Giue ye strong drinke vnto him, that is ready to perish, and wine vnto them that haue grief of heart.

7 Let him drinke, that he may forget f his pouertie, and remember his misrie no more.

g Defend their cause that are not able to helpe themselues

8 Open thy mouth for the g domme in the cause of all the children of destruction.

h He shal not need to vse vnlawful meanes to gaine his liuing

9 Open thy mouth, iudge righteously, and iudge the afflicted, and the poore.

10 ¶Who shal finde a vertuous woman? for her price is farre aboue the pearles.

11 The heart of her husband trusteth in her, and he shal haue no need of h spoile.

12 She wil do him good, and not euil all the daies of her life.

13 She seeketh woll and flaxe, and laboreth cheerefully with her hands.

14 She is like the shippes of marchants: she bringeth her fode from a farre.

15 And she riseth, whiles it is yet night: and giueth f the portion to her houshold, and their ordinarie to her maids.

f Or, meat, as Psal 111.5.

i She prepareth their meat betime

16 She considereth a field, and k getteth it: & with the frute of her hands she plāteth a vineyarde.

k She purchaseth it with y gaines of her trauaile.

17 She girdeth her loynes with strength, & strengtheneth her armes.

18 She feeleth that her marchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

19 She putteth her hands to the wherue, & her hands handle the spindle.

20 She stretcheth out her hand to the poore, and putteth forthe her hands to the needie.

21 She feareth not the snowe for her familie, for all her familie is clothed with skarlet.

g Or, twise double

22 She maketh her self carpets: fine linen & purple is her garment.

23 Her husband is knowen in the l gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of y land.

l In the assemblies and places of iudgement

24 She maketh f shetes, and selleth them, & giueth girdels vnto the marchant.

f Or, linē cloth

25 m Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter day she shal reioyce.

m After that he had spoke of the apparel of the bodie, he now declareth the apparel of the spirit

26 She openeth her mouth with wisdome, and the n law of grace is in her tongue.

n Her tongue is as a boke whereby one might learne many good things for she delighteth to talke of the worke of God

27 She ouerseeth y waies of her houshold, and eateth not the bread of idlenes.

28 Her children rise vp, and o call her blessed. her husband also shal praise her, saying,

o That is, do her reuerence

29 Many daughters haue done vertuously: but thou surmountest them all.

30 Fauour is deceitful, and beautie is vanitie but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shal be praised.

p Confesse her diligent labours and cōmende her therefore 31 Giue p her of the frute of her hands, and let her owne workes praise her in y gates.

q For as much as the most honorable are clad in the apparel that it hath made.

ECCLESIASTES, OR the Preacher.

a Salomón is here called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because he teacheth the true knowledge of God, & how men ought to passe their life in this transitorie world

THE ARGVMENT.

Salomón, as a preacher and one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceitable vanities of this worlde, that man shulde not be addicted to ame thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenlie life: therefore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God and shal inioye his presence: so that all other things must be reiected, saue in as muche as they further vs to attaine to this heauenlie treasure, which is sure and permanent, and can not be founde in ame other saue in God alone.

b One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, euen to the last daie, which yet is subiect to corruption

CHAP. I.

2 All things in this worlde are ful of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisdome is but folie and grief.

1 THe wordes of the a Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalém.

2 b Vanitie of vanities, saith y Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

b Vanitie of vanities, that is, of no value, or of no profite

c Salomon doth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in ame thing vnder y heauen, nor in ame creature, for asmuche as all things are transitorie.

3 What remaineth vnto mā in all his c trauail, which he suffreth vnder the sunne?

4 One generacion passeth, and another generacion succedeth: but the earth remaineth for d euer.

5 The sunne riseth, & the sunne goeth downe, & draweth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The e winde goeth toward y South, & cōpasseth toward y North: the winde goeth round about, & returneth by his circuites.

e By the sunne, winde and riuers he sheweth that the greatest labour and longest hath an end, and therefore there can be no fulnesse in this worlde

7 *All the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea is not ful: for the riuers go vnto the place, f The ſea ẅ compaſſeth all the earth, filleth the veines thereof, the ẅ powre out ſprings and riuers into the ſea againe

g He ſpeaketh of times & ſeaſons & things done in them, which as they haue bene in times paſt, ſo come they to paſſe againe

h He proueth that if anie colde haue attained to felicitie in this worlde by labour and ſtudie, he chiefly ſhulde haue obteined it, becauſe he had giftes and aydes of God thereunto aboue all other

i Man of nature hathe a deſire to knowe, and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, ẅ is the puniſhment of ſinne, to humble man, and to teache him to depende onely vpon God.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cauſe things to go other wiſe then they do nether can he nombre the faultes that are committed, muche leſſe remedie them

f whence they returne, and go.

8 All things are ful of labour: man can not vtter it: the eye is not ſatiſfied with ſeing, nor the eare filled with hearing.

9 g What is it that hathe bene? that that ſhalbe: & what is it that hathe bene done that which ſhalbe done: and there is no new thing vnder the ſunne.

10 Is there anie thing, whereof one may ſay, Beholde this, it is newe? it hathe bene alreadie in the olde time ẏ was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of ẏ former, nether ſhal there be a remẽbrance of the later that ſhalbe, with them that ſhal come after.

12 ¶ h I the Preacher haue bene King ouer Iſraél in Ieruſalém:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to ſearch & finde out wiſdome by all things that are done vnder the heauen. (this ſore trauail hathe God giuen to the ſonnes of men, i to humble them thereby)

14 I haue conſidered all the workes that are done vnder the ſunne, and beholde, all is vanitie, and vexacion of the ſpirit.

15 That which is k croked, can none make ſtraight: & that ẅ faileth, cã not be nõbred.

16 I thoght in mine heart, & ſaid, Beholde, I am become great, and excel in wiſdome all them that haue bene before me in Ieruſalém: and mine heart hathe ſene muche wiſdome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to knowe wiſdome & knowledge, l madnes & fooliſhnes: I knewe alſo ẏ this is a vexaciõ of the ſpirit.

18 For in ẏ multitude of wiſdome is muche m grief: & he that encreaſeth knowledge, encreaſeth ſorowe.

l That is, vaine things, which ſerued vnto pleaſure, wherin was no commoditie, but grief & trouble of conſcience

m Wiſdome & knowledge can not be come by without great peine of bodie and minde for when a man hathe attained to the hieſt, yet is his minde neuer fully content. therefore in this worlde is no true felicitie.

CHAP. II.

Pleaſures, ſumptuous buyldings, riches and poſſeſſiõs are but vanitie. 14 The wiſe and the foole haue bothe one end, touching the bodelie death.

1 I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I wil proue a thee with ioye: therefore take thou pleaſure in pleaſant things: & beholde, this alſo is vanitie.

a Salomõ maketh this diſcours with hi ſelf, as though he wolde trye whether there were contentation in eaſe and pleaſures

2 I ſaid of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioye, What is this that thou doeſt?

3 I ſoght in mine heart "to giue my ſelf to wine, & to lead mine heart in b wiſdome, and to take holde of folie, til I might ſe where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they "enioye vnder the ſunne: the whole nomber of the daies of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue buylt me houſes: I haue plãted me vineyards.

5 I haue made me gardens and "orchardes, and planted in them trees of all frute.

6 I haue made me ciſternes of water, to watter therewith the woods that growe with trees.

"Ebr drawe my fleſh to wine.

b Albeit I gaue my ſelf to pleaſures, yet I thoght to kepe wiſdome & the feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the ſame.

"Ebr do

"Ebr, paradiſes

7 I haue gotten ſeruants & maids, and had children borne in the c houſe: alſo I had great poſſeſſion of beues and ſhepe aboue all that were before me in Ieruſalém.

8 I haue gathered vnto me alſo ſiluer and golde, and the chief treaſures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me mẽ ſingers and women ſingers, and the d delites of the ſonnes of men, as a woman e taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and encreaſed aboue all that were before me in Ieruſalem: alſo my wiſdome f remained with me.

10 And what ſoeuer mine eyes deſired, I withhelde it not from thẽ: I withdrew not mine heart from anie ioye: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my g portion of all my trauail.

11 Thẽ I loked on all my workes that mine hands had wroght, and on the trauail that I had labored to do: and beholde, all is vanitie and vexacion of the ſpirit: and there is no profite vnder the ſunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to beholde h wiſdome, & madnes and folie: (for who is the man that 'wil come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I ſawe that there is profite in wiſdome, more then in folie: as the light is more excellent then darkenes.

14 *For the wiſe mans i eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenes: yet I knowe alſo that the ſame k condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thoght in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to the foole. Why therefore do I thẽ labour to be more wiſe? And I ſaid in mine heart, that this alſo is vanitie.

16 For there ſhalbe no remembrance of the wiſe, nor of the foole l for euer. for that that now is, in the daies to come ſhal all be forgotten. And mhow dyeth the wiſe man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke ẏ is wroght vnder ẏ ſũne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie, & vexacion of the ſpirit.

18 I hated alſo all my labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder ẏ ſunne, which I ſhal leaue to the man that ſhalbe after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he ſhalbe wiſe or fooliſh? yet ſhal he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauailed, & wherein I haue ſhewed my ſelf wiſe vnder the ſunne. This is alſo vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart n abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the ſunne.

21 For there is a man whoſe trauail is in wiſdome, & in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a mã that hathe not trauailed herein, ſhal he o giue his portion: this alſo is vanitie and a great grief.

22 For

c Meaning, of the ſeruants or ſclaues, ẅ he had boght: ſo the childrẽ borne in their ſeruitude, were the maſters.

d That is, what ſoeuer men take pleaſure in.

e Which were the moſt beautiful of them that were taken in warre, as Iudges. 5, 30. Some vnderſtand by theſe wordes, noe women but inſtruments of muſike

f For all this God did not take his gift of wiſdome from me

g This was ẏ frute of all my labour, a certeine pleaſure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verſe

h I bethoght with my ſelf whether it were better to followe wiſdome, or mine owne affectiõs and pleaſures, which he calleth madnes.

*Or, compare with the King. Prou. 17, 24.

i He foreſeeth things, ẅ the foole can not for lacke of wiſdome k For bothe dye & are forgotten, as verſe 16, or they bothe alike haue proſperitie or aduerſitie.

l Meaning, in this worlde.

m He wondereth that men forget a wiſe man, being dead, aſſone as they do a foole.

n That I might ſeke the true felicitie which is in God.

o Among other griefs this was not ẏ leaſt to leaue that which he had gotten by great trauail, to one ẏ had taken no peine therefore, and whome he knew not whether he were a wiſe man or a foole.

22 For what hathe man of all his trauail and griefe of his heart, wherein he hathe trauailed vnder the ſunne?
23 For all his dayes are ſorowes, and his trauail griefe. his heart alſo taketh not reſt in the night, which alſo is vanitie.
24 There is no profite to mā but that he eat, and drinke, and delite his ſoule with the profite of his labour. I ſawe alſo this, that it was of the hand of God.
25 For who colde eat, and who colde haſte to outward things more then I?
26 Surely to a mā that is good in his ſight, God giueth wiſdome, knowledge, and ioye: but to the ſinner he giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God. this is alſo vanitie, & vexacion of the ſpirit.

f What a man ſhulde labour and be diligent, but no more than our labour requireth, & he cōſider that alſo it is the gift of God, as Chap. 2, 24 & 3, 13 & 5, 18 & 9, 7 & 11, 9 teache.

CHAP. III.

All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfite, and cauſe vs to feare him. 17 God ſhal iudge both the iuſte, and vniuſte.

a He ſpeaketh of this diuerſitie of time for two cauſes, firſt to declare y there is nothing in this world perpetuall, next to teache vs not to be grieued, becauſe we haue not all things at once according to our deſires, neither enioye them ſo long as we wolde wiſh.

1 TO all things there is an a appointed time, and a time to euerie purpoſe vnder the heauen.
2 A time to be borne, & a time to dye: a time to plant, and a time to pluck vp that, which is planted.
3 A time to ſlay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to buylde.
4 A time to wepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.
5 A time to caſt away ſtones, and a time to gather ſtones: a time to embrace, and a time to be faire from embracing.
6 A time to ſeke, and a time to loſe: a time to kepe, and a time to caſt away.
7 A time to rēt, & a time to ſowe: a time to kepe ſilence, and a time to ſpeake.
8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

b Read Chap 2, 23.
c God hathe giuen man a deſire and affection to ſeke out the things of this worlde and to labour therein.
d Read Chap 2, 24. and theſe places declare that we ſhulde do all things with ſobrietie, & by feare of God, foraſmuche as he giueth not his gifts to y intēt that they ſhulde be abuſed.
e That is, man ſhal neuer be able to let Gods workes, but as he hathe determined, ſo it ſhal come to paſſe. f God onely conſerueth that, w is paſt, to returne.

9 What profite hathe he that worketh, of y thing wherein he trauaileth?
10 I haue ſene the trauail that God hathe giuen to the ſonnes of men b to humble them therby.
11 He hathe made euerie thing beautiful in his time: alſo he hathe ſet the c worlde in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hathe wroght from the beginning euen to the end.
12 I knowe that there is nothing good in thē, but to reioyce, & to do good in his life.
13 And alſo that euerie mā eateth and drinketh, and ſeeth the commoditie of all his labour. this is the d gift of God.
14 I knowe that whatſoeuer God ſhal do, it ſhalbe for euer: to it can no man adde, and frō it can none diminiſh: for God hathe done it, y they ſhulde feare before him.
15 What is that that hathe bene, that is now: & that that ſhalbe, hathe now bene: for God f requireth that which is paſt.
16 And moreouer I haue ſene vnder the ſunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednes, and the place of iuſtice where was iniquitie.
17 I thoght in mine heart, God wil iudge the iuſte & the wicked. for time is g there for euerie purpoſe and for euerie worke.
18 I conſidered in mine heart the ſtate of the children of men that God had h purged them: yet to ſe to, they are in thē ſelues as beaſts.
19 For the condition of the children of mē, and the conditiō of beaſtes are euē as one i cōdition vnto them. As the one dyeth, ſo dyeth the other. for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beaſt. for all is vanitie.
20 All go to one place, and all was of the duſt, and all ſhal returne to the duſt.
21 Who k knoweth whether the ſpirit of man aſcende vpward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt deſcend downeward to the earth?
22 Therefore I ſe that there is nothing better then y a man ſhulde l reioyce in his affaires, becauſe y is his portion. For who ſhal bring him to ſe what ſhalbe after him?

g Meaning, y God, howſoeuer man neglect his duetie.
h And made them pure in their firſt creacion.
i Man is not able by his reaſon, & iudgement to put difference betwene man & beaſt, as touching thoſe things y here-vnto both are ſubiect & for the eye cā not iudge one other wiſe of a man being dead, thē of a beaſt, y is dead yet by y worde of God and faith we eaſily knowe the diuerſitie, as verſ 21.
k Meaning, that reaſon cā not comprehend y which faith beleueth herein.
l By the often repetition of this ſentēce, as Chap 2, 24 & chap 3, 12, and 22 chap 5, 17 & chap 8, 15 he declareth that mā by reaſon cā cōprehend nothing better in this life thē to vſe the gifts of God ioyfully & cōfortably for to know further is a ſpecial gift of God reuealed by his Spirit.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The innocents are oppreſſed. 4 Mens labours are ful of abuſe and vanitie. 9 Mans ſocietie is neceſſarie. 13 A yong man poore, and wiſe is to be preferred to an olde King that is a foole.

a He maketh here another diſcours with him ſelf cōcerning the tyrānie of them y oppreſſed the poore.
b Becauſe they are no more ſuccored to their oppreſſions.
c He ſpeaketh according to y iudgemēt of y fleſh, w cā not abide to ſe, or beleue, that the more part of the worlde is not enimie of y wicked.
d For rudenes he is cōpelled to deſtroye him ſelf.
e Foraſmuche as when mā is aloone, he can neither helpe him ſelf nor others, he ſheweth y mē ought to liue in mutuall ſocietie, to y intent they may be profitable one to another, & y their things may encreaſe

16 And moreouer I haue ſene vnder the ſunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednes, and the place of iuſtice where was iniquitie.
17 I thoght in mine heart, God wil iudge the iuſte & the wicked. for time is g there for euerie purpoſe and for euerie worke.
18 I conſidered in mine heart the ſtate of the children of men that God had h purged them: yet to ſe to, they are in thē ſelues as beaſts.
19 For the condition of the children of mē, and the conditiō of beaſtes are euē as one i cōdition vnto them. As the one dyeth, ſo dyeth the other. for they haue all one breath, and there is no excellencie of man aboue the beaſt. for all is vanitie.
20 All go to one place, and all was of the duſt, and all ſhal returne to the duſt.
21 Who k knoweth whether the ſpirit of man aſcende vpward, and the ſpirit of the beaſt deſcend downeward to the earth?
22 Therefore I ſe that there is nothing better then y a man ſhulde l reioyce in his affaires, becauſe y is his portion. For who ſhal bring him to ſe what ſhalbe after him?

1 SO a I turned, and cōſidered all the oppreſſions that are wroght vnder the ſunne, & beholde, the teares of the oppreſſed, and none comforteth them. and lo, the ſtrength is of the hand of them that oppreſſe them, and none comforteth them.
2 Wherefore I praiſed the b dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet alue.
3 And I counte him c better then them both, which hathe not yet bene. for he hathe not ſene the euil workes which are wroght vnder the ſunne.
4 Alſo I behelde all trauail, and all d perfection of workes that this is the enuie of a man againſt his neighbour. this alſo is vanitie and vexacion of ſpirit.
5 The foole foldeth his hands, and e eateth vp his owne fleſh.
6 Better is an handful with quietnes, then two handfuls with labour and vexacion of ſpirit.
7 Again a I returned, and ſawe vanitie vnder the ſunne.
8 There is one alone, and there is not a ſecōde, which hathe nether ſonne nor brother, yet is there none end of all his trauail, nether cā his eye be ſatisfied with riches: nether doth he thinke, For whome do I trauail and defraude my ſoule of pleaſure? this alſo is vanitie, and this is an euil trauail.
9 f Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

&c. ii.

10 For if they fall, the one will lift vp his fellowe: but wo vnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a ſeconde to lift him vp.

g By this proverbe he declareth how neceſſarie it is, ẏ men ſhulde liue in societie 11 Alſo if two lye together, then ſhal they haue heat: but to one how ſhulde there be heat?

h That is, fro a poore, & baſe eſtate, or out of trouble, & priſon, as Ioſeph did, Gen 41, 14

12 And if one ouercome him, two ſhal ſtande againſt him: and a threfolde g coard is not eaſely broken.

i Meaning, ẏ is borne a King.

13 Better is a poore and wiſe childe, then an olde and fooliſh King, which wil no more be admoniſhed.

k Which follow, & flatter ẏ Kings ſonne, or him ẏ ſhal ſuccede to enter into credit with them in hope of gaine.

14 For out of the h priſon he cometh forthe to reigne: when as he that is i borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

l They neuer ceaſe by all meanes to crepe into fauour: but when they obteine not their greadie deſires, they thinke thẽ ſelues abuſed, as other haue bene ī time paſt, and ſo care no more for him

15 I behelde all the liuing, which walke vnder the ſunne, k with the ſeconde childe, which ſhal ſtande vp in his place.

16 There is none l end of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, ſhal not reioyce in him: ſurely this is alſo vanitie and vexation of ſpirit.

m That is, w what affection thou comeſt to heare ẏ worde of God.

17 Take hede to thy m foote when thou entreſt into he Houſe of God, and be more nere to heare then to giue the ſacrifice of n fooles: for they knowe not that they do euil.

n Meaning, of the wicked, w thinke to pleaſe God w ceremonies, and haue nether faith nor repẽtance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to ſpeake lightely, chefely in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue ynough. 11 The laborers ſlepe is ſwete. 14 Man when he dyeth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a contẽted minde is the gift of God.

a Ether ẏ vowing or in praying meaning ẏ we ſhulde vſe all reuerẽce to God warde

1 BE not a raſh with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be haſtie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on ẏ earth: therefore let thy wordes be b fewe.

b He heareth thee not for thy manie wordes ſake, or often repetitions, but conſidereth thy faith, and feruent minde

2 For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of buſines: ſo the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

3 *When thou haſt vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he deliteth not in fooles. paye therefore ẏ thou haſt c vowed.

Deut. 23, 21.

c He ſpeaketh of vowes, w are approued by Gods worde, and ſerue to his glorie.

4 It is better that thou ſhuldeſt not vowe, then that thou ſhuldeſt vowe and not paye it.

d Cauſe not thy ſelf to ſinne by vowing raſhely: as thei do w make a vowe to liue vnmaried, and ſuche like.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy d fleſh to ſinne: nether ſay before the e Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore ſhal God be angrie by thy voyce, & deſtroye the worke of thine hands?

e That is, before Gods meſſenger whẽ he ſhal examine thy doing: as thoughthy ignorãce ſhulde be a iuſt excuſe

6 For in the multitude of dreames, & vanities are alſo manie wordes: but feare thou God.

f Meaning, ẏ God wil redreſſe theſe things, & therfore we muſt depẽd vpõ hi.

7 If in a countrey thou ſeeſt the oppreſsiõ of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iuſtice, be not aſtonied at the matter: for he that is f higher then the higheſt, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

g The reuenues of ẏ earth are to be preferred aboue all things, w appertaine to this life.

8 And the g abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King h alſo conſiſteth by the field that is tilled.

h Kings and princes cã not maintein their eſtate without tillage, w thig commẽdeth ẏ excellencie of tillage.

9 He that loueth ſilver, ſhal not be ſatiſfied with ſilver, & he that loueth riches, ſhal be without the frute therof: this alſo is vanitie.

10 Whẽ goods encreaſe, they are encreaſed that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

i That is, his great abũdãce of riches, or ẏ ſurfeting, w cometh by his great feding.

11 The ſlepe of him that trauaileth, is ſwete, whether he eat litle or muche: but the i ſacietie of the riche wil not ſuffer him to ſlepe.

k When couetous men heape vp riches, which turne to their deſtruction.

12 There is an euil ſickenes that I haue ſene vnder the ſunne: to wit, riches k reſerued to the owners thereof for their euil.

l He doeth not enioye his fathers riches.

Iob. 1, 21. Wiſd. 7, 6. 1. Tim. 6, 7.

13 And theſe riches periſh by euil trauail, & he begetteth a ſonne, and in his l hand is nothing.

14 *As he came forthe of his mothers belly, he ſhal returne naked to go as he came, & ſhal beare away nothing of his labour, which he hathe cauſed to paſſe by his hãd.

15 And this alſo is an euil ſickenes that in all pointes as he came, ſo ſhal he go, and what profite hathe he that he hathe trauailed for the m winde?

m Meaning, in vaine, & without profit

16 Alſo all his dayes he eateth in n darkenes with muche grief, and in his ſorow & angre.

n In affliction, and griet of minde.

17 Beholde then, what I haue ſene good, that it is comelie to o eat, and to drinke, & to take pleaſure in all his labour, wherein he trauaileth vnder the ſunne, ẏ whole nõber of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

o Read Chap. 3, 12.

18 Alſo to euerie man to whome God hathe giuen riches and treaſures, and giueth him power to eat thereof, and to take his parte, and to enioye his labour: this is the gift of God.

p He wil take no great thoght for the peines that he hathe endured in time paſt.

19 Surely he wil not muche remember the dayes of his p life, becauſe God anſwereth to the ioye of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miſerable eſtate of him to whome God hathe giuen riches, and not the grace to vſe them.

q He ſheweth that it is the plague of God when ẏ riche man hathe not a liberal heart to vſe his riches

1 THere is an euil, which I ſawe vnder the ſunne, and it is muche among mẽ:

b If he cã neuer haue ynough.

2 A man to whome God hathe giuen riches and treaſures and honour, and he wanteth nothing for his ſoule of all that it deſireth: but a God giueth him not power to eat thereof, but a ſtrange man ſhal eat it vp: this is vanitie, and this is an euil ſickenes.

c As we ſe often times, that ẏ couetous mã ether falleth into crimes ẏ deſerue death, or is murthered or drowned or hangeth hi ſelf or ſuch like, & ſo lacketh the honour of buryal which is the laſt office of humanitie

3 If a man beget an hundreth children and liue manie yeres, and the dayes of his yeres be multiplied, and his ſoule be not b ſatiſfied with good things, and he be not c buryed, I ſay that an vntimelie fiute is better then he.

d M. meaning, ẏ vntimelie rate whole life did neither profite or hurt ante.

4 For d he cometh into vanitie and goeth into into darkenes: & his name ſhalbe couered with darkenes.

563/1224

5 Alſo he hathe not ſene ỹ ſunne, nor knowē it: therefore this hathe more reſt then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thouſād yeres twiſe tolde, and had ſene no good, ſhal not all go to one place?

e His deſire & ambicion

7 All the labour of mā is for his mouth: yet the e ſoule is not filled.

f Is not knowen to vſe his goods w I ſe in the obtayning of god

8 For what hathe the wiſe man more then the foole? what hathe ỹ poore that f knoweth how to walke before the liuing?

g To be contēted with that which God hathe giuen, is better then to followe the deſires that neuer can be ſatiſfied h Meaning. God who wil make him to feele that he is mortal

9 The g ſight of the eye is better then to walke in the luſtes: this alſo is vanitie and vexacion of ſpirit.

10 What is that that hathe bene? the name thereof is now named: and it is knowen that it is man. and he can not ſtriue with him that is h ſtronger then he.

CHAP. VII.

Diuers precepts to followe that which is good, and to auoide the contrarie.

Chap VII a There is no ſtate, wherein man can liue to haue perfite quietnes in this life Iob 14,2. pſal 145,4. Prou 22,1.

1 SVrely there be manie things that increaſe vanitie & what auaileth it mā?

2 For who knoweth what is a good for man in the life & in the nomber of the dayes of the life of his vanitie, ſeing he maketh thē as a* ſhadow? For who can ſhewe vnto man what ſhalbe after him vnder ỹ ſunne?

b He ſpeaketh thus after the iudgement of ỹ fleſh, which thinketh death to be the end of all euils or els, becauſe ỹ this corporal death is the entring into the euerlastig life

3 A good name is better then a good oyntment, and the day of b death, then the day that one is borne.

c Where we may learne to examine our liues

4 It is better to go to the houſe of c mourning, then to go to the houſe of feaſting, becauſe this is the end of all men. and the liuing ſhal lay it to his heart.

d Which crackel for a while and profite nothing

5 Angre is better then laughter: for by a ſad loke the heart is made better.

6 The heart of the wiſe is in the houſe of mourning: but the heart of fooles is in the houſe of mirth.

e A man that is eſteemed wiſe, when he falleth to oppreſsion, becōmeth like a beaſt

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wiſe man, then that a mā ſhulde heare the ſong of fooles.

8 For like the noiſe of the d thornes vnder the pot, ſo is the laughter of the foole. this alſo is vanitie.

f He noteth their lightenes ỹ entrepriſe a thing, & ſuddenly leaue it of againe

9 Surely oppreſsiō maketh a wiſe mā mad: and the rewarde deſtroyeth the heart.

g Murmure not againſt God when he ſendeth aduerſities for mans ſinnes

10 The f end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, & the pacient in ſpirit is better then the proude in ſpirit.

h He anſwereth to them ỹ eſteme not wiſdome, except riches be ioyned therewith, ſhewing that bothe are the gifres of God, but that wiſdome is farre more excellent & maie be without riches.

11 Be not ỹ of an haſtie ſpirit to be angrie: for angre reſteth in the boſome of fooles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former daies were better thē theſe? for thou doeſt not enquire g wiſely of this thing.

13 Wiſdome is good with an h inheritāce, and excellent to them that ſe the ſunne.

14 For man ſhal reſt in the ſhadowe of wiſdome, & in ỹ ſhadowe of ſiluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wiſdome giueth life to the poſſeſſers thereof.

15 Beholde the woike of God: for who can make * ſtraight that which he hathe made croked? Chap. 1,15.

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, & in the day of affliction · conſider: God alſo hathe made this contrary to that, to the intent that mā ſhulde finde k nothing after him.

i Conſider what is fore God doeth ſend it and what maie comfort thee k That mā ſhuide be able to controlle nothing in his workes.

17 I haue ſene all things in the daies of my vanitie: there is a iuſte man that periſheth in his l iuſtice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

l Meaning, that cruel tyrants put the godlie to death and let the wicked go fre

18 Be not thou iuſte m ouermuche, nether make thy ſelf ouer wiſe: wherefore ſhuldeſt thou be deſolate?

m Boaſt not to muche of thine owne iuſtice and wiſdome

19 Be not thou wicked n ouermuche, nether be thou fooliſh: wherefore ſhuldeſt thou periſh not in thy time?

n Tarie not long when ỹ art admoniſhed to come out of the waie of wickednes

20 It is good that thou laie holde on o this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from p that: for he that feareth God, ſhal come forthe of them all.

o To wit, on theſe admonitions that go before p Conſider what deſolatiō & deſtructiō ſhal come, if thou do not obeie them 1 King 8,46. 2 chro 6,48. prou 20,9. 1 ioh 1,8.

21 Wiſdome ſhal ſtrengthen the wiſe man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citie.

22 * Surely there is no man iuſt in the earth, that doeth good and ſinneth not.

q Credit them not, nether care for them, Or, ſpoken vnto of others

23 Giue not thine q heart alſo to all ỹ wordes that men ſpeake, leſt thou do heare thy ſeruant curſing thee.

24 For often times alſo thine heart knoweth that thou likewiſe haſt r curſed others

r Meaning, with dome

25 All this haue I proued by wiſdome: I thoght I wil be wiſe, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre of, what maner it be? and it is a profound depenes, who can finde it?

27 I haue compaſſed about, bothe I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to ſearche wiſdome and reaſon, and to knowe the wickednes of folie, and the fooliſhnes of madnes,

28 And I finde more bitter then death the woman whoſe heart is as nettes & ſnares, and her hands, as bands: he that is good before God, ſhalbe deliuered from her, but ỹ ſinner ſhalbe taken by her.

29 Beholde, ſaith the Preacher, this haue I founde, ſeking one by one to finde ỹ cōſute:

s That is, to come to a concluſion

30 And yet my ſoule ſeketh, but I finde it not. I haue founde one man of a thouſand: but a woman among them all haue I not founde.

31 Onely lo, this haue I founde, that God hathe made man righteous: but they haue ſoght manie t inuentions.

t And ſo are cauſe of their owne deſtruction

CHAP. VIII.

2 To obey Princes and Magiſtrates. 17 The workes of God paſſe mans knowledge.

1 WHo is as the wiſe man? and who knoweth the interpretacion of a thing? the wiſdome of a man l eth make his [a] face to ſhine: and the [b] ſtrength of his face ſhalbe changed.

2 I aduertiſe thee to take hede to the [c] mouth of the King, and to the worde of the othe of God.

3 [d] Haſte not to go forthe of his ſight: ſtand not in an euil thing: for he wil do whatſoeuer pleaſeth him.

4 Where the worde of the King is, there is power, and who ſhal ſay vnto him, What doeſt thou?

5 He that kepeth the commandement, ſhal knowe none euil thing, and the heart of the wiſe ſhal knowe the [e] time and iudgement.

6 For to euerie purpoſe there is a time and iudgement becauſe the [f] miſerie of man is great, vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which ſhalbe: for who can tel him when it ſhalbe?

8 Man is not lord [g] ouer the ſpirit to reteine the ſpirit: nether hathe he power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battel, nether ſhal wickednes deliuer the poſſeſſers thereof.

9 All this haue I ſene, and haue giuen mine heart to euerie worke, which is wroght vnder the ſunne, and I ſawe a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne [h] hurt.

10 And likewiſe I ſawe the wicked buryed, and [i] they returned, and they that came from the holie [k] place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this alſo is vanitie.

11 Becauſe ſentence againſt an euil worke is not [l] executed ſpedely, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully ſet in thē to do euil.

12 Thogh a ſinner do euil an hūdreth times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I knowe that it ſhalbe wel with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

13 But it ſhal not be wel to the wicked, nether ſhal he prolong his dayes: he ſhalbe like a ſhadowe, becauſe he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpō the earth, that there be righteous men to whome it cometh according to the [m] worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whome it cometh according to the woike of the iuſte: I thoght alſo that this is vanitie.

15 And I praiſed ioye: for there is no goodnes to man vnder the ſunne, ſaue [n] to eat and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hathe giuen him vnder the ſunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to knowe wiſdome, and to beholde the buſines that is done on earth, that nether day nor night the eyes of man take ſlepe,

17 Then I beheld'e ỹ whole worke of God, that mā can not finde out the worke that is wroght vnder the ſunne. for the which man laboreth to ſeke it, and can not finde it: yea, and thogh the wiſe man thinke to knowe it, he can not finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whome God loueth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wiſdome excelleth ſtrength.

1 I haue ſurely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iuſte, & the wiſe, and their workes are in the hand of God. & no man knoweth ether loue or [a] hatred of all that is before them.

2 All things come alike to all: and the ſame condition is to the iuſte and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, & to the polluted, & to him that ſacrificeth, & to him that ſacrificeth not: as is the good, ſo is the ſinner, he that ſweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

3 This is euil among all that is done vnder the ſunne, that there is one [b] condition to all, and alſo the heart of the ſonnes of men is ful of euil, and madnes is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they go to the dead.

4 Surely whoſoeuer is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a [c] liuing dog, then to a dead lyon.

5 For the liuing knowe that they ſhal dye, but the dead knowe nothing at all: nether haue they anie more a rewarde: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Alſo their loue, and their hatred, & their enuie is now periſhed, and they haue no more portion foreuer, in all that is done vnder the ſunne.

7 Go, eat thy bread with ioye, & drinke thy wine with a chereful heart: for God now [d] accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy gaiments be [e] white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 "* Reioyce with the wife whome ỹ haſt loued all the dayes of the life of thy vanitie, ẅ God hathe giuen thee vnder the ſunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, & in thy trauail wherein thou laboreſt vnder the ſunne.

10 All that thine hand ſhal finde to do, do it with all thy power: for there is nether worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wiſdome in the graue whether thou goeſt.

11 I returned, & I ſawe vnder the ſunne that the race is not to the ſwift, nor the battel to the ſtrōg, nor yet bread to the wiſe, nor alſo riches to men of vnderſtāding, nether yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and [f] chance cometh to them all.

12 For nether doeth man knowe his [g] time, but as the fiſhes, which are taken in an euil net, a That is, doeth get him fauour & proſperitie

b Whereas before he was proude and arrogant, he ſhal become humble and meke.
c That is, that thou obey the King, & kepe the othe that thou haſt made for the ſame cauſe
d Withdrawe not thy ſelfe lightly from the obedience of thy prince.
e That is, whē time is to obey, and how farre he ſhulde obey
f Man of him ſelf is miſerable, and therefore ought to do nothing to increaſe the ſame, but to worke all things by wiſdome, & counſel g Man hathe no power to ſaue his owne life, & therefore muſt not raſhely caſt him ſelf into danger.
h As cometh oft times to tyrāts, and wicked rulers.
i That is, others as wicked as they k They that feared God, & worſhiped hī according as he had appointed.
l Where iuſtice is delayed, there ſinne reigneth.
m Which are puniſhed as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7, 16.
n Read Chap. 5, 22.

a Meaning, what things he eggeth to enuie or refuſe or mā knoweth not by theſe outward things, ỹ is by proſperitie or aduerſitie, whome God doeth fauour or hate: for he ſendeth them aſwel to the wicked as to the godlie
b In outward things as riches, and pouertie, ſickines, & helth there is no differēce betwene the godlie, & the wicked but ỹ difference is that ỹ godlie are aſſured by faith of Gods fauour & aſsiſtance
c He noteth ỹ Epicures, and carnal men, ẅ made their belly their god, & had no pleaſure but in this life, wiſhing rather to be an aſſe, & vile perſone in this life, then a man of autoritie, and ſo to dye, which is ment by the dog and lyon.
d They flatter them ſelues to be in Gods fauour, becauſe they haue all things in abūdance
e Reioyce, be mery, and ſpare for no coſt. thus ſpeake ỹ wicked belligods
"Ebr. regarde the life
Chap 5, 18.
f Thus ỹ worldeling ſay to proue that all things are lawful for thē and attribute that to chance and fortune, ẅ is done by the prouidence of God
g That is, he doeth not foreſe what ſhal come.

net, & as the birdes that are caught in the ſnare: ſo are the children of men ſnared in the euil time when it falleth vpon them ſuddenly.

13 I haue alſo ſene this wiſdome vnder the ſunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A litle citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came againſt it, and compaſſed it about, and buylded fortes againſt it.

15 And there was founde therein a poore and wiſe man, and he deliuered the citie by his wiſdome: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then ſaid I, Better is wiſdome then ſtrength: yet the wiſdome of the poore is deſpiſed, and his wordes are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wiſe are more heard in quietnes, then the crye of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wiſdome then weapons of warre: but one ſinner deſtroyeth muche good.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of fooliſhnes and wiſdome. 11 A ſclanderer is like a ſerpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of fooliſh Kings, and dronken princes. 17 And of good Kings and princes.

1 DEad flies cauſe to ſtinke, and putrifie the ointment of the apoticarie: ſo doeth a litle folie him that is in eſtimation for wiſdome, and for glorie.

a So that he doeth all things wel, & iuſtly, where as the foole doeth ỹ contrary

2 The heart of a[a] wiſe mã is at his right hãd: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

b By his doings he bewraieth him ſelf.

3 And alſo whẽ the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he [b] telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

c If thy ſuperiour be angry with thee, be thou diſcrete, & not moued

4 If the [c] ſpirit of him that ruleth, riſe vp againſt thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great ſinnes.

d Meaning, ỹ it is an euil thing whẽ they that are in autoritie, faile, & do not their duetie

5 There is an euil that I haue ſene vnder the ſunne, as an [d] error that procedeth frõ the face of him that ruleth.

e They that are riche in wiſdome and vertue.

6 Folie is ſet in great excellencie, and the [e] riche ſet in the lowe place.

7 I haue ſene ſeruants on horſes and princes walking as ſeruants on the grounde.

8 *He that diggeth a pit, ſhal fall into it, & he that breaketh the hedge, a ſerpent ſhal bite him.

Pſal.7,16. prou.26,27. eccleſ.27,30.

9 He ỹ remoueth ſtones, ſhal hurt him ſelf thereby, & he that cutteth wood, ſhalbe in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hathe not whet the edge, he muſt then put to more [f] ſtrength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wiſdome.

f Without wiſdome what ſoeuer a man taketh in hãd, turneth to his owne hurte.

11 If the ſerpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wiſe man haue grace: but the lippes of a foole deuoure him ſelf.

13 The beginning of ỹ wordes of his mouthe is fooliſhnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, ſaying, Man knoweth not what ſhalbe: and who can tel him what ſhalbe after him?

15 The labour of the fooliſh doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the [g] citie.

g The ignorance & beaſtlines of ỹ wicked is ſuch, ỹ thei knowe not cõmune thigs, & yet wil thei diſcuſſe hie matters.

16 Wo to thee, ô land, when thy King is a [h] childe, and thy princes [i] eat in the morning.

h That is, without wiſdome and coũſel.

i Are giuen to their luſtes & pleaſures.

17 Bleſſed art thou, ô land, when thy King is the ſonne [k] of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for ſtrength and not for dronkinnes.

k Meaning, whẽ he is noble for vertue & wiſdome & with the giftes of God.

18 By ſlouthfulnes ỹ roofe of the houſe goeth to decay, and by the ydlenes of the hands the houſe droppeth through.

19 Thei prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but ſiluer anſwereth to all.

20 Curſe not the Kĩg, no not in thy thoght, nether curſe the riche in thy bed chamber: for the [l] foule of the heauen ſhal cary the voice, & that which hathe wings, ſhal declare the matter.

l Thou canſt not worke euil ſo ſecretly, but it ſhal be knowen.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberal to the poore. 4 Not to doute of Gods prouidẽce. 8 All worldelie proſperitie is but vanitie. 9 God wil iudge all.

1 CAſt thy bread vpon the [a] waters: for after manie daies thou ſhalt finde it.

a That is, be liberal to the poore, & though it ſeme to be as a thing ventred on ỹ ſea, yet it ſhal brig thee profite.

2 Giue a portion to ſeuen, & alſo to eight: for thou knoweſt not what euil ſhalbe vpon the earth.

3 If the [b] cloudes be ful, they wil powre forthe raine vpon the earth: and if the [c] tre do fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tre falleth, there it ſhalbe.

b As the cloudes that are ful, powre out raine, ſo thei riche that haue abũdance, muſt diſtribute it liberally

c He exhorteth to be liberal, while we liue: for after there is no power

4 He that obſerueth the [d] winde, ſhal not ſowe, and he that regardeth the cloudes, ſhal not reape.

d He that feareth inconueniences, when neceſſitie requireth, ſhal neuer do his duetie.

5 As thou knoweſt not which is the way of the ſpirit, nor how the bones do grow in the wombe of her that is with childe: ſo thou knoweſt not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning ſowe thy ſede, and in the euening let not thine hand [e] reſt: for thou knoweſt not whether ſhal proſper, this or [f] that, or whether bothe ſhalbe alike good.

e Be not weary of well doing.

f That is, ỹ of thy workes are moſte agreable to God.

7 Surely the light is a pleaſant thing: and it is a good thing to the eyes to ſe ỹ ſunne.

8 Though a man liue manie yeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet he ſhal remember the daies of [g] darknes, becauſe thei are manie, all that cometh is vanitie.

g That is, of affliction & trouble

9 [h] Reioyce, ô yong man, in thy youth, & let thine heart chere thee in the daies of thy youth: and walke in the waies of thine heart, and in the ſight of thine eyes: but knowe that for all theſe things, God will bring thee to iudgement.

h He derideth them that ſet their delite in worldelie pleaſures, as though God wolde not call them to an accounte.

10 Therefore take away [1] grief out of thine heart, and cauſe euil [k] to departe from thy fleſh. for childehoode & youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

To thinke on God in youth and not to differre til age. 7 The ſoule returneth to God is [l] ſome vnto the gift of God and confeſſeth in fearing him and keping his commandements.

1 REmember now thy Creator in the daies of thy youth, whiles the euil daies come not, nor the yeres approche, wherein thou ſhalt ſay, I haue no pleaſure in them:

2 Whiles the ſunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the ſtarres, nor the [a] cloudes returne after the raine:

3 When the [b] keepers of the houſe ſhal tremble, and the [c] ſtrong men ſhal bowe themſelues, and the [d] grinders ſhal ceaſe, becauſe thei are fewe, and the [e] waxe darke that loke out by the windowes:

4 And the [f] doores ſhal be ſhut without by the baſe ſounde of the grinding, and he ſhal riſe vp at the voice of the [h] birde: & all the [i] daughters of ſinging ſhalbe abaſed.

5 Alſo thei ſhalbe afraied of the [k] hie thing, and feare ſhalbe in [l] the way, and the almonde tre ſhal [m] floriſh and the [n] graſſhopper ſhalbe a burden, and concupiſcence ſhalbe driuen away. for man goeth to the houſe of his age, and the mourners go about in the ſtrete.

6 Whiles the [o] ſiluer corde is not lengthened, nor the golden [p] ewer broken, nor the [q] pitcher broke at the [r] well, nor the [s] wheele broken at the [t] ciſterne.

7 And duſt returne to the earth as it was, and the [u] ſpirit returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, ſaith the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wiſe the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, & cauſed them to heare, & ſearched forthe, and prepared manie parables.

10 The Preacher ſought to finde out pleaſant wordes, & an vpright writing, euē the wordes of trueth.

11 The wordes of the wiſe are like goades, and like nailes [x] faſtened by the maiſters of the aſſemblies, which are giuē by one [y] paſtour.

12 And of other thīgs beſides theſe, my ſonne, take thou hede. for there is none end in making manie [z] bookes: and muche reading is a wearines of the fleſh.

13 Let vs heare the end of all: feare God & kepe his commandements: for this is the whole duetie of man.

14 For God wil bring euerie worke vnto iudgement, with euerie ſecret thing, whether it be good or euil.

1 To wit, mine, and I think Meaning, or natural lustes whe reunto youth is giuen

Chap. XII

a That is, for the continual miſerie for when the clouds remaine vpon vs, rain, mans grief is increaſed.

b The hands, which kepe ỹ bodie

c The legs

d The teethe.

e The eyes.

f The lippes, or mouth

g When the chawes ſhal ſcarſe open & not be able to chewe nomore

h He ſhal not be able to ſlepe

i That is, the winde pipes, or the eares ſhalbe deafe & not able to heare ſinging

k To climbe hie becauſe of their weakenes, or thei ſtoupe downe, as though they were afraid leſt ſtones ſhal hit them

l Thei ſhal tremble as thei go, as though they were afraied

m Their head ſhalbe as white as the bloſſomes of an almonde tree n Thei ſhalbe able to beare nothing.

o Meaning the backe bone of the backe bone of the ſame

p The liuer

q The liuer couereth the bruſe, which is an orelour like gore.

r That is, the veines

s Meaning, the liuer

t Which is the head

u That is, the heart, out of ỹ which ỹ bloud draweth the powers of life

x The ſoule in continently ſeemeth to ſay or thinke, & ſpeaketh not as the wicked imagine

y Which are well applied by ỹ miniſters, whom he calleth maiſters

z That is by God

a Mere things can not be comprehended in bookes or learned by ſtudy, but God muſt inſtruct the heart thē ỹ ſelf ſimply kepe ỹ commandements as the true doctrine, & the way therunto is to feare God.

The Argument of ſong of ſongs ſo called becauſe in the chief ſtile of theſe 1000. ſongs which Salomon made as is mentioned, 1 Kin. 4 32

AN EXCELLENT SONG which was Salomons.

THE ARGUMENT.

IN this Song, Salomón ly moſte ſweete and comfortable allegories and parables deſcribeth the perfite loue of Ieſus Chriſt, the true Salomón and King of peace, and the faithful ſoule or his Church, which he hathe ſanctified and appointed to be his ſpouſe, holy, chaſt and without reprehenſion. So that here is declared the ſingular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefites wherewith he doth enriche her of his pure bountie and grace without ame of her deſerues. Alſo the earneſt affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Chriſt deſiring to be more and more ioyned to herein loue, and not to be forſaken for ame ſpot or blemiſh that is in her.

CHAP. I.

The familiar talke and myſtical communication of the ſpiritual loue betwene Ieſus Chriſt and his Church. 6 The domeſtical enemies that perſecute the Church.

1 THe [a] kiſſes of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Becauſe of the [b] ſauour of thy good ointments thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the [c] virgines loue thee.

3 [d] Drawe me: we wil runne after thee: the King hathe broght me into his [e] chambers. we wil reioyce and be glad in thee: we wil remember thy loue more then wine. the righteous do loue thee.

4 I am [f] blacke, ô daughters of Ieruſalém, but comelie, as the frutes of [g] Kedár, & as the [h] curtines of Salomón.

5 Regarde ye me not becauſe I am [i] blacke: for the [k] ſunne hathe loked vpon me. The [l] ſonnes of my mother were angrie againſt me: thei made me the keper of the vines: but I [m] kept not mine owne vine.

6 Shewe me, [n] o thou, whome my ſoule lo

Ioeth,

a This is ſpoken in the perſone of the Church, or of the faithful ſoules, inflamed with ỹ deſire of Chriſt who me ſheweth

b The ſauour of thy great benefites

c That are pure in heart & conuerſion

d The faithful confeſſe that thei can not come to Chriſt except thei be drawen

e Meaning the ſecret ioye ỹ is not knowen to the worlde.

f The Church confeſſeth her ſpots & ſinne, but hathe confidence in ỹ fauour of Chriſt.

g Kedar was Ismaels ſonne, of whome came the Arabians ỹ dwelt in tentes

h Which dwelling were all ſet with precious ſtones &c. Eſa i Conſider not the Church by ỹ outward appearance.

k The corruption of nature through ſinne, and afflictions.

l Mine owne brethren, ỹ ſhulde haue moſte fauoured me

m She confeſſeth her owne negligence

n The ſpouſe feling her infirmitie, flieth to her houſband only for ſuccour.

ueth,where thou fedeſt,where thou lieſt at noone:for why ſhulde I be as ſhe that turneth aſide to ỹ flockes of o thy cõpanions?
7 p If thou knowe not, ô thou the faireſt among women,get thee forthe by the ſteppes of the flocke, and fede thy kiddes by the tents of the ſhepherdes.
8 I haue compared thee, ô my loue,to the troupe of horſes in ỹ q charets of Pharaó.
9 Thy chekes are comelie w̃ rowes of ſtones,and thy necke with chaines.
10 We wil make thee borders of golde with ſtuddes of ſiluer.
11 r Whiles the King was at his repaſt, my ſpikenarde gaue the ſmel thereof.
12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me:he ſhal lye betwene my breaſtes.
13 My welbeloued is as a cluſtre of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engédi.
14 My loue, beholde, ỹ art t faire: beholde,
ỹ art faire: thine eyes are like the dooues.
15 My welbeloued,beholde, thou art faire and pleaſant: alſo our u bed is grene: the beames of our houſe are cedres.

o Whome thou haſt called to the dignitie of paſtures, and thei ſet forthe their owne dreames in ſtead of thy doctrine
p Chriſt ſpeaketh to his Church, bidding thẽ that are ignorãt,to go to the paſtors to learne
q For thy ſpiritual beautie and excellẽcie there was no worldlie treaſure to be compared vnto thee
r The Church reioyceth that ſhe is admitted to the companie of Chriſt s He ſhal be moſte deare vn to me t Chriſt accepteth his Churche and commendeth her beautie u That is, the heart of the faithful where in Chriſt dweleth by his Spirit

CHAP. II.

3 The Church deſireth to reſt Vnder the ſhadowe of Chriſt. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the doue. 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

1 I Am the roſe of the field, & the lilie of the valleis.
2 Like a lilie among the thornes, ſo is my a loue among the daughters.
3 b Like the apple tre amõg the trees of the foreſt:ſo is my welbeloued among the ſon-nes of men: vnder his ſhadowe had I delite, & ſate downe:and his frute was ſwete vnto my mouth.
4 He broght me into the wine celler, and loue was his banner ouer me.
5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am ſicke of loue.
6 His left hand is vnder mine head, & his right hand doeth imbrace me.
7 c I charge you,ô daughters of Ieruſalém, by the roes & by the hindes of the field, that ye ſtirre not vp,nor wake my loue, vn-
til ſhe pleaſe.
8 d It is the voice of my welbeloued.beholde, he cometh leaping by the mountaines, and ſkipping by the hilles.
9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong heart:lo,he e ſtandeth behinde our wall,lo-king forthe of the windowes,ſhewing him ſelfe through the f grates.
10 My welbeloued ſpake & ſaid vnto me, A-riſe,my loue,my faire one,& come thy way.
11 For beholde,g winter is paſt.the raine is changed,and is gone away.
12 The flowers appeare in ỹ earth: the time of the ſinging of birdes is come,& the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.
13 The figtre hathe broght forthe her yong figges.& the vines with their ſmall grapes haue caſt a ſauour:ariſe my loue, my faire one,and come away.
14 My dooue,that art in the h holes of the rocke,in ỹ ſecret places of ỹ ſtaires,ſhewe me thy ſight, let me heare thy voice: for thy voyce is ſwete,and thy ſight comelie.
15 Take vs ỹ foxes,ỹ i little foxes,w̃ deſtroy the vines:for our vines haue ſmale grapes.
16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his:
he fedeth among the lilies,
17 Vntil ỹ day breake, & the ſhadowes flee away:returne,my welbeloued,& be like a k roe,or a yong hart vpon the mountai-nes of Béther.

a Thus Chriſt preferreth his Church aboue all other thigs
b The ſpouſe teſtifieth her great deſire toward her houſband, but her ſtrẽgth faileth her, and therefore ſhe deſireth to be comforted, & felt it c Chriſt chargeth them w̃ haue to do in the Church,as it were by a ſolemne othe, that thei trouble not the quietnes thereof
d That is ſpoken of Chriſt, who toke vpõ him our nature to come to helpe his Church.
e For aſmuche as his diuinitie was hid vnder the cloke of our fleſh
f So that we can not haue full knowledge of him in this life
g That is,ſinne and error is driuen backe by the comming of Chriſt which is here decla-red by ỹ ſpring time, when all things flo-riſh
h Thou that art aſhamed of thy ſinnes, come & ſhewe thy ſelf vnto me i Suppreſſe ỹ heretikes which ſeke to deſtroy ỹ vine of the Lord.
k The Church deſireth Chriſt to be moſte ready to helpe her in all dangers.

CHAP. III.

1 The Church deſireth to be ioyned inſeparably to Chriſt her houſband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wildernes.

1 IN my bed by a night I ſoght him that my ſoule loued:I ſoght him, but I foũ-de him not.
2 I wil riſe therefore now, and go about in the citie,by the ſtretes & by the open places,& wil b ſeke him that my ſoule loueth:
I ſoght him,but I founde him not.
3 The c watchemen that went about the ci-tie, founde me: to whome I ſaid, Haue you ſene him whome my ſoule loueth?
4 When I had paſt a litle from them,then I founde hi whome my ſoule loued: I toke holde on him and left him not,til I had broght him vnto my mothers houſe into the chamber of her that conceiued me.
5 d I charge you,ô daughters of Ieruſalém, by the roes and by the hindes of the field, that ye ſtirre not vp,nor wakẽ my loue vn-
til ſhe pleaſe.
6 Who is ſhe that commeth vp out of the e wildernes like pillers of ſmoke perfumed with myrrhe and incenſe, & with all the "ſpices of the marchant?
7 Beholde his f bed, which is Salomons:
threſcore ſtrong men are round about it,
of the valiant men of Iſraél.
8 Thei all handle the ſworde, & are expert in warre,euerie one hathe his ſworde vpon his thigh for the feare g by night.
9 King Salomón made him ſelfe a 'palace of the trees of Lebanón.
10 He made the pillers thereof of ſiluer,& ỹ pauemẽt thereof of golde,the hangings thereof of purple,whoſe middes was paued
w̃ the loue of ỹ daughters of Ieruſalém.
11 Come forthe,ye h daughters of Zión,& beholde the King Salomón w̃ the i crow-ne,wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his mariage, and in the day of the gladnes of his heart.

a Thus the Church by night, y is in troubles ſeketh to Chriſt, but is not incõtinẽtly heard.
b Shewing ỹ although we be not heard at ỹ firſt, yet we muſt ſtil cõtinue in prayer til we fele cõfort
c Which declareth, that we muſt ſeke vnto all,of whome we hope to haue anie ſuccour.
d Read Chap. 2.7.
e This is referred to the Church of Iſraél,w̃ was led by the wildernes forte yeres.
' Ebr powdre.
f By the bed is ment the Tẽple, which Salomón made g He alludeth to the watche, which kept ỹ Temple
" Or,chaffet.
h All ye, that are of the nõber of ỹ faithful
i Chriſt becõme man was crowned by ỹ loue of God w̃ the glorious crowne of his diuinitie

CHAP. IIII.

1 The praiſes of the Church 7 She is without blemiſh in his ſight. 9 The loue of Chriſt towardes her.

1 BEholde, thou art faire my loue.behol de,thou art faire.thine eies are like the dooues.among thy lockes * thine heere is a Becauſe Chriſt dwelleth in his Church, he cõmendeth all that is in her &c.v.

like the [b] flocke of goates, ẅ loke downe from the mountaine of Gileád.

2 Thy tethe are like a flocke of ſhepe in good ordre, which go vp frō ỹ waſhing: which enerie one bring out twinnes, and none is baren among them.

3 Thy lippes are like a threde of ſkarlet & thy talke is comelie: thy temples are within thy lockes as a piece of a pomegranate.

4 Thy necke is as the towre of Dauid buylt for defenſe: a thouſand ſhields hang therein, and all the targates of the ſtrong men.

5 Thy two [c] breaſtes are as two yong roes that are twinnes, feding among the lilies.

6 Vntil the day breake, and the ſhadowes flee away, I wil go into the mountaine of myrrhe and to the mountaine of incenſe.

7 Thou art all faire, my loue, and there is no ſpot in thee.

8 [d] Come with me from Lebanón, my ſpouſe, euen with me from Lebanón, and loke from the top of Amanáh, from the top of Shenír and Hermón, from the dennes of the lyons and from the mountaines of the leopardes.

9 My [e] ſiſter, my ſpouſe, thou haſt wounded mine heart: thou haſt wounded mine heart with one of thine [f] eyes, & with a chaine of thy necke.

10 My ſiſter, my ſpouſe, how faire is thy loue? how muche better is thy loue then wine? & the ſauour of thine ointmēts thē all ſpices?

11 Thy [g] lippes, my ſpouſe, droppe as honie combes: honie and milke are vnder thy tōgue, & the ſauour of thy gaiments is as the ſauour of Lebanón.

12 My ſiſter my ſpouſe is as a garden incloſed, as a ſpring ſhut vp, and a fountaine ſealed vp.

13 Thy plantes are as an orcharde of pomegranates with ſwete frutes, as camphire, ſpikenarde, 14 Euen ſpikenarde, and ſafran, calamus, & ſynamom with all the trees of incenſe, myrrhe and aloes, with all the chief ſpices.

15 [h] O fountaine of the gardens, ô well of liuing waters, and the ſprings of Lebanón.

16 Ariſe, ô [i] North, and come ô South, and blowe on my garden that the ſpices thereof may flowe out: let my welbeloued come to his garden, and eat his pleaſant frute.

CHAP. V.

1 Chriſt calleth his Church to the participation of all his treaſures. 2 She heareth his Voyce. 6 She confeſſeth her nakednes. 10 She praiſeth Chriſt her huſband.

1 I am come into my [a] gardē, my ſiſter, my ſpouſe: I gathered my myrrhe with my ſpice: I ate mine honie cōbe with mine honie, I dranke my wine with my milke: eat, ô friends, drinke, and make you mery, ô welbeloued.

2 [b] I ſlepe, but mine heart waketh, it is the voyce of my welbeloued that knocketh, ſaying, Open vnto me, my ſiſter, my loue, my dooue, my vndefiled: for mine head is ful of dewe, and my lockes with the droppes of the [c] night.

3 I haue put of my [d] coate, how ſhal I put it on? I haue waſhed my fete, how ſhal I defile them?

4 My welbeloued put in his hand by the hole of the dore, & "mine heart was affectioned toward him.

5 I roſe vp to opē to my welbeloued, & mine hāds did droppe downe myrrhe, & my [e] fingers pure myrrhe vpon the handels of the barre.

6 I opened to my welbeloued: but my welbeloued was gone, & paſt: mine heart was gone when he did ſpeake: I ſoght him, but I colde not finde him: I called him, but he anſwered me not.

7 The [f] watchemen that went about the citie, founde me: they ſmote me & wounded me: the watchemen of the walles toke away my vaile from me.

8 I charge you, [g] ô daughters of Ieruſalém, if you finde my welbeloued, that you tel him that I am ſicke of loue.

9 [h] O the faireſt among women, what is thy welbeloued more then other welbeloued? what is thy welbeloued more then another louer, that thou doeſt ſo charge vs?

10 My welbeloued is white and ruddy, the chiefeſt of ten thouſand.

11 His [i] head is as fine golde, his lockes curled, & blacke as a rauen.

12 His eyes are like dooues vpō the riuers of waters, which are waſht with milke, & remaine by the ful veſſels.

13 His chekes are as a bed of ſpices, and as ſwete flowres, & his lippes like lilies dropping downe pure myrrhe.

14 His hands as rings of golde ſet with the "chryſolite his bellie like white yuorie couered with ſaphirs.

15 His leggs are as pillers of marble, ſet vpon ſockets of fine golde: his countenāce as Lebanón, excellent as the cedres.

16 His mouth is as ſwete things, and he is wholy delectable: this is my welbeloued, & this is my louer, ô daughters of Ieruſalém.

17 [k] O the faireſt among womē, whether is thy welbeloued gone? whether is thy welbeloued turned aſide, that we may ſeke him with thee?

CHAP. VI.

1 The Church aſſureth her ſelfe of the loue of Chriſt. 3 The praiſes of the Church. 8 She is but one and vndefiled.

1 My

---

b He hathe reſpect to the multitude of the faithful, ẅ are manie in number.

c Wherein are knowledge, & zeale, two precious iewels

d Chriſt promiſeth his Church to call his faithful from all the corners of the worlde.

e Chriſt calleth his Churche ſiſter in reſpect that he had taken the fleſh of man.

f In that he made his Church beautiful, & riche, he loued his giftes in her.

g Becauſe of thy confeſsion and thankeſgiuing.

h The Church confeſſeth that all her glorie, & beautie cometh of Chriſt who is ỹ true fountaine of all grace

i She deſireth Chriſt to comforte her, and to powre the graces of his Spirit vpō her, which Spirit is ment by the North and South winde.

Chap V.

a The garden ſignifieth the kingdome of Chriſt where he prepareth the banket for his elect.

b The ſpouſe loth that ſhe is troubled ẅ the cares of worldly things, which is ment by ſleping

c Declaring ỹ long pacience of the Lord toward ſinners

d She ſpouſe confeſſeth her nakednes, and that of her ſelf ſhe haue nothing or ſeing that ſhe is once made cleane, ſhe promiſeth not to defile her ſelf againe

"Ebr. My bowels were moued towards him

e The ſpouſe ẅ ſhulde be anointed of Chriſt, ſhal not finde him if ſhe thinke to anoint him ẅ her good workes.

f Theſe are ỹ falſe teachers, ẅ wounde ỹ conſcience ẅ their traditiōs

g She aſketh of them which are godlie (for almuche as ỹ law & ſalnatiō ſhulde come out of Zion & Ieruſalē) that thei wolde direct her to Chriſt

h Thus ſay they of Ieruſalem

i She deſcribeth Chriſt co. be of perfite beautie, & comelines.

"Ebr. Tarſhiſh.

k Hearing of ỹ excellencie of Chriſt, ỹ faithful deſire to knowe how to finde him.

569/1224

1 MY welbeloued is gone downe into a That is, is cōuerſant here in earth amōg men. his [a] garden to the beds of ſpices, to fede in the gardens, and to gather lilies.
2 I am my welbeloueds, and my welbeloued is mine, who fedeth among the lilies.
b Which was a ſtrōg citie, 2 King. 14,17. 3 Thou art beautiful, my loue, as [b] Tirzáh, comelie as Ieruſalém, terrible as an armie with banners.
c This declareth the exceeding loue of Chriſt toward his Church. Chap. 4,1. 4 [c] Turne away thine eyes frō me: for they ouercome me: * thine heere is like a flocke of goats, which loke downe from Gileád.
5 Thy tethe are like a flocke of ſhepe, which go vp from the waſhing, which euerieone brīg out twins, & none is barē amōg thē.
6 Thy temples are within thy lockes as a piece of a pomegranate.
d Meaning, that the giftes are infinite which Chriſt giueth to his Church or that his faithful are manie in number. 7 There are [d] threſcore Quenes & foreſcore concubines, & of the dameſels without nomber.
8 But my dooue is alone, & my vndefiled, ſhe is the onelie daughter of her mother, and ſhe is deare to her that bare her: the daughters haue ſene her and counted her bleſſed: euen the Quenes and the concubines, and thei haue praiſed her.
e He ſheweth that the begin ning of the Church was ſmale, but it grewe vp to a great multitude 9 [e] Who is ſhe that loketh forthe as the morning, faire as the moone, pure as the ſunne, terrible as an armie with banners!
f He wēt downe into the Synagogue to ſe what frutes came of the Lawe, & the Prophets 10 I went downe to the [f] garden of nuttes, to ſe the frutes of the valley, to ſe if the vine budded, and if the pomegranates floriſhed.
g I founde nothing but rebellion 11 [g] I knewe nothing, my ſoule ſet me [h] as the charets of my noble people.
h I ran as ſwift as the nobles of my people in their charets. 12 Returne, returne, ô [i] Shulamite, returne: returne that we may beholde thee. What ſhal you ſe in the Shulamite, but as the cōpanie of an armie?

CHAP. VII.

1 The beautie of the Church in all her members. 10 She is aſſured of Chriſts loue towardes her.

i O ye people of Ieruſalém for Ieruſalem was called Shalém, which ſignifieth peace HOw beautiful are thy [a] goings with ſhoes, ô princes daughter: the iointes of thy thighs are like iewels: the worke of the hand of a cunning workeman.

Chap VII

a He deſcribeth the comelie be utie of the Church in euerie parte, which is to be vnderſtand ſpiritually 2 Thy nauel is as a rounde cuppe that wanteth not lickour: thy belly is as an heape of wheat compaſſed about with lilies.
b Read Chap 4.5. 3 [b] Thy two breaſtes are as two yong roes that are twinnes.
4 Thy necke is like a towre of yuorie: thine eyes are like ỹ fiſh pooles in Heſhbón by the gate of Bath-rabbím. thy noſe is as the towre of Lebanón, that loketh toward Damaſcus.
5 Thine head vpon thee is as ſkarlet, and the buſhe of thine head like purple: the King is tyed [c] in the rafters.
c He deſireth to come nere thee and to be in thy companie. Or galeries. 6 How faire art thou, and how pleaſant art thou, ô my loue, in pleaſures!
7 This thy ſtature is like a palme tree, and thy breaſtes like cluſters.
8 I ſaid, I wil go vp into the palme tre, I wil take holde of her boughes: thy breaſtes ſhal now be like the cluſters of the vine: and the ſauour of thy noſe like apples, 9 And the roufe of thy mouth like good wine, which goeth ſtraight to my welbeloued, & cauſeth the lippes of the ancient to ſpeake.
d This ỹ ſpouſe ſpeaketh. 10 [d] I am my welbeloueds, and his deſire is toward me.
11 Come, my welbeloued, let vs go forthe into the field: let vs remaine in ỹ villages.
e If the people that are called to Chriſt, brīg forthe ante frute. 12 Let vs get vp early to the vines, let vs ſe if the [e] vine floriſh, whether it hathe budded the ſmale grape, or whether the pomegranates floriſh: there wil I giue thee my loue.
13 The mādrakes haue giuē a ſmel, & in our gates are all ſwete things, newe & olde: my welbeloued, I haue kept them for thee.

CHAP. VIII.

2 The Church wil be taught by Chriſt. 3 She is vpholden by him. 6 The vehement loue wherewith Chriſt loueth her. 11 She is the vine that bringeth forth frute to the ſpiritual Salomón, which is Ieſus Chriſt.

a The Church called of the Gentiles, ſpeaketh thus to ỹ Church of Ieruſalém. 1 OH [a] that thou wereſt as my brother ỹ ſucked the breaſtes of my mother: I wolde finde thee without, I wolde kiſſe thee, then thei ſhulde not deſpiſe [b] thee.
b Or, me. 2 I wil lead thee & bring thee into my mothers houſe: there thou ſhalt teache me: & I wil cauſe thee to drinke ſpiced wine, & newe wine of the pomegranate.
b Read Chap. 2,6. 3 [b] His left hand ſhalbe vnder mine head, & his right hand ſhal embrace me.
c Read Chap. 3,5. 4 [c] I charge you, ô daughters of Ieruſalém, that you ſtirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntil ſhe pleaſe.
5 (Who is this that commeth vp out of the wildernes, leaning vpon her welbeloued?) I raiſed thee vp vnder an apple tre: there thy mother conceiued thee: there ſhe conceiued that bare thee.
d The ſpouſe deſireth Chriſt to be ioyned in perpetual loue with him. 6 [d] Set me as a ſeale on thine heart, & as a ſignet vpon thine arme: for loue is ſtrong as death: ielouſie is cruel as the graue: the coles thereof are fyre coles, & a vehemēt flame.
7 Muche water cā not quenche loue, nether can the floods drowne it: if a man ſhulde giue all the ſubſtāce of his houſe for loue, they wolde greatly contemne it.
e The Iewiſh Church ſpeaketh this of ỹ Church of the Gentiles 8 [e] We haue a litle ſiſter, and ſhe hathe no breaſtes: what ſhal we do for our ſiſter whē ſhe ſhalbe ſpoken for?
f If ſhe be ſure & faſt, ſhe is mete for the houſband to dwel in 9 [f] If ſhe be a walle, we wil buylde vpō her a ſiluer palace: and if ſhe be a dore, we wil kepe her in with bordes of cedre.
g The Church promiſeth ſtedfaſtnes & conſtancie. 10 [g] I am a walle & my breaſtes are as towres: then was I in his eyes as one that findeth peace.
h This is the vineyarde of ỹ Lord hired out, Mat. 21,33. 11 [h] Salomón had a vine in Baal-hamón: he gaue the vineyard vnto kepers: euerie one bringeth for the frute thereof a thouſand peces of ſiluer.

12 But my vineyarde which is mine, is before me: to thee, ô Salomón, appertaineth a thousand pieces of siluer, & two thousan to them that kepe the frute thereof.

13 O thou that dwellest in the [i] gardens, the companions hearken vnto thy voyce: cause me to heare it.

14 O my welbeloued, [k] flee away, and be like vnto the roe, or to the yong heart vpon the mountaines of spices.

i Christ dwelleth in his Church whose voyce ỹ faithful heare.

k The Church desireth Christ that if he depart from thẽ, yt that he wolde haste to helpe them in their troubles

ISAIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

God, according to his promes Deut. 18, 15. that he wolde neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hathe from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof thei had a special reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Law, and to applie particularly the doctrine, contained briefely therein, to the vtilitie & profite of those, to whome thei thoght it chiefly appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to thre thangs, which were the grounde of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondely to the promises & threatenings of the Law: & thirdely, to the couenant of grace & reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauiour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto thei neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, thei applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for anie care or regarde to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their sauegarde by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation they haue more clearely intreated it then Moses, and set forthe more liuely Iesus Christ, in whome this couenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophetes, and was moste diligent to set out the same, with moste vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he sawe that the disease of the people required. He declareth also manie notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promes of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vnion with the Iewes. Which are as moste principal pointes contained in this boke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certeine daies that thei had stand vpon the Temple dore (for the maner of the Prophetes was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certeine dayes that the people might the letter marke it, as Isa. 8, 1. & Habak. 2, 2.) the Priests toke it downe and reserued it among their registers: and so by Gods prouidence these bokes were preserued as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his persone and time, he was of the Kings stocke: for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agre, and prophecied more then 64 yeres from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in lawe he was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whome he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophetes this one thing among other is to be obserued, that thei speake of things to come as thogh thei were now past, because of the certeintie thereof, and that thei colde not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsel, and so reuealed them to his Prophetes.

CHAP. I.

Isaiáh reproueth the Iewes of their ingratitude and ſtubbernes, that neither for benefites nor puniſhment wolde amend. 11 He ſheweth why their ſacrifices are reiected, and where in Gods true ſeruice ſtandeth. 24 He propheciеth of the deſtruction of Ieruſalem, 25 And of the reſtitution thereof a The viſion of Iſaiáh, the ſonne of Amóz, which he ſawe b concerning Iudáh and Ieruſalém: in the daies of c Vzziáh, Iothám, Aház & Hezekiah Kings of Iudah.

2 Heare, ô d heauens, and hearken, ô earth: for the Lord hathe ſaid, I haue nouriſhed and broght vp children, but they haue rebelled againſt me.

3 The e oxe knoweth his owner, and the aſſe his maſters cryb, but Iſrael hathe not knowen, my people hathe not vnderſtand.

4 Ah, ſinful nacion, a people laden with iniquitie, a ſede of the wicked, corrupt childrē, they haue forſaken the Lord, they haue prouoked the h holy one of Iſrael to anger, they are gone backwarde.

5 Wherefore ſhulde ye be i ſmitten anie more? for ye fall away more and more: the whole k head is ſicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

6 From the l ſole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but woundes, & ſwelling, and ſores ful of corruption: they haue not ben wrapped, m nor bounde vp, nor mollified with oyle.

7 Your land is waſte, your cities are burnt with fyre: ſtrangers deuoure your land in your preſence, and it is deſolate like the ouerthrowe n of ſtrangers.

8 And the daughter of o Zión ſhal remaine like a cotage in a vineyarde, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, & like a beſieged citie.

9 Except the Lord of hoſtes p had reſerued vnto vs, euen a ſmale remnant: we ſhulde haue bene as Sodóm, & ſhulde haue bene like vnto Gomoráh.

10 Heare the worde of the Lord, ô r princes of Sodóm: hearken vnto the Law of our God, ô people of Gomoráh.

11 What haue I to do with the multitude of your ſacrifices, ſaith the Lord? I am ful of the burnt offrings of rams, & of the fat of fed beaſtes: and I ſ deſire not the blood of bullockes, nor of lambes, nor of goates.

12 Whē ye come to appeare before me, who required this of your hāds to tread in my courtes?

13 Bring no mo oblacions, t in vaine incēſe is an abominacion vnto me. I can not ſuffer, our newe moones, nor ſabbaths, nor ſolemne daies (it is iniquitie) nor ſolemne aſſemblies.

14 My ſoule hateth your u newe moones & your appointed feaſts: they are a burden vnto me, I am weary to beare them.

15 And whē you ſhal ſtretch out your hāds, I wil hide mine eyes from you: and though ye make manie prayers, I wil not heare: for your hands are ful x of blood.

16 y Waſh you, make you cleane: take away the euil of your workes from before mine eyes: ceaſe to do euil.

17 Learne to z do wel ſeke iudgement, relieue the oppreſſed: iudge the fatherles & defend the widowe.

18 Come now, & let vs reaſō together, ſaith the Lord: though your ſinnes were as crimſin, they ſhalbe made a white as ſnowe: though they were red like ſkarlet, they ſhal be b woll.

19 If ye c conſent and obey, ye ſhal eat the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuſe and be rebellious, ye ſhalbe deuoured with the ſworde: for the mouth of the Lord hathe ſpoken it.

21 How is the d faithful citie become an harlot? it was ful of iudgement, & iuſtice lodged therein, but now e they are murtherers.

22 Thy f ſiluer is become droſſe: thy wine is mixt with water.

23 Thy princes are rebellious and companions of g theues: euerie one loueth gifts, & followeth after rewards: they iudge not the fatherles, neither doeth the widowes cauſe come before them.

24 Therefore ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, the h mightie one of Iſraél, Ah, I wil eaſe me of mine aduerſaries, and auenge me of mine enemies.

25 Then I wil turne mine hand vpon thee, and burne out thy droſſe, til it k be pure, & take away all thy tynne.

26 l And I wil reſtore thy iudges as at the firſt, and thy coūſellers as at the beginning.

a The viſion, a reuelatiō, propheciе, which was one of the two meanes, whereby God declared him ſelfe to his ſeruants in olde time, as Nom 12,6 & therefore the Prophetes were called Seers, 1 Sam 9,9 b Iſaiah was chiefly ſent to Iudáh and Ieruſalém, but not onely for in this boke are propheciеs concerning other nations alſo

c Called alſo Azariáh 2 King 15,1 of theſe Kings reed 2 King from Chap 14 vnto Chap 21, and 2 Chro from Chap 25. vnto Chap 33

d Becauſe nē were obſtinate and inſenſible, he calleth to ỹ dumme creatures, which were more prompt to obey Gods worde, as Deu 32,1 ehe ſetteth out his great mercie towarde ỹ Iewes, for ſo muche as he cloſe them vp, and all other nations to be his people & childrē 1Pet 2,10

f The moſte brute and dul beaſts do more acknowledg their duetie toward their maſters, then my people do toward me, of whome they haue receiued benefites without cōpariſon

g They were not onely wicked, as were their fathers, but vtterly corrupt, and by their euil example infected others

h That is, him ỹ ſanctifieth Iſraél

t Without faith & repentance

u Your ſacrifices offred in the new moones & feaſtes he condemneth hereby hipocrites, which thinke to pleaſe God with ceremonies, & they them ſelues are voide of faith and mercie

x He ſheweth that where mē be giuen to auarice, deceit, crueltie & extorſion, which is ment by blood, there God wil ſhew his angre, and not accept them, though they ſeme neuer ſo holy, as Chap 59,3

y By this outward waſhig, he meaneth ỹ ſpirituall exhorting the Iewes to repent & amend their liues

z This kinde of reaſoning, by the ſeconde table, the Scriptures vſe in manie places againſt the hypocrites, who pretend moſte holines & religion in worde, but when their charitie & loue toward their brethren ſhuld appeare, then declare ỹ they haue neither faith nor religion

a To knowe if I do accuſe you without cauſe

b Leſt ſinners ſhulde pretend ſome rigour on Gods parte, he onely willeth thē to be pure in heart, & he wil forgiue all their ſinnes, were they neuer ſo manie or great

c He ſheweth that whatſoeuer aduerſitie man indureth, it ogbt to be attributed to his owne wickednes and diſobedience

d That is Ieruſalém, which had promiſed fidelitie vnto me, as a wife to her husband

e Giuen to couetouſnes and extorcion, which I ſignified before by blood. verſ 15

f Whatſoeuer was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though thou haue an outward ſhewe

g That is, they maintеine the wicked & the extorcioners, & not onely do not puniſh them, but are them ſelues ſuche

h When God wil ſhewe him ſelf merciful to his Church, he calleth him ſelf, The holie one of Iſraél but when he hathe to do with his enemies, he is called Mightie, as againſt whome no power is able to reſiſt

i I wil take vengeance of mine aduerſaries the Iewes, and ſo ſatisfie my deſire by puniſhing them

Which thing yet he doeth with griefe becauſe of his couenant

k Leſt the faithful among them ſhulde be ouercome with this threatning, he addeth this conſolacion

l It is onely the worke of God to puniſhe the heart of man, which thing he doeth becauſe of his promes, made concerning the ſalnacion of his Church

1 What auaileth it to ſeke to amend you by puniſhment, ſeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebell?

k By naming the ſeuerall partes of the boare, he ſignifieth, that there was no parte of the whole bodie of the Iewes free from his roddes

l Euerie parte of the bodie, aſwel the leaſt as the cheefeſt was plagued m Their plagues were ſo grieuous that they were incurable, and yet they wolde not repent

n Meaning, of them, that dwell farre of, which, becauſe they loke for no aduantage of that, which remaineth, deſtroye all before them o That is, Ieruſalem.

p Becauſe that he wil euer haue a Church to call vpon his Name

q That is, all deſtroyed

r Ye that for your vices deſerued all to be deſtroyed as they of Sodóm, ſaue that God of his mercie reſerued a litle nomber, Lam 3,22

ſ Although God commanded the ſacrifices for a time, as rites and exercиſes of their faith yet becauſe the people had not faith nor repentance, God deteſteth them, Pſal 50,14 Ier 6,20. Amos 5,21 Mich 6,7.

afterwarde ſhalt thou be called a citie of m By iuſtice is meant Gods faithful promes, ẅ is the cauſe of ỳ deliuerance of his Church righteouſnes, & a faithful citie.
27 Zión ſhalbe redemed in iudgement, and n The wicked ſhal not be partakers of Gods promes, Pſal. 92,9 they that returne in her, in m iuſtice.
28 And the n deſtruction of the trangreſſours and of the ſinners ſhalbe together:
and thei that forſake the Lord, ſhalbe conſumed.
29 For thei ſhal be cõfounded for the o okes, o That is, the trees & pleaſant places, where ye commit idolatrie, which was forbidden, Deut 16,22 which ye haue deſired, and ye ſhalbe aſhamed of the gardens, that ye haue choſen.
30 For ye ſhalbe as an oke, whoſe leafe fadeth: & as a garden that hathe no water.
31 And the ſtrong ſhalbe as p towe, and the p The falſe god, wherein ye put your cõfidence, ſhal be conſumed as eaſely, as a piece of towe.
maker thereof, as a ſparke: and they ſhal bothe burne together, & none ſhal quenche them.

CHAP. II.

2 The Church ſhalbe reſtored by Chriſt, and the Gentiles called. 6 The puniſhment of the rebellious & obſtinate.

1 THe worde that Iſaiáh the ſonne of Amóz ſawe vpon Iudáh and Ieruſalém.
Mich. 4,1.
2 *It a ſhalbe in the laſt daies, that the moũtaine of the houſe of the Lord ſhalbe prepared in the top of the moũtaines, & b ſhal be exalted aboue the hilles, & all nacions ſhal c flowe vnto it.
a The decre and ordinance of God, touching the reſtauracion of the Church, ẅ is chiefly ment of the time of Chriſt.
b In an euidẽt place to be ſene and diſcerned
c When the kingdome of Chriſt ſhalbe enlarged by ỳ preaching of the doctrine Here alſo is declared the zeale of the children of God, when they are called 3 And manie people ſhal go, & ſay, Come, and let vs go vp to d the mountaine of the Lord, to the houſe of the God of Iaakób, & he wil teache vs his waies, and we wil walke in his paths: for the e Law ſhal go forthe of Zión, and the worde of the Lord from f Ieruſalém, d Alluding to mount Zion, where the viſible Church then was 4 And g he ſhal iudge among the natiõs, & h rebuke manie people: thei ſhal i breake their ſwordes alſo into mattockes, & their ſpeares into ſithes. nacion ſhal not lift vp a ſworde againſt nacion, nether ſhal they learne k to fight anie more.
e Meaning, the whole doctrine of ſaluacio
5 O houſe of Iaakób, come ye, and let vs l walke in the light of the Lord.
6 Surely thou m haſt forſaken thy people, the houſe of Iaakób, becauſe thei are n ful of the Eaſt maners, and are ſorcerers as the Philiſtims, o and abunde with ſtrange children.
f This was accompliſhed, whẽ the Goſpel was firſt preached in Ieruſalem, and from thence went through all ỳ worlde 7 Their land alſo was ful of p ſiluer and golde, and there was none end of their treaſuries: and their land was ful of horſes, and their charets were infinite.
g The Lord, ẅ is Chriſt, ſhal haue all power giuen him 8 Their land alſo was ful of idoles: they worſhipped the worke of their owne hãds, which their owne fingers haue made.
h That they may acknowledge their ſinnes, & turne to him i He ſheweth the frute of the peace, which the Goſpel ſhulde bring to wit, that men ſhulde do good one to another, where as before they were enemies
k He ſpeaketh not againſt the vſe of weapons and lawful warre, but ſheweth how the hearts of the godlie ſhalbe affected one toward another which peace and loue doeth beginne and growe in this life, but ſhal be perfited, when we are ioyned with our head Chriſt Ieſus l Seing the Gentiles wil be ſo readie, make you haſte and ſhewe them the way to worſhip God
m The Prophet ſeing the ſmale hope, that the Iewes wolde conuert, complaineth to God, as though he had vtterly forſaken them for their ſinnes.
n Ful of the corruptions that reigned chiefly in the Eaſt partes
o They altogether gaue them ſelues to the factions of other nacions p The Prophet firſt condemned their ſuperſtition and idolatrie. next their couetouſnes, and thirdly, their vaine truſt in worldelie meanes.
9 And a man bowed him ſelf, and a man q hũbled him ſelf: therefore r ſpare thẽ not.
q He noteth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer ſatisfied in their ſuperſtitions
10 Enter into the rocke, & hide thee in the duſt from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maieſtie.
11 The hie loke of man ſhalbe humbled, and the loftines of men ſhalbe abaſed, & ỳ Lord onely ſhalbe exalted in ſ that day.
r Thus ỳ Prophet ſpake, being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glorie, & that he might feare them ẅ Gods iudgement 12 For the day of the Lord of hoſtes is vpon all the proude and hautie, and vpon all that is exalted: and it ſhalbe made lowe.
ſ Meaning, aſſone as God ſhal begin to execute his iudgements.
13 Euen vpon all the cedres of Lebanón, that are hie and exalted, and vpon all the okes of Baſhan, 14 And vpon all the high t mountaines, & vpon all the hilles that are lifted vp, t By high trees & mountaines are ment them ỳ are proude, and lofty, and thinke themſelues moſte ſtrong in this worlde 15 And vpon euerie hie towre, and vpon euerie ſtrong wall, 16 And vpon u all the ſhippes of Tarſhíſh, and vpon all pleaſant pictures.
u He cõdẽneth their vaine cõfidence, which they had in ſtrong holdes, & in their riche marchandiſe, ẅ brogne in vaine pleaſures, wherewith mẽs mindes became effeminate.
17 And the hautines of men ſhalbe broght lowe, and the loftines of men ſhalbe abaſed, and the Lord ſhal onely be exalted in that day.
18 And the idoles wil he vtterly deſtroye.
19 Then they ſhal go * into the holes of the rockes, and into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, & from the glorie of his maieſtie, when he ſhal ariſe to deſtroye the earth.
Hoſeáh 10, 8. Luk 23,30. Reuel 6,16. & 9,6.
20 At that day ſhal man caſt away his ſiluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made them ſelues to worſhip them)
x They ſhal caſt them into moſte vile and filthie places, when thei perceiue ỳ they are not able to helpe them.
x to the mowles and to the backes, 21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maieſtie, when he ſhal riſe to deſtroy the earth.
y Caſt of your vaine confidẽce of man, whoſe life is ſo fraile, that if his noſe be ſtopped, he is dead, & conſider that you haue to do with God.
22 Ceaſe you from the man whoſe y breath is in his noſtrelles. for wherein is he to be eſtemed?

CHAP. III.

1 For the ſinne of the people God wil take away the wiſe men, and giue them fooliſh princes 14 The couetouſnes of the gouernours 16 The pride of the women.

Chap III.
a Becauſe thei truſted i their abundance & proſperitie, he ſheweth that thei ſhulde be taken frõ thẽ 1 FOr lo, the Lord God of hoſtes wil take away from Ieruſalém and from Iudah the ſtay a and the ſtrength: euen all the ſtay of bread, and all the ſtay of water, b The tẽporal gouernour & the miniſter 2 The ſtrong man, and the man of warre, b the iudge and the Prophet, the prudent and the aged, c By theſe he meaneth that God wolde take away euerie thing that was in any eſtimacion, and wherein they had anie occaſion to vãte themſelues 3 The captaine of fifte, and the honorable, and the counſelor, and the cunning artificer, and c the eloquent man.
d Not onely in age, but in wit, maners knowledge & ſtrength.
4 And I wil appoint d children to be their princes, and babes ſhal rule ouer them.
e For lacke of good regimẽt and ordre.
5 The people ſhalbe e oppreſſed one of another, & euerie one by his neighbour: the childrẽ ſhal preſume againſt the ancient, & the vile againſt the honorable.

6 When

f H. sheweth that this plague shalbe so horrible, that cõtrarie to the cõmune maner of men, ẃ by nature are ambitious, none shalbe founde able or willig to be their gouernour

g For are shal rather cause hi to forswearehim self, thẽ to take suche a dãgerous charge vpon him

h When God shal examine their dedes, wherupõ they now set an impudent face, he shal finde the marke of their impiete in their foreheads

i Be ye that are gladde assured ỹ God wil defẽd you in ỹ middes of these troubles

k Because the wicked people were more addicted & to their princes, thẽ to ỹ cõmãdemẽts of God, he sheweth ỹ he wolde giue vnto suche princes, by whome they shulde haue no helpe, but that shulde be manifest tokẽs of his wrath, because they shulde be soles & effeminate

l Meaning, that the rulers had destroyed his Church & not preserued it, according to their dutie

m That is, ye shewe ill crueltie against them

n He mencioneth ỹ people, because of ỹ arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue them selues to all wantõnes & dissolution

o Which declared their pride p As a signe, ỹ they were not chaste.

q Which shewed their wantõnes

r They delited thẽ in slippers ỹ did creake, or had little plates sowed vpon them, ẃ tynckled as they went

f In rehearsing all these thigs particularly, he sheweth the lightnes & vanitie of suche as can not be content ẃ comelie apparel accordãg to their degre.

6 When euerie one shal f take holde of his brother of the house of his father, & say, Thou hast clothing thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand.

7 In that day he shal g sweare, saying, I can not be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therefore make me no prince of the people.

8 Douteles Ierusalém is fallen, and Iudáh is fallen downe, because their tongue and workes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eyes of his glorie.

9 The h tryal of their coũtenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodóm, they hide them not. Wo be vnto their soules: for they haue rewarded euil vnto them selues.

10 i Say ye, Surely it shalbe wel with ỹ iuste: for they shal eat the fruite of their workes.

11 Wo be to the wicked, it shalbe euil with him: for the rewarde of his hãds shalbe giuen him.

12 k Children are extorcioners of my people, and women haue rule ouer them: ô my people, they that lead thee, cause thee to erre, and destroye the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, he standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shal entre into iudgemẽt with the l Anciẽts of his people and the princes thereof. for ye haue eaten vp the vineyarde: the spoyle of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue ye to do, that ye beat my people to pieces, and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hoste.

16 The Lord also saith, m Because the daughters of Zión are hautie, and walke with o stretched out neckes, and with p wandring eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a q tinkeling with their fete, 17 Therefore shal the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zión balde, and the Lord shal discouer their secret partes.

18 In that day shal the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, & the calles, & the rounde tyres,

19 The swete balles, and the brasselets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, & the head bands, & the tablets, & ỹ earings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costelie apparel and the vailes, and the wimpels, and the crispìng pinnes,

23 And the glasses and the fyne linen, and the hoodes, and the s launes.

24 And in stead of swete sauour, there shalbe stinke, and in stead of a girdle, a rent, & in stead of diessing of ỹ heere, baldnes, and in stead of a stomacher, a girding of sacke cloth, & burning in stead of beautie.

25 Thy men t shal fall by the sworde, & thy strength in the battel.

26 Then shal her gates mourne and lamẽt, and she, being desolate, shal sit vpon the grounde.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The small remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. 2 The graces of God vpõ them that remaine.

AND in that day shal a seuen women take holde of one man, saying, We wil eat our owne bread, and we wil weare our owne garments: onely b let vs be called by thy name, & take away our c reproche.

2 In that day shal the d budde of the Lord be beautiful and glorious, and the frute of the earth shalbe excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then he that shalbe left in Zión, and he ỹ shal remaine in Ierusalém, shal be called holie, and euerie one shalbe e written among the liuing in Ierusalém,

4 When the Lord shal wash the filthines of the daughters of Zión, & purge the f blood of Ierusalém out of ỹ middes thereof by the spirit of g iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shal creat vpon euerie place of mount Zión, and vpõ the assemblies thereof, h a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fyre by night: for vpon all the i glorie shalbe a defense.

6 And a couering shalbe for a shadowe in the day for the heat, and a place of refuge and a couert for ỹ storme k & for the raine.

t Meaning, ỹ God wil not onely punish ỹ women, but their housbãdes, ẃ haue suffred it in dissolutenes, and also ỹ cõmune weale, ẃ hath not remedied it

Chap IIII

a When God shal execute his vengeance, there shal not be one man fonde to be ỹ head to many women, & thei contrarie to womanly shamefastnes, shal seke vnto men, and offer them selues to anie condition

b Be thou our housband, and let vs be called thy wines

c For so they thoght it to be without an head & housband

d He comforteth ỹ Church in this desolatiõ, which shal spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces shulde be as plentiful towarde the faithful, as thogh they spring out of the earth, as Chap 45,8

Some by the bud of ỹ Lord meane Christ

e He alludeth to the boke of life, wherof read Exod 32, 32 meaning Gods secret counsel, wherein his elect are predestinate to life euerlasting

f That is, the cruelte, extorsion, iniurice, and all wickednes

g When things shalbe reformed, that were amisse

h He alludeth to the piller of the cloude, Exod 13, 21 meaning that Gods fauour & protectiõ shulde appeare in euerie place

i The faithful are called the glorie or God because his image and tokens of his grace shine in them

k God promiseth to be the defeate of his Church against all troubles and dangers

CHAP. V.

1 Under the similitude of the vine he describeth the state of the people, 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennes 13 Of their captiuitie

1 NOw wil I sing to my b beloued a sõg of my beloued to his vineyard. * My beloued had a c vineyard in a verie fruteful hil,

2 And he hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and he planted it with the best plants, d and he buylt a towre in ỹ middes thereof, & made a wine presse therein thẽ he loked ỹ it shulde bring forthe grapes: but it broght e forthe wilde grapes

3 Now therefore, ô inhabitants of Ierusalém & mẽ of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, f betwene me, and my vineyarde.

4 What colde I haue done anie more to my vineyarde ỹ I haue not done vnto it? why haue I loked that it shulde bring forthe grapes, & it bringeth forthe wilde grapes?

5 And now I wil tel you what I wil do to my vineyard. I g wil take away ỹ hedge as it was emidẽt ỹ they were the cause of their owne ruine

b The Prophet by this song doth set before ỹ peoples eyes their ingratitude, and Gods mercie

b That is, to God

Iere 2,21.

mat 21,33.

c Meaning, ỹ he had plated his Church in a place moste plentiful and abundant

d He spared no diligence nor cost e In ỹ seuenth verse he declareth what they were.

f He maketh thẽ iudges in their owne cause, for ỹ muche

g I wil take no more care for it meaning ỹ he wolde take frõ thẽ his worde & ministers, & all other cõfortes, & send them contrarie plagues.

thereof, & it ſhal be eaten vp: I wil breake the wall thereof, & it ſhal be trodē downe:
6 And I wil lay it waſte it ſhal not be cut, nor digged, but briers, & thornes ſhal growe vp. I wil alſo commande the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

h Iudgement and righteouſnes are true frutes of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruel oppreſſers there is no religion
i Of them that are oppreſſed.
k To wit, for the poore to dwell in 7 ¶Surely the vineyarde of the Lord of hoſtes is the houſe of Iſraél, and the men of Iudáh are his pleaſant plant, and he loked for h iudgemēt: but beholde oppreſſiō: for righteouſnes, but beholde i a crying.

8 Wo vnto thē that ioyne houſe to houſe, and lay field to field, til there be no k place, that ye may be placed by your ſelues in the middes of the earth.

l I haue heard the cōplaint, and crye of ỹ poore
m Which cōteineth about tē pottels ſo ỹ euerie acre ſhulde but yelde one pōttel n Which conteineth an hūdreth pottels.
o An Epháh conteineth ten pottels, & is in drye things as muche as bath is in licours
p That ſpare no peine nor diligence to followe their luſtes
q Which are neuer weary of their riotīg and exceſsiue pleaſures but vſe all meanes to prouoke to the ſame
r They regarde not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what end he hathe created them.
f That is, ſhal certeinly go: for ſo the Prophetes vſe to ſpeake, as though the thīg which ſhal come to paſſe, were done already
t Becauſe thei wolde not obey the worde of God
u Meaning, ỹ graue ſhal ſwallowe vp them that ſhal dye for hungre and thirſt, and yet for all this great deſtruction it ſhal neuer be ſatiate
x God comforteth ỹ poore lambes of his Church, which had bene ſtrangers in other cōtreis, promiſing that they ſhulde dwel in thoſe places again, whereof thei had bene depriued by the fat, and cruel tyrants
y Which vſe all allurements, occaſions, and excuſes to harden their conſcience in ſinne
z He ſhoweth what are the wordes of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgements, 2 Pet 3, 4 a Which are not aſhamed of ſinne, nor care for honeſtie, but are growen to a deſperate impietie.

9 Thus in mine l eares, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes. Surely manie houſes ſhalbe deſolate, euē great, & fayre without inhabitāt.
10 For ten acres of vines ſhal yelde one m bath, & the ſede of an n hómer ſhal yelde an o epháh.

p That ſpare no peine nor diligence to followe their luſtes
q Which are neuer weary of their riotīg and exceſsiue pleaſures but vſe all meanes to prouoke to the ſame

11 ¶Wo vnto them, that p riſe vp early to followe drunkennes, and to them that cōtinue vntil q night, til the wine do inflame them.
12 And the harpe and viole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feaſtes: but they regarde not the r worke of ỹ Lord, nether conſider the worke of his hands.

r They regarde not the prouident care of God ouer them, nor for what end he hathe created them.
f That is, ſhal certeinly go: for ſo the Prophetes vſe to ſpeake, as though the thīg which ſhal come to paſſe, were done already 13 Therefore my people f is gone into captiuitie, becauſe they had t no knowledge, and the glorie thereof are men famiſhed, & the multitude thereof is dryed vp with thirſt.

14 Therefore u hel hathe inlarged it ſelf, and hathe opened his mouth, without meaſure, and their glorie, and their multitude, and their pompe, and he that reioyceth among them, ſhal deſcende into it.
15 And man ſhalbe broght downe, and man ſhalbe humbled, euē the eyes of the proude ſhalbe humbled.
16 And the Lord of hoſtes ſhalbe exalted in iudgement, and the holie God ſhalbe ſanctified in iuſtice.
17 Then ſhal x the lambes fede after their maner, and the ſtrangers ſhal eat the deſolate places of the fat.

t Becauſe thei wolde not obey the worde of God
u Meaning, ỹ graue ſhal ſwallowe vp them that ſhal dye for hungre and thirſt, and yet for all this great deſtruction it ſhal neuer be ſatiate
x God comforteth ỹ poore lambes of his Church, which had bene ſtrangers in other cōtreis, promiſing that they ſhulde dwel in thoſe places again, whereof thei had bene depriued by the fat, and cruel tyrants

18 ¶Wo vnto them, that drawe iniquitie w y cordes of vanitie, and ſinne, as with cart ropes:
19 Which ſay, z Let him make ſpede let him haſten his worke, that we may ſe it: & let the cōſel of the holie one of Iſraél drawe nere and come, that we may knowe it.
20 Wo vnto them that ſpeake good of euil, a and euil of good, which put darkenes for light, and light for darkenes, that put bitter for ſwete, and ſwete for ſowre.

y Which vſe all allurements, occaſions, and excuſes to harden their conſcience in ſinne
z He ſhoweth what are the wordes of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgements, 2 Pet 3, 4 a Which are not aſhamed of ſinne, nor care for honeſtie, but are growen to a deſperate impietie.

21 Wo vnto them that are b wiſe in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne ſight.
22 Wo vnto them that are c mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are ſtrong to powre in ſtrong drinke
23 Which iuſtifie the wicked for a rewarde, and take away the righteouſnes of the righteous from him.
24 Therefore as ỹ flame of fyre deuoureth the ſtubble, and as the chaffe is conſumed of the flame: ſo their d roote ſhalbe as rottennes, and their budde ſhal riſe vp like duſt, becauſe they haue caſt of the Law of the Lord of hoſtes, and contemned the worde of the holie one of Iſraél.
25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled againſt his people, & he hathe ſtretched out his e hand vpon them, and hathe ſmitten them that ỹ mountaines did tremble: and their karcaſes were torne in the middes of the ſtretes, & for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was ſtretched out ſtil.
26 And he wil lift vp a ſigne f vnto the nations a farre, and wil hiſſe vnto them from the end of the earth: & beholde, they ſhal come haſtely with ſpede.
27 None ſhal g faint nor fall among them: none ſhal ſlumber nor ſlepe, nether ſhal the girdle of his loynes be loſed, nor h the latchet of his ſhoes be broken:
28 Whoſe arrowes ſhalbe ſharpe, & all his bowes bent: his horſe hoofes ſhalbe thoght like flint, & his wheles like a whirle wide.
29 His roaring ſhalbe like a lyon, and he ſhal roare like lyons whelpes: they ſhal i roare, and lay holde of the pray: thei ſhal take it away, and none ſhal deliuer it.
30 And in that day ỹ they ſhal roare vpon them, as the roaring of the ſea: & if k they loke vnto the earth, beholde darkenes, and ſorow, and the light ſhalbe darkened in their l ſkie.

b Which are contemners of all doctrine & admonition
c Which are neuer weary, but ſhew their ſtrength, and bragge in glotonie and drūkennes.
d Bothe they and their poſteritie, ſo that nothing ſhalbe left.
e He ſheweth that God had ſo ſore puniſhed this people, that the dumme creatures, if they had bene ſo plagued, wolde haue bene more ſenſible, and therefore his plagues muſt continue, til they begin to fele them
f He wil make ỹ Babylonias to come againſt thē at his becke, and to fight vnder his ſtāderd g They ſhalbe prompt, and luſtie to execute Gods vengeāce.
h The enemie ſhal haue none impediment
i Whereby is declared the cruelte of the enemie k The Iewes ſhal finde no ſuccour l In the land of Iudáh.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iſaiáh ſheweth his vocation by the Viſion of the diuine maieſtie 9 He ſheweth the obſtinacie of the people. 11 The deſtruction of the land. 13 The remnant reſerued.

1 IN the yere of the death of King Vzziáh, a I ſawe alſo the Lord ſitting vpō an b high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower c partes thereof filled the temple.
2 The Seraphims d ſtode vpon it: euerie one had ſix wings: with twaine he couered his e face, and with twaine he couered his f fete, and with twaine he did g flie.
3 And one cryed to another, and ſaid, h Hoa God ſheweth not him ſelf to mā in his maieſtie, but according as mās capacitie is able to cōprehend him that is by viſible ſignes, as Iohn Baptiſt ſawe the holie Goſt in the forme of a doue

b As a iudge ready to giue ſentence
c Of his garment, or of his throne.
d They were Angels ſo called becauſe they were of a fyrie colour, to ſignifie ỹ they burnt in the loue of God, or were light as fyre to execute his wil.
e Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightnes of Gods glorie
f Whereby was declared that man was not able to ſe the brightnes of God in them g Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to execute Gods cōmandement
h This oft repetition ſignifieth, that the holy Angels can not ſatiſfie them ſelues in praiſing God, to teache vs that in all our liues we ſhulde giue our ſelues to the continual praiſe of God.

His glorie doeth not onely appeare in y heauens, but through all y worlde, and therefore all creatures are 5 boũde to prai-ſe him ly,holy,holy is ỹ Lord of hoſtes:the whole 3 worlde is ful of his glorie.

4 And the limels of the dore chekes [k] moued at the voyce of him that cryed, and the houſe was filled with ſmoke.

5 Then I ſaid, [l] Woe is me: for I am vndone,becauſe I am a man of polluted lippes, and I dwell in the middes of a people of polluted lippes. for mine eyes haue ſene the King and Lord of hoſtes.

k Which thigs were to confirme the Prophet, that it was not the voyce of man 6 and by the ſmoke was ſignified the blindeneſs ỹ ſhulde come vpon the Iewes

6 Then flewe one of the Seraphims vnto me with an hote cole in his hand,which he had take from the [m] altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, & ſaid, Lo, this hathe touched thy lippes, and thine iniquitie ſhalbe taken away, and thy [n] ſinne ſhalbe purged.

l He ſpeaketh this for two cauſes ỹ one, becauſe he ỹ was a mortal 7 creature, and therefore had more nede to be ſorie for ỹ ſinne, then the Angels,didnt not and the other, becauſe ỹ more nere ỹ man approcheth to God,the more 10 doeth he knowe his owne ſinne, & corruption

8 Alſo I heard the voyce of the Lord,ſaying,Whome ſhal I ſende? and who ſhal go for vs? Then I ſayd,Here am I,ſend me.

9 And he ſaid, Go, and ſay vnto this people, [o] Ye ſhal heare in dede, but ye ſhal not vnderſtand: ye ſhal plainly ſe, & not perceiue.

10 Make the heart of this people fat, make their eares heauie,and ſhut their eyes,leſt they ſe with their eyes,& heare with their eares, and vnderſtand with their hearts, and conuert, and he heale them.

m Of ỹ burnt offring, where the tyre neuer went out 11 n This declareth that man can not rendre true obedience to God, til he haue purged vs

11 Then ſaid I, Lord, [p] how long? And he anſwered,Vntil the cities be waſted without inhabitant, and the houſes without man,and the land be vtterly deſolate, o Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God wil not immediatly take away his worde,but he wil cauſe it to be preached to their condemnation, when 12 And the Lord haue remoued men farre away,and the e be a great deſolation in the middes of the land.

13 But yet in it ſhalbe [q] a tenth, and ſhal returne,and ſhalbe eaten vp as an [r] elme or as an oke,which haue a ſubſtance in them, when they caſt their leaues ſo the holie ſede ſhalbe the ſubſtance thereof.

is they wil not learne thereby to obey his wil,and be ſaued hereby he exhorteth the miniſters to do their ducrie,and anſwereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardned, Mat 13,14 act 28,26 rom 11,8 p As he was moued with the zeale of Gods glorie,ſo was he touched with a charitable affection toward the people

q Meaning,the tenth parte or as ſome write, it was reuciled to Iſaiáh for the confirmation of his prophecie,that ten Kings ſhulde come before their captiuitie,as were from Vzziah to Zedekiáh r For the fewenes they ſhal ſerue to be eaten vp yet they ſhal after floriſh as a tre,which in winter loſeth his leaues,and ſemeth to be dead,yet in ſommer is freſh,and grene.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ieruſalém beſieged 4 Iſaiáh comforteth the King. 14 Chriſt is promiſed

2.King 16,5 1 AND in the dayes of* Aház,the ſonne of Iothám,the ſonne of Vzziah King of Iudáh,Rezín the King of' Arám [a] came vp,and Pekáh the ſonne of Remaliáh King of Iſraél,to Ieruſalém to fight againſt it,but he colde not ouercome it.

*Or,Syria

a To wit, the ſeconde time for in the firſt battel Aház was ouercome

2 And it was told the houſe of [b] Dauid, ſaying, Arám is ioyned with [c] Ephráim: therefore his heart was [d] moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forſt are moued by the winde.

b Meaning, ỹ kings houſe

c That is, Iſrael,becauſe ỹ tribe was the greateſt,Gene 48 19

3 ¶ Then ſaid the Lord vnto Iſaiáh, Go forthe now to meete Aház (thou and [e] Shear-iaſhúb thy ſonne) at the end of the conduit of the vpper poole,in the path of the fullers field, d Which was but a litle ſmoke and ſhal quickely be quenched.

4 And ſay vnto him, Take hede, & be ſtil: feare not,nether be faint hearted for the two tailes of theſe ſmoking [f] fyrebrandes, for the furious wrath of Rezín and of Aram,and of Remaliahs ſonne:

e That is to ſay, The reſt ſhal returne w name Iſaiáh gaue Iſ is ſonne,to ſignifie, that ỹ reſt of the people ſhulde returne out of their captiuitie f Which haue but a litle ſmoke and ſhal quickely be quenched.

5 Becauſe Arám hathe taken wicked counſel againſt thee, & Ephráim,& Romaliahs ſonne, ſaying,

6 Let vs go vp againſt Iudáh, & let vs wake them vp,and make a breche therin for vs,and ſet a King in the middes thereof, even the ſonne of [g] Tabeal.

g Which was an Iſraelite & as ſemeth,ene mie to the houſe of Dauid h Courting from ỹ fiue & twentieth yere of ỹ reigne of Vzziah, at whit time Amos prophecied this thig, and now Iſaiah confirmeth it vt th. Iſraelites ſhulde be led into perpetual captiuitie, & thing came to paſſ 252 yeres after that Iſaiáh did this meſſage

7 Thus ſaith the Lord God, It ſhal not ſtand,nether ſhal it be.

8 For the head of Arám is Damaſcus, and the head of Damaſcus is Rezín and within fiue & threſcore yere, Ephráim ſhalbe deſtroied from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephráim is Samaria,and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs ſonne. If ye beleue not,ſurely ye ſhal not be eſtabliſhed.

10 ¶ And the Lord ſpake againe vnto Aház, ſaying,

11 Aſke [i] a ſigne for thee of the Lord thy God: aſke it, ether in the depth or in the height aboue.

i For the confirmation of this thing that thine enemies ſhalbe deſtroyed & ti ou preſerued.

12 But Aház ſaid, I wil not aſke, nether wil I [k] tempt the Lord.

k Not to beleue Gods worde without a ſigne is to tẽpt God: but to refuſe a ſigne wt ẽ God offereth it for ỹ aide & helpe of our infirmitie,is to rebel againſt him 13 Thẽ he ſaid, Heare you now,ô houſe of Dauid,Is it a ſmale thing for you to grieue [l] men,that ye wil alſo grieue my God?

l You thinke you haue to do w men,whẽ ye contemne Gods meſſengers but it is God, againſt wt ome you bend your ſelues

14 Therefore the Lord [m] him ſelf wil giue you a ſigne. Beholde,the virgine ſhal conceiue and beare a ſonne, and ſhe ſhal call his name [n] Immánu-él.

m For aſmuche as thou art vnworthy,ỹ Lord for his owne promes ſake wil giue a ſigne & ſhalbe that Chriſt the Sauiour of his Church & the ceff & of all ſignes & miracles ſhalbe renewed 15 [o] Butter and honie ſhal he eat,til he haue knowledge to refuſe the euil, & to chuſe the good.

16 For a fore ỹ [p] childe ſhal haue knowledge to eſchewe the euil, and to chuſe the good, the land,that thou abhorreſt, ſhalbe forſaken of bothe her Kings.

17 The Lord ſhal bring vpon thee,and vpon thy people,and vpon thy fathers houſe (the daies that haue not come frõ the daie that [q] Ephráim departed from Iudáh) euen the King of [r] Aſſhúr.

*O,God-with-vs, which name can agre to no one,but to him that is bothe God and man.

n Meaning,that Chriſt is not onely God,but man alſo,becauſe he ſhal

18 And in that day ſhal the Lord hiſſe for the [s] flie that is at the vttermoſte parte of the floods of Egypt, & for the bee which is in the land of Aſſhúr,

19 And thei ſhal come and ſhal light all in the deſolate valleis, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thornie places, and be nouriſhed as other men,vntil ỹ age of diſcretiõ o Not meaning Chriſt,but ante childe for before a childe can come to the yeres of diſcretiõ,the kigs of Samaria and Syria ſhal be deſtroied p Since the time that the twelue tribes rebelled vnder Roboam q In whome thou haſt put thy truſt r Meaning,the Egyptians for by reaſon the countrei is hote and moiſte, it is ful of flies,as Aſſyria is ſul of bees.

Aaa iii.

vpon all buſſhie ſplaces.

20 In that day ſhal the Lord ſhaue with a raſer that is hired, euen by them beyonde the Riuer, by the King of Aſſhúr, the head and the heere of the t fete, and it ſhal cõſume the beard.

21 And in the ſame day ſhal a mã u nouriſh a yong kowe, and two ſhepe.

22 And for the x abundance of milke, that they ſhal giue, he ſhal eat butter. for butter and honie ſhal euerie one eat, which is left within the land.

23 And at the ſame day euerie place, where in ſhalbe a thouſand vines, ſhalbe at a thouſand peces of ſiluer, for it ſhalbe for the briers and for the thornes.

24 With arrowes and with y bowe ſhal one come thether: becauſe all the land ſhalbe briers and thornes.

25 But on z all the mountaines, which ſhalbe digged with ỹ mattocke, there ſhal not come thether the feare of briers & thornes: but they ſhalbe for the ſending out of bullockes and for the treading of ſhepe.

ſ Signifying, that no place ſhalbe free frõ thẽ

t That is, that which is from ỹ belly downeward meaning, that he wolde deſtroy bothe great & ſmale

u He that before had a great nomber of cattel, ſhalbe content wt one kowe & two ſhepe

x The nomber of men ſhal be ſo ſmale, that 1 ſeuẽ beaſtes ſhalbe able to nouriſh all abundantly

y As thei that go to ſeke wilde beaſtes amõg the buſſhes z The mõũtaines contrarie to their wonte, ſhalbe tilled by ſuche as ſhal flee to them for ſuccour

CHAP. VIII.

1 The captiuitie of Iſrael & Iudah by the Aſſyrians. 6 The infidelitie of the Iewes. 9 The deſtruction of the Aſſyrians 14 Chriſt the ſtone of ſtombling to the wicked. 19 The worde of God muſt be inquired at.

1 MOreouer, ỹ Lord ſaid vnto me, Take thee a a great role, and write in it b with a mans penne, Make ſpede to the ſpoyle: haſte to the pray.

2 Then I teke vnto me c faithful witneſſes to recorde, Vriáh the Prieſt, and Zechariáh the ſonne of Iberechiáh.

3 After, I cõme vnto the d Propheteſſe, wh conceiued, and bare a ſonne. Then ſaid the Lord to me, Call his name, e Mahérſhalál haſh-baz.

4 For before the e childe ſhal haue knowledge to crye, My father, and my mother, f he ſhal take away the riches of Damaſcus and the ſpoile of Samaria, before the Kĩg of Aſſhur.

5 ¶ And ỹ Lord ſpake yet againe vnto me, ſaying,

6 Becauſe this people hathe refuſed the waters of g Shiloáh that runne ſoftely, and reioyce with Rezín, and the ſonne of Remaliáh,

7 Now therefore beholde, the Lord bringeth vp vpon thẽ the waters of h the Riuer mightie and great, euen the King of Aſſhúr with all his glorie, and he ſhal come vp vpon all their riuers, and go ouer all their bankes,

8 And ſhal breake into Iudáh, & ſhal ouerflowe and paſſe thorough, & ſhal come vp to the i necke, & the ſtretching out of his wings ſhal fil the breadth of thy land, ô Immánu-él.

9 Gather together on heapes, ô ye l people, and ye ſhalbe broken in pieces, and hearke all ye of farre countreis: girde your ſelues, and you ſhalbe broken in pieces: girde your ſelues, & you ſhalbe broken in pieces.

10 Take counſel together, yet it ſhalbe broght to naught: pronounce a decree, yet ſhal it not ſtand. for God is with vs.

11 For ỹ Lord ſpake thus to me in taking m of mine hãd, & taught me, ỹ I ſhulde not walke in the way of this people, ſaying, 12 Say ye not, A n confederacie to all them, to whome this people ſaith a confederacie, nether feare yoe their feare, nor be afraied of them.

13 p Sanctifie the Lord of hoſtes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread,

14 And he ſhalbe as a q Sanctuarie: but as a ſtõbling ſtone & as a rocke to fall vpon, to bothe the houſes of Iſráel, & as a ſnare & as a net to the inhabitants of Ieruſalem.

15 And manie among them ſhal ſtomble, and ſhal fall and ſhal be broken and ſhalbe ſnared & ſhalbe taken.

16 r Binde vp the teſtimonie: ſeale vp the Law among my diſciples.

17 Therefore I wil wait vpõ the Lord that hathe hid his face from the houſe of Iaakób, and I wil loke for him.

18 Beholde I, and the s children whome the Lord hathe giuẽ me, are as ſignes & as wõders in Iſráel, t by ỹ Lord of hoſtes, which dwelleth in mount Zión.

19 And whẽ they ſhal ſay vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a ſpirit of diuination, and at the ſouth ſaiers, which whiſper and murmur, u Shulde not a people enquire at their God? from the x liuing to the dead?

20 To the y Lawe, and to the teſtimonie, if they ſpeake not according to this worde: it is becauſe there is no z light in them.

21 Thẽ he that is afflicted & famiſhed, ſhal go to and fro in a it: & when he ſhalbe hungrie, he ſhal euen freat him ſelf, b and curſe his King and his gods, & ſhal loke vpwarde.

22 And whẽ he ſhal loke to the earth, beholde trouble, & c darkenes, vexacion & anguiſh, and he is driuen to darkenes.

1 That ỹ maieſt write in great letters to the intent it may be more ſtately red.

b Meaning, after the cõmune facio be cauſe all men might read it

c Because the thing was of great importance, he toke theſe to witneſſes, which were of credit wt ỹ people, whẽ he ſet this vp vpon the dore of the temple, albeit Vriáh was a flat erig hypocrite, 2 King 16, 11 d Meaning, to his wife, & this was done in a viſion.

e Or, Make ſpede to the ſpoile haſte to the pray.

e Before anie childe be able to ſpeake

f That is, the armie of Aſſyria

g Which was a fountaine at the fote of mõũt Zión, out of ỹ which ran a ſmale riuer through ỹ cite meaning ỹ they of Iudah, diſtruſting their owne power, wh ich was ſmale, deſired ſuch power and riches as they ſawe in Syria and Iſráel h That is, the Aſſyrians, which dwel beyonde Euphrates.

i It ſhalbe ready to drowne them

t This was a conſolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing colde come vnto them, but by the wil of the Lord

u Anſwer the wicked thus, Shulde not Gods people ſeke ſuccour onely at him

x That is, wil they refuſe to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and ſeke helpe at the dead, which is the illuſion of Satan

y Seke remedie in the worde of God where his wil is declared

z They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of ỹ blinde

a That is, in Iudáh, where they ſhulde haue had reſt, if they had not thus grieuouſly offended God

b In whome afore they put their truſt

c They ſhal thinke ỹ heauen and earth & all creatures are bent againſt thẽ to trouble thẽ.

CHAP. IX.

1 The vocation of the Gentiles. 6 A prophecie of Chriſt. 14 The deſtruction of the ten tribes for their pride and contempt of God.

1 YEt a the darkenes ſhal not be according to the affliction, b that it had when at the firſt he touched lightly the k He ſpeaketh this to Maiſtér, or Chriſt, in whome the faithful were comforted, and who wold not ſuffer Iſrael to be deſtroied vtterly

l Nowe, ye ỹ are cõmen nere to the Church, as the Aſſyrians, Gyrenans, Syrians &c m For to encourage me, that I ſhulde not ſhrinke for the rebellion of this people, and to ſtreingthe other n Conſider not ye that ye godlie, for the league & friendſhip of ỹ wicked people: lik wiſe ỹ ſtrangers & idolaters

o Meaning, ỹ thei ſhulde not feare ỹ thing that thei feared, & learne to hope in God

p In preiing ye ſhal ſanctifie onely in him, in calling vpon him and in all the reſt, principally looking for his helpe, and feariñg to do anie thing contrarie to his will

q He will reſerue ſome which ſhal obey, & reiect all the reſt, which is meant of Chriſt againſt whome the Iewes ſhulde ſtomble

r Though all forſake me, yet ye that are mine, kepe my worde ſure ſealed in your hearts

s Meaning, the that were willing to heare and obeye the worde of God, whome ỹ world eſtemed as thogh thei were monſters and not worthie to liue

a He comforteth the Churche againe after theſe great threatnings, promiſing to reſtore them to great glorie in Meſſiáh

b Wherewith Iſráel was puniſhed, firſt by Tigláth-pileſar, which was a light ſcourge in reſpect of that which thei ſuffred afterward by Shalma-neſer, who caried the Iſraelites awaie captiues.

land of Zebulún and the land of Naphtalí, nor afterward when he was more grieuous by ỹ way of the ſea beyonde Iordén in Galile of c the Gentiles.

2 The people that d walked in darkenes, haue ſene a great e light: thei that dwelled in the land of the ſhadow of death, vpon them hathe the f light ſhined.

3 Thou haſt g multiplied the natiõ, & not increaſed their ioye: thei haue reioyced before thee according to the ioye in harueſt, & as men reioyce whẽ they diuide a ſpoile.

4 For h the yoke of their burdẽ, & the ſtaffe of their ſhulder & the rodde of their oppreſſour haſt thou broken as in the day of Midian.

5 Surely euerie battel of the warriour is with noiſe, & with tumbling of garmẽts in blood. but this ſhalbe i with burning and deuouring of fyre.

6 For vnto vs a Childe is borne, & vnto vs a ſonne is giuẽ: & the gouernement is vpõ his ſhulder, & he ſhal call his name Wonderful, Coũſeller, The mightie God, The euerlaſtig k Father, The prince of peace,

7 The increaſe of his gouernement and peace ſhal haue none end: he ſhal ſit vpõ the throne of Dauid, & vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to eſtabliſh it with iudgement and with iuſtice, from hence forthe, euẽ for euer l the zeale of the Lord of hoſtes wil performe this.

8 ¶ The Lord hathe ſent a worde into Iaakób, and it hathe lighted vpon m Iſraél.

9 And all the people ſhal knowe, eue Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that ſaie in ỹ pride & preſumptiõ of ỹ heart,

10 The n brickes are fallẽ, but we wil buylde it with hewen ſtones: the wilde figtrees are cut downe, but we wil change thẽ into cedres.

11 Neuertheles the Lord wil raiſe vp the aduerſaries of o Rezín againſt him, & ioine his enemies togethei.

12 Arám before & the Philiſtims behind, and thei ſhal deuoure Iſraél with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtil.

13 For the people turneth not vnto him that ſmiteth thẽ, nether do thei ſeke the Lord of hoſtes.

14 Therefore wil the Lord cut of from Iſraél head and taile, branch and ruſh in one daie.

15 The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: & the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cauſe thẽ to erre: and thei that are led by them, are deuoured.

17 Therefore ſhal the Lord haue no pleaſure in their yong men, nether wil he haue compaſsion of their fatherles and of their widowes: for euerie one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euerie mouth ſpeaketh folie: yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtil.

18 For wickednes burneth as a fyre: it deuoureth ỹ briers & the thornes & wil kindle in the thicke places of the foreſt. and thei ſhal mounte vp like the lifting vp of ſmoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hoſtes ſhal the land be darkened, and the people ſhalbe as ỹ meat of the fyre. no man ſhal q ſpare his brother.

20 And he ſhal ſnatche at the right hand, & be hungrie: & he ſhal eat on the left hand, and ſhal not be ſatiſfied: euerie one ſhal eate the fleſh of his owne arme.

21 Manaſſéh, Ephráim: & Ephráim Manaſſéh, and thei bothe ſhalbe againſt Iudah: yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtil.

CHAP. X.

1 Of wicked lawe makers. 5 God wil puniſh his people by the Aſſyrians and after deſtroie them. 21 The remnant of Iſrael ſhalbe ſaued

1 WO vnto them that decre wicked decrees, & o write grieuous things,

2 To kepe backe the poore from iudgemẽt, and to take awaie the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes may be their praie, and that thei maie ſpoile the fatherles.

3 What wil ye do now in the daie of viſitation, & of deſtruction, which ſhal come frõ p farre: to whome wil ye flee for helpe and where wil ye leaue your glorie?

4 d Without me euerie one ſhal fall among them ỹ are bounde, & thei ſhal fall downe among the ſlaine. yet for all this his wrath is not turned awaie, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtil.

5 ¶ O e Aſſhúr, the rodde of my wrath: and ỹ ſtaffe in their hands is mine indignatiõ.

6 I wil ſend f him to a diſſembling nation, and I wil giue him a charge againſt the people of my wrath to take the ſpoile & to take the praie, and to treade them vnder fete like the myre in the ſtrete.

7 But he thinketh not ſo, nether doeth his heart eſteme it ſo: but he imagineth to deſtroye and to cut of not a fewe nacions.

---

a Where as ỹ Iewes & Gentiles dwelt together by reaſon of thoſe twentie cities, which Salomon gaue to Hyrim

d Which were captiue in Babylon & ỹ Prophet ſpeaketh of that thing, which ſhulde come to paſſe threeſcore yeres after, as thogh it were nowe done

e Meaning, the gõtore of their deliuerance

f The captiuitee deliuerãce wer of figures of our captiuitie bvſ ic, and of our deliuerance by Chriſt through the preaching of the Goſpel, Mat 4.15

g Their nomber was greater when thei went into captiuitie then when thei returned, but their ioye was greater at their returne, Hag 2.10

h Thou griueſt them & their ioye, by deliuering them & by deſtroying ỹ tyrants that had kept them in cruel bondage. as thou diddeſt deliuer them by Gidion from the Midianites, Iudg 7.22

i He ſpeaketh of the deliuerance of his Church, & he hathe deliuered miraculouſly from his enemies, but ſpecially by the comming of Chriſt, of whome he ſpeaketh in the next verſe k The autor of eternitie, and by whome the Church and euerie member thereof ſhalbe preſerued for euer, and haue immortal life.

l His ſingular loue and care for his elect

m This is another prophecie againſt thẽ of Samaria, ỹ were mockers and contemners of Gods promiſes and menaces

n We were but weake, when the enemie ouercame vs, but we wil make our ſelues ſo ſtrong, that we wil nether care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatnings

o Rezín King of Syrián, who was in league with Iſraél, was ſlaine by the Aſſyrians, after whoſe death Arám, that is, the Syrians were againſt Iſraél, which on the other ſide were aſſailed by the Philiſtims.

p Wickednes as a bel fowle kindleth thẽ ỹ fire of Gods wrath which conſumeth all his obſtinate enemies

q Though there were no foren enemie yet their ſhal deſtroy one another

r Their griedines ſhalbe inſatiable, ſo that one brother ſhal eate vp another, as thogh he ſhuld deuour his owne fleſh

a Which write and promoue wicked ſtatutes to oppreſſe the poore men

b Which ſeke to ſpoile the widowes & fatherles

c Yo relief & ſuccour may be ſafe, and that ye may receiue them againe

d Becauſe thei haue forſaken me, ſome ſhal go into captiuitie, and the reſt ſhalbe ſlaine

e God call th for the Aſſyrians to be ỹ executioners of his vengeance

f He ſtirre the Aſſyrians againſt the Iewes, which are but hypocrites & in this ſtrand ſeue the verie

---

worke of God & of ỹ wicked in one verie thing and act for Gods intent is to chaſtice them for their amendement, and the Aſſyrians purpoſe is to deſtroie them to enriche themſelues thus in reſpect of Gods iuſtice, it is Gods worke, but in reſpect of their owne malice, it is the worke of the deuil

8 For he ſaith, Are not my princes all together Kings?
9 Is not Calnó as g Carchemíſh-Is not Hamáth like Arpád? Is not Samaria as Damaſcus?
10 Like as mine hãd hathe founde the kingdomes of the idoles, ſeing their idoles were aboue Ieruſalém, and aboue Samaria:
11 Shal not I, as I haue done to Samaria, & to the idoles thereof, ſo do to Ieruſalém and to the idoles thereof?
12 ¶ But when the Lord hathe accõpliſhed h all his worke vpon mount Zión and Ieruſalém, I wil viſit the frute of the proude heart of the King of Aſſhúr, and his glorious and proude lokes, 13 Becauſe he ſaid, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, and by my wiſdome, becauſe I am wiſe: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, and haue ſpoiled their treaſuries, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man.
14 And mine hand hathe founde as a neſt the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, ſo haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whiſper.
15 Shal the k axe boaſt it ſelf againſt him ẏ heweth therewith? or ſhal the ſawe exalt it ſelf againſt him that moueth it? as if the rod ſhulde lift vp it ſelf againſt him that taketh it vp, or the ſtaffe ſhulde exalt it ſelf, as it were no wood.
16 Therefore ſhal the Lord God of hoſtes ſend among his fat men, leanenes, and vnder his glorie he ſhal kindle a burning, like the burning of fyre.
17 And the light of Iſraél ſhalbe as a l fyre, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it ſhal burne, and deuoure m his thornes and his briers in one day:
18 And ſhal conſume the glorie of his foreſt, & of his fruteful fields bothe ſoule n and fleſh: and he ſhalbe as the o fainting of a ſtanderd bearer.
19 And the reſt of the trees of his foreſt ſhalbe fewe, that a childe may tel them.
20 ¶ And at that day ſhal the remnant of Iſraél, and ſuch as are eſcaped of the houſe of Iaakób, ſtaye no more vpon him that ſmote them, but ſhal p ſtay vpon the Lord, the holy one of Iſraél in trueth.
21 The remnant ſhal returne, euen the remnant of Iaakób vnto the mightie God.
22 For thogh thy people, ô Iſraél, be as the ſand of the ſea, yet ſhal the remnant of thẽ returne. The conſumption q decreed ſhal ouerflowe with righteouſnes.
23 For the Lord God of hoſtes ſhal make the conſumption, euen r determined, in the middes of the all the land.
24 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, O my people, that dwelleſt in Zión, be not afraied of Aſſhúr: he ſhal ſmite thee with a rod, and ſhal lift vp his ſtaffe againſt thee after the maner of s Egypt
25 But yet a very litle time, and the wrath ſhalbe conſumed, and mine angre in their deſtruction.
26 And the Lord of hoſtes ſhal raiſe vp a ſcõurge for him, accoirding to the plague of t Midian in the rocke Oréb: and as his ſtaffe was vpon the u Sea, ſo he wil lift it vp after the maner of Egypt.
27 And at that day ſhal his burdẽ be taken away from of thy ſhulder, & his yoke frõ of thy necke: & the yoke ſhalbe deſtroyed becauſe of x the anointing.
28 He is come y to Aiáth: he is paſſed into Migrón: at Michmáſh ſhal he lay vp his armour.
29 They haue gone ouer the foorde: they lodged in the lodging at Gebá: Ramáh is afraied: Gibeáh of Saúl is fled away.
30 Lift vp thy voice, ô daughter Gallím, cauſe Laiſh to heare, ô poore Anathóth.
31 Madmenáh is remoued: the inhabitãts of Gebím haue gathered them ſelues together.
32 Yet there is a time ẏ he wil ſtay at Nob: he ſhal lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zión, the hil of Ieruſalém.
33 Beſiolde, the Lord God of hoſtes ſhal cut of the z bough with feare, and thei of high ſtature ſhalbe cut of, and the hie ſhalbe humbled.
34 And he ſhal cut away the thicke places of the foreſt with yron, & Lebanón ſhal haue a mightie fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Chriſt borne of the roote of Iſhái: 2 His Vertues and kingdome 6 The frutes of the Goſpel. 10 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 BVt there ſhal come a a rod forthe of ẏ ſtocke of Iſhái, & a grafe ſhal growe out of his rootes.
2 And the Spirit of the Lord ſhal reſt vpon him: the Spirit of wiſdome and vnderſtanding, the Spirit of counſel & ſtrength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,
3 And ſhal make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he ſhal not iudge after the ſight of his eyes, nether reproue by the hearing of his eares.
4 But with righteouſnes ſhal he iudge the poore, and with equitie ſhal he reproue for the meke of the earth: and he ſhal b ſmite the earth with the rodde of his mouth, & with the breath of his lippes ſhal he ſlaye the wicked.
5 And iuſtice ſhalbe the girdle of his loynes, & faithfulnes the girdle of his raines.

g Seing that I haue ouercome, aſwel one citie as another, ſo that none colde reſiſt, ſhal Ieruſalem be able to eſcape mine hands?

h Whẽ he hathe ſufficiently chaſtiſed his people (for he begineth at his owne houſe) thẽ wil he burne the roddes

i Meaning, of Sancherib.

k Here we ſe that no creature is able to do anie thing, but as God appointeth him, & that they are all but his inſtruments to do his worke, thogh the intentions be diuerſe, as ver 6

l Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people, & a fyre to burne his enemies

m That is, the Aſsyrians

n To wit, bodie and ſoule vtterly

o When ẏ battel is loſt and the ſtanderd taken p This is the end of Gods plagues towards his, to bring them to him and to forſake all truſt in others

q This ſmale nomber, ẇ ſemed to be conſumed, and yet accordeing to Gods decre is ſaued, ſhalbe ſufficient to fil all the worlde with righteouſnes

r God wil deſtroye this lãd as he hathe determined, and after ſome a ſmale portiõ.

s As ẏ Egyptians did puniſh thee

t Read Chap. 9.4

u When the Iſraelites paſſed through by ẏ lifting vp of Moſes rod, & the enemies weredrowned, Exod 14,28

x Becauſe of ẏ promes made to that kingdome, whereby Chriſts kingdome was prefigured

y He deſcribeth by what way the Aſsyrians ſhulde come againſt Ieruſalem to cõfirme ẏ faithful, when it ſhulde come to paſſe, that as their plague was com.., ſo ſhulde their be delmered.

z Petre & deſtruction ſhal come vpon Iudah for the princes and ẏ people ſhal all be led awaie captiues.

a Becauſe the captiuitie of Babylon was a figure of ẏ ſpirituall captiuitie vnder ſinne, he ſheweth that our true deliuerance muſt come by Chriſt for as Dauid came out of Iſhái a mã without dignitie ſo Chriſt ſhulde come of a poore carpenters houſe as out of a dead ſtocke. Chap 53.2

b All theſe properties can agree to none but onely vnto Chriſt for it is he that toucheth the hearts of the faithfal and mortifieth their concupiſcences & to the wicked he is ẏ ſauour of death & to them that ſhal periſh. ſo ẏ all ẏ worlde ſhal be ſmitten ẇ this rodde, ẇ is his worde.

9/1224

c Mé because of their wicked affections are named by the names of beasts, wherein the like affections reigne but Christ by his Spirit shal reforme them, & worke in them suche mutual chastitie, that they shal be like lambes feuering & louing one another, and cast of all their cruel affections, Chap 65,25.

6 The c wolfe also shal dwell with the lābe, and the leoparde shal lye with the kid, and the calfe, and the lyon, and the fat beast together, and a litle childe shal lead them.
7 And the kowe and the beare shal fede. their yong ones shal lie together: and the lyon shal eat strawe like the bullocke.
8 And the sucking childe shal play vpon ỹ hole of the aspe, & the weaned childe shal put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.
9 Then shal none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holines: for the earth shalbe ful of the knowledge of the Lord, as d the waters that couer the sea.
10 And in that day ỹ roote of Ishái, which shal stand vp for a signe vnto the e people, the nacións shal seke vnto it, & his f rest shal be glorious.
11 And in the same day shal the Lord stretch out his hand g againe the second time, to possesse the remnant of his people, (which shalbe left) of Asshúr, and of Egypt, and of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elám, & of Shinár, and of Hamáth, and of the yles of the sea.
12 And he shal set vp a signe to the nacions, and assemble the dispersed of Israél, and gather the scattered of Iudáh from the foure corners of the worlde.
13 The hatred also of Ephráim shal departe, and the aduersaries of Iudah shalbe cut of. Ephraim shal not enuie h Iudáh, nether shal Iudáh vexe Ephraim:
14 But they shal flee vpon the shoulders of the Philistims toward the West: they shal spoyle them of the East together: Edóm & Moáb shalbe the stretching out of their hands, & the children of Ammón in their obedience.
15 The Lord also shal vtterly destroye the i tongue of the Egyptians sea, & with his mightie winde shal lift vp his hand k ouer the riuer, and shal smite him in his seuen streames, and cause men to walke therein with shoes.
16 And there shalbe a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Asshúr, like as it was vnto Israél in the day that he came vp out of the land of Egypt.

d It shalbe in as great abundance as the waters in the sea

e He prophecieth of the calling of the Gentiles

f That is, his Church, w̄ he also calleth his rest, Psal 132.14

g For God first deliuered his people out of Egypt, and now promiseth to deliuer thē out of their enemies hāds, as from ỹ Parthians, Persians, Chaldeans, & them of Antiochia, among whome they were dispersed & this is chiefly mēt of Christ, who calleth his people, being dispersed thorgh all ỹ worlde

h Here he describeth the consent that shalbe in his Church, and their victorie against their enemies

i Meaning, a corner of the sea, ỹ entreth into the land, and hathe the forme of a tōgue k To wit Nilus, the great riuer of Egypt, which entreth into ỹ sea with seuē streames

CHAP. XII.

A thankesgiuing of the faithful for the mercies of God.

Ch p XII

1 And thou a shalt say in that day, O Lord, I wil praise thee: thogh thou wast angrie with me, thy wrath is turned away, and thou comfortest me.
2 Beholde, God is my b saluacio: I wil trust, and wil not feare: for the Lord God is *my strength and song: he also is become my saluacion.
3 Therefore with ioy shal ye c drawe waters out of the welles of saluacion.
4 And ye shal say in that day, * Praise the Lord: call vpon his Name: declare his workes among the people: make mention of them, for his Name is exalted.
5 Sing vnto the Lord, for he hathe done excellent things: this is knowen in all the worlde.
6 Crye out, and shoute, d ô inhabitant of Zión for great is the holy one of Israél in the middes of thee.

a He sheweth how ỹ Church shal praise God, whē they are deliuered from their captiuitie

b Our saluacio standeth onely in God, who giueth vs an assured confidence, constācie & occasion to praise him for the same

c The graces of God shalbe so abundant, that ye may receiue them in as great plentie, as waters out of a fountaine that is ful

d Ye that are of the Church

CHAP. XIII.

The Medes and Persians shal destroye Babylon.

1 THe a burden of Babél, which Isaiáh the sonne of Amóz did se.
2 Lift vp a stādard vpon the hie mountaine: lift vp the voyce vnto them: wagge the b hād, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.
3 I haue cōmanded them, that I haue c sanctified. and I haue called the mightie to my wrath, & thē that reioyce in my d glorie.
4 The noyse of a multitude is in the mountaines, like a great people: a tumultuous voyce of the kingdomes of the nacións gathered together: the Lord of hostes nombreth the hoste of the battel.
5 They come from a farre countrey, from the end of the heauen: euen the Lord with the e weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.
6 Howle f you, for the day of the Lord is at hand. it shal come as a destroyer from the Almightie.
7 Therefore shal all hands be weakened, & all mens hearts shal melt,
8 And they shalbe afrayed: anguish & sorow shal take them, and they shal haue peine, as a woman that trauaileth: euerie one shalbe amased at his neighbour, and their faces shalbe like g flames of fyre.
9 Beholde, the daye of the Lord cometh, cruel, with wrath and fierce angre to lay the land waste: and he shal destroy the sinners out of it.
10 For the h starres of heauen and the planets thereof shal not giue their light: the sūne shalbe darkened in his going forthe, and the moone shal not cause her light to shine.
11 And I wil visite the wickednes vpon the i worlde, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I wil cause the arrogancie of the k proude to cease, and wil cast downe the pride of tyrants.
12 I wil make a l man more precious then fine golde, euen a man aboue the wedge of golde of Ophir.
13 Therefore I wil shake the heauen, and the earth shal remoue out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hostes, and in the day a That is, the great calamitie, which was prophecied to come on Babel, as a moste grieuous burdē w̄ they were not able to beare In these 12 Chapters following, he speaketh of ỹ plagues, wherewith God wolde smite these strange nacions, (whome they knew) to declare that God chastised ỹ Israelites as his children, & these other as his enemies & also that if God spare not these that are ignorant, ỹ they must not thinke strange, if he punished them, w̄ haue knowledge of his Law and kepe it not

b To wit, to ỹ Medes & the Persians

c That is, prepared & appointed to execute my iudgements

d Which wil ly go about ỹ worke, whereunto I appoint thē, but how the wicked do this, read Chap 10, 6

e The armie of the Medes & the Persiās against Babylon

f Ye Babylonians

g The Babylonians angre, & grief shalbe so muche, that their faces shal burne as fyre h They that are ouercome, shal thinke ỹ all the powers of heauen and earth are against them, Ezek 32,7 Ioel. 3,15 mat. 24.29

i He compareth Babylon to the whole worlde, because they so esteemed them selues by reason of their great empire k He noteth the principal vice, whereunto they were moste giuen, as we all do abunde in with l He noteth the great slaughte ỹ shalbe, seing the enemie shal nether for golde, or siluer spare a mans life, as vers 17.

of his fierce angre.

m Meanig, the power of Babylon with their hired souldiers.

14 And m it shalbe as a chased doe, and as a shepe that no man taketh vp. euerie man shal turne to his owne people, and flee eche one to his owne land.

15 Euerie one that is found, shalbe striken through: and whosoeuer ioyneth him self, shal fall by the sworde.

Psal 137.9.

16 *Their n children also shalbe broken in n This was not accomplished when Cyrus toke Babylon, but after the death of Alexandre ỹ Great.

pieces before their eies: their houses shalbe spoiled, and their wiues rauished.

17 Beholde, I wil stirre vp the Medes against them, which shal not regard siluer, nor be desirous of golde.

18 With bowes also shal they destroie the children, & shal haue no compasion vpō the frute of the wombe, and their eies shal not spare the children.

19 And Babél the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie and pride of the Chaldeans, shalbe as the destruction of God * in Sodóm & Gomoráh.

Genes. 19.25. Iere. 50.40.

20 It shal not be inhabited for euer, nether shal it be dwelled in from generacion to generacion: nether shal the o Arabian pitche his tēts there, nether shal the shepherdes make their foldes there.

o Who vseth to go from countrey to coūtrey to finde pasture for their beasts, but there shal thei finde none

21 But p Ziim shal lodge there, and their houses shalbe ful of Ohim: Ostriches shal dwell there, & the Satyrs shal dance there.

p Which were ether wilde beasts, or foules, or wicked spirits, where by Satan deluded man, as by the fairies, gobblins and suche like fantasies

22 And Iim shal crye in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is readie to come, & the dayes thereof shal not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The returne of the people from captsuitie. 4 The derision of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Philistims.

1 FOr a the Lord wil haue compasion of Iaakób, and wil yet chuse Israél, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger b shal ioyne him self vnto them, and they shal cleaue to the house of Iaakób.

a He sheweth why God wil hast to destroy his enemies to wit, because he wil deliure his Church

b Meaning, ỹ the Gentiles shalbe ioyned with the Chur

2 And the people shal receiue thē & bring them to their owne place, & the house of Israél shal possesse them in the land of the Lord, for c seruants & handmaids: & they shal take thē prisoners, whose captiues thei were, & haue rule ouer their oppressors.

che and worship God.

c Signifying ỹ ỹ Iewes should be superiours to the Gētiles, & ỹ thei should be broght vnder the seruice of Christ by the preaching of the Apostles, whereby all are broght to the subiectiō of Christ, 2 Co 10.5.

3 ¶ And in that day whē the Lord shal giue thee rest from thy sorow, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou didest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babél, and say, How hathe the oppressor ceased? and the golde thirstie Babél rested?

5 The Lord hathe broken the rodde of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in angre with a continual plague, & ruled the nations in wrath: if anie were persecuted, he did d not let.

d That is, he suffred all violence and iniuries to be done.

7 The whole worlde is at e rest & is quiet: they sing for ioye.

e Meanig, that when tyrants reigne, there can be no rest nor quietnes, and also how detestable a thig tyrānie is, sing the insensible creatures h ue occasion to reioyce at their destructiō

8 Also the fyrre trees reioyced of thee, & the cedres of Lebanón, saying, Since thou art laide downe, no hewer came vp against vs.

f As though thei feared lest thou shuldest trouble the dead, as ỹ didest the lyuing and here he derideth ỹ proude tyrannie of the wicked, which knewe not ỹ all creatures wish their destruction that thei mate reioyce

9 Hell beneth is moued for thee to f mete thee at thy comming, raising vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hathe raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All thei shal crye, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pompe is broght downe to the graue, & the sounde of thy violes: the worme g is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

g In stead of thy costly carpets and coue rings

12 How art thou fallen from heauē, ô h Lucifer, sonne of the morning? & cut downe to the grounde, which didest cast lottes vpon the nations?

h Thou that thoughtest thy self most glorious, and as it were, placed in ỹ heauē for ỹ morning starre, that goeth before the sunne, is called lucifero whome Nebuchad-nezzar is compared 13 Yet thou saidest in thine heart, I wil ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God: I wil sit also vpon the mount of the Congregacion in the sides of the i North.

i Meaning, Ierusalem, whereof the Temple was on the North side, as psal 48.2 whereby he meaneth that tyrāts fight against God, when thei persecute his Church, and wolde set thē selues in his place

14 I wil ascēd aboue ỹ height of the cloudes, & I wil be like the moste high.

15 But thou shalt be broght downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 Thei that se thee, shal k loke vpon thee & consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, & that did shake the kingdomes?

k In marueling at thee

17 He made the worlde as a wildernes, and destroied the cities thereof, & opened not l the house of his prisoners.

l To set them at liberte noting his cruelnie

18 All the Kings of the nacions, euen they all slepe in glorie, euerie one in his owne house.

19 But thou art m cast out of thy graue like an abominable branche: like the raimēt of those ỹ are slaine, & thrust thorowe with a sworde, which go downe to the stones of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder fete.

m Thou wast not buryed in the sepulchre of thy fathers thy tyrannie was so abhorred.

20 Thou shalt not be ioyned w̄ them in the graue, because ỹ hast destroied thine owne land, & slaine thy people: the sede of the wicked shal not be renoumed for euer.

21 n Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fil the face of the worlde with enemies.

n He calleth to the Medes and Persians and all those that shulde execute Gods vengeance.

22 ¶ For I wil rise vp against thē (saith the Lord of hostes) and wil cut of from Babél the name and the remnant and the sonne, and the nephewe, saith the Lord:

23 And I wil make it a possession to ỹ hedgehog, and pooles of water, and I wil swepe it with the besome of destruction, saith the Lord of hostes.

Or hares.

24 The Lord of hostes hathe sworne, sayīg, Sure-

Surely like as I haue purpoſed, ſo ſhal it come to paſſe, and as I haue conſulted, it ſhal ſtand:

o As I haue beſone to deſtroy the Aſſyrians as Sanherib, ſo wil I continue, & deſtroye them wholy, when I ſhal deliuer you from Babylón 25 o That I wil breake to pieces Aſſhúr in my land, and vpon my mountaines wil I treade him vnder fote: ſo ỹ his yoke ſhal departe from p them, and his burden ſhal be taken from of their ſhuldre.

p Frō ỹ Iewes

26 This is the counſel that is cōſulted vpō the whole worlde, and this is the hād ſtretched out ouer all the nacions, q Read Cap 23,1

27 Becauſe the Lord of hoſtes hathe determined it, and who ſhal diſanul it? and his hand is ſtretched out, and who ſhal turne it away?

r He willeth ỹ Philiſtims not to reioyce becauſe ỹ Iewes are diminiſhed in their power for their ſtrēgth ſhalbe greater then euer it was 28 ¶ In the yere that King Aház dyed, was this q burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole r Paleſtina) becauſe the rod of him that did beat thee, is brokē: for out of the ſerpents roote ſhal come forthe a cockatriſe, and the frute thereof ſhalbe a fyrie flying ſerpent.

ſ The Iſraelites, ỹ were broght to moſte extreme miſerie

30 For the ſ firſt borne of the poore ſhalbe fed, & the nedie ſhal lye downe in ſafety: and I wil kil thy roote with famine, & t it ſhal ſlay thy remnant.

t ſo wil, my people

u That is, frō the Iewes, or Aſſyrians for they were borne North from Paleſtina 31 Howle, ô gate, crye ô citie: thou whole land of Paleſtina art diſſolued, for there ſhal come from the u North a ſmoke, and none ſhalbe alone, x at his time appointed.

x But they ſhalbe all ready, and ſome together

32 What ſhal then one anſwer y ỹ meſſengers of the Gentiles? That the Lord hathe ſtabliſhed z Zión, & the poore of his people ſhal truſt in it.

y Which ſhal come to enquire of the ſtate of the Church z Then ſhal anſwer, ỹ ỹ Lord doeth defēd his Church, & thē that ioyne them ſelues thereunto.

CHAP. XV.

A prophecie againſt Moáb.

a Read Chap 13,1

1 THe a burden of Moáb. Surely b Ar of Moáb was deſtroyed & broght to ſilence in a night: ſurely Kir of Moáb was deſtroyed, & broght to ſilence in a night.

b The chief citie, whereby the whole countrey was ment

c The Moabites ſhal flee to their idoles for ſuccour, but it ſhalbe to late

d Which were cities of Moáb

2 c He ſhal go vp to the temple, and to Dibón to the hie places to wepe: for d Nebó and for Medebá ſhal Moáb howle: vpon all e their heads ſhalbe baldenes, and euerie beard ſhauen.

e For as in the Weſt partes ỹ people vſed to let their heere growe long, when they mourned, ſo in the eaſt partes they cut it of.

3 In their ſtretes ſhal they be girded with ſackecloth: on the toppes of their houſes, and in their ſtretes euerie one ſhal howle, and come downe with weping.

f The Prophet ſpeaketh this in the perſone of the Moabites, or ae one that felt the great iudgement of God that ſhulde come vpon them

4 And Heſhbón ſhal crye, & Elealéh: their voyce ſhalbe heard vnto Iáhaz: therefore ỹ warriers of Moáb ſhal ſhowte: the ſoule of euerie one ſhal lament in him ſelf.

5 Mine f heart ſhal crye for Moáb: his fugitiues ſhal flee vnto Zóar, g an heiffer of thre yere olde: for they ſhal go vp ỹ weping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonáim they h ſhal raiſe vp a crye of deſtruction.

g Meaning, that it was a citie that euer lued in pleaſure, and neuer felt ſorowe.

h He deſcribeth the miſerable diſſipation, and flight of the Moabites.

6 For the waters of Nimrim ſhal be dryed vp: therefore the graſſe is withered, the herbes conſumed, & there was no grene herbe.

7 Therefore what euerie man hathe left, & their ſubſtance ſhal they beare to ỹ i broke of the willowes.

i To hide thē ſelues, & their goods there

8 For the crye went rounde aboute ỹ borders of Moáb: & the howling thereof vnto Eglaím, & the ſkriking thereof vnto Beer Elím, 9 Becauſe the waters of Dimón ſhalbe ful k of blood: for I wil bring more vpon Dimón, euen lyons l vpon him that eſcapeth of Moáb, and to the remnant of the land.

k Of thē that are ſlaine

l So that by no meanes they ſhulde eſcape the hand of God thus wil God punith ỹ enemies of his Church

CHAP. XVI.

The cauſes wherefore the Moabites are deſtroyed.

a That is, offer a ſacrifice whereby he derideth their long delay, which wolde not repent whē the Lord called thē, ſhewing them that it is now to late, ſeing the vengeance of God is vpō thē.

1 SEnd a ye a lambe to the ruler of the worlde from the rocke of the wildernes, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zión.

b There is no remedie, but ye muſt flie

2 For it ſhalbe as a birde that b flyeth, and a neſt forſaken: the daughters of Moáb ſhal be at the foordes of Arnón.

c He ſheweth what Moab ſhulde haue done, when Iſrael their neighbour was in affliction, to whome becauſe they wolde giue no ſhadowe nor cōfort, they are now left cōfortles.

3 Gather a counſel, execute iudgement: c make thy ſhadowe as the night in the midday: hide them that are chaſed out: bewraye not him that is fled.

d The Aſſyrians ſhal oppreſſe the Iſraelites, but for a while 4 Let my baniſhed dwel with thee: Moáb be thou their couert from the face of the deſtroyer: for the extorcioner d ſhal end: the deſtroyer ſhalbe conſumed, & the oppreſſour ſhal ceaſe out of the land.

e Meaning, Chriſt

5 And in mercie ſhal the throne be prepared, e and he ſhal ſit vpon it in ſtedfaſtnes, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and ſeking iudgement, and haſting iuſtice.

f Their vaine confidence, & proude bragges ſhal deceme them, as Ier 48,2 6 We haue heard of the pride of Moáb (he is verie proud) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignacion, but his f lies ſhal not be ſo.

g For all your mourning, yet the citie ſhalbe deſtroyed, euen vnto the fundations

7 Therefore ſhal Moáb howle vnto Moáb: euerie one ſhal howle: for the fundacions of Kir-haréſeth ſhal ye mourne, yet thei ſhal be g ſtriken.

h That is, the Aſſyrians, and other enemies.

8 For the vineyardes of Heſhbón are cut downe, & the vine of Sibmáh: h the lords of the heathen haue broken the principal vines thereof. they are come vnto i Iaazér: they wandred in the wildernes: her goodlie branches ſtretched out them ſelues, & went ouer the ſea.

i Meaning, ỹ the countrey of Moáb was now deſtroyed and all the precious thīgs thereof were caried into the borders, yea, into other countreys, and ouer the ſea

9 Therefore wil k I wepe with the weping of Iaazér, & of ỹ vine of Sibmáh, ô Heſhbón: and Elealéh, I wil make thee drunke with my teares, becauſe vpon thy ſommer frutes, and vpon thy harueſt l a ſhowting is fallen.

k He ſheweth that their plague was ſo great, that it wolde haue moued anie mā to lament with them, as Pſal 141,5 l The enemies are come vpon thee, and ſhowte for ioye, when they carie thy commodities from thee, as Ier 48,33.

10 And gladnes is taken away, & ioye out of the plentiful field: and in the vineyardes ſhalbe no ſinging nor ſhouting for ioye: the treader ſhal not tread wine in the wine preſſes: I haue cauſed the reioycing to ceaſe.

m For verie ſorow and cõpaſsion.

11 Wherefore, my [m] bowels ſhal ſounde like an harpe for Moáb, and mine inwarde partes for Ker-háreſh.

n They ſhal vſe all meanes to ſeke helpe of their idoles & all in vaine: for Chemóz their great god ſhal not be able to helpe them

12 And when it ſhal appeare that Moáb ſhalbe wearie of his hie places, then ſhal he come to his [n] temple to pray, but he ſhal not preuaile.

o He appointed a certeine time to puniſh the enemies in.

13 This is the worde that the Lord hathe ſpoken againſt Moáb ſince that time.

p Who wil obſerue iuſtely ỹ time, for the which he is hyred, & ſerue no longer, but wil euer long for it.

14 And now the Lord hathe ſpoken, ſaying, [o] In thre yeres, as the yeres of a [p] hyreling, and the glorie of Moáb ſhalbe contẽned in all the great multitude, & the remnãt ſhalbe very ſmale & feble.

CHAP. XVII.

A prophecie of the deſtruction of Damaſcus and Ephráim. 7 Calamitie moueth to repentance.

a Read Chap. 15,1.

b The chief cite of Syria.

c It was a coũtrey of Syria by the riuer Arnón

1 THe [a] burden of [b] Damaſcus. Beholde, Damaſcus is taken away from being a citie, for it ſhalbe a ruinous heape.

2 The cities of [c] Aroér ſhalbe forſaken: they ſhalbe for ỹ flockes: for thei ſhal lye there, and none ſhal make them afraide.

d It ſemeth ỹ the Prophet wolde cõfort ỹ Church in declaring the deſtructiõ of theſe two Kings of Syria & Iſraél, when as they had conſpired ỹ ouerthrowe of Iudáh

3 The munition alſo ſhal ceaſe from [d] Ephráim, & the kingdome from Damaſcus, and the remnant of Arám ſhalbe as the [e] glorie of the children of Iſraél, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

e The ten tribes gloried in their multitude, and alliãce with other nacions therefore he ſaith ỹ they ſhal be broght downe and the Syriãs alſo.

4 And in that day the glorie of [f] Iaakób ſhalbe impoueriſhed, and the fatnes of his fleſh ſhal be made leane.

f Meaning of ỹ ten tribes, ẅ boaſted them ſelues of their nobilitie, ꝓſperitie, ſtrẽgth & multitude

5 And it ſhalbe as when the harueſt man gathereth [g] the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he ſhalbe as he that gathereth the eares in the valley of [h] Repháim.

g As the abũdance of corne doeth not feare the harueſtmen ỹ ſhulde cut it downe: no more ſhal ỹ multitude of Iſraél make ỹ enemies to ſhrike, whome God ſhal appoint to deſtroye them

h Which valley was plentiful & fertile.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes ſhal [i] be left in it, as the ſhaking of an oliue tre, two or thre beries are in the top of the vpmoſte boughs, & foure or fiue in the hye branches of the frute thereof, ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél.

7 At that day ſhal a man loke to his [k] maker, and his eyes ſhal loke to the holie one of Iſraél.

8 And he ſhal not loke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, nether ſhal he loke to thoſe things, which his owne fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day ſhal the cities of their ſtrẽgth be as the forſaking of boughs & brãches, which [l] they did forſake, becauſe of the childrẽ of Iſraél, & there ſhalbe deſolatiõ.

i Becauſe God wolde haue his couenãt ſtable, he promiſeth to reſerue ſome of this people, and to bring them to repentance

10 Becauſe thou haſt forgotten the God of thy ſaluacion, and haſt not remembred the God of thy ſtrength, therefore ſhalt thou ſet pleaſant plants, and ſhalt graffe ſtrange [m] vine branches:

k He ſheweth that Gods corrections euer bring forthe ſome frute, and cauſe his to turne from their ſinnes, and to humble them ſelues to him l As the Canaanites left their cities, whẽ God did place the Iſraelites there, ſo the cities of Iſraél ſhal no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then buſſhes, when God ſhal ſend the enemie to plague them.

m Which are excellent, and broght out of other coũtreys

11 In the day ſhalt thou make thy plant to growe, and in the morning ſhalt thou make thy ſede to floriſh: but the harueſt ſhal be gone in the day [n] of poſſeſsion, and there ſhalbe deſperate ſorow.

n As the Lord threatneth the wicked in his Law, Leuit 26,16

12 [o] Ah, the multitude of manie people, they ſhal make a ſounde like the noyſe of the ſea: for the noyſe of the people ſhal make a ſounde like the noyſe of mightie waters.

o The Prophet lamenteth, conſidering the horrible plague ỹ was prepared againſt Iſraél by ỹ Aſſyriãs, which were infinite in nũber, and gathered of many nacions.

13 The people ſhal make a ſounde like the noyſe of manie waters: but God ſhal [p] rebuke them, and they ſhal flee farre of, and ſhalbe chaſed as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rolling thing before the whirle winde.

p He addeth this for ỹ cõſolation of the faithful, which were in Iſrael.

14 And lo, in the euening there is [q] trouble: but afore the morning it is gone. This is the porcion of them that ſpoile vs, and the lot of them that robbe vs.

q He compareth ỹ enemies ỹ Aſſyrians to a tẽpeſt, which riſeth ouer night, and in the morning is gone.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Of the enemies of the Church. 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

a He meaneth that parte of Ethiopia, ẅ lieth toward ỹ ſea, ẅ was ſo ful of ſhippes that the ſcales (which he cõpareth to wings) ſemed to ſhadow the ſea

1 OH, the [a] land ſhadowing with wings, which is beyonde the riuers of Ethiopia, b Which in thoſe coũtreis were great in ſo muche as they made ſhippes of thẽ for ſwiftenes.

2 Sending ambaſſidours by the ſea, euẽ in veſſels of [b] redes vpon the waters, ſaying, [c] Go, ye ſwift meſſengers, to a nacion that is ſcatred abroad, and ſpoiled, vnto a terrible [d] people from their beginning cuẽ hitherto: a nacion by litle and litle, euen troden vnder fote, whoſe land the [e] floods haue ſpoiled.

c This may be taken ỹ they ſent other to comforte the Iewes, and to promiſe them helpe againſt their enemies, and ſo ỹ Lord did threaten to take away their ſtrength that ỹ Iewes ſhulde not truſt therein: or that they did ſolicite ỹ Egyptians, & promiſed thẽ aide to go againſt Iudah.

3 All ye the inhabitants of the worlde and dwellers in the earth, ſhal ſe when [f] he ſetteth vp a ſigne in the mountaines, and whẽ he bloweth the trumpe, ye ſhal heare.

d To wit, the Iewes, who becauſe of Gods plagues made all other nacions afraid of the like, as God threatened, Deu. 28,37.

4 For ſo the Lord ſaid vnto me, I wil reſt & beholde in my tabernacle, as [g] the heat drying vp the raine, & as a cloude of dewe in the heat of harueſt.

e Meaning the Aſſyrians, as Chap 8,7.

5 For afore the harueſt when the floure is finiſhed, & the frute is riping in the floure, then he ſhal cut downe the branches with hookes, and ſhal take away, & cut of the boughs:

f When ỹ Lord prepareth to fight againſt ỹ Ethiopians

6 They ſhal be left together vnto the foules of the mountaines, and to the [i] beaſtes of the earth: for the foule ſhal ſommer vpõ it, and euerie beaſt of the earth ſhal winter vpon it.

g I wil ſtay a while from puniſhing ỹ wicked

h Which two ſeaſons are moſte profitable for the riping of frutes: whereby he meaneth, ỹ he wil ſeme to fauour them, & giue for a time, but he wil ſuddenly cut them of 7 At that time ſhal a [k] preſent be broght

i Not onely mẽ ſhal conſume them, but the brute beaſts.

k Meaning, that God wil pitie his Church, and receiue that litle remnant as an offring vpo him ſelf.

vnto

vnto the Lord of hoſtes, (a people that is ſcatred abroad, and ſpoiled, and of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nacion, by litle and litle euen troden vnder fote, whoſe lād the riuers haue ſpoiled) to the place of the Name of the Lord of hoſtes, euen the mount Zión.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The deſtruction of the Egyptians by the Aſſyrians. 18 Of theyr conuerſion to the Lord.

1 THe [a] burden of Egypt. Beholde, the Lord [b] rideth vpon a ſwift cloude, & ſhal come into Egypt, & ỹ idoles of Egypt ſhal be moued at his preſence, & the heart of Egypt ſhal melt in the middes of her.

2 And I wil ſet the Egyptians againſt the Egyptiās. ſo euerie one ſhal [c] fight againſt his brother, and euerie one againſt his neighbour, citie againſt citie, & kingdome againſt kingdome.

3 And the [d] ſpirit of Egypt ſhal faile in the middes of her, and I wil deſtroye their counſel, and they ſhal ſeke at the idoles, & at the ſorcerers, & at them that haue ſpirits of diuination, and at the ſouthſayers.

4 And I wil deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of cruel lords, and a mightie King ſhal rule ouer them, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes.

5 Then the waters of the ſea ſhal [e] faile, & the riuer ſhal be dryed vp, and waſted.

6 And the riuers [f] ſhal go farre away: the riuers of defenſe ſhalbe emptyed & dryed vp: the redes & flagges ſhalbe cut downe.

7 The graſſe in the riuer, and at the [g] head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuer, ſhal wither, & be driuen away, and be no more.

8 The fiſhers alſo ſhal [h] mourne, and all they that caſt angle into the riuer, ſhal lament, and they that ſpread their net vpon the waters, ſhalbe weakened.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flax of diuers ſortes, ſhalbe confounded, and they that weaue nettes.

10 For their nettes ſhalbe broken, and all they, ỹ make ponds, ſhalbe heauie in heart.

11 Surely ỹ princes of [i] Zoán are fooles: the counſel of the wiſe counſelers of Pharaóh is become fooliſh: how ſay ye vnto Pharaóh, I [k] am the ſonne of the wiſe? I am the ſonne of the ancient Kings?

12 Where are now thy wiſe men, that they may tel thee, or may know what the Lord of hoſtes hathe determined againſt Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoán are become fooles: the princes of [l] Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen the [m] corners of the tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hathe mingled among them the ſpirit [n] of errours and they haue cauſed Egypt to erre in euerie worke thereof, as a dronken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Nether ſhal there be anie worke [o] Egypt, which the head maie do, nor the taile, the branche nor the ruſh.

16 In that daie ſhal Egypt be like vnto women: for it ſhalbe afraide & feare becauſe of the mouing of the hand of the Lord of hoſtes, which he ſhaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah ſhalbe a feare [p] vnto Egypt euerie one ỹ maketh mencion of it, ſhalbe afraid thereat, becauſe of the counſel of the Lord of hoſtes, which he hathe determined vpon it.

18 In that daie ſhal fiue cities in the land of Egypt [q] ſpeake the language of Canáan, and ſhal [r] ſweare by the Lord of hoſtes: one ſhalbe called the citie of [s] deſtruction.

19 In that daie ſhal the altar of the Lord be [t] in the middes of the land of Egypt, and [u] a piller by the border thereof vnto ỹ Lord.

20 And it ſhalbe for a ſigne and for a witnes vnto the Lord of hoſtes in the land of Egypt: for thei ſhal crye vnto the Lord, becauſe of the oppreſſers, and he ſhal ſend them [v] a Sauiour and a great man, and ſhal deliuer them.

21 And the Lord ſhalbe knowen of the Egyptiās, and the Egyptians ſhal knowe the Lord in that daie, and do [x] ſacrifice & oblacion, & ſhal vowe vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord ſhal ſmite Egypt, he ſhal ſmite and heale it: for he ſhal returne vnto the Lord, and he ſhalbe intreated of thē and ſhal heale them.

23 In that daie ſhal there be a path frō [y] Egypt to Aſſiúr, & Aſſhúr ſhal come into Egypt, & Egypt into Aſſhúr. ſo the Egyptians ſhal worſhip with Aſſhúr.

24 In that daie ſhal Iſraél be the third with Egypt and Aſſhúr, euen a bleſſing in the middes of the land.

25 For the Lord of hoſtes ſhal bleſſe it, ſaying, Bleſſed be my people Egypt and Aſſhúr, the worke of mine hands, and Iſraél mine inheritance.

---

a Read Chap 13,1

b Becauſe the Egyptians truſted in the defenſe of their countrey, in ỹ multitude of their idoles, & in the valiantnes of their men, the Lord ſheweth that he wil come ouer all their munitions in a ſwift cloude, and that their idoles ſhal trēble at his comming, and that mens hearts ſhal faint

c As he cauſed the Ammonites, Moabites, and Idumeans to kil one another, whē they came to deſtroye the Church of God, 2 Chron 20, 22 chap 49 26

d Meaning, their policie, and wiſdome

e He ſheweth ỹ the ſea & Nilus their great riuer, whereby they thought thē ſelues moſt ſure, ſhulde not be able to defend them frō his angre, but that he wolde ſend the Aſſyrians amōg thē that ſhulde kepe them vnder as ſclaues

f For Nilus rā into the ſea by ſeuē ſtreames, as though they were ſo manie riuers

g The Ebrewe worde is mouth, whereby they meane the ſpring, out of the which the water guſheth as out of a mouth

h The Scriptures vſe to deſcribe the deſtruction of a countrey by taking away of the commodities thereof, as by vines, flesh, fiſh, and ſuche other things, whereby countreis are enriched.

i Called alſo Tanes, a famous citie vpon Nilus k He noteth the flatterers of Pharaoh who perſuaded the King that he was wiſe, and noble, and that his houſe was moſte ancient, and ſo he flattered him ſelf, ſaying, I am wiſe.

l Or Memphis, others Alexandria, and now called the great Caira

m The principal vphulders thereof are the chiefeſt cauſe of their deſtruction, n For the ſpirit of wiſdome he hathe mad. thē aſlēp & giddie with ỹ ſpirit of errour

o Nether the great nor the ſmale, ỹ ſtrong nor ỹ weake.

p Conſidering that through their occaſion the Iewes made not God their defence, but put their truſt in them, & were therefore now puniſhed, they ſhal feare leſt the like light vpon them

q Shal make one confeſſiō of faith with the people of God by the ſpeache of Canáan meaning, the language, wherein God was then ſerued

r Shal renoūce their ſuperſtitiōs & proteſt to ſerue God a right s Meaning, of ſix cities fiue ſhulde ſerue God, and the ſixt remaine in their wickednes & ſo of the ſixt parte there ſhulde be but one loſt

t There ſhalbe euident ſignes & tokens, that Gods religiō

u there which maner of ſpeacl is taken of the Patriarkes and anciēt times, when God had not as yet appointed the place, and ful maner how he wolde be worſhiped.

x This declareth that the ſacrifices ſhulde not be accompliſhed in the time of Chriſt.

y By theſe ceremonies he comprehendeth the ſpiritual ſeruice vnder Chriſt

y By theſe two nacions, which were then chief enemies of the Church, he ſheweth that the Gētiles, & the Iewes ſhulde be ioyned together in one faith and religion, and ſhulde be all one folde vnder Chriſt their ſhepherd

CHAP. XX.

2 The thre yeres captiuitie of Egypt and Ethopia deſcribed by the thre yeres going naked of Iſaiah.

1 IN the yere that [a] Tartán came to [b] Aſhdód, (whē [c] Sargón King of Aſſhúr ſēt him) and had foght againſt Aſhdód, and taken it,

2 At the ſame time ſpake the Lord by the hand of Iſaiáh the ſonne of Amóz, ſaying, Go, and loſe the [d] ſackeclothe from thy loynes, and put of thy ſhoe from thy fote.

a Who was a captaine of Sencherib, 2 Kig 18

b A citie of ỹ Philiſtims

c The Ebrewes write that Senecherib was ſo called.

d Which ſignifieth that ỹ Prophet did lament the miſerie that he ſawe prepared, before the thre yeres, that he went naked and bare foted.

And he did so, walking naked and barefote.

3 And the Lord said, Like as my seruant Isaiáh hathe walked naked, & barefote thre yeres, as a signe & wondre vpon Egypt, & Ethiopia,

4 So shal the King of Asshúr take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, bothe yong men and olde men, naked and barefote, with their buttockes vncouered, to the shame of Egypt.

5 And they shal feare, and be asshamed of [e] Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt [f] their glorie.

6 Thē shal ỹ inhabitāt of this [g] yle saye in that day, Beholde, suche is our expectation, whether we fled for helpe to be deliuered from the King of Asshúr, and how shal we be deliuered?

e In whose aide the. trusted.
f Of whome they boasted, and gloried
g Meaning Iudea, which was cōpassed about with their enemies, as an yle with waters.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Of the destruction of Babylon by the Persiās and Medes. 11 The rume of Idumea. 13 And of Arabia.

1 THe burden of [a] the desert sea. As the whirlwindes in the South vse to passe from the wildernes, so shal it [b] come from the horrible land.

2 A grieuous vision was shewed vnto me, The [c] transgressour against a trāsgressour, and the destroyer against a destroyer. Go vp [d] Elám, besige Media: I haue caused all the mourning [e] thereof to cease.

3 Therefore are my loynes filled ẅ sorow: sorowes haue taken me as the sorowes of a woman that trauaileth: I was bowed downe when I hearde it, & I was amased when I sawe it.

4 Mine heart failed: fearfulnes troubled me: the night s of my pleasures hathe he turned into feare vnto me.

5 Prepare thou the table: watche in ỹ watche towre: eat, drinke: [h] arise, ye princes, anoynt the shield.

6 For thus hathe the [i] Lord said vnto me, Go, set a watchman, to tel what he seeth.

7 And he sawe a charet with two horsemen: [k] a charet of an asse, & a charet of a camel: and he hearkened & toke diligent hede.

8 And he cryed, A [l] lyon: my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch towre in the day time, and I am set in my watch euerie night:

9 And beholde, this mans charet cometh with two horsemen. And [m] he answered and said, * Babél is fallen: it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hathe he broken vnto the grounde.

10 O [n] my threshing, and the "corne of my floore. That which I haue heard of the Lord of hostes, the God of Israél, haue I shewed vnto you.

a On the sea side betwene Iudea, & Chaldea was a wildernes, whereby he meaneth Chaldea
b That is, the ruine of Babylon by the Medes, and Persiās
c The Assyriās and Chaldeās, which had destroyed other nations, shal be ouercome of the Medes & Persians. and this he propheseed an hundreth yere before it came to passe. d By Elám, he meaneth the Persians
e Because thei shal finde no succour, they shal mourne no more, or, I haue caused them to cease mourning, whome Babylon had afflicted f This the Prophet speaketh in ỹ persone of the Babylonians
g He propheciteth ỹ death of Belshazar, as Dan 5,30, who in the middes of his pleasures was destroyed
h Whiles they are eating, and drinking they shalbe commāded to runne to their weapons
i To wit, in a vision by the spirit of propheeie.
k Meaning charets of men of warre, and others that caryed the baggage which ouertaine Babylon.
l Meaning, Darius
m The watcheman, whome Isaiáh set vp, tolde him, who came toward Babylón, and the Angel declared that it shulde be destroyed all this was done in a vision.
n Meaning, Babylon.
"Hér sonne.
*Iere 51,8 reuel,14,8.

11 ¶ The burden of [o] Dumáh. He calleth vn to me out of [p] Seír, Watchman, what was in the night? Watchman, what was in the night?

12 The watchman said, The [q] morning cometh, & also the night. If ye wil aske, enquire: returne & come.

13 ¶ The burdē against Arabia In [r] the forest of Arabia shal ye tary all night, euen in the waies of Dedanim.

14 O inhabitants of the land of Temá, brīg forthe [s] water to mete the thirstie, and preuent him that fleeth with his bread.

15 For they flee from the drawen swordes, euen from the drawen sworde, and from the bent bowe, and from the grieuousnes of warre.

16 For thus hathe ỹ Lord said vnto me, Yet a yere [t] according to the yeres of an [u] hyreling, & all the glorie of Kedár shal fayle.

17 And the residue of the nomber of the strong archers of the sonnes of [x] Kedár shalbe fewe: for the Lord God of Israél hathe spoken it.

o Which was a citie of the Ishmaelites & was so named of Duman, Gen 25,14 p A mountaine of the Idumeans.
q He describeth the vnquietnes of ỹ people of Dumah, who were night and day in feare of their enemies, and euer ran to and fro to enquire tewes
r For feare, the Arabians shal flee into the woods, and he appointeth what way they shal take.
s Signifying ỹ for feare they shal not tary to eat or drike
t He appointeth them respit for one yere only and then they shulde be destroied
u Read Chap. 16,14
x Which was the name of a people of Arabia and by the horrible destruction of all these nations, he teacheth ỹ Iewes that there is no place for refuge or to escape Gods wrath, but onely to remaine in his Church, and to liue in his feare

CHAP. XXII.

1 He propheseth of the destruction of Ierusalém by Nebuchadnezzár. 15 A threatening against Shebna. 20 To whose office Elyakim is preferred.

1 THe burden of the [a] valley of vision. What [b] aileth thee now that thou art wholy gone vp vnto the house toppes?

2 Thou that art ful of [c] noise, a citie ful of brute, a ioyous citie: thy slaine men shal not be slaine [d] with sworde, nor dye in battel.

3 All thy princes shal flee together from ỹ bowe: thei shal be [e] bound: all that shalbe founde in thee, shalbe bounde together, which haue fled from [f] farre.

4 [f] Therefore said I, Turne away from me: I wil wepe [g] bitterly: labour not to comfort me for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, & of perplexitie by the Lord God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a [h] crying vnto the mountaines.

6 ¶ And Elám [i] bare the quiuer in a mans charet with horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.

7 And thy chief valleis were ful of charets, & the horsemen set them selues in aray

a Meaning, Iudea, ẅ was cōpassed about with mountaines, and was called the valley of visions, because of the Prophetes, ẅ were alwaies there, whom e thei named Seers
b He speaketh to Ierusalém, whose inhabitants were fled vp to ỹ house toppes for feare of their enemies.
c Which was wont to be ful of people and ioye.
d But for hungre
e And led into captiuitie.
f Which have fled from other places to Ierusalém for succour
g He sheweth what is the duetie of the godlie, when Gods plagues hang ouer the Church, and specially of the ministers, Ier 9,1.
h That is, the shewte of the enemies whome God had appointed to destroy the citie
i He putteth thē in minde how God delmered them once from Sancherib, who brought the Persiās & Cyreniās with him, that thei might by returning to God auoyd that great plague which they shulde els suffer by Nebuchad-nezzar.

against the gate.

8 And he discouered the k couering of Iudáh: & thou dideſt loke in that day to the armour of the houſe of the foreſt.

9 And ye haue ſene l the breaches of the citie of Dauid: for thei were manie, and ye gathered the waters of the lower poole.

10 And ye nombred the houſes m of Ieruſalém, and the houſes haue ye broken downe to fortifie the wall,

11 And haue alſo made a ditch betwene the two walles, for the n waters of the olde poole, and haue not loked vnto the maker o thereof, nether had reſpect vnto him that formed it of olde.

12 And in that day did ỹ Lord God of hoſtes call vnto weping & mourning, & to baldnes and girding with ſackecloth.

13 And beholde, ioye and gladnes, ſlaying oxen and killing ſhepe, eating fleſh, and drinking wine, p eating and drinking: for to morowe we ſhal dye.

14 And it was declared in the eares of the Lord of hoſtes. Surely this iniquitie ſhal not be purged from you, til ye dye, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes.

15 Thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, Go, get thee to that q treaſurer, to Shebná, the ſteward of the houſe, & ſay, 16 What haſt thou to do here? and whome haſt thou r here? that thou ſhuldeſt here hewe thee out a ſepulchre, as he ỹ heweth out his ſepulchre in an hie place, or that graueth an habitacion s for him ſelf in a rocke?

17 Beholde, the Lord wil carye thee awaye with a great captiuitie, and wil ſurely couer thee.

18 He wil ſurely rolle & turne thee like a ball in a large countrey: there ſhalt thou dye, and there the charets of thy glorie ſhalbe the t ſhame of thy lords houſe.

19 And I wil dryue thee from thy ſtatiō, & out of thy dwelling wil he deſtroy thee.

20 And in that day wil I u call my ſeruant Eliakím the ſonne of Hilkiáh,

21 And with thy garments wil I clothe him, and with thy girdle wil I ſtrengthen him: thy power alſo wil I commit into his hād, and he ſhalbe a father of the inhabitants of Ieruſalém, and of the houſe of Iudáh.

22 And the x keye of the houſe of Dauid wil I laie vpon his ſhoulder: ſo he ſhal open & no man ſhal ſhut: and he ſhal ſhut, and no man ſhal open.

23 And I wil faſten him as a y naile in a ſure place, and he ſhalbe for the throne of glorie to his fathers houſe.

24 And thei ſhal hang vpon him all the glorie of his fathers houſe, euen of the nephewes and poſteritie z all ſmale veſſels, from the veſſels of the cuppes, euen to all the inſtruments of muſike.

25 In that daie, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, ſhal the a naile, that is faſtened in the ſure place, departe & ſhal be broken, and fall. and the burden, that was vpon it, ſhalbe cut of. for the Lord hathe ſpoken it.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A prophecie againſt Tyrus. 17 A promiſe that it ſhal be reſtored.

1 THe a burden of Tyrus. Howle, ye ſhippes of b Tarſhiſh: for c it is deſtroied, ſo ỹ there is none houſe: none ſhal come from the land of d Chittím: it is e reueiled vnto them.

2 Be ſtil, ye that dwell in the yles: the marchants of Zidón, & ſuch as paſſe ouer the ſea, haue f repleniſhed thee.

3 The g ſede of Nilus growing by the abundance of waters, & the harueſt of the riuer was her reuenues, and ſhe was a marte of the nations.

4 Be aſhamed, thou Zidón: for the h ſea hathe ſpoken, euen the ſtrength of the ſea, ſaying, I haue not i trauailed, nor brought forthe childrē, nether nouriſhed yong mē nor brought vp virgins.

5 When the fame commeth to the Egyptians, they ſhalbe k ſorie, concerning the rumor of Tyrus.

6 Go you ouer to l Tarſhíſh: howle, ye that dwell in the yles.

7 Is not this that your glorious citie? her antiquitie is of ancient daies: her owne fete ſhal lead her a farre of to be a ſoiourner.

8 Who hathe decreed this againſt Tyrus (that m crowneth men) whoſe marchāts are princes? whoſe chapmen are the nobles of the worlde?

9 The Lord of hoſtes hathe decreed this, to ſtaine the pride of all glorie, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Paſſe through thy land like a flood to ỹ n daughter of Tarſhíſh: there is no more ſtrength.

11 He ſtretched out his hand vpon the ſea: he ſhoke the kingdomes: the Lord hathe giuen a commandement concerning the place of marchādiſe, to deſtroye the power thereof.

12 And he ſaid, Thou ſhalt no more reioyce when ỹ art oppreſſed o ô virgin p daughter of Zidón: riſe vp, go ouer vnto Chittím: yet there thou ſhalt haue no reſt.

13 Beholde the land of the Chaldeans: this was no people: q Aſſhúr founded it by the inhabitants of the wildernes: thei ſet vp the towres thereof. they raiſed the palaces

k The ſecret place where ỹ armour was to wit, in the houſe of ỹ foreſt, 1 King 2. l Y. fortified the ruinous places, which were neglected in time of peace meaning, the whole citie & the citie of Dauid which was within the compaſſe of ỹ other mur Either to pul downe ſuche as might hurt, or el. to knowe what men thei were able to make n To prouide if nede ſhulde be of water o To God that made Ieruſalém that is, thei truſted more in their worldely meanes than in God p In ſtead of repentance ye were iouiul & made great chere, contemning the admonitions of the Prophetes, ſaying, Let vs eat and drinke for our Propheres ſay, that we ſhal dye to morowe q Because the Ebrew worde doeth alſo ſignifie one that doth nourish & cherish, there are of the learned that thinke, ỹ this wicked man did nouriſh ſecret frendſhip with the Aſſyrās and Egyptians, to betray ỹ Church and to prouide for him ſelf againſt all dāngers in ỹ meane ſeaſon he packt craftely & gate of the beſt offices into his hand vnder Hezekiah, euer aſpiring to the hieſt r Meaning, ỹ he was a ſtranger and came vp of nothig ſ Where as he thoght to make his name immortal by his famous ſepulchre, he dyed moſte miſerably among the Aſſyrians t Signifying ỹ whatſoeuer dignitie the wicked atteine vnto, at length it wil turne to the ſhame of thoſe Princes, by whome thei are preferred u To be ſteward againe, out of the which office he had bene put by the craft of Shebna x I wil commit vnto him the full charge & gouernement of the Kings houſe y I wil eſtabliſh him & confirme him in his office. of this phraſe reade Eſra 9.9.

z Meaning that bothe ſmale & great ſhal come of Eliakim, ſhal haue praiſe & glorie by this faithful officer a He meaneth Shebna, who in mans iudgement ſhulde neuer haue fallen.

a Read Chap. 13.

b Yt of Cilicia ỹ come thether for marchandie

c Tyrus is deſtroied by Nebuchadnezzar

d By Chittim thei ment all the yles and countreis Weſtward from Paleſtina

e All mē knowe of this deſtruction

f Hath haunted thee & enriched thee

g Meaning, the come of Egypt which was ſed by ỹ ouerflowing of Nilus

h That is, Tyrus, which was the chief port of the Sea

i I haue no people left in me, and am as a baren woman that neuer had childe

k Because the ſe two countreis were ioined in league together

l Tyrus willeth other marchants to go to Cilicia and to come no more there.

m Who maketh her marchāts like princes.

n Thy ſtrength wil no more ſerue thee therefore flee to other countreis for ſuccour

o For Tyrus was neuer touched nor afflicted before p Because Tyrus was buylt by them of Zidón q The Chaldeans which dwelt in tentes in the wildernes, were gathered by ỹ Aſſyrians into cities.

thereof & he z broght it to ruine.
14 Howle ye ſhippes of Tarſhiſh, for your f ſtrength is deſtroyed.
15 And in that daie ſhal Tyrus be forgottē ſeuentie yeres, (according to the yeres of one King) at the end of t ſeuētie yeres ſhal Tyrus u ſing as an harlot.
16 Take an harpe, & go about the citie: (thou harlot that haſt bene forgotten) x make ſwete melodie, ſing mo ſongs that thou maieſt be remembred.
17 And at the end of ſeuentie yeres ſhal the Lord viſite Tyrus, & ſhe ſhal returne to her y wages, and ſhal commit fornicatiō with all the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the worlde.
18 Yet her occupying and her wages ſhal be z holie vnto ỹ Lord: it ſhal not be laied vp nor kept in ſtore, but her marchandiſe ſhal be for thē that dwell before the Lord, to eat ſufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

f The people of ỹ Chaldeans deſtroyed the Aſſyrians: whereby the Prophet meaneth, that ſeing the Chaldeās were able to ouercome the Aſſyrians, ẅ were ſo great a nation, much more ſhal theſe two nations of Chaldea & Aſſyria be able to ouerthrowe Tyrus
t That is, Tyrus, by whome ye are enriched t Tyrus ſhal lie deſtroied 70 yeres, which he calleth the reigne of one King, or a mās age u Shal vſe all craft and ſubtilte to entiſe men agaīe to her x She ſhal labour by all meanes to recouer her firſt credit, as an harlot when ſhe is long forgotten, ſeketh by all meanes to entertaine her louers.
y Though ſhe haue bene chaſtiſed of the Lord, yet ſhe ſhal returne to her olde wicked practiſes, & for gaine ſhal giue her ſelf to all mens luſts like an harlot z He ſheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Goſpel wil call Tyrus to repentance, & turne her heart from auarice and filthie game vnto the true worſhiping of God and liberalitie toward his Saints.

CHAP. XXIIII.

A prophecie of the curſe of God for the ſinnes of the people. 13 A remnant reſerued, ſhal praiſe the Lord.

a This prophecie is as a cōcluſiō of that, which hathe bene threatened to the Iewes & other nacions from the 13 Chap. & therefore by ỹ earth he meaneth thoſe lands, which were before named b Becauſe this was a name of dignitie, it was alſo applied to thē, which were not of Aarōs familie, & ſo ſignifieth alſo a man of dignitie, as 2 Sam 8,18 and 20,25 1 chron. 18,17 and by theſe wordes the Prophet ſignifieth an horrible confuſion, where there ſhalbe neither religiō, order nor policie, Hoſea. 4,9.
c That is, rendreth not her fruite for the ſinne of ỹ people, whome ỹ earth deceiued of their nourriture, becauſe they deemed God of his honour.
d Writen in the Law, as Leui. 26,14 deut. 28,16. thus the Prophetes vſed to applie particularly the menaces, and promiſes which are general in the Law
e With heat and drought, or els, that they were conſumed with the fyre of Gods wrath.

BEholde, the Lord maketh the a earth emptie, & he maketh it waſte: he turneth it vpſide downe, & ſcattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.
2 And there ſhalbe like people, like b Prieſt, and like ſeruant, like maſter, like maide, like maſtreſſe, like byer, like ſeller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to vſurie.
3 The earth ſhalbe cleane emptied, and vterly ſpoyled: for the Lord hathe ſpoken this worde.
4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away: the worlde is febled & decayed: the proude people of the earth are weakened.
5 The earth c alſo deceiueth, becauſe of the inhabitāts thereof: for thei trāſgreſſed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlaſting couenant.
6 Therefore hathe the d curſe deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are deſolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are e burned vp, and fewe mē are left.
7 The wine faileth, ỹ vine hathe no might: all that were of mery heart, do mourne.
8 The mirth of tabrets ceaſeth: the noiſe of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioye of the harpe ceaſeth.
9 They ſhal not drinke wine with mirth: ſtrong drinke ſhalbe bitter to them that drinke it.
10 The citie of f vanitie is broken downe: euerie houſe is ſhut vp, that no man may come in.
11 There is a crying for wine in the ſtretes: all ioye is darkened: the g mirth of the worlde is gone away.
12 In the citie is left deſolacion, & the gate is ſmitten with deſtruction.
13 ¶ Surely thus ſhal it be in the middes of the earth, among the people, h as the ſhaking of an oliue tre, and as the grapes when the vintage is ended.
14 They ſhal lift vp their voyce: thei ſhal ſhoute for the magnificence of the Lord: they ſhal reioyce from i the ſea.
15 Wherefore praiſe ye ỹ Lord in the valleis, euē the Name of the Lord God of Iſraél, in the yles of the ſea.
16 From the vttermoſt parte of the earth we haue heard praiſes, euen glorie to the k Iuſte, & I ſaid, l My leanenes, my leanenes, wo is me: the tranſgreſſors haue offended: yea, the tranſgreſſors haue grieuouſly offended.
17 Feare, and the pit, and the ſnare are vpon thee, ô inhabitant of the earth.
18 And he that fleeth from the noiſe of the feare, ſhal fall into the pit: & he that commeth vp out of the pit, ſhalbe taken in the ſnare: for the m windowes from on high are open, and the fundacions of the earth do ſhake.
19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane diſſolued: the earth is moued excedingly.
20 The earth ſhal rele to & fro, like a dronken man, and ſhalbe remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof ſhalbe heauie vpon it: ſo that it ſhal fall, and riſe no more.
21 ¶ And in that day ſhal the Lord n viſite ỹ hoſte aboue that is on hie, euen the Kings of the worlde that are vpon the earth.
22 And thei ſhalbe gathered together, as the priſoners in the pit: and thei ſhalbe ſhut vp in the priſon, & after manie daies ſhal thei be o viſited.
23 p Then the moone ſhalbe abaſſhed, & the ſunne aſhamed, when the Lord of hoſtes ſhal reigne in mount Zión and in Ieruſalém: and glorie ſhalbe before his ancient men.

f Which as it was without ordre, ſo now ſhulde it be broght to deſolacion and confuſion and this was not onely ment of Ieruſalém, but of all ỹ other wicked cities.
g Becauſe thei did not vſe Gods benefits aright, their pleaſures ſhul de faile, and they fall to mourning
h He comforteth the faithful, declaring that in this great deſolacion the Lord wil aſſemble his Church, ẅ ſhal praiſe his name, as Chap 10,22.
i From ỹ vtmoſt coaſtes of the worlde, where ỹ Goſpel ſhal be preached, as verſ 16
k Meaning, to God, who wil publiſh his Goſpel through all ỹ worlde l I am conſumed with care, conſidering the affliciō of the Church, bothe by forē enemies & domeſticall Some read, my ſecret, my ſecrets: that is, it was reuealed to ỹ Prophet, that the good ſhulde be pſerued & the wicked deſtroyed.
m Meaning, ỹ Gods wrath, and vengeance ſhulde be ouer & vnder them ſo that thei ſhuld not eſcape no more then thei did at Noahs flood.
n There is no power ſo high or mightie, but God wil viſite him ẅ his roddes.
o Not with his roddes, as verſ 21, but ſhalbe cōforted.
p When God ſhal reſtore his Church, the glorie thereof ſhal ſo ſtaine and his miniſters (which are called his ancient men) that the ſunne and the moone ſhal be darke in compariſon thereof.

CHAP. XXV.

A thankeſgiuing to God in thes that he ſheweth him ſelf iudge of the worlde, by puniſhing the wicked & maintaining the godlie.

1 O Lord, thou a art my God: I wil exalte thee, I wil praiſe thy Name: for thou haſt done wonderful things, according to a Thus the Prophet giueth thankes to God, becauſe he wil bring vnder ſubiectiō theſe nacions by his corrections, & make them of his Church, ẅ before were his enemies.

587/1224

to the counſels of olde, with a ſtable trueth.

b Not onely of Ieruſalém, but alſo of theſe other cities, which haue bene thine enemies

2 For thou haſt made of a b citie an heap, of a ſtrong citie, a ruine: euen the palace c of ſtrangers of a citie, it ſhal neuer be buylt.

3 Therefore ſhal the d mightie people giue glorie vnto thee: the citie of the ſtrong nacions ſhal feare thee.

c That is, a place where all vagabónds may liue without danger, and as it were, at eaſe, as in a palace.

4 For thou haſt bene a ſtrength vnto the poore, euen a ſtrength to the nedie in his trouble, a refuge againſt the tempeſt, a ſhadowe againſt the heate: for the blaſt e of the mightie is like a ſtorme againſt the wall.

d The right and proude whome wolde not know

5 Thou ſhalt bring downe the noiſe of the ſtrangers, f as the heat in a drye place: he wil bring downe the ſong of the mightie, as g the heat in the ſhadowe of a cloude.

e The rage of the wicked is furious, til God breake y force therof

f Meaning, y as the heat is qualified by the raine, ſo ſhal God bring downe the rage of the wicked

g As a cloude in dowth frō y heat of the ſunne, ſo ſhal God aſwage y reioyſing of y wicked againſt the godly

6 And in this h mountaine ſhal the Lord of hoſtes make vnto all people a feaſt of fat things, euen a feaſt of ſined wines, & of fat things ful of marowe, of wines fined & purified.

h Ioel. 3, in Zion, which betoken his Church, y ſhulde vnder Chriſt be aſſembled of the Iewes and the Gentiles, and receiue deſerued vnder the figure of a coſtly banket, as Mat 22,2 7 And he wil deſtroye in this mountaine i the couering that couereth all people, & the vaile that is ſpred vpon all nacions.

i Meaning that ignorance and blindenes, whereby we are kept backe frō Chriſt

8 He wil deſtroye death for euer: and the Lord God wil k wipe away the teares frō all faces, and the rebuke of his people wil he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hathe ſpoken it.

k He will take away all occaſions of ſorow & ſighing with perfite ioye, Reuel 7,17 & 21,4 9 And in that day ſhal man ſay, Lo, this is our God, we haue waited for him, and he wil ſaue vs. This is the Lord, we haue waited for him: we will reioyce and be ioyful in his ſaluacion.

10 For in this mountaine ſhal the hand of the Lord reſt, and l Moáb ſhalbe threſhed vnder him, euen as ſtrawe is threſhed in m Madmenáh.

l By Moáb are ment all the enemies of his Church

11 And he ſhal ſtretch out his hand in the middes of thé (as he that ſwimmeth, ſtretcheth them out to ſwimme) and with the ſtrength of his hands ſhal he bring downe their pride.

12 The defenſe alſo of the height of thy walles ſhal he bring downe and lay lowe, & caſt them to the grounde, euen vnto the duſt.

m There were two cities of this name one in Iudáh, 1 Chron 2,49, and another in the land of Moáb, Iere 48,2 which ſeemeth to haue bene a plentiful place of corne Chap 10,31.

CHAP. XXVI.

A ſong of ſ'e faithful, wherein is declared, in what conſiſteth the ſaluacion of the Church, and wherein they ought to truſt.

a This ſong was made to comfort the faithful, when their captiuitie ſhulde come, aſſuring them alſo of their deliuerance, for the which they ſhulde ſing this ſong

1 IN that day ſhal a this ſong be ſung in the land of Iudáh, We haue a ſtrong citie: b ſaluacion ſhal God ſet for walles & bulwarkes.

b Gods protection and defence ſhalbe ſufficient for vs.

2 c Opé ye the gates that the righteous nacion, which kepeth the trueth, may entre in.

c He aſſureth the godlie to returne after the captiuitie to Ieruſalém.

3 By an aſſured d purpoſe wilt thou preſerue perfite peace, becauſe thei truſted in thee.

d Thou haſt decreed ſo, & thy purpoſe cā not be chāged

4 Truſt in the Lord for euer for in y Lord God is ſtrength for euer more.

e There is no power to hurt, that can let God, when he wil deliuer his 5 For he wil bring downe them that dwell on hie. e the hie citie he wil abaſe, euen vnto the grounde wil he caſt it downe and bring it vnto duſt.

f God wil ſet the poore aſſiſted ouer y power of the wicked

6 The fote ſhal treade it downe, euen the fete of the f poore, and the ſteps of the nedie.

g We haue cōtinually abid ry iudgemēts wherewith y hast afflicted vs

7 The way of the iuſte is righteouſnes: thou wilt make equal the righteous path of the iuſt.

h Meaning y by ſubiection we ſhal learne to feare God

8 Alſo we, ô Lord, haue waited for thee in the way of thy g iudgements the deſire of our ſoule is to thy Name, & to the remembrance of thee.

i The wicked though God ſhewe them eminent ſignes of his grace, ſhalbe neuer the better 9 With my ſoule haue I deſired thee in the night, and with my ſpirit within me wil I ſeke thee in the morning: for ſeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the worlde ſhal learne h righteouſnes.

k Through enuie & indignacion againſt thy people

10 Let mercie i be ſhewed to the wicked, yet he wil not learne righteouſnes: in y lād of vprightnes wil he do wickedly, and wil not beholde the maieſtie of the Lord.

l Thy fire & véngēce, wherewith thou doeſt deſtroye thine enemies, as the Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy worde

11 O Lord, they wil not beholde thine hie hand but thei ſhal ſe it, and be confounded with k the zeale of the people, & the fyre of thine l enemies ſhal deuoure them.

m Meaning y the repro it, euen in this life ſhal haue the beginning of euerlaſting death

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordeine peace: for thou alſo haſt wroght all our workes for vs.

n That is, the compaſſion of y faithful by the ſeeing of the Gentils 13 O Lord our God, other m lords beſide thee haue ruled vs, but we wil remember thee onely, & thy Name.

o Thou wilt, the compaſſion by thy rodes were mouēd to pray vnto thee for deliuerance

14 The n dead ſhal not liue, neither ſhal the dead ariſe, becauſe thou haſt viſited and ſcattered them, & deſtroyed all their memorie.

p That is, the faithful by thy rodes were mouēd to pray vnto thee for deliuerance 15 Thou haſt encreaſed o y nacion, ô Lord: thou haſt encreaſed the nacion: thou art made glorious: thou haſt enlarged all the coaſtes of the earth.

q To wit, in aduerſitie ſorowe

16 Lord, in trouble haue thei p viſited thee. they powred out a prayer when thy chaſtening was vpon them.

r Our forcwes had none end neither did we ſo ſore the ſorowe, that we loued it

17 Like as a woman with childe, that draweth neere to the trauail, is in ſorow, & cryeth in her peines, ſo haue we bene in thy q ſight, ô Lord.

s The wicked and men without religion were not deſtroyed

18 We haue conceiued, we haue borne in peine, as thoghwe ſhulde haue broght for r winde. there was no helpe in y earth, nether did the inhabitants of s the worlde fall.

t He comforteth the faithful in their afflictiōs ſhewing them that euen in death they ſhal haue life, and that they ſhulde moſte certeinly riſe to glorie the contrarie ſhulde come to the wicked, as verſ. 14.

19 ¶ t Thy dead men ſhal liue: euen with my bodie ſhal thei riſe. Awake, & ſing, ye that dwell in duſt for thy u dewe is as the dewe u As herbes dead in winter, floriſh againe by the raine in the ſpring time ſo thei y lie in the duſt, ſhal riſe vp to ioye when thei feele y dewe of Gods grace.

of herbes, & the earth ſhal caſt out ỹ dead.

x He exhorteth the faithful to be patient in their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods worke.

20 Come, my people: x entre thou into thy chambers, and ſhutte thy dores after thee: hide thy ſelf for a very litle while, vntil the indignacion paſſe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord cometh out of his place, to viſite the iniquitie of the inhabitáts of the earth vpon them: and the earth ſhal diſcloſe her y blood, and ſhal no more hide her ſlayne.

y The earth ſhal vomit & caſt out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may crye for vengeance againſt the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophecie againſt the kingdome of Satán. 2 And of the ioye of the Church for their deliuerance.

Chap. XXVII

a At the time appointed.

b That is, by his mightie power and by his worde. He prophecieth here of the deſtruction of Satán and his kingdome vnder the name of Liuiathán, Aſſhúr and Egypt

1 IN that a day the Lord with his ſore & great and mightie b ſworde ſhal viſite Liuiathán, that perćing ſerpent, euen Liuiathán, that croked ſerpent, & he ſhal ſlay the dragon that is in the ſea.

c Meaning, of the beſt wine, which this vineyarde, that is ỹ Church, ſhulde bring forthe as moſte agreeable to the Lord

2 In that day ſing of the vineyarde c of red wine.

3 I the Lord do kepe it: I wil watter it euery moment: leſt anie aſſaile it, I wil kepe it night and day.

4 Angre d is not in me: who wolde ſet the briers and the thornes againſt me in battel? I wolde go through them, I wolde burne them together.

d Therefore he wil deſtroy ỹ kingdome of Satán, becauſe he loueth his Church for his owne mercies-ſake, & ſcá not be angrie ẅ it, but wiſheth that he may powre his angre vpon ỹ wicked infideles, whome he meaneth by briers & thornes

5 Or wil he e fele my ſtrength, that he may make peace with me, & be at one with me?

e He maruelleth, that Iſrael wil not come by gentlenes, except God make thẽ to fele his rodes, & ſo brig thẽ vnto him.

6 f Here after, Iaakób ſhal take rote: Iſraél ſhal floriſh and growe, and the worlde ſhal be filled with frute.

f Thogh I afflict & diminiſh my people for a time, yet ſhal the rote ſpring againe & bring forthe in great abundance.

7 Hathe he ſmitten ſhim as he ſmote thoſe that ſmote him? or is he ſlayne according to the ſlaughter of them that were ſlayne by him?

g He ſheweth that God puniſheth his mercie, & his enemies in iuſtice

8 In h meaſure in the branches thereof wilt thou cõtend ẅ it, when he bloweth with his rough winde in the day of the Eaſt winde.

h That is, thou wilt not deſtroie the rote of thy Church thogh ỹ branches thereof ſeme to periſh by the ſharpe winde of affliction.

9 By this therefore ſhal ỹ iniquitie of Iaakób be purged, and this is all the i frute, the taking away of his ſinne: when he ſhal make all the ſtones of the altars, as chalke ſtones, broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not ſtand vp.

i Signifying, ỹ the faithful, ẅ put not their truſt in anie worldely proſperitie, but may de God their glorie, ſhalbe preſerued

10 Yet the k defenſed citie ſhalbe deſolate, & the habitacion ſhalbe forſaken, and left like a wildernes. There ſhal the calfe fede, and there ſhal he lie, & conſume the branches thereof.

k He ſhal deſtroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for ſome fled toward Egypt, thiking to haue eſcaped 11 When the boughs of it are drye, they ſhalbe broken: the women come, and ſet them on fyre. for it is a people of none vnderſtanding: therefore he that made them, ſhal not haue compaſsion of them, and he that formed them, ſhal haue no mercie on them.

12 And in that day ſhal the Lord threſh frõ the ćhanel of the l Riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye ſhalbe gathered, one by one, ô children of Iſraél.

l He ſheweth that there is no true repentance, nor ful reconciliacion to God, til the heart be purged from all idolatrie, and the monumentes thereof deſtroyed

13 In that day alſo ſhal the great trumpe be m blowen, and they ſhal come, which periſhed in the land of Aſſhúr: and they that were chaſed into the land of Egypt, and they ſhal worſhip the Lord in the holy mount at Ieruſalém.

k Notwithſtanding his fauour that he wil ſhewe them after, yet Ieruſalém ſhalbe deſtroyed, and graſſe for cattel ſhal growe in it

m In a ſtrange language

CHAP. XXVIII.

Againſt the pride & dronkennes of Iſraél. 9 The vntowardnes of them that ſhulde learne the worde of God. 24 God doeth all things in time and place.

Chap XXVIII

a Meaning, the proude kingdome of the Iſraelites, ẅ were dronken with worldly proſperitie

1 WO to the a crowne of pride, the dronkards of Ephráim: for his glorious beautie ſhalbe a fading floure, ẅ is vpon the head of the b valley of them that be fat, & are ouercome with wine.

b Becauſe the Iſraelites for the moſt parte dwelt in plentiful valleis, he meaneth here by ỹ valley of them, ỹ had abundãce of worldelie proſperitie, & were, as it were, crowned therewith, as with garlãds.

2 Beholde, the Lord hathe a mightie and c ſtrong hoſte, like a tempeſt of haile, & a whirlwinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempeſt of mightie waters ỹ ouerflowe, which throwe to the grounde mightely.

c He ſemeth to meane the Aſſyrians, by whome ỹ ten tribes were caryed away.

3 They ſhalbe troden vnder fote, euen the crowne and the pride of the dronkards of Ephráim.

4 For his glorious beautie ſhalbe a fading floure, which is vpon the head of the valei of them that be fat, and as d ỹ haſtie frute afore ſommer, which, whẽ he that loketh vpon it, ſeeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

d Which is not of long cõtinuance, but is ſone ripe, & firſt eaten

5 In that day ſhal the Lord of hoſtes be for a crowne of glorie, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the e reſidue of his people:

e Signifying, ỹ the faithful, ẅ put not their truſt in anie worldely proſperitie, but made God their glorie, ſhalbe preſerued

6 And for a ſpirit of iudgemẽt to him that ſitteth in iudgement, & for f ſtrength vnto thẽ that turne away the battel to the gate.

f He wil giue counſel to the gouernour, & ſtrength to the captaine, to driue the enemies in ẗat their owne gates.

7 But g thei haue erred becauſe of wine, & are out of the way by ſtrong drinke: the Prieſt & the Prophet haue erred by ſtrong drinke: they are ſwallowed vp with wine: they haue gone aſtray through ſtrong drinke: thei faile in viſion: thei ſtomble in iudgement.

g Meaning, the hypocrites, ẅ were among them, & were all togeth. et corrupt in life & doctrine, ẅ is here mene by dronkénes & vomiting.

8 For all their tables are ful of filthy vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 h Whome ſhal he teache knowledge? and whome ſhal he make to vnderſtand the things that he heareth? them that are weined from the milke and drawen from the breaſts.

h For there was none that was able to vnderſtãd anie good doctrine: but were fooliſh, & as vnmete as yong babes

10 For i precept muſt be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle & there a litle.

i They muſt haue one thig oft times told.

11 For with a ſtammering k tongue & with a ſtrange lãguage ſhal he ſpeake vnto this people.

k Let one teache what he can, yet they ſhal no more vnderſtãd him, thẽ if he ſpake in a ſtrange language

12 Vnto whome l he ſaid, m This is the reſt: n giue reſt to him that is wearie. and this is the refreſhing, but thei wolde not heare.

l That is, the Prophet, whome God ſhulde ſend.

m This is the doctrine, whereupon ye ought to ſtay & reſt that are wearie and haue nede of reſt, what is the true reſt.

n Shewe to them

Therefore

o Because they wil not receiue the worde of God, when it is offred, it commeth of their owne malice, if after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before Cap 6,9 13 Therefore shal the worde of the o Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle & there a litle, that they may go, and fall backewarde, and be broken and be snared and be taken.

p They thoght they had shiftes to auoid Gods iudgemets, and that they colde escape though all other perished

14 Wherefore, heare the worde of the Lord, ye scorneful men ỹ rule this people, which is at Ierusalém.

q Though the Prophetes condemned their idoles, & vaine trust, of falshode, & vanitie, yet the wicked thoght in them selues that it wolde stonde

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a p couenant with death, & with hell are we at agrement: though a scourge runne ouer, & passe through, it shal not come at vs: for we haue made q falshode our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid,

r That is, Christ, by whome all ỹ byldyng must be tryed and vpholden, Psal 118,22 mat 21, 42 act 4. 11 rom. 9,33 1 pet. 2,6 16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil lay in Zión a stone, a tryed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure fundacion. He that beleueth, r shal not make haste.

s Christ shal reigne

17 Iudgement also wil I laye to the rule, & s righteousnes to the balace, and the t hayle shal swepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shal ouerflowe the secret place.

t In the restitucion of his Church, iudgemets, & fire shal reigne

u Gods correccions and afflictiõ

18 And your couenant with death shalbe disanulled, & your agrement with hel shal not stand: when a scourge shal turne ouer and passe through, then shal ye be trodde downe by it.

x All shal discerne their vaine confidece whiel they kept secret to them selues

19 When it passeth ouer, it shal take you away for it shal passe through euerie morning in the day, and in the night, and there shalbe onely vexacion to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

y Terrour and destructiõ shal make you to learne that, ẅ exhortations and gentlenes colde not brig you vnto 20 For the bed is streict that it can not suffise, and the couering narowe that one cã not wrap him self.

z Your affliction shalbe so sore, that you are not able to endure it 21 For the Lord shal stand as in mount a Perazím he shalbe wrath as in the valley b of Gibeón, ỹ he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.

a When Dauid ouercame the Philistims, 2 Samuel 5 20 1 chro 14,11

b Where Iosuá discomfited fiue Kings of the Amorites, Iosh 10,12

22 Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bonds increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearkẽ ye, and heare my speache.

c As ỹ plowman hathe his appointed time, and diuers instrumẽts for his labour, so hathe the Lord for his vengeance for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sorte and some after another, so that his chosen sede is beaten, and tryed, but not broken, as are the wicked.

24 Doeth the plow man plow all the day, to sowe? doeth he opẽ, and breake the clottes of his grounde?

25 When he hathe made it c plaine, wil he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheat by measure, & the appointed barly and rye in their place?

26 For his God doeth instruct him to haue discrecion, and doeth teache him.

27 For fitches shal not be thresshed with a thresshing instrument, nether shal a cart whele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 Bread corne when it is thresshed, he doeth not alway thresh it, nether doeth the whele of his cart stil make anoyse, nether wil he breake it with the tethe thereof.

29 This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderful in counsel, & excellent in workes.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophecie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of men.

1 AH d altar, altar of the citie that Dauid dwelt in: adde yere vnto yere, e let them kil lambes.

d The Ebrewe worde Ariel signifieth the lyon of God, & signifieth ỹ altar, because the altar seemed to deuoure the sacrifice ỹ was offred to God, as Ezek. 43,16

e Your yere conpasse in your festiuites shal not suffise to you

2 but I wil bring the altar into distres, and there shalbe heauines & sorow, and it shalbe vnto me like an altar.

f Your citie shalbe ful of blood, as an altar whereon they sacrifice

3 And I wil besege thee as a circle, & right against thee on a mount, & wil cast vp rampars against thee.

g Thy speache shalbe no more lowde, but auoyded, & low as the very charmers, ẅ are in lowe places, and whisper, so ỹ they wove ẽ scarce be heard

4 So shalt thou be humbled, & shalt speake out of the f grounde, and thy speache shal be as out of the dust. thy voyce also shalbe out of the grounde like him that hathe a spirit of diuination, and thy talking shal whisper out of the dust.

h Thine hired souldiers, in whome ỹ trust is, shalbe destroyed as dust or chaffe in a whirlwinde

5 Moreouer, the multitude of thy g strangers shal be like smale dust, and the multitude of strong men shalbe as chaffe that passeth away, and it shalbe in a moment, euen suddenly.

i I wil bring to destroye thee, and that which thou maiest thy vaine trust, shal come at vnwares, euen as a ouercomer the night some rode, as if this were a comfort to the Church for ỹ destruction of their enemies

6 Thou shalt be visited of ỹ Lord of hostes with thundre, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fyre.

7 And the h multitude of all the nacions ỹ fight against the altar, shalbe as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and laye sege vnto it.

k That is, he thinketh that he eateth

8 And it shalbe like as an hũgrie man dreameth, and beholde, i he eateth and when he awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and lo, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, beholde, he is fainte, and his soule longeth: so shal the multitude of all nacions be that fight against mount Zión.

l Mine Iereon as long as ye lift yet shal ye finde nothing, but occasion to be astonied for your Prophetes are blinde, and therefore can not direct you

9 k Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blinde: they are dronken, but not with wine: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

10 For the Lord hathe couered you with a spirit of slomber, and hathe shut vp your eyes: the Prophetes, and your chief Seers hathe he couered.

m Meaning, ỹ it is ill alske, ether to read, or not to read, except God open ỹ hert to vnderstãde

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a boke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can read, saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shal he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

12 And the boke is giuen vnto him that can not read, ſaying, Read this, I pray thee. And he ſhal ſay, I can not read.

13 Therefore the Lord ſaid, Becauſe this people [k] come nere vnto me with their mouth, and honour me with their lippes, but haue remoued their heart far frō me, and their [l] feare toward me was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore beholde, I wil againe do a maruelous worke in this people, euen a maruelous worke, and a wonder: for the wiſdome of their wiſemen ſhal [m] periſh, and the vnderſtanding of their prudent men ſhalbe hid.

15 Wo vnto them that [n] ſeke depe to hide their counſel from the Lord: for their workes are in darknes, and they ſay, Who ſeeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuiſes ſhal it not be eſtemed [o] as the potters claye? for ſhal ỹ worke ſay of him that made it, He made me not? or the thing formed, ſay of him that facioned it, He had none vnderſtanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanón ſhalbe [p] turned into Carmél? & Carmél ſhalbe counted as a forest?

18 And in that day ſhal the deafe heare the wordes of the boke, & the eyes of the blind ſhal ſe out of obſcuritie, and out of darkenes.

19 The meke in the Lord ſhal receiue ioye againe, and the poore men ſhal reioyce in the holie one of Iſraél.

20 For the cruel man ſhal ceaſe, and the ſcorneful ſhalbe conſumed: and all that haſted to iniquitie, ſhalbe cut of:

21 Which made a man to ſinne in ỹ [q] worde, & toke him in a ſnare: which reproued them in the gate, and made the iuſte to fall without cauſe.

22 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord vnto the houſe of Iaakób, euen he that redemed Abrahám, Iaakób ſhal not now be confounded, nether now ſhal his face be pale.

23 But when he ſeeth his children, the worke of mine hāds, in the middes of him, they ſhal ſanctifie my Name, and ſanctifie the holie one of Iaakób, & ſhal feare the God of Iſraél.

24 Then they that erred in ſpirit, [r] ſhal haue vnderſtanding, and they that murmured, ſhal learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

He reproueth the Iewes which in their aduerſitie Vſed their owne counſels, and ſought helpe of the Egyptians to Deſpiſing the Prophetes 16 Therefore he ſheweth what deſtruction ſhal come vpon them. 18 But offreth mercie to the repentant.

WO to the [a] rebellious children, ſaith the Lord, that take counſel, but not of me, and [b] couer with a couering, but not by my ſpirit, that they may lay ſinne vpon ſinne:

2 Which walke forthe to go downe into Egypt (& haue not aſked at my mouth) to ſtrengthen them ſelues with the ſtrength of Pharaóh, and truſt in the ſhadowe of Egypt.

3 But the ſtrength of Pharaóh ſhalbe your ſhame, & the truſt in ỹ ſhadowe of Egypt your confuſion.

4 For his [c] princes were at Zóan, and his ambaſſadours came vnto Hanés.

5 They ſhalbe all aſhamed of the people ỹ can not profite them, nor helpe nor do the good, but ſhalbe a ſhame and alſo a reproche.

6 ¶ The [d] burden of the beaſtes of the South, in a land of trouble and anguiſh, from whence ſhal come the yong and olde lyon, the viper and fyrie flying ſerpent againſt them that ſhal beare their riches vpō the ſhoulders of the coltes, and their treaſures vpon the bounches of the camels, to a people that can not profite.

7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they ſhal helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto [e] her, Their ſtrength [f] is to ſit ſtil.

8 Now go, & write [g] it before them in a table, & note it in a boke that it may be for the [h] laſt day for euer and euer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, & children that wolde not [i] heare the Law of the Lord.

10 Which ſay vnto the Seers, Se not: and to the Prophetes, Prophecie not vnto vs right things but ſpeake flattering things vnto vs: prophecie [k] errours.

11 Depārte out of the way: go aſide out of the path. cauſe the holie one of Iſraél to ceaſe from vs.

12 Therefore thus ſaith the holie one of Iſraél, Becauſe you haue caſt of this worde, and truſt in [l] violence, and wickednes, and ſtay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie ſhalbe vnto you as a breache that falleth, or a ſwelling in an hie wall, whoſe breaking cometh ſuddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like ỹ breaking of a potters por, which is broke without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde [m] a ſheard to take fyre out of the heith, or to take water out of the pit.

15 For thus ſaid the [n] Lord God, the holie one of Iſraél, In reſt and quietnes ſhal ye be ſaued: in quietnes and in confidence ſhalbe your ſtrength, but ye wolde not.

16 For ye haue ſaid, No, but we wil flee away vpon [o] horſes. Therefore ſhal ye flee. We wil ride vpon the ſwifteſt. Therefore ſhal your perſecuters be ſwifter.

17 A thouſand as one ſhal flee at the rebuke of one:

---

k Becauſe they are hypocrites & not ſyncere in heart, as Mat 15 8.

l That is, their religion was learned by mās doctrine, & not by my worde

m Meaning, ỹ where as God is not worſhipped according to his worde, bothe magiſtrates, and miniſters are but fooles, & without vnderſtanding.

n This is ſpoken of thē, which heart deſpiſed Godsworde & mocked at the admonitions, but outwardly bare a good face

o For all your craft, ſaith the Lord, you can not be able to eſcape mine hands no more thē the claye, that is in the potters hands, hathe power to deliuer it ſelf

p Shal there not be a chāge of all things? and Carmel, that is a plentiful place in reſpect of that it ſhalbe then, may be taken, as a foreſt, as Chap 32.15. & thus he ſpeaketh to comfort the faithful

q They that went about to finde faute with the Prophetes wordes, and wolde not abide admonitions, but wolde intāgle thē and bring thē into danger.

r Signifying, ỹ except God giue vnderſtāding, & knowledge, man can not but ſtil erre, and murmure againſt him.

a Who cōtrarie to their promes, take not me for their protectour, & contrarie to my commandement, ſeke helpe at ſtrangers

b They ſeke ſhiftes to cloke their doings, and not godlie meanes.

c The chief of Iſraél went into Egypt to ambaſſade to ſeke helpe, and abode at theſe cities.

d That is, a heauy ſentence or propheſie againſt the beaſts that caried their treaſures into Egypt, by the wildernes, & was South frō Iudáh ſignifying that it ỹ beaſtes ſhulde not be ſpared, the men ſhulde be puniſhed muche more grieuouſly

e To wit, to Ieruſalem

f And not to come to & fro to ſeke helpe

g That is, this propheſie.

h That it may be a witnes, againſt them for all poſteritie

i He ſheweth what was the cauſe of their deſtruction, & bringeth thē all miſerie to mā to wit, becauſe they wolde not heare the wordes of God, but delited to be flattered, and led in errour.

k Threaten vs not by ỹ wordes of God, nether be ſorigorous, nor talke vnto vs in the name of the Lord, as Ier 11.21

l Meaning, in their ſtubbernes againſt God, and the admonitiōs of his Propheres.

m Signifying, that the deſtruction of the wicked ſhalbe without recouerie n Oft times by his Propheres he put you in remembrance of this, ỹ you ſhulde onely depēd on him.

o We wil truſt to eſcape by our horſes of one: at the rebuke of fiue ſhal ye flee, til ye be left as a ſhippe maſt vpon the p top of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpō an hill.

18 Yet therefore wil ỹ Lord waite, that he may haue q mercy vpon you, and therefore wil he be exalted, that he may haue cōpaſsion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of r iudgement. Bleſſed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people ſhal dwell in Zión, & in Ieruſalém: thou ſhalt wepe no more: he wil certeinly haue mercie vpō thee at ỹ voyce of thy crye: whē he heareth thee, he wil anſwer thee.

20 And when the Lord hathe giuē you the bread of aduerſitie, and the water of afflictiō, thy raine ſhalbe no more kept backe, but thine eyes ſhal ſe thy s raine.

21 And thine eares ſhal heare a worde behinde thee, ſaying, This is the way, t walke ye in it, when thou turneſt to the right hand, and when thou turneſt to the left.

22 And ye ſhal u pollute the couering of the images of ſiluer, and the riche ornament of thine images of golde, & caſt thē away as a menſtruous cloth, and thou ſhalt ſay vnto it, x Get thee hence.

23 Then ſhal he giue raine vnto thy ſede, when thou ſhalt ſowe the groūde, & bread of the increaſe of the earth, and it ſhalbe fat and as oyle: in that day ſhal thy cattel be fed in large paſtures.

24 The oxen alſo and the yong aſſes, that til the grounde, ſhal eat cleane prouendre, which is winowed with the ſhoouel and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euerie hie a mountaine, and vpon euerie hie hil ſhal there be riuers & ſtreames of waters, in the day of the great ſlaughter, when the towers ſhal fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the moone ſhalbe as the light of the b ſunne, and the light of the ſunne ſhal be ſeuen folde, and like the light of ſeuen dayes in the day that the Lord ſhal binde vp the breache of his people, & heale the ſtroke of their woūde.

27 Beholde, c the Name of the Lord commeth from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof is heauie: his lippes are ful of indignacion, and his tongue is as a deuouring fyre.

28 And his Spirit is as a riuer ỹ ouerfloweth vp to ỹ necke: it diuideth aſondre, to fanne the nations with the fanne of d vanitie, and there ſhalbe a bridle to cauſe them to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 But there ſhalbe a ſong vnto you as in the e night, whē a ſolemne feaſt is kept: & gladnes of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to go vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Iſraél.

30 And the Lord ſhal cauſe his glorious voyce to be heard, & ſhal declare the lighting downe of his arme with the angre of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fyre, with ſcattering & tempeſt, and haile ſtones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord ſhal Aſſhúr be deſtroyed, which ſmote with the f rodde.

32 And in euerie place that the ſtaffe ſhal paſſe, it ſhal g cleaue faſt, which the Lord ſhal lay vpon him with h tabrets and harpes: and with battels, & lifting vp of hands ſhal he fight i againſt it.

33 For k Tóphet is prepared of olde: it is euē prepared for the l King: he hathe made it m depe and large: the burning thereof is fyre & muche wood: the breth of the Lord, like a riuer of brimſtone, doeth kindle it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curſeth them that forſake God, and ſeke for the helpe of men.

1 WO vnto them that a go downe into Egypt for helpe, and ſtay vpon horſes, and truſt in charettes, becauſe they are manie, and in horſemen, becauſe they be very ſtrong: but thei loke not vnto the holie one of Iſraél, nor b ſeke vnto the Lord.

2 But he yet is c wiſeſt: therefore he wil bring euil, and not turne backe his worde, but he wil ariſe againſt the houſe of the wicked, and againſt the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God, and their horſes fleſh and not ſpirit: and when the Lord ſhal ſtretche out his hand, the d helper ſhal fall, and he that is holpē ſhal fall, and thei ſhal altogether faile.

4 For thus hathe the Lord ſpoken vnto me, As the lion or lions whelpe roareth vpon his praie, againſt whome if a multitude of ſhepherds be called, he wil not be afraide at their voice, nether wil humble him ſelf at their noiſe: ſo ſhal the Lord of hoſtes come e downe to fight for mount Zión, and for the hill thereof.

5 As birdes that flie, ſo ſhal the Lord of hoſtes defend Ieruſalém by defending and deliuering, by paſsing through & preſeruing it.

6 O ye children of Iſraél, turne againe, in aſmuche as ye are f ſunken depe in rebellion.

7 For in that day euerie man ſhal g caſt out his idoles of ſiluer, and his idoles of golde, which your hands haue made you, euē a ſinne.

8 Thē ſhal Aſſhúr fall by h the ſworde, not of man, nether ſhal the ſworde of man p Where as all the trees are cut downe ſaue two or thre to make maſtes.

q He commēdeth the great mercies of God who with pacience waiteth to call ſinners to repentance.
r Not onely in puniſhing, but in vſing moderation in the ſame, as Ier.10, 24, and 30, 11.
s Or, inſtruction.
t God ſhal direct all thy wayes, and appoint thee how to go ether hether or thether.
u Ye ſhal caſt away your idoles, which you haue made of golde, & ſilver with all that belongeth vnto them, as a moſte filthy thing and polluted.
x Shewing that there can be no true repentāce except both in heart and dede we ſhewe our ſelues enemies to idolatrie.
y By theſe diuerſe maners of ſpeache he ſheweth ỹ the felicitie of the Church ſhalbe ſo great, ỹ none is able ſufficiently to expreſſe it.
z When the Church ſhalbe reſtored, ỹ glorie thereof ſhal paſſe ſeuē times ỹ brightnes of ỹ ſunne: for by the ſunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, he ſheweth what ſhalbe the glorie of the children of God in the kingdome of Chriſt.
a This threatning is againſt the Aſſyrians, the chief enemies of the people of God a To driue thee to nothing: and thus God conſumeth the wicked by ỹ meanes, whereby he cleanſeth his.
b Ye ſhal reioice at the deſtruction of your enemies, as they that ſing for ioye of the ſolemne feaſt, which began in the euening.
c Gods plague
d It ſhal deſtroy.
e With ioye & aſſurance of ỹ victorie.
f Againſt Babél: meaning ỹ Aſſyrians and Babylonians.
g Here it is taken for hel, where the wicked are tormented. read 2. King. 23, 10.
h So that their eſtate or degre can not exēpt the wicked.
i By theſe figuratiue ſpeaches he declareth ỹ condition of ỹ wicked after this life.
a There were two ſpecial cauſes, why ỹ Iſraelites ſhulde not ioyne amitie with ỹ Egyptiās: firſt, becauſe the Lord had commanded them neuer to returne thether, Deu 17, 16. & 28, 68, leſt they ſhulde forget the benefite of their redemption: & ſecōdly, leſt they ſhulde be corrupted with the ſuperſtitiō & idolatrie of the Egyptians, and ſo forſake God, Ier. 2, 18.
b Meanig. that thei forſake the Lord, that put their truſt in worldelie things: for thei can not truſt in bothe.
c And knoweth their craftie enterpriſes & wil bring all to naughte.
d Meaning, both the Egyptians and the Iſraelites.
e He ſheweth the Iewes, that if thei wolde put their truſt in him, he is ſo able, that none can reſiſt his power: and ſo careful ouer thē, as a bird ouer her yōg, which euer flieth about them for their defence: which ſimilitude the Scripture vſeth in diuerſe places, as Deut. 32, 11. matt. 23, 37.
f He toucheth their conſcience that thei might earneſtly ſele their grieuous ſinnes and ſo truely repent, for aſmuche as now thei are almoſt drowned and paſt recouerie.
g By theſe fruites your repentance ſhalbe knowen, as Chap. 2, 18.
h When your repentace appeareth.

deuoure him, and he ſhal flé fró the ſworde, and his yong men ſhal faint.

9 And he ſhal go for ſeare to his [1] towre, & his princes ſhal be afraide of the ſtandart, ſaith the Lord, whoſe [k] fyre is in Zión, and his fornace in Ieruſalém.

1 This was accompliſhed ſome three whẽ Sancherib's armie was diſcomfited, and he fled to his caſtell in Niniueh for ſuccour k To deſtroye his enemies.

CHAP. XXXII.

The conditions of good rulers and officers deſcribed by the gouernement of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Chriſt.

1 BEholde, [a] a King ſhal reigne in iuſtice, & the princes ſhal rule [b] in iudgement.

2 And that man ſhalbe as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tẽpeſt, as riuers of water in a drye place, and as the ſhadowe of a great rocke in [c] a wearie land.

3 The eyes of [d] the ſeing ſhal not be ſhut, and the eares of them that heare, ſhal hearken.

4 And the heart of the fooliſh ſhal vnderſtand knowledge, and the tongue of the ſtutters ſhalbe ready to ſpeake diſtinctly.

5 A [e] nigarde ſhal no more be called liberal, nor the churle riche.

6 But the nigarde wil ſpeake of nigardnes, and his heart wil worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and ſpeake falſely againſt the Lord, to make emptie the hungrie ſoule, and to cauſe the drinke of the thirſtie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: he diuiſeth wicked counſels, to vndo the poore with lying wordes, and to ſpeake againſt the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberal man wil diuiſe of liberal things, and he wil continue in liberalitie.

9 ¶Riſe vp, ye womẽ that are at eaſe: heare my voyce, ye [f] careleſ daughters: hearkẽ to my wordes.

10 Ye womẽ, that are careleſ, ſhalbe in feare [g] aboue a yere in dayes: [h] for the vintage ſhal faile, & the gathering ſhal come no more.

11 Ye women, that are at eaſe, be aſtonied: feare, ô ye careleſ womẽ put of the clothes: make bare, and girde ſacke clothe vpon the loynes.

12 Men ſhal lament for the [i] teates, euen for the pleaſant fields, & for the fruteful vine.

13 Vpon the land of my people ſhal growe thornes & briers: yea, vpon all the houſes of ioye in the citie of reioycing,

14 Becauſe the pa[l]ace ſhalbe forſaken, and the [m] noyſe of ỹ citie ſhalbe left: the towre & fortreſſe ſhal be dennes for euer, & the delite of wilde aſſes, and a paſture for flockes, 15 Vntil the [k] Spirit be powred vpon vs from aboue, and the wildernes become a fruteful field, & the [l] plenteous field be counted as a foreſt.

16 And iudgemẽt ſhal dwell in the deſert, & iuſtice ſhal remaine in the fruteful field.

17 And the worke of iuſtice ſhalbe peace, euen the worke of iuſtice & quietnes, and aſſurance for euer.

18 And my people ſhal dwell in the tabernacle of peace and in ſure dwellings, & in ſafe reſting places.

19 Whẽ it haileth, it ſhal fall on the foreſt, and the [m] citie ſhalbe ſet in the lowe place.

20 Bleſſed are ye [n] that ſowe vpon all waters, and [o] driue thether the fete of the oxe and the aſſe.

a This propheſie is of Hezekiah who was a figure of Chriſt, & therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him

b By iuſtice and iuſtice is méant vprightneſſe of gouernement, both in policie & religiõ

c Where men are wearie wt trauailing, for lacke of water

d He promiſeth to giue the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods worde, & vnderſtãding, and zeale of the same, contrarie to ỹ threatnings againſt ỹ wicked, Chap 6,9, & 29 10

e Vice ſhal no more be called vertue, nor vertue eſteemed by power, and riches.

f He propheſieth of ſuche calamitie to come, that they wil not ſpare the women & children, and therefore willeth them to take hede and prouide

g Meaning, ỹ the affliction ſhulde continue long, and when one yere were paſt, yet they ſhulde loke for newe plagues

h God wil take from you ỹ meanes and occaſions, which made you to contemne him, to wit, abundãce of worldly goods

i By the teates I meaneth ỹ pleaſant fields, whereby men are nouriſhed, as children with the teate or the mothers for ſorow, & leanes ſhal lacke milke k That is, when the Church ſhal be reſtored thus the Prophetes after they haue denoũced Gods iudgements againſt the wicked, vſe to comfort the godlie, leſt they ſhulde faint.

Or, multitude

l The field which is now fruteful, ſhalbe but as a barren foreſt in compariſon of ỹ it ſhalbe then, as Chap 29,17. which ſhalbe fulfilled in Chriſts time: for then they that were before as the barren wildernes, being regenerat, ſhalbe fruteful, and they that had ſome beginning of godlines ſhal bring forthe fruites in ſuch abundance, ỹ their former life ſhal ſeme but as a wildernes, where no frutes were

m They ſhal not nede to build it in ſtrong places for feare of the enemie for God wil defend it and driue away the ſtormes from hurting of their commodities

n That is, vpon fat ground & wel watered, which bringeth forth in abundance or in places which before were couered with waters, and now made dry for your vſe

o The fields ſhal be ſo rancke, that they ſhal ſuffer their cattel to eat vp the firſt croppe, which abundance is doe ſignes of Gods fauour and loue towards them

CHAP. XXXIII.

The deſtruction of them, by whome God hathe puniſhed his Church.

1 WO to thee that [a] ſpoileſt, and waſt not ſpoiled: and doeſt wickedly, and thei did not wickedly againſt thee: whẽ thou ſhalt [b] ceaſe to ſpoile, thou ſhalt be ſpoyled. when thou ſhalt make an end of doing wickedly, [c] they ſhal do wickedly againſt thee.

2 [d] O Lord, haue meicie vpon vs, we haue waited for thee be thou, which waſt [e] their arme in the morning, our helpe alſo in time of trouble.

3 At the noiſe of the tumult, the [f] people fled, at thine [g] exalting the nations were ſcatered.

4 And your ſpoile ſhal be gathered like the gathering of [h] caterpilleis. and [i] he ſhal go againſt him like the leaping of graſſhoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on hie: he hathe filled Zión with iudgement and iuſtice.

6 And there ſhalbe ſtabilitie of [k] thy times, ſtrength, ſaluacion, wiſdome & knowledge: for ỹ feare of the Lord ſhalbe his treaſure.

7 Beholde, [l] their meſſengers ſhal crye without, and the [m] ambaſſadours of peace ſhal wepe bitterly.

8 The [n] paths are waſte: the waifaring man ceaſeth: he hathe broken the couenant: he hathe contemned the cities: he regarded noman.

9 The earth mourneth and fainteth: Lebanón is a ſhamed, and hewen downe: [o] Sharon a Meaning the enemies of the Church, as were ỹ Chaldeãs, and Aſſyrians but chiefly of Sancherib, but not only.

b Whẽ three appointed time ſhal come that God ſhal take away thy power ỹ that which thou haſt wrongfully gotten, ſhalbe giuen to others, as Amos 3 11

c The Chaldeans ſhal do like to the Aſſyrians, as the Aſſyrians did to Iſrael and the Medes, & Perſians ſhal do ỹ ſame to the Chaldeãs.

d He declareth hereby what is the chiefe refuge of the faithful when troubles come to pray & ſeke helpe of God.

e Which helpedſt our fathers ſo ſone as they called vpon thee

f That is, the Aſſyrians fled before the armie of ỹ Chaldeãs, or ỹ Chaldeans for feare of the Medes and Perſians g When thou, ô Lord, dideſt lift vp thine hãd to puniſh the enemies.

h Ye that as caterpillers deſtroied with your nomber ỹ whole worlde, ſhal haue no ſtrength to reſiſt your enemies the Chaldeans, but ſhal be gathered on an heape and deſtroied

i Meaning the Medes & Perſians againſt the Chaldeans.

k That is, in the dayes of Hezekiáh.

l Sent from Sancherib

m Whome thei of Ieruſalém ſent to intreat of peace.

n Theſe are the wordes of the ambaſſadours, when they returne from Sancherib

o Which was a plentiful countrei, meaning, that Sancherib wolde deſtroy all.

rón is like a wildernes, and Baſhán is ſhaken and Carmél.

10 Now wil I p ariſe, ſaith the Lord: now wil I be exalted, now wil I lift vp my ſelf.

11 q Ye ſhal conceiue chaffe, & bring forthe ſtubble: the fyre of your breth ſhal deuoure you.

12 And the people ſhalbe as the burning of lime: & as the thornes cut vp, ſhal they be burnt in the fyre.

13 Heare, ye that are r farre of, what I haue done, & ye that are neire, knowe my power.

14 The f ſinners in Zión are afraied: a feare is come vpon the hypocrites: who among vs ſhal dwell with the deuourīg fyre? who among vs ſhal dwell with the euerlaſting burnings?

15 He that walketh in iuſtice, and ſpeaketh righteous thīgs, refuſing gaine of oppreſſion, ſhaking his hands from taking of giftes, ſtopping his eares from hearing of blood, and ſhutting his eyes from ſeing euil.

16 He ſhal dwell on t hye: his defence ſhalbe the munitions of rockes: bread ſhalbe giuen him, & his waters ſhal be ſure.

17 Thine eyes ſhal u ſe the King in his glorie: they ſhal beholde the land x farre of.

18 Thine heart y ſhal meditate feare, Where is the ſcribe? where is the receiuer? where is he that counted the towres?

19 Thou ſhalt not ſe a fierce people, a people of a darke ſpeache, that thou canſt not perceiue, & of a ſtammering tongue that thou canſt not vnderſtand.

20 Loke vpon Zión the citie of our ſolemne feaſtes: thine eyes ſhal ſe Ieruſalém a quiet habitacion, a Tabernacle that can not be remoued: & the ſtakes thereof can neuer be taken away, nether ſhal any of the cordes thereof be broken.

21 For ſurely there the mightie Lord wilbe vnto vs, as a place z of floods & brode riuers, whereby ſhal paſſe no ſhippe with ores, nether ſhal great ſhip paſſe thereby.

22 For the Lord is our iudge, the Lord is our law giuer. the Lord is our King, he wil ſaue vs.

23 Thy a cordes are looſed. they colde not wel ſtrengthen their maſt, nether colde thei ſpread the ſaile: thē ſhal the b pray be deuided for a great ſpoyle: yea, the lame ſhal take away e the pray.

24 And none inhabitant ſhal ſay, I am ſicke: the people that dwell therein, ſhal haue their iniquitie forgiuen.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

He ſheweth that God puniſheth the wicked for the loue that he beareth toward his Church.

COme neire, ye a nations and heare, and hearken, ye people. let the earth heare and all that is therein, the worlde and all thar procedeth thereof.

2 For the indignation of the Lord is vpon all nations, and his wrath vpon all their armies: he hathe b deſtroied thē & deliuered them to the ſlaughter.

3 And their ſlaine ſhalbe caſt out, and their ſtincke ſhal come vp out of their bodies, and the mountaines ſhalbe melted with their blood.

4 And all the hoſte of heauen c ſhal be diſſolued, and the heauens ſhal be folden like a boke: and all their hoſtes ſhal fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figtre.

5 For my ſworde ſhalbe d dronken in the heauen. beholde, it ſhal come downe vpon Edóm, euen vpon the people of e my curſe to iudgement.

6 The ſworde of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat & with the blood of the f lambes and the goats, with the fat of the kidneis of the rams: for the Lord hathe a ſacrifice in g Bozráh, and a great ſlaughter in the land of Edóm.

7 And the h vnicornes ſhal come downe with them and the heiffers with the bulles, and their land ſhal be dronkē with blood, and their duſt made fat with fatnes.

8 For it is the day of the Lords vengeance, and the yeire of recompēce for the iudgement of Zión.

9 And the riuers thereof ſhalbe turned in to pitch, & the duſt thereof into i brimſtone, and the land thereof ſhalbe burning pitch.

10 It ſhal not be quenched night nor day: the ſmoke thereof ſhal go vp euermore. it ſhal be deſolate from generation to generation: none ſhal paſſ. through it for euer.

11 But the pelicane k & the hedgehog ſhal poſſeſſe it, and the great owle, & the rauē ſhal dwell in it, & he ſhal ſtretch out vpon it the line l of vanitie, and the ſtones of emptines.

12 m The nobles thereof ſhal call to the kingdome, and there ſhalbe none, and all the princes thereof ſhalbe as nothing.

13 And it ſhal bring for the thornes in ȳ palaces thereof, nettles & thiſtles in ȳ ſtrong holdes thereof, and it ſhalbe an habitacion for dragons and a court for oſtriches.

14 There ſhal n mete alſo Zijm and Ijm, and the Satyre ſhal crye to his fe'lowe, and the ſhriche owle ſhal reſt there, & ſhal finde for her ſelf a quiet dweiling.

15 There o ſhal the owle make her neſt, and lay, and hatche, and gather thē vnder her ſhadowe: there ſhal ȳ vultures alſo be gathered, euerie one with her make.

16 Seke in the p boke of the Lord & reade: none of q theſe ſhal faile, none ſhal want her make: for his mouth hathe cōmanded, & his verie Spirit hathe gathered them.

p To helpe & deliuer my Church

q This is ſpoken againſt the enemies, who thoght all was their owne but he sheweth ȳ their enterpriſe ſhal be in vaine, & that ȳ fyre, wherwith they had kidled for others, ſhuld cōſume them

r His vēgeance ſhalbe ſo great that all ȳ world ſhal talke thereof

s Which do not beleue the wordes of the Prophet & the aſſurance of their deliuerance

t Meaning that God wilbe a ſure defence to all them that liue according to his worde.

u That ſhal ſe Hezekiáh deliuered fro his enemies & reſtored to honour & glorie.

x That ſhalbe no more ſhut in as they were by Sancherib, but go where it pleaſeth thē

y Before ȳ this libertie cometh, ȳ ſhalt thinke y thou art in great dāger for ȳ enemie ſhal ſo ſharpely aſſaile you, ȳ one ſhal cry, Where is the clarke that writ th ȳ names of thē ȳ are taxed? another, Where is there ceiuer? another ſhal crye for him ȳ valueth ȳ riche houſes, but God wil deliuer you from this feare

z Let vs be cōtēt w this ſmale riuer of Shiloah, & not deſire the great ſtreames & riuers, whereby ȳ enemies may bring in ſhippes & deſtroy vs

a He derideth ȳ Aſsyrians & enemies of the Church, declaring their deſtructiō is theirs that periſh by ſhipwracke

b He conforteth ȳ Church, & ſheweth ȳ they ſhalbe enriſhed w all be neires both of bodie & ſoule.

Chap. XXXIIII

a He propheciēth of ȳ deſtruction of ȳ Edomites, and other natiōs which were enemies to the Church.

b God hathe determined in his counſel & hathe giuē ſentence for their deſtruction

c He ſpeketh this in reſpect of mans iudgement, who in great feare & horrible troubles thinketh that heuen & earth periſheth

d I haue determined in my ſecret counſel & in the heauēs to deſtroy the til my ſworde be wearie with ſhedīg blood

e The Iewes had an opiniō of holines because that came of the Patriarke Izhak, but in deed were accurſed of God & enemies vnto his Church, as ȳ Papiſts are

f I. attires, both of yong & olde people & riche of his enemies

g In ſt famous citie ſhalbe cōſumed as a ſacrifice burnt to aſshes

h The mightie & riche ſhal be as well deſtroyed as the inferiours.

i He alludeth to ȳ deſtructiō of Sodóm and Gomoráh, Gen 19.24.

k Read Chap. 13,21 and Zephan 2,14.

l In vaine ſhal anie men go about to buylde it againe

m Meaning, there ſhalbe not of the nor people, nor ſtate of cōmune weale.

n Read Chap 13.21 o Signifieng ȳ let no ſtate builde be in Iſrael deſolate and barē, vnder ſo p Libertines, in ȳ Lat. were Gaſtes, that read not ȳ ſcriptures q For not one iote ſhalbe ſtricken out of ȳ mouth of ȳ Lord.

f He hathe giuen the beaſtes and foules Idumea for an inheritance.

And he hathe caſt the f lot for them, and his hãd hathe diuided it vnto them by line: thei ſhal poſſeſſe it for euer: from generacion to generacion ſhal thei dwell in it.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 The great ioye of them that beleue in Chriſt, 3 Their office which preache the Goſpel. 4 The frutes that followe thereof.

a He prophecieth of the ful reſtauratiõ of the Church bothe of the Iewes and Gentiles vnder Christ, which ſhalbe fully accompliſhed at ỹ laſt day: albeit as yet it is cõpared to a deſert and wildernes.

1 THe a deſert and the wildernes ſhal reioyce: and the waſte grounde ſhalbe glad and floriſh as the roſe.

2 It ſhal floriſh abundantly & ſhal greatly reioyce alſo and ioy: the glorie of Lebanón ſhalbe giuen vnto it: the beautie of b Carmél, and of Sharón, they ſhal ſe the glorie of the Lord, & the excellẽcie of our God.

b The Church ỹ was before compared ro a baſen wildernes, ſhal by Chriſt be made moſte plenteous and beautiful.

3 dStrengthen the weake hands, & comfort the feble knees.

4 Say vnto them that are feareful, Be you ſtrõg, feare not: beholde, your God commeth with e vengeance: euen God with a recompence, he wil come and ſaue you.

e He ſheweth ỹ the preſence of God is the cauſe that the Church doeth bring forthe frute and floriſh

5 Thẽ ſhal the eyes of the f blinde be lightened, and the eares of the deafe be opened.

d He willeth all to encourage one an other, and ſpecially the miniſters to exhort & ſtreg then the weake, ỹ thei may paciently abide the comíg of God, ỹ is at hand

6 Then ſhal the lame man leape as an hart, & the dõme mans tongue ſhal ſing: for in the g wildernes ſhal waters breake out, & riuers in the deſert.

e To deſtroy your enemies.

7 And the dryé grounde ſhal be as a poole, and the thirſtie (as ſprings of water in the habitation of dragõs: where thei lay) ſhal be a place for redes and ruſhes.

f When the knowledge of Chriſtis reuerled.

8 And there ſhalbe a path and a way, and the way ſhalbe called h holy: the polluted ſhal not paſſe by it: for i he ſhalbe with them, and walke in the way, and the fooles ſhal not erre.

g They ỹ were baren & deſtitute of ỹ graces of God, ſhal haue them giuen by Chriſt.

9 There ſhalbe k no lyon, nor noiſome beaſtes ſhal aſcend by it, nether ſhal they be founde there, that the redemed may walke.

h It ſhalbe for ỹ Saits of God & not for the wicked

10 Therefore the l redemed of the Lord ſhal returne and come to Zión with praiſe: and euerlaſting ioy ſhal be vpon their heads: thei ſhal obtaine ioy and gladnes, & ſorowe and mourning ſhal flee away.

i / God ſhal lead and guide them, alluding to the bringing forthe of Egypt k As he threatened to the wicked to be deſtroied hereby, Chap. 30, 6. l Whome the Lord ſhal deliuer from the captiuitie of Babylon.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Saneherib ſendeth Rabſhakéh to beſege Ieruſalém. 15 His blaſphemies againſt God.

a This hiſtorie is rehearſed, becauſe it is as a ſeale & confirmation of the doctrine afore, bothe for the threatnings & promiſes to wit, that God wolde ſuffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length wolde ſend deliuerance

NOw a in the b fourtenth yere of King Hezekiáh, Saneherib Kíg of Aſſhúr came vp againſt all the ſtrong cities of Iudáh, and toke them.

2 And the King of Aſſhúr ſent Rabſhakéh frõ Lachíſh toward Ieruſalém vnto Kíg Hezekiáh, with a great hoſte, and he ſtode by the conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

b When he had aboliſhed ſuperſticion, & idolatrie, & reſtored religion, yet God wolde exerciſe his Church to trye their faith and patience.

3 Then came forthe vnto him Eliakím the ſonne of Hilkiáh the c ſteward of the houſe, and Shebná d the chanceller, and Ioah the ſonne of Aſáph the recorder.

c For he was now reſtored to his office, as Iſaiáh had prophecied, Chap 22, 20

4 And e Rabſhakéh ſaid vnto them, Tel you Hezekiáh, I pray you, Thus ſaith the great King, the King of Aſſhúr, What confidence is this, wherein thou truſteſt?

d This declareth that there were fewe godlie to be founde in the Kíges houſe, whé he was driuen to ſend this wicked man in ſuche a weightie matter

5 I ſaie, f Surely I haue eloquence, but counſel and ſtrength are for the warre: on whome then doeſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

e Saneheribs chiefe captaine.

6 Lo, thou truſteſt in this broken ſtaffe of rede on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it wil go into his hand, and perce it: ſo is g Pharaóh King of Egypt, vnto all that truſt in him.

f He ſpeaketh this in the perſone of Hezekiah, falſely charging him, that he put his truſt in his wit and eloquence, where as his onelie confidẽce was in the Lord

7 But if thou ſay to me, We truſt in the Lord our God. Is not that he, whoſe hie places and whoſe altars Hezekiáh toke downe, and ſaid to Iudáh and to Ieruſalém, Ye ſhal worſhip before this altar?

g Satan laboreth to pul the godlie King from one vaine confidence to another, to wit, from truſt in ỹ Egyptiás, whoſe power was weake & wold deceiue them: to yelde him ſelf to ỹ Aſsyrians and ſo not to hope for any helpe of God

8 Now therefore giue hoſtages to my lord the King of Aſſhúr, & I wil giue thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy parte to ſet riders vpon them.

9 For how canſt thou h deſpiſe anie captaine of the h leaſt of my lords ſeruants? and put thy truſt on Egypt for charets and for horſemen?

Or, turne backe

h He reprocheth to Hezekiáh his ſmale power, which is not able to reſiſt one of Sancheribs leaſt captaines

10 And am I now come vp without ỹ Lord to this land to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid vnto me, i Go vp againſt this land & deſtroy it.

i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, wil pretend the Name of ỹ Lord but we muſt trye the ſpirits, whether thei be of God or no 11 ¶ Then ſaid Eliakím, and Shebná and Ioáh vnto Rabſhakéh, k Speake, I pray thee, to thy ſeruants in the Aramites language, (for we vnderſtand it) and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

k Thei were afraid, leſt by his wordes he ſhulde haue ſtirred the people againſt the King, and alſo pretended to growe to ſome appointement with him.

12 Then ſaid Rabſhakéh, Hathe my maſter ſent me to thy maſter, & to thee to ſpeake theſe wordes, and not to the men that ſit on the wall? that they may eat their owne doung, and drinke their owne l piſſe with you?

l Ebr. the waters of their feet.

13 So Rabſhakéh ſtode, & cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, and ſaid, Heare the wordes of the great King, of ỹ King of Aſſhúr.

14 Thus ſaith the King, Let not Hezekiáh deceiue you: for he ſhal not be able to deliuer you.

15 Nether let Hezekiáh make you to truſt in the Lord, ſaying, The Lord wil ſurely deliuer vs: this citie ſhal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Aſſhúr.

1 The Ebrewe word ſignifieth bleſſing whereby this wicked captaine wolde haue perſuaded ỹ people, that their condition ſhulde be better vnder Sancheríb then vnder Hezekiah.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiáh: for thus ſaith the King of Aſſhúr, Make l appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figtre, and drinke euerie man the water of his owne well,

27 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, 28 Leſt Hezekiah diſceiue you, ſaying, The Lord wil deliuer vs. Hathe anie of ỹ gods of the nacios deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Aſſhúr?
19 Where is the god of [m] Hamáth, and of Arpád? Where is the god of Sepharuáim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand?
20 Who is he among all the gods of theſe lands, that hathe deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lord ſhulde deliuer Ieruſalém out of mine hand?
21 Then they [n] kept ſilence, and anſwered him not a worde: for the Kings commandement was, ſaying, Anſwer him not.
22 Then came Eliakím the ſonne of Hilkiáh the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebná the chancellor, and Ioáh the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiáh with rẽt clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabſhakéh.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, oft e with thele two other cities alſo were whereby we ſe how euery towne had his peculiar idole and how the wicked make God an idole, becaus they do not vnderſtãd that God mitteth them his scourge & punisheth cities for ſinne n Not that they did not knewe by euident ſignes ỹ their god deteſt his blaſphemie for that had now rent their clothes, but they knewe it was in vaine to vſe lõg reasoning with this infidel, whoſe rage their ſhulde haue ſo much more prouoked

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Hezekiáh aſketh counſel of Iſaiáh, who promiſeth him the Victorie. 10 The blaſphemie of Saneherib. 16 Hezekiahs prayer. 36 The armie of Saneherib is ſlayne of the Angel. 38 And he him ſelf of his owne ſonnes.

1 AND *whē the King Hezekiáh heard it, he [a] rent his clothes, and put on ſackecloth & came into the Houſe of the Lord.
2 And he ſent Eliakím the ſteward of the houſe, and Shebná the chanceller, with the Elders of the Prieſts, clothed in ſackecloth vnto [b] Iſaiáh the Prophet, the ſonne of Amóz.
3 And they ſaid vnto him, Thus ſaith Hezekiáh, This day is a day of tribulacion & of rebuke and blaſphemie: for the children are come to the [c] birth, and there is no ſtrength to bring forthe.
4 If ſo be the Lord thy God hathe [d] heard the wordes of Rabſhakéh, whome the King of Aſſhúr his maſter hathe ſent to raile on ỹ liuing God, & to reproche him with wordes which ỹ Lord thy God hathe heard, then lift thou vp thy praier for the remnant that are left.
5 So the ſeruants of the King Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.
6 And Iſaiah ſaid vnto them, Thus ſay vnto your maſter, Thus ſaith the Lord, Be not afraied of the wordes that thou haſt heard, wherewith the ſeruants of the King of Aſſhúr haue blaſphemed me.
7 Beholde, I wil ſend a blaſt vpon him, & he ſhal heare a [f] noiſe, and retu ne to his owne land, and I wil cauſe him to fall by the ſworde in his owne land.
8 ¶ So Rabſhakéh returned, and founde the King of Aſſhúr fighting againſt Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed frõ Lachíſh.
9 He heard alſo men ſay of Tirhakáh, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, he is come out to fight againſt thee: and when he heard it, he ſent other meſſengers to Hezekiáh, ſaying,
10 Thus ſhal ye ſpeake to Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, ſaying, Let not thy God [h] deceiue thee, in whome thou truſteſt, ſaying, Ieruſalém ſhal not be giuen into the hand of the King of Aſſhúr.
11 Beholde, thou haſt heard what ỹ Kings of Aſſhúr haue done to all lands in deſtroying them, & ſhalt thou be deliuered?
12 Haue the gods of the nacions deliuered them, which my fathers haue deſtroyed? as [i] Gozán, and [k] Harán, and Rézeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telaſſár?
13 Where is the King of Hamáth, and the King of Arpád, and the King of the citie of Sepharuáim, Hena and Iuáh?
14 ¶ So Hezekiáh receiued the letter of the hand of the meſſengers and red it, and he went vp into the Houſe of the Lord, and Hezekiáh ſpred it before the Lord.
15 And Hezekiáh praied vnto the Lord, ſaying,
16 O Lord of hoſtes, God of Iſraél, which [l] dwelleſt betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou haſt made the heauen & the earth.
17 Encline thine eare, ô Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, ô Lord, and ſe, and heare all the wordes of Sancherib, who hathe ſent to blaſpheme the liuing God.
18 Trueth it is, ô Lord, that the Kings of Aſſhúr haue deſtroyed all lands, & [m] their countrey, 19 And haue caſt their gods in the fyre: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood or ſtone: therefore they deſtroyed them.
20 Now therefore, ô Lord our God, ſaue thou vs out of his hand, that [n] all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.
21 ¶ Then Iſaiáh the ſonne of Amóz ſent vnto Hezekiáh, ſaying, Thus ſaith ỹ Lord God of Iſraél, Becauſe thou haſt prayed vnto me, concerning Sancherib King of Aſſhúr, 22 This is the worde that the Lord hathe ſpoken againſt him, O [o] virgine, daughter of Zión, he hathe deſpiſed thee, & laughed thee to ſcorne: ô daughter of Ieruſalém, he hathe ſhaken his head at thee.
23 Whome haſt thou railed on & blaſpheme[d]? and againſt whome haſt thou exalted a In ſigne of griefe and repentance

b To haue cõfort of him by the worde of God, that his faith might be confirmed and ſo his prayer be more earneſt teaching hereby that in all dãgers theſe two are the onelie remedies, to seke vnto God and his miniſters
c We are in as great sorowe as a woman ỹ trauaileth of childe, and cannot be deliuered
d That is, wil declare by effect that he hathe heard it for when God differreth to puniſh, it ſeemeth to the fleſh, that he knoweth not ỹ ſinne, or heareth not the cauſe
e Declaring, ỹ the miniſters office doeth not onely ſtãd in cõfort ing by the worde, but alſo in praying for the people f Of the Egyptians and Ethiopians, that ſhal come and fight againſt him.
g Which was a citie towarde Egypt, thinking thereby to haue ſtaied ỹ force of his enemies.
h Thus God wolde haue him to vtter a moſte horrible blaſphemie before his deſtruction as to call the author of all trueth, a deceiuer: wherby, ỹ Shebnáh had diſcloſed vnto Sanheribb ỹ anſwer ỹ Iſaiáh ſent to the King
i Which was a citie of the Medes k Called alſo Charre a citie in Meſopotamia, whence Abraham came after his fathers death.
l He groũdeth his praier on Gods promes, who promiſed to hear them from betwene the Cherubis
m Meaning of the ten tribes n He declareth for what cauſe he praied, ỹ they might be deliuered, to wit, ỹ God might be glorified thereby through all ỹ worlde o Whome God had choſen to him ſelf as a chaſte virgine, and one, whome he had care to preſerue her from ỹ luſts of ỹ worlde, as a father wolde ouer his daughter.

thy voyce,& lifted vp thine eyes on hie euen against the P holy one of Israél.

24 By thy seruants hast thou railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my chariets I am come vp to the top of the mountaines to the sides of Lebanón, and wil cut downe the hie cedres thereof, and the faire fyrre trees thereof, and I wil go vp to the heights of his toppe & to the forest of his fruteful places.

25 I haue digged q & dronke the waters, & with the plant of my fete haue I dryed all the riuers closed in.

26 Hast thou not heard how I haue of olde time made it, r and haue formed it long ago? & shulde I now bring it,that it shulde be destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities defensed?

27 Whose inhabitants" haue smale power, & are afraied & confounded:they are like the grasse of the field and grene herbe, or grasse on the house toppes, or corne blasted s afore it be growen.

28 But I knowe thy dwelling,& thy t going out,and thy comming in, and thy furie against me.

29 Because thou ragest against me,and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares,therefore wil I put mine u hoke in thy nostrels, and my bridle in thy lippes,and wil bring thee backe againe the same way ÿ x camest.

30 And this shalbe a y signe vnto thee, o Hezekiáh, Thou shalt eat this yere suche as groweth of it self. and the z second yere,suche things as grow without sowīg: and in the third yere, sow ye and reape, & plant vineyardes, & eat the frute thereof.

31 And a the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudáh, shal againe take roote downeward and beare frute vpward.

32 For out of Ierusalém shal go a remnant, & they that escape out of mount Zión:the zeale of the Lord of hostes shal do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the Lord, concerning ÿ King of Asshúr, He shal not enter into this citie, nor shoote an arrowe there,nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it.

34 By the same way that he came, he shal returne,and not come into this citie, saith the Lord.

35 For I wil defend this citie to saue it, for mine owne sake,& for my seruāt b Dauids sake.

36 ¶* Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the campe of Asshúr an hundreth, foure score, and fiue thousand: so when they arose early in the morning, beholde,they were all dead corpses.

37 So Sancherib King of Asshúr departed, and went away and returned and dwelt at c Nincuéh.

38 And as he was in the temple worshiping of Nisióch his god, Adramélech & Sharézer his sonnes slewe him w̄ the sworde, and they escaped into the land of d Ararát: and d Esai háddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Hezekiáh is sicke 5 He is restored to health by the Lord, and liueth fiftene yeres after. 10 He giueth thanks for his benefit

1 ABout* that a time was Hezekiáh sicke vnto the death, and the Prophet Isaiáh sonne of Amóz came vnto him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Put thine house in an oidre,for thou shalt dye, and not liue.

2 Then Hezekiáh b turned his face to the wall,and praied to the Lord,

3 And said,I beseche thee,Lord, remember now howI haue walked before thee in trueth, & with a perfite heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: & Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶Then came the worde of the Lord to Isaiáh,saying,

5 Go,& say vnto Hezekiáh,Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy praier,& sene thy teares:beholde,I wil adde vnto thy daies fiftene yeres.

6 And I wil deliuer thee c out of the hand of the King of Asshúr, and this citie:for I wil defend this citie.

7 And d this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that ÿ Lord wil do this thing,that he hathe spoken,

8 Beholde,I wil bring againe ÿ shadowe of the degrees (whereby it is gone downe in ÿ dial of Ahaz by the e sunne) ten degrees backeward: so the sūne returned by tē degrees,by the w̄ degrees it was gone downe.

9 f The writing of Hezekiáh King of Iudah,when he had bene sicke,and was recouered of his sickenes.

10 I said in ÿ g cutting of of my daies,I shal go to ÿ gates of the graue :I am depriued of the residue of my yeres.

11 I said, h I shal not se the Lord, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shal se man no more amōg the inhabitants of the worlde.

12 Mine habitacion is departed, and is remoued from me, like a shepherds tent: I i haue cut of like a weauer my life: he wil cut me of from the height: from day k to night,thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I reckened l to the morning: but he brake

P Declaring hereby that they that are enemies to Gods Church, fight against him, whose quarel his Church onely maintemeth

q He boasteth of his policie, in that that he can finde meanes to nourish his armie and of his power, in that that his armie is so great,that it is able to drye vp whole riuers, and to destroy the waters, w̄ the fewes had closed in r Signifying ÿ God made not his Church to destroy it, but to preserue it, &therefore he saieth that he formed it of olde,euē in his eternal counsel, which cā not be chāged

"Ebr.are short in hand

s He sheweth that the state and power of moste florishig cities cōtinueth but a moment in respect of the Church,w̄ shal remaine for euer, because God is ÿ maintener therof

t Meaning,his counsels & enterprises

u Because Sancherib shewed him self, as a deuouring fish & furious beast, he vseth these similitudes, to teache how he wil take him and guide him

x Thou shalt loose thy labour

y God giueth signes after two sortes:some go before the thing,as ÿ signes ÿ Moses wroght in Egypt, which were for the confirmacion of their faith: and some go after ÿ thing, as ÿ sacrifice, w̄ they were commāded to make thre daies after their departure:& these later are to kepe the benefits of God in our remembrance,of the which sorte this here is.

z He promiseth that for two yeres the grounde of it self shulde fede them a They whome God had deliuered out of the hands of the Assyrians, shal prosper.and this properly belongeth to the Church

b For my promes sake made to Dauid

c Which was the chiefest citie of the Assyrians

Or Armenia.

d Who was also called Sardanapalus in whose dayes ten yeres after Sancheribs death,the Chaldeans ouercame ÿ Assyrians by Merodach their king

Chap XXXVIII

2 King 20,1. 2 chro 32,24.

a Sone after that the Assyrians were slayne so that God wil haue the exercise of his childrē continual,that they may learne only to depend vpō God & aspire to ÿ heauens

b For his heart was touched w̄ feare of Gods iudgement, seing he had appointed him to dye,so quickely after his deliuerance frō so great calamitie, as one vnworthie to remaine in ÿ estate, & also foreseing the great change, ÿ shulde come in the Church, forasmuche as he left no sonne to reigne after him for as yet Manasseh was not borne & when he reigned,we se what a tyrant he was

c He doeth not onely promise to prolong his life, but to giue him rest & quietnes from the Assyrians, who might haue renned their armie to reuenge their former discomfiture.

d For Hezekiáh had asked for ÿ confirmacio of his faith a signe,as vers 22 and 2. King 20,8 wh reunto he was moued by ÿ singular motion of Gods Spirit

e Read 2 King 20,10

f He ieft this song of his lamentacion & thankesgiuing to all posterite, as a monument of his owne infirmite & thākeful heart for Gods benefites,as Dauid did,Psal 51

g At what time it was tolde me,that I shulde dye

h I shal no more praise the Lord here in his Temple among the faithful thus God suffreth his deareft children to want his consolacion for a time. ÿ his grace afterward may the more appeare whē they seleth ir owne weakenes

i By my sinne I haue prouoked God to take my life from me

k That is,in one day,or shortly

l Ouer night I thoght ÿ I shulde liue til morning,but my pangs in the night perswaded me the contrarie he sheweth the horrour, that the faithful haue when they apprehend Gods iudgement against their sinne.

a.King.19,35.2.chro.32,21.tob.1,21.eccles.48,24.1.mac.7,41.2.mac.8,19.

all my bones, like a lion: from daie to night wilt thou make an end of me.

m I was ſo oppreſt with ſorowe, that I was not able to vtter my wordes, but onely to grone & ſigh

14 Like a crane or a ſwalow, ſo did I [m] chatter: I did mourne as a doue. mine eies were lift vp on hie. ô Lord, [n] it hathe oppreſſed me, comfort me.

n To wit, ſorrow, and grief bothe of bodie and minde

15 What ſhal I ſaie? o for he hathe ſaid it to me, and he hathe done it: I ſhal walke [p] weakely all my yeres in the bitternes of my ſoule.

o God hathe declared by his Prophet ſ I ſhal dye, and therefor I will yelde vnto him

16 O Lord, [q] to them that ouerliue them, & to all that are in them, the life of my ſpirit ſhalbe knowen, that thou cauſedſt me to [r] ſtepe and haſt giuen life to me.

p I ſhal haue no releaſe, but continual ſorowes while I liue

17 Beholde, for [s] felicitie I had bitter grief, but it was thy pleaſure to deliuer my ſoule from the pit of corruption: for thou haſt caſt all my [t] ſinnes behinde thy backe.

q They that ſhal ouerliue the men that are now alive, and all they ſ are in theſe yeres ſhal acknowledge this benefite 18 For [u] the graue cã not cõfeſſe thee: death can not praiſe thee: thei that go downe into the pit, can not hope for thy trueth.

r That after that thou hadeſt condemned me to death, thou reſtoredſt me to life

19 But the liuing, the liuing, he ſhal confeſſe thee, as I do this day: the father to the [x] children ſhal declare thy trueth.

s Where as I thoght to haue liued in reſt and eaſe, being deliuered from mine enemies, I had griet vpon grief 20 The Lord was ready to ſaue me: therefore we wil ſing my ſong, all the dayes of our life in the Houſe of the Lord.

t He eſteemeth more the remiſſion of his ſinnes, & Gods fauour then a thouſand liues

21 Thẽ ſaid Iſaiáh, Take a lumpe of drye figges and [z] laie it vpon the boile, and he ſhal recouer.

u For aſmuche as God hathe placed man in this worlde to glorifie him, the godlie take it as a ſigne of his wrath when their dayes were ſhortened, either becauſe that they iudged vnworthie for their ſinnes to liue longer in his ſeruice, or for their zeale to Gods glorie, ſeing that there is ſo fewe in earth, that do regarde it as Pſal 6,5 and 115,17

22 Alſo Hezekiáh [a] had ſaid, What is the ſigne, that I ſhal go vp into the Houſe of the Lord?

x All poſteritie ſhal acknowledge, and accordíng to their ouetie toward their children ſhal inſtruct them in thy graces, & mercies toward me

y He ſheweth what is the vſe of the Congregation and Church to wit, to giue the Lord thankes for his benefites z Read 2. King 20,7.

a As verſ 7

CHAP. XXXIX.

Hezekiáh u reproued, becauſe he ſhewed his treaſures vnto the ambaſſadours of Babylon.

2.King.20,12.

1 AT * the ſame time, [a] Merodách Baladán, the ſonne of Baladán, King of Babél, ſent [b] letters, & a preſent to Hezekiáh: for he had heard that he had bene ſicke, and was recouered.

a This was ſ firſt King of Babylõ which ouercame the Aſſyrians in ſ tenth yere of his reigne.

b Partely moued with ſ greatnes of ſ miracle, partely becauſe he ſhewed him ſelf enemie to his enemies, but chiefly, becauſe he wolde ioine with thẽ whome God fauoured, and haue their helpe, if occaſion ſerued

2 And Hezekiáh was [c] glad of them, and ſhewed them the houſe of the treaſures, the ſiluer, and the golde, and the ſpices, & the precious ointement, and all the houſe of his armour, and all that was found in his treaſures: there was nothing in his houſe, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiáh ſhewed them not.

c Read 2 King 20,13, & 2.chr. 32,25.

3 Thẽ came Iſaiáh the Prophet vnto King Hezekiáh, and ſaid vnto him, What ſaid theſe men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiáh ſaid, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babél.

4 Thẽ ſaid he, What haue [d] they ſene in thine houſe? And Hezekiáh anſwered, All that is in mine houſe haue they ſene: there is nothing among my treaſures, that I haue not ſhewed them.

d He aſketh him of the particulers to make him vnderſtand the craft of the wicked, which he before being ouercome with their flatterie, and blinded with ambition colde not ſe.

5 And Iſaiáh ſaid to Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Lord of hoſtes,

6 Beholde, the dayes come that all that is in thine houſe, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in ſtore vntil this day, ſhalbe [e] caryed to Babél. nothing ſhalbe left, ſaith the Lord.

e By the grieuouſnes of the puniſhment is declared how greatly God deteſteth ambition & vaine glorie

7 And of thy ſonnes, that ſhal procede out of thee, & which thou ſhalt beget, ſhal they take away, and they ſhalbe [f] eunuches in the palace of the King of Babél.

f That is, officers and ſeruants

8 [g] Then ſaid Hezekiáh to Iſaiah, The worde of the Lord is good, which thou haſt ſpoken: and he ſaid, Yet let there be peace, and trueth in my dayes.

g Read 2. King 20,19.

CHAP. XL.

2 Remiſſion of ſinnes by Chriſt 3 The comming of Iohn Baptiſt 18 The Prophet reproueth the idolaters and them that truſt not in the Lord.

a This is a cõſolacion for the Church, aſſuring them that thei ſhalbe neuer deſtitute of Prophetes, whereby he exhorteth the true miniſters of God that thẽ were, & thoſe alſo that ſhulde come after him, to comfort the poore afflicted, and to aſſure them of their deliuerãce bothe of body and ſoule

1 [a] COmfort ye, comfort ye my people, wil your God ſay.

b The time of her affliction

2 Speake comfortably to Ieruſalém, & crye vnto her, that hei [b] warrefare is accompliſhed, that her iniquitie is pardoned: for ſhe hathe receiued of the Lords hand [c] double for all her ſinnes.

c Meaning, ſufficiẽt, as chap. 61,7 & ful correction, or double grace, where as ſhe deſerued double puniſhment

3 A [d] voyce cryeth in the [e] wildernes, [f] Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make ſtreight in the deſert a path for our God.

d To wit, of ſ Propheres

e That is, in Babylon, and other places where they were kept in captiuitie, and miſerie

4 Euerie valleie ſhalbe exalted, and euerie [g] mountaine and hill ſhalbe made lowe: & the croked ſhalbe ſtreight, and the rough places plaine.

f Meaning, Cyrus and Darius which ſhulde deliuer Gods people out of captiuitie, and make them a ready way to Ieruſalem & this was fully 5 And ſ glorie of the Lord ſhalbe reueiled, and all [h] fleſh ſhal ſe it together: for the mouth of the Lord hathe ſpoken it.

g What ſoeuer may let or hinder this deliuerance, ſhalbe remoued

h This miracle ſhalbe ſo great, that it ſhalbe knowen through all the worlde

6 A [i] voyce ſaid, Crye. And he ſaid, What ſhal I crye? All fleſh is graſſe, and all the [k] grace thereof is as ſ floure of the field.

i The voyce of God, which ſpake to the Prophete Iſaiáh

k Meaning, all mans wiſdome and natural powers, Iohn 1,10 1 pet 1,24

7 The graſſe withereth, the floure fadeth, becauſe the [l] Spirit of the Lord bloweth vpon it: ſurely the people is graſſe.

l The Spirit of God ſhal diſcouer the vanitie in all that ſeme to haue anie excellencie of them ſelues.

8 The graſſe withereth, ſ floure fadeth: but thẽ worde of our God ſhal ſtãd for euer.

9 ¶ O Zión, that bringeſt good tidigs, get thee vp into the hie [n] mountaine: ô Ieruſalém, that bringeſt good tidings, lift vp thy voyce with ſtrength. lift it vp, be not afraide: ſay vnto the cities of Iudáh, Beholde [o] your God.

m Thogh cõſidering ſ fruitie of mans nature manie of ſ Iewes ſhulde periſh & ſo not be partakers of this deliuerance, yet Gods promiſe ſhalde be fulfilled, & they that remained, ſhulde fele ſ fruite thereof

n To publiſh this benefite through all the worlde

o He ſheweth at one worde the perfection of all mans felicitie, which is to haue Gods preſence

10 Beholde, the Lord God wil come with accõpliſhed, whẽ Iohn ſ Baptiſt broght tidings of Ieſus Chriſts cõming, who was the true deliuerer of his Church frõ ſinne and Satán, Mat 3,3 p His power ſhalbe ſufficient without helpe of anie other, and ſhal haue all meanes in him ſelf to bring his wil to paſſe.

power, and p his arme ſhal rule for him: beholde, his wages is with him, & his worke before him.

11 He ſhal fede his flocke like a ſhepherd: he ſhal gather the lambes with his arme, & carie them in his boſome, and ſhal guide them with q yong.

q He ſhal ſhewe his care & fauour ouer them that are weake, and tender 12 Who hathe meaſured the waters in his r fiſt, and counted heauen with the ſpanne, and comprehended the duſt of the earth in a meaſure, and weighed the mountaines in a weight, and the hilles in a balance?

r Declaring ỹ as God onely hathe all power ſo doeth he vſe ỹ ſame for ỹ defence, and maintenace of his Church

13 Who hathe inſtructed the Spirit of the Lord, or was ſ his coũſelour or taught him?

ſ He ſheweth Gods infinite wiſdome for ỹ ſame end and purpoſe

14 Of whome toke he counſel, and who inſtructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement, or taught him knowledge, & ſhewed vnto him ỹ way of vnderſtãding?

15 Beholde, the nations are as a droppe of a bucket, and are counted as the duſt of the balãce: beholde, he taketh away the yles as a litle duſt.

16 And Lebanón is not ſufficient for fyre, nor the beaſtes thereof ſufficient for a burnt offring.

t He ſpeaketh all this to the intent ỹ they ſhulde nether feare man nor put their truſt in anie, ſaue onely in God

17 All nations before him are as t nothing, and they are counted to him, leſſe then nothing, and vanitie.

18 To whome then u wil ye liken God, or what ſimilitude wil ye ſet vp vnto him?

u Hereby he armeth them againſt ỹ idolatrie, wherewith they ſhulde be tempted in Babylon

19 The workeman melteth an image, or the goldeſmith beateth it out in golde, or ỹ goldeſmith maketh ſiluer plates.

x He ſheweth the rage of the idolaters ſeing that the poore that haue not to ſuffiſe their owne neceſsities, wil defraude them ſelues to ſerue their idoles 20 Doeth not x the poore chuſe out a tre that wil not rote, for an oblation, he ſeketh alſo vnto him a cunning workeman, to prepare an image, that ſhal not be moued.

y Haue ye not the worde of God, ẅ plainely condẽneth idolatrie?

21 Knowe ye nothīg, haue ye not heard y it, hathe it not bene tolde you from the beginning, haue ye not vnderſtãd it by the z fundacion of the earth?

z Cã you not learne by ỹ viſible creatures whome God hathe made to ſerue your vſe, that you ſhuld not ſerue them nor worſhip them?

22 He ſitteth vpon the circle of the earth, & the inhabitãts thereof are as graſhoppers, he ſtretcheth out the heauẽs, as a curtaine, & ſpreadeth thẽ out, as a tent to dwell in.

a So that his power appeareth in euerie place whereſoeuer we turne our eyes

23 He bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth, as vanitie, b Who hathe ſet in order ỹ infinit nomber of the ſtarres

24 As thogh they were not plãted, as thogh they were not ſowen, as thogh their ſtocke toke no roote in the earth: for he did euẽ a blow vpon them, and they withered, and the whirle winde wil take them away as ſtubble.

c He rebuketh the Iewes, becauſe they did not reſt on the prouidence of God, but thoght ỹ he had forſaken them in their troubles.

25 To whome now wil ye liken me, that I ſhulde be like him, ſaith the holie one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on hie, and beholde, who hathe created theſe things, and bringeth b out their armies by nomber, and calleth them all by names, by the greatnes of his power and mightie ſtrength nothing faileth.

27 Why ſaieſt thou, ô Iaakób, and ſpeakeſt ô Iſraél, c My waye is hid from the Lord, and my iudgement is paſſed ouer of my God.

28 Knoweſt thou not, or haſt thou not heard, that the euerlaſting God, the Lord hathe created the d ends of the earth, he nether fainteth, nor is weary there is no ſearching of his e vnderſtanding.

d And therefore all power is in his hãd to deliuer when his time cometh

29 But he giueth ſtrẽgth vnto him that fainteth, & vnto him that hathe no ſtrength, he encreaſeth power.

e Shewing ỹ man muſte patiently abide, & not curiouſly ſeke out the cauſe of Gods delay in our afflictions

30 f Euen the yong men ſhal faint, and be wearie, and the yong men ſhal ſtumble and fall.

f They ỹ truſt in their owne vertue, and do not acknowledge that all cometh of God.

31 But they that waite vpon the Lord, ſhal renue their ſtrength: they ſhal lift vp the wings as the egles: they ſhal runne, & not be wearie, & they ſhal walke and not faint.

CHAP. XLI.

2 Gods mercie in chuſing his people 6 Their idolatrie. 27 Deliuerance promiſed to Zion

1 KEpe a ſilence before me, ô ylands, & let the people b renue their ſtrength: let them come nere, and let them ſpeake: let vs come together into iudgement.

a God, asthogh he pleaded his cauſe ẅ all nacions, requireth ſilence that he may be heard in his right

b That is, gather all their power & ſupportes

2 Who raiſed vp c iuſtice from the Eaſt, & called him to his fote, and gaue the nacions before him, and ſubdued the Kings, he gaue them as duſt to his ſworde, & as ſcatred ſtubble vnto his bowe.

c Who called Abrahám (who was the paterne of Gods iuſtice in deliuering his Churche) from the idolatrie of ỹ Chaldeans to go to and fro at his cõmandement, & placed him in the land of Canaan?

3 He purſued them, and paſſed ſafely by the way that he had not gone with his fete.

4 Who hathe wroght and done it, he that calleth the d generations from the beginning. I the Lord am the e firſt, and with the laſt I am the ſame.

d Who hathe created man & maintened his ſucceſsion

e Thogh the worlde ſet vp neuer ſo manie gods, yet they diminiſh nothing of my glorie. for I am all one, vnchãgeable, ẅ haue euer bene, and ſhalbe for euer

5 The yles ſawe it, & did f feare, & the ends of the earth were abaſhed, drewe nere, and g came.

f Conſidering mine excellent workes among my people

g They aſſembled them ſelues, and conſpired againſt me, to maintein their idolatrie.

6 Euerie man helped his neighbour and ſaid to his brother, h Be ſtrong.

h He noteth ỹ obſtinacie of ỹ idolaters to maiteine their ſuperſtitions.

7 So the workeman comforted the founder & he that ſmote ẅ the hammer, him that ſmote by courſe, ſayīg, It is ready for the ſodering, & he faſtened it with nailes that it ſhulde not be moued.

8 ¶ But thou, Iſraél, art my i ſeruant, & thou Iaakób, whome I haue choſen, the ſede of Abrahám my friend.

i And therefore oghteſt not to pollute thy ſelf with the ſuperſticiõ of the Gẽtiles.

9 For I haue taken thee from the ends of the earth, and called thee before the chief thereof, and ſaid vnto thee, Thou art my ſeruant: I haue choſen thee, and not caſt thee away.

k That is, by the force of my promes in ỹ performãce whereof I wil

10 Feare thou not, for I am with thee: be not afraid, for I am thy God: I wil ſtrengthen thee, and helpe thee, and wil ſuſteine thee with the k right hand of my iuſtice.

11 Beholde, all they ỹ prouoke thee, ſhalbe aſhamed, and confounded: they ſhalbe as nothing, & they that ſtriue with thee, ſhal periſh.

12 Thou ſhalt ſeke thẽ and ſhalt not l finde them:

ſhewe my ſelf faithful and iuſte. l Becauſe they ſhalbe deſtroyed.

them: to wit, the men of thy ſtriſe, for they ſhalbe as nothing, and the men that warre againſt thee, as a thing of naught.

13 For I the Lord thy God wil holde thy right hand, ſaying vnto thee, Feare not, I wil helpe thee.

14 Feare not, thou [m] worme, Iaakób, & ye men of Iſraél: I wil helpe thee, ſaith the Lord & thy redemer [y] holie one of Iſraél.

15 Beholde, I wil make thee a roller, and a newe threſhing inſtrument hauing tethe: thou ſhalt threſh the [n] mountaines, and bring them to poudre, and ſhalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou ſhalt fanne them, & the winde ſhal carye them away, & the whirlwinde ſhal ſcater them: and thou ſhalt reioyce in the Lord, & ſhalt glorie in the holy one of Iſraél.

17 When [o] the poore and the nedie ſeke water, and there is none (their tongue faileth for thirſt: I the Lord wil heare them: I the God of Iſraél wil not forſake them)

18 I wil open riuers in the toppes of the hilles, and fountaines in the middes of the valleis: I wil make the wilderneſs as a poole of water, & the waſte plād as ſprings of water.

19 I wil ſet in the wildernes the cedre, the ſhittah tre, & the myrre tre & the pine tre, & I wil ſet in the wildernes the fyrre tre, the elme and the boxe tree together.

20 Therefore let them ſe and knowe, and let them conſider and vnderſtand together that the hand of the Lord hathe done this, and the holie one of Iſraél [q] hathe created it.

21 [r] Stand to your cauſe, ſaith the Lord: bring forthe your ſtrong reaſons, ſaith the King of Iaakób.

22 Let thē bring thē forthe, & let thē tel vs what ſhal come: let them ſhewe the former things what thei be, that we maie conſider them, and knowe the later end of them: ether declare vs things for to come.

23 Shewe the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, do good or do euil, that we may declare it, and beholde it together.

24 Beholde, ye are of no value, & your making is of naught: man hathe [s] choſen an abomination by them.

25 ¶ I haue raiſed vp [t] from the North, and he ſhal come: from the Eaſt ſunne ſhal [u] he call vpon my Name, and ſhal come vpon [x] princes as vpon claye, and as the potter treadeth myre vnder the fote.

26 Who hathe declared frō the beginning, that we may knowe [z] or before time, that we may ſay, He is righteous? Surely there is none that ſheweth: ſurely there is none [y] declareth: ſurely there is none that heareth [y] your wordes.

27 I am the firſt, that ſaith to Zión, Beholde, beholde [z] them: and I wil giue to Ieruſalém [a] one that ſhal bring good tidings.

28 But when [b] I behelde, there was none, & when I enquired of them, there was no counſelour, & whē I demanded of them, thei anſwered not a worde.

29 Beholde, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde & confuſion.

---

m Thus he calleth thē becauſe they were conteined of all the worlde, & that they conſidering their owne poore eſtate, ſhulde ſeke vnto him for helpe

n I wil make thee able to deſtroye all thine enemies, be thy neuer ſo mightie: and this chiefly is referred to ỹ kingdome of Chriſt

o That is, thei that ſhalbe afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon

p God wil rather change ỹ order of nature, then they ſhulde want anie thing that cry to him by true faith in their miſeries: declaring to them hereby ỹ they ſhal lacke nothing by the way, whē they returne from Babylon

q That is, hathe appointed, & determined ỹ it ſhal come ſo to paſſe

r He biddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring forthe their idoles, ỹ they may be tryed whether thei knowe all things, and cā do all thīgs ẅ if they can not do, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles

s So that a mā can nor make an idole, but he muſt do that, which God deteſteth, and abhorreth for he chuſeth his ōwne deuiſes, and forſaketh the Lords

t Meaning, the Chaldeans

u That is, Cyrus, who ſhal do all thing in my Name, & by my direction whereby he meaneth that both their captiuitie, and deliuerance ſhal be ordered by Gods prouidēce and appointement.

x Bothe of the Chaldeans and others.

y Meaning, ỹ none of the gētiles gods can worke anie of theſe things z That is, ỹ Iſraelites, which returne from ỹ captiuitie.

a To wit, a continual ſucceſſion of Prophetes & miniſters

b Whē I loked whether ỹ idoles colde do theſe things, I foūde that they had nether wiſdome nor power to do anie thing. therefore he concludeth that all are wicked, that truſt in ſuche vanitie

---

CHAP. XLII.

1 The obedience and humilitie of Chriſt. 6 Why he was ſent into the worlde. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

1 BEholde, [a] my ſeruant: [b] I wil ſtay vpon him: mine elect, in whome my ſoule [c] deliteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: he ſhal bring forthe [d] iudgement to the Gentiles.

2 He ſhal not [e] crye, nor lift vp, nor cauſe his voyce to be heard in the ſtrete.

3 A [f] bruiſed rede ſhal he not breake, and the ſmoking [g] flax ſhal he not quenche: he ſhal bring forthe iudgement in [h] trueth.

4 He ſhal not faile nor be diſcouraged til he haue [i] ſet iudgement in the earth: and the [k] yles ſhal wait for his law.

5 Thus ſaith God the Lord (he that created the heauens and ſpred them abrode: he that ſtretched forthe the earth, and the buddes thereof: he that giueth breth vnto the people vpon it, and ſpirit to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lord haue called thee in [l] righteouſnes, and wil holde [m] thine hand, and I wil kepe thee, and giue thee for a [n] couenant of the people, & for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou maieſt open the eies of the blinde, & brīg out the priſoners from the priſon: and them that ſit in darkenes, out of the priſon houſe.

8 I am the Lord, this is my Name, and my [o] glorie wil I not giue to another, nether my praiſe to grauen images.

9 Beholde, the former things are [p] come to paſſe, and newe things do I declare: before they come forthe, I tel you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a newe ſong, & his praiſe from the end of the earth: ye that go downe to the ſea, and all that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wildernes and the cities thereof lift vp their voice, the townes that [q] Kedár

---

a That is, Chriſt, who in reſpect of his māhode is called here ſeruant The Prophetes vſe to make mencion of Chriſt after that thei haue declared anie great promes, becauſe he is the fundacion whereupon all the promiſes are made & ratified

b For I haue committed all my power to him, as to a moſte faithful ſteward Some read, I wil eſtabliſh him: to wit, in his office, by giuing him the fulnes of my Spirit.

c He onely is acceptable vnto me & they that come vnto me by him. for there is no nother meanes of reconciliatiō, Mat 12, 18. eph. 1. 4 d He ſhal declare him ſelf gouernour ouer the Gentils, & call them by his worde and rule them by his Spirit

e His cōming ſhal not be with pompe and noiſe, as earthlie princes

f He wil not hurt the weake and feble, but ſupport & comfort them

g Meaning the weke of a lampe, or candel which is almoſt out, but he wil cheriſh it and ſnoffe it, that it may ſhine brighter.

h Although he fauour the weake yet wil he not ſpare the wicked, but wil rudge them according to trueth and equitie

i Til he haue ſet all things in good order

k The Gentiles ſhalbe deſirous to receiue his doctrine

l Meaning, vnto a lawful and iuſt vocation.

m To aſsiſt and guide thee

n As him, by whome the promiſe, made to all nations in Abrahám, ſhal be fulfilled

o I wil not ſuffer my glorie to be diminiſhed which I ſhuld do, if I were not faithful in performing the ſame, and the idolaters thereby wolde extol their idoles aboue me p As in time paſt I haue bene true in my promiſes, ſo wil I be in time to come q Meaning the Arabians, vnder whome he comprehendeth all the people of the Eaſt doeth inhabite: let the inhabitants of the rockes ſing: let them ſhoute from the top of the mountaines.

12 Let them giue glorie vnto the Lord, & declare his praiſe in the ylandes.

r He ſheweth the zeal of ỹ Lord, and his power in the conſeruatiõ of his Church

13 The Lord ſhal go forthe as a [r] gyant: he ſhal ſtirre vp his courage like a mã of warre: he ſhal ſhoute and crye, & ſhal preuaile againſt his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene ſtil & refrained my ſelf: now wil I crye like a [s] trauailing woman: I wil deſtroye and deuoure at once.

s I wil haſte to execute my vengeance, wch I haue ſo long differred, as a woman that deſireth to be deliuered whẽ ſhe is in trauail

15 I wil make waſte mountaines, and hilles, and drye vp all their herbes, and I wil make the ſloods ylandes, and I wil drye vp the pooles.

t That is, my poore people, which are in perplexitie & care.

16 ¶And I wil bring the [t] blinde by a way, that they knew not, & leade them by paths that they haue not knowen: I wil make darkenes light before them, and croked things ſtreight. Theſe things wil I do vnto them, and not forſake them.

u To wit, Iſraél, wch ſhulde haue moſte light becauſe of my Law

17 They ſhalbe turned backe: they ſhalbe greatly aſhamed, that truſt in graué images, and ſay to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

x The Prieſt to whome my worde is cõmitted, which ſhulde not onely heare it him ſelf, but cauſe others to heare it 18 ¶Heare, ye deafe: and ye blinde, regarde, that ye may ſe.

y As ỹ Prieſts & Prophetes that ſhulde be lights to others

19 Who is blinde but my [u] ſeruant? or deafe as my [x] meſſenger, that I ſent? who is blinde as the [y] perfite, and blinde as the Lords ſeruant?

z Becauſe thei wil not acknowledge this benefite of the Lord, who is ready to deliuer them, he ſuffreth them to be ſpoiled of their enemies through their owne faute and incredulitie

20 Seẽ manie things, but thou kepeſt them not? opening the eares, but he heareth not?

21 The Lord is willing for his righteouſnes ſake that he may magnifie the Law, & exalt it.

a There ſhalbe none to ſuccour them, or to wil the enemie to reſtore that, wch he hathe ſpoiled.

22 But this people is [z] robbed and ſpoiled, and ſhalbe all ſnared in dongeons, & they ſhalbe hid in priſon houſes: thei ſhalbe for a pray, and none ſhal deliuer: a ſpoile, and none ſhal ſay, [a] Reſtore.

b Meaning. Gods wrath.

23 Who amõg you ſhal hearken to [b] this, & take hede, and heare for afterwardes?

24 Who gaue Iaakób for a ſpoile, and Iſraél to the robbers? Did not the Lord, becauſe we haue ſinned againſt him? for they wolde not walke in his wayes, nether be obedient vnto his Law.

25 Therefore he hathe powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the ſtrength of battel: and it ſet him on fyre round about, and he knewe not, and it burned him vp, yet he cõſidered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promiſeth deliuerance to the Iewes. 11 There is no God but one alone.

a After theſe threatnings he promiſeth deliuerance to them & called his Church, becauſe he hathe regenerate them, adopted them.

BVt now thus ſaith the Lord, [a] that created thee, ô Iaakób: and he that formed thee, ô Iſraél, b Feare not: for I haue redemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

b When thou ſeeſt dangers and conſpiracies on all ſides, remember this benefite and the loue of thy God, and it ſhal encourage thee

2 When thou paſſeſt through the [c] waters, I wil be with thee, & through the floods, that thei do not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkeſt through the verie fyre, thou ſhalt not be burnt, nether ſhal the flame kindle vpon thee.

c By water & fyre, he meaneth all kinde of troubles and perils

3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Iſraél, thy Sauiour. I gaue [d] Egypt for thy ranſome, Ethiopia, and Sebá for thee.

d I turned Sanecheribs power againſt theſe countreies and made thẽ to ſuffer that afflictiõ wch thou ſhuldeſt haue done, and ſo were as the payment of thy ranſome, Cha. 37.9.

4 Becauſe thou waſt precious in my ſight, & thou waſt honorable, and I loued thee, therefore wil I giue [e] man for thee, & people for thy ſake.

e I wil not ſpare anie man rather then thou ſhuldeſt periſh: for God more eſteemeth one of his faithful, then all the wicked in the worlde

5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I wil bring thy ſede from the [f] Eaſt, and gather thee from the Weſt.

f He propheciеth of their deliuerance from the captiuitie of Babylon, and ſo of the calling of the vniuerſal Church, alluding to that which is written Deut 30,3.

6 I wil ſaie to the North, Giue: and to the South, Kepe not backe: bring my ſonnes from farre, and my daughters from the endes of the earth.

7 Euerie one ſhalbe called by my [g] Name: for I created him for my glorie, formed him and made him.

g Meaning, that he colde not be vnmindful of them, except he wolde neglect & his owne Name & glorie

8 I wil bring forthe the blinde people, and thei ſhal haue eyes, and the deafe, & they ſhal haue eares.

h Signifying, that no power can reſiſt him in doing this miraculous worke, nor all their idoles are able to do the like, as Chap 41,22

9 Let all the nacions be gathered [h] together, and let the people be aſſembled: who among them can declare this and ſhewe vs former things? let them bring forthe their [i] witneſſes, ỹ thei maie be iuſtified: but let them [k] heare, and ſaie, It is trueth.

i To proue that the thinges, wh'ch are ſpoken of them, are true

10 You [l] are my witneſſes, ſaith the Lord, and my [m] ſeruant, whome I haue choſen: therefore ye ſhal knowe and beleue me & ye ſhal vnderſtand that I am: before me there was no God formed, nether ſhal there be after me.

k Shewing, that the malice of the wicked hindereth them, in the knowledge of the trueth becauſe thei wil not heare when God ſpeaketh by his worde 11 I, euen I, am the Lord, & beſide me there is no Sauiour.

l The Prophetes and people to whome I haue giuen my Law

12 I haue declared, and I haue ſaued, and I haue ſhewed, when there was no ſtrange god among you: therefore you are my witneſſes, ſaith the Lord, that I am God.

m Meaning, ſpecially Chriſt and by him, all ỹ faith ful

13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine hãd: I wil do it, and who ſhal let it?

14 Thus ſaith the Lord your redemer, the holy one of Iſraél, For your ſake I haue ſent to Babél, and [n] brought it downe: they are all fugitiues and the Chaldeans crye in [o] the ſhippes.

n By Darius and Cyrus

15 I am the Lord your holy one, the creator of Iſraél, your King.

o Thei ſhal crye when thei wolde eſcape by water, ſeing ỹ the courſe of Euphrates is turned another way by ỹ enemie.

16 Thus saith the Lord which maketh a way in p the Sea, and a path in the mightie q waters.

17 When he r bringeth out the s charet, & horse, the armie & the power he together, & shal not rise. they are extinct, and quenched as towe.

18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regarde the things of olde.

19 Beholde, I do a newe thing, nowe shal it come forth: shal you not knowe it? I wil euē make awaie in the t desert & floods in the wilderines.

20 The wilde u beasts shal honour me, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert & floods in the wilderines to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.

21 This people haue I formed for my self: they shal shewe forth the my praise.

22 And thou hast not x called vpō me, ô Iaakób, but thou hast y wearied me, ô Israél.

23 Thou z hast not brought me the shepe of thy burntoffrings, neither hast thou honored me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue with an offring, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou boghtest me no swete a sauour w̄ monie, neither hast thou made me drunke with the fatte of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made me b to serue with thy sinnes, & wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, euen I, am he that putteth awaie thine iniquities for mine owne sake, & wil not remember thy sinnes.

26 Put me in remembrance: let vs be iudged togither: count thou that thou maiest be iustified.

27 Thy d first father hathe sinned, and thy e teachers haue transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I haue f prophaned the rulers of the Sanctuarie, and haue made Iaakób a curse, and Israél a reproche.

p When he deliuered Israel from Pharaóh, Exod 14,22
q When the Israelites passed through Iordán, Iosh 3,17
r Whē he delt uered his people out of Egypt
s Pharaóh & his mightie armie
t Meaning, that their deliuerāce out of Babylón should be more famous then that from Egypt w s, Iet 23,7 hag 2,10 2 cor 5, 17 reuel 21,5 u Then shal I a ne sucie abundance of all things as their returne home, euen in ỹ dryest and baren places, that the verie beasts shal fele my benefites, & shal acknowledg thē muche more mē ogh to be thankeful for the same x Thou hast not worshipped me as ỹ eghtest to haue done
y Because thou hast not willingly receiued that which I did comman de thee, thou dideſt grieue me Whereby he sheweth that his mercies were the onelie cause of their deliuerāce, forasmuch as they had de serued the cōtrary.
z Meaning, in true faith & obedience.
a Either for ỹ con position of the swete ointement, Exod, 30, 34, or for the swete incense, Exod, 30, 7 b Thou hast made me to be ire in heauie burden by thy sinnes.
c If I forget anie thing that may make for thy iustification, put me in remembrance & speake for thy self d Thine ancestres
e Thy Priests & thy Prophets.
f That is, reiected, abhorred and destroied them in the wildernes, and at other times.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 The Lord promiseth comfort and that he wil assemble his Church of diuers nations 9 The Vanitie of idoles. 17 The beastlines of idolaters.

1 YEt now heare, ô Iaakób my seruant, and Israél, whome I haue chosen.

2 Thus saith the Lord, that made thee, and formed a thee from the wōbe: he wil helpe thee. Feare not, ô Iaakób, my seruant, and thou righteous, b whome I haue chosen.

3 For I wil powre water vpon c the thirstie, & floods vpon the drie ground: I wil powre my Spirit vpon thy sede, and my blessing vpon thy buddes,

4 And they d shal growe as among the grasse, & as the willowes by the riuer of waters.

5 One shal say, I am ỹ Lords: another e shal be called by the name of Iaakób: & another shal subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name him self by the name of Israél.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israél & his redemer, the Lord of hostes, f I am ỹ first, and I am the last, and without me is there no God.

7 And who is like me, that shal g call, and shal declare it, and set h it in order before me, since I appointed the i ancient people? and what is at hand, and what things are to come? let k them shewe vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afraied: haue not I tolde thee of olde, and haue declared it? ye are euen my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I knowe not

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and m their delectable things shal nothing profite: & they are their owne witnesses, n that they see not nor knowe: therefore they shalbe confounded.

10 Who hathe made o a god, or molten an image, that is p profitable for nothing?

11 Beholde, all that are of the q felowship thereof, shalbe cōfounded: for the workemen them selues are men: let them all be gathered togither, and r stand vp, yet they shal feare, and be confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, & worketh in the coles, and facioneth it with hammers, & worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an s hungred, & his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, & is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line · he facioneth it with a red thread, he planeth it, and he purtreieth it with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man, & according to the beautie of a man that it maie remaine in t an house.

14 He wil hewe him downe cedres, and take the pine tre and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: he planteth a fyrre tre, and the raine doeth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for he wil

g He created & chose thee from the begining of his owne mercie, & before ỹ coldest merite anie thing b Whome God accepteth as righteous or which hadest occasion thereunto becau e of the Law, and of thine holy vocation
c Because man of him self is as the dry and baren land, he promiseth to moisten him with the waters of his holy Spirit, Ioel 2,28 Ioh 7,38 act. 2,17.

d That is, thy children and posterite shal increase wonderfully after their deliuerance from Babylon
e By this diuersitie of speches he meaneth one thing that is, that the people shalbe holy & receiue the true religion of God, as psal 87,5 f I am alwaies like my self, that is, merciful to vnthankful Church, and moste able to maintaine it, as chap 41,4, & 48,12 reuel 1,17 & 22 13
g And so, none of them shal deliuer the Church
h That is declare vnto me how I ought to procede heren i God calleth the Israelites ancient, because he preferred them to all other in his eternal election k Meaning, their idoles
l Read Chap. 41 10
m Wharsoeuer they bestowe vpon their idoles to make them glorious n That is, the idolaters seme their idoles blinde, must needes be witnesses of their owne blindenes, and seing that they are not able to helpe them, must confesse that they haue no power
o Meaning, that whatsoeuer is made by the hand of man, if it be esteemed as God, is moste detestable p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the bokes of the lattie, seing that they are not onely he calleth them the re called vnprofitable, but Chap 41,24 abominable and lere worke of errors ier 10,15, Habak 2 lying teacher 2,18
q That is, which by any way consenteth to the making or worshipping, r Signifying, that the multitude shal not then saue the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse them selues thereby among men s He describeth the raging affection of the idolaters, which forget their owne necessities to set forthe their deuocion toward their idoles t To place it in some Temple.

take thereof and u warme hī ſelf. he alſo kindleth it and baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, and worſhipeth it: he maketh it an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 He burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fyre, & vpon the halfe thereof he x eateth fleſh: he rofteth the roſte and is ſatiſfied: alſo he warmeth him ſelf and ſaith, Aha, I am warme, I haue bene at the fyre.

17 And ỹ reſidue thereof he maketh a god, euen his idole: he boweth vnto it and worſhipeth and praieth vnto it, and ſaith, Deliuer me: for thou art my god.

18 Thei haue not knowen, nor vnderſtand: y for God hathe ſhut their eyes that thei can not ſe, and their hearts, that thei cannot vnderſtand.

19 And none " conſidereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor vnderſtandīg to ſaie, I haue burnt halfe of it, euē in the fyre, & haue baked bread alſo vpon ỹ coles thereof: I haue rofted fleſh, and eaten it, & ſhal I make the reſidue thereof an abomination? ſhal I bowe to the ſtocke of a tre.

20 He fedeth z of aſhes: a ſeduced heart hathe deceiued him, that he can not deliuer his ſoule, nor ſay, Is their not a lye in my right hand?

21 a Remembre theſe (ô Iaakób and Iſraél) for ỹ art my ſeruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my ſeruāt: ô Iſraél forget me not.

22 I haue put awaie thy trāſgreſsions like a cloude, and thy ſinnes, as a miſt: turne vnto me, for I haue redemed thee.

23 b Reioyce, ye heauens: for the Lord hathe done it: ſhoute, ye lower partes of ỹ earth: braſt forthe into praiſes, ye mountaines, ô foreſt and euerie tre therein: for ỹ Lord hathe redemed Iaakób and wilbe glorified in Iſraél.

24 Thus ſaith the Lord thy redemer & he that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord, that made all things, that ſpred out the heauens alone, and ſtretched out the earth by my ſelf.

25 I deſtroye the c tokens of the ſoothſaiers and make them that coniecture, fooles, & turne the wiſe men backward, and make their knowledge fooliſhnes.

26 ¶ He confirmeth the worde of his d ſeruant and performeth the counſel of his meſſengers, ſaying to Ieruſalém, Thou ſhalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Iudáh, ye ſhalbe buylt vp, and I wil repaire the decaied places thereof.

27 He ſaith to the e depe, Be drye and I wil drye vp thy floods.

28 He ſaith to f Cyrus, Thou art my ſhepherd: & he ſhal reforme all my deſire, ſayīg alſo to Ieruſalém, Thou ſhalt be buylt: and to the Temple, Thy fundacion ſhalbe ſurely laied.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iuſt in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 THus ſaith the Lord vnto a Cyrus his b anoynted, whoſe right hand I haue holden c to ſubdue nations before him: therefore wil I weakē the loynes of Kīgs and open the dores before him, & the gates ſhal not be ſhut.

2 I wil go before thee & make ỹ d croked ſtreight: I wil breake the braſen dores, & burſt the yron barres.

3 And I wil giue thee ỹ treaſures of darkenes, and the things hid in ſecret places, that thou maiſt e knowe that I am the Lord which call thee by thy name, euen the God of Iſraél.

4 For Iaakób my ſeruants f ſake, and Iſraél mine elect, I wil euē call thee by thy name & name thee, thogh thou haſt not knowen me.

5 I am the Lord and there is none other: there is no God beſides me I girded thee thogh thou haſt not knowen me,

6 That thei maie knowe from the riſing of the ſunne & from the Weſt, that there is none beſides me. I am the Lord, and there is none other.

7 I forme the h light and creat darkenes: I make peace & creat euil: I the Lord do all theſe things.

8 Ye heauens, ſend the dewe from aboue, & let ỹ cloudes drop downe i righteouſnes: let the earth open, and let ſaluacion and iuſtice growe forthe: let it bring them forthe togethe: I the Lord haue k created him.

9 l Wo be vnto him that ſtriueth with his maker, the potſherd w the potſherds of the earth: ſhal the claie ſaie to him that facioneth it, What makeſt ỹ or thy worke, m it hathe none hands?

10 Wo vnto him that ſaith to his father, What haſt thou begotten? or to his mother, What haſt thou broght forthe?

11 Thus ſaith the Lord, the holy one of Iſraél, and his maker, Aſke me n of things to-come concerning my ſonnes, and concerning the workes of mine hands: commande you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whoſe hands haue ſpred out

---

u He ſetteth forth the obſtinacie and malice of the idolaters, & thogh thei ſe by dailie experience ỹ their idoles are no better thē the reſt of ỹ matter whereof thei are made, yet thei refuſe the one parte & make a god of ỹ other, as the papiſts make their cake, god and the reſt of their idoles.

x That is, he ether maketh a table or trenchers

y The Prophet giueth here an anſwer to all them that wonder how it is poſsible that anie ſhulde be ſo blinde to commit ſuch abomination, ſaying, ỹ God hathe blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts

"Ebr turneth.

z He is abuſed as one ỹ wold eat aſhes, thinking to ſatiſfie his hungre

a Shewing ỹ mans heart is moſt enclined to idolatrie, & therefore he warneth his people by theſe exāples, that thei ſhulde not cleaue to anie but to the liuing God whē thei ſhulde be among the idolaters

b He ſheweth that the worke of ỹ Lord toward his people ſhalbe ſo great that ỹ inſenſible creatures ſhalbe moued therewith.

c He armeth them againſt ỹ ſothefayers of Babylon, w wolde haue borne them in hand, that thei knew by ỹ ſtarres that God wolde not deliuer them, and that Babylon ſhulde ſtand.

d Of Iſaiáh & the reſt of his Prophetes, w did aſſure the Church of Gods fauour & deliuerance.

e He ſheweth that Gods worke ſhulde be no leſſe notable in this their deliuerance, then when he broght them out of Egypt through the Sea.

f To aſſure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the perſone, by whome it ſhulde be more then an hundreth yers before he was borne.

g To aſſure ỹ Iewes of their deliuerāce againſt ỹ great tentations that thei ſhulde abide, he nameth ỹ perſone and ỹ meanes

b Becauſe Cyrus ſhulde execute ỹ office of a deliuerer, God called hī his anoynted for a time, but after another ſort thē he called Dauid

c To guide hī in ỹ deliuerance of my people

d I wil take away all impediments and lettes

e Not that Cyrus did knowe God to worſhip him aright, but he had a certeine particular knowledge, as profane men may haue, of his power, & ſo was compelled to deliuer Gods people

f Not for anie thing, that is in thee, or for thy worthines.

g I haue giuen thee ſtrength, power & autoritie

h I ſend peace and warre, proſperitie & aduerſitie, as Amos 3.6

i He comforteth the Iewes as if he wolde ſay, thogh whē ye loke to the heauens and earth for ſuccour, ye ſe nothing now but ſignes of Gods wrath, yet I wil cauſe thē to bring forth moſte certeine tokens of your deliuerance, & of the performance of my promes, which is mēt by righteouſnes

k I haue appointed Cyrus to this vſe & purpoſe

l Hereby he bridleth their impacience, which in aduerſitie & trouble murmure againſt God and wil not tarie his pleaſure willing that man ſhulde matche with his like and not contend againſt God

m That is, it is not perfitely made n In ſtead of murmuring, humble your ſelues and aſke what ye wil for the conſolation of my children, and you ſhalbe ſure of it, as ye are of theſe things which are at your commandement. Some read it with an interrogation, and make it the application of the ſimilitude.

the heauens, I haue euen commanded all their o armie.

o That is, the ſtarres

13 I haue raiſed p him vp in righteouſnes, & I wil direct all his waies: he ſhal buylde my citie, and he ſhal let go my captiues, not q for price nor reward, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

p To wit, Cyrus, that I may ſhewe by him ỹ faithfulnes of my promes in deliuering my people 14 Thus ſaith the Lord, The labour r of Egypt, and the marchandiſe of Ethiopia, & of the Sabeans, men of ſtature ſhal come vnto thee, and thei ſhalbe ſ thine: thei ſhal followe thee, and ſhal go in chaines: they ſhal fall downe before thee, and make ſupplicacion vnto thee, ſaying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God beſides.

q Meaning, freely & without ranſome, or any grieuous condition

r Theſe people were tributaries to ỹ Perſians, & ſo King Artaxaſtes gaue this money towarde the buylding of the Tẽple, Ezra 7.21

15 Verely thou, ô God, t hideſt thy ſelf, ô God, the Sauiour of Iſraél.

s Where as to fore thei were ſtrangers, thei ſhal now honour thee, and thou ſhalt be their God

16 All they ſhalbe aſhamed and alſo confounded: they ſhal go to confuſion togeth r that are the makers of images.

t Hereby he exhorteth the Iewes to patience, though their deliuerance be differred for a time 17 But Iſraél ſhalbe ſaued in the Lord, with an euerlaſting ſaluacion: ye ſhal not be aſhamed nor confounded worlde without end.

u That is, of mã, but chiefly of his Church

18 For thus ſaith the Lord (that created heauen, God him ſelf, that formed ỹ earth, and made it: he that prepared it, he created it not in vaine: he formed it to be u inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

x As to the falſe gods, ẅch giue vncertein anſwers

19 I haue not ſpoken in ſecret, neither x in a place of darkenes in the earth: I ſaid not in vaine vnto ỹ ſede of Iaakób, Seke you me: I the Lord do ſpeake righteouſnes, & declare righteous things.

y All ye idolaters, which though you ſeme to haue power ſo muche worldelie dignitie, yet in Gods ſight you are vile & abiect

20 Aſſemble your ſelues, and come: drawe neie together, y ye abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that ſet vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that can not ſaue them.

z He calleth the idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith

21 Tel ye and bring them, & let them take counſel tog ther, who hathe declared this from the beginning? or hathe tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? & there is none other God beſide me, a iuſt God, & a Sauiour: there is none beſide me.

a That is, that ỹ thing, which I haue promiſed, ſhalbe

22 Loke vnto me, and ye ſhal be ſaued: all z the ends of the earth ſhal be ſaued: for I am God, and there is none other.

b The knowledge of God and the true worſhiping ſhalbe through all the world, Rom 14,11 phil 2,10 whereby he ſignifieth that we muſt not onely ſerue God in heart, but declare the ſame alſo by outward profeſſiõ

23 I haue ſworne by my ſelf: the worde is gone out of my mouth in a righteouſnes, and ſhal not returne, That euerie b knee ſhal bowe vnto me, and euerie tongue ſhal ſweare by me.

c Meaning, the faithful ſhal fele & confeſſe this.

24 Surely c he ſhal ſay, In the Lord haue I righteouſnes and ſtrength: he ſhal come vnto him, and all that d prouoke him, ſhal be aſhamed.

d All the cõtemners of God.

25 The whole ſede of Iſraél ſhalbe iuſtified, and glorie in the Lord.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 The deſtruction of Babylon and of their idoles. 3 He calleth the Iewes to the conſideracion of his workes.

1 BEl is bowed downe: a Nebó is fallen: their idoles were vpon the b beaſtes, and vpon the cattel: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.

a Theſe were the chief idoles of Babylõ.

b Becauſe thei were of golde and ſiluer, the Medes & Perſians caryed them away

2 c They are bowed downe, & fallen together: for thei colde not rid thẽ of the burden, & their d ſoule is gone into captiuitie.

c The beaſts that caryed ỹ idoles, fel downe vnder their burden

d He deſcribeth the idoles, ẅch had neither ſoule nor ſence

3 Heare ye me, ô houſe of Iaakób, & all that remaine of the houſe of Iſraél, which are e borne of me from the wombe, and broght vp of me from the birth.

e He ſhewth the difference betwene the idoles and the true God for their muſt be caryed of others, but God him ſelf caryeth his, as Deut 32,11

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the ſame, euẽ I wil beare you vntil the hoare heeres: I haue made you, I wil alſo beare you, and I wil carye you f and I wil deliuer you.

f Seing I haue begotten you I wil nouriſh and preſerue you for euer

5 ¶ To whome wil ye make me like, or make me equal, or g compare me, that I ſhulde be like him?

g The people of God, ſeing their owne calamitie & the floriſhing eſtate of the Babylonians, muſt not be tempted to thinke that their God was not ſo mighte as the idols of their enemies therefore he deſcribeth the original of all the idoles, to make them to be abhorred of all men

6 They drawe golde out of the bagge and weigh ſiluer in the balance, and hyre a goldſmith to make a god of it, & they bowe downe, and worſhip it.

7 They beare it vpon the ſhoulders, they cary him and ſet him in his place: ſo doeth he ſtand, & can not remoue from his place. Thogh one crye vnto him, yet can he not anſwer, nor deliuer him out of his tribulacion.

ſhewing that the moſte that can be ſpoken in their commendacio is but to giue them vile,

8 Remember this, and be aſhamed: bring it againe h to minde, ô you tranſgreſſers.

h Become wiſe, meaning ỹ all idolaters are without wit or ſenſe, like mad mẽ

9 Remember the former things of olde: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,

10 Which declare the laſt thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, ſaying, My coũſel ſhal ſtand, & I wil do whatſoeuer I wil.

i That is Cyrus, ẅch ſhal come as ſwift as a birde and fight againſt Babylon 11 I call a i birde from the Eaſt, & the man of my k counſel from far: as I haue ſpoken, ſo wil I bring it to paſſe: I haue purpoſed it, and I wil do it.

k Him by whome I haue appointed to execute that, which I haue determined.

12 Heare me, ye ſtubburne hearted, that are farre from l iuſtice.

l Which by your incredulitie wolde let the performance of my promes

13 I bring m nere my iuſtice: it ſhal not be farre of, and my ſaluacion ſhal not tary: for I wil giue ſaluacion in Zión, and my glorie vnto Iſraél.

m He ſheweth that mans incredulitie can not aboliſh the promes of God, Rom 3,3.

CHAP. XLVII.

The deſtruction of Babylon and the cauſes wherefore.

1 COme downe and ſit in the duſt: ô n virgine, daughter Babél, ſit on the grounde: there is no b throne, ô daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou ſhalt no more be called, Tendre and delicate.

n Which haſt liued in wealth, & wantõnes, and haſt not yet bene ouercome by any enemie

2 Take the mille ſtones, & c grinde meale.

b Thy gouernement ſhalbe taken from thee

c Thou ſhalt be broght to moſte vile ſeruitude for to turne the mille was the office of ſlaues.

looſe thy lockes: d make bare the fete: vncouer ỹ legge, & paſſe through the floods.

3 Thy filthines ſhalbe diſcouered, and thy ſhame ſhalbe ſene: I wil take vengeance, and I wil not mete thee as a e man.

4 f Our redemer, the Lord of hoſtes is his Name, the holy one of Iſraél.

5 g Sit ſtil, and get thee into darkenes, ô daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou ſhalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdomes.

6 I was wrath with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou dideſt ſhewe them no h mercie, but thou dideſt lay thy very heauie yoke vpon the ancient.

7 And thou ſaideſt, I ſhalbe a ladie for euer, ſo that thou dideſt not ſet thy minde to theſe things, nether dideſt thou remember the latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleaſures, & dwelleſt careles, She ſaith in her heart, I am and none els: I ſhal not ſit as a widdow, nether ſhal knowe ỹ loſſe of children.

9 But theſe two things ſhal come to thee ſuddenly on one day, the loſſe of children and widdowehead: they ſhal come vpon thee in their i perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinacions, & for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou haſt truſted in thy wickednes: thou haſt ſaid, None ſeeth me. Thy k wiſdome & thy knowledge, thei haue cauſed thee to rebell, and thou haſt ſaid in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore ſhal euil come vpon thee, and thou ſhalt not know the morning thereof: deſtruction ſhal fall vpõ thee, which thou ſhalt not be able to put away: deſtruction ſhal come vpon thee ſuddenly, or thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine inchanters, and in the multitude of thy ſori eſayers (with whome thou haſt l wearied thy ſelf from thy youth) if ſo be thou maieſt haue profite, or if ſo be thou maieſt haue ſtrength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counſels: let now the aſtrologers, the ſtarre gaſers, & pronoſticatours ſtand vp, and ſaue thee from theſe things, that ſhal come vpon thee.

14 Beholde, they ſhalbe as ſtubble: the fyre ſhal burne them: thei ſhal not deliuer their owne liues from the powei of the flame: there ſhal be no coles m to warme at, nor light to ſit by.

15 Thus ſhal they ſerue thee, with whome thou haſt wearied thee, euẽ thy marchants from thy youth: euery one ſhal wander to his owne n quarter: none ſhal ſaue thee.

d The things wherin ſhe ſetteth her greateſt pride ſhal be made vile, euen from the head to the fote

e I wil vſe no humanitie nor pitie toward thee

f The Iſraelites ſhal confeſſe, that the Lord doeth this for his Church ſake.

g For very ſhame, & hide thy ſelf

h Thei abuſed Gods iudgements thinkíg that he punſhed ỹ Iſraelites, becauſe he wolde vtterly caſt them of, and therefore in ſtead of pitying their miſerie, thou diddſt increaſe it.

i So that thy puniſhment ſhalbe ſo great, as is poſſible to be imagined.

k Thou dideſt thinke ỹ thine owne wiſdome & policie wolde haue ſaued thee

l He derideth their vaine cõfidence, ỹ put their truſt in any thing, but in God, conſẽning alſo ſuche vaine ſciẽces, which ſerue to no vſe, but to delude the people and to bring them frõ depending onely in God

m They ſhal vtterly periſh and no parte of thẽ remaine n They ſhal flee euery one to that place, & he thoght by his ſpeculacions to be moſte ſure: but that ſhal deceiue them.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocriſie of the Iewes is reproued. 11 The Lord alone wil be worſhipped. 20 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

1 HEare ye this, ô houſe of Iaakób, which are a called by the name of Iſraél, and are come out of b the waters of Iudáh: which ſweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mencion of the God of Iſraél, but not in trueth, nor in righteouſnes.

a He detecteth their hypocriſie, which vanted them ſelues to be Iſraelites & were not ſo in dede.

b Meaning, the fountaine and ſtocke

2 For they are called of the holy citie, and ſtaie them ſelues c vpon the God of Iſraél, whoſe Name is the Lord of hoſtes.

c They make a ſhew, as thogh they wolde haue none other God

3 I haue declared the former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, and I ſhewed d them: I did them ſuddenly, and they came to paſſe.

d He ſheweth that thei colde not accuſe him in anie thing, for aſmuche as he had performed whatſoeuer he had promiſed

4 Becauſe I knewe, that e thou art obſtinate, and thy necke is an yron ſinew, and thy browe braſſe,

5 Therefore I haue declared it to thee of olde: before it came to paſſe, I ſhewed f it thee, leſt thou ſhuldeſt ſay, Mine idole hathe done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hathe commanded them.

e I haue done for thee more then I promiſed, that thy ſtubbernes and impudencie might haue bene ouercome.

6 Thou haſt heard, beholde all this, & wil not ye g declare it? I haue ſhewed thee new things, euen now, and hid things, which thou kneweſt not.

f How ỹ ſhuldeſt be deliuered out of Babylon

g Wil he not acknowledge this my benefite & declare it vnto others?

7 They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardeſt them not, leſt ỹ ſhuldeſt ſay, Beholde, I h knewe them.

h Shewing ỹ mans arrogancie is the cauſe why God doeth not declare all thigs at once, leſt thei ſhuld attribute this knowledge to their owne wiſdome

8 Yet thou heardeſt thẽ not, nether dideſt knowe them, nether yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knewe that thou wolddeſt grieuouſly tranſgreſſe: therefore haue I called thee a tranſgreſſour from the i wombe.

i From ỹ time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliuerance was as ỹ birth of the Church.

9 For my Names ſake wil I differ my wrath, and for my praiſe wil I refraine it from thee, k that I cut thee not of.

k As it was my fre mercie ỹ I did chuſe thee. ſo is it my fre mercie that muſt ſaue thee

10 Beholde, I haue fined thee, but l not as ſiluer: I haue m choſen thee in the fornace of affliction.

l For I had reſpect to thy weakenes and infirmitie for in ſiluer there is ſome pureneſ, but in vs there is nothing, but droſſe.

11 For mine owne ſake, for mine owne ſake wil I do it: for how ſhulde my Name n be polluted? ſo surely I wil not giue my glorie vnto another.

m I toke thee out of the fornace where thou ſhuldeſt haue bene conſumed

12 Heare me, ô Iaakób & Iſraél, my called, p I am, I am the firſt, and I am the laſt.

13 Surely mine hãd hathe layed the fundacion of the earth, & my right hand hathe ſpanned the heauens: when I call them, q they ſtand vp together.

n God ioyneth the ſaluacion of his with his owne honour ſo that they can not periſh, but his glorie ſhulde be diminiſhed, as Deut 32.27

14 All you, aſſemble your ſelues, & heare: which among them hathe declared theſe thigs? The Lord hathe loued r him: he wil

o Read Chap 42.8 p Read 41.4 q To obey me, & to do whatſoeuer I commande them.

r Meaning, Cyrus, whome he had choſen to deſtroy Babylon.

do

do his wil in Babél, and his arme ſhalbe againſt the Chaldeans.

15 I, euen I haue ſpoken it, and I haue called him: I haue broght him, and his waie ſhal proſper.

16 Come nere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not ſpoken it in ſecret frō the [f] beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and now the Lord God and his ſpirit hathe [t] ſent me.

17 Thus ſaith the Lord thy redemer, the Holie one of Iſraél, I am the Lord thy God, which teache thee [u] to profite, & lead thee by the waie, that thou ſhuldeſt go.

18 O that thou hadeſt hearkened to my commandements, then had thy proſperitie bene as the flood, and thy righteouſnes as the waues of the ſea.

19 Thy ſede alſo had bene as the ſande, and ỹ frute of thy bodie like the grauel thereof. his [x] name ſhulde not haue bene cut of nor deſtroied before me.

20 [y] Go ye out of Babél flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of ioye: tel and declare this: ſhewe it forthe to the end of the earth: ſaye ye, The Lord hathe redemed his ſeruant Iaakób.

21 And they [z] were not thirſtie: he led them through the wildernes he cauſed ỹ waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water guſhed out.

22 There is no [a] peace, ſaith the Lord, vnto the wicked.

CHAP. XLIX.

The Lord exhorteth all nacions to beleue his promiſes of Chriſt vs the ſaluacion of all that beleue, and wil deliuer them from the tyranne of their enemies.

1 HEare ye me, ô yles, & hearké, ye people frō farre. The Lord hathe called [a] me from [b] the wombe, and made mencion of my name from my mothers bellie.

2 And he hathe made my mouth like a ſharpe [c] ſworde vnder the ſhadowe of his hād hathe he [d] hid me, and made me a choſen ſhafte & hid me in his quiuer,

3 And ſaid vnto me, Thou art my ſeruant, [e] Iſraél, for I wil be glorious in thee.

4 And I ſaid, I haue [f] labored in vaine: I haue ſpent my ſtrength in vaine and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

5 And now ſaith the Lord, that formed me frō the wombe to be his ſeruant, that I maie bring Iaakób againe to him (though Iſraél be not gathered, [g] yet ſhal I be glorious in the eyes of the Lord: and my God ſhalbe my ſtrength)

6 And he ſaid, It is a ſmale thing that thou ſhuldeſt be my ſeruant, to raiſe vp the tribes of Iaakób, and to reſtore the deſolations of Iſrael. I wil alſo giue [h] thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maieſt be my ſaluacion vnto the end of the worlde.

7 Thus ſaith the Lord the redemer of Iſraél, & his Holie one, to him that is deſpiſed in ſoule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a [i] ſeruant of rulers, Kings ſhal ſe, and [k] ariſe, and princes ſhal worſhip, becauſe of the Lord, that is faithful, and the Holie one of Iſraél, which hathe choſen thee.

8 Thus ſaith the Lord, [l] In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of ſaluacion haue I helped thee. and I wil preſerue thee, and wil giue [m] thee for a couenant of the people, that thou maieſt raiſe vp the [n] earth, and obteine the inheritance of the deſolate heritages:

9 That thou maieſt ſay to ỹ [o] priſoners, Go forthe: and to them that are in darkenes, Shewe your ſelues: they ſhal fede in the wayes, & their [p] paſtures ſhalbe in all the toppes of the hilles.

10 They ſhal not be hūgrie, nether ſhal they be thirſtie, nether ſhal the heat ſmite thē nor the ſunne: for he that hathe compaſſion [q] on them, ſhal lead them, euen to the ſprings of waters ſhal he driue them.

11 And I wil make all my mountaines, as a way, & my paths ſhalbe exalted.

12 Beholde, theſe ſhal come frō farre. & lo, theſe from the North and from the Weſt, and theſe from the land of [r] Sinim.

13 Reioyce, ô heauens: and be ioyful, ô earth braſt forthe in to praiſe, ô mountaines: for God hathe comforted his people, & wil haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion ſaid, The Lord hathe [s] forſaken me, and my Lord hathe forgotte me.

15 Can a woman forget her childe, and not haue compaſsion on the ſonne of her wōbe? though they ſhulde forget, yet wil I not forget thee.

16 Beholde, I haue grauē thee vpon the palme of mine [u] hands. thy [x] walles are euer in my ſight.

17 Thy buylders make [y] haſte: thy deſtroyers and they that made thee waſte, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about & beholde: all theſe gather thē ſelues together & come to thee. as I liue, ſaith the Lord, thou ſhalt ſurely [z] put thē all vpō thee as a garmēt, & gird thy ſelf wt thē like a bride.

19 For thy deſolations, & thy waſte places, & thy land deſtroyed, ſhal ſurely be now narrow for them: ỹ ſhal dwell in it, & they that did deuoure thee, ſhalbe farre away.

20 The children of thy barennes ſhal ſay againe in thine eares, The place is ſtraict for me: giue place to me that I may dwell.

21 Thē ſhalt ỹ ſay in thine heart, Who hathe begotten me theſe, ſeing I am baren and f Since the time that I declared my ſelf to your fathers

t Thus ỹ Prophet ſpeaketh for him ſelf, & to aſſure them of theſe thīgs w what things ſhal do thee good x That is, the proſperous eſtat of Iſrael. After that he had forwarned them of their captiuitie, and of the cauſe therof, he ſheweth them the great ioye, ỹ ſhal come of their deliuerance

z He ſheweth that it ſhalbe as eaſy to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt

a Thus he ſheweth that the wicked hypocrites ſhulde not abuſe Gods promes in whome was neither faith, nor repentāce, as Iſa 57,21

a This is ſpoken in the perſone of Chriſt to aſſure the faithful, that theſe promiſes ſhulde come to paſſe for they were all made in him, and in him ſhulde be performed

b This is mēt of the time, ỹ Chriſt ſhulde be manifeſted to the worlde, as Pſal 2,7 c By the ſworde, and ſhafte, he ſignifieth ỹ vertue and efficacie of Chriſts doctrine

d God hathe takē me to his protection and defence this chiefly is mēt of Chriſt, and may alſo be applied to ỹ miniſters of his worde

e By Iſraél is mēt Chriſt, & all the body of ỹ faithful as the members and their head

f Thus Chriſt in his members complaineth, that his labour, and preaching take none effect, yet he is conten ed, ỹ his doings are approued of God.

g Thogh the Iewes refuſe my doctrine, yet God wil approue my miniſterie.

h To declare my Goſpel to the Gentiles, Cha 42,6 act 13,47 luk 2,32.

i Meaning, the Iewes whome tyrants kept in bondage

k The benefit of their deliuerance ſhalbe ſo great, that great, & ſmale ſhal acknowledge it, & reuerēce God for it l Thus he ſpeaketh of his Church, when he wolde ſhew his mercie toward it, 2. Cor 6,2.

m Meaning, Chriſt alone

n Signifieng, ỹ before Chriſt reigne ỹ earth by his worde, there is no thing but cōfuſio & diſorder.

o To thē that are in the priſon of ſinne, & death

p Being in Chriſts protection, they ſhal be ſafe againſt all dangers, & free from the feare of the enemies

q Meaning, ỹ there ſhulde be nothīg in their waie from Babylon ỹ ſhulde hinder or hurt them but this is accomplished ſpiritually

r Meaning, ỹ Southcountrey ſo that Chriſt ſhal delimer his from all the parts of the worlde

ſ Read Chap. 44,23

t He obiecteth what ỹ faithful might ſay in their long afflictiō, and anſwereth therunto to comfort them, with a moſte proper ſimilitude, and ful of conſolatiō

u Becauſe I wolde not forget thee

x Meaning, ỹ good order of policie & diſcipline

y I haue a cōtinual care to buylde thee vp againe, & to deſtroye thine enemies

z He ſheweth what are the ornamēts of ỹ Church to haue many children, which are aſſembled by the worde of God & gouerned by his Spirit deſolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? & who hathe nouriſhed thē? beholde, I was left alone: whence are theſe?

22 Thus ſaith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil lift vp mine hand to the [a] Gentiles and ſet vp my ſtandart to the people, and they ſhal bring thy ſonnes in their armes: and thy daughters ſhalbe caryed vpon their ſhoulders.

23 And Kīgs [b] ſhalbe thy nourcing fathers, and Quenes ſhalbe thy nources: thei ſhal worſhip thee with their faces toward the earth, and licke vp the [c] duſt of thy fete: & thou ſhalt knowe that I am the Lord: for they ſhal not be aſhamed ẏ waite for me.

24 Shal the praie be [d] taken from the mightie? or the iuſt captiuitie deliuered?

25 But thus ſaith the Lord, [e] Euen the captiuitie of the mightie ſhalbe taken awaie: & the praie of the tyrant ſhalbe deliuered: for I wil contend with him that contendeth with thee, & I wil ſaue thy children, 26 And wil fede them that ſpoile thee, with [f] their owne fleſh, and they ſhalbe drunken with their owne blood, as with ſwete wine: & all fleſh ſhal knowe that I ẏ Lord am thy Sauiour & thy redemer, the mightie one of Iaakób.

a He ſheweth, ẏ Chriſt wil not onely gather this great nōber of the Iewes, but alſo of the Gentiles

b Meaning, ẏ Kings ſhalbe cōuerted to ẏ Goſpel and be ſtow their power, & autoritie for the preſeruation of the Church

c Being ioyned with the Church, they ſhal hūble thē ſelues to Chriſt their head, and giue him all honour

d He maketh this as an obiectiō, as though the Chaldeās were ſtrong, & had them in iuſte poſſeſſiō.

e This is, the anſwer to their obiectiō, ẏ none is ſtrōger then the Lord, nether hathe a more iuſte title vnto them

f I wil cauſe them to deſtroye one another, as Iud. 7, 22. 2 chro 20, 22. chap. 19, 2.

CHAP. L.

1 The Iewes forſaken for a time. 2 Yet the power of God is not diminiſhed. 5 Chriſts obediēce & victorie.

1 THus ſaith the Lord, Where is that [a] bil of your mothers diuorcement, [b] whome I haue caſt of? or who is the creditour [c] to whome I ſolde you? Beholde, for your iniquities are ye ſolde, and becauſe of your tranſgreſſions is your mother forſaken.

2 Wherefore [d] came I, & there was no mā? I called, and none anſwered: is mine hand ſo [e] ſhortened, that it can not helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? beholde, at my rebuke I drye vp the Sea: I make the floods deſert: their fiſh rotteth for want of water, and dyeth for thirſt.

3 I clothe the heauēs with darknes, & make a [f] ſacke their couering.

4 The Lord God hathe giuen [g] me a tōgue of the learned, that I ſhulde knowe to miniſter a worde in time to him ẏ is [h] weary: he wil raiſe me vp in the morning: in the morning he wil waken mine eare to heare, [i] as the learned.

5 The Lord God hathe opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, nether turned I backe.

a Meaning, ẏ he had not forſaken her, but through her owne occaſiō, as Hoſea 2, 2 b Which ſhulde declare, ẏ I haue cut her of. meaning, ẏ they colde ſhewe none

c Signifying ẏ he ſolde them not for anie det or pouertie, but ẏ they ſolde thē ſelues to ſinne to bie their owne luſtes, & pleaſures

d He came by his Prophetes and miniſters, but thei wolde not beleue their doctrine and conuert

e Am I not as able to helpe you, as I haue holpen your fathers of olde, when I dryed vp ẏ red Sea, and killed the fiſh in the riuers, & alſo afterwarde in Iorden?

f As I did in Egypt in tokē of my diſpleaſure, Exod 10, 21

g The Prophet doeth repreſente here the perſone and charge of them that are iuſtely called to the miniſterie of Gods worde

h To him that is oppreſſed by affliction and miſerie

i As they that are taught, and made mete by him.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the [k] ſmiters, and my chekes to the nippers: I hid not my face from ſhame and ſpitting.

7 For the Lord God wil helpe me, therefore ſhal I not be confounded: therefore haue I ſet my face like a flint, and I knowe that I ſhal not be aſhamed.

8 He is nere that iuſtifieth me: who wil cōtend with me? Let vs ſtand together: who is mine aduerſarie? let him come nere to me.

9 Beholde, the Lord God wil helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? lo, thei ſhal waxe olde as a garment: the mothe ſhal eat them vp.

10 [l] Who is amōg you that feareth ẏ Lord? let him heare the voyce of his ſeruant. he that walketh in darkenes, & hathe no light, let him truſt in the Name of the Lord, & ſtay vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kindle [m] a fyre, and are compaſſed about with ſparkes: walke in ẏ light of your fyre, and in the ſpaikes that ye haue kindled. This ſhal ye haue of mine hand: ye ſhal lie downe in ſorowe.

k I did no ſhrinke from God for anie perſecution or calamitie. Whereby he ſheweth, that the true miniſters of God can loke for none other recompence of ẏ wicked but after this ſorte and alſo what is their comfort.

l Shewing ẏ it is a rare thing that anie ſhulde obey aright Gods true miniſters, though they labour to bring thē frō hel to heauen.

m You haue ſoght conſolation by your owne deuiſes, & haue refuſed the light, and conſolation, ẏ God hathe offred therefore ye ſhal remaine in ſorowe, and not be cōforted

CHAP. LI.

1 To truſt in God alone by Abrahams example 7 Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ieruſalem, & her deliuerance.

1 HEare me, ye [a] that follow after righteouſnes, & ye that ſeke the Lord: loke vnto the [b] rocke, whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit, whence ye are digged.

2 Conſider Abrahám your father, and Saráh that bare you: for I called him alone, & bleſſed him, and increaſed him.

3 Surely the Lord ſhal comfort Zión: he ſhal comfort all her deſolations, and he ſhal make her deſert [c] like Eden, and her wildernes like the garden of the Lord: ioye and gladnes ſhalbe founde therein: praiſe, and the voyce of ſinging.

4 Hearken ye vnto me, my people, and giue eare vnto me, ô my people. for a [d] Law ſhal procede from me, and I wil bring forthe my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My [e] righteouſnes is nere: my ſaluacion goeth forthe, and mine [f] armes ſhal iudge the people: the yles ſhal waite for me, and ſhal truſt vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and loke vpon the earth beneth: for the [g] heauens ſhal vaniſh away like ſmoke, and the earth ſhal waxe olde like a garment, and thei that dwell therein, ſhal periſh in like maner: but my ſaluacion ſhalbe for euer, & my righteouſnes ſhal not be aboliſhed.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that knowe righteouſnes, the people in whoſe heart is my Law. Feare ye not the reproche of men, nether be ye afraied of their rebukes.

a He comforteth ẏ Church, that thei ſhulde not be diſcouraged for their ſmale nomber

b That is, to Abrahám, of whome ye were begotten, & to Saráh, of whome ye were borne c As plēteful as Paradiſe, Geneſ 2, 3.

d I wil rule, & gouerne my Church by my worde, and doctrine.

e The time, ẏ I wil accompliſh my promes

f My power, and ſtrength.

g He forewarneth them of the horrible changes & mutations of all things, & how he wil preſerue his Church in the middes of all theſe dangers.

For

8 For the mothe ſhal eat thē vp like a garment, and the worme ſhal eat them like wolle: but my righteouſnes ſhal be for euer, and my ſaluacion from generacion to generacion.

9 Riſe vp, riſe vp, and put on ſtrength, ô arme of the Lord: riſe vp, as in the olde time in the generacions of the worlde. Art not thou the ſame, that haſt cut a Rahab, and wounded the b dragon?

10 Art not thou the ſame, which hath dryed the Sea, euen the waters of the great depe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redemed to paſſe ouer?

11 Therefore the redemed of the Lord ſhal c returne, and come with ioye vnto Zión, and euerlaſting ioye ſhalbe vpon their head: they ſhal obteine ioye & gladnes: & ſorowe and mourning ſhal flee away.

12 I, euen I, am he, that comfort you. Who art thou, that thou ſhuldeſt feare a mortal man, and the ſonne of man, which ſhalbe made as graſſe?

13 And forgeteſt the Lord thy maker, that hathe ſpred out the heauens, and laide the fundacions of the earth? and haſt feared continually all the day, becauſe of the rage of the oppreſſour, which is ready to deſtroye? Where is now the rage of the oppreſſour?

14 The captiue d haſteneth to be looſed, and that he ſhulde not dye in the pit, nor that his bread ſhulde faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the Sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hoſtes is his Name.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy e mouthe, and haue defended thee in the ſhadow of mine hand, that I may plant ſ heauēs, and laye the fundacion of the earth, & ſay vnto Zón, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and ſtand vp, ô Ieruſalém, which haſt drūke at the hand of the Lord the f cup of his wrath. thou haſt drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all ſ̄ ſonnes, whome ſhe hathe broght forthe: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the ſonnes that ſhe hathe broght vp.

19 Theſe two g things are come vnto thee: who wil lament thee? deſolation and deſtruction, and famine, and the ſworde: by whome ſhal I comforte thee?

20 Thy ſonnes haue fainted, and lie at the head of all the ſtretes as a wilde bulle in a net, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, & rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare now this, thou miſerable and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus ſaith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cauſe of his people, Beholde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, euen the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath. thou ſhalt drinke it no more.

23 But I wil put it into thine hād that ſpoile thee. which haue ſaid to thy ſoule, Bowe downe, that wē may go ouer, and thou haſt laid thy bodie as the ground, and as the ſtrete to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

1 A conſolation to the people of God. 7 Of the meſſengers thereof.

1 ARiſe, ariſe: put on thy ſtrength, ô Zión: put on the garments of thy beautie, ô Ieruſalém, the holy citie: for hence forth there ſhal no more come into thee the vncircumciſed and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy ſelf from the h duſt, ariſe, and ſit downe, ô Ieruſalém: looſe the bandes of thy necke, ô thou captiue daughter, Zión.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord, Ye were ſolde for i naught, therefore ſhal ye be redemed without money.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord God, My people went k downe afore time into Egypt to ſoiourne there, and Aſſhúr l oppreſſed them without cauſe.

5 Now therefore what haue I here, ſaith the Lord, that my people is takē away for naught, and they that rule ouer them, make them to howle, ſaith the Lord? & my Name all the day continually is m blaſphemed?

6 Therefore my people ſhal knowe my Name: therefore they ſhal knowe in that day, that I am he that do ſpeake: beholde, it is I.

7 How beautiful vpon the mountaines are the fete of him, that declareth & publiſheth peace: that declareth good tidings, & publiſheth ſaluacion, ſaying vnto Zión, Thy God reigneth?

8 n The voice of thy watchemen ſhalbe heard: they ſhal lift vp their voyce, and ſhout together: for they ſhal ſe eye to eye, when the Lord ſhal bring again Zion.

9 O ye deſolate places of Ieruſalém, be glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hathe comforted his people: he hathe redemed Ieruſalém.

10 The Lord hathe made o bare his holy arme in the ſight of all the Gentiles, and all the ends of the earth ſhal ſe the ſaluacion of our God.

11 p Departe, departe ye, go out from thēce and touche no vncleane thing. go out of the middes of her: be ye cleane, that q beare the veſſels of the Lord.

Ece. iii.

---

4 He putteth the continuance of his great benefite for their deliuerance out of Egypt, thereby they might learne to truſt in him conſtantly.
1 Meaning Egypt. Pſal 87 4
2 Or, Pharao. Exo 23,31.
3 From Babylon.

5 He comforteth them by ſ̄ ſhort time of their baniſhement for ſeuentie yeres they were reſtored: and the greateſt captiue of the worlde deſcryed in Meaning, of Iſaiáh, and of all true miniſters, who are defended by his protection, that all things may be reſtored in heauen, and earth, Epheſ 1 10 p The Lord ſhal puniſhe and ſufficiently, as Chap 40,2 and euer puniſhem at his time is by meaſure, & according as God giueth grace to beare it: but in the top of all is ſ̄ laſt vengeance of God to driue them to an inſenſiblenes & madnes, as Ierem 25,15

q Whereof the one is outward, as of ſ̄ things ſ̄ come to ſ̄ bodye: as warre & famine & ſ̄ other is inward, & appertaineth to the miſe that is, to be without comfort therefore he ſaith, how ſhalt thou be comforted?
1 But ſhal trouble & feare.

a No wicked tirant, ſhal ſubuert Gods true religiō, & oppreſſe the conſcience.
b Out of ſ̄ grauel & ſorowe & ſeruitude, & put on the apparel of ioy & glad nes.
c The Babylonians paied nothing to me for you: therefore I wil take you againe without ranſome.
d Whē Iaakób went thether in time of famine
e The Egyptians might pretend ſome cauſe to oppreſſe my people becauſe they were thether and remained among them, but the Aſſyrians haue no ſuche to excuſe their tyrannie by and therefore wil I puniſh them more thē I did the Egyptiās
f To wit, by ſ̄ wicked which thinke that I haue no power to deliuer thē.
g Signifying ſ̄ the ſweete and good tidings of our deliuerance ſhulde not be cauſe of offēce to the ſeruātes more then the maieſtie of the Lord ſhulde be cauſe of offence to the ſeruātes of Moſes, becauſe they ſaw not ſ̄ glorie of his face. Exo 34,29.
h The Prophets ſ̄ thereby warne thē, ſhal publiſh this thy deliuerance thus was be gun vnder Zerubbabel, Ezrá & Nehemiáh, but was accōpliſhed vnder Chriſt
i As ready to ſmite hir enemies & to deliuer his people k He warneth the faithful not to pollute themſelues with the ſuperſtitions of the Babylonians as Chap 48,20 2 cor 6,17
l For the tyrannie and, that the Prieſts and Leuites chiefly ſtrāued to by the reſt of the people which ſhalbe ſ̄ miniſters of his office
m Shal cauſe his holy name to be euil ſpoken of n The voice of the watchemen ſhalbe heard, when they ſhal ſe eye to eye, that is, when they ſhal ſe the Lord reſtore his Church, as he promiſed by the mouth of his Prophets o Before the eyes of all the people which ſhalbe ſ̄ miniſters of his office p Departe from Babylon
q Ezra 1 7 & 5 14 & 6 5 & 7 19 & 8 25 Dan 5 2 & 23 Baltaſar had taken away.

12 For ye ſhal not go out [m] with haſte, nor depart by fleing away; but the Lord wil go before you, and the God of Iſraél wil gather you together.

13 Beholde, my [n] ſeruant ſhal proſper: he ſhalbe exalted and extolled, & be very hie.

14 As manie were aſtonied at thee (his viſage was ſo [o] deformed of men, and his forme of the ſonnes of men) ſo [p] ſhal he ſprincle manie nations: the Kings ſhal ſhut their [q] mouths at him. for that which had not bene tolde them, ſhal they ſe, and that which they had not heard, ſhal they [r] vnderſtand.

m As your fathers did out of Egypt n Meaning, Chriſt by whome our ſpiritual deliuerãce ſhulde be wroght, whereof this was a figure o In the corrupt iudgement of man Chriſt in his perſone was not eſtemed p He ſhal ſpread his word through manie natiõs
q In ſigne of reuerence, and as being aſtoniſhed at his excellencie r By the preaching of the Goſpel.

CHAP. LIII.

1 Of Chriſt and his kingdome, whoſe worde fewe wil beleue. 6 All men are ſinners. 11 Chriſt is our righteouſnes. 12 And is dead for our ſinnes.

1 WHo [a] wil beleue our report? and [b] to whome is the arme of the Lord reueiled?

2 But he ſhal growe vp before him as a branche, & as a [c] roote out of a drye [d] grounde: he hathe neither forme nor beautie:
whẽ we ſhal ſe him, there ſhalbe no forme that we ſhulde deſire him.

3 He is deſpiſed and reiected of mẽ: he is a man ful of ſorows and hathe experience of [e] infirmities: we hid as it were our faces from him: he was diſpiſed and we eſtemed him not.

4 Surely he hathe borne our infirmities, & caried [f] our ſorowes: yet we did iudge hĩ, as [g] plagued, and ſmitten of God, & humbled.

5 But he was wounded for our tranſgreſſions, he was broken for our iniquities: the [h] chaſtiſemẽt of our peace was vpon him, and with his ſtripes we are healed.

6 All we like ſhepe haue gone aſtraie: we haue turned euerie one to his owne way, and the Lord hathe layed vpon him the [i] iniquitie of vs all.

7 He was oppreſſed & he was afflicted, yet did he not [k] opẽ his mouth: he is broght as a ſhepe to the ſlaughter, and as a ſhepe before her ſhearer is dumme, ſo he openeth not his mouth.

8 He was taken out from [l] priſon, and frõ iudgement: [m] & who ſhal declare his age?
for he was cut out of the lãd of the liuig:
for the tranſgreſion of my people was he plagued.

9 [n] And he made his graue with ỹ wicked, and with the riche in his death, thogh he had done no wickednes, nether was anie deceite in his mouth.

a The Prophet ſheweth, ỹ verie fewe ſhal receiue this their preaching of Chriſt, and of their deliuerãce by him, Ioh 12,38 rom 10. 16
b Meaning ỹ none can beleue, but whoſe hearts God toucheth with the vertue of his holie Spirit
c The beginning of Chriſts kingdome ſhalbe ſmale, and contemptible in ỹ figur of man, but it ſhal growe wonderfully, and floriſh before God
d Read Chap. 11,1
e Which was by Gods ſingular prouidence for the comforte of ſinners, Ebr 4.15.
f That is, the puniſhement due to our ſinnes: for the which he hathe both ſuffred, & made ſatiſfactiõ. Mat 8, 17, 1. pet. 2,24
g We iudged euil, thinking that he was puniſhed for his owne ſinnes, & not for ours
h He was chaſtiſed for our reconciliation. 2 Cor 15.3
i Meaning, the puniſhement of our iniquitie, & not the faute it ſelf.
k But willingly, & pacientlỹ obeyed his' fathers appointement, Mat 26,63 act 8,32.
l From the croſſe, and graue after that he was condemned
m. Thogh he dyed for ſinne, yet after his reſurrection he ſhal liue for euer, and this his death is to reſtore life to his members, Rom 6,9
n. God the Father deliuered him into the hands of the wicked, and to the powers of the worlde to do with him what they wolde.

10 Yet the Lord wolde breake him, & make him ſubiect to infirmities: whẽ [o] he ſhal make his ſoule an offring for ſinne, he ſhal ſe his ſede & ſhal prolong his daies, and the wil of the Lord ſhal proſper in his hand.

11 He ſhal ſe of the [p] trauaile of his ſoule, & ſhalbe ſatiſfied: by his knowledge ſhal my [q] righteous ſeruant iuſtifie manie: for he ſhal beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore wil I giue him a portion with the great, and he ſhal deuide the ſpoyle with the ſtrong, becauſe he [r] hathe powred out his ſoule vnto death: and he was counted with the tranſgreſſers, and he bare the ſinne [ſ] of many, and praied for the treſpaſſers.

o Chriſt by offring vp himſelf ſhal giuelite to his Church, & ſo cauſe them to liue w him for euer p That is, the frute & effect of his labour, w is ỹ ſatluacĩõ of his Church
q Chriſt ſhal iuſtifie by faith through his worde, where as Moſes colde not iuſtifie by the Lawe
r Becauſe he hũbled him ſelf, therefore he ſhalbe exalted to glorie, Phil. 2,7 ſ That is, in all that beleue in him

CHAP. LIIII.

1 Mo of the Gentiles ſhal beleue the Goſpel then of the Iewes. 7 God leaueth his for a time, to whome afterward he ſheweth mercie.

1 REioyce, ô [a] baren that dideſt not beare: breake forthe into ioye & reioyce, thou that dideſt not trauaile with childe:
for the [b] deſolate hathe mo children then the maried wife, ſaith the Lord.

2 [c] Enlarge the place of thy tentes, and let them ſpread out the curtaines of thine habitacions: ſpare not, ſtretch out thy cordes, and make faſte thy ſtakes.

3 For thou ſhalt increaſe on the right hand and on the left, and thy ſede ſhal poſſeſſe ỹ Gentiles & dwell in the deſolate cities.

4 Feare not: for ỹ ſhalt not be aſhamed, nether ſhalt ỹ be confounded: for ỹ ſhalt not beput to ſhame: yea, ỹ ſhalt forget ỹ ſhame of thy [d] youth, & ſhalt not remẽber the reproche of thy [e] widdowhead anie more.

5 For he that [f] made thee, is thine houſbãd (whoſe Name is the Lord of hoſtes) and thy redemer the holie one of Iſraél, ſhalbe called the God of the whole [g] worlde.

6 For the Lord hathe called thee, being as a woman forſaken, and afflicted in ſpirit, and as a [h] yong wife when thou waſt refuſed, ſaith thy God.

7 For a litle while haue I forſaken thee, but with great compaſsion wil I gather
thee.

8 For a moment, in mine angre, I hid my face from thee for a litle ſeaſon, but with euerlaſting mercie haue I had compaſsiõ on thee, ſaith the Lord thy redemer.

9 For this is vnto me as the waters of No áh: for as I haue ſworne that the waters of Noáh ſhulde no more go ouer the earth, ſo haue I ſworne that I wolde not be angrie with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines ſhal remoue and the hilles ſhal fall downe: but my mercie ſhal

a After ỹ he hathe declared the death of Chriſt, he ſpeaketh to the Church, becauſe it ſhulde ſeme ỹ frute of ỹ ſame, & calleth her baren, becauſe ỹ in the captiuitie ſhe was as a widdowe without hope to haue anie children.
b The Church in this her afflictiõ, & captiuitie ſhal bring forth mo children then whẽ ſhe was at libertie or this may be ſpoken by admiratiõ, conſidering ỹ great nombers ỹ ſhulde come of her. Hor deliuerãce vnder Cyrus was as her childe hode, & therefore this was accompliſhed, when ſhe came to her age, w was vnder ỹ Goſpel
c Signifying, ỹ for ỹ great nõber of childrẽ, ỹ God ſhulde giue her, ſhe ſhulde ſeme to lacke roume to lodge them.
d The afflictions which thou ſuffred at the beginning e When as ỹ waſt refuſed for thy ſinnes, Chap 50,1 f That did regenerate thee by his holy Spirit
g His glorie ſhal ſhine through the whole worlde, which ſemed before to be ſhut vp in Iudea.
h As a wife which waſt forſaken in thy youth.
i As ſure as the promes that I made to Noáh, that the waters ſhulde no more ouerflowe the earth.

not not depart from thee, nether ſhal the couenant of my peace fall away, ſaith the Lord, that hathe compaſsion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and toſſed with tempeſt, that haſt no comfort, beholde, I wil lay thy ſtones with [k] the carbuncle, and lay thy fundacion with ſaphirs, 12 And I wil make thy windowes of [l] emeraudes, and thy gates ſhining ſtones, and all thy borders of pleaſant ſtones.
13 And all thy children ſhal be [m] taught of the Lord, and muche peace ſhalbe to thy children.
14 In [n] righteouſnes ſhalt thou be eſtabliſhed, & be farre from oppreſsiō: for thou ſhalt not feare it: and frō feare, for it ſhal not come neare thee.
15 Beholde, the enemie ſhal gather him ſelf, but without me: whoſoeuer ſhal gather him ſelf in thee, [o] againſt thee, ſhal fall.
16 Beholde, I haue created the [p] ſmith that bloweth the coles in the fyre, and him that bringeth forthe an inſtrument for his worke, and I haue created the deſtroyer to deſtroye.
17 But all the weapons that are made a-gainſt thee, ſhal not proſper: and euerie tongue that ſhal riſe againſt thee in iud-gement, thou ſhalt condemne. This is the heritage of the Lords ſeruants, and their righteouſnes is of me, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. LV.

1 An exhortation to come to Chriſt & Gods counſels are not as mans 12 The ioy of the faithful

1 HO, euerie one [a] that thirſteth, come ye to the waters, and ye that haue [b] no ſiluer, come bie and eat: come, I ſaie, bie [c] wine and milke without ſiluer and without money.
2 Wherefore do ye laie out ſiluer & not for bread? [d] & your labour without beīg ſatiſ-fied? hearkē diligently vnto me, & eat that which is good, and let your ſoule delite in [e] fatnes.
3 Encline your eares, and come vnto me:
heare, and your ſoule ſhal liue, and I wil make an euerlaſting couenant with you, even the [f] ſure mercies of Dauid.
4 Beholde, I gaue him for a witnes to the people, for a prince and a maſter vnto the people.
5 Beholde, thou ſhalt call a nation that thou knoweſt not, [h] and a nation that knewe not thee, ſhal rūne vnto thee, becauſe of [g] the Lord thy God, and the holie one of Iſrael. for he hathe glorified thee.
6 Seke ye the Lord while he maie [i] be foun-de: call ye vpon him while he is nere.
7 Let the wicked [k] forſake his waies, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he wil haue mercie vpon him: and to our God, for he is verie readie to forgiue.
8 For my [l] thoghts are not your thoghts, nether are your waies my waies, ſaith the Lord.
9 For as the heauens are hier thē the earth, ſo are my waies hier then your waies, and my thoghts aboue your thoghts.
10 Surely as the raine cometh downe and the ſnowe from heauen, and returneth not thether, but watereth the earth and mak-eth it to bring forthe and budde that it maie giue ſede to the ſower, and bread vnto him that eateth,
11 So ſhal my [m] worde be, that goeth out of my mouth: it ſhal not returne vnto me voyde, but it ſhal accompliſh that which I wil, and it ſhal proſper in the thing where-to I ſent it.
12 Therefore ye ſhal go out with ioye, and be led forthe with peace: the [n] mountaines and the hils ſhal breake forthe before you into ioye, and all the trees of the field ſhal clappe their hands.
13 For thornes there ſhal growe fyrre trees:
for nettles ſhal growe the myrthe tree, and it ſhal be to the Lord [o] for a name, and for an euerlaſting [p] ſigne that ſhal not be taken awaie.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortacion to iudgement and iuſtice to Againſt Shepherds that deuoure their flocke.

1 THus ſaith the Lord, [a] Kepe iudgemēt & do iuſtice: for my ſaluacīō is at hād to come & my [b] righteouſnes to be reuelled.
2 Bleſſed is the man that doeth this, and the ſonne of man which laieth holde on it: he that kepeth the [c] Sabbath and polluteth it not, and kepeth his hand from doing anie euil.
3 And let not the ſonne of the ſtranger, which [d] is ioyned to the Lord, ſpeake and ſay, The Lord hathe ſurely ſeparat me frō his people: nether let the Eunuch ſay, Be-holde, I am a drie tree.
4 For thus ſaith the Lord, vnto the Eunu-ches, that kepe my Sabbaths, and chuſe the thing that pleaſeth me, and take holde of my couenant,
5 Euen vnto thē wil I giue in mine [e] Houſe & within my walles, a place and a [f] name better then of the ſonnes & of the daughters: I wil giue them an euerlaſting name, that ſhal not be put out.
6 Alſo the ſtrangers that cleaue vnto the Lord, to ſerue him, & to loue the Name of the Lord, & to be his ſeruants: euerie one that kepeth the Sabbath, & polluteth it not & imbraceth my couenant,
7 Thē wil I bring alſo to mine holy moun-taine, & make them ioyful in mine Houſe of prayer: their burnt offrings and their ſacrifices ſhalbe accepted vpon mine altar:
for mine Houſe ſhalbe called an houſe of prayer for [h] all people.

Eee iii.

k Hereby he declareth ye excellencie ſtate of ye Church vnder
Chriſt
Or raſpaſes, ſeasle
l By ye hearing of his worde & inward mouing of his Spirit.
m In ſtabilitie and ſtones ſo yt it ſhal ſtand for euer.
n And therefore ſhal not preuaile o Meaning ye domeſticall enemies of the Church as are the hypocrites p Signifying hereby yt men can do nothing out ſo farre as God giueth power for ſeig that he ſaid hath creatures, ne muſt nedes go werne and guide them

Chap LV
a Chriſt by appoſing his graces & gifts to his Church exempteth ye hypocrites & are ful with their imagined wor-kes, & the Epicures, wh are ful with their worldelie luſts & ſo thirſt not after theſe waters
b Signifying, ye Gods benefits can not be boght for money
c By waters, wine, milke & bread, he mea-neth all thīgs neceſſarie to ye ſpirituall life.
as theſe are ne ceſſarie to this corporal life
d He reproueth their inordinatnes, which refuſe thoſe thinges ye God
offereth willig-ly, and in the meane time ſpare nether coſt nor labour to obteine thoſe, which are nothing profitable
e You ſhalbe fed wōderfully
f The ſame couenant, wh though my mercie, I ratified & confirmed to Dauid that it ſhulde be eternal. 2.
Sam 7, 13 &
23 34
g Meaning, Chriſt, of who me Dauid was a figure h To wit, the Gentiles, wh before that did not ſeeke
nor to be thy people i When he offreth him ſelf by the prea ching of his worde
k Hereby he ſheweth that repentance muſt be ioyned with faith & how we can not call vpon God aright, except ye frutes of our faith appeare.
l Althegh you are not ioyned conciled one to another & iud ge me by your ſelues, yet I am moſt euen to be reconciled, yea
I offer my mer
cies to you
m If theſe ſma
le thinges haue their effect, as daily experie ce ſheweth, ma che more ſhal
my promiſes wh
I haue made & confirmed, bring to paſſe the thing which I haue ſpoke for your deliue-rance
n Read Chap.
44, 23 49, 13
o To ſet forth his glorie p Of Gods de-liuerance, & y
he wil neuer forſake his Church

Chap LVI.
a God ſheweth
what he requireth of the after yt he ſhe deliuered thē to wit, ye wor-kes of charitie whereby true faith is declared b Which I wil declare to award you & pow re into your hearts by my Spirit
c Vnder ye Sabbath he cōpre hendeth the whole ſeruice of God & true religion d Let none thinke himſelf vnmete to receiue ye grace of ye Lord for ye Lord wil take away all impedimentes, and wil forſake no re w will cōe his true religion & beleue in him e Meaning, in his Church
f That ſhalbe called after a people & be of ye ſame religion wt ye vnder Chriſt ye dignitie of ye faithful ſhalbe grater then ye Iewes were at ye time
g Hereby he meaneth ye ſpi rituall ſeruice of God, to whō me ye faithful offer continuall thankeſgiuing,
yea thē ſelues & all yt they haue as a liue-ly & acceptable ſacrifice
h Not onely for ye Iewes but for all others,
Matt 21, 13.

8 The Lord God ſaith, which gathereth the ſcatered of Iſraél, Yet wil I gather to them thoſe that are to be gathered to thē.

9 All ye [i] beaſtes of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beaſts of the foreſt.

10 Their [k] watchemen are all blinde: they haue no knowledge: thei are all domme doggs: thei can not barke: thei lie & ſlepe and delite in ſleping.

11 And theſe gredie doggs can neuer haue ynough: and theſe ſhepherds can not vnderſtand; for they all loke to their owne way, euerie one for his aduantage, & for his owne purpoſe.

12 Come, I wil bring wine, and we wil fil our ſelues with ſtrong drinke, and to [l] morowe ſhalbe as this daie, and muche more abundant.

i Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babylonians, Aſsyrians &c. thus he ſpeaketh to feare ỹ hypocrites & to aſſure the faithful, that when this cometh, thei may knowē it was tolde thembefore.

k He ſheweth that his affliction ſhal come through ỹ faute of ỹ gouernours, Prophetes & paſtors, whoſe ignorance, negligence, auarice & obſtinacie prouoked Gods wrath againſt them.

l We are wel yet, and tomorowe ſhal be better: therefore let vs not feare the plagues before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

2 God taketh awaie the good, that he ſhulde not ſe the horrible plagues to come 3 Of the wicked idolaters, 9 And their vaine confidence.

1 THe righteous periſheth, and no man conſidereth it in heart: and merciful men are taken awaie, and no man vnderſtandeth that the righteous is taken awaie [a] from the euil to come.

2 [b] Peace ſhal come: thei ſhal reſt in their beddes, euerie one that walketh before him.

3 But you [c] witches children, come hither, the ſede of the adulterer and of ỹ whore.

4 On whome haue ye ieſted? vpon whome haue ye gaped and thruſt out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, and a falſe ſede?

5 Inflamed with idoles vnder euerie grene tree? and ſacrificing the [d] children in the valleis vnder the toppes of the rockes?

6 Thy porcion is in the ſmooth ſtones [e] of the riuer, thei, thei are thy lotte: euen to them haſt thou powred a drinke offring: thou haſt offred a ſacrifice. Shulde I delite in [f] theſe?

7 Thou haſt made thy [g] bed vpon a verie hie mountaine: thou wenteſt vp thether, euen the her wenteſt thou to offre ſacrifice.

8 Behinde the [h] dores alſo and poſtes haſt thou ſet vp thy remembrance: for thou haſt diſcouered thy ſelf to another then me, and wenteſt vp and dideſt [i] enlarge thy bed, & make a couenant betwene thee and them, and louedſt their bed in euerie place where thou ſaweſt it.

9 Thou wenteſt [k] to the Kīgs with oyle, & dideſt increaſe [t] thine oyntmentes & ſend thy meſſengers farre of, and dideſt humble thy ſelfe vnto hel.

10 Thou wearieſt thy ſelf in thy manifold iourneis, yet ſaideſt thou not, [l] There is no hope: thou [m] haſt founde life by thine hād, therefore thou waſt not grieued.

11 And whome dideſt thou reuerence or feare, ſeing thou haſt [n] lied vnto me, and haſt not remēbred me, nether ſet thy minde thereon? is it not becauſe I holde my peace, and that of long [o] time? therefore thou feareſt not me.

12 I wil declare thy [p] righteouſnes & thy workes, and thei ſhal not profite thee.

13 When thou cryeſt, let them that thou haſt gathered together deliuer thee: but ỹ winde ſhal [q] take thē all away: vanitie ſhal pul them awaie: but he that truſteth in me, ſhal inherit the land, and ſhal poſſeſſe mine holie Mountaine.

14 [r] And he ſhal ſaie, Caſt vp, caſt vp: prepare the waie: take vp the ſtōbling blockes out of the waie of my people.

15 For thus ſaith he, that is hie and excellēt, he that inhabiteth ỹ eternitie, whoſe Name is the Holie one, I dwell in the hie & holie place: with him alſo that is of a contrite and humble ſpirit to reuiue the ſpirit of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I wil not contende for euer, nether wil I be alwaies wrath, [s] for ỹ ſpirit ſhulde faile before me: and I haue made the breathe.

17 For his wicked [t] couetouſnes I am angrie with him, & haue ſmitē him: I hid me & was angrie, yet he went awaie, & turned after the waie of his owne heart.

18 I haue ſene his waies, and wil [u] heale him: I wil leade him alſo, & reſtore cōfort vnto him, and to thoſe that lament him.

19 I creat the [x] frute of ỹ lippes to be peace: peace vnto them that are [y] farre of, and to them that are nere, ſaith the Lord: for I wil heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging ſea, that cā [z] not reſt, whoſe waters caſt vp myre and dirt.

21 There is no peace, ſaith my God, to the wicked.

a From ỹ plague that is at hand, & alſo becauſe God wil puniſh the wicked.

b The ſoule of the righteous ſhal be in ioye & their bodie ſhal reſt in ỹ graue vnto the time of ỹ reſurrection, becauſe thei walked before the Lord.

c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of ỹ name of Gods people derided Gods worde & his promſes: boaſting openly that thei were ỹ childrē of Abrahám, but becauſe they were not faithful & obedient as Abrahám was, he calleth thē baſtards, & the childrē of ſorcerers, whō forſoke God and fled to wicked meanes for ſuccour.

d Read Leui 18,21.2. King,23,10.

e Meaning, euerie place was polluted with their idolatrie: or euerie faire ſtone that they founde, thei made an idole of it.

f In the ſacrifices which you offring before theſe idoles, thoght you did ſerue God.

g To wit, thine altars, in an open place like an impudent harlot that careth not for the ſight of her houſband.

h In ſtead of ſetting vp the worde of God in the open places on the poſtes & dores to haue it in remembrance, Deut.6,9. & 27,1. thou haſt ſet vp figures and markes of thine idolatrie in euerie place.

i That is, dideſt increaſe thine idolatrie more and more.

k Thou dideſt ſeke the fauour of ỹ Aſsyrians by giftes and preſents, to helpe thee againſt ỹ Egyptians: & when thei failed, ỹ ſoughteſt to ỹ Babylonians & more and more dideſt torment thy ſelf.

l Although ỹ ſaweſt all thy labours to be in vaine, yet wouldeſt ỹ neuer acknowledge thy faute & leaue of.

m He derideth their vnprofitable diligēce ẅ thoght to haue made all ſure, & yet were deceiued.

n Broken promes with me.

o Meaning, ỹ ỹ wicked abuſe Gods lenitie & growe to farther wickednes.

p That is, thy naughtines, idolatries & impieties: which ỹ wicked call Gods ſervice: thus he derideth their obſtinacie.

q Meaning, ỹ Aſsyrians & other, whoſe helpe thei loked for.

r God ſhal ſay to Darius and Cyrus.

s I wil not vſe my power againſt fraile mā whoſe life is but a blaſt.

t That is, for ỹ vices & faultes of ỹ people, ẅ is ment here by couetouſnes.

u Though thei were obſtinat, yet I did not withdraw my mercie from them x That is, I frame ỹ ſpeache & wordes of my meſſengers ẅ ſhal bring peace.

y As wel to hī ỹ is in captiuitie as to him ỹ remaineth at home.

z Their euil conſcience doeth euer torment them, & therefore they cā neuer haue reſt, read Cha. 48,22.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods miniſters. 2 The workes of the hypocrites. 6 The fruit of the faithful. 13 Of the true Sabbath.

1 CRye ā [a] loud, ſpare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and ſhewe my people their tranſgreſsion, & to the houſe of Iaakób, their ſinnes.

2 Yet thei [b] ſeke me daily, & wil knowe my waies, euen as a nacion that did righte-

b They wil ſeme to worſhip me and haue outward holines.

Chap. LVIII.

a The Lord thus ſpeaketh to ỹ Prophet, willing him to vſe all diligence & ſeueritie to rebuke the hypocrites.

ouſly, and had not forſaken the ſtatutes of their God: thei aſke of me the ordinances of iuſtice: they wil drawe nere vnto God, ſaying,

3 [c] Wherefore haue we faſted, & thou ſeeſt it not? we haue puniſhed our ſelues, & thou regardeſt it not. Beholde, in ỹ day of your faſt you wil ſeke [d] your wil, and require all your dettes.

4 Beholde, ye faſt to ſtrife and debate, and to ſmite with the fiſt of wickednes: ye ſhal not faſt as ye do to day, to make your voyce [e] heard aboue.

5 Is it ſuche a faſt, that I haue choſen that a man ſhulde afflict his ſoule for a day, & to bowe downe his head, as a bulle ruſh, and to lie downe in ſackecloth and aſhes? wilt thou call this a faſting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this ỹ faſting, that I haue choſen, to looſe the bands of wickednes, to take of the heauy burdens, & to let the oppreſſed go free, and that ye breake euery [f] yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, & that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine houſe? when thou ſeeſt the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy ſelf from [g] thine owne fleſh?

8 Then ſhal thy [h] light breake forthe as the morning, and thine health ſhal growe ſpedely: thy [i] righteouſnes ſhal go before thee, and the glorie of the Lord ſhal embrace thee.

9 Then ſhalt thou call, and the Lord ſhal anſwer: thou ſhalt crye and he ſhal ſay, Here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forthe of the [k] finger, and wicked ſpeaking:

10 If thou [l] powre out thy ſoule to the hungry, & refreſh the troubled ſoule: then ſhal thy light ſpring out in the [m] darkenes, and thy darkenes ſhalbe as the none day.

11 And the Lord ſhal guide thee cõtinually, and ſatiſfie thy ſoule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou ſhalt be like a watred garden, and like a ſpring of water, whoſe waters faile not.

12 And they ſhalbe of thee, that ſhal buylde the olde [n] waſte places: thou ſhalt raiſe vp the fundacions for manie generacions, & ỹ ſhalt be called the repairer of ỹ breache & the reſtorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou [o] turne away thy fote from the Sabbath, from doing thy wil on mine holy day, & call the Sabbath a delite, to conſecrat it, as glorious to the Lord, and ſhalt honour him, not doing thine owne waies, nor ſeking thine owne wil, nor ſpeaking a vaine worde,

14 Then ſhalt thou delite in the Lord, and I wil cauſe thee to mounte vpon the hie places of the earth, and fede thee with the heritage of Iaakób thy father. for ỹ mouth of the Lord hathe ſpoken it.

c He ſetteth forthe the malice and diſdaine of ỹ hypocrites, wherin they grudge againſt God, if their workes be not accepted

d Thus he cõmaundeth the hypocrites by the ſecõde table & by their ductie toward their neighbor, that thei haue not ier faith nor religion

e So long as you vſe contẽcion & oppreſſion, your faſting & prayer ſhal not be hard.

f That you leaue of all your extorſions.

g For in him thou ſeeſt thy ſelf as in a glaſſe

h That is, the proſperous eſtate, wherewith God wil bleſſe thee.

i The teſtimonie of thy goodnes ſhal appeare before God & mã.

k Whereby is mẽt all maner of iniurie.

l That is, haue compaſsiõ on their miſeries.

m Thine aduerſitie ſhalbe turned into proſperitie.

n Signifying ỹ of the Iewes ſhulde come ſuche, as ſhuld buylde againe ỹ ruines of Ieruſalem & Iudea but chiefly this is ment of the ſpirituall Ieruſalém: whoſe buylders were the Apoſtles.

o If thou refraine thy ſelf from thy wicked workes.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked periſh through their owne iniquities. 12 The confeſſion of ſinnes. 16 God alone wil preſerue his Church, though all men faile.

1 BEholde,* the Lords hand is not ſhortened, that it can not ſaue: nether is his eare heauy, that it can not heare.

*Nomb 11,23. chap.50,2.

2 But * your iniquities haue ſeparated betwene you and your God, and your ſinnes haue hid his face from you, that he wil not heare.

*Iere.5,25.

3 For your hands are defiled with [a] blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lippes haue ſpoken lies & your tongue hathe murmured iniquitie.

a Read Chap. 1,15

4 No man calleth for iuſtice: no man [b] contendeth for trueth: they truſt in vanitie, & ſpeake vaine things: thei cõceiue miſchief, and [c] bring forthe iniquitie.

b All mẽ wike at the iniuries & oppreſsions, & none go about to remedie them

c According to their wicked deuiſes, they hurt their neighbours.

5 They hatche cockatrice [d] egges, & weaue the ſpiders [e] webbe: he that eateth of their egges, dyeth, and that which is trod vpon, breaketh out into a ſerpent.

d Whatſoeuer cometh from thẽ, is poyſon and bringeth death

e Thei are profitable to no purpoſe.

6 Their webbes ſhalbe no garment, nether ſhal they couer them ſelues with their labours: for their workes are workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie is in their hands.

7 Their fete runne to euil, and they make haſte to ſhed innocẽt blood: their thoghts are wicked thoghts: deſolacion & deſtruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they knowe not, and there is none equitie in their goings: thei haue made them croked paths: whoſoeuer goeth therein, ſhal not knowe peace.

9 Therefore is [f] iudgement farre from vs, nether doeth [g] iuſtice come nere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it is darkenes, for brightnes: but we walke in darkenes.

f That is, Gods vengeãce to punish our enemies.

g Gods protectiõ to defẽd vs

10 We grope for the wall like the [h] blinde, and we grope as onẽ without eyes: we ſtõble at the none day as in the twilight: we are in ſolitarie places, as dead men.

h We are altogether deſtitute of counſel and can finde no end of our miſeries 11 We roare all like [i] beares, and mourne like doues: we loke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

i We expreſſe our ſorowes by outwarde ſignes, ſome more ſome leſſe

12 For our treſpaces are manie before thee, and our [k] ſinnes teſtifie againſt vs: for our treſpaces are with vs, and we knowe our iniquities k This confeſſion is general to the Church to obteine remiſsiõ of ſinnes, & the Prophetes did not exempt them ſelues frõ the ſame.

13 In treſpacing & lying againſt the Lord, and we haue departed away frõ our God, & haue ſpoken of crueltie and rebellion, concerning and vttering out of the heart falſe [l] matters.

l To wit, againſt our neighbours.

14 Therefore [m] iudgement is turned backeward, and iuſtice ſtandeth farre of: for trueth is fallen in the ſtrete, and equitie can not enter.

m There is nether iuſtice nor vprightnes among men

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refraineth from euil, maketh him ſelf [n] a pray; and n The wicked wil deſtroye him.

o Meaning, to do iuſtice & to remedie the things ỹ were ſo irre out of order

p That is, his Church or his arme did helpe it ſelf, and did not ſeke aide of any other q Signifying ỹ God hathe diuerſe meanes at hãd to deliuer his Church, and to puniſh their enemies.

r Towrs, your enemies, ẅ dwel in diuers places, and beyonde the ſea ſ He ſheweth ỹ there ſhalbe great afflictiõ in ỹ Church, but God wil euer deliuer his t Whereby he declareth that the true deliuerance from ſinne & Satan belongeth to more, but to ỹ children of God, whome he iuſtifieth u Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the Spirit, he ioyneth the one with ỹ other, and promiſeth to giue them bothe to his Church for euer

Chap LX

a The time of thy proſperitie and felicitie where as ſpeaking of Babylon he cõmãded her to go downe, Chap 47,1 b Signifying, ỹ all men are in darkenes til God giue thẽ the light of his Spirit, and that this light ſhineth to none but to thoſe that are in his Church

c Meaning, ỹ Iudea ſhulde be as the morning ſtarre & ỹ the Gẽtiles ſhulde receiue light of her d An infinite nomber from all countreis, as Chap 49,18.

e For ioye, as ỹ heart is drawen in for ſorowe

f Meaning, ỹ euery one ſhal honour ỹ Lord with that, wherewith he is able ſignifyig that it is no true ſeruig of God, except we offer our ſelues to ſerue his glorie, & all that we haue

g That is, the Arabians ỹ haue great abundance of cattel

h Becauſe the altar was a figure of Chriſt, Ebr 13,10 he ſheweth that nothing can be acceptable to him, which is not offred to him by this altar, who was bothe the offring and the altar alſo.

when the Lord ſawe it, it diſpleaſed him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when he ſaw that there was no mã, he wondred that none wolde offer him ſelf. o Therefore his arme did p ſaue it, & his righteouſnes it ſelf did ſuſteine it.

17 For he put on righteouſnes, as an habergeon, and an q helmet of ſaluacion vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, & was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompence, as to requite the furie of the aduerſaries with a recompence to his enemies: he wil fully repaire the r ylands.

19 So ſhal they feare the Name of the Lord from the Weſt, and his glorie from the riſing of the ſunne: for the enemie ſhal ſcome like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord ſhal chaſe him away.

20 And the Redemer ſhal come vnto Zión, and vnto t them that turne from iniquitie in Iaakób, ſaith the Lord.

21 And I wil make this my couenant with them, ſaith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, & my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, u ſhal not departe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy ſede, nor out of the mouth of the ſede of thy ſede, ſaith the Lord, from hence forthe euen for euer

CHAP. LX.

3 The Gentiles ſhal come to the knowledge of the Goſpel. 8 They ſhal come to the Church in abundance. 16 They ſhal haue abundance, thogh they ſuffer for a time.

1 A Riſe, ó Ieruſalém: be bright, for thy a light is come, & the glorie of the Lord is riſen vpon thee.

2 For beholde, darkenes ſhal couer ỹ b earth, and groſſe darkenes the people: but the Lord ſhal ariſe vpon thee, and his glorie ſhalbe ſene vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles ſhal walke in c thy light, & Kings at ỹ brightnes of thy riſing vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about, & beholde: all d theſe are gathered, & come to thee: thy ſonnes ſhal come from farre, and thy daughters ſhalbe nouriſhed at thy ſide.

5 Then thou ſhalt ſe and ſhine: thine heart ſhalbe aſtonied e & enlarged, becauſe the multitude of the ſea ſhalbe conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles ſhal come vnto thee.

6 The f multitude of camels ſhal couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midián & of Ephâh: all they of Shebá ſhal come: they ſhal bring golde & incenſe, and ſhewe forthe the praiſes of the Lord.

7 All the ſhepe g of Kedár ſhalbe gathered vnto thee: ỹ rams of Nebaióth ſhal ſerue thee: they ſhal come vp to be accepted vpon mine h altar: and I wil beautifie the houſe of my glorie.

8 Who are theſe i that flee like a cloude, & as the doues to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles ſhal waite for me, and the ſhippes k of Tarſhiſh, as at the beginning ỹ they may bring thy ſonnes from farre, & their ſiluer, and their golde with thẽ, vnto the Name of the Lord thy God, & to the holy one of Iſraél, becauſe he hathe glorified thee.

10 And the ſonnes of ſtrangers ſhal buylde vp thy walles, and their l Kings ſhal miniſter vnto thee: for in my wrath I ſmote thee, but in my mercie I had compaſſion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates ſhal be open continually: nether day nor night ſhal they be ſhut that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be broght.

12 For the nacion and the m king dome, that wil not ſerue thee, ſhal periſh. & thoſe nacions ſhalbe vtterly deſtroyed.

13 The n glorie of Lebanón ſhal come vnto thee, ỹ fyre tre, the elme & ỹ boxe tre together, to beautifie ỹ place of my Sanctuarie: for I wil glorifie the place of my o fete

14 The ſonnes alſo of them that afflicted thee, ſhal come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that deſpiſed thee, ſhal fall p downe at the ſoles of thy fete: and they ſhal call thee, The citie of the Lord, Zión of the holy one of Iſraél.

15 Where as thou haſt bene forſaken & hated: ſo that no man went by thee, I wil make thee an eternal glorie, and a ioye from generacion to generacion.

16 Thou ſhalt alſo ſucke the milke of the Gentiles, and ſhalt ſucke the q breaſts of Kings: and ỹ ſhalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Sauiour, & thy Redemer, ỹ mightie one of Iaakób.

17 For braſſe wil I bring golde, & for yron wil I bring ſiluer, & for wood braſſe, & for ſtones yrõ. I wil alſo make thy gouernemẽt r peace, & thine exactours righteouſnes.

18 Violence ſhal no more be heard of in thy land, nether deſolacion, nor deſtruction within thy borders: but thou ſhalt call ſ ſaluacion, thy walles, and praiſe, thy gates.

19 Thou ſhalt haue no more ſonne to ſhine by day, nether ſhal the brightnes of the t moone ſhine vnto thee: for the Lord ſhalbe thine euerlaſting light, and thy God, thy glorie.

20 Thy ſunne ſhal neuer go downe, nether ſhal thy moone be hid. for the Lord ſhal be thine euerlaſting light, & the dates of thy ſorowe ſhalbe ended.

21 Thy people alſo ſhalbe all righteous: they ſhal poſſeſſe the land for euer, the u grafte of my planting ſhalbe the worke of mine hãds, i Shewing what great nõber ſhal come to the Church & with what great diligẽce and zele.

k The Gẽtiles that are now enemies, ſhal become frieds & ſeruitors for the of the Church

l Meaning, Cyrus and his ſucceſſors but chiefly this is accõpliſhed in them that ſerue Chriſt being cõuerted by his Goſpel.

m He ſheweth ỹ God hathe giuẽ all power & authoritie here in earth for the vſe of his Church: and that they which wil not ſerue and profit ỹ ſame, ſh. be deſtroied.

n There is nothing ſo excellent which ſhal not ſerue the neceſſitie of ỹ Church.

o Signifying, that Gods maieſtie is not included in ỹ temple, ẅ is but the place for his fete, ỹ we may learne to raiſe vp to ỹ heauens.

p To worſhip their head Chriſt by obeyig his doctrine

q Bothe hie and lowe ſhal be redie to helpe and ſuccour thee

r Thy gouernours ſhal loue thee and ſuche ly wealth and proſperitie

ſ Meaning, not a temporal felicitie, but a ſpirituall, ẅ is fulfilled in Chriſts kingdome

t Signifying that all worldiche meanes ſhal ceaſe, & that Chriſt ſhalbe all in all, as Reuel 21,22 & 22,5.

u The children of the Church hands, that I maie be glorified.

x Meaning, ỹ ỹ Church ſhuld be be miraculouſly multiplied

22 A litle one ſhal become as a [x] thouſand, & a ſmale one as a ſtrong nation: I the Lord wil haſten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

1 He prophecyeth that Chriſt ſhalbe anointed and ſent to preache. 10 The ioye of the faithful.

Luk 4,18. a This appertaineth to all the Prophetes and miniſters of God, but chiefly to Chriſt, of whoſe abundãt graces euerie one receiueth according as it pleaſeth him to diſtribute. b To them that are liuely touched with the feeling of their ſinnes c Which are in the bondage of ſinne d The time when it pleaſed God to ſhewe his good fauour to man, which S Paul calleth the fulnes of time, Gal 4,4 e For when God deliuereth his Church, he puniſheth his enemies f Which was the ſigne of mourning g Trees that bring forthe good frutes, as Mat 3,8 h That is, for a long time i Thei ſhalbe readie to ſerue you in all your neceſsities k This is accõpliſhed in the time of Chriſt, by whome all ỹ faithful are made Prieſts and Kings, 1 Pet 2,9, reuel 1,6, & 5,10. l Read Chap. 60,16, & chap. 60,11 m Abundãt recompence, as this worde is vſed, Chap 40,2 n That is, the Iewes. o To wit, of the Gentiles p Where as the Gentiles had dominion ouer ỹ Iewes in times paſt, now they ſhal haue double autoritie ouer them and poſſeſſe ſo twiſe ſo much

1 THe *Spirit of the Lord God is [a] vpon me, therefore hathe the Lord anointed me: he hathe ſent me to preache good tidings vnto the poore, to binde vp the [b] broken hearted, to preache libertie to the [c] captiues, and to them that are bounde, the
2 opening of the priſon,
To preache the [d] acceptable yere of the Lord, and the daie of [e] vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,
3 To appoint vnto thẽ that mourne in Zión, & to giue vnto thẽ beautie for [f] aſhes, the oyle of ioye for mourning, the garmẽt of gladnes for the ſpirit of heauines, that thei might be called [g] trees of righteouſnes, the planting of ỹ Lord, that he might be glorified.
4 And thei ſhal buylde the olde waſte places, & raiſe vp the former deſolations, & thei ſhal repaire the cities ỹ were deſolate and waſte through manie [h] generations.
5 And the ſtrangers ſhal [i] ſtande and fede your ſhepe, & the ſonnes of the ſtrangers ſhalbe your plowe men & dreſſers of your vines.
6 But ye ſhalbe named [k] the Prieſts of the Lord, & men ſhal saie vnto you, The miniſters of our God, Ye ſhal eat the [l] riches of the Gentiles, and ſhalbe exalted with their glorie.
7 For your ſhame you ſhal receiue [m] double, and for confuſion [n] they ſhal reioyce in [o] their porcion: for in their land thei ſhal poſſeſſe the [p] double: euerlaſting ioye ſhalbe vnto them.
8 For I the Lord loue iudgement & hate [q] robberie for burnt offring, and I wil direct their worke in trueth, and wil make an euerlaſting couenant with them.
9 And [r] their ſede ſhal be knowen among ỹ Gentiles, & their buddes among the people. All that ſe thẽ, ſhal knowe them, ỹ thei are the ſede which the Lord hathe bleſſed.
10 [ſ] I wil greatly reioyce in the Lord, and my ſoule ſhalbe ioyful in my God: for he hathe clothed me with the garments of ſaluacion, and couered me with the robe of righteouſnes: he hathe decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride tireth her ſelf with her iewels.
11 For as the earth bringeth forthe her budde, & as the garden cauſeth to growe that which is ſowen in it: ſo the Lord God wil cauſe righteouſnes to growe & praiſe before all the heathen.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The great deſire that the Prophetes haue had for Chriſts comming. 6 The diligence of the Paſtors to preache.

1 FOr Zions ſake I wil not [a] holde my tongue, and for Ieruſalems ſake I wil not reſt, vntil the righteouſnes thereof breake forthe as the [b] light, and ſaluacion thereof as a burning lampe.
2 And the Gentiles ſhal ſe thy righteouſnes, and all Kings thy glorie: and thou ſhalt be called by [c] a newe name, which ỹ mouth of the Lord ſhal Name.
3 Thou ſhalt alſo be a [d] crowne of glorie in the hand of the Lord, & a royal diademe in the hand of thy God.
4 It ſhal no more be ſaid vnto thee, [e] Forſaken, nether ſhal it be ſaid any more to thy lãd, Deſolate, but ỹ ſhalt be called [ɑ] Hephzi-báh, and thy land [β] Beuláh: for the Lord deliteth in thee, and thy land ſhal haue an [f] houſband.
5 For as a yong man marieth a virgine, ſo ſhal thy ſonnes [g] mary thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of the bride, ſo ſhal thy God reioyce ouer thee.
6 I haue ſet [h] watche men vpõ thy walles, ô Ieruſalém, which all the daie and all the night continually ſhal not ceaſe: [i] ye that are mindeful of the Lord, kepe not ſilence,
7 And giue him no reſt, til he repaire and vntil he ſet vp Ieruſalém the [k] praiſe of the worlde.
8 The Lord hathe ſworne by his right hãd & by his ſtrõg arme, Surely I wil no more giue thy corne to be meat for thine enemies, & ſurely the ſonnes of the ſtrangers ſhal not drinke thy wine, for the which thou haſt laboured.
9 But thei that haue gathered it, ſhal eat it, & praiſe the Lord, & the gatherers therof ſhal drinke it in the courts of my Sanctuarie.
10 [l] Go through, go through the gates: prepare you the waie for the people: caſt vp, caſt vp the waie, and gather out the ſtones & ſet vp a ſtandart for the people.
11 Beholde, the Lord hathe proclaimed vnto the ends of the worlde: [m] tel the daughter Zión, Beholde, thy Sauiour commeth: beholde, his wages [n] is with him, and his worke is before him.
12 And thei ſhal call thẽ, The holie people, the redemed of the Lord, and thou ſhalt be named, A [o] citie ſoght out & not forſaken.

a The Prophet ſaith that he wil neuer ceaſe to declare vnto the people ỹ good tydings of their deliuerance b Til they haue ful deliuerance: and this the Prophet ſpeaketh to ſtir courage all other miniſters to the ſetting forth of Gods mercies towarde his Church c Thou ſhalt haue a more excellent fame then thou haſt had hetherto. d He ſhal eſteme thee as dere & pꝛcious as a King doeth his crowne e Thou ſhalt nomore be cõtemned as a woman forſaken of her houſband [ɑ] Or, my delite ta ber [β] Or, married f That it may be replenished with children. g For aſmuche as thei confeſſe one faith & religion with thee, thei are in the ſame bond of marriage with thee: and thei are called the children of the Church, in aſmuch as Chriſt maketh her plentiful to bring forthe children vnto him. h Prophets, paſtors, and miniſters i He exhorteth the miniſters neuer to ceaſe to call vpon God by praier for the deliuerance of his Church and to teache others to do ỹ ſame k For the reſtauratiõ whereof all the worlde ſhal praiſe him l Signifying ỹ great nomber ỹ ſhulde come to the Church, & what meanes he wolde prepare for ỹ reſtitution of ỹ ſame, as Chap. 57,14 m Ye Prophets and miniſters ſhew ỹ people of this their deliuerance ẅ was chiefly ment of our ſaluatiõ by Chriſt, Zach. 9,9 mat. 21,5. n He ſhal haue all power to bring his purpoſe to paſſe, as Chap. 40,10 o That is, one ouer whome God hathe had a ſingular care to recouer her whẽ ſhe was loſt.

q I wil not receiue their offring, which are extorſioners, deceiuers, hypocrites, or that deprme me of my glorie r That is, of the Church. ſ He ſheweth what ſhalbe the affection, when they ſele this their deliuerance.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 God ſhal deſtroy his enemies for his Churches ſake. 7 Gods benefites towards his Church.

WHo is this that commeth a from Edóm, with red garments from Bozráh? he is glorious in his apparel and walketh in his great ſtrength: b I ſpeake in righteouſnes, & am mightie to ſaue.

c Wherefore is thine apparel red, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine preſſe?

I haue troden the wine preſſe alone, and of all people there was none with me: for I wil tread them in mine angre, & tread them vnder fote in my wrath, and their blood ſhalbe ſprincled vpon my garmentes, and I wil ſtaine all my raiment.

For the daie of vengeance is in mine heart, & the d yere of my redemed is come.

And I loked, & there was none to helpe, & I wondered that there was none to vpholde: therefore mine owne e arme helped me, and my wrath it ſelf ſuſteined me.

Therefore I wil treade downe the people in my wrath, and make them drunken f in mine indignatiō, & wil bring downe their ſtrength to the earth.

I wil g remembre the mercies of ỹ Lord & the praiſes of the Lord according vnto all that the Lord hathe giuen vs, and for the great goodnes towarde the houſe of Iſraél, which he hathe giuen them according to his tendre loue, and according to his great mercies.

For he ſaid, Surely thei are my h people, children that wil not lie: ſo he was their ſauiour.

In all their troubles he was i troubled, & the Angel k of his preſence ſaued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redemed them, and he bare them and caried them all waies continually.

But thei rebelled and vexed his holie Spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemie & he foght againſt them.

Then he l remembred the olde time of Moſés and his people, ſaying, Where is he that broght them vp out of the Sea with the m ſhepherd of his ſhepe? where is he ỹ put his holie Spirit within n him?

He led them by the right hand of Moſés with his owne glorious arme, deuiding the water before them, to make him ſelf an euerlaſting Name.

He led thē through the depe, as an o horſe in the wildernes, that thei ſhulde not ſtomble,

As the beaſt goeth downe into ỹ valley, the Spirit of the Lord gaue them reſt: ſo dideſt thou lead thy people, to make thy ſelf a glorious Name.

1 He bare their afflictiōs and griefs as though they had k Which was a witnes of Gods preſence and this may be referred to Chriſt, to whome belongeth the office of ſaluation

l That is, the people of Iſraél being afflicted, called to remembrance Gods benefites, which he had beſtowed vpon their fathers in times paſt m Meaning, Moſés n That is, in Moſés that he might wel gouerne the people? ſome referre this giuing of the Spirit to the people. o Peaceably and gently, as an horſe is led to his paſture.

P Loke downe from heauē, and beholde frō the dwelling place of thine holines, & of thy glorie. Where is thy q zeale and thy ſtrength, the multitude of thy mercies, & of thy compaſsions? they are reſtrained from r me.

Doutles ỹ art our Father: though s Abrahám be ignorant of vs, and Iſraél knowe vs not, yet thou, ô Lord, art our Father, and our redemer: thy Name is for euer.

O Lord, why haſt t thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy u ſeruants ſake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

The people of thine holines haue poſſeſſed it, but a litle x while: for our aduerſaries haue troden downe thy Sanctuarie.

We haue bene as they, ouer whome ỹ neuer bareſt rule, and vpon whome thy Name was not called.

p Hauing declared Gods benefites ſhewed to their forefathers, he turneth him ſelf to God by prayer, deſiring hi to continue the ſame graces toward them

q Thy great affectiō which thou bareſt towards vs

r Meaniṅ frō ỹ whole bodie of the Church

s Though Abrahám wolde refuſe vs to be his childrē, yet ỹ wil not refuſe to be our father.

t By taking away thy holie Spirit from vs, by whome we were gouerned, and ſo for our ingratitude dideſt deliuer vs vp to our owne cōcupiſcence, & dideſt puniſh ſinne by ſinne according to thy iuſte iudgemēt u Meaning, for the couenants ſake made to Abrahám, Izhák & Iaakób his ſeruants x That is, in reſpect of the promes, which is perpetual albeit thei had now poſſeſſed the land of Canáā, a thouſand, & foure hundreth yere and thus they lamen, to moue God rather to remember his couenant then to puniſh their ſinnes.

CHAP LXIIII.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the ſinnes of the people. 6 Mās righteouſnes is like a filthy cloth.

OH, that thou woldeſt a breake the heauens, & come downe, and that ỹ mountaines might melt at thy preſence!

As ỹ melting fyre burned, as the fyre cauſed b the waters to boile, (that thou mighteſt declare thy Name to thy aduerſaries) the people did tremble at thy preſence.

When thou dideſt terrible things, which we looked not for, thou cameſt downe, & the mountaines melted at thy preſence.

For ſince the beginning of the worlde they haue not c heard nor vnderſtand with the eare, nether hathe the eye ſene another God beſide thee, which doeth ſo to him that waiteth for him.

Thou dideſt mete him, d that reioyced in thee, and did iuſtely: they remēbred thee in thy e wayes: beholde, thou art angrie, for we haue ſinned: yet in f them is continuance, and we g ſhal be ſaued.

But we haue all bene as an vncleane thig & all our h righteouſnes is as filthy cloutes, and we all do fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, nether that ſtireth vp him ſelf to take holde of thee: for thou haſt hid thy face from vs, and haſt conſumed vs becauſe of our iniquities.

But now, ô Lord, thou art our Father: we are the i claye, and thou art our potter, & we all are the worke of thy hāde.

a The Prophet continueth his prayer, deſiring God to declare his loue toward his Church by miracles, and mightie power as he did in mount Sinái

b Meaning, ỹ flame, haile, fyre, thūder, & lightenings

c S Paul vſeth the ſame kinde of admiration, 1 Cor 2. 9, marueling at Gods great benefites ſhewed to his Church by the teaching of the Goſpel

d Thou ſhewedſt Gods iudgemēts, & ſtirredſt vp their hartes to thy ſeruice

e Thou hideſt the waies of the Lord

f Thou art, in thy mercie, w he calleth the waies of the Lord

g Thou wilt haue pitie vpō vs

h We are iuſtely puniſhed & brought into captiuitie, becauſe we haue prouoked thee to angre, and though we wolde excuſe our ſelues, yet our righteouſnes, & beſt vertues are before thee as vile cloutes, or, (as ſome read) like the menſtruous clothes of a woman i Albeit, o Lord, by thy iuſte iudgement thou maiſt vtterly deſtroye vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hathe pleaſed thee to adopt vs to be thy children.

we all are the worke of thine hands.

9 Be not angrie, ô Lord, [k] aboue measure, ne ther remẽber iniquitie for euer: lo, we beseeche thee beholde, we are all thy people.

10 [l] Thine holie cities lye waste: Zión is a wildernes, & Ierusalém a desert.

11 The House of our Sanctuarie & of our glorie, [m] where our fathers praised thee, is burnt vp with fyre, and all our pleasant things are wasted.

12 Wilt thou holde thy self stil [n] at these things, ô Lord? wilt thou holde thy peace and afflict vs aboue measure?

CHAP. LXV.

1 The Vocation of the Gentiles and the reiection of the Iewes. 13 The ioy of the elect and the punishment of the wicked.

I Haue bene soght of them that [a] asked not: I was founde of them that soght me not: I said, Beholde me, beholde me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue [b] spred out mine hands all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, euen after their owne [c] imaginacions:

3 A people that prouoked me euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in [d] gardens, and burneth incense vpon [e] brickes.

4 Which remaine among the [f] graues, and lodge in the deserts, which eat [g] swines flesh, and the broth of things pollured are in their vessels.

5 Which say, [h] Stand aparte, come not nere to me: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath & a fyre that [i] burneth all the day.

6 Beholde, it is [k] writen before me: I wil not kepe silence, but wil rendre it and recompense it into their bosome.

7 Your iniquities & the iniquities of your fathers shalbe [l] together (saith the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, and blasphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore wil I measure their olde worke into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is foũde in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a [m] blessing is in it, so wil I do for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

9 But I wil bring a sede out of Iaakób, & out of Iudáh, that shal enherit my mountaine: and mine elect shal inherit it, & my seruants shal dwell there.

10 And Sharón [n] shalbe a shepe folde, and the valley of Achór shalbe a resting place for the cattel of my people, that haue soght me.

11 But ye are thei that haue forsaken the Lord and forgotten mine holie Mountaine, & haue prepared a table for the [o] multitude, & furnish the drinke offrings vnto the nomber.

12 Therefore wil I [p] nomber you to the sworde, and all you shal bowe downe to ỹ slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answer: I [q] spake, & ye heard not, but did euil in my sight and did chuse that thing which I wolde not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, my seruants shal [r] eat, & ye shal be hungrie: beholde, my seruants shal drinke, and ye shal be thirstie: beholde, my seruãtes shal reioyce, and ye shalbe ashamed.

14 Beholde, my seruants shal sing for ioye of heart, and ye shal crye for sorowe of heart, & shal howle for vexation of minde.

15 And ye shal leaue your name as a curse vnto my [s] chosen: for the Lord God shal slaie you and call his seruants by [t] another name.

16 He that shal blesse in the [u] earth, shal blesse him self in the true God, and he that sweareth in the earth, shal sweare by the true God: for the former [x] troubles are forgotten, and shal surely hide them selues from mine eyes.

17 For lo, I wil creat [y] newe heauens and a newe earth: and the former shal not be remembred nor come into minde.

18 But be you glad & reioyce for euer in ỹ things that I shal creat: for beholde, I wil creat Ierusalém as a reioycing & her people as a ioye,

19 And I wil reioyce in Ierusalém, & ioye in my people, and the voice of weping shalbe no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shalbe no more there a childe of yeres, nor an olde man that hathe [z] not filled his dares: for he that shalbe an hũdreth yeres olde, shal dye as a yong man: but the sinner being [a] an hũdreth yeres olde shalbe accursed.

21 And thei shal [b] buylde houses and inhabit them, and thei shal plant vineyardes, and eat the frute of them.

22 Thei shal not buylde, and another inhabit: thei shal not plant, and another eat: for as the daies of the tre are the daies of my people, and mine elect shal inioye in olde age the worke of their hands.

23 Thei shal not labour in vaine, nor bring forthe in feare: for thei are the sede of the blessed of ỹ Lord, & their buddes with thé.

24 Yea, before thei call, I wil answer, & whiles thei speake, I wil heare.

25 The [c] wolfe & the lambe shal fede together, and the lion shal eat strawe like the

---

a Meaning, the Gentiles which knew not God, shulde seke after him when he had moued their hearts with his holy Spirit, Rom. 10,20

b He sheweth the cause of the reiection of the Iewes, because they wolde not obey him for anie admonitiõ of his Prophetes, by whome he called them continually & stretched out his hand to drawe them

c He sheweth that to delite in our owne fantasies is the declining from God & the begynning of all superstition & idolatrie

d Which were dedicat to idoles

e Meanig their altars, ẅ he thus nameth by contempt

f To consulte ẅ spirites & to coniure deuils ẅ was forbidde, Deut. 18,11.

g Which was contrarie to Gods commandement, Leu. 11,7 deut 14,8.

h He sheweth that hypocrisie is euer ioyned with pride & contempt of others

i Their punishement shal neuer haue end

k So that ỹ remẽbrance thereof can not be forgotten

l Shalbe bothe punished togeather: and this declareth how the children are punished for their fathers fautes: to wit, when the same fautes or like are founde in them

m That is it is profitable meaning, that God wil not destroy the faithful branches of his vineyard when he destroieth the rotten stockes, that is the hypocrites

n Which was a plentiful place in Iudea to fede shepe, as Achór was for cattel

o By the multitude & nomber he meaneth their innumerable idoles, of whome they thoght they colde neuer haue ynough.

p Seing you cã not nomber your gods, I wil nomber you with the sworde q By my Prophetes, whome ye wolde not obey.

r By these wordes, Eat & drinke, he meaneth the blessed life of the faithful, ẅ haue alwaies consolacion, & ful contentement of all things in their God, thogh some times they lacke these corporal things.

s Meaning, ỹ he wolde call the Gentiles, who shulde abhorre, euen the very name of the Iewes for their infidelities sake t Then by the name of the Iewes.

u By blessing & by swearig, is ment the praising of God for his benefites, and the true worshipig of him, which shal not be onely in Iudea, but through all the worlde.

x I wil no more suffer my Church to be desolate as in times past y I wil so alter and change the state of my Church, that it shal seme to dwel in a newe worlde.

z Meaning, in this wonderful restauracio of the Church there shulde be no tokenes of youth, nor infirmities of age, but all shulde be fresh, and florishing & this is accoplished in the heauenlie Ierusalém, when all sines shal cease and the teares shalbe wiped away.

a Whereby he sheweth that the infideles and vnrepentant sinners haue no parte of this benediciõ b He proposeth to the faithful the blessings which are contemned in the Law, and so vnder temporal things comprehendeth the spiritual promises. c Read Chap 11,6 bullocke: and to the serpent dust shall be his meat. Thei shal no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holie Mountaine, saith ỹ Lord.

CHAP. LXVI.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made with hands. 3 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercie and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 19 The vocation of the Gentiles 23 The perpetual Sabbath 24 The punishment of the wicked is euerlasting.

1 THus saith the Lord, The a heauen is my throne, and the earth is my footestole: where is ỹ house that ye wil buylde vnto me? & where is that place of my rest? 2 For all these things hathe mine hād made, b & all these things haue bene, saith the Lord: & to him wil I loke, euen to him, that is poore, and of c a contrite spirit and trembleth at my wordes.

3 He that killeth a bullocke, is as if he d slew a man: he that sacrificeth a shepe, as if he cutte of a dogges necke: he that offreth an oblation, as if he offred swines blood: he ỹ remēbreth incense, as if he blessed an idole: yea, thei haue chosē their owne waies, & their soule delyteth in their abominaciōs.

4 Therefore wil I e chuse out their delusiōs, & I wil bring their feare vpon thē, becausе I called, & none wolde answer: I spake and they wolde not heare: but they did euil in my sight, & chose ỹ things ẅ I wolde not.

5 Heare the worde of the Lord, all ye that tremble at his f worde, Your brethren that hated you, & cast you out for my Names sake, said, Let the Lord be glorified: but he shal appeare to your ioye, and thei shal be ashamed.

6 g A voyce soundeth from the citie, euen a voyce from the Temple, the voyce of the Lord, that recōpenceth his enemies fully.

7 Before h she trauailed, she broght forthe: and before her peine came, she was deliuered of a man childe.

8 Who hathe heard such a thing? who hathe sene suche things? shal the earth be broght forthe in one i day? or shal a nation be borne at once? for assone as Zion trauailed, she broght forthe her children.

9 Shal I k cause to trauaile, and not bring forthe? shal I cause to brīg forthe & shalbe baren, saith thy God?

10 Reioyce ye with Ierusalém, and be glad with her, all ye that loue her: reioyce for ioye with her, all ye that mourne for her,

11 That ye may sucke l & be satisfied with the breasts of her cōsolation: that ye may milke out & be delited with the brightnes of her glorie.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil extend m peace ouer her like a flood & the glorie of ỹ n Gentiles like a flowing streame: then shal ye sucke, ye shal be o borne vpō her sides, and be ioyful vpō her knees.

13 As one whome his mother comforteth, so wil I comforte you, and ye shalbe comforted in Ierusalém.

14 And when ye se this, your heart shal reioyce, and your p bones shal florish like an herbe: and the hand of the Lord shal be knowen among his seruants, and his indignacion against his enemies.

15 For beholde, ỹ Lord wil come with fyre, & his charets like a whirlewinde, that he may q recōpence his angre with wrath, & his indignacion with the flame of fyre.

16 For the Lord wil iudge with fyre, and ẅ his sworde all flesh, & the slaine of ỹ Lord shalbe manie.

17 They that sanctifie r thē selues, & purifie them selues in the gardens behinde one tre in ỹ middes eating f swines flesh, & suche abominacion, euen the mouse, shalbe consumed togethei, saith the Lord.

18 For I wil visit their workes, and their imaginations. for it shal come that I wil gather all nations, and tongues, and thei shal come, and se my t glorie.

19 And I wil set a u signe amōg thē, & wil send those that x escape of them, vnto the nacions of y Tarshish, z Pul, and a Lud, & to them that drawe the b bowe, to c Tubal and d Iauán, yles a farre of, that haue not heard my fame, nether haue sene my glorie, & e thei shal declare my glorie among the Gentiles.

20 And they shal bring all your f brethren for an offring vnto the Lord out of all nations, vpon g horses, and in charets, and in horse litters, & vpō mules, & swift beasts, to Ierusalé mine holie Moūtaine, saith the Lord, as the children of Israél, offer in a cleane vessel in the House of the Lord.

21 And I wil take of them for h Priests, and for Leuites, saith the Lord.

22 For as ỹ newe i heauēs, & the newe earth which I wil make, shal remaine before me, saith the Lord, so shal your sede and your name continue.

23 And from moneth to moneth, and from Sabbath to Sabbath shal all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord.

24 And they shal go forthe, and loke vpon the k carkeises of the men that haue transgressed against me: for their l worme shal not dye, nether shal their fyre be quēched, & thei shalbe an abhorrīg m vnto all flesh.

Act 7.48.
a My maiestie is so great ỹ it filleth bothe heauē & earth, & therefore cā not be included in a temple like an idole cōdemning hereby their vaine confidence, ẅ trusted in the Temple & sacrifices
b Seing that bothe the Temple & ỹ things therein ẅ the sacrifices were made & done by his appointment, he sheweth that he hathe no nede thereof, & that he can be without thē Psal 50.10 c To him that is humble and pure in heart, which receiueth my doctrine with reuerence & feare.
d Because the Iewes thoght thē selues holy by offring of their sacrifices, and in the meane season had nether faith nor repētance, God sheweth that he doeth no lesse detest these ceremonies, then he doeth the sacrifices of the heathen whooffred mē, doggs & swine to their idoles which things were expresselly forbidden in the Law
e I wil discouer their wickednes & hypocrisie, wherewith thei thinke to blinde mine eies, to all the worlde
f He incourageth ỹ faithful by promising to destroy their enemies which pretended to be as brethren, but were hypocrites and hated them that feared God
g The enemies shal shortely heare a more terrible voyce, euen fyre and slaughter, seing thei wolde not heare the gentle voyce of the Prophets which called them to repentance
h Meaning, that the restauration of the Church shulde be so suddē & contrarie to all mens opinion as when a woman is delivered before she loke for it, and that without peine in trauail.
i This shal passe the capacitie of man to se suche a multitude that shal come vp at once, meaning vnder the preaching of the Gospel, whereof thei that came vp out of Babylon, were a figure k Declaring hereby, that as by his power, & prouidence woman trauaileth & is delivered so hathe he power to bring forth his Church at his time appointed l That ye may reioyce for all ỹ benefites that God bestoweth vpon his Church.
m I wil giue her felicitie, & prosperitie in great abundāce.
n Read Ch. 60.16
o Ye shalbe cherished, as her derelite beloued children
p Ye shal haue newe strength and newe beautie q This vēgeāce God began to execute at ỹ destruction of Babylon, and hathe euer cōtinued against the enemies of his Church, & wil do til the last day, which shalbe the accōplishement thereof
r Meaning, the hypocrites
f Whereby are ment them that did maliciously transgresse ỹ Law, by eating beasts forbidden, cuē to the mouse which abhorreth nature
t The Gētiles shalbe partakers of that glorie, which before I shewed to the Iewes u I wil marke these ỹ I chuse that they perish not with the rest of the infideles whereby he alludeth to ỹ marking of the postes of his people, whome he preserued, Exod 12.7.
x I wil scatter the rest of the Iewes, which escape destruction, into diuers nations
y That is, Cilicia
z Meaning, Affrica.
a To wit, Lidia, or Asia minor b Signifying the Parthians.
c Italie
d Grecia.
e Meaning, ỹ Apostles, disciples, & others which he did first chuse of ỹ Iewes to preache vnto the Gentiles f That is, the Gentiles, ẅ by faith shalbe made the children of Abraham as you are g Whereby he meaneth ỹ no necessarie meanes shal want whē God shal call ỹ Gentiles to ỹ knowledge of the Gospel
h To wit, of ỹ Gētiles, as he did Luke, Timothie & Tite first, & others after to preache his worde.
i Hereby he signifieth ỹ kigdome of Christ wherein his Church shal be rened, & where as before there were appointed seasons to sacrifice in this there shalbe one continual Sabbath so ỹ all times and seasons shalbe mete.
k As he hathe declared ỹ felicitie that shalbe within ỹ Church for ỹ cōfort of the godlie, so doeth he shewe what horrible calamitie shal come to the wicked, ỹ are out of the Church
l Meaning, a cōtinual tormēt of conscience, ẅ shal euer gnawe them & neuer suffer them to be at rest, Mark 9.44.
m This is the iuste recompence for the wicked, which contemning God and his worde, shalbe by Gods iuste iudgemēt abhorred of all his creatures.

IEREMIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Prophet Ieremiáh borne in the citie of Anathóth in the countrey of Beniamín, was the ſonne of Hilkiáh, whome ſome thinke to be he that founde out the boke of the Lawe, and gaue it to Ioſiáh. This Prophet had excellent gifies of God, and moſte eudent reuelations of prophecie, ſo that by the commandement of the Lord he began very yong to prophecie, that is, in the thirtenth yere of Ioſiáh, and continued eyghtene yere vnder the ſaid King, and thre moneths vnder Iehoahás, and vnder Iehoiakím eleuen yeres, and thre moneths vnder Iehoiachín, and vnder Zedekiáh eleuen yeres: vnto the time that they were caryed away into Babylon. So that this time amonteth to aboue fourty yere, beſides the time that he prophecied after the captiuitie. In this boke he declareth with teares, and lamentation the deſtruction of Ieruſalém, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetouſnes, ſubtiltie, crueltie, exceſſe, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, and for the conſolacion of the Church, reueileth the iuſte time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be conſidered thre things. Firſt the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more ſtubberne and obſtinate, when the Prophetes do admoniſh them moſte plainely of their deſtruction. Next how the Prophetes and miniſters of God ought not to be diſcouraged in their vocatiõ, though they be perſecuted & rigorouſly handeled of the wicked for Gods cauſe. And thirdely, though God ſhewe his iuſte iudgemẽt againſt the wicked, yet wil he euer ſhewe him ſelf a preſeruer of his Church, and when all meanes ſeme to mans iudgement to be aboliſhed, thẽ wil he declare him ſelf victorious in preſeruing his.

CHAP. I.

2 In what time Ieremiáh prophecied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is ſtrengthened of the Lord. 11 The Lord ſheweth him the deſtruction of Ieruſalém. 17 He commandeth him to preache his worde without feare.

1 THE [a] wordes of Ieremiáh the ſonne of [b] Hilkiáh one of the Prieſts that were at [c] Anathóth in the land of Beniamín.

2 To whome the [d] worde of the Lord came in the daies of Ioſiáh the ſonne of Amón King of Iudáh in the thirtenth yere of his reigne:

3 And alſo in the daies of Iehoiakím the [e] ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh vnto the end of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiáh the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh, euen vnto the caryíng awaie of Ieruſalém captiue in the fift [f] moneth.

4 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſayíng,

5 Before I [g] formed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou cameſt out of the wombe, I ſanctified thee, & ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the [h] nations.

6 Then ſaid I, [i] Oh, Lord God, beholde, I can not ſpeake, for I am a childe.

7 But the Lord ſaid vnto me, Saie not, I am a childe: for thou ſhalt go to all that I ſhal ſend thee, and whatſoeuer I commande thee, ſhalt thou ſpeake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord.

9 Then the Lord ſtretched out his hand & [k] touched my mouth, and the Lord ſaid vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this daie haue I ſet thee ouer [l] natiõs and ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to deſtroy and throwe downe, to buylde, and to plant.

11 After this the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying, Ieremiáh, what ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid, I ſe a [m] rod of an almonde tre.

12 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, Thou haſt ſene aright: for I wil haſten my worde to performe it.

13 Againe the worde of the Lord came vnto me the ſeconde time, ſaying, What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaid, I ſe a ſeething [n] pot lokíng out of the North.

14 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, Out of the [o] North ſhal a plague be ſpred vpon all the inhabitans of the land.

15 For lo, I wil call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, ſaith the Lord, and thei ſhal come, and euerie one ſhal ſet his throne in the entring of the gates of Ieruſalém, and on all the walles thereof rounde about, and in all the cities of Iudáh.

16 And I wil declare vnto them my [p] iudgements touching all the wickednes of them that haue forſaken me, and haue burnt incenſe vnto other gods, and worſhiped the workes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore truſſe vp thy loynes, & ariſe & ſpeake vnto them all that I commande thee: be not afrayed of their faces, leſt I [q] deſtroye thee before them.

18 For I, beholde, I this day haue made thee a a That is, the ſermons and prophecies.

b Which is thoght to be he that founde the booke of the Law vnder King Ioſiáh, 2. King. 22,8.
c This was a citie about thre miles diſtãt frõ Ieruſalém, and belonged to the Prieſts the ſonnes of Aarón, Ioſh. 21,18.
d This is ſpoken to cõfirme his vocation & office, foraſmuche as he did not preáme of him ſelf to preache, & prophecie, but was called thervnto by God.
e Meaning, the nephewe of Ioſiáh: for Iehoahás was his father, who reigned but thre moneths and therefore is not mencioned, no more is Ioachin that reigned no longer.
f Of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiáh, who was alſo called Mattaniáh, and at this time the Iewes were caried away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzár.
g The Scripture vſeth this maner of ſpeache to declare, that God hathe appointed his miniſters to their offices before thei were borne, as Iſa. 49,1. gal. 1,15.
h For Ieremiáh did not onely prophecie againſt the Iewes, but alſo againſt the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.
i Conſidering the great iudgements of God, which accordíng to his threatenings ſhulde come vpon the worlde, he was moued with a certeine compaſsion on the one ſide to pitie them that ſhulde thus periſh, & on the other ſide by the infirmitie of mãs nature knowing how hard a thing it was to enterpriſe ſuche a charge, as Iſa. 6,11. exod 3,11. & 4,1.
k Which declareth, God maketh them mete, & aſſureth the, whome he calleth to ſet forthe his glorie: giuing them all meanes neceſſarie for the ſame, Exod. 4,12, Iſa. 6,7.
l He ſheweth, what is the authoritie of Gods true miniſters, which by his worde haue power to beat downe whatſoeuer liſteth it ſelf vp againſt God: & to plant & aſſure the humble, & ſuche as giue them ſelues to the obedíce of Gods worde, 2. Cor. 10,4. ebr. 4,12. and theſe are the keyes which Chriſt hathe left to looſe, & binde, Mat. 18,18.
m He ioyneth the ſigne with the worde for a more ample confirmation: ſignifying by the rod of the almond tre, which firſt buddeth, haſtie cõming of the Babylonians againſt the Iewes.
n Signifying, that the Caldeans, & Aſſyrias ſhuld be as a pot to ſeethe the Iewes, which boyled in their pleaſures, and luſtes. o Syria & Aſſyria were North ward in reſpect of Ieruſalẽ, which were the Caldeans dominion. p I wil giue them charge and power to execute my vengeance againſt the idolaters, which haue forſaken me for their idoles. q Which declareth Gods vengeãce is prepared againſt them, which dare not execute their duetie faithfully, either for feare of mã, or for ane other cauſe, 1. Cor. 9,16.

r Signifying on ỹ one parte, that the more that Satan, and the worlde rage againſt Gods miniſters, the more preſent wil he be to helpe thē, Ioſh. 1,5. ebr. 13,5. & on the other parte, that thei are vtterly vnmete to ſerue God, and his Church, which are afraide, and do not reſiſt wickednes, whatſoeuer danger depende thereon, Iſa. 50,7, ezek. 3,8.

s defenced citie, and an r yron piller & walles of braſſe againſt the whole lād, againſt the Kings of Iudáh, & againſt the princes thereof, againſt the Prieſts thereof and againſt the people of the land.

19 For they ſhal fight againſt thee, but thei ſhal not preuaile againſt thee: for I am w̄ thee to deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord.

CHAP. II.

2 God rehearſeth his benefites done vnto the Iewes. 8 Againſt the Prieſts and falſe prophetes. 12 The Iewes are deſtroyed, becauſe they forſake God.

1 MOreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Go, and cry in the eares of Ieruſalém, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, I remember thee, with the a kindenes of thy youth and ỹ loue of thy mariage, when thou wenteſt after me in the wildernes b in a land that was not ſowen.

3 Iſraél was as a thing c halowed vnto the Lord, & his firſt frutes: all they d that eat it, ſhal offend. euil ſhal come vpon them, ſaith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the worde of the Lord, ô houſe of Iaakób, and all the families of the houſe of Iſraél.

5 Thus ſaith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in me, that they are gone e farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become f vaine?

6 For they ſaid not, Where is ỹ Lord that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt? that led vs through ỹ wildernes, through a deſert, and waſte land, through a drye land, and g by the ſhadowe of death, by a land that no man paſſed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful countrey, to eat the frute thereof, and the commodities of the ſame: but when ye entred, ye defiled h my land, and made mine heritage an abominacion.

8 The Prieſts ſaid not, i Where is the Lord? and they that ſhulde miniſter the k Law, knewe me not: ỹ l paſtours alſo offended againſt me, and the prophetes prophecied in m Báal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I wil yet n plead with you, ſaith the Lord, and I wil plead with your childrens children.

10 For go ye to the yles of o Chittím, & behold, and ſend vnto p Kedár, and take diligent hede, and ſe whether there be ſuche things.

11 Hathe anie nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue chāged their q glorie, for that which doeth not r profite.

12 O ye heauens, be aſtonied at this: be afrayed and vtterly cōfounded, ſaith the Lord.

13 For my people haue cōmitted two euils: they haue forſakē me t the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge thē pitres, euen broken pitres, that can holde no water.

14 Is Iſraél a u ſeruant, or is he borne in the houſe? why then is he ſpoiled?

15 The x lyons roared vpon him & yelled, and they haue made his land waſte: his cities are burnt without y an inhabitant.

16 Alſo the children of z Noph and Tahapanés haue a broken thine head.

17 Haſt not thou procured this vnto thy ſelf, becauſe thou haſt forſaken the Lord thy God, when he b led thee by the way?

18 And what haſt thou now to do in the way of c Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makeſt thou in the way of Aſſhúr? to drinke the water of the d Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednes ſhal e correct thee, and thy turnings backe ſhal reproue thee: knowe therefore and beholde, that it is an euil thing, and bitter, that thou haſt forſaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes.

20 For of olde time I haue brokē thy yoke, & burſt thy bōds, and thou ſaideſt, f I wil no more tranſgreſſe, but like an harlot thou runneſt about vpon all hie hilles, and vnder all grene trees.

21 Yet I had plāted thee, a noble vine, whoſe " plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a ſtrange vine?

22 Thogh thou waſh thee with g nitre, & take thee muche ſope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before me, ſaithe the Lord God.

23 How canſt thou ſay, I am not polluted, nether haue I h followed Baalím? beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou haſt done: thou art like a ſwift i dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes.

24 And as a wilde k aſſe, vſed to the wildernes, that ſnoffeth vp the winde by occaſiō at her pleaſure: who cā turne her backe? all thei that ſeke her, wil not weary them ſelues, but wil finde her in her l moneth.

a According to that grace, and fauour, w̄ I ſhewed thee from the beginning, when I did firſt chuſe thee to be my people, and maried thee to my ſelf, Ezek. 16,3.

b When I had deliuered thee out of Egypt.

c Choſen aboue all other to ſerue the Lord onely, & the firſt offred to the Lord of all other natiōs d Whoſoeuer did chaleng this people, or els did annoy them, was puniſhed.

e That is, falleu to moſte vile idolatrie.

f Altogether giuen to vanitie, and are become blinde and inſenſible as the idoles, that thei ſerue.

g Where for lacke of all things neceſſarie for life, ye colde loke for nothing euerie houre but preſent death.

h By your idolatrie, & wicked maners, Pſal. 78,58, and 106,38.

i Thei taught not the people to ſeke after God.

k As the Scribes, w̄ ſhulde haue expounded the Law to the people.

l Meaning, the princes and miniſters. ſignifying that all eſtates were corrupt.

m That is, ſpake vaine things, and brought the people from the true worſhip of God to ſerue idoles: for by Báal, which was the chief idole of the Moabites, are ment all idoles.

n Signifying, that he wolde not as he might, ſtreight way condemne them, but ſheweth them by euident examples their great ingratitude, that they might be aſhamed, and repent.

o Meaning, the Grecians & Italians.

p Vnto Arabia.

q That is, God which is their glorie, & who maketh them glorious aboue all other people: reproouing the Iewes, that they were leſſe diligēt to ſerue ỹ true God, then were the idolaters to honour their vanities.

r Meaning, the idoles, which were their deſtruction, Pſal. 106,36.

s He ſheweth, that the inſenſible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, and as it were, tremble for feare of Gods great iudgements againſt the ſame

t Signifying, ỹ when men forſake Gods worde, which is the fountaine of life, they reiect God hī ſelf, and ſo fall to their owne inuencions, & vaine confidēce, and procure to thē ſelues deſtructiō. Ioua 2,8. zach. 10,2.

u Haue I ordered them like ſeruants, & not like dereliē beloued children: Exo. 4,22. therefore it is their faut onely, if the enemie ſpoile them.

x The Babylonians, Chaldeans & Aſſyrians.

y Not one ſhal be left to dwell there.

z That is, the Egyptians: for theſe were two great cities in Egypt a Haue grieuouſly vexed thee at ſondrie times.

b Shewing, ỹ God wolde haue ſtil led them aright, if thei wolde haue followed hī.

c To ſeke helpe of man, as thogh God were not able ynough to defende thee, which is to drinke of the puddels, and to leaue the fountaine, read Iſa 31,1.

d To wit, Euphrates.

e Meaning, that the wicked are inſenſible til the puniſhment for their ſinne waken them, as verſe. 26. Iſa. 3,9.

f When I deliuered thee out of Egypt, Deu. 27,12. Ioſh. 24,16. ezra. 10, 12. nehem. 8,7. "Ebr. ſede was all true.

g Thogh thou vſe all ỹ purifications and ceremonies of the Law, thou canſt not eſcape puniſhment, except thou turne to me by faith, and repentance.

h Meaning, that hypocrites denie ỹ thei worſhip the idoles, but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods ſeruice.

i He compareth the idolaters to theſe beaſtes, becauſe they neuer ceaſe running to and fro: for bothe valleys, and hils are ful of their idolatrie.

k He compareth the idolaters to a wilde aſſe: for ſhe cā neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied: for as ſhe ỹ rūneth, ſhe can take her winde at euerie occaſion.

l That is, whē ſhe ỹ w̄ fole, & therefore the hūters waite their time: ſo thogh thou canſt not be turned backe now from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquitie ſhalbe at the ful, God wil mete with thee.

25 Kepe

25 Kepe thou thy fete from [m] barenes, and thy throte from thirſt: but thou ſaidſt deſperatly, No, for I haue loued ſtrangers, & them wil I followe.

26 As the [n] theefe is aſhamed, when he is founde, ſo is the houſe of Iſraél aſhamed, they, their Kings, their princes and their Prieſts, and their Prophetes, 27 Saying to a tre, Thou art my [o] father, & to a ſtone, Thou haſt begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in [ỹ] time of their trouble they wil ſay, Ariſe, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou haſt made thee? let them ariſe, if thei can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for according [p] to the nomber of thy cities, are thy gods, ô Iudáh.

29 Wherefore wil [q] ye pleade with me? ye all haue rebelled againſt me, ſaieth the Lord.

30 I haue ſmitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your [r] owne ſwerde hathe deuoured your Prophetes like a deſtroying lyon.

31 O generacion, take hede to the worde of the Lord: haue I bene as a [ſ] wildernes vnto Iſraél? or a land of darkenes? Wherefore ſaith my people then, We are [t] lords, we wil come no more vnto thee?

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue forgotten me, daies without nomber.

33 Why doeſt thou prepare thy way, to [u] ſeke amitie? euen therefore wil I teache thee, that thy waies are wickednes.

34 Alſo in thy [x] wings is founde the blood of the ſoules of the poore innocents: I haue not founde it in holes, but vpon all theſe places.

35 Yet thou ſaiſt, Becauſe I am giltles, ſurely his wrath ſhal turne frō me: beholde, I wil entre with thee into iudgement, becauſe thou ſaieſt, I haue not ſinned.

36 Why runneſt thou about ſo muche to change thy waies? for thou ſhalt be confounded of Egypt, [y] as thou art confounded of Aſſhúr.

37 For thou ſhalt go forthe from thence, & thine hands vpon [z] thine head, becauſe the Lord hathe reiected thy confidence, and thou ſhalt not proſper thereby.

m Hereby he warneth them that thei ſhulde not go into ſtrange countreis to ſeke helpe: for thei ſhuld but ſpēd their labour, & hurt them ſelues, which is here ment by the bare fote and thirſt, Iſa. 57,10.

n As a theefe wil not acknowledge his faute, til he be taken with the dede, & ready to be puniſhed, ſo they wil not confeſſe their idolatrie, til the plagues due to [ỹ] ſame light vpon them.

o Meaning, [ỹ] idolaters ſpoyle God of his honour: & where as he hathe taught to call him the father of all fleſh, they attribute this title to their idoles.

p Thou thogheſt that thy gods of blockes and ſtones colde haue holpē thee, becauſe they were many in nomber & preſent in euery place: but now let vs ſe whether ether the multitude, or their preſence can deliuer thee from my plague, Chap 11,13

q As though I did you iniurie in puniſhīg you, ſeing that your fautes are ſo euident:

r That is, you haue killed your Prophetes, that exhorted you to repentance, as Zechariáh, Iſaiáh, &c.

ſ Haue I not giuen them abundance of all things?

t But wil truſt in our owne power & policie.

u With ſtrangers.

x The Prophetes and the faithful are ſlayne in euery corner of your countrey.

y For the Aſſyrians had taken away the ten tribes out of Iſraél, and deſtroyed Iudá, euen vnto Ieruſalém: and the Egyptians ſlewe Ioſiáh, and vexed the Iewes in ſondry ſortes.

z In ſigne of lamentacion, as 2 Sam. 13,19.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 He promiſeth the reſtitucion of his Church. 20 He reproueth Iudáh & Iſraél, comparing them to a woman diſobedient to her houſband.

a According I as it is writē, Deut. 24,4.

[a] THey ſay, If a mā put away his wife, and ſhe go from him, and become another mans, ſhal he returne againe vnto her? ſhal not this land [b] be polluted? but [ỹ] haſt plaied the harlot with manie [c] louers: yet [d] turne againe to me, ſaith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eies vnto the high places, & beholde, where thou haſt not plaied the harlot: thou haſt ſit waiting for them in the waies, as the [e] Arabian in the wildernes: & [ỹ] haſt polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the ſhowres haue bene reſtrained, and the [f] latter raine came not, and thou haddeſt a [g] whores forheade: thou woldeſt not be aſhamed.

4 Dideſt thou not ſtil crye [h] vnto me, Thou art my father, & the guide of my youth?

5 Wil he kepe his angre for euer? wil he reſerue it to the end? thus haſt thou ſpoken, but thou doeſt euil, euen more and more.

6 The Lord ſaid alſo vnto me, in the daies of Ioſiáh the King, Haſt thou ſene what this rebel [i] Iſraél hathe done? ſhe hathe gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder eucry grene tre, & there plaied the harlot.

7 And I ſaid, when ſhe had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but ſhe returned not, as her rebellious ſiſter Iudáh ſawe.

8 When I ſawe, how that by all occaſions rebellious Iſraél had plaied the harlot, I caſt [k] her away, & gaue her a byl of deuorcement: yet her rebellious ſiſter Iudáh was not afrayed, but ſhe went alſo, & plaied the harlot.

9 So that for the [l] lightnes of her whoredome ſhe hathe euen defiled the land: for ſhe hathe committed fornicaciō with ſtones and ſtockes.

10 Neuertheles for all this, her rebellious ſiſter Iudáh hathe not returned vnto me with [m] her whole heart, but fainedly, ſaith the Lord.

11 And the Lord ſaid vnto me, The rebellious Iſraél hathe [n] juſtified her ſelf more then the rebellious Iudáh.

12 Go and crye theſe wordes towarde [o] the North and ſaie, Thou diſobedient Iſraél, returne, ſaith the Lord, & I wil not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, ſaith the Lord, & I wil not alway kepe mine angre.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou haſt rebelled againſt the Lord thy God & haſt [p] ſcatered thy waies to the ſtrange gods vnder euerie grene tre, but ye wolde not obeye my voyce, ſaith the Lord.

14 O ye diſobedient childrē, turne againe, ſaith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I wil take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe and wil bring you to Zión,

15 And I wil giue you paſtours according b If he take ſuche one to wife againe

c That is, with idoles, & with them, whome thou haſt put thy confidence in d And I wil not caſt thee of, but receiue thee, accordīg to my mercie.

e Which dwelleth in tents & waiteth for thē that paſſe by to ſpoyle them

f As God threatened by his Law, Deut 28, 24

g Thou woldeſt neuer be aſhamed of thine actes & repent: & this impudencie is cōmune to idolaters, [ỹ] wil not giue of, thogh they be neuer ſo manifeſtly cōuicted

h He ſheweth that [ỹ] wicked in their miſeries wil crye vnto God and vſe outward praier as the godlie do, but becauſe they turne not frō their euil, they are not heard, Iſa 18,41

i Meaning, [ỹ] ten tribes

k And gaue her vnto the hands of the Aſſyrians.

l The Ebrew worde may ether ſignifie lightnes & wātones, or noiſe and brute.

m Iudáh fayned for a time as that ſhe did returne, as vnder Ioſiáh and other good Kings, but ſhe was neuer truely touched, or wholy reformed, as appeared when occaſion was offred by any wicked price

n Iſraél hathe not declared her ſelf ſo wicked, as Iudáh, which yet hathe had more admonicions and examples to call her to repentance

o Where as [ỹ] Iſraelites were now kept in captiuitie by the Aſſyrians, to whome he promiſeth mercie, if they wil repent.

p There was no way, which thou dideſt not haunte to ſeke after the idoles, and to trot a pilgrimage.

to mine heart, which ſhal fede you with knowledge and vnderſtanding.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increaſed & multiplied in the land, in thoſe daies, ſaith the Lord, thei ſhal ſay no more, The q Arke of the couenant of the Lord: for it ſhal come no more to minde, nether ſhal they remẽber it, nether ſhal they viſit it, for that ſhalbe no more done.

17 At that time they ſhal call Ieruſalém, r The throne of the Lord, & all the nacions ſhalbe gathered vnto it, euen to ỹ Name of the Lord in Ieruſalém: and thence forthe they ſhal followe no more the hardenes of their wicked heart.

18 In thoſe daies the houſe of Iudáh ſhal walke with the houſe of Iſraél, & thei ſhal come together out of ỹ land of ỹ t North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I ſaid, How did I take thee for children & giue thee a pleaſant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and ſaid, Thou ſhalt call me, ſaying, My father, and ſhalt not turne frõ me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth againſt her t houſbãd: ſo haue ye rebelled againſt me, ô houſe of Iſraél, ſaith the Lord.

21 u A voyce was heard vpon the high places, weping and ſupplicacions of the childrẽ of Iſraél: for thei haue peruerted their way, & forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye diſobedient children, returne and I wil heale your rebellions. x Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Iſraél.

24 For confuſion hathe deuoured our y fathers labour, from our youth their ſhepe & their bullockes, their ſonnes and their daughters.

25 We lie downe in our confuſion, and our ſhame couereth vs! z for we haue ſinned againſt the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth: euen vnto this day, & haue not obeied the voyce of the Lord our God.

q This is to be vnderſtand of the comming of Chriſt. for then they ſhal not ſeke the Lord by ceremonies, & all figures ſhal ceaſe.
r Meaning the Church, where the Lord wil be preſẽt to the worldes end, Mat. 28,20.
s Where they are now in captiuitie.
t The Ebrewe worde ſignifieth a fried or companiõ, & here may be taken for a houſbãd, as it is vſed alſo Hoſeáh. 3,1.
u Signifying, ỹ God, whome they had forſaken, w e brig the' e mies vp hẽ, who ſhulde lea' thẽ captiue and make them to crye and lament.
x This is ſpoken in the perſone of Iſraél to the ſhame of Iudáh, which ſtaied ſo long to turne vnto God.
y For their idolatrie Gods vengeance hathe light vpon thẽ & theirs.
z They mꝛtifie nor thẽ ſelues, or ſay ỹ they wolde follow their fathers, but condemne their wicked doings and deſire forgiuenes of the ſame, 1. Ezra 9 7. & pſal. 106, 6. iſa. 64, 6.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumciſion of the heart. 5 The deſtruction of Iudáh is prophecied, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lameteth it.

1 O Iſraél, if thou returne, a returne vnto me, ſaith the Lord: & if thou put away thine abominaciõs out of my ſight, then ſhalt thou not remoue.

2 And thou ſhalt b ſweare, The Lord liueth in trueth, in iudgement, and in righteouſnes, and the nacions ſhalbe bleſſed in him, and ſhal glorie in him.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord to the men of Iudáh, and to Ieruſalém,

4 Breake vp c your fallow grounde, & ſowe not among the thornes: be circumciſed to the Lord, and take away the foreſkinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudáh, and inhabitants of Ieruſalém, leſt my wrath come forthe like fyre, and burne, that none can quench it, becauſe of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 d Declare in Iudáh, and ſhewe forthe in Ieruſalém, and ſay, Blowe the trumpet in the land: crye, and gather together, & ſay, Aſſemble your ſelues, and let vs go into ſtrong cities.

6 Set vp the ſtandart in Zión: e prepare to flee, & ſtay not: for I wil bring a plague from the North, and a great deſtruction.

7 The f lyon is come vp from his denne, and the deſtroyer of the Gentiles is departed, & gone forthe of his place to lay thy land waſte, and thy cities ſhalbe deſtroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore girde you with ſackecloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, ſaith the Lord, the heart of the King ſhal periſh, and the heart of thẽ princes and the Prieſts ſhalbe aſtoniſhed, and the g Prophetes ſhal wonder.

10 Then ſaid I, Ah, Lord God, ſurely thou haſt h deceiued this people & Ieruſalém, ſaying, Ye ſhal haue peace, and the ſworde perceth vnto the heart.

11 At that time ſhal it be ſaid to this people and to Ieruſalém, A drye i winde in the hie places of the wildernes cometh toward the daughter of my people, but nether k to fan, nor to clenſe.

12 A mightie winde ſhal come vnto me frõ thoſe places, and now wil I alſo giue ſentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, he ſhal come vp as the l cloudes, and his charets ſhalbe as a tempeſt: his horſes are lighter then egles. m Wo vnto vs, for we are deſtroied.

14 O Ieruſalém, waſh thine heart from wickednes, that thou maieſt be ſaued: how long ſhal thy wicked thoghts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from n Dan, and publiſheth affliction frõ moũt o Ephraim.

16 Make ye mentiõ of the heathẽ, and publiſh in Ieruſalém, Beholde, the ſkoutes come from a farre countrey, and crye out againſt the cities of Iudáh.

17 They haue compaſſed her about as the watchemen of the p field, becauſe it hathe prouoked me to wrath, ſaith the Lord.

18 Thy waies & thine inuentions haue proc He willeth them to pluckе vp the impietie and wicked affection and worldelie reſpectes out of their heart, that the true ſede of Gods worde may be ſowen therein. Hoſ. 10, 12. and this is the true circumciſiõ of ỹ heart, Deut. 10, 16. rom. 2, 29. col. 2, 11.

d He warneth them of the great dangers ỹ ſhal come vpon them by the Caldeans, except they repent, and turne to ỹ Lord.
e He ſpeaketh this to admoniſh them of ỹ great danger when euery mã ſhal prepare ro ſaue him ſelf, but it ſhal be to late, 2. King 25, 4.
f Meanig Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylõ 2 King 24, 1.
g That is, the falſe prophetes which ſtil prophecied peace and ſecuritie.
h By the falſe propheres, ẅ promiſed peace and tranquillitie: and thus thou haſt puniſhed their rebellious ſtubernes by cauſing them to hearken vnto lies which wolde not beleue thy trueth 2. King 22, 23. ezek. 14, 9. 2. theſſ 2, 11.
i The North winde whereby he meaneth Nebuchadnezzár.
k But to cary away bothe corne and chaffe.
l Meaning, ỹ Nebuchadnezzár ſhulde come as ſuddenly, as a cloude that is caryed with ỹ winde.
m This is ſpoken in the perſone of all the people who in their affliction ſhulde crye thus.
n Which was a citie in the vtmoſt border of Iſraél Northward toward Babylon.
o Which was in the midway betwene Dan and Ieruſalém.
p Which kepe the frutes ſo ſtreitly, that nothing can come in nor out: ſo ſhulde the Babylonians compaſſe Iudáh.

Chap. IIII.
a That is, wholy, & without hypocriſie, Ioel. 2, 12, not diſſembling to turne & ſerue God as they do which ſerue him by halues, as Hoſ. 7, 16
b Thou ſhalt deteſt the name of idoles. Pſal 16, 4. & ſhalt with reuerence ſweare by the lyuing God, when thine othe may aduance Gods glorie, & profite others, & here, by ſwearing he meaneth the true religion of God.

cured

cured thee theſe things, ſuche is thy wickednes: therefore it ſhalbe bitter, therefore it ſhal perce vnto thine heart.

19 My bely, q my bely, I am pained, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I can not be ſtyl: for my ſoule hathe heard the ſounde of the trumpet, & the alarme of the battel.

20 Deſtruction vpon deſtruction is cryed, for the whole land is waſted: ſuddenly are my r tentes deſtroyed, and my curteines in a moment.

21 How long ſhal I ſe the ſtandart, & heare the ſounde of the trumpet?

22 For my people is fooliſh, thei haue not knowen me: thei are fooliſh childrē, & haue none vnderſtanding: ſ thei are wiſe to do euil, but to do wel thei haue no knowledge.

23 I haue loked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and t voide: and to the heauens, and thei had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines: & lo, they trembled and all the hilles ſhooke.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruteful place was a wildernes, and all their cities thereof were brokē downe at the preſence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hathe ŷ Lord ſaid, The whole land ſhalbe deſolate: yet wil I u not make a ful end.

28 Therefore ſhal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue ſhalbe darkened, becauſe I haue pronounced it: I haue thoght it, and wil not repent, nether wil I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie ſhal flee, for the noiſe of the horſmen and bowe mē: thei ſhal go into thickets, and clime vp vpon the rockes: euerie citie ſhalbe forſaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou ſhalt be deſtroyed, what wilt thou do? Thogh thou x clotheſt thy ſelf with ſkarlet, thogh thou deckeſt thee with ornamēts of golde, thogh thou painteſt thy face with colours, yet ſhalt thou trimme thy ſelf in vaine: for thy louers wil abhorre thee & ſeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noiſe as of a woman trauailing, or as one laboring of her firſt childe, euen the voice of the daughter Zión that ſigheth and ſtretcheth out her hands: y wo is me now: for my ſoule fainteth becauſe of the murtherers.

q He ſheweth that the true miniſters are liuely touched with the calamities of the Church, ſo that all the partes of their bodie fele the grief of their heart, albeit with zeale to Gods glorie thei pronounce his iudgements againſt the people.

r Meaning the cities, which were as eaſely caſt downe as a tent.

ſ Their wiſdome and policie tende to their owne deſtruction, and pulleth them from God.

t By theſe maner of ſpeaches he ſheweth the horrible deſtruction that ſhulde come vpon the land, and alſo condemneth the obſtinacie of the people, who repent not at the feare of theſe terrible eydings, ſeing that ŷ inſēſible creatures are moued therewith, as if the order of nature ſhulde be chāged, Iſa. 13, 10 and 24, 23. ezek. 32, 7. ioel. 2, 31. & 3, 15.

u But for his mercie ſake he wil reſerue him ſelfe a reſidue to be his Church, and to praiſe him in earth, Iſa. 2, 9.

x Nether thy cere momes? nor riche gyftes ſhal deliuer thee.

y As the Prophetes were moued to pitie the deſtructiō of their people, ſo thei declared it to the people to moue them to repentance, Iſa. 22, 4. chap. 9.

inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can finde a man, or if there be any that executeth iudgement, and ſeketh the trueth, and I wil ſpare a it.

a That is, the citie.

2 For thogh thei ſay, The b Lord liueth, yet do thei ſweare falſely.

b Thogh they pretend religion and holines, yet all is but hypocriſie for vnder this kinde of ſwearing is contemned the true religion.

3 O Lord, are not thine eies vpon ŷ c trueth? thou haſt d ſtriken them, but thei haue not ſorowed: thou haſt cōſumed them, but thei haue refuſed to receiue correction: thei haue made their faces harder then a ſtone, and haue refuſed to returne.

c Doeſt not ŷ loue vprightnes and faithful dealing?

d Thou haſt oft times puniſhed them, but all is in vayne, Iſa. 9, 13

4 Therefore I ſaid, Surely thei are poore, they are fooliſh, for thei knowe not the way of the Lord, nor ŷ iudgement of their God.

5 I wil get me vnto the e great men, and wil ſpeake vnto them: for thei haue knowen ŷ way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but theſe haue altogether broken the yoke, and burſt the bondes.

e He ſpeaketh this to the reproche of thē, which ſhulde gouerne and teache others, & yet are farther out of ŷ way then the ſimple people.

6 Wherefore f a lion out of the foreſt ſhal ſlay them, and a wolfe of the wildernes ſhal deſtroye them: a leoparde ſhal watche ouer their cities: euerie one that goeth out thence, ſhalbe torne ī pieces, becauſe their treſpaces are many, and their rebellions are encreaſed.

f Meaning, Nebuchadnezzar and his armie.

7 How ſhulde I ſpare thee for this? thy children haue forſakē me, & g ſworne by them ŷ are no gods: thogh I fed them to ŷ ful, yet thei committed adulterie, and aſſembled them ſelues by companies in the harlottes houſes.

g He ſheweth that to ſweare by any thing then by God, is to forſake him.

8 They roſe vp in ŷ morning like fed horſes: for euerie man neyed after his neighbours wife. Ezek. 22, 11.

9 Shal I not viſit for theſe things, ſaith the Lord? Shal not my ſoule be auenged on ſuche a nation, as this?

10 h Clime vp vpon their walles, and deſtroy them, but make not a ful end: i take away their batilmēts, for thei are not the Lords.

h He cōmandeth the Babylonians and enemies to deſtroye them.

i Read Chap. 4, 27.

11 For the houſe of Iſraél, and the houſe of Iudáh haue grieuouſly treſpaced againſt me, ſaith the Lord.

12 Thei haue k denied the Lord, & ſaid, It is not he, nether ſhal ŷ plague come vpon vs, nether ſhal we ſe ſworde nor famine.

k Becauſe thei gaue no credit to the wordes of his Prophetes, as Iſa. 28, 15

13 And the Prophetes ſhalbe as l winde, and the worde is m not in them: thus ſhal it come vnto them.

l Their wordes ſhalbe of none effect, but vaine.

m Thei are not ſent of ŷ Lord, & therefore that ŵ thei threaten to vs, ſhal come vpō them.

14 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, Becauſe ye ſpeake ſuche wordes, beholde, I wil put my wordes n into thy mouth, like a fyre, and this people ſhal be as wodde, and it ſhal deuoure them.

n Meaning Ieremiáh.

15 Lo, I wil bring a nation vpon you o from far, ô houſe of Iſraél, ſaith the Lord, which is a mightie nacion, & an ancient nacion, a nacion whoſe language ŷ knoweſt not, nether vnderſtandeſt what thei ſay.

o To wit, the Babylonians & Caldeans.

16 Whoſe quiuer is as an p open ſepulchre: thei are all very ſtrong.

p Who ſhal kil many with their arrowes.

CHAP. V.

1 In Iudáh no righteous man found nether among the people nor the rulers. 19 Wherefore Iudáh is deſtroied of the Caldeans.

1 RVnne to & fro by the ſtretes of Ieruſalém, and beholde now, & knowe, &

17 And thei ſhal eat thine harueſt and thy bread: thei ſhal deuoure thy ſonnes & thy daughters: thei ſhal eat vp thy ſhepe and thy bullocks: thei ſhal eat thy vines & thy figtrees: thei ſhal deſtroie with ỹ ſworde thy fenſed cities, wherein ỹ dideſt truſt.

18 Neuertheles at thoſe daies, ſaith the Lord, I wil not make a ful end of [q] you.

19 And when* ye ſhal ſaie, Wherefore doeth ỹ Lord our God do theſe things vnto vs? then ſhalt [r] thou anſwer them, Like as ye haue forſaken me and ſerued ſtrange gods in your land, ſo ſhal ye ſerue ſtrangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the houſe of Iaakób & publiſh it in Iudáh, ſaying, 21 Heare now this, ó fooliſh people, and without vnderſtáding, which haue eyes and ſe not, which haue eares & heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, ſaith the Lord? or wil ye not be afraid at my preſence, which haue placed the ſande for the bondes of the ſea by the perpetual decre that it can not paſſe it, and thogh the waues thereof rage, yet can thei not preuaile, thogh thei roare, yet can thei not paſſe ouer it?

23 But this people hathe an vnfaithful and rebellious heart: thei are departed & gone.

24 For they ſay not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that giueth raine bothe early & late in due ſeaſon: he reſerueth vnto vs the appointed wekes of the harueſt.

25 Yet your [f] iniquities haue turned awaie theſe things, and your ſinnes haue hindred good things from you.

26 For among my people are founde wicked perſones, that laie waite as he that ſetteth ſnares: thei haue made a pit to catche mẽ.

27 As a cage is ful of birdes, ſo are their houſes ful of deceit: thereby thei are become great and waxen riche.

28 Thei are waxen fat & ſhining: thei do ouerpaſſe the dedes of ỹ wicked: * thei execute no iudgement, no not the iudgemẽt of the fatherles: yet thei [t] proſper, thogh thei execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shal I not viſite for theſe things, ſaith the Lord? or ſhal not my ſoule be auenged on ſuche a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthie thing is committed in the land.

31 The [u] Prophetes Prophecie lies, and the Prieſtes [v] receiue gifies in their hãdes, and my people delite therein. What wil ye then do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The comming of the Aſſyrians and Caldeans. 16 He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

1 OYe children of [a] Beniamín, prepare to flee out of the middes of Ieruſalém and blow the trumpet in [b] Tekoá: ſet vp a ſtandart vpon [c] Beth-haccérem: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great deſtruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zión to [d] a beautiful and deintie woman.

3 The paſtors with their flockes [e] ſhal come vnto her: thei ſhal pitch their tents round about by her, & euerie one ſhal fede in his place.

4 [f] Prepare warre againſt her: ariſe, and let vs go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the ſhadowes of the euening are ſtretched out.

5 Ariſe, and let vs go vp by night, and deſtroy her palaces.

6 For thus hathe the Lord of hoſtes ſaid, Hewe downe wood, and caſt a mount againſt Ieruſalém: this citie muſt be viſited: all oppreſſion is in the middes of it.

7 As ỹ fountaine caſteth out her waters, ſo ſhe caſteth out her malice: [g] crueltie and ſpoile is continually heard in her before me with ſorow and ſtrokes.

8 Be thou inſtructed, ó [h] Ieruſalém, leſt my ſoule departe from thee, leſt I make thee deſolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Thei ſhal gather as a vine, the reſidue of Iſraél: turne [i] backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baſkets.

10 Vnto whome ſhal I ſpeake, & admoniſh that thei may heare? beholde, their eares are [k] vncircumciſed, and thei can not hearken: beholde, the worde of ỹ Lord is vnto them as a reproche: thei haue no delite in it.

11 Therefore I am ful of the wrath of the Lord: I am wearie with holding it: [l] I wil powre it out vpon the [m] childrẽ in ỹ ſtrete, & likewiſe vpõ ỹ aſſemblie of the yong men: for the houſband ſhal euen be taken with the wife, & the aged with him that is ful of daies.

12 And their houſes with their lands, and wiues alſo ſhalbe turned vnto ſtrangers: for I wil ſtretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, ſaith the Lord.

13 For frõ the leaſt of them, euen vnto the greateſt of them, euerie one is giuen vnto couetouſnes, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Prieſt, thei all deale falſely.

14 Thei haue healed alſo the hurt of the daughter of my people with ſwete wordes, ſaying, [n] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were thei aſhamed when they had committed abomination? nay, thei were not aſhamed, no nether colde they haue anie ſhame: therefore thei ſhal fall among the [o] ſlaine: when I ſhal viſit them, they ſhalbe caſt downe, ſaith the Lord.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord, Stand in the waies and beholde, and aſke for the [p] olde waie, which is the good waye & walke therein, q Heré ỹ Lord declareth his vnſpeakeable fauour toward his Church, as Chap. 4,27. Chap.16,10.

---

r Meaning the Prophet Ieremiáh.

Ebr. without heart. Iſa.6,9. mat.13,14. act.28,40. rom.11,8. Iob.26,10.

f If there be anie ſtay, that we receiue not gods bleſsings in abundance, we muſt conſider that it is for our owne iniquities. Iſa. 59,1.

Iſa.3,23. Zechar.7,10.

t Thei fele not the plague of God for it.

u Meaning, that there colde be nothing but diſorder where ỹ miniſters were wicked perſones & corrupt.

Or, be ore rule.

Chap. VI.

a He ſpeaketh to the chiefly becauſe thei ſhuld take hede by ỹ example of their brethren, ỹ other halfe of their tribe, ẅ were now caried away priſoners.

b Which was a citie in Iudáh ſix miles from Bethléhem. 2. Chro. 11,6.

c Read Nehe. 3,14.

d I haue inriched her gretely & giuen her abundance of all things.

e She ſhalbe ſo deſtroied, ỹ ỹ ſhepe may be fed in her.

f He ſpeaketh this in ỹ perſone of ỹ Babylonians, ẅ complaine that the time faileth them before thei haue brogt their enterpriſes to paſſe.

g He ſheweth ỹ cauſe why it ſhulde be deſtroyed & how it cometh of them ſelues.

h He warneth thẽ to amẽd by his correctiõs, & to turne to him by repentance.

i He exhorteth ỹ Babyloniãs to be diligent to ſearche out all & to leaue none.

k Thei delite to heare vayne thigs & to ſhut vp their eares to true doctrine.

l As the Lord had giuen him his worde to be as a fyre of his indignatiõ to burne ỹ wicked, Chap. 5,14. ſo he kĩdeleth it now whẽ he ſeeth ỹ all remedies are paſt.

m None ſhalbe ſpared.

n When ỹ people began to feare Gods iudgements, ỹ falſe Prophets cõforted them by flatterings, ſhewing ỹ God wolde ſend peace and not warre.

Ebr. them that fall

o Wherein the patriarkes and Prophets walked, directed by ỹ worde of God: ſignifyig ỹ there is no true way, but that ẅ God preſcribeth.

and ye ſhal finde reſt for your ſoules: but thei ſaid, We wil not walke therein.

p Prophetes ſ ſhulde warne you of the dangers that were at hand.

17 Alſo I ſet p watchemen ouer you, which ſaid, Take hede to ỹ ſound of the trumpet: but thei ſaid, We wil not take hede.

q God taketh all ỹ worlde to witnes and the inſenſible creatures of ỹ ingratitude of the Iewes.

18 Heare therefore, ye q Gentiles, and thou Congregacion knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, ô earth, beholde, I wil cauſe a plague to come vpon this people, euen the frute of their owne imaginacions: becauſe thei haue not taken hede vnto my wordes, nor to my Law, but caſt it of.

r Read Iſa.1,11. & Amos.5,21.

20 To what purpoſe bringeſt thou me r incenſe from Sheba, and ſwete calamus frō a farre countrey? Your burnt offrings are not pleaſant, nor your ſacrifices ſwete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I wil lay ſtumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the ſonnes together ſhal fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend ſhal periſh.

s From Babylon by Dan, ỹ was North frō Ieruſalém.

22 Thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, a people cometh from the s North countrey, and a great nation ſhal ariſe from the ſides of the earth.

23 With bowe and ſhield ſhal they be weaponed: thei are cruel and wil haue no compaſſion: their voyce roareth like the ſea, and they ride vpon horſes, wel appointed, like men of warre againſt thee, ô daughter Zión.

t For feare of the enemie, he ſpeaketh this in the perſone of the Iewes.

24 We haue heard their fame, & our hands waxe t feble: ſorowe is come vpon vs, as the ſorowe of a woman in trauail.

25 Go not forthe into the field, nor walke by the way: for the ſworde of the enemie & feare is on euerie ſide.

26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with ſackecloth, and wallowe thy ſelf in the aſhes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning as for thine onely ſonne: for the deſtroier ſhal ſuddenly come vpon vs.

u Meaning, Ieremiáh, whom God had appointed to trie out the godlie from ỹ wicked as a founder doeth ỹ pure mettal from ỹ droſſe.

27 I haue ſet u thee for a defence & fortreſſe among my people, that thou maieſt knowe and trye their waies.

28 Thei are all rebellious traitors, walking craftely: they are braſſe, & yron, thei all are deſtroyers.

x All the paine & labour ỹ hathe bene také with them, is loſt.

29 The x bellowes are burnt: the leade is cōſumed in the fyre: the founder melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away.

30 Thei ſhal call them reprobate ſiluer, becauſe the Lord hathe reiected them.

CHAP. VII.

Ieremiáh is commanded to ſhewe vnto the people the worde of God, which truſteth in the outward ſeruice of the Temple. 13 The euils that ſhal come to the Iewes for the deſpiſing of their Prophetes. 21 Sacrifices doeth not the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they ſhulde obeye his worde.

1 THe wordes that came to Ieremiáh from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Stand in the gate of the Lords Houſe & crye this worde there, and ſaie, Heare the worde of the Lord, all ye of Iudáh that entre in at theſe gates to worſhip the Lord.

3 Thus ſaith thē Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, * Amēd your waies & your workes, and I wil let you dwell in this place. Chap.26,13.

a Belene not ỹ falſe Prophetes, ẅ ſay that for ỹ Tēples ſake, & the ſacrifices there, ỹ Lord wil preſerue you, & ſo nouriſh you in your ſinne, & vaine cōfidēce

4 Truſt not in a lying wordes, ſaying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend & redreſſe your waies and your workes: if you execute iudgemēt betwene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppreſſe not the ſtranger, the fatherles and the widdowe & ſhed no innocent blood in this place, nether walke after other gods to your deſtruction, b God ſheweth ou what cōdition he made his promes to this Temple: ỹ they ſhulde be an holie people vnto him, as he wolde be a faithful God to them.

7 Then b wil I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

8 Beholde, you truſte in lying wordes, that can not profite.

c As theues hid in holes, and dennes thinke thē ſelues ſafe, ſo whē you are in my Tēple, you thinke to be couered ẅ ỹ holines thereof, & that I can not ſe your wickednes, Mat. 21,12.

9 Wil you ſteale, murder, and commit adulterie and ſweare falſely and burne incenſe vnto Báal, & walke after other gods whome ye knowe not?

d Becauſe thei depended ſo muche on the Temple, ẅ was for his promes, that he wolde be preſent, and defend them where ỹ Arke was: he ſendeth them to Gods iudgements againſt Shiló, where ỹ Arke had remained about 300 yeres, and after was take, the Prieſts ſlaine, & ỹ people miſerably diſconfited, 1. Sam 4 11, Cha. 26,6.

10 And come and ſtand before me in this Houſe, whereupon my Name is called, & ſaie, We are deliuered, thogh we haue done all theſe abominations?

11 Is this Houſe become c a dēne of theues, whereupō my Name is called before your eies? beholde, euen I ſee it, ſaith the Lord.

12 But go ye now vnto my place which was in Shiló, d where I ſet my Name at the beginning, and beholde, what I did to it for the wickednes of my people Iſraél.

e That is, I neuer ceaſed to warne you, as Iſa. 65,2 prouer. 1,23.

13 Therefore now becauſe ye haue done all theſe workes, ſaith the Lord, (& I e roſe vp earely and ſpake vnto you: but when I ſpake, ye wolde not heare me, nether whē I called, wolde f ye anſwer)

f He ſheweth what is ỹ onelie remedie to redreſſe our fautes: to ſuffer God to lead vs into ỹ way, & to obey his calling, Iſa. 66,4.

14 Therefore wil I do vnto this Houſe, whereupō my Name is called, wherein alſo ye truſt, euen vnto the place that I gaue to you and to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shiló.

g I wil ſend you into captiuitie as I haue done Ephráim, that is, the ten tribes.

15 And I wil caſt g you out of my ſight, as I haue caſt out all your brethren, euen the whole ſede of Ephráim.

h To aſſure ỹ God had determined ẅ him ſelf to puniſh their wickednes, he ſheweth that ỹ prayer of the godlie can nothing auaile them, whiles they remaine in their obſtinacie againſt God, & wil not vſe ỹ meanes ỹ he vſeth to call thē to repentāce, Chap. 11,14 & 14,11.

16 Therefore thou ſhalt not h praie for this people, nether lift vp crie or praier for thē nether intreat me, for I wil not heare thee.

17 Seeſt thou not what thei do in the cities of Iudáh and in the ſtretes of Ieruſalém?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle ỹ fyre, and the women knede the dough to make cakes to i the Queene

i That is, thei ſacrifice to ỹ ſunne, moone & ſtarres, which thei called the Queene of heauen, Chap. 44,17. 2 king. 23,5.

of heauen & to powre out drinke offrings vnto other gods, that thei maie prouoke me vnto angre.

19 Do thei prouoke me to angre, saith the Lord, and not them selues to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, mine angre and my wrath shalbe powred vpon this place, vpon man & vpon beast, and vpon the tre of the field and vpon the frute of the grounde, and it shal burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israél, Put your burnt offrings vnto your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.

k Shewing that it was not his chief purpose and intét that thei shulde offer sacrifices: but that thei shuld regarde, wherefore thei were ordeined: to wit, to be ioyned to the worde as seales and confirmations of remissionof sins in Christ: for without ỹ worde thei were vaine & vnprofitable.

22 For k I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, cõcerning burnt offrings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, & I wil be your God, and ye shal be my people: and walke ye in all the waies which I haue commanded you, that it maie be wel vnto you.

24 But thei wolde not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubbernes of their wicked heart, & went backewarde and not forwarde.

l Which was about foretene hundreth yeres.

25 Since the daie that your fathers came vp out of the Land of Egypt, vnto l this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophetes, m rising vp early euerie daie, and sending them.

m Read vers. 13

26 Yet wolde thei not heare me nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke and did worse then their fathers.

n Whereby he sheweth that the pastours ought not to leaue their flockes in their obstinacie: for ỹ Lord wil vse the meanes of his seruants to make the wicked more sautie and to proue his.

27 Therefore shalt ỹ speake all these wordes vnto thẽ, but thei n wil not heare thee: thou shalt also crye vnto thẽ, but thei wil not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt saie vnto them, This is a nation ỹ heareth not the voice of ỹ Lord their God, nor receiueth discipline: trueth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

o In signe of mourning, as Iob. 1, 20. mich. 1, 16.

29 Cut of thine o heere, ô Ieruśalém, & cast it awaie, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hathe reiected & forsaken the generation of his p wrath.

p Against whome he had iuste occasion to powre out his wrath.

30 For the children of Iudáh haue done euil in my sight, saith the Lord: thei haue set their abominations in the House, whereupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

q Of Topheth read 2. King 23 10.

31 And thei haue buylt the hie place of q Tópheth, which is in the vallei of Ben-Hinnóm to burne their sonnes & their daughters in the fyre, which I r commanded thẽ not, nether came it in mine heart.

r But commanded the contrarie, as Le. 18, 21 & 20, 3. deu. 18, 10.

32 Therefore beholde, ỹ daies come, saith the Lord, that it shal no more be called Tópheth, nor the vallei of Ben-Hinnóm, but the valley of slaughter: for thei shal burye in Tópheth til there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shalbe meat for the foules of the heauen & for the beastes of the earth, and none shal fray them awaie.

34 *Thẽ I wil cause to cease from the cities of Iudáh and from the stretes of Ieruśalém the voyce of mirth and the voice of gladnes, the voyce of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride: for the land shalbe desolate. *Ezr 26, 13.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord moueth the people to amendement. 10 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine & the couetousnes of the Prophetes & Priests.

1 AT that time, saith the Lord, thei shal bring out the bones of the Kings of Iudáh, and the bones of their princes, and the bones of the Priestes and the bones of the Prophetes, and the bones of the inhabitans of Ieruśalém out of their a graues.

a The enemie for gredines of gaine shal rifle your graues, and laye you before those idoles, which in your life you worshiped, no se if they can helpe you.

2 And thei shal spread thẽ before the sunne & the moone, and all the hoste of ỹ euen, whome they haue loued, and whome thei haue serued, & whome thei haue followed, & whome thei haue soght, and whome thei haue worshiped: thei shal not be gathered nor be buryed, but shal be as dung vpon the earth.

b Because of the afflictions that thei shal fele through Gods iudgements.

3 And death shalbe desired b rather then life of all ỹ residue that remaineth of this wicked familie, which remaine in all the places where I haue scatred them, saith ỹ Lord of hostes.

c Is there no hope, that thei wil returne?

4 Thou shalt saie vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Shal thei c fall & not arise? shal he turne awaie and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ieruśalém turned backe by a perpetual rebellion? thei gaue thẽ selues to deceit, & wolde not returne d They are ful of hypocrisie, and euerie one followeth his owne fantasie without any consideracion.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake aright: no man repented him of his wickednes, saying, What haue I done? euerie d one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battel.

e He accuseth them in that ỹ they are more ignorant of Gods iudgements then these birdes are of their appointed seasons to discerne the colde, and heat, as Isa. 1, 3.

7 Euen the storcke in the aire knoweth her appointed times, & the turtle and the crane and the Swallowe obserue the time of their coming, but my people knoweth not the e iudgement of the Lord.

f The Lawe doeth not profite you, nether ned it to haue bene writen for oght that you haue learned by it.

8 How do ye saie, We are wise, & the Lawe f of ỹ Lord is with vs? Lo, certeinly in vaine made he it, ỹ pen of the scribes is in vaine.

g They that seme wise, may be ashamed of their ignorance: for all wisdome cõsisteth in Gods worde. Isa. 56, 11.

9 The g wise men are ashamed: thei are afraid and taken. lo, thei haue reiected the worde of the Lord, and what wisdome is in them?

10 Therefore wil I giue their wiues vnto others, & their fields to thẽ that shal possesse thẽ: *for euerie one from the least cuẽ vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnes & from the Prophet euẽ vnto the Priest, euerie one dealeth falsely. chap. 5, 30. & 6, 13.

11 For thei haue healed ỹ hurt of ỹ daughter of my people with ſwete wordes, ſaying, h Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were thei aſhamed whē they had cōmitted abominatiō? nay, thei were not aſhamed, nether colde they haue anie ſhame: therefore ſhal they fall among the ſlaine: when I ſhal viſit them, they ſhalbe caſt downe, ſaith the Lord.

13 I wil ſurely cōſume them, ſaith ỹ Lord: there ſhal be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the figtre, and the leaf ſhal fade, & the things that I haue giuen them, ſhal departe from them.

14 Why do we ſtay? i aſſemble your ſelues, & let vs entre into the ſtrong cities, & let vs be quiet there: for the Lord our God hathe put vs to ſilence and giuen vs water with k gall to drinke, becauſe we haue ſinned againſt the Lord.

15 *We loked for peace, but no good came, & for a time of health, & beholde troubles.

16 The neying of his horſes was heard frō l Dan, the whole land trembled at the noiſe of the neying of his ſtrōg horſes: for thei are come, and haue deuoured the lād with all that is in it, the citie, and thoſe that dwell therein.

17 For beholde, I wil m ſend ſerpents, & cockatrices among you, which wil not be charmed, & they ſhal ſting you, ſaith ỹ Lord.

18 I wolde haue n cōforted my ſelf againſt ſorowe, but mine heart is heauie in me.

19 Beholde, the voyce of the crye of ỹ daughter of my people for feare of thē of a farre countrey, Is not ỹ Lord in Zión? is not her King in her? Why o haue they prouoked me to angre with their grauē images, and with the vanities of a ſtrange god?

20 The p harueſt is paſt, the ſomer is ended and we are not holpen.

21 I am q ſore vexed for ỹ hurt of ỹ daughter of my people: I am heauy, & aſtoniſhment hathe taken me.

22 Is there no balme r at Gileád? is there no Phiſicīō there? Why thē is not ỹ health of the daughter of my people recouered?

CHAP. IX.

The complaint of the Prophet for the malice of the people. 24 In the knowledge of God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The Uncircumciſion of the heart.

1 OH, that mine head were ful of a water and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might wepe day and night for the ſlaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wildernes a b cottage of way faring men, that I might leaue my people, & go from them: for thei be all c adulterers & an aſſemblie of rebels,

3 And they bend their tongues like their bowes for d lies: but they haue no courage for the trueth vpon ỹ earth: for thei procede from euil to worſe, and they haue not knowen me, ſaith the Lord.

4 Let euerie one take hede of his neighbour, & truſt you not in anie e brother: for euerie brother wil vſe deceit, and euerie friend wil deale deceitfully,

5 And euerie one wil deceiue his friend, & wil not ſpeake the trueth: for they f haue taught their tongues to ſpeake lies, and take great paines to do wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: g becauſe of their deceit they refuſe to knowe me, ſaith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Beholde, I wil h melt them, & trye thē: for what ſhulde I els do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is as an arrowe ſhot out, & ſpeaketh deceit: one ſpeaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart he layeth waite for him. Pſal.28,3. & 120,4.

9 Shal I not viſit thē for theſe things, ſaith the Lord? or ſhal not my ſoule be aduenged on ſuche a nation as this?

10 Vpon the i mountaines wil I take vp a weping and a lamentacion, and vpon the faire places of the wildernes a mourning, becauſe they are burnt vp: ſo that none cā paſſe through them, nether can men heare the voyce of the flocke: bothe the foule of ỹ aire, & the beaſt are fled away & gone.

11 And I wil make Ieruſalém an heape, & a den of dragons, & I wil make the cities of Iudáh waſte, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is k wiſe, to vnderſtand this, and to whome ỹ mouth of the Lord hathe ſpokē, euē he ſhal declare it. Why doeth ỹ land periſh, & is burnt vp like a wildernes, that none paſſeth through?

13 And the Lord ſaith, Becauſe they haue forſaken my Law, which I ſet before them, & haue not obeied my voice, nether walked there after,

14 But haue walked after the ſtubbernes of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which l their fathers taught them,

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Beholde, I wil fede this people with wormewodde, and giue them waters of gall m to drinke:

16 I wil ſcatre them alſo among the heathē, whome nether they nor their fathers haue knowen, and I wil ſend a ſworde after thē, til I haue conſumed them.

17 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Take hede, & call for n the mourning women, ỹ thei may come, & ſend for ſkilful womē that thei may come,

18 And let thē make haſte, & let thē take vp a lamētation for vs, ỹ our eyes may caſt out teares & our eye liddes guſh out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyſe is heard out of Zión, How are we deſtroyed, and

h Read Chap. 6,14

i He ſpeaketh in the perſone of the people, who when the enemie cometh, wil runne about to hide them ſelues, & acknowledge that it is Gods hand.

k That is, hathe broght vs into extreme affliction, and thus they ſhal not attribute this plague to fortune, but to Gods iuſt iudgement, Chap. 9,15. & 23,15. Chap.14,19.

l Read Chap. 4,15.

m God threateneth to ſend ỹ Babylonians among them, who ſhal vtterly deſtroye them in ſuche ſorte as by no meanes they ſhal eſcape

n Read Chap. 4,19.

o Thus the Lord ſpeaketh.

p The people wonder that they haue ſo long time loked for ſuccour in vaine.

q The Prophet ſpeaketh this.

r Meaning, ỹ no mans helpe or meanes cold ſaue thē, for in Gilcád was precious balme, Chap 46. 11. or els deriding the vaine confidēce of the people who loked for helpe at their Prieſts, who ſhulde haue bene the phiſitions of their ſoules, & dwelt at Gilcad, Hoſe.6,8.

a The Prophet ſheweth the great cōpaſsiō that he had toward this people, ſeing, that he colde neuer ſufficiently lament the deſtructiō that he ſaw to hāg ouer them. Which is a ſpecial note to diſcerne the true paſtours from the hireſīgs, read chap. 4,19

b He ſheweth that this were more quietnes, & greater ſafety for him to dwell among the wilde beaſtes then among this wicked people, ſaue that God hathe imoyned him this charge.

c Vtterly turned from God.

d To belye, and ſclaander their neighbours.

e Meaning, ỹ all were corrupt and none colde finde an honeſt man.

f They haue ſo practiſed deceit ỹ thei can not forſake it.

g They had rather forſake God, then leaue their wicked trade.

h With the fyre of affliction.

i Signifying that all ỹ places about Ieruſalém ſhulde be deſtroyed.

k Meaning, ỹ they are all without ſenſe, and vnderſtāding, and that God hathe taken his Spirit from them.

l He ſheweth that the children can not excuſe them ſelues by their fathers: for bo the father, & childe if they be wicked, ſhal periſh.

m Read Chap. 8,14

n Seing you cā not lament your owne ſinnes, call for thoſe foeliſh women, whome of a ſuperſtition you haue to lament for the dead, ỹ they by their famed teares may prouoke you to ſome ſorow.

vtterly confounded for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings o haue cast vs out.

o As though thei were wearie of vs, because of our iniquities, Leu. 18,28, & 20,22.

20 Therefore heare the worde of ỹ Lord, ô ye womẽ, and let your eares regarde the wordes of his mouth, and p teache your daughters to mourne, and euerie one her neighbour to lament.

p He derideth the superstitiõ of the women, which made an arte of mourning, & taught to wepe with fained teares.

21 For death is come vp into our q widowes, & is entred into our palaces, to destroye ỹ children without, and the yong men in the stretes.

q Signifying, that there is no meanes to deliuer ỹ wicked frõ Gods iudgemẽts: but whẽ thei thinke to be moste sure, and moste farre of, then are they soneste taken.

22 Speake, thus saith the Lord, The carkeises of men shal lie, euen as the dung vpon the field, & as the hãdful after the mower, and none shal gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the r wise man glorie in his wisdome, nor the strong man glorie in his strength, nether the riche man glorie in his riches.

r Forasmuche as none cã saue him self by his owne labour or anie worldlie meanes, he sheweth ỹ it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but ỹ we trust in the Lord, & reioyce in him, who onely can deliuer vs, 1. Cor. 1,31. 2 cor. 10, 17.

24 But let him that glorieth, glorie in this, that he vnderstandeth, and knoweth me: for I am the Lord, which s shewe mercie, iudgement, and righteousnes in the earth: for in these things I delite, saith the Lord.

s These thre pointes are necessarie to knowe aright: his mercie wherein consisteth our saluation: his iudgement, ẅ he executeth cõtinually against the wiked, and his iustice, whereby he defendeth, and maintaineth the faithful.

25 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I wil visit all them, which are t circũcised with the vncircumcised:

t Meaning, bothe Iewes and Gentiles, as in the next verse he sheweth the cause, read Chap. 4,4.

26 Egypt and Iudáh, and Edóm, and the children of Ammón, and Moáb, & all the vtmost corners of them that dwell in the wilderners: for all these nations are vncircumcised, & all the house of Israél are vncircumcised in the heart.

CHAP. X.

1 The constellacions of the starres are not to be feared. 5 The weaknes of idoles, & of the power of God. 21 Their pastours are become brute beasts.

1 HEare ye the worde of the Lord that he speaketh vnto you, ô house of Israél.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraide for the a signes of heauen, thogh the heathen be afraide of suche.

a God forbiddeth his people to giue credit or feare the constellations & commũtiõs of starres, and planets, which haue no power of thẽ selues, but are gouerned by him, & their secret motions & influẽces are not knowẽ to mã, and therefore there can be no certaine iudgemẽt thereof, Deut. 18,9.

3 For the b customes of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the hãds of the carpenter) with the axe, b Meaning not onely in the obseruation of the starres, but their laws and ceremonies whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden, Deu. 12,30.

4 And another decketh it c with siluer, and with golde: they fasten it with nailes, and hammers, that it fall not.

c The Propheres vse thus plainely & simply to set forthe the vile absurditie of the idolaters, that mẽ might learne to be ashamed of ỹ, whereunto their corrupt nature is moste subiect, read Isa. 44,12.

5 The idoles stand vp as the palme tre, but speake not: they are borne because they cã not go: feare them not, for they can not do euil, nether can they do good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, ô Lord: d thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

d He teacheth ỹ people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hathe all power, and therefore ought onely to be feared: and hereirein he sheweth them not onely the euil that they ought to eschew but the good, which they ought to follow Reuel. 15,4.

7 Who wolde not feare thee, ô King of nations? for to thee apperteineth the dominion: for amõg all the wise men of the Gẽtiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether thei dote, and are foolish: for the stocke is a e doctrine of vanitie.

e Because the people thoght that to haue images was a meane to serue God and to bring them to ỹ knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor brigeth man into greater errors & ignorãce of God: & therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, ỹ worke of errors, ver. 15, & Habak 2,18. calleth them ỹ teachers of lies: contrarie to that wicked opinion, ỹ thei are the bokes of the laye people.

9 Siluer plates are broght from Tarshísh, and golde f from Vpház, for the worke of the workeman, and the hands of the founder: the blewe silke, and the purple is their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

f Where as they founde ỹ best golde: shewing, ỹ thei thoght nothig to deare for their idoles: some read Ophir, as 1 Kin. 9,28.

10 But the Lord is the God of trueth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlasting King: at his angre the earth shal tremble, & the nations can not abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shal you say vnto them, The gods g that haue not made the heauens and the earth, shal perish from the earth, and from vnder these heauens)

g This declareth that all, ỹ hathe bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes whẽ they shulde be in Caldea among ỹ idolaters, and now ẅ one sẽtence he instructeth thẽ bothe how to protest their owne religion against ỹ idolaters, & how to answer thẽ to their shame which shulde exhorte thẽ to idolatrie, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memorial, where as all the rest of his writing is Ebrewe.

12 He hathe made the earth by his power, and established the worlde by his wisdome, and hathe stretched out the heauen by his discretion.

13 He giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and he causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forthe the winde out of his treasures.

14 Euerie man is a h beast by his owne knowledge: euerie foũder is cõfounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehode, and there is no breth therein.

h The more that man thinketh to do anie thing wel by his owne wisdome, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proue him self to be a vile beast.

15 They are vanitie, & ỹ worke of errours: in the time of their visitation they shal perish.

16 The i portion of Iaakób is not like thẽ: for he is the maker of all things, & Israél is the rod of his inheritante: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

i By these wordes, Portion and rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning, that God shulde be all sufficient for them, and that their felicitie consisted in him alone, & therefore thei ought to renounce all other helpes, & succours as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32,9. psal. 16,5.

17 ¶ k Gather vp thy wares out of the lãd, ô thou that dwellest in the strong place.

k The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare thẽ selues to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they shulde fele the things, whereof he had tolde thẽ.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I wil throwe as with a sling the inhabitans of the land, and wil trouble them, and they shal finde it so.

19 Wo is me for my destruction, & my grieuous plague: but I thoght, Yet it l is my sorowe, and I wil beare it.

l It is my iuste plague & therefore I wil take it pacientlỹ: whereby he teacheth the people how to behaue thẽ selues toward God.

20 m My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my

m He sheweth how Ierusalẽ shal lament.

d He teacheth ỹ people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hathe all power, and therefore ought onely to be feared: and hereirein he sheweth them not onely the euil that they ought to eschew but the good, which they ought to follow Reuel. 15,4.

e Because the people thoght that to haue images was a meane to serue God and to bring them to ỹ knowledge of him, he sheweth that nothing more displeaseth God, nor brigeth man into greater errors & ignorãce of God: & therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, ỹ worke of errors, ver. 15, & Habak 2,18. calleth them ỹ teachers of lies: contrarie to that wicked opinion, ỹ thei are the bokes of the laye people.

f Where as they founde ỹ best golde: shewing, ỹ thei thoght nothig to deare for their idoles: some read Ophir, as 1 Kin. 9,28.

g This declareth that all, ỹ hathe bene in this Chapter spoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes whẽ they shulde be in Caldea among ỹ idolaters, and now ẅ one sẽtence he instructeth thẽ bothe how to protest their owne religion against ỹ idolaters, & how to answer thẽ to their shame which shulde exhorte thẽ to idolatrie, and therefore he writeth this sentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memorial, where as all the rest of his writing is Ebrewe.

h The more that man thinketh to do anie thing wel by his owne wisdome, and not as God instructeth him, the more doeth he proue him self to be a vile beast.

i By these wordes, Portion and rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning, that God shulde be all sufficient for them, and that their felicitie consisted in him alone, & therefore thei ought to renounce all other helpes, & succours as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32,9. psal. 16,5.

k The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare thẽ selues to this captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they shulde fele the things, whereof he had tolde thẽ.

l It is my iuste plague & therefore I wil take it pacientlỹ: whereby he teacheth the people how to behaue thẽ selues toward God.

m He sheweth how Ierusalẽ shal lament.

coards are broken: my children are gone from me, & are not: there is none to ſpread out my tent any more, and to ſet vp my courtaines.

21 For the paſtors [n] are become beaſtes, and haue not ſoght ỹ Lord: therefore haue they none vnderſtanding: and all the flockes of their paſtures are ſcatered.

22 Beholde, the noiſe of the brute is come, and a great commotion out of the [o] North countrey to make the cities of Iudáh deſolate, and a denne of dragons.

23 O Lord, I knowe, that [p] the way of man is not in him ſelf, nether is it in man to walke and to direct his ſteps.

24 O Lord, correct me, but with [q] iudgement, not in thine angre, leſt thou bring me to nothing.

25 Powre out [r] thy wrath vpon the heathen, that knowe thee not, & vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iaakób & deuoured him & conſumed him, and haue made his habitacion deſolate.

[n] The gouernours and miniſters.
[o] Read Chap. 4,15.
[p] He ſpeaketh this, becauſe ỹ Nebuchadnezzár purpoſed to haue made warre againſt ỹ Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedechiahs rebelliõ, he turned his power to go againſt Ieruſalém, Ezek.21,21. therefore ỹ Prophet ſaith, ỹ this was the Lords direction.
[q] Conſidering that God had reueiled vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap 7,16, he onely prayeth, that he wolde puniſh them with mercie, which Iſaiáh calleth, in meaſure, Chap.27,8. meaſuring his roddes by their infirmitie, 1.Cor.10,13. for here by iudgement is ment not onely the puniſhment, but alſo the merciful moderacion of the ſame, as Chap 30,11. [r] For aſmuche as God can not onely be knowen and glorified by his mercie, that he vſeth toward his Church, but alſo by his iuſtice in puniſhing his enemies, he praieth that his glorie may fully appeare bothe in the one and the other, Pſal.79,6.

CHAP. XI.

[s] A curſe of them that obey not the worde of Gods couenant. 10 The people of Iudáh, following the ſteppes of theer fathers, worſhippe ſtrange gods. 15 The Lord forbiddeth Ieremiah to praie for them.

1 THe worde that came to Ieremiáh frõ the Lord, ſaying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, & ſpeake vnto the men of Iudáh, and to the inhabitants of Ieruſalém,

3 And ſay thou vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, [a] Curſed be the man that obeieth not the wordes of this couenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornace, ſaying, Obey my voyce, and do according to all theſe things, which I commande you: ſo ſhal ye be my people, and I wil be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue ſworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then anſwered [b] I & ſaid, So be it, ô Lord.

6 Then the Lord ſaid vnto me, Crye all theſe wordes in the cities of Iudáh, and in the ſtretes of Ieruſalém, ſaying, Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and do thẽ.

7 For I haue proteſted vnto your fathers, when I broght them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, [c] riſing earely & proteſting, ſaying, Obey my voyce.

[a] He calleth ỹ Iewes to the conſideracion of Gods mercies, who freely choſe thẽ, made a couenant of eternal felicitie with them, & how he euer perfor med it on his behalf, & how they euer ſhewed them ſelues rebellious & ingrate toward him & brake it on their parte, & ſo are ſubiect to the curſe of the Law, Deut. 27,26.
[b] Thus he ſpeaketh in ỹ perſone of the people, which agreed to the couenant.
[c] Read Chap. 7,13.

8 Neuertheles they wolde not obey, nor encline their eare: but euery one walked in the ſtubbernes of his wicked [d] heart: therefore I wil bring vpon them all the [e] wordes of this couenant, which I commanded them to do, but thei did it not.

9 And the Lord ſaid vnto me, A [f] conſpiracie is founde among the men of Iudáh, & among the inhabitants of Ieruſalém.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refuſed to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to ſerue them: thus the houſe of Iſraél, and the houſe of Iudáh haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring a plague vpon them, which they ſhal not be able to eſcape, and thogh they crye vnto me, [g] I wil not heare them.

12 Then ſhal the cities of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ieruſalém go, and crye vnto the gods vnto whome thei offer incenſe, but they ſhal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 [h] For according to the nomber of thy cities were thy gods, ô Iudáh, and according to the nomber of the ſtretes of Ieruſalém haue ye ſet vp altars of confuſion, euen altars to burne incenſe vnto Báal.

14 Therefore thou ſhalt not pray [i] for this people, nether lift vp a crye, or prayer for them: for when thei crye vnto me in their trouble, I wil not heare them.

15 What ſhulde my [k] beloued tary in mine houſe, ſeing they haue committed abominacion with many? and the holy fleſh [l] goeth away frõ thee: yet when thou doeſt euil, thou reioyceſt.

16 The Lord called thy name, A grene oliue tre, faire, and of goodlie frute: but with [m] noiſe and great tumult he hathe ſet fyre vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hoſtes that planted thee, hathe pronounced a plague againſt thee, (for the wickednes of the houſe of Iſraél, and of the houſe of Iudáh) which thei haue done againſt them ſelues to prouoke me to angre in offring incenſe vnto Báal.

18 And the Lord hathe taught me, and I knowe it, euen then ỹ ſhewedſt me [n] their practiſes.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is broght to the ſlaughter, and I knewe not ỹ thei had deuiſed thus againſt me, ſaying, Let vs [o] deſtroye the tre with the frute thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But ô Lord of hoſtes, that iudgeſt righteouſly, and tryeſt the reines & the heart, let me ſe thy [p] vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cauſe.

[d] According to his owne faſte, and not as my worde appointed him.
[e] Meaning, the menaces and curſes conteined in ỹ Law. Leu.26,14. deut.28,16.
[f] That is, a generall conſent to rebelle againſt me.
[g] Becauſe thei wil not pray with true faith & repentance, but for the ſmart & griefe, which thei feſe, Prou.1,28.
[h] Read Chap. 2,28.
[i] Read Chap. 7,16. & 14,11.
[k] My people of Iſraél whome I haue hetherto ſo greatly loued.
[l] Meaning, that they offer not in the Temple to God, but vpon the altars of Báal & the idoles, and ſo reioyced in their wickednes.
[m] Of the Babylonians and Caldeans.
[n] Which were about priuely to cõſpire my death.
[o] Let vs deſtroy ỹ Prophét & his doctrine. Some read, let vs corrupt his meat with wood, meaning, poyſon.
[p] Thus he ſpake not for hatred, but being moued with the Spirit of God, he deſireth the aduãcemẽt of Gods glorie and the verifying of his worde, which is by the deſtructiõ of his enemies.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of q Anathóth, (that seke thy life, & say, r Prophecie not in the Name of the Lord, that thou dye not by our hands)
22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil visit them: the yong men shal dye by ỹ sworde: their sonnes & their daughters shal dye by famine, 23 And none of them shal remaine: for I wil bring a plague vpō the men of Anathóth, euen the yere of their visitacion.

q To wit, both the the priests and the reste of the people: for this towne was the priests, & they dwelt in it, read Chap 1,1.
r Nor ỹ they colde not abide to heare God named: (for herof thei wolde shewe them selues most holy) but because they colde not abide to be sharpely reproued and therefore desired to be flattered, Isa. 30, 10, and to be mainteined in their pleasures, Mich 2, 11, and not to heare vice cōdēned, Amos 7.12.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet marueleth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsakē of the Lord 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nacions, that troubled Iudáh.

1 O Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements; wherefore doeth the waye of the wicked b prosper? why are all they in welth that rebelliously transgresse?
2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: thei growe, and bring forthe frute: thou art nere in their mouth, and farre from their c reines.
3 But thou, Lord, knoweste me: thou hast sene me, and tryed mine heart toward thee: pul them out like shepe for the slaughter, and d prepare them for the day of slaughter.
4 How long shal the land mourne, and the herbes of euery field wither, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein? the beasts are cōsumed and the byrdes, because they said, e He wil not se our last end.
5 If thou hast runne with the f fotemen, and they haue wearied thee, then how canst thou matche thy self with horses? & if thou thoghtest thy self safe in a peaceable lād, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Iordén?
6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen thei haue delt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleue them not, thogh they speake faire to thee.
7 I haue forsaken g mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the derelie beloued of my soule into the hands of her enemies.
8 Mine heritage is vnto me, as a h lyon in the forest: it cryeth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.
9 Shal mine heritage be vnto me, as a birde i of diuerse colours are not ỹ birdes about her, saying, Come, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to eat her?
10 Many pastors haue destroyed my k vineyarde, and troden my porcion vnder foote: of my pleasant porcion they haue made a desolate wildernes.
11 They haue laid it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto me: and the whole land lyeth waste, because no mā setteth his minde on l it.
12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wildernes: for ỹ sworde of the Lord shal deuoure from the one end of the land, euen to the other end of the land: no flesh shal haue peace.
13 m They haue sowen wheat, and reaped thornes: they were n sicke, and had no profite: and they were ashamed of o your frutes, because of the fierce wrath of ỹ Lord.
14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine euil p neighbours, that touche the inheritāce, which I haue caused my people Israél to inherite, Beholde, I wil plucke them out of their land, and plucke out the house of Iudáh from among them.
15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I q wil returne, and haue compassion on them, and wil bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.
16 And if they wil learne the r wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, (The Lord liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Báal) then shal they be buylt s in the middes of my people.
17 But if they wil not obey, then wil I vterly plucke vp, and destroye that nacion, saith the Lord.

a Because the prophet cōfesseth God to be iuste in all his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his actes
b This questiō hathe bene alway a great tentation to ỹ godlie, to se ỹ wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his dere children in aduersitie, as Iob 21,7 psal 37,1. 73,1 Haba 1.3
c They professe God in mouthe, but denie him in heart, which is here ment by the reines, Isa 29, 13. mat 15, 8
d The Ebrewe worde is, Sanctifie them, meaning, that God wolde be sanctified in ỹ destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giueth prosperitie, that afterwarde they shulde ỹ more fele his heauy iudgemēt whē they lacke their riches, ỹ were a signe of his mercie.
e Abusing Gods lenitie & his promises, they flattered thē selues as though God wolde euer be mercifull, and not vtterly destroy them: therfore they hardened them selues in sinne, til at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubberne rebellion against God
f Some thinke that if he were not able to matche with men, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the fotemen, meane them of Anathóth, & by ỹ horsemen them of Ierusalém, which shulde trouble the Prophet worse then his owne countrey men did.
g God willeth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalém, notwithstanding that they shal bothe by threatnings and flatteries labour to put him to silence.
h Euer ramping and raging against me and my Prophets.
i In stead of bearing my liuerey & wearing onely my colours, they haue changed and diuersitie of colours of their idoles & superstitions. therfore their enemies, as thicke as the foules of the ayre, shal come about thē to destroy them.
k He propheacieth of the destruction of Ierusalém by the captaines of Nebuchadnezzár, whome he calleth pastors l Because no man regarded my worde, or the plagues ỹ I haue sent vpon the land m To wit, the Prophetes.
n They lamented the sinnes of the people.
o For in stead of amendemēt you grewe worse & worse as Gods plagues testified p Meanig, the wicked enemies of his Church ỹ blaspheme his name, & whome he wolde punish after that he hathe deliuered his people.
q After that I haue punished ỹ Gētiles, I wil haue mercie vpon them.
r The true doctrine and maner to serue God.
s Read Chap 4,2.
t They shalbe of the nomber of the faithful, and haue a place in my Church.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured 11 Why Israél was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

1 THus saith the Lord vnto me, Go, and bye thee a linen girdle, and put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.
2 So I boght the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.
3 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me the seconde time, saying,
4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, go toward a Peráth, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.
5 So I went, & hid it by Peráth, as the Lord had commanded me.
6 And after many daies, the Lord said vnto me, Arise, go toward Peráth, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee a Because this riuer Peráth or Euphrates was farre frō Ierusalém, it is cuidēt, that this was a vision, whereby was signified that the Iewes shulde passe ouer Euphrates to be captiues in Babylon & there for length of time shulde se me tobe rotten: although they were ioyned to the Lord before as a girdle about a man.

thee to hide there.

7 Then wēt I to Peráth, and digged,& toke the girdle from the place where I had hid it,& beholde, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me,saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this maner wil I destroye the pride of Iudáh,& the great pride of Ierusalém.

10 This wicked people haue refused to hear my worde,& walke after the stubbernes of their owne heart,and walke after other gods to serue them, and to worship them: therefore they shalbe as this girdle,which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loines of a man, so haue I tyed to me the whole house of Israél,and the whole house of Iudáh,saith the Lord,that thei might be my people: that they might haue a name and praise,and glorie, but thei wolde not heare!

12 Therefore thou shalt saie vnto them this worde, Thus saith ỹ Lord God of Israél, Euerie [b] bottel shalbe filled with wine,and thei shal saie vnto thee,Do we not knowe that euerie bottle shalbe filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou saie vnto them, Thus saith the Lord,Beholde,I wil fil all the inhabitants of this land,euen the Kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid,and the Priests and the Prophetes and all the inhabitants of Ierusalém with drunkēnes.

14 And I [c] wil dash them one against another,euen the fathers and the sonnes together,saith the Lord: I wil not spare, I wil not pitie nor haue compassiō,but destroie them.

15 Heare and giue eare,be not proude:for the Lord hathe spoken it.

16 Giue glorie to ỹ Lord your God before he bring [d] darkenes, and or euer your fete stumble in the darke mountaines,and whiles you loke for [e] light, he turne it into the shadowe of death and make it as darkenes.

17 But if ye wil not heare this,my soule shal [f] wepe in secret for your pride, & mine eye shal wepe and drop downe teares,because the Lords flocke is caried awaie captiue.

18 Saie vnto the [g] King and to the Queene,Humble your selues,sit downe,for the crowne of your glorie shal come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of [h] the South shalbe shut vp, and no man shal open them:all Iudáh shal be caried awaie captiue:it shalbe wholy caried awaie captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes and beholde them ỹ come from the North,where is ỹ [i] flocke ỹ was giuē thee, euen thy beautiful flocke.

21 What wilt thou saie, when he shal visit thee? (for thou hast [k] taught thē to be captaines & as chief ouer thee) shal not sorow take thee as a woman in trauail?

22 And if thou saie in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts [l] discouered & thy heles made bare.

23 Can the blacke More change his skin? or the leopard his spottes? then maie ye also do good,that are accustomed to do euil.

24 Therefore wil I scatre thē, as the stubble that is taken awaie with the South winde.

25 This is thy portion, and the parte of thy measures from me,saith the Lord,because thou hast forgoten me and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discouered thy skirts vpon thy face, [m] that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue sene thine adulteries,& thy [n] neyings, ỹ filthines of thy whoredome on the hilles in [o] the fields, and thine abominatiós. Wo vnto thee, ô Ierusalém: wilt thou not be made cleane? when shal it once be?

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Of the dearth that shulde come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The vnfaithful people are not heard. 12 Of prayer,fasting,and of false prophetes that seduce the people.

1 THe worde of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiáh,concerning the [a] " dearth.

2 Iudáh hathe mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate,they haue bene [b] broght to heaunes vnto the grounde,and the crye of Ieruſalém goeth vp,

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water,who came to the welles, and founde no water: they returned with their vessels emptie: they were ashamed & confounded,and [c] couered their heads.

4 For the grounde was destroyed,because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and couered their heades.

5 Yea, the hinde also calued in the field, and forsoke [d] it,because there was no grasse.

6 And the wilde asses did stād in the high places,and drewe in their winde like [e] dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

7 [f] O Lord,thogh our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are manie, we sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israél, the sauiour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a [g] stranger in the lād,as one that passeth by to tarie for a night?

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as [h] a strong man that can not helpe? yet thou, ô Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

b Euerie one of you shalbe filled with spiritual drunkēnes, and be without all knowledge to seke how to helpe your selues.

c It shalbe as easie for me to destroye ỹ greatest, and ỹ strongest, as it is for a man to breake earthē bottels.

d That is,afflicciō & miserie by the Babylonias,Isa.8,22

e Meaning,for helpe and support of the Egyptians.

f You shal surely be led away captiue & I,according to mine affection coward you, shal wepe,and lamēt for your stubbernes.

g For Iehoiachin,& his mother rendred them selues by Ieremiahs counsel to the King of Babylon, 2 King. 24,12.

h That is, of Iudáh which lieth Southward frō Babylon.

i He asketh ỹ King,where his people is become.

k By seking to strāgers for helpe thou hast made thē skilful to fight against thee.

l Thy cloke of hypocrisie shal be pulled of and thy shame sene.

m As thine iniquities haue bene manifest to all the worlde:so shal thy shame, & punishment.

n He compareth idolaters to horses inflamed after mares.

o There is no place so hie nor lo, where as the markes and signes of thine idolatrie appeare not.

a Which came for lacke of raine,as ver. 4. Or,restreint.

b The worde signifieth to be made blacke, and so is here taken for extreme sorowe.

c To wit,with ashes in token of sorowe.

d Meaning, ỹ ỹ brute beasts for drought were compelled to forsake their yong,cōtrarie to nature,& to go seke water, which they colde not finde.

e Which are so hote of nature, that thei can not be couled with drinking of water, but stil gape for the aire to refresh them.

f He sheweth the onely way to remedie Gods plagues, which is by vnfained confession of our sinnes, and returning to him by repentāce.

g That taketh no care for vs.

h As one that hathe strength to helpe,& yet is afraid to put to his handes

10 Thus ſaith the Lord vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wādre: they haue not refrained their fete, therefore the Lord hathe no delite in thē: but he wil now remember their iniquitie, and viſit their ſinnes.

i Read Chap. 7,16 & 11,14.

11 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, [i] Thou ſhalt not praye to do this people good.

12 Whē they faſt, I wil not heare their crye, and when they offer burnt offring, and an oblation, I wil not accept them: but I wil conſume them by the ſworde, and by the famine and by the peſtilence.

13 Then anſwered I, Ah Lord God, beholde, the [k] Prophetes ſay vnto them, Ye ſhal not ſe the ſworde, nether ſhal famine come vpon you, but I wil giue you aſſured peace in this place.

k He pitieth the people, & accuſeth the falſe prophetes, which deceiued them: but the Lord anſwered, that bothe ỹ Prophetes, which deceiued, and the people, ẃ ſuffred thē ſelues to be ſeduced, ſhal periſh, Chap. 23, 15. & 27,21, & 29,8. Chap.23,21. & 27,21. & 14,14.

14 Then the Lord ſaid vnto me, The Prophetes prophecie lies in my Name: * I haue not ſent them, nether did I commande them, nether ſpake I vnto them, but they prophecie vnto you a falſe viſion, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulnes of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Concerning the Prophetes that prophecie in my Name, whome I haue not ſent, yet they ſay, Sworde and famine ſhal not be in this land, by ſworde & famine ſhal thoſe Prophetes be conſumed.

16 And the people to whome theſe Prophetes do prophecie, ſhalbe caſt out in the ſtrietes of Ieruſalém, becauſe of the famine, & the ſworde, & there ſhalbe none to burye them, bothe they, and their wiues, and their ſonnes, & their daughters: for I wil powre their wickednes vpon them.

l The falſe prophets promiſed peace, & aſſurāce, but Ieremiáh calleth to teares, and repentance for their affliction, ẃ is at hand, as Chap. 9,1. lament. 1, 16 & 2,18.

17 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay this worde vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe [l] teares night and day without ceaſing: for ỹ virgine daughter of my people is deſtroyed with a great deſtruction, and with a ſore grieuous plague.

m Bothe hie, & lowe ſhalbe led captiues into Babylon.

18 For if I go into the field, beholde the ſlaine with the ſworde: and if I entre into the citie, beholde thē that are ſicke for hunger alſo: moreouer the Prophet alſo and the Prieſt go a wandring [m] into a land that they know not.

n Though the Prophet knew that God had caſt of ỹ multitude, which were hypocrites, and baſtard children, yet he was aſſured that for his promes ſake he wolde haue ſtil a Church, for the which he prayeth.

19 Haſt thou vtterly reiected [n] Iudáh, or hathe thy ſoule abhorred Zión? Why haſt thou ſmitten vs, that we can not be healed? We loked for peace, & there is no good, & for the time of health, & beholde trouble.

o He teacheth the Church a forme of prayer, to humble thē ſelues to God by true repentance, ẃ is the onelie meane to auoide this famine, ẃ was the beginning of Gods plagues.

20 We [o] acknowledge, ô Lord, our wickednes & the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue ſinned againſt thee.

21 Do not abhorre [p] vs: for thy Names ſake caſt not downe the throne of thy glorie: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

p Meaning, their idoles, read Chap. 30,15.

22 Are there anie among ỹ [p] vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauēs giue ſhowers? is it not thou, ô Lord our God? therefore we wil waite vpō thee: for thou haſt made all theſe things.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord wolde heare no prayer for the Iewes, 3 But threatneth to deſtroye them with foure plagues.

1 THē ſaid the Lord vnto me, [a] Thogh Moſés and Samuél ſtode before me, yet mine affectiō colde not be toward this people: caſt them out of my ſight, and let them departe.

a Meaning, that if there were anie man liuing moued with ſo great zeale toward ỹ people, aſwere theſe two, yet that he wolde not grante this requeſt, to raiſe muche as he had determined the contrarie, Ezek. 14,14. Zach.11,9.

2 And if they ſay vnto thee, Whether ſhal we departe? then tel them, Thus ſaith the Lord, * Suche as are appointed to death, vnto death: & ſuche as are for the ſworde, to the ſworde, & ſuche as are for the famine to the famine, and ſuche as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

b The dogs, birdes & beaſtes ſhulde deuoure them, ỹ were ſlaine.

3 And I wil appointe ouer them foure kindes, ſaith the Lord, the ſworde to ſlay, and the [b] doggs to teare in pieces, & the foules of the heauen, & the beaſtes of the earth to deuoure, and to deſtroye.

c The worde ſignifieth to rūne to & fro for feare, and vnquietnes of cōſcience, as did Kain.

4 I wil [c] ſcater them alſo in all kingdomes of the earth, [d] becauſe of Manaſſēh the ſōne of Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, for that which he did in Ieruſalém.

d Not that ỹ people was puniſhed for the Kings ſinne onely, but for their owne ſinnes alſo, becauſe they cōſented to his wickednes, 2. King. 21,9.

5 Who ſhal then haue pitie vpō thee, ô Ieruſalém? or who ſhalbe ſorie for thee? or who ſhal go to pray for thy peace?

e That is, I wil not call backe my plagues, or ſpare thee anie more.

6 Thou haſt forſaken me, ſaith the Lord, & gone backwarde: therefore wil I ſtretch out mine hand againſt thee, and deſtroye thee: for I [e] am wearie with repenting.

f Meaning, the cities.

7 And I wil ſcatre thē with the fanne [f] in ỹ gates of the earth: I haue waſted, & deſtroyed my people, yet they wolde not returne from their wayes.

g Becauſe I had ſlaine their houſbands.

8 Their widdowes [g] are increaſed by me aboue the ſand of the ſea: I haue broght vpon thē, & againſt the [*] aſſemblie of the yong men a deſtroyer at none day: I haue cauſed him to fall vpon them, & the citie ſuddenly, and [*] ſpedely.

*Or, mother. Or, fearefully.

h She that had manie, loſt all her children.

9 She that hathe borne [h] ſeuen, hathe bene made weake: her heart hathe failed: the ſun ne hathe failed [i] her, whiles it was day: ſhe hathe bene confounded, & aſhamed, and the reſidue of them wil I deliuer vnto the ſworde before their enemies, ſaith ỹ Lord.

i She was deſtroyed in the middes of her proſperitie.

k Theſe are ỹ Prophets woordes, cōplaining of ỹ obſtinacie of ỹ people, & that he was reſerued to ſo wicked a time wherei alſo he ſheweth what is the cōdition of Gods miniſters: to wit, to haue all the worlde againſt thē, though they giue none occaſion.

10 ¶ [k] Wo is me, my mother, that thou haſt borne me, a contentious man, & a mā that ſtriueth with ỹ whole earth: I haue nether [l] lent on vſurie, nor mē haue lent vnto me on vſurie: yet euerie one doeth curſſe me.

l Which is an occaſion of cōtention and hatred.

11 The Lord ſaid, [m] Surely thy remnāt ſhal haue welth: ſurely I wil cauſe thine enemie to intreat thee in the time of trouble, and in the time of affliction.

m In this perplexitie the Lord cōforted me, & ſaid ỹ my laſt doyes ſhulde be quiet: & by ỹ enemie he meaneth here, Nebuzardán the captaine of Nebuchadnezzar, who gaue Ieremiáh ỹ choiſe ether to remaine in his countrey, or to go whether he wolde: or by the enemie he meaneth the Iewes, ỹ ſhulde afterward knowe Ieremiahs fidelitie, and therefore fauour him.

12 Shal the n yron breake the yron, and the braſſe that commeth from the North?
13 Thy ſubſtance & thy treaſures wil I giue to be ſpoiled without *gaine, and that for all thy ſinnes euen in all thy borders.
14 And I wil make thee to go with thine enemies into a lãd that thou knowest not: for a fyre is kindled in mine angre, which ſhal burne you.
15 O Lord, thou knoweſt, remembre me, & viſit me, and reuenge me of my o perſecuters: take me not awaie in the continuance of thine angre: knowe that for thy ſake I haue ſuffred rebuke.
16 Thy wordes were founde by me, and I did p eat them, and thy worde was vnto me the ioye and reioycing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon me, ô Lord God of hoſtes.
17 I ſate not in the aſſemblie of the mockers, nether did I reioyce, but ſate alone q becauſe of thy plague: for thou haſt filled me with indignation.
18 Why is mine heauines continual? & my plague deſperate & can not be healed? why art thou vnto me r as a lyer, and as waters that faile.
19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, If thou ſ returne, then wil I bring thee againe, & thou ſhalt ſtand before me: and if thou take awaie the t precious from the vile, thou ſhalt be u according to my worde: let them returne x vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.
20 And I wil make thee vnto this people a ſtrong braſen wall, and thei ſhal fight againſt thee, but thei ſhal not y preuaile againſt thee: for I am with thee to ſaue thee & to deliuer thee, ſaith the Lord.
21 And I wil deliuer thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I wil redeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

n As for the people thogh they ſemed ſtrong as yron, yet muſt they not be able to reſiſt ỹ hard yron of Babylon, but ſhuld be led captiues o Or, raanſome.
p He ſpeaketh not this for deſire of reuẽgeãce, but wiſhig ỹ God wolde deliuer his Church of thẽ whome he knewe to be hardened and incorrigible
q I receiued thẽ ỽ as great ioye as he, ỹ is affamiſhed eateth meat
r I had nothĩg ado with the wicked cõtemners of thy worde, but lamented bitterly for thy plagues ſhewing what the faithful ſhuld do whẽ they ſe tokens of Gods angre
s And haſt not aſsiſted me according to thy promes: whereỉ appeareth, ỹ in the Saints of God is imperfectiõ of faith, ỽ through impatiẽcie is oft times ſtailed as Chap 20, 7
t If thou forget theſe carnal conſiderãtiõs, & faithfully executo thy charge
t That is, ſeke to winne the good from the bad u To wit, as my mouth hathe pronoũced Chap 1, 18, & as here follo eth verſ 20 x Cõforme not thy ſelf to their wickednes, but let them followe thy godlie exãple
y I wil arme thee ỽ an inuincible ſtrẽgth & cõſtancie, ſo that all the powers of the worlde ſhal not ouercome thee

Chap XVI

a Meaning, ỹ the affliction ſhulde be ſo horrible in Ieruſalem, that wife, and childrẽ ſhulde but increaſe his ſorowe.

CHAP. XVI.

2 The Lord forbidding Ieremiáh to marie, ſheweth him what ſhulde be the afflictiõs vpõ Iudáh. 13 The captiuitie of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 THe worde of the Lord came alſo vnto me, ſaying,
2 Thou ſhalt not take a thee a wife, nor haue ſonnes nor daughters in this place.
3 For thus ſaith the Lord concerning the ſonnes, and cõcerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, & concerning their fathers, that beget them in this land.
4 Thei ſhal dye of deaths & diſeaſes: thei ſhal not be lamented, nether ſhal thei be buryed, but thei ſhalbe as dongue vpon the earth, and thei ſhalbe conſumed by the ſworde, and by famine, and their carkeiſes ſhalbe meat for the foules of the heauen, and for the beaſtes of the earth.
5 For thus ſaith the Lord, b Entre not into the houſe of mournĩg, nether go to lamẽt, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace frõ this people, ſaith the Lord, euen mercie and compaſsion.
6 Bothe ỹ great, & the ſmale ſhal dye in this land: thei ſhal not be buryed, nether ſhal men lamẽt for them c nor cut them ſelues, nor make them ſelues bald for them.
7 Thei ſhal not ſtretche out the hands for them in the mourning to cõfort them for the dead, nether ſhal thei giue them the d cup of conſolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.
8 Thou ſhalt not alſo go into the houſe of feaſting to ſit with thẽ to eat & to drinke.
9 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Beholde, I wil cauſe to ceaſe out of this place in your eyes, euen in your daies the voice of mirth, & the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bride grome and the voice of the bride.
10 And when thou ſhalt ſhewe this people all theſe wordes, & thei ſhal ſaie vnto thee, *Wherefore hathe the Lord pronounced all this great plague againſt vs? or what is e our iniquitie? and what is our ſinne that we haue f omitted againſt ỹ Lord our God?
11 Then ſhalt thou ſaie vnto them, Becauſe your fathers haue forſaken me, ſaith the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue ſerued them, & worſhiped thẽ, & haue forſakẽ me, & haue not kept my Law,
12 (*And ye haue done worſe then your fathers: for beholde, you walke euerie one after the ſtubbornes of his wicked heart, and wil not heare me)
13 Therefore wil I driue you out of this land into a land that ye knowe not, nether you, nor your fathers, and there ſhal ye ſerue other gods daie and night: for I wil ſhewe g you no grace.
14 *Beholde, therefore, ſaith the Lord, the daies come that it ſhal no more be ſaid, The Lord liueth, which brought vp ỹ children of Iſraél out of the land of Egypt,
15 But the Lord liueth, that brought vp the children of Iſraél f from the land of the North, and from all the lands where he had ſcatered them, and I wil bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.
16 Beholde, ſaith the Lord, I wil ſend out many g fiſhers, and thei ſhal fiſh them, and after, wil I ſend out many hunters, & thei ſhal hunt them from euerie mountaine and from euerie hill, and out of the caues of the rockes.
17 For mine eyes are vpon all their waies: thei are not hid from my face, nether is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.
18 And firſt I wil recompence their iniquitie and their ſinne double, becauſe they

b Signifying that ỹ affliction ſhulde be ſo great ỹ one ſhulde not haue leaſure to comfort another.
c That is, ſhal de not rent their clothes in ſigne of mourning.
d For in theſe great extremities all conſolation & comfort ſhalbe in vaine.
e Becauſe the wicked are alwaies rebellious and diſſemble their owne ſinnes, & murmur againſt Gods iudgemẽts as though he had no iuſt cauſe to puniſh thẽ, he ſheweth him what to anſwer.
Chap. 7. 25
Chap. 23. 7
f Signifying ỹ benefite of their deliuerance out of Babylon ſhulde be ſo great, that it ſhulde aboliſh the remembrance of their deliuerance frõ Egypt: but he hathe here chiefly reſpect to the ſpiritual deliuerance vnder Chriſt
g By ỹ fiſhers and hunters are ment ỹ Babylonians and Caldeans who ſhulde ceſtroy them in ſuch ſort that if they eſcaped the one, ỹ other ſhulde take them.

haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthie [h] carions and their abominations.

19 O Lord, thou art my [i] force, & my ſtrēgth & my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles ſhal come vnto thee frō the ends of the worlde, and ſhal ſay, Surely our fathers haue inherited [k] lies, & vanitie, wherein there was no profite.

20 Shal a man make gods vnto him ſelf, & they are no gods?

21 Beholde, therfore I wil this once [l] teache thē: I wil ſhew thē mine hād & my power, & thei ſhal know ỹ my Name is the Lord.

h That is, their ſonnes & daughters, ẅ they offred to Molech.

i He wondereth at ỹ great mercie of God in this deliuerance, ẅ ſhal not onely extend to the Iewes, but alſo the Gentiles.

k Our fathers were moſt vile idolaters: therefore it cometh onely of Gods mercie, that he performeth his promes, & hathe not vtterly caſt vs of.

l They ſhal once againe fele my power, & mercie for their deliuerāce, that thei may learne to worſhip me.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The frowardnes of the Iewes. 5 Curſed be thoſe that put their confidence in man. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the ſearcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forſaken. 21 The right keping of the Sabbath commanded.

1 THe ſinne of Iudáh is [a] writen with a penne of yron, & with the point of a diamōde, & grauē vpō the [b] table of their heart, & vpon the hornes of your [c] altars.

2 [d] They remēber their altars as their children, with their groues by the grene trees vpon the hie hilles.

3 [e] O my mountaine in the field, I wil giue thy ſubſtance, & all thy treaſures to be ſpoiled, for the ſinne of thy high places through out all thy borders.

4 And thou ſhalt reſt, [f] and in thee ſhalbe areſt frō thine heritage that I gaue thee, & I wil cauſe thee to ſerue thine enemies in the lād, which thou knoweſt not: for ye haue kindeled a fyre in mine angre, which ſhal burne for euer.

5 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord, [g] Curſed be the mā that truſteth in mā, & maketh fleſh his arme, & withdraweth his heart frō ỹ Lord.

6 For he ſhalbe like the heath in the wildernes, and ſhal not ſe when ante good cometh, but ſhal inhabit the partched places in the wildernes, in a ſalt land, and not inhabited.

7 Bleſſed be the man, that truſteth in the Lord, and whoſe hope the Lord is.

8 [h] For he ſhalbe as a tre that is planted by the water, which ſpreadeth out her rootes by the riuer, and ſhal not fele when the heat cometh, but her leaf ſhalbe grene, and ſhal not care for the yere of drought, nether ſhal ceaſe from yelding frute.

9 [i] The heart is deceitful and wicked aboue all things, who can knowe it?

10 I the Lord ſearche the heart, & trye the reines, euen to giue euerie man according to his wayes, and according to the frute of his workes.

11 [k] As the partryche gathereth the yong, which ſhe hathe not broght forthe: ſo he that getteth riches, and not by right, ſhal leaue them in the middes of his dayes, and at his end ſhalbe a foole.

12 As a glorious throne [l] exalted from the beginning, ſo is the place of our Sāctuarie.

13 O Lord, the hope of Iſraél, all that forſake thee, ſhalbe confounded: thei that departe from thee, ſhalbe writen [m] in the earth, becauſe they haue forſakē the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Heale me, ô Lord, and I ſhalbe whole: [n] ſaue me, and I ſhal be ſaued: for thou art my praiſe.

15 Beholde, [o] they ſay vnto me, Where is the worde of the Lord? let it come now.

16 But [p] I haue not thruſt in my ſelf for a paſtor after thee, nether haue I deſired the daye of miſerie, thou knoweſt: that which came out of my lippes, was right before thee.

17 Be not [q] terrible vnto me: thou art mine hope in the day of aduerſitie.

18 Let them be confounded, that perſecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraid: bring vpon them the day of aduerſitie, [r] & deſtroy them with double deſtruction.

19 Thus hathe the Lord ſaid vnto me, Go and ſtand in the [ſ] gate of the children of the people, whereby ỹ Kings of Iudáh come in, and by the which thei go out, and in all the gates of Ieruſalém, 20 And ſay vnto them, Heare the worde of the Lord, ye Kings of Iudáh, and all Iudáh, and all the inhabitants of Ieruſalém, that entre in by theſe gates.

21 Thus ſaith the Lord, Take hede to your ſoules, and beare no burden in the [t] Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ieruſalém.

22 Nether carye forthe burdēs out of your houſes in the Sabbath day: nether do ye anie worke, but ſanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, nether inclined their eares, but made their neckes ſtiffe & wolde not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheles if ye wil heare me, ſaith the Lord, & beare no burden through the gates of the citie in the Sabbath day, but ſanctifie the Sabbath day, ſo that ye do no worke therein,

25 Then ſhal the Kings and the princes entre in at the gates of this citie, and ſhal ſit* vpon the throne of Dauid, and ſhal ride vpon charets, and vpon horſes, bothe thei and their princes, the men of Iudáh, and k As the partriche by calling gathereth others, which forſake her, when they ſe that ſhe is not their dam. ſo the couetous man is forſaken of his riches, becauſe he cometh by them falſely.

l Shewing that ỹ godlie oght to glorie in nothing, but in God: who doeth exalt his, and hathe left a ſigne of his fauour in his Temple.

m Their names ſhal not be regiſtred in the boke of life.

n He deſireth God to preſerue him that he fall not into tentation conſidering the great cōtempt of Gods worde, & the multitude that fall from God.

o The wicked ſay ỹ my prophecie ſhal not come to paſſe becauſe thou deferreſt the time of thy vēgeance.

p I am aſſured of my vocatiō, and therefore knowe that ỹ thing which thou ſpeakeſt by me, ſhal come to paſſe, & that I ſpeake not of any worldelie affectiō.

q How ſoeuer ỹ wicked deale rigorouſly with me, yet let me finde cōfort in thee.

r Read Chap. 11,20.

ſ Where as thy doctrine may be beſt vnderſtād both of hie & lowe.

t By naming the Sabbath day, he cōprehendeth the thing, that is thereby ſignified for if they trāſgreſſed in the ceremonie, they muſt nedes be culpable of ỹ reſt, read Exo. 20.8. and by ỹ breaking of this one commandement, he maketh them tranſgreſſors of the whole Lawe, for as muche as ehe firſt and ſeconde table are conteined herein.

a The remēbrāce of their cōtēpt of God can not paſſe, albeit for a time he deferre the puniſhmēt. for it ſhalbe manifeſt to mē & Angels.

b In ſtead of ỹ Law of God, thei haue writen idolatrie & all abominations in their heart.

c Your ſinnes appeare in all the altars that you haue erected to idoles.

d Some read, So that their children remēber their altars that is follow their fathers wickednes.

e Zion ỹ was my mountaine, ſhal nowbe leſt as a waſte field.

f Becauſe thou woldeſt not giue the lād reſt at ſuch times, dayes, & yeres as I appointed, thou ſhalt here after be caried away, & it ſhal reſt for lacke of laborers.

g The Iewes were giuen to worldelie policies, & thoght to make them ſelues ſtrong by the friendſhip of the Egyptians, Iſa. 31,3. and ſtrangers, & in the meane ſeaſon did not depēd on God, & therefore he denounceth Gods plagues againſt them, ſhewing that they preferre corruptible man to God, which is immortal, Iſa 2,22. chap. 48,6. h Read Pſal.1,3. i Becauſe the wicked haue euer ſome excuſe to defend their doings, he ſheweth, that their owne lewde imaginations deceiue them, & bring thē to theſe inconuentences: but God wil examine their dedes by the malice of their hearts, 1. Sam. 16,7. 1. chro. 28,9. pſal. 7,10. chap. 11,20. & 20,12. Reuel. 2,23.

Chap. 22,4.

and the inhabitants of Ieruſalém: and this citie ſhal remaine for euer.

26 And thei ſhal come from the cities of Iudáh, and from about Ieruſalém, and from the land of Beniamín, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and from ỹ South, which ſhal bring burnt offrings, & ſacrifices, and meat offrings, and incenſe, & ſhal bring ſacrifice of praiſe into the Houſe of the Lord.

27 But if ye wil not heare me tó ſanctifie ỹ Sabbath daie, and not to beare a burden nor to go through the gates of Ieruſalém in ỹ Sabbath daie, then wil I kindle a fyre in the gates thereof, and it ſhal deuoure the palaces of Ieruſalém, and it ſhal not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

2 God ſheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to deſtroie the diſpiſers of his worde. 18 The conſpiracie of the Iewes againſt Ieremiáh. 19 His praier againſt his aduerſaries.

1 THe worde which came to Ieremiáh from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, & go downe into the potters houſe, and there ſhal I ſhewe thee my wordes.

3 Then I went downe to the potters houſe, and beholde, he wroght a worke on the wheles.

a As the potter hathe power ouer the clay to make what pot he wil, or to breake thē, when he hathe made them: ſo hathe I power ouer you to do with you as ſemethgood to me, Iſa 45,9 wiſd 15,7 rom 9,20

4 And the veſſel that he made of a claie, was broken in the hand of the potter. ſo he returned, & made it another veſſel, as ſemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

6 O houſe of Iſraél, can not I do with you as this potter, ſaith the Lord? beholde, as ỹ claie is in the potters hand, ſo are you in mine hand, ô houſe of Iſraél.

b When ỹ Scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which he hathe ordeined in his ſecret counſel: but whē he threateneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, ỹ threatening (which cuercō temeth a condition in it) taketh no place: and this the Scripture calleth repentance in God, becauſe it ſo appeareth to mans iudgement

7 I wil ſpeake ſuddēly againſt a nation or a againſt a kingdome to plucke it vp, & to roote it out and to deſtroie it.

8 But if this nation, againſt whome I haue pronounced, turne frō their wickednes, I wil b repent of ỹ plague that I thoght to bring vpon them.

9 And I wil ſpeake ſuddenly concerning a nacion, and concerning a kingdome to buylde it and to plant it.

10 But if it do euil in my ſight and heare not my voice, I wil repēt of the good that I thoght to do for them.

c As men that had no remorce, but were altogether bent to rebellion and to their owne ſelf wil.

11 Speake ỹ now therefore vnto the men of Iudáh, and to the inhabitārs of Ieruſalém, ſaying, Thus ſaith ỹ Lord, Beholde, I prepare a plague for you, and purpoſe a thing againſt you: returne you therefore euerie one from his euil waie, and make your waies and your workes good.

12 But thei ſaid c deſperatly, Surely we wil walke after our owne imaginacions & do euerie man after the ſtubbernes of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Aſke now among the heathen, who hath heard ſuche things? the virgine of Iſraél hathe done verie filthily.

14 Wil a man forſake the ſnowe of Lebanón, which cometh from ỹ rocke of the field? d or ſhal the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forſaken?

d As no man ỹ hathe thirſt, refuſeth freſh cōdut waters which he hathe at home, to go and ſeke waters abroad to quench his thirſt: ſo they oght not to ſeke for helpe & ſuccour at ſtrāgers and leaue God, which was preſent with them

15 Becauſe my people hathe forgotten me, & haue burnt incenſe to vanitie, and their Prophetes haue cauſed them to ſtumble in their waies from the e ancient waies to walke in the paths and waie that is not troden, e That is, the way of trueth, which God had taught by his Law, read chap 6,16

16 To make their land deſolate & a perpetual deriſion, ſo that euerie one that paſſeth thereby, ſhalbe aſtoniſhed and wagge his head, f I wil ſhewe mine angre & not my fauour toward them.

17 I wil ſcattre them with an Eaſt winde before the enemie: I wil ſhewe them the backe, and f not the face in the day of their deſtruction.

18 Then ſaid they, Come, and let vs imagine ſome deuiſe againſt Ieremiáh: for the Law ſhal not periſh from the Prieſt, nor counſel from the wiſe, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, and let vs ſmite him with the h tongue, and let vs not giue hede to any of his wordes.

g This argument ỹ wicked haue euer vſed againſt the ſeruants of God, the Church can not erre: we are the Church, and therefore whoſoeuer ſpeaketh againſt vs, they oght to dye, 1. King 22, 24, cha 7,4 & 20,2 mala 2,4 and thus the falſe Church perſecuteth ỹ true Church, which ſtādeth not outward pompe, and in multitude, but is knowen by the graces of the holie Goſth Let vs ſclander him, and ae cuſe him: for we ſhalbe beleued

19 Hearken vnto me, ô Lord, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shal euil be recompenced for good? for they haue digged a pit for my ſoule: remembre that I ſtode before thee, to ſpeake good for them, and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, i deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the ſworde, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widdowes: and let their houſbands be put to death, and let their yong men be ſlayne by the ſworde in the battel.

i Seing the obſtinate malice of the aduerſaries, which grewe daicly more & more, the Prophet being moued with Gods Spirit, without any carnal affection praieth for their deſtruction becauſe he knew that it ſhulde tend to Gods glorie, & profite of his Church.

22 Let the crye be heard from their houſes, when thou ſhalt bring an hoſte ſuddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid ſnares for my fete.

23 Yet Lord thou knoweſt all their counſel againſt me tendeth to death: forgiue not their iniquitie, nether put out their ſinne from thy ſight, but let them be ouerthrowen before thee: deale thus with them in the time of thine angre.

CHAP. XIX.

He propheciath the deſtruction of Ieruſalém for the contempt and deſpiſing of the worde of God.

1 THus ſaid the Lord, Go, and bye an earthen bottel of a potter, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Prieſts,

2 And go forthe vnto ỹ vallei of Ben-hin-

*Or, gate of the fame.

nóm, which is by the entrie of the 'Eaſt gate: & thou ſhalt preache there the wordes, that I ſhal tel thee,

3 And ſhalt ſay, Heare ye the worde of the Lord, ô a Kings of Iudáh, and inhabitáts of Ieruſalém, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, ỹ God of Iſraél, Beholde, I wil bring a plague vpon this place, the which whoſoeuer heareth, his eares ſhal b tingle.

a By Kings here and in other places are meant counſellours & gouernours of ỹ people: which he called the Ancients, ver. 1.
b Read of this phraſe, 1. Sam. 3, 11.

4 Becauſe they haue forſaken me, and prophaned this place, and haue burnt incenſe in it vnto other gods, whome nether they, nor their fathers haue knowen, nor the Kings of Iudáh (they haue filled this place alſo with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue buylt the hie places of Báal, to burne their ſonnes with fyre for burnt offrings vnto Báal, which I c commáded not, nor ſpake it, nether came it into my minde)

c Whereby is declared that what ſo euer is not cómanded by Gods word touchig his ſeruice, is againſt his worde d Read Chap 7, 31 & 2 king. 23, 10 iſa 30, 33.

6 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, ſaith the Lord, that this place ſhal nomore be called d Tópheth, nor the vallei of Benhinnóm, but the vallei of ſlaughter.

7 And I wil bring the counſel of Iudáh & Ieruſalém to noght in this place, and I wil cauſe thẽ to fall by the ſworde before their enemies, & by the hand of them that ſeke their liues: & their carkeiſes wil I giue to be meat for the foules of ỹ heauen, and to the beaſtes of the field.

Chap 18, 16. & 49, 30. & 50, 13.

8 *And I wil make this citie deſolate & an hiſſing, ſo that euerie one ỹ paſſeth thereby, ſhalbe aſtoniſhed & hiſſe becauſe of all the plagues thereof.

Deut. 28, 53 Lament. 4, 10

9 *And I wil fede thẽ with ỹ fleſh of their ſonnes and with the fleſh of their daughters, and euerie one ſhal eat the fleſh of his friend in the ſiege and ſtreitnes, wherewith their enemies that ſeke their liues, ſhal holde them ſtreit.

10 Then ſhalt thou breake the bottle in the ſight of the men that go with thee,

11 And ſhalt ſaie vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Euen ſo wil I breake this people & this citie, as one breaketh a e potters veſſel, that can not be made whole againe, & thei ſhal burye them in Tópheth til there be no place to burye.

e This viſible ſigne was to confirme them touching ỹ aſſurãce of this plague, which ỹ Lord threatened by his Prophet 12 Thus wil I do vnto this place, ſaith the Lord, and to the inhabitans thereof, and I wil make this citie like Tópheth.

f He noteth the great rage of the idolaters, which left no place frẽ frõ their abominations, inſomuche as they polluted their owne houſes therewith, as we ſe yet among the papiſtes g Read Deut. 22, 8.

13 For the houſes of Ieruſalém, and the houſes of the Kings of Iudáh ſhalbe defiled as the place of Tópheth, becauſe of all the f houſes vpon whoſe g roofes thei haue burnt incenſe vnto all the hoſte of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offrings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiáh from Tópheth, where the Lord had ſent him to prophecie, and he ſtode in the court of the Lords houſe, and ſaid to all the people,

15 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Beholde, I wil bring vpon this citie, and vpon all her townes, all the plagues ỹ I haue pronounced againſt it, becauſe they haue hardened their neckes, and wolde not heare my wordes.

CHAP. XX.

Ieremiáh is ſmitten and caſt into priſon for preaching of the worde of God. 3 He propheciseth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking ſtocke for the worde of God 9 He is compelled by the ſpirit to preache the worde.

1 WHen Paſhúr, the ſonne of Immér, the Prieſt, which was appointed gouernour in ỹ Houſe of the Lord, heard that Ieremiáh prophecied theſe things,

2 Then Paſhúr ſmote Ieremiáh the Prophet, and put him in the a ſtockes that were in the hie gate of Beniamín which was by the Houſe of the Lord.

a Thus we ſe that the thing which nether the King, nor the princes nor the people durſt entrepꝛiſe againſt ỹ Prophet of God, this prieſt as a chief inſtrumẽt of Satan firſt attẽpted, read Chap 18, 18
*Or, feare round about.

3 And on the morning, Paſhúr broght Ieremiáh out of the ſtockes. Then ſaid Ieremiáh vnto him, The Lord hathe not called thy name Paſhúr, but *Magór-miſſabíb.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I wil make thee to be a terrour to thy ſelf, & to all thy friends, and thei ſhal fall by the ſworde of their enemies, & thine eyes ſhal beholde it, and I wil giue all Iudáh into the hand of the King of Babél, and he ſhal carie them captiue into Babél, and ſhal ſlaie them with the ſworde.

b Which haue ſuffred thẽ ſelues to be abuſed by thy falſe prophecies.
c Herein appeareth ỹ impaciencie, & oftentimes ouercometh the ſeruants of God, whẽ thei ſe not their labours to profite, and alſo feele their owne weaknes, read cha 15, 18.
d Thou dideſt thruſt me forth to this worke againſt my wil
e He ſheweth that he did his office in that he reproued ỹ people of their vices & threatened them ỹ Gods iudgements: but becauſe he was derided and perſecuted for this, he was diſcouraged & thoght to haue ceaſed to preache, ſaue that Gods Spirit did force him thereunto.
f Thus the enemies conferred togither to knowe what they had heard him ſay ỹ they might accuſe him thereof, read Iſa. 29, 21.

5 Moreouer I wil deliuer all the ſubſtance of this citie, and all the labours thereof & all the precious things thereof, and all ỹ treaſures of the Kings of Iudáh wil I giue into the hand of their enemies, which ſhal ſpoyle them, and take them awaie and carie them to Babél.

6 And thou Paſhúr, & all that dwell in thine houſe, ſhal go into captiuitie, and thou ſhalt come to Babél, and there thou ſhalt dye, and ſhalt be buryed there, thou & all thy b friends, to whome thou haſt prophecied lies.

7 O Lord, thou haſt deceiued me, and I am c deceiued: thou art ſtronger then I, and haſt d preuailed: I am in deriſion daiely: euerie one mocketh me.

8 For ſince I ſpake, I cryed out of wrong, and proclaimed e deſolation: therefore the worde of the Lord was made a reproche vnto me, and in deriſion daiely.

9 Then I ſaid, I wil not make mencion of him, nor ſpeake any more in his Name. But his worde was in mine hẽart as a burning fyre ſhut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, & I colde not ſtay.

10 For I had heard the railing of many, & feare on euerie ſide. Declare, ſaid thei, & we wil declare it: all my familiars watched for mine

mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceiued: ſo we ſhal preuaile againſt him, and we ſhal execute our vengeance vpon
him.

g Here he ſhewpth how his faith did ſtriue againſt tentation and ſoght to the Lord for ſtrength.

11 g But the Lord is with me like a mightie gyant: therefore my perſecuters ſha be o-uerthrowen, and ſhal not preuaile, & ſhal be greatly confoûded: for they haue done vnwiſely, and their euerlaſting ſhame ſhal neuer be forgotten.

1 Sam 16,7.
2 chro 28,9.
pſal 7,10.
chap 11,20.
& 17,10.

12 * But, ô Lord of hoſtes, that tryeſt the righteous, & ſeeſt the reines & the heart, let me ſe thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cauſe.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praiſe ye the Lord:
for he hathe deliuered the ſoule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

h How the children of God are ouer-come in this battel of the fleſh and the Spirit, and into what incõ veniences thei fall til God raiſe them vp againe, read Iob 3, 1, and
chap 15,10.

14 h Curſed be the day wherein I was borne: & let not the day wherein my mother bare me, be bleſſed.

15 Curſed be the man, that ſhewed my father, ſaying, A man childe is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

i Alluding to the deſtructiõ of Sodóm and Gomoráh, Ge.
19,25

16 And let that man be as thei cities, which the Lord hathe ouer turned and repented not: & let him heare the crye in the morning, and the ſhowting at noone tide,

17 Becauſe he hathe not ſlayne me, euen frõ the wombe, or that my mother might hae bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetual k conception.

k Meanig, that the frute thereof might neuer come to profite.

18 How is it, that I came forthe of the womb, to ſe labour and ſorowe, that my daies ſhulde be conſumed with ſhame?

CHAP. XXI.

He prophecieth that Zedekiáh ſhalbe taken, and the citie burned.

1 THe worde which came vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, when King Zedekiáh ſent vnto him Paſhúr, the ſonne of Malchiáh, & Zephaniáh, the ſonne of Ma-aſe áh the Prieſt, ſaying, a Not that the King was touched with re-pentãce of his ſinnes and ſo

ſoght to God,
as did Heze-kiáh when he ſent to Iſaiáh,
2 King 19, 1
iſa 37, 2, but becaute the Prophet might pray vnto God to take this preſent plague away, as Pha-raóh ſoght vnto Moſes, Exood 9,28

2 a Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél maketh warre againſt vs) if ſo be that the Lord wil deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that he may retur-ne vp from vs.

3 Then ſaid Ieremiáh, Thus ſhal you ſay to Zedekiáh,

b To wit, from your enemies to deſtroye
your ſelues.

4 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, Be-holde, I wil b turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight againſt the King of Babél, and a-gainſt the Caldeans, which beſiege you without the walles, & I wil aſſemble them into the middes of this citie.

5 And I my ſelf wil fight againſt you with an outſtretched hand, and with a mightie arme, euen in angre and in wrath, and in great indignacion.

6 And I wil ſmite the inhabitants of this citie, bothe man, and beaſt: thei ſhal dye of a great peſtilence.

7 And after this, ſaith the Lord, I wil deli-uer Zedekiáh the King of Iudáh, and his ſeruants, and the people, and ſuche as are left in this citie, from the peſtilence, from the ſworde and from the famine into the hãd of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of thoſe that ſeke their liues, and he ſhal ſmite them with the edge of the ſworde: he ſhal not ſpare them, nether haue pitie nor compaſsion.

c By yeldin g
your ſelues to Nebuchadnez
zár
d By reſiſting
him
Chap 38,2.

8 ¶ And vnto this people thou ſhalt ſay,
Thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I ſet before you the c way of life, & the way of d death.

9 *He that abideth in this citie, ſhal dye by the ſworde and by the famine, and by the peſtilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that beſiege you, he ſhal liue, and his life ſhalbe vnto him for a e pray.

e As a thing recouered frõ extreme danger, Chap 37,2 & 39, 18, & 45,
5

10 For I haue ſet my face againſt this citie,
for euil and not for good, ſaith the Lord:
it ſhal be giuen into the hand of the King of Babél, and he ſhal burne it with fyre.

11 ¶ And ſay vnto the houſe of the King of Iudáh, Heare ye the worde of ỹ Lord.

12 O houſe of Dauid, thus ſaith the Lord, *Execute iudgement f in the morning, and deliuer the oppreſſed out of the hand of the oppreſſor, leſt my wrath go out like fyre and burne, that none can quenche it, becauſe of the wickednes of your workes.

Chap 22,3.
f Be diligent to do iuſtice.

13 Beholde, I come againſt thee, g ô inhabitant of the valley, & rocke of the plaine, ſaith the Lord, which ſay, Who ſhal come downe againſt vs? or who ſhal enter into our habitacions?

g Meaning, Ieruſalém, which was buylded parte on the hill and parte in ỹ valley, & was cõpaſſed about with mountaines.

14 But I wil viſite you according to ỹ frute of your workes, ſaith the Lord, and I wil kindle a fyre h in the foreſt thereof, and it ſhal deuoure rounde about it.

h That is, in ỹ houſes therof, which ſtode as thicke as trees in the foreſt.

CHAP. XXII.

2 He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteouſnes. 9 Vt hy Ieruſalém is brought vnto captiuitie. 11 The death of Shallúm the ſonne of Ioſiáh is prophecied.

1 THus ſaid the Lord, Go downe to the houſe of the King of Iudáh, and ſpea-ke there this thing,

2 And ſay, Heare the worde of the Lord, ô
King of Iudáh, that ſitteſt vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy ſeruants, and thy people that enter in by theſe gates.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord, *Execute ye iudge-ment and a righteouſnes, and deliuer the oppreſſed from the hand of the oppreſſor, and vexe not the ſtranger, the fatherles, nor the widdowe: do no violence, nor ſhe-de innocent blood in this place.

Chap. 21, 12.
a This was his ordinarie maner of preaching before ỹ Kings from Io ſiáh vnto Zedekiáh, which was about fourtie yeres.

4 For if ye do this thing, then ſhal the Kings ſitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this houſe, * and ride vpon charets, and vpon horſes, bothe he

Chap 17, 25.

and his ſeruants and his people.
5 But if ye wil not heare theſe wordes, I b ſweare by my ſelf, ſaith ỹ Lord, that this Houſe ſhalbe waſte.
6 For thus hathe the Lord ſpoken vpon the Kings houſe of Iudah, Thou art c Gileád vnto me, and the head of Lebanón, yet ſu-rely I wil make thee a wildernes & as cities not inhabited,
7 And I wil d prepare deſtroyers againſt thee, euery one with his weapons, and thei ſhal cut downe thy chief e cedre trees, and caſt them in the fyre.
8 f And many nacions ſhal paſſe by this ci-tie, & thei ſhal ſay euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hathe ỹ Lord done thus vnto this great citie?
9 Then ſhal they anſwer, Becauſe they haue forſaken the couenant of ỹ Lord their God, and woꝛſhiped other gods & ſerued
them.
10 ¶Wepe not for the dead, & be not moued for them, but wepe for him g that goeth out: for he ſhal returne no more, nor ſe his natiue countrey.
11 For thus ſaith the Lord, As touching h Shallúm the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh, which reigned for Ioſiáh his father, which wẽt out of this place, he ſhal not returne thether,
12 But he ſhal dye in ỹ place, whether they haue led him captiue, and ſhal ſe this land no more.
13 ¶Wo vnto him ỹ buyldeth his houſe by i vnrighteouſnes, & his chambers without equitie: he vſeth his neighbour without wages and giueth him not for his worke.
14 He ſaith, I wil buylde me a wide houſe and large chambers: ſo he wil make him ſelf large windowes, and ſiling with cedre and painte them with vermelon.
15 Shalt thou reigne, becauſe thou cloſeſt thy ſelf in cedre? did not thy k father eat and drinke and proſper, when he executed iudgement and iuſtice?
16 When he iudged the cauſe of ỹ afflicted & the poore, he proſpered: was not this becauſe he knewe me, ſaith the Lord?
17 But thine eies and thine heart are but onely for thy couetouſnes, and for to ſhed innocent blood, & for oppreſsion, and for deſtruction, euen to do this.
18 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord againſt Iehoiakím, the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh, Thei ſhal l not lamẽt him, ſaying, Ah, my brother, or ah, ſiſter: nether ſhal they mourne for him, ſaying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.
19 He ſhalbe buryed as an aſſe m is buryed, euẽ drawen and caſt forthe without the gates of Ieruſalém.
20 ¶Go vp to n Lebanón, & crye: ſhowte in o Baſhán & crye by the paſſages: for all thy louers are deſtroyed.
21 I ſpake vnto thee whẽ thou waſt in proſ-peritie: but thou ſaidſt, I wil not heare: this hathe bene thy maner from thy youth that thou woldeſt not obey my voyce.
22 The winde ſhal fede all thy paſtors, p & thy louers ſhal go into captiuitie: and then ſhalt thou be aſhamed and confounded of all thy wickednes.
23 Thou that dwelleſt in Lebanón, and ma-keſt thy neſt in thẽ q cedres, how beautiful ſhalt thou be when ſorowes come vpon thee, as the ſorow of a woman in trauail?
24 As I liue, ſaith the Lord, thogh r Coniáh the ſonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh, were the ſignet of my right hand, yet wolde I plucke thee thence.
25 And I wil giue thee into the hand of thẽ that ſeke thy life, and into the hand of them, whoſe face thou feareſt, euẽ into the hand of Nebuchad nezzá King of Ba bél, and into the hand of the Caldeans.
26 And I wil cauſe them to cary thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, into another countrey, where ye were not borne, & there ſhal ye dye.
27 But to the land, whereunto they deſire to returne, they ſhal not returne thether.
28 Is not this man Coniáh as a deſpiſed and broken idole? or as a veſſel, wherein is no pleaſure? Wherefore are thei caryed away, he and his ſede, & caſt out into a land that they knowe not?
29 O earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lord.
30 Thus ſaith the Lord, Write this t man deſtitute of children, a man that ſhal not proſper in his dayes: for there ſhalbe no man of his ſede that ſhal proſper and ſit vpõ the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudáh.

CHAP. XXIII.

Againſt falſe Paſtors. 5 A prophecie of the great Paſtor Ieſus Chriſt.

1 WOe vnto a the Paſtors that deſtroie and ſcatter b the ſhepe of my paſture, ſaith the Lord.
2 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél vnto the Paſtors that c feede my people, Ye haue ſcattred my flocke and thruſt them out, & haue not viſited thẽ: beholde, I wil viſite you for the wickednes of your workes, ſaith the Lord.
3 And I wil gather the d rẽnant of my ſhe-pe out of all countreys, whether I had dri uen them, and wil bring them againe to their foldes, and they ſhal growe and encreaſe.
4 And I wil ſet vp ſhepherdes ouer them, which ſhal fede them: and they ſhal dread no more nor be afraid, nether ſhal any of them be lacking, ſaith the Lord.

b Shewing ỹ there his none greater then he is, Ebr 6, 13, and that he wil moſte certenly performe his othe
c He compareth Ieruſalém to Gilead, ỹ was beyonde Iordén, and ỹ beautie of Iudeáh to Lebanón.
d The Ebrewe worde ſignifieth to ſanctifie, becauſe ỹ Lord doeth dedicate to his vſe & purpoſe ſuche as he prepareth to execute his worke, Iſa. 13, 3 chap 6, 4. and 12, 3
e Thy buyldings made of cedre trees.
f As they that wonder at a thing which they thoght wolde neuer haue come ſo to paſſe, Deut. 29, 24 1 king 9, 8.
g Signifying ỹ they ſhulde loſe their Kig: for Iehoiachi went forth to mete Nebuchad-nezzár & yelded hi ſelf and was caryed into Babylon, 2 King 24 12
h Whome ſome thinke to be Iehoiachin & ỹ Ioſiáh was his grand father: but as ſeemeth, this was Iehoiakim, as verſ 18
i By bribes & extorſion
k Meaning, Ioſiáh, who was not giuen to ambition and ſuperfluitie, but was cõtent with mediocritie and did onely delite in ſetting forthe Gods glorie & to do iuſtice to all
l For euery one ſhal haue ynough to lament for him ſelf
m Not honorably amongs his fathers, but as carions are caſt in a hole becauſe their ſtinke ſhulde not infect, read 2. King 24, 9 Ioſephus Antiq 20, 8 writeth that the enemie ſlewe him in the citie & commanded him to be caſt before the walles vnburyed.
n To call to the Aſſyrians for helpe.
o For this was the way out of Iudeáh to Aſſyria whereby is mẽt that all helpes ſhulde faile for the Caldeans haue ſubdued bothe them and the Egyptians.
p Bothe thy gouernours & thev ỹ ſhulde helpe thee, ſhal vaniſh away as wind q Thou that art buylt of ỹ faire cedre trees of Lebanón.
r Who was called Iehoiachin or Ieconiáh, whome he calleth here Coniáh in cõtempt, who thoght his kingdome col de neuer departe frõ him, becauſe he came of ỹ ſtocke of Dauid, and therefore for ỹ promes ſake colde not be taken from his houſe: but he abuſed Gods promes, and therefore was iuſtely depriued of the kingdome
ſ He ſheweth that all poſteritie ſhalbe witneſſes of this iuſte plague as though it were regiſtred for perpetual memorie
t Not that he had no children (for after he begate Salathiél in the captiuitie, Mat. 1, 12) but that none ſhulde reigne after him as King.

Chap XXIII
a Meanig, the princes, gouernours & falſe propheres, as Ezek 34, 2 b For the which I haue eſpecial care and haue prepared good paſtures for them
c Whoſe charge is to fede the flocke, but they eat the frute thereof, Ezek 34, 3 d Thus the Prophets euer vſe to mixt the promiſes with ỹ threatnings, leſt the godlie ſhulde be to muche beaten downe, and therefore he ſheweth how God wil gather his Church after this diſperſion.

5 Beholde, The daies come, ſaith the Lord, that I wil raiſe vnto Dauid a righteous [e] branche, & a King ſhal reigne, and proſper, and ſhal execute iudgement, and iuſtice in the earth.

6 In his daies * Iudáh ſhalbe ſaued, and Iſraél ſhal dwell ſafely, and this is the name whereby thei ſhal call him, * The Lord our righteouſnes.

7 Therefore beholde, the daies come, ſaith the Lord, that thei ſhal no more ſay, The [f] Lord liueth, which broght vp the children of Iſraél out of ŷ land of Egypt,

8 But the Lord liueth, which broght vp and led the ſede of the houſe of Iſraél out of the North countrey & from all contreys where I had ſcattered them, and thei ſhal dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within me, becauſe of the [g] Prophetes, all my bones ſhake: I am like a drunken man (& like a man whome wine hathe "ouercome) for the preſence of the Lord and for his holie wordes.

10 For the land is ful of adulterers, and becauſe of othes ŷ land mourneth, the pleaſant places of the wildernes are dryed vp, and their [h] courſe is euil, and their force is not right.

11 For bothe the Prophet and the Prieſt [o] do wickedly: and their wickednes haue I founde in mine [i] Houſe, ſaith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their waie ſhalbe vnto them as ſliperie waies in the darkenes: thei ſhal be driuen forthe and fall therein: for I wil bring a plague vpon them, euen the yere of their viſitacion, ſaith the Lord.

13 And I haue ſene fooliſhnes in the Prophetes of Samaria, ŷ prophecied in Báal and cauſed my people Iſraél to erre.

14 I haue ſene alſo in the Prophetes of Ieruſalém [k] filthines: thei commit adulterie & walke in lies: thei ſtrengthen alſo the hãds of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednes: thei are all vnto [l] me as Sodóm, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomoráh.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes concerning the Prophetes, Beholde, I wil fede them with [m] wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from ŷ Prophetes of Ieruſalém is [n] wickednes gone forthe into all the land.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Heare not the wordes of the Prophetes that prophecie vnto you, and teache you vanitie: thei ſpeake the viſiõ of their owne [a] heart & not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 Thei ſaie ſtil vnto them that deſpiſe me, The Lord hath ſaid, Ye [o] ſhal haue peace: & thei ſaie vnto euerie one that walketh after the ſtubbernes of his owne heart, No euil ſhal come vpon you.

18 For [p] who hathe ſtand in the counſel of the Lord that he hathe perceiued & heard his worde? Who hathe marked his worde and heard it?

19 Beholde, the tempeſt of the Lord goeth forthe in his wrath, & a violent whirlwinde ſhal fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The angre of the Lord ſhal not returne vntil he haue executed, and til he haue performed the thoghts of his heart: in the latter daies ye [q] ſhal vnderſtand it plainely.

21 * I haue not ſent theſe Prophetes, ſaith the Lord, yet thei ranne: I haue not ſpokẽ to them, and yet thei prophecied.

22 But if thei had ſtand in my counſel, and [r] had declared my wordes to my people, then they ſhulde haue turned them from their euil waie, and from the wickednes of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, ſaith the Lord, and not a God [s] farre of?

24 Can anie hide him ſelf in ſecret places, that I ſhal not ſe him, ſaith the Lord? Do not I fil heauen and earth, ſaith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the Prophetes ſaid, that prophecie lies in my Name, ſaying, I [t] haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? "Do the Prophetes delite to prophecie lies, euen prophecying the deceit of their owne heart?

27 Thinke thei to cauſe [u] my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which thei tel euerie man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotte my Name for Báal?

28 The Prophet that hathe a dreame, let him [x] tel a dreame, and he that hathe my worde, let him ſpeake my worde faithfully: [y] what is ŷ chaffe to the wheat, ſaith the Lord?

29 Is not my worde euen like a fyre, ſaith the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the ſtone?

30 Therefore beholde, I wil come againſt the Prophetes, ſaith the Lord, that [z] ſteale my worde euerie one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I wil come againſt the Prophetes, ſaith the Lord, which haue ſwete tongues, and ſaye, [a] He ſaith.

32 Beholde, [b] wil come againſt them that prophecie falſe dreames, ſaith the Lord, & do tel them, and cauſe my people to erre by their lies, and by their flatteries, and I ſend them not, nor cõmanded them: therefore thei bring no profite vnto this people, ſaith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the Prophet, or a Prieſt ſhal aſke thee, ſaying, What is the [b] burden of the Lord? thou ſhalt then ſay vnto them, What burden? I wil euen forſake you, ſaith the Lord.

e This prophecie is of the reſtitution of the Church in the time of Ieſus Chriſt, who is ŷ true branche, read Iſa. 11, 1 & 45, 8. chap 53, 15 dani 9, 24. Deut 33, 28. chap. 33, 16.

f Read Chap. 16, 13.

g Meaning, the falſe propnets which deceiue ŷ people: wherein appeareth his great loue toward his naciõ, read Chap 14, 13

"Ebr paſſed ouer or troubled.

h They runne head long to wickednes, and ſeke vaine helpe

Or, are hypocrites

i My Temple is ful of their idolatrie and ſuperſtitions.

k They which ſhulde haue profited by my roddes againſt Samaria, are become worſe then they

l Though to ŷ worlde they ſeme holy fathers, yet I deteſt them as I did theſe abominable cities.

m Read Chap. 8, 14

Or, hypocriſie.

n Which thei haue inuented of their owne braine

o Read Chap 6, 14, & 8, 11

p Thus thei did deride Ieremiáh as though the worde of God were not reueiled vnto him. ſo alſo ſpake Zedekiáh to Michái, 1. King. 22, 24.

q Bothe that God hathe ſent me, and that my wordes ſhal be true. Chap. 14, 13. & 27, 21. & 29, 8

r He ſheweth the difference betwene the true Prophetes and the falſe, betwene the hireling and the true miniſter

ſ Do not I ſe your falſehode, how ſoeuer you cloke it, and where ſoeuer you commit it?

t I haue a prophecie reueiled vnto me, as Nombr 12, 6

"Ebr Is it in the heart of the prophetes?

u He ſheweth that Satan raiſeth vp falſe prophetes to bring the people from God.

x Let the falſe prophet declare that it is his owne fantaſie, & not ſclãder my worde as though it were a cloke to couer his lyes

y Meaning, ŷ it is not ſufficient for Gods miniſters to abſtaine from lies, & to ſpeake the worde of God. but that there be iudgement in alledging it, & that it may appeare to be applied to the ſame purpoſe ŷ it was ſpoken. Ezek. 3, 17. 1 cor 2, 17 & 4, 2 2 tim. 2, 15. 1 pet. 4, 11

z Which ſet forthe in my Name ŷ which I haue not cõmanded

a To wit, the Lord

b The Prophetes called their threatenings Gods burden, which the ſinners were not able to ſuſteine: therefore ŷ wicked in deriding their worde, wolde aſke of the Prophetes, what was the burden, as though thei wolde ſay, You ſeke nothing elſe, but to lay burdens on our ſhulders. and thus thei reiected the worde of God, as a grieuous burden.

34 And the Prophet, or the Prieſt, or the people that ſhal ſay, The [c] burden of the Lord, I wil euen viſit euerie ſuche one, & his houſe.

35 Thus ſhal ye ſay euerie one to his neighbour, and euerie one to his brother, What hathe the Lord anſwered? and what hathe the Lord ſpoken?

36 And ỹ burden of the Lord ſhal ye mencion no more: for euerie mans [d] worde ſhal be his burden: for ye haue peruerted the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hoſtes our God.

37 Thus ſhalt thou ſay to ỹ Prophet, What hathe the Lord anſwered thee? and what hathe the Lord ſpoken?

38 And if you ſay, The burden of the Lord, Then thus ſaith the Lord, Becauſe ye ſay this worde, The burden of the Lord, and I haue ſent vnto you, ſaying, Ye ſhal not ſay, The burden of the Lord,

39 Therefore beholde I, euen I, wil vtterly *forget you, and I wil forſake you, & the citie that I gaue you & your fathers, and caſt you out of my preſence,

40 And wil bring *an euerlaſting reproche vpõ you, & a perpetual ſhame which ſhal neuer be forgotten.

c Becauſe this worde was broght to contempt & deriſion, he wil teache them another maner of ſpeache, and wil cauſe this worde Burden to ceaſe, and teache them to aſke with reuerẽce, What ſaith ỹ Lord? d The thing which they mocke & contemne, ſhal come vpon them.

*Or, take you away.

Chap. 20, 11.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 The viſion of the baſkets of figges 5 Signifieth that parte of the people ſhulde be broght againe from captiuitie. 8 And that Zedekiáh and the reſt of the people ſhulde be caryed away.

1 THe Lord ſhewed me, & beholde, two [a] baſkets of figges were ſet before ỹ Tẽple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzár Kĩg of Babél had caried away captiue Ieconiáh ỹ ſonne of Iehoiakím King of Iudáh, and the princes of Iudáh with the workemen, and cunning men of Ieruſalém, and had broght them to Babél.

2 One baſket had verie good figgs, euen like the figges that are firſt ripe: & the other baſket had verie noghtie figges which colde not be eaten, thei were ſo euil.

3 Then ſaid the Lord vnto me, What ſeeſt thou, Ieremiáh? And I ſaid, Figges: the good figgs verie good, & the noghtie verie noghtie, which can not be eaten, thei are ſo euil.

4 Againe the worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

5 Thus ſaith the Lord, the God of Iſraél, Like theſe good figges, ſo wil I knowe them that are caried away captiue of Iudáh to be good, whome I haue ſent out of this [b] place, into the land of the Caldeans.

6 For I wil ſet mine eyes vpon them for good, and I wil bring them againe to this land, and I wil buylde them, and not deſtroy them, and I wil plant them, and not roote them out,

7 And I wil giue them [c] an heart to knowe me, that I am the Lord, and they ſhalbe my* people, and I wil be their God: for they ſhal returne vnto me with their whole heart.

8 *And as the noghtie figges which can not be eaten, they are ſo euil (ſurely thus ſaith the Lord) ſo wil I giue Zedekiáh the King of Iudáh, and his princes, and the reſidue of Ieruſalém, that remaine in this land, & them that dwell [d] in the land of Egypt:

9 I wil euen giue them for a terrible plague to all the kingdomes of the earth, and for a reproche, and for a prouerbe, for a commune talke, and for a curſſe, in all places, where I ſhal caſt them.

10 And I wil ſend the ſworde, the famine, and the peſtilence among them, til they be conſumed out of the land, that I gaue vnto them and to their fathers.

a The good figgs ſignified the that were gone into captiuitie, and ſo ſaued their life, as chap 21, 8 and the noghty figgs them ỹ remained, which were yet ſubiect to the ſworde, famine and peſtilence.

b Whereby he approueth the yelding of Ieconiáh, & his companie, becauſe thei obeied the Prophet, who exhorted them thereunto.

c Which declareth that man of him ſelfe can knowe nothing, til God giue the heart and vnderſtanding Chap 31, 33. ebr 8, 10.

d Which fled thether for ſuccour. Chap 29, 17.

CHAP. XXV.

1 He propheciеth that thei ſhalbe in captiuitie ſeuentie yeres, 12 And that after the ſeuentie yeres the Babylonians ſhulde be deſtroyed. 14 The deſtruction of all nations is prophecied.

1 THe worde that came to Ieremiáh, concerning all the people of Iudáh in the [a] fourth yere of Iehoiakím the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh that was in the firſt yere of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél:

2 The which Ieremiáh the Prophet ſpake vnto all the people of Iudáh, & to all the inhabitants of Ieruſalém, ſaying,

3 From the thirteth yere of Ioſiáh the ſonne of Ammón King of Iudáh, euen vnto [b] this daye (that is the thre and twentieth yere) the worde of the Lord hathe come vnto me, & I haue ſpoken vnto you [c] riſing early and ſpeaking, but ye wolde not heare.

4 And the Lord hathe ſent vnto you all his ſeruants the Prophetes, riſing early and ſending them, but ye wolde not heare, nor encline your eares to obeie.

5 Thei [d] ſaid, Turne againe now euerie one from his euil waie, and from the wickednes of your inuencions, & ye ſhal dwell in the land that the Lord hathe giuen vnto you, and to your fathers for euer and euer.

6 And go not after othei gods to ſeiue thẽ & to worſhip them, and prouoke me not to angre with the workes of your hands, & I wil not puniſh you.

7 Neuertheles ye wolde not heare me, ſaith the Lord, but haue prouoked me to angre with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Becauſe ye haue not heard my wordes,

9 Beholde, I wil ſend and take to me all the [e] fami-

a That is, in ỹ third yere accompliſhed, & in the beginning of the fourth: for thogh Nebuchad-nezzár began to reigne in the end of the thirde yere of Iehoiakís reigne, yet that yere is not here counted, becauſe it was almoſt expired, Dan 1, 1.

b Which was the fift yere & the ninth moneth of Iehoiakims reigne

c That is, I haue ſpared no diligence or labour, Chap 7, 13

d He ſheweth that the Prophets wholly with one conſent did labour to pul ỹ people from thoſe vices, wherein reigned: to wit, fro idolatrie, and the vaine confidence of men. for vnder theſe two all other were conteined 2 King 17, 13 cha 18 11 & 35, 15, Ionáh. 3, 8 families of the North, ſaith the Lord, & Nebuchad-nezzár the King of Babél my ſeruant, and wil bring them againſt this land, and againſt the inhabitants thereof, & againſt all theſe nations rounde about, and wil deſtroye them, and make them an aſtoniſhment and an hiſſing, and a continual deſolation.

10 * Moreouer I wil take from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladnes, the voice of the bridegrome and the voice of the bride, the noiſe of the mille-ſtones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land ſhal be deſolate, and an aſtoniſhment, & theſe nacions ſhal ſerue the King of Babél ſeuenty yeres.

12 And when the ſeuentie yeres are accomplished, I wil viſite the King of Babél and that nacion, ſaith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and wil make it a perpetual deſolation,

13 And I wil bring vpon that land all my wordes which I haue pronounced againſt it, euen all that is writen in this boke, which Ieremiáh hathe prophecied againſt all nations.

14 For many nacions, and great Kings ſhal euen ſerue them ſelues of them: thus wil I recompēce them according to their dedes, and according to the workes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hathe the Lord God of Iſraél ſpoken vnto me, Take the cup of wine of this mine indignacion at mine hand, and cauſe all the nacions, to whome I ſend thee, to drinke it.

16 And they ſhal drinke, and be moued & be madde, becauſe of the ſworde, that I wil ſend among them.

17 Then toke I the cuppe at the Lords hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto whome the Lord had ſent me:

18 Euen Ieruſalém, and the cities of Iudáh, and the Kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them deſolate, an aſtoniſhment, an hiſſing, and a curſſe, as appeareth this day:

19 Pharaóh alſo, King of Egypt, and his ſeruantes, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all ſortes of people, and all the Kings of the land of Vz: and all the Kings of the land of the Philiſtims, & Aſhkelón, and Azzáh, & Ekrón, and the remnant of Aſhdód:

21 Edóm, and Moáb, and the Ammonites,

22 And all the Kings of Tyrus, and all the Kings of Zidón, & the Kings of the Yles, that are beyonde the ſea,

23 And Dedán, and Temá, & Buz, and all that dwell in the vttermoſt corners,

24 And all the Kings of Arabia, and all the Kings of Arabia, that dwell in the deſert, 25 And all the Kings of Zimrí, and all the Kings of Elám, and all the Kings of the Medes.

26 And all the Kings of the North farre, and nere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the worlde, which are vpon the earth, & the King of Sheſhách ſhal drinke after them.

27 Therefore ſay thou vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Drinke and be drunken, and ſpewe and fall, and riſe no more, becauſe of the ſworde, which I wil ſend among you.

28 ¶ But if they refuſe to take the cup at thine hand to drinke, then tel them, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, ye ſhal certeinly drinke.

29 For lo, I beginne to plague the citie, where my Name is called vpon, & ſhulde you go free? Ye ſhal not go quite: for I wil call for a ſworde vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

30 Therefore prophecie thou againſt them all theſe wordes, and ſaie vnto them, * The Lord ſhal roare from aboue, and thruſt out his voice from his holie habitacion: he ſhal roare vpon his habitacion, & crye aloude, as they that preſſe the grapes againſt all the inhabitants of the earth,

31 The ſounde ſhal come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hathe a controuerſie with the nations, and wil entre into iudgement with all fleſh, & he wil giue them that are wicked, to the ſworde, ſaith the Lord.

32 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Behold, a plague ſhal go forthe from nation to nation, and a * great whirlewinde ſhalbe raiſed vp from the coaſtes of the earth, 33 And the ſlaine of the Lord ſhalbe at that daie, from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth. They ſhal not be mourned, nether gathered nor buryed, but ſhalbe as the dōgue vpon the grounde.

34 Howle, ye ſhepherds, and crye, and wallowe your ſelues in the aſhes, ye principal of the flocke: for your daies of ſlaughter are accompliſhed, and of your diſperſion, and ye ſhal fall like precious veſſels.

35 And the flight ſhal faile from the ſhepherds, and the eſcaping from the principal of the flocke.

36 A voice of the crye of the ſhepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flocke ſhalbe heard: for the Lord hathe deſtroyed their paſture.

37 And the beſt paſtures are deſtroyed becauſe of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

38 He hathe forſaken his couert, as the lion: for their land is waſte, becauſe of the wrath of the oppreſſor, and becauſe of the wrath of his indignation.

e The Caldeans, & all their power
f So the wicked and Satan him ſelfe are Gods ſeruants, becauſe he maketh them to ſerue him by conſtreint and turneth that which they do of malice, to his honour & glorie
g As the Philiſtims, Ammonites, Egyptiās and others
Chap 16,9.
Or, deſtroy
h Meaning, the bread and all things that ſhulde ſerue vnto their feaſtes, ſhulde be taken away.
i This reuelacion was for the confirmacion of his prophecie, becauſe he tolde thē of the time, that they ſhuld entre & remaine in captiuitie, 2 Chro 36, 22, ezra 1, 1 chap 29,10 dan 9,2 k For ſeing the iudgement began at his owne houſe, the enemies muſt nedes be puniſhed moſt grieuouſly, Ezek 9,6 1 pet 4,17
l That is, of the Babylonians, as Chap 27,7 m Signifying the extreme afflictions that God had appointed for euerie one, as Pſal 75,8 iſa. 51, 17 and this cup, which the wicked drinke is more bitter then that which he giueth to his children, for he meaſureth the one by mercie, and the other by iuſtice n For now it beginneth and ſhal ſo continue til it be accompliſhed o Read Iob 1, 1.
p Which were cities of the Philiſtims
q Edóm is here taken for the whole countrey and Vz for a part thereof
r As Grecia, Italie, and the reſt of thoſe countreis s These were people of Arabia, which came of Dedan the ſonne of Abrahám and Keturáh.
t For there were two countreis ſo named the one called plentiful, and the other barren, or deſert Or, Perſia.
u That is, of Babylon, as Chap 51,41.
x That is, Ieruſalém, read verſ 12
Ioel 3,16 amos 1,2.
Chap 30,23.
y They which are ſlaine at the Lords appointement.
z Ye that are chief rulers, & gouernours.
a Which are moſte eaſily broken
b It ſhal not helpe them to ſeke to flee.
Heb, peaceable

CHAP. XXVI.

Ieremiáh moueth the people to repentance. 7 He is taken of the falſe Prophetes and Prieſtes and broght to iudgement. 23 Vriiáh the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim cõtrarie to the wil of God.

1 IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoiakím the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh, came this worde from the Lord, ſaying, a That is, in that place of the Temple whereunto the people reſort out of all Iudáh to ſacrifice

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, Stand in the a court of the Lords Houſe, and ſpeake vnto all the cities of Iudáh, which come to worſhip in the Loids Houſe, all the wordes ỹ I commãd thee to ſpeake: kepe not b a worde backe, b To the intent that they ſhulde pretend no ignorance, as Act 20.27.

3 If ſo be they wil hearken, and turne euerie man from his euil way, that I may c repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, becauſe of the wickednes of their workes.

c Read Chap 18,8.

4 And ỹ ſhalt ſay vnto thẽ, Thus ſaith the Lord, If ye wil not heare me to walke in my Lawes, which I haue ſet before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my ſeruants the Prophetes, whome I ſent vnto you, bothe riſing vp early, and ſending them, and wil not obeie them,

d Read Chap 7.12

6 Then wil I make this Houſe like d Shilóh, and wil make this citie e a curſſe to all the nacions of the earth.

e So ỹ when they wolde curſſe any, thei ſhal ſay, God do to thee as to Ieruſalém.

7 So the Prieſtes, and the Prophetes, and all the people heard Ieremiáh ſpeaking theſe wordes in the Houſe of the Lord.

8 Now when Ieremiáh had made an end of ſpeaking all that the Lord had commanded him to ſpeake vnto all the people, thẽ the Prieſtes, and the Prophetes, and all the people toke him, and ſaid, Thou ſhalt dye the death.

f Becauſe of Gods promes to the Temple, Pſal. 132, 14. ỹ he wolde for euer remaine there, ỹ hypocrites thoght this Temple colde neuer periſh, and therefore thoght it blaſphemie to ſpeake againſt it, Mat. 26, 61. act 6,13, not cõſidering ỹ this was ment of ỹ Church, where God wil remaine forever.

9 Why haſt thou prophecied in the Name of ỹ Lord, ſaying, This f Houſe ſhalbe like Shilóh, & this citie ſhalbe defolate without an inhabitãt? & all the people were gathered againſt Ieremiáh in the Houſe of the Lord.

g So called, becauſe it was repaired by Ioathám, 2 Kings 15,35.

10 And when the princes of Iudáh heard of theſe things, thei came vp from ỹ Kings houſe into the Houſe of the Lord, & ſate downe in the entrie of the g newe gate of the Lords Houſe.

Ey iudgement of death belongeth to thi man.

11 Then ſpake the Prieſtes, and the Prophetes vnto the princes, & to all ỹ people, ſaying, "This man is worthie to dye: for he hathe prophecied againſt this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

h He bothe ſheweth the cauſe of his doings plainely, and alſo threatneth them ỹ they ſhulde nothig auaile, thogh they ſhulde put him to death, but heape greater vengeance vpon their heads.

12 Then ſpake Ieremiáh vnto all the princes, & to all the people, ſaying, The Lord hathe h ſent me to prophecie againſt this Houſe and againſt this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore now amẽd your waies & your workes, & heare the voice of ỹ Lord your God, ỹ the Lord may repent him of ỹ plague, ỹ he hathe pronounced againſt you.

14 As for me, beholde, I am in your hands: do with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But knowe ye for certeine, ỹ if ye put me to death, ye ſhal ſurely bring innocent blood vpon your ſelues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a trueth ỹ Lord hath ſent me vnto you, to ſpeake all theſe wordes in your eares.

16 Then ſaid the princes and all the people vnto the Prieſts & to the Prophetes, This man is not worthie to dye: for he hathe ſpoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 ¶ Then roſe vp certeine of the Elders of the land, and ſpake to all the aſſemblie of the people, ſaying, 18 Michàh the Moraſhite *prophecied in ỹ dayes of Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, and ſpake to all the people of Iudáh, ſaying, Thus ſaith ỹ Lord of hoſtes, Zión ſhalbe plowed like a field, and Ieruſalém ſhalbe an heape, & the mountaine of the i Houſe ſhalbe as the high places of the foreſt.

*Michàh 1,1. & 3,12.

i That is, of the Houſe of ỹ Lord: to wit, Zión, and theſe examples the goulie alledged to deliuer Ieremiáh out of the Prieſts hands whoſe rage els wold not haue bene ſatiſfied, but by his death

19 Did Hezekiáh King of Iudáh, and all Iudáh put him to death? did he not feare the Lord, and praied before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the k plague, that he had pronoũced againſt them? thus might we procure great euil againſt our ſoules.

k So that the citie was not deſtroyed, but by miracle was deliuered out of the hands of Sancherib.

20 And there was alſo a man that prophecied in ỹ Name of the Lord, one Vriiáh the ſonne of Shemaiáh, of Kiriáth-iarem, who prophecied againſt this citie, and againſt this land, according to all the wordes of Ieremiáh.

l Here is declared the furie of tyrants, who can not abide to heare Gods worde declared, but perſecute the miniſters thereof, and yet in the end they preuaile nothing, but prouoke Gods iudgements ſo muche ỹ more.

21 Now when Iehoiakím the King with all his men of power, & all the princes heard his wordes, the King ſoght to ſlaie him. But when Vriiáh heard it, he was afraied and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Thẽ Iehoiakim the King l ſent men into Egypt, euen Elnathán the ſonne of Achbór, and certeine with him into Egypt.

m As in the firſt Hezekiahs example is to be followed. ſo in this other Iehoiakims act is to be abhorred: for Gods plague did light on him, and his houſholde

23 And thei fet Vriiáh out of Egypt, and broght him vnto Iehoiakím the King, who ſlewe him with the ſworde, and m caſt his dead bodie into the graues of the children of the people.

n Which declareth that nothing colde haue appeaſed their furie, if God had not moued this noble man to ſtãd valiantly in his defence.

24 But the hand of Ahikám n the ſonne of Shaphán was with Ieremiáh ỹ thei ſhulde not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAP. XXVII.

Ieremiáh at the commandement of the Lord ſendeth bondes to the King of Iudáh and to the other Kings that were nere, whereby thei are monſhed to be ſubiect vnto Nebuchad-nezzár. 9 He warneth the people & the Kings & rulers that thei beleue not falſe Prophetes.

1 IN the beginning of the reigne of a Iehoiakím ỹ ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iu a As touching the diſpoſitiõ of theſe prophecies, they that gathered them into a booke, did not altogether obſerue the order of times, but did ſet ſome afore, which ſhulde be after, and contrarie wiſe: which if the reader marke wel, it ſhal auoide many doutes, & make the reading muche more eaſy.

dáh

dáh came this worde vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord to me, Make thee [b] bondes, and yokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And ſend them to the King of Edóm, & to the King of Moáb, and to the King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyrus, and to the King of Zidón, by the hãd of the meſſengers which come to Ieruſalém vnto Zedekiáh the King of Iudáh,

4 And commande them to ſay vnto their maſters, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſraél, Thus ſhal ye ſay vnto your maſters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, and the beaſt that are vpõ the groũde, by my great power, & by my outſtretched arme, & haue giuen it vnto whome it pleaſed me.

6 But now I haue giuen all theſe lands into the hãd of Nebuchad-nezzár the King of Babél my [c] ſeruant, and the beaſtes of the field haue I alſo giuẽ him to ſerue him.

7 And all nations ſhal ſerue him, and his [d] ſonne, and his ſonnes ſonne vntil the verie time of his land come alſo: then manie nations and great Kings ſhal [e] ſerue them ſelues of him.

8 And the nation & kingdome which wil not ſerue ỹ ſame Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, and that wil not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, the ſame nation wil I viſite, ſaith the Lord, with the ſworde, and with the famine, and with the peſtilence, vntil I haue wholy giuen them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your Prophetes nor your ſouthſayers, nor your dreamers, nor your inchanters, nor your ſorcerers, which ſaie vnto you thus, Ye ſhal not ſerue the King of Babél.

10 For their prophecie a lie vnto you to cauſe you to go farre from your land, and that I ſhulde caſt you out, and you ſhulde periſh.

11 But the nation that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, & ſerue him, thoſe wil I let remaine ſtil in their owne land, ſaith the Lord, and their ſhal occupie it and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I ſpake alſo to Zedekiáh King of Iudáh according to all theſe wordes, ſaying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babél, and ſerue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wil ye dye, thou, & thy people by the ſworde, by the famine, and by the peſtilẽce, as the Lord hathe ſpokẽ againſt ỹ nation, that wil not ſerue ỹ King of Babél?

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the Prophetes, that ſpeake vnto you, ſaying, Ye ſhal not ſerue the King of Babél: for they prophecie a lie vnto you.

15 For I haue not * ſent thẽ, ſaith the Lord, yet they prophecie a lie in my Name, that I might caſt you out, and that ye might periſh, bothe you, & the Prophetes that prophecie vnto you. Chap 14,13. & 23,21. & 29,8.

16 ¶ Alſo I ſpake to ỹ Prieſtes, & to all this people, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Heare not the wordes of your Prophetes that prophecie vnto you, ſaying, Beholde, * the veſſels of the Houſe of the Lord ſhal now ſhortely be [f] broght againe from Babél, for they prophecie a lie vnto you. Chap. 28,3.

17 Heare thẽ not, but ſerue the King of Babél, that ye may liue: wherefore ſhulde this citie be deſolate?

18 But if they be Prophetes, and if the worde of the Lord be with thẽ, let them [g] intreat the Lord of hoſtes, that the veſſels, which are left in the Houſe of the Lord, & in the houſe of the King of Iudáh, & at Ieruſalém, go not to Babél.

19 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, concerning the * pillers, and concerning the ſea, and concerning the baſes, and concerning the reſidue of the veſſels that remaine in this citie,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél toke not, when he caryed * away captiue Ieconiáh the ſonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh from Ieruſalém to Babél, with all the nobles of Iudáh and Ieruſalém. 2 King 25,13 2. King 24,12

21 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes ỹ God of Iſraél, cõcerning the veſſels ỹ remaine in the Houſe of the Lord, & in ỹ houſe of the King of Iudáh, and at Ieruſalém, 22 They ſhalbe broght to Babel, and there ſhalbe vntil the day that I viſite [h] thẽ, ſaith the Lord: then wil I bring them vp, and reſtore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The falſe prophecie of Hananiáh 12 Ieremiáh repro ueth Hananiah, and propheſieth.

1 AND that ſame yere in the beginning of the [a] reigne of Zedekiáh King of Iudáh in the [b] fourth yere, and in the fift moneth Hananiáh the ſonne of Azúr the Prophet, ẅ was of [c] Gibeón, ſpake to me in the Houſe of the Lord in the preſence of the Prieſts, and of all the people, and ſaid,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, ſaying, I haue broken the yoke of the King of Babél.

3 " Within two yeres ſpace I wil bring into this place all the veſſels of the Lords Houſe, ỹ Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél toke away from this place, and caried them into Babél.

4 And I wil bring againe to this place Ieconiáh the ſonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudáh, with all thẽ that were caryed away captiue of Iudáh, and wẽt into Babél, ſaith the Lord: for I wil breake the yoke of the King of Babél.

[b] By ſuche ſignes ỹ Prophetes vſed ſome times to confirme their prophecies, ẅ notwithſtanding they colde not do of them ſelues, but inaſmuche as they had a reuelation for the ſame, Iſa 20,2. and therefore the falſe prophetes to get more credit did vſe alſo ſuchẽ viſible ſignes, but they had no reuelation, 1. King 22,11.

[c] Read Chap. 25,9.

[d] Meaning, Euilmerodách, and his ſonne Belſhazar

[e] They ſhal bring him, and his kingdome in ſubiection, as Chap 25,14.

[f] Which were taken whẽ Ieconiáh was led captiue into Babél.

[g] For it was not onely the Prophetes office to ſhewe the worde of God, but alſo to pray for the ſinnes of the people. Gen 20,7 Which theſe colde not do becauſe they had no expreſſe warder for God had pronounced ỹ contrarie 2 King 25,13 2. King 24,12

[h] That is, for the ſpace of ſeuentie yeres, til I haue cauſed the Medes and Perſiãs to ouercome the Caldeans.

[a] When Ieremiáh began to beare theſe bondes and yokes

[b] After that the land had reſted, as Leu. 25,1 deu 15,1

[c] This was a citie in Benjamin belonging to the ſonnes of Aarón, Ioſh. 21,17.

" Eíer two yeres of dayes.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremiáh ſaid vnto the d Prophet Hananiáh in the preſence of the Prieſts, & in the preſence of all the people that ſtode in the Houſe of the Lord.

d He was ſo eſteemed, though he was a falſe Prophet.

6 Euē the Prophet Ieremiáh ſaid, So be it:
the e Lord ſo do, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou haſt prophecied to re-ſtore the veſſels of the Lords Houſe, and all that is caried captiue from Babél into this place.

e That is, I wolde wiſh ỹ ſame for Gods honour, & welthe of my people, but he hathe appointed the contrarie.

7 But heare thou now this worde that I wil ſpeake in thine eares and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophetes that haue bene before me and before thee in time paſt, f prophecied againſt manie countreis, and againſt great kingdomes, of warre, & of plagues, and of peſtilence.

f Meaning, that the Prophetes that did ether denounce warre or peace, were tryed ether true or falſe by the ſucceſſe of their prophecies. Albeit God maketh to come to paſſe ſometime that which the falſe prophet ſpeaketh, to trye the faith of his, Deut. 13,3.

9 And the Prophet which prophecieth of peace, when the worde of the Prophet ſhal come to paſſe, then ſhal the Prophet be knowen that the Lord hathe truely ſent
him.

10 Then Hananiáh the Prophet toke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiahs necke, and g brake it.

g This declareth the impudencie of the wicked hirelings, which haue no zeale to the trueth, but are led ỹ ambition to get the fauour of mē, & therefore can not abide any, that might diſcredit them, but burſt forthe into rages and contrarie to their owne cōſcience, paſſe not what lies they report, or how wickedly they do, ſo ỹ thei may maintein their eſtimation

11 And Hananiáh ſpake in the preſence of all the people, ſaying, Thus ſaith ỹ Lord, Euen ſo wil I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, frō the necke of all nations within the ſpace of two yeres: and the Prophet Ieremiáh went his way.

12 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiáh the Prophet, (after that Ha-naniáh the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Ieremiáh) ſaying,

13 Go, & tel Hananiáh, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood: but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſraél, I haue put a h yoke of yron vpon ỹ necke of all theſe natiōs, that they may ſerue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babél: for thei ſhal ſerue him, and I haue gi-uen him the i beaſts of the field alſo.

h That is, a hard, and cruel ſeruitude.

i Signifying, that all ſhulde be his, as Dan. 2,38.

15 Thē ſaid the Prophet Ieremiáh vnto the Prophet Hananiáh, Heare now Hananiáh, the Lord hathe not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lye.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde,
I wil caſt thee from of the earth: this yere thou ſhalt dye, becauſe thou haſt ſpoken rebelliouſly againſt the Lord.

17 So Hananiáh the Prophet k dyed the ſame yere in the ſeuenth moneth.

k Seing this thing was euident in the eyes of ỹ people, and yet they returned not to ỹ Lord, it is manifeſt, that miracles can not moue vs, nether the worde it ſelf, except God touche the heart.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Ieremiáh writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babylon. 10 He prophecieth their returne after ſeuentie yeres. 16 He prophecieth the deſtruction of the King and of the people that remaine in Ieruſalém. 21 He threatneth the prophetes that ſeduce the people 25 The death of Semeiah is prophecied.

1 NOw theſe are ỹ wordes of the *boke that Ieremiáh the Prophet ſent frō Ieruſalém vnto a the reſidue of the Elders which were caryed away captiues, and to the Prieſts, and to the Prophetes, and to all the people whome Nebuchad-nezzár had caryed away captiue from Ieruſalém to Babél.

*Or, letter.

a For ſome dyed in the way.

2 (After that Ieconiáh the King, and the b Quene, and the eunuches, the *princes of Iudáh, and of Ieruſalém, and the worke men, and cūning men were departed from Ieruſalém)

b Meaning, Iechonias mother (chap 24,1.)

3 By the hand of Elaſáh the ſonne of Sha-phán and Gemariáh the ſonne of Hilkiah (whome Zedekiáh King of Iudáh c ſent vnto Babél to Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél) ſaying,

c To intreat of ſome equal cōditions.

4 Thus hathe the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſraél ſpoken vnto all that are caryed away captiues, whome I haue d cauſed to be caried away captiues from Ieruſalém vnto Babél

d To wit, the Lord, whoſe worke this was.

5 Buylde you houſes to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eat the frutes of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget ſonnes, and daughters, and take wiues for your ſonnes, and giue your daughters to houſbands, that they may beare ſonnes & daughters, that ye may be increaſed there, and not diminiſhed.

e The Prophet ſpeaketh not this for the affection that he bare to the tyrant, but that they ſhulde pray for the communeſt, and quietnes, ỹ their troubles might not be increaſed, and that they might ỹ more pacience and leſſe grief waite for the time of their deliuerance, which God had appointed moſte certeine: for els not onely the Iſraelites, but all the worlde, yea, & the inſenſible creatures ſhulde reioyce when theſe tyrants ſhulde be deſtroyed, as Iſa. 14,4 7 And ſeke the proſperitie of the citie, whether I haue cauſed you to be caryed away captiues, and e pray vnto the Lord for it:

for in the peace thereof ſhal you haue peace.

8 ¶ For thus ſaith ỹ Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſraél, Let not your prophetes, & your ſothe ſayers that be amōg you, deceiue you, nether giue eare to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophecie you a lye in my Name: I haue not ſent them, ſaith the Lord.

10 But thus ſaith the Lord, That after ſeuentie yeres be accompliſhed at Babél, I wil viſit you, and performe my good promes toward you, and cauſe you to retur-ne to this place.

11 For I knowe ỹ thoghts, that I haue thoght towardes you, ſaith the Lord, euen the thoghts of peace, and not of trouble, to giue you an end, and your hope.

12 Then ſhal you crye vnto me, and ye ſhal go and pray vnto me, and I wil heare you,

13 And ye ſhal ſeke me and finde me, becau-ſe ye ſhal ſeke me with all f your heart.

f When your oppreſsion ſhalbe great, & your afflictiōs cauſe you to repent your diſobedience, & alſo whē ỹ ſeuentie yeres of your captiuitie ſhalbe expired, 2 Chr. 36,22 ezrá 1,1. chap 25 12. dan 9,2.

14 And I wil be founde of you, ſaith ỹ Lord, and I wil turne away your captiuitie, and I wil gather you from all the nations and from all the places, whether I haue caſt you, ſaith the Lord, and wil bring you againe

againe vnto the place, whence I cauſed you to be caryed away captiue.

15 ¶ Becauſe ye haue ſaid, The Lord hathe raiſed vs vp g Prophetes in Babél, g As Aháb, Zedekiáh, and Shemaiáh.

16 Therefore thus ſaieth the Lord of the King, that ſitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, & of all the people, that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone forthe with you into captiuitie:

17 Euen thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Beholde, I wil ſend vpon them the h ſworde, the famine, and the peſtilence, & wil make them like vile i figges, that can not be eaté, they are ſo noghtie.

h Whereby he aſſureth them, ẏ there ſhalbe no hope of returning before the time appointed

i According to ẏ compariſon, Chap. 24, 1

18 And I wil perſecute them with the ſworde, with the famine, & with the peſtilẽce: & I wil make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, & k a curſſe, and aſtoniſhmẽt and an hiſſing, and a reproche among all the nations whether I haue caſt them, k Read Chap. 26, 6.

19 Becauſe they haue not heard my wordes, ſaith the Lord, which I ſent vnto them by my ſeruãts the Prophetes, l riſing vp earely, & ſending them, but ye wolde not heare, ſaith the Lord.

l Read Chap. 7, 13 & 25, 3 & 26, 5.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the worde of the Lord all ye of the captiuitie, whome I haue ſent from Ieruſalém to Babél.

21 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, of Aháb the ſonne of Kolaiáh, & of Zedekiáh the ſonne of Maaſeiáh, which prophecie lies vnto you in my Name, Beholde, I wil deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár Kĩg of Babél & he ſhal ſlaye them before your eyes.

22 And all they of the captiuitie of Iudáh, that are in Babél, ſhal take vp this curſſe againſt them & ſay, The Lord make thee like Zedekiáh and like Aháb, whome the King of Babél burnt m in the fyre, m Becauſe thei gaue the people hope of ſpedy returning.

23 Becauſe they haue cõmitted n vilenie in Iſraél, and haue committed adulterie with their neighbours wiues, and haue ſpoken lying wordes in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I knowe it, & teſtifie it, ſaith the Lord.

n Which was adulterie, and falſifying the worde of God.

24 ¶ Thou ſhalt alſo ſpeake to Shemaiáh the o Nehelamite, ſaying, o Or, dreamer

25 Thus ſpeaketh ẏ Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſt ſẽt letters in thy name vnto all the people, that are at Ieruſalém, & to Zephaniáh the ſonne of Maaſeiáh the Prieſt, and to all the Prieſts, ſaying, o Shemaiáh ẏ falſe prophet flattereth Zephaniáh the chief Prieſt, as though God had giuen him the ſpirit and zeale of Iehoiadá to puniſh whatoeuer treſpaced againſt the worde of God, of the ẅ he wolde haue made Ieremiáh one, calling him a rauer & a falſe ꝓphet

26 The Lord hathe made thee Prieſt, for o Iehoiadá th Prieſt, that ye ſhulde be officers in the Houſe of ẏ Lord, for euery mã that raueth & maketh him ſelf a Prophet, to put him in priſon and in the ſtockes.

27 Now therefore why haſt not thou reproued Ieremiáh of Anathóth, which prophecieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cauſe he ſent vnto vs in Babél, ſaying, This captiuitie is long: buylde houſes to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eat the frutes of them.

29 And Zephaniáh the Prieſt red this letre in the eares of Ieremiáh the Prophet.

30 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiáh, ſaying,

31 Send to all thẽ of the captiuitie, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord of Shemaiáh the Nehelamite, Becauſe that Shemaiáh hathe prophecied vnto you, & I ſent him not, & he cauſed you to truſt in a lye, 32 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I wil viſite Shemaiáh the Nehelamite, and his ſede: he ſhal not haue a man p to dwell among this people, nether ſhal he beholde the good, that I wil do for my people, ſaith ẏ Lord, becauſe he hathe ſpoken rebelliouſly againſt the Lord.

p He & his ſede ſhalbe deſtroied, ſo that none of thẽ ſhulde ſe the benefite of this deliuerance.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

1 THe worde, that came to Ieremiáh frõ the Lord, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord God of Iſraél, ſaying, Write thee all the wordes, that I haue ſpoken vnto thee in a a boke.

a Becauſe thei ſhulde be aſſured and their poſteritie confirmed in the hope of this deliuerance promiſed.

3 For lo, the daies come, ſaith the Lord, that I wil bring againe ẏ captiuitie of my people Iſraél and Iudáh, ſaith the Lord: for I wil reſtore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, & they ſhal poſſeſſe it.

4 Againe, theſe are the wordes ẏ the Lord ſpake concerning Iſraél, and concerning Iudáh.

5 For thus ſaith the Lord, We haue heard a b terrible voyce, of feare & not of peace.

b He ſheweth that before ẏ this deliuerãce ſhal come, the Caldeans ſhulde be extremely afflicted by their enemies, and ẏ they ſhulde be in ſuche perplexitie & ſorow as a woman in her trauail, as Iſa. 13, 8.

6 Demande now & beholde, if man trauail with childe? wherefore do I beholde euery man with his hands on his loines as a woman in trauail, & all faces are turned into a palenes?

7 Alas, for this c day is great: none hathe bene like it: it is euen the time of Iaakobs trouble, yet ſhal he be deliuered from it.

c Meaning, ẏ the time of their captiuitie ſhuide be gracious

8 For in that d day, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, I wil breake e his yoke from of thy necke, and breake thy bondes, and ſtrangers ſhal no more ſerue them ſelues f of him.

d When I ſhal viſit Babylon.

e Of the King of Babylon

f To wit, of Iaakób

9 But they ſhal ſerue the Lord their God, & g Dauid their King, whome I wil raiſe vp vnto them.

g That is, Meſſiáh, ẅ ſhulde come of ẏ ſtocke of Dauid, according to the fleſh and ſhulde be the true paſtor, as Ezek. 34, 23 who is ſet forth and his kingdome that ſhulde be euerlaſting in the perſone of Dauid, Hoſ. 3, 5.

10 Therefore feare not, ô my ſeruãt Iaakób, ſaith the Lord, nether be afraied, ô Iſraél: for lo, I wil deliuer thee from a farre countrey, and thy ſede from the land of their captiuitie, & Iaakób ſhal turne againe, & ſhalbe in reſt and proſperitie & none ſhal make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, ſaith the Lord, to ſaue thee, thogh I vtterly deſtroy all the nacions where I haue ſcattered thee: yet wil I not vtterly deſtroy thee, but I wil correct

h Read Chap 10,24.

thee by iudgement, and not h vtterly cut thee of.

12 For thus ſaith the Lord, Thy bruiſing is incurable, and i thy wounde is dolorous.

i Meaning, that no man is able to finde out a meane to deliuer them, but ỹ it muſt be the worke of God

13 There is none to iudge thy cauſe, or to lay a plaiſter: there are no medecines, nor helpe for thee.

k The Aſyrians & Egyptians whome thou dideſt enterteine with giftes, who left thee in thine affliction.

14 All thy k louers haue forgotten thee: thei ſeke thee not: for I haue ſtriken thee with the wounde of an enemie, & with a ſharpe chaſtiſemẽt for the multitude of thine iniquities, becauſe thy ſinnes were increaſed.

15 Why cryeſt thou for thine affliction? thy ſorowe is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: becauſe thy ſinnes were increaſed, I haue done theſe thigs vnto thee.

l Herein is commended Gods great mercie toward his, who doeth not deſtroye them for their ſinnes, but correct and chaſtiſe them, til he haue purged & pardoned them, & ſo burneth the roddes by the which he did puniſh them, Iſa 33,1.

16 l Therefore all they that deuoure thee, ſhal be deuoured, and all thine enemies euery one ſhal go into captiuitie: and they that ſpoyle thee, ſhalbe ſpoyled, & all thei that robbe thee, wil I giue to be robbed.

17 For I wil reſtore helth vnto thee, & I wil heale thee of thy woundes, ſaith the Lord, becauſe they called thee, The caſt away, ſaying, This is Zión, whome no man ſeketh after.

18 Thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I wil brĩg againe the captiuitie of Iaakobs tentes, and haue compaſsion on his dwelling places: and the citie ſhalbe buylded vpon her owne heape, m and the palace ſhal remaine after the maner thereof.

m Meaning, ỹ the citie and the Temple ſhulde be reſtored to their former ſtate.

19 And out of them ſhal procede n thankeſgiuing, and the voyce of them that are ioyous, and I wil multiplie them, and thei ſhal not be fewe: I wil alſo glorifie them, and they ſhal not be diminiſhed.

n He ſheweth how the people ſhal with praiſe and thãkeſgiuing acknowledge this benefite.

20 Their childrẽ alſo ſhalbe as afore time, and their congregacion ſhalbe eſtabliſhed before me: & I wil viſite all that vexe thẽ.

o Meaning, Zerubbabél, who was the figure of Chriſt, in whome this was accompliſhed

21 And their o noble ruler ſhalbe of them ſelues, and their gouernour ſhal procede from the middes of them, and I wil cauſe him to drawe nere, and approche vnto me: for who is this that directeth his p heart to come vnto me, ſaith the Lord?

p Signifying, ỹ Chriſt doeth willingly ſubmit him ſelf to the obedience of God his Father 22 And ye ſhalbe my people, and I wil be your God.

q Leſt the wicked hypocrites ſhulde flatter thẽ ſelues with theſe promiſes, the Prophet ſheweth what ſhalbe their portion 23 Beholde, q the tẽpeſt of the Lord goeth forthe with wrath: the whirlwinde ỹ hangeth ouer, ſhal light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord ſhal not returne, vntil he haue done, and vntil he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the r latter daies ye ſhal vnderſtand it.

r When this Meſsiáh and deliuerer is ſent.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He rehearceth Gods benefites after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the ſpiritual ioye of the faithful in the Church.

2 When this noble gouernour ſhal come: meaning Chriſt, not onely Iudáh & Iſraél, but the reſt of ỹ worlde ſhalbe called.

1 AT the s ſame time, ſaith the Lord, wil I be the God of all the families of Iſraél, and they ſhalbe my people.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord, The people which t eſcaped the ſworde, founde grace in the wildernes: u he walked before Iſraél to cauſe him to reſt.

t Which were deliuered frõ the cruelte of Pharáoh u To wit, God.

3 The Lord hathe appeared vnto me x of olde, ſay they: y Yea, I haue loued thee with an euerlaſting loue, therefore with mercie I haue drawen thee.

x The people thus reaſon as though he were not ſo beneficial to them now, as he had bene of olde.

y Thus the Lord anſwereth that his loue is not changeable

4 Againe I wil buylde thee, and thou ſhalt be buylded, ô virgine Iſraél: thou ſhalt ſtil z be adorned with thy tymbrels, and ſhalt go forthe in the dãce of thẽ that be ioyful.

z Thou ſhalt haue ſtil occaſiõ to reioyce: which is mẽt by tabrets and dancing, as their cuſtome was after notable victories, Exod 15, 20. iudg 5,2 and chap. 11,34

5 Thou ſhalt yet plãt vines vpon the moũtaines of a Samaria, and the planters that plant them, b ſhal make them commune.

a Becauſe the Iſraelites, ẽ were the ten tribes, neuer returned to Samaria, therefore this muſt be ſpiritually vnderſtand vnder ỹ kingdome of Chriſt, which was ỹ reſtauracion of the true Iſraél.

6 For the daies ſhal come that the c watchemen vpon the moũt of Ephráim ſhal crye, Ariſe, and let vs go vp vnto d Zión to the Lord our God.

b That is, ſhal eat the frute therof, as Leu. 19,23 dan 20,6 c The miniſters of the worde d They ſhal exhorte all to the imbracig of the Goſpel, as Iſa 2,3.

7 For thus ſaith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnes for Iaakób, and ſhoute for ioye among the chief of the e Gentiles: publiſh praiſe, and ſay, O Lord, ſaue thy people, the remnant of Iſraél.

e He ſheweth what ſhal be the concorde and loue of all vnder the Goſpel, where none ſhalbe refuſed for their infirmities: & euery ône ſhal exhort one another to imbrace it.

8 Beholde, I wil bring thẽ from the North countrey, and gather them from the coaſtes of the worlde, with the blinde & the lame among them, with the woman with childe, & her that is deliuered alſo: a great companie ſhal returne hether.

f That is, lamenting their ſinnes, which had not giuen eare to the Prophetes, & therefore it followeth ỹ God receiued thẽ to mercie, Chap 50, 4 9 They ſhal come g weping, and with mercie wil I bring them againe: I wil leade them by the riuers of h water in a ſtraight way, wherein they ſhal not ſtumble: for I am a Father to Iſraél, and Ephráim is i my firſt borne.

g Some take it ỹ they ſhulde wepe for ioy.

h Where they founde no impedimẽts, but abundance of all things.

i That is, my derely beloued, as ỹ firſt childè is to 10 ¶ Heare the worde of the Lord, ô ye Gẽtiles, and declare in the yles a farre of, & ſay, He ỹ ſcattered Iſraél, wil gather him and wil kepe him, as a ſhepherd doeth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hathe redemed Iaakób, & rãſomed him from the hand k of him, that was ſtronger then he.

k That is, from the Babylonians, and other enemies

12 Therefore they ſhal come, and reioyce in the light of Zión, and ſhal l runne to the boũtifulnes of the Lord, euen for ỹ q wheat and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increaſe of ſhepe, and bullockes: and their ſoule ſhalbe as a watered gãrden, and thei ſhal haue no more ſorow.

q By theſe temporal benefites he meaneth the ſpiritual graces, which are in the Church, and whereof there ſhulde be euer plentie, Iſa 58 21

l In the companie of the faithful, which euer praiſe God for his benefites.

13 Thẽ ſhal the virgine reioyce in the m dãce, and the yong men, & the olde men together: for I wil turne their mourning into ioye, and wil comforte them, & giue them ioye for their ſorowes.

m Meaning the Spirit of wiſdome, knowledge and zeale.

14 And I wil repleniſh the ſoule of the Prieſts with n farnes, and my people ſhalbe ſatiſfied with my goodnes, ſaith the Lord.

15 Thus

15 Thus ſaith the Lord, A voice was heard on hie, a mourning and bitter weping. [c] Rahél weping for her children, refuſed to be comforted for her children, becauſe thei were not.

16 Thus ſaith the Lord, Refraine thy voice from weping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke ſhalbe rewarded, ſaith ỹ Lord, and thei ſhal come againe from the land of the enemie:

17 And there is hope in thine end, ſaith the Lord, that thy children ſhal come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard [u] Ephráim lamenting thus, Thou haſt corrected me, and I was chaſtiſed as an [x] vntamed calfe: [y] conuert thou me, and I ſhalbe conuerted: for thou art ỹ Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented: & after that I was inſtructed, I ſmote vpon my [z] thigh: I was aſhamed, yea, euen confounded, becauſe I did beare the repro che of my youth.

20 Is Ephráim [a] my dere ſonne or pleaſant childe? yet ſince I ſpake vnto him, I ſtil [b] remembred him: therefore my bowelles are troubled for him: I wil ſurely haue cõpaſſion vpon him, ſaith the Lord.

21 Set thee vp [c] ſignes: make thee heapes: ſet thine heart towarde the path and waie, that thou haſt walked: turne againe, ô virgine of Iſraél: turne againe to theſe thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go aſtraie, ô thou rebellious daughter? for the Lord hathe created [d] a newe thing in the earth: A WOMAN ſhal compaſſe a man.

23 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Y. t ſhal thei ſaie this thing in the land of Iudáh, and in the cities thereof, when I ſhal bring againe their captiuitie, The Lord bleſſe thee, ô habitation of iuſtice & holie mountaine.

24 And Iudáh ſhal dwell in it, & all the cities thereof together, the houſbandmen and thei that go forthe with the flocke.

25 For I haue ſatiat the weary ſoule, and I haue repleniſhed euerie ſorowful ſoule.

26 Therefore I awaked and behelde, and my ſlepe [e] was ſwete vnto me.

27 Behólde, the daies come, ſaith the Lord, that I will ſowe the houſe of Iſraél, and the houſe of Iudáh [f] with the ſede of man and with the ſede of beaſt.

28 And like as I haue watched vpon them, to plucke vp and to roote out, & to throwe downe, and to deſtroye, and to plague them, ſo will I watche ouer them, to buylde and to plant them, ſaith the Lord.

29 In thoſe dayes ſhal they ſay no more, The fathers haue eaten a ſowre grape, & the childrens teeth are ſet on edge.

30 But euerie one ſhal dye for his owne iniquitie: euerie man that eateth the ſowre grape, his teeth ſhalbe ſet on edge.

31 ¶ Beholde, the daies come, ſaith ỹ Lord, that I wil make [h] newe couenant with the houſe of Iſraél, and with the houſe of Iudáh,

32 Not according to the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I toke them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, the which my couenant they [i] brake, althogh I was [k] an houſband vnto them, ſaith the Lord.

33 But this ſhalbe the couenant that I wil make with the houſe of Iſraél, After [l] thoſe daies, ſaith the Lord, I wil put my Law in their inwarde partes, & write it in their hearts, & wil be their God, and thei ſhalbe my people.

34 And thei ſhal [l] teache nomore euerie mã his neighbour and euerie man his brother, ſaying, Knowe the Lord: for they ſhal all knowe me from the leaſt of them vnto the greateſt of them, ſaith the Lord: for I wil forgiue their iniquitie, and wil remember their ſinnes no more.

35 Thus ſaith the Lord, which giueth [m] the ſunne for a light to the day, and the courſes of ỹ moone and of the ſtarres for a light to the night, which breaketh the ſea, whẽ the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hoſtes.

36 If theſe ordinances departe out of my ſight, ſaith the Lord, then ſhal the ſede of Iſraél ceaſe from being a nation before me, for euer.

37 Thus ſaith the Lord, If the heauens can be meaſured, [n] or the fundacions of the earth be ſearched out beneth, then wil I caſt of all the ſede of Iſraél, for all that they haue done, ſaith the Lord.

38 Beholde, the dayes come, ſaith the Lord, that the [o] citie ſhalbe buylt to the Lord frõ the tower of Hananeél, vnto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the meaſure ſhal go forthe in his preſence vpon the hil Garéb, & ſhal compaſſe about to Goáth.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the aſſhes, and all the fields vnto the broke of Kidrón, and vnto the corner of the horſegate towarde the Eaſt, ſhalbe holie vnto the Lord, nether ſhal it be plucked vp nor deſtroyed anie more for euer.

c To declare the greatnes of Gods mercie in deliuering the Iewes he ſheweth them that thei were like to the Beniamites, or Iſraelites: that is, vtterly deſtroyed, and caryed away in ſo muche that if Rahél the mother of Beniamin colde haue riſen againe to ſeke for her childrẽ ſhe ſhulde haue founde none remaining

u That is, the people that were led captiue

x Which was wanton and colde not be ſubiect to the yoke

y He sheweth how ỹ faithfulvle to pray: that is, deſire God to turne them, for as muche as they can not turne ot them ſelues

z In ſigne of repentance, & deteſtation of my ſinne a As though he wolde ſay, No: for by his iniquitie he did what laye in him to caſte me of b To wit, in pitying him for my promes ſake

c Marke by what way thou dideſt go into captiuitie, and thou ſhalt turne againe by the ſame

d Becauſe their deliuerance from Babylon was a figure of their deliuerance from ſinne, he ſheweth how this ſhulde be ſecured, to wit by Ieſus Chriſt whome a woman ſhulde conceiue, & beare in her wõbe Which is a ſtrange thing in earth, becauſe he ſhulde be borne of a virgine without man or, he meaneth, that Ieruſalém which was like a barẽ woman in her captiuitie ſhulde be fruiteful as ſhe, that is ioyned in mariage, and whome God bleſſeth with children

e Hauing vnderſtand this viſiõ of the Meſsiah to come in whõme the two houſes of Iſraél, and Iudáh ſhulde be ioyned, I reioyced.

f I wil multiplie, and enrithe them with people and cattel.

g The wicked vſed this prouerbe, when they did murmure againſt Gods iudgements pronoũced by the Prophetes, ſaying, That their fathers had committed the faute, and that the children were puniſhed, Eze. 18,3 h Thogh the couenant of redemptiõ made to the fathers, & this which was giuen after, ſeme diuers, yet thei are all one, & grounded on Ieſus Chriſt, ſaue that this is called newe becauſe of the manifeſtation of Chriſt, and the abundant graces of the holie Goſt giuen to his Church vnder the Goſpel.

i And ſo were the occaſion of their owne diuorcement through their infidelitie, Iſa. 50,1 k Or, maſter.

l In the time of Chriſt my Law ſhal inſtead of tables of ſtone be writen in their heartes by mine holie Spirit. Ebr 8,8 l Vnder the kingdome of Chriſt there ſhalbe none blinded with ignorance, but I wil giue thẽ faith, & knowledge of God for remiſsion of their ſinnes, and daily increaſe the ſame: ſo that it ſhal not ſeme to come ſo muche by the preaching of my miniſters, as by the inſtruction of mine holie Spirit, Iſa 54,13. but the ful accompliſhing hereof is referred to the kingdome of Chriſt, when we ſhalbe ioyned with our head

m If the ſunne, moone, and ſtarres can not but giue light according to mine ordinance, ſo long as this worlde laſteth ſo ſhal my Church neuer faile, nether ſhal anie thing hinder it: and as ſure as I wil haue a people, ſo certeine is it, that I wil leaue them my worde for euer to gouerne them with n The one and the other is impoſsible

o As it was performed, Nehemiáh 3,1 By this deſcription he ſheweth that the citie ſhulde be as ample, and beautiful as euer it was: but he alludeth to the ſpiritual Ieruſalém, whoſe beautie ſhulde be incomparable

CHAP. XXXII.

Ieremiáh is caſt into priſon becauſe he prophecied that the citie ſhulde be take of the King of Babylon. 7 He ſheweth, that the people ſhulde come againe to their owne poſſeſſion. 36 The people of God are his ſeruants, and he is their Lord.

1 THe worde that came vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, in the [a] tenth yere of Zedekiáh King of Iudáh, which was the eighteenth yere of Nebuchad-nezzár.

2 For then the King of Babels hoſte beſieged Ieruſalém: and Ieremiáh the Prophet was ſhut vp in the court of the priſon, ẅ was in the King of Iudahs houſe.

3 For Zedekiáh KIng of Iudáh had ſhut him vp, ſaying, Wherefore doeſt thou prophecie, & ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord, *Behold, I wil giue this citie into the hands of the King of Babél, and he ſhal take it:

4 And Zedekiáh the King of Iudáh ſhal not eſcape out of the hand of ỹ Caldeans, but ſhal ſurely be deliuered into the hãds of the King of Babél, and ſhal ſpeake with him mouthe to mouthe, and his eyes ſhal beholde his face,

5 And he ſhal lead Zedekiáh to Babél, and there ſhal he be, vntil [b] I viſite him, ſaith the Lord: thogh ye fight with the Caldeans, ye ſhal not proſper.

6 ¶ And Ieremiáh ſaid, The worde of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

7 Beholde, Hanameél, the ſonne of Shallúm thine vncle, ſhal come vnto thee and ſaie, [c] Bye vnto thee my field, that is in Anathóth: for the [d] title by kinred apperteineth vnto thee [e] to bye it.

8 So Hanameél, mine vncles ſonne, came to me in the court of the priſon, according to the worde of the Lord, and ſaid vnto me, Bye my [e] field, I praie thee, that is in Anathóth, which is in the countrei of Beniamín: for the right of the poſſeſſion is thine, and the purchaſe belongeth vnto thee: bye it for thee. Then I knewe that this was the worde of the Lord.

9 And I boght the field of Hanameél, mine vncles ſonne, that was in Anathóth and weighed him ỹ ſiluer, euen ſeuen [f] ſhekels, and ten pieces of ſiluer.

10 And I writ it in the boke and ſigned it, & toke witneſſes, and weighed him the ſiluer in the balances.

11 So I toke the boke of the poſſeſſion, being ſealed [g] according to the Law, and cuſtome, with the boke that was open,

12 And I gaue the boke of the poſſeſſion vnto Barúch the ſonne of Neriáh, the ſonne of Maaſeiáh, in the ſight of Hanameél mine vncles ſonne, and in ỹ preſence of the witneſſes, writen in the boke of the poſſeſſion, before all the Iewes that ſate in the court of the priſon.

13 And I charged Barúch before them, ſaying,

14 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Take the writings, euen this boke of the poſſeſsion, bothe that is ſealed, and this boke that is open, and put them in an earthen [h] veſſel, that thei maie continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél ſaith thus, Houſes and fields, and vineyardes ſhalbe poſſeſſed againe in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had deliuered the boke of the poſſeſsion vnto Barúch, the ſonne of Neriáh, I prayed vnto the Lord, ſaying, 17 Ah Lord God, beholde, thou haſt made the heauẽ and the earth by thy great power, and by thy ſtretched out arme, and there is nothing [f] hard vnto thee.

18 *Thou ſheweſt mercie vnto thouſands, and recompenceſt the iniquitie of the fathers into ỹ boſome of their [i] childrẽ after them: ô God the great and mightie, whoſe Name is the Lord of hoſtes,

19 Great in counſel, and mightie in worke, (for thine eyes are opẽ vpon all the waies of the ſonnes of men, to giue to euerie one according to his waies, and according to the frute of his workes)

20 Which haſt ſet ſignes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this [k] day, & in Iſraél, and among all men, and haſt made thee a Name, as appeareth this daie,

21 And haſt broght thy people Iſraél out of the lãd of Egypt with ſignes, and with wonders, and with a ſtrong hand, with a ſtretched out arme, and with great terror,

22 And haſt giuen them this land, which thou dideſt ſweare to their fathers to giue them, euen a land, that floweth with milke and honie,

23 And they came in, and poſſeſſed it, but they obeyed not thy voyce, nether walked in thy Law: all that thou commandedſt them to do, they haue not done: therefore thou haſt cauſed this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Beholde, the [l] mounts, they are come into the citie to take it, and the citie is giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, that fight againſt it by meanes of the ſworde, and of the famiue, and of the peſtilence, and what thou haſt ſpoken, is come to paſſe, and beholde, thou ſeeſt it.

25 And thou haſt ſaid vnto me, ô Lord God, Bye vnto thee the field for ſiluer, and take witneſſes: for the citie ſhalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Thẽ came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiáh, ſaying, 27 Beholde, I am the Lord God of all [m] fleſh: is there anie thing to hard for me?

28 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Beholde, I wil giue this citie into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzár a So that Ieremiáh had now prophecied frõ the thirteenth yere of Ioſiáh vnto the laſt yere ſaue one of Zedekiahs reigne, which was almoſt fourtie yeres.

---

Chap. 29. 16. & 34. 2.

b Til I take Zedekiáh awaie by death: for he ſhal not dye by the ſworde, as Chap 34. 4.

c Whereby was ment that the people ſhulde returne againe out of captiuitie and enioye their poſſeſsions & vineyardes, as ver 15, & 44.

d Or, right to redeme it.

d Becauſe he was next of ỹ kinred, as Ruth 4. 4.

e Of the poſſeſsion of the Leuites read Leu. 25. 32.

f Which mõneth to of our money, about ten ſhilings ſix pence, if this ſhekel were ỹ commune ſhekel, read Gen. 23. 15. for the ſhekel of the Temple was of double value & tẽ pieces of ſiluer were halfe a ſhekel: for twentie made the ſhekel

g According to the cuſtome the inſtrumẽt or euidẽce was ſealed vp with ỹ cõmune ſeale, and a copie thereof remained, which cõteined the ſame in effect, but was not ſo authentical as the other, but was left open to be ſene if any thig ſhulde be called into doũ.

h And ſo to hide them in the grounde, ỹ thei might be preſerued as a token of their deliuerance.

i Or, kid Exod 34. 7. deut. 5. 9.

i Becauſe the wicked are ſubiect to the curſe of God, he ſheweth, ỹ their poſteritie, which by nature are vnder this malediction, ſhalbe puniſhed bothe for their owne wickednes & that the iniquitie of their fathers, ẅ is likewiſe in thẽ, ſhal be alſo reuenged on their head.

k Meaning, ỹ his miracles in deliuering his people, ſhulde neuer be forgotten.

l The wordẽ ſignifieth anie thing that is caſt vp, as a mount or rampart, and is alſo vſed for engines of warre, which were layed on an hie place to ſhoot into a citie, before that gonnes were in vſe

m That is, of euerie creature: who as thei are his worke, ſo doeth he gouerne and guide them as pleaſeth him, whereby he ſheweth ỹ as he is the autor of this their captiuitie for their ſinnes, ſo wil he for his mercies be their redemer to reſtore thẽ againe to libertie.

chad-nezzár, King of Babél, and he ſhal take it.

29 And the Caldeans ſhal come and fight againſt this citie, and ſet fyre on this citie and burne it, with the houſes, vpon whoſe rooſes they haue offred incenſe vnto Báal, and powred drinke offrings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto angre.

30 For the children of Iſraél, and the children of Iudáh haue ſurely done euil before me from their [n] youth: for the children of Iſraél haue ſurely prouoked me to angre with the workes of their hands, ſaith the Lord.

n From the time, ỹ I broght them out of Egypt, & made them my people. & called them my firſt borne.

31 Therefore this citie hathe bene vnto me as a prouocation of mine angre, and of my wrath, from the daye, that they buylt it, euen vntothis daye, that I ſhulde remoue it out of my ſight, 32 Becauſe of all the euil of the children of Iſraél, and of the children of Iudáh, which they haue done to prouoke me to angre, euen they, their Kings, their princes, their Prieſts, and their Prophetes, and the mẽ of Iudáh, and the inhabitãts of Ieruſalém.

o Read Prou 1,23 Iſa 65,2 chap 7,13 and 19,7 & 25,3 & 26,5 & 29,19.

33 And they haue turned vnto me the backe & not the face: thogh I taught them, [o] riſing vp early, and inſtructing them, yet they were not obediẽt to receiue doctrine,

34 But they ſet their abominations in the houſe (whereupon my Name was called) to defile it, p That is, the altars, which were made to offer ſacrifice vpon to their idoles

q Read Chap. 7,30 2 King 21,4 r Read 2 Kin. 16,3.

35 And they buylt the hye [p] places of Báal, which are in the valley of [q] Ben-hinnóm, to cauſe their ſonnes, and their daughters [r] paſſe through the fyre vnto Moléch, ẅ I commãded them not, nether came it into my minde, that they ſhulde do ſuche abomination, to cauſe Iudáh to ſinne.

f Read Chap 30,16.

36 And now [f] therefore, thus hathe the Lord God of Iſraél ſpoken, concerning this citie, whereof ye ſay, It ſhalbe deliuered into the hand of the King of Babél by the ſworde, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence,

Deut.30,3.

37 * Beholde, I wil gather thẽ out of all countreis, wherein I haue ſcatred them in mine angre, & in my wrath, and in great indignation, and I wil bring them againe vnto this place, and I wil cauſe them to dwell ſafely.

Chap.30,22.

38 And they ſhal be * my people, and I wil be their God.

t One conſent and one religion, as Ezek. 11,19, & 39,27.

39 And I wil giue thẽ [t] one heart & one way ỹ thei may feare me for euer for the welth of them, & of their children after them.

u Read Chap. 31,32.

40 And I wil make an [u] euerlaſting couenãt ẅ thẽ, that I wil neuer turne away frõ thẽ to do thẽ good, but I wil put my feare in their hearts, ỹ thei ſhal not departe frõ me.

41 Yea, I wil delité in thẽ to do thẽ good, & I wil plant them in this land aſſuredly with my whole heart, & with all my ſoule.

42 For thus ſaith the Lord, Like as I haue broght all this great plague vpon this people, ſo wil I bring vpon them all the good that I haue promiſed them.

43 And the fields ſhal be poſſeſſed in this land, whereof ye ſay, It is deſolate without man or beaſt, and ſhalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

44 Mẽ ſhal bye [x] fields for ſiluer, and make writings, and ſeale them, and take witneſſes in the land of Beniamín, and round about Ieruſalém, & in the cities of Iudáh, and in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I wil cauſe their captiuitie to returne, ſaith the Lord.

x This is the declaration of that, which was ſpoken, ver 8.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The Prophet is monished of the Lord to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promiſed. 8 God for graueth ſinnes, for his owne glorie. 15 Of the birth of Chriſt. 20 The kingdome of Chriſt in the Church ſhal neuer be ended.

1 MOreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiáh the ſeconde time (while he was yet ſhut vp in the [a] court of the priſon) ſaying, a Which was in the Kings houſe at Ieruſalém, as Chap 32,2 2 Thus ſaith the Lord, the maker [b] thereof, the Lord that formed it, and eſtabliſhed it, the Lord is his Name.

b To wit, of Ieruſalém, who as he made it, ſo wil he preſerue it, read Iſa. 37,26.

3 Call vnto me, and I wil anſwer thee, and ſhewe thee great & mightie things, which thou knowéſt not.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, concerning the houſes of this citie, and concerning the houſes of the Kings of Iudáh, which are deſtroied by the [c] mountes, and by the ſworde,

c Read Chap. 32,24

5 Thei come to [d] fight with the Caldeans, but it is to fil thẽ ſelues with the dead bodies of men, whome I haue ſlaine in mine angre and in my wrath: for I haue hid my [e] face from this citie, becauſe of all their wickednes.

d The Iewes thinke to ouercome the Caldeans, but thei ſeke their owne deſtruction.

e He ſheweth ỹ Gods fauours cauſe of all proſperitie, as his angre is of all aduerſitie.

6 ¶ Beholde, [f] I wil giue it helth & amendement: for I wil cure them, and wil reueile vnto them the abundance of peace, and trueth.

f In the middes of his threatnings God remembreth his and comforteth them.

7 And I wil cauſe the captiuitie of Iudáh, and the captiuitie of Iſraél to returne, & wil buylde them as at the firſt.

8 And I wil [g] cleanſe them from all their iniquitie, whereby they haue ſinned againſt me: yea, I wil pardon all their iniquities, whereby thei haue ſinned againſt me, and whereby thei haue rebelled againſt me.

g Declaring ỹ there is no deliuerance nor ioye, but where as we fele remiſſiõ of ſinnes

9 And it ſhalbe to me a name, a [h] ioy, a praiſe, and an honour before all the nacions of the earth, which ſhal heare all the good that I do vnto them: and thei ſhal feare, & tremble for all the goodnes, and for all the welth, that I ſhewe vnto this citie.

h Whereby he ſheweth that the Church, wherein is remiſsion of ſinnes, is Gods honour & glorie, ſo ỹ whoſoeuer is enemie to it, laboreth to diſhonour God.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord, Againe there ſhalbe heard in this place (which ye ſay ſhalbe deſolote, without man, and without beaſt, euen in the cities of Iudáh, & in the ſtretes of Ieruſalém, that are deſolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beaſt)

11 The voyce of ioye & the voyce of gladnes, the voice of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, the voyce of them that ſhal ſay, [i] Praiſe the Lord of hoſtes, becauſe the Lord is good: for his mercie endureth for euer, & of them that offre the ſacrifice of praiſe in ỹ Houſe of the Lord, for I wil cauſe to returne the captiuitie of the land, as at the firſt, ſaith the Lord.

12 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Againe in this place, which is deſolate, without man, and without beaſt, and in all the cities thereof there ſhalbe dwelling for ſhepherdes to reſt their flockes.

13 In the cities of the [k] mountaines, in the cities in the plaine, and in the cities of the South, and in the land of Beniamín, and about Ieruſalém, and in the cities of Iudáh ſhal the ſhepe paſſe againe, vnder the hand of him that telleth them, ſaith the Lord.

14 Beholde, the dayes come, ſaith the Lord, that I wil performe ỹ good thing, which I haue promiſed vnto the houſe of Iſraél, and to the houſe of Iudáh.

15 In thoſe daies and at that time, wil I cauſe [l] the brãche of righteouſnes to growe vp vnto Dauid, & he ſhal execute iudgement, and righteouſnes in the land.

16 In thoſe dayes ſhal Iudáh be ſaued, and Ieruſalém ſhal dwell ſafely, & he that ſhal call [m] her, is the Lord our [n] righteouſnes.

17 For thus ſaith the Lord, Dauid ſhal neuer want a man to ſit vpõ the throne of the houſe of Iſraél.

18 Nether ſhal the Prieſts and Leuites wãt a man before me to offer [o] burnt offrings, and to offer meat offrings, and to do ſacrifice continually.

19 ¶And the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiáh, ſaying,

20 Thus ſaith the Lord, If you can breake my couenãt of the [p] day, and my couenãt of the night, that there ſhulde not be day, and night in their ſeaſon,

21 Then may my couenant be broken with Dauid my ſeruant, that he ſhulde not haue a ſonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Leuites, & Prieſts my miniſters.

22 As ỹ armie of heauen can not be nõbred, nether the ſand of the ſea meaſured: ſo wil I multiplie the ſede of Dauid my ſeruant, and the Leuites, that miniſter vnto me.

23 ¶Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came to Ieremiáh, ſaying,

24 Conſidereſt thou not what [q] this people haue ſpoken, ſaying, The two families, which the Lord hathe choſen, he hathe euen caſt them of? thus they haue deſpiſed my people, that they ſhulde be no more a nacion before them.

25 Thus ſaith the Lord, If my couenant be not with day and night, and if I haue not appointed the ordre of heauen and earth,

26 Then wil I caſt away the ſede of Iaakób and Dauid my ſeruãt, & not take of his ſede to be rulers ouer the ſede of Abrahám, Izhák, and Iaakób: for I wil cauſe their captiuitie to returne, and haue compaſſion on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

2 He threatneth that the citie, and the King Zedekiáh ſhalbe giuen into the hands of the King of Babylon. 11 He rebuketh their cruelnie towarde their ſeruants.

1 THe worde ẅ came vnto Ieremiáh frõ the Lord (when [a] Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, and all his hoſte, & all the kingdomes of the earth, that were vnder the power of his hand, and all people foght againſt Ieruſalém, and againſt all the cities thereof) ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, Go, and ſpeake to Zedekiáh King of Iudáh, & tel him, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, [*] I wil giue this citie into the hand of the King of Babél, and he ſhal burne it ẅ fyre,

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape out of his hãd, but ſhalt ſurely be taken, and deliuered into his hand, and thine eies ſhal beholde the face of the King of Babél, and he ſhal ſpeake with thee mouthe to mouthe, and thou ſhalt go to Babél.

4 Yet heare the worde of the Lord, ô Zedekiáh, King of Iudáh: thus ſaith the Lord of thee, Thou ſhalt not dye by ỹ ſworde,

5 But thou ſhalt dye in [b] peace: & according to the burning for thy fathers the former Kings which were before thee, ſo ſhal thei burne odours for thee, and thei ſhal lament thee, ſaying, Oh [c] lord: for I haue pronounced the worde, ſaith the Lord.

6 Then Ieremiáh ỹ Prophet ſpake all theſe wordes vnto Zedekiáh King of Iudáh in Ieruſalém,

7 (When the King of Babels hoſte foght againſt Ieruſalém, and againſt all the cities of Iudáh, that were left, euen againſt Lachiſh, & againſt Azekáh: for theſe ſtrong cities remained of the cities of Iudáh)

8 This is the worde that came vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiáh had made a couenant with all ỹ people, which were at Ieruſalém, [d] to proclaime libertie vnto them,

9 That euerie man ſhulde let his [e] ſeruant go fre, & euerie man his handmaide, which was an Ebrue or an Ebrueſſe, & that none ſhulde ſerue him ſelue of them, to wit, of a Iewe his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, & all the people which had agreed to ỹ couenant, heard that euerie one ſhulde let his ſeruãt gofre, &

[i] Which was a ſong appointed for the Leuites to praiſe God by, 1 Chro. 16, 8 pſal 105, 1. iſa. 12, 4.

[k] Meaning, ỹ all the coũtres of Iudáh ſhalbe inhabited againe.

[l] That is, I wil ſende the Meſsiáh, which ſhal come of ỹ houſe of Dauid, of whome this prophecie is ment, as teſtifie all the Iewes, and that which is written Chap 23, 6 m To wit, Chriſt that ſhal call his Church.

[n] That is, Chriſt is our Lord God, our righteouſnes, ſanctification, & redemptiõ, 1 Cor 1, 30.

[o] This is chiefly ment of the ſpiritual ſacrifice of thankes giuing, which is left to the Church in the time of Chriſt, who was the euerlaſting Prieſt and the euerlaſting ſacrifice figured by the ſacrifices of ỹ Law.

[p] Read Chap. 31, 35.

[q] Meaning, the Caldeans and other infidels which thoght God had vtterly caſt of Iudáh and Iſraél or Beniamín, becauſe he did correct them for a time for their amendement.

[a] Who cõmunly of Ieremiáh was called Nebuchad-rezzár and of others Nebuchad-nezzár.

[*] 2. Chr. 36, 18. chap. 29, 16. & 23, 3.

[b] Not of any violent death.

[c] The Iewes ſhal lamẽt for thee their lord & King.

[d] When the egemie was at hand, and thei ſawe them ſelues in danger, thei wolde ſeme holy, & ſo began ſome kinde of reformation: but ſone after they vttered their hypocriſie

[e] According to ỹ Lawe, Exod. 21, 2 deut 15, 12

and euerie one his handmaide, and that none ſhulde ſerue them ſelues of them any more, thei obeied and let them go.

[a]Ebr returned. 11 But afterwarde thei [a] repented and cauſed the ſeruants & the handmaids, whome thei had let go free to returne & helde thē in ſubiection as ſeruants and handmaides.

12 Therefore the worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, ſaying, 13 Thus ſaith ỹ Lord God of Iſraél, I made a couenant with your fathers, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of [b]ſeruants, ſaying,

[b]Or, bondage.

Deut 15,1. 14 *At the terme of ſeuen yeres let ye go, euerie mā his brother an Ebrewe which hathe bene ſolde vnto thee: & when he hathe ſerued thee ſix yeres, thou ſhalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers obeied me not, nether inclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my ſight in proclaiming libertie, euerie man to his neighbour, and ye had made a couenant before me in [f] the Houſe, whereupon my Name is called.

[f] Meaning, in the Temple, to declare that it was a moſt ſolemne & ſtreit couenant, made in the Name of ỹ Lord.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my Name: for ye haue cauſed euerie man his ſeruant, & euerie man his handmaide, whome ye had ſet at libertie at their pleaſure, to returne, and holde them in ſubiection to be vnto you as ſeruants and as handmaides.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Ye haue not obeied me, in proclaiming fredome euerie man to his brother, and euerie man to his neighbour: beholde, I proclaime a libertie for you, ſaith ỹ Lord, to [g] the ſworde, to the peſtilence, and to the famine, & I wil make you a terrour to all the kingdomes of the earth.

[g] That is, I giue the ſworde libertie to deſtroy you.

18 And I wil giue thoſe men that haue broken my couenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the couenant, which thei had made before me, when thei [h] cut the calfe in twaine, and paſſed betwene the partes thereof.

[h] As touching this maner of ſolemne couenant which the Ancient vſed by paſſing betwene the two partes of a beaſt, to ſignifie that ỹ tranſgreſſor of the ſame couenant ſhulde be ſo diuided in pieces, read Ge 15,10.

19 The princes of Iudáh, and the princes of Ieruſalém, the Eunuches, and the Prieſtes, and all the people of the land, which paſſed betwene the partes of the calfe,

20 I wil euen giue them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hands of thē that ſeke their life: and their dead bodies ſhalbe for meat vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beaſtes of the earth.

21 And Zedekiáh King of Iudáh, and his princes wil I giue into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of thē that ſeke their life, & into the hand of the King of Babels hoſte, [i] which are gone vp from you.

[i] To fight againſt ỹ Egyptians, as Chap. 37,11.

22 Beholde, I wil cōmande, ſaith the Lord, and cauſe them to returne to this citie, and thei ſhal fight againſt it, and take it, and burne it with fyre: and I wil make ỹ cities of Iudáh deſolate without an inhabitant.

CHAP. XXXV.

He propoſeth the obedience of the Rechabites, & thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

1 THe worde which came vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, in the daies [a] of Iehoiakím the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh, ſaying,

[a] For the diſpoſition and order of theſe prophecies, read, Chap 27, 1

2 Go vnto the houſe of the [b] Rechabites, & ſpeake vnto them, & bring them into the Houſe of ỹ Lord into one of the chābers, and giue them wine to drinke.

[b] Thei came of Hobáb Moſes father in law, who was no Iſraelite, but after ioyned with them in the ſeruice of God.

3 Then toke I Iaazaniáh, the ſonne of Ieremiáh the ſonne of Habazziniáh, and his brethren, and all his ſonnes, and the whole houſe of the Rechabites,

4 And I broght them into ỹ Houſe of the Lord, into the chamber of the ſonnes of Hanán, the ſonne of Igdaliáh a man [c] of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was aboue the chamber of Maaſeiáh the ſonne of Shallúm, the keper of the [d] treaſure.

[c] That is, a Prophete.

[d]Or, dore.

5 And I ſet before the ſonnes of the houſe of the Rechabites, pottes ful of wine, and cuppes, and [e] ſaid vnto them, Drinke wine.

[e] The Prophet ſaith not, The Lord ſaith thus: for then thei ought to haue obeyed. but he tendeth to another end: ỹ is, to declare their obedience to man, ſeing the Iewes wolde not obey God him ſelfe

6 But thei ſaid, We wil drinke no wine: for [f] Ionadáb the ſonne of Recháb our father commanded vs, ſaying, [g] Ye ſhal drinke no wine, nether you nor your ſonnes for euer.

[f] Whome Iehu the King of Iſrael fauored for his zeale, 2 King 10,15

[g] Teaching them hereby to flee all occaſiō of intemperancie, ambicion and auarice, and that thei might knowe that thei were ſtrangers in ỹ earth, and be ready to departe at all occaſions

7 Nether ſhal ye buylde houſe, nor ſowe ſede, nor plant vineyarde, nor haue any, but all your daies ye ſhal dwell in tentes, that ye may liue a long time in the land where ye be ſtrangers.

8 Thus haue we obeied ỹ voice of Ionadáb the ſonne of Recháb our father, in all that he hathe charged vs, and we drinke no wine all our daies, nether we, our wiues, our ſonnes, nor our daughters.

9 Nether buylde we houſes for vs to dwell in, nether haue we vineyarde, nor field, nor ſede,

10 But we haue remained in tētes, and haue obeied, & done according to [g] all that Ionadáb our father commanded vs.

[g] Which was now for the ſpace of three hundreth yeres from Iehu to Iehoiakim

11 But when Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél came vp into the land, we ſaid, Come, and let vs go to Ieruſalém, from the hoſte of the Caldeans, and from the hoſte of Arám: ſo we [h] dwell at Ieruſalém.

[h] Which declareth that thei were not ſo bound to their vowe, that it colde not be broke for any neceſsitie: for where thei were recōmanded to dwel in tētes, thei dwel now at Ieruſalém for feare of ỹ warres

12 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiáh, ſaying,

13 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Go, and tel the men of Iudáh, and the inhabitans of Ieruſalém, Wil ye [i] not receiue doctrine to obey my wordes, ſaith the Lord?

[i] Whome I haue choſen to be my childrē, ſeing theſe ỹ were the children of an heathen man, obeied the commandement of their father?

14 The cōmandement of Ionadáb the ſonne of Recháb that he cōmanded his ſonnes, that thei ſhulde drike no wine, is ſurely kept: for vnto this day thei drike none, but obey their fathers commandement:

notwithſtanding I haue ſpoken vnto you, k rising early, and ſpeaking, but ye wolde not obeie me.

k I haue moſt diligently exhorted & warned you bothe by my ſelfe & my Prophetes. Chap 18,11. & 25,4.

15 I haue ſent alſo vnto you all my ſeruantes the Prophetes, riſing vp early, and ſending them, ſaying, *Returne now euerie mã from his euil waie, and amende your workes, and go not after other gods to ſeiue them, & ye ſhal dwell in the land which I haue giuen vnto you, and to your fathers, but ye wolde not incline your eare, nor obeie me.

16 Surely the ſonnes of Ionadáb the ſonne of Rechább, haue kept ỹ cõmandement of their father, which he gaue them, but this people hathe not obeied me.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, ỹ God of Iſraél, Beholde, I wil bring vpon Iudáh, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ieruſalém, all ỹ euil that I haue pronounced againſt them, becauſe I haue l ſpoken vnto them, but thei wolde not heare, and I haue called vnto them, but thei wolde not anſwer.

l That is by his Prophets & miniſters: which ſheweth that it is as muche as thogh he ſhulde ſpeake to vs him ſelfe, whenſoeuer he ſendeth his miniſters to ſpeake in his Name.

18 And Ieremiáh ſaid to the houſe of the Rechabites, Thus ſaith ỹ Lord of hoſtes thè God of Iſraél, Becauſe ye haue obeied the commandement of Ionadáb your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according vnto all that he hathe commanded you, 19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, the God of Iſraél, Ionadáb the ſonne of Rechább ſhal m not want a man, to ſtãd before me for euer.

m His poſteritie ſhal continue and be in my fauour for euer.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Barúch writeth, as Ieremiáh ꝺꝺitteth, the boke of the curſes againſt Iudáh and Iſraél. 9 He is ſent with the boke vnto the people and readeth it before them all, 14 He is called before the rulers and readeth it before thẽ alſo. 23 The King caſteth it in the fyre. 28 There is another writen at the commandement of the Lord.

a Read Chap. 1 25,1.

AND in the fourth a yere of Iehoiakím the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh, came this worde vnto Ieremiáh from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Take thee a roole or boke, and write therein all the wordes that I haue ſpoken to thee againſt Iſraél, & againſt Iudáh, and againſt all the nacions, from the daie that I ſpake vnto thee, euen b from the daies of Ioſiáh vnto this daie.

b Which were twenty and thre yere, as Cha 25,3 counting from the thirteenth yere of Ioſiahs reigne.

3 It maie be that the houſe of Iudáh wil heare of all the euil, which I determined to do vnto them that thei may ieturne euerie man from his euil waie, that I maie forgiue their iniquitie and their ſinnes.

4 Then Ieremiáh called Barúch the ſonne of Neriáh, and Barúch wrote c at ỹ mouth of Ieremiáh all the wordes of the Lord, which he had ſpoken vnto him, vpõ a roole or boke.

c As he did ꝺꝺicte.

5 And Ieremiáh cõmanded Barúch, ſaying, I am ſhut vp, d & can not go into ỹ Houſe of the Lord.

d Meaning, in priſo, through the malice of the Prieſtes.

6 Therefore go thou, and read the roole wherein thou haſt writen at my mouth the wordes of the Lord in the audience of the people in the Lords Houſe vpon the e faſting day: alſo thou ſhalt read them in the hearing of all Iudáh, ỹ come out of their cities.

e Which was proclaimed for feare of the Babylonians, as their cuſtome was when thei ſe redwarre or any great plague of God f He ſheweth that faſting without praier and repentãce auaileth nothing, but is mere hypocriſie.

7 It may be that thei wil f pray before the Lord, and euerie one returne from his euil way, for the angre & the wrath, that the Lord hathe declared againſt this people.

8 So Barúch the ſonne of Neriáh did according vnto all, that Ieremiáh ỹ Prophet commanded him, reading in the boke the wordes of the Lord in the Lords Houſe.

g The faſt was then proclaimed, and Barúch red this roole, which was a litle before that Ieruſalém was firſt taken, and then Iehoiakim and Daniel, and his cõpanions were led away captiues.

9 ¶ And in the fift g yere of Iehoiakím the ſonne of Ioſiáh King of Iudáh, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a faſt before the Lord to all the people in Ieruſalém, and to all the people that came from the cities of Iudáh vnto Ieruſalém.

10 Then red Barúch in the boke the wordes of Ieremiáh in the Houſe of the Lord, in the chambre of Gemariáh the ſonne of Shaphán the ſecretarie, in the hier court at the entrie of the h newe gate of the Lords Houſe, in the hearing of all the people.

h Which is ỹ Eaſt gate of the Temple.

11 When Michaiáh the ſonne of Gemariáh, the ſonne of Shaphán had heard out of the boke all the wordes of the Lord,

12 Then he went downe to the Kings houſe into the Chancellours chamber, and lo, all ỹ princes ſate there, euen Eliſhamá the Chancellour, & Delaiáh the ſonne of Shemaiáh, and Elnathán ỹ ſonne of Achbór, and Gemariáh the ſonne of Shaphán, and Zedekiáh the ſonne of Hananiáh, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiáh declared vnto them all the wordes that he had heard whẽ Barúch red in the boke in the audience of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes ſent Iehudí the ſonne of Nethaniáh, the ſonne of Shelemiáh, the ſonne of Chuſhí, vnto Barúch, ſaying, Take in thine hand the roole, wherein thou haſt red in the audience of the people, and come. So Barúch the ſonne of Neriáh, toke the roole in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And thei ſaid vnto him, Sit downe now, and read it, that we may heare. So Barúch red it in their audience.

16 Now when thei had heard all the wordes, they where i afraied bothe one and other, and ſaid vnto Barúch, We wil certifie the King of all theſe wordes.

i The godlie were afraid, ſeing God ſo offended, & the wicked were astonied for ỹ horror of the puniſhement.

17 And thei examined Barúch, ſaying, Tel vs now, how dideſt ỹ write all theſe wordes at his mouth.

18 Then

28 Then Barúch anſwered them, He pronounced all theſe wordes vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with yncke in the boke.

19 Then ſaid the princes vnto Barúch, Go, [k] hide thee, thou and Ieremiáh, and let no man knowe where ye be.

20 ¶ And thei wēt in to the Kīg to ỹ court, but thei laied vp ỹ roole in the chābre of Eliſhamá the Chancellour & tolde ỹ King all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the King ſent Iehudí to fet ỹ roole, & he toke it out of Eliſhamá the Chancellors chambre, and Iehudi red it in the audience of the King, and in the audience of all the princes, which ſtode beſide the King.

22 Now the King ſate in the winter houſe, in the [l] ninth moneth, and there was a fyre burning before him.

23 And when Iehudi had red thre, or foure ſides, he cut it with the penknife and caſt it into the fyre, that was on the herth vntil all the roole was cōſumed in the fyre, that was on the herth.

24 Yet thei were not afraid, nor rent [m] their garments, nether the King, nor any of his ſeruants, that heard all theſe wordes.

25 Neuertheles, Elnathán, and Delaiáh, and Gemariáh had beſoght the King, that he wolde not burne the roole: but he wolde not heare them.

26 But the King commanded Ierahmeél the ſonne of Hammélech, & Seraiáh the ſonne of Azriél, & Shelemiáh the ſonne of Abdiél, to take Barúch the ſcribe, and Ieremiáh the Prophet, but the Lord [n] hid them.

27 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came to Ieremiáh (after that the King had burnt the roole and the wordes ẅ Barúch wrote at the mouth of Ieremiáh) ſaying,

28 Take thee againe [o] another roole and write in it all ỹ former wordes that were in the firſt roole which Iehoiakím ỹ King of Iudáh hathe burnt,

29 And ỹ ſhalt ſay to Iehoiakím Kīg of Iudáh, Thus ſaith ỹ Lord, Thou haſt burnt this roole, ſayīg, [p] Why haſt thou writen therein, ſayīg, that the King of Babél ſhal certeinly come and deſtroye this land, and ſhal take thence bothe man and beaſt?

30 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord of Iehoiakím King of Iudáh, He ſhal haue [q] none to ſit vpon the throne of Dauid, and his [r] dead bodie ſhalbe caſt out in the day to the heate, and in the night to the froſt.

31 And I wil viſite him and his ſede, and his ſeruātes for their iniquitie, & I wil bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitans of Ieruſalém, & vpon the men of Iudáh all the euil that I haue pronoūced againſt them: but they wolde not heare.

32 Then toke Ieremiáh another roole, and gaue it Barúch the ſcribe ỹ ſonne of Neriáh, which wrote therein at the mouth of Ieremiáh all the wordes of the boke which Iehoiakím Kīg of Iudáh had burnt in the fyre, and there were added beſides them many like wordes.

k Thei ỹ were godlie among the princes, gaue this counſel, by whoſe meanes it is like that Ieremiáh was deliuered: for thei knewe the rage of ỹ King and of ỹ wicked to be ſuche that they colde not eſcape without dāger of their liues.

l Which contemed parte of Nouember & parte of Decēber.

m Shewing, ỹ the wicked inſtead of repentāce, when thei heare Gods iudgements, grow into farther malice againſt him and his wordes.

n Thus we ſe the continual care, that God hathe euer ouer his to preſerue them frō the rageof the wicked.

o Thogh the wicked thīke to haue aboliſhed the worde of God, when they haue burnt the boke thereof: yet this declareth that God wil not onely raiſe it vp againe, but alſo increaſe it in greater abundance to their condemnation, as verſ. 32.

p Theſe are Iehoiakims wordes

q Thogh Iehoiachin his ſōne ſucceded hī, yet becauſe he reigned but thre moneths, it was eſtemed as no reigne r K. ad Chap. 22.19.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Zedekiáh ſucceded Ieconiáh. 3 He ſendeth vnto Ieremiáh to praye for him. 12 Ieremiáh, going into the land of Beniamin, is taken. 15 He is beaten and put in priſon.

1 AND [*] Kīg Zedekiáh the ſonne of Ioſiáh reigned for [a] Coniáh the ſonne of Iehoiakím, whome Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babél [b] made King in the land of Iudáh.

2 But nether he, nor his ſeruants, nor the people of the land wolde obey the wordes of the Lord, which he ſpake by the [”] miniſterie of the Prophet Ieremiáh.

3 And Zedekiáh the King [c] ſent Iehucál the ſonne of Shelemiáh, and Zephaniáh the ſonne of Maaſeiáh the Prieſt to the Prophet Ieremiáh, ſaying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 (Now Ieremiáh [d] went in and out among the people: for they had not put him into the priſon.

5 Thē Pharaohs hoſte was [e] come out of Egypt: and whē the Caldeans that beſieged Ieruſalém, heard tidings of them, thei [”] departed from Ieruſalém)

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremiáh, ſaying,

7 Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, Thus ſhal ye ſay to the King of Iudáh, ỹ ſent you vnto me to inquire of me, Beholde, Pharaohs hoſte, which is come forthe to helpe you, ſhal returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans ſhal come againe, and fight againſt this citie, and take it & burne it with fyre.

9 Thus ſaith the Lord, [f] Deceiue not your ſelues, ſayīg, The Caldeans ſhal ſurely departe from vs: for thei ſhal not departe.

10 For thogh ye had ſmiten the whole hoſte of the Caldeans that fight againſt you, & there remained but wounded men among them, yet ſhulde euery man riſe vp in his tent, and burne this citie with fyre.

11 ¶ When the hoſte of the Caldeans was broken vp from Ieruſalém, becauſe of Pharaohs armie, 12 Then Ieremiáh went out of Ieruſalém to go into the [f] land of Beniamín, ſeparating him ſelf thence from among the people.

13 And when he was in the [g] gate of Beniamín, there was a chief officer, whoſe name was Iriáh, the ſonne of Shelemiáh, the ſonne of Hananiáh, and he toke Ieremiáh the Prophet, ſaying, Thou [”] fleeſt to the Caldeans.

2. King 24. 17. 2 chro. 36. 10. chap 52. 1.

a Who was called Iehoiachin or Ieconiáh

b And called him Zedekiáh where as before his name was Mattaniáh 2 King 24. 17.

”Ebr hand

c Becauſe he was afraid of the Caldeans that came againſt him

d That is, was out of priſon and at libertie.

e To helpe the Iewes.

”Ebr. went vp.

”Or, lift not vp your ſelues.

f As ſome think, to go to Anathoth his owne towne.

g By ỹ which men went into the countrey of Beniamin.

”Ebr falleſt.

14 Then ſaid Ieremiáh, That is falſe, I flee not to the Caldeãs: but he wolde not heare him: ſo Iriiáh toke Ieremiáh, and broght him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Ieremiáh, and ſmote him, and laid him in priſon in the houſe of Iehonathán the ſcribe: for they had made that the h priſon.

h Becauſe it was a vile and ſtraite priſon.

16 When Ieremiáh was entred into the dõgeon, and into the priſons, and had remained there a long time,

17 Then Zedekiáh the King ſent, and toke him out, and the King aſked him ſecretly in his houſe, and ſaid, Is there any worde from the Lord? And Ieremiáh ſaid, Yea: for, ſaid he, thou ſhalt be deliuered into the hand of the King of Babél.

18 Moreouer, Ieremiáh ſaid vnto King Zedekiáh, What haue I offended againſt thee, or againſt thy ſeruants, or againſt this people, that ye haue put me in priſon?

Chap. 28.4. 19 *Where are now your Prophetes, which prophecied vnto you, ſaying, The King of Babél ſhal not come againſt you, nor againſt this land?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, ô my lord the King: let my prayer "be accepted before thee, that thou cauſe me not to returne to the houſe of Iehonathán the ſcribe, leſt I dye there.

"Ebr. fall.

21 Then Zedekiáh the King commanded, that they ſhulde put Ieremiáh in the court of the priſon, and that they ſhulde giue him daiely a piece of bread out of the bakers ſtrete vntil all the i bread in the citie were eaten vp. Thus Ieremiáh remained in the court of the priſon.

i That is, ſo long as there was any bread in the citie: thus God prouideth for his ẏ he wil cauſe their enemies to preſerue them to ẏ end whereunto he hathe appointed them.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 By the mocion of the rulers Ieremiáh is put into a dongeon. 14 At the requeſt of Ebed-mélech the King commandeth Ieremiáh to be broght forthe of the dongeon. 17 Ieremiáh ſheweth the King how he might eſcape death.

1 THen Shephatiáh the ſonne of Mattán, and Gedaliáh the ſonne of Paſhhúr, and Iucál the ſonne of Shelemiáh, & Paſhhúr the ſonne of a Malchiáh, heard the wordes that Ieremiáh had ſpoken vnto all the people, ſaying, a For Zedekiáh had ſent theſe to Ieremiáh to inquire at the Lord for the ſtate of the coũtrey now whẽ Nebuchad-nezzár came, as Chap 21,1 2 Thus ſaith the Lord, He that remaineth in this citie, ſhal dye by the ſworde, by the famine and by the peſtilence: but he that goeth forthe to the Caldeans, ſhal liue: for he ſhal haue his life for b a pray, and ſhal liue.

b Read Chap. 21,9.

3 Thus ſaith the Lord, This citie ſhal ſurely be giuen into the hand of the King of Babels armie, which ſhal take it.

c Or, diſcouraged.

4 Therefore the princes ſaid vnto ẏ King, We beſeche you, let this man be put to death: for thus he c weakeneth the hands of the men of warre d that remaine in this citie, and the hands of all the people, in ſpeaking ſuche wordes vnto them: for this man ſeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

e Thus we ſe how the wicked whẽ they can not abide to heare ẏ truth of Gods worde, ſeke to put the miniſters to death as tranſgreſſors of policies.

5 Then Zedekiáh the King ſaid, Beholde, he is in your hands, for the King can denie e you nothing.

d Wherein he grieuouſly offended in that that not onely he wolde not heare the truth ſpoken by the Prophet, but alſo gaue him to ẏ luſts of the wicked to be cruelly intreated

6 Then toke they Ieremiáh, and caſt him into the dongeon of Malchiáh the ſonne of Hammélech, that was in the court of the priſon: and they let downe Ieremiáh with coards: and in the dongeon there was no water but myre: ſo Ieremiáh ſtacke faſt in the myre.

7 Now when Ebed-mélech the "blacke More one of the Eunuches, which was in the Kings houſe, heard that they had put Ieremiáh in the dongeon (then the King ſate in the f gate of Beniamín)

"Ebr. Cuſhite, or Ethiopian.

f To heare matters & giue ſentence.

8 And Ebed-mélech wẽt out of the Kings houſe, and ſpake to the King, ſaying, 9 My lord the King, g theſe men haue done euil in all ẏ they haue done to Ieremiáh the Prophet, whome they haue caſt into ẏ dongeon, and he dyeth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

g Hereby is declared that the Prophet founde more fauour at this ſtrãgers hands then he did by all them of his coũtrey which was to their great condemnatiõ.

10 Then the King commanded Ebed-mélech ẏ blacke More, ſaying, Take frõ hence thirtie men "with thee, and take Ieremiáh the Prophet out of the dongeon before he dye.

"Ebr. vnder thine hand.

11 So Ebed-mélech toke the men with him and went to the houſe of the King vnder the treaſurie, and toke there olde rotten ragges, and olde worne cloutes, and let them downe by coardes into the dongeon to Ieremiáh.

12 And Ebed-mélech the blacke More ſaid vnto Ieremiáh, Put now theſe olde rotten ragges and worne vnder thine arme holes, betwene the coardes. And Ieremiáh did ſo.

13 So they drewe vp Ieremiáh with coardes and toke him vp out of the dongeon, and Ieremiáh remained in h the court of the priſon.

h Where the King had ſet him before to be at more libertie, as Chap 37,21.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiáh the King ſent, and toke Ieremiáh the Prophet vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the Houſe of the Lord, & the Kĩg ſaid vnto Ieremiáh, I wil aſke thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Ieremiáh ſaid to Zedekiáh, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou ſlaye me? and if I giue thee counſel, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the King ſware ſecretly vnto Ieremiáh, ſaying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs theſe ſoules, I wil not ſlaie thee, nor giue thee into the hands of thoſe men that ſeke thy life.

17 Then ſaid Ieremiáh vnto Zedekiáh, Thus ſaith the Lord God of hoſtes, ẏ God of Iſraél, If thou wilt go forthe vnto the King

h And yelde thy ſelf vnto them.

King of Babels h princes, then thy ſoule ſhal liue, and this citie ſhal not be burnt vp with fyre, and thou ſhalt liue, and thine houſe.

18 But if thou wilt not go forthe to ỹ King of Babels princes, then ſhal this citie be giuen into the hand of the Caldeans, and thei ſhal burne it with fyre, and thou ſhalt not eſcape out of their hands.

19 And Zedekiáh the King ſaid vnto Ieremiáh, I am careful for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, leſt thei deliuer me into their hands, and thei i mocke me.

i Which declareth that he more feared the reproche of men, then ỹ threatenings of God.

20 But Ieremiáh ſaid, Thei ſhal not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, I beſeche thee, which I ſpeake vnto thee: ſo ſhal it be wel vnto thee, and thy ſoule ſhal liue.

21 But if thou wilt refuſe to go forthe, this is the worde ỹ the Lord hathe ſhewed me.

22 And beholde, all the women that are k left in the King of Iudahs houſe, ſhalbe broght forthe to ỹ King of Babels princes: and thoſe women ſhal ſay, Thy frindes haue perſuaded thee, and haue preuailed againſt thee: thy fete are faſtened in the myre, and thei are turned backe.

k When Ieconiáh and his mother with others were caryed away, the fewomē of the Kings houſe were left: ẅ ſhalbe taken, ſaith the Prophet, and tel ỹ King of Babél how Zedekiáh hathe bene ſeduced by his familiar friēds and falſe Prophetes, which haue lēft him in the myre.

23 So thei ſhal bring out all thy wiues, and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou ỹ ſhalt not eſcape out of their hands, but ſhalt be taken by the hand of the King of Babél: and this citie ſhalt thou cauſe to be burnt with fyre.

24 Then ſaid Zedekiáh vnto Ieremiáh, Let no man knowe of theſe wordes, and thou ſhalt not dye.

25 But if the princes vnderſtand that I haue talked with thee, and thei come vnto thee, and ſay vnto thee, Declare vnto vs now, what thou haſt ſaid vnto the King, hide it not from vs, and we wil not ſlay thee: alſo what the King ſaid vnto thee,

26 Then ſhalt thou ſay vnto them, I humbly l beſoght the King that he wolde not cauſe me to returne to Iehonathans houſe, to dye there.

l Herein, appeareth the infirmitie of the Prophet, who did diſſemble to ſaue his life albeit it was not to the denial of his doctrine, or to ỹ hurte of any.

27 Thē came all the princes vnto Ieremiáh and aſked him. And he tolde them according to all theſe wordes that ỹ King had commanded: ſo thei left of ſpeaking with him, for the matter was not perceiued.

28 So Ieremiáh abode ſtil in ỹ court of the priſon, vntil the day that Ieruſalém was taken: and he was there, when Ieruſalém was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Nebuchad-nezzár beſiegeth Ieruſalém. 4 Zedekiáh fleing is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His ſonnes are ſlane. 7 His eyes are thruſt out. 11 Ieremiáh is prouided for. 15 Ebed-mélech is deliuered from captiuitie.

2.King.25.1. chap.52.4. 1 IN* the ninth yere of Zedekiáh King of Iudáh in ỹ tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél and all his hoſte againſt Ieruſalém, and thei beſeged it.

2 And in the eleuenth yere of Zedekiáh in the fourth moneth, the ninth daie of the moneth, the citie was broken a vp.

a The gates & wales were broken downe.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babél came in, and ſate in the middle gate, euen Neregál, Sharézer, Samgar-nébo, Sarſechím, Rab-ſarís, Neiegál, Sharézer, Rab-mag with all the reſidue of the princes of the King of Babél.

4 And when Zedekiáh the King of Iudáh ſawe them, and all the men of warre, then thei fled, & went out of the citie by night, through the Kings garden, & by the b gate betwene the two walles, and he went toward the wildernes.

b Which was a poſterne dore, read 2 Kig. 25.4.

5 But the Caldeans hoſte purſued after them, and ouertoke Zedekiáh in the deſert of Ierichó: and when thei had taken him, thei broght him to Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél vnto c Ribláh in the land of Hamáth, where he gaue iudgemēt vpon him.

c Which is called Antiochia in Syria.

6 Then the King of Babél ſlewe the ſonnes of Zedekiáh in Ribláh before his eyes: alſo the King of Babél ſlewe all the nobles of Iudáh.

7 Moreouer he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bounde him in chames, to carye him to Babél.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the Kings houſe, and the houſes of the people with fyre, and brake downe the walles of Ieruſalém.

9 Then Nebuzar-adán the d chief ſteward caryed away captiue into Babél the remnāt of the people, that remained in the citie, and thoſe that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the reſt of the people that remained.

d Or, captaine of the garde.

10 But Nebuzar-adán ỹ chief ſteward left the d poore that had nothing in the land of Iudáh, and gaue them vineyardes and fields at the ſame time.

d For ỹ riche & the mighty ẅ put their truſt in their ſhuldes & meanes, were by Gods iuſt iudgements moſte rigorouſly handeled

11 Now Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél gaue charge concerning Ieremiáh "vnto Nebuzar-adán ỹ chief ſteward, ſaying,

"Ebr by the hand of 12 Take him, and "loke wel to him, and do him no harme, but do vnto him e euen as he ſhal ſay vnto thee.

"Ebr ſet thine eyes vpon him.

e Thus God preſerued his Prophet by his meanes, whome he made ỹ ſcourge to puniſh the King, and them that were his enemies.

13 So Nebuzar-adán the chief ſteward ſent and Nebuſhazbán, Rabſaris, & Neregál, Sharézer, Rab-mag, and all the King of Babels princes:

14 Euen thei ſent, and toke Ieremiáh out of the court of the priſon, and cōmitted him vnto f Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám the ſonne of Shaphán, that he ſhulde carie him home: ſo he dwelt among the people.

f Whome the King of Babél had now appointed gouernour ouer the reſt of the Iewes that he left behinde.

15 Now ỹ worde of the Lord came vnto Ieremiáh, while he was ſhut vp in ỹ court of the priſon, ſaying,

16 Go & ſpeake to Ebed-mélech the blacke More, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſráél, Beholde, I wil bring my wordes vpon this citie for euil, and not for good, and thei ſhalbe accompliſhed in that daie before thee.
17 But I wil deliuer thee in that daie, ſaith the Lord, and thou ſhalt not be giuen into the hand of the men whome thou feareſt.
18 For I wil ſurely deliuer thee, and thou ſhalt not fall by the ſworde, but thy life ſhalbe for a pray vnto thee, becauſe thou haſt put thy truſt in me, ſaith the Lord.

g Thus God recompenſed his zeale and fauour, which he ſhewed to his Prophet in his troubles.

CHAP. XL.

Ieremiáh hathe licence to go whether he wil. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliáh.

1 THe worde which came to Ieremiáh from the Lord after that Nebuzaradan the chief ſteward had let him go fró Ramáth, when he had taken him being bounde in chaines among all that were caryed awaie captiue of Ieruſalém and Iudáh, which were caryed awaie captiue vnto Babél.
a From this ſecõde verſ vnto chap 42.7 it ſeemeth to be as a parenthesis, and ſeparated matter: & there this ſtorie beginneth againe, & this viſiõ is declared what it was 2 a And the chief ſteward toke Ieremiáh, and ſaid vnto him, The Lord thy God hathe pronounced this plague vpon this place.
3 Now the Lord hathe broght it, & done according as he hathe ſaid: becauſe ye haue b ſinned againſt the Lord, and haue not obeied his voice, therefore this thing is come vpon you.
b God moued this infidele to ſpeake this, to declare the great blindnes and obſtinacie of the Iewes, which colde not fele that which this heathen man confeſſed.
4 And now beholde, I loſe thee this daie from the chaines which were on thine handes, if it pleaſe thee to come with me into Babél, come, and I wil loke wel vnto thee: but if it pleaſe thee not to come with me into Babél, "tary ſtil: beholde, all the land is "before thee: whether it ſemeth good, and conuenient for thee to go, thether go.
"Ebr ceaſe.
"Or, at thy commandement.
5 For yet he was not returned: therefore he ſaid, Returne to Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám, the ſonne of Shaphán, whome the King of Babél hathe made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudáh, and dwell with him among the people, or go whereſoeuer it pleaſeth thee to go. So the chief ſteward gaue him vitailes and a rewarde, and let him go.
6 Then went Ieremiáh vnto Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám, c to Mizpáh, and dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.
c Which was a citie of Iudáh.
7 Now when all the captaines of the hoſte, d which were in the fields, euen thei and their men heard, that the King of Babél had made Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám d Which were ſcattered abroad for feare of the Caldeans.
gouernour in the land, and that he had committed vnto him, men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not caryed away captiue to Babél, 8 Then they came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, euen e Iſhmaél the ſonne of Nethaniáh, and Iohanán, and Ionathán the ſonnes of Karéah, and Seraiáh the ſonne of Tanehuméth, and the ſonnes of Ephái, the Netophathite, and Iezaniáh the ſonne of Maachathí, thei and their men.
e Who was of the Kings blood and after ſlew him, Cha. 41.2.
9 And Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám, the ſonne of Shaphán* ſware vnto them, and to their men, ſaying, Feare not to ſerue the Caldeans: dwell in the land, and ſerue the King of Babél, and it ſhalbe wel with you.
* 2. King. 25.24
10 As for me, beholde, I wil dwell at Mizpáh to "ſerue the Caldeans, which wil come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and ſommer frutes, and oyle, and put them in your veſſels, & dwell in your cities, that ye haue "taken.
"Or, to receiue them, or to intreat them for you.
"Or, choſen to dwel in.
11 Likewiſe when all the Iewes that were in f Moáb, and among the Ammonites, and in Edóm, and that were in all the countreis, heard that the King of Babél had left a remnant of Iudáh, and that he had ſet ouer them Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám the ſonne of Shaphán, f Which were fled alſo for feare of the Caldeans.
12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where thei were driuen, and came to the land of Iudáh to Gedaliáh vnto Mizpáh, and gathered wine and ſommer frutes, very muche.
13 Moreouer Iohanán the ſonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoſte, that were in the fields, came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, 14 And ſaid vnto him, Knoweſt thou not that g Baalís the King of the Ammonites hathe ſent Iſhmaél the ſonne of Nethaniáh to ſlay thee? But Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám beleued them not.
g For vnder the colour of interteining of Iſhmaél he ſoght onely to make the to deſtroy one another.
15 Then Iohanán the ſonne of Karéah ſpake to Gedaliáh in Mizpáh ſecretly, ſaying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I wil ſlay Iſhmaél the ſonne of Nethaniáh, and no man ſhal knowe it. Wherefore ſhulde he kyl thee, that all the Iewes, which are gathered vnto thee, ſhulde be ſcattered, and the remnant in Iudáh periſh?
h Thus the godlie, which thinke no harme to others, are ſoneſt deceiued & neuer lacke ſuch as conſpire their deſtruction 16 But Gedaliáh the ſonne of Ahikám ſaid vnto Iohanán the ſonne of Karéah, Thou ſhalt h not do this thing: for thou ſpeakeſt falſely of Iſhmaél.

CHAP. XLI.

Iſhmaél killeth Gedaliáh guilefully, and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Iſhmaél.

1 BVt in the a ſeuenth moneth came Iſhmaél the ſonne of Nethaniáh, the Chap XLI
a The citie was deſtroied in the fourth moneth and in the ſeuẽth moneth, which cõteined part of September, & part of October, was the gouernour Gedaliáh ſlaine.

sonne of Elishamá of the sede royal, and the princes of the [b] King, & ten men with him, vnto Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám to Mizpáh, and there thei did [c] eate bread together in Mizpáh.

[b] Meaning, Zedekiáh.

[c] Thei did eat together as familiar friends.

2 Then arose Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh with these ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán with the sworde, and slewe him, whome the King of Babél had made gouernour ouer the land.

3 Ishmaél also slewe all the Iewes that were with Gedaliáh at Mizpáh, & all the Caldeans that were founde there, & the men of warre.

4 Now the seconde daie that he had slaine Gedaliáh, and no man knewe it,

5 There came men from Shechém, frō Shilóh, & from Samaria, euen foure scoremen, hauing their beardes shauen, and their clothes rent and cut, with [d] offrings and incense in their hands to offre in the House of the Lord.

[d] For they thoght that ỹ Temple had not bene destroied, & therefore came vp to the feast of Tabernacles.

6 And Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh went forthe from Mizpáh to mete them, weping as he went: & when he met them, he said vnto them, Come [e] to Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám.

but hearing of the burning thereof in the way, they shewed these signes of sorowe.

7 And when thei came into the middes of the citie, Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh slewe thē, and cast them into the middes of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

[e] For his death was kept secret, & he fained that he lamented for the destructiō of Ierusalém & the Temple: but after slewe thē when thei semed to favour Gedaliáh

8 But ten men were founde among them, that said vnto Ishmaél, Slay vs not: for we haue treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honie: so he staied, and slewe them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmaél had cast the dead bodies of the men (whome he had slaine becausе of Gedaliáh) is it, which Asá the King had [f] made becausе of Basha King of Israél, and Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh filled it with them that were slaine.

[f] Asa fortified Mizpáh for fear of the enemie, and cast dyches & trenches, 1. King. 15, 22.

10 Then Ishmaél caryed away captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpáh, euen the Kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpáh, whome Nebuzar-adán the chief steward had cōmitted to Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, and Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh caryed them away captiue, and departed to go ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, & all the [g] captaines of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euil that Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh had done, [g] Which had bene captaines vnder Zedekiáh.

12 Then they all toke their men, and went to fight with Ishmaél ỹ sonne of Nethaniáh, and founde him by the great waters that are in Gibeón.

13 Now when all the people whome Ishmaél caryed away captiue, sawe Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Ishmaél had caryed away captiue from Mizpáh, returned and came againe, and went vnto Iohanán the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, escaped from Iohanán with eight men, and went to the [h] Ammonites.

[h] For Baalis ỹ King of the Ammonites was the cause of this murther.

16 Thē toke Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, & all the captaines of the hoste, that were with him all the remnant of the people, whome Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh, had caryed away captiue from Mizpáh, (after that he had slaine Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám) euen the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, & the eunuches, whome he had broght againe from Gibeón:

17 And thei departed and dwelt in Gerúth [i] Chimham, which is by Beth-léhem, to go & to entre into Egypt,

[i] Which place Dauid of olde had giuen to Chimhám the sonne of Barzillai the Gileadite, 2. Sam. 19, 38.

18 Becausе of the Caldeans: for they feared them, becausе Ishmaél the sonne of Nethaniáh had slaine Gedaliáh the sonne of Ahikám, whome the King of Babél made gouernour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The captaines aske counsel of Ieremiáh what they ought to do. 7. He admonisheth the remnant of the people not to go into Egypt.

1 THen all the captaines of the hoste, and Iohanán the sonne of Karéah, & Iezaniáh the sonne of Hoshaaiáh, and all the people from the least vnto the moste came,

[a] Let our prayer fall before thee, as Chap 36, 7

2 And said vnto Ieremiáh ỹ Prophet, [a] Heare our prayer, we beseche thee, & pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euē for all this remnant (for we are left, but a fewe of manie, as thine eyes do beholde)

[a] This declareth the nature of hypocrites, which wolde knowe of Gods worde what they shulde do, but wil not follow it, but in asmuche as it agreeth with ỹ thing which they haue purposed to do.

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may [a] do.

[a] There are none more ready to abuse ỹ Name of God and take it in vaine, thē the hypocrites, ỹ to colour their falsehode vse it without all reuerence, and make it a meanes for them to deceiue the simple, and the godlie.

4 Then Ieremiáh the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you: beholde, I wil pray vnto the Lord your God according to your wordes, and whatsoeuer thing the Lord shal answer you, I wil declare it vn to you: I wil kepe nothing backe frō you.

5 Then they said to Ieremiáh, [b] The Lord be a witnes of trueth, and faith betwene vs, if we do not, euen according to all things for the which the Lord thy God shal send thee to vs.

[b] Heb let the

6 Whether it be good or euil, we wil obey the voyce of the Lord God, to whome we ſend thee that it may be wel with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

c Here is declared the viſion & the occaſiō thereof, whereof mencion was made, Chap 40,1.

7 ¶ c And ſo after ten dayes came ỹ worde of the Lord vnto Ieremiáh.

8 Then called he Iohanán the ſonne of Karéah, and all the captaines of the hoſte, which were with him, and all the people from the leaſt to the moſte,

9 And ſaid vnto thē, Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſraél, vnto whome ye ſent me to preſent your prayers before him,

10 If ye wil dwell in this land, then I wil buyld you, and not deſtroye you, and I wil plant you, and not roote you out: for I d repent me of the euil that I haue done vnto you.

d Read Chap. 18,8.

11 Feare not for the King of Babél, of whome ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the Lord: for I am with you, to ſaue you, and to deliuer you e from his hand, e Becauſe all Kings hearts and waies are in his hands, he can turne them & diſpoſe them as it pleaſeth him, and therefore they nede not to feare man, but onely obey God, Prou. 21,1 Or, ſeruice.

12 And I wil grant you mercie that he may haue compaſsion vpon you, and he ſhal cauſe you to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye ſay, We wil not dwell in this land, nether heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we wil go into the lād of Egypt, where we ſhal ſe no warre, nor heare the ſounde of the trumpet, nor haue hungre of bread, and there wil we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare the worde of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudáh: thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſraél, If ye ſet your faces to entre into Egypt, and go to dwell there) f Thus God turneth ỹ policie of the wicked to their owne deſtruction. for they thoght thēſelues ſure in Egypt, and there Nebuchadnezzár deſtroyed them, and the Egyptians, Chap. 46,25.

16 Then the ſworde that ye feared, f ſhal take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for ỹ which ye care, ſhal there hāg vpō you in Egypt, & there ſhal ye dye.

17 And all the men that ſet their faces to entre into Egypt to dwell there, ſhal dye by the ſworde, by the famine & by ỹ peſtilence, & none of them ſhal remaine nor eſcape frō the plague, that I wil bring vpon them.

g Read Chap. 26,6 & 24, 22. ſhewing that this ſhulde come vpon them for their infidelitie & ſtubbornes.

18 For thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes ỹ God of Iſraél, As mine angre and my wrath hathe bene powred forthe vpon the inhabitants of Ieruſalém: ſo ſhal my wrath be powred forthe vpō you, when ye ſhal entre into Egypt, & ye ſhalbe a deteſtation, & an aſtoniſhmēt, and a g curſſe, and a reproche, and ye ſhal ſe this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Iudáh, the Lord hathe ſaid concerning you, Go not into Egypt: knowe certeinly that I haue admoniſhed you this day.

h For you were fully minded to go into Egypt, whatſoeuer God ſpake to the contrarie.

20 Surely ye h diſſembled in your hearts when ye ſent me vnto the Lord your God, ſaying, Pray for vs vnto ỹ Lord our God and declare vnto vs euen according vnto all that the Lord our God ſhal ſay, and we wil do it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord your God, nor anie thing for the which he hathe ſent me vnto you.

22 Now therefore, knowe certeinely that ye ſhal dye by the ſworde, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, i in the place whether ye deſire to go and dwell.

i To wit, in Egypt.

CHAP. XLIII.

Iohanán caryeth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrarie to the minde of Ieremiáh. 8 Ieremiah prophecieth the deſtruction of Egypt.

1 NOw whē Ieremiáh had made an end of ſpeaking vnto the whole people all the wordes of the Lord their God, for the which ỹ Lord their God had ſent him to them, euen all theſe wordes, a Who was alſo called Iezaniáh, Chap. 42,1

